TURKEY APPEALS FOR ARMISTICE

WITH OTTOMAN FORCES IN LAST DITCH BOSTE MAKE APPEAL TO BULGARIA

NO REPLY IS YET MADE

Bulgaria Unlikely to Accept Except on Conditions Full of Military Advantage

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 14.—With its armies beaten in every battle of the month's war and its broken forces now back into the last ditch in front of Constantinople, Turkey has appealed to Bulgaria, one of the four victorious allies, for an armistice, pending the beginning of peace negotiations.

Bulgaria is unlikely to consent to an armistice except on conditions full of military advantage. Should Bulgaria accept an armistice, it would not affect conditions in other parts of European Turkey where forces of the other three allies are still fighting.

Turkey's move for cessation of hostilities has smoothed the path of diplomacy and may result in leaving Constantinople, the Dardanelles and some other European possessions in Turkish control, but the position of Albania and Serbia's ambition for an Adriatic seaport still present difficulties.

Fall of Adrianople Reported.

By Associated Press. Belgrade, Nov. 14.—A report that the Turkish fortress of Adrianople has fallen before the attack of Bulgarian and Serbian allies is current here but without any confirmation in official circles.

Century Old Hate Fighting Century Old Oppression.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Nov. 14.—Insinuations that the Bulgarians have been guilty of atrocities against the Turks and that the present war is more of a butchery than orderly warfare, are made by a newspaper correspondent. Telegraphing from a point in Hungary, on the opposite side of the river from Belgrade, the correspondent declares he has been reliably informed that the Bulgarian troops mutilated the bodies of the Turkish soldiers after the battle of Kirk-Kiliseh, and carried Turkish heads about on the points of their bayonets.

"Barbarism in fighting barbarism, and century old hate is fighting century-old oppression."

Armistice Asked by Turkish Grand Vizier.

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 14.—Official confirmation that the Turkish grand vizier has addressed King Ferdinand of Bulgaria directly, asking for the conclusion of an armistice, pending the negotiation of peace preliminaries, was received here from Constantinople this morning.

Forty-Four Roumanian Soldiers Are Drowned.

By Associated Press. Bucharest, Romania, Nov. 14.—Forty-four Roumanian soldiers were drowned yesterday while crossing a lake on the way from one military station to another. Their boat capsized.

The officers of the United Clubs of the city have ordered a call meeting Saturday afternoon from 1:15 to 2:15 in the high school auditorium. $25,000 Stolen From Lake Charles Express Office, Clerk Arrested

By Associated Press. Lake Charles, La., Nov. 14.—The Wells Fargo Express Company office here was robbed of a package of currency said to contain $25,000 shortly after midnight last night.

J. E. Chavis, night express clerk has been arrested. According to Chavis' statement, he left the office, which is in the Southern Pacific depot, to meet the east-bound midnight train. He locked the safe and the office door. When he returned ten minutes later, he said he discovered that an unusual door on the west side of the building, against which several express packages had been piled, was ajar. He found the safe still locked, but the package of money which he had placed therein was missing.

TEMPLE IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE INSPECTED

Aldermen Young and Reid Go to Central Texas City to Look at Sewers and Lighting Improvements

The sewer system of Temple is being inspected today by Aldermen Reed and Young of this city, who are getting ideas for sewer improvements here. Among the features of the Temple sewerage system which will be inspected is the septic tank method of sewerage disposal, which eliminates the necessity of the pipes emptying into a stream, as is done here.

U. S. TREASURER LEE MCCLUNG RESIGNS

Announcement Made by President Taft—Carmel Thompson Probable Successor

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 14.—Announcement of the resignation of Lee McClung as Treasurer of the United States was made by President Taft today. Mr. McClung tendered his resignation at a conference in the executive mansion early today, and its acceptance was later announced by the president, with the explanation that Mr. McClung resigned voluntarily.

It is believed that Carmel Thompson now private secretary to the president will succeed McClung.

Mr. McClung's resignation becomes effective as soon as his successor is appointed. He declined to discuss his retirement in any way today, but it was rumored his resignation came as the result of continuous friction with Secretary McVeagh. Mr. McClung was one of the treasury officials named by Assistant Secretary A. P. Andrew as being in continual controversy with the secretary, when Mr. Andrew in a letter accompanying his resignation, declared that the secretary and his associates were not in harmony.

The appointment of Mr. Thompson to succeed Mr. McClung would be followed, it is believed by the immediate return of Charles D. Hillis to the White House as secretary to the president. It has been understood in Washington since Mr. Hillis became chairman of the Republican National committee that the President wished to reinstate him.

OIL SUPPLY MEN WORKING ROADS

ARMED WITH SHOVELS AND OTHER TOOLS PARTY WENT OUT THIS MORNING

CULVERT APPROACHES

Which Have Made Automobile Travel Between Electra and Wichita Falls Receive Attention

One way and perhaps the best way of improving the roads, is to do it yourself. Such is the position taken by the representatives of the oil well supply houses here and at Electra, and they are today actually at work on the Electra-Wichita Falls road, improving the approaches to culverts and bridges, filling in some bad holes and making other needed repairs.

This road is very extensively used by the supply companies' automobiles and the oil men have felt for some time that its condition was not exactly ideal. So this morning five or six of them, headed by Roy Arley of the Continental, Bill Dalton of the Oil Well Supply Company and Ted Smith of the Fred-Reid armed themselves with shovels and other tools and went out in a machine to do some repairing themselves. They filled in the approaches to the culverts, which have caused auto drivers considerable delay in the past and made a number of the minor repairs.

The road from Electra to Wichita Falls is probably the busiest country thoroughfare in the county and very little work has been done on it in some time. The supply men took the matter into their own hands and are setting the road into much better shape. That it should be necessary for them to do this is rather a sad commentary upon the county's method of looking after the roads, especially as the general public, far more than a dozen or so oil men, will get the benefit of the improvements.

THE TWO CLANS KEEP SEPARATED

BOYCOTS AND SNEEDS KEEP AWAY FROM LOBBIES OF THEIR HO. TELS TO AVOID CLASH

JURY LACKS NINE MEN

Attorneys Do Not Believe They Will Be Secured from 200 Talesmen Summoned

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 14.—Attorneys for the J. B. Sneed murder trial today predicted that the nine men needed to complete the jury cannot be selected from the 200 additional talesmen who will report this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

All morning farmers from remote sections arrived at the court house and begged County Attorney Baskin to excuse them declaring they had fixed opinions as to Sneed's guilt or innocence that could not be changed. The invariable answer was:

"If I were to excuse you, I would have to excuse every one of the talesmen. We will put you on the witness stand anyway and break down your opinion so that you may go into the jury box unbiassed."

Deputy Sheriff Johnson kept a steady vigil over the three jurors already selected and locked up in the criminal jury room. Because of the widespread comment on the Sneed case, Judge Swayne had instructed the deputy not to take any chances with the jurors. Light shone from the county attorney's offices and through the windows of offices of attorneys for the defense until past midnight Wednesday and the strain on the attorneys showed in their haggard faces Thursday.

Come Johnson sat about the lobby of the Seibold Hotel all morning, and there were no conferences on the case. Sneed and his brothers, Joseph and Marvin, who are quartered at the Seibold, did not appear in the lobby at all Thursday morning, nor did the Boyces and other relatives of Capt. Al G. Boyce appear in the lobby of the Westbrook, where they are staying.

Senator Odell of Cleburne, one of the special prosecutors of Sneed, moved from the Seibold to the Worth Hotel last Saturday when Sneed was brought here from Amarillo.

Suffragettes Will Celebrate With A Bonnet Burning

By Associated Press. Pittsburg, Kan., Nov. 14.—Suffragettes of Crawford County, Kansas, have arranged to celebrate their recent victory at the polls in this State with a big bonnet burning here tonight. Every woman attending the meeting is expected to bring at least one last year's bonnet to help make a big bonfire in the city hall square.

STINGY BIT OF STEAK PART OF DIVORCE PLEA

Novel Method of Combating High Cost of Living Causes Trouble

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 14.—"A stingy bit of steak," which Mrs. Eliza Miles told Judge Monroe was "selfishly purchased" by her husband for himself, figured materially yesterday in the testimony she offered for a divorce decree.

It developed a scramble followed, the steak being reduced to a state necessitating its being put through the family wringer.

Joseph W. Miles, the husband, had declared his spouse threw scalding water on him.

"I'll explain that," volunteered Mrs. Miles. "He never bought meat for myself and the three children. I was preparing supper when he came home with his little piece of steak. He pushed everything off the gas range to cook that steak, so I dumped all the salt on it."

"He came at me with a stick, so I grabbed the tea kettle and threw the hot water. Then he went for the hatchet, but I clung to the kettle and that calmed him."

Miles' charge that she at one time burned him with carbolic acid, she indignantly denied. He then put witnesses on the stand whose testimony led the court to observe that so far as hot temper was concerned it was about an even break between them.

"I am going to deny both of you a decree at this time," said the court. "I'll order the children into the custody of your wife and you must pay her $7 a week."

GRAND JURY LIST HAS NOW BEEN DRAWN

The grand jury list for the next term of court which convenes December 2 has been placed in the hands of the sheriff's department for service, and includes the following:

L. P. Douglas, J. R. Pace, Tom Barwise, George Culbertson, T. W. Daniels, W. B. Minnick, W. H. Gwinn, John Kiel, J. L. Downing, W. Lee Moore, J. B. Sisk, W. W. Brown, J. L. Lea, J. P. Sunday and J. O. Wheat. The civil docket for the term is somewhat heavier than usual, there being a total of 146 cases awaiting action. Of these 63 will be non-jury trials, six jury trials, with 77 on the appearance docket to date.

The number of divorce cases is 42. Last term there were 62, showing a twenty per cent decrease.

WALKUP WILL BE DEPUTY COUNTY CLERK

E. P. Walsh Filed Bond and Will Be Sworn Into Office Today

E. P. Walsh, county clerk-elect, has filed his official bond of $3000 with the county commissioners, with P. P. Langford, W. M. McGregor and R. E. Huff as sureties. Mr. Walsh will be sworn in this afternoon or tomorrow. He has announced that J. W. Walkup, former sheriff and present city treasurer, will be his chief deputy.

German Coming to America. Berlin, Nov. 14.—There were 66,471 Germans immigrated to America last year. Many of that number became farmers, a large percent of them finding their way to the south and locating their new homes in Texas where they are welcomed as they make good citizens and are usually a prosperous, peace loving people. The German comes to this country for the purpose of finding a permanent home and a comparatively small percentage return to their native land.

GETTING MARRIED WILL COST MORE

NEW RULE SOON TO BECOME EFFECTIVE REQUIRES PAYMENT OF FEES FOR AFFIDAVITS

MAY GO AS HIGH AS $5.00

Today May Be Last on Which Licenses May Be Secured at Reduced Rates

We all know about the higher cost of living. Any undertaker will tell you about the higher cost of dying. And now we are to have the higher cost of getting married.

Hereafter, when you get a married license at the county clerk's office, you will pay one dollar for it, and fifty cents additional for each affidavit that is necessary. If you have to swear that you are 21 years old, fifty cents. If the young lady has to swear that she is 18 years old, four bits. If the parents of either of you have to swear that they don't object, half a dollar. Heretofore, it has been the custom to take these affidavits for nothing, and just charge the licensees a dollar, which is high enough, goodness knows. But the new rule says that you must pay for the affidavits too. The new rule is not effective yet but will be before the end of the week and today may be the last chance you'll have to get reduced rates. Now is the time to subscribe. If you believe that "all the world loves a lover" just go ahead and learn your error.

If this thing keeps on, it will soon reach the point where a young man and a young woman had just as well not figure on getting married until they can see their way to pay three, four and possibly all of five dollars for the formalities.

GOV. WILSON WILL REDEEM PLEDGES

PURPOSES CARRYING OUT TARIFF REFORMS AND DESTRUCTION OF MONOPOLY

TO MAKE PLANS KNOWN

President-Elect Will Announce Soon Whether Extra Session is to Be Called

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 14.—President-elect Wilson announced last night, in speaking of the tariff and the monopoly question, that he purposed to carry out the pledges he made in his campaign speeches to cut special privileges out of tariff schedules, prevent unfair competition in business and to destroy private monopoly.

The President-elect had been asked whether the big correspondence he received after his election contained any inquiries as to his attitude on the tariff or monopoly problems.

"Most of the letters," he replied, "were of a congratulatory nature. There are some cabinet suggestions, but nobody seems to think it necessary to ask questions about the tariff or the monopolies."

"Do you mean people take it for granted you will carry out the pledges made in your campaign speeches?" he was asked.

"Yes, they certainly will be carried out so far as I am concerned."

In his campaign speeches the Governor often reiterated that revision of the tariff should be undertaken immediately.

It is believed that this idea now will find expression in a call for an extra session of Congress to consider the tariff question, as well as other subjects which were issues in the campaign just closed.

Gov. Wilson now has in hand a fairly complete list of all the men who have expressed themselves publicly on the advisability of an extra session. It is known that the President-elect has made up his mind on the subject and soon will make known his attitude. He is of the idea that the work of tariff revision can be undertaken without a series of long investigations.

"There have been investigations in every Congress," remarked the Governor. "I've studied the problem all my life. I think there is a definite idea of what ought to be done."

While the President-elect is reading assiduously the opinions about an extra session, he is just as carefully refraining from looking at the various speculations which are being printed as to the probable personnel of his

DISGUISES WERE ADVISED BY RYAN

McManigal Testifies Ryan Knew of Explosions and Advised Dynamiters to Disguise Themselves

By Associated Press. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 14.—Direct charges that Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, had full knowledge of explosions and that he even advised the dynamiters to disguise themselves, were made by Orrie McManigal at the dynamite conspiracy trial today.

Relating incidents of one western trip, McManigal said: "When I returned to the Iron Workers' headquarters in Indianapolis, McNamara was not there, so I saw President Ryan. I told Ryan about the Kansas City explosion and showed a newspaper account of it. Ryan said, 'I want you fellows to stop coming around this office so openly, and you don't change your appearance enough. When anyone gets a good look at you they will be sure to know you're not the next time. I told him we were not reckless and that no one knew what we were doing.'"

HOROWITZ DESCRIBES KILLING OF ROSENTHAL

Witness Denies Every Incriminating Statement Made by Bald Jack Rose

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 14.—Harry Horowitz known as "Gyp the Blood" the dandy of the four gunmen on trial charged with murdering Herman Rosenthal at Becker's bidding, told the witness stand today and swore that the shots in front of the Hotel Metropole were fired by Harry Vallon, Bridle Webber, the informers for the State, and by a third man whom he did not know.

He denied every incriminating statement made by Bald Jack Rose and said that he and his companions did not even hear of the murder until seven hours after it occurred. They were within a stone's throw of the scene where they had gone at the strange third man's invitation, and they fled when they heard the shots.

"We stood there by the Cadillac and the strange man walked across Potry Third street. He approached Rose, Wobber, Vallon and Schepps, who were standing opposite the Metropole. All five of them walked over towards the Metropole, Bridle Webber and Harry Vallon first. We heard a shot and saw a flash. We saw Vallon and Webber, Vallon and Schepps, who fled."

"As soon as we saw them firing, we ran for the subway. A train was just pulling in and we boarded it without paying fare."

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 14.—Knowing that general riots were not to be permitted on his beat, Patrolman McGinnis of the north side police force decided on immediate and strenuous interference yesterday afternoon at Morris Park, when he saw twenty-two young men dressed in football uniform, representing the Central High School and North Fort Worth High School, ransacking the throats and light fiercely over a little piece of inflated pigskin.

Mr. McGinnis was assigned to the task of preserving order and decorum at this game, and although he had

700 Acres of Oil Land Classed as School Land

The 700 acres of land east of Electra in the oil field to which considerable attention has recently been attracted by its being filed upon by Madrox Brothers of Austin as school land, due to an error committed by a surveyor thirty-five years ago, has been classified by the land commissioner at Austin as school land. The classification was received late yesterday by County Clerk Reid. One suit has already been filed against Madrox Brothers in connection with this transaction.

The land totals 722 acres of which 234 acres is described as G. C. & S. F. section 10, block W2, certificate 2, 526, and 288 acres as B. S. & F. section 14, block W2, certificate 1773. It

BANK ROBBERS IN AUTOMOBILE

SAFE OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF MERIT BLOWN WITH NITROGLYCERINE

$4,000 WAS SECURED

Robbers Had Cut Wires and Escaped in Automobile in Direction of Farmersville

By Associated Press. Merit, Texas, Nov. 14.—Three bank robbers in a speed automobile stole $4000 from the First National Bank of Merit about 2 o'clock this morning and escaped. The loss was fully insured.

About midnight the automobile with three strangers in it was first noticed on the streets here after which not much attention was paid to it. About 2 o'clock Cashier J. B. Leatherwood of the First National and Oscar Wylie and C. A. Victor were awakened by a series of three explosion in the bank.

They all jumped into a few clothes and ran to the bank. They found it empty, the vault scarred, but not seriously damaged from the effects of three charges of nitro-glycerin. Other men then came running up, saying they had seen a flying automobile go over the top of the hill in the direction of Farmersville, about seven miles away.

The robbers had cut the telephone wires and the first that Farmersville knew of the affair was this morning, when investigation showed that an automobile aroused several persons at Farmersville at about 3 o'clock. Its route has not been traced farther.

A WIND—AN ANKLE—A BRACELET.

St. Louis, Nov. 14.—With a solid gold bracelet around her ankle, Miss Adeline Gritman of 5185 Delmar Boulevard attracted the attention of hundreds of church-goers as she walked to the drug store at Union Avenue and Delmar Boulevard Sunday morning.

The wind was just sufficient to place the skirt and lingerie in just such a position that the ankle and the bracelet displayed their charms. Miss Gritman apparently was unconscious of the excitement she was causing among the church-goers. "Why," Miss Gritman asserted when asked about the incident, "in New York, where I lived, nobody ever thought anything about it, and I wore the bracelet most of the time in the same way. But St. Louis is such a small town that anything novel gains so much publicity for one."

The Guffey has a well lat 1936 feet on the W. E. Crow tract near Electra due south of the Marriott, indicating that the 100 foot sand extends well to the southward. The size of the well is not yet known.

It was reported today that the well on the Reilly tract southwest of Burkburnett started by O'Hara and Greenless and taken over recently by Greenless Brothers, had an eight-barrel showing at 490 feet and on a number of the oil men went out this afternoon to investigate. It is understood the well will not stop in this sand.

OIL LAND TO LEASE—Land is in proven territory. Phone 231 or 152, 153 1019.

Two new locations are to be made in the vicinity of the Riley well which had a showing this week at 590 feet. One location will be made by Greenless brothers, who now own all but a small interest in the Riley well; this will be a few yards from the present well. The other will be by G. A. well. The other will be by O'Hara who started the Riley well, who still has an interest in it. His location will be on the Warren tract to the eastward, between the Riley and the Hivick-Hutson well on the Warren. The Riley well's showing is said to have been better than ten barrels, the oil standing 300 feet in the 12 inch casing.

The Embury well at Burkburnett has not yet been put on the pump, but preparations are being made for pumping about as rapidly as things usually move in that part of the field. Efforts to make the well flow failed. The "Keowan" which is in the sands, is said to look better than either the Embury or the Schmocker.

The Guffey well on the W. E. Crow south of the Marriott is expected to increase activities in that section, although new locations have been definitely made as yet. Some of the tracts in that immediate vicinity are in litigation which may cause some delay in developments.

The Skeely-Crawford well on the Oberis farm near Burkburnett is down 509 feet. This well was not listed in the field report for October.

Another dry hole—the second—is reported from the Eeds country. It was the Corsicana on the C. P. McClure farm, 1590 feet due north of the Eeds, which is now sixty feet past the sand. This would indicate that not much may be expected to the northward, as the Northwest No. 2, M. A. Eeds, at the same depth of the Eeds, was being drilled by Clint Wood and the Guffey southwest of the Eeds. It is now down 1490 feet and should be one hundred feet this week.

The Guffey well on the W. E. Crow was tested yesterday and found to be slightly better than a hundred barrels.

The well on the Chase ranch near Petrolia, drilled by Little et al, is dry at 1950 feet.

The Embury well at Burkburnett was put on the pump late Friday, but no record was kept of the output, as most of the oil was taken at once for fuel. Practically all the wells in that section drew on it for fuel and its production is not yet definitely ascertained. It is said to be from 100 to 120 barrels.

The "Keowan" at Burkburnett was drilled into the sand late Friday, and the tubing is now being set for pumping. Indications are that it is better than either the Embury or the Schmocker, the latter is now making 162 barrels.

Several new locations are to be made by the Corsicana in the Burkburnett vicinity in the near future and the section immediately around the Schmocker is to be quite extensively developed.

The McBride well on the Chenault tract, three miles south and east of the Schmocker is due to reach the Schmocker sand this week and will serve as a test for much of the country to the south. It is being closely watched.

GRAPHIC STORY OF THE ATTACK

There are many more suspected cases among the wounded. A train load of wounded has just reached here, eight of the soldiers having died on the way, presumably of cholera.

The disease is getting a firmer hold on account of the massing of troops, the lack of proper food and the complete absence of sanitary arrangements. The danger to Constantinople is great on account of the influx of refugees. Already several suspected cases among the latter have been reported. The authorities are preparing a special quarantine hospital with 400 beds at Sirkeci.

The frequent visits of the Austrian Ambassador, Margus de Pallavicini, to the Porte are attracting attention. Yesterday he visited the Foreign Minister. According to the Turkish newspaper "Halkin" he declared that, in view of the phase which the Balkan situation has entered the interests of Austria and Turkey have become identical.

The authorities permit only three newspapers to be published. One of these says that differences have arisen among the Powers and argues that if Turkey profits by this precious time and inflicts some defeats on her enemies, the proposals of the triple entente will lose their importance.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded that you summon by making publication in one newspaper published in the county of Wichita for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, S. L. Casey, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the county of Wichita at the court house thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas on the first Monday in December, 1912, of the same being the 2nd day of December, 1912 then and there to answer a petition filed in said court, on the 29th day of October, 1912, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 4417, wherein Ira Franklin Casey is plaintiff and S. L. Casey is defendant. The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: That plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married on June 22nd, 1907, in Williston, N. D. and lived together as husband and wife until August 18th, 1911, when plaintiff refused to live longer with defendant as his wife and left him on that date in Cordover, Alaska; since which time plaintiff and defendant have not lived together as husband and wife. That defendant was unfaithful to his marriage vows, and lived in open and notorious adultery with Grace Flemming in Cordover, Alaska; that defendant admitted to plaintiff that these relations existed; whereupon plaintiff immediately abandoned defendant and refused to longer live with him as his wife. That above conduct on the part of defendant was without fault on the part of plaintiff; that plaintiff was true to her marriage vows and performed to the best of her ability all the duties imposed upon her under said marriage. That said marriage relations still exist. That plaintiff's maiden name was Ira F. Poe and she desires to be restored to that name. Because of the facts above alleged, plaintiff is entitled to an absolute divorce from defendant; wherefore, premises considered, plaintiff prays for citation to defendant for absolute divorce, cost of suit and for general relief.

Herein fail not, and have you before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Cholera Has Broken Out Among Turkish Soldiers.
Constantinople, Nov. 11.—The outbreak of cholera is assuming serious proportions. Twenty-three cases had occurred among the troops along the Tchatalja lines up to Wednesday.

GRAPHIC STORY OF THE ATTACK

There are many more suspected cases among the wounded. A train load of wounded has just reached here, eight of the soldiers having died on the way, presumably of cholera.

The disease is getting a firmer hold on account of the massing of troops, the lack of proper food and the complete absence of sanitary arrangements. The danger to Constantinople is great on account of the influx of refugees. Already several suspected cases among the latter have been reported. The authorities are preparing a special quarantine hospital with 400 beds at Sirkeci.

The frequent visits of the Austrian Ambassador, Margus de Pallavicini, to the Porte are attracting attention. Yesterday he visited the Foreign Minister. According to the Turkish newspaper "Halkin" he declared that, in view of the phase which the Balkan situation has entered the interests of Austria and Turkey have become identical.

The authorities permit only three newspapers to be published. One of these says that differences have arisen among the Powers and argues that if Turkey profits by this precious time and inflicts some defeats on her enemies, the proposals of the triple entente will lose their importance.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded that you summon by making publication in one newspaper published in the county of Wichita for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, S. L. Casey, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the county of Wichita at the court house thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas on the first Monday in December, 1912, of the same being the 2nd day of December, 1912 then and there to answer a petition filed in said court, on the 29th day of October, 1912, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 4417, wherein Ira Franklin Casey is plaintiff and S. L. Casey is defendant. The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: That plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married on June 22nd, 1907, in Williston, N. D. and lived together as husband and wife until August 18th, 1911, when plaintiff refused to live longer with defendant as his wife and left him on that date in Cordover, Alaska; since which time plaintiff and defendant have not lived together as husband and wife. That defendant was unfaithful to his marriage vows, and lived in open and notorious adultery with Grace Flemming in Cordover, Alaska; that defendant admitted to plaintiff that these relations existed; whereupon plaintiff immediately abandoned defendant and refused to longer live with him as his wife. That above conduct on the part of defendant was without fault on the part of plaintiff; that plaintiff was true to her marriage vows and performed to the best of her ability all the duties imposed upon her under said marriage. That said marriage relations still exist. That plaintiff's maiden name was Ira F. Poe and she desires to be restored to that name. Because of the facts above alleged, plaintiff is entitled to an absolute divorce from defendant; wherefore, premises considered, plaintiff prays for citation to defendant for absolute divorce, cost of suit and for general relief.

Herein fail not, and have you before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this, the first day of November, A. D. 1912.

Cholera Has Broken Out Among Turkish Soldiers.
Constantinople, Nov. 11.—The outbreak of cholera is assuming serious proportions. Twenty-three cases had occurred among the troops along the Tchatalja lines up to Wednesday.

The operations began at daybreak on Thursday. The fire of the Bulgarians' big guns began to tell about ten o'clock in the morning, when the cannon in the fort began to reply. The fort had been struck by a heavy storm of shells for several hours. The Turkish infantry meanwhile had resisted the Bulgarian advance stubbornly but the line gradually began to waver.

Suddenly the command "fix bayonets" rang out among the Bulgarians, who wildly cheering ran forward, and the Turks broke and ran for the city.

About noon the Bulgarian banners fluttered over the fort of Carrache, but the other fort still held out. Night fell upon the Turks and Bulgarians still fighting. Suddenly in the darkness a long dazzling ray of light shot across the sky from one of the hills held by the Bulgarians, bringing the fort Tapazide clearly into view. Then from the other fort itself another ray shot out.

The cannon and rifle fire which had been slackening became more brisk, while above the combatants the search lights flashed about among little balls of white smoke caused by the burst of shrapnel, the smoke floating like flies in a gunsmoke, making even deeper the surrounding blackness, which was punctured here and there by flashes from the muzzles of cannon.

The roar of the siege and field guns dominated the rattling of rifle shots and the screeching shells as they sped through the air. As had occurred at Carrache the air in the day the fire from the other forts began to slacken. There also the Bulgarian guns had wrought serious damage.

At 11 o'clock at night and the Bulgarian infantry began to storm the fort at the point of the bayonet.

Shortly before midnight they had become masters of the position and the Turks were in rout. They left their dead and dying by hundreds on the field. Throughout the operations, Bulgarian aeroplanes flew back and forth over the Turkish fort, bringing valuable information to the commanding general.

Some interesting sidelights on the war are telegraphed by another Matin correspondent who talked with some of the Turkish prisoners in the hands of the Bulgarians. Many of them had come from Asia and had never before heard of Bulgaria. When the cause of the war was explained to them one of them said "We knew nothing of that. In Asia Minor where we were recruited, we were told that the hour to fight the infidels and that the hour to exterminate them had arrived. We were also told that Allah had promised us victory and the Turkish officers said we should divide among us the riches of Allah's enemies. We have been deceived."

Aircraft Carrying Bulgarian Scouts Flew Back and Forth Above Storm of Bullets and Shells

Paris, Nov. 11.—A graphic description of the storming of Bulgarians of the two Turkish forts, Carrache and Tapazide, in the outer line of fortifications around Adrianople, was received from a correspondent of the Matin. He declares that their captures seals the doom of the Turkish stronghold.

The operations began at daybreak on Thursday. The fire of the Bulgarians' big guns began to tell about ten o'clock in the morning, when the cannon in the fort began to reply. The fort had been struck by a heavy storm of shells for several hours. The Turkish infantry meanwhile had resisted the Bulgarian advance stubbornly but the line gradually began to waver.

BUGSCUFFLE BUDGET

Editor Daily Times: Bugscuffie is in a perfect boil. The cause of the commotion is the discovery of oil on the nearby farm of old man Seets. The old man was digging a well in his horse lot when he made the find. He got on his mare and came to town just as fast as that nag could carry him and rushing into the store of Squire Yukes, he told his tale, and asked the Squire what to do about it. Now we have but one telephone line for the whole town and on it are fifteen subscribers. The result is that when any number rings all the people on the line can get into what is being said. So when Mr. Seets had finished telling the Squire about his oil well, Mr. Yukes called up Col. Jim Jawamith and asked him to get Dr. Pellett, Mr. Ponder and old Bro. Bugle and come to his store at once. He made the mistake of hinting to Col. Jim what was up; and by the time the four gentlemen named by the Squire had gotten to the store with an excited throng of anxious enquirers about the oil well, it took nearly forty minutes for the Squire to get the crowd quiet enough to listen to anything. When he had succeeded in this, Col. Jim Jawamith took the floor and addressed the assembly. The following taken from the Weekly Bug's report of that speech will give the reader some idea of how Col. Jim was worked up and how his oration worked the rest of us:

"This day, fellow citizens, the town of Bugscuffie has come into its own; the town; for the wonderful fine near the habitation of old man Seets is not simply his find, but the glory of it and the real material wealth of it belongs to every member of this community. For why and how? Why, fellow citizens, every man here and every woman here and every child here will take some degree of stock in what hereforth is to be known as the 'Universal and Unlimited Oil Company of Bugscuffie.' Old man Seets, as is becoming, will be the chief stockholder; but such is the altitudinous and unparalleled magnificence of that man's mind, that he allows all his neighbors to share in the glorious and hilarious prospects that float before his own delighted and intoxicated vision; and when we have arrived at the apex and toploftical acme of our fondest expectations—when, in other words, we have perfected the thorough organization of this wonderful company, even the infants at the breasts will be sharers in the magnificent property that is destined to enrich and rejoice this whole, complete and entire community. As I stand upon this sugar barrel today, I have sweet and dainty visions of the oncoming wide-sweeping future. I behold the proprietor of this magnificent temple of commerce—the honorable Squire Yuke's store—I see in fancy that worthy, uncorruptable and uncrowned king among men, the president of one of the most prosperous and imperishable properties in all that magnificent domain lying west of the Great Father of waters. I behold Dr. Pellett as treasurer of that resplendent corporation; I note that ready writer, the scholarly Von Bungs, as scribe or secretary. As first Vice-president I behold the simple and democratic form of old man Seets, while looming large and resplendent in the focus of my inner eye, I descry, as chaplain and spiritual advisor, the reverend and respected form of that Prince of Pulpiters, the great, the eloquent, the crowd sweeping and soul enrapturing Bugle! The vision grows, and as its mighty mysteries unfold, I catch the view of domes and spires and blazing minarets that snatch up the gleams of the rising sun, fling them athwart the azure empyrean and then dash them against the waves of the western sea until the white capped billows and heaven invading spray shall furnish a shower bath to linky, ebon and ancient Night. Bugscuffie!

"Its very name shall in time become another name for wealth, and culture and fame and fortune. Her sons shall ride in the gilded automobiles of prosperity; her daughters shall flash with the diamonds of 'Ormuz and Ind.' Her patriarchs shall smoke the meresham pipes of plenty and her matrons shall wear the habiliments of—of—of—of whoopedoodle."

At the close of this address the crowd, which was wild before, was now a mass of raving maniacs. They hugged each other, they wept, they shouted, they rushed forward and gathering about the Colonel, lifted him high in the air and bore him to the lemonade stand of Dutch Bunker, and almost strangled him with the votive offerings of that refreshing beverage. When order was finally restored, Squire Yukes informed the people, in a few dignified and well chosen words, that any one desiring to subscribe for stock in the oil company now in contemplation, might come forward and give Prof. Von Bungs his name. There was a general rush; and when the books had been finally closed, it was found that $27.50 had been subscribed. It was a great start; and when the crowd had dispersed, the directors, (who in (the meantime had been chosen) elected the officers according to the plan and with names mentioned and outlined by Col. Jim in his speech.

But this oil excitement was not the only thing that has set the blood of Bugscuffie to tingling. Some boys, out hunting for coons and such, said they had seen what they believed to be gas—natural gas—issuing out of the ground about a mile from town near the farm of Mr. Bumbel. We have not yet looked into that matter, but there is considerable interest manifested in the possibilities of that find. We were all so tired on the day we organized the oil company, that we must need take some rest before we entered on another strenuous day. Just what comes of all this I will write you later. In the meantime, Bugscuffie is on a boom. Let Wichita Falls and all other western towns look to their laurels. We are on the march. Twenty more people came to live with us last week. Four families from Dallas bought lots and are going to build here.

The following personals and locals, taken from the Weekly Bug's last issue, will conclude this letter:

An old duck from Wichita Falls, by the name of Hunks, has bought two lots from old man Bunker and will put in a second hand furniture store in a few weeks.

Sis Ponder and a young lady from Iowa Park, Miss Het Grude, spent the night with Nan Seets two days since.

Capt. Henson and Judge Scurry of Wichita Falls, were out visiting the Misses Wunk last week. Some think those two old bachelors are likely to get hitched up with some of our Bugscuffie belles. A young merchant of your city, by the name of Sweeton, and one also by the name of Wood, have been paying a good deal of attention lately to the Bumble girls—Misses Pad and Dinkie. Some think there is likely to be "something doing."

Stime Stiggins a poor booze fighter, who belongs to a good family and who has a wife and three nice little children, was found drunk in old Squire Yuke's hog pen last Saturday night. He had just returned from Wichita Falls. Poor Mrs. Stiggins.

Quite a crowd went over to the Falls to hear Morris Sheppard last Sunday. That speech of his in the Methodist church on Sunday night was what Col. Jim Jawamith calls a "bumdinger." That was the biggest congregation we ever saw in this country and we have seen some big ones.

Will write more anon, whatever that means.
Yours truly,
JOSH BAGGS.

COTTON $3.00 BALE HIGHER SINCE ELECTION

Cotton has advanced three dollars a bale since the election of Woodrow Wilson and the staple was selling at 12 cents a pound and higher this morning, the high mark of the season.

Pessimistic Republicans and Progressives were saying before the election "Just watch cotton go down if the Democrats win." Some of them believed it too. Instead of the predicted decline the price has advanced each day since the election and of course the Democrats ought to be given the credit. However that may be, Democratic and Republican farmers alike are feeling mighty good when they market their cotton these days.

Feeder steers, cows, heifers and hogs all have advanced in price since the election. Corn and wheat show practically no change. Provisions are quoted higher.

IN WICHITA FALLS Every Claim Is Backed By Local Testimony

Mrs. Mary Beck, 712 Seventh St., Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "Although I really do not like the idea of my name being used publicly, I feel that it is my duty to let every one who is suffering from kidney trouble know what a blessing Doan's Kidney Pills were to me. For years I suffered from kidney trouble, having pains in my back and side and irregular action of the kidneys. I steadily grew worse and about three years ago the trouble reached a climax, when I had to take to the bed. For three months I was helpless and six local physicians said that I had Bright's disease. I was discouraged. About that time a friend suggested that I try Doan's Kidney Pills. I confess that I had no faith in them but as a last resort, I took them. From the first I began to improve and by the time I had taken the first box, I was much better. Four boxes entirely cured me. That was three years ago and since then on several occasions, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills. It gives me the greatest pleasure to publicly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TURKEY APPEALS FOR ARMISTICE

WITH OTTOMAN FORCES IN LAST DITCH BOSTE MAKE APPEAL TO BULGARIA

NO REPLY IS YET MADE

Bulgaria Unlikely to Accept Except on Conditions Full of Military Advantage

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 14.—With its armies beaten in every battle of the month's war and its broken forces now back into the last ditch in front of Constantinople, Turkey has appealed to Bulgaria, one of the four victorious allies, for an armistice, pending the beginning of peace negotiations.

Bulgaria is unlikely to consent to an armistice except on conditions full of military advantage. Should Bulgaria accept an armistice, it would not affect conditions in other parts of European Turkey where forces of the other three allies are still fighting.

Turkey's move for cessation of hostilities has smoothed the path of diplomacy and may result in leaving Constantinople, the Dardanelles and some other European possession in Turkey's control, but the position of Albania and Serbia's ambition for an Adriatic seaport still present difficulties.

It was reported today that the Albanians are taking steps to make their country independent.

Fall of Adrianople Reported.

By Associated Press. Belgrade, Nov. 14.—A report that the Turkish fortress of Adrianople has fallen before the attack of Bulgarian and Serbian allies is current here but without any confirmation in official circles.

Century Old Hate Fighting Century Old Oppression.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Nov. 14.—Insinuations that the Bulgarians have been guilty of atrocities against the Turks and that the present war is more of a butchery than orderly warfare, are made by a newspaper correspondent. Telegraphing from a point in Hungary, on the opposite side of the river from Belgrade, the correspondent declares he has been reliably informed that the Bulgarian troops mutilated the bodies of the Turkish soldiers after the battle of Kirk-Killiseh, and carried Turkish heads about on the points of their bayonets.

"Barbarism is fighting barbarism, and century old hate is fighting century-old oppression."

Armistice Asked By Turkish Grand Vizier.

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 14.—Official confirmation that the Turkish grand vizier has addressed King Ferdinand of Bulgaria directly, asking for the conclusion of an armistice, pending the negotiation of peace preliminaries, was received here from Constantinople this morning.

$25,000 Stolen From Lake Charles Express Office, Clerk Arrested

By Associated Press. Lake Charles, La., Nov. 14.—The Wells Fargo Express Company office here was robbed of a package of currency said to contain $25,000 shortly after midnight last night.

J. E. Chavis, night express clerk has been arrested. According to Chavis' statement, he left the office, which is in the Southern Pacific depot, to meet the east-bound midnight train. He locked the safe and the office door. When he returned ten minutes later, he said he discovered that an unused door on the west side of the building, against which several express packages had been piled, was ajar.

He found the safe still locked, but the package of money which he had placed therein was missing.

TEMPLE IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE INSPECTED

Aldermen Young and Reid Go to Central Texas City to Look at Sewers and Lighting Improvements

The sewer system of Temple is being inspected today by Aldermen Reid and Young of this city, who are getting ideas for sewer improvements here. Among the features of the Temple sewerage system which will be inspected is the septic tank method of sewerage disposal, which eliminates the necessity of the pipes emptying into a stream, as is done here.

The council has considered this improvement in the local system and the inspection will be made of the tanks at Temple with that in view. The street lighting facilities and other improvements at Temple will also be inspected.

U. S. TREASURER LEE M'CLUNG RESIGNS

Announcement Made by President Taft—Carmel Thompson Probable Successor

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 14.—Announcement of the resignation of Lee M. Clung as Treasurer of the United States was made by President Taft today. Mr. Clung tendered his resignation at a conference in the executive mansion early today, and its acceptance was later announced by the president, with the explanation that Mr. Clung resigned voluntarily.

It is believed that Carmel Thompson now private secretary to the president will succeed Clung.

Mr. Clung's resignation becomes effective as soon as his successor is appointed. He declined to discuss his retirement in any way today, but it was rumored his resignation came as the result of continuous friction with Secretary McVeigh. Mr. Clung's was one of the treasury officials named by Assistant Secretary A. P. Andrew as being in continual controversy with the secretary, when Mr. Andrew in a letter accompanying his resignation, declared that the secretary and his associates were not in harmony.

The appointment of Mr. Thompson to succeed Mr. Clung would be followed it is believed by the immediate return of Charles D. Hillis to the White House as secretary to the president. It has been understood in Washington since Mr. Hillis became chairman of the Republican National committee that the president wished to reinstate him.

OIL SUPPLY MEN WORKING ROADS

ARMED WITH SHOVELS AND OTHER TOOLS PARTY WENT OUT THIS MORNING

CULVERT APPROACHES

Which Have Made Automobile Travel Between Electra and Wichita Falls Receive Attention

One way and perhaps the best way, of improving the roads, is to do it yourself. Such is the position taken by the representatives of the oil well supply houses here and at Electra, and they are today actually at work on the Electra-Wichita Falls road, improving the approaches to culverts and bridges, filling in some bad holes and making other needed repairs.

This road is very extensively used by the supply companies' automobiles and the oil men have felt for some time that its condition was not exactly ideal. So this morning five or six of them, headed by Roy Artley of the Continental, Bill Dalton of the Oil Well Supply Company and Ted Smith of the Frick-Reid armed themselves with shovels and other tools and went out in a machine to do some repairing themselves. They filled in the approaches to the culverts, which have caused auto drivers considerable delay in the past and made a number of the minor repairs.

The road from Electra to Wichita Falls is probably the busiest country thoroughfare in the county and very little work has been done on it in some time. The supply men took the matter into their own hands and are getting the road into much better shape. That it should be necessary for them to do this is rather a sad commentary upon the county's method of looking after the roads, especially as the general public, far more than a dozen or so oil men, will get the benefit of the improvements.

THE TWO CLANS KEEP SEPARATED

BOYCOTS AND SNEEDS KEEP AWAY FROM LOBBIES OF THEIR FOES TELLS TO AVOID CLASH

JURY LACKS NINE MEN

Attorneys Do Not Believe They Will Be Secured from 200 Talesmen Summoned

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 14.—Attorneys in the J. B. Sneed murder trial today predicted that the nine men needed to complete the jury cannot be selected from the 200 additional talesmen who will report this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

All morning farmers from remote sections arrived at the court house and begged County Attorney Baskin to excuse them declaring they had fixed business as to Sneed's guilt or innocence that could not be changed. The invariable answer was:

"If I were to excuse you, I would have to excuse every one of the talesmen. We will put you on the witness stand anyway and break down your opinion so that you may go into the jury box unexcused."

Deputy Sheriff Johnson kept a steady vigil over the three jurors already selected and locked up in the original jury room. Because of the widespread comment on the Sneed case, Judge Swayne had instructed the deputy not to take any chances with the jurors. Light shone from the county attorney's office and through the windows of offices of attorneys for the defense until past midnight Wednesday and the strain on the attorneys showed in their haggard faces Thursday.

Cone Johnson sat about the lobby of the Selbold Hotel all morning, and there were no conferences on the case. Sneed and his brothers, Joseph and Marvin, who are quartered at the Selbold, did not appear in the lobby at all Thursday morning, nor did Boyces and other relatives of Capt. Al G. Boyce appear in the lobby of the Westbrook, where they are staying.

Senator Odell of Cleburne, one of the special prosecutors of Sneed, moved from the Selbold to the Worth Hotel last Saturday when Sneed was brought here from Amarillo.

Suffragettes Will Celebrate With A Bonnet Burning

By Associated Press. Pittsburg, Kan., Nov. 14.—Suffragettes of Crawford County, Kansas, have arranged to celebrate their recent victory at the polls in a State with a big bonnet burning here tonight. Every woman attending the meeting is expected to bring at least one last year's bonnet to help make a big bonfire in the city hall square.

STINGY BIT OF STEAK PART OF DIVORCE PLEA

Novel Method of Combating High Cost of Living Causes Trouble

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 14.—"A stingy bit of steak," which Mrs. Eliza Miles told Judge Monroe was "selfishly purchased" by her husband for himself, figured materially yesterday in the testimony she offered for a divorce decree.

It developed a scintilla followed, the steak being reduced to a state necessitating its being put through the family wringer.

Joseph W. Miles, the husband, had declared his spouse threw scalding water on him.

"I'll explain that," volunteered Mrs. Miles. "He never bought meat for myself and the three children. I was preparing supper when he came home with his little piece of steak. He pushed everything off the gas range to cook that steak, so I dumped all the salt on it."

"He came to me with a stick, so I grabbed the tea kettle and threw the hot water. Then he went for the hatchet, but I clung to the kettle and that calmed him."

Miles' charge that she at one time burned him with carbolic acid, she indignantly denied. He then put witnesses on the stand whose testimony led the court to observe that so far as hot temper was concerned it was about an even break between them.

"I am going to deny both of you a decree at this time," said the court. "I'll order the children into the custody of your wife and you must pay her $7 a week."

GRAND JURY LIST HAS NOW BEEN DRAWN

The grand jury list for the next term of court which convenes December 2 has been placed in the hands of the sheriff's department for service, and includes the following:

L. P. Douglas, J. R. Pace, Tom Barjelle, George Cuthbertson, T. W. Daniels, W. B. Minnick, W. H. Gwin, John Kiel, J. L. Downing, W. Lee Moore, J. B. Sisk, W. W. Brown, J. L. Lea, J. P. Sunday and J. O. Wheat.

The civil docket for the term is somewhat heavier than usual, there being a total of 146 cases awaiting action. Of these 63 will be non-jury trials, six jury trials, with 77 on the appearance docket to date.

The number of divorce cases is 42. Last term there were 52, showing a twenty per cent decrease.

WALKUP WILL BE DEPUTY COUNTY CLERK

E. P. Walsh Filed Bond and Will Be Sworn into Office Today

E. P. Walsh, county clerk-elect, has filed his official bond of $3000 with the county commissioners, with P. P. Langford, W. M. McGregor and R. E. Huff as sureties. Mr. Walsh will be sworn in this afternoon or tomorrow. He has announced that J. W. Walkup, former sheriff and present city treasurer, will be his chief deputy.

German Coming to America. Berlin, Nov. 14.—There were 86, 471 Germans immigrated to America last year. Many of that number became farmers, a large percent of them finding their way to the south and locating their new homes in Texas where they are welcomed as they make good citizens and are usually a prosperous, peace loving people. The German comes to this country for the purpose of finding a permanent home and a comparatively small percentage return to their native land.

GETTING MARRIED WILL COST MORE

NEW RULE SOON TO BECOME EFFECTIVE REQUIRES PAYMENT OF FEES FOR AFFIDAVITS

MAY GO AS HIGH AS $5.00

Today May Be Last on Which Licenses May Be Secured at Reduced Rates

We all know about the higher cost of living. Any undertaker will tell you about the higher cost of dying. And now we are to have the higher cost of getting married.

Hereafter, when you get a married license at the county clerk's office, you will pay one dollar for it, and fifty cents additional for each affidavit that is necessary. If you have to swear that you are 21 years old, fifty cents. If the young lady has to swear that she is 18 years old, four bits. If the parents of either of you have to swear that they don't object, half a dollar. Heretofore, it has been the custom to take these affidavits for nothing, and just charge the licensees a dollar, which is high enough, goodness knows. But the new rule says that you must pay for the affidavits too. The new rule is not effective yet but will be before the end of the week and today may be the last chance you'll have to get reduced rates. Now is the time to subscribe. If you believe that "all the world loves a lover" just go ahead and learn your error.

If this thing keeps on, it will soon reach the point where a young man and a young woman had just as well not figure on getting married unless they can see their way to pay three, four and possibly all of five dollars for the formalities.

GOV. WILSON WILL REDEEM PLEDGES

PURPOSES CARRYING OUT TARIFF REFORMS AND DESTRUCTION OF MONOPOLY

TO MAKE PLANS KNOWN

President-Elect Will Announce Soon Whether Extra Session is to Be Called

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 14.—President-elect Wilson announced last night, in speaking of the tariff and the monopoly question, that he purposed to carry out the pledges he made in his campaign speeches to cut special privileges out of tariff schedules, prevent unfair competition in business and to destroy private monopoly.

The President-elect had been asked whether the big correspondence he received after his election contained any inquiries as to his attitude on the tariff or monopoly problems.

"Most of the letters," he replied, "were of a congratulatory nature. There are some cabinet suggestions, but nobody seems to think it necessary to ask questions about the tariff or the monopolies."

"Do you mean people take it for granted you will carry out the pledges made in your campaign speeches?" he was asked.

"Yes, they certainly will be carried out so far as I am concerned."

In his campaign speeches the Governor often reiterated that revision of the tariff should be undertaken immediately.

It is believed that this idea now will find expression in a call for an extra session of Congress to consider the tariff question, as well as other subjects which were issues in the campaign just closed.

Gov. Wilson now has in hand a fairly complete list of all the men who have expressed themselves publicly on the advisability of an extra session. It is known that the President-elect has made up his mind on the subject and soon will make known his attitude. He is of the idea that the work of tariff revision can be undertaken without a series of long investigations.

"There have been investigations in every Congress," remarked the Governor. "I've studied the problem all my life. I think there is a definite idea of what ought to be done."

While the President-elect is reading assiduously the opinions about an extra session, he is just as carefully refraining from looking at the various speculations which are being printed as to the probable personnel of his cabinet.

DISGUISES WERE ADVISED BY RYAN

McManigal Testifies Ryan Knew of Explosions and Advised Dynamiters to Disguise Themselves

By Associated Press. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 14.—Direct charges that Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, had full knowledge of explosions and that he even advised the dynamiters to disguise themselves, were made by Ortle McManigal at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today.

Relating incidents of one western trip, McManigal said:

"When I returned to the Iron Workers' headquarters in Indianapolis, McManigal was not there, so I saw President Ryan. I told Ryan about the Kansas City explosion and showed a newspaper account of it. Ryan said, 'I want you fellows to stop coming around this office so openly, and you don't change your appearance enough. When anyone gets a good look at you they will be sure to know you the next time. I told him we were not reckless and that no one knew what we were doing.'"

HOROWITZ DESCRIBES KILLING OF ROSENTHAL

Witness Denies Every Incriminating Statement Made by Bald Jack Rose

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 14.—Harry Horowitz known as "Gyp the Hood" the dandy of the four gunmen on trial charged with murdering Herman Rosenthal at Becker's bidding, took the witness stand today and swore that the shots in front of the Hotel Metropole were fired by Harry Vallon, Bridgie Webber, the informers for the State, and by a third man whom he did not know.

He denied every incriminating statement made by Bald Jack Rose and said that he and his companions did not even hear of the murder until seven hours after it occurred. They were within a stone's throw of the scene where they had gone at the strange third man's invitation, and they fled when they heard the shots.

He said:

"We stood there by the Cadillac and the strange man walked across Forty-third street. He approached Rose, Wobber, Vallon and Schepps, who were standing opposite the Metropole. All five of them walked over towards the Metropole, Bridgie Webber and Harry Vallon first. We heard a shot and saw a flash. We saw Vallon and Webber, Vallon and Schepps, who fled."

"As soon as we saw them firing, we ran for the subway. A train was just pulling in and we boarded it without paying fare."

GREEN TO FOOTBALL COP RAISED A ROW

Sees Scrummage and Rushed into Field Threatening to Give Players Ride in Wagon

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 14.—Knowing that general riots were not to be permitted on his beat, Patrolman McGinnis of the north side police force decided on immediate and strenuous interference yesterday afternoon at Morris Park, when he saw twenty-two young men dressed in football uniforms, representing the Central High School and North Fort Worth High school, rushing madly at one another's throats and fighting fiercely over a little piece of inflated pigskin.

Mr. McGinnis was assigned to the task of preserving order and decorum at this game, and although he had

700 Acres of Oil Land Classed as School Land

Includes several tracts leased by oil companies. The error which resulted in it again being classed as school lands was in its being surveyed by the Jack county land district surveyor, when it was in the Clay county land district.

The 700 acres of land east of Electra in the oil field to which considerable attention has recently been attracted by its being filed upon by Maddox Brothers of Austin as school land, due to an error committed by a surveyor thirty-five years ago, has been classified by the land commissioner at Austin as school land. The classification was received late yesterday by County Clerk Reid. One suit has already been filed against Maddox Brothers in connection with this transaction.

The land totals 723 acres of which 334 acres is described as G. C. & S. F. section 10, block W2, certificate 3-526, and 389 acres as B. S. & F. section 14, block W2, certificate 1778. It

BANK ROBBERS IN AUTOMOBILE

SAFE OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF MERIT BLOWN WITH NITROGLYCERINE

$4,000 WAS SECURED

Robbers Had Cut Wires and Escaped in Automobile in Direction of Farmersville

By Associated Press. Merit, Texas, Nov. 14.—Three bank robbers in a speed automobile stole $4000 from the First National Bank of Merit about 2 o'clock this morning and escaped. The loss was fully insured.

About midnight the automobile with three strangers in it was first noticed on the streets here after which not much attention was paid to it. About 2 o'clock Cashier J. B. Leatherwood of the First National and Oscar Wylie and C. A. Victor were awakened by a series of three explosion in the bank.

They all jumped into a few clothes and ran to the bank. They found it empty, the vault scarred, but not seriously damaged from the effects of three charges of nitroglycerin. Other men then came running up, saying they had seen a flying automobile go over the top of the hill in the direction of Farmersville, about seven miles away.

The robbers had cut the telephone wires and the first that Farmersville knew of the affair was this morning, when investigation showed that an automobile aroused several persons at Farmersville at about 3 o'clock. Its route has not been traced farther.

A WIND—AN ANKLE—A BRACELET.

St. Louis, Nov. 14.—With a solid gold bracelet around her ankle, Miss Adeline Gritman of 5185 Delmar Boulevard attracted the attention of hundreds of church-goers as she walked to the drug store at Union Avenue and Delmar Boulevard Sunday morning.

The wind was just sufficient to place the skirt and lingerie in just such a position that the ankle and the bracelet displayed their charms. Miss Gritman apparently was unconscious of the excitement she was causing among the church-goers. "Why," Miss Gritman asserted when asked about the incident, "in New York, where I lived, nobody ever thought anything about it, and I wore the bracelet most of the time in the same way. But St. Louis is such a small town that anything novel gains so much publicity for one."

At wells	36
Delivered, bay points	70

A review of the high grade fields east of the Mississippi river, comprising Southern New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Central and Northwestern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, for the week shows a substantial gain in completed wells over the previous week's report, which is interesting for this season of the year when work usually slackens down for the winter.—Independence Reporter.

Lewis A. Robertson and A. E. Genz of Trickham are here this morning on business and to a Bulletin man stated they were busy at work drilling. One of the wells has been drilled to a depth of more than a thousand feet and evidences of oil discovered. While here today Mr. Robertson had a boat made for holding dynamite and he expects to shoot the well within a few days to see if the oil bearing sands will not yield a greater amount of oil. He says Mr. Wallace of this place is drilling the second well for him and that it will be down to the regulation oil depth within a week. He expects these two wells to develop the Trickham oil field. Mr. Robertson still has his big gas well securely cased and he is of the opinion that it is even stronger than when tested a few weeks ago.—Brownwood Bulletin.

J. T. Granger has sold to J. R. Brewer, 225.45 acres for $12,399.75 cash, the land being blocks 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 of Granger's subdivision of the east half of sections 23, H & G N and section 1, S A & M G.

J. M. Blagg and wife of Iowa Park, have leased to V. S. Simpson, J. J. Cobb and W. P. Dooley, 80 acres near Iowa Park on Buffalo Head Creek, for $400 cash; $400 annual rental, drilling to start in twelve months.

The Guffey has drilled in its No. 1 Bywaters, which was good for fifty to sixty barrels, being somewhat better than No. 2 which was completed early this week.

The examining trial of G. W. Mason, charged by affidavit with forgery in connection with the H. A. Overall lease affair, was begun this morning in Squire Brothers' court and a number of witnesses put on by the prosecution. The hearing will be completed Saturday forenoon. In the meantime, Mason is at liberty on $1000 bond.

Iowa Park may yet get on the oil maps and leasing continues fairly active in that section. The three barrel showing in the Staples well, while it does not definitely prove up that section, indicates that the pay stuff is not far away. A number of Wichitans are interested in the Staples well and are watching things there with interest.

The next day or so ought to bring some kind of news, good or bad, from the McBride well on the Chenault farm, about a mile southeast of the Schmocker. This well is about to the depth of the Schmocker sand and is one of the most important tests in the Burkhardt country.

Robatch's Mineral Water.
This water stimulates the secretion of the stomach, increases digestion and is highly recommended by physicians and patrons who have tested its merits, for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and bladder trouble, and favors a more complete absorption of the food and prevents the action of germs that cause typhoid and other infectious diseases.
This water can be purchased at the wells or delivered in jugs or cases. This well is located one mile south of Alamo school building, in Floral Heights, two deliveries daily, morning and afternoon. G. J. Robatch, Owner, Phone 1691—1 long—4 shorts.

FEAR JOHNSON WOULD LEAVE COUNTRY.

Federal Attorney Files Brief Setting for the Reasons Why Negro Should Not be Granted Bail

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—Pointing out that violations of the white slave act are not extraditable, Solicitor General Bullitt filed a brief today declaring no reason exists why Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, confined in jail in Chicago, should be admitted to bail by the United States supreme court.

The solicitor general said an offender might be quite willing to jump a small amount of bail and escape to a foreign country.

"Administration of the criminal law," said Mr. Bullitt's brief, "would be brought into disrepute if one committing such an infamous crime as that for which Johnson is indicted could, by forfeiting even a considerable sum of money, escape to a place where he would be free from further prosecution."

Referring to the possibility of Johnson leaving the country the solicitor general adds: "Thirty thousand dollars, while a large sum, is not excessive because it is obviously not prohibitory. The very fact that Johnson is willing to deposit cash to that amount is conclusive that the amount fixed is not excessive. The term 'excessive' as used in the constitution means such sum as is practically prohibitory in amount and in determining what is excessive or prohibitory, regard must be had in each case to the financial ability of the defendant, the gravity of the offense and the punishment to be imposed."

"Evidently Johnson has the financial ability and so the point on which independent sureties hesitate must be that they fear he will leave the country. This shows the clearest sort of justification for the caution exercised by the court."

Replying to the complaint that the trial court refused to accept a $30,000 certificate of deposit or $30,000 cash in lieu of bail, Mr. Bullitt stated that he federal statutes did not provide for the acceptance of cash in lieu of bail and that the court would have no power to legally do so. He said "bail meant an undertaking guaranteed by sureties, that the defendant shall be produced at the proper time in court."

A Correction.

I notice in your issue of yesterday a report from Dallas concerning the forthcoming conference of the M. E. Church, South, to be held in that city beginning Nov. 27th. It is really funny how some reporters get tangled up. That reporter says that here "will be about five hundred delegates from different parts of the State," etc.

Now, the facts are that the conference in question is called the "North Texas Conference" and the southern boundary of Dallas county is its southern boundary. We have seven conferences in the State—five English-speaking conferences, one German and one Mexican conference. Two or three of these conferences have already been held and one is in session now. If the whole State were thrown into one conference, the body would be so unwieldy that it could not be controlled since we have 1800 preachers and 300,000 Methodists in Texas. The conference at Dallas represents only about 65,000 members. Our institutions, colleges, universities, publishing houses, orphanages and rescue homes are what we call "congregational" and belong to the whole church—except a few conference colleges that are locally supported.

I make this correction in order to keep the record straight.
Respectfully,
J. W. HILL.

The attendance at the annual meeting of the American Federation of Labor at Rochester, N. Y., this week, is the largest in the history of the organization.

THE LURE OF GOLD

Romance and Tragedy of the Old Bonanza Trail.

A ROAD TO WEALTH AND CRIME

It Led to the Richest Deposits of Gold, in a Relatively Small Territory, Ever Discovered—Days of Strenuous Life and Frenzied Lawlessness.

The Bonanza trail began at Fort Laramie, Wyo. It ran east of the Owl Creek mountains, west of the Big Horn mountains, in a northwest direction to Livingston and Bozeman, then forking to the present Helena and Virginia City. In war and Indian department annals it is known as the Bozeman trail. Immediately, however, it was given the more romantic name, and for the best of reasons. It led to what were the richest deposits of gold, in a relatively small territory, that the world had ever seen.

Out of Alder gulch and Last Chance gulch, within 200 miles of each other in Montana, was taken, in ten short years, considerably more than $200,000,000 in pure gold. It was anybody's fortune, and the wonderful luck of the California gold diggers a few years before (rough) men to brave every hard ship for these prizes.

It did not matter at all that these gulches were 2,000 miles from the nearest railroad and that other gold fields were far easier to reach. Here was the great El Dorado, and with it a quail the gold seekers hurried into the unknown territory, defying flood and every other Indian, outlaw, renegade and holdup man.

How many lives were sacrificed along this trail to wealth will never be known. All that is certain is that there never was another chapter in the world's history like this. The long road into the mysterious country and the settlements of mining camps grew up almost in a single night. There were only five men in the little party when Bill Fairweather "washed" the first pan in Alder gulch and made a discovery even more wonderful than any in the palmy days of California or even in the later era of the Klondike.

Two years later Alder gulch, at one of the Bonanza trail's two ends, was among the most picturesque places in the country. The world was ransacked for men and women to give performances at the theaters, to offer free entertainment to the patrons of the various resorts. The gold hunters, gorged with prosperity, wanted amusements. Fine restaurants were opened and food brought in at great expense from beyond the seas. The smallest money was a twenty-five cent pinch of gold dust, taken from a pouch. It bought less than a copper cent does in any part of the United States today.

Meantime an unending stream of people poured into the new country. It is estimated by some that 90,000 in all took the trail at Fort Laramie.

The days of the trail were those of frenzied lawlessness, and many are the picturesque stories that have come down. Over the big road disputes about cards were of daily occurrence. The man who started an argument did so with the knowledge that it was his life or the other man's, for he was calling into question the "honor" of the "sharp." Swindlers sold "mines," fought with their proposed victims and killed without compunction.

Armed robbers ran off stock, stole horses from one class of immigrants and sold them to another. As the horse was the sole means of transportation and valuable beyond human life, "boss stealing" was set down by the "districts" as a crime punishable by death. There were few courts, and such as there were were miles from the trail. A jury would hence be at once impeached among those present, the man tried and if found guilty hanged to a tree without ceremony.

Hotels flourished and were prosperous beyond imagining, for every one spent money, and there was much feasting. In the higher grade establishments beverages were served in cut glass; champagne was common. Every resort was crowded with people. The newcomers frequented these places. In quest of information, paid 25 cents for a glass of beer made from barley grown by the ex-Confederate soldiers at Bozeman and sold to the Virginia breweries for 8 cents a pound, and not enough could be received to supply the demand. Table board cost $7 a day for the very cheapest, and if one slept in a chair in the hotel lobby at night, when the rooms were all rented, he paid $1.50 for the privilege.

Gold was the only medium of exchange. A pinch of it, between the forefinger and the thumb, as has been said, counted 25 cents. There would be a tendency with some men to take just a little bit more. When that tendency was noticed in a man he was given boots to kick over—and it was seldom over an hour. The wise man did not start on a campaign or protest, he "ran away." In camp vernacular, "The newspapers of the city sold for 25 cents a copy, read from the press, and full of news of things, new diggings, "clean ups," "hold ups," "bad men" and gossip of a breezy character. Ham and eggs to order cost $2.50. Eggs were worth 50 cents apiece and an ordinary meal of deer or buffalo meat, with potatoes or coffee and bread, was never less than $1.50. A man was very poor to get down to fare so coarse as that.

It made no difference what a man didn't have been back to "the states." If he was "on the square" in Virginia he was accepted at par.—F. J. Arkin in Harner's Weekly.

RUBBER REGION of AMAZON VALLEY

ISLAND ON THE AMAZON

AS is generally known, the principal part of the immediate supply of rubber is derived from a species of the Hevea tree, but considerable quantities are secured from the Castilloa, Cera and Ficus elastica trees. A number of other trees and vines yield rubber and several of them are under experimental observation with promise of successful outcome of their cultivation. The production of rubber during the year 1911 was about 80,000 tons. More than half of this quantity came from South and Central America, about one-third from Africa, and almost all the remainder from Asia. The Asiatic output now includes 6,000 or more tons of "plantation" rubber. The valley of the Amazon is by far the greatest source of rubber supply. The shipments from Brazil are equal to fully one-third of the world's supply, and for the first quarter of 1912 were valued at $27,500,000.

The cost of producing rubber is about 25 cents a pound, and this applies equally to the wild and plantation product. In the case of the former, labor is very cheap and there is no investment in land nor plantation to carry, but transportation is expensive. In the plantation regions day labor is more costly, but, as the trees are grouped, a man can gather a greater quantity in a given time than he could in the forest. Shipment from the plantation is easy and economical, but the process of production involves the expenditure of more time and money than are devoted to the preparation of wild rubber for the market.

Forests Full of Reptiles. In the tropical forests there do not grow in numerous stands of one species as they do in the temperate zone. In Brazil the Hevea trees are found principally along river-bottom lands and scattered through dense forests of hundreds of varieties of different plants, including vines and hanging parasites that render passage difficult.

From February to June these districts are uninhabitable, and in fact inaccessible, owing to the heavy rains and extensive floods. During the other six months the land is damp, the temperature ranges around 90 degrees during the day and never falls as low as 70 degrees at night, while intense humidity is attendant. The forest teems with various reptiles and poisonous insects. The solitary but of the rubber gatherer stands in the repellent environment. He is an Indian, probably transported to this distant spot from his native province of Ceara. The chances of his ever seeing home and kindred again are remote. He is virtually a slave. In a few years release will come to him through death accelerated by disease and the excessive use of alcohol. Meanwhile, escape from his present condition is practically impossible. He will not be taken on board any of the river steamers, which are the only means of transportation to the coast. He is a stranger and an alien to the land of the surrounding country, who will either kill him or return him to his employers for the sake of a reward, in case he should take refuge among them. His life is literally a monotonous round, for each morning he sets out upon the pathway which his feet have formed to make the circuit of the rubber trees within the tract that has been assigned to him. The station to which he is attached is probably ten or twelve miles distant. At intervals of a few days a messenger from it visits him, bringing his food supply and carrying away his prepared rubber. Once or twice during the six months he may be permitted to take a brief holiday at the station, which will afford him an opportunity to secure medical attention and to get drunk at the same time. Occasionally a rubber gatherer of the better sort makes a permanent home with his family in a clearing and secures a fair degree of comfort.

The latex of the rubber tree is a viscid liquid, composed of water and an elastic substance known as caoutchouc. This is secured by making longitudinal incisions near the base of the tree and extending upward for several feet, what is called the herringbone system of tapping being most in favor. Small cups, attached to the tree trunk by clay plaster, catch the flow. Each tree yields about half a pint of latex in four days and about ten pounds in a season.

The rubber gatherer makes the round of his trees daily in the forenoon, bringing back a supply of latex to his hut. The production of rubber from this occupies him during the balance of the day. The process of coagulation is simple and the yield is about 30 per cent. of the latex. The latter is poured as evenly as possible over the flattened end of a paddle about three feet long. This is slowly turned in the smoke of a wood fire in which oil nuts are burned. When the first layer of latex has sufficiently stiffened, another is added, and so on, until the paddle holds or "biscuit" a certain sized ball of "biscuit." The "biscuit," or flattened form of unit, is now generally preferred because it is more easily handled and more readily lends itself to the detection of impurities. These are present to a greater or less degree in all wild rubber. Formerly the gatherers who were paid by weight of turnout, deliberately doctored the rubber balls by mixing sand with the material, and sometimes by placing stones in it. These practices have, however, been practically eliminated from the business in recent years.

Inhabitants Semi-Savage. The rubber collected from the gatherers is assembled at the various stations in the forest and thence shipped to Para. At the port it passes into the hands of the buyers, who subject it to close examination to determine quality. Before being offered to the manufacturer as commercial rubber, the material is cut up and subjected to mechanical processes with a view to extracting all foreign substances and of reducing the moisture to a minimum. Manaus is situated on the bank of the Amazon, about 1,000 miles from the river's mouth. It is distinctly a modern city, although its foundation dates from the early days of the mission fathers. Manaus contains a number of extremely handsome buildings, and many fine residences. Its streets are well-paved, electrically lighted and served by an excellent trolley system. A pleasing peculiarity of the city is its intersection in several parts by small streams which the natives call "igrapes," or canoe paths, and which the Indian inhabitants commonly turn to the same account as the Venetians do their canals. Manaus is surrounded on all sides but the river front by primeval forest, inhabited by semi-savage Indians. The city is the receiving and shipping point for large quantities of rubber, and although it exports other products its prosperity is due to and dependent upon the rubber trade. About 2,000 river steamers and small vessels call at the port every day, in addition to about 200 ocean-going ships. Ten years ago the city could offer nothing better than river anchorage to shipping. It now has ample warehouses, a stone quay and floating wharves and bridges. These last are necessitated by the great fluctuations in the river level, the extreme range of which is 33 feet.

Effect of Cold on Cat's Fur. A remarkable transformation of a cat's fur by temperature has been reported. A black cat was accidentally shut in the refrigerating chamber of a small steamer in Sydney harbor, and was not discovered until about thirty-two days later, when the ship was off Aden. The cat was scarcely recognizable, the fur having become long and thick, changing to white on the back. Brought out into the intense heat of the Red sea, the heavy white coat rapidly fell out and the normal coat was restored.

Checkerboard Fish. The New York aquarium lately reported in one lot from its collector at Gravesend Bay 16 orange filefishes, an unusually large number to be taken in a single day, while among them there were some that were notable for their size and coloring. They included one big fish whose sides are marked from head to tail with evenly spaced black and yellow spots forming a pattern like a checkerboard.

Modern Cookery. "In your wife a good cook?" "She isn't very strong on theory. She can bake and broil well enough, but she can't make a chemical analysis."

D. M. Perkins, formerly of this city but at present in charge of milling interests in Havana, Cuba, is spending a few days in the city on business. Mr. Perkins says that the popular impression that Cuba is "out of the world" is erroneous, as there are many Americans there and nearly all the elements of civilization. When he left there, just after the Cuban election, 20,000 troops were quartered in Havana in anticipation of trouble, but everything had passed off quietly up to that time. Mr. Perkins left this afternoon for Houston, but will return here before going back to the island republic.

"Hereafter only Dallas county printers will be considered in awarding contracts for the county," is the way an order passed by the commissioners court of Dallas county reads, and it has the proper ring to it. If every county in the state would do likewise it would show that we who pretend that we are trying to build up our own communities were putting into practice that which we preach. It is particularly galling for a local printer to have to accept in lieu of his annual tax a receipt that bears the imprint of a foreign printing concern. Yet, this is the method that most city and county governments practice.

The good yield and the high price being paid for pecans ought to impress our people of the fact that pecan growing is an industry that is growing more profitable each year. The man who owns a good pecan grove is indeed fortunate and the pecans are not the least profitable of the crops with which the Wichita Falls country has been blessed this year. Pecans respond wonderfully to cultivation and if the wild variety without cultivation bring big returns how much more ought selected stock well cultivated to return. Broken valleys along the creeks and rivers which are fit for little else are naturally the best places for pecan trees. Every pecan tree now growing ought to be protected and new trees planted as rapidly as possible.

Regarding the appointment or selection of postmasters, this is the fifth district view—the matter:

"If I am given the privilege of submitting recommendations for postoffice appointments in this district, my purpose will be to conform to the wishes of the people to be served. At the proper time I shall call upon the qualified voters who receive their mail from or through any office where change in postmaster is to be made to select a properly guarded and conducted primary election, the person they desire for postmaster. The postoffices were established for the convenience of the people and the postmasters are appointed to serve the people. In my judgment they are better prepared to select these servants than the Representative in Congress or any official at Washington. One of the slogans of the recent campaign was "Let the people rule." Here is an opportunity to put that slogan into effect, and so far as I can control the situation the Democratic voters of this Congressional District will have the right to select postmasters."

The only objection that could be urged to this plan is that Congressman Beall would leave the matter to be decided by all qualified voters who receive their mail at such offices. Had the Republican administration given the Democratic patrons of the postoffice an opportunity of expressing their choice in the selection of postmasters, his plan of giving an opportunity to all patrons of the postoffices to express by ballot their preferences would not look so bad, but inasmuch as Democrats, though in great majority in Texas were given little or no consideration whatever in the selection of postmasters, democrats participate in such elections the Times can not quite see the justice or fairness of allowing any but Had the Republicans won the victory they would have been entitled to the offices. This victory, however, was won by Democratic votes, and if an election is to be held, let it be conducted in such a manner as to be a true and correct expression of those who voted the Democratic ticket at the last election. That, in the opinion of the Times, should be the test.

AS TO MINORITY PRESIDENTS

Of the twenty-three presidents elected since Andrew Jackson filled that office, eleven have been what is termed minority president, Mr. Wilson being the eleventh. The estimated popular vote of the late election is as follows: Wilson, 6,298,997; Roosevelt, 4,307,305; Taft, 3,359,364. So far the popular vote of Debs, Socialist, and Chafin, prohibitionist, have not been approximated, but allowing these two candidates a liberal vote, it leaves Wilson about 2,000,000, or 2,500,000, short of a majority. This, however, should not be discouraging to Democrats. The greatest mass the Republicans ever elected to that office, or at least the man who is most often quoted and whose administration is highly commended, was no other than Abraham Lincoln. His popular vote on his first election was 1,865,352; as against 2,810,501 polled for his opponents. Therefore the total popular vote at that election was 4,675,853, and shows that Mr. Lincoln lacked 943,645 votes of getting half of them. Other minority presidents were J. Q. Adams, James K. Polk, Zachary Taylor, James Buchanan, Rutherford B. Hayes (minority in both popular and electoral vote,) James A. Garfield, Benjamin Harrison once, and Grover Cleveland, twice. Therefore, this talk of minority presidents doesn't signify anything. The vote cast for Wilson shows he has a strong lead over his next leading opponent, Mr. Roosevelt, and a still stronger lead over President Taft, and it is more than likely that had either Taft or Roosevelt been out of the race he would have not only received a majority of the electoral vote but of the popular vote as well. This assessment is made as to Roosevelt from the popular vote cast for the two candidates in the state of California, where Taft name nor that of Taft electors appeared on the ballots, and the result shows that the vote was so very close between Wilson and Roosevelt that it was not determined for several days after the election in which column to place the electoral vote of California, but finally the complete returns showed that Roosevelt had won over Wilson by less than 1000 votes. California is a state that always heretofore has given heavy Republican majorities, with these exceptions: In 1880 the electoral vote of that State was split, the Republican candidate receiving 1, and the Democratic candidate 5; in 1892 the vote was also split, Democrats getting 8 votes and the Republicans 1. In 1896 the electoral vote of that state was split. As for Mr. Taft, his vote was so very small that the indications are that he could have been defeated easily by almost any one of the four democrats before the Baltimore convention, had he been allowed to run the race through without being handicapped by the second Chicago nomination which put up Roosevelt as its candidate. Mr. Wilson, being pledged to one term, cannot consistently become a candidate for a second, and if he is nominated again in 1916, it will be because the Democrats will demand that he make the race. Under such circumstances, he could not refuse, and in the event he did, would show himself to be an ingrate.

Velva SYRUP

This is Real Syrup

Just try Velva with this recipe and see how fine it is. You'll get flavor at its very best and quality at its finest. There isn't anything like Velva for waffles, griddle cakes or candy, anywhere, by any name—there's nothing made that is as good as in the red can, for making candies and baking cakes. It has more than syrup flavor—it has Velva flavor, that makes telling about it impossible. You must taste it to know what we mean. Will you? Ten cents up, in clean, sanitary cans. Velva in the green cans, too, at your grocer's. Send for the book of Velva Recipes. No charge.

Topical and Cream
 1 cupful Red Velva Syrup, 2 cupfuls cold coffee, 1-2 cupfuls tapioca, 1-4 cupful sugar, 1-4 teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful vanilla extract, some whipped cream. Put the mixture into a saucepan, add the syrup, coffee, sugar, and salt and cook for 15 minutes. Remove from the fire, add the vanilla extract and when cool divide into glasses. Cover the top with sweetened and whipped cream. Serve very cold.

cabinet. This was revealed in connection with the visits of Judge W. R. King, Democratic National committee man from Oregon, and Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired. Gov. Wilson said Gen. Miles had called unexpectedly to pay his respects. The correspondents told him the names of both Gen. Miles and Judge King had been mentioned in dispatches from Washington concerning the makeup of his cabinet. The Governor said he did not know of this. "I'm fortunate," he said, "in not reading the speculations, so I'm innocent of any embarrassments."

The President-elect took a long walk late in the afternoon. A short, stout man, apparently intoxicated, emerged from the woods and insisted on shaking hands with the Governor. He turned away, but reappeared through a short cut a few minutes later, trying to take Gov. Wilson by the arm. The secret service men intervened and led him away. He protested that he meant no harm.

Mr. Wilson today read the address delivered by President Taft Tuesday to the Daughters of the Confederacy in which Mr. Taft predicted under a Democratic administration the South would have a greater share in the National Government and that sectional lines would disappear. "It was a very generous speech," remarked Mr. Wilson.

WICHITA COUNTY OFFICERS FILE BONDS FOR TWO YEARS.

The approving of bonds and approving the accounts is occupying the time of the county commissioners and the present session will probably continue most of this week. Most of the county officers have filed their bonds for the ensuing two years.

District Clerk Alex Kerr's bond of $5,000 was signed by P. F. Langford, T. C. Thatcher and T. J. Taylor.

County Attorney Dan Boone, whose bond was fixed at $2500 had the name of every attorney in the city affixed to it.

Sheriff Randolph had Phy Taylor,

Will Sherrard, R. F. Simpson and Sam Scaling as sureties on his bond of $5,000.

County Treasurer Tom McHam's bond bore the signatures of J. P. Jackson, T. J. Taylor, T. C. Thatcher and P. P. Langford. The amount was $70,000.

The commissioners ordered the purchase of $1500 in bonds of independent district No. 8. They are paying bills this afternoon.

An official bulletin issued by the department of agriculture of the United States says that 1,600,000,000 pounds of butter are used in this country every year.

"The Girl From Tokio"

The Dallas News commends "The Girl From Tokio" here for an afternoon matinee and night performance as a "funny and a clean and commendable divertimento."

The News comment follows: "The Girl From Tokio," which was the offering at the Dallas Opera House last night, is all for laughing purposes. It details visually the miseries of a young husband with a jealous-minded young wife, into whose placid lives come a very mischievous lady from Tokio, a governess from a perfectly respectable but poor family, a very excitable Frenchman with an exceedingly inconvenient monocle, an ascerbitous maiden aunt, an ingenu niece, a free and easy man friend and a rather unnecessary neighbor in clerical garb. Between them all they succeed in bailing up the peace and dignity of the young husband and the young wife. But after a while a rather commonplace explanation suffices to clear up a rather needless domestic clatter, and every one goes away satisfied.

Edmund Forde has the principal masculine role in this company and Julia Morton is the girl from Tokio. These and the others of the cast, of whom there are several, all worthy of personal mention, totalize a very amusing performance.

INSURANCE COMPANY AWARDS PRIZES

T. P. Adams Again Leads Wichita Southern Agents in Amount of Insurance Written

A total of $558,000 insurance has been written by agents of the Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company as a result of a contest which inaugurated several months ago. The prizes were announced yesterday and are as follows:

T. P. Adams of Wichita Falls, first prize of $50 in gold for largest business, his total being $87,000.

T. S. Green of Richmond, Okla., received a prize of $25 in gold for the largest number of applications, a total of $52,000 being represented by the applications turned in.

J. H. Horton of McLean, Texas, received a prize of $25 in gold for the largest amount of paid business, $85,000.

No man should be expected to support a family on less than $15 a week, says Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, and acting upon his belief, he has instructed all his department heads to make provisions in their annual estimates for the city budget, for paying all men at least that amount. "I believe it is an American to ask the normal American family to live upon less than $15 a week," says the mayor.

Citizens Building Good Roads in Panola County

Carthage, Texas, Nov. 14.—Building good roads by popular subscription is a comparatively new way of securing these improvements, but it has borne good results in Panola county, where a highway between this city and Murvaul is being constructed. The money subscribed amounted to $1,500 of which a manufacturing concern at Murvaul contributed one-half. Tools, implements, wagons and teams were secured from the county officials and private citizens. The Young Men's Business League, and a committee of prominent citizens are in charge of the work and expenditures.

STIMSON & ANDERSON

LAST OF TURKEY'S MODERN ROBIN HOOD

ON THE BOSPHORUS

NEWS has lately reached this country that in Anatolia, not very far from Smyrna, the Turkish government has succeeded in capturing and putting to death a notorious brigand by the name of Tchakirdjall. The story of this man's life is one of those dramatic episodes which bring to mind the legendary lore of the famous Robin Hood. It runs about as follows: Years ago, during the reign of Abdul Hamid II, a brigand who had made the government much trouble in the Smyrna district, was offered complete amnesty if he would come to the government office and surrender. He accepted the offer, and came with his son, then a mere lad, to surrender himself. On entering the door of the government building he was instantly shot without warning. The boy turned and fled, vowing eternal vengeance on the Turkish government. In due time the lad grew to manhood and gathered around him a band of lawless men like-minded with himself. This band numbered at various times from two to three dozen men. All of them, like Tchakirdjall, were crack shots, and all were armed with the newest modern repeating rifles. For many years this man and his band held sway in the mountains and valleys of western Anatolia, not far from Smyrna. The object of their bitter animosity was mainly the Turkish government itself, and in all conflicts with soldiers sent to capture them they showed no mercy. It is not denied that during the past ten years at least three hundred victims, most of them soldiers, have fallen to Tchakirdjall's rifle. To capture a man of this type, who knew every ravine and valley, every crag and crevice, in the mountain district, was no small task, and for many years the Turkish government failed in accomplishing its object.

Profoundly Religious.
In spite of his bloodthirsty attitude toward the governmental powers, Tchakirdjall had a most remarkable side to his character. He was profoundly religious, from the Mohammedan standpoint, as were also his followers, and they never omitted to observe the regulation prayer hour, wherever they might be. Nor was this man devoid of sympathy with the poor, much as he hated the predatory rich. At one time, riding along the Meander valley, he met a peasant driving in front of him with a yoke of oxen.

"Where are you going, my friend?" said Tchakirdjall.
"My master," was the reply, "I am going to town to sell my oxen."
"What makes you sell your oxen, are they not your means of plowing your farm?"
"It is true," replied the man; "but, you see, my daughter is to be married, and I have no means to provide a dowry. This is a great shame, and I shall sell the oxen to provide the dowry."

"How much do you expect to get for your oxen?" asked the bandit.
"I expect to get about twenty-one liras," ($80).
"It is too bad," said Tchakirdjall; "here are twenty-one liras, as a dowry for your daughter; go home, my son, and keep your oxen; but remember this, when the wedding procession is formed it must pass by this bridge where we now are."
"God be praised!" replied the fellow; "it shall be as you say."

When in due time the wedding procession was formed, it came to the bridge in question, and there was Tchakirdjall on horseback alone. Seeing the procession coming, he rode up to the bride, who was on horseback, and taking a silver filigree necklace, he fastened it around her neck, saying: "God be with you and give you peace!"

At another time this same bandit, who feared neither man nor devil, rode into a town in the Meander valley where lived three Tatars who notoriously ground the faces of the poor. It was high noon, and the three men were in the mosque at prayers. Tchakirdjall went boldly into the mosque, and, tapping each of the three on the shoulder, said: "I want to see you outside." All three came out.

The increase in the cost of living in the State of New Jersey has increased 34.36 per cent since 1898, while in the same period wages have advanced knowing perfectly well who this man was, he then spoke to No. 1, saying: "I want of you six hundred liras, and I want them now." To No. 2 he said: "Of you I want seven hundred liras, and I want them now." To No. 3 he said: "I want twelve hundred liras, and I want them now." No. 3 at once began to make some excuses, when the bandit drew his revolver and shot him on the spot. The other two, seeing that there was no effective argument under such conditions, went with Tchakirdjall and counted out the gold. This very considerable sum he then at once proceeded to distribute among the poor of the vicinity, thus drawing down on his head a thousand heartfelt blessings. So popular was this modern Robin Hood among the peasantry that not one of them would willingly betray him to the government powers.

Missionaries Warned.
Some years ago the government sent word to missionaries in Smyrna, warning them not to go to their usual summer resort in the hills, because Tchakirdjall was in the vicinity and it could not be safeguarded. On this account the missionaries remained in Smyrna that season, though, under government escort, they organized one picnic up in the hills. The following year Tchakirdjall himself called on one of the missionaries, and said:

"Why did you not come up to your summer resort last year?" The reply was that the government had warned the missionaries against possible danger. To this he answered:
"You need have no fear; you are good people, and Allah never harms a hair of your heads. Go up and take your rest this summer and feel perfectly safe."

Relying on his word, those concerned went up as usual for their summer rest to their bungalows. Soon after their arrival this man himself appeared with some of his followers. He associated with the missionaries in most gracious manner, and played lawn tennis with them, keeping his guards, however, always on the alert against any possible surprise by the army forces of the government. One day he said: "Perhaps you think I did not know where you went on your picnic last summer. I knew it very well, however, for while you were enjoying yourselves I and my men were behind the crags on the hills above you, and we could have shot every soldier acting as your guard had we desired to do so."

This Tchakirdjall was only about thirty-six years of age, and is described by an eye-witness as short and stocky, with his head held high in the air. His features were rugged and pleasing and he had remarkably expressive eyes. They were brown in color, ordinarily gentle and mild, but when the owner became excited, or startled, the pupils dilated and fire seemed to flash from them. At one time, when one of the missionaries was with the brigand at a picnic, he seemed really annoyed when he saw a camera pointed at him. He at once lifted his revolver, and remonstrated. Of course, the camera was immediately put away. The brigand then proposed target practice with revolvers. An egg was placed against a bark, about thirty yards away, and with his revolver, the chief of the band broke it at the second shot.

At last, however, as is always the case with men of this type, the government got the better of him, although the peasantry believed that Tchakirdjall was bullet-proof. The present governor, Naim Pasha, determined to round him up, and employed a large band of Circassians for the purpose. The robber band was surrounded and, after a terrific fight, leaving some of their number dead, they escaped. The headless body of Tchakirdjall was found by the Circassians (he having probably killed himself), the robbers having removed his head and arms, as they had marks on them that would identify them. The body was, however, identified by his wife, as also by the fact that a little later on, his head was found buried in his father's grave.

WAYLAND'S DEATH WILL NOT STOP PROSECUTION.

A Washington dispatch says that the suicide of J. A. Wayland will not affect the government's suit against the "Appeal to Reason." Misuse of the mails is charged.

The Coffeyville, (Kan.) Journal has the following to say concerning Wayland and his paper:

"The paper that made Girard famous" would be a proper title for the Appeal to Reason: Founded in 1895 it grew to be the official organ of the Socialist party with a circulation that sometimes exceeded a million copies. Its career has been a stormy one. Its vituperative editorial policy and constant attacks on all public officials brought trouble. It did not hesitate to accuse even the President of the United States of the grossest criminality. It was such a case which caused the present federal prosecution.

Starting on a shoestring, Fred Warren and Wayland, who appeared in the editorial "baner" as editors and publishers appear to have prospered greatly. Both owned motor cars and Wayland lost his wife in a motor car accident less than a year ago. A large Goss press, larger than any in Kansas outside Topeka and Wichita and three linotype machines were part of the newspaper equipment. Thousands of copies of each issue of the paper appearing weekly, were given away, but the paid circulation was claimed to be more than five hundred thousand. Appeals to Socialists throughout the country to come to the paper's rescue always brought a response which inflated the money order receipts of the Girard postoffice to a figure far beyond that of the average town of 3,000. Due altogether to the paper the Girard postal receipts have been the largest in the United States for a town of its population.

Floyd M. Gwin, a Coffeyville Socialist, who has known Mr. Wayland personally for many years, says he was worth close to a million dollars. Warren did not join the Appeal to Reason staff until four or five years after its founding, when Wayland took him in. Warren is probably worth $100,000 due to Wayland's friendship, Mr. Gwin says. Wayland was a man in the sixties, quiet and reserved and with an earnest conviction in the propaganda he preached. Warren is a much younger man who has occupied the limelight for more than his elder partner. The Mrs. Wayland killed a year or so ago, was the second wife of the Girard publisher.

Cotton picking will soon be a thing of the past in this community if the weather continues favorable.

Wheat is looking fine; some of it being large enough to pasture.

D. F. Bentley is making preparations to paint his dwelling house.

The hands engaged in pulling the casing on the Thornberry well are having quite a hard time of it. They have been trying for the past four days to fire a charge of dynamite but have not succeeded yet. Mr. Donnelly brought out an expert electrician Tuesday but he failed to do the work.

Mr. Herman Hubert is back in our midst again.

Quite a number were down in J. F. Pool's bottom Sunday picking up pecans.

Oscar Williams and two others killed twenty-five fine ducks Saturday evening on Red River. That will have a tendency to draw Clarence Morris, the champion "shootist" of Wichita Falls back into our midst again. Come again Clarence, we have a few sliced tomatoes yet.

PATENT MEDICINES Flourished twenty years ago when the daily papers carried a life size profile of Hiram Hayricks, of Hogtown, whose testimonial avers that he had been an invalid for seventeen years and after taking seventeen bottles of Dr. Fakers Egnatum he can tell ice cream from plug chewing tobacco without his glass, and is the owner of an appetite that makes a hobo look like an infant with stomach trouble. In most cases when you separated yourself from good coin for patent medicine it was a revised version of the fool and his money. Different now, the best and most effective remedies on the market are not patent medicines. You are welcome to the formulas from which they are made. The Dikes household remedies are not patent medicines. We can give you the formula of every one of them and they are made by the same people who have for fifty years been foremost in the manufacture of prescription goods and antitoxin. Their laboratories are the greatest in the world and their workers the most skilled. For sale by the

More Men Needed For Civil Service. Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—The official report of the director of the census of the United States says that in many states, particularly in the west and south, the number of persons who successfully passed the examination for the Thirteenth Census force and who were willing to accept appointment when tendered, was not sufficient to fill the quotas of those states, notwithstanding the fact that a second examination was held in order to secure more eligibles from such states. It became necessary therefore to appoint a disproportionate number of clerks from 15 of the other states, namely from Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

NOT OFTEN It's seldom that you have a chance to buy genuine Michigan Sweet Cider, Boiled Cider and Apple Cider Jelly. We have received direct from the orchards of Michigan a shipment of these goods, and they are "as fine as silk." Cider Jelly is entirely different than anything else in this line and Southern Michigan and Northern Ohio is the only section we know of where it is produced. There is nothing as good to serve with meats. If you know what it is, we've said enough. If you don't, you have overlooked a bet. You will want some boiled cider for your Holiday cookery. Order the sweet cider while it's fresh.
