ALL ALONG BORDER

Greece, Montenegro, Serbia and Bulgaria Meet The Turks in Fierce Engagements

King Ferdinand Goes to Frontier.
Sofia, Oct. 17.—King Ferdinand, with his staff, has left for the headquarters of the Bulgarian army near the Turkish frontier. It is believed he will issue a proclamation to the nations or make a formal declaration of war from that position.

Greek Gunboats in Daring Feat.
Athens, Oct. 17.—A daring feat was accomplished this morning by the commanders of the Greek gunboats "A" and "B." At 2 o'clock they made a dash to force the Turkish blockade in the narrow entrance to the Gulf of Arta, one side of which is Turkish and the other Greek.

They were observed by the Turkish fort at Trevesa which dominated the entrance and a heavy fire directed on them which they returned with spirit. They succeeded in fighting their way through and at 4:30 o'clock reached the Greek town of Coniza on the southern shore of the bay with little damage.

Hostilities Opened Early Today.
Constantinople, Oct. 17.—Hostilities were opened at half past two this morning by the Turkish troops at various points on the Bulgarian and Servian frontiers.

The formal declaration of war against Serbia and Bulgaria was published by the Turkish government today.

Wichita Greeks Reach New York
The Wichita Falls Greeks who left here last week for their home country to join the army have arrived safely in New York, according to a telegram received by A. H. Fell from his brother Peter Fell, who heads the local delegation. It is not known when the Wichitans will sail for Greece, but in view of the fact that Greece is now more or less actively engaged in the fighting in the east, it will probably not be very long.

Fighting Between Greeks and Turks.
Athens, Oct. 17.—Fighting between the Greek army and the Turkish forces stationed along the frontier began early today.

200 Tribesmen Killed.
Belgrade, Oct. 17.—Two hundred Arnaut tribesmen were killed this morning in a battle with Servian troops on the frontier.

Code Telegrams No Longer Received in Greece.
A bulletin has been received by Manager Pickle of the local Western Union office saying that private telegrams in code and cipher are not now admitted in Greece and the island of Crete.

BANK AT HUTCHINS DYNAMITED THIS A. M.

Robbers Get Away With $1000 After Cutting Telephone and Telegraph Wires

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 17.—After the safe in the Citizens Bank of Hutchins, ten miles south of Dallas, had been dynamited early this morning and robbed of about $1000 by safe-crackers who cut all telephone and telegraph wires out of the town, Will Bledsoe climbed a telephone pole and by use of a "tester" communicated with the sheriff's office here.

Bledsoe is the son of F. G. Bledsoe, manager of the telephone exchange at Hutchins. The robbers escaped.

A RE-ASSURING BULLETIN.
By Associated Press.
Chicago, Oct. 17.—The most reassuring bulletin yet issued by physicians concerning Col. Roosevelt's condition was given at 1 o'clock. It read: "Pulse, temperature and respiration normal. Blood count has dropped to normal. Breathing seems easier."

TO PUT WICHITA ON THE ROUTE

MERIDIAN ROAD PARTY FAVORABLY IMPRESSED WITH THE BURKBURNETT BRIDGE

A MEETING HELD HERE

Party Accompanied By Local Citizens Left This Morning For Fort Worth

Plans for bringing the "Meridian Road" the proposed highway from Canada to the Gulf, through Wichita Falls, were set on foot last night at a meeting of citizens, at which John C. Nicholson and F. J. Gentry, representatives of the organization which is attempting to make the highway a reality, were present. Messrs. Nicholson and Gentry arrived late yesterday by automobile, having come all the way from Kansas since Monday morning in their machines.

The visitors were met at Burk Burnett by W. A. Reid and D. P. Talley of this city and escorted to this city. They left this morning for Fort Worth, accompanied by Messrs. Reid and Talley and Mayor Bell. Dr. Bell last night sent telegrams to the mayors of Jacksboro and Weatherford, urging them to make arrangements for meeting the party. At Fort Worth tonight steps will be taken for the organization of a state association and the mayors of Fort Worth and Waco have been advised of this plan.

The Young Men's Progressive League had several whistles sounded when the party arrived giving the visitors a noisy greeting and a number of citizens were on hand to the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the meeting.

Mr. Nicholson said that the movement by which the Santa Fe trail, from coast to coast, had been started was set on foot in Kansas and the idea had come to him that there ought to be another such road, crossing the country from north to south and meeting the other at his home town of Newton, Kansas. He told how the movement had been organized, county by county, until it was no longer a dream, but was about to be a reality.

He thought that Burk Burnett was the natural point for the route to cross Red River, on account of the bridge. He was emphatic in his praise of the road between Wichita Falls and Burk Burnett, saying it was one of the best improved stretches they had encountered since leaving Kansas. Mr. Nicholson discussed the value of the split-log drag in keeping the roads good, by use after each rain.

Mr. Nicholson then went into a detailed discussion of what had been accomplished along the route from Winnie south. Much had already been accomplished, according to his statement, though there were many gaps. Co-operation and hard work on the part of the business men in the towns had wrought wonders, he explained.

Government aid for good roads was coming in the near future, the speaker continued and when it came, he wanted the people of Texas to insist upon getting their share; it would be unfair, he said, to tax Texas to build a highway from Philadelphia to New York. He closed with a discussion of the advantages and profits of automobile journeys and what they meant to the towns visited.

F. J. Gentry spoke briefly, saying that the use of the drag was the main factor in the work, especially after a road had once been improved. There already seemed to be interest in Wichita Falls, he said, and that was what was needed. Mr. Nicholson spoke again, outlining the plans for organization as already set forth. He expressed the hope that Wichita Falls would take an active, result-getting part.

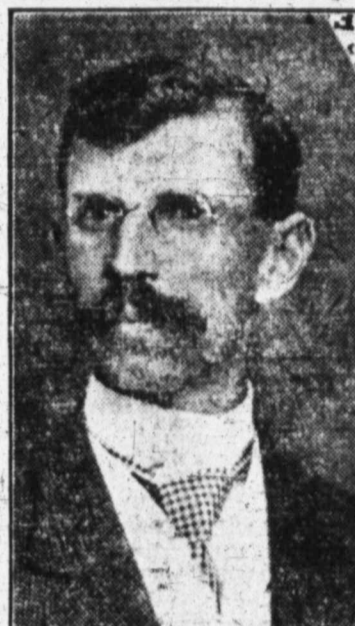

The visitors had a long string of pennants, one from practically every town visited; a Wichita Falls pennant was added to the list.

The tourists, accompanied by the local citizens, left in their machines early this morning. The first stop will probably be at Jacksboro.

GOV. WILSON AVOIDS ATTACKS ON ROOSEVELT

Democratic Nominee Greeted by Large Crowds On Tour Through Delaware

Georgetown, Del., Oct. 17.—Governor Wilson campaigned through Delaware today, avoiding in all his speeches attacks on Col. Roosevelt. Everywhere he was greeted by large crowds. The governor confined himself to state issues urging support for the Delaware state ticket. Gov. Wilson referred frequently during his speech to President Taft's administration.

Hewitt Held Without Bail.
New Orleans, Oct. 17.—Jesse R. Hewitt, erstwhile "beauty doctor" and former Baptist minister, who came to New Orleans four months ago to study for the Catholic priesthood, was held without bail today in the criminal court as a fugitive from justice from Knox county, Texas, where he is wanted for the alleged abduction of Alma Johnson, a pretty 18-year-old girl, who was a member of his congregation at Bonarton, Texas.

Hewitt's aged father, Dr. Richard Hewitt, who served as a surgeon in the confederate army, was present in court at the arraignment. Hewitt denied his guilt and expressed his willingness to return to Texas.

Hewitt denied in court that he had previously been forced to leave Coshatta, La., because of alleged attentions to a young girl member of his congregation at that place.

Hewitt is married, but after a recent estrangement his wife has lived with her parents in Hammond, La. Hewitt conducted a "beauty parlor" in New Orleans before he entered the ministry.

"My boy is not perfect, but I am sure he never sold the Johnson girl into slavery," declared the aged mother of Hewitt.

Alma Johnson is said to be living in Dallas, Texas.

Invested in Ice Plants.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—A report recently issued by the Federal Department of Commerce and Labor shows that there are 182 establishments in Texas engaged in the manufacture of ice and the capital invested in this industry is approximately $3,844,000. 1,874 persons depend on this industry for a livelihood while ten years ago there were only 1,144 persons employed in ice factories in Texas. The payroll of these factories is now $1,193,000 per annum compared with only $430,000 ten years ago which is an increase of $763,000 or 177 per cent in a decade. The value of the products manufactured annually have a total value of $1,644,000 while ten years ago they were valued at $380,000 an increase of $1,264,000 or 332 per cent. Of the 182 establishments 1 the state 37 or 20 per cent are controlled by firms while 128 or 70 per cent are operated by corporations. 198,355 tons of coal, 19,112 cords of wood, 310,032 barrels of oil and gasoline and 78,306 cubic feet of gas are consumed annually in ice manufacturing in the Lone Star State.

ADMINISTRATION REACHES CRISIS

WITH NEW UPRISINGS REPORTED OVER MEXICO LOYALTY OF ARMY IS QUESTIONED

CABINET IS ATTACKED

Member of Chamber of Deputies Last Night Demanded its Resignation

Mexico City, Oct. 17.—A critical point appears to have been reached in the Madero administration. The resignation of the cabinet was demanded in the Chamber of Deputies last night by Deputy Moheno, but the president of the chamber refused to permit discussion and the motion will come up again today.

With General Felix Diaz, a nephew of the exiled ex-president in undisputed control of Vera Cruz, Mexico's most important seaport, reports have reached here also of a new uprising in various parts of the Republic, including the city of Cachuca, fifty miles from the capital.

Beside this, the loyalty of the army is questioned.

Doubt as to the specific object of the Diaz revolt was removed when he was proclaimed provisional president by Col. Jose Diaz Ordaz, his cousin and commander of the Twenty-First Infantry at Vera Cruz.

So far advanced are the plans of Diaz and his supporters that they are said to have already selected a provisional cabinet. It comprises General Bernardo Reyes, who is now in the military prison at the capital. Reyes has been named minister of war. Ex-provisional president Francisco de la Bara has been slated for the portfolio of foreign affairs.

To Prevent Departure of Filibusters.
Mobile, Ala., Oct. 17.—Following advice of the capture of Vera Cruz by General Felix Diaz of the revolutionary forces, orders have been received by the United States revenue cutter "Winona" now here to prepare for departure for the Mississippi's mouth at a moment's notice to prevent departure of filibusters.

El Paso Cattlemen Released.
Washington, Oct. 17.—John T. Cameron, the El Paso cattlemen kidnaped by Mexican rebels, was released yesterday upon payment of $1250 to his captors.

Madero Minimizes Diaz Movement.
Mexico City, Oct. 17.—President Madero today minimized the importance of the rebel movement under Felix Diaz. Senor Madero reiterated his oft-repeated declaration that he would not resign.

"Only death can remove me from the presidency before my term expires," he said.

BANK BOOK SHOWS THE HARRIMAN FUND

Entry of $240,000 On Republican National Committee's Account May Clear Dispute

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—A copy of the Republican national committee's bank account in 1904 at the Fourth National Bank of New York, placed in evidence before the Clapp committee today, showed one deposit of $240,000 during the latter days of October of that year.

This was the sum of the disputed "Harriman fund" and the approximate time of its collection.

Frank A. Munsey, the publisher, today testified that his total contribution to Colonel Roosevelt's campaign this year had been $118,005.72. His previous contributions to the National convention totaled $67,000 and the balance was given to state committees.

HURRICANE DESTROYED LIFE SAVING STATIONS

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 17.—Messengers on horseback arriving in Brownsville from Point Isabel, twenty miles from here late yesterday afternoon, reported all buildings on Padre Island and Brazos Island were wrecked and washed away, as the result of Tuesday night's storm. The life station at Brazos Island also was destroyed. No lives were lost. Many fishing boats were wrecked.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE ACT HELD INVALID

Court of Criminal Appeals Holds Legislature Powerless to Give Authority to Remit Punishment

Austin, Texas, Oct. 17.—By refusing a motion for a rehearing of the Louie Snodgrass case from Erath county, the court of criminal appeals today declined to reconsider its opinion, rendered about a year ago, holding unconstitutional the suspended sentence act of the Thirty-second Legislature. The opinion was written by Associate Justice Harper. Presiding Justice Davidson and Associate Justice Prendergast concurred.

The suspended sentence act permitted a district judge to suspend a sentence where there was a conviction for the first time and the jury so found, the suspension being conditioned upon good behavior. It applied to minor felony cases.

It was the opinion of the court that the Legislature had not the power to confer upon the trial-court authority to remit punishment after conviction and the penalty had been assessed by the jury, finding that this in a way would be a conditional pardon, while the pardoning power rests with the Governor of the State.

In the case of Henry Kelly, from Dewitt county, given five years on conviction of murder in the second degree, affirmance was ordered.

Affirmance was also rendered in the case of W. H. Lowe, from Lamar county. Lowe was given two years in the penitentiary—the minimum sentence for assault upon a girl under 12 years old.

The judgment of the lower court in the case of E. B. Brown, from Bowie county, given five years for arson, was reversed. The court held the evidence was insufficient to justify conviction.

The action of the district judge was sustained in the case of ex parte J. C. Burroughs, from Dallas county. The requisition of the Governor of Missouri for Burroughs had been honored and he resisted the requisition in the ground that the testimony was insufficient to identify him. The court did not so hold.

A number of cases growing out of the local option laws were passed upon.

"LEFTY LOUIE'S" WIFE ON THE WITNESS STAND

Her Testimony Corroborates Story Told By Bald Jack Rose

New York, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Lillian Rosenberg, wife of "Lefty Louie" one of the four gunmen charged with the shooting of Herman Rosenthal, was a witness for the State today in the Becker trial. Mrs. Rosenberg's testimony was corroborative of a portion of the story told by "Bald Jack" Rose on the witness stand last Saturday.

She said that Rose had come with Sam Schepps to her home on May 12 to see "Louie" about helping to get bail for Jack Zelig, the gang leader who was killed several days ago.

ROOSEVELT PLANS CONTINUATION OF TRIP

Doctors Announce However, That He Cannot Leave Hospital For Week Yet

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Col. Roosevelt already is feeling so much better, and has shown so much improvement, that on awakening today he began planning for a continuation of his campaign trip.

Most of last night he spent in restful sleep. Six doctors found his condition this morning as near normal as a wounded man could be, and renewed their assurance that there was no longer cause for worry. It also was announced positively, Colonel Roosevelt would not leave the hospital until next week, at least.

THE GULF STORM MOVES INLAND

Now Centered Near San Antonio And Is Of Lesser Intensity

New Orleans, Oct. 17.—The storm which swept across the lower Texas coast yesterday has moved inland and is now centered to the southeast of San Antonio, where it shows decreased intensity, according to weather bureau reports.

JUDGE RYE RETURNS FROM KENTUCKY VISIT

Brings Back Encouraging Report of Political Outlook in Ohio and Kentucky

Judge Edgar Rye returned this afternoon after a four months' visit to old home scenes in Kentucky and other sections of the Central States; he visited Ashland, Kentucky and Portsmouth, Ohio, during most of his stay and returned much improved in health, just in time to give a good democratic dollar to the Wilson fund.

Judge Rye says that the editor of a Portsmouth paper predicts that Ohio will go for Wilson by 100,000 majority; Kentucky, of course, will be in the Wilson column. Informal polls taken of theatre audiences in Ohio, says Judge Rye, show Wilson sentiment very strong. The mention of Taft or Roosevelt's name would bring hardly a ripple of applause, but the mention of Wilson's would evoke an ovation. The sentiment among the old Republicans, says the Judge, is "anything to beat Roosevelt" and that makes things look very promising for the democratic candidate.

More than 14 per cent of the foreigners in the United States live in New York.

COW UPSETS INTERURBAN

McKinney, Tex., Oct. 17.—Northbound interurban car No. 26, due in McKinney at 3:30 p. m., ran over a cow in South McKinney last night and turned turtle. Several passengers were severely injured, but none killed. A second car, running four minutes behind, struck the wrecked car and its front trucks were torn off.

ICE BOX EASILY MADE

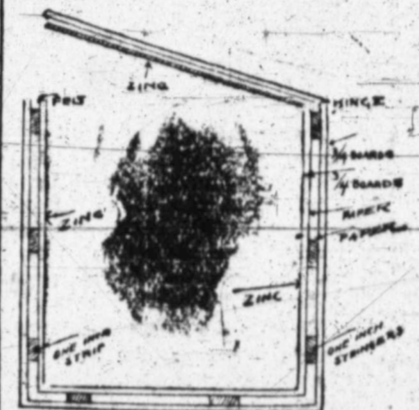

KITCHEN RECEPTACLE MAY BE PUT TOGETHER AT HOME.

Inexpensive and Really Cleaner and More Sanitary Than Those Packed With Sawdust and Other Materials.

The construction of a good ice box consists essentially of two boxes made of tongued and grooved lumber three-fourths of an inch thick. The two boxes were made of such dimensions that the smaller one will fit into the larger one with an inch to spare all around and on the bottom, the boxes being held firmly together by having inch strips nailed to the inside of the larger one at intervals of a foot apart. Before these strips are put in place, building paper should be tacked to the inside of the outer box, and to the outside of the inner one, then after the paper is on, the space between the boxes is carefully measured and the inch strips planed down so that it will be a snug fit when the box is placed within the other.

The construction of the cover is the same as the sides and bottom, except that there is a flange at the front and sides of the cover.

The corners of the outside box are strengthened and made tighter by having a strip of building paper tacked over them, and corner boards

Home-Made Ice Box.

An inch thick nailed over it, like the corner-boards of a building.

Cleats nailed on the bottom at each end will strengthen the box and make it more easy to move about.

The inside of the box is lined with zinc or galvanized iron, the latter being much cheaper, and just as good for several years.

After the box is put together a strip of thin lumber covers the upper space between the boxes, thus making a dead-air space.

A short piece of half-inch pipe is inserted in the bottom of the box to provide drainage, and the lower end of this outlet should be kept immersed in a vessel of water to prevent air getting into the box.

This ice box is much cleaner and more sanitary than those packed with sawdust and similar materials.

Apple Sage.

To make apple sage put 1 cup sago in a quart of tepid water, with a pinch of salt, and soak 1 hour. Take 6 or 8 apples, pare and core or quartered and steamed tender, and put in the pudding-dish. Boil and stir the sago until clear, adding water to make it thin, and pour it over the apples. Bake 1 hour. This is good hot with butter and sugar. As apples are hard to get now, make it this way: One quart milk, 4 tablespoons sago boiled in the milk till soft. Set dish in kettle of hot water and let the sago swell gradually. Beat up 2 eggs and stir into cooked milk and sago; salt and sugar to taste. Then put in oven and bake very lightly. Serve with creamy sauce.

Vermont Blueberry Cake.

Cream together half a cupful of butter and a scant cupful of granulated sugar, adding one well-beaten egg, a tiny pinch of grated nutmeg, half a teaspoonful of lemon juice, half a cupful of sweet milk, and two heaping teaspoonfuls of baking powder sifted with sufficient pastry flour to form a cake batter. Beat the mixture until very light and fold in a large cupful of blueberries. Bake in a shallow oblong pan in a rather quick oven for 25 minutes. When baked, dust the top thickly with powdered sugar and serve hot. Cut into squares or the squares may be torn lightly apart and spread with butter.

Corn Sifters.

A new way of eating corn on the cob is to sift the corn hulls while on the cob with a small nickel "sifter," says the New York Times. This cuts five rows of the corn hulls at one time, so that one eats the grain and leaves the hulls on the cob, or it is used to extract, for cooking, the milky grains from the hulls and leaves all the hard part on the cob as waste. The "sifters" cost 35 cents each. When used at table, of course there must be individual provision in the number placed.

Pineapple Sauce for Fritters.

To the syrup drained from the pineapple, allow and heated to boiling point, add a cup of sugar, sifted with a level tablespoonful of cornstarch; let boil six or eight minutes; tint with green color paste or liquid if desired. Add the juice of half a lemon and kirsch to taste.

Sauzages.

Separate, roll in a little butter, salt and pepper. Put in a small paper bag, seal up and place on broiler. Allow 20 minutes in a very hot oven.

The Canadian city of Edmonton has limited the height of buildings to ten stories.

GREAT VALUE IN NATURAL GAS.

Seventy-four million dollars was the value of the natural gas produced in this country for 1911. While there was a decrease in quantity from the output of 1910, the figures for the two years being 509,155,309,000 and 508,353,241,000 cubic feet, the value of the production in 1911 was nearly four million dollars greater than that of 1910, a gain of 4.76 per cent. The increase in demand for natural gas from consumers of all kinds, according to David T. Day, of the United States Geological Survey, in a report on the production of natural gas in 1911, just published by the survey makes the supply of gas a matter of growing seriousness. Beyond question the natural gas that can be furnished in many of the fields of the United States is simply a fraction of the capital invested in natural gas lines, and especially in power plants for pumping the gas. But the safety of such large investments decreases in proportion as the unsatisfied demand becomes indicative of a falling supply.

In Ohio and Indiana the yield has diminished so rapidly as to stop the investment of the further capital necessary to increase production. One important feature bearing on the production of natural gas during 1911 was the excessive demand for it in Kansas City, Mo. This caused a board of public utilities to create a commission headed by Erasmus Haworth, State geologist of Kansas, to investigate the probable duration of the supply of gas to Kansas City. In his report Mr. Haworth expresses the opinion that a supply of natural gas sufficient for the needs of the city is not possible for longer than three or four years.

Pennsylvania Greatest Consumer.—Pennsylvania was the greatest consumer of natural gas in 1911, with an output of 154,475,376,000 cubic feet; Ohio was second, with 112,123,929,000 cubic feet; West Virginia was third, with 89,868,645,000 cubic feet; and Kansas fourth, with 77,861,143,000 cubic feet. The Kansas figure includes gas piped from Kansas and consumed in Missouri, also gas piped from Oklahoma into Kansas and Missouri. In 1911 Pennsylvania used 103,227,380,000 cubic feet for manufacturing and 10,221,153,000 cubic feet for other industrial purposes—power, etc. West Virginia used 50,130,046,000 cubic feet for manufacturing and 16,868,278,000 cubic feet for other industrial purposes. Kansas used 46,570,417,000 and 1,602,235,000 cubic feet for manufacturing and other industrial purposes, respectively.

Twenty-Eight Thousand Wells.—On December 31, 1911, there were 10,809 productive wells in Pennsylvania, 4,755 in West Virginia, 4,717 in Ohio, 2,633 in Indiana, and 2,904 in Kansas. The total number of productive wells in the United States on that date was 28,428.

During the last three years the separation of the more volatile grades of gasoline from natural gas issuing from oil wells has become a profitable industry of increasing importance. The industry did not progress as rapidly in 1911 as was expected. Undoubtedly it will eventually become a settled and flourishing business, for millions of cubic feet of gas that is now wasted on leases might be converted into gasoline, should the demand and price warrant it. The United States Geological Survey last year attempted to compile figures of production of gasoline from natural gas but many plants were operated intermittently and no records were kept of the output.

You may think that I am "butting into" the columns of your paper pretty lively; but I am here to tell you that things are lively in this town, and I feel like the general public should know about it all. Not that I believe in telling everything, if I were to tell all I know about matters here or anywhere I have ever lived, I could start the biggest row that ever disturbed a community. No, there are some things that ought to be let alone for the sake of common decency. Still, I must insist, that this neighborhood is as free of "dirty doings," as Squire Yukes says, as any I know about. Speaking of the squire makes me think of a good joke we have on him. Not long since he was persuaded by a man living at Toadsuck, a little town about ten miles from here, to go down there and join a certain lodge they have there—the Royal Bumpers. The man told the old squire that the lodge was something on the order of the Masons; that it was a nice, social brotherhood; and that to belong to it would help the squire's business as well as furnish him with the opportunity to have a nice-social time.

Now the squire is a big Mason—Knight Templar—and he thought that if that lodge was anything like the Masons it was all right. So he went over and joined. But he did not say anything concerning it when he got back, and his friends began to question him about it. When the truth was finally known that lodge of "Royal Bumpers" was nothing but a lot of organized rowdies. Their lodge room was just a "select saloon" with all its attachments except the lewd women. Drinking, gambling—everything, the old man said, was carried on there that was to be found in any low down liquor dive. Now the squire is a sober, dignified old fellow—a strict member of the church and he hates whiskey worse than the devil hates holy water, to use one of Col. Jaw-smith's phrases; and so when he saw what he had gotten into he was taken, as Trav Sakes said, "with a wild and enthusiastic desire to stay away." When the old squire walked into the church last Sunday, even old Bro. Bugle could not repress a smile. As to the young folks—they just laughed right out. It worried the old man. He sat down, picked up a hymn book and began to scan it with great apparent earnestness.

We held a mass meeting of the citizens a few nights ago to consider the matter of building a first class hotel. We have no such institution here, and strangers and travelers have been compelled to get entertainment at any private home that would be kindly opened to them. As Squire Yukes has the largest house here, most of the traveling public have put up with him. But Mrs. Yukes and Miss Mandy got tired of that and informed the squire that they would not stand for it any longer. So he then began to agitate the hotel question; and the mass meeting was the out-come of the matter. The meeting was opened by the squire, and was addressed by Col. Jawsmith, Prof. Von Bangs, old Bro. Bugle and Slob Stiggins. A stock company was formed, directors were elected and seventy-five dollars in good hard cash were subscribed on the spot. So you see, Wichita Falls must look to her laurels; Bugscuffle is on the march. It has been the custom for a number of years here in Bugscuffle to have every now and then a season of what Col. Jawsmith calls "long book singing and dinner on the ground" and try not to forget that we have some good times on those occasions. Recently, however, it has been whispered around that such a custom smacked more of the back woods than of a growing young city; and the matter of a male quartett has been talked. The out-come of that agitation resulted in the organization a few nights since, of "the Bugscuffle male quartett," which gave its opening recital one night last week. Several very beautiful pieces were rendered among which may be mentioned "Barbara Allen," "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and "Mollie Darling." At the close, old man Seets gave us a few numbers on the violin which were much enjoyed. In that repertoire may be mentioned, "Billie in the Low Ground," "Cotton-Eyed Joe," "Sugar in the Wood" and "Rack Back Davy." Miss Tibby Tut turned up her nose at the old man; and Prof. VonBangs said he never heard such music over in Berlin where he was raised. As for Prof. Gaskowhisky, he got up and left when the singing first commenced. He has charge, as I told you in a former letter of the musical conservatory in connection with our school here. He being a foreigner can not appreciate our tastes in this country. Col. Jawsmith in speaking of it, remarked that "ethnological differentiation was as marked in the matter of voice culture as in any other regard." To which remark Dutch Bunker answered that he was "willing to do what was right about it."

A good many of our people attended the circus in Wichita Falls Tuesday. They said they enjoyed themselves very much and that the city people were very nice to them. They visited a number of stores, banks, hotels and cafes and were delighted with all they saw in those places. Among the people who attended the circus were the following: Jabe Jaw-smith and Mandy Yukes, Dutch Bunker and Sis Ponder, Nat Biles and Winnie Wunks, Slob Stiggins and Hudy Seets, Tick Blevins and Polly Yuley and Sam Bunker and Nan Seets.

I will tell you some more later on. Yours truly, JOSH BAGGS.

P. S.—By the way, do you know Sime Stiggins? Our folks lost him at the circus and we can't imagine what has become of him.

N. B.—Old Squire Yukes came in just as I was finishing the above letter and said that he had been in consultation with some Wichita Falls capitalists and that he believed we were in a fair way of getting some financial help in erecting our proposed hotel. He said that he had talked with Mr. Lanford, Mr. Thatcher, Mr. Kemp, Mr. Huff and a number of the money men in your city and that every one of them expressed himself as believing in Bugscuffle. Then dropping his voice, the old man leaned over my chair and said: "Josh, do you know that just as I was leaving Wichita Falls this morning I found Sime Stiggins lying out back of the show-grounds on a vacant lot in a patch of weeds, drunk as a beggar."

1912 CATTLE RECEIPTS WILL SHOW SHORTAGE

H. E. Finney, Armour & Co's Fort Worth Manager, Says Shrinkage Will Be Half Million Head

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 17.—That the cattle receipts for 1912 at the principal markets of the United States will be a half million less than in 1911, is the opinion of the Northern packers. H. E. Finney, general manager of Armour & Company's Fort Worth plant, has just returned from a trip through the North during which he visited Kansas City and Chicago. The markets of the North are suffering for cattle and Mr. Finney believes that the situation will grow acute before the ranges will be able to give relief.

The Chicago market for nine months of 1912 shows a deficiency of 18,000, Kansas City 185,000 and Omaha 145,000. At the less important points the deficiency is 63,000. Fort Worth is the only big market that shows an increase in cattle, having received $2,000 more for the nine months of 1912 than for a like period of 1911. Denver shows an increase of 35,000.

"While we are glad to show an increase in our cattle receipts," says Mr. Finney, "yet I am against the marketing of the young stuff and the stocker cattle. There is a terrific demand for beef products and the packing houses of the United States are trying their level best to meet the demand. While Kansas City, Chicago and Omaha show a slump in receipts, Fort Worth and Denver come forward with an increase. This increase is not due to any one phase of the market, but can be attributed to several causes. The Fort Worth market has been a top notcher during the past year, both in cattle and hogs and this has been an attraction for cattlemen of the Southwest to ship here. Another reason is the high prices now being paid, which have caused the cattlemen to market their calves and the stock along with the steers.

"The Fort Worth market is also receiving a large amount of Mexican cattle. This one thing has helped to swell our receipts extensively. Mexican cattle will find a market in Fort Worth for many years to come. Denver's gain is due to the fact that a considerable number of Southern cattle have been moved to Colorado and the upper part of the Panhandle for finishing. Sioux City had a shrinkage of 28,000 due probably to the failure of the Southern cattlemen to send their stocker stuff to the feeding grounds of South Dakota."

Mr. Finney believes that the statistics concerning supply at the markets ought to convince even the skeptical that a shortage exists. He also believes that the figures should prove to the Texas ranchmen that they should stay in the cattle business and make every effort to increase his herds instead of allowing them to become depleted.

He found that the business men of the North are very much interested in Texas and the Southwest and that the big crops of the state have attracted attention all through the big financial centers.

She suffered from nervousness by day and sleeplessness by night. "Up to three years ago," writes a young woman, "I was in the habit of drinking coffee freely and did not realize that it was injuring my health." (tea contains caffeine—the same drug found in coffee) "I was suddenly made the victim of nervous headaches so violent that I was compelled to give up household activities and stay in bed much of the time. Then insomnia came upon me and the wretchedness of sleepless nights was added to the agony of painful days. "This lasted till a year ago, when I was persuaded by a friend to give up coffee entirely and use Postum. The result was in less than a week I began to feel the change for the better, my nerves grew stronger and I began to sleep nights. Day by day the improvement continued and in a short time I was restored to health. My headaches left me, the nervousness passed entirely, and I enjoy good sound sleep at night. Some of the boys who have been fortunate in backing their judgment on the World's Series, ought to come across for the Wilson fund.

After a careful reading of Samuel G. Blythe's article in this week's Saturday Evening Post, the Times is still of the opinion that Gov. Wilson still maintains his strong lead over Taft and Roosevelt and has the inside of the tract. Mr. Blythe's article treats of the presidential contest in New York and Pennsylvania, particular, and from it, one is forced to the conclusion that the electoral vote of New York is almost sure for Wilson as that of Texas, and with Roosevelt and Taft dividing about equally the Republican vote of Pennsylvania and counting on Wilson to get fully as many votes as were polled for Bryan in 1908, the chances of the old Keystone state casting its electoral vote for a Democratic presidential candidate are very flattering. Mr. Blythe also touches upon the presidential situation in the states of Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and West Virginia where conditions largely favor the election of Wilson, and nothing short of a landslide for Roosevelt can prevent his triumphant election.

Of course the lunatics and persons of unsound mind in the asylums, but if every man who attempts to take life can have foresight to lay his plans in advance of the attempt to take life, he can easily manage to escape the penalty of the law by merely saying, or doing or writing some foolish things that usually originate in the brains of persons who are not sound mentally. This appears to be what Schrank, the man who attempted to assassinate Roosevelt has done. He was smart enough to select a real man-killing weapon and not a toy to put into execution his well-laid plan. He was also smart enough to select a state that does not inflict capital punishment for the crime of murder in which to commit his deed. But in the face of all this, the mere fact that Schrank has been smart enough to put up that flimsy and silly story to the effect that the late President McKinley had appeared to him in a vision and denounced Roosevelt as his real assassin is going to be accepted as evidence that Schrank is a crank, and all the punishment that can be meted out to him will be confinement in an asylum.

We talked the other day with a Dallas county farmer near Richardson who is esteemed somewhat of a fanatic on the subject of good seed. Specializing in cotton, he has spared no expense in bettering his own. Last year he invested $6 in a bushel of new seed. This year, he said, his cotton is running as high as 42 per cent lint. He and a neighbor hauled loads to their gin. The neighbor's weighed 1600 pounds and yielded a 40-pound bale. He hauled 1270 pounds and got, we believe, a 530-pound bale. The first man got $95 for his bale—at 11c a pound for the lint and $20 for the seed—but it cost him $16 to have it picked. The second man got $65.70 for his lint and seed—that is, if he had sold his seed at bulk prices, which he did not—but his picking cost him $12.70, making an even $4 net-increase over the first's profit. As a matter of fact he will sell the seed at $2 or $3 a bushel while they are scarce but even at old mill prices, he is $4 ahead net, saying nothing of the increased yield that cotton turning out 42 per cent lint will undoubtedly give. Good seed, not only in cotton, but in every other line, is a profit yielding investment.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

Some weeks ago the Times printed the suggestion of a practical and successful farmer that the best method of selecting seed cotton was to go into the fields and pick the cotton from the earliest maturing and largest seed bolls on the best stalks in the field, and to have the cotton ginned separately from the rest, saving the seed for planting. We don't know whether the suggestion has been followed or not, but we are certain that seed selection is as important in cotton growing as with any other crop. Now is the time to lay in a new spring's sowing.

LAWS AGAINST WOMEN.

A current magazine details some interesting facts in connection with the legal rights of women in Texas, a subject which the Express considered editorially several weeks ago, but which is so important that a full discussion should be had in order that the attention of Texas lawmakers may be called to the necessity for reforming the State laws dealing with the rights of married women.

In framing the present Constitution, Texas took a long step in advance of most other States in providing for the protection of the family home; although debts may hang over the husband and father, notwithstanding he may be dissipated, a spendthrift or a gambler, he is unable to sell the family home and turn his wife and children out of doors. He may be unlucky in speculations and become heavily involved in debt, but under the Texas law his creditors cannot take the roof from over the head of his family.

But in some other respects the laws of Texas are so inadequate that they bring discredit on the State and are responsible for many injustices which are practiced on women in this State. It is regrettable that the law of Texas will permit a drunken, vagabond man who is supported by his wife to take the last dollar of her earnings and spend it for liquor or in consort with other women; it is unfortunate that a man who is utterly worthless and who never earns a honest dollar should be allowed to sell property which his wife has inherited and spend it in riotous living while his family may be suffering for food and clothing, and it is a discredit to Texas that the clothes worn by his wife and children may be sold by a lazy, shiftless, drunkard and the money received be spent for drink.

But this is the condition in Texas under the present law. With the exception of protecting the homestead from forced sale and from sale of mortgage without the consent of the wife, a woman has but few rights under the Texas law. She can make no contract which will be binding in law unless the husband joins her in the making of it, and if she deposits the savings of her labor in a bank the money may be drawn out and spent by her husband, as may be her earnings before they are collected from the employer.

It is believed that this law is in accord with public sentiment, but that the big-hearted, chivalrously mighty men of Texas would gladly give to woman all the privileges which she may be entitled to and that they are as ready to protect a woman from injustice and oppression under the law as they are to protect her from physical violence when she is assaulted by some brutal bully. It is believed that the voters of Texas will willingly approve of any action which may be taken by the Legislature to ameliorate the condition of womanhood in the State, and it is hoped the next Legislature will take emboldened action to give the women of Texas the rights and privileges to which they are entitled under every consideration of justice and equality.—San Antonio Express.

It has been written that the fertility in the soil should be likened to a bank account. Each crop grown extracts from the land a certain amount of reserve fund. If this continues without replenishing the total reserve fund, it finally be drawn out and the soil is depleted of its essential plant foods. Each blade of grass takes from the soil its minimum of plant food. This plant food must be preserved in some way or the land will become impoverished.

The farmer can do nothing that will have a more potent influence in perpetuating his soil's fertility than plowing under the vegetable matter growing on the land before it is leached by winter rains and winter frosts.—Houston Post.

IMPORTANCE OF FALL PLOWING.

This is the season of the year when the farmers should begin to plan their winter plowing for success. It depends largely their success next year all vegetable matter on the land should be utilized for forage should be plowed under early, before frost, if possible, that it may have time to decay and become humus. By plowing the vegetable matter into the soil early in the season will tend to prevent soil acidity, which is often the result of its incomplete decay. This is a matter of supreme importance if the farmer is to maintain the soil's fertility and to keep it in a condition to resist drought.

Humus has a wonderful effect on the soil's power to produce. It is not really a fertilizer, but its effects in plant-foods are of such a nature that it is regarded by many as possessing the power of fertilizers. A half a century ago, proved that humus should not be regarded as a plant food, yet he emphasized its importance as an agency to keep the soil in a proper physical condition, and in this respect it is more potent than any chemical fertilizer that can be applied. One of its first good effects is that it possesses the power of absorbing a great deal of water, thus contributing to the maintenance of humidity in the soil. It possesses another useful power, that of fixing the ammonia in the soil so as to prevent it from being carried off by rains. It afterwards gives back this ammonia to vegetation. Its functions in this respect are analogous to those of clay. It also helps to supply vegetation with phosphate which is very necessary to plant development. Phosphates fill two distinct functions; they aid themselves in the nutrition of the action of the other mineral ingredients. Their function is, therefore, more important than that of the other mineral ingredients, since to their peculiar action is added a secondary desired effect, that of determining the assimilation of all other mineral plant foods.

The farmer who neglects to plow under in the fall the heavy coating of vegetation which covers his cultivated and makes a great mistake. He may expect of this duty year after year will bring him to a full realization of its fatal error.

It has been written that the fertility in the soil should be likened to a bank account. Each crop grown extracts from the land a certain amount of reserve fund. If this continues without replenishing the total reserve fund, it finally be drawn out and the soil is depleted of its essential plant foods. Each blade of grass takes from the soil its minimum of plant food. This plant food must be preserved in some way or the land will become impoverished.

BASEBALL PAID ITS OWN WAY IN DENISON.

Denison, Texas, Oct. 17.—At the annual meeting of the directors of the Denison Baseball association of the Texas-Oklahoma League held last night officers for the ensuing year were elected and a full report made of the past year's business. The treasurer's report showed that while only one-half the capital stock had been paid in and the association had built the park, including the grandstand, fences, etc., and paid out quite a sum during the training season, there was more than $800 in the treasury with which to start the coming year. In the face of the fact that this is Denison's first year in organized baseball in more than ten years, the showing is regarded as excellent.

Retiring President Chaffe read his annual report as follows:

"I respectfully beg to submit to you the following report of business transacted by your duly elected officers and board of directors during the season of 1912, extending from April 25 to July 28, which shows: Receipts, $11,881.77; expenditures, $11,252.98; balance on hand, $627.79; league forfeiture fund, $250; total on hand, $877.79.

"There was received from sale of stock and solicitations of donations prior to opening of season the sum of $2,348.25, and with total investment a profit of $877.79 was done on the year's business."

The following officers were elected to handle the Denison affairs of the Texas-Oklahoma league the coming season:

Fred Marcus, president; W. L. Hutchison, vice president; R. M. Finley, treasurer and L. H. Barnes, secretary.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. MACY.
WHEN CHINESE WOMEN WENT TO WAR.

About 1850 a Chinaman at Nanking named Hungswatzen founded a society which he called "God-Worshippers," in opposition to Confucianism, the state religion. It soon came into collision with the imperial authorities, and the uprising became known as the Taiping rebellion. The most peculiar thing about it was, the women were as active as the men in the military operations. It is said that a large army of women was raised and formed into brigades of 10,000 women each, with female officers. Of each women 10,000 were picked and drilled in garrison duty. The rest were compelled to do the drudgery, as building breastworks, digging trenches, erecting batteries, etc. The rebels held the city of Nanking till 1864, with Hungswatzen, called "the Heavenly King," as ruler. The rebellion was finally suppressed by the imperial authorities, and it had a tragic ending. "The Heavenly King" perished by his own hands amid the blazing ruins of the palace he had occupied for eleven years.

New York Alimony Club.

The Alimony club in New York, a name adopted by a coterie of men who are undergoing imprisonment there for default in payment of allowances to wives from whom they have separated, held a banquet in jail on Christmas day. Twelve sat down to a good feast, two of them having come back for the occasion, after recovering their liberty only two days before. The popular song, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," was sung during every toast, and "Our Unfortunate Successors" was received hilariously.

Oldest Newspaper.

The "Tobing Pao," which is the official gazette of Peking, and has just celebrated its thousandth anniversary, is the oldest newspaper in the world. Ever since its inception, a copy of each issue has been carefully preserved in the archives of the Peking palace. Accuracy has always been the keynote of its paper, and in order to maintain its high standard, several journalists on its staff in the past paid the penalty of mistakes with their lives. Dismissal, and, at the worst, imprisonment, is the punishment meted out at present.

Proud of Pet Swan.

Captain Peacocke, of Los Angeles, whose name might indicate a swiftness with swiftness, has a pet goose of the handsome variety known as "Russian swan." The bird flew upon his land three years ago, and has become domesticated to such an extent that he follows the captain like a dog and searches in his pockets for popcorn or crackers. When the pockets are empty the "swan" looks disconsolate, like a dog who has received a harsh word when he expected a pleasant one.

Remarkable Stomach Remedy

Since Fowler's Stomach Wafers were first introduced about a year ago, it is remarkable the number of cures effected and the constantly increasing demand for it. People have found that the claims made for its powers to make cures are honest and the guarantee given with each pack, age to refund the full purchase price if not satisfied is one that no other medicine is sold under. One of the most pleasing things about Fowler's Stomach Wafers is their form. Being wafer form they may be taken at any time without inconvenience and they have no bad taste. In the milder forms of stomach troubles, such as gas, sourness, overeating, cramps, etc. they act so quickly and relief is felt in five to ten minutes. In chronic cases it takes longer, but a cure is easily effected in a short time and there is almost instant relief.

Two United States Delegates Are Encouraged by Work of Rio Janeiro Conference.

Washington, D. C.—Henry L. James and Frederick Van Dyne, two delegates from the United States to the international conference for the codification of public and private international law, which recently finished its work at Rio Janeiro, Brazil, have returned to this country. Mr. James, who is assistant chief of the state department, reported that the delegates from this country are convinced that a substantial foundation has been laid in the Rio Janeiro conference for the development of a form of proceeding which will insure uniformity of laws and practice in American international relations.

While the task is a monumental one, owing to the difficulty of reconciling and unifying practices based on principles so widely variant as the Latin code and the British and American common law, it is expected that tangible results will come from work to be performed by a number of sub-committees. To these committees have been assigned some of the most vexatious problems of international relations which will be considered at meetings to be held in the following six capitals: Montevideo, Lima, Santiago de Chile, Rio Janeiro, Buenos Aires and Washington. At dates to be determined by the chairmen. What the conference hopes to make a reality is a common code to be administered by a great international supreme court.

MEN TRADED THEIR WIVES

Merchant From Antwerp Tells Immigration Authorities Brunette Offered Him No Love.

New York.—"Life as I lived it with a brunette who offered me no love was worth nothing, so I chose the blonde wife of a friend who had been paying attention to my wife and eloped."

This is the explanation offered by Edward Herrmann, a tradesman of Antwerp, who is spending his first day in America with a woman companion and her eight-year-old daughter.

Warned from Antwerp that the Mrs. Herrmann on the passenger list was not Herrmann's legal wife, the immigration authorities detained the trio for arraignment before the board of special inquiry at Ellis Island. Asked if she would not like to leave Herrmann and come ashore alone the woman said:

"No. Not for anything. His wife is with my husband in Antwerp. I am happier with Mr. Herrmann than I have ever been and we must stay together."

It was learned that Herrmann, his wife in Antwerp, the woman who arrived with him and her husband were all brought up in the same village. All four were married on the same day in the same church and by the same pastor.

About the kind of a cigar you stick into your face and walk down the street with, or do you think a cigar is a cigar. Every roll of leaves wrapped in tobacco is not a cigar. Sometimes you think you are getting a cigar when you are paying a dime for a bitter joke on yourself. The best cigar, made from the best tobacco, by the best cigar makers in the world when badly kept are not as good as the cheapest. Story that was ever chased out of Pittsburg if the story came from where it was kept in proper condition. Interesting Facts About a Baseball.

In an article on the "Physics of Baseball" in the October American Magazine, Hugh S. Fullerton records a lot of facts that most fans never know. The following is an extract:

"In studying the physics of baseball let us commence with the chief implements of the game—the bat and ball. The ball is composed of a small cork core, sealed with a heavy layer of highly treated para rubber, then wound with two kinds of woolen yarn, finished with a tight layer of linen thread, over which is a glue substance upon which is a horsehide cover. The ball is semi-pneumatic, both the rubber and the glue upon which the cover is pasted tending to hold air. The difference even of a sixteenth of an inch in the thickness of the rubber makes the ball so fast that it scarcely can be handled. The makers experimented for years to get the ball tuned to the proper pitch of elasticity, and appear finally to have accomplished the aim of making a ball not too 'dead' and not too lively. The shock of the bat against the ball disperses the air gradually and at the same time causes a molecular change in the rubber so that a ball, after being batted hard, loses much of its resilient power. The disarranging of the molecular force causes a ball which, to an outsider, may seem as firm and solid as ever, to become a mushy dead and lifeless, and likely to slow the entire game if permitted to remain in play. The bats used are almost all of second growth ash of the finest and straightest grain and carefully dried. They are supposed to retain their resilient qualities indefinitely, but after a month or two of hard usage, the bat no longer possesses the 'drive' necessary for hard hitting. Yet bats that have lost 'life' often will, when kept in storage a few months, recover their lost 'ring' and be as good as ever, although the second time they 'die' more quickly. This sense of feeling and hearing among players is a wonderful thing. I have seen a ball hit and in an instant batter, fielder and catcher running at the umpire, declaring something was wrong with it. The catcher knew from the sound, the batter from the way the bat felt when it met the ball and the fielder because of the way in which the ball felt and acted when he stopped and threw it. The ball was found to be slightly lopsided. "The object of each batter is to 'hit it on the trade mark' with that part of his bat between four and six inches from the end. He does not expect it that way, but he aims to hit the center of mass of the ball with the center of percussion of that bat so he says, 'square on the nose.' The center of percussion of the bat varies according to the grip of the batter's hands, and it is the object of the pitcher to force the ball to revolve so as to avoid meeting the center of percussion."

WOMEN SHOULD BE MORE BEAUTIFUL AT 40 THAN AT 20 In the October Woman's Home Companion, Harvey W. Wiley, formerly chief of the United States Bureau of Chemistry, writes an article on "Intelligent Eating." He gives a great many practical suggestions and on the subject of women says: "Women should be specially careful to choose the right diet. For the sake of her beauty, if nothing else, a woman should choose the right amount of nutritive foods, and avoid the temptations of overeating. Coarser bread, more fruit, less meat and especially moderation, or total abstinence, in the use of tea and coffee will secure relief from the all too retarded action of the digestive organs which is the curse of so many women who lead sedentary lives. No woman who eats properly and gets plenty of fresh air and exercise will have a poor complexion nor get too fat; neither will she suffer from nerves and hysteria. "The woman who lives right, thinks right and works right may be more beautiful at forty or sixty than at twenty, and the preservation of the divine gift of beauty is a duty that no woman should neglect for her own sake and the sake of the world about her. "It was formerly thought that the drinking of liquids with meals was highly injurious and probably the over-drinking of liquids is injurious. Recent investigations, however, have shown that bad effects resulting from drinking simple beverages are likely overestimated. "Good milk, a glass of water, cider or grape-juice and even a little tea or coffee, well diluted with hot milk, may be taken at meals. Tea and coffee form but a temporary stimulant, due chiefly to an alkaloid caffeine which they contain. Too free use of these beverages causes nerve exhaustion and dyspepsia." Appendicitis Book Free.
