The continued mild weather has been the cause of us having too many stoves of all descriptions on hand at this advanced stage of the stove season and we are now going to offer some special inducements for you to buy now. You will buy later so why not do it now and be ready for the cold blasts from the north that always come?

Only $2.50

At Wichita Hardware Co. Here we offer you the greatest bargain in a copper reflector stove that we have ever known in all our experience in the stove business. These stoves are sampled on our floor and at this price they will all go the first cold snap.

Only $2.50

At Wichita Hardware Co. Here's another not quite so large but a heavier and better stove that is well worth $3.50 in anybody's money. Just note the neat, yet not extravagant finish on this stove. You need it and its worth your while to see about it now.

Only $3.75

At Wichita Hardware Co. You can't equal this anywhere for the money. Its made of a fine smooth iron and it has the ventilated feature which adds very much to its heating capacity. Will cost less than others much inferior.

Only $5.50

At Wichita Hardware Co. Here's a real beauty and so cheap for a closed stove. Just the thing if you have a baby. Can't get at the fire. Its worth more than we ask, but we've got too many. What would give more comfort and happiness for a little more money than one of our nice heaters?

ONLY $8.00

At Wichita Hardware Co. Here's a stove that you can't duplicate at any price because no other foundry makes a stove of this type. It is scientifically constructed. It has twice the heating capacity of any other stove of its size. We have sold hundreds of this same kind and everyone is an advertisement. If you will call and ask to see this stove we will soon convince you of its wonderful heating capacity. Still it costs you only $8.00.

ONLY $3.50

We have hundreds of stoves of all descriptions and we are making these prices for reason that we must "unload." In fact we bought too many, and we are offering you these bargains that we may "clean up" before season is too far advanced. Remember we have many other grades, styles and makes of Cooking Stoves and ranges in steel as well as cast iron, all of which are being sold at correspondingly low prices. It is us who sells Clark's celebrated all steel Gas Stoves and ranges, the kind that don't break, the kind with the everlasting valves, the kind that need no stove blacking, the kind that has the patent lighter, the kind that is made by a real gas stove manufacturer but NOT the kind that is cast in an old stove foundry that really don't know how to make a gas stove. We carry a complete line of hardware, stoves and everything that is for sale in a first class hardware store any place. We solicit your orders either by mail or phone. Same will have prompt attention as we have nothing else to do.

COTTON PICKER LOSES EAR IN FIGHT

Ben Ashley, of Rockdale, Disfigured by Jesse Keys—Ashley Says Refusal to Buy Drink Started Trouble

Refusal to buy a companion a drink cost Ben Ashley, a cotton picker here from Rockdale, Texas, one of his ears Friday afternoon. At least that's the version Ashley gives. His ear was bitten off in a fight with Jesse Keys late Friday. The fight took place at the entrance of the alley on Seventh street between Indiana and Ohio avenues and between the saloon and the pool hall on either side of the alley.

The trouble is said to have started in the pool hall where Keys insisted that Ashley "set 'em up." A rough and tumble fight developed on the outside in which Keys hurled a brick at Ashley with such force that it broke through the board facing at the bottom of the stairway leading up to the second floor above the pool hall. "Finally Keys got Ashley down and hit off his left ear."

Keys was arrested before he could get away, and Ashley was taken to Dr. Reed's store across the street where his wound was given attention.

Keys waived a preliminary hearing before Justice Brothers this morning and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury, and a charge of maiming and aggravated assault. His bond was placed at $1,000.

Ashley had been picking cotton near Grandfield and came here Thursday night intending to go to Vernon Friday morning he met Keys and was planning to carry him to Vernon with him, he says, where they both would pick cotton.

The severed ear was picked up at the scene of the fight and will be presented in alcohol as evidence.

The Wichita Southern Life Insurance Co.

One of the elements of strength in any insurance company is its ability to write safe business—The Wichita Southern has written over two and one-half million of business in a year and a half every dollar of which is written under a very rigid medical examination.

The Wichita Southern has deposited with the State Comptroller secured assets amounting to $115,000.00, which is several times the amount required by law, every dollar of which is there for the purpose of safe guarding its policy holders against any possible loss, and can be used for no other purpose than the payment of policies.

The Wichita Southern is organized and officered by Wichita Falls business men of recognized ability and experience, and is strictly a Wichita Falls institution. For this reason it should appeal to all Wichita people, and when its strength is recognized it should be the favorite of every person in the county who desires to purchase insurance. "The Confession"
A mother's love, a mother's grief, a broken hearted sweetheart, a wayward lad, man made laws against heaven made laws, the everlasting truth and power, are among the features of James Halleck Reid's play, "The Confession" which will appear at Wichita Theatre Monday night under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus after having met with such tremendous success at its New York run at the Bijou Theatre, Broadway.

Interpreted by a cast of unusual distinction and merit, names that stand for the best of everything dramatically, seldom has the theatre-goer had an opportunity of witnessing a dramatic offering interpreted by a cast of such excellence. It is unnecessary to here describe the achievements of the players, who have figured prominently in almost every important dramatic production of the past decade, brought together to portray one dramatic offering, they as a cast, appear unique, extraordinary and exceptional.

"The Confession" dares to tell the truth, and in its telling unfolds a dramatic story of the keenest interest, power and literary merit. There is not a line in James Halleck Reid's manuscript that will offend the most sensitive, rather, it will enthral and captivate with its beauty, its strength and wonderful lesson. Any afternoon or evening that you witness "The Confession" will remain in your mind for all times to come the red letter day of your theatre going.

The following is a copy of a letter from M. J. Lavelle, vice general, New York, to James Halleck Reid, author of "The Confession":

Dear Mr. Reid:
I attended a performance of your play at the Bijou Theatre last night, and I wish to say to you that "The Confession" represents accurately the doctrine and practice of the Catholic church upon the obligations to preserve inviolate the confidence he receives from the penitent. The play seems to me very strong, tender and well constructed. It tells a story dear to my Catholic heart; one we would be glad to have the whole world see. Although attending during the last season, I found nothing in your play to offend conscience, but, on the other hand, was most pleased with the absorbing story, and the great moral which you have so splendidly and fearlessly presented.

I gladly advise all loyal members of the Mother Church to see "The Confession," as after having seen it myself, I know it will be of great and lasting benefit to them.

Yours very truly,
M. J. LAVELLE,
Vice General.

"The Girl From Tokio"
Those that enjoy a good clean bright farce, have a treat in store for them next Saturday at the Wichita Theatre. Manager Marlow always catering to the wants of his patrons has secured a splendid attraction in "The Girl From Tokio," which is an adaptation from the German—for the American stage by Frank Tannehill, Jr., and George W. Barnum.

It was originally produced at the Court Theatre, Berlin, where it enjoyed a run of 215 consecutive performances.

Its story and complications are unique and causes to end of genuine laughter; its characters are consistent and human, and its humor absolutely clean and pure.

Esmond Miller, a wealthy tea merchant and importer having been widowed, determined to forsake his native land and make his future home in Tokio, Japan, intending to send for his family consisting of two daughters and a maiden sister after he had settled.

Upon his arrival in Japan he met and fell desperately in love with Nancy Noyes, the leading lady of a comedy company touring Japan and China, so married her against the protests and denials of his daughters, who had decided aversion to having an actress for a step-mother. Before reconciliation can be effected, Mr. Miller dies bequeathing to his young widow half of his fortune, practically all of which is located in America.

Bartley Swift, an importer of Japanese silks and bric à brac, residing temporarily in Tokio, had previously to Mrs. Miller's marriage known her, in fact had protested on dying affection for her, but lifted her to marry Miller's daughter, Blanche.

His happiness was undisturbed until Mrs. Miller, becoming anxious to obtain a settlement with the executors of her late husband's estate, determines to come to America and press her claim. About the same time Bartley Swift engages a governess for his young sister-in-law by the name of Esther Moran.

Mrs. Miller arrives at the house and being mistaken for the governess, decides to keep up the deception as a punishment to Swift for his desertion of her in Japan. Swift, knowing the jealousy of his wife and her romantic ideas regarding first love and marriage, by an agony of terror which is increased ten fold by the arrival of the real governess, to add to his troubles she is harrowed by a fire eating Frenchman, who had fallen in love with the widow, and followed her to America to press his suit.

There is an undignified and humorously delicate love interest in which the young sister of Mr. Swift is involved with a young English sailor, and the parent of the maiden aunt by an impetuous sanctimonious fortune hunter.

All is brought to a happy and humorous conclusion in a natural and conventional manner, much to the relief to the unhappy Swift.

CREDENTIAL BOOKS WILL SOON BE RE-INSTALLED.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 9.—Following a meeting of the members of the Southwestern Passenger Bureau announcement is made that interchangeable mileage credentials will be restored January 1 next.

George F. Lupton, general passenger agent for the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railway, returned to headquarters yesterday morning from St. Louis, where he has been attending the meeting of the bureau. Mr. Lupton said all of the lines interested had agreed to restore the credentials because of the demand of the members of the traveling men's organizations.

The matter relative to the restoration of the credentials book was some time ago discussed at an informal meeting of committees of the traveling men and officials of the passenger departments of several roads. At that meeting the railway officials promised they would make a favorable recommendation for the restoration of the credentials books. That this recommendation met with the approval of the roads concerned is evidenced by all of the interested lines filing notice with the bureau that they approve of the reinstatement of the credentials book.

However, this is not going to deter the roads from selling the scrip, book that are now in use. Both credentials and scrip will be offered the traveling public that is the men who travel in connection with their business. For those persons who do not have to do a great deal of interstate traveling there will still be on sale the thousand mile books for $25, which are good over all lines in this State, and will answer the demands of the man who does not have a wide range of territory to cover.

DRAPERIES I have the D.A.

Draped Effects and Narrow Skirts Cleverly Combined.

Draperies do not Always Cover the Hips

A Graceful Mode of Draping Chiffon Below the Knees

IT IS almost twenty-five years since draperies ruled in fashion's domain. In those days—back in the late eighties—every modish skirt had an overskirt, the overskirt being caught up in some manner of drapery or other, and the skirt itself having a pleated or plain lower portion set on a "sham" which was made of some cotton lining material or—if the wearer could afford it—of silk. In the early eighties the "sham" was built out at the top over a bustle; at the end of this decade "reeds" or long flexible half-loops run through casings, distended the "sham" beneath the overskirt drapery. Those who can remember as far back as this period recall how the tapes that tied the ends of the "reeds" were forever tearing away, the flattening out of the skirt at the back causing one much mortification. Now draperies are back in high favor but instead of being built out over whalebone distended foundations, they are drawn as softly and limply around the limbs as narrow skirt measurements—and silky soft fabrics will admit. With the entrance of draperies have come gewgaws and new silk and satin materials softer and simpler than ever these materials were woven before and everything from chiffon to velvet brocade is obtainable in double width—which means that draped effects are much simplified for the dressmakers.

Metallic Chiffons Touch the Luxury. Of course these wide velvets, silks, brocaded crepes and metallic chiffons are ruinously expensive. Some of the prices, by the yard, are fairly staggering but the draped gowns are so enchantingly lovely and so becoming into the bargain that one would not return to the era of straight, limp Empire lines if one could. Damaise crepe de chine is a new silken stuff that is gaining favor every day and another figured material that is soft and graceful in texture as well as splendid in coloring, is metallic chiffon—which is simply double width chiffon in new, wonderful colorings splashed over with great Oriental figures in dull silver or gold. One of the draped costumes illustrated today shows this splendid metallic chiffon in combination with plain charmeuse. The costume is a long sleeved and high-necked model, intended for afternoon wear and is built of charmeuse in a new shade of tangerine yellow or rust color. The chiffon is in the same warm tone with a bold pattern in dull gold and this metallic chiffon is draped most gracefully over the lower part of the skirt on one side of the costume, the drapery being carried upward in long lines at the other side and falling away in a cascade effect at the hip. The metallic chiffon also crosses the bodice in a surplice drapery at back and front, the long, shirred sleeve being of the plain charmeuse. Amber pins are worn in the hair with this gown, and the earrings are gold with topaz drops. Buttoned boots of black kid with French heels and thin soles complete the correct afternoon costume.

Brick Red and Sulphur Immensely Fashionable. Flame and sulphur, called suggestively "colors de l'Inferno" are the hues, par excellence of the new season in Paris. A close second to these warm tones are Besnard, a new brick red much favored by Callot Soeurs, geranium and tomato. But that there is a decided "feeling" for flame suggesting hues, is evidenced by the preference for sulphur, amber and a reddish orange called caucaine. Sometimes flame and sulphur are used together or Besnard and amber, a gown of this type being pictured on the seated figure. This gown is a Worth model and its conservatism of line is rather belied by the almost crude coloring. The amber colored satia gown is veiled with Besnard chiffon, sewn with an embroidery of small dull gilt beads. Over this beaded tunic are panels of satin in the brick red color, each panel being weighted with gilt bead fringe. The décolletage is filled in with very pale pink tulle and the coiffure ornament—a very important feature of the modern evening toilette—is of pink tulle drawn under a bandeau of amber beads, a chon of the tulle from which rises a paradise cigarette being placed at one side of the bandeau. This gorgeous costume is completed by boots of amber colored satin with faceted amber buttons.

Draperies Caught With Brooches. Still another evening gown shows a simple and very graceful chiffon drapery over lace, the drapery being caught at girdle and knee with large, old-fashioned cameo brooches. The colors in the gown repeat the soft pink and white cameo tints, the tunic being of palest pink chiffon, draped over deeper pink satin veiled with white lace. The bodice of lace over pink satin is draped with pink and white chiffon, and a delicate fringe of pink and crystal beads edges the bodice and the loose sleeves. This lovely pink and white costume was designed for a debutante of this season who will wear the cameo gown at one of the early cotillions in December.

The new draped effects are a veritable boon to the woman who must economize, for notwithstanding the costliness of the new fabrics many a passe evening gown will be able to hold up its head through another season, discreetly draped with a yard or two of chiffon, lace or novelty material. This hopeful possibility of economy is augmented by the fashion for one sided bodice effects. Given a partly worn white satin evening gown, there is no reason in the world why half of it—the worst half should not be covered up with a winding drapery of lovely bordered chiffon, or of stately brocaded velvet, which will fall away in folds from the best half of the satin foundation. Or, if the inventory of last year's left-overs discovers only a usable skirt, the bodice being gone past redemption, a new bodice of lace may be constructed and skirt and lace-bodice be married into united felicity by a long scarf-like winding drapery of fringe-edged chiffon.

Still another way to build over the last year's gown, will be to veil it with a fur bordered chiffon tunic which will drop above a flounce of lace; tunic and lace flounce completely hiding the skirt of the passé gown. The bodice of lace draped over with chiffon like the tunic will complete a deliciously pretty new dancing gown, the only expense for which will have been the new chiffon tunic, lace flounce and a little all-over lace to make the bodice.

Longer Skirts With New Draped Gowns. The short skirt is an impossibility with the draped costume—unless all canons of grace are to be ignored. All the new draped gowns cover the feet and most of them drag on the floor, not only at the back but all the way around, so that the skirt has to be picked up when walking. This means of course, very pretty foot-wear, for nothing is uglier, under the soft clinging draperies than a clumsy walking foot. With all these draped costumes for afternoon wear are worn the daintiest boots having thin turned soles and usually, very high heels, accompanied by satin slippers or by high-heeled buttoned boots of satin or kid. Afternoon boots are of satin, of bronze leather, of soft kid tops and the buttons contribute to the prettiness of the boot, being of pearl, faceted crystal or of amber.

Even worsted materials are draped now and the new tailleur du cerimonie may not claim Parisian origin unless its skirt is caught up somewhere in ever so slight a draped effect.

A black broadcloth tailleur of this ceremonious character was noted the other day at an exhibition of paintings at a fashionable club. The coat was a pronounced cutaway model with very long tails at the back and a sloping front opening over an adorable vest of pale lilac satin brocade. A huge cluster of English violets, caught at the coat front near the pale lilac vest made a striking color note. The skirt of this costume was very straight and slender in line and exactly at the knee at back and front were two parallel lines of shirring which gathered up the material for a space of six inches. The draped effect resulting was very slight but it just saved the skirt from absolute plainness and gave it most modish lines. Six buttons were set on the lines of shirring—twenty-four buttons in all. Charmeuse and Crepe Favored For Draped Effects. As was to be expected, crepe de chine leapt to instant favor with the coming in of draped effects. No fabric is more beautiful than this long familiar crepe de chine. Now that it may be obtained in double width, it is very easy to manage and is not beyond the reach of the average pocket-book. It is becoming to the stout as well as the slender figure and is exceedingly easy to manipulate, even by the amateur dressmaker. A charming afternoon frock of olive brown crepe de chine is illustrated. This frock shows a very simple drape at the back of the skirt the side gorges having been cut in rather wide circular form and then drawn in, fold upon fold as the photograph shows, the drapery being held at the center back by a row of triple shirring over cords. The bodice is also very simple and opens in surplice effect over a white satin yoke trimmed at back and front with green glass buttons. Cream lace frills edge the sleeves. The cluster of brown, gold and pale yellow velvet pansies, held in the hands, is intended for final location at the left front of the girdle and with this dainty gown will be worn buttoned boots of patent leather with tops of kid.

The chiffon afternoon gown is a particularly smart model by Paquin and shows a very slight drapery at the back of the knees while the panel front gives long lines and height. This gown is made of the new Besnard—or brick red—chiffon combined with cream white satin the panel being of the satin. This panel is really a part of an entire cream satin gown which drags about the feet. It is rounded, out deeply at the top to show a glimpse of cream batiste embroidery and lace on which are two folds of tangerine net, the top of the guimpe being finished with a cream lace collar. Over the white satin gown is a tunic of Besnard chiffon which stops short at either side of the front, leaving a panel of the satin. The edges of the Besnard chiffon are finished with soutache dyed to match and formed into collared discs on the white satin. Lastly a deep flounce of the Besnard chiffon is dropped over frock and tunic. White embroidered silk gloves meet the loose sleeves, and the hat of gold colored plush has a long white ostrich plume and wrought effects with great fidelity and some of these embroideries are distinguished in themselves, prices running up to four and five dollars per yard for some of the exclusive new patterns. Embroidery trimmed petticoats are used even with dancing frocks; though the embroidery flounce is of the finest possible character and is mounged directly on the petticoat without any under ruffle, a ribbon braided beading separating petticoat and flounce. Dancing petticoats have very deep flounces of exquisitely sheer batiste, set on tops of nainsook or lace and usually a frill of narrow lace is put under the edge of the scallops to give a very dainty look around the ankles. These deep flounces are set on without any fullness, or there is a slight fullness added in the way of pin tucks. The petticoat of this sort is pictured. Tunic and batiste top are joined with seam beading and ribbon is run below this—through buttonholed lashes worked by hand in the deep flounce. A frill of val lace edges the lower edge of the flounce. Such petticoats fall to the ankle and show when the clinging dancing gown of satin is lifted; but the day petticoat worn under the tailored skirt, falls so lower than the top of the buttoned walking boot and is not supposed to show at all. It has a top of cambric or fine muslin, beautifully fitted over the hips and a rather narrow embroidery flounce finishes it at the lower edge which is never more than a yard and three-quarters wide. These short petticoats do not collect the dust and mud of the pavement as longer ones used to do and because they are more practical and much more dainty than the silk petticoat which never visits the wash tub, they are being taken up again for street wear.

Under the petticoat is the culotte drawer which is made of soft nainsook and fits as perfectly as riding breeches; that is, there are no gathers over the hip and the lower edge is drawn in to the knee either by groups of pin tucks, or by a rubber run through beading. Ruffles do not appear on the new culotte drawer and if any trimming is used it is an un-gathered edge of scallop and dot embroidery or a narrow bit of lace. Some women have taken up with enthusiasm the new chemise-pantalon which is made of tub material and which includes a pretty chemise and a short drawer, cut all in one garment and intended for wear beneath the corset. Others prefer to wear the drawer separately over the corset and underneath goes a combination of glove silk or of fine silk and wool. Not one woman in ten—except those living out in country districts where the cold is intense—now wears a woolen union suit to the ankles.

Practical Type of Brassiere With Dainty Trimming

All lingerie garments adhere to the slim, simple lines necessary under clinging gowns. Not the least suspicion of a gather is allowed at the waist and belts and buttons have long ago gone the way of flannel petticoats, knitted camisoles, and other monstrosities of the past wherewith woman built out her form in the interests of a presumable protection from the cold. It has been proved that one may be quite as warm and much more comfortable in lighter, thinner garments than were deemed possible twenty years ago and since all houses are now heated to midsummer heat and mammoth furs are the mode out of doors, there seems little reason why women should bundle themselves up as was perhaps necessary in the days when furnaces were not.

Just now embroidery trimmings are the whim of fashion and laces are used only to set off the beautiful needlework. The machine embroidered patterns, many of them done on hand looms abroad, are wonderfully beautiful, imitating the distinguished

Physical Development

By Mrs. Margaret Wright Edwards, Teacher of Dramatic Art in the Wichita Falls College of Music and Art.

The increasing attention we are giving to physical culture and voice training far from being superfluous, is of the profoundest good and must in time come to form part of all elementary education as a matter of course. In this, as in other fields of criticism, it is only the most perfect and beautiful standard that we ought to have always in mind. However strong and healthy we may be, there are still more noble unfulfilled ambitions for the physical perfection of human beauty and being than have ever yet been realized.

The physical side of personality of a medium of transmission for reason and impulse and at the same time is the only solid and substance through which the spiritual and intellectual life are reinforced. Therefore should not the schools and clubs encourage physical development—the foundation for the culture of personality.

That a people like the ancient Greeks should have been devoted to the fine arts and at the same time ing in our more practical and staid race.

With the growing appreciation of art, this sensitiveness to beauty in all our surroundings must cause an ever growing care for our physical perfection. As we become more and more critical of what is ugly in things about us, we shall be more and more easily offended by any blemish of personal appearance, any defect in bodily vigor, any awkwardness or insincerity in personal expression it will not seem sufficient to us that a man should be possessed of inflexible integrity and nobility of spirit. We shall demand that his nobility and integrity permeate his whole being, and that he bear himself accordingly and present a noble seeming to the eyes of the world. Moral perfection will not seem enough, while physical perfection is a thing we shall expect him to be as noble and creditable example of a manhood as well as a reputable citizen.

Love of beauty has been held in diapason as a pagan ideal of life with which the less we have to do the better; but as we reach a juster appreciation of our human needs, it takes its place as one of the three requisite factors of human character along with the "love" of truth and the love of goodness. Therefore it does not seem that any well chosen care we can bestow on physical education can be unimportant or undignified or that any element of culture is more needful than the perfecting of our bodily powers, and the maintaining of them in all their normal fitness and growing vigor.

Physical culture does not emphasize physical consciousness, but just as being well dressed prevents one from being conspicuous, so being well trained and in good condition physically gives one immunity from inordinate, intemperate, ill-regulated habits and brings us to a normal state of unself-conscious freedom.

Growth of ideals and of excellence can only be achieved by education and training; and in the domain of physical culture as in any other education must begin with the rudiments. The first rudiment of beauty is health—one of the first rudiments of grace is a good walk—the first rudiment of a pleasant speaking voice is the ability to breathe freely.

Forming bad habits causes us to stop and learn to do the things that many protest—are matters of instinct, and to be instructed would make us artificial or affected—but faults right corrected will soon produce mannerisms, affections and insincerity. But noble bearing of the true self within. We need physical recreation pure and simple; for too, there are the best ways of doing all the enforced work one has to do—the best way of sitting, standing and breathing, so as to get a minimum of detriment and a maximum of benefit from our labors even though it be drudgery. No labor, however menial, but can be made to yield its quota to our physical well-being, if performed with intelligence and spirit—drudgery is in the drudge and not in the task. This is one chief use of physical education to fit us for the performance of necessary work. Man's body is the product of evolution, but that evolution includes also the growth of his spirit and intelligence, which find their only manifestation through his physical being.

We have heard of men from Adam to Taft.

Men of honor and men of craft.
Men of millions and men quite poor
Men of fame and men obscure.
Men of war and men of peace,
Men of Rome and men of Greece,
Men of muscle and men of clothes,
Men of deeds and men with hoars,
Men of the pen and men of the sword
Men of the devil and men of the Lord,
But one single man escaped their eye
The man with the health as heep passed by.

HOPE TO OPEN Y. M. C. A. BUILDING SOON

Work of Reorganizing Association is Progressing Steadily—Several Changes in Directorate

The work of reorganizing the Young Men's Christian Association is progressing steadily and it is hoped to be able to throw the building open to the members within a short time. The directors are endeavoring to secure the services of J. C. Bayer, formerly assistant secretary here, as secretary. He has not yet accepted, but it is hoped that he will consent to return here.

Several changes will be made in the directorate, some of the former members having left the city.

The reorganization plan is being made along such lines as will put the association on a sound financial footing and enable it to be of value to the young men and boys of this city, as it is in other localities. It is felt that Wichita Falls should support an association of the first class. A large building is already available for the work, with a well-equipped gymnasium and bath rooms, so that it will be possible to start again on a favorable basis.

WHEN FACING DEATH.

Pain or Fright, It Would Appear, Is Rarely Present.

A distinguished British physician who has been at some pains to collect data on the subject asserts that few persons about to die have really any fear of dissolution. There is cited the case of the African explorer who was partially devoured by a lion. He declared that he felt no pain or fear and that his only sensation was one of intense curiosity as to what portion of his body the lion would take next.

Rustem Pasha, Turkish ambassador at London, used to tell of an attack made upon him by a bear during a hunt in the east. The beast tore off a bit of the Turk's hand, a part of his arm and a portion of his shoulder. Rustem solemnly avowed that he suffered neither pain nor fear, but that he felt the greatest indignation because the bear grunted with so much satisfaction while munching him.

Grant Allen, whose scientific habit of thought gave weight to his words, says that in his boyhood he had a narrow escape from drowning.

While skating he fell through thin ice over a place whence several blocks had the day before been removed. He was carried under the thicker ice beyond and when he came to the surface tried to break through by butting his head against it. The result was that he was stunned, then numbed by the cold and so waterlogged that artificial respiration had to be employed to restore him. These are the impressions as recorded by him with reference to the pain he suffered.

"The knowledge that I have thus experienced death in my own person has had a great deal to do with my utter physical indifference to it. I know how it feels. I had only a sense of cold, damp and breathlessness, a short struggle, and then all was over.

"I had been momentarily uncomfortable, but it was not half so bad as breaking an arm or having a tooth drawn. In fact, dying is as painless as falling asleep. It is only the previous struggle, the sense of its approach, that is at all uncomfortable. Even this is less unpleasant than I should have expected. There was a total absence of any craven shrinking. The sensation was merely the physical one of gasping for breath.—Harper's Weekly.

THE AGE OF MAN.

Science Places It Between 400,000 and 3,000,000 Years.

It is quite possible, said Professor A. Keith in a lecture to the British association at Dundee, that man as we know him now took on his human characteristics somewhere near the beginning of the pleistocene period, and while the exact date is simply a guess the best estimates available indicate 1,400,000 B. C. as not far from the truth. If the evidence of the flint collectors is accepted as authentic, pleistocene man is a possibility.

Professor Keith was sure we had traced ourselves back to the middle of the pleistocene, when we were accompanied by another form of man almost as distinct from us as the gorilla is from the chimpanzee. At the beginning of the pleistocene there were at least two varieties of man—the pre-neanderthaloid of Heidelberg and the small brained man of Java—but the "representative of modern man at that early period" has not as yet been found.

If the claims of M. Rattot are accepted, the antiquity of man is at least 3,000,000 years. According to Professor Keith, the orthodox (by which presumably he meant scientifically orthodox) opinion is that "the dawn of the very earliest form of humanity lies 400,000 years behind us." From all of which it is plain that the beginnings of the age of man are still shrouded in mystery.

"The idea I wish to leave in your minds is," said Professor Keith, in conclusion, "that in the distant past there was not one kind, but a number of very different kinds of men in existence, all of which have become extinct except that branch which has given origin to modern man."—New York Post.

Has His Own Death Certificate.

You never know when a man is really dead. Not even if you are a doctor. I know a man who walks about cheerfully now and goes to his death certificate, duly signed by the doctor some years ago. Just to amuse you. The doctor said he was dead. He disagreed. And his protest is the humorous presentation of the death certificate when you ask for his card.—London Chronicle.

Thackeray and Reant Mutton.

Thackeray often dropped in to dinner, sometimes announcing himself in verse. The following is one of his epigrams:

A nice leg of mutton, my Lucia,
I pray thee have ready for me;
Have it smoking and tender and juicy.
For no better meat can there be.
—Reflections of Janet Ross.

Wise Child.

"You may give three important illustrations of the power of the press," says the teacher to the class.
The pupil who has not hitherto distinguished himself is first to reply:
"Cider, courtship and politics."—Judge.

GRAVE DIGGER DROPS DEAD IN PIT HE HAD DUG

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 9.—Joseph Turby, 75 years old, dug his own grave at Haskell, Okla., and fell into it, dead. Turby with another man had gone to the Haskell cemetery today to assist in digging a grave for an aged woman who had died. Apparently Turby was in perfect health. When the grave was just about completed he suddenly toppled over and fell into the grave. He was dead when his companions lifted him out. Death was due to heart failure. Under the peculiar circumstance the grave intended for the woman will be used instead as Turby's final resting place and another grave will be prepared for the woman.

ONE CHARTER DRAFT ALMOST COMPLETED

Work on Wichita Falls' new charter is progressing steadily in the hands of the sub-committee of the committee of eleven, though no promise is forthcoming as to when the documents will be ready for submission to the voters. So many other things have come up to occupy the time of the committee that comparatively little headway has been made in the past several weeks. The time for the preparation of the charter is getting short. It must be completed by the sub-committee, submitted to and approved by the general committee, discussed in mass meeting, submitted to the voters, then drawn up as a bill for legislative action; all before the first Tuesday in January, when the Legislature convenes. So many bills of this character are introduced in the Legislature that those that do not get on the calendar at the very start do not stand much chance of receiving attention. Attorney Fred Householder has nearly completed the draft of a charter for the commission form and it is probable a meeting of the whole committee will be called this week to pass upon it. The draft of a charter for the aldermanic form will require only a few days as there will be few changes from the other form.

THIS CITY MAY LOSE PLACE IN LEAGUE

Distance From Other Towns of League is a Disadvantage—Support Has Been Indifferent

It is beginning to look very doubtful whether Wichita Falls will have a berth in the Texas-Oklahoma League next season. Sentiment among the owners of the other clubs in the circuit is said to be very much opposed to keeping Wichita Falls in the league owing to the awkward distance to be traveled to reach this city from the other towns, also on account of the indifferent support given the team here last year.

The fate of the team here rests largely with the traction company, which controls the franchise, and it is not known what action will be taken by that concern. It is probable that something definite in the way of support will be required as an advance guarantee. All things considered, it is not at all certain that Wichita Falls will remain in the league. The franchise has a good money value in the baseball market and would bring a handsome sum, together with the players signed up, if sold.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM Baking Powder

Purity in food, lower cost of living—these are the demands of the day.

Pure food is health, and health is economy itself. We cannot have health without healthful food.

The most healthful foods are the quickly raised flour foods—biscuit, cake, muffins, crusts and other pastry when perfectly made from wholesome ingredients.

Dr. PRICE'S baking powder makes these foods in specially attractive, appetizing and wholesome form, and for both economic and hygienic reasons, such foods should be more largely substituted for meat in the daily diet.

But bear in mind that alum, or unwholesome baking powder, can never make pure, wholesome food.

NEW OFFICERS WILL BE SWORN IN

E. P. Walsh, R. M. Johnson and J. P. Jackson are New County Officers

Early this week the terms of the county officials will end and those of the new officers will begin. The county commissioners will meet tomorrow morning to canvass the returns and very shortly thereafter the officers will be sworn in for the next two years.

Three new faces will appear in the official family of the county. County Clerk Walter Reid will retire from office to engage in the abstract business and will be succeeded by E. P. Walsh, County Superintendent H. A. Fairchild will also retire and will be succeeded by R. M. Johnson, County Commissioner Dave Thomas of Precinct No. 1 will surrender his seat to J. P. Jackson.

Carl Yeager, who has been chief deputy county clerk for some time, will also retire to be associated with Messrs. Reid and Huff in the abstract work. It is understood that several of the present force in the county clerk's office will be retained by Mr. Walsh.

County Assessor John Robertson, County Collector Harry Daugherty, Sheriff Pete Randolph, District Clerk Kerr, County Judge Felder and County Commissioners McCleskey, Eeds and Smith were all re-elected last Tuesday and will be sworn in for their new terms this week.

Among other new officials will be W. J. Howard, who becomes justice of the peace No. 2 and Frank who succeeds Tom Pickett as constable for this precinct. Mr. Burns has not yet announced who his deputies will be.

Judge Scurry will be sworn in as district attorney when the district court convenes and Patrick Henry, representative from this district, will take the oath of office at Austin when the Legislature assembles.

HOTEL FIRE VICTIM FORMERLY LIVED HERE

Wife of Oil Operator Sacrifices Life Trying to Save Old Woman When St. Louis Hotel Burned

The fire in the Berlin Hotel at St. Louis several days ago, reports of which were published in The Times' Associated Press dispatch, took the life of Mrs. C. K. McFadden, who formerly resided in this city and who had many friends here. She spent most of last winter in this city with Mr. McFadden, an oil operator and will be remembered by many friends here.

Mrs. McFadden's life was sacrificed in saving that of an old woman in the hotel and when this was accomplished, Mrs. McFadden's escape was cut off and she met death in the flames. News of the sad occurrence has been received with much sorrow by those who knew her here, where both she and Mr. McFadden were quite popular.

Man Must Have Originated From an Animal Like Form

By ALES HRDLICKA, Anthropologist, of the National Museum

MAN CANNOT HAVE ARISEN EXCEPT FROM SOME MORE ANIMAL LIKE FORM.

On the basis of what is positively known today in regard to early man and with the present scientific views regarding man's evolution the anthropologist has a right to expect human bones, particularly crania, exceeding a few thousand years in age and more especially those of geologic antiquity, shall present MARKED STRUCTURAL DIFFERENCES and that these differences shall point in the direction of more primitive forms.

No conclusion can be more firmly founded than that man is a product of an extraordinary progressive differentiation from some humanlike stock which developed somewhere in the later tertiary among the primates.

HE BEGAN THEN AS AN ORGANISM THAT IN BRAIN AND BODY WAS LESS THAN MAN, THAT WAS AN ANTHROPOID FROM THIS STAGE HE COULD NOT BECOME AT ONCE AS HE IS TODAY, THOUGH IN SOME STAGES OF HIS EVOLUTION HE MAY HAVE ADVANCED BY LEAPS, OR AT LEAST MORE RAPIDLY THAN IN OTHERS.

SO long as the greater number of the people concern themselves only with the selection of men to make laws and administer them, turning them out of office if they do ill and re-electing them if they do well, it is not of such vital importance that every qualified citizen shall actively participate in elections. But if our frames of government are to be so altered that constitutions and laws are to be made or unmade by MERE MAJORITIES OF THOSE VOTING and the acts and decisions of administrative officers are to be subjected to like control and their tenure of office to hang upon the momentary fickleness of such popular decision then every citizen has a right to require of every other the affirmative exercise of his right to vote upon every such question.

There can be no power without responsibility. If our institutions be so modified that a mere majority of those voting may alter or make a constitution, or a law, or a decision, or choose or remove an officer, or control his official conduct, it becomes A DUTY WHICH EVERY CITIZEN OWES TO EVERY OTHER THAT HE EXERCISE THIS POWER and do not leave the laws and institutions of his state or his country and the rights of individuals to the mercy of mere minority rule.

THE PERFORMANCE OF THIS DUTY SHOULD BE COMPELLED BY LAW AND ITS FAILURE PUNISHED BY ADEQUATE PENALTY AND IF PERSISTED IN BY LOSS OF THE FRANCHISE. THE PRINCIPLE UNDERLYING THE RELATION OF THE EARLY QUAKERS TO THE MEETING SHOULD BE APPLIED TO THE RELATION BETWEEN THE INDIVIDUAL VOTER AND THE COMMONWEALTH.

European Medical Development Superior to Ours

By Professor WILLIAM HIS of Germany

AS regards medical development this country is just now struggling for independence of private interests. I see how in the far distant future, your large HOSPITALS WILL HAVE TO BECOME SUBSERVIENT TO PURELY INSTRUCTIVE INSTITUTIONS.

You will have to have sufficient endowments not only for the marble trimmings and beautiful laboratories that private wealth has contributed so lavishly here, but to keep scientific men while they are engaged in their research or study independent of any worry or care.

EUROPEAN COUNTRIES CAN EASILY PROGRESS IN AN ORDERLY MANNER, BECAUSE INSTITUTIONS THERE ARE SUPPORTED BY THE GOVERNMENT, MORALLY AND FINANCIALLY.

The help given to science by private individuals is one of the most remarkable events in the history of medicine.

M'NAMIGAL TELLS GRAPHIC STORY

MAN WHOSE CONFESSIONS BROUGHT JUSTICE TO OTHERS ON STAND

HOW HE BLEW UP "JOBS"

Tells of Carrying Explosives on Passenger Trains and Accuses Ironworkers' Officials

By Associated Press.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—The graphic story of how he caused explosions carried dynamite in suitcases on passenger trains and kept the explosives at railway stations without thinking of danger to others, how he wanted to place bombs so that night watchmen would not see him, and how from every city where he blew up a "job" he sent a souvenir spoon home to his wife in Chicago, were related by Orville McManigal on the witness stand in the trial of the forty-five dynamite plotters today.

"Ping" an alias of Herbert S. Hockin, McManigal said, was the pass word he gave to labor leaders in various cities so they would know he was the man sent to do a job. He named Frank C. Webb of New York, Michael J. Young of Boston, Richard H. Houlihan of Chicago, James Cooney of Chicago and Frank Ryan, all officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, as among the defendants beside the McNamara brothers who knew he was employed as a dynamiter.

At the outset McManigal asserted he attempted to protect the lives of people whenever setting off a bomb. "I had been a member of the Iron Workers' Union since 1903," said McManigal, "and had worked in Chicago, Milwaukee and Joliet, when in June, 1904 Hockin came to me while I was working on a building in Detroit. Hockin said the executive board of the union had decided to clean out the open shop concerns and I was the man to do it."

"He said, 'You used to work in a stone quarry and you know how to use explosives. You'll be paid by the union.'"

"I protested, but he told me if I didn't do as the executive board said, he said that I was boycotted against getting a job. I finally consented."

"Where to get the dynamite was the next question. I decided to go to my uncle, William Beam, at Bloomville, Ohio, who had a stone quarry. I went to Bloomville June 22 and brought back to Detroit in a suit case thirty-five pounds of dynamite, some fuse and caps."

"I told Hockin I had the dynamite. He said, 'All right, you've got this far and you had better pull off the job.'"

"I went to my room and prepared three bombs. Then I went back to the building and waited in the alley to see if the police were about. Seeing none, I put one bomb in the firebox of the boiler in the building, another in an air-compressor and the third near the cylinder."

"Joining the ends of the fuse at one point, I lit all of them. They were fired to go off at about 1 a. m. It was then 10 p. m. I again looked about the alley. I noticed a kitchen door at the rear of a restaurant open on the alley opposite where the bombs were and fearing some people might run out at the first explosion and be injured by the second or third I shut the door and put a barrel of garbage against it."

NEW JERSEY MATTERS NOW OCCUPY ATTENTION

President Elect Will Devote all This Week to State's Business—Has Nothing to Say

By Associated Press.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 9.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson considers attention to affairs in the State of New Jersey his immediate duty. He announced tonight that he would devote all next week to State business. This means that things National that may concern his future administration will not be taken up before late in December, because he will start at the end of the coming week on a steamship trip and vacation, which will keep him away from political callers or office-seekers for six weeks.

The president-elect believes there is no necessity for haste and that by the time he is back from his vacation, public opinion on various matters will have crystallized and that by taking counsel with his advisers he will be able to make important announcements about his future policy.

"I shall have nothing to say," he said, "until I get back."

Gov. Wilson saw Princeton defeat New York University at football today.

DANGEROUS BUT NOT HOPELESS

THIS IS THE WAY THE THREATENED EUROPEAN CLASH LOOKED LAST NIGHT

By Associated Press.
Paris, Nov. 9.—"Dangerous but not hopeless" is the way the political circles in which Europe finds herself is summed up tonight in an official circles in Paris. The diplomatic controversy between Austria and Serbia over the question of Serbia's access to the Adriatic, has the center of the stage, overshadowing all else, even the war itself.

Efforts at mediation have been postponed on account of this, as the complications retard the attempt to bring the powers into accord. A hopeful feature in the situation lies in the knowledge that powerful influence is at work on both sides to induce the disputants to find a compromise for the vexatious question.

Vienna remains the storm center of diplomacy and the question whether Serbia will gain the Adriatic port of Durazzo, on which she is marching and which is the goal of her ambition, is the rock on which the contest of Europe is most likely to be broken.

A dreaded auxiliary of war in the form of typhoid is spreading throughout the army and may cost the conquerors and the conquered more lives than the bullets, since neither of them has medical forces able to combat an epidemic.

GREEK ARMY ENTERS SALONIKI

BALKAN ALLIES ADD ANOTHER MILESTONE IN THEIR VICTORIOUS SWEEP

AUSTRIA'S MOVEMENT

In Sending Troops Toward Serbian Frontier has Disquieting Effect on Russia

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 9.—Another milestone in the victorious sweep of the Balkan allies was the entry of the Greek army into Saloniki (which means almost as much to the Greeks as the ancient capital Uskub means to the Serbians) Crown Prince Constantine, after an interview with the commander and foreign consuls, received the surrender of the Turkish army under conditions imposed by him.

The report of the massacre in the city has not been confirmed and is not credited. Twenty-five thousand Turks gave up their arms and were paroled until the end of the war. All foreigners apparently are safe and will be able to depart by ship if they so desire.

The Bulgarians and Serbians have taken another important fort, Kavala to the east of Saloniki and an important town on the railroad to Constantinople, further strengthening their foothold in the cordon, separating the main Turkish armies in the east from the scattered garrisons in the west.

Nazim Pasha's position appears to be hopeless. The Bulgarians are reported to be already in the forest south of Lake Dozagos, which brings that wing to the rear of the Turkish army.

Few Important Centers Remain in Hands of Turks
By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 9.—The end of the Balkan war seems to be reasonably near, after a month of hard fighting. The latest development brought about by the surrender of the great fortress of Saloniki with its garrison of 25,000 men, leaves only three centers, Skutari, Monastir and Janina, in the southern field of operations, in the hands of the Turks, while in the eastern zone, two other forts that guard Adrianople have fallen into the hands of the Bulgarian besiegers, and another Bulgarian army is behind the eastern end of the Teohatalja line of forts, outside Constantinople.

The Serbian and Greek, at the same time, are marching through Macedonia and Albania.

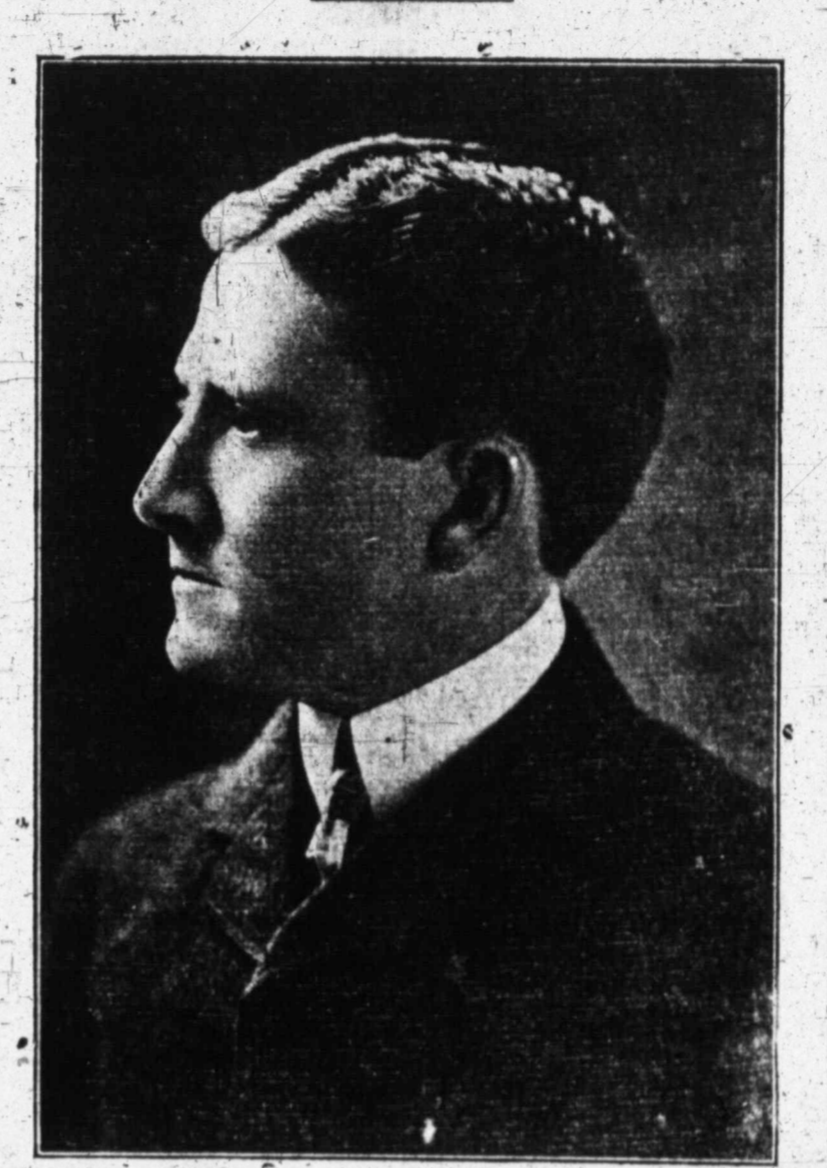

U. S. Revenue Cutter in Turkish Waters
Washington, Nov. 9.—The U. S. Revenue cutter Unalaga, now at Port Said, en route from Baltimore to Alaska at the request of the State department, has been ordered to proceed immediately to Bierut and Smyrna, in Asia Minor, to protect American citizens and their property.

The Unalaga will go to Beirut, one day's sail from Port Said. After ascertaining the situation there, the cutter will steam at high speed for Smyrna.

There are large American missionary and educational institutions and commercial interests at both points. The fortunate position of the Unalaga so close to the scene of warfare created a feeling of relief in Washington, as it is believed that the cutter will be able to give adequate protection to Americans and their property in Asiatic Turkey. She can afford asylum for more than five hundred people, transport them to safe territory and return for more.

W.F. & N.W. MEN WANT NEW SCALE

CONFERENCES BETWEEN REPRESENTATIVES OF EMPLOYEES AND OFFICIALS

Standard Scale Asked
Increase in Pay and Better Working Conditions Sought by Employees
Conferees between representatives of the engineers, conductors, brakemen, yardmen and firemen on the Northwestern and the officials of that road have been in progress the past week and will continue during this week.

The men are asking several concessions, which include increased pay and improved working conditions. The new scale, it is understood, is what is known as the standard scale, under which all the larger roads of the southwest are operated. At present most of the Northwestern's crews receive about ninety per cent of the standard scale.

It is understood that some agreement is to be reached by December 1, to become effective with the first of the year. Just what action the railroad officials will take on the request has not been disclosed.

The new contract is desired by the men from the fact that the Northwestern is now a Katy property and they feel that they should receive the same as the men on other portions of the Katy. As employees of the Northwestern, they say they have received better treatment than the employees of any other small line in the southwest, but the change in the ownership, it is felt, should improve their working conditions.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT USEFUL SAYS WILSON

President-Elect Will Devote all This Helping Him in His Listening Policy

By Associated Press.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 9.—"Very useful and important, indeed," was the comment which President-elect Wilson made today on the array of editorials, statements and declarations from prominent persons being published in newspapers, advocating or opposing an extra session of Congress to revise the tariff.

"Are you going to take all these clippings with you, on your vacation?" he was asked.

"No, no," replied the governor, "I've read them already. The newspapers certainly are helping me in my listening policy."

The attention of Mr. Wilson was called to an argument in an editorial that inasmuch as he had not received a majority of the popular vote and that since both the Republican and Progressive parties favored a policy of protection, therefore the country had voted against tariff revision.

"That's queer reasoning," said Mr. Wilson, "they overlook the fact that many legislatures went Democratic which means Democratic senators and likewise that there were a great number of Democratic congressmen elected."

15,000 WOMEN IN UNIQUE PARADE

ENTHUSIASM RAN HIGH WHEN WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS CELEBRATED VICTORIES

When Parade Was Over Women Mounted Platforms and Boxes and Made Speeches
By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 9.—Fifteen thousand women and men celebrated with a brilliant parade in this city tonight the recent addition of four stars to the woman's suffrage flag. Through Fifth Avenue a stream of brilliant firing lights showed for miles the course followed by ardent "votes for women" enthusiasts from all sections of the country.

Each of the ten suffrage states was represented by women leaders in the equal suffrage movement.

"Ohio the Eleventh" read a transparency at the head of one of the divisions. When the parade was over women mounted platforms and boxes in Union Square and for several hours made speeches for "the cause."

Thousands of persons crowded about to listen. Several hundred thousand others watched the marchers. The men's division was not the least interesting to the spectators. Led by the Men's League for Women's Suffrage, a large compact body of men wearing chrysanthemums was noticeable because of the number of college men it contained.

The men wore lanterns in their hats. All together, the spectacle was an event unique in the history of the city's parades. There was no review, no stand with distinguished persons to review the marchers as at most New York parades, but the thousands who packed the street from start to finish of the parade were enthusiastic reviewers. Their applause was constant in appreciation of the spirit the women were showing in their fight for the ballot.

SENATE CONTROL IS DEMOCRATIC

FOR FIRST TIME IN 18 YEARS DEMOCRATS WILL HAVE BOTH HOUSES AND PRESIDENCY

HAVE MAJORITY OF TWO

This Number is Certain With Contest in Illinois, Tennessee and Michigan Undecided

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—The positive announcement of the success of Harry Lane, Democratic candidate for the Senate in Oregon, assures Democratic control of the upper House of the next Congress, and places both branches of the National legislative body and the presidency in their hands for the first time in eighteen years.

The addition of Oregon to the Democratic list gives that party forty-nine senators, or a majority of two. In addition to the election of successor to Democratic senators now sitting, Democrats will displace Republicans from Oregon, New Jersey, Kansas, Colorado, Montana, Delaware and Nevada, and will fill the vacancy in Colorado with a man of their choice.

The contest in Illinois where two senators are to be chosen and in Tennessee and Michigan remain to be decided. The Democrats make positive claims concerning some of these States, but whatever the result, in any or all of them, Democratic control of the Senate is assured and the Democrats will be able to shape legislation if harmony prevails among them.

Dunne's Plurality 122,016.
By Associated Press.
Chicago, Nov. 9.—Dunne's plurality in the race for governor of Illinois, was 122,016, complete returns tonight show. He polled 446,278 votes; Deussen, Republican, was second with 324,262 and Funk, Progressive, was third with 309,457.

Republican Governor in South Dakota.
By Associated Press.
Pierre, S. D., Nov. 9.—On latest returns received here, the majority of Byrne, Republican, is 2902 over Johnson, Democrat, in the race for governor. Roosevelt's majority has been increased to 8,107.

Pointdexter No Longer a Republican.
By Associated Press.
Spokane, Wash., Nov. 9.—The Republican party can no longer count on Senator Miles Pointdexter, whether that party has a majority in the Senate or not, he said here today.

"I ran for Congress and the Senate as a Progressive Republican. I suppose now I shall leave of the last word: It is my intention to start the next session of Congress as a member of the Progressive party. I declined to caucus with Republicans when they were strong and I fall to see why I should do so when they are weak."

Kansas Governorship in Doubt.
By Associated Press.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 9.—Capper, Republican candidate for governor said tonight that official returns from eighty-six of the 105 counties gave him a plurality of 38 votes over Hodges, Democrat. At Democratic headquarters no figures were given out, but it was stated Hodges was leading in the official count and that the total vote would show his election.

California Seems For Roosevelt.
By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 9.—With 69 precincts in the State still unreported Roosevelt had a plurality tonight of $79 over Wilson. The count stands: Roosevelt, 281,644; Wilson, 280,765. It is unlikely that the remaining returns can upset the showing indicated by the present count, but the result of the officially certified count may be some different.

SNEED'S SECOND TRIAL STARTS TOMORROW

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 9.—John Deall Sneed was brought back to Fort Worth to await his second trial beginning Monday, for the killing of Captain A. G. Boyce, Sr., in the lobby of the Metropolitan Hotel, January 13. He looks fresh, and says he is feeling fine. Prison life evidently has agreed with him, for he has gained in weight since he has been arrested at Amarillo September 14, when he killed Al G. Boyce, Jr.

With the coming of Sneed, the city filled with Sneed and Boyce clans and lawyers for the defense and prosecution. Cone Johnson of Tyler, one of Sneed's lawyers, arrived Friday night. D. W. Odell of Cleburne, one of the special prosecutors, has been in Fort Worth several days. Lynn Boyce, brother of Al Boyce, Jr., arrived in Fort Worth Friday.

Request For Rangers at Fort Stockton
By Associated Press.
El Paso, Texas, Nov. 9.—Captain J. R. Hughes of the State Rangers received a message from Sheriff Baker at Fort Stockton today appealing for the Rangers to be sent there to prevent further trouble, which might follow the fight in which two Mexicans were killed and three fatally hurt last night.

Estate of Waco Man Probated at Kansas City Showed His Great Faith in Texans.
By Associated Press.
Kansas City, Nov. 9.—An administrative report of the estate of J. K. Zimmerman of Waco, Texas, who died in this state, October 6, was filed in the probate court today and values his estate at $1,140,245. The administrators found that $260,000 of this amount represented loans to Texas cattlemen in sums of $5,000 and $25,000 of which the only record kept was a penciled notation on a slip of paper. All was found to be gilt edged.

Mr. Zimmerman died in this state. He was buried in his old home in Hanover, Pennsylvania. He was unmarried and often had told friends he never would make a will because of a superstition that once a will is made, death of the maker followed soon.

QUANTRELL BAND PASSES INTO HISTORY.
Kansas City, Nov. 9.—The famous Quantrell band passed into history as an organization last night when a little group of white-haired old men, Quantrell's survivors, met in a local hotel and organized the Survivors of the Second Missouri Cavalry, commanded by Col. Upton Hays, of which the Quantrell band was a part.

The delegates feel well satisfied both with the success which attended its efforts to secure the route, and with the showing it made here today. The delegates leave tonight for home.

Disorder among white prisoners in the county jail when they learned Johnson had not been locked up on the negro section of cells became so great that the turnkey took Johnson to the jail hospital until a cell could be cleaned out in the negro section. Johnson was disturbed by epithets shouted at him by other prisoners and by the necessity of being locked up with members of his own race.

Arkansas Overwhelmed.
By Associated Press.
Madison, Wis., Nov. 9.—The University of Arkansas, proved easy for Wisconsin today, scoring seven points to Wisconsin's 64. The Southerners presented a weak line, but excelled in tackling. Martin, the Arkansas full back, and Frazier, left half back, starred for the visitors.

Navy Defeated By Bucknell.

Annapolis, Nov. 9.—Disappointing their followers, who hoped to see the team show marked improvement, the Navy went down to defeat by Bucknell College this afternoon 17 to 7.

Vanderbilt Plays Harvard Close Game
By Associated Press.
Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 9.—Harvard sent Vanderbilt's tea mback to the Southland today with a 9 to 2 defeat, but the Commodores left behind them a reputation for speed in attack and a defense that will be remembered.

Using a made up almost wholly of substitutes, Harvard scored a touchdown and a field goal in the second and fourth periods. Crimson errors permitted the Southerners in the third period to get within dropping distance of Harvard's goal and Curdin lifted the ball over for three points. As usual, Harvard tried out the strength of its defense in the first period, kicking usually on the second down.

Pennsylvania 27, Michigan 21.
By Associated Press.
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 9.—Pennsylvania turned an apparent humiliating route into a brilliant victory on the football field this afternoon when she defeated Michigan 27 to 21. It was one of the most interesting games played on Franklin field in many years. The game brought out a new star in the person of Quarterback Marshall of Pennsylvania, who on a great 50-yard run, scored the winning touchdown.

Michigan had Pennsylvania 21 to 9 in the second period, when the fortunes of battle changed. The Pennsylvanians became a changed team in the latter end of the second quarter and played Michigan off her feet, finishing the period with a score of 21 to 7.

In the third period and fourth, the fighting Quakers hammered out four touchdowns, putting the score up to 27. The Michigan team appeared almost helpless.

Yale 10, Brown 0.
By Associated Press.
New Haven, Nov. 9.—Playing a steady and aggressive game, Yale defeated the strong Brown eleven this afternoon 10 to 0, although more than once the visitors played dangerously near to a score. A new mass formation was successfully tried by Yale. Both sides resorted to frequent punting. Fullback Flynn of Yale once booted the ball some sixty yards.

Princeton Swamps N. Y. University.
By Associated Press.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 9.—Princeton found New York University no harder than had been expected and routed away with the long end of a 24 to 0 score, were today President-elect Woodrow Wilson occupied a seat among the Tiger followers. On his entrance to the field he was given a rousing cheer by the Princeton undergraduates.

Carlisle 27, West Point 6.
By Associated Press.
West Point, Nov. 9.—Carlisle defeated the Army today by a score of 27 to 6. The Indians outplayed the cadets at every stage of the game, and only once, early in the first period, did the Army get within striking distance of the visitors' goal line. This time they scored. Thorpe's work was the feature of the game. He went through the Army again and again for long gains. His fifty yard run in the last half through the entire eleven was most spectacular.

NEWS FROM OIL FIELDS

The Skeley-Crawford well on the Oberis farm near Burkburnett is down 500 feet. This well was not listed in the field report for October.

Another dry hole—the second—is reported from the Eeds country. It was the Corsicana on the McCure farm, 1500 feet due north of the Eeds, which is now sixty feet past the sand. This would indicate that not much may be expected to the northward, as the Northwestern No. 2, M. A. Eeds and the Warner well were also both dry at the depth of the Eeds sands. The well being drilled by Clint Wood and the Guffey southwest of the Eeds No. 1 is now down 1400 feet and should be heard from this week.

The Guffey's well on the W. E. Crow was tested yesterday and found to be slightly better than a hundred barrels.

The well on the Daie ranch near Pottsville, drilled by Little et al. is dry at 1500 feet.

The Embury well at Burkburnett was put on the pump late Friday, but no record was kept of the output, as most of the oil was taken at once for fuel. Practically all the wells in that section draw on it for fuel and its production is not very definitely ascertained. It is said to be from 100 to 120 barrels.

The Keowan at Burkburnett was drilled into the sand late Friday, and the tubing is now being set for pumping. Indications are that it is better than either the Embury or the Schmoecker, the latter is now making 163 barrels.

Several new locations are to be made by the Corsicana in the Burkburnett vicinity in the near future and the section immediately around the Schmoecker is to be quite extensively developed.

The McBride well on the Chenault tract, three miles south and east of the Schmoecker is due to reach the Schmoecker sand this week and will serve as a test for much of the country to the south. It is being closely watched.

THE CONSOLIDATION OF RURAL SCHOOLS

By Associated Press.
Nov. 9.—Resolutions were adopted today by the National Farmers' Congress, that a committee from the Congress, composed of five members at large and one member from each state, should be appointed to investigate the question of consolidating rural schools. The proposed consolidation it was urged would tend to greater efficiency in the schools and help to solve the problem of how to stop the drift from the farm to the city.

In his address before the Congress today, Harvey Jordan, of Atlanta, founder of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association, declared that the ruinous credit system and the domination of the buying interests over the farmers have made it practically impossible for a producer to more than eke out an existence for himself and family.

"The rate of interest paid by farmers in this country," he said, "is about double the rate paid by the industrial corporations, and this notwithstanding the fact that the securities offered by farmers are equally as good or better than those offered by industrial corporations."

To overcome these obstacles, Mr. Jordan said, a credit system of, for and by the farmers of the United States must be established, such as is in force in Europe, and in addition there must be effective co-operation among the farmers themselves.

SHOW WINDOW SCENE DISCOURAGES MATRIMONY

Bachelor Whose Dream Was Disappointed Writes to Mayor Bell About It—Wants Culprit Punished

That the Freear-Brin window display is giving doubt and discouragement in the hearts of young men is the charge in a letter to Mayor Bell from a young bachelor of this city. The letter follows:

My Dear Mr. Bell: I have repeatedly called your attention to the willful misstatement of one of our leading citizens, who in my opinion has committed an irreparable impression upon the young men of this city and sown the seed of doubt and misgiving and discomfort in their hearts, those of whom our fair maidens are casting loving glances.

In the first place the foundation of good government, both City and National is the home, and when a fellow citizen paints a picture imaginative or real, displays a sign or decorates a window purporting to destroy same he should be ostracized from good society. Think of a man painting a picture in the minds of our young men showing a scene at 2 a. m. 12 degrees below zero, etc., and then called upon to administer to the wants, receive the kicks and listen to the yells of a future Ty Cobb, a Christy Mathewson or even as unimportant a man as the president of the United States. Imagine, my dear Mayor, the distraction that such a scene has caused in the heart of one young man, and I think too what it must be to all of the young men in town, when they contemplate loss of sleep, sore ribs, frozen feet, while the object of their adoration sleeps calmly on. My dear sir, I have seen discouragement written in the face of every young man in Wichita Falls for a long time. It is a shame, a disgrace to the dignity of our young men and to their honor, a blow at their one vital spot, their pride.

I therefore request that you gather your good officers, capture the culprit and proceed to punish him as he deserves, by arraigning him before deserted the city on this account) who will, doubtless, punish him as he deserves by having the scene changed. My suggestions would be a mouse in a fly trap or a pig in the parlor as being more consistent. I intended buying my house furnishings from the Freear-Brin Company but must say most sorrowfully, there will be no new house.

Yours in distress,
A. G. D.

Clever Boxing of Mode and Shaughnessy Well Received—Wichita Youths in Preliminary

Special to the Times.
Quanah, Texas, Nov. 9.—The boxing exhibition between J. W. Mode of Wichita Falls and Pete Shaughnessy of Fort Worth at the Gopher opera house tonight was a success from every point of view. The shadow work, training, etc., of Mode and Shaughnessy was well received by the large audience.

There were two preliminary bouts of four rounds each, before the main event. The first was between Hiney Voss and Wiley Smith of Wichita Falls, the other between Ryal Henderson and C. Walker, two Quanah boys with quite a local reputation with the gladiators.

The house was well filled and the exhibition seemed to meet with much favor.

Mr. Mode announced that he would challenge the winner of the Morris-Larver fight in Shreveport, November 16. Shaughnessy will act as Mode's manager in arranging his fights.

DEFEATED BY HENRIETTA TEAM
ROWDYISM ON PART OF SPECTATORS PARTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR LOSS OF GAME
BEHAVIOR A REPROACH
Otherwise Good Game on Local Ground Marred by Rowdy Rooters— Score 6 to 3

The Henrietta high school football team defeated the Wichita Falls eleven Friday on the Austin school grounds by a score of 6 to 3. The local boys lost, not as much through inferior playing as through the rowdiness and interference of their supporters on the side-lines, whose behavior caused costly delays. At the close of the game, the Wichitians were within three yards of the Henrietta goal, and had they not been delayed by the boys among the spectators, there would have been ample time to make the needed score.

The misbehavior of the boys on the side-lines was of a sort that was most discourteous and disagreeable. One boy threw a missile at Mr. Taylor of Henrietta, who served as referee during the last half, striking him between the shoulders. The behavior of the high school rooters reflected little credit upon the school and certainly gave little evidence of the hospitality that was due a visiting team. In addition, it cost Wichita Falls the game.

From a football standpoint, the game was a good one. Both sides were full of ginger and fought hard. Wichita Falls scored in the first quarter on a place-kick from the 20-yard line. In the third quarter, Henrietta made a touchdown on a series of forward passes and line plays, but missed goal. In the last quarter, a badly handled punt put Wichita Falls within striking distance of the Henrietta goal, but time was called before the goal line could be crossed. There was very little fumbling and practically no penalties. Henrietta used a fake forward pass to good advantage and her backs had an effective way of hitting the line. Wichita Falls did well with the forward pass and on end runs; but men hit the line too high to gain consistently in that way.

Honors are now even between the teams, Wichita Falls having won the first game.

Some of Snider's Fine Relishes

PHONES 432 and 232 AUTOMOBILE DELIVERY

Snider's Oyster Cocktail, Snider's Chili Sauce and Snider's Salad Dressing are three of the classic relishes that are being put up. The oyster cocktail sauce is at present particularly popular. Sprinkle a few drops on a nice fat oyster and you will have a delicious mouthful. Use it liberally on any kind of hot or cold meats and serve it with fried potatoes. It will make a delicious relish no matter how it is used.

A 16 ounce bottle for 35c
In Chili Sauce there is nothing quite the equal of Snider's. It is very sharp and snappy but of a very delicious flavor. This year's pack is one of the best that has ever been put up. The materials have been carefully selected and the mixture superintended with the greatest of care.

An 8 ounce bottle 25c
16 ounce bottle 35c
For any kind of salad, either vegetable, meat or fruit use Snider's salad dressing and you will be more than pleased. The flavor is just right being neither too sharp nor too flat. It is just heavy enough to stand well or it can be thinned if you prefer.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wichita Falls as second-class mail matter

Wichita Falls, Texas, Nov. 10, 1912

Those who cannot exactly locate Arneggeddon, might do well to search the map and find Salt River, and right near the head of that stream the place may be found.

Anyhow, President Taft played the game fair and went down with the wreck of his party with colors flying. He's a good loser. No one will dispute but that he stood for what he believed to be the right. In his case, defeat, crushing as it was, has brought honor to him.

Of course the tariff will be revised, and that will be done just as soon as possible. The Democratic platform says so, and if our party leaders are wise they will carry out the pledge made to the American people.

And Mr. Bryan! He looms up larger than ever before. As a loyal Democrat he has disappointed those who have always fought him, and by their opposition kept him from being president. They are now beginning to see where they had misjudged the greatest of all great American statesmen.

We dislike to revive bitter memories, but in looking over our exchanges it occurs to us that some of them have revised their estimate of the statesmanship of "The New Jersey schoolmaster."

Wichita Falls already has two glass factories with the brightest kind of prospect for still another, which will furnish employment for a greater number of men than both the others combined.

Some of the oil men who had thought things would "go to pot" if a Democrat was elected president got the surprise of their lives on the day after the landslide when they learned the price of crude oil throughout the Mid-Continent field had advanced three cents a barrel.

Just at this time there seems to be a dispute as to what newspaper was the first to suggest the name of Woodrow Wilson as a Democratic presidential possibility. By referring back to its files "The Times" finds that in its issue of November 2, 1910 (the day Wilson had won the State of New Jersey as the Democratic candidate for governor), it picked him as a winner for the presidency. That's the best it can do. There may be other newspapers that were advocating the New Jersey governor as a presidential possibility before that time.

"No honest business concern or individual need fear my administration," is the way President-elect Wilson puts it, and that kind of talk has had much to do with allaying the fears of those who had read the interviews given out by Mr. Taft, predicting all sorts of hard times, paucity and starvation in the event the Democrats succeeded in electing their candidate. Cotton, the South's greatest product, has advanced about 43 per cent since the election of Wilson.

ABOUT THE POSTMASTERSHIP.

So far as known there are only four applicants for the postmastership of Wichita Falls and their petitions are in circulation. The applicants are as follows: Alderman John T. Young, V. C. Skeen, St. Clair Sherrod and Ed Howard. Postmaster Bacon's term does not expire for about three years yet, and he does not contemplate resigning his commission, but this is not deterring the applicants in their efforts to land the plum.

Postmasters are not, as a rule, removed before the expiration of their terms, except for cause, and that may be interpreted to mean anything. In the case of President Taft "offensive partisanship" has been assigned as sufficient cause for removal in several cases, though the victim's offensiveness was no greater than that of being an enthusiastic Bull Moose supporter. If President-elect Wilson should take the same view of the matter the only cause he need assign for removal is that the holder of the coveted job is not a Democrat.

At any rate, the applicants here as elsewhere, are not going to allow the opportunity to pass, should the new president show as great desire to reward those who helped to elect him as he and his able corps of campaign managers were in soliciting and urging them to help elect him president. Democrats are but natural, after all. They have an idea that the demand for a Democratic president carried with it the demand for a change of the personnel at the government pie counter. In this they may be disappointed, grievously, perhaps, but they think they have a better right to hold the offices than the fellows who have them now, and are proceeding accordingly.

Factories, railroads and farms with good farmers on them build cities. Wichita Falls has the factories and the railroads, and is reaching out for more of them. She is surrounded on every side by as fine a farming and stock-raising country as can be found in Texas, and all that is needed to double the population of both the county and city within the next two or three years is for her citizens to pull together in the future as they have in the past.

It is persistently rumored that Senator Bailey contemplates resigning his seat before his term expires, which will be March 4 of next year, and in the event he takes that step, that Gov. Colquitt will appoint Col. R. M. Johnston, editor of the Houston Post to fill the unexpired term. Hon. Morris Sheppard, who will be elected in January to succeed Senator Bailey, will not begin his term until March 4th, 1913. Senator Bailey's reason for retiring before the expiration of his term is his anxiety to again become a private citizen and resume the practice of law. However, his rumored contemplated resignation lacks confirmation, and there may be nothing to it.

MRS. MATTIE KNIGHT'S WILL PROBATED

Estate Valued at $100,000 Bequeathed to Husband, Five Brothers and Sister

The will of the late Mrs. Mattie Bateman-Knight was filed for probate Saturday afternoon. The estate is conservatively estimated or appraised at about $100,000 and the will provides that it be divided between her husband, Mr. C. C. Knight, her five brothers, Phy, John, Frank, Ed and Charlie Taylor and one sister, Mrs. Clara Marshall, all residents of Wichita county. The will also bequeaths $2,400 worth of vendor lien notes to her niece, Nellie Roe Taylor, daughter of John Taylor, a child whom Mrs. Knight had partially reared. The estate consists of very choice city and country property as follows: One-half interest in the Moore-Bateman building, corner Indiana avenue and Eighth street, $30,000; one-half interest in the Ruby Theatre building on Indiana avenue, $5,000; two residences on lot corner Tenth and Scott avenue, $10,000; 929 acres of Red River land located near Electra, worth $50 per acre, $46,450; livestock, $4,000; bank stock, $1,000; stock in Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company, $1,000.

Mrs. Knight had been a resident of Wichita county since the year 1876, the family coming from Dallas to this county during the fall of that year.

The will was drawn by J. H. Barwise Jr., of Fort Worth, and was filed for probate by Judges A. H. Carrigan and J. T. Montgomery of this city.

BRICKLAYERS' OFFICIAL GOES TO HOUSTON

Secretary of Local Union Called into Conference on Proposed Strike There

W. H. Duff, secretary of the local bricklayers' union, left last night for Houston to attend a conference of bricklayers' officials which has been called to consult over the bricklayers' strike there which is scheduled to begin tomorrow morning. The Houston bricklayers are demanding a seven dollar a day scale and if the move is successful at Houston it is said the same scale will eventually be extended to all the cities of the State. Of seven officials in the State have been called into the conference and the local union feels complimented that its secretary is one of these.

Minneapolis milk wagon drivers decided to establish a sick benefit and 25 cents of the $1 monthly dues will be set aside for that purpose. The union drivers will wear a union button.

DALLAS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA COMING

A contract has been closed whereby the Dallas Symphony Orchestra of Dallas, will give a matinee and evening performance at the Wichita Opera House on Thursday, Nov. 21st. They will appear under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association.

This will prove, no doubt the most important musical event of the entire season, as the Dallas Symphony Orchestra have established themselves as a very superior organization, and it is quite a treat to the people of this city that they will have the advantage of hearing them on two separate occasions.

The musicians of the orchestra have for the most part been secured from the symphony and grand opera orchestras of the North and east, and as great care has been exercised in their selection, comprise a body of players that has no equal in any city of the Southwest.

The repertoire of the orchestra includes practically all the standard overtures, symphonies and selections from the operas, as well as a great many lighter numbers.

SHRANK WILL BE BROUGHT INTO COURT THIS WEEK.

By Associated Press. Milwaukee, Nov. 9.—John Schrank who shot Col. Roosevelt, probably will be brought into court next week for trial. Schrank is undecided about his employing a lawyer.

"If Roosevelt comes to Milwaukee, then I will get a lawyer," he is said to have remarked. "If he does not, then I think will not get an attorney but will take my medicine."

Rohatch's Mineral Water. Is highly recommended by physicians and patrons who have tested its merits, for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and bladder trouble. This water stimulates the secretion of the stomach, increases digestion

PATENT MEDICINES Flourished twenty years ago when the daily papers carried a life size profile of Hiram Hayrick, of Hogtown, whose testimonial avers that he had been an invalid for seventeen years and after taking seventeen bottles of Dr. Fakera's Pignatum he can tell ice cream from plug chewing tobacco without his glasses and is the owner of an appetite that makes a hobo look like an infant with stomach trouble. In most cases when you separated yourself from good coin for patent medicine it was a revised version of the fool and his money. Different now, the best and most effective remedies on the market are not patent medicines. You are welcome to the formulas from which they are made. The Dikes household remedies are not patent medicines. We can give you the formula of every one of them and they are made by the same people who have for fifty years been foremost in the manufacture of prescription goods and antitoxin. Their laboratories are the greatest in the world and their workers the most skilled. For sale by the
