WILSON'S ELECTORAL VOTE GROWS IT MAY REACH TOTAL OF 442

ROOSEVELT LOSES LEAD IN COUNT IN ILLINOIS

Minnesota Switches to Roosevelt While Kansas, Montana, Nevada and Oregon go to Wilson.

Returns received up to three o'clock this afternoon indicate that Wilson is practically certain of 410 electoral votes with a probability that his total vote may mount to 442. The latest returns this afternoon indicate that Wilson is leading by nearly 2,000 votes in Illinois and that most of the uncounted vote is in Democratic strongholds. The Democratic National Committee is now claiming Illinois by a substantial plurality. Wyoming is another doubtful state that may cast its vote for Wilson. Wyoming and Illinois would swell Wilson's total to 432. However, Wyoming may lose California which has previously been counted for him. The loss of California would decrease his electoral vote to 430. The Progressives who had heretofore conceded the Golden State to Wilson have taken hope on the big plurality given Roosevelt in Los Angeles county which is nearly enough to overcome Wilson's lead.

Minnesota has shifted from the Wilson to the Roosevelt column while Kansas is now conceded to Wilson. New Hampshire is now regarded safely in the Democratic column while Montana, Nevada and Oregon which have heretofore been classed as doubtful are now counted Democratic. Idaho has been given to Taft although the Progressives are making some claims for that state. The Democrats have gained 55 seats in Congress and will probably have a bare majority in the Senate.

CONTROL OF SENATE IN DOUBT

Washington, Nov. 6.—The Senate situation continues to hover just around democratic control. Last night's returns were added to today by the news of the plurality of Thompson, Democrat, of Kansas. Enough states are unreported definitely to give democratic leaders much hope.

LATEST BULLETINS

Detroit—Latest Michigan returns indicate that Roosevelt will have about 30,000 plurality with Taft and Wilson running close for second place.

Oklahoma City—The Bill for removal of the Capital to Guthrie was defeated by probably 20,000.

Chicago—Returns up to 3:30 p. m. from all except 340 precincts in state give Wilson plurality of 9552 over Roosevelt.

San Francisco, Cal.—Returns now give Wilson 267,501, Roosevelt 266,235. Wilson's plurality 1266.

Progressives Now Claim California.
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 7.—Progressive leaders claim today a large enough plurality for Roosevelt in Los Angeles county to overcome the State plurality give Wilson on the face of late returns. Figures compiled at Progressive headquarters give Roosevelt a plurality of approximately 21,000 in the entire county. If late returns later reduce the present Wilson plurality it is possible the official count will be required in this county, to determine the complexion of California's electoral vote.

Republican Governor in Wisconsin.
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 7.—Returns from 67 out of 71 counties in Wisconsin give McGovern, Republican, for governor a lead of 3600 votes.

Wilson Has 12,000 Lead in Kansas.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 7.—Later returns today increased Wilson's plurality over Theodore Roosevelt and that of W. H. Thompson for United States senator over Governor Stubbs, Republican. The fight for governor between Arthur Capper, Republican and George Hodges, Democrat, has narrowed down to 800 in Capper's favor. Wilson now has a plurality of 12,000 votes.

100,000 Socialist Votes in Ohio.
Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—Socialist State headquarters today claimed the Socialist vote in Ohio ran close to 100,000.

Democrats Claim Illinois.
Chicago, Nov. 7.—Reports to Democratic National headquarters here are that Wilson has a substantial plurality in Illinois, with twenty-three counties, many of which are Southern counties and Democratic still to hear from.

Rapid City, S. D., Nov. 7.—Theodore Roosevelt is still leading in South Dakota today by about 5,000.

Minnesota Swings to Roosevelt.
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 7.—Minnesota apparent has swung from Wilson to Roosevelt and the Colonel probably has carried the State by about 15,000 according to returns this morning. Roosevelt found his great strength in the rural districts. Governor Eberhardt has been re-elected by a plurality ranging from 30,000 to 40,000. The election of the entire Republican ticket is practically assured.

Colquitt Besieged For Endorsements.
Austin, Texas, Nov. 7.—The officers of State official are already being besieged by letters from those wishing endorsements to Woodrow Wilson for federal positions. Gov. Colquitt sent to Gov. Wilson the following telegram: "Sincere congratulations on your triumph. You have great responsibilities as well as great opportunities before you."

Wilson Leading in Illinois.
Chicago, Nov. 7.—Wilson, according to returns to 2 o'clock, has overcome Roosevelt's lead in Illinois and with 663 precincts to hear from, has a plurality of 1608.

Wilson and Thompson Win in Kansas.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 7.—With returns from one hundred counties complete and the other five estimated both Democratic and Republican State chairmen agree Wilson will have from 15,000 to 18,000 plurality over Roosevelt and that Thompson, Democrat for Senator, will have a plurality of 15,000 over Governor Stubbs, Republican.

Longworth's Seat in Doubt.
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 7.—Because of errors found in the unofficial count the race between Congressman Nicholas Longworth and Stanley Bowdler, Democrat for Congress, in the first Ohio district, is in doubt. The first returns gave Longworth a plurality.

TCHATALJA FORT REPORTED FALLEN

DISPATCHES SAY TROOPS NOW
FALLING BACK INTO CON-STANTINOPLE

END OF WAR IS NEAR

Turkish troops Driven From Nearly Every Foot of European Soil

By Associated Press.
London, England, Nov. 7.—A news agency dispatch from Athens says the Turks have been driven from the Tchatalja Fort before Constantinople and are now falling back in disorder into Constantinople. The victorious Bulgarians are investing the fortress.

Warships of the powers are now before Constantinople to protect the lives of foreigners within the city.

Turkey in a note to the powers asks for mediation without reserve and it is believed the end of the war is now a question of only a few hours. The Turkish soldiers have now been driven from nearly every foot of European soil.

Turkey Gives Powers Complete Liberty of Action

By Associated Press.
Paris, Nov. 7.—Turkey has decided to give the powers complete liberty of action in arranging conditions of peace, according to a dispatch from Constantinople.

Servians Capture Monastir.

Blegrade, Nov. 7.—The town of Kousshevo, twenty miles north of Monastir has been captured by the Servians after a short resistance.

Turkish Troops Destitute

By Associated Press.
Athens, Nov. 7.—Steamship passengers arriving today from Saloniki describe the Turkish troops as destitute, in rags, and selling even their arms to obtain bread. Many of the soldiers have been shot for insubordination.

Turks Withdraw From Saloniki.

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 7.—An Athens dispatch says: The Turkish garrison has been withdrawn from Saloniki, after destroying a number of bridges which formed the approaches to the city.

Bulgarians Drive Turks From Forts at Constantinople.

By Associated Press.
Cologne, Nov. 7.—The Turks are reported to have been decisively beaten by the Bulgarians and driven in disorder from their position at the Tchatalja fort in front of Constantinople, according to a dispatch from Sofia to the Cologne Gazette. The fighting was very severe and continued two days.

Turkey Now in Possession of Only Little European Territory.

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 7.—Only five little districts now remain in the possession of Turkey out of the past territory in Europe which she has ruled for centuries. Even these five districts comprising Constantinople, Adrianople, Saloniki, Monastir and Skutari are seriously threatened.

DELEGATES WILL BE SENT TO WACO

Mass Meeting Will be Held Tonight to Name Representative to Attend Road Conference

To send a delegation of Wichitans to the good roads meeting at Waco next Saturday is the purpose of a mass meeting called for tonight at 8 o'clock at the city hall.

A preliminary meeting was held last night, and it was decided to call another for tonight and appoint delegates to the Waco meeting, which will consider the "Meridian road" matter. Denison, which is Wichita Falls' only competitor for the northern gateway to Texas for this highway, will have a large representation at the meeting and it is considered very important that this city should have a large delegation on hand.

Wichita Falls is much more favorably situated for the route than is Denison and will stand a much better chance than the latter town if some evidence of a desire to co-operate and assist in bringing the road through this city is shown by the citizens. It is felt that it would be little short of disgraceful to let a town like Denison take the road away from Wichita Falls.

The meeting has been called by Dr. Bell, who is chairman of the Meridian road committee for Wichita county, and those interested hope to see a large number of citizens present at the meeting.

SECRET SERVICE MEN TO WATCH OVER WILSON

Some of the Best Men in the Service
Sent to Princeton by the Government

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—Defeated, but far from discouraged, President Taft already has formed plans for holding together and strengthening the Republican party. The plans are indefinite and still vague, but he declared to friends who accompanied him from Cincinnati that the party will continue to exist; that it will be as active as in the past and that there is no reason to believe that its chances of future success were not excellent.

So far as the President's plan is concerned, he hopes to see organized "A National Republican club," entirely apart from the Republican National committee, which shall cherish the principles of the party and be a source of political activity, not only during election years, but at all times. The President spoke of the Republican Club of New York, the Hamilton Club of Chicago, and other organizations similar in character, and expressed the belief that through these clubs interest and loyalty could be kept alive.

To a suggestion that he might be the Republican party's nominee in 1916, the President replied with a smile, but made no comment. He laughingly repeated his intention of returning to Cincinnati and the practice of law.

The President is convinced that the task of President-elect Wilson will not be easy. He said he earnestly hoped Mr. Wilson would not call an extra session of Congress to revise the tariff. He wished, he said, to see the present prosperity continue as long as possible.

Mr. Taft declared that Mr. Wilson would face a Congress made up to a large extent of untried men, men who come to believe in "historic" publicity and who believe that to show their faith with the people they must at times be "insurgents" and oppose the program of leaders.

The President was particularly interested in any tariff revision program, and laughed when he said he was eagerly awaiting the Democratic efforts to reduce the schedules of that "iniquitous Payne-Aldrich law."

Asked if he did not consider Mr. Wilson more conservative than radical, the President told the following story about Senator Zias, head of the Radical party in Cuba:

"Zias was campaigning once," said the President, "and was accused of being a Conservative."

"I am not a Conservative," said Zias, "I am a Radical. I must speak as a Radical on the platform to keep my followers, but in office I am not a Radical."

The President left Columbus at 5:40 for Washington. He expected to stay there with but few trips away from the White House until March 4.

He announced today that he will not visit the Panama Canal during the Christmas holidays, as he had planned, and authorized Congressman Sherry of Kentucky, a caller on his private car, who was en route to Panama, to give Col. Goethals his "kind regards."

Richard L. Jervis, one of the husky six foot Secret Service men, who has guarded President Taft since he was elected four years ago, was notified to proceed to Princeton. He will be joined by other Secret Service men later. "Jimmie" Sloan, who has been head of the White House Secret Service for several years and "Black Wheeler," his principal assistant, who has laid out the Taft trips, will stay with the President.

THE PROGRESSIVE PARTY WILL BE PERMANENT.

New York, Nov. 7.—"We have ended the fight but the fight has just begun," said Senator Dixon, chairman of the Progressive National Committee. "We shall not waste any time over the election, but shall begin at once the work of getting the new party in shape to accomplish results in the future. We have won second place as a party in the Nation. What that really means is not realized yet, but when we go to Washington and ask recognition in Federal patronage and on all boards and committees which are partitioned between the two leading parties our status will be made clear."

"Our plans for the immediate future will be decided at the meeting of the Progressive National Committee, which I have called for December 10 at Chicago. We will then take up the question of our representation in Congress and what is to be done to increase the number of our men there two years hence. With the election machinery in most States under control jointly with the Democratic party we should then be able to accomplish much more than in this election."

JOHNSON MAY ESCAPE
WHITE SLAVE PROSECUTION

Federal Grand Jury Expected to Complete Its Investigation This Afternoon

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Nov. 7.—The federal grand jury investigating the case of Jack Johnson was expected to close today. Preparations have been made to release Lucile Cameron the white girl who has been held in $25,000 bail, as a witness. It is said her testimony that she came here voluntarily from Minneapolis will relieve the negro of prosecution under the "white slave" act. Other cases are pending Johnson in the municipal and federal courts, the latter on the charge of smuggling a pearl necklace from France.

FOR REFORMS IN HIS OWN STATE

PRESIDENT-ELECT WILL STAY ON JOB AT TRENTON UNTIL HE HAS CARRIED OUT REFORMS

LEGISLATURE WITH HIM

Constitutional Convention Will Probably be Authorized and Corporation Laws Revised

By Associated Press.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Just because Woodrow Wilson is President-elect of the United States, he does not, he asserts, intend to retire from the fight he has waged for two years for a program of progressive legislation in New Jersey. Mr. Wilson said today "he would stay on the job at Trenton" until he carried out his reforms, but with a Democratic legislature behind him this is likely to be a smooth process when the law-makers convene January 1.

Though campaigning vigorously for the presidency, Gov. Wilson, concentrated earnest appeals in New Jersey. Nothing gives him more satisfaction than the fact that not only is New Jersey to be represented by two Democrats in the United States Senate, but for the first time in his administration as governor, both houses of the State legislature will be Democratic.

A year ago he stumped the state to obtain a Democratic legislature but he was beaten. The President-elect admitted today that the program of reform he had in mind for the State would be advanced by the thought that as the former executive of the country, nationwide attention probably would be attracted by his policy in the New Jersey Legislature.

"Whatever we do in New Jersey," he said, "will have the force of the whole country behind it."

"The Democratic state platform recommends a constitutional convention. It is known the governor wants to have the corporation laws of the State revised. The reform in this connection, he declares, he never had an opportunity of putting through, because the legislature was not with him. When Governor Wilson resigns, the president of the State senate will become governor until the next election, due next fall. James H. Field, senator from Hudson county, and Democratic minority leader of the upper House, it is said, will be elevated to the presidency, and therefore may be Governor-Wilson's successor."

The President-elect expects to leave here the morning of November 16 for a brief vacation. He will sail on a private yacht furnished him by a personal friend. With Mrs. Wilson and his host the President-elect will make the trip to the Bermudas.

ELEVATOR DROPPED
BUT NOBODY HURT

Elevator Boy and Two Oil Men in Cage Which Fell Three Stories
at Westland Hotel

The elevator cable at the Westland Hotel slipped this morning while the elevator was at the third floor and the car dropped to the basement. The elevator boy and two oil men, Tom Woods and L. C. Heydrick, were passengers and all three were jarred considerably. The friction on the reel of the cable in the basement was set on fire when the car dropped and served to accelerate the exit of the passengers and the elevator boy when the car stopped. The elevator was put out of commission for a few hours, but the damage was slight.

It is said that the elevator boy's pulse was down to 115 by noon, and much of the color had returned to his face by that time. Mr. Heydrick's friends declare that he remained perfectly cool and collected.

NEW WAYS OF COOKING LAMB

Many Prefer, for a Change, to Have the Meat Taste Like Venison—Some Recipes.

Put off all the skin from a leg of lamb, put it in an earthen dish and pour over it a quart of sour milk (well beaten). Add some sliced onion, a slice of lemon, six pepper corns, one bay leaf and some salt. Leave the meat in the dish from five to eight days and turn it once a day. Then wash off the milk and lard the meat with strips of bacon. In roasting pan put remnants of the bacon, a piece of butter and some rinses of pumpernickel or rye bread, a little onion and sliced carrot. Roast one hour; while roasting add a cup of sour cream.

Another Way.—Take off all the fat and skin from a leg of lamb and lard it with strips of bacon, on which some pepper has been put. Put the meat in an earthen dish and add some onion, two bay leaves, some carrots and some peppers; then pour over it a quart of white vinegar and turn daily for four days. Without washing, put the meat in the roasting pan and brown in butter. Roast one hour, gradually adding some of the vinegar in which the meat has been pickled.

A Simpler Way.—Skin a leg of lamb and take off all the fat. Soak a pink in vinegar and leave it around the meat for three days, taking care that the cloth never gets dry. It is best to put fresh vinegar on every day. The fourth day lard the meat and let it remain in butter milk one day. Then dry off and fry in butter. Add some sweet cream to the gravy.

To Restore Color Bleached by Acid.
When color on a fabric has been accidentally or otherwise destroyed by acid, ammonia is applied to neutralize or counteract the effect of the acid, after which an application of chloroform will in almost all cases restore the original color. The application of ammonia is not so well known. In the case of your fine slate-colored serge skirt discolored by using strong oxalic acid to remove fruit stains, touch the spots lightly, using, if possible, a fine brush, or a bit of cotton pad on the plain end of a match. Have the pad almost dry and see that it affects every part of the stained place, then apply the chloroform in the same way. Afterward press the injured portion under a cloth using a cool iron and your skirt will be nicely restored.

Two Dainty Salads.
A good salad is made by covering crisp hearts of lettuce with chopped olives and sliced red Spanish peppers. On top put shredded cucumber, marinated in French dressing and garnish with a spoonful of mayonnaise.

Cut the top from seedless California oranges and remove the pulp in as large pieces as possible. Skin each section and mix with it shredded pineapple, seeded white grapes and a few preserved cherries. Marinate in French dressing and serve the ice cold fruit in the orange shells.

This same recipe can be made into a compote or even a sweet salad by adding the juice of tangerine oranges and a dash of maraschino or sherry and a little sugar, instead of the French dressing.

Tomato Toast.
Three tomatoes, three red chillies, one onion, one-half ounce butter, one dessertspoon milk, one tablespoon bread crumbs, one egg, salt and cayenne to taste. Put the tomatoes in boiling water for two minutes, then peel them, chop very fine with the chillies, salt and onion. Put the butter and milk into a pan, add the tomatoes and chillies, cook for a few minutes and mix a well-beaten egg with it. Then cook until the mixture is the thickness of buttered eggs. Serve on slices of buttered toast and sprinkle fried bread crumbs on the top.

Filling.
Dissolve one square of bitter chocolate, grated, in a dish placed in boiling water. Whip the whites of two eggs to a stiff froth. Pour a half cupful boiling water over one cupful of granulated sugar and cook until it spins fine threads. Turn the melted sugar slowly into the beaten eggs and whip until the mixture is cool. Add the melted chocolate and whip until a smooth, frothy cream, then whip in a half teaspoonful of vanilla. This will be sufficient for the top and filling of the cake.

Creamed Eggs—Mushrooms.
Cook two tablespoons of chopped mushrooms and one tablespoon of hopped onion in one tablespoon of butter for five minutes, taking care not to let it brown. Then stir in one tablespoon of flour and add slowly one-half pint of hot, white stock; pepper and salt to taste, and let cook gently for four minutes. Take six hard-boiled eggs and cut the whites of three into rings; chop the remaining three whites and cut into quarters. Mix the "chopped" whites and yolks with the sauce; turn into a platter and garnish with the rings.

Canned Cucumbers.
Put green cucumbers in salt water over night; put vinegar, not too strong, in a granite kettle, with mixed spices; let come to a boil; drop in the cucumbers; let them come to a boiling point. Fill glass jars that have been well heated, to a two-quart can, put in one tablespoonful of granulated sugar; then pour over them the hot vinegar, and seal; these are as crisp and tender as when fresh picked.

NEW NEWS OF YESTERDAY

Story of One of the Brave Mothers of '61.

How She Nursed Her Wounded Son General Francis Walker, So That He Might Fight to the End of the War.

By E. J. EDWARDS.

The late General Francis Amasa Walker, who died in 1897, when president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was, in his lifetime, regarded as perhaps the greatest writer upon economic topics the United States has ever produced. It is sometimes said of General Walker that the prevailing interest in economic questions which is now so characteristic of the people of the United States was in great measure due to his work. General Walker, too, organized the census bureau in 1870 and again in 1880 as superintendent of the census, bringing the work of the census bureau up to its present high standard and its far-reaching statistical authority. During the Civil war he gained a good deal of renown as a soldier. He enlisted, when he was not long out of Amherst college, in a Massachusetts regiment, and came out of the struggle a brevet brigadier general. General Walker's pre-eminent ability as an economist he undoubtedly inherited from his father, Amasa Walker, who was regarded as one of the highest authorities of his time upon financial questions and whose political economy, published after the close of the Civil war, was widely used as a text book. But General Walker's intense patriotism, his disposition to serve his country in any way in which he might be called upon to serve it, even though the emoluments were less than he could receive as a writer and teacher, and a certain rigid disciplinary capacity which he possessed which was not inconsistent with great kindness of heart, he inherited from his mother.

"Frank," the mother said, when she was told that he had responded to Lincoln's call for volunteers, "I don't care whether you are a private or whether you become a captain. I am very proud that I have a son who has become a soldier and who is going to fight in defense of the Union."

At the battle of Spotsylvania Court House General Walker was especially conspicuous for his courage and for the readiness with which he met dangerous emergencies, as well as for the perfect discipline of the soldiers who were under him. He was severely wounded in that battle and when his mother was told of the wounds she simply said: "Well, he got them when his face was toward the enemy—I know that."

When convalescing from his wounds General Walker obtained a furlough and set out to visit his parents at their home at East Brookfield, Mass. His mother saw him coming up the walk and met him at the door. There was kindly expression in her countenance, and at the same time anxiety. General Walker's first thought was that this anxiety was due to her fear that his wounds should prove very dangerous. What was his surprise, therefore, to hear his mother ask before she gave him any other words of greeting:

"What, Frank, have you come home?"

"Yes, mother, I have come home for a little while."

"For a little while? Then you are going back again?"

"Yes, mother, as soon as I am able to rejoin the regiment."

"Oh, Frank," cried the mother, joyously, "I am so glad to hear you say that! I was afraid you had rested."

"I want you to stay until the war is ended."

And she nursed him carefully and tenderly, brought him back to health, talked to him by the hour about the patriotic duties of a soldier, and saw him return to his regiment, giving him first her blessing.

Soldiers' Pet Armadillo.

While hunting in the Virginia woods near Bailey's crossroads, in Alexandria county, a few nights ago a pack of dogs belonging to John Monroe and a colored man named Mortimer Wiggins ran down and killed an animal, believed to be an armadillo. The dogs were after opossums and coon, but getting on the scent of the animal followed it for an hour or more before they landed their quarry. Later it was learned that the armadillo belonged to one of the troops of cavalry at Fort Myer. The men had secured a number of the animals while on duty on the Texas border and had brought them to the fort.

The one that was killed had escaped and the men had been hunting the woods for it for several days when they learned that it had been killed. This is possibly the only armadillo hunt that ever took place in the vicinity of Washington.—Washington Star.

The Fashionable Face.

The "delicate oval," which novelists insist upon as the ideal facial line for their heroine appears to be gathered among women's lost charms. The "line" of face most in evidence at the present moment is said to be perilously near the type of feminine beauty disreputable persons call "moon faced."

Yet circular countenances do not really predominate. According to phenologists, the chin of the modern girl is usually well pointed; while her brow has expanded.

RAISING TICK-PROOF CATTLE

A Texas dealer is developing cross-bred cattle that are absolutely immune to the Texas fever tick—the insect responsible for an annual loss in the South alone of from $40,000,000 to $100,000,000. This new breed is the result of six years of experimenting and is being watched by experts with the keenest interest.

What these tick-proof cattle are, how they are made immune and who the discoverer is, are all explained by H. D. Smith, of the Kansas Agricultural College, in the article,

Tick-Proof Cattle for The South in this week's issue of

Five Other Big Features in This Issue Are:

- Have You Made Your House Spark-Proof? by Harry Snowden Stabler, the insurance and financial expert. This is one of a very valuable series of articles on "Our $100,000,000 Fire Waste." It explains many practical precautions that will prevent fires in country houses.
- Shall We Grow Or Buy Peaches? by Professor Frank A. Waugh, head of the Horticultural Department of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, an expert at the Massachusetts Experiment Station and one of the country's leading authorities on peach culture.
- Ready-Made Farms, by A. C. Laut. An interesting account of how the new settlers in the West are helped by the better government and the land companies to get a good start on new land.
- Our Living From Ten Acres. A personal account of the experiences of a man who started an irrigation farm in Idaho and succeeded from the beginning, written by J. E. Butler—the man who did it.

WICHITA COUNTY WINS LONG STAPLE PRIZE

Local Exhibit Took First Prize at Cotton Palace—County Exhibit Took Second Award.

First prize for long staple cotton, and second prize for county exhibit were awarded Wichita county at the Cotton Palace exposition at Waco, ac-morning. The exhibit prize is a cash consideration of $50, and the long staple prize consists of the red ribbon.

Denton county won first prize for county exhibit at the Cotton Palace, naming Wichita out if the top honors, but this county was awarded second by the judges. The exhibit has attracted considerable attention, according to the Waco papers, this being the most distant county represented at the exposition.

According to advices received here this

STREET LIGHTING IN AMERICAN CITIES

Some of the Smaller Cities Have Lighting Arrangements That Excel Larger Cities

The following from the Christian Science Monitor will be of interest here in view of the fact that bonds have just been voted for street lights.

It is not necessary to go to the largest American cities in order to see what can be done in the line of street lighting and lamp post ornamentation.

Bloomington, Ind., is an example of a city with a limited population eager to take a front place in street lighting. The 120 standards used were hewn from limestone, which is extensively quarried in the neighborhood.

Fairbault, Minn., with less than ten thousand inhabitants, is another city adding to its attractiveness with ornamental standards. In the business district there are 106 ornamental standards, each bearing three high efficiency lamps. The posts are grouped, about twelve being controlled from one switch in the base of a post. A patrol turns the light on and off. The olive green color of the post is effective.

The problem of ornamental park lighting is rather puzzling to most cities. The Washington plan for boulevard lighting is finding popular acceptance. The object is always to provide such lights as will illuminate the park and drive effectively, so that drivers of motor cars and carriages can see their way safely, paths and walks are made safe and also the best decorative effect obtained.

Michigan Boulevard, Chicago, is said to be the most beautiful stretch of "white way" lighting in the world. The boulevard at night is quite striking. There is dignity, proportion, beauty in the arrangement.

In the case of Race Street, Cincinnati, illumination has been a transforming agency. Five-light standards, spaced approximately fifty feet apart, carry lamps, each quintet aggregating one hundred and sixty candle power. It is said that in this street illumination is almost perfect. The standards are surrounded with special shades fitted with glass reflectors.

The history of street lighting shows that when electric wires were largely removed from overhead to underground it became possible to pay more attention to ornamental effects. At present more than two hundred and fifty American cities have installed systems of ornamental post lighting.

Within two years Alder Street, in Portland, Ore., which was once a dark thoroughfare by night, has been transformed into a popular and thriving artery of the city. This transformation is attributed to the installation of 200 ornamental lamps, arranged five to a post.

New Haven, Conn., is spoken of in street lighting circles as a city with an exceptional service with one lamp to a post. Dayton, Ohio, has thirteen thousand five hundred feet of streets with ornamental lighting. The 5-lamp system provides for the burning of the top lamp all night, while the other four are kept lighted from dusk to midnight.

Alan Bright, illuminating engineer, is of the opinion that the women of a city can be important factors in bringing about satisfactory lighting.

"In most cities where the new street lights have been adopted," he says, "the expense has been borne to a large extent with private funds. This indicates that the benefits derived in increase in trade and in property values warrant this expenditure of private funds. It is considered reasonable, however, to expect the municipal authorities to bear at least a part of this expense, as not only merchants and property holders on the streets in question are benefited, but the appearance of the city as a whole is improved."

SAYS GIRLS WEAR FOOLISH CLOTHES

Professor Explains Why They Have Spinal Troubles More Than

Corvallis, Ore., Nov. 7.—"Girls wear foolish clothes, and for that reason more frequently have spinal curvature than men," said Prof. Miriam Thayer, director of physical training for women at the Oregon Agricultural College, in the first of a series of health talks before the young women of the institution.

Miss Thayer explained to the girls the sort of shoes they should buy for winter wear, and why some styles cause "flatfoot," of which she has found many cases in her examinations of the physical condition of the students under her care.

Tight belts and tight clothing if all sorts, especially corsets, were condemned as the great cause of much of the spinal curvature which occurs far more frequently among women than among men.

In the last few days a number of more or less serious cases of such spinal trouble have been discovered among the girl students, and special treatments are being prescribed in the gymnasium, to correct the difficulty.

In order to give the director more complete information on which to base her prescription of exercises for the individual girls, each one was given two cards to be filled out, one to contain the personal and family history, the other a schedule of exercises to be taken regularly.

WILL AWARD PRIZES ON NOVEMBER 16

Boys and Girls Will Receive Prizes for Corn and Tomatoes at Meeting to be Held Here

Members of the Girls' Tomato Club and the Boys' Corn Clubs of this section will meet in Wichita Falls on Saturday, November 16, when prizes for the year's work will be awarded. Notices for the meeting are being sent out today by J. W. Campbell, government agricultural agent, and it is expected that several hundred boys and girls will be in the city on that occasion.

All the boys and girls are to bring their respective products to the meeting, and the prizes to be awarded will be for both corn and tomatoes.

Best yield—first, $10; second, $5; third, $2.50.

Best product—first, $10; second, $5; third, $2.50.

Best report—first, $5; second, $2.50; third, $1.

Sweepstakes—best yield, product, and report, $5.50.

These prizes are donated by the Chamber of Commerce. In addition, Postmaster Bacon has offered a $10 prize for the best dozen ears of corn raised in Wichita, Clay or Archer counties. This contest is open to both men and boys.

The boys and girls who attend will be guests at dinner and at a moving picture show, so that the occasion promises to be a very enjoyable one for them.

See That Bald Headed Young Man.

"I know he is only 38," said one young lady to another at a social function, "but he looks like 50."

"Better say he looks like 60," replied the other.

Young men who use PARISIAN Sage never grow bald because the hair root is supplied with plenty of nature's own nourishment, which means at all times an abundance of healthy hair.

Young Man, if your hair is thinning out; if that little bald spot on top is beginning to spread, try PARISIAN Sage. It is guaranteed by Foshee & Lynch to stop falling hair, banish dandruff and scalp-itch, or money back, 50 cents at dealers everywhere.

Thornberry Items.

This community was visited by quite a rain on last Wednesday which was very much appreciated by the people that have wheat.

The rain checked cotton picking for a few days, but we have had two very large frosts since which will cause the cotton to open very rapidly.

Sam Bunger is down with the fever but we are in hopes that he will be up in a very few days as he is one of the promising young men of this community.

Prof. Parrish the principal of the Thornberry school went out gunning Saturday and had the good luck of bagging fifteen very fine quail.

The drilling on the well at this place has stopped and they are now engaged in pulling the casing.

Roy Lanier and wife were in Wichita Falls Saturday shopping.

D. E. Bentley went to the Falls Saturday on business and his daughter, Mrs. Albert Baber returned home with him.

F. M. McKinney and J. W. Apperson carried hay to town Saturday for W. N. C. Pharris.

The shower of rain Tuesday knocked cotton picking out for the greater portion of the day.

Messrs. McCaskey, Mank, McCawley and Parkhurst of Wichita Falls, came out Wednesday and spent the day gunning with W. N. C. Pharris. Mr. Clarence Morris carried off the medal as a "shootist" having killed two rabbits and one quail with two shots. He also claims the championship in eating sliced tomatoes. Come again boys and make yourselves welcome.

F. M. McKinney has some very fine swine that he intends to slaughter the first good norther that comes.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

ELI WHITNEY'S TROUBLES.

By A. W. MACY.

Eli Whitney invented the cotton gin in 1793. The new machine created great excitement, and before he could complete his model and secure his patent, scoundrels broke into his shop, stole his ideas, and made other machines along the same lines. Many rivals appeared, and he had to fight infringements on all sides. In 1795 his shop and all his machines and papers were burned. This misfortune threw him into bankruptcy, with a debt of $4,000 hanging over him. The first important infringement suit went against him. Several state legislatures with whom he had contracts tried to nullify them. In all he had more than sixty lawsuits, many of which were decided against him. He struggled against adverse circumstances for fifteen years, and then gave it up. It is said he did not make a dollar out of his invention, though it revolutionized the cotton industry and added a thousand million dollars to the revenues of the southern states.

Some people are inclined to be a little bit skeptical about the liberal use of oysters. They seem to think they are responsible for some forms of disease. This is probably true of some oysters, the same as it might be true of some meats, or of real cheap canned goods, etc.

But Sealshipt oysters are as fresh when you get them as they were when taken from the shell at the seashore, all because of the extra care taken in preparing and shipping them. They are seldom more than two or three days removed from the seashore when you get them, and have been kept in such a way that they have not had a chance to become spoiled.

ment. Nothing has done more to make the people feel that the government is really their own. Credit for this reform should be given to William J. Bryan. He was the first candidate to appeal to the people for the money to finance a presidential campaign. The movement started in 1908 was developed in 1912 to such an extent that popular subscriptions furnished ample funds for the conduct of one of the best organized campaigns ever conducted in behalf of a presidential candidate.

One of the most significant features of the victory won by Wilson and Marshall last Tuesday was the defeat of the Progressives in California, where it was a two-party affair. The Progressives, in control of the election machinery, skillfully prevented the names of Taft electors going on the ballots and the voter, unless he was a Socialist, had to choose between Wilson and Roosevelt. They chose Wilson. This is an interesting indication of what might have happened had the race in the country at large been between Wilson and Roosevelt with no third party.

MRS. GROVER CLEVELAND

The engagement of Mrs. Grover Cleveland to a professor of Princeton is announced. "We are advised that the gentleman is a bachelor as well as a scholar, but no mention is made of his politics. Unless he is a 'died in the wool' Democrat we will have to object, that's all.—Denison Herald.

The happy man is not a professor at Princeton University—he is a professor at Wells College. And whether he is a Democrat, a Republican or a Bull Moose really makes no difference. Some Republicans and some Bull Moose make very good husbands, as husbands go. As a general thing they are even better providers than Democratic husbands are, for they have had a better chance at the pie counter and have as a class grabbed off more than their less fortunate competitors. All that, however, is beside the main question, which is Mrs. Cleveland's happiness. Every good man in America, regardless of his politics, wants her to be happy. She is certainly of the best type of the modern world's womanhood. A dutiful daughter, a beautiful bride, a dignified wife and a devoted mother, she has typified all that is sweet and true and pure and desirable in womanhood. And just as Mr. Cleveland, a rugged man not always used to the finer influences, was so blest and broadened and strengthened in the reflected light of her life that he called the years of their union "a glad sweet song," so millions of other men, less conspicuous, have found in the woman at their side the inspiration which has built them into a softer, nobler and firmer manhood. There are perhaps not many Grover Cleve-lands, but heaven be praised, there are many Frances Poisons in this country, and their glory is the glory of this Nation of happy homes.—Dallas News.

TELEGRAM TURNED TIDE TO WILSON

Colonel Roosevelt has done for the Republican party what the Democrats have been trying to do for the past forty or fifty years. He has completely killed it. For this, at least, he is entitled to a vote of thanks. If the party ever comes to live again while Roosevelt lives, he will be the man who will have to blow the breath of life into it. Mr. Taft has been completely discredited, and the votes he received for his re-election, or many of them at least, were cast by Republicans who did not approve of his politics, but who merely voted for him to be regular and in the hope of maintaining their organization.

Governor Wilson advocated the one presidential term idea, but it is more than likely the people themselves will have something to say about that, and if a second term is tendered he can not well refuse. If he should, however, there is Bryan, who, during the progress of the campaign just so successfully closed has shown himself to be the superior of any man in the ranks of the Democratic party. It was Bryan's generalship at the Baltimore convention that made it possible for the election of a Democratic president. The telegrams he sent to the three leading candidates while the convention was in progress opened the way for Democratic victory. Gov. Wilson was quick to see the point Bryan was making, and was not slow to accept the conditions. To Bryan, more than all others, are the Democrats under obligations for this, the greatest victory in the history of the party.

For the first time in the history of the country a campaign financed by the whole people has met success at the polls, and a new order has been established in American politics. The day of immense contributions by the interests and the wholesale corruption of the electorate such as have marked previous campaigns will be no more. It can safely be predicted. And this is one of the most important phases of Tuesday's victory. Nothing will do so much to drive the "interests" from their place of power in the government. Nothing has done more to make the people feel that the government is really their own. Credit for this reform should be given to William J. Bryan. He was the first candidate to appeal to the people for the money to finance a presidential campaign. The movement started in 1908 was developed in 1912 to such an extent that popular subscriptions furnished ample funds for the conduct of one of the best organized campaigns ever conducted in behalf of a presidential candidate.

in doing everything within your power to bring that result about. No one will doubt where my sympathies are, and you will, I am sure, find my friends in the convention acting upon clear conviction and always in the interest of the people's cause. I am happy in the confidence that need of suggestion from me.—Kansas City Star.

WHAT IS TO BE BRYAN'S REWARD?

The significance of Tuesday's election indicates that the people of the United States have spoken in no uncertain terms their disapproval of the Republican rule. That they have decided to trust the democrats with the reins of government, relying upon the pledges set out in the Baltimore platform and their confidence in the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, is ev-ident by the largest electoral vote since the Civil War, given to any presidential candidate. Not only is this a triumph for democracy, but a splendid tribute to the statesmanship of William Jennings Bryan, to whom, more than other man, we are indebted for this awakening.

What his reward will be for his untiring devotion to the principles that he has preached in season and out of season for the reforms necessary for the welfare of the American people, will depend largely upon his own preferences and the gratitude of the President-elect. Will it be Secretary of State or Ambassador to St. James?

ELMER WRIGHT, Manager

He found them in one store and that was a lot that had been shipped in by mistake. During the last season 15 million of these cans were shipped in to the state and in Oklahoma City 11 million were sold.

One girl, who was a member of the canning club in Oklahoma, made a net profit of $101 out of one-tenth of an acre. It is not assumed by any of the officials that she could have made a profit of $1001 an acre off a hundred acre farm but her showing is a very good indication of what the girls can do in a business line when they get started.

The canning works have been an object lesson to many of the grown people in the states where they have been in operation. One orchard man near Oklahoma City had quite a large orchard off which he could not sell the fruit at a profit and he was about to abandon the whole enterprise when he casually attended one of the girls' canning demonstrations. He was so impressed that he invested about $150 in the biggest home canning outfit he could get and canned all of the fruit on his place. He cleaned up nearly $6,000 on the season's work and decided to retain the orchard.

25,000 GIRLS ENROLLED IN TOMATO CLUBS

Scope of Work Enlarged and New Many Other Branches of Farm Life Being Studied

(Washington Star) Girls have more sense than boys, anyhow.

That is one of the reasons that the Department of Agriculture advances for the success of the girls' farm club that is just finishing its second year of crop growing.

About two years ago the late Dr. S. A. Knapp of the Department of Agriculture conceived the idea of organizing girls' tomato clubs in the Southern States, something on the order of the boys' corn clubs which had been run in previous years.

Unfortunately Doctor Knapp died before this work was ready for its public demonstration, but the idea took hold among the farm girls of the Southern States and the results obtained this year are considered by the Department of Agriculture officials as most remarkable.

The work started out with the idea of having girls raise tomatoes and possibly can a few if them. It has developed, however, into the girls going in for tomatoes, poultry and eggs and canning not only tomatoes, but all sorts of fruit and vegetables, so that in the state of Oklahoma alone the girls this year have canned ninety varieties of fruit and vegetables, making the famous pickle factory look like a back number.

There are about twenty-five thousand girls now enrolled in twelve of the Southern States, and work could be greatly extended if more money were available for instruction. It is estimated by business men and the department that the girls' club work has been worth just about 1 million dollars to Oklahoma this year. The basis on which this estimate is made is the fact that early in the previous season one of the farm demonstrators tried to find in the city Oklahoma some of the sort of cans the department is using in the girls' club home, which he led before the campaign with trips to New York once or twice a week. He probably will be called upon once a month or oftener to make speeches, although he desires to avoid any long trips for many months to come.

TWO FIVE YEAR OLD BOYS FATALLY BURNED

Poured Oil on Burning Fire and Flames Enveloped Them Both

By Associated Press. Rockwall, Texas, Nov. 7.—While popping corn two five-year-old boys were fatally burned yesterday, both dying a few hours after the accident. One of the boys was the son of T. R. Jones of Dallas, and the other was Sam Melsenheimer of Rockwall. They were using the grate fire for their corn popper. Impatient because the fire was low, one of the boys took a can of coal oil, pouring it in the grate. The burning oil enveloped them both.

The Guffey has a well lat 1036 feet on the W. E. Crow tract near Electra due south of the Marriott, indicating that the 100 foot sand extends well to the southward. The size of the well is not yet known.

It was reported today that the well on the Reilly tract southwest of Burk Burnett started by O'Hara and Greenless and taken over recently by Greenlees Brothers, had an eight-barrel showing at 490 feet and a number of the oil men went out this afternoon to investigate. It is understood the well will not stop in this sand.

CHANCE FOR PHILATELISTS

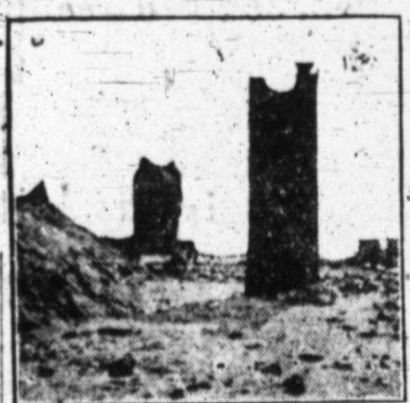

It is announced that the little principality of Lichtenstein, situated between Switzerland and Vorarberg, in the Tyrol, is to issue its own stamps. In effect it will do away with, or at least modify the existing convention by which the principality's postal service was in the hands of the Austro-Hungarian authorities.

Lichtenstein, with the exception of San Marino and Monaco, is the smallest independent state in Europe. It is twelve miles in length, and its area is 68.8 square miles. Its population is something like 10,000, and, it is said, contains more men than women. The capital is Vaduz, with a population of 1,100. There is a diet of twelve members, elected indirectly. The ruling prince has a court at Vienna, and the final court of appeal is at Innsbruck. There is no public debt. From the last returns the expenditure for the year showed about $85 less than the receipts. There is a customs union with Austria, for which Austria pays $5,000 a year. There is now no compulsory military service within the principality.

IS ATTACKED BY VAMPIRES

From the village of Moresnet on the Belgium-Prussian frontier comes a strange story of human vampires. A schoolmaster who was returning home one evening staggered some time later into the doctor's house with his throat bleeding and in an exhausted condition. He said that as he was walking along in a lonely place an automobile stopped near him and three men sprang out and flung a cloak over him and carried him into the car. He felt his throat cut and lips sucking his blood while the car dashed on into the night. He became unconscious and came to himself in a ditch just over the border. He crawled back to the nearest house, which proved to be the doctor's. The doctor said that the appearance of the wound tended to corroborate the story.

WELLS UNEARTHED BY SEA

What appear to be towers in the illustration are in reality brick walls which have been unearthed by the sea. They are at Plage St. Gabriel, near Boulogne, France, where a hotel and bathing station have been destroyed by the encroaching of the sea.

PIN IN THROAT SEVEN YEARS

Seven years ago, while a Cedina, Ohio, woman was dressing one of her children, she swallowed one of a set of baby beauty pins, set with a pearl. The pin was unhooked and lodged in her throat. Physicians were unable, however, to extract it. During a severe coughing spell the other night she coughed up the pin, and other than suffering a slight irritation of the throat she is none the worse.

DESIGNS IN DRAPERIES

STYLES OFFERED GIVE HOUSEWIVES A WIDE CHOICE.

For Summer Curtains, Coolness and Fresh Appearance is All Important—Cretonne or Chintz Sash Are the Present Favorites.

The city housekeeper who must stay in town all summer does not bother with draperies. Her sole need is air and if she be sensible she sticks to undraped windows and doors. For the suburban and country house, however, curtaining is all important.

Never has the choice of these been wider or more artistic than this season, and the woman who must recapture her house or furnish a new one is to be envied.

In selecting summer curtains two things are important: The fabrics chosen must be cool and fresh looking and they must be washable. Heavy draperies are inartistic, because they are inappropriate. This eliminates brocades, silks and satins, velvets and wool.

In curtaining a summer house choose nothing that will be ruled by open windows. Where double curtains are used they should be easily manipulated on the rods.

Use a bedroom has plenty of windows double curtains should not be used. Some housekeepers prefer the cretonne or chintz sash curtains. These hang to the sill and work loosely on rods. While they shut out more air than the net or lace curtain they darken a room better, and if properly hung can be pushed into small compass at night.

There is a fancy now for the valance across the top of the window. This may be a ten-inch ruffle run on a rod; but the shaped and stiffened valance is enjoying quite a revival.

In treating any window or door, remember the simpler the effect and the straighter the lines the better taste. Puffed and much draped hangings are bad form.

For these heavy curtains or draperies are shown a variety of printed chintzes, taffetas—linen and cotton—and cretonnes of foreign and domestic make. The coloring of even the cheaper grades is artistic and one can find flowers, foliage and birds in any desired color. The English glazed chintz is especially effective and washes well. Its chief objection is easy wrinkling.

Yeast Cakes.

One quart thick buttermilk, one pint corn meal, one-half pint flour, one large yeast cake soaked in just enough water to cover. One-half teaspoon ginger may be added, but it is not necessary.

Put the buttermilk over the fire in a granite pan and bring to a boil, then stir in the corn meal and flour, which have been sifted together. If ginger is used it can be added as it is cooked also. This should be of, about the consistency of mush when cooked. When lukewarm add the soaked yeast cake and set in a moderately warm place to sour, which should take from twelve to twenty-four hours. When it bubbles or smells quite sour, it is ready to be mixed with more meal, enough to roll out on a bread board. Then cut and place when it will dry.

Devil's Food.

Cream one cup of light brown sugar with one-fourth of a cupful of butter and one egg. Add one cupful of sour milk or cream, first dissolving in it one teaspoonful of soda. Stir in one teaspoonful of vanilla, and one-fourth cupful of sifted flour and two squares of bitter chocolate dissolved in three-fourths of a cupful of boiling water. If sour cream is used instead of milk, use half the quantity of butter. Bake in two layers or in a loaf in a moderate oven.

Hints About Steel.

To clean articles made of steel, rub with a piece of raw potato, unslaked lime or powdered pumice. Skates, sled runners, etc., may be prevented from rusting, when they are stored away for the summer, by coating them with a mixture of lard, pulverized black lead and camphor.

To remove rust from steel, rub with salt wet with hot vinegar; scour and rinse with boiling water.

Dry with a clean flannel cloth and polish with sweet oil.

Washing Eggs.

The ordinary way to break an egg is to hit it against another egg or over the edge of the mixing bowl and get the contents stream over the side of the shell without considering whether the latter is clean or not. Even if there is no visible dirt, the shell may not be as clean as it seems, for it may have come from a dirty nest or have been untidily handled. Eggs should therefore always be washed before breaking.

Ice Cream Coffee.

Put a good-sized spoon of vanilla ice cream into the bottom of a tall, large glass and fill up with chilled and foed coffee made with sugar and cream. Do not stir. Serve with long-handled spoon.

When Bluing Clothes.

The next time you prepare your bluing water add a little salt. This helps to distribute the color and prevents the clothes from becoming streaked or blotched from the bluing.

"The Confession" Will Appear Here November 11th

Under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, "The Confession" will be presented at the Wichita Theatre next Monday night, November 11th. The plot consists of a priest's brother being accused of murder which another man has committed and confessed to the priest, knowing that the priest would not impart the knowledge. The brother is only saved by the dying confession of the true murderer at the last moment to the governor.

Many strong scenes are enacted but the conclusion of the third act in which the true bill has been found against the prisoner and the real murderer, a French Canadian escapes, is the most pathetic.

Of late there has been a tendency for better things in the way of stage presentations. All musical comedies are virtually alike—problem plays are too frequent, indecency has received a fitting rebuke. "Que Vadis" and "The Sign of the Cross" ran for years with nothing but success to testify to their true worth. It has been shameful to see parents suddenly rise from their seats, to take a growing son or daughter away from the midst of a performance, from the fact of lewd suggestive scenes and situations in some of the offerings of the last two seasons.

The management of "The Confession" announce that no child, no matter of how tender years, can see or hear a single offensive thing in the offering.

ATTEMPT TO "SLIP ONE OVER" FRUSTRATED

Bait Held Out to Secure Information Caused Secretary Forester to Make Interesting Discovery

An attempt to "slip one over" on Wichita Falls and find out what its city is prepared to offer the concern, which is looking for a glass jar factory location, was frustrated neatly and promptly by Secretary Forester of the Chamber of Commerce. The attempt was made by the secretary of the commercial club in a Southern city which is trying to secure the factory and which naturally wanted to know how strong Wichita Falls would offer equally attractive.

The other secretary wrote to Mr. Forester, using plain paper and envelope and signing a fictitious name. He gave a postoffice box number in the city in question, the letter being as follows:

"Gentlemen: Myself and associates are desirous of securing complete information about your city as a location for a large plant manufacturing machinery, tools and kindred articles. We are desirous of securing a location from which we can cover the Pacific slope, the Southern States, Mexico and Central and South America, in such a manner that we can meet competition from New England and North Central States. Kindly supply me with literature about your city as well as a description of your people's attitude toward locating industries and the inducements which would be offered a plant capitalized at $500,000 and employing 400 men at the outset."

It looked too good to be true to Mr. Forester and it wasn't long until he discovered that it wasn't true. A telegram to a friend in the other city

NEW NEWS OF YESTERDAY

Boss Tweed's Vain Offer of Five Million Dollars.

How George Jones Absolutely Refused to Sell the New York Times. So Contemplated Exposure Could Be Prevented.

By E. J. EDWARDS.

One hot day in the midsummer of 1871 George Jones, at that time proprietor of the New York Times, took his accustomed seat in a little billiard saloon which occupied a part of the basement of the old Times building in Printing House square.

On the day in question Mr. Jones was suddenly called from his place by a messenger who had evidently been sent from his private office on the main floor of the Times building. In that office he found a lawyer and a man of business, both of whom he recognized at once as personal friends of William M. Tweed, who was the boss of New York city.

"My father received the two gentlemen very politely," said Gilbert H. Jones, who inherited the Times from his father. "He knew perfectly well what they had called for. He had only a day or two before gone over with Mr. Lewis J. Jennings, then the managing editor of the Times and afterward a member of the English parliament, all of the proof sheets of the first exposure of the Tweed ring. It was through Mr. Jennings that the bargain was first made by which the Times came into possession of the incriminating documents copied from the books of the comptroller of New York city, Connolly, who was a member of the Tweed ring."

"After the formal greetings were over, one of the gentlemen said to my father that he had heard that the Times newspaper property was for sale. Father replied that he had not said to anyone that he was willing or anxious to sell the Times. Then the lawyer said to my father: 'I suppose you would sell the Times, Mr. Jones, provided you got the right kind of an offer for it.' 'I don't know about that,' replied my father. 'That might depend upon who wanted to buy it.' 'Well, we are prepared, Mr. Jones,' the lawyer continued, 'to make you an offer of five million dollars for the Times newspaper, and if you would sell the paper, but wanted to keep the building, then the bargain could be made with that in view.' 'Who wants to buy?' my father asked.

"We represent the parties; I don't see what it should make any difference to you who they are," was the answer. "We are willing to give a million dollars in cash and the rest in A. I. securities." "Well," said my father, "it makes all the difference in the world who the parties are. I might sell the Times for five million dollars to a man who I know would maintain its good reputation; but, for example, I will say to you that I would not sell the Times to Boss Tweed or any of his gang if I were to be offered ten times five million."

"Why not?" the lawyer asked. "Because," said my father, "if I were to take any money from Tweed or his ring then I would become a participator in their iniquities and the Times would receive its share of their stealings; and so I think I have said to you, gentlemen, all that is necessary to say in order that you may inform those whom you represent that the Times newspaper is not for sale to them at any price."

"A day or two later," continued the son, "the Times published its first exposure of the Tweed ring, and from then on until Tweed and his gang were driven out of public life and public office my father kept up his fight against them."

IN ANCIENT EGYPT

Body of Pharaoh Still Visible in Old Tomb.

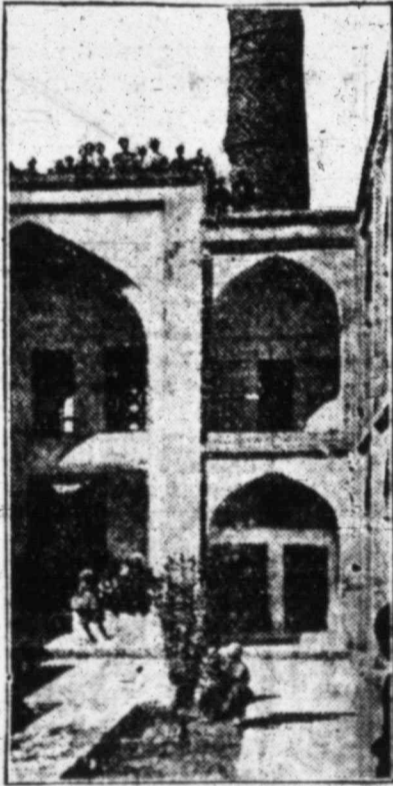

Country Always Irredeemably Mohammedan—The Tourist Is Awakened at Dawn by the Muzzein Calling All to Prayer.

Cairo, Egypt.—The old, old Egypt—the Egypt of the Pyramids, the Sphinx and the temples of the Upper Nile. One can never forget it, though no one can fully describe the sensations it arouses. It is, indeed, impossible to paint with a pen the sapphire blue of the sky, that interlude of color between the golden glow of the African sunset and the Egyptian darkness. As I walked about through the broken columns of Karnak and saw still guarding the doorways the statues of kings in the Temple of Luxor carved 1,500 years before Christ—as I groped down the long stairways into the tomb of Amenhotep III, where the body of the ancient Pharaoh, still visible, has lain for more than 30 centuries; or strolling under the bright tropical sun upon the towers of the Temple of Denderah, beautiful in the memory of the Egyptian Goddess of Joy and Love, one looks far across desert sands to the Nile, flowing through old, hushed Egypt, as Leigh Hunt says:

"Like some great mighty thought threading a dream."

But the impression, also difficult to analyze or interpret, which the western traveler and student receives before many hours in Alexandria or Cairo, is the fact that he has reached the land of the Moslem. In Egypt, Islam is the great ever-present reality. It faces one in the field as well as in the mosque, in Egypt's laws as in her social customs, in her homes and in her schools. Egypt has often changed her conquerors; indeed, she has through generations been virtually a subject race. But since the Arabs crossed to Egypt in the seventh century the land has been irredeemably Mohammedan. On my first morning of residence in Cairo I was awakened at daybreak by a muzzein in the minaret of a mosque near by, chanting in that voice that is half a song and half a call the Mohammedan call to prayer.

This call is answered not by a few people in one particular social strata of life, but by a whole nation. I have seen a mosque full of students and stately sheikhs leave their books for these daily summons to prayer, which if they are true Moslems they obey five times each day. I have seen the humble shopkeeper checking his routine of trade to bow behind his counter toward Mecca; I have watched the tired, fellahs stop the loading of his camel and kneeling by his waiting beast echo the name that reverberates through all Egypt—the name of Allah. And not only in peace, but also in war, this faith with its magic watchwords has been mighty. "The Koran and the Calliph" has been the greatest battle cry of Moslem soldiers. Today even a verse from the Koran will bring the Mohammedan zealots to their highest pitch of frenzied fighting. It is very entertaining to observe the dogs in a large glass case on the ground and just at that level where you can look them over properly. The slough, or gazelle, hound is interesting, although the coats of the specimens are not at their best. The slough, we are told, is one of the oldest breeds of dogs, being represented (under the name of zelhigi) in the frescoes on the tombs of Ben-Hasan in the valley of the Nile, Egypt.

I have read somewhere that the three earthly things an Arab most admires are his horse, his slough and his wife's earrings. A copy of one of the fresco paintings is shown in the wall case on the north side of the hall. The true slough is kept by the tribes of the eastern deserts, the finest strain being in the possession of Bedouin chiefs. The breed is also known as the Syrian or Persian greyhound, although short haired dogs are likewise included under the former name. These dogs are used for hunting gazelles, hares and other game, often with the assistance of falcons, which fly at the head of the quarry.

NEW DANCE FROM FORBIDDEN ONES

Grizzly Bear, Turkey Trot and Bunny Hug Mixed in Latest Terrestrial Invention

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Something good has been found at last in the Grizzly Bear, the Turkey Trot and the Bunny Hug dances. They have been shuffled together into a new product called the "Argentine Tango."

Dancing masters who placed their official ban on the "Texas Tommy" and the "Boston Dip" and similar glides and rolls reckoned only with their fiddlers. Chicago society refuses to recognize their edict.

Just what the new dance is or isn't is as hard to explain as the meaning of its name. It is an expurgated edition of the latest fads in terpsichorean art.

Throughout the summer the "Turkey Trot" was tolerated in the little social gatherings at Owendia, at the Saddle and Cycle Club and in many private homes. Then came the hubbub against the new dances.

Society agreed to be more discreet, and only in the privacy of certain homes were the new steps indulged in. All the time there was plotting and planning, and now the rebellion has begun in earnest. The "Tango" is becoming popular, and the dancing masters can wave their batons and rage for all Chicago cares.

"Dancing masters can't control people," said Mrs. William Prescott Hunt Jr., member of several north shore clubs. "There seems to be a wave of feeling favoring the new dances. Everybody wants them and everybody is going to have them. They will be the dances this winter."

Many dancing classes are being formed. Mrs. Harold McCormick has organized a class exclusively for young married people, and its second meeting will be held tomorrow night at her home.

Eames MacVeagh and Harry Lee Taft are among the men who are learning the "Tango." Mr. and Mrs. George Higginson Jr. of Wichita also are numbered among the enthusiastic pupils in one of the north shore classes.

There really is nothing objectionable to the "Tango." All of the dancers will vouch for this. They say the objectionable features have been completely eliminated.

Mrs. Ruth Collins, one of the instructors, described it yesterday as one of the seventeen varieties of dances offered by the famous Maurice in his dancing at Martin's.

"It is a very pretty dance," insisted Mrs. Collins, "and there is nothing objectionable about it. The name, oh, the name came from the music to which it was danced by Maurice. He had so many variations and such intricate lines that no one can hope to learn all of them, but there are three that the classes are particularly interested in.

CARNEGIE MEDAL IS PROPOSED

Heroic Feat of Wichita Falls Man Will be Brought to Attention of Commission

A Wichita Falls man may be the recipient of a Carnegie hero medal if efforts in that direction by some of his friends meet with success. An effort is being made to secure such recognition for the recent feat of W. Dean Howard, the street car motor-man who last week saved R. Rylands and N. E. Lainsburg, two local cotton men, from drowning in Lake Wichita when their boat overturned.

Mr. Howard's action excited much laudatory comment at the time and the men whom he saved presented him with a handsome gold watch suitably engraved. It is now felt that the deed is worthy of a still more lasting reward, and to this end, several Wichitians have taken steps to secure a Carnegie hero medal for Mr. Howard. The matter has been taken up with the Hero Fund Commission.

The boat in which Mr. Howard effected the rescue was nearly full of water when, exhausted and drenched he reached the wrecked sail boat to which the two men clung. Those who have seen Lake Wichita when a high wind was blowing can realize the difficulties under which he was laboring to keep his boat afloat and going and his own life was in serious peril. He effected the rescue however, as previously set forth in The Times, in a cool, methodical way, apparently oblivious to his own danger.

Mr. Howard says that he did not feel that he was doing any more than any other able-bodied man would have done under the circumstances, and he feels amply rewarded with the watch which represents the appreciation of Messrs. Ryland and Lainsburg. However, his friends are seeking still greater reward for him at the hands of the Hero Commission.

Taft Funds Crumb of Comfort in Result

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 7.—Even in the moments when it became apparent that Gov. Wilson was going to win, President Taft did not forget his philosophy and good humor. Here is a story of how the President looked at the situation just about that time told by a friend today:

"We've got to find some comfort in this," the President is reported to have said. "I'll be very glad to ride down Pennsylvania avenue with President Wilson. It would not have been so easy if things had been different, but I would have taken the ride just the same."

Chalmers 1913
MOTOR CARS

Made in Chalmers Shop
Chalmers Cars Represent Far More Than Steel, Wood and Leather

They are the finished result of the ideas, ideals and experience of the MEN in the Chalmers organization. No product is greater than the men who make it. From the beginning, the ideal of the Chalmers Company has been to make "Quality cars at medium prices."

Always the Chalmers Company has offered the greatest value for the money. It was the first to market a real automobile at $1500; first to offer in the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" all the most advanced features; first to produce in the Chalmers "Six" a maximum car at a medium price.

The Chalmers name on the radiator means much to the automobile public.

Compare these Chalmers features with those of any other car:

Electric lights, Turkish cushions, Nickel trimmings, Improved springs, long stroke motor, 4-forward speed transmission, Eleven-inch upholstery, Increased wheel base, Demountable rims, Big wheels and tires, Dual ignition system, Speedometer, Special mohair top, Rain vision windshield.

"Thirty-Six" (four cylinders)	$1950
"Six," 5-passenger	$2400
"Six," 7-passenger	$2600

(Prices include full equipment)

Let us take you for a demonstration in a Chalmers car over any roads you may select.

Phone or write for road demonstration any time, any place, under any conditions.
