TEXAN'S HIT TIES SCORE

Speaker Delivers Needed Drive in Last Inning and Sacrifice Fly Ends Contest

By Associated Press.
Fenway Park, Boston, Oct. 16.—With a world's baseball championship in the balance, today's game between New York and Boston went ten innings, then was won by the Red Sox on one of the most hair-raising finishes ever witnessed.

It was a never-to-be-forgotten situation that faced Jake Stahl and his men at the beginning of the second half of the tenth inning. They had tied the score in the seventh, holding New York to one run all the way and now, with the world's championship at stake, they needed two runs to get it. They got it.

Mathewson pitched peerless ball for New York until the tenth and was a rotten error by Snodgrass that led to his undoing then, aided by Speaker's timely drive, Bedient started for Boston but was replaced by Wood to give a pinch hitter, Hendrickson, an opportunity to bat in the tying score.

Yerkes had gone to third on Speaker's drive and Speaker was on second. With Lewis, a dangerous hitter, at the bat, orders were given to pass him and increase the chances for a force play at the plate. Lewis walked, filling the bases.

The scenes was one of heart-breaking tension and the crowd was in a tumult of excitement. The cheering was terrific. Gardner came to bat and Mathewson's long arms whirled as he delivered the ball. Gardner caught the wicked in-shoot on the end of his bat and sent it high in the air to Devore. As the latter caught the ball Yerkes dashed like a steers for the plate. Devore's throw went wide, the run was scored and the game and the world's championship were decided.

The crowd rushed to the plate and gave the Sox a tremendous ovation. McGraw took his way across to the Sox bench to congratulate Stahl and some spectators addressed an insulting remark to him; there was an exchange of blows.

The crowd pressed about Mathewson and apted him on the back for his clever box work, but "Christy" refused to be consoled.

The weather was clear and cold with the temperature about 45 degrees, making overcoats and mufflers comfortable in the grandstand.

FIRST INNING.
New York—The first pitch was a ball. Devore hit a hard one to Wagner who made a difficult stop and a clean throw to Stahl, putting the runner out. Doyle went out by the same route. Snodgrass walked and stole second. Murray went out, Gardner to Stahl. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING.
New York—Merkle struck out and Herzog was out on a fly to Spenser. Meyers hit a grounder that went through Gardner; Fletcher singled to second. Cady threw to Wagner to catch Meyers napping and the New York catcher turned and ran to third, making it safe when Gardner dropped Wagner's throw. Mathewson fled to Speaker. No runs, one hit, one error.

THIRD INNING.
New York—Devore walked and advanced to second when Doyle went out, Gardner to Stahl. Snodgrass was No word has come from Point Isabel, which is much nearer the open gulf than Brownsville. The wires to that place are down.

Corpus Christi, Oct. 16.—With a heavy gulf storm blowing here it was reported shortly afternoon today that the terminal railway at Aransas Pass is under water for six miles and in danger of washing away.

Residents along the beach in this section have forsaken their homes for higher ground. Reports here give velocity of sixty to one hundred miles an hour, between here and Brownsville.

There are no important towns in the interval between the two points.

The local weather bureau report the highest velocity at fifty-five miles. So far only one accident has been reported. A tram on the Jordon McKenzie, who was sleeping and severed the upper portion of his right ear.

MANY COMMUNITIES LIFT BAN ON NEGROES

Need of Cotton Pickers Brings About Change in Attitude Toward "Cullud Persons"

The "unwritten law" which has for years made the negro an undesirable citizen in many counties in Northwest Texas, has been set aside for the time being. In order to get the cotton crop picked. In the counties where negroes have hitherto been barred, they are now being imported in sufficient numbers to handle the crop.

Baylor county is one of the counties where negroes have not been permitted to reside, but so pressing has become the need for pickers that it has been decided to admit the blacks. One planter in that section is now in Louisiana arranging to bring one hundred negroes to Baylor county, where the crop is excellent and for the greater part still unpecked. Judge Jo A. P. Dickson of Seymour, who was in the city today, said that it had been agreed that there would be no interference with the negroes, though they will hardly be asked to remain after the picking is over.

The Young Men's Progressive League this morning received letters from a number of points, offering to send pickers here. These letters come as a result of the publicity which has been given to the fact that Northwest Texas needs pickers. Among the offers received were some from Tennessee Colony, Blue Ridge, Amalfio, Anadarko and Muskogee, Oklahoma, San Saba and Pomeroy.

Many of the farmers who were in the city yesterday, involved the shaming hours by coralling a number of pickers. One of these farmers, who resides in Clay county, took a wagonload of pickers home in his wagon, putting his family up at a local hotel until he could return with the team for them.

"MERIDIAN ROAD" MEETING TONIGHT

Whistles Will Give Notice of Meeting for Organization of Meridian Road Association

Whistles in various portions of the city will be blown at 8 o'clock this evening to remind those interested of the meeting at the city hall at 8:30 o'clock in connection with the Meridian road movement, at which time the official pathfinders will be in attendance and a permanent Meridian road association organized in this county.

The Progressive League has arranged for the whistling and urges every citizen interested in a greater Wichita Falls to drop other matters when the whistles begin to blow and come to the city hall. Careful investigation prosecuted by the League leads that organization to believe that this is one of the most important matters that has confronted the citizens in many months and will be second in worth only to a new railroad. Yearly hundreds if not thousands of tourists will travel the road selected by this pathfinding party and if Wichita Falls manifests a deep interest it is stated that the road is assured for this city.

The pathfinding party will proceed to Fort Worth on tomorrow morning to organize associations there and in the counties between here and Tarrant.

Survey Now in Progress

Line From Fort Smith, Ark., to Wichita Falls Said to Be Planned

It was learned today that J. S. Ringling, of circus fame, whose name has been mentioned in connection with a proposed railroad from Ardmore, Oklahoma, to this city, was in Wichita Falls yesterday, presumably looking after matters in connection with his project. If he were here, he was able to keep his presence in the city more or less a secret.

The railroad proposed by Mr. Ringling, and for which a survey is said to be in progress, is planned from Ardmore west by way of Waurika to this city and westward from here into the plains country.

In this connection, the following dispatches from Austin, published recently in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, are of interest:

"Austin, Tex., Oct. 14.—John Ringling and his brothers have taken steps to construct a railroad across Oklahoma and into Texas. This information has just been divulged to the State Railroad Commission by Mr. Ringling. He called on the commission for the purpose of learning the requirements of that body in the matter of railroad construction in Texas. He stated that it is the plan of himself and associates to construct the first division between Wichita Falls, Texas, and Ardmore, Okla. The line will later be extended from Ardmore northeast to Fort Smith, Ark. The distance between Fort Smith and Wichita Falls by the route of the proposed line is about 240 miles. From Wichita Falls the line will be extended into the lower Panhandle portion of Texas.

Mr. Ringling says that he has been gathering data for some time in regard to the traffic possibilities of the proposed road and that he is well satisfied as to the prospects of the enterprise in that respect.

"Austin, Tex., Oct. 14.—It is learned on good authority that the End, Ochiltree and Western Railroad which has just passed out of a receivership, is to be extended and become a part of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas system. Its purchaser at the receiver's sale was Charles Hamilton of Waco, who for many years has been vice president and general manager of the Texas Central. The latter road is owned and operated by the Missouri, Kansas & Texas. The End, Ochiltree and Western is graded from Dalhart to Dumas, forty miles and fourteen miles of track have been laid. The Wichita Falls & Northwestern, which is also a Missouri, Kansas and Texas property, runs to Wellington, Texas, and is headed in the direction of Dumas.

"The End, Ochiltree and Western and the Wichita Falls & Northwestern are to be connected by filling in the intervening gap of about 120 miles. In addition to filling in this gap and giving a through line between points in Oklahoma and Texas, and the western portion of the Panhandle region, a branch line of the End, Ochiltree and Western will be constructed from Dumas northeast to Ochiltree, through the wheat-growing belt of Moore, Hansford, Hutchinson and Ochiltree counties, seventy-two miles."

Roosevelt Did Not Ask That Discussion be Turned Away From Principles Involved

By Associated Press.
Franklin, Ind., Oct. 16.—"It is embarrassing to discuss Mr. Roosevelt or his policies at this time," said William Jennings Bryan today, "I would rather occupy the time in expressions of sympathy, but the campaign issues should not be determined by the act of a madman."

Mr. Roosevelt did not ask that the discussion be turned away from the principles involved. A madman is not the arbiter to whom to submit a presidential contest."

The fourth rib on Roosevelt's side was fractured by the bullet which struck him at Milwaukee Monday night. This became known today. It was also learned that an X-ray photograph taken in Milwaukee failed to reveal the exact location of the bullet. A more minute examination of the place will be made this afternoon. The fractured rib, it was explained, is causing pain in breathing.

Schrank Always an Eccentric
By Associated Press.
Munich, Bavaria, Oct. 16.—John Schrank, the assailant of Col. Roosevelt is a native of the village of Dilling in northern Bavaria, about twenty miles from this city. Several members of his family still reside there, and are in very good reput. Schrank at the time of his departure for America, sixteen years ago, was regarded as a most eccentric character and he was unable to secure employment in the vicinity.

He had been carried upon the army mobilization list—as a deserter since he left.

Roosevelt "Feeling Fine" This Morning
By Associated Press.
Chicago, Oct. 16.—Theodore Roosevelt awoke at 9:29 o'clock this morning "feeling fine" as he expressed to his night nurse who prepared to take his clinical record. At that time the colonel had had more than three hours of unbroken rest and for long periods he was awake, willing away the time with a copy of "McCauley's Essays" which he had brought to the hospital with him.

Often the volume fell from his hand and at intervals he dozed. Up to 2 o'clock in the morning his clinical record was regularly taken, but shortly after that time he fell into a deep slumber, from which he did not awaken until long past daylight.

That the long sleep had been beneficial was—at once apparent and it scarcely needed his testimony that he was "feeling fine" to confirm his general appearance. As soon as the colonel awoke, he insisted upon having his breakfast which he had ordered before midnight, for seven o'clock. He was disgusted however from having it at this early hour and was told he first must have his bath and then his breakfast would be prepared for him.

When his breakfast was brought to him, Col. Roosevelt ate it with a smile and after he had finished, declared it to have been "bully."

Mrs. Roosevelt and her party, which has been joined by Alice Longworth, arrived at the hospital at 9:20 o'clock and Mrs. Roosevelt went directly to the colonel's room. She went in smiling and spoke cheerfully to the patient. Miss Ethel, Mrs. Longworth and Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., with Dr. Alexander Lambert, their family physician, remaining in the corridor. The Roosevelt party left the train from New York at Kenilwood a suburb and motored to the hospital.

BAKING POWDER
A pure, healthful, Cream of Tartar Baking Powder

When buying an article of food you are entitled to know exactly what you are buying—its quality and ingredients.

If this information is refused don't buy it. Some of the low grade baking powders are advertised, but the ingredients of the powders are scrupulously concealed.

A housekeeper would not use a baking powder containing alum if she knew it.

It is well when buying to examine the label on the can. Unless it shows the ingredient cream of tartar, don't buy it. Dr. Price's baking powder is absolutely free from alum.

The Balkan Crisis—What The Row in Europe's About

(By an American Diplomat)
At first hand the Balkan situation appears the most complicated affair imaginable, yet there is bound up in it more of the past and future history of the world than any other trouble which confronts statesmen.
People read so much about brigands and massacres. Bulgarians and Albanians, and one thing and another, that they forget that these things are merely the smallest details and only indirectly have a bearing on the great problem which Balkans represent. It is a case of not being able to see the wood for the trees.
It must be remembered in the first place that the Balkans have been a battleground for centuries. Constantinople fell into the hands of the Turks just 39 years before the discovery of America. It was an event scarcely less epoch making than the voyage of Columbus.

For 400 years after that the Turks were trying to break into Europe through the Balkans and the Christian powers were trying to keep them out. Time and again the Turks got as far as Buda-Pesth in Hungary, and Vienna in Austria, only to be driven back. Today Austria is well pleased to maintain her present territory and manage her own complicated affairs in peace while the Turk has degenerated until he is not longer to be feared by any great European power.
In, however, Austria and Turkey, there has been left a mixed population which in many respects is little changed from what it was 400 years ago. The Albanians are little if any more civilized than American Indians. Their only form of government is tribal and the only authority they recognize is that of their own chiefs.

The sultan keeps a certain amount of authority over them by paying them occasional tribute and by taking advantage of their own differences. Some of the Albanians are Mohammedans and others are Roman Catholics, while the Macedonians and Bulgarians are Greek Catholics.
Up to the present crisis the trouble in the Balkans has always been really a game of checkers behind the scenes between England and Russia. Recent politics in Europe has trended to bring England and Russia close together on some questions and perhaps this year's difficulty is not a row between them.
England fought the Crimean war to keep Russia out of Turkey and in 1878 when Russia had an army almost within sight of Constantinople and could easily have taken it, it was a British fleet on its way to the Bosphorus which made Russia pull back and submit to the decision of the Berlin conference. One of the things which this conference decided was that Russia should be allowed to bring no warships through the Bosphorus from the Black sea to the Mediterranean.
The Black Sea is a Russian lake, but to Russia it is like owning a bottle when another man owns the cork, which he refuses to draw. England, through the Turk, holds the cork of the Black Sea, and Russia might have the finest navy in the world—there, but she could not get out to make any use of it.
England's object in insisting upon this rule was to keep Russia out of the Mediterranean and consequently away from the Suez canal and the route to India. The British empire is strung out around the world in a broken line, but it is perfectly secure so long as Russia does not drive a wedge through this line in any part.
It is this big fact which makes a little plot in the Balkans of such enormous importance and keeps every prime minister in Europe awake nights thinking about it. Russia is all the time intriguing with the small tribes and petty sovereigns of the Balkan peninsula with the general idea of making the situation so intolerable that the other powers will support her in most any measure which would get the Turk out of Europe.
This constant stirring up of trouble by Russia has served to keep the people of Bulgaria, Servia, Greece, Montenegro and the Christian provinces of Turkey in the Christian pitch all the time. Four hundred years of constant, unspoken cruelty by the Turks on the Balkan Christian people has instilled into the latter a fanatical hatred of the Moslems that is positively a frenzy.
All this has made it possible for the little rulers to build up large standing armies well equipped, well officered and well drilled. King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has the largest and of recent years it has been his ambition to build up an empire in south eastern Europe, with himself as ruler, much as Emperor William is ruler over the states and kingdoms of Germany.

PROPER USE OF FATS

SHOULD BE KEPT SEPARATELY AFTER HOME RENDERING.

German Housewives Have Good Method—With Suet—Old-Fashioned Manner of Clarifying Fat From the Soup Kettle.

Fats that are derived from the cooking of bacon, ham, chicken, beef and other meats should be kept, each in its own receptacle, to be used for different purposes.

Home rendering of both suet and leaf lard has its advantages, because the product is generally superior to what can be bought for the same price.

Both suet and leaf lard require cooking in order to loosen the fat from the tougher membrane that holds it. For this purpose the material is cut in small pieces and covered with water and allowed to cook slowly for some time until no more water remains and the scrap has turned to a light brown.

A better method for suet is that used by German housewives, who economize on butter by the use of beef fat more than do American housekeepers. The suet is cut in small pieces and covered with water, in which it is allowed to soak for a day, the water being changed once in the time. It is then drained and put into an iron kettle with one-half tea cup of skim milk to every pound of the suet. It should be cooked very slowly.

When it has partly cooled it should be carefully poured off. This fat has no unpleasant taste or odor, and in many recipes may be substituted for part of the butter. Some cooks add a pound of leaf lard to four or five of the suet; this makes a softer fat, as lard has a lower melting point than beef fat.

An old-fashioned method of clarifying fat from the soup kettle, or from cooked meats, so that it may be used in the kitchen, is to add the cold fat to a liberal quantity of cold water, then heat slowly and let cook for an hour or more. When cold, the cake of fat is removed and the lower portion, which will contain the small particles of meat, etc., should be scraped away and the white, clean fat saved. If the flavor or color of both are not satisfactory the process may be repeated several times. Another method which is often recommended is to cook a number of slices of raw potato in the boiling fat.

When an ice chest is used, fat in small quantities may be easily kept sweet for cooking purposes. If lard is rendered at home in quantity sufficient for a long time, it should be kept covered in tin or earthen jars, in a cool, dry place.

Mustard Pickle.

One large head of cauliflower, one quart of white button onions, one dozen dill pickles, two quarts of vinegar, one teaspoonful mustard seed, two teaspoonfuls celery seed, two cups of sugar, three-quarters of a cup of flour, one-quarter of a pound of ground mustard, one tablespoonful of turmeric powder. Divide cauliflower in pieces and boil it and the onions in salted water until about half done, drain, cut up dill pickles; mix flour, mustard and turmeric with a little cold water and add this to the boiling vinegar in which the sugar and celery and mustard seeds have been placed, let boil for five minutes, then pour over the pickle. This makes about one gallon of fine mustard pickle and is easy to prepare.

Rhubarb Flummery.

Peel and cut up 2½ pounds of rhubarb; put in a basin with a little cold water, not enough to quite cover it, place a plate over the top and cook it until soft in the oven. Dissolve one heaping tablespoonful of powdered gelatin in half a cup of boiling water, add strained juice of rhubarb and stir until dissolved. With a wooden spoon rub the cooked rhubarb through a sieve, then add to gelatin, with seven tablespoonfuls of whipped cream and eight tablespoonfuls of sugar. Set this on the fire to melt, but do not allow to boil, stirring all the time. Pour into wet moulds, turn out when firm and serve with custard around them.

Orange Cake.

Two cups sugar, one-half cup cold water, two and one-half cups flour, one-half teaspoon soda, pinch salt, one teaspoon cream tartar, five eggs, keep- ing out two whites, one orange, grated rind and juice; beat egg whites to a stiff froth and fold in after other ingredients all well beaten. Bake in two layers and put together with boiled frosting, made with two cups sugar, the juice of one orange and whites of two eggs.

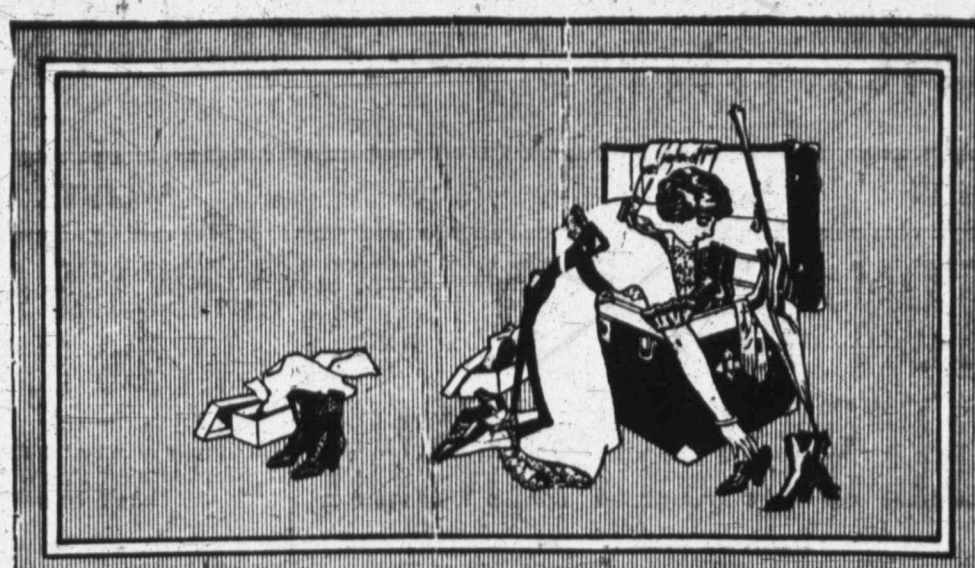

Tomato Pie.

One pint of chopped green tomatoes, five apples chopped, two cups of sugar, one cup of molasses, one-half cup of vinegar, three tablespoons of flour, spice of all kinds. Put whole raisins and bits of butter on top before putting on the upper crust. Makes one large or two small pies.

Banana Sherbet.

Boil three pints of water and three cups of sugar for ten minutes, then strain and chill. Strain the juice from three lemons and two large oranges, add the pulp of three bananas pressed through a sieve, stir in the chilled sirup, pack in salt and ice, freeze and let stand one or more hours to ripen.

ONE OF THE REASONS

We feature clothes from the House of Kuppenheimer. It that we are able to secure such a wide variety of fabrics and styles, many of them exclusive and restricted to this large house alone.

Naturally this gives us an advantage which we are quick to pass on to our patrons. Lots of men buy at this store, because as they tell us, "We can get something different here." They know they don't look over the same old patterns season after season, the same monotony designs. Right now we have some especially pleasing models, shapely, full of snap and life. Displays at State Fair.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 16.—The packing houses of Fort Worth have expended at least $5,000 in making their exhibits at the State Fair this year the leading features in the manufacturing building. A large reproduction of a window containing all the products manufactured by its Texas plants is offered for inspection by the Armour Company. Lards, oils, meats, stock and poultry feeds, bone and hair products, fertilizers and all by-products of live stock occupy a prominent position, while in the background is an excellent duplication of the Fort Worth plant and stock yards, showing the hogs and cattle on the way to slaughter. At the eastern extremity of the window Galveston looms up. The Galveston hotel, seawall, prominent buildings and the celebrated causeway are here reproduced. A steam railroad, representing the direct connection between Fort Worth and the Gulf, connects the two cities and a train of Armour refrigerator cars operate along the line. Airships are seen flying around together with many steamships plying between Galveston and the big deep-sea Swift & Company's displays consists of a miniature delicatessen tables and attractively arranged food which are placed in miniature lamps and pretty white table cloths. The Texas Penitentiary System

This is the third of a series of articles on the Texas Penitentiaries and prison farms, the laws governing same, treatment of prisoners, business management of the system, suggested improvements, etc.

By Will H. Hayes

I recently made an inspection of the state penitentiaries and convict farms in company with Governor Colquitt and Judge Ben F. Looney, the Democratic nominee for Attorney General. The trip was not so much one of investigation as of inspection, and being hurriedly made, naturally many things were overlooked that should have been seen. The inspection was made largely for the purpose of seeing personally the physical condition of the various properties of the prison system, with a view to assisting in a solution of the financial problems connected therewith, but it also afforded excellent opportunity to ascertain something of the treatment of the prisoners.

I am aware that those who have known of some something of the Texas prison system in former days are even those familiar with the conditions as reported by the legislative investigation more severe punishment arising upon and constant hostility between prison officials, employees and guards and the convicts. The state and employees, backed by the force of the law, and the power of force, deemed it necessary to exercise an appropriate policy in them to control the convicts by any means they might possess. The result was only that might have been expected, discipline at the front of every plant, facility, barracks, laundry, and all done under the sanction, if not under the authority of law.

meal at a restaurant. Had it not been for the hamburger stands and similar temporary eating establishments, the problem of feeding the visitors might have been a serious one.

The grounds was a good-natured one, as usual with a circus, though and the inconveniences to which was subjected were considered light by. Local merchants all report an excellent trade, there being many among the visitors who combine business with pleasure.

EXPLOSIONS STARTED FROM A STRIKE

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 16.—Records which the government charges, show that explosions against employees of nonunion workmen, before and after the Los Angeles Times disaster, resulted from a strike called against a bridge construction company in 1905, were identified by witnesses at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today.

Witnesses identified many letters

The gross abuse of convicts in former years should not be charged to former governors, nor to former legislatures; they were the outgrowth of the prevalent ideas of prison management, and the abuses came about as such a gradual growth that they were hardly noticed. Governors and legislatures considered as of more importance, and the systematic efforts at prison reformation were usually regarded as a mere sentiment impossible of realization. Conditions existing in Texas, to a greater or less extent, prevailed in other states.

Neither are the former prison officials and prison employees to be censured, except in extreme cases. They merely accepted conditions as they found them, followed the practices of their predecessors and maintained discipline by sheer force, believing that prisoners could not be controlled except by brutal methods. Many of the employees and guards believed that prison discipline could not be enforced under the new laws, scores resigned rather than attempt it, and they, with hundreds of other citizens are yet of the opinion that efforts at prison reformation "are silly sentimentality. One can hear talk of this kind yet, by good citizens who have lived all their lives almost within the shadows of the penitentiary walls. The masses are slow to part with prejudices, or opinions, that have been held for a lifetime.

So, without any doubt of reflecting upon anyone, and without any more unfavorable comparisons with former practices than is necessary to an understanding of the subject, I shall briefly tell of the treatment I found given the prisoners.

The various industries within the walls at Huntsville and at Rusk present much the appearance of similar industries everywhere. One almost forgets that he is in a penitentiary as he watches the men at their work affixed in neat duck suits, presenting more the outward appearance of interested and contented workmen than of prisoners. Except in a few cases stripes were not in evidence. The men work ten hours a day and are not driven, but go quietly about their work under the direction of citizen foremen selected for their ability to instruct the men in their work. There is nowhere any pretense of "driving" in fact my criticism as the Rusk penitentiary was that there was not enough vim, activity and push manifested, a criticism that could not justly be applied to Huntsville.

Ample bathing facilities, both shower and tub baths are furnished the men, and I was surprised at the fact that I noticed coming from the house at Huntsville at the close of the day's work freshly dressed in their neat duck suits, in sharp contrast with many workmen I have seen in the factory districts of the cities of this country.

The courts within the walls are planted to trees and flowers, with comfortable benches placed conveniently around for resting. We were at Rusk at noon and the part of the noon hour not used for dinner was given to resting in the park; court the men chatting together, seeking such associates as suited them. We were at Huntsville within the walls at the close of a day's work when a band of fifteen musicians gave an open-air concert in the court; while the prisoners either idly lolled around on the benches listening to the music, played ball, pitched horseshoes or exercised in any way they desired. It would have required very little stretch of the imagination to have thought oneself in one of the many small parks in the working district of some of the cities.

After dark I went into the prison barber shop and got as good a shave as I have ever had in any shop in the

Your Brain

Is a Battery

Its thoughts are the sparks that set Success in motion

The simplest form of battery requires three factors to make the electric spark—(zinc, copper and an acid). The human brain also requires three vital elements to put forth thought—water, albumen and Phosphate of Potash.

In the Brain as in the Battery, let a single element become weakened from yesterday's use and lessened activity follows. Therefore, in order to keep a good working brain or add to its power, one absolutely must use food which contains albumen and Phosphate of Potash.

Why not do a bit of thinking now?

Water and albumen exist plentifully in every-day food, but Phosphate of Potash is often lacking. That missing element exists freely in the outer casing of wheat and barley, but the miller of white bread flour throws it out because it makes his flour brown instead of white.

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

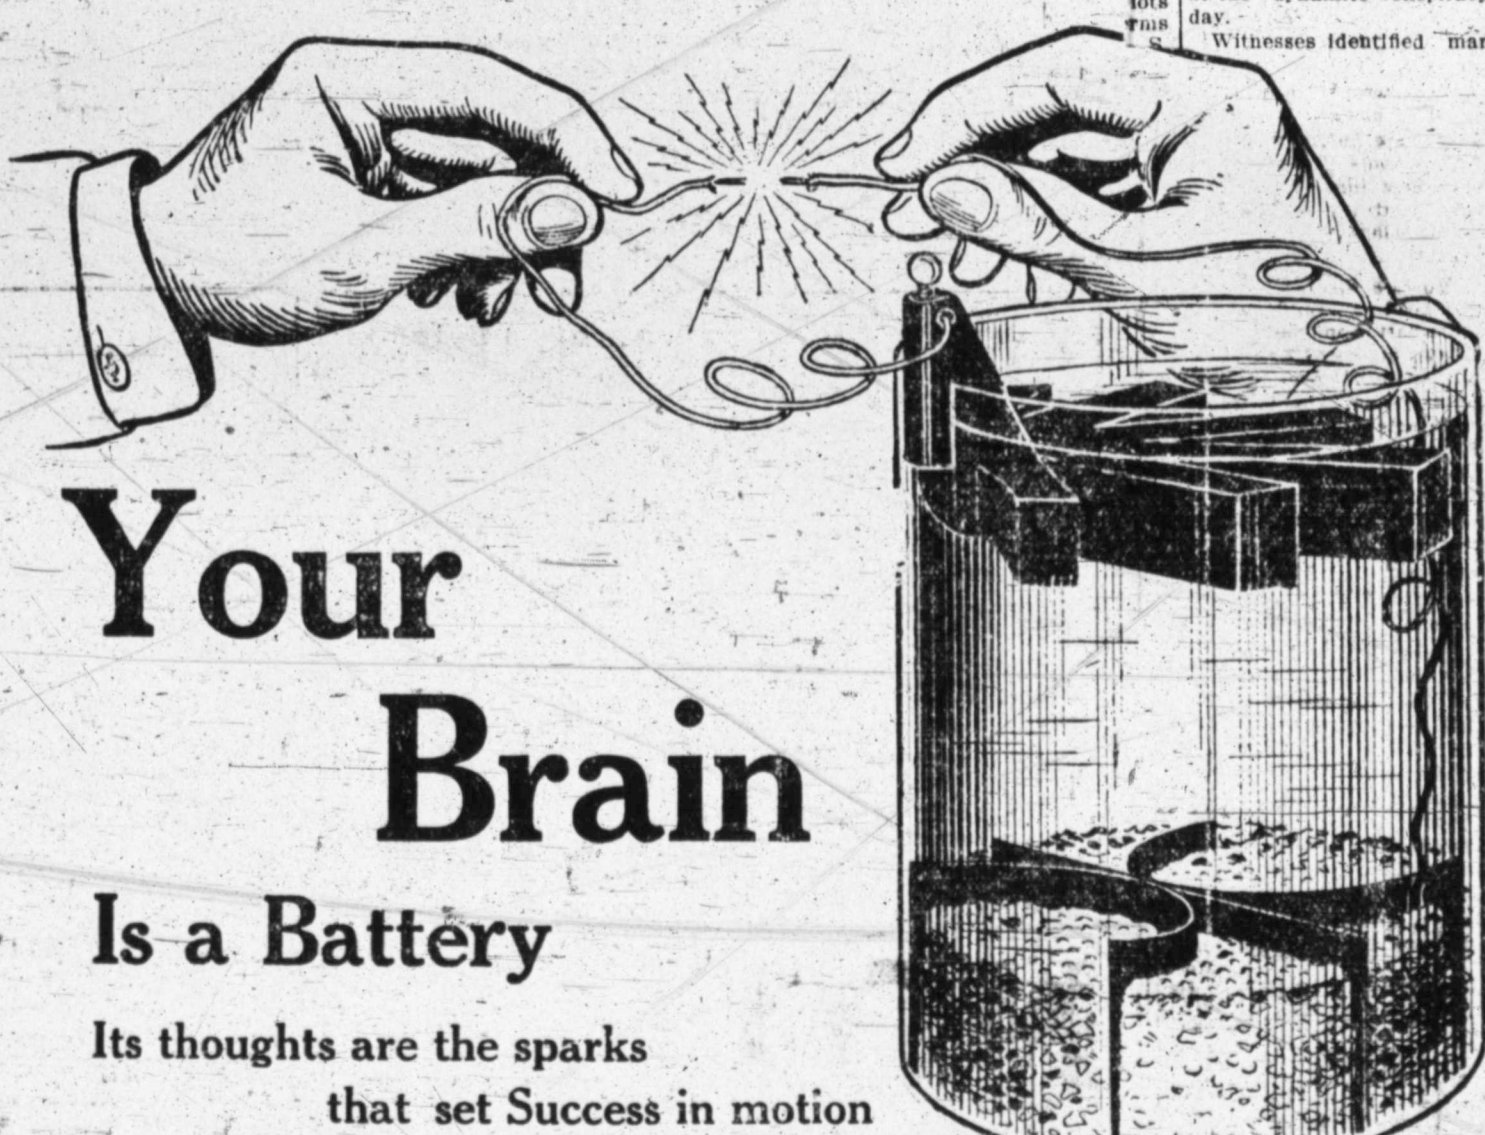

Made of choice wheat and malted barley, retains the rich brain-building Phosphate of Potash required by Nature for supporting bright brains and active minds.

Pure! Wholesome! Appetizing! This food is partly pre-digested and quickly absorbed. A morning dish with cream provides force for accomplishing that many a man has come to know and appreciate.

Common Sense goes a long way toward making Success. To eat right often means to be right.

Wichita Falls, Texas, Oct. 16, 1912

Factories build cities, and Wichita Falls is getting the factories at a rate, that if kept up as at present, will result in the doubling of her population within the next three years. This will mean that within three years from now Wichita Falls will be in the class of cities of 20,000 population or more. Therefore, in making improvements of a public nature, let's make them with a view of fitting a city of the 20,000 population class. It will be difficult, if not entirely impossible to make improvements that will be in accord with the progress and enterprize of the city under the present city charter, and if these needed improvements are made a new city charter will have to be obtained. This matter will soon be up to the tax-payers for consideration, and the Times has the utmost confidence that they will act favorably upon the proposition.

Gov. Wilson has cancelled all his speaking dates, excepting those of Friday and Saturday of this week which could not be very well cancelled. He did this on account of the fact that Colonel Roosevelt, one of his leading opponents, has been the victim of a would-be assassin, and therefore will not be in a position to answer any argument that Gov. Wilson might make to convince the people that they should elect him as their president instead of Roosevelt. This action on the part of our Democratic presidential nominee is highly commendable in that he would rather forfeit the presidency than make speeches to gain it while one of his opponents is on a sick bed. That is what we call playing the game square and win or lose it was the right course to pursue under the circumstances. As for President Taft, he has not yet said what would be his course Heretofore Republicans have generally managed to settle their differences and get together by the time election rolls around, but the prospects of such an outcome of their scrap at this election does not look so bright. Roosevelt does not hesitate to say that he was defrauded out of the Republican presidential nomination by theft on the part of the followers of Taft, and we here in Texas, Democrats we mean who have no reason to take sides in the scrap, know that there is truth in what Roosevelt says along that line. That a great majority of the Texas Republicans were in favor of the nomination of Roosevelt before the Republican National Convention was held there is not the slightest doubt, and even now it looks as if a majority of them are still of that way of thinking. As to how they will vote is another question.

We believe we are not particularly lazy about the house but we certainly looking forward to the time when we can heat our home and cool our food without the onerous necessity of the head of the house splitting kindling, carrying in the wood and coal and, horrors! toting out the ashes. In other words it will only be a few more weeks now until we'll have gas at our disposal.—Denton Record Chronicle.

Brother Edwards can't really know the nicety and convenience of gas until he has used it. He can jump out of bed on a frosty morning, light a match, turn on the gas and have a red hot fire going almost before he can say "Jack Robinson." It's almost as soft a snap as laying abed while your wife builds the fires. We can tell you there's some joy in having natural gas and another thing the field here which supplies all the gas for north Texas has never shown any signs of weakening. The flow is just as strong when the mercury is down at the bottom of the tube as it is at summer heat. Why, if they would turn on all of the force of gas at the wells at Petrolia it would blow all the pipes out of the ground in Denton. Brother Edwards is surely getting fixed up for a nice soft, warm life.

day in Wichita Falls, and it has been suggested that then would be a good time to start a movement for the erection of a public hospital here. The time would certainly be appropriate for the inauguration of such a movement and it could be very properly inaugurated in the churches or at a mass meeting in the afternoon.

The matter, of course, is one that is up to the people and the suggestion is made for their consideration. Governor Colquitt has issued a proclamation setting apart the above mentioned date. His proclamation follows:

Health and Hospital Sunday, October 27, 1912.

To the People of Texas:
During the past five years the public health workers have set aside one day each year for the consideration of matters pertaining to the public health. This day has been variously known as "Tuberculosis Sunday," "Health Sunday," and by other names. This year Sunday, October 27, has been designated as the day when the people of America are asked to give consideration to the condition of their own health, and the health of their families, to a study of the public health of the cities in which they live, and to consider means for the prevention of disease. In Texas this day will be known as "Health and Hospital Sunday," and it is designated to attract public attention to the fact that the hospital facilities for the care of the sick, and the prevention of communicable disease are woefully inadequate. Tuberculosis and other communicable diseases should be treated in hospitals for their protection of the community, and every county in the state should have a general hospital for the care of the indigent sick and injured with special and separate provision for leprosy, tuberculosis and other communicable diseases.

"Now, therefore, I, O. B. Colquitt, Governor of Texas, by virtue of the authority vested in me, under the laws of this State, do hereby designate Sunday, October 27, as "Health and Hospital Sunday," and call upon the people of Texas to attend divine service on that day for the purpose of hearing discourses on this subject. I ask the clergy of the church to preach to the people on this day on the importance of good health. If the ritual of the church forbids consideration of this matter on Sunday, I ask that the subject be considered on some day preceding or following October 27. I urge upon the County Commissioners of the various counties of Texas serious consideration for the needs of their county in the matter of hospital provision for the sick, both as a matter of common humanity and for the prevention of disease.

O. B. COLQUITT,
Governor of Texas.
By the Governor:
"C. C. McDonald,
Secretary of State."

THE CIRCUS WALK.

My pa just talks about hard times,
No money, and all that;
But when the circus comes to town,
His pocket book is fat.

For everybody's rich that day,
And 'tain't no use to talk;
You just can't hold the people down,
When they've got the circus walk.

Pa said he didn't care for crowds,
He thought he wouldn't go;
But a string of horses two miles long
Couldn't have kept him from the show.
He smiled at ladies all the way,
And 'tain't no use to talk;
I hardly knew my pa at all,
When he had the circus walk.

And me she left her specs at home,
And didn't care a bit;
She'd see that circus, anyhow—
Oh, ma's got lots of grit.
That is, she's got it once a year,
And 'tain't no use to talk;
Pa always lets her have her way
When she's got the circus walk.

Grandpa lost his rheumatism,
And stepped off like a dandy;
I saw him standing on the street
Eating peanut candy.
Yes, grandpa was a boy again,
And 'tain't no use to talk;
He limbered up his joints for once,
While he had the circus walk.
Oh, circus day is a happy time;
And you can mark it down,
That everybody's full of joy
When the circus comes to town.
They're happy and they're smiling, too
And 'tain't no use to talk;
You're mighty glad to be alive,
When you've got the circus walk.

ROSENTHAL'S WIDOW ON WITNESS STAND

"It Had to Be Herman or Me" She Testified Accused Police Lieutenant Said

By Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Herman
Rosenthal testified today against Police Lieutenant Becker. Without show of emotion, she told her story.
In the recital she said that Becker told her "it had to be Herman or me."
This was when the "strong-arm squad" at Becker's command, raided her husband's gambling place and home, she said.
"Tell Herman that debt is square"
she said Becker told her.
"He didn't owe me now that that $1500 I loaned him."
The first time she saw Becker, Mrs.
Rosenthal said, the police lieutenant placed his arm about her husband's neck, and said to her, "I would do anything, day or night, for Herman."
When she testified she had hardly money enough to bury her husband, she faltered, but quickly recovered and continued her testimony.

REHEARING REFUSED BURRELL OATS CASE

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 16.—The court of criminal appeals today refused a motion for a rehearing in the Burrell Oates case from Dallas county. After six trials the negro will finally be hanged on the conviction from Ellis county.

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to
Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good.
One day, I got a bottle of Cardui.
It did me so much good, I was surprised,
and took some more.
Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."
In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.
Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes?
Cardui is the medicine you need.
We urge you to try it.

tanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for special instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

CONFESSION OF MAN WHO SHOT ROOSEVELT

Q.—Did you ever meet Czolgosz or know him in his lifetime?
A.—No, sir; no sir.
Q.—Did you know John Most when he was alive?
A.—No, sir.
Q.—Did you ever hear him talk?
A.—No, sir.
Q.—Did you hear Emma Goldman?
A.—No, sir, I am not an anarchist or Socialist or Democrat or Republican; I just took up the thing I thought it was best to do.
Q.—You are not a member of any party?
A.—No, sir, I thought there should be an example of the third term if it should exist any longer. Mr. Grant was refused and he was satisfied. This man was refused and he is not satisfied. It's gone beyond limits. If he keeps on doing this after election he can't possibly carry a solid West-ern State. The next thing we will have a civil war, because he will say "the scoundrels and thieves and crooks stole my nomination and now they will steal my election," and they will take up arms in all the Western States. We are facing a civil war just to keep him in a third term, in an illegitimate place.
Q.—Where did you get all this idea from?
A.—I have been reading history all the time.
Q.—You don't find that anywhere in history that they stole his nomination and going to steal his election.
A.—I don't have to read that in history. You must know in the Chicago convention it was in every paper where everybody could read it.
Q.—You read it in the paper then?
A.—He says it every time he speaks.
Saves Leg Of Boy.
"It seemed that my 14 year old boy would have to lose his leg, on account of an ugly ulcer, caused by a bad bruise," wrote D. F. Howard, Agbne, N. C. "All remedies and doctors treatment failed till we tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and cured him with one box." Cures burns, boils and piles. 25 cents at all druggists.

DEMOCRATIC DOLLARS NEEDED MORE THAN EVER

Roosevelt Expected to Gain Votes From Monday's Incident—Two More Dollars Received

The shot fired by a fanatic at Milwaukee for Roosevelt and may make him a formidable contender against Wilson for the presidency. This means that Democrats and progressives everywhere must stiffen for the fight, and if your dollar was needed before it is doubly needed now.

Remember Wilson has put the whole matter up to the people. He has insisted that every dollar that is used by the Democrats must be a clean dollar used in a clean manner. There hasn't been even a suspicion of taint on any dollar contributed or expended in the Wilson campaign. Nor will there be because Wilson's campaign managers are in hearty sympathy with the candidates views.

Three weeks from yesterday will be the battle of ballots. Contributions to do good must be made at once.

BIG CIRCUS CROWD WAS ORDERLY ONE

"Dips" and "Crooks" Who Usually Follow Circus Were not in Evidence

Wichita Falls yesterday entertained one of the largest crowds this city has ever seen, as a result of the circus. While accurate figures as to the number of visitors are not available it is believed there were from six to ten thousand out-of-town folks in the city.

There were automobile parades from points as far distant as 100 miles, with thousands of others coming in wagons from lesser distance. The trains added their hundreds to the throng. From both directions on the Denver and from the other roads, extra carloads of visitors were brought here. This was the only point in this section where the circus stopped and it afforded the best opportunity to see it.

It was a well-behaved crowd and there were few reports of misbehavior and still fewer of accidents. Nine men who had mixed whiskey with their circus paid fines in the city court this morning and there were also a few in Justice Brothers' court. If the "dips" and crooks who usually follow a circus were on hand here, there are comparatively few evidences of their work.

All the hotels were crowded last night and even as late as this morning, it was no child's task to get a

BOSTON TEAM WINS WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Hendrickson went in as a pinch hitter in place of Bedient and delivered the goods with a two-bagger scoring Stahl and bringing unstinted joy to the Boston fans. Hooper flied out to Snodgrass. One run, two hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING.

New York—Wood went in the box for Boston. Stahl captured Murray's grounder. Merkle went out, Yerkes to Stahl. Herzog singled to right field and Meyers went out, Yerkes to Stahl. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Boston—Yerkes was out at first when his grounder bounced from Mathewson's hands to Herzog, who threw the runner out at first. Speaker went out, Doyle to Merkle and Lewis was out, Fletcher to Merkle. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING.

New York—McCormick was sent in to bat for Fletcher and flied out to Lewis. Mathewson fanned, Devore walked, Doyle walked. Devore went out, Yerkes to Stahl. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston—Shafer replaced Fletcher for New York. Gardner flied out to Snodgrass. Stahl set the home fans delirious with joy with a two-bagger to left field, but Wagner and Cady went out on flies to Doyle and Murray and the crowd settled grimly back to await the extra innings. No runs, one hit, no errors.

TENTH INNING.

New York—Snodgrass was an easy out, Wood to Stahl. Murray hit for two bases. Mergie singled to center field and Marrod singled to Herzog, who threw the runner out at first. Speaker New York rooting section was in a frenzy of delight. Herzog struck out. Meyers went out, Wood to Stahl. One run, two hits, one error.

Boston—The home fans begged hard for a run, as the Boston players came in to bat. Engle was sent in to bat for Wood and sent Snodgrass a high one; the flied dropped it and the runner camped on second. The fans cheered wildly, hopefully, pleadingly. Hooper flied to Snodgrass and Yerkes walked. Merkle and Meyers allowed Speaker's foul to drop between them. Speaker sent riotous and unbounded happiness into the Boston bleachers by a long drive to right on which Engle scored and Yerkes went to third. Lewis walked and the bases were full, with one out. The Boston fans began an unbroken cheering that made a terrific din. Gardner sent a high fly to Devore, and as it was seen that the fielder would catch it, Yerkes at third braced himself for the spring that might win or lose a world's championship. As the ball struck Devore's glove, Yerkes ran. Devore threw on the instant and the ball sailed for home. Yerkes left his feet and his little form shot like a streak for the plate. The ball came bounding in—100 late.

A horse driven to a buggy by John Totten ran away this afternoon when the wheel came off the buggy in front of the Times office. The buggy dropped throwing Totten into the street. The horse ran east on Seventh street turning north into Indiana Avenue being stopped when the remains of the buggy collided with a post. The buggy was demolished, but Totten was not hurt.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

HIS FACE WAS HIS FORTUNE.

By A. W. MACY.

One man in English history owed his success in life almost wholly to his good looks. It was George Villiers, first duke of Buckingham. James I. was wanting a private secretary, and when young Villiers applied for the position the king was much impressed with the beauty of his person and the gracefulness of his manners. He gave him the place, and that was the beginning of a great career. From that time to the end of James' reign the history of England was in great part the personal history of George Villiers, the adventurer. First the cup-bearer; in a few weeks knighted; then made Gentleman of the Bedchamber and Knight of the Order of the Garter; then successively he was made a baron, a viscount, an earl, a marquis, and Lord High Admiral of England. All these titles and honors were showered upon him within a very few years. Of course he had some ability, especially in the way of political shrewdness; but his handsome face and his elegant bearing were his chief recommendations.

state. I heard vocal music in the chapel close by, and walking up the steps I met the chaplain who showed me through the library, a large room fairly well supplied with books and then we went into the chapel where a number of convicts were gathered about an organ, while one of the number was instructing them in vocal music. Along the cell corridors I saw classes engaged in their various studies—each man pursuing his inclination. Moving picture shows are frequently given by the chaplain.

The cells in both the prisons are clean and neat, many of them decorated with pictures or extra furnishings, according to the tastes of the occupants. Sanitary closets are provided, everything about the prisons looks clean, and every inducement to personal cleanliness is given. I asked a number of the places had been especially cleaned in anticipation of our coming and the reply was invariably: "Well, they might have tidied up a bit, like any one will who is excepting company, but things are kept about this way all the time."

In only one place did our party hear one word of complaint about the food either as to quality, variety or quantity, and that was at the camp for incorrigible negroes on the Ramsey farm. We found these men at dinner and going into their dining room we found both bread and meat did not appear to be palatable or well cooked. From there we went into the kitchen, where everything looked clean and where a number of "trusties" were at dinner, at what looked like a meal good and wholesome enough for any laborer. These men, when told about the complaint, said: "Them niggers would fuss about anything. They have been laying for you all a week with that soapy bread and raw meat." The commissioners, however, said that they would investigate the complaint at once. This is mentioned at length to show that the proper feeding of prisoners is carefully looked after. Of course, some of them do not get the delicacies they once had in their homes, and some fare much better.

At every camp visited the prisoners said they received good medical attention and nearly every prisoner who was asked about this at once praised the prison or camp physician. The consumptive farm two miles from Huntsville, where all of the prison consumptives are gathered, is almost a model public hospital, equipped with separate beds, porcelain baths, convenient sanitary closets and excellent ventilation. Each of the prisons and camps has a hospital, most of them being excellently provided with hospital equipments.

The female prisoners are kept on separate farms from the male prisoners, as required by law, the negro and white women in separate buildings. These places are in charge of a matron, who takes a kindly interest in their welfare. Here, as at the other places, there is every indication that the comfort of the prisoners, their health, and their moral and religious welfare are as carefully guarded as could be expected of the state. I do not intend to convey the impression that conditions are everywhere ideal but they are as good as they could reasonably be expected to be brought about in the short time—less than two years—that the new law, with its system, has been in operation.

Many liberties and privileges are allowed the prisoners that two years ago were regarded as absolutely destructive of all prison discipline. On the Harlem farm, where negro labor is employed in the cultivation of the crops, there is perhaps the only prison baseball league in the world, with six teams. These play ball every Sunday afternoon in the season and all prisoners who have clear records for good behavior and good work attend these games. They have their own guards, or policemen, appointed from their number. The games are played out in the open, within no enclosure, and the men make no effort to get away.

On this same farm the men were told recently that if they picked a certain amount of cotton by Friday night they might have a holiday Saturday, the amount really being a fair week's work. They worked out their "task" promptly on time. A neighboring farmer wanted his cotton picked and offered a fair price for it. On Friday night the manager went to the farm prison and told the men they had earned their holiday and that he would give them their choice of resting or picking the neighbor's cotton, the money to be given to them. In one place they asked to be allowed to pick the cotton and make the money. Two years ago this same manager believed strongly in the old method of controlling negro prisoners solely by force and fear.

At one camp about 120 young negroes under twenty-one years of age, are kept. I saw a squad of about fifteen of these coming in from the field about dusk, followed by a mounted guard, whose only weapon was an umbrella. There is not a gun in use on this place, the guards being allowed to carry only pistols and there is practically no trouble at this camp even among the negro boys.

While the law still allows the use of the strap, it has been abolished at Gov. Colquhoun's request, and it will probably never again be used in Texas, because experience is proving that it is not needed. In only one place did we see any punishment being inflicted and that was on a "fighting nigger" a camp bully, who was kept standing for an hour and a half with his wrists in leather cuffs, his hands extended as far above his head as he could hold them and stand flat-footed. It was stated that this usually subdued the worst of the men in a short time, and even the dark cells are not often in use. Merely removing a white man's clothes and putting him in stripes frequently results in all the good that could come from a more severe punishment.

In the prison system of Texas at least, the hope of reward appears to have a greater effect than the fear of punishment, a question that many of us debated in our school days.

There is occasional insubordination and mutiny, it is true, but when it is considered that in the prisons are found men who are ignorant, men who are vicious, men who are unscrupulous, men who feel aggrieved, men who can never be reformed and when these men are often of strong enough characters to be leaders of men, occasional disorders may be expected, and they will know less under present methods.

The next article in this series will treat of the state's properties at Rusk.

TAFT LIEUTENANT IS OPTIMISTIC

H. F. McGregor Returns to Texas After Stay in East and Says Taft Will be Elected

Houston, Texas, Oct. 15.—It is the opinion of Colonel H. F. McGregor, national committeeman of the republican party for the State of Texas, that President William Howard Taft will be re-elected by 286 electoral votes. Colonel McGregor believes that Governor Wilson will receive 222 electoral votes, while he dismisses Theodore Roosevelt with twenty-three votes.

Colonel McGregor believes that President Taft will carry all of New England. He concedes to Mr. Wilson the "solid south" and the State of Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, New Mexico, West Virginia and Wisconsin. He concedes to Mr. Roosevelt the States of California and the two Dakotas. The twenty-five remaining states, including of course, the great state of New York with its forty-five electoral votes, are claimed by Colonel McGregor for the president.

Colonel McGregor returned to Houston Sunday, after spending the latter part of August and all of September either in Washington or at his summer home in New Hampshire. He is prepared to immediately take up the work of assisting Judge C. K. McDowell, state chairman of the republican campaign committee in Texas, to the end that the republican vote in his State will be larger than ever before.

"Yes, I'm back and I'm ready to get in touch with the political situation in Texas," was the comment Colonel McGregor made Monday. "I expect to have a conference with Judge McDowell in a few days with a view of ascertaining what has been accomplished in Texas thus far."

"I look for a large vote; may be we will be affected somewhat by some republicans enrolling themselves with the democrats on account of the prohibition question at the last election. But my letters show there are a good many democrats who are going to vote for President Taft in this State."

"I will explain the statement I've just made," continued Colonel McGregor, "by saying that as far as National matters are concerned there are many democrats who are opposed to a democratic president. I'll cite one case especially. A man has informed me that his father-in-law, a stockman, lost $12,000 during Grover Cleveland's administration, and that they did not care to repeat that loss of money. I'm told that stockmen in this state are for President Taft in this election. I presume they recall and that others will recall, the low prices and dull times that existed during the Cleveland administration. Cotton was as low as from 4 to 6 cents, less than the cost of raising it. I look for a great many men, especially older men who distinctly recall the period of depression to which I've referred, to be influenced the same as stockmen."

"Under President Taft, Texas' cotton profits alone have reached approximately $150,000,000.00. There is no real reason why Texas should want to change, nor has she any grounds to desire a change."

Discussing the situation from a National viewpoint, Colonel McGregor declared that it was his opinion that the Roosevelt movement was subsiding. He said: "While the democrats feel that they have a great advantage this year because of the fact that they are better united than they have been in many years, and they expect to profit by the split owing to the Roosevelt forces being in the field, the Eastern situation shows that the Roosevelt movement is subsiding. And on sober second thought many republicans are beginning to realize that a vote for Mr. Roosevelt will be a vote to destroy the republican party. There are very few republicans willing to destroy the party, even if they are admirers of Mr. Roosevelt."

"The Roosevelt people are continuing their campaign of deception as regards the strength of the Roosevelt movement. This deception is similar to the deception they practiced in the pre-convention campaign, when they claimed everything. Why, in Indiana they were giving out statements not long ago in which they declared that Mr. Roosevelt would carry Texas. Roosevelt's strength in Texas subsided when he organized the third party. I doubt if he gets 10,000 votes in this state. The same will hold true in my opinion, of Oklahoma. I expect Oklahoma to be carried by President Taft. I base this statement on the fact that the bulk of the democrats in the State are out of accord with Governor Haskell."

"All of the New England States are in good shape for us with the possible exception of Maine. The prospect there now is that the two republican factions will come together on a National ticket like they did on the State ticket and so carry the state by fusion under some kind of an arrangement that will assure Taft or Roosevelt the electoral vote."

"New York will be carried by the president. There are some 400,000 independent voters in the state of New York, not attached to any political party under the requirements of a State law there. They are the balance of power; and they will determine the result in the Empire State."

"I believe that President Taft will be re-elected. My estimate of the electoral vote gives Taft 286; Wilson 222; Roosevelt 23. In making this computation I give Mr. Wilson six
