ginnings for the entire season
last year.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—The fifth cotton ginning report of the Census Bureau for the season, issued at 10 o'clock this morning, announced that 10,291,431 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, of the growth of 1912 had been ginned prior to Thursday, November 14, to which date during the past seven years the ginning averaged 72.1 per cent of the entire crop. Last year to November 14 there had been ginned 11,313,236 bales or 72.7 per cent of the entire crop; in 1908 to that date, 9,596,809 bales or 73.2 per cent and in 1906 to that date 8,562,242 bales,
or 65.9 per cent.

Included in the ginnings 62,490
round bales, compared with 75,963
bales last year, 93,364 bales in 1910, 123,757 bales in 1909 and 173,908 bales in 1908.

The number of Sea Island cotton bales included were 41,321 compared bales in 1909 and 56,701 bales in 1908.

LABOR LEGISLATION WILL BE DISCUSSED

T. C. Jennings of Beaumont Will Speak at Court House Monday Night

T. C. Jennings of Beaumont, chairman of the legislative committee of the Texas Federation of Labor, will be in Wichita Falls next Monday and will deliver an address Monday evening at the court house. The legislative committee of which Mr.
Jennings is chairman was formed several years ago to secure the enactment of laws favorable to union men, and to prevent the passage of measures inimical to labor interests.
Mr. Jennings' address will be along the lines of this work, and he will seek the co-operation of local union men in securing the passage of some measures considered desirable.

One measure which will be asked at the coming session of the Legislature, in which many in this city will be interested, is the "twice-a-month pay day" law for railroad men.
At present railroad men have one monthly pay day. At the last session of the Legislature a twice-a-month pay day bill was introduced, but failed to get through, and another effort will be made this time.

NEW RECORD IN FOREIGN TRADE

BOTH EXPORTS AND IMPORTS IN OCTOBER LARGEST IN HIS-TORY OF COUNTRY

IMPORTS ARE $177,995,930

Previous Record Was $162,571,169—Exports For Month Were
$254,696,985

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—In spite of the unsettling business conditions attending the month before a presidential election, October set a new high mark in the amount of foreign business by the United States, both in imports and exports. A report just issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce
shows that last month the imports were $177,995,930. The previous high mark was reached in April, 1912, when goods valued at $162,
771,159 were brought into the country.

The exports last month were $254, 696,985. The previous high mark was in December, 1910, when merchandise valued at $228,102,683 was sent abroad.

NEGRO FOUND WITH BULLET IN NECK

Was Lying Near Watertank Completely Paralyzed—Says Another Negro Shot and Robbed Him

With a bullet hole in the back of his neck, Frank Garrison, a negro was found late yesterday by a number of other negroes near the Denver water tank southeast of the city. He was brought to this city and is being cared for at the home of another negro.

Garrison is completely paralyzed,
with the exception of his appetite,
the bullet having struck the spinal cord. He says that another negro whose name he does not know, robbed him of $9 and a watch and that he was shot while resisting him. It was thought last night that his wound would prove fatal, but when Dr. Mark Moore visited him this morning the negro said that if he could have a plate of soup he thought he would get well.

GALVESTON RECEIPTS PASS 2,000,000 BALES

New Record Set for Cotton Receipts
at Texas Port—Receipts Up to Date 2,020,695 Bales

By Associated Press.
Galveston, Texas, Nov. 21.—Cotton receipts at this port for the 1912-13
season which began, September 1,
passed the two million bale mark
today when the arrival of 25,871 bales brought the total for the season to 2,020,695 bales. This set a new record for erasing the 2,000,000 bale mark, the next earliest date being December 15, which was in 1911.

OIL DRILLER IN PERILOUS FEAT

J. BANFORD GOES DOWN 150 FEET
INTO HOLE AFTER LOST
TOOLS

LOWERED INTO THE WELL

Fixed Chain Around Tools and Was Pulled Out None Worse
For Wear

"A 'fishing job' that was quite out of the ordinary was pulled off recently near Electra, when J. Bamford, a driller, allowed himself to be lowered 150 feet into a hole, tied a chain around some tools which had been dropped, and was then pulled to the surface again, a little the worse for wear, but unharmed and smiling.

"A 'fishing job' in the parlance of the oil man, is the work necessary when some of the tools on the cable are dropped into the hole. When this happens there are other specially constructed tools which are used in an effort to 'fish' the lost ones
out. But in the case in question, which was in one of the Guffey wells on the Bywaters tract, being drilled by L. P. Hovick, the ordinary methods of fishing had failed and heroic steps were necessary.

The hole was sixteen inches in diameter, easily large enough to admit the body of a man and Mr. Bamford was selected for the job. He was lowered into the hole and was able to fix a chain around the dropped tools, of which there were several. Four trips were necessary, and even then he was unable to thoroughly clean the hole. The only way to get the remaining tools out would have been to lower him head first,
and he declined to submit to that.

Bamford came up little the worse for his experience, and inclined to make light of the tremendous risk he ran. He was to have received $150
if he got all the tools out, but receiving a smaller amount owing to his inability to get all of them.

It is not often that such measures are adopted in the oil fields and only one or two such cases are on record.
Some of them in the past in other fields have not resulted as fortunately for the man who went down as the one at Electra, as there are many dangers to be faced in the perilous undertaking.

LOOKS TO CHILDREN TO REGENERATE CITIES

By Associated Press.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 20.—"The building of the future city is not in our hands, but in the brains and hearts of America's children," said Walter D. Moody, managing director of the Chicago Plan Commission, at the conference on city planning held here today as a part of the sessions of the American Civic Association.

"It is not opposition which retards city betterment work in America," said Mr. Moody, "but rather it is non-education and indifference.
The solution of all the major problems of the American city lies in the education of our children to a realization of their responsibilities as the future owners of our cities. The regeneration of the American city must come from the efforts and the wills
of an educated and civically enlightened citizenship.

Chicago's efforts to educate children in city building, said Mr. Moody, has resulted in turning out 30,000
city planning enthusiasts every year.

Real estate developing firms as an important factor in city planning,
when they work upon proper lines,
were the subject of an address by
J. C. Nichols of Kansas City. Mr.
Nichols declared new subdivisions of a city should be developed in such a way as to safeguard their desirability as residence centers.

"Problems of city planning rest primarily upon the street system," said Joseph W. Shifley, chief engineer of the Maryland Topographical survey commission. "We should begin at our front doors. If our forefathers had only had the wisdom to provide a certain number of main arteries from the heart of the town to the outlying settlements, our problems for the readjustment of our street systems would have been a comparatively easy one."

He urged that American cities be "extravagantly liberal" in providing such main channels of traffic for the future.

The afternoon session of the convention today was devoted to a
"symposium on capital cities," participated in by Henry R. F. Macfarland, former Commissioner of the District of Columbia; Mayor Chas.
Hopewell of Ottawa, Canada; and W.
B. Griffin, Chicago, winner of the Austrian competition for a design for a capital city.

WEATHER FORECAST

Tonight fall and colder,
frost; Friday fair and colder.

WILSON HAS MADE NO CABINET PROMISES

Advises That All Statements Regarding Offices Be Disregarded

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 21.—"All statements about selection of the Cabinet may be disregarded until I make the announcement myself," declared President-elect Wilson, when he was told of the reports published in the United States.

Gov. Wilson said he had not offered or intimated an offer of a position
in his Cabinet to anyone.

William J. Bryan, it was learned today, had not been invited to Bermuda and it is said he is not expected here until Mr. Wilson's stay.

The Governor General, Lieut. Gen.
Sir George M. Bullock and Lady Bullock returned today the informal call Gov. Wilson paid them.

The Governor General is a dignified soldier. He could not find the front door of the Wilson cottage and left Lady Bullock at the piazza while he hunted all around the house,
finally rapping at the kitchen door.
The maid showed him the way. Before his arrival, Mrs. Wilson kept the President-elect busy getting familiar with the formula of English tea for Sir George Bullock, the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Lobb, called later.

The Wilsons unpacked their belongings today. Gov. Wilson said he was having the time of his life.

"I am having such a good time that I sometimes think of sending the electoral college a card of regret," he remarked.

"The Governor General's reported intention to give a state dinner in honor of the President-elect is confirmed.

W. J. Bryan Denies Report.
Waycross, Ga., Nov. 21.—Regarding reports that he would soon go to Bermuda for the purpose of conferring with Gov. Wilson on the Cabinet situation, William Jennings Bryan last night entered an emphatic denial.

"With regard to the statement that Gov. Wilson might tender me a place in the Cabinet, I have already answered that question. I do not know why it should be necessary to answer some new rumor every day. I have not conferred with Wilson since the election and have never discus-ed with him at any time any person in connection with any office. I have not intention of going to Bermuda.

"Prosperity is going to be the keynote of the Democratic regime," said Bryan. "We have the President and the control of the Senate and the House of Representatives and can carry out all Democratic policies.
There is not the slightest evidence of nervousness among the business men. The lowering of the tariff will affect the prices of those things which the tariff has raised. You have to distinguish in considering prices between the world's price level
and the level of prices in this country. A reduction of the tariff will not materially affect the prices fixed by the world's price level, but a reduction of the tariff will reduce prices that have been abnormally increased by import duties.

"Two other subjects will receive early attention—the trusts and the currency question—the legislation of the trust question will have for its object the prevention of private monopoly.

"Gov. Wilson stated his position on the subject in nearly every speech.
His purpose is to restore competition and he correctly interprets the party's position on the subject."

TRADES COUNCIL WILL BE RE-ORGANIZED

A movement for the reorganization of a central trades council was set on foot last night at a meeting of a number of union men at the Eagles'
hall at which R. E. White of the sheet metal workers' union presided.

It was decided to hold another meeting on the first Wednesday in December, to which all the unions of the city will be asked to send delegates.

Temporary officers were elected at the meeting. A. Langley of the gar-menters being temporary president and John Patusek, secretary. It was the sentiment among those present that Wichita Falls should have a central labor body, to act on matters
in which all union men are interested and it is believed that all the unions of the city will be glad to affiliate with such an organization.

JOHNSON DRAWS CONTEMPT FINE

JUDGE SWAYNE ASSESSES SNEED
ATTORNEY $100 FOR REPEAT-ING QUESTION RULED OUT

IT RELATED TO CHECKS

Attorney Delivers Check for Amount of Fine Before Proceedings Continue

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 21.—Cone Johnson of counsel for the defense in the trial of John Neal Sneed for the murder of Captain Al G. Boyce, this morning invited a $100 fine for contempt of court when he persisted in trying to ask W. E. Farwell, assistant cashier of the Midway Bank & Trust Company at Dalhart, if Al Boyce didn't draw a $1000 check that was later cashed at the Midway Bank & Trust Company, his father's bank, and drew a $500 check to the nurse
who is alleged to have helped Mrs.
Sneed to escape from the sanitarium.

Although this testimony was allowed in the former trial Judge Swayne today ruled it inadmissible. The witness answered the question with the jury locked up in its room.

"I must ask the questions to make the bill of exceptions complete," Johnson said, "in case we have to appeal this case. If you do not permit me to ask these questions, there will be no record of them."

Johnson said the defense expected to prove that Captain Boyce had raised the money for Al Boyce to carry Mrs. Sneed away and that Farwell was sent to Fort Worth by him to aid in the elopement.

Judge Swayne insisted he would not allow it and the jury was brought in.
"I am going to try this question,
anyway," Johnson said, "when the jury was seated. Mr. Farwell, did not Al Boyce cash a check?"

"Don't do that Mr. Johnson," Judge
Swayne interrupted.

"Did not Al Boyce—"
"Don't do that."
"Did not Al Boyce—"
The attorney persisted ignoring the repeating Judge.

Judge Swayne was on his feet and pounding on his desk.

"Don't do that," he shouted. "Mr.
Sheriff, bring my docket. Then he entered the $100 fine against Johnson who sat sucking his unlighted cigar.
"Shall I pay the sheriff," Johnson
asked respectfully when the judge closed his docket.

"Never mind," Judge Swayne answered, "you may pay me later."
"But I don't want this fine hanging over me throughout the trial," Johnson persisted, "I can pay it now."

The sheriff brought him a blank
draft and he signed his name to a $100 check.

LANGFORD AND OTHERS BUY EMBRY FARM

Price Paid Was Little More Than $132 Per Acre—Eighth Oil
Royalty Included

"For a consideration of $23,000, or slightly over $132 per acre, C. C. Embury, owner of the tract near Bur-burnett where an oil well was recently brought in, has sold the property to P. P. Langford and others of this city. A number of Burkburnett and Wichita Falls citizens are joint owners with Mr. Langford in the deal.

The farm has one well producing about a hundred barrels daily, it being one of the three offsets to the Schmoecker well. The owners of the land will get the benefit of the royalty on this and any other wells that may be drilled on the land, their share being an eighth of all the oil produced.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE BY DEFENDANT

Stenographer on Witness Stand
Knocks Out Important Plea
of Her Attorneys

By Associated Press.
Columbus, Nov. 21.—Cecilia Farley,
the pretty stenographer of trial accused of the murder of Alvin Zollin-ger, today damaged her defense by admitting she had been having intimate relations with Jerome Quigley to whom he was engaged. The story of the defense in the trial had been that Miss Farley's love for Quigley was a pure love, so pure that she had confessed to having done
the shooting when first arrested in order that Quigley might be released.

Well Known Here

News was received here this morning of the death at Vincennes in Indiana of James V. Murphy, who has operated in this section and who is at present drilling a well for Sidney Webb in Baylor county. A telegram to C. Heydrick from a friend at Vincennes, stated that Mr. Murphy met death in an automobile accident last night. Mr. Murphy was a son of Michael Murphy of Philadelphia,
president of the Pure Oil Company and one of the largest independent oil operators in the country. Mr.
Murphy was in Wichita Falls a month ago and many of the oil men here knew him and will hear the news of his death with deep regret.

STILL ANOTHER BREAK IN EUROPEAN HIGH LIFE

Along the boulevards and in fashionable circles in Paris it is reported that the Duke and Duchess of Morny have come to the parting of the ways. This report was spread when it was learned that the separation of the property of the Duke and Duchess had been ordered. In France this is the first step toward a legal severance of the marriage.

The beautiful Duchess, who is one of the few ladies licensed to wear male attire by the French government, and who at various times has started even Paris by parading in public in male attire, clear and all, has figured with extreme prominence in the news of recent months.

The Duchess, who at the amateur theatricals and receptions she has given has been pointed out as one of the most beautiful women in France, the assertion often being endorsed by such celebrated artists as Madrazo and others, was Carlotta Guzman Blanco, daughter of Antonio Guzman Blanco, who preceded Castro as president of Venezuela.

The Duke is one of the most prominent men in Paris, social life. His father was the famed Duke of Morny, who made it possible for Napoleon III. to become emperor of France. For this Napoleon loaded the Duke's father with wealth in jewels and land and gave him one of the highest positions within the gift of an emperor.

It was rumored some time ago that there was to be a divorce, and that the Duke had designs on a wealthy young American heiress. Nothing came of the report, however.

Their friends argue that divorce will be impossible, because they are both devout Catholics.

W. K. VANDERBILT RECOVERED HIS PIN

The following story of a recent adventure at a fashionable seaside resort in France, of which W. K. Vanderbilt is said to be the hero, is going the rounds of Paris, and has even found its way into print.

Mr. Vanderbilt is stated, while spending an hour or two at the Casino, suddenly discovered that his scarfpin, containing an $5,000 pearl, had disappeared. Greatly annoyed, he immediately informed a detective employed to watch the gaming rooms, and offered a liberal reward, of the jewel, to which he attached great value as a souvenir, was restored to him.

Promising to do his best, the detective disappeared. Ten minutes later he returned with a well-groomed man in evening dress, who politely begged Mr. Vanderbilt to follow him.

When both were screened from view behind a clump of foliage, the man took from his pocket a handful of valuables and scarfpins, and held them out to Mr. Vanderbilt, saying quietly:

"I'm sorry to say I'm not quite certain which is yours. However, here are my pins for this evening. Perhaps you will choose yours from them."

Mr. Vanderbilt, rather nonplussed, at once picked out his pin, handing over in exchange the promised reward to the "finder," who, after this courteously departed into the night.

Bells and Steeple.

The church spire at Shalfleet, Isle of Wight, England, is now being pulled down. There is a curious couplet relating to this spire, which runs: "The Shalfleet poor and silly people sold their bells to build a steeple." And the local tradition is that about a century ago, when the building of steeples was the fashion, the parishioners sold the bell of the tower hung in the fine old square Norman tower to the inmates of a French monastery and with the money thus obtained erected a steeple on the top of the tower. The erection has been an eyesore to archaeologists ever since, and much has been written deprecating its existence, but the parishioners have been satisfied with their steeple until just recently, when it was discovered that it was in a very dangerous state, and its weight was seriously damaging the old tower beneath. It has therefore been decided to pull down the structure, and an urgent appeal is being made for funds to remove it and to renovate the ancient tower.

Montevideo to Be Fine Port.

Montevideo, chief port of Uruguay, which ranks seventh in the ports of the world in total tonnage of vessels entering and clearing, is to be one of the finest ports in the world when improvements which have been decided on are carried out. The government will spend $30,000,000 in the next eight years in making the harbor deep enough for all vessels, and in order that the keen competition with Buenos Aires may be kept up.

GOLD IN VALDEZ.

Thousands of gold seekers who joined in the mad rush to the Klondike hurried over ground containing that very treasure which they expected to find at the end of their journey. Many of these gold seekers, indeed, must have passed in sight of the quartz vein near the Valdez glacier which 12 years later was developed into what is now known as the Cliff mine. This vein has averaged about 120 tons, mostly in free gold, with little change in depth, the concentrates running about 7 per cent and carrying about $100 worth of gold to the ton, according to a report of the United States geological survey. This is probably a fair measure of the gold content of the ores of the district, though many property owners report contents ranging from $75 to $200, or even higher.

The Cliff mine became productive in 1910 and proved to be very profitable. Its success greatly stimulated prospecting by local miners and also attracted the attention of nonresidents, who quickly recognized the possibility of developing here a new mining district. As a result, several hundred lode claims were staked and considerable development work was undertaken in 1910 and 1911.

At this time Alfred H. Brooks, geologist in charge of the Alaskan work of the United States geological survey, visited the region and made an examination of its possibilities, and his report, just issued by the survey, shows that the most encouraging feature of the district is the fact that one lode has been profitably mined to a depth of about 400 feet and for about 500 feet along the strike. So far as can be seen, he states, there are no geologic conditions at the Cliff mine which are not found elsewhere in the region.

CAGE MASTS' VALUE PROVED.

Far from pronouncing the doom of the cage mast of the American battleships, the recent firing tests in Chesapeake Bay are regarded by naval officers as demonstrating most conclusively the efficiency of the cage mast.

Sixteen 12-inch explosive shells were fired at the experimental cage mast erected on the bulk of the San Marcos, formerly the battleship Texas, which lies on the shoals of Tangier Sound, Chesapeake Bay. Of these thirteen were fair and square hits, and the last hit toppled the mast into the water, while this heavy fire, concentrated upon the mast at close range, resulted after thirteen hits in the destruction of the mast. Naval officers assert that in the first place the masts of a ship in action would never under any imaginable circumstances, be subjected to such a fire in the second place, it is declared, two or three well-directed shots at one of the old-time cylindrical masts would be sufficient to bring it down. Therefore the recent tests prove conclusively that the cage mast can withstand at least six or seven times the firing that the old mast can endure.

The cage mast originated with the American navy, though other navies are beginning to adopt it.

SIZE OF PATTERNS INCREASE.

A Washington department store manager has estimated that the increase in the size of patterns for stockings for American girls this season will add $300,000 to the hosiery manufacturers' coffers. Mrs. A. A. Birney, president of the local organization of the Mothers' congress, says that the additional expense is for the good of the race.

Mrs. Birney agrees with the Russian Countess Czarine to the effect that Washington girls are too slender, but adds that they are improving. The feet of the Washington girl are getting bigger, she said today.

"Bigger feet and stronger, harder muscles are at last coming to our girls," she declared. "Such strong athletic girls speak well for the future of the race. New York is making the same sort of progress. I wish other parts of the country were blessed with such girls as Washington and New York has."

PROVED TO BE TRUE?

The story that comes from the south that there are people there that do not know the war is over has been proved to be true—proved by the treasury department. A Louisville Ky. woman sent in a dollar bill the other day with the following letter:

"I have had this bill for some time but I have neglected to have it redeemed. In the meantime, however, I have acquired two little girls, and a dollar looks much bigger than it used to look. As its buying power seems to be steadily decreasing, I send it to you while it is still worth 30 cents."

The treasury department immediately forwarded to her a perfectly good brand-new dollar bill, and informed her that it would get her exactly 100 cents' worth of goods any where she wanted to present it. This sounds fishy; but it is the honest truth.

One Thing Certain.

An amusing story is related of Lady Roberts, who was once visiting the hospitals at the base of military operations in India. So pleased was she with the untiring labor of the nurses and their devotion to the sick that she said to the officer-in-attendance: "I really think that the sisters deserve a medal for this campaign as much as anyone, and I hope they will get one." "Well, I don't know about medals," said a gallant colonel standing by, "but they are sure to all events to get plenty of claps."

TONIGHT DALLAS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA WICHITA OPERA HOUSE

Good Fellows Everywhere.
In the December American Magazine appears an account of a campaign carried on last Christmas in Chicago which resulted in Christmas presents for twenty thousand children who otherwise would not have been remembered. Twelve thousand men were in the street with bundles December 24th and 25th in response to the following letter which was published on the front page of the Chicago Tribune:
"To the Good Fellows of Chicago:
"Last Christmas and New Year's eve you and I went out for a good time and spent from ten to two hundred dollars. Last Christmas morning over five thousand children awoke to an empty stocking—the bitter pain of disappointment that Santa Claus had forgotten them. Perhaps it wasn't our fault. We had provided for our own, but they seemed far off, and we didn't know where to find them. Perhaps in the hundred and one things we had to do some of us didn't think of that heart secking of the child over the empty stocking. Now, old man, here's a chance.

I have tried it for the last five years. Just send your name and address to the Tribune—address Santa Claus—state about how many children you are willing to protect against grief over that empty stocking, enclose a two-cent stamp, and you will be furnished with the names, addresses, sex and age of that many children. It is then up to you. You do the rest. Select your own present, spend fifty cents or fifty dollars, and send or take your gifts to those children on Christmas eve. You spend not a cent more than you want to pay—every cent goes just where you want it to go. Neither you nor I get anything out of this except the feeling that you have saved some child from sorrow on Christmas morning. If that is not enough for you, then you have wasted time in reading this—it is not intended for you, but for the good fellows of Chicago.
"Perhaps a twenty-five cent doll or a ten-cent tin toy wouldn't mean much to the children you know, but to the child who would find them in the otherwise empty stocking they mean much—the difference between utter disappointment and the joy that Santa Claus did not forget them. Here is where you and I come in. The charitable organizations attend to the bread and meat, the clothes, the necessities. You and the rest of the good fellows furnish the toys, the nuts, the candles, the child's real Christmas.

"GOOD FELLOW."

CALLING WILD BIRDS

Imitation That is Not at All Hard to Achieve

Given a Musical Ear With a Little Study the Substitute Will Be an Easy Matter—Naturalness First Requisite.

In order to call birds with much success, a good musical ear is certainly needed; but any one with patience can lure birds near or bring from them an answer merely by whistling an imitation of their notes. The observer can call numbers of birds to him by sucking his finger or the back of his hand. The sound produced is like that made by a young bird in distress. No other sound will so speedily attract birds, and their response is a touching evidence of the natural affections that they possess.
Although this is the best way to bring many birds near, and bring them with dispatch, it has serious drawbacks. Those that come are likely to be fearful and excited, their voices are querulous and their bearing unattractive. Therefore, the experience is not nearly so satisfying or instructive as that of luring a single bird through the powers of attraction and charm, rather than through rousing curiosity and fear.
Move quietly and try to put yourself in the bird's place. This act of mind will soften and mellow your whistle, and it will give you a much better chance of success. Perhaps its first answer will be a half-amused, half-annoyed note of surprise that any bird should whistle so strongly.
When a bird is sighted or is thought to be within call give your first whistle gently, and give them to yourself, in order to make sure that you are on the right key. And as far as possible avoid the appearance of being a lurker or an object of suspicion. Act naturally.
The song of a bird cannot really be well imitated, even by experts, but with a little listening and practice the amateur can whistle the different calls. This innocent, instructive, and diverting pastime proves a great delight to those who love the woods and fields and the wild things that live in them.

"Beauty" Treatment Failed.
Because she had a "sweet sixteen" cheek on one side of her face and a much wrinkled and faded "past fifty" cheek on the other a woman in Lyons, France, secured $5,000 damages from a beauty doctor much patronized in that city. She alleged disfigurement, and the judge agreed that her face did look very much like a walking certificate of feminine deceit. The doctor advertised in the newspapers that he could restore the beauty of youth by grafting—lifting the skin and sewing it again to the forehead under the hair. Madame Berthe Peully thought she would like to be a young girl again. She has buried two husbands and is now looking for No. 3. The beauty doctor operated. His method succeeded beautifully on the right cheek. The left one, however, refused to succumb to the treatment—a most provoking rebellion. "Have patience," pleaded the doctor, "we will yet succeed. See, Madame, the loveliness, the delicate youth of your right cheek!" The lady, however, could only see the faded accusativeness of the left side of her face. Indignant, ashamed, she sought her lawyer, who took the case into court, and won.

His Lordship's Beard.
A certain peer, an important figure in the Upper Chamber by reason of a very long and very bushy beard, had dismissed his valet for the night. Shortly afterwards, however, he was much annoyed to hear peals of laughter from below, and called back the man to explain. The valet answered that it was just a little joke, but his lordship would have none of it, and demanded the details angrily.
"Well," admitted the man, with reluctance, "it was really a little game we were playing, my lord."
"What game?"
"Well, my lord, a kind of guessing game."
"Don't be a fool, Walters! I rang for you in order to get an explanation. What guessing game were you playing? Guessing what?"
"We blindfolded the cook, to tell you the truth, my lord, and then one of us kissed her, and she had to guess who it was. The footman held the mop up, and she kissed it, and then cried out, 'Oh, your lordship; how dare you!'"—London Mail.

Had the Last Smile.
A lady, having left her umbrella in a tram car, applied for it at the office.
"Oh, you ladies, you ladies!" said the official in charge, as he brought about 30 umbrellas for her inspection; "you are so terribly forgetful."
The lady smiled as she calmly pointed out to him that, with the exception of three, they were all gentlemen's umbrellas.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

THE FIRST MONEY COINED FOR AMERICA. By A. W. MACY. The earliest coinage of money for America is said to have been made for Virginia in 1612. The London Company had been formed for the purpose of pushing colonization work in Virginia, and in 1609 Sir George Somers, an active promoter of the company, set out with an expedition. His vessels encountered a violent storm and were wrecked on the coast of one of the Bermuda Islands. Somers took possession of the islands in the name of Great Britain. He was forced to remain there ten months, but finally reached Virginia. The Bermudas, often since then called Somers Islands, were largely colonized by people from Virginia, and the relations between the two became intimate. This accounts for Virginia's first coins being made there. They were of brass, and on one side was represented a ship under full sail, firing a gun. On the other side were the words, "Somers Islands" and the figure of a burg. "In memory," as an old-time writer quaintly says, "of the abundance of hogs which the English found on their first landing." (Copyright, 1911, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

BUGSCUFFLE BUDGET

Editor Daily Times:

Since writing my last letter to your paper we have had some stirring events in this little but fast growing town. First of all, Tad Semble, our constable, discovered that some of our new comers were bringing whiskey from the Falls into Bugscuffle and selling it to some others who also are recently here. Fact is, this new crowd is not turning out just as we hoped. We were glad to have them here in order to increase our population and create more business, but we learn that there is such a thing as "saving at the expense of losing at the bung." Dollars and cents can never be put over against the sobriety and morality of our children.

It is a great thing to have factories and other institutions that bring people to live among us—unless, indeed, those people are likely to corrupt and degrade our people. We noticed early after our new set came in, that there was no increase in either our Sunday school or in the attendance upon our church services. On the other hand, some of our young people whose lives were clean and pure, began to talk about "Puritanism" and "Personal Liberty," and saying that to get drunk and kill people was not so bad after all. They said those new comers had talked these things to them; that they were in sympathy with the murderers of President McKinley, and with the man who shot Mr. Roosevelt.

They organized the first week they were here, a McNamara Club, and made speeches against the established order of things. They got, for that occasion, a keg of beer and some whiskey from the Falls, and as they drank they warmed up to their work, and one or two expressed themselves as opposed to those who had property, saying that all such people ought to be compelled to divide up, and if they refused to do so they should be blown up. They said they were against the church, the State and everything, and everybody that put any restraint upon them in any way. One of them whose name was Bitelvitich Macoroky, said he was in favor of killing old Bro. Bugle, burning down our church and forcing old Squire Yukes to give every member of that club a new suit of clothes.

All this was common talk for some time. But no one paid much attention to it, until two or three of our young people began to echo those barbarous sentiments, and then the more thoughtful sat up and began to take notice. One young man who used to be a member of the young men's Bible class, and was regarded as one of the finest characters in the town, got tangled up with these people, attended the meetings of their clubs, began to drink with them, and is now talking infidelity and anarch boldly on the streets. His chief associate now is Sime Stiggins, a poor degraded wretch, whom the whole town had been trying to keep away from liquor, not only for his own sake, but for the sake of his good wife and three little children. Since these new people have come here he has been almost constantly drunk but no one knew where he got the booze until the matter was discovered by Tad Semble. Now Tad, while he is not the smartest man in the world, is honest and abides by his oath of office. He is no grafter. Law breakers can not bribe him. And he says that the law can be enforced anywhere if the officers will stand by their solemn oaths to do their duty. He remarked the day he arrested those boot leggers that when the tough element in a town ran riot over the law, it was a sure sign to him that some officer was getting a shake-off. Tad's as brave as Julius Caesar.

Another matter which has stirred up our people a good deal is the selection of a new postmaster. There are several applicants for the place and nearly all of them are good men and it is embarrassing to the citizens—this signing of petitions for any one of them. Old Squire Yukes has been postmaster for a long time, and everybody likes him; but as Col. Jawsmith says, "the troughs ought to be cleaned out." He thinks that there should be a change all round Squire Yukes says he is willing to step down and out whenever the powers at the Hub say so. He was a Bull Moose during the last campaign and is a great admirer of Mr. Wilson. He remarked yesterday that it did not matter who got the place of postmaster at Bugscuffle, all would be well so long as we had good people for our citizens. Everybody likes the old Squire; and if a republican was to be our postmaster, and the people had their choice, he would stay in office for life.

Among the most prominent applicants for the office here, is Trav Sikes, editor of the Weekly Bug. Trav claims to be the original Wilson man in all this country, and during the late campaign he fought for the Doctor with all his might and main. Old man Bunker came out as a rival of Trav early in the game, and it is thought by some that it will be really a race between those two. Bunker is a personal friend of both our United States Senators, and when Morris Shepherd spoke at the Falls on a recent night, Mr. Bunker occupied a front seat.

Col. Jim says he will sign no petition for any one, as all are his friends and he wishes that state of things to remain. Col. Jim is a pretty long headed old duck, and is the most popular man in the town. Not that Col. Jawsmith has no convictions or that he is afraid to assert them. Not at all. Whenever there is a principle involved, the Colonel is always there with the goods. When Tad Semble went after those boot legging anarchists, the Colonel stood by him and urged him to do his duty like a man. He declared that a man who would break one law would break another; and as we had no king in this country but law, and that law was our only protection as free American citizens, the man who winked at the violation of any law weakened the only power that gave permanency and stability to our government. The law breaker was simply stabbing the guard the government had placed about his own premises. No, Col. Jim is for law and order; but in the matter as to who gets the postoffice, he is on the fence. Old Bro. Bugle is the same way. When asked to sign a petition for one of the candidates, he remarked that he was a pastor and spiritual advisor for all the people, he ought not to take sides. Every one seems to think that the preacher did right. Dr. Pellet came very nearly getting into it. He signed Trav Sikes' paper and when Rosh Casey, Mr. Bunker, Tick Blevins and old man Wunk—all the other aspirants—found it out, they went for the doctor in great shape. Two or three of them threatened to get a new doctor in here and cut down Dr. Pellet's practice. Tick Blevins went so far as to say that Pellet was a quack; but when it was learned that Tick owed the doctor for three years' practice, and had refused to pay him again and again, common justice said that Blevins was an ingrate and a fool.

Old Bro. Bugle called no names, but last Sunday he said in the course of his morning sermon that the man who refused to pay an honest debt was a thief. Several looked at Trick. But there was no kick coming to Blevins for as the preacher said, "the wounded bird always flutters." So Trick had to be quiet in self-defense. Old Bro. Bugle is no Solomon—there are plenty of men who can beat him preaching—but he is as kind as he can be, and is true to the right every time his number is called. Col. Jim says he never knew a man he liked better, but he does wish the old man would keep his coat collar brushed up better.

Our oil company is booming. The well brought in on old man Seets' place is putting out nearly forty gallons a day. All the land in five miles of the well has been leased. The following local items from the Weekly Bug will serve to show something of how the wheels of progress revolve as well as some other things are turning round in this part of the country:

Old man Seets' mare came nearly ying one day last week. Old Dr. loofmaster, our veterinary surgeon, gave her two gallons of Epsom salts and a gallon of castor oil. Seeing he had overdone the matter, he was along out there yesterday with a gallon of lard. The old doctor believes that if a little is good, more is better.

It is given out that Miss Ellen Casey and Bill Beller are to be made one in the near future. Miss Ellen is waiting for her eye to come from Dallas. The one sent last week was of the wrong color. Miss Casey's eye is blue, and the one she ordered—the one that was sent, at my rate—was black. Some of her friends wanted her to keep the eye; she said she looked cute. Well, she certainly did look—with one of her eyes. (Joke).

The entertainment given by the Bugscuffle band last Friday evening was a great success. Slob Stiggins, who plays the leading fiddle, didn't have but two strings to his instrument and some notes he was necessarily compelled to leave out, but he got in his work on almost every one. The bass fiddle had been for several months lying up in the loft of old man Yukes' barn, and when taking it down for use in the entertainment it was noticed for the first time that one end of it had been knocked out. It being too late to remedy this trouble in the proper way, Dutch Bunker stuck an old straw hat in the hole, then the thing went along very well. The richest thing in the whole repertoire was a beautiful, original melody, composed by Miss Tibby Tutt, entitled "Kiss Me Willie I Chew My Gum." This she sang with accordion accompaniment to the delight of all.

What Makes a Strong Bank?

In judging a bank, always remember that it is Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits that give security to the depositor, because that money is what stands between you as a depositor and any possible shrinkage in the securities held by the bank.

Few Banks in the country have a larger margin of safety than THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, which, with the watchful interest of a very capable and conservative board of directors and the constant inspection of the Comptroller of the Currency, has built up here one of the greatest financial institutions in the country, one whose

BOY THIEF ESCAPES JAIL

Lad, 14, Whose Thefts Amounted to Many Thousands of Dollars, Slips From N. Y. Juvenile Asylum.

New York.—It became known in Brooklyn that for the second time since his incarceration in the New York juvenile asylum at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., Raymond Beck, the notorious fourteen-year-old boy burglar, has escaped. The police have sent out a general alarm for him.

Beck pleaded guilty to several burglaries in the children's court last November, and the police stated at the time that they suspected him of having had a hand in nearly a hundred others.

Beck escaped from the juvenile asylum in March by sliding down a rope made of bed sheets. He tried to reach his home in a taxicab, but was caught at Yonkers, after the chauffeur had tipped off the police.

Beck, in his confession, made after his arrest, said that he had committed so many burglaries that he had lost count of them. Several thousand dollars' worth of loot was recovered.

Beck has fair hair, blue eyes and rosy cheeks, and looks anything but tough. He seemed to take Judge Ryan's talk much to heart and if he gets a proper show may redeem himself.

TWO LIVED AFTER HANGING

French Woman, Suspended Three Days, Afterward Was Resuscitated.

London.—There are many curious cases of resuscitation after hanging; for instance, that of Mme. de Falham, who, in 1764, having been condemned to death for harboring thieves, was left hanging on the gallows from a o'clock Monday morning until sunrise Thursday, but revived on being taken down. Henry III. granted her a pardon.

Another instance of the kind occurred at Oxford in 1650, when Anna Green, a servant girl, hanged for child murder, revived when handed over to the doctors for dissection.

Eager inquiries were made of her as to her sensations after suspension, says the London Chronicle, but she remembered nothing, saying that her revival was like awakening from a deep sleep.

Princeton, N. Of this number six men came to college with no funds at all, while nearly 50 reported at the opening of the term with less than $200 in sight.

NOT CAST FOR FISH

Game Warden Had the Line, but Little Else.

Smiled When Caught With Two Lines Out, Which He Knew Was Contrary to the Law, and He Laughed Last.

Zeb Jenkins came in sight and was walking pretty rapidly for him. Getting within halting distance he called out:

"I jest see the funnest thing you ever see?"

"What was it?" I asked when he got a little closer.

He was so full of laugh and so out of breath through his unwonted exertions that he was entirely unable to say anything at first. But presently he began: "I been down to the lake all the mornin' trollin' fer pickrel Joe Bridges was out in a boat-kind of luzzin' round fishin'. I passed him onced and noticed he had two lines out."

"Better look out, I says. You're bustin' the law. You hain't up right to fish with more'n one line. The game warden's liable to show up any time."

"O, pshaw! he says. I ain't 'fraid o' no game warden; specially no such poor excuse as Bob Dawson."

"All right, I says. Ef he gits you, jest remember I warned you."

"I rowed across to that deep place over near the other side. The fish got to bitin' purty good, and I forgot all about Joe and his two lines. The sun was hotter 'n it began to make me sleepy. By and by I heard a shout: 'Hey, you, come in to shore! I want to see you.' I looked around, and it was the game warden, standin' on a shore lookin' mighty important and yellin' to Joe. Joe looked up in a leisurely kind of way and says:

"What do you want?"

"You're arrested—that's what I want!"

"All right, says Joe: 'come and git me.'"

"By thunder, I will!" says the warden.

"He goes and gits a boat and starts out toward whar Joe is. I kind o' moved over that way to watch proceedings. Joe set still and kep' on fishin'. When the warden got close to Joe he yells out: 'Now, you come along here! you're violatin' the statoots and I've caught you red-handed.' Joe didn't move, so he says ag'in: 'Come here!'"

"No, sir, says Joe. 'I don't move an inch. Ef you want me so gosh-darned bad, you'll hev to tow me ashore.'"

"Well, they didn't seem to be nothin' else to do, so the warden hitches a rope to Joe's boat and begins to row him toward land. Did you ever tow a boat single-handed? Well, then you know it ain't no easy job, specially in the hot sun. The warden keeps rowin' and sweatin', and Joe sets back in his boat calm and serene like the Gatoobar of Broodah, both lines trallin' behind. Finally they gits to shore, and the warden says: 'Now, plis get out o' there.'"

"Joe steps out and stands on shore, and the warden jumps into Joe's boat and pulls in one line. Well, they ain't nothin' on it. He throws it into the boat and starts to pull in the other one."

"Something on this!" he says. With that he gives a yank and pulls in—what do you s'pose? Three bottles o' beer! Ha! Ha! I be'n laughin' ever sence. Never see any one look so dumfounded. Well, s'long! I got it git along and tell all the boys 'fore the warden gits up here."—Puck.

Tough on the Old Man.

The occasion was a choice little tea party on the lawn and the hostess (as beaming and busy among her guests.

"Yes," she remarked, "my little girl is very clever. She can imitate almost anyone."

"She can, my dear," echoed the host delightfully. "Come, Alice, show what you can do. Pretend to be the housemaid."

The little girl, eagerly enough, came forward and bowed to one of the guests.

"Will you take some more tea, madam?" she asked politely. Then she turned to another guest.

"May I move your chair, madam? The sunlight is very strong."

At this the guests were exceedingly interested and asked for more.

"Imitate your papa, dear," said one. Backing away from her father Alice exclaimed in a terrified tone: "Sir, let me go! Don't touch me, sir! Give you a kiss, indeed! Supposing the misauis was to hear you?" Then the clever little darling was waffled away suddenly.

In the Window Glass World

From the Pittsburg Glasswork—News and Comment of the Trade.

The large 12 ring tank at the Imperial Glass Co.'s factory, Bellairs, O., will be all probably be ready to make glass by next Monday.

Supt. F. C. Newman of the South Jersey Glass Works, Swedesboro, N. J., has started to rebuild the glass factory at that place which was destroyed by fire on Sept 27. The new structure will be of steel, much larger than the old plant and will be modern in every respect. Resumption will be made at the beginning of the year.

A notice was posted in the Marion Flint Glass Co.'s factory, Marion, Ind., last Monday to the effect that beginning Jan. 1, 1913, the plant will be placed in full operation, which means that the remaining tank at that factory will be placed in blast.

At the Indiana Glass Co.'s plant, Duakirk, Ind., all three tanks are in full operation, 54 shops being employed steadily with enough orders on the books to keep the force busy until the holidays.

The new department is in operation at the Haskins Glass Co.'s works, Martins Ferry, O. Business prospects at this plant is said to be rosate.

No. 2 furnace at the Westlake Machine Co.'s plant, Sandusky, O., is hearing completion. It will be but a few days until electric bulbs will be made by this machine process.

The third shift has been working for two weeks at the Montgomery Glass Co.'s plant, Bridgeton, N. J., with satisfactory results.

It is reported that Stage Bros. are building an addition to their cut-glass factory at Lawrence, Pa.

The furnace erected at the Eastern plant, Cumberland, Md., has been completed and is now ready to begin operations. Ware for pharmaceutical purposes will be manufactured.

Everything is moving along nicely at the Wilcox Bottle Co.'s plant, Wilcox, Pa. The second shift is now going and with the exception of a the three shift syste mand are turning out a heavy production of milk bottles.

Our Chamber of Commerce for several weeks has been trying to introduce a peanut roaster to become a permanent citizen of our town. The effort has finally been crowned with success. A man from Dallas by the name of Skidus landed his machine here a few days ago and the whole town turned out to see it. But Bugscuffle being shy on roasters it was impossible to get the roaster to its full capacity as the only peanuts that could be found in town consisted of about half a stocking, which old Mrs. Setts brought in from the farm. However, all are enthusiastic and we believe that this roaster will help along the suggestions that the bug has made—from time to time concerning the diversification of crops.

The man who threw that dead cat through our office window last Friday night while we were at the entertainment will, if found, be arrested and prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Just as we go to press we chronicle the sad fact that four men have just passed our door, carrying Sime Stiggins on a stretcher. He was blind drunk and had lost both his shoes. Poor Mrs. Stiggins!

Yours truly, JOSH BAGGS.

Not Necessary to Stop Eating to be Cured

It is not necessary for stomach sufferers to stop eating the things they enjoy and take up a light diet which will scarcely nourish the body. PROSPERITY has arrived, the news boys have more money than the bankers had a year ago. Beggars turn down any thing less than the price of a ten course feed at the most raz-ma-taz eat foundry in the ballwick, and the goose is hanging far above all previous altitudinal records, in fact to say we are going some in Wichita Falls does not any more measure our commercial velocity than a snow flake quenches a prairie fire. And our own Woodrow Wilson is now chief pedagogue to the likeliest looking class he has ever had and here's hoping he don't go nosing into the plans of some of the big boys and start a panic. We wish to call your attention to the reading of a portion of our business gospel which listens like this: "The only difference in a rut and grave is the length."
