RUSSIA AND AUSTRIA PLACING THEIR ARMIES ON WAR FOOTING

Warlike Preparations of Rivals in The Near East Continue With Great Vigor and Mighty Clash Is Feared by Diplomats

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 23.—Interest in the war situation shifted from the belligerents, whose delegates are preparing to meet with an apparent sincere desire to work out terms for a truce, to the great neighboring powers, Austria and Russia.

These great rivals are strengthening their border forces at an hour when the statesmen of all powers are spreading broadcast assurance that their only policy is to subordinate rivalry to the common welfare of Europe and the world in the cause of peace.

No threatening factor in the situation is known which has not existed since the beginning of the war; unless it is the near approach of the Serbian army to the Adriatic sea, and the steps toward mobilization may mean nothing more than mutual distrust.

When the crisis over Bosnia and Herzegovina arose, both Russia and Austria came nearer to a war footing than they seem now, yet the war cloud drifted away.

Reports of the Russian mobilization to the Reich-Post, organ of the heir to the throne, specify that all the military movements on the frontier are made with a view to adopting a war footing and that preparations in Russian Poland include the dispatch of an enormous number of trains with troops and munitions toward the Austrian line.

Three Berlin papers purport to have information of Austrian preparations, including mobilization of three armies on the Russian frontier and reinforcements for Bosnia, while from Prague an account is telegraphed of German military activities.

Such warlike preparations, coupled with the visit of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, crown-prince of Austria-Hungary to the German emperor, and the conference with the Austrian chief of staff naturally excite great curiosity. The additional announcement that Austria has muzzled correspondents by a rigid censorship of the press, add fuel to the flames, but this may mean that instead of concealing the facts, the government proposes to choke off sensational messages capable of working harm.

However, the European situation appears critical at the present time. The allies are willing to grant Turkey another concession in the matter of Adrianople. Although insisting upon the surrender of the citadel, they will permit the Turks to retire with honors of war. The crucial difficulty, it is believed, will come afterward, when attempts to negotiate a treaty of peace are undertaken. Then satisfaction of the interest of the powers, and the division of the spoils among the allies will be critical factors.

The people of the Balkan states are not students of European diplomacy. They have gained immense confidence by the strength of their armies, and concessions to the greater nations which their statesmen may think necessary may kindle much trouble at home. The claims of Bulgaria and Greece over Salonica are already a cause of contention.

An historic feature of the war is the complete downfall of the Young Turk party, whose friends hailed its rise as a power which would lift Turkey to the plane of great European nations. Two hundred members of the party already have been arrested, and many of them sentenced on charges of high treason. Instead of reforming Abdul Hamid's army, the party is charged with the responsibility for its downfall. Beyond the matter of organization there seems to be the full story of grasping officers allied with corrupt contractors.

Turks Attempt Sortie at Adrianople.

By Associated Press.
Sofia, Nov. 23.—The besieged Turkish garrison of Adrianople attempted a general sortie yesterday afternoon, according to dispatches received here today. The troops, however, were thrown back into the fortress, after a battle which continued through the afternoon. They lost heavily. This is the first sortie of the kind by the entire garrison and it is supposed it was aimed to reprovise the town.

Body of Turkish General Found.

By Associated Press.
Belgrade, Nov. 23.—The body of General Soltan Pasha, formerly Turkish minister at Belgrade and who commanded the Sixth Turkish army corps at Monastir was found by the Servians among the corpses on the battle field. It is considered probable he committed suicide. He was buried with all honors due his rank.

German Reservists Ordered to Join Regiments.

By Associated Press.
Prague, Nov. 23.—The reserves of five German army corps numbering 130,000 men have been ordered to join their regiments according to the Czech Slovo.

Censorship at Vienna.

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 23.—A news agency dispatch from Vienna says a censorship has been established on all telegraphic and telephonic communication from Austria-Hungary to foreign countries since early this morning.

Have Lessened Demands.

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 23.—The Balkan allies are understood to have waived their demand for the evacuation by the Turks of the line of Tchatalja, and are willing that the garrison of Adrianople should march out with the honors of war, according to the Pall Mall Gazette. They insist, however, on the surrender of the fortress of Adrianople itself.

The Porte demands that Adrianople remain invested, pending the armistice.

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT A. F. OF L.

By Associated Press.
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Samuel Gompers was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor this afternoon over Max Hays of the International Typographical Union. The vote was: Gompers 11,974; Hays, 5,074.

It was the first time in ten years that there has been opposition to Mr. Gompers who has been re-elected annually since 1905. All other officers were re-elected.

The convention defeated the United Mine Workers' resolution calling for further elections by referendum vote of the Federation's two million members. Seattle, Washington, was chosen as the 1913 meeting place.

On account of a freight derailment at Goodlet, southbound passenger No. 8 on the Fort Worth & Denver was held at Childress several hours last night and is not expected to reach here before eight o'clock this morning. No one was hurt in the derailment.

MORE TESTIMONY RULED OUT BY JUDGE

Questions Asked by Defense Attorneys With Jury Absent to Make Up the Record

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 23.—With the jury locked up most of the morning, Judge Swaine today continued to rule out testimony which the defense claimed would prove the conspiracy in which Captain Boyce was alleged to be implicated in connection with the elopement of Al Boyce and Mrs. Sneed. The jury was not allowed to hear the testimony the defense offered.

As fast as attorneys McLean and Cone Johnson would read a telegram and state what the defense expected to prove by it, Senator Hanger of the prosecution would object and would be sustained. The defense excepted in every instance.

It was for the alleged conspiracy and because of alleged vulgar and insulting remarks about Mrs. Sneed that John Beal Sneed killed Captain Boyce, according to the contention of the defense.

Letters and telegrams that were admitted as testimony in the first trial were excluded Saturday. By some of them, the defense expected to prove that Captain Boyce conspired to take Sneed's children away from them and send them to Canada to join their mother, who had eloped with Al Boyce Jr.

The prosecution objected to all this evidence on the ground that it would implicate J. Henry Boyce, son of Captain Boyce and that he was not concerned in the killing of Captain Boyce.

There was no afternoon session of the court.

CECILIA FARLEY WAS ACQUITTED

Jury Finds Columbus, Ohio, Stenographer Not Guilty of Murder

By Associated Press.
Columbus, O., Nov. 23.—Cecilia Farley, the pretty state house stenographer who for two weeks has been on trial for first degree murder for shooting Alvin E. Zollinger, was acquitted today after the jury had been out for three and a half hours.

After the announcement of the verdict Miss Farley said she and Jerome Quigley, the hotel clerk who figured in the case, would be married at once. As soon as the verdict was reached, Miss Farley shook hands with each of the jurors.

The large crowd in the court room greeted the verdict with approval.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Evans instructed them to disregard the "unwritten law" in bringing in a verdict. Prosecutor Turner flashed his plea conviction after asking the jurors not to let the fact that the defendant is a pretty woman warp their judgment.

"Don't put a premium on murder," Turner continued. "If we can tell our fallen women that when they get tired of one lover they can shoot him and secure another, things have come to a sad state."

The prosecutor charged that Miss Farley had not told the truth in testifying on the witness stand. He declared she had "pulled the wool over the eyes of a jury" in a slander suit, and asked the jurors not to let it happen in the present case. Prosecutor Turner referred to Miss Farley as a "tugress."

WAR DEPARTMENT REFUSES DEMAND

Soldiers Who Engaged in Dance Hall Row Will Be Tried by Court Martial

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—The War Department has decided to sustain the post-commander of Fort Clark, Texas, in refusing to grant the demand of Governor Colquitt of Texas, made November 16, for ten United States soldiers who engaged in a dance hall row at Brackenville, November 9. The row resulted in the killing of a Mexican and the wounding of two civilians. The local authorities were slow in attempting to arrest the men, and the military commander began a court martial which will now proceed.

Nelson Fell Nine Stories and Broke His Little Finger

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Nov. 23.—Grover Nelson, structural iron workers employer on a building in the course of construction plumed nine stories through an elevator shaft last night and beside a severe shaking up and a broken little finger, is none the worse for his experience today.

The members of the Civic League are hereby notified of a meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Collier Monday afternoon at 4:30.

TEXAS FAVORED BY SUFFRAGISTS

DELEGATES AT NATIONAL CONVENTION WANT NEXT MEETING IN LONE STAR STATE

MISS ADDAMS IS VICTOR

As Result Members of Association May Take Part in Partisan Politics Anywhere

By Associated Press.
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 23.—Officers of the National American Women's Suffrage Association can take part in partisan politics in any State if they want to. After a spirited debate at today's session of the convention, an amendment prohibiting such participation was overwhelmingly defeated.

Up to the time Miss Jane Adams seconded the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt in the Progressive convention at Chicago, it had been the unwritten rule of the association that officers should hold aloof from partisan politics except in States where women had the right to vote. The proposed amendment, it was declared, was aimed at Miss Adams, and she accepted the challenge and fought the proposition with vigor.

The entire afternoon session of the convention was taken up with reports of auxiliary committees, and a lively discussion as to whether the action of Alice Stone Blackwell, editor of the Woman's Journal, in discontinuing the contract of that publication as the official organ of the convention was justified. Matters as to the control of the policy of the Journal, as well as the amount of money due it from the association, were given "as the cause of its discontinuance. The result of the session was that Miss Blackwell received a vote of commendation by the convention.

A noon mass meeting in Independence Square was one of today's features of the convention. Sentiment among the delegates as to the 1913 place of convention seems to be narrowing down to a Texas city, the preference as expressed by members being between Galveston and San Antonio. The authority of making the choice is in the executive board. Election of officers will take place Monday. Miss Jane Adams has been spoken of as the successor of Dr. Shaw, and it is common knowledge that Miss Shaw has endeavored to persuade the superintendent of Hull House to accept the place. Miss Adams has declined to allow her name to be presented.

Warren and Shepperd were released on $1000 bond. The offense charged in the indictment is alleged to have been committed in connection with the case of J. A. Wayland, owner of the Appeal to Reason, a Socialist newspaper published at Girard, Kansas, and J. I. Shepperd, Warren's attorney, were arrested here today by a deputy United States marshal.

The indictment charged "obstruction of justice by inducing witnesses to leave the country."

Attorneys for the other two men filed a demurrer in the case in the Federal court in Topeka yesterday. Judge Pollock took the case under advisement.

Debs, Warren and Shepperd were cited for contempt by the Federal court in Topeka, three months ago, on the same charge which led to today's arrests. They were discharged at that time by Judge Pollock. At the hearing of the contempt case, J. P. McDonough of Kansas, formerly a prisoner in the Leavenworth prison, was a government witness. He testified that the defendants had paid him $200 and not to testify in the misuse of the mails case.

The defendants admitted payment of the money but said it was to discharge a debt. The indictment charged misuse of mails, resulting from the publication of articles criticizing conditions in the Leavenworth penitentiary.

Debs Knew Indictment Was Pending.

By Associated Press.
Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 23.—Eugene V. Debs left Terre Haute for St. Louis late today. His brother, Theodore Debs, said they were advised a week ago by Fred Warren, editor of the "Appeal to Reason" that the indictments would be returned and Mr. Debs made arrangements to go as soon as he was needed.

ARREST MADE FOR ARKANSAS CRIME

Young Man, Member of Prominent Family, Held for Death of Young Girl

By Associated Press.
Harrison, Ark., Nov. 23.—As a sequel to the finding of the mutilated body of Miss Ella Barham, murdered Thursday afternoon while returning to her home near Zinc, Otis Davidson, member of a prominent family, has been arrested and placed in jail here by Sheriff John Helm. Davidson was arrested on a warrant sworn out by the dead girl's father.

The arrest was made about midnight at Davidson's home near Zinc. He made no resistance. Davidson is 29 years of age and a grandson of a former county judge. Little is known of the grounds for arrest. No statement has been made by Davidson. His preliminary trial is set for next Tuesday.

Miss Barham's body had been cut to pieces the head severed and the legs cut off. The body was also cut in two. An attempt had been made to conceal the remains.

Rebating Charged.

By Associated Press.
Pueblo, Colo., Nov. 23.—The Denver and Rio Grande railroad, and the Colorado and Southern railroad were indicted here today charged with granting rebates and with issuing of free transportation to influence interstate shipments.

The Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, Victor-American Fuel company, Portland Cement company, and United States Portland Cement company were indicted, charged with accepting rebates, and free transportation.

Eighteen indictments embracing forty counts were returned against the railroads and the companies.

STIRRING PLEA BY THE ACCUSED

ETTOR AND GIOVANETTE ASK DEATH SENTENCE FROM JURY IF IT BELIEVES THEM GUILTY

FROM PRISONER'S CAGE

Accused Lawrence Labor Leaders Deliver Two Most Remarkable Pleas

By Associated Press.
Salem, Mass., Nov. 23.—If you think us guilty of murdering our sister, give us death. History will record our ends. We will go to a higher judgement seat, and millions of workers will take up our flag of labor when we drop in the ditch.

That, in substance, was the closing sentence of two of the most remarkable pleas ever heard in the court room, when Joseph J. Ettor and Artor Giovanetti, leaders in the textile strike at Lawrence last winter, arose in the prisoners' cage today in the Essex county court to plead for themselves and their comrade, Joseph Caruso, accused of murdering Anna Lapicco, who fell in a strike riot last January.

Ettor, the labor leader, and Giovanetti, socialist writer, held the court room, crowded with sympathizers, spell-bound for an hour. District Attorney Atwill had just denounced both men. He had spoken the last word for the commonwealth, charging that the utterances of Ettor and Giovanetti to the Lawrence strikers were treasonable; that such as they were not needed in the commonwealth of Massachusetts to aid in the solution of its problems; that instead of being philanthropists and apostles of peace and workers for the betterment of humanity, they were a menace to free government, agents of mob rule, destroyers of the sovereignty of the State.

The defendants' lawyers informed Judge Quinn of the desire of the prisoners to speak. The judge announced that under the laws of Massachusetts they could speak to the jury, but he warned them not to discuss anything outside the bounds of evidence introduced in the case.

Ettor, half-rising in his seat, nodded assent, and in a clear bell-like voice, began to speak. Coolly he analyzed his case, declaring he had been tried not upon his acts, but according to his views. Once in his statement, he said:

"Perhaps his honor, the court, will not let me say what I am about to say. It is in line with what I have said about the cases of the mill owners planting dynamite in Lawrence and causing street car riots to discredit the strikers."

Upon being given permission by the court, Ettor declared with emphasis that his sister, Giovanetti's sister, Caruso's sister, had been killed as a result of a plot on the part of the mill owners to break the strike.

Ettor protested innocence of murder or inciting riot, for himself and his comrades. He urged that if the jury thought them guilty they should be given the death penalty, shut up in prison where they could not continue their work for the betterment of the working classes, and the ultimate attainment of their ideals—the condition where laborers would earn all the profits of their labor.

He pictured the cross, the gallows, and the "gallows," as unable, through all history to check righteous causes and ended with a plea for simple justice.

As Ettor sat down, scores of women were weeping and even men were in tears.

Giovanetti followed Ettor in something of the same vein. There was a hush over the court room as Giovanetti sat down. Then Judge Quinn, apologizing to the jurors, announced that he would be compelled to hold them further, as he could not deliver his charge in the case until Monday morning.

GIRL DIDN'T SET FIRE TO HOTEL

Her Belief That She Did So Was Imaginary Her Attorneys Declare

By Associated Press.
St. Louis, Nov. 23.—Barbara Gladys Arnold, who confessed that she started the fire in the Berlin hotel, in which three persons lost their lives, was released on a bond of $5,000 today when she appeared in court to answer an information charging delinquency. Attorneys representing the girl advised the court that the girl's belief that she started the fire was imaginary and that she probably is insane.

Ettor protested innocence of murder or inciting riot, for himself and his comrades. He urged that if the jury thought them guilty they should be given the death penalty, shut up in prison where they could not continue their work for the betterment of the working classes, and the ultimate attainment of their ideals—the condition where laborers would earn all the profits of their labor.

He pictured the cross, the gallows, and the "gallows," as unable, through all history to check righteous causes and ended with a plea for simple justice.

As Ettor sat down, scores of women were weeping and even men were in tears.

Giovanetti followed Ettor in something of the same vein. There was a hush over the court room as Giovanetti sat down. Then Judge Quinn, apologizing to the jurors, announced that he would be compelled to hold them further, as he could not deliver his charge in the case until Monday morning.

UNDERWOOD WILL GO TO WASHINGTON MONDAY

His Arrival at Capital Will Mark Opening of Democratic Activity in Congress

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Representative Oscar W. Underwood, Democratic leader of the House and chairman of the ways and means committee, is expected to reach Washington tomorrow. His arrival will mark the beginning of Democratic activity toward the winter's legislation and the reopening of the tariff question at the special session of Congress, to be called next spring.

No intimation has reached Congressmen now in Washington, as to Mr. Underwood's plans. The Democratic leader will be the biggest figure in several conferences next week. Other Democratic members of the ways and means committee are expected within a few days.

While the tariff is not to be considered at the approaching session, work has begun on the revision bills for the extra session that is to follow. Mr. Underwood is expected to endorse attitude of many Democratic leaders now here, regarding the coming short session, that nothing shall be undertaken except routine appropriation legislation and the perfection of measures now pending.

The Democratic leader has not yet signified his position as to the taking up of the currency, anti-trust, or other important questions of a general nature at the special session.

Underwood Postpones Start.

By Associated Press.
Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 23.—Congressman Oscar W. Underwood stated tonight that he will be unable to start to Washington until Monday. Mr. Underwood had expected to leave Birmingham, but an operation performed yesterday for a carbuncle made it necessary to postpone his departure for several days. The operation was not serious.

SESSION FULL OF EXCITEMENT

"DYNAMITERS" TRIAL AT INDIANAPOLIS FILLED WITH SENSATIONAL INCIDENTS

HOCKIN SENT TO JAIL

Woman Writer Denounced as Anarchist and Defense Reputates Act of Defendants

By Associated Press.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 23.—Imprisonment of Herbert Hockin, one of the defendants, in default of an increased bond, denouncement by the district attorney of a woman writer in the court room as an anarchist and a reputation by attorneys for the defense of some of the acts of the defendants, were among sensational incidents at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today.

Hockin, secretary and treasurer of the Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was taken to jail, unable to increase his $10,000 bond to $20,000, ordered by the court after a witness said he was in the employ of a detective "and was not to be trusted, day or night, by anyone."

Hockin is the successor of James J. McNamara, the dynamiter, and is regarded the principal defendant.

Miss Mary Field of New York, who was branded as an "anarchist, who ought to be excluded from the court room for certain articles she published or the trial in the Union Magazine."

All of the officials of the union on trial, including Frank Ryan, the president; J. B. Butler, vice president; M. J. Young, of Boston, and T. A. Cooley of New Orleans, were denounced for publishing what Judge Anderson said was "an outrageous contempt of court."

Judge Anderson stated that as it was Saturday night, he would be inclined to increase the bonds of the would-be defendants, although he would act on the motion at this time.

Attacks on District Attorney C. W. Miller and on the government prosecution of the "dynamite conspiracy" cases as published in the Iron Workers Union Magazine since the trial began were read by Mr. Miller to the jury today. The magazine is the official organ of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers of which most of the forty-five defendants are officials.

Judge Albert Anderson denounced as "a great contempt of court" an article which appeared in the Union Magazine, concerning the trial and signed by President Frank M. Ryan and other officials of the union. The court announced it would take under consideration the matter of increasing the bonds of other officials.

Hockin, secretary and treasurer of the Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was taken to jail, unable to increase his $10,000 bond to $20,000, ordered by the court after a witness said he was in the employ of a detective "and was not to be trusted, day or night, by anyone."

J. A. Rochester of the Metropolitan Cafe was the victim of a sneak thief one day last week. Mr. Rochester had been keeping a diamond and a pearl stud in the safe at the Cafe and one day last week took them out to look at them. He had them out of the box on the counter when his attention was called to something else. When he next thought of them he found the empty box but no studs. He has been unable to find any trace of them since. They were valued at about $350.

THREE TRAINMEN KILLED IN T. & P. COLLISION TODAY.
By Associated Press. Alexandria, La., Nov. 23.—Three trainmen were killed and three injured when westbound Texas & Pacific passenger train No. 1 collided with the rear of a freight train on the outskirts of Alexandria at four o'clock this morning. No passengers were injured. Officially, four trains were in the wreck. Two light engines running ahead of the passenger train and a first and second extra, found a stalled Southern Pacific freight train on the track. They were coupled to the rear of the freight and began pushing it ahead. A few minutes later the passenger train dashed into the triple combination, making a jumbled mass of the three engines. The dead:

BLUE GOES DOWN BEFORE CRIMSON MAY STOP FLOODS

HARVARD TRIUMPHS OVER YALE BY A SCORE OF TWENTY TO NOTHING

YALE NEGATIVE FACTOR

Only in Final Period Did Blue Show Strength—Yale Backfield Unstable

By Associated Press. New Haven, Conn., Nov. 23.—The Crimson triumphed over the Blue on the Yale field today, when the Harvard eleven—taking advantage of Yale's back field errors made two touchdowns and two field goals, rolling up a total score of 20 to 0 over their ancient football rivals.

This victory carried the football championship of the East to Cambridge. Harvard scored a touchdown and a field goal in both the first and third periods. The first score came when Stover recovered the ball which Wheeler, the Yale quarter-back dropped—being tackled, and spirited twenty-five yards to the goal line. Hardwicke kicked the goal.

A minute later another Yale muff gave Hardwicke his chance to kick the first field goal. A fumble by Flynn at the opening of the third period gave the ball to Harvard and Hardwicke dashed eighteen yards for a second touchdown. This same player caught a Yale forward pass a few minutes later and ran forty-two yards and after a few plays, booted the ball over the cross bar for the second field goal.

Yale was not a factor in the game except negatively when in the final period the Crimson line began to give, and the Blue players reinforced by substitutes, drove the ball by line plunges and a wing shift formation to within eight yards of Harvard's goal. There Yale lost the ball on downs.

A few minutes later Pampelly, on Hardwicke's 35 yard line, prepared to attempt a field goal when the official's whistle ended the game. This was one of the most sensational incidents of the fray. After finding the Yale back field a most unstable proposition in handling punts, Harvard made but little effort to test the strength of the Blue line.

By Associated Press. St. Louis, Nov. 23.—Arkansas University football team defeated the Washington University eleven here today, 13 to 7. Stover of Arkansas went over for the winning touchdown with only two minutes to play in the last quarter.

Navy Swamps New York.

By Associated Press. Annapolis, Nov. 23.—Navy piled up a score of 39 points on New York University here this afternoon and at the same time kept the visitors from scoring. It was the final game of the season before the big inter-service contest with Army next Saturday.

Nebraska Defeats Oklahoma.

By Associated Press. Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 23.—The work of the Nebraska backs enabled that team to defeat Oklahoma University today, 13 to 9. Nebraska tried forward passes with only partial success. Oklahoma made the first touchdown in the first period, but Nebraska fought back with straight football and thereafter had the better of their southern rivals.

A LIVING TOWER.

Captain Meeker's Unique Idea in the Building Line.

What is known as the "living tower," says a writer in the Wide World Magazine, stands on the very summit of a hill more than 200 feet high at Camp Meeker, a summer resort in Sonoma county, Cal. It was Captain Meeker, an old pioneer, who first conceived the idea of building a tower on the very summit of a high hill near his hotel, and while looking around one day for a suitable site he found four young redwood trees standing about twelve feet apart, representing a perfect square. The trees were each about 150 feet high. Fifty feet of each top was lopped off, and the work of building six stories was then commenced. From top to bottom the living tower was a hundred feet high.

Each floor is about 12 by 12 feet and rests on strong timbers, the ends of which are securely attached to the four trees by means of steel cables and bolts. So strongly was every part braced that the whole structure does not move as much as one would naturally suppose, even when rocked by heavy winds. In the building great care was taken by the workmen to fit only the benches growing on the inside of the square, and the trees were not chopped, mutilated or weakened in any more than could be avoided.

Leading up from each story are broad stairways, so that one may ascend and descend with ease and perfect safety, while around the edge of each floor are strong railings to prevent accidents. Since this tower was completed the trees have grown and flourished just as well as before. This living tower is claimed to be the only one of its kind in the world.

Regulation of Streams by Forests Is Solved.

Overflow Prevention Said to Have Been Worked Out by United States Geological Survey—Means Purchase of Land Under Weeks Act.

Washington.—That the forest cover of mountains and hills has an appreciable and measurable effect on navigation streams and that the removal of the forest growth from the lands tends to produce floods is the conclusion reached by the United States Geological Survey announced as the result of a series of scientific experiments in the White mountains of New England. The report carries with it the statement of the survey that the removal of the forests tends to produce floods. The investigations are believed to solve a problem long a source of strenuous contention among scientists. While the investigations have direct reference to the White mountain area only, they establish a principle of far wider application and indicate that there may be a scientific method of preventing floods generally.

In conducting its experiments, the Geological Survey selected two small, almost exactly similar drainage basins of about five square miles each on the east branch of Penikeseasset river, one largely clothed with virgin timber and the other deforested and burned.

Careful measurements of precipitation over the areas and of the run-off of the respective streams show that not only was the snow held better in the forested area, but that during a period of 17 days in April, including three extended storms, the run-off of the stream in the deforested area was a comparative flood, practically double that of the stream flowing through the forested area.

On both streams hydrographic stations were established and the stream flow determined with a high degree of accuracy. The survey report shows that the maximum flood flow from the forested basin was only 67 per cent. of that from the deforested basin. The Survey says:

"The stream of the forested basin is observed to be the steadier of the two and in proportion to its drainage area it tends—at least during the spring months—to promote a steady flow of water in the master stream of which it is a tributary.

"Such an actual demonstration and quantitative measure of the performance of different areas, some forested and others deforested, has never been attempted in trying to determine the effect of forest cover on stream flow. Efforts to arrive at definite conclusions have always been based on a study of long-time records of precipitation and stream discharge; but owing to the many qualifying factors such efforts have simply resulted in divergent opinions and inconclusive controversies.

"The results of the present actual measurements in these mimic drainage basins, so accurate and refined in method as to approach laboratory experiments, where exact results may be expected, leave no doubt as to the conclusion. Forest cover and the resulting forest mat in the White mountain granite area does to a considerable and measurable degree steady and regulate stream flow, and therefore must be staged as an important factor in maintaining the navigability of streams whose headwaters lie in such areas."

MORE TEACHERS NEEDED.

The national welfare depends on agricultural prosperity; agriculture it itself is already becoming more and more of a science; and these two factors reinforce the pressing demand for more and better agricultural education among the rural population. But where are the teachers of agriculture coming from? This question is raised by A. C. Monahan, specialist in rural education of the United States bureau of education.

"At present nearly two thousand high schools are teaching agriculture the course being taken by an aggregate of some 37,000 pupils," says Mr. Monahan. "But in all these schools only a very few besides those giving four-year courses in this subject have instructors with a college or normal school training in scientific agriculture, while a large percentage of the active teachers with this training have had no training in psychology or pedagogy.

"Probably no one factor has had greater influence in retarding the introduction of substantial courses in agriculture in all those higher schools whose pupils are drawn in large numbers from farming districts than the shortage of properly qualified teachers."

Report of Daylight Meteor.

Reports from Groytown, Weenen and Curry's Post, Natal, describe a curious phenomenon in the form of a daylight meteor which burst with a loud explosion audible at places thirty or forty miles apart. The meteor which took the form of a ball of fire with a flaming stream of sparks behind, was seen about two o'clock in the afternoon, a few days ago. The sun was shining brightly at the time the meteor appeared to have fallen close to Weenen, but no trace of it could be found when a search was made of the locality.

PHONES 432 and 232 AUTO DELIVERY

These are three foods which, in the proper quantity are exceptionally good for children during the winter. It will be mighty good plan to keep them either on the table every day or where the children can get them frequently. Very few children will eat more nuts, figs or dates than is good for them, especially the figs or dates. And there is nothing better than these two items for keeping their digestive organs in good condition, and the nuts are a very wholesome fattening food. This is only one suggestion for frequent and liberal use of those during the winter. You know many others. Let me supply them. I have all of the new nuts, both Styria and California figs, also dates in bulk and packages.

Store will be closed all day Nov. 28.

The Last Harvester.....

Have you thought about the leaves that are falling and the gentle reminders that are everywhere visible? The tale is told! "Father time has slipped another year by us. The harvester has come and gone, and we stand one year nearer the final HARVEST, when we shall cast our recycle, and go to join the countless dead.

To some of us, the Harvester has already gathered loved ones and as we sit and ponder their departure, lets remember them so that the world, and our children's children will not forget, by erecting a beautiful and lasting Memorial, to commemorate their memory forever.

The question of whether Roosevelt or Wilson has carried California, has not yet been decided, but it begins to look like Wilson will bet it by a scratch.

In spite of the protests of John Schrank that he is not mad, there are sort will not delay very long in local, who could work himself up to the point where he could think for a minute that Roosevelt stood any chance of election, judging from the returns, must have shown some evidence of being unsound mentally.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie has solved the problem of what to do with our ex-presidents by proposing to put them on his pension roll at the rate of $35,000 per annum. That ought to cause both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft to smile.

If Wichita Falls lands that third manufactory of glass products, it will mean that other enterprises of that town of who believe it. Any maning here. The little bonus asked is nothing when it is taken into consideration that the location of this additional enterprise will add 200 or 300 more men to the already large payroll.

If all the congressmen in Texas had their minds as thoroughly made up as Congressman Henry of the Waco district regarding endorsements for federal office, it would reduce aspirants to one in a bill, and thereby save worry and expense to the balance of the hungry gang.

For about the one hundredth time, the Times feels called upon to again announce that it cannot accept contributions unless accompanied by the author's name. Just recently it has been forced to decline several communications that had merit to them for the reason the writer had failed to make known his or her name.

The Cincinnati Inquirer is responsible for the following: We're coming, Father Woodrow, a hundred thousand strong; they've kept us out of office for sixteen years too long; we're hungry and we're thirsty, but mama you'll supply; from messenger to cabinet the heads will surely fly; we've waited to hear the big horn blow, and now we'll feast on plenty and white others eat the craw. And now, from Maine to Texas, you'll hear our battle cry—we're coming, Father Woodrow, we're coming for our pie.

If Wichita Falls wants a new charter, and the Times is of the opinion that she does, it is time a draft of the proposed new charter be submitted to the people that they may vote on it before the meeting of the legislature in January. It will be best to submit the matter to a vote of the people before than after the meeting of the legislature. If this is done, it might prevent a delay of two years, and that would mean great disadvantage to the progress of the city. In the opinion of most of our leading citizens, the city has done about all it can in the way of making public improvements under the present charter, and if contemplated improvements are to be made it will be necessary to secure a new charter.

The following is from the Roanoke (Denton County) Enterprise: A farm, or carrying an express package from a mail order house was accosted by a merchant who said: "Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express on them, besides you would have been patronizing a home store." The farmer looked at the merchant for a minute, and then he said: "Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know you had this particular line." It's a poor rule that won't work both ways.

Good Roads It has been suggested by the Young Men's Progressive League that the yvdtzyeh lld.gyv ukehbt shrd emfwy county employ an engineer to inspect the roads and find out where the mud holes and sand beds are and report same to the county commissioners. This plan should be considered by the tax payers of the county. My ten days experience in office has led me to believe that all of these bad places in the roads have been found, but it takes time and money to remedy the trouble. J. P. FISTIC ENCOUNTER AT A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

Haywood Chased From Hall After he Exchanged Blows With J. Mahlon Barnes.

By Associated Press. Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 23.—A fistic encounter between William D. Haywood, leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, and J. Mahlon Barnes, who was National campaign manager of the recent Socialist campaign, took place tonight in the lobby of the convention hall, while the American Federation of Labor was holding its final session.

Haywood and Barnes met just outside a door to the auditorium. The door was open and President Tompkins saw Haywood strike Barnes. "A delegate to this convention has

100,000 Fewer Births In France Than Ten Years Ago

By Associated Press. Paris, Nov. 23.—The birth rate of France was lower by 100,000 in 1911 than in 1901. Lewis Klotz, minister of finance, announcing this fact to the commission on the population at its first session, said today in sounding a warning: "Military inferiority, economic inferiority and the dilution of the power of France in the world will sooner or later be the inevitable consequence of the sterility of the French nation."

In 1907 and 1911, the minister said the deaths actually exceeded births in France, creating a very serious situation. He was insulted by Big Bill Haywood, shouted Gompers. Delegates left their seats and the sergeant at arms removed the disturbers. Haywood ran into the street, followed by several delegates. He took refuge in a laundry, and someone barred the doors. Policemen prevented further trouble which appeared serious.

Barnes said Haywood had revived an old dispute over the merits of the rival bodies to which they belonged; that is, the Industrial Workers of the World and the American Federation of Labor. He said Haywood taunted him with the defeat of measures Barnes championed in the convention. Barnes said he invited Haywood to the door of the convention with the remark that he would bet him. Haywood retorted by calling Barnes a name and striking him.

WANTED MONOPOLY OF IMPLEMENT BUSINESS

Harvester Trust Sought Control of all the Tools Used by the Farmers

By Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 23.—Of the 129,274 binders and headers sold in the United States in a single year, the International Harvester Company sold 66 per cent, according to figures introduced by Edward P. Grosvenor at the hearing today of the government's dissolution suit against the International Harvester Company.

Mr. Grosvenor is assistant to Attorney General Wickersham. He said that the International sold 78 per cent of all the mowers distributed throughout the United States in a year.

The prosecution read in the record a number of contracts with agents, and special instructions which Mr. Grosvenor said, indicated the International managers were trying to create a monopoly in the farm implement business of the country.

Depend Wholly on Coffee.

Coffee is the great staple produced by the civilized inhabitants of Liberia, and most of the planters are totally dependent on it. When the market price of coffee is so low that the yield will not pay the cost of labor and marketing and leave a margin sufficient for the needs of the planter, the plantations are neglected and, as there is no other crop to fall back on, a period of economic depression ensues.

Lack of Proper Courtesy.

There used to be a time, not so very long ago, when if one borrowed anything from a book it a shoe lace one was expected to return it promptly and in good condition. With our younger set one may consider it a miracle if one gets anything back under six months if at all. "I forgot," or "I lost it," seem to be all the apology that many young girls deem necessary.—Exchange.

No Maltese Cats in Malta.

There are a few of the so-called Maltese terriers in Malta, but they are not of pure blood, and the puppies which the street hawkers offer for sale to tourists are more or less mongrel, with a strain of the old breed. The Maltese cat does not exist in Malta; at least not one has been seen here of the color called Maltese in the United States.

Maintenance of a Microbe.

A country school teacher was cashing her monthly check at the bank. The teller apologized for the filthy condition of the bills, saying, "I hope you're not afraid of microbes." "Not a bit of it," the schoolmarm replied. "I'm sure no microbes could live on my salary."—Lippincott's.

WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 24th, 1912—PART TWO

NUMBER 167

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

The Mothers Clubs of the city cleared $30 from their benefit at the Lydia Margaret Tuesday, a share of the proceeds for that evening having been given them by Messrs. Wren and Berry, the proprietors. The sum was ample for the expenses of the delegates to Houston.

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. Culbertson at 1010 Denver Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

There was no session of the Musicians Club last week owing to other attractions. The next meeting will be held week after next with Mrs. A. B. Huff.

The Five Hundred Club will meet with Mrs. A. R. Duke Tuesday afternoon.

This week's session of the Wednesday Bridge Club will be with Mrs. Piner Avis.

The idea of the Travis Mothers Club, in appointing a visiting committee to enlist the new comers, is a commendable one. Our city is growing much more rapidly than many of us realize and the many strangers should be enrolled in the various activities and made to feel that they are full fledged Wichitans at the very outset.

It is worthy of note that when a speaker at the Federated Clubs meeting in Fort Worth said he couldn't see what women wanted with the ballot, he was heartily applauded. Sentiment among Texas women appears to be far from unanimous on the question of the ballot.

The disadvantages at which married women are placed by Texas laws are just being realized in the light of the present agitation. Not many of the ladies know that if they had money in the bank their husbands could go and draw it out and spend it and not say beans to them about it; probably some of the husbands didn't know they had that privilege either.

The size of the audience which attended the symphony orchestra concert Thursday evening could hardly be taken as indication that there are many music lovers here, and yet there are probably more than in any other community of Wichita Falls, size in the State. Why not more liberal patronage of such affairs? It was a treat.

Even a society editor makes mistakes sometimes; last week The Times told of two meetings of the New Century Club, at different places but ignored the Unity Club completely.

The Times begs to renew its request that, whenever possible communications intended for the society column be sent in or phoned in by Friday noon. At the very latest by Friday night. Otherwise, it is difficult to give them proper attention and it does not do to get up a society column hurriedly. The co-operation of every one who reads this page is earnestly requested.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church will meet with Mrs. J. W. Culbertson, 1010 Denver avenue at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

MRS. STANFORTH ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF HER VISITOR.

In honor of her visitor, Miss Hallie Webster, of Weatherford, Mrs. W. Stanforth entertained Wednesday evening with a "Slippery Ann" party a large number of young people, including several of the younger married couples, being in attendance. Eight tables of players delved into the mysteries of "Slipper Ann" after which the hostess served a refreshment course of charlotte russe, sandwiches and hot chocolate. Those present included Misses Carrie Kell, Esther Goraline, Vivian Mathis, Agnes Reid, Mabelle Clifton, Evelyn Coidfield, Pansy Peck of Corsicana, Quind Roderick of Corsicana, Webster of Weatherford, Jewel Kemp, Messrs. Smith, Gibson, Priddy, Garrison, Sid Stanforth, William Huff, Bonner, Lamar Fain, Boyd, Claude Maer, Shriver and Cullum; Messrs. and Mesdames Arthur Huff, Newton Maer, Orville Bullington, E. W. Pyle and Parker.

UNITY CLUB MEETING IS HELD AT J. A. KEMP HOME.

Last week's meeting of the Unity Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Kemp, where an interesting program was carried out. The session had an added pleasure in that it gave several of the Unity Club members their first glimpse of the interior of the magnificent Kemp dwelling, only recently completed. The study of Othello was resumed by the club and the club discussed the subject of "Retribution as Meted Out to the Principal Participants." Mrs. Darnell was chairman, the following subjects being considered: "Disentangled Threads of the Web in Which Iago Secured His Victims," and "Spiritual Import of the Play." The lesson was on Act IV, Scenes 2 and 3. A salad course was served by the hostess. Mrs. Kemp was one of the founders of the Unity Club and has been a leading member for many years. The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. P. P. Langford.

MRS. T. W. ROBERTS HOSTESS TO FRIDAY BRIDGE CLUB.

The Friday Bridge Club met last week at the home of Mrs. T. W. Roberts where a number of the members and several guests found pleasant entertainment with the cards. The hostess served a salad course when the games were finished. Those present were: Members, Mesdames C. C. Huff, Bacon, Frank Blair, Bruce Smith, T. T. Reese and H. A. Allen, Misses Cora Coona and Lucile Sherrill; Guests, Mesdames Duke, R. E. Huff, Marchman of Dallas, Satterwhite of Kentucky, Miss Chamberlain and Miss Smith of Kentucky.

UNO ART CLUB MEETING WITH MRS. S. T. THOMAS.

The Uno Art Club met Thursday with Mrs. S. T. Thomas at 1919 Eighth street, the session being a very profitable one. The members brought their needle work, which gave them employment for some time, after which the business session was held. The hostess served delicious refreshments. Mrs. S. C. Utz will be the next hostess for the club. Those present Thursday were Mesdames John Taylor, Chalmers Taylor, Farrington, Gattin, S. C. Utz and Miss Mae Neal.

MRS. C. B. MONTGOMERY IS HOSTESS TO NEW CENTURY.

Last week's session of the New Century Club was at the home of Mrs. C. B. Montgomery, where the members met to continue their study of South American countries. The lesson for the afternoon was on Chile, with Mrs. R. P. Watts as chairman and at its conclusion the hostess served a fruit and coffee course, making it a very pleasant meeting of this organization.

ST. CECILIA'S DAY OBSERVED AT THE ACADEMY.

Friday was St. Cecilia's Day in the Catholic calendar and the occasion was observed at the Academy of Mary Immaculate by a program rendered by the St. Cecilia Club, which is composed of the music students of the institution. Relatives and a number of friends of the Academy gathered in the hall at 3:30 in the afternoon and enjoyed the program to the utmost. The hall was darkened and the shaded lights showed to good advantage the decorations which were in the club colors, gold and white, with chrysanthemums, the scheme being carried out even on the floor. In spite of the fact that many of the pupils were suffering from colds the affair was thoroughly successful and was a source of much enjoyment to those who attended, who were hearty in their praise of the Academy's music work. The following program was carried out:

St. Cecilia's Hymn—Music Class.
 Witch's Frolic—Miss Fannie Williamson.
 The Homeliest Cat—Miss Anita Monroe.
 The Lonely Snowdrop—Mimim Musicians.
 La Grace—Misses L. B. Anderson, A. Monroe, E. Carson, M. Moran.
 A Thanksgiving Dinner—Miss Rosalie Watson.
 Evening Hymn—Vocal Class.
 Spinning Song—Miss P. Leach.
 He Knows the Way—Miss Fannie Williamson.
 Violin Obligato—Master C. Emmert.
 What Came to Dillies Hand—Miss B. Jackson.
 Tourbillon—Miss G. Haler.
 What the Janitor Heard—Miss M. D. Hightower.
 La Czarine—Misses J. Cramer, A. R. Yarbrough, G. Anderson, M. Burnett.
 Those Songs My Mother Used to Sing—Music Class.
 Accompanists—Misses P. Leach and G. Haler.
 Among the numbers "The Lohely Snowdrop" by the minims was especially pretty and the readings by Misses Watson and Hightower were among the humorous features, being as funny as Miss Jackson's reading was sad. After the program had been completed the boarding pupils visited with their relatives and the club served cream and cake in the dining room, it being a thoroughly successful affair in every particular. The departments of education and expression at the Academy are meeting with marked success this season, the pupils having made splendid progress.

MRS. M. A. MARCUS HOSTESS AT FIVE HUNDRED PARTY.

The home of Mrs. M. A. Marcus was the scene of one of the week's most pleasant affairs last Wednesday afternoon, a large number of ladies gathering for a round of Five Hundred. The house was decorated with club flowers and presented an attractive appearance. Miss Reisenberg made high score, and the consolation went to Mrs. Stanforth, both prizes being brassware novelties. The hostess served a salad course after the games were over. Those present included Mesdames Allen, Bacon, Cullinan, Brookins, Fitzpatrick, Hampton, Stanforth, Wade Walker, Sherrill, Zundelwitz, Loeb, Collier, Duval, Duke, Montgomery, Darnell, Norton, Roberts, Thorburn, L. P. Webb, Malone, E. Smith, P. Avis, T. B. Smith, Cravens, Griffin, Binford, E. L. Smith, Harrington, R. G. Smith, Boulware, Tony, M. Walker, F. Collier, E. Pileo, Kahn, Little, Shirley, Inge, Orth, D. J. White, Weeks, C. C. Huff, Lynch, Wallace of Dallas, Lowery of Dallas, Barry of Abilene, Misses Roderick of Corsicana, Cora Coons, Ethel Cobb, Chamberlain, Dent, Reisenberg, Smith of Kentucky.

MRS. HARRIS ENTERTAINS ART LITERATURE CLUB.

The Art Literature Club met last Tuesday with Mrs. Harris. The roll call was answered, with current events. The club was highly entertained with an interesting paper on Burbank, written by Mrs. Blankenship. When the business of the meeting was finished, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Pauline and Miss Hinkley. Those present were Mesdames Smith, Gebhart, Kerr, Smith, Bean, Ward, Harris, Misses Bell and Kerr. The club will meet with Mrs. Kerr next Tuesday.

SOCIAL THIRTY CLUB HOLDS MEETING FRIDAY.

The Social 30 Club met at Mr. and Mrs. O'Hara's on Lamar on Friday evening and all had a very sociable time. A program was rendered as follows:
 Quartette by Misses Mary Bachman, Anna Collins, Lillie Shauffer and Ollen Beachum.
 Solo by Earl Eugene Beachum.
 Story by Mr. O'Hara.
 Piano solo by Miss Mildred Vanvooy.
 Song by Misses Vira Hinkley, Cornet solo by Homer Crawford.
 Recitation by Miss Edwards.
 The following members were present: Misses George O'Hara, Mildred Vanvooy, Gertrude Fisher, Clara Skeen, Susie Wheeler, Mary Beachum, Ellen Beachum, Lillie Shauffer, Della Hinkley, Vera Hinkley, Anna Collins and Pauline Mears; Messrs. Earl Beachum, Tom Taylor, Joe Meak, A. Taylor, Mack, McGinley, Homer Crawford, Henry Davis, Elgin Vanvooy, Frank Staples, Roy Taylor, William Skeen, Uriel Griggs and Powder McKee.

MRS. W. B. JONES HOSTESS TO HER FRIENDS THURSDAY.

Mrs. W. B. Jones entertained a few intimate friends Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at her home, 2307 Ninth street in honor of her mother, Mrs. Francis, who is visiting here from Sherman. Every one had their needle work and spent an hour or so very pleasantly making Christmas presents. Dainty refreshments were served after which each one wished that Mrs. Francis would visit Wichita Falls again in the near future and went to their homes declaring Mrs. Jones to be a charming hostess. Those present were Mesdames E. G. Hill, J. C. Bradshaw, C. E. Bessey, Maxwell, Davis, Friberg, Francis, Niles and Misses George Maxwell and Madeline Hill.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB AT HOME OF MRS. W. B. SHEPPERD

Mrs. W. B. Shepperd entertained the members of the Tuesday Bridge Club and several guests last week, three tables of players being present. Miss Smith of Kentucky secured the afternoon's favor, a hand-embroidered towel. A salad course was a refreshing feature. This week's meeting of the club will be with Mrs. W. M. McGregor at 1610 Tenth street. Those present Tuesday were Mesdames Duke, Maer, Jones, Hampton, Mike Walker, Little, Satterwhite of Kentucky, Bacon, Marchman of Dallas, Wade Walker, McGregor, Miss Smith of Kentucky.

TRAVIS SCHOOL MOTHERS AND TEACHERS MEETING.

The Travis Mothers and Teachers Club met Thursday afternoon. As many new families have recently moved into the ward, it was decided that a visiting committee should be appointed to see as many of them as possible an invite them to join in the work. Parents' Day, the Wednesday before Thanksgiving, was specified as a day to be observed and the parents are all invited to come and visit the school while the class work is in progress. The program for the next regular meeting will be based upon "School Needs" and Mrs. Langford and Mrs. James will lead the discussion. An open session of the club was planned for the evening of December 6 and Mesdames Browning, Jack Stearns and Jernigan were appointed as a committee to give personal invitations to the fathers and mothers and secure their attendance on that occasion.

ALAMO MOTHERS CLUB HAS AN INTERESTING SESSION.

A very interesting session of the Alamo Mothers Club was held Friday at the school, with Mesdames George Straus, George Keith Miller and Phillips as hostesses. After the devotional exercise, the club heard the report of Mrs. J. W. Lee who represented the mothers clubs of the city at the Child Welfare Conference. Mrs. Lee told of the doings of the meeting, dealing at length upon the agitation for protection of the rights of married women in this State and also touching upon the suffrage question. A piano solo by Miss Waggoner was a very pleasing contribution to the club's session. At the conclusion of the business meeting the hostesses served sandwiches and coffee, the session ending amid a pleasant social atmosphere.

THANKSGIVING DANCE BY ELKS' LODGE THURSDAY.

Among the social features of Thanksgiving observance in this city will be the ball by the local lodge of Elks at their quarters next Thursday evening. Plans are being made for a very enjoyable affair, which will doubtless add to the lustre of the fame which this organization has attained in its entertainments. A large crowd is expected to attend.

PRESBYTERIAN "KIRMESS" IS QUITE SUCCESSFUL.

One of the most successful church benefits given here in some time was the "Kirmess" given by the ladies of the First Presbyterian Church Friday and Saturday of the past week in the basement of the Kemp and Kell building. There were a number of booths where one might buy anything from a cup of tea to a comforter, and meals were served Friday evening, yesterday noon and last night. The doll and hankiecheif booth was in charge of Miss Lois Bell, Miss Katherine Wilson, Mrs. Burnside and Mrs. Shirley. Mrs. Ed Howard and Mrs. L. M. Boyd managed the apron booth, while the museum where a number of curios were displayed was under the care of Mesdames Kemp, Kell, Whitney, Harrington and Blankenship. There was a "Wonder well" where you put a dime in the bucket and pulled up anything from a lurid necktie to a tin horn; this was in charge of Mesdames Whitney, Dowell and Utz. The candy booth was in the center of the room where Mesdames D. J. White and Kleber White and Miss Icie White dispensed sweet things. The chocolate booth was in charge of Mesdames Jesse Dolman and Mrs. H. A. Waller, each dressed to represent the Dutch maid used by the Baker's Chocolate manufacturers as an advertising design, and that brand of chocolate was served. The tea booth was a Japanese bower and Japanese waitresses dispensed the refreshments; they were Mesdames Orr, McNeil and Harrington and Misses Burnside and Audrey Roberts. Mrs. Mears and Mrs. Culbertson were in charge of the fancy work department, while a large number of the ladies, assisted in serving the meals, which found liberal patronage. The "Kirmess" was a complete success financially and the ladies feel proud of their work.

ORDER OF EASTERN STAR HAS ENJOYABLE SESSION.

The Order of the Eastern Star, No. 237, held its regular meeting Tuesday night and after the business meeting refreshments were served and several talks were made on the subject, "Good of the Order." There were a number of visitors from the Iowa Park chapter present. Three new members were added to the rolls.

ALL-DAY MISSION MEETING AT THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

On what was designated as Home Mission day, the ladies of the Home Missionary Society met Thursday in the parlors of the First M. E. Church for an all day session. The morning session was led by Sister Hall. Several interesting papers were read telling of the great work going on in the mountains and western coast amongst the foreigners, a general discussion of the work following. The meeting was then adjourned for a social hour, during which time a daintily prepared lunch was spread. During this hour a special program of music was rendered. The afternoon devotional service was led by Mrs. Flemming. More papers were read, all of which were splendid and another general discussion followed regarding the general good work going on. The business end of the meeting followed as well as a free will offering. The day was enjoyed by all, and was one most profitably as well as pleasantly spent.

Texas-Oklahoma Notes

Two attaches of a carnival company which recently exhibited at Ardmore are held there on charges of violating the white slave act. It is charged that they brought two young girls one 14 and the other 16 from Purcell to Ardmore for immoral purposes.

The Electric News says the Trades and Sales Day at that place last Monday was a splendid success. A feature of the day was the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

Sherman has contracted with the Crested Wood Block Paving Company which laid the paving in Wichita Falls for paving to the amount of $22,900.

The new home of the Oklahoma State Bank at Frederick is ready for occupancy. It is said to be one of the handsomest bank buildings in Southwestern Oklahoma.

Petrolia will soon have a "white way." Arrangements are being made for the installation of fourteen gas lamps. The North Texas Gas Company has agreed to furnish free gas for eight of these lamps.

Supporters of the Paris site for the county seat of Cotton county who were defeated by Walters in the recent election will protest. Fraud and bribery are charged. The case will be taken to the Oklahoma supreme court.

A kaffir corn special is touring the Rock Island lines in Oklahoma. The Oklahoma State Agricultural Department is co-operating with the railroad company in the campaign to encourage the farmers to raise more kaffir corn.

Bowie has entered into the contest to secure the State Odd Fellows Widows and Orphans Home. Brownwood, Bonham, and Comanche are the other towns being considered. The support of Wichita Falls will be asked by the Bowie people.

The Vernon Record reports the new wheat crop making a good start. The acreage is said to be larger than usual and the pasturage is excellent.

BURKBURNETT NOTES.
(From the Star)
J. G. Griffin and family arrived from Boonsville, Ark. Saturday to make Burk Burnett their future home. They formerly resided here, but moved away about a year ago. Their many friends are glad to see them again citizens of our little town.

On Wednesday afternoon, Ruby, the little 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wigham, while playing about the family residence, fell and sustained a fracture of each of the bones of the left arm between the wrist and elbow. Dr. McGehee attended the little girl and she is getting along nicely.

Ben Schwieger and R. W. Rambling went to Dallas Saturday returning Sunday morning in Mr. Schwieger's new five passenger Buick car. They left Dallas at about midnight Saturday night and reached here at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, having stopped for some time at Fort Worth and Henrietta. The new car is a 1913 model and is a beauty. Mr. Schwieger says he has been joshed about "Old Maud" (his old car) long enough and that he challenges all comers now to show up a faster traveling, more stylish or better behaved car.

J. D. Strange has moved back to his residence in the south part of town, W. W. Viles moving into the house formerly occupied by him and J. G. Griffin and family occupying their home where Mr. Viles resided during the past year.

Will Bryan and family returned from Wichita Falls, where they have been residing for some time. Bryan take up residence in Burk Burnett. Mr. Bryan held the position of deputy constable under Tom Pickett at the Falls and it is understood will serve in the capacity of deputy sheriff here.

Thornberry Items.
The people of this community have made good use of the pretty weather that we have been having for the past two or three weeks and most of them are just about through picking cotton.

The men that are working on the well at this place will finish pulling the casing this week. There is some talk of drilling for shallow oil in the 4th foot sand which showed some indications of oil at that depth.

D. E. Bentley finished painting his dwelling Wednesday and it improves the looks of his place very much.

Huston and Floyd Pharis made a trip to Wichita Falls Wednesday and sold their teams.

N. C. Pharris purchased a three room house and two lots in Burk Burnett Thursday and his grand-son will move to that place and engage in the hauling business.

Sain Neely, one of our best citizens, will move to Wichita Falls and engage in the dairy business this year. We will lose a true and tried neighbor, but Wichita Falls will gain a loyal and law abiding citizen.

There are more nimrods around the little village of Thornberry than any place that we know of.

The W. O. W. lodge at this place will give a supper at their hall Saturday night.

Mr. Russell, one of our best farmers, will move to Wichita Falls in the near future and engage in the dray business. Wichita is getting quite a few of our best farmers on account of their good school facilities.

Huff Items.
Rev. Morgan of Iowa Park, preaching here Sunday instead of the 2nd

Sunday, his regular appointment.

J. T. Baggott of Archer City, is looking after business interests here this week.

Misses Alpha Edgin and Mamie Johnson and Messrs. Charles Gant and Earl Johnson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Gant Sunday.

Miss Ellen Shelton, teacher of Liberty school visited the Miss Gant Saturday and Sunday.

Jim Splawn is at home again after a three weeks sojourn at Luke Wilson.

A. J. Evans made a business trip to Fort Worth this week.

Glen Wilson of Luke Wilson, was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Faulkner of Bellevue, visited friends here Saturday and Sunday.

E. E. Simmons has been transacting business at Oney this week.

BIG DAMAGE FROM SMOKE AND WATER

FIRE ON INDIANA AVE. SATURDAY MORNING CAUSES LOSS OF ABOUT $15,000.00

THREE STORES DAMAGED

Sherrod and Company and E. S. Morris and Company Sustain Heaviest Losses

Fire early Saturday morning caused damage of more than fifteen thousand dollars to the grocery stocks of R. C. Hardy and Sherrod & Company, the drug store of E. S. Morris & Company, the office of Dr. A. L. Lane and the cotton office of I. E. Goodman & Company. The stocks which suffered losses are on the first floor of the White building on Indiana avenue. The offices are on the second floor of the same building. Comparatively little damage was done directly by the flames, water and smoke causing the greater loss.

The fire is believed to have started in the rear of Sherrod & Company's grocery, but its cause is unknown. It rained good headway and had eaten through the floor above into the offices of Mr. Goodman when Willie High, who sleeps in a room at the other end of the hallway connecting this building and the one adjoining was awakened by the smoke. Mr. High immediately turned in an alarm. This was at about 3 o'clock. By this time the whole rear of the Sherrod grocery was in flames and the department had some difficulty in reaching the fire at first. The heat and the thick clouds of smoke that filled the building and the hallways made fighting the blaze almost impossible from any place except from the outside.

The flames barely burned into the R. C. Hardy store adjoining the Sherrod grocery on the south side. The smoke and water caused great damage.

The fire did not reach the Morris Drug Store but here also the smoke and water wrought ruin. Every article in the store was covered after the fire with a sticky coat of smoke tar. The smoke permeated cases, drawers and boxes and left practically nothing in the store untouched. Likewise the smoke and water caused heavy damage in the office of Dr. Lane and Mr. Goodman. In Dr. Lane's office furniture was so gummed and coated as to be practically worthless and optical and surgical instruments were badly damaged and in some instances completely ruined.

Estimates of the damage were not obtainable yesterday and no attempt to ascertain the losses will be made before tomorrow. An adjuster is expected to arrive today. Sherrod & Company's stock was valued at about $5,000. It appears to be almost a complete loss. Mr. Sherrod stated yesterday that he expected to re-open the store as soon as the loss could be adjusted and a new stock gotten in.

Mr. Hardy's loss will be about a thousand dollars. The goods that were badly damaged in the store were all at the rear and the store was able to keep open yesterday.

E. S. Morris & Company had a stock valued at about $10,000, practically all of which is badly damaged and much completely ruined. Specially made printed forms and records for cotton accounting and of fine supplies formed the greater part of the loss sustained by Mr. Goodman. This loss will amount to several hundred dollars.

All those who suffered losses in the fire carried insurance and are believed to be fully protected. At the beginning of the holiday season, however, the necessity of keeping their doors closed will result in losses to Morris & Company and Sherrod & Company that cannot be estimated.

MAMMOTH SIGN IS BEING PLANNED

Wichita Falls to Blazon Forth Her Advantages With Myriad Electric Lights

The representative of an electric sign company is in the city preparing the design for the sign which the Young Men's Progressive League plans to erect at some conspicuous point in the city. This sign will set forth that Wichita Falls is in the home of cheap gas and will tell other facts about Wichita Falls to the stranger within our gates. The word "Wichita Falls" is to appear in letters four feet high and the sign will be located at some point where it may be seen from all trains passing through the city. The sign will cost about $1000 which the league expects to be able to raise.

MRS. M. E. HARRISON SUCCEUMBS TO INJURIES

Aged Resident Died Saturday From Effects of Fall on Friday

As the result of injuries sustained Friday when she fell down a short flight of steps, Mrs. M. E. Harrison, aged 67, died at ten o'clock yesterday morning at the home of her son, Ed Harrison, 202 Indiana. She never regained consciousness after her fall. The remains were sent last night to Ardmore, where the funeral will take place.

Mrs. Harrison was alone at home at the time, and in the opinion of Doctors Amason and Mackechny, who were summoned, the fall was the result of an apoplectic stroke. Mrs. Suter, a neighbor, was the first to discover Mrs. Harrison, who was unconscious at that time.

A large number of relatives here and from Byers accompanied the remains to Ardmore last night, among them being Ed Harrison, Tom Harrison of Byers, Ray Harrison of Emerson, Oklahoma, Lee Harrison, Mrs. Everton, all children of the deceased. E. Everton of this city also accompanied them. Mrs. Edward of Ardmore is another daughter. Mrs. Harrison had resided in this city for several years and was highly esteemed by a large number of friends. She was for many years a member of the Baptist church and the services will be conducted by the pastor of that church at Ardmore. Mr. Harrison died several years ago.

WICHITA FALLS AVENGED DEFEAT

High School Lads Victors Over Henrietta by Score of 12 to 0

The Wichita Falls high school football team was victorious over Henrietta's high school eleven at the latter place Friday evening, by a score of 12 to 0. This gives the locals two games out of three, the single defeat being administered when four of Wichita's good players were barred from the game.

Wichita won in the second and third quarters. Crowell and Lewis making the touchdowns. Both goals were missed. Henrietta put up a game fight, but was never nearer than twenty-five yards to the Wichita Falls goal line.

MORE THAN TWO BALES AN ACRE

ED CUMMINS HAS ALREADY PICKED 51 BALES OFF OF 21 ACRES ON HIS FARM

HAS SET A NEW RECORD

Ernest Rowe, Another Farmer Near Byers, Also Reported to Have Two Bale Crop

Fifty-one bales of cotton off twenty-one acres, with some of the late crop still unpicked, is the crop gathered this season by Ed Cummins near Byers. The farm in Clay county near Byers. The truth of these figures is vouched for by J. Milton Erwin of this city, and the showing is considered a new record for Northwest Texas. Mr. Cummins believes he will get three or four more bales off the tract, although he has already sold more than two bales to the acre.

Ernest Rowe, another farmer near Byers, is also reported to have made better than two bales to the acre this season, although exact figures on his crop are not available.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR ELKS' MEMORIAL

Next Sunday will be observed by the local lodge of Elks, as well as by the lodges throughout the United States, as Memorial Day, and the occasion will be remembered here by appropriate exercises at the Wichita Theatre. The following program for the exercises has been prepared by the committee:

- Voluntary (while members enter), Katz orchestra.
- Opening exercises by officers of lodge.
- Opening ode (audience joining).
- Invocation—Rev. P. F. Walters.
- Vocal solo by Brother William C. Welch.
- Music—"Roses" (Theo. Bendix)—Katz Orchestra.
- In Memory of Brother S. Maxwell Foster—Brother William N. Bonner.
- Vocal solo—"Sunshine and Rain" (J. Blumenthal)—Miss Mabel Simpson.
- Address by Brother Louis J. Wehman of the Fort Worth lodge of Elks, No. 124.
- Vocal solo—"One Sweetly Solemn Thought"—Mrs. G. M. Carpenter.
- Quartet—"The Vacant Chair"—Brothers Fulton, Ragland, Smith and Weiss.
- Closing exercises by officers of lodge.
- Benediction—Rev. Fred L. McFadden.

The exercises will be open to all, and the public is invited to attend. This ceremony is an annual affair, observed everywhere by Elks, as a tribute to the memory of the departed brothers.

THANKSGIVING CONTEST WILL BE INTERESTING

One of the best football exhibitions in Wichita Falls in several years is that scheduled for Thanksgiving afternoon between the teams of the Wichita Falls high school and the Fort Worth high school. The latter team is one of the strongest in North Texas and its presence assures a thoroughly interesting contest.

The game will be played on the it would make her a possible claimant is expected to turn out for the occasion. Should Wichita Falls win, it would make her a possible claimant to the North Texas championship title for 1912, and the local boys will make every effort to accomplish this.

NEW LINENS FOR THANKSGIVING

Almost everybody buys new table linen at thanksgiving time. To meet a demand for something extra nice, we have just received a beautiful line of Irish and German imported linens in single pieces and complete sets. These are, without question, the most beautiful table linens ever brought to Wichita Falls, and we are anxious to show them to everybody in the county. They are priced very reasonably, too—

GOOD REPORTS ON "MERIDIAN ROAD"

LETTERS RECEIVED HERE TELL OF IMPROVEMENTS THAT WILL BE MADE ALONG ROUTE

A MEETING HERE SOON

Instructions Being Awaited From Secretary Relative to Guide Posts

Local officials of the Meridian Road Association are awaiting instructions from Secretary Nichols before starting the erection of signs and guide posts along the route through Wichita county. Telephone poles and other poles along the route will be striped and mile posts will be erected. It is planned to have the same markings and uniform signs from Winniepeg to the Gulf and for this reason the local officials are awaiting instructions from the secretary before proceeding with the work.

D. P. Talley, chairman of the Wichita county organization is in receipt of a letter from H. W. Kuteiman of the Texas division in which the latter says he is trying to have a new road established between Weatherford and Fort Worth which will be about ten miles shorter and will afford a much better road in either dry or wet weather.

As soon as the signs are put up and the road properly marked Mr. Talley says it is going to be necessary for the citizens of Wichita Falls and Wichita county to formulate plans for putting in shape all bad places along the route from the Burk Burnett bridge to the Archer county line and to keep the road in good shape all the time.

Mr. Talley says a meeting of all citizens interested will be necessary and suggests that committees be appointed at that meeting to place these matters before the proper county and city officials.

"We have won a good fight in securing this great highway," he said with enthusiasm, "but it can be changed and it is up to us to keep awake and do our full part so as to hold it permanently."

Letters received by Mr. Talley from Jack county indicate that the people there appreciate the value of the Meridian Road and are preparing to greatly improve their already good route.

W. M. Coleman, another executive committee member from Archer county, writes that he will do all he can to get the bad spots through Archer county improved and he is hopeful of good results. He told Mr. Talley recently that he had arranged to have one of his own fences set back where the route crosses the Little Wichita bottom so the commissioners could grade the road.

Another letter received by Mr. Talley is from H. Munchrath, commissioner precinct No. 2, Archer county. Windhorst is located in this precinct. Mr. Munchrath says:

"Your letter was handed me by Mr. Weinapple. I will have the road fixed from the south county line north to the river. I am sure Mr. Gant, commissioner-elect of precinct No. 1, who lives on the road between the river and Wichita Falls will be with me and fix the road from the river north to the county line. I will bring this before the court and get the work done soon as we can. Yours for better roads."

Mr. Talley and his fellow-workers were greatly encouraged over this letter, as the stretch of road referred to was the only piece which they had feared might stand in the way of success. Practically every mile of road from Red River to Fort Worth is now under promise to be looked after.

For emergency use by firemen there has been invented a fire and water proof hood, which can be carried in a coat pocket yet which when opened and fastened around the neck will give its wearer fresh air enough to last him ten or fifteen minutes.

FELT BAD ALL THE TIME

Shellhorn Lady Suffered a Great Deal, But Is All Right Now.

Shellhorn, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Carrie May says: "A short time ago, I commenced to have weak spells and headaches. I felt bad all the time, and soon grew so bad I couldn't stay up. I thought I would die. At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me; so he got some more. After I had taken the second bottle, I was entirely well. I wish every lady, suffering from womanly trouble, would try Cardui. It is the best medicine I know of. It did me more good than anything I ever used."

Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health. As a remedy for woman's ills, it has a successful record of over 50 years. Your druggist sells it. Please try it.

CITY NOT ALL BRICK

Beautiful Scenes on the Outskirts of New York.

Picturesque Heights of Hoboken and Weehawken Give an Impression of Florence Carried Across Sea From Italy.

New York.—Eastward or westward, as a New Yorker rides in the elevated trains, there are vistas to meet his eye that will prove the city is something beyond the post's brick and stone if he will but look to find them. From the elevated roads on the eastern side of the city and once the Battery park is left behind, the pessimistic versifier has much the better of it.

After the northward bound trains pass the Chatham square station all glimpses of the East river, its piers and ships and blue water, with soaring bridge towers and graceful cables, are left behind, and there is only the teeming life of the east side to flash up before his eyes down the narrow streets.

Stuyvesant square and the picturesque St. George's make a momentary oasis of green and brown, and then come the streets from the Twenties northward, where the vistas end in the river again, with all its picturesque activities and color. Grim old Bellevue strikes a somber note as one background; but the buildings on Blackwell's island, serious as their purpose may be, change the note of depression to one of pleasure by the picture they present of velvet-smooth lawns, out of which rise the vine-clad walls of the old gray stone city buildings. Now and again a schooner under full crosses one of these rectangular openings to give a fillip to the heart of the sailor man who glimpses the blue water and the moving craft, with lively emotions of envy for those afloat. The Rockefeller institute forms an impressive end to one of these vistas, the last one that leaves an impression on the memory as the train slides upward toward the architectural jumble of Harlem and beyond.

But on the westward side of Manhattan the vista hunter has richer and more varied food for his eyes to feed on. By the Battery itself there is usually to be seen a fruit vessel from the tropics, picturesque in its gleaming white paint and colored stack and flags. Above the long line of duna wharf houses coastwise steamers thrust their stacks, and the mightier tubes that form the great steamships' funnels make vivid blocks of color against the sky. These funnels and the ships' cargo booms form a kind of irregular pattern of crude colors against the generally prevailing blue of the sky. The heights of Hoboken and Weehawken begin to march along at the end of the vistas a little further up town, and far against the end of Twenty-ninth street the great pile of the monastery on the heights gives an impression of Florence carried across the sea.

High above the river now stands a thin line of trees along the Hudson boulevard that give a French touch to the momentary compositions one sees as the train clatters on its way. Riverside Drive and the park behind it afford the most varied and delectable backgrounds to these vistas, the crowning touch of magnificent picturesqueness along this line being the gray bulk of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine rising above the green and rocky slopes of Morning-side Park.

The brick and stone avalanche may submerge the homeliner after this; but if he has been feasting his eyes on the vistas he have mentioned he is fortified even against row after row of flats with never a bit of green to relieve them.

VERDICT OF SECOND DEGREE MURDER

Ollie P. Beaupre Given 25 Years for Murdering His Wife at Dallas Two Years Ago

By Associated Press. Waxahachie, Texas, Nov. 23.—A verdict of guilty of second degree murder with a penalty of twenty-five years imprisonment was returned today by the jury which tried Ollie P. Beaupre of Dallas on a charge of murdering his wife nearly two years ago. Beaupre showed no emotion as his sentence was pronounced.

It was announced his attorneys would appeal. The first trial at Dallas resulted in a disagreement.

Mrs. Beaupre was murdered with a hammer at her home in Dallas in February, 1911. Her husband had just returned home having left a friend who got off a street car with him. The testimony showed that a very short time elapsed between Beaupre's bidding his friend good bye and his cries arousing the neighbors because his wife had been hit with a hammer. He testified he found her unconscious when he entered the house. She never regained consciousness sufficiently to make a statement.

The prosecution showed that the only unlocked door was the front door through which Beaupre had just entered the house and which he said he unlocked. The trial brought to light the story of Beaupre's affection for Miss Elsie Grey, a telephone operator. Witnesses swore they had seen him hug and kiss Miss Grey.

VERDICT OF ACQUITTAL FOR JOHN LOYD

After Deliberating Sixteen Hours Jury in Clay County District Court Returns Finding

Special to The Times. Henrietta, Texas, Nov. 23.—After being out since ten o'clock last night the jury in the trial of John Loyd, charged with murder in the killing of Earnest Davis at Charlie, returned a verdict at two o'clock this afternoon of "Not guilty." While a verdict of first degree murder had not been expected many had believed the jury would find the defendant guilty of manslaughter or would not be able to agree on a verdict.

The verdict was received joyously by the defendant and his brother, who is also under indictment in connection with the same affair.

GOOD YEAR FOR M. E. SOUTH

AN INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP OF NEARLY ONE HUNDRED SHOWN IN REPORT

NEARLY $10,000 RAISED

Resolutions Adopted Ask For Return of Pastor and Presiding Elder

An increase in membership of more than one hundred and a total raised for various church purposes this year of nearly $10,000 were shown in reports submitted by various boards and societies of the First M. E. Church, South, at the fourth quarterly conference of that church last Friday evening. The meeting was held at the church. Officers and stewards for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Stewards: T. B. Noble, P. B. Cox, C. W. Snider, M. P. Kelley, J. C. A. Guest, T. T. Reese, J. J. Perkins, A. J. Miller, W. H. Downing, George H. Carpenter, Mack Thomas, W. W. Silk, C. C. Knight, L. C. Hinkle, N. M. Clifford, P. A. Martin, T. J. Waggoner, H. H. Mathis, B. M. Bullard, Fred Housholder, E. P. Greenwood. Trustees: T. B. Noble, W. H. Downing, L. H. Mathis, T. J. Waggoner, J. B. Jones, A. A. Jones, N. H. Redding, George Eagle, George Simmons, J. A. Deaton.

Superintendents of Sunday School: P. C. Marlice, T. A. Baggett, R. D. Kennedy, J. A. Frank. President of Epworth League, L. H. Howard. The members and all present adjourned to the basement of the church at the conclusion of the meeting and were served with abundant refreshments by the ladies of the church. It was the verdict of all that the year 1912 was the most successful in the history of the church.

A feature of the meeting was the adoption of the following resolution: "Whereas, our Presiding Elder, T. H. Morris and Pastor J. W. Hill, have served this charge for only one year, and

"Where, the church and her interests have grown and prospered under their leadership and direction, and

"Whereas, through their untiring efforts, loyalty, fidelity, wise counsel, brotherly love, sympathy and devotion, they have endeared themselves to us. Therefore, it be Resolved, that this quarterly conference express its hearty appreciation of their successful labors and assure them of the unfeigned affection of this church, and that we, therefore, respectfully request that the annual conference that they will be returned to their respective places for another year."

GIRLS PICK PECANS FOR CHURCH MONEY

Members of Wesley Class of M. E. Church South Labor for Church

A novel plan to raise money for the church was that adopted yesterday by the girls of the Wesley class of the M. E. Church, South, when they joined the large force of girls working in the candy factory building, picking out pecans. The twelve girls picked a total of sixty pounds, realizing a neat sum from their efforts. Mrs. C. R. Hartsook, who is teacher of the class, worked with them.

The ability of the girls was underestimated, with the result that they were not supplied enough pecans to keep them busy all day, but they made such a good showing that they were invited to return next Saturday. At dinner time, they were given a treat by Mrs. T. R. T. Orth, who served them with scalloped oysters and other dainties. Those who took part were Mrs. Hartsook, Mizzen Kathleen Benson, Bonne Hardy, Ha Cook, Myrtle Humphries, Marie Shelton, Vera Forsy, Ailo Ruescher, Alcen Waggoner, Zeala Robertson, Edna Duke, Gertrude Orth and Oma Ashford.

$1000 in Cash

Go in for this money. You'll find that cake baking, fudge making and candy making are not at all hard. You need only a good recipe and confidence. You have 80 chances to win.

for Women and Girls

You can bake a good cake—one that will make one sit back and say "that's fine." You can make tasty, flavory candy and crumbly, dainty fudge. You are invited to make some for a real cash prize—two or even three cash prizes. Roll up your sleeves and get very busy—for your product must be in our hands by December 8th to the 15th, 1912. Remember that, please. Read the conditions below carefully. The cake, candy and fudge will be distributed to the poor of New Orleans, so you will not only stand a good chance for extra Christmas money, but you will be making somebody happier at Christmastide. Remember that no syrup makes such good cake, candy and fudge as the syrup, with the RED LABEL—nothing else is so good on griddle cakes, waffles or biscuits and nothing else makes such dainty, flavory, mouth-watering desserts. Cleanly packed in sanitary cans—never sold from casks or barrels. Ten cents up, according to size. Remember that your cake, candy or fudge must be in our hands during the week beginning Dec. 8th. Prizes will be mailed by December 20th. Send for the book of Veiva recipes—it may help you win a prize—no charge.

Any woman or girl can enter this contest except professional cake and candy makers. All cakes, fudges, candies, etc., must have syrup as one of the ingredients. Each contestant must submit a sample of candy or cake weighing not less than one-half pound and as much more as they wish. Any contestant may enter both cake and candy contests, submitting not less than one-half pound of each and be eligible to win a prize for each. All samples must be received by us during the week beginning December 8th and ending December 15th, 1912, when the contest closes at 5 P. M. And no sample will be accepted unless marked "Veiva Syrup Contest." Each sample is to be accompanied by the name and address of the sender, a copy of the recipe used and the label from the can of syrup used in the recipe. Contestants may use any recipe they wish. We strongly advise each contestant to write for the Veiva recipe book—it will surely prove helpful. All samples submitted will be distributed among the poor of New Orleans just before Christmas. Names of prize winners will be published shortly after prizes are awarded. Address all packages "Veiva Syrup Contest," care of Penick & Ford, Ltd., New Orleans, La.

Pecan Prices Decline—Receipts Here Last Week Were Heavy

Several hundred bushels of pecans were marketed here Saturday. One man brought in a wagon bed full and others brought in by the sack. Up until a few days ago dealers had been paying around ten cents but the market has dropped and the nuts are bringing only eight cents a pound. Hasky Heath has bought a large quantity of pecans this season. Last week Jim Guthrie, a farmer of the Dyess community marketed two wagon loads for which Mr. Heath gave him a check for $42.98. These were grown by Mr. Guthrie on his own farm. Mr. Guthrie has been fortunate in other ways this year. He planted 500 acres of cotton. Last week he had already gathered forty-five bales of cotton and then had about ten more bales to pick.

O. F. MARCHMAN BUYS EIGHTH STREET PROPERTY
D. P. Taylor has sold to O. F. Marchman the building, occupied by the Union Bar on Eighth street on the west side of the alley that runs past the Union Station site for a consideration of $15,000. The building has a frontage of 19 feet and is 50 feet deep and two stories high.
Mr. Taylor purchased the same building a little more than a year ago for $12,000.

DENTON COUNTY MAN BUYS PROPERTY HERE.
Orville Bullington and W. M. Priddy have sold a part of a lot on Ninth street back of the three story building being erected by C. C. Knight to Hamilton Morgan of Denton county for a consideration of $15,000. The plot sold has a frontage of fifty feet on Ninth street and is ninety feet deep. There is no building on it. Messrs. Priddy and Bullington purchased the same tract about a year ago for $12,000. The deal was made through J. L. Jackson.

INSPECT PROPOSED NEW TERRITORY

With the calculating eye of a fond father who sees his young son outgrowing his clothes and who is getting ready to dig up for the long trousers, the boundary sub-committee of the charter committee of eleven yesterday made the rounds of the country adjacent to this city with a view to determining what new territory shall be included in the city limits under the new charter. The committee includes T. B. Noble, J. L. Jackson, Fred Householder and L. C. Hinkle. The members visited several of the out lying sections, but reached no decisions that were made public. It is known that the addition of the land occupied by the Northwestern shops and the brick plant is contemplated, but no decision has been reached to this effect.

As soon as the boundary committee completes its labors, the sub-committee will be ready on the charter as a whole, and things will then be up to the general committee of eleven.

M'BRIDE WELL HITS THE SAND

IT CAME IN SATURDAY WITH A FLOW THAT SQUIRTED OVER THE DERRICK

GOOD NEWS FROM BURK

Five Good Ones Without a Dry Hole—Low Park Well Will Be Tested

Coming in with a flow that squirted over the derrick, the McBride well on the Chenault tract near Burk Burnett struck the sand at 1780 feet yesterday, extending that portion of the field about a mile to the southwest and putting Burk Burnett very decidedly on the oil map. The sand was reached at a point from fifty to seventy feet higher than the Schmoeker, Embury and Kowan wells, and it had not been expected that there would be any news from there before Monday. The size of the well remains to be determined. Some of those who were out yesterday believe that it is better than any of the other three producers near Burk Burnett and that it is certainly a good looker.

It seems to be up to Iowa Park and Burk Burnett to furnish good news, to offset the variety that is coming from the Eeds country. The Guffey-Wood well on the R. L. Eeds, about half a mile east and south of the first well hit the Eeds sand at 1465 feet yesterday and found it dry. This was the last well in that district to reach the sand, and they were all dry, a very slim showing of oil in some of them being all that was found.

The Corsicana's well on the Gull lett tract, the fourth offset to the Schmoeker, was drilled in yesterday and will be tested this week. It seems to be about in the same class with the others.

The Corsicana has made two new locations one on the north line of the Schmoeker, another on the east line of the Embury. This makes fifteen rigs, locations and drilling wells with in a radius of five miles of the town of Burk Burnett.

The Producers Company has a rig up for a well on the Byers tract at Petrolia, offsetting Developers No. 4 which was recently started. A combination rig will be used; the Developers will use cable tools.

Electric oil is now selling at 81 cents per barrel, an advance having been made several days ago, following advances in the other fields. It is rumored that another advance is scheduled shortly.

Before it is drilled deeper a test will be made on the Staples well on the Winfrey farm near Iowa Park, which has a good showing at a depth of about 200 feet. A pump was sent out to the well yesterday morning but the tubing was not gotten into place last night. The installation of the pump will be completed today and it is probable pumping will start this afternoon. A hundred barrel tank has been erected near the well.

The Guffey No. 16 on the Miller tract near Eeds was being drilled in late yesterday and is one of the best on that tract for probably 200 barrels.

S. S. Fowler and W. Daniel have leased from A. H. Fowler and wife 116 1/2 acres of the Samuel Anderson survey, north half of Block 10, Red River Valley lands; $3495 cash, eighth royalty, drilling to start in one year.

The Schmoeker, Embury and Kowan wells at Burk Burnett are each making in the neighborhood of a hundred barrels daily, giving that part of the field a daily production of 300 barrels. The Guffey, the fourth well in that immediate vicinity, is due to be drilled in early next week, by which time news of some kind is expected from the McBride well on the Chenault, about 8 miles to the southeast. There are now thirteen rigs, locations and drilling wells within a radius of four miles of Burk Burnett.

The Brownwood Oil and Development company has been chartered with a capital stock of $5,000. The incorporators are: J. F. Wilson, Henry Knox and W. R. Serimeneous.

The Guffey's well on the R. L. Eeds is waiting for supplies today and will not be drilled to the depth of the Eeds sand, before early next week.

The Pure Oil Operating company has purchased from L. C. Heydrick a lease on 114 acres originally granted by T. W. Goodman and wife.

Oil Leases and Transfers
Joseph Meyer and wife to Myles O'Reilly, 150 acres out of the south side of a 250-acre tract the east half of H & G N survey, No. 371, $375 cash, drilling to start in one year.

John Haier to Otto Stehlik, 160 acres, being the Duncan tract on the Wichita river; $24 cash, $80 annual rental, well to be completed within two years.

Christ Renas and wife to W. T. Willis, the west 50 acres of the Maria Bissler tract; $750 cash, annual rental of $15 per acre, drilling to start within year, eighth royalty.

COMMITTEE BUSY ON GLASS FACTORY

Rates and Other Matters Receiving Attention Pending Selection of Site

No decision is yet forthcoming from the makers of the latest glass factory proposition as to which of the three sites offered them here is the most acceptable. And the committee is awaiting word from the home offices of the concern. Until the decision is reached, no effort will be made to site the amount needed to secure the first site tendered the factory men. In the meantime, however, certain concessions as to freight rates, switching privileges and other matters are receiving attention at the hands of the committee. The rates have been agreed to by the railroads and await only the approval of the "wildcat" commission to make them effective.

It is understood that a new bridge across the Wichita river is among the concessions in connection with the North Wichita site of forty acres. This tract was viewed with considerable favor by the factory men, on account of its proximity to the business section. It is believed that a decision will be forthcoming early this week.

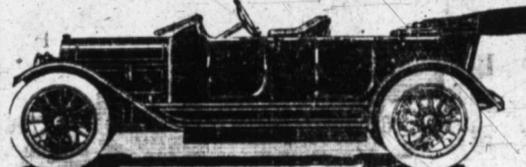

Children take them Like Candy

Every mother knows what a trouble it is to get children to take any sort of medicine for the bowels—such as castor oil, sacara, pills and other stringent remedies. That is why nearly every mother is now getting

FOWLER'S PINK WAFERS

These harmless little wafers start to work at once. They taste like candy and the children like them. They do not gripe or cause any inconvenience. Doctors seldom prescribe prepared medicines but doctors who know Fowler's Pink Wafers readily prescribe them. Try them just once for yourself or children and you will never be without them. They are guaranteed and your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not satisfied.

The Science of Publicity

Publicity is one of the oldest of all the sciences. In the verdant garden the Devil with the weapon of publicity persuaded Mother Eve to partake of the fatal apple. This was the very inception of the use of publicity. This personal advertisement got results. Man was estranged from his Maker, the fowls withered in this beautiful byway and the birds hushed their merry song. Back of every successful business, there's nerve, judgment and publicity. Of these three, publicity is the greatest. The question of the hour with our modern machinery is not the output, but the question to be solved is the sale of the finished product. But with the aid of publicity, if wise in its use, one can create a demand and make the world use your product. Truth and quality alone count in the use of publicity—an advertised fake is short-lived—it can not stand the sunlight of publicity. Publicity can take a peasant stand in a hole in the wall and with one waive of its magic wand, so to speak, can convert it into a merchant palace. C. W. Post in his dire necessity for his stomach sake, made "Post Toasties." It was good and wholesome and he passed it around to his neighbors. One of his Yankee friends said to him: "Why don't you advertise it." He did so. He made the press of America his vehicle, changed the breakfast menu of a nation. He is the prince of advertisers and sixteen times a millionaire. Genius discovered the vegetable fat in the cotton seed; N. K. Fairbanks by the use of publicity jacked the palate of the world and made them use Cottolene. Now he lives in a castle and the poor white trash call him a blasted millionaire. The Yankee took a little grease, some coloring matter and a little perfume and moulded it into a fragrant white cake, called it Ivory soap. Then turned on the search light of publicity and this morning the civilized world hopped out of bed and washed its hand and face with Ivory soap. The man who writes the ads for this soap factory draws a salary of twenty thousand dollars a year. Learn to write ads, the highest paid profession in the world. Publicity lays its hand upon the obscure boy down there in rural districts. Then with the whip of ambition makes the red blood in his veins tingle for power and prestige. Then the rabble cries: Great is Caesar. They place in his hands the reins of government and placed him on a throne. God made man. Publicity discovered him. Learn to write ads, the highest paid profession in the world. Publicity is just simply to remind you that the WICHITA FALLS BOOSTER will be a splendid advertisement medium, and when the opportunity knocks at your door don't fail to buy space in its pages—the world will sure read it.

USUAL OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING

Union Church Service in Morning and Football Game in the Afternoon

Thanksgiving Day will be observed in Wichita Falls by a general closing of stores and offices, by a union church service in the morning and by the time-honored turkey dinners at home. The inevitable football game, which has come to be almost as certain a part of Thanksgiving as turkey and cranberries, is also provided for here.

The union service will be held at the First M. E. Church, beginning at 10:30 and Rev. McFadden of the Central Presbyterian Church will deliver the sermons. An effort will be made at this meeting to raise funds to put the United Charities on a sound financial basis so that it may provide are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Collier on Lamar avenue at 4:30 Monday afternoon. A full attendance is desired as business of importance will be considered.

The Law of Push

We were walking along one of the busy streets of Wichita Falls and saw this name on a door: "Push." The word push is a good American word. Possibly the critics would call it a vulgar word. But in commercial parlance when you say PUSH, all the world knows what you mean. Push means to move something. The Chinaman stood on Broadway, New York, and watched the electric car glide along on threads of steel, the Chinaman said: "No Pushes, no pulles, but it ruggs all the same." That Chinaman expressed an untruth. Back of that car was the electric dynamo propelled by steam. And back of every corporation, back of every big town, back of every bank and successful mercantile establishment, if you will look, you will discover the law of push. The law of PUSH moves the sun and stars and holds Old Mother earth in her orbit. The waters of the sea and all matter obey the law of PUSH. Now gentlemen, we want to stop here just long enough to say: Back of the poor and needy of the city during the winter months.

Many of the stores, the banks and the public offices will be closed for the day.

The WICHITA FALLS BOOSTER you will find the law of PUSH. Its pages will sparkle and bristle with the law of PUSH. It will PUSH the business of your town, it will push for more people, more railroads, more smokestacks, more schools and a greater publicity. Buy space in the Wichita Falls Booster. The man or the town that doesn't move is already dead.

Start Right Now To Banish Catarrh.

Sprays and douches can't destroy the devilish germs of catarrh. If you believe that liquids reach the air tubes, try to swallow a little water the wrong way.

Booth's HYOMEI is an antiseptic, soothing, healing air, made chiefly from Australian Eucalyptus. It's so easy to use; just pour a few drops into the hard rubber inhaler and breathe it; that's all.

You'll know in five minutes that HYOMEI is reaching the sore membrane and its soothing influence is bringing you most comfortable relief.

For catarrh, croup, sore throat, coughs, colds and asthma Pooshee & Lynch are authorized to guarantee HYOMEI or money back.

Complete outfit $1.00; extra bottles 50c; at all dealers. (Adv.)

PUBLIC INVITED TO ATTEND MEETING

Others Than Union Members Will be Welcome at Address by Jennings.

The presence of the public generally, whether members of unions or not, is urged by local union men at tomorrow night's meeting at the court house, at which T. C. Jennings of Beaumont, chairman of the legislative committee of the State Federation of Labor, will deliver an address. This address is expected to deal with labor legislation to be asked at the approaching session of the Legislature and with what the legislative committee has already accomplished.

The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock and the union men in charge of the affair wish to extend an invitation to the general public to attend and hear Mr. Jennings.

Working Out An Agreement. Representatives of the railroad crafts employed on the Northwestern and officials of the road are still at work over the details of the new wage contract, the principal terms of which were agreed upon earlier in the month, as published in The Times of last Sunday.

The new wage scale will become effective December 1, according to present plans. There are a number of lesser matters in connection with the contract that require attention and these are being worked out between the representatives of the several brotherhoods and R. J. Sullivan, superintendent of the Northwestern, who has the road's end of the question in charge.

DECIDE YOURSELF.

The Opportunity is Here, Backed by Wichita Falls Testimony. Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement. Read Wichita Falls endorsement. Read the statements of Wichita Falls citizens. And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it: C. N. Harrison, 1925 Eighth street, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "About two years ago I had great trouble from my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my father's family and proved reliable for removing kidney annoyances. I also had taken them for lumbago. I again took this remedy and it removed the lameness across my back and other troubles caused by my kidneys. We all heartily endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. (Adv.)

For compressing air in a tank an Italian inventor has brought out an engine without a fly wheel, a piston being driven back and forth in a cylinder by all fuel and pushing the air ahead of it at each end.

A Vivid Picture.

Of all "aptitudes," the mechanical is least likely to manifest itself in a feminine brain. The young woman whose visit to a locomotive works is described in Young's Magazine, was doubtless interested in what she saw, but her account of the processes observed leaves the reader to doubt her entire understanding of them. "You pour," she told a friend, "a lot of sand into a lot of boxes, and you throw old stove lids and things into a furnace, and then you turn the red-hot stream into a hole in the sand, and everybody yells and shouts. "Then you pour it out, let it cool and pound it, and then you put in a thing that bores holes in it. Then you screw it together, and paint it, and put steam in it, and it goes splendidly, and they take it to a drafting room and make a blue-print of it. "But one thing I forgot—they have to make a boiler. One man gets inside and one gets outside, and they pound frightfully, and then they tie it to the other thing, and you ought to see it go!"—Youth's Companion.

NEW COMPLICATIONS ON MEXICAN BORDER

American Troopers Cross Border and Start a Row—Captured and Thrown in Jail. By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Indications that a new complication has arisen along the Mexican border were contained in a report to the war department today. Two troopers of the Thirteenth Cavalry are alleged to have crossed the border and ridden into San Ignacio, where they engaged in a fight and wounded three Mexicans, one of whom will die. The Americans were turned over to the Mexican civil authorities and are held in the Juarez jail. General Aubert, Mexican Federal commander, has delivered their military equipment to General Steever, commanding Fort Bliss. The State Department was advised today that William W. Fink, an American mining superintendent, who near Chihuahua had been released up near Chihuahua, had been released upon payment of $5,000 to the rebels.

DAINTY INTIMATE WEAR FOR DECEMBER BRIDES

Bordered Chiffon for a Tea Hour Negligee

The New Marie Antoinette Cap

Negligees of Fine embroidery Mounted Over Rich Silk and Veiled With Chiffon--Elaborate Petticoats Accompany Little 'Room Sacques'--Crepe Nightgowns for Cold Weather.

EXQUISITELY fine and dainty undelinedness have become the necessity rather than the luxury of modern womanhood. Coarse muslins and heavy trappings have been abolished, even in the bargain sale "lingerie" advertised for the great white sales that occur in every city, and fine even though simple garments well cut and gracefully trimmed may now be purchased at very moderate prices. This is a development of very recent years, for the manufacturers of ready-made underwear were obstinate folk and in their opinion quantities of cheap lace and embroidery evidently made up for coarseness of material and clumsiness of cut; but women kept insisting on simpler garments, softer and finer in quality--and when they could not obtain these at any prices save the exorbitant ones asked for French hand-made lingerie, took to making the garments themselves. Now the manufacturers have awakened to the fact that what woman wants in underwear is fineness and fit; and not elaboration, and the character of the new undermuslins is a revelation to those who have not observed what strides "the trade" has recently made in this respect.

Only One Petticoat Worn
The modern woman wears but one petticoat, that being the rather short and very slim affair donned last of all just before the donning of the dress skirt, and made of satin, messaline, crepe de chine, or tub material with a flounce of embroidery at the foot. Lace is not used on the petticoat now except in the form of insertions above the flounce of embroidery, and in narrow frills under the edge of the embroidery scallops. The street petticoat if of tub material--and such petticoats are much worn just now--has a six inch flounce--no deeper, set on under an embroidery beading. Dancing petticoats and those intended for evening wear often have flounces to the knees, the handsome embroidery flounces not being gathered where it joins the petticoat top, but having a few groups of pin tucks to lend fullness without lumpiness. Pleats in street petticoats are a natural sequence of the renewed favor for-pleated effects and many of the new satin petticoats in fashionable amber, peacock and shot effects have one or two accordion pleated frills, the pleating, however, being very soft and rather scant and the lower row being put on without any dust flounce underneath. The dust ruffle has been abolished entirely, from all petticoats. It is a relic of the days when one's petticoat was worn only a little shorter than the outer skirt and kicked against the boots at every step. Now the petticoat falls only to the top of the buttoned boot and there is really no need of a protecting dust ruffle which only adds clumsiness to the edge.

Fascinating "Negligee Petticoats"
Every properly supplied trousseau this autumn will number two or three special "negligee petticoats," affairs of luxe for wear with diaphanous negligees or tiny little negligee sacques falling to the hip. The negligee petticoat makes no pretense of being hidden; but because it is coquettishly flaunted as a very apparent part of the costume, it is as coquettish as a petticoat can possibly be, and is highly frilled, belaced and befringed to the last degree of petticoat pretentiousness. A petticoat of this character is shown on a seated figure and accompanies a charming negligee of embroidery and lace. The petticoat has a very deep flounce of eyelet embroidery, deeply scalloped at the edge, and these scallops fall over an under-flounce of lace. The top of the petticoat is made of handkerchief linen, alternating with strips of lace, and the flounce is set on under a band of eyelet embroidered beading through which is drawn pale pink satin ribbon. Some of these negligee petticoats are of crepe de chine, with flounces of pleated lace or of pleated chiffon finished at the edge with a tiny quilling. Chiffon is very fashionable for dancing petticoats and sometimes the pleated chiffon flounces are attached under festoons of tiny silk roses.

Paris Favors Fine Embroidery for Room Wear

Glorified Dressing Sacques
The most enchanting little "room sacques" are sold in the places where one looks for exclusive Paris belongings. These little jackets are of chiffon--sometimes over thin silk, but more often quite transparent, and the sacque is usually cut on kimono lines which are more graceful over shoulder and arm than in the set in sleeve effect. Quantities of lace trim these little sacques and sometimes roses of silk or French--and almost invariably there is a becoming collared cap to match the sacque. These little sacques are not supposed to be washable--they are far too delicate and filmy for that, but they may be sent to the cleaners occasionally. In contrast to the chiffon room sacque is the more practical combed sacque made of handkerchief linen and embroidery, a sleeveless tunic which may be slipped over the shoulders while the hair is being done. A November bride has received two of these dainty combed sacques as part of her "bridal shower." One is of handkerchief linen scalloped all around the edge and embroidered by hand; it is a flower and leaf design, and the other is made of allover embroidery with an edge of cluny lace.

Callot has used this straight room sacque model for the basic idea of a most lovely negligee built for an English bride of very tall and flowy figure. A tunic of white chiffon made of two lengths of the filmy stuff tossed over the shoulders and hanging straight to the hips, is gathered under in puffed fashion at this point, the skirt below showing a deep lace flounce falling over a chiffon petticoat on which are countless rows of little company this teagown. The second teagown, of bordered chiffon, is from Margaine Lacroix, and is in shades of yellow--a very fashionable color for the teagown just at the moment. The pale yellow chiffon has a border in shades of orange, and light brown, the draped tunic being mounted over pale yellow messaline. This teagown has a lace collar which crosses the bust in fishu fashion and is caught at the belt with pale mauve pensive, the belt being of mauve velvet ribbon.

The embroidery gown is not a teagown, but a negligee, suitable only for boudoir or bedroom wear. Fine white or cream embroidery is much used for dressing gowns of this sort now for the dainty woman fancies a negligee that can be done up fresh, by her expensive French jaundiced. Sometimes these embroidery gowns are mounted over slips of thin silk, but in steam heated rooms the unlined gown is comfortable all winter long.

A Peganoir Made of Shawl
Jeanne Hulse has just completed a rather interesting piece for a bride, to be worn by her mother or her great-grandmother's costly shawl here shawl for a gown that will have individuality. The garment hangs quite straight from the shoulders, the rich border being allowed to run straight across the top, so that it falls over the arm in sleeve effect. The two side-edges of the shawl were doubled inward to form the center fronts, the border running down each front and out over the shoulder and arm. Black satin embroidery with gold threads is inserted in a narrow strip between the front and back borders that meet at the shoulder line, and the kimono sleeves are finished with bands of the gold-embroidered satin, a strip of black fox fur finishing the edge luxuriously. The shawl would have been too long at the lower edge if left as nature; but the border across the bottom was cut off and then applied higher up to bring the garment just the right length. This handsome negligee closes at the left hip under a gold cord ornament and is belted loosely with a gold and black cord with tasseled ends falling below the gold ornament.

A Brassiere With the Petticoat
The old style corset cover has become almost unknown in fashionable circles for the woman who dresses smartly realizes the necessity of a firmer figure support under loose gowns than the corset cover of yore. Brassieres of linen and fine embroidery and perhaps an edge of Irish or cluny lace are worn with the petticoat over the corset, a separate culotte drawer being worn also over the corset if desired. Most women, however, dispensing with the party clothes drawer in the interests of sleekness and wear the corset over a combination chemise-drawer of batiste, or an ordinary combination garment of glove silk which clings closely to the figure. The brassiere shown in the illustration is a beautifully fitting little garment made of handkerchief linen and eyelet embroidery banding, put together with cluny etreux. The brassiere fastens at the back and the hanging strap is intended to hook to the corset though the brassiere as pictured is worn over a petticoat of prune colored messaline with a pleated flounce at the foot. Some of the prettiest brassieres are of allover embroidery, exquisitely fitted and fastening at either the back or the front. The garments fastening at the back give the most slender effect. The woman who likes to sleep in a cold bedroom; or rather, to have the windows of her bedroom wide open, no matter what the weather, fancies the nightgowns of cotton crepe which are certainly warmer than diaphanous affairs of batiste. These crepe nightgowns are very simply made and some of them are fastened with piping in color--the French models particularly. A nightgown of this sort, made of very sheer cotton crepe, has sleeves to the elbow and a turnover Byron collar with a graceful flare. The collar is piped with pink lawn, and a piping runs down the front to the bust, pink cord lacing across through pink embroidered eyelets. The turned back cuffs are piped and laced up the outer side.

The charming cap pictured today is a new Marie Antoinette model called the "Guillotine," since its shape suggests the map worn by the ill-fated queen to the scaffold. It is made of sheer lawn and Val lace and the lace trim is turned back from the forehead in graceful effect.

Importance of Registering Names of Children With Government

By Miss JULIA C. LATHROP, Chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Commerce and Labor

WE cannot begin to know anything about how many children are lost or why they are lost until we know HOW MANY ARE BORN. The enumeration of the children who are born in this country seems the most fundamental and immediate necessity for the children's bureau's future work.

There are already at work upon this several very important bodies. First of all, there is the bureau of the census.

I believe that the work of the bureau should, for a time at least, be concentrated upon the question of the mortality of infants and the birth rate, with a view to helping those influences and those public bodies that are already working for birth registration in the United States.

We realize that in the matter of birth registration there are as MANY LAWS AS THERE ARE STATES.

IT IS A SOCIAL AND EDUCATIONAL ADVANTAGE FOR THE CHILD TO HAVE HIS NAME DOWN IN A PERMANENT RECORD. IN THE FIRST PLACE, FOR PROPERTY RIGHTS.

Go to any foreign consulate, and the consul will tell of people who have lost fortunes in European personal and real property because they could not prove their American nativity. There are found ALL SORTS OF LEGAL DIFFICULTIES, one of the most embarrassing of which is the liability for military service.

Important as the registration of births is to the children of the well to do or the rich, it is a thousandfold more important to the poor. I don't mean by that a lax regulation of the registration. It should be FORTHWITH. The laws of some states provide that the registry of births must be accomplished within thirty-six hours of the event. In others the time is within a month of the date of birth. SPEED IS ESSENTIAL.

Scarcity of Doctors In China Has Made It Impossible to Combat Disease

By Dr. J. C. M'CRACKEN of Philadelphia, Who Has Spent Five Years Among Chinese

IF THE SAME RATIO OF PHYSICIANS TO POPULATION PREVAILED IN CHINA AS DOES IN PHILADELPHIA THERE WOULD HAVE TO BE MORE THAN TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOCTORS THERE. AS A MATTER OF FACT, THERE ARE ABOUT EIGHT HUNDRED COMPETENT PHYSICIANS IN THE NEWEST REPUBLIC, OR ONE DOCTOR TO EVERY FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND PERSONS.

The government of China has taken no stand to suppress disease up to this time nor even to compel segregation of personal suffering from loathsome and highly contagious maladies. LEPERS MINGLE WITH THE CROWDS IN ALL THE CITIES.

Ignorance and SUPERSTITION take the place of hygiene and sanitation. Native doctors by thousands apply theories not as logical in many instances as the old Indian medicine man.

The Chinese government does not only neglect to suppress disease after it has broken out, but it EXERCISES NO SUPERVISION OVER PRACTITIONERS of medicine or surgery or over the schools where practice of medicine or surgery is supposed to be taught.

Medical missionaries in China have done a splendid work, and the Chinese are grateful. But MORE MEN ARE NEEDED FOR THE FIELD not only in China, but in other countries. The men must be strong, resourceful and willing to devote their best years to the work, for the LANGUAGE OF A COUNTRY MUST BE MASTERED BEFORE REAL RESULTS CAN FOLLOW.

Hypocrisy In America Less Than In Europe

By Mrs. ETHEL WATTS-MUMFORD GRANT, Author

I HAVE LIVED IN MANY COUNTRIES, BUT I HAVE YET TO FIND A SOCIETY IN WHICH THERE IS SO LITTLE HYPOCRISY, SO LITTLE WILLFUL BLINDNESS TO SOCIAL EVILS AND SO GREAT AN INSISTENCE ON THE SINGLE STANDARD OF MORALITY AS IN AMERICA.

Consider the rescue work undertaken by women's organizations. Consider the social purity movement being launched in our schools. Consider even the common topics of conversation at our dinner tables and among our young daughters. This conversation may be unchildlike, vulgar, indecent, but at least it's FRANK.

Of course one sees women of all sorts in Fifth Avenue, but so one does in the main thoroughfares of the big continental cities. The PARISIAN COCOTTE IS QUITE AS MUCH IN EVIDENCE in the streets of Paris as is her American prototype in New York. Just because the latter cannot immediately be distinguished in the crowd by a foreigner who has spent a few weeks with us is no sign of an inherent resemblance between her and the woman of fashion.

The Difference Between Cheating in Public and Cheating in Private

F. P. Dunne, writing the "Interpreter's House" in the December American Magazine says in part: "What we have to do is to make people feel that political dishonesty is as disgraceful as private dishonesty; to force upon men who regard themselves as leaders of human progress the conviction that they must play the game fairly, and that bribing and bribe taking are as shameful as forging notes, or cheating at cards, or pulling a horse in a race. Of course, there is no comparison between the crimes. A man who would slip an ace up his sleeve or bribe a jockey to put a horse in a pocket is a gentlemanly sportsman compared with the man who will sow corruption through the whole body of a community in order to gain an unfair advantage in the game of politics. Yet decent people who will shun a black leg of the race course or the card table will not hesitate to take their dinner publicly in the company of a man who is avowedly corrupt in his relations with the Government. "A card sharp is kicked out of the game. One lapse condemns him forever. We have known of a brave and (we think) honest man who was pursued to his grave by the mere rumor that he cheated at cards. Yet a man may cheat at the far greater game of politics, he may may sell his hand to an opponent, or throw away the stronger hand for a bribe, and be none the worse off in the opinion of the public. He can't live down a peek at his neighbor's hand, but he can not only live down but he can thrive on bribing a judge."

NEW LEADERS TO THE FOREFRONT

McCombs Says South and Southwest Will Take Front Place With New Administration

By Associated Press. Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 23.—William F. McCombs, Democratic National chairman, was the guest here tonight of Clark Howell, Democratic National committeeman from Georgia. Mr. McCombs said: "Democracy now stands at the threshold of the White House, with a four-year lease that bears the privilege of frequent renewal. I believe we will enter the next National campaign with the fight already won. Mr. Wilson's administration will be sane and steady. Business has nothing to fear. Readjustment will be necessary, but not reorganization. The South and Southwest will be foremost in the work of the new administration."

A Gift From Fonville's Carries with it Happiness

WHY ?

Because it is something that is life everlasting, as we have stood behind all we have sold since our existence in Wichita Falls.

WE WISH ALL OF THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTY AND NEIGHBORING COUNTIES TO KNOW WE ARE THE OLDEST JEWELRY HOUSE IN WICHITA FALLS.

This is one store where things are what they seem, and what we say it is, it is.

We are not telling you of anything special. We have too many things to mention. We ask you to visit our store and examine our stock, and then you will see what you want.

WE WILL ENGRAVE ALL GOODS FREE AND HAVE THEM READY FOR DELIVERY WHEN CALLED FOR.

When you buy it of Fonville, you know it's good

LUMBER AND CEMENT..... We carry the best quality of barrel lime for brick work and Hydrated lime for sanitary purposes. Our stock always fresh and the price no more. Give us your orders. J. S. Mayfield Lumber Co. 616-18 Indiana Avenue

Another Great Massacre The greatest butchery of modern times is taking place in the windows of the Harrington Jewelry Co. They have cut the price on all hand-painted china to the very bottom for a few days only. If you see the display at 709 Ohio you will see something that will startle you and you will be satisfied. NOT OFTEN It's seldom that you have a chance to buy genuine Michigan Sweet Cider, Boiled Cider and Apple Cider Jelly. We have received direct from the orchards of Michigan a shipment of these goods, and they are "as fine as silk." Cider Jelly is entirely different than anything else in this line and Southern Michigan and Northern Ohio is the only section we know of where it is produced. There is nothing as good to serve with meats. If you know what it is, we've said enough. If you don't, you have overlooked a bet. You will want some boiled cider for your Holiday cookery. Order the sweet cider while it's fresh. O. W. BEAN & SON GROCERS AND COFFEE ROASTERS 608-610 Ohio Ave. Phones 35 and 640
