THIRTY REPORTED KILLED IN MISSISSIPPI WRECK

FREIGHT TRAIN CRASHED INTO REAR END OF EXCURSION TRAIN ON YAZOO MISSISSIPPI VALLEY

COACHES BURNED

Flames Break Out Among Dead and Injured—Blacks Vie With Whites in Heroism

By Associated Press.
New Orleans, Nov. 11.—Thirty people are reported killed and more than fifty injured in a wreck on the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad at midnight last night, when a freight train crashed into an excursion passenger train bound from New Orleans to Woodville, Mississippi.

The wreck was caused by a through freight train crashing into the rear of an excursion train of ten coaches. The two rear coaches were telescoped. Five of the coaches burned and many of the bodies of victims are believed to have been cremated. Most of the dead are negroes. The wreck occurred about thirty miles north of here near Montez, Louisiana.

Many of the injured are white. An official statement issued by the railroad company places the blame for the disaster on a brakeman who is charged with failure to obey orders and signal the freight train.

The excursion train left New Orleans drawn by two engines. On approaching Montez, one of the engines broke down and the engineer signalled the brakeman to go back and flag the freight train, which was running twenty-five minutes behind the excursion. The freight tore into the rear of the crowded passenger train at a speed of about thirty miles an hour.

Of the fourteen bodies recovered so far, nine were negroes and five white persons. The white dead:

MRS. VICTORIA MONTEUCE, of Vachary, Louisiana.

MRS. JENNIE CONEAUX, Vachary, Louisiana.

MRS. CHARLES GRECO, Vachary, Louisiana.

MRS. THOS. GRUNNESS, New Orleans.

An unidentified white child.

Almost as soon as the collision occurred, the two rear coaches, which were telescoped by the freight engine, caught fire. The passengers who escaped injury rushed into the coaches and dragged dead and injured from the flames.

Several of the occupants of the forward coaches were badly burned in their efforts to save the less fortunate. A white woman and children ran wildly about searching for relatives and friends. While men risked their lives to save injured negroes from the fire and negro men rushed from the steam and flames to rescue white persons as well as members of their own race.

Note Left by Wayland Said Struggle Under Competitive System Not Worth Effort

By Associated Press.
Girard, Kan., Nov. 11.—Between the pages of a book belonging to J. A. Wayland, founder and owner of the "Appeal to Reason," a Socialist weekly newspaper here, who shot and killed himself in his home last night, the following note was found:

"The struggle under the competitive system is not worth the effort. Let it pass."

Friends of Mr. Wayland attribute his act to despondency over the death of his wife who was killed in an automobile accident a year ago.

Wayland left an estate of considerable value. He owned a business block and other property at Amarillo, Texas.

GRAPHIC STORY OF THE ATTACK

FRENCH CORRESPONDENT GIVES DESCRIPTION OF STORING OF ADRIANOPLE BY BULGARIANS

AEROPLANES WERE USED

Aircraft Carrying Bulgarian Scouts Flew Back and Forth Above Storm of Bullets and Shells

By Associated Press.
Paris, Nov. 11.—A graphic description of the storming of Bulgarians of the two Turkish forts, Cartalacet and Tapaztpe, in the outer line of fortifications around Adrianople, was received from a correspondent of the Matin. He declares that their captures seals the doom of the Turkish stronghold.

The operations began at daybreak on Thursday. The fire of the Bulgarians' big guns began to tell about ten o'clock in the morning, when the cannon in the fort began to reply. The fort had been struck by a heavy storm of shells for several hours. The Turkish infantry meanwhile had resisted the Bulgarian advance stubbornly but the line gradually began to waver.

Suddenly the command "fix bayonets" rang out among the Bulgarians, who wildly cheering ran forward and the Turks broke and ran for the city. About noon the Bulgarian banners fluttered over the fort of Carrachet but the other fort still held out. Night fell and the Turks and Bulgarians still fighting. Suddenly in the darkness a long dazzling ray of light shot across the sky from one of the hills held by the Bulgarians, bringing the fort Tapaztpe clearly into view. Then from the other fort itself another ray shot out.

The cannon and rifle fire which had been slackening became more brisk while above the combatants the search lights flashed about among little balls of white smoke caused by the burst of shrapnel, the smoke floating like fire in a sunbeam, making even deeper the surrounding blackness, which was punctured here and there by flashes from the muzzles of cannon.

The roar of the siege and field guns dominated the rattling of rifle shots and the screeching shells as they sped through the air. As had occurred at Cartalacet early in the day the fire from the other fort began to slacken. There also the Bulgarian guns had wrought enormous damage.

Abruptly the searchlights were extinguished at 11 o'clock at night and the Bulgarian infantry began to storm the fort at the point of the bayonet.

Shortly before midnight they had become masters of the position and the Turks were in rout. They left their dead and dying by hundreds on the field. Throughout the operations, Bulgarian aeroplanes flew back and forth over the Turkish fort, bringing valuable information to the command.

Some interesting sidelights on the war are telegraphed by another Matin correspondent who talked with some of the Turkish prisoners in the hands of the Bulgarians. Many of them had come from Asia and had never before heard of Bulgaria. When the cause of the war was explained to them one of them said "We knew nothing of that. In Asia Minor where we were recruited, we were told that according to the law of Prophets, we must go to fight the infidels and that the hour to exterminate them had arrived. We were also told that Allah had promised us victory and the Turkish officers said we should divide among us the riches of Allah's enemies. We have been deceived."

Cholera Has Broken Out Among Turkish Soldiers.
Constantinople, Nov. 11.—The outbreak of cholera is assuming serious proportions. Twenty-three cases had occurred among the troops along the Tchatalja lines up to Wednesday. There are many more suspected cases among the wounded. A train load of wounded has just reached here, eight of the soldiers having died on the way, presumably of cholera.

The disease is getting a firmer hold on account of the massing of troops, the lack of proper food and the complete absence of sanitary arrangements. The danger to Constantinople is great on account of the influx of refugees. Already several suspected cases among the latter have been reported. The authorities are preparing a special quarantine hospital with 400 beds at Sirkeji.

The frequent visits of the Austrian Ambassador, Marquis de Pallavicini, to the Porte are attracting attention. Yesterday he visited the Foreign Minister. According to the Turkish newspaper, Ikdam, he declared that, in view of the phase which the Balkan situation has entered the interests of Austria and Turkey have become identical.

The authorities permit only three newspapers to be published. One of

WILSON MAY MAKE ANNOUNCEMENT SOON

Indicated today he would say whether he would call an extra session of Congress

By Associated Press.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 11.—President-elect Wilson indicated today he might make an announcement within a few days as to whether he will call an extra session of Congress to revise the tariff.

He had intended delaying any announcement along this line until his return from his proposed vacation, about December 16, but it was suggested to him that an announcement would benefit them if he could arrange for accommodations at Washington for a definite period. Mr. Wilson said:

"I had not thought of that. Of course, I don't see any public need for announcing my decision now, except perhaps quiet speculation as to whether there is going to be early action. I have fully intended to delay announcing what I was going to do until after I get back from my vacation. I was going to hear and read opinions in the meantime."

SENATOR ELECT HEARD BY MANY
WOODMEN FROM MANY CAMPS GATHERED AT UNVEILING CEREMONY HERE

Audience Estimated at 1800, Heard Address at M. E. Church South On "Christian Citizenship"

Hon. Morris Sheppard of Texas, United States Senator-elect from Texas, delivered two addresses in Wichita Falls yesterday, one at the unveiling of two Woodmen of the World monuments at Riverside cemetery, the other at the M. E. Church, South, last night before an audience of 1800.

The ceremonies were attended by about four hundred visiting Woodmen from Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma, nearly all the camps in this section sending large delegations. The Henrietta camp, which was in charge of the unveiling rites, brought its band, which furnished music for the occasion. Among the camps represented were those at Childers, Quanah, Vernon, Iowa Park, Burk Burnett, Grandfield, Byers, Petrolia, Thornberry, Charlie, Bellevue, Bowie, Henrietta, Seymour, Stamford, Dundee, Archer City, Newcastle and probably several others. The arrangements for the occasion were in charge of J. T. Young.

Mr. Sheppard reached the city on an early train yesterday and after meeting a number of Wichitans at the St. James, attended services at the Southern Methodist Church.

After dinner the local and visiting Woodmen gathered at Woodmen Hall at the corner of Eighth and Ohio and a brief welcome address was delivered by Mayor Bell, who is himself a Woodman. Then, headed by the band, the members marched out to Riverside cemetery. The band was organized and supported by the Henrietta lodge.

The monuments unveiled were those over the graves of W. J. Haynes and J. S. Doak and the impressive rites were conducted by the Henrietta lodge. Mr. Sheppard's physicians will not allow him to speak outdoors and his unveiling oration was not delivered until he returned from the cemetery, when he spoke at the Lydia Margaret Theatre.

Mr. Sheppard's oration was largely in eulogy of the order of Woodmen and the principles for which it stood. He was introduced by Attorney J. M. Blankenship of this city. Mr. Sheppard told of the achievements of the organization, saying it now had

By Associated Press.
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The annual reports of the president, secretary and treasurer of the American Federation of Labor were presented to the thirty-second annual convention of the organization in session here today.

The report of President Samuel Gompers was a thorough and voluminous review of the work of the organization for the past year, particularly with regard to legislation endorsed and supported by the Federation. Discussing the growth of the Federation, Mr. Gompers' report set forth that during the year ending Sept. 30, 1912 299 chapters were issued to labor organizations affiliating with the Federation.

"The average membership reported, and upon whom per capita tax was paid by the affiliated organizations to the American Federation of Labor during the past year," said the report, "was 1,779,415, an increase over the number reported for 1911 which was 1,761,835. On September 30, 1912, the membership of the affiliated organizations was 1,841,268."

President Gompers reported progress in the organization of the International labor movement in Canada and in Porto Rico. In Canada he reported a total membership of from 60,000 to 70,000 in the Trades and Labor Congress, and in Porto Rico he declared 160 unions had been organized with 9,000 members. Improved working conditions were reported in both Canada and Porto Rico.

President Gompers' report included statements from the building trades, metal trades, mining, railroad employees, and union label trades departments, showing the progress made by each department of the Federation during the year. In the report was included a statement by Albert J. Herzer, secretary-treasurer of the metal trades department, in which he said:

"The Los Angeles strike continued for a period covering more than twenty-one months. At the beginning of the fight organization among the workers of that city was in a deplorable condition. It is generally conceded by those who were on the ground that our fight for the shorter work-day would have been won, had it not been for the deplorable calamity in connection with the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building. Even with this handicap, after the public declaration of labor's position and attitude toward the alleged crime, there was still a chance of winning up to the time when the snail of the McNamara's was established by their confession. Then it was recognized that there was no chance of winning the strike, or persuading employers to make concessions."

After discussing the industrial and legislative secretary of the American Federation of Labor, Secretary Gompers' report concluded that the American Federation should send a representative to the meeting of the secretaries if one is held in 1913 and that, if no meeting is held in that year the Federation invite the secretaries to meet at San Francisco in 1915, during the Panama-Pacific exposition, either immediately, or by or immediately following the convention of the American Federation.

The report highly recommended the Labor Forward Movement organized in Minnesota for spreading the union labor doctrine.

Mr. Gompers discussed at length the efforts of the American Federation to organize workers in the steel industry. He outlined an extensive campaign of education among forgers working in the steel mills.

Reviewing the legislative work of the year Mr. Gompers set forth that fifteen members of trade unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor had been elected to the House of Representatives. Of these fifteen four are members of the House committee on Labor, of which Representative Wilson of Pennsylvania, a union miner, is chairman.

BRYCE RESIGNS AS AMBASSADOR
ENVOY TO UNITED STATES WILL RETURN TO ENGLAND TO DEVOTE TIME TO LITERATURE

Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, Now Minister at Stockholm, Will Take Post

London, Nov. 11.—The Washington correspondent of the "Morning Post" says that Ambassador James Bryce informed President Taft Saturday that he will retire shortly and devote himself to literature.

Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, now minister at Stockholm, will succeed Mr. Bryce.

Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice was born in 1859 and was created K. C. M. G. in 1906. He has served at Stockholm as minister since Sept. 1, 1908. In 1886 he was third secretary at Washington and was appointed acting secretary to the British delegates to the International maritime conference, Aug. 27, 1888. After serving for a time at Brussels and Tokio, he was transferred to Washington in 1893. He was charge d'affaires at Tehran in 1900 and a minister to Persia in 1904-05.

Tells of Successor.

Washington, Nov. 11.—It is understood that Ambassador Bryce submitted to the President the name of the British government's choice for his successor when he announced his own intention of returning home as soon as possible. President Taft, it is said, requested that the announcement be withheld until he could have an opportunity to discuss it with Secretary of State Knox. Mr. Knox returned to Washington tonight.

Ambassador Bryce's retirement is not wholly unexpected. There has been no break in the harmonious relations of the distinguished Englishman and his government, but it has been an open secret some time that Mr. Bryce, advancing in years, desired to surrender his post and give entire attention to the completion of his literary work, which has occupied so large a part of his life.

His book on South America, written since his tour of that country two years ago, is just off the press and he is about to begin a work covering his recent tour of Australia and New Zealand.

WHILE FORCES OF DIPLOMACY ARE STRONG FOR PEACEFUL SOLUTION WAR CLOUDS GROW THICKER

A Hopeful Sign is the Moderating Influences Being Brought to Bear by Germany

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 11.—Europe is facing one of the most critical weeks in her history. It may end in a war in which all Europe will be involved, or it may be remembered as a week in which diplomacy succeeded in solving problems that appeared insoluble to many.

The Balkan army is on the point of entering Constantinople. This will be accepted by Russia. At the same time the Turkish capital is threatened with massacre from within.

On the other side of the Balkan peninsula there is an acute conflict between the aims of Austria Hungary and Serbia which if not settled may start a general European outbreak.

The most hopeful sign is in the moderating influences brought to bear by Germany a close ally of Austria and by Bulgaria, Serbia's comrade in arms.

Austria takes the advance of a Serbian force toward the Adriatic so seriously that she has dispatched a steamer there to take off Austrian residents when the troops arrive.

Serbia's friend, Russia, is also preparing for contingencies. Besides keeping her time expired men in the army, she is mobilizing her forces and her arsenal and commissaries department are working day and night.

As to actual fighting there is very little news today.

SOME GOOD ROAD WORK BEING DONE

Commissioner Thomas Has Made a Splendid Record as a Road Builder

By Associated Press.
Wichita Falls, Nov. 11.—D. E. Thomas, commissioner of precinct No. 1, whose term of office expires with this term of the court, has been doing some very effective road building during the past two years; and if his successor in office, Mr. J. P. Jackson, keeps the good work up it will not be more than another year until all the wagon roads leading into Wichita Falls will be in a condition that they can be traveled in bad weather.

Naturally, Mr. Thomas feels some pride in what has been accomplished under his supervision, and on his invitation Commissioner McCloskey and Eddie, together with Secretary Forester of the Chamber of Commerce, and a Times reporter went out to the Noble Hill, about two miles east of the City on the Petrolia road, to inspect a fine piece of road that had been built under Commissioner Thomas' supervision.

Photographer Haddix was taken along, and made several pictures of the road that had been cut through the hill, and it is the intention of Secretary Forester to make good use of these pictures by having cuts made and used in circulation of literature encouraging the building of good roads.

After the trip to the road-working camp the party returned to the city and took dinner at the Westland hotel as the guests of Mr. Thomas.

The road on which the road working force of this commissioner's precinct is now at work, is perhaps the worst that leads to the city. In fact, it is almost out of the question to travel in real bad weather, and while it may require the expenditure of several hundred dollars yet to complete the work that has been started, it is to be hoped that the new commissioner will keep the force at work on this road until it is made in fairly good condition.

"The Confession."

"The Confession" by James Halleck Reid, which has enjoyed a successful run at the Bijou Theatre, Broadway, New York City, will be seen at the Wichita Theatre tonight, dars to tell the truth and in its telling, unfolds a dramatic story of power, strength and literary merit. "The Confession" uses in its theme a vital subject. A priest's duty to his church, versus his duty to his state; in fact, it is a story that runs the gamut of every human emotion, and yet, in Mr. Reid's manuscript there is not a line that would offend the most sensitive. No more absorbing tragedy has ever been conceived, no greater stage picture and lesson ever presented. This epoch of Christianity provides material for a play of unusual interest, unlike anything else ever produced. "The Confession" will live for its theme and purpose is too great to die; truth cannot die, right must conquer might. Mr. Reid is firm in his belief that a much abused public will welcome a play with real life interest, not depending on the loud, sensational or the vulgar for its success, but rather upon truth, which, since time began, has always been stronger than fiction. The management of the play, firm in Mr. Reid's belief, have furnished this play "The Confession," with a cast of exceptional ability which have appeared in almost every important production for years. The management deserves the congratulations of the theatre going public for their efforts in obtaining such remarkable people. For this important theatrical offering, a scenic production, befitting in detail and correctness has been built for "The Confession" and its distinguished cast.

Scene in "The Girl From Tokio" at Wichita Theatre Matinee and Night, Saturday, November 16th.

"The Girl From Tokio."

One of the best farce comedies of recent years will be offered at the Wichita Theatre for one night on Saturday, November 16 with the usual Saturday matinee, under the title of "The Girl From Tokio." Frank Tannehill Jr. and George W. Barnum have adapted for the English stage a clever version of Robert Pohl's bright farce, which was first produced at the Court Theatre, Berlin, and has now passed its 215 performances. The farce was one of the pronounced hits of the German capital and kept its record audiences in good humor and roars of laughter nightly. It is just a series of natural consistent circumstances involving real people in a lot of humorous trouble. The plot evolves around the life of Edmond Miller, a tea importer, who, after the death of his wife, takes up his residence in Japan leaving behind in America two daughters and a maiden sister. Some after his arrival in Japan, he meets and falls in love with a young actress traveling in that country, he marries her much to the disgust of his family, who have an aversion to the profession. Before Miller has an opportunity to become reconciled with the family in America he dies, leaving half his fortune located in America to his young widow, Bartley Swift, an importer of Japanese art, who has had a temporary residence in Tokio, had at one time paid court to Mrs. Miller and afterwards, after her death, had returned to his native land, married Miller's oldest daughter. The widow of Miller decides to come to America to effect a settlement of her husband's estate with the executors. Upon her arrival at Swift's home, he knowing his wife's ideas in regard to first love and marriage and realizing her unreasonable jealousy, endeavors to hide the widow until he can see some way out of his trouble and is finally obliged to introduce her as the governess engaged for his young sister-in-law. His troubles are increased by the arrival of the real governess and his attempts to keep her out of sight of the family much to her astonishment, adds to his tribulations.

"The Goose Girl."

That romantic drama has a firm hold on the theatre going public is demonstrated by the patronage bestowed upon plays of this calibre. There are so few touring the country when one does come along, if it has any merit whatever, it does tremendous business. Messrs. Baker & Castle have been most successful in their decision of stand by this style of entertainment. Another play of this order has been sent on tour by them, a dramatization of "The Goose Girl," one of Harold MacGrath's "best sellers" and which scored tremendously in the world of fiction. That the play has been accepted equally as well is evinced by the successful presentation of this drama in cities already visited by the organization.

The adaptation of the book is by George D. Baker, who has several earlier and successful efforts to his credit. Mr. Baker, who has adhered to the story of Mr. MacGrath most faithfully, surrounding the different characters in a haze of romance, displayed a vast deal of technical skill in retaining the principal figures and features of the book. Play goes will be agreeably entertained with "The Goose Girl." It is a most charming book and the play has developed into a pronounced success. The production is a most beautiful and sumptuous one, probably in excess of any dramatic company seen in this city in years. As for the cast, the owners have endeavored to select artists, who while they are in full accord with parts are at the same time types of the characters they assume.

This blending has proved most beneficial, it being said, the company is a splendid one.

"The Goose Girl" will be the attraction at the Wichita Theatre, Tuesday, November 14th.

FOR AGED PEOPLE.

Old Folks Should Be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitutions who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorders. We are so certain that it will relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer it with our personal guarantee that it shall cost the user nothing if it fails to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies have a soothing, healing strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the bowels. They remove all irritation, dryness, soreness and weakness. They restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They are eaten like candy, may be taken at any time without inconvenience, do not cause any griping nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Price 25 cents and 10 cents. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, Foshhee & Lynch Drug Store.

Dallas—The board of commissioners of this city has let contract for the erection of a new hospital to cost approximately $89,500 work to start immediately.

THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, in a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

"Mobile, Ala.—I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble. My husband asked me to try Cardui. I felt better after the first bottle, and now I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui. Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it. N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chastepain Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. See Special Instructions, and 64-page book, Home Treatment of Women, sent in plain wrapper, on request.

PRYOR'S REPORT SHOWS DECREASE IN CATTLE

I. T. Pryor.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 11.—The report of Col. Ike T. Pryor of the Texas Welfare Commission on the Raising and Marketing of Livestock which has just been made public shows an alarming decrease in the production of cattle per annum in Texas. Coming just at this time when the price of meat is soaring higher and higher, the report is interesting and is being studied carefully by stockmen throughout the State. During the past decade, our supply of cattle in Texas has decreased 2,047,499 head while our population has increased 847,832. In Continental United States our population has increased 15,977,691 while our cattle have decreased 2,332,000. "The situation becomes all the more alarming when we consider that Texas supplied the decrease in number of cattle for the entire United States," says the report, "and we contributed heavily toward the loss in sheep and scarcely broke even on hogs. The figures show that the livestock industry, which has been our leading occupation, is rapidly waning in Texas."

The report urges the State to raise more livestock, possibly standard grade, and the building of silos and the feeding and finishing of our livestock for market and also sounds a note of warning against the wholesale marketing of calves.

900,000 members and would soon reach the million mark. He spoke tenderly and eloquently of the benefits it conveyed to those dependent on its members and an outburst of applause greeted him when he said "I would rather wipe one tear from the cheek of a child than hold the highest office in this land."

The Woodmen protected the home, he continued, which was the foundation of civilization. He spoke at some length of the home and what it meant to all mankind, telling how Geraldine Farrar, the noted songstress, after she had failed to move the convicts in the penitentiary at Atlanta with classic renditions, brought tears to every eye with "Home, Sweet Home."

He pointed out that the last half century, though probably displaying the most marked materialistic tendencies of any similar period in the history of the world, had yet marked the beginning of fraternal insurance which he predicted would eventually spread throughout the globe. Mr. Sheppard commented on the fact that while war and politics and art and other modern forces went on amid glaring headlines and blaring of trumpets, the silent force of fraternity were always at work, accomplishing more good and ridding the world of more evil than any of the others. He paid a beautiful tribute to the mother and said that nothing more eloquent than a mother's prayer had ever been pronounced. He discussed in glowing phrases woman's part in the upbuilding of the race and the advancement of civilization.

Mr. Sheppard closed with a word-picture of the army of woodcraft, naming the many States where the organization is now flourishing. Referring to Texas' Woodmen, he referred to this State as one which would soon "send rice to China, flour to Minneapolis, dry goods to New England, steel to Pennsylvania and presidents to Washington."

Seventy hundred people were unable to gain admittance at the Methodist Church to hear Mr. Sheppard last night, and the big auditorium was filled to its utmost capacity. It being estimated there were fully 1800 people in attendance. Mr. Sheppard's lecture was on "Christian Citizenship" and was a sermon in itself. He was given rapt attention and the eloquent address was very favorably received.

Mr. Sheppard was forced to decline many invitations to remain here longer, having an engagement in Dallas this morning. He left the city on an early train. He declined to discuss politics while here and had no comment to make on the report that Senator Bailey, whom he will succeed next March, would resign before his term ends.

MORE KAFFIR CORN AND MILO MAIZE

THESE CROPS WILL LARGELY SUPPLANT INDIAN CORN IN WICHITA CO. NEXT SEASON

J. W. CAMPBELL'S REPORT

Shows a Total of 1883 Acres Under Cultivation Last Season by Government Demonstrators

A total of 1883 acres in this section is under cultivation by government demonstration methods, according to the report of J. W. Campbell, special agent for Wichita County for the federal department of agriculture, submitted today to the commissioners' court. During the past year the planting of kaffir corn and milo maize has been practiced on an extensive scale and will probably result in reduced corn acreage next season.

The corn and cotton on the demonstration plots has far exceeded in production that on the other lands, according to Mr. Campbell. The report follows:

"To the honorable commissioners' court of Wichita County:—From January 1, 1912, to date I have had 88 demonstrators and 87 co-operators, also 29 farmers demonstrating on kaffir and milo, some of which are included in the other list. I have under demonstration, 724 acres of corn, which has by far exceeded the average of the county, also 886 acres of cotton, which is above the average of the county; 197 acres of kaffir corn and 76 acres of milo, which has almost doubled the yield of corn planted by the side of it, especially on the uplands, and which has yielded more than corn in many instances on deep sandy land and on bottom land where the kaffir and milo were planted thin and had the same cultivation.

"The department recommend planting kaffir and milo on the tight lands in place of corn, but the best prepared early in drill the best selected seed and plenty of grain can be raised in any normal year."

"I find that most of my demonstrators will reduce the acreage of corn and plant kaffir and milo next year."

"We have a total of 1883 acres under demonstration and from what reports I have gathered, we are getting a very satisfactory yield. The cotton reports will be extra good."

"I find the corn and cotton-club boys have done excellent work, where they continued the work; quite a number of the tomato club girls have had good success and deserve much credit, as some of them have produced good crops where their parents failed in former years."

"I find the farmers are taking more interest in diversified farming and rotation crops, and realize the importance thereof."

"I attended the agricultural agents' meetings on February and October and have made 824 visits to demonstrators and co-operators. I also visited most of the cotton and corn club boys and quite a number of the tomato club girls. In making these visits I have traveled 1169 miles by rail and 4221 miles by team."

"The prizes will be awarded the corn club boys and tomato club girls by the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday, November 16, and the cotton club boys prizes will be awarded as soon as the crop is gathered. I have added six new demonstrators to my list for next year and will reorganize the boys and girls clubs as well as this crop is gathered and the prizes awarded. I will also organize for next year, corn, cotton, kaffir, milo and tomato clubs for the boys and girls."

"I consider the work in fine condition and the interest is still growing, especially."

"J. W. CAMPBELL, Special Agt."

ELECTION COST COUNTY NEARLY $300

Cost Was Approximately Twenty Cents Apiece for Each Vote Cast—Average Cost in Some Boxes High

It cost approximately twenty cents for each vote cast in Wichita county last Tuesday, according to the latest figures. There were about 1500 votes cast, at a total expense of nearly $300.

At each of the smaller boxes there were three election judges, each drawing $2 per day, and two clerks, drawing the same. In the larger boxes there were five judges and four clerks, each drawing $2 for the day's work; in addition, about $100 worth of stationery was required and the messenger who brought the returns in to the court house also received $2 for his work, making a total of close to $300.

At Allendale and Denny, where twelve votes each were cast, they cost the county about a dollar apiece, as there were five judges and clerks drawing $2 each, a messenger at $2, not counting the cost of the stationery. In the city and in the larger boxes, of course, the cost per vote was smaller.

Grand Saline—This city has spent approximately $3,000 this year on street grading and concrete culverts.

LA FOLLETTE WILL CONTINUE FIGHT

In His Magazine He Predicts Next National Republican Convention Will Be Overwhelmingly Progressive

Madison, Wis., Nov. 11.—Predicting that the next national Republican convention will be overwhelmingly progressive, Senator La Follette, in his weekly magazine, in an editorial on "Wilson," says:

"At this writing, with the returns still incomplete, the election of Woodrow Wilson is assured."

"Mr. Wilson is offered an opportunity for high and enduring service. The country has turned to him in its need. Nominated at the Democratic convention in Baltimore, through the leadership of Colonel Bryan, at the end of a desperate and protracted fight with Tammany Hall and the old-line bosses, he carried the country with an unprecedented majority. Oppressed and heartless, a nation of ninety million people, demanding plain, simple justice, striving for educational, political and industrial democracy, turned to Woodrow Wilson as the only present hope."

"As President of the United States Mr. Wilson will have an opportunity that comes to an individual but rarely in the passing of the generations. May he meet it with courage, with vision, with wisdom."

"The meaning of Mr. Wilson's election is plain. The people have been mere pawns in the political game. They had Roosevelt as President. They had Taft as President. And during the seven years' administration of the one and four years' administration of the other, they had seen special privilege fastening its grip upon the country each year with firmer hold. They had seen the trusts grow and multiply, and the gigantic mergers and combinations welding business into had seen the under Roosevelt wax arrogant and special privilege wall raised by the hands of the pampered beneficiaries, under Taft."

"They demanded a change. And they forged their demand into a call for Wilson, who as Governor of New Jersey for two years had made a progressive record."

"What of the next four years? First of all there must be legislative achievement of a high order. If the will of the people as voiced in this election is to prevail. The Democratic party has been in control of the house of representatives during the last two sessions. The Underwood machine, built on secret caucus lines, is reactionary. The present leadership, the existing tyrannical caucus system, must be supplanted if we are to have real progress."

"Progressives, irrespective of party, will support and sustain Mr. Wilson if he aids aggressively in freeing the house majority from its shackles. They must, in conscience, resent his course, should he trim or compromise with the undemocratic Democrats in congress merely for party harmony. And so with all matters of administration and legislation."

"Meanwhile it is given to the progressive Republican everywhere to hold the high ground of disinterested, patriotic guardianship of the principles, which are in state and nation gradually restoring government to the people. There is an exceptional call to duty. It was the progressive Republicans in congress during the last few formative years who forced the issues and blazed the trails. Flanked on the one side by a reactionary Democratic house machine and on the other by a senate, still in the clutches of system Republicanism, they held aloft steadfastly the banner of progress."

"During the four years to come it will be their prime concern to advance progressive principles, to fight privilege in every form, whether proposed by special interest Democrats or special interest Republicans. Co-operating with Wilson when his face is turned forward, breaking with him should he turn his back, they will keep the faith. They will continue the fight."

"The country is progressive. The rank and file of the Republican party are progressive. Freed from the leadership of both Roosevelt and Taft, under whose administrations trusts and combinations have grown to be the greatest danger which ever menaced democracy, progressive leadership in the Republican party will now assert itself and the next national Republican convention will be overwhelmingly progressive."

There are five applicants for the postmastership of Wichita Falls instead of four, as stated in the Times yesterday. In a note to the Times today City Tax Assessor Harry Robertson says he is a candidate also for that position. The Times regrets that it did not know Mr. Robertson was an applicant, and if there are others, it will be pleased to make the fact known. "The water's fine, come on in boys." Ladies are not barred.

NEWSPAPER ENGLISH.

Many high-browed pedagogues refer in a patronizing manner to "newspaper English" and some have wretchedly ambitious young writers "not to injure themselves permanently by learning to write for newspapers." This is all piffle. No English is clearer or more forceful than that found in the newspapers. I venture to assert that the newspaper English of Kansas City is purer than that found in the staid old Atlantic Monthly. No flourish, no false steps, no superfluous adjectives, the news story moves straight to its purpose, to inform.

Writing for a newspaper, under proper criticism "is the best way for any student to learn the use of English, to cultivate accuracy of observation, and to develop a healthy interest in world affairs. High-school students will learn to apply correct principles of writing more quickly in a newspaper class than in a theme-writing class, and at the same time they are dealing with facts of daily life that awaken keener interest in such allied subjects as history and economics."

THE "MERIDIAN ROAD."

Second only in importance to the building of a new railroad or the establishment of a new industry was the success of Wichita Falls last week in routing the "Meridian Road" from Winnipeg to the Gulf by way of the Burk Burnett bridge and this city. This route is destined to become a great National highway of automobile travel and every year will bring thousands of tourists through the city. These tourists will not pass through without stopping as do those who travel by rail, but the great majority of them will stop here to lay in supplies and to rest. Many of them doubtless will remain here a day or so. The town will be given splendid advertising by these tourists and the garages and supply houses and hotels and others will profit by their stay.

While a strong effort will be made by other cities to have the route changed this will not be done until another bridge is built across Red River at Denison or some other point east and by the time this is done the route by way of Wichita Falls will have become so well established that it will be difficult to bring about a change.

But one thing is necessary, that is that the roads must be improved and maintained in a good state of repair. If this is done the likelihood of a change in the route will be slight. Wichita Falls has taken the proper course in organizing to see that this is done.

The Position of Democrats.

William Jennings Bryan was the speaker at a Wilson and Marshall ratification meeting at Portland, Indiana Friday night. With his usual good humor he voiced the position of royal Democrats everywhere in the following words.

"My only regret in coming to celebrate its victory, however," he said, "is that I find it difficult to adjust myself to new conditions. I have been so accustomed to striking upward at the enemy that I hardly know how to strike down at him. I am at a loss to know how I am going to act during the next four years."

"I am reminded," continued Mr. Bryan "of a story of the fight in the country store. They had separated the combatants, taking one fellow off another who was down on his back. When the fellow that was on his back came to he said, 'What did you separate us for? I fight better when I am on my back and I was just getting ready to go to work.'"

After the laughter subsided Mr. Bryan added: "I know how to fight on my back; I know how the Democratic party can act when in the minority. We'll have to pinch ourselves to realize it is really us. It's all so big that it seems that it might be a dream."

Mr. Bryan then turned to the main thread of his talk, which was a review of the marvelous extent to which the Democratic party as a minority had impressed itself on the nation and had led it toward an age of better life and justice. "I am not going to speak of the golden age," he said, parenthetically, "for I had that yellow rubbed into me sixteen years ago so strong that I have jaundice whenever gold is spoken." (Laughter.)

Mr. Bryan reviewed with great care the change of thought in the nation—the adoption of the election of senators by popular vote, the purification of politics and publication of campaign contributions; the changed attitude on the initiative and referendum; the national awakening on tariff and trusts, and above all, on the control of the people's government by predatory interests—all things for which the Democratic party has stood and fought.

"If the Democratic party out of power," he said, "could lead a nation to obtain such royalties as we have, what can be expected when we are in power? If in a minority we have been able to lead the majority, what can we not do when we are in possession of all the departments of government? Look back over the last sixteen years and you'll have to admit, whether a Democrat or a Republican, of the elephant or moose variety, that in no period of similar length has one party impressed so many of its principles on the majority." This was met with great applause.

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN SELLS

Any analysis or discussion of the amazing victory won by the Democrats in the nation is incomplete, considered from a Texas standpoint, unless it takes into large account the conspicuous services rendered the party by Judge Cato Sells of Cleburne, Texas, member of the national committee.

While there is not record to show that Judge Sells was the original Woodrow Wilson man in Texas, there is abundant foundation on which to rest the statement that Judge Sells was the pioneer organizer. It was his success in the early preliminaries that later gave him the actual leadership in Texas and resulted in his being unanimously chosen as national committeeman, the highest gift that the state democracy could bestow in national affairs.

When the early presidential lineup was beginning to take form, Judge Sells early demonstrated the political sagacity and personal charm which stamps the real leader. He was named to have charge of the Wilson forces in Texas. Against the tremendous odds of a dominant opponent whose influence was far another candidate, Judge Sells perfected an organization which swept Texas with such unanimity as has ever before been known. Then came the flouster convention, which sent forty delegates to Baltimore instructed to vote for Wilson as long as his name should be before the convention.

In the actual convention work at Baltimore Judge Sells had a conspicuous part. His influence was by no means confined to the Texas delegation. Iowa, his former home, and neighboring states in Central West heard the call of Cato Sells, and on occasion offered they came to the relief and rescue of the hard-pressed Wilson forces.

Following the convention Judge Sells attended a meeting of the national executive committee in Chicago and pledged Texas to the raising of $50,000 for national campaign purposes. It was a huge pledge, and there were many who seemed to think it had been made for effect and not for redemption. Those who se-thought misjudged the man who made the pledge. He made it good. By personal and press appeal, by visiting all sections of the state, and by perfecting such a campaign organization, Judge Sells succeeded in having more money sent from Texas than had been promised.

Whenever campaign history is written in the future no democrat will be accorded or will deserve a larger mention than does the Texas member of the national committee. He has demonstrated leadership of a high order, and Texas democrats will not forget him.—Houston Chronicle.

abandon his literary efforts. Among other things, the Panama canal toll question is pressing to furnish a disagreeable and unsatisfactory task, with little prospect of being brought to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Bryce's appointment as the British ambassador to Washington attracted widespread attention when it was made. He was then a member of the British cabinet, serving as secretary for Irish affairs in the liberal ministry of Sir Campbell-Bannerman.

The Irish question was then nearing its most critical stage and as head of the office, Mr. Bryce had much to do in shaping the preliminary work leading up to the home rule bill. If he had remained in the cabinet, he probably would have been the author of that measure, which later brought on the constitutional struggle in England.

The selection of a British statesman and a man of letters, of such prominence, for the Washington post, was due largely to the desire to send to this country one of England's foremost public men. Among the others mentioned at the time were Lord Herford and several of those most prominent in British public life. But among these Mr. Bryce was recognized as the one peculiarly qualified for the post at Washington, as, in addition to his notable public service in England, he had an established reputation in the United States for his brilliant literary work on the American commonwealth.

This was not only accepted as a standard on both sides of the water, but it was looked upon as one of the notable productions of a British officer who had viewed American public life from a thoroughly sympathetic standpoint. Mr. Bryce was, therefore, regarded as especially fitted for carrying forward the era of good feeling between the two countries and for bringing to a culmination the desire on both sides of the water a treaty of arbitration, which would take the place of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty left unratified by the senate.

Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 11.—Two women, Annie Morris and Linnie Williams dug their way out of the county jail last night. They escaped and had not been recaptured this morning.

Robatch's Mineral Water.

This water stimulates the secretion of the stomach, increases digestion, is highly recommended by physicians and patrons who have tested its merits for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and bladder trouble, and favors a more complete absorption of the food and prevents the action of germs that cause typhoid and other infectious diseases. This water can be purchased at the wells or delivered in jugs or cases. This well is located one mile south of Alamo school building in Floral Heights, two deliveries daily, morning and afternoon. G. MULES ON A FRISCO RAMPAGE Animals Break from Corral, Devastate Flower Gardens and Cause Panic.

San Francisco.—One hundred and thirty-eight head of "Missouri's finest" mules, just detained upon their arrival from St. Louis for use at the presidio, the local United States army post, broke from their corral, devastated flower gardens, struck panic to the hearts of civilians and police who attempted to round them up and otherwise enjoyed the freedom of the city or nearly twenty-four hours.

A detachment of cavalry finally rounded up 127 of the mules, but one is still missing, along with several hundred dollars' worth of flowers, vegetables and garden fences.

News concerning the estate of Mrs. Mattie Scully yesterday. The Times stated that she was the owner of a half interest in the Ruby Theatre building on Indiana avenue this interest being valued at $5,000. Mr. Knight says this is erroneous in part. He says the property is valued at $20,000 and that before her death his wife had contracted to purchase from him a half interest for $10,000 on which she had paid $4,831.83, her illness and death having prevented the remainder of the payment.

Acreeage Near Town

Will become very valuable some day with the growth of Wichita Falls. We can sell you the cheapest acreage around Wichita Falls in blocks of 2 1/2 acres each for $300, and on monthly installments. Think of it—the same as fourteen city lots for less than $25.00 a lot if the same land was divided into lots. This land can be irrigated and makes an ideal place to work in town and supply your own table by raising chickens, a garden, orchard and keeping a cow. Many others are doing the same at Southside Acres where we are selling acreage tracts at less than any acreage the same distance from the heart of the town can be bought.

Southside Acres is 1 3/4 miles east of Postoffice and adjoins the City of Wichita Falls on the southeast corner.

More than half of the Addition has been sold and the remaining tracts are going fast. Let us drive you out while you can get choice locations.

ANOTHER ASPIRANT FOR POSTMASTERSHIP

To the Editor of The Daily Times: Sir: In an editorial of last Sunday's Times you named our four candidates for the position of postmaster in Wichita Falls, Texas, for some reason though you failed to insert mine. Now I know you did not do this intentionally but as no one had made known the fact of course you did not know of it. However, let me say I am and have been since 1904, although never having a chance to make-known the fact until now; Furthermore I know there is but a ghost of a chance for me to win as I have no political or influential friends to help pull my way. The only thing I have to offer in asking for the office, would be close attention to the work and courteous treatment to all. There are older and wiser applicants than myself but I feel safe in saying that none can do better service than I. Remember it is efficiency only that I am asking the people to make me their next postmaster. Respectfully, H. F. ROBERTSON.

CONSCIENCE WAS HURTING ORTIE MCMANIGAL

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 11.—Conscience so overcame Ortie E. McManigal when he blew up a job at Mount Vernon, Ill., on April 19, 1910, that he was on the verge of quitting and exposing the McManigal dynamite plots five months before the loss of twenty-one lives at Los Angeles.

McManigal, who will continue his testimony at the trial of the forty-five accused dynamite plotters, says in a written confession, part of which has been made public by District Attorney Charles W. Miller, that twice while prowling about at night with bombs under his arm, he had to employ tact to save the lives of night watchmen.

Incidents relative to the Mount Vernon explosion as given by McManigal are: He went to Mount Vernon by way of St. Louis, equipped with bombs, provided by John J. McManigal, who had instructed him to blow up a new steel structure in Mount Vernon being erected by nonunion men. First regulating the timepiece in his room at a hotel so the bomb would explode at 11:30 p. m., McManigal placed it where he considered it would do the most damage. Later he discovered the bomb was almost directly beneath the night watchman's shelter and the watchman was on duty.

McManigal walked about on the opposite side of the street. He observed the watchman seldom left his post and must inevitably be blown up unless he could be gotten away. Engaging the watchman in conversation, he attempted to induce him to go to a theatre, but it was of no use. The watchman regarded the invitation with suspicion.

In desperation, the dynamiter returned to his hotel, prepared a smaller bomb, timed to explode at about 11:25 o'clock, and sneaking through an alley, placed the second bomb at a remote part of the job. This he did, McManigal says, because the remoter bomb time to explode about five minutes before the other one, would attract the watchman from his shelter so he would be at the wreck of the first explosion, out of danger, when the second occurred.

During the interval, McManigal paced the streets in apprehension lest his plans should miscarry. But it had the desired effect and on seeing the watchman walking about after the explosion he took a train for St. Louis. McManigal probably will be on the witness stand for a week.

WICHITA FALLS HAS HIGH STANDING

Delegates Who Attended Meeting at Waco Heard Many Complimentary Words for Wichita Falls

Returning from Waco where they attended the organization meeting of the Meridian Road Association, the delegates from the city expressed themselves as being immensely pleased, not only with the results of their trip, but with the evidences they received of the greatness of Wichita Falls in the estimation of the citizenship of other cities. Harry W. Gaston, secretary of the Young Men's Progressive League, referring to these matters, said: "We had scarcely registered at a Waco hotel when Col. Sim Lewis of Waco, called upon us to ascertain whether or not Wichita Falls was ready for a million dollar trust company. He stated that he had both Dallas and Houston in mind, but would visit Wichita Falls if advised so to do. This was a compliment which the Wichita Falls people could not fail to appreciate. "Another Waco man said that he was looking for a city in Texas for the establishment of a hay press factory to manufacture a type of machine which has taken the prize at the State fair for two successive years. "Another citizen of Waco, having charge of the sale of a fine addition in Waco, called on the Wichita Falls crowd and took them by auto on an inspection of the city and his property. He said that he did not expect to sell them anything, realizing that they had better investments in Wichita Falls, but he merely wanted to show his 'stuff' to people from a live town who 'realize what good property is.' "D. E. Clog of San Antonio, leader of the South Texas delegation, said: 'I have a sixty-horse power machine, but I can't keep up with that Wichita Falls bunch.' "Not less than one hundred people asked for information regarding Wichita Falls, and these inquiries convinced us that Wichita Falls has wonderfully impressed the people at large. Such conditions make Wichita Falls boosters proud that they are boosting this city."

REACH U. S. AFTER HARDSHIPS

Mother and Three Tots Walk 250 Miles; Sleep in Fields to Save Money.

New York—"My but that's a game bunch," said an immigration officer as he passed Mrs. Mary Skivinek and her three children, Edna, nine; Josef, seven, and Anna, five, through the baggage office. Five years ago the woman's husband, Josef, a farmer of Beresau, in Bohemia, determined to seek his fortune in the new world. By hard work and self-denial they finally sent him on his way, and later heard from him in Colorado. A year ago his letters ceased, and the mother decided to follow. By selling everything she owned, the mother secured money which she thought enough for the journey. To make doubly sure, she and the little ones trudged the 250 miles from Beresau to Bremen, carrying their little bundles of clothing. It cost less than ten cents a day for food and they slept in the fields. It was a month's journey to Bremen, and there they engaged passage in the steerage of the steamer Neckar, and reached here a few weeks ago. It was decided they were not likely to become public charges and were allowed to enter.

The mother has a few cents over the train fare to Denver.

Devine—The contract has been let for the erection of a new $2,200 Baptist church in this city. Work is expected to commence in a short time.

PATENT MEDICINES
Flourished twenty years ago when the daily papers carried a life size profile of Hiram Hayricks, of Hogtown, whose testimonial avers that he had been an invalid for seventeen years and after taking seventeen bottles of Dr. Fakers Pugnatum he can tell ice cream from plug chewing tobacco without his glasses and is the owner of an appetite that makes a hobo look like an infant with stomach trouble. In most cases when you separated yourself from good coin for patent medicine it was a revised version of the fool and his money. Different now, the best and most effective remedies on the market are not patent medicines. You are welcome to the formulas from which they are made. The Dikes household remedies are not patent medicines. We can give you the formula of every one of them and they are made by the same people who have for fifty years been foremost in the manufacture of prescription goods and antitoxin. Their laboratories are the greatest in the world and their workers the most skilled. For sale by the

GOMPERS' REVIEW OF UNION LABOR

To the labor members of the House, Mr. Gompers gave much of the credit for the passage of a score of bills endorsed and urged by the Federation of Labor.

Among the measures mentioned in the report were the eight hour law, the children's bureau law, the law creating an industrial relations commission, law giving postal clerks right of hearing petition, and association, and the law prohibiting the use of white phosphorus in the manufacture of matches.

Mr. Gompers discussed fully the extension of the eight hour law as contained in the various appropriation bills for government work during the fiscal year and in the special acts passed at the last session of Congress.

The subject of "scientific management" and the efforts of the American Federation to thwart the schemes for the installation of various management "systems" in government work were taken up at length by Mr. Gompers. He reviewed the investigation of the so-called Taylor system by a special committee of the House.

The report also reviewed the work for the extension of the Federal Employers Liability and workmen's compensation act and pointed out various laws passed by individual States providing for automatic compensation of workmen for injuries.

In conclusion Mr. Gompers' report urged more extensive organization work among the workers of all industries and the general extension of the Federation.

The report of Secretary Frank Morrison of the Federation showed total receipts of $207,373 for the year and expenditures of $277,479. The Federation began the year with a balance of $189,579, and closed the year with $70,105 less. In discussing the strikes of the year Mr. Morrison's report said:

"Reports from 64 National and International organizations and from local unions directly affiliated with the American Federation of Labor show that there were 716 strikes, in which there were 74,069 involved. Of that number 66,892 were benefited and 6,177 not benefited. The total cost of the strikes reported on was $1,986,263. Adding to that amount $156,889, donations made by local unions to other unions we have a total of $2,143,153 expended to sustain members on strike during the past year."

LORD GOES TO NEW ZEALAND
Half-Brother of Lady Constance Foljambe, Who Joined a Clergyman, is Appointed Governor of Dominion.
London.—The Earl of Liverpool, whose half-sister, Lady Constance Foljambe, joined a clergyman at the altar steps a year ago, but repented and married him some months later, has been appointed governor of the Dominion of New Zealand, in succession to Lord Islington. The Earl's father, who died in 1907, served in the Naval Brigade in the New Zealand war in 1863 and was present at the storming of Rangiri.
Lady Constance and the present Earl of Liverpool had different mothers, both of whom were relatives of the Duke of Devonshire.
The earl is the husband of the only daughter of Viscount Monck of County Wicklow, Ireland. The couple are childless and the title probably will descend to the present holder's half-brother.
The new governor of New Zealand has estates in Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire and is a keen sportsman. Hunting, shooting and cricket are his favorite recreations. He is a descendant of the half-brother of the second Earl of Liverpool, who was British Prime Minister from 1812 to 1827. After the death of the third earl the title lapsed and was not revived until a few years ago, when King Edward restored it to the Foljambe family in the person of the present Earl's father, Lord Hawkesbury, Lord Steward of the royal household.
William E. Gladstone, it is said, wanted the title of Earl of Liverpool conferred on him and refused a peerage when he could not get that particular earldom.
The present Earl was aide-de-camp to Earl Cadogan when the latter was Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland. He served in the Boer war and was state steward and Lord Chamberlain to Lord Aberdeen when the latter was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

To build a permanent home for the Wichita Falls Conservatory of Music, $1000 is now being raised by popular subscription, and about $350 was subscribed this morning. H. B. Hines is trustee of the fund, and it is hoped to complete the amount shortly.
