ARMISTICE CERTAIN IN NEAR EASTERN HOSTILITIES

CABINET HAS APPROVED PROTOCOL AND SIGNATURES WILL BE ATTACHED TOMORROW

HOPE FOR PEACE

End of Second Month of Shortest European War Closes Under Brighter Auspices

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 30.—The armistice will be signed Monday by the Turks on the one hand and the Bulgarians on the other, for the four allies. It will thus apply, not merely to the Thessaly lines and Adrianople, but to all Turkey in Europe.

The armistice will last as long as the preliminary negotiations for peace. It is stipulated that the position of the belligerents shall remain exactly as at the time of signature.

News has been received in Vienna that peace between Turkey and the Balkan allies will be signed Monday by the plenipotentiaries, according to a news agency dispatch from the Austrian capital.

Bulgaria has come to the end of her resources in men, and has called out the drafts of 1913 and 1914, who are youths of sixteen and seventeen years, while one army in crops in front of Adrianople consists of old men.

By Associated Press. Constantinople, Nov. 30.—The cabinet has approved the protocol of an armistice which will be signed at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. An edict has been issued sanctioning the protocol.

Hope For Permanent Peace Growing.

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 30.—The second month of the shortest great European war in history closes under brighter auspices than the statesmen who have been handling the tangled skein of international affairs dared to predict. An armistice will be signed Monday afternoon at Constantinople by delegates of the belligerent states who have been conferring there in an apparent conciliatory atmosphere and incidentally consuming elaborate luncheons prepared by the city's foremost French chefs.

The hope that permanent peace will follow on terms which will avoid a clash with Austria is as strong in all the capitals and is assuming the strength of conviction.

From Constantinople, Sofia and Belgrade the press agencies which speak with the voices of their governments predict a settlement and portray a general desire to end the war. The terms of the armistice have not yet been announced. Chief interest centers in Adrianople where the Turkish garrison with diminishing ammunition and short rations still makes heroic resistance against the Servians and Bulgarians, with their cordon of artillery steadily crawling closer around the citadel.

The prospect for establishing a diplomatic clearing house composed of the ambassadors of the powers, in some capital to exchange views on the Balkan question during the period of upheaval, gains strength. The Fall Mail Gazette predicts that it will be arranged within two days.

While Turkey and the Balkan states may arrange a treaty of peace by direct negotiation they can hardly do this without constant consultation with the powers.

A conference of Albanian politicians at Avlona has launched a provincial government with Ismail Kemal, a Mussulman, as president and a Catholic.

Panama Canal Official Is Visitor In Wichita Falls

The Panama Canal is rapidly nearing the stage of reality, being already so near completion that the first boat is expected to cross the isthmus by next September, according to Ernest E. Lee of Panama, who is in the city visiting his mother, Mrs. L. W. Perham. Mr. Lee is superintendent of erection of machinery and electrical equipment for the Isthmian Canal commission and is closely in touch with affairs in the Zone. He is stopping here for a brief visit before returning with Mrs. Lee to Chicago, his home.

Mr. Lee says that high officials at Panama are predicting that the first boat will be able to cross the isthmus by next September, although the Canal will not be considered as completed at that time; the work

DECEMBER 15TH WILL BE PEACE SUNDAY.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Announcement was made here today by the American Peace Society of the designation of December 15th as "Peace Sunday." Churches and Sunday schools throughout the country on that day will be asked to emphasize the barbarities of war and the growing movement toward international peace.

SEEK NEW TRIAL FOR CONVICTED CHAMBERLAIN.

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 30.—Counsel for Charles H. Hyde will make their first move to get a new trial for the city chamberlain, found guilty last night of bribery, as soon as he is sentenced. Hyde was convicted on a charge of forcing a loan to the Carnegie Trust Company on another bank of $130,000.

TWO LYON MEN GET THE AXE

U. S. MARSHALS EUGENE NOLTE AND C. B. LYON DISMISSED BY TAFT

"FOR GOOD OF SERVICE"

Pernicious Political Activity Charged Against Two Federal Officials in Texas

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—President Taft, through the Department of Justice today removed from office Eugene Nolte, United States marshal for the Western district of Texas and C. B. Lyon, marshal for the Eastern district of that State. The two marshals were removed "for the good of the service" and were charged with "pernicious political activity." In behalf of Col. Cecil Lyon, former Republican National committeeman from Texas, who was the leading supporter of Col. Roosevelt in that State, Bert J. McDowell of Del Rio was appointed to succeed Nolte, and Phil A. Baer of Paris to succeed Lyon. These removals were the first President Taft has made "for pernicious political activity" since election.

URGES PATRICK NOT TO START LITIGATION

By Associated Press. St. Louis, Nov. 30.—John T. Milliken, brother-in-law of Albert T. Patrick, who spent large sums in aiding Patrick and in proceedings which brought about Patrick's final pardon as the murderer of William Marsh Rice, disapproves of Patrick's attempt to get a share of the former Houston millionaire's fortune. Milliken sent Patrick a message today as follows: "Newspapers report you have retained attorneys to start litigation against the trustees of the Rice estate. Such action is suicidal. I shall not aid you in it, or give it countenance in any manner. I advise you to stop talking to newspapers. Go hide yourself."

WILL CONSULT WILSON'S WISHES

PRESIDENT-ELECT WILL DECIDE SCOPE OF LEGISLATION FOR SPECIAL SESSION

UNDERWOOD'S STATEMENT

Democratic House Leader Says No Decision Will be Reached Until Wilson is Consulted

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—To President-elect Wilson will be left the task of determining whether the tariff alone is to be considered at the special session of Congress next spring, or whether general legislation shall be taken up and whether the tariff is to be revised as a whole or by schedules.

Representative Oscar W. Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee, and Democratic tariff leader, said today he would make no decision on either of these points until he had talked with Mr. Wilson, probably late in December or early in January.

"I can express now only my own opinion as a member of the committee," said Mr. Underwood, "I favor going through the entire tariff law and reforming every schedule. Whether that revision will be in a single bill or a series of bills, each to cover a single schedule, will not be determined by the committee until we know Mr. Wilson's desires.

"The House desires to work in entire harmony with the President and will be guided by him as fully as possible.

The desire of Senate Democrats to participate in the original making of the tariff bills drew a definite statement from Mr. Underwood that the Senate will be fully consulted in all matters of preparation, but that the House would reserve to itself its full authority to make the original tariff bills.

WILSON "SHOW" MAY BE DELAYED

INAUGURATION ON MARCH 4, BUT MAY POSTPONE THE USUAL FESTIVITIES

FAVORS DATE IN APRIL

President-Elect Intimates He Will Consult No One as To Cabinet Appointments

By Associated Press. Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 30.—Woodrow Wilson today declared he would agree to take the oath as President on March 4 next, but that the big ceremony in connection with the inauguration would take place on the last Thursday in April. The President-elect has received more than two hundred letters containing advice regarding legislation. Pointing to a mass of correspondence, Mr. Wilson said: "That is the idea some American people have of giving a man a vacation."

Mr. Wilson today paid seven dollars excess postage on newspaper clippings speculating as to probable cabinet appointments.

"If you see that Wilson has invited this or that man to come to Bermuda relative to appointments in the cabinet," said the governor, "you may be sure that the news came by way of Constantinople, or the windward passage."

Many persons have urged the President-elect to sanction a postponement of the inaugural ceremonies without realizing that this cannot be done without an act of Congress and that it is now impossible to change the forthcoming ceremony so far as the taking of oath is concerned.

Mr. Wilson's statement today, however, indicates his sympathy with the later inauguration movement, and implies that he will gladly assent to a delay of the show features of the event, if an agreement to this end can be secured.

JACK JOHNSON'S WHITE INAMORATA DISAPPEARS.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 30.—Lucile Cameron, former white sweetheart of Jack Johnson, has disappeared. Her mother, into whose custody she was given by the Federal court, returned last night to her home in Minneapolis. The girl is believed to be hiding in Chicago.

CAN SOLICIT THROUGH MAILS

JUDGE MARTIN HOLDS OCCUPATION TAX DOES NOT APPLY TO MAIL SOLICITATION

LIQUOR COMPANY WINS

Court Holds Intention of Law Makers Was Not to Tax Persons Soliciting Through Mails

Wichita Falls mail order liquor houses who have been holding back their circular letters and price lists pending the outcome of a suit filed in Clay county can now rush their letters into the mails for customers in dry counties without fear of being compelled to pay heavy occupation taxes in the counties to which the letters are mailed.

In the suit at Henrietta yesterday Judge F. A. Martin ruled that the payment of occupation taxes by an outside liquor concern soliciting orders by mail in a dry county was not required under the statute.

The brewing company soliciting orders through the mails from residents of Clay county and demand was made for the payment of State and county occupation taxes for the years 1911 and 1912. The county was represented by County Attorney Stine and Attorney Leslie Humphreys. Attorneys Canter and Trammell of Fort Worth and R. L. Taylor of Henrietta, represented the defendant.

Testimony in the form of letters from the Texas Brewing Company with which were enclosed order blanks was submitted. One of these letters read:

Dear Sir: "Thousands of people have become customers of Household Beer in the past three years won by its merit as a beer of highest quality.

"Women find it a splendid refreshment when wearied with household cares or social duties; men enjoy it as a beverage, which exactly 'hits the spot.'"

"May we not serve you? "Texas Brewing Company. "P. S. We enclose price list order blank with self-addressed envelope for your convenience. Do you know about our coupon plan? Ask us."

Another evidently intended to tell about the coupon plan closed as follows:

"Buy a case and start saving for a dinner set. Fill out order blank on the other side."

On the other side was the following: "1912. Find enclosed $3.70. Please send me case of 48 bottles of Household beer subject to refund of $1.30 on receipt of the case and four dozen empty bottles at the brewery. It is

Judge Martin's Opinion. The State of Texas vs. The Texas Brewing Company.

In this case, the county attorney of Clay county sues in the name of the State of Texas to recover from the defendant company $4,000. State taxes and $2,000 county taxes, alleged to be due from said company to the State and county as occupation tax for pursuing the business of selling and offering for sale intoxicating liquor in said county by soliciting or taking orders without having first paid said tax; said county of Clay being a county in which the sale of intoxicating liquor is prohibited by law. Defendant, by answer, denies liability and upon trial, the court finds the following findings of fact:

"That the local prohibition law was in force in Clay county during the years 1911 and 1912, and that the commissioners court of Clay county duly levied a tax of $2,000 upon the occupation sued on. That during said years the Texas Brewing Company, at Fort Worth, Texas, mailed circulars to various citizens in Clay county, giving prices and soliciting orders for Household Lager Beer and other products of the Texas Brewery, located at Fort Worth, Tarrant County, Texas. That as a result of such solicitations and such advertising several orders for beer were sent to the company and such orders were filled at Fort Worth and the beer shipped to the parties ordering the same in Clay county.

Conclusions of Law. The Texas Legislature (Acts 1909, page 53) provided that in prohibition counties an occupation tax of $4,000 per annum shall be levied upon all persons or corporations that pursue the business of selling or offering for sale any intoxicating liquors by

MAY REDUCE TAX ON COLORED OLEOMARGARINE.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—A reopening of the fight to reduce the tax on colored oleomargarine is set for next week in the House. Representative Leber of South Carolina has the measure providing to reduce the tax from ten to two cents per pound. Southern members of Congress have long contended that the tax on oleomargarine colored to imitate butter should not be greater than that on the uncolored product, now two cents a pound.

CONGRESS READY FOR ACTIVE TIME

PRELIMINARIES OF PAST WEEK WILL EXPEDITE BUSINESS OF SESSION

CONTEST IN THE SENATE

Gallinger to be Again Opposed for President Pro Tem—Progressive Hold Balance

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Legislative work will start with a rush Monday when Congress takes up the work it gladly dropped last August. Committee meetings the past week, conferences between members, and the formulation of plans, have paved the way for speedy handling of appropriation bills and other legislation.

Democratic managers of the House will push appropriation bills as rapidly as possible in the hope that none will be carried over. The first bill is the salary bill, which will be ready for submission Monday.

The Senate faces a fight over the selection of presiding officer. The Progressives holding the balance of power refused last session to vote for Senator Gallinger, the Republican candidate, and the Senate still is running along under the plan then adopted of alternating between Senator Gallinger and Senator Bacon, Democrat.

It is understood that plans for a Republican caucus next week have been abandoned. Senator Gallinger declared he had not withdrawn as a candidate for President pro tem, and he will be supported again by Republicans.

Only about two-thirds of the members of the two Houses had reached Washington tonight.

SNEED CASE TO JURY MONDAY

NO ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO GIVE CASE TO THE JURY SATURDAY NIGHT

SICKNESS CAUSES DELAY

One of Jurors, Judge Swayne and One of State's Attorneys Ill—Weaver Indicted

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 30.—The case of John Beal Sneed, charged with the killing of Capt. A. G. Boyce here last January did not go to the jury tonight as expected. One juror, S. B. Austin, who spoke for an hour and a half. He will resume Monday.

It now appears that the case will go to the jury Monday afternoon or Monday night. It had been expected to close the arguments this afternoon, but Judge Swayne announced early in the afternoon that this would not be done as he himself was not well and Senator Odell, one of the counsel for the state was sick. Even with the most favorable progress, he said it would not have been possible to complete the case before midnight.

Court was delayed about three quarters of an hour Saturday morning by the illness of one of the jurors, S. B. Austin. Austin was suffering from a bad cold and stomach trouble. The two Sneed children were in their seats early. Georgia, aged six, sat on the lap of her sister, Leonora, aged eleven and tried to go to sleep.

Sneed had a worried look that had not been noticeable for several days. The smile which he had early in the case has disappeared.

W. A. Weaver, formerly of Bokchito, Oklahoma, a witness in the trial of Sneed, was indicted today on a charge of perjury. Weaver was arrested soon after his testimony in the trial several days ago.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—A reopening of the fight to reduce the tax on colored oleomargarine is set for next week in the House. Representative Leber of South Carolina has the measure providing to reduce the tax from ten to two cents per pound. Southern members of Congress have long contended that the tax on oleomargarine colored to imitate butter should not be greater than that on the uncolored product, now two cents a pound.

BURNS TELLS HIS STORY IN DYNAMITERS' TRIAL

26 PER CENT GAIN IN POSTAL RECEIPTS.

Receipts at the Wichita Falls postoffice for the month ending at midnight Saturday totaled $3775.69, an increase of $802.28, or over 26 per cent, above November, 1911, when the receipts were $2973.41.

By Associated Press. REBEL LEADERS ACTIVE

Mexican Federal Garrison in Small Town is Exterminated by the Insurrectos

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The situation on the Mexican border has been growing worse rapidly. General Steever has protested to the War Department against reduction of the border patrol, such as was about to be ordered.

Many of the lesser insurgent leaders have developed great activity, adding to the considerable force which under General Salazar has been operating in the country between Columbus, New Mexico and El Paso.

They have thrown the whole border into disturbance and unrest. Yesterday one of the rebel bands struck a small town south of Durango and after destroying all ranch property in the neighborhood practically exterminated the small garrison of federal troops.

WANT DISTRIBUTION OF SEVENTEEN MILLIONS

Choctaws and Chickasaws, in Oklahoma Take Steps to Get Money For Their Land

Special to the Times. Ardmore, Okla., Nov. 30.—Steps were taken here today which the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian nations hope will eventually induce the government to distribute the members of those tribes, $17,000,000 derived from the sale of their lands in Western Oklahoma, and which fund the government now holds. Resolutions were adopted at a meeting of two hundred leaders of both nations urging the distribution of the money, and asking Congress to enact such legislation as will no longer make the tribes wards of the government.

Questioned by Senator J. W. Kern for the defense about getting McManigal's first confession in Chicago, shortly after the arrests, Burns was asked:

"Did McManigal implicate anyone besides the McNamara's?"

"He mentioned only Michael J. Young of Boston in connection with the explosion at Springfield, Mass., and he implicated Hockin as having procured nitro-glycerin and as having employed him to blow up a building in Detroit."

District Attorney Miller stated that only one more witness for the government will be called on Monday and then the government will rest its case.

Teachers Not Unanimous On Compulsory Education

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 30.—That there is opposition to, as well as strong support of, compulsory education among the teachers of Texas, was proved Saturday during a three hours session of the Texas State Teachers' Association. Part of this session was devoted to discussion of the best way to distribute the available state fund.

As reasons for a law for compulsory education, some speakers pointed to the claim of increasing illiteracy in Texas and one of them said these conditions are becoming worse because foreigners are beginning to bring their children to this State because they will not be forced in school here.

GREAT DETECTIVE TELLS OF HOCKINS BETRAYAL OF SECRET OF DYNAMITERS

TO REST MONDAY

Government Has Only One More Witness—Burns Cross Examined by Kern

By Associated Press. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—William J. Burns' story of his pursuit of the McNamara and Ortle E. McManigal, after the Los Angeles Times explosion, was told by him at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today. At the time of the explosion, October 1, 1910, Burns said he was on a train from San Francisco to Los Angeles, and the next day he was employed by Mayor Alexander of Los Angeles to run down the dynamiters.

He remained on the Pacific coast until the latter part of December, when he returned to Chicago. In Chicago, he met Herbert S. Hockin, now secretary of the Iron Workers' Union. Hockin is accused by the government of having betrayed the dynamiters while he himself was a dynamiter.

Mr. Burns testified in substance: "Hockin told me he would not have met me, if it were not for the fact that the dynamiters were going to do a lot of killing. He said John J. McNamara, then secretary of the union, had employed James B. McNamara and McManigal to kill as many people as possible to bring about the result he hoped for. I asked Hockin where he got his information that people on the Pacific coast were going to blow me up.

"He said Oia Tvitmo of San Francisco was looking after the plot. I told him I believed Tvitmo would do it if he had a chance, for I had exposed Tvitmo in the San Francisco graft investigation and had sent my son Raymond to get a photograph of Tvitmo in the penitentiary uniform, and had it published in San Francisco.

"I asked Hockin to come into my quarters to the executive board of the Iron Workers' executive board knew about the explosion. He said neither they nor President Frank M. Ryan knew what John J. McNamara did except perhaps Eugene A. Clancy of San Francisco. I told him it wasn't possible for money to be appropriated every month for McNamara without the others higher up knowing about it. I told Hockin I proposed to get the men higher up. I didn't want merely local men; I wanted the leaders and said John J. was the man to get.

"I offered Hockin to come into my employ, but he said he would only accept his expenses. I told him at that time Los Angeles had ceased to pay me, and now I had not only to fight dynamiters, but also a class of men opposed to civic decency in San Francisco.

Questioned by Senator J. W. Kern for the defense about getting McManigal's first confession in Chicago, shortly after the arrests, Burns was asked:

"Did McManigal implicate anyone besides the McNamara's?"

"He mentioned only Michael J. Young of Boston in connection with the explosion at Springfield, Mass., and he implicated Hockin as having procured nitro-glycerin and as having employed him to blow up a building in Detroit."

Teachers Not Unanimous On Compulsory Education

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 30.—That there is opposition to, as well as strong support of, compulsory education among the teachers of Texas, was proved Saturday during a three hours session of the Texas State Teachers' Association. Part of this session was devoted to discussion of the best way to distribute the available state fund.

As reasons for a law for compulsory education, some speakers pointed to the claim of increasing illiteracy in Texas and one of them said these conditions are becoming worse because foreigners are beginning to bring their children to this State because they will not be forced in school here.

Superintendent A. W. Orr of Smith county, was the only speaker who came out in direct opposition to the compulsory law. He blamed the personality of the teachers for the fact that attendance is poor in some of the Texas districts, and he said the children will not have to be forced to attend school with a good man at the head of the school.

A delegation representing the conference for education appeared and through Clarence Ousley, who was the spokesman, asked the teachers to aid in raising a $50,000 endowment fund to preserve the life of the conference.

Miss Beulah Lynch of the McFall Transfer Co. is confined to her bed with typhoid fever at her home on Scott Avenue.

CONFESSES TO MURDER; CAN'T BE CONVICTED

Chicagoan Admits that he Killed Ranchman But Pleads Not Guilty in Court

Special to the Times.
Tucson, Arizona, Nov. 30.—Stephen Laporte, who recently confessed to the Chicago police that he had murdered W. H. Taylor, a rancher of this section, several years ago, surprised the court today when he pleaded not guilty to that charge. Because of the lack of witnesses, it is said it will be impossible to convict him, unless he confirms his former confession. Officers believe Laporte confessed in Chicago, merely to obtain transportation to Tucson.

Money System of America a Failure

THE modification and revision of the banking and currency laws of the United States are far more important than any question which has been discussed during the presidential campaign.

OUR PRESENT BANKING AND CURRENCY SYSTEM IS A RELIC OF CIVIL WAR DAYS. IT HAS SERVED MANY USEFUL PURPOSES, BUT TIME AND AGAIN IT HAS SHOWN THAT IT CANNOT STAND UP UNDER STRESS, AND, ANOMALOUS AS IT MAY SEEM, THE MORE PROSPEROUS WE ARE THE GREATER IS THE DANGER OF A BANKING AND MONEY PANIC.

The United States has no such thing as a banking system. There are 25,000 independent banks, with a reserve fund of about $1,600,000,000 against a total deposit of $16,000,000,000, or a reserve fund of 10 cents on every dollar deposited. All of these reserve funds are in little separate piles. By dividing this great reserve we weaken the force and powers and DISSIPATE THE STRENGTH OF THIS GREAT AMOUNT.

More than 90 per cent of the business of this country is carried on not by cash transaction, but on the credit of banks, and only when we realize that business is largely carried on through credit will we find how important that the banks be given facilities for the extension of credit to business men.

OUR BASIC SYSTEM IS WRONG. No other nation in the world bases its currency on debt as we do. Why, if we paid off our debt now we would cut the amount of money in the country by some $750,000,000.

To remedy this condition we must PROVIDE SOME SAFE CUSTODIAN OF THE GREAT RESERVE FUND HELD BY THE INDIVIDUAL BANKS, a union of the banks.

Our Greatest Period of Prosperity Is With Us

By Judge ELBERT H. GARY, Financier

WE ARE IN THE MIDST OF AN ERA OF PROSPERITY NEVER BEFORE SURPASSED SO FAR AS IT AFFECTS OUR PARTICULAR LINES.

These conditions have not resulted from the application of political policies or efforts, but exist in spite of them. They are here because NOTHING COULD PREVENT THEM.

In the first place, for the last few years, following the bankers' panic of 1907, there have existed a feeling of uncertainty and a lack of confidence which have deterred the great purchasing public from entering the market, even to the extent of supplying their necessities.

When, therefore, the railroad companies and others similarly situated commenced to buy the general influence and effect were immediately felt, and buying on a large scale has developed.

Moreover, the bountiful crops and sound basic conditions of the country have made every one realize more clearly than ever before that PROSPERITY IN THIS SPLENDID COUNTRY OF OURS IS TO BE THE RULE AND NOT THE EXCEPTION.

A Man's Career Is Not the Whole of Life

By President JOHN GRIER HIBBEN of Princeton University

A MAN'S career is NOT THE WHOLE OF LIFE. If this poor fraction is regarded as possessing an integral value there is a pitiful poverty even in the midst of abundant possessions. The fullness of any single life is dependent upon the LARGER LIFE ABOUT IT, which is capable of touching, absorbing and transmitting into its own vital power and energy.

THE PROGRESS OF THE WORLD IS DUE NOT SO MUCH TO THE GREAT CAREERS OF GREAT MEN, BUT IN A VERY LARGE MEASURE TO THE EXCESS OF TIME AND THOUGHT AND ENERGY WHICH BUSY MEN HAVE NOBLY GIVEN TO THE WORLD'S NEED AND THE WORLD'S DISTRESS.

The untired efforts of tired men, the generous giving of the time on the part of those who have no time to spare, the devotion of the hours of rest to additional service, the UNREQUITED LABOR, THE INVESTMENT WHICH PAYS NO DIVIDEND—these are the factors which enter constructively into the world's progress and are the HOPE OF ITS SALVATION.

Good Clothes at Fair Prices

Are you satisfied with the clothes you are wearing? Do they stand up and hold their shape and prove good under every stress of wear and weather? It's false economy to buy a garment because it looks good and is marked cheap. Unless you are an expert you cannot detect a manufacturer's secrets, skillfully covered up. You have no means of knowing clothes which are masquerading under false colors. Look at the clothes we offer—material—workmanship. You needn't give either a thought—our own interests are so vitally linked with yours that you are justified in trusting all such details to us.

Whenever you find our qualities and styles elsewhere you'll surely find a higher price than we ask.

Drop in and look at our Styleplus $17.00 Suits. The same style and quality will cost you elsewhere $20.00 to $25.00. Then our $12.50 and $15.00 suits are absolutely matchless values.

We are showing special values in men's pants at $1.50 to $5.00

The Mulberry Row district late yesterday evening grew reckless and fired a revolver at a visitor in the house where she stayed. The bullet cut a hole in the arm of the man's coat sleeve but did not break the skin. According to the story of eye witnesses the woman became angered at a companion of the man she shot at and declaring she was going to leave town and didn't care what happened, grabbed up a revolver and fired at the startled man. The woman was placed under arrest and will probably testify before the grand jury this week.

Perfumed Money Proves Undoing Of Chicago Lad

Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 30.—Perfume was used by detectives today in solving the disappearance of small sums of money from the University of Chicago Press building, and led to the arrest of a youth, who said he was taking the money to buy an aeroplane.

Three weeks ago detectives were put to work, disguised as working men repairing the building. They perfumed the money.

Today a young shipping clerk passed close to the "workmen" and scenting the perfume the officers stopped him and demanded the money he had just stolen. This so frightened the youth that he handed over two dollars and twenty-five cents. The boy said he had stolen $50 and put it in a bank to buy an aeroplane.

IN THE HIMALAYAS

Preaching the Gospel to People of the Hill Country.

Rev. William Greet Tells of Work He and His Wife Accomplished Amongst Tehri and Hindi Men.

Another report of adventure, toil, and conquest comes from the Tehri Border Village mission among the Himalaya mountains, where Rev. William Greet and his wife are carrying the gospel message to the people of the hill country.

"The past season's touring," writes Mr. Greet, "totaled up more than that of any previous season, and included reaching into some new country. One of my first trips away from our family camp, after the writing of our last letter, was to see poor old Prem at Nauta. There he sat by the little water-mill, blind and very helpless, trying to care for the people's flour. In the judgment of some who have lately seen him, he seems a believer."

"We returned to our home in January for a few weeks and then went out again to stay till April. This time we pushed forward at once to Devasari, a neighborhood of many villages which last season we were prevented from reaching. We pitched our camp on the edge of a pine wood and close to a small ravine, on the other side of which lay a long line of villages. Close by our tent was the temple to which, on special occasions, the people gathered from all sides."

"My memory goes back many years to some remarkable results from the very first visits to simple villagers in the plains who accepted Christ at once and stood faithful till death, but generally where people are laid hold of, it is after continued presentation of the truth. A most encouraging thing during our touring in the hills this past springtime was the extent to which the truth of the Gospel was admitted by a man who has served us for years, but had always passively resisted all we said. He sat with me at the close of a hot journey up a long gorge to a village, where we found only one man, a lad and a child at home. We conversed under the shade of an apple tree concerning the Way of Life and other ways, and at the close our man, who has nearly always boasted of the superiority of his own religion, said to the village man, 'We shall have to come to it! This religion will win its way everywhere and all will at some time have to yield, willingly or unwillingly.'

"As I write part of this letter here on the roadside, half a dozen fakirs or sadhus sit down with me to listen to the singing of a bhajan which tells of the One who can take away sin. They have been to the Ganges source away in the snows professedly to be rid of their sin. Some Sirmoori charcoal men come in the other direction and they, too, sit down to listen. Neither of these groups are Tehri men, so I sing to them in Hindi. Presently some others come, Tehri men to whom I read the Lord's words about the house on a rock and that on the sand. One man wishes to buy a Gospel, but has no coppers with him, so he consents to pay for a book with his stick, which answers very well for a walking stick for me.

"After presenting many various arguments in trying to convince the people of the truths of our eternal Gospel we drop back again to the proof they can have in their own heart at this very time in their own village, if they will really give themselves up in prayer to him who was revealed to take away sin. After talking with us the people find themselves, perhaps the same day, in the midst of, say, the slaughter of goats throughout the village for the keeping up of some special festival, or a great dance before their gods right on into the night. Who knows where the Message has really found access?"

MRS. ADAMS' EXPERIENCES IN SOUTH AMERICA

Mrs. Harriett Chalmers Adams, woman explorer of South America, and the wife of Franklin Adams of the Pan-American Union, has returned to the United States from another trip to hitherto unknown parts of South America. She has now traveled more than 40,000 miles on that continent. Speaking of her experiences, she says: "I have gone through experiences such as I am convinced, no white woman has had. I have circumnavigated the South American continent, covering more than 40,000 miles, and have penetrated savage wildernesses where no white man had ever been. I have climbed mountains walked in the extinct crater of Mount Atlatl, wandered in regions of mountain cold where my eyelids froze, and descending into the Amazonian wilderness, stayed in a region infested by vampires—creatures which until then I imagined to be pure myths. I have stood on the site of what is possibly the world's oldest civilization and have studied ruins built before the time of Babylon."

Mrs. Adams has spent about eight years in exploration. In this work and pleasure she discovered, high in the Andes, an unknown river of great importance, an important geographical discovery, which sheds new light on the geologic formation of the continent. She was the first white woman to invade the interior wilderness of Peru, where she wandered about the sources of the Amazon, in company with jaguars, monstrous snakes and other wild animals, none of which ever harmed or even attacked her, which led Mrs. Adams to the conclusion that no wild beasts are dangerous unless first attacked themselves by men. On this trip Mrs. Adams came to a region infested by vampires, which previously she had believed to be mythical, and spent a night—the most horrible, she says, of her life—among them. On this occasion her husband and Indian guides were attacked and a number of their mules killed by the blood-sucking creatures, which measure three to four feet from tip to tip of their wings.

LONDON LORD MAYOR'S EXPENSES EXCEED SALARY

To be lord mayor of London costs a lot of money, the New York Times correspondent writes. He receives $50,500 a year in salary, free of income tax, but is expected to entertain lavishly; in fact, when the corporation in 1873 fixed the amount of his present emolument it recommended that the lord mayor should show hospitality and attention to the other municipalities of the kingdom, the representatives of the city guilds and the trading and commercial classes of London. Interest in the heavy pecuniary burden the lord mayor has to bear is revived through a motion pending in the city of London corporation in regard to the question of the lord mayor's expenses "owing to altered circumstances." Since 1873, when the matter of the lord mayor's salary was last discussed officially, the expenses of the office have increased enormously.

Probably none of the incumbents of the office in recent years has been able to defray the costs of the honor out of his salary, large as it is. It is asserted that one lord mayor spent $150,000 in his year of service out of his own pocket, while the minimum expenditure is said to be about $40,000. Away back in 1174, the year before the system of compensating the lord mayor through certain dues was abolished, John Wilkes received about $21,000 and spent more than $41,000. After Wilkes' term the salary for 60 years was $5,000 with some allowances, and later these included about $16,500 paid by the corporation for the expenses of the mansion house, the lord mayor's official residence. This system was in force until the present salary was granted. In addition to what he now receives, the corporation spends from $30,000 to $40,000 a year on mansion house expenses. Those who have witnessed the lord mayor's show get an idea of one very heavy burden which the lord mayor had to bear in part. When the present lord mayor assumed office, the "show" included a historical pageant with costumes that were worth a small fortune.

Fashion's Dire Requirement. The greatest destruction of wild animal life in the history of Siberia was caused last year by the requirements of fashion. The returns for the fur trade—$4,000,000—exceeded those of 1910 by half a million dollars.

Growing Hops in Italy. Successful experiments in hop growing have been made in Italy. Heretofore, hops have been imported. The consumption of beer in Italy is said to be almost 26,000,000 gallons a year.

President Taft favors a six-year term for president. In this respect he is a progressive.

Congress convened next Monday, but it is not likely that much legislation will be put through.

Senator Culberson expresses the opinion that the Democratic senators will not turn three or four hundred somersaults in their hurry to confirm them.

There are now about two hundred producing oil wells in the field extending from Electra to Burkburnett, including the one at Iowa Park.

In developing these wells the percentage of dry holes is perhaps smaller by far than in any oil field in the United States.

The daily production from these wells is about 17,000 barrels, or about 85 barrels per well daily on an average.

The work of putting down new wells in new or undeveloped territory is being pushed with greater energy and activity than has been the case since the first well was brought in at Electra and before the field adds another year to its age, there is likely to be double the number of producing wells with the production fully double what it now is.

Of course no one is authorized to speak for President-elect Wilson as to whether he will approve or revoke President Taft's order placing all fourth-class postmasters under civil service, but it seems to this paper that if civil service means anything, it means that those who secure positions under its workings shall stand competitive examinations, and no one is barred from entering such examinations. Therefore, to be consistent, it occurs to this paper that all those now holding office under the civil service rule who have not stood such examinations, should be forced to take them, and the best and fairest way to reach that end is to declare all such positions vacant.

President Taft is acting just like we should like to see President-elect Wilson act after he is inaugurated. The President removed from office yesterday Eugene Nolte, United States Marshal for the Western district and C. B. Lyon who holds the same office for the Eastern district of Texas, and the only reason President Taft gave was "for the good of the service," and "pernicious political activity." Had he done this sixteen or eighteen months ago—remove from office those who were opposed to his administration, he might have at least come out second best in the election. The fellow who has the nerve and the gall to attempt to hold public office under an administration to which he, politically, is in opposition, should have a piece of tinware tacked onto him. President Taft is exactly right. As a Republican, and the leader of his party, he should look after its interests, and he could not do this very well by allowing men to hold office under him who were opposed to his administration.

Men Who Took Refuge in Mosque are Killed by Retreating Turkish Troops

By Associated Press. Athens, Nov. 30.—According to a semi-official statement from Saloniki 189 Greeks who took refuge in a mosque in the village of Navroza, were killed by Turkish troops who had retreated through Florida. The Turkish troops destroyed many villages.

GRAND JURY REPORTS IN PORTLAND VICE INQUIRY

By Associated Press. Portland, Oregon, Nov. 30.—The grand jury which has been investigating operations of an alleged vice clique among prominent men today concluded, returning two more indictments. The grand jury investigated reports that the Young Men's Christian Association was involved in the scandal and in that connection returned the following report: "We find, after an exhaustive investigation into the alleged Y. M. C. A. scandal, complete vindication of the officers and management of the institution, and no reason for a suspicion to be cast upon its members."

BOND OF CONVICTED BANKER IS FORFEITED.

By Associated Press. Kansas City, Nov. 30.—C. A. Bonds, former president of the Kansas City All-Night and Day Bank, had his bond declared forfeited today when he failed to appear for sentence in the Federal court at Memphis today. Bonds was one of the bankers convicted on a charge of using the mails to defraud and his bond was $2000. Bonds is not in this city, his daughter, Miss Marguerite Bonds, declared tonight. Miss Bonds said her father was seriously ill in a hospital in another city, but she did not give the name of the city. It is thought Bonds has gone to Canada.

Not a Practical Man. A little lad was found on the street crying, very bitterly because his cart was broken. The kindly disposed stranger endeavored to cheer up the little fellow by saying: "Never mind, my boy, your father can easily mend that." "No he can't," sobbed the boy. "My father is a preacher, and don't know about anything."

Left Wedding Party Hungry. When a wedding party returned from Merstham church to Chaldron, near Redhill, Surrey, England, the other day, they were dismayed to find no wedding cake or other materials for the luncheon. It was found that the motor lorry in which a London firm of caterers had sent the goods had been completely burned down on the road, and the wedding party accordingly had to go without.

Roman Heating System. Like many other Roman houses that have been unearthed in England, one recently brought to light was heated by a system called "hypocaust." The entire basement was one big furnace, from which fumes ascended, built into the walls. A wood fire was kept in the basement, the fuel being fed in from an outside annex, through an arch in the wall. The house recently dug out is in a state of excellent preservation.

INTERSTATE COMMISSION SUSPENDS EXPRESS ORDER.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today temporarily suspended its recent order, requiring express companies to give shippers the most direct routes in order that the companies may have more time to comply with the commission's order, which is an outgrowth of investigation into the rates, practices, accounts and revenues of the express companies.

By Associated Press. Pecos, Texas, Nov. 30.—Argument began this afternoon in the trial of Mrs. Agnes Orner, charged with the murder of her husband. This afternoon Mrs. W. O. Wright testified in rebuttal of Mrs. Orner's testimony. Wright testified that Mr. Orner was not a morphine fiend, and that if he had been, witness would have detected it.

VOLUME VI

WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1920. SECTION TWO

NUMBER 173

SOCIETY

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

The Tuesday Bridge Club will meet this week at the home of Mrs. W. M. McGreggor.

A large number of Wichitans went to Dallas or Fort Worth last week to hear Mrs. Nordica sing.

Time was when the mere mention of a dress suit in connection with any coming social event was enough to scare half the male element away and that time was not so far back; but at the Elks' ball Thursday the dress suit was the rule and not the exception. Not that Wichita social affairs are losing in informality at all, but the men are getting more observant of the conventions.

Speed the day when Wichitans won't have to go to Fort Worth or Dallas for such attractions as Maude Adams or Mme. Nordica, but can see them here in Wichita Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Goodale of 1201 Austin delightfully entertained with a 6 o'clock dinner on Thanksgiving day, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sammons being guests.

There is plenty of work here in Wichita Falls for the "municipal nurse" as the office was called at the recent Houston meeting. A trained nurse is employed in some Texas cities, and in numerous cities in other States, in the same way that a city physician is employed, only she does the nursing in the cases where the city physician does the prescribing and treating; many believe that this is a step that Wichita Falls should take.

Thanksgiving was the occasion for many delightful informal social affairs, not all of which, perhaps, are mentioned in these columns today. As the chief festival of autumn, Thanksgiving day furnished opportunity for a great deal of entertaining.

Christmas is now less than four weeks distant and the "do your shopping early" cry is echoed here. Mr. Kesler has not yet accepted or declined the Civic League's invitation to come here and deliver an address.

The Elks ball Thursday evening was the attraction for a number of members of the lodge, and their ladies, from adjacent towns, particularly Petrolia and Electra.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Perdue of 500 Lee street were hosts at Thanksgiving dinner Thursday to the following: Mrs. W. A. Wright of Tennessee, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Corkhill, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dobson, Harry Clarke, Misses Mildred Corkhill and Marian McMicken.

Every reader of this column is earnestly requested to send in contributions for it, by Friday evening. While it is occasionally possible to publish items that come in later they cannot receive the careful attention that such news should receive. Send in or telephone in, (No. 167) by Friday evening, whatever social news you have.

CONGRESS OF MOTHERS EXPLAINED BY MRS. LEE.

For fear all the readers of the Times do not understand the motive of the Congress of Mothers, and Child's Welfare Conference which has just held its session at Houston and at which I had the honor of representing four of the best parent-teacher associations in Texas, I wish to tell a few of the good things they are doing and try to do. The organizations stand for child welfare in home, school and state, everything uplifting for the child. They are trying to establish a department of child hygiene in every board of health, in home and school. We had educators from other States. We had "The Present Outlook for Childhood in America," by Mrs. Frederick Schoff of Philadelphia, president of the National Congress of Mothers for twenty-five years; "New Times Bring New Problems for the Child," by Dr. M. V. O'Shea of the University of Wisconsin; "What the State University is Doing for the Child," by Dr. A. Caswell Ellis of the University of Texas; "Social Hygiene," by Dr. M. Duggan of San Antonio; "Domestic Science an Important Factor in Education of Young Women," "Simplicity in Dress for School Children." These are only a few of the good things, but the welfare and improvement of all the child. I wish every parent of Wichita Falls could have attended that meeting and could have seen what the mothers of Texas are doing for the uplift of the child. A supervisors for the school grounds, a trained nurse to work in connection with the HEALTH OFFICER, AND PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS WERE, TO ME, THREE OF THE MOST SUGGESTIVE NEEDS FOR OUR CITY.

Mrs. W. H. Ward of Houston, told of the property rights of married women of Texas, which we hope will be changed soon. I wish I had space to give the whole program, for it was splendid throughout. I will give a full report at the Austin Mothers' Club meeting Tuesday. I hope that in the near future we can do some of the things other cities are doing for the children.

Mrs. Carpenter, whose singing has found such favor with Wichitans, sang an Irish lullaby that was a musical treat. By Associated Press.
Aberdeen, Scotland, Nov. 30.—Three militant suffragettes Joyce Lake, Minnie Parker and Mary Pollock, who were caught last evening in possession of explosives in the Music hall, where Chancellor Lord George was to speak, were brought before the magistrate today.
The magistrate remanded them for further inquiry. As he informed them of this, Joyce Lake removed her shoes and hurled one of them at the magistrate's head and then threw the other at the head of the clerk of the court. She was promptly committed for contempt.

News From the Oil Fields

NEW PRODUCTION IS BETTER THAN 1750 BARRELS FIFTY BARRELS

SEVERAL GOOD WILDCATS FEATURE OIL FIELD REPORT FOR MONTH

NEW WELLS TO EASTWARD

Burkburnett Making More Than 500 Barrels Daily—Eight Dry Completions During Month

While the new production in the Northwest Texas field was not as large in November as in October, by several thousand barrels, the month was, on the whole, an encouraging one. The bringing in of four wells at Burkburnett, and the finds on the Crow tract by the Guffey, the Iowa Park strike, and the recent showing on the Borchardt farm, all go to encourage development, offsetting to a large extent the gloomy tidings from the Eeds district where five wells were dry at the depth of the Eeds sand.

Burkburnett has brought the best news of the month, as the three offsets to the original Schmecker well all came in producing 100 barrels or better, and the Chenault, to the southeast, came in at 125 barrels.

Wells completed in Wichita county during November were 30 in number, 22 producing and eight dry. The new production is 1750 barrels, as compared with about 5000 barrels new production in October. Clay county and Archer county report one gasser, the only production out of thirteen completions. The report in detail follows:

High Price for a Rembrandt.
A work of Rembrandt—"Woman Plucking a Powl"—recently sold in Paris for $95,000, appears to hold the record price for that artist's work. The same picture was sold in Amsterdam in 1734 (it was probably painted about 1640) for $70. In 1845 in London it brought about $1,625, and in 1884 was sold in Paris, to the family which has now resold it, for about $2,800. The previous record price for a Rembrandt was that paid for the "Girl Holding a Medal," in the Hoe collection, sold here last year for $70,000.

Footstool Church.
Mr. Raymond Unwin told a story relating to the building of St. John's church, South Square, Westminster. The architect, he said, was reputed to have worried Queen Anne about the design. Her majesty at length losing patience kicked her footstool over and remarked in anger: "Build it like that!" The architect fulfilled the royal wishes and the church was built as it stood today—with corners protruding upward like the four legs of a stool.—Reynolds's Newspaper.

Teeth for Circular Saw.
Every other tooth in a new circular saw for cutting tool steel is a trifle longer than its neighbor, the long teeth making the center of the cut and the short ones, which are thicker, gouging out the sides.

Goodness, No.
First Week-End Guest—"Would you ask our hostess to lend us the motor?" Second Week-End Guest—"Good heavens, no. I'd as soon think of asking her for a piece of string!"—Life.

TEST WITH PUMP SHOWS INTEREST STATE WELL ON BORCHERDT FARM A WINNER

Well Adds Another Link in Development Between Electra and Burkburnett

OUTLOOK IMPROVED

The Interstate Oil Company's well on the Borchardt farm was put on the pump yesterday and started off at a clip that puts it easily in the fifty-barrel class and possibly better. It was thought at first that only a small showing had been found, and that the production would not exceed fifteen barrels at the outside, but a short session with the pump disproved this. President Head of the Interstate Company is one of the happiest men in North Texas.

This find greatly improves the outlook for several operations under way between Eeds and Burkburnett and is one of the most encouraging strikes in some time. It is the shallowest oil east of the Marriot and the depth, 1275 feet, permits of quicker returns than on most of the wells. The oil is some what off color but is 40-gravity, which is good enough for the pipe lines.

H. G. Weaver, who has been with the Republic Supply Company at Electra as manager for some time, leaves shortly to travel for the Muskogee Tool Company. He will be succeeded here by A. P. Cole.

The Chavis-Turner Oil Company encountered a nice showing at 1050 feet on the Tolbert tract west of Petrolia yesterday. The packer could not be set in time for a test last night.

Rare Brotherly Affection.
In willing the residue of his estate to his brother, the late R. W. Peables, solicitor of Dublin, expressed thanks for the undying brotherly love which had existed between them, and regretted that he had not always followed his brother's advice.

Proper Course of Life.
A man's purpose of life should be like a river, which was born of a thousand little rills in the mountains; and when at last it has reached its manhood in the plain, all its mighty current flows changeless to the sea.—H. W. Beecher.

Colorado and Southern Officials Pass Through.
A party of officials of the Colorado & Southern railroad passed through Wichita Falls yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock on a special train, headed by an inspection engine, which permitted the officers to view the track and right of way at close range.

The party included A. D. Parker of the Denver, president; D. B. Keeler of Fort Worth, vice president and general manager of the Fort Worth & Denver; H. A. Gausewitz of Fort Worth, general superintendent of the Denver; R. T. Ward of Chicago, R. G. Fitzpatrick, superintendent of the Wichita Valley, joined the party here for a trip down to Abilene, thence west to Spur.

It was stated that the visit was without particular significance, being one of the periodical inspection trips by the officials. The party will visit Fort Worth before returning north.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM Baking Powder

Purity in food, lower cost of living—these are the demands of the day.

Pure food is health, and health is economy itself. We cannot have health without healthful food.

The most healthful foods are the quickly raised flour foods—biscuit, cake, muffins, crusts and other pastry when perfectly made from wholesome ingredients.

Dr. PRICE'S baking powder makes these foods in specially attractive, appetizing and wholesome form, and for both economic and hygienic reasons, such foods should be more largely substituted for meat in the daily diet.

But bear in mind that alum, or unwholesome baking powder, can never make pure, wholesome food.

NOVEMBER BUILDING PERMITS TOTAL $81,850

This is Slightly Less Than the October Figures—39 Permits Issued

A total of $81,850 in building permits was issued by City Secretary McCarty during the month of November, 39 permits being taken out for various new structures.

This is slightly less than the October figures, which totalled $83,565, with 22 permits.

In the six weeks which have elapsed since the city began requiring the taking out of permits, a total of 61 have been issued, representing a total expenditure of $165,415. While figures from other cities are not available, it is not believed that there is another city in the State of less than 40,000 population that could make a similar showing for the same period.

Wichita Falls' building record looks still better when it is considered that a great deal of building is in progress just outside the city limits, in the industrial addition, close enough to be considered a virtual, if not an actual, part of Wichita Falls.

THE BEST PROOF.

Wichita Falls Citizens Cannot Doubt It.
Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they cured.
The story was told to Wichita Falls residents.
Time has strengthened the evidence.
Has proven the cure permanent.

The testimony is home testimony. The proof convincing.
It can be investigated by Wichita Falls residents.
R. F. Redin, Avenue A Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "My back bothered me for two or three years and the spells often came on without warning. I was so lame across the small of my back that I could hardly bend. My kidneys became disordered and the kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, causing me annoyance. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. They cured me and I have not felt a return of the symptoms since."

The above statement was given June 19, 1908 and when Mr. Redin was interviewed on December 27, 1911 he added: "When occasion requires a kidney medicine we always use Doan's Kidney Pills and know that they will act quickly in bringing relief. You are at liberty to use my statement as heretofore."

FUR for FORMAL OCCASIONS

A French Model of Seal, Plush and Leopard.

A Striped Squirrel Wrap in New Draped Effect.

This Mink Coat is of Elegant Simplicity.

The Short Fur Coat Appears with Handsome Collars.

Short Seal Coats are Striking in Design.

THE woman who paid a thousand dollars or more for a fur evening wrap last season is charmed this year to find that her costly garment must be remade, at considerable additional expense, in order to conform to their wrap lines. Though last season's wraps were narrow at the foot and wide at the shoulder; they are not—this year, narrow enough at the foot or wide enough at the shoulder to give the pronounced Oriental effect of drapery now fashionable. Beside one of the new draped wraps of seal, mole or ermine, a last season's model looks positively "straight up and down" for all its graceful sleeves and its lapped front effect.

That quantities of fur are required to make the draped wraps of the moment goes without saying. The amount of sealskin put into a modern limousine wrap on fashionable draped lines, would be sufficient to make two sealskin coats of the hip length style, favored some seasons ago. In spite of the enormous amount of fur in these modern wraps, however, the models are surprisingly light and are almost as soft and supple in texture as though they were so much crepe de chine. All this is because the finest, most pliable pelts are used and linings are chosen with utmost care, so that not an ounce of needless weight may be added to the garment. The arrangement of the fur is often very interesting, for new wraps seem to be cut in a peculiar manner; the top of the wrap, including the sleeves which are usually in kimono or raglan style with very drooping shoulder lines, being quite separate from the lower portion and the two sections being joined just above the waistline in a more or less fanciful or curved seam. In velvet and plush wraps this joining seam is heavily corded and in fur wraps braid is sometimes used to cover the seam. Other wraps have deep, flat yoke pieces, hidden under enormous collars of contrasting fur, the gathered portion of the wrap being attached to the flat yoke. This gives enough fullness for the making of the graceful draperies, without adding clumsiness over the shoulders and bust.

Draperies Cleverly Managed.
Two beautiful new draped fur wraps are pictured; one a sealskin wrap from the house of Bech-David and the other a striped squirrel wrap in the new three-quarter length. A great many of the new coats are being made in this abbreviated length and several very authoritative houses have brought out fur coats in hip length, so there is no telling what may happen by the end of the season in the length of fur garments.
The sealskin wrap has a vest of leopard the soft seal pelt being draped from the lower edges which is entirely new. Cheruit has brought out a bretschwans coat which has also this vest effect at the front, a draped sash of the bretschwans crossing the flat, buttoned vest and passing under the drapery of the coat at the sides. Leopard is immensely fashionable this season and Bech-David is by no means the only couturier who has combined leopard and seal. Several strikingly rich leopard wraps, with collars of swank, were noted at the recent Horse Show in New York, and leopard muffs and neckpieces are beginning to press the ultra fashionable, red fox very hard for favor. The combination of seal and leopard in the Bech-David wrap is cleverly contrived, the buttons of seal on the leopard pelt having a very effective contrast value in the scheme of the wrap. The big rug like sealskin muff with its inner muff of leopard is also very effective and is a new muff mode that will be sure to have many imitations.

As will be observed, this wrap is draped up in front to show a generous amount of the skirt—and one is glad that most of the new wraps have this lifted, Oriental drapery in front, for the new draped skirts are really far too pretty to hide. The seal and leopard wrap is worn with an afternoon "bridge" gown of snuff brown and a snuff brown velvet hat in the smart but rather trying English derby feather, though a spreading paradise feather over the crown softens the harsh line of the hat. The silhouette of the figure in this seal coat is very fashionable—that is, it is voluminous at the shoulder line, and narrow at the foot, the loose, graceful draperies tapering downward until the edge of skirt and little buttoned boot tip showing beneath the gown seem almost out of proportion with the upper part of the figure.

The striped squirrel wrap has the conventional draped lines of the winter and a huge, flat muff of the gray and white pelt matches the coat. A new fox fur, dyed in the soft, gray shade of the squirrel pelt, trims the draped coat all around the edge and on the sleeve. This dainty gray wrap accompanies a smoke gray crepe meteor gown for afternoon wear, with boots to match; the buttoned boot tops of smoke colored suede having yards of patent leather. The hat is of smoke gray velvet with a band of Chinese blue embroidery caught under a steel buckle.

The Afternoon-Evening Wrap or Fur.
It is really economy, some women protest, to buy a handsome wrap of fur, since it may be used as an evening wrap over light gowns as well as an afternoon wrap with bridge and evening costumes, thus doing away with the necessity for two or three separate evening and afternoon wraps of satin, velvet or similar material. Sealskin, mole and mink are the pelt usually selected for these afternoon-evening wraps and of course the style of the wrap is along the Oriental draped lines which distinguish the carriage wrap from the straight-lined coat suitable for wear in the street. Sometimes the afternoon wrap has a collar and cuff trimming of ermine or of the white cone fur that so nearly resembles ermine, and this white trimming enhances the beauty of the wrap and at the same time sets it apart indubitably as a carriage garment for the well dressed woman never wears ermine with a walking or street costume. A beautiful wrap of the character referred to is by Grunwald, the distinguished Paris furrier and is of draped mole-skin, with a Robespierre collar of spoils—or untail—ermine, narrow cuffs of the ermine being set under the deep cuffs of the mole-skin. Two long ties or streamers of the silk finished at the ends with silk tassels fall over the front of the wrap to the knees and the lower edge wraps closely about the feet, though the shoulders and sleeves have the baggy, roomy effect now considered indispensable to smartness.

In contrast to this distinctively carriage wrap for afternoon and evening wear, is a sealskin coat, sheathing the figure below the hips but having loose coat sleeves and a narrow collar band of gray chinchilla which twists about the neck and hangs down at the back, with a chenille tassel at the tip. This wrap is suitable for walking as well as for carriage use, and is not appropriate for evening wear over elaborate opera or ball gowns, rich as its character may be.

Muffs To Match Handsome Wraps.
Almost invariably now, the fur wrap, whether intended for walking afternoon limousine or evening wear, is accompanied by a matching muff and these muffs are wondrously graceful affairs, huge and soft and oblong in shape as a rule, although some of them are more fanciful in design, with "envelope" flaps, trimmings of fringe and ruffles of velvet. The carriage muff matching a draped wrap, is seldom however trimmed with brushes and paws like a muff intended or used in the street with a walking costume. Typical carriage muffs are illustrated with the gray squirrel wrap and the seal and leopard wrap. Such muffs may be draped over the arm like a scarf, so soft and light are these models, and when the arms are thrust into them, the soft muffs crush up against the figure and seem to mingle with the drapery at the front of the wrap.

The mink coat pictured in a very handsome model mounting into the four figure mark in price and though this coat is straight in cut its intrinsic elegance makes it suitable for any occasion—though the woman who owned such a coat would be apt to possess also a variety of draped evening wraps for wear with light evening costumes. The mink skins are beautifully matched and the big collar and wide cuffs give much grace to the coat. It falls over the skirt, stopping about six inches from the floor, to show the edge of the gown and dainty buttoned boot. In this instance the coat accompanies a bridge gown of brown satin meteor worn with at hat of pink velvet, faced under the brim with brown satin and trimmed with a pink plume shading to brown.

these exquisitely appointed little cars; but the draped wrap demands the dignity of a limousine and a hovering footman to open doors and tuck in lap coverings.

High Time for CHRISTMAS BUSINESS

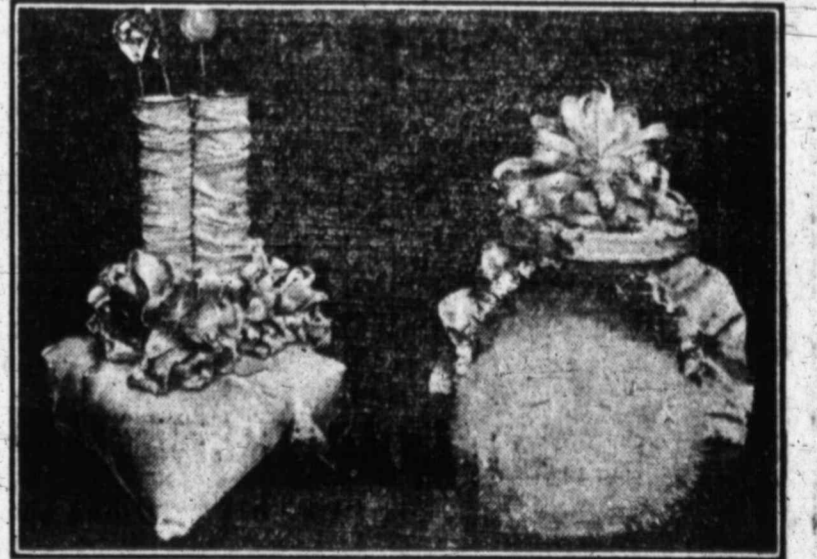

THREE weeks—and a day or two, before Christmas comes around. Fingers must fly indeed if everything is to be finished up in time, and who must be busy also, if new things are to be thought of for one's score or more of friends.
Six pretty gifts, all of them possessing new features are illustrated on today's page, and each may be fashioned in an hour or less by the skillful needlewoman. The pincushion-sachets are intended for the friends who are likely to go-a-traveling shortly, for these handy pincushions may be tucked into the traveling bag or trunk and will leave their trace of sweetness behind among gloves, handkerchiefs and blouses when the pincushions are brought forth to grace dresser or bureau.

Pincushion No. 1—that is, farthest to the left in the picture—is made of two strips of pale violet moire ribbon and a long square cornered pincushion. The picture shows the shape of this cushion which may be made of ordinary muslin filled with bran. Over the cushion goes a thin wadding sprinkled thickly with sachet powder, and over this the violet ribbon. Lay the ribbon strips across each other in the form of a cross (the ribbons of course being exactly the width of the cushion). The point where the two ribbons cross each other is the bottom of the cushion, and the ribbons are brought up to cover the four sides of the cushion and fastened at the top. The rows of pins apparently hold the strips of ribbon in place, but the latter must be sewed neatly by hand in addition, else the sachet powder will escape. The top of the pincushion is decorated with a full bow, or chou, of narrow violet printed Pompadour ribbon and a little cluster of artificial violets is tucked among the loops. If one has special artistic skill the pattern of a violet might be outlined with pins on each panel of the cushion.

Pincushion No. 2 is made in the same way except that it is heart shaped, and covered with flowered ribbon woven in basket effect. Flowered Pompadour ribbon is plaited into a ruche for the edge, and the heart hangs on a ribbon loop. Allover embroidery over pale colored satin, with ribbon trimming to match will also make a pretty cushion of this sort. The rose cushion is dainty enough for a bridal shower. It is made of white satin with green velvet leaves and a stem of wire wound with green ribbon. The cushion part is soft and should be of cotton rather than of bran in any unyielding muslin cover. The petals of the rose are made of white and caught invisibly with tiny stitches. In making sachet pincushions be very sure that the sachet selected will be agreeable to the friend for whom the cushion is intended, else the gift will probably remain unused. Orris is a popular sachet and is very delicate. Some women like a little violet mixed with the orris; but heavy scents like heliotrope, rose and sandalwood should be avoided.

Wee cats and dogs made of black or white satin, with pins for whiskers, make attractive pincushions for little girls' bureaus. The tiny doggie or pussy is fashioned from two shaped pieces of satin, joined on the wrong side and turned over. The eyes are small buttons and the whiskers black and white pins. The satin dog, or cat sits in a small fancy basket, the pin whiskered head just showing above the edge; and a bow of ribbon decorates the basket.

The hatpin holder will please any woman for one never knows what to do with long hatpins when they are not in use. Three tall, slender glasses such as the chemist will furnish, are covered with jackets of mousetail-satin ribbon as the picture indicates, and the three glasses are mounted in the center of three heart shaped satin cushions, intended of course for smaller pins.

SEVEN COUNTIES WILL BE REPRESENTED

District Farmers' Union Meeting Here Monday and Tuesday Will Bring Many Delegates Wichita Falls will be the center of attractions for Farmers' Union members early this week, when the district convention will meet at the union headquarters here. On Wednesday and Thursday the Wichita county convention will be held at Dale, about 17 miles east of this city. Seven, and possibly more, counties will be represented at the district meeting, among them being Wichita, Archer, Young, Baylor, Haskell, Wilbarger and Montague. From 75 to 100 locals will be represented, as will also the managers of the gins, clearing houses and warehouses in the district. George E. Courtney of Haskell county is president and J. L. McConkey of Wichita Falls is secretary-treasurer. The meeting promises to be one of particular interest from the fact that

Vice-President Wilson of the National warehouse system, will be here from his home in Jackson, Miss., to attend the meeting and deliver an address. The work of the session will be reviewed by the convention and future plans discussed. Frank Townsend of Scurry, Texas, another leading official will also be here.

SECOND COTTON FIRE WITHIN A WEEK

Thirty-One Bales on Katy Flat Car Damaged Saturday Morning The second cotton fire within a week occurred early yesterday morning in the Katy yards near the cotton oil mill, when a number of bales on a Katy flat car caught fire, thirty-one being more or less damaged. The fire department was unable to reach the cotton on account of the tracks, so a switching crew pulled the blazing load up to the Denver crossing where the firemen could get at it. The blaze was quickly extinguished.

The cotton was owned by the Randlett Gin Company and T. E. Whaley and company of this city. It reached Wichita Falls late Friday afternoon; the loss was covered by insurance.

There are reasons for believing that incendiaries were responsible for both the cotton fires of last week, as in both cases it had been several hours since any engine had passed near the bales. The last engine near the cotton involved in yesterday morning's fire, passed by at 11:30 Friday night and it is not reasonable to suppose that the fire started at that time. In the fire earlier in the week, the blaze started three hours after an engine had passed.

DECEMBER TERM OPENS MONDAY

Grand Jury Will be Empaneled and Wheels of Justice Started Tomorrow The December term of the district court will begin tomorrow morning, when the grand jury will be empaneled by District Judge Martin and the wheels of justice started turning. With a heavy civil docket and about the average number of criminal cases, this term promises to be a busy one. It is possible that the year 1912 will pass without any murder indictments being returned by the grand jury. There had been one homicide up to the June term, a negro being the victim, but no bill has been returned. There has been another homicide since, another negro, Frank Garcia, being the victim, but his slayer is not known and no arrest has been made. No jury has been drawn for this week. The list for the second week is as follows:

William Overby, T. W. Caskey, Hugh O'Reilly, M. H. Wilson, T. W. Roberts, D. S. Wallace, C. C. Knight, I. Knight, John Sifer, F. C. Vogel, W. P. Billingsley, S. Y. Ferguson, W. J. Nolan, Geo. Mills, J. J. Taylor, J. L. Belote, J. W. Lee, W. T. Phillips, V. G. Skeen, W. M. Guthrie, G. G. Musgrave, J. B. Heath, Ed Heisermann, F. M. Myers, D. B. King, G. E. Friberg, Will Daniels, I. A. Farris, E. A. Duke, J. V. Tidwell, Len Tröutman.

The grand jury list for the term has already been published, and the petit juries for weeks later than the second week have not been announced for obvious reasons. The matters to come before the grand jury, so far as known, are mostly minor offenses. There are, however, several cases of interest in which indictments have already been returned. These include two embezzlement cases in which two former citizens of Wichita Falls are involved. Men's suits dry cleaned and pressed, 75 cents. Bloom Tailoring Co., 606 Eighth street, K. and K. building, 68 tf.

SITE OF METHODISM

Central Hall in London Cost Five Million Dollars.

Location of Beautiful Buildings Connected With Stirring Events of English History—Funds Raised by Contribution.

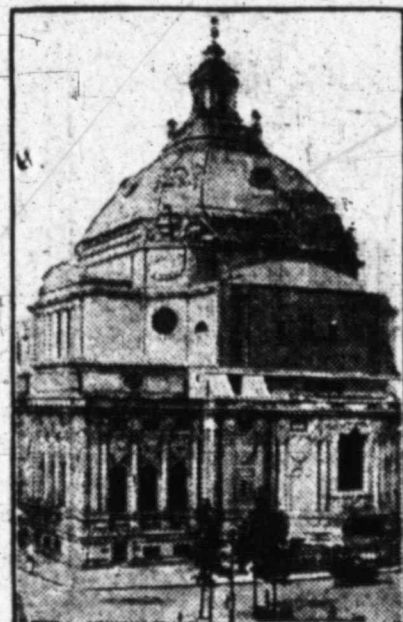

London.—It is characteristic of the spirit of John Wesley, who made his ringing message not to a parish, but to a world, that in these days his followers—"the people called Methodists"—should have chosen a site alike so historical and so commanding as that on which the new Central hall and Connexional buildings have been reared at Westminster.

Here it was that Edward V. was "born in sorrow and baptized like a poor man's child." In 1479, and from here, too, 13 years later, his mother, Queen Elizabeth Woodville, sitting "alone below on the rushes all desolate and dismayed," saw him go out with his brother to the Tower to that pathetic of deaths by murder. With in a stone's throw is St. Stephen's hall, through which the Norman knights of Rufus tramped, and where King Charles I. stood on his trial before those who knew not what true freedom meant. Above all, the building stands under the very shadow of the noble abbey, the nation's Mother church.

Wesleyans the world over are proud of the vast pile and the position it occupies. Its inception goes back to the conference of 1898, when it was decided to endeavor to raise a twentieth century fund of a million guineas. When it is stated that the total membership of the church in this country was considered less than a million, including children, it will be realized that it was a great deal to ask.

The period for giving extended originally from January 1, 1899, to January 1, 1901, but it was found necessary to prolong it, and it was not until 1904 was well advanced that the last gift was received. In that time holidays were cheerfully foregone, clothes were patched and mended, walking was substituted for omnibus or car rides, and little luxuries of tobacco, sugar and butter were given up.

Out of the million guineas something like one-fourth million pounds was used for the purchase of the site. Upon this have risen two blocks. In the eastern one, called the Central Building, provision has been made for the departmental offices of allied organizations of the Wesleyan church—the Home Mission fund, the committee specifically charged with Wesleyan interests of the navy and army, the temperance committee, the central finance department, the London committee and the Methodist brotherhood. There are also offices for public bodies, and among the organizations already here is the Anglo-American peace committee. This block covers one-third of the area of the site, the total of which is about 30,000 square feet.

The main or western block is known as the Central hall, in which is a beautifully proportioned hall for meetings or concerts. It possesses the third largest dome in London, 90 feet in diameter and 220 feet in height to the lantern, and is surpassed in size only by those of St. Paul's and the British museum reading room. There will be seating for 2,500, or more, and room is provided for an orchestra of fully 100.

Included in this block is a fine library to contain modern standard books of theology, science, biography, travel, history and economics, and to be furnished as a reading room, with facilities also for obtaining tea and coffee. Adjoining this is a small hall, in which public receptions and luncheons can be held, and there is a handsomely appointed conference room, fitted on the lines of a council chamber, to seat 250. An enormous basement will be available for the use of Methodist boys' brigade, or for popular meetings, at which 1,500 will be able to sit down.

In England there are still the three groups of the Wesleyan Methodists, the Primitive Methodists and the Free Methodists. In America and the colonies these have reunited, and today it is estimated that they form the largest English speaking Protestant body in the world, exceeding in number the Church of England itself.

There are 10,010,304 depositors in United States-savings banks, averaging $444 each.

MOTOR INN WILL BE OPENED TODAY

It is One of the Finest Garages and Auto Repair Shops in Entire Southwest

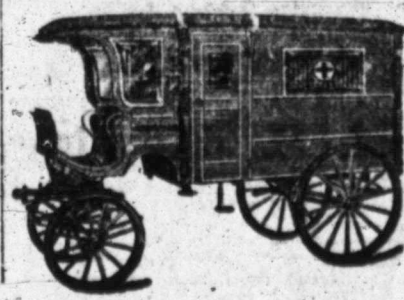

Wichita Falls can now boast of one of the finest garages and automobile machine shops in the entire Southwest. It is the Motor Inn which will be opened this morning at 607-609 Ohio avenue. This is the plant just completed by J. F. Curtain of Independence, Kansas. It represents an investment of more than forty thousand dollars and is probably the best equipped plant of the kind in Texas.

Mr. Curtain came here from Independence, Kansas, several months ago to "look around" and was so much impressed that before he left he had expended $9000 for a site and had let the contract for a handsome building to house an automobile garage and automobile machine repair plant. This plant is now ready for operation. It is housed in a brick building 100x50 feet of fire proof construction and with a concrete floor. It is equipped with an underground gasoline storage system and has a charging plant for electric automobiles. Current for charging batteries and

NIGHT AND DAY AMBULANCE SERVICE

The repair department is equipped with three lathes, three drill presses, shaper, emory wheel, a full blacksmith equipment and all other machinery necessary for overhauling automobiles and for other repair work.

The Motor Inn will have the agency for the Detroit Electric automobiles and probably one or two makes of gasoline motors. J. E. Curtain is manager and A. G. McMillan who comes from Cleveland, Ohio, is assistant manager. The plant will give employment to a number of expert machinists.

Hand-Tailored

INTELLIGENCE and stability in the making; and style and refinement of finish; precisely the characteristics you want in your new overcoat.

On a foundation of thoroughly-shrunk, all-wool fabric, hand-tailoring means Clothes Satisfaction that to a nicety meets the ideas of the modern Beau Brummel.

Sounds expensive?

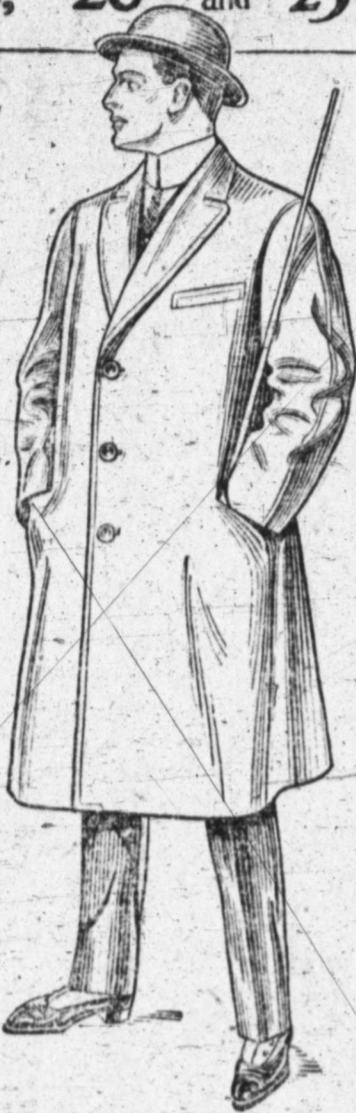

But it isn't—if you come here.

For we've gone straight to headquarters—to the model clothes factory of America, the leading and largest makers of hand-tailored clothes—and we can sell clothes of this description at no higher prices than you are asked to pay for ordinary sorts.

Kirschbaum Hand-tailored Overcoats—$15, $20, $25.

Positively none elsewhere like our Kirschbaum $15, $20 and $25 specials, at anything like the same prices.

The Kirschbaum label is the maker's guaranty to refund the money if the clothes are unsatisfactory.

Men Who Walked on All Fours.

In the kingdom of Poland there was formerly a law according to which any person found guilty of slander was compelled to walk on all fours through the streets of the town where he lived accompanied by the beadle, as a sign that he was disgraced and unworthy of the name of man. At the next public festival the delinquent was forced to appear crawling upon hands and knees underneath the banquet table and barking like a dog. Every guest was at liberty to give him as many kicks as he chose, and he who had been slandered must toward the end of the banquet throw a picked bone at the culprit, who, picking it up with his mouth, would leave the room on all fours.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

ELI WHITNEY'S TROUBLES.

By A. W. MACY. Eli Whitney invented the cotton gin in 1793. The new machine created great excitement, and before he could complete his model and secure his patent, scoundrels broke into his shop, stole his ideas, and made other machines along the same lines. Many rivals appeared, and he had to fight infringements on all sides. In 1799 his shop and all his machines and papers were burned. This misfortune threw him into bankruptcy, with a debt of $4,000 hanging over him. The first important infringement suit went against him. Several state legislatures with whom he had contracts tried to nullify them. In all he had more than sixty lawsuits, many of which were decided against him. He struggled against adverse circumstances for fifteen years, and then gave it up. It is said he did not make a dollar out of his invention, though it revolutionized the cotton industry and added a thousand million dollars to the revenues of the southern states.

MURDERER OF BOYS TELLS STORY OF CRIME

Buffalo, New York, Nov. 30.—Disregarding the advice of his attorney, John Frank Hickey, the confessed boy murderer, today repeated to a group of newspaper men the story of his many crimes covering a period of over twenty years. Strangely enough, Hickey seems to be more troubled by the memory of the accidental killing of Edward Mory in Lowell, Massachusetts, nearly thirty years ago, than by the murders on years ago, and a year ago, of two lads. In addition to the murder of the Josephs and Kruck boys, Hickey related unsuccessful attempts to murder boys in Quincy, Boston and Lawrence, and four attempts at suicide. "I do not know what this thing is that comes over me," he said, "this obsession strikes me when I am sober, and I take a drink to get over it. Then I kill some boy. I see Mory's eyes before me. That comes over me at any time, night or day, drunk or sober." District Attorney Dudley is completing the chain of evidence against the prisoner in the Josephs case. Today Gordon Piton, a playmate of Josephs, picked Hickey from a group of prisoners at the jail and identified him as the man who bought candy for them and led the Josephs boy away on the day he was murdered.

Long Ears a Bad Sign. Twelve hundred teachers attending the session of the Cincinnati Teachers' institute sat as if glued to their seats while they listened to a lecture by Dr. Arthur Holmes, psychologist at the University of Pennsylvania and expert in mental diseases, who declared that long, loping ears were one of the indications of mental deficiency and that a great many teachers were mentally defective, the Cincinnati correspondent of the New York Times writes.

Dr. Holmes said that many men and women whom the world holds normal were really deficient. Persons with aquiline noses were rarely deficient, he asserted. Persons with long, slender hands of a smooth texture were most apt to lack energy and to be deficient mentally, he added. "Society men and women, as they climb higher and higher in the social scale, get nearer and nearer to the plane of the idiot," said Dr. Holmes. "Take away their money and some of them could not even dress themselves."

Thoughtful Wife. Weary of life, a farmer went out to his barn and hanged himself. A little later his wife, entering the barn to feed some animals, saw her husband swinging from the rafters. Arguing that if, as it was natural to think, her husband intended to commit suicide, he would be exasperated by the frustration of his intention, she left the body as it was and went on with the work of the farm. Several hours later in the evening, when her daughter came back from the fields, the woman told her what had happened. Mother and daughter deliberated for some time as to what ought to be done, and finally decided to inform the mayor. When that official came in haste and out down the body life had been extinct for several hours.—London Telegraph.

The Golden Calf Is Again Worshipped

Money Now Our Creed

All Judged by the Dollar

By Mrs. O. H. P. BELMONT.

Suffragist of New York

LET us not mince matters, but lay a firm hand on the evil of the day. Is it to be wondered at that there is discontent at one end of the seesaw of human society and ignorant light heartedness at the other? The church of God is no longer a lighthouse in the world. Its pulpit is no longer filled with men who find their inspiration in the Master's teachings. It has become a SEVENTH DAY HOUSE, WITH A SOCIAL ENTERTAINMENT provided by an eloquent man with eloquence satisfactory to the entertainment committee—i. e., the vestry.

WE HAVE GONE BACK TO THE WORSHIP OF THE GOLDEN CALF. WE HAVE SET UP FALSE GODS. WE HAVE MADE THE STANDARD OF OUR LIVES THE GOLDEN DOLLAR OF THE MINT.

Our morality is the morality of the dollar, our excellence as citizens is measured by the dollar, and our standard of cleverness is our ABILITY TO GET THE DOLLAR. Our people's place in the community is measured by the dollars they have, and our public schools educate our children to MEASURE SUCCESS BY THE DOLLARS THEY SHALL ACQUIRE. And when we die our importance is noted by the press by the dollars we leave behind us.

American Public School Is a Success

By Dr. P. P. CLAXTON, Head of United States Bureau of Education

THE AMERICAN PUBLIC SCHOOL IS A SUCCESS. MORE HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED FOR THE GOOD OF HUMANITY BY THE COMMON SCHOOLS OF THE COUNTRY THAN HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED BY ANY OTHER AGENCY IN THE SAME TIME AT ANY PERIOD OF MODERN HISTORY.

It is an interesting fact that those who have harsh criticism for the public schools usually make their attacks from one of two angles—either that the common school of today is TRYING TO TEACH TOO MUCH OR THAT IT IS TEACHING TOO LITTLE. That much which is taught today was not considered necessary in the schools of a generation or two ago is true, but we must remember that social and industrial conditions have grown more complex during this period, and there is much useful work outside of the fundamental three R's which a child must be taught in the school if he is to learn the work at all.

Parents are today DEPENDING MORE AND MORE ON THE SCHOOL to give the child much of the training formerly taught in the home, and to my mind the schools do well in trying to meet these new responsibilities.

Humanity Talks Too Much

By M. OSSIP LOURIE, Russian Psychologist

HUMANITY must now inaugurate a campaign against verbosity. Talking is a disease.

WORDS HAVE BECOME A MENACE TO SOCIETY, SCARCELY LESS THREATENING THAN ALCOHOLISM OR TUBERCULOSIS. CIVILIZATION IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS NEWLY DISCOVERED MALADY, AND NOTHING LESS THAN A SPECIAL SYSTEM OF LAICAL MONASTERIES AND CONVENTS AND A STRICT REGIME OF SILENCE CAN STOP ITS RAVAGES.

Verbomania is a very ancient disease, but its ethical and social dangers are only beginning to be recognized in these days, when the value of creative activity is being emphasized and is becoming a generally accepted belief. PROGRESS IS HINDERED BY VERBOSITY, which has become a widely prevalent disease and vice. As such its importance cannot be overestimated, and its INDIVIDUAL AND SOCIAL CONSEQUENCES CALL FOR THE IMMEDIATE ATTENTION OF THE TEACHER, THE MINISTER AND THE DOCTOR.

Like the pianist who is able after much practice to render a difficult composition without thinking about it, men HAVE ACQUIRED THE POWER TO TALK WITHOUT EVEN THINKING ABOUT WHAT THEY ARE SAYING. Habit transforms conscious activity into a mechanical process. In the use of words habit becomes grafted upon instinct.

HUGHITT SAYS MUST KNOW MEN TO SUCCEED

The most consistently inconsistent human paradox of these strenuous times celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary in and about Chicago the other day rounding out a pretty fair record for having never done the expected thing at the expected time.

Inconsistency is his middle name. He revels in it by day and dreams by night of new outrages against the natural law and order of things. If we were scheduled to take the trip with Charon tomorrow morning he would either go tonight or wait until tomorrow afternoon, charter a scow and negotiate the Styx by himself.

He has made a dozen or more millions out of his inconsistencies. With him they are marketable commodities with fixed values. His aptitude for the unexpected rescued him from the turmoil of a farmer's life and left him serried and satisfied at the head of a railroad system of some 5,000 miles of track and $200,000,000 of assets.

This man—his name just happens to be Marvin Hughitt—spent his 27, 383d day being exactly as consistent as he has been throughout the other 27,382.

"I don't see why any one should be interested in my birthday anniversary," said Mr. Hughitt at his summer home in Lake Forest. "Why do they keep reminding me that I am getting so close to the end of my rope?"

"You know, I have a confession to make, and my birthday anniversary is a good time to make it. Really—I don't deserve half the credit I have been given for the remarkable success of the great railroad I happen to preside over.

"I'll tell you the honest truth. It wasn't I who did it. It was the small army of efficient and faithful men I had around me."

Mr. Hughitt declared that the secret of advancing is to know men. Hughitt is not of the Hawley or Harriman type of railroad magnates. He was essentially a builder, never a gambler. His life has been one of constant and steady growth, with none of the great successes and failures which left both these others bent and seared.

He is as straight as an Indian, alert and handsome as are few men at his age. The folks expected him to stay at home and make something of a celebration of the event. Instead he went to the office, intent upon running the railroad. But everybody at the office seemed to expect him, so he decided to go calling on friends.

SUBJECTS OF KING OF SIAM PAY NO TAXES

Traditional mental pictures of the king of Siam and the land over which he rules were ruthlessly destroyed the other day by Harry D. Warner, former Minneapolis man, who left America August 25 to return with his bride to Bangkok, the Siamese capital, where he is the representative of a big American corporation. He made the long journey to Minneapolis to marry Miss Harriet M. Riggs. Of Vajiravudh, king of Siam, Mr. Warner said:

"Instead of having 600 wives and drowning the ones that displeased him in sacks with wildcats, as the old-time story books used to say, he hasn't even one wife.

"Instead of riding about on the back of an elephant, he owns forty automobiles and keeps them all in use.

"Instead of being educated only in the mystic lore of the Orient, he is an Oxford graduate and the author of 'The War of the Polish Succession.'

"Instead of shrouding his country in the traditional weird customs of the east, he is doing his best to make the land as occidental as possible.

"Instead of surrounding himself with curiously robed white-bearded patriarchs to aid in the government, he pays J. I. Westergard of Chicago $28,000 a year to be special adviser, riding around in automobiles and thinking up new schemes for civic improvements.

"Instead of oppressing his subjects, though he is an absolute monarch, he levies virtually no taxes at all, practically all of the revenues needed for the government being obtained from the crown teakwood forests and jewel mines.

"Instead of maintaining a mysterious capital surrounded by an ancient wall, he has in Bangkok a modern city of nearly 700,000 inhabitants, paved and electric lighted, with an electric tramway system, four steam railroads, a fire department, police force, public health service, three newspapers, hospitals and European hotels.

"Siam is no toy kingdom. The country is larger than England and Wales combined and has a population of 18,000,000. Though Buddhism is the state religion, Christianity is not discouraged."

SHE DIED FOR WITCHCRAFT

Story of Early Days in a New York State Village—Woman Slain With Silver Bullets.

Esperance, N. Y.—Esperance, meaning hope, is one of the oldest villages in these parts. It was known as State Bridge in the Revolution, a name which occurs often in the military orders issued at the time Gen. William North, an aid on the staff of George Washington, lived there for the time being. The scenery is splendid and the nestles by the creek at the bottom of a great basin spread to the north, south, east and west. The atmosphere is always clear and verdure usually is tinged with rich blackness which it gets from the woods.

Gen. North bought the land where the village now stands and established a system of ground rents which every one buying a lot and owning a house had to pay, a practice which continued for ever a hundred years. His daughter, Henrietta, described as a gifted woman, changed the name of this pretty spot to Esperance.

On the hill above Esperance is an old stone Presbyterian church whose exact date is not known. But there is a tradition connected with it which goes back until it was a vivid memory in the minds of men. During the Napoleonic wars, a soldier of France wandering westward with his wife and babies to find a home came to the pretty hamlet on the Schoharie and decided to stay. The man did not live long, and soon passed out of mind and memory, for neither he nor his wife could talk a word of English, so they made only a few acquaintances and fewer friends.

Left alone the widowed woman lived in a little house on the outskirts of the village, planting her garden, raising chickens, and managing in her frugal French way to live. Perhaps she went to the town, gaunt and hungry, to pick up some odd work or to ask for some relief. At any rate she could not talk English and was mysterious. They called her "the Grenadier woman," and before long some misfortune was laid to her, so that the townfolk came to look upon her as a witch.

This sealed her fate. In a solemn convocation in the church her death was voted, and she was shot with silver bullets molded from teaspoons some one had brought from down east. The men chosen for the task peered in at her cabin window, and saw her cooking in front of the open fire. Two little children were playing on the floor beside her when they raised their clumsy guns and fired.

She was buried with a stake through her head, and an evergreen tree was planted to mark the spot. One of the boys who remembered the occurrence lived to be past ninety years of age and told it to the last with all the vividness of youth, pointing out where her cabin stood and often visiting the tree. This man was appointed postmaster by Andrew Jackson and removed by Grover Cleveland in 1885.

Marriage is a delightful thing, but it is not, and never can be, a duty, nor is it as a duty that men and women have hitherto zealously practiced it.—Agnes Repplier, Litt. D.

Qualification.—When men strive for posts of trust, they must be somewhat post-like: themselves, and stand steady.—Robert Kaufman.

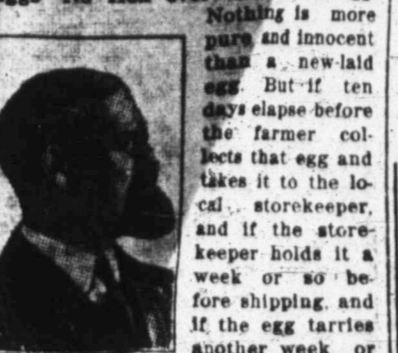

One Acre for Each Inhabitant.—If the land of England and Wales were equally divided, there would be a little more than an acre for each person.

The Winner.—Griggs—"I should say that the two keys to success are luck and pluck." Griggs—"Sure! Luck in finding some one to pluck."—Boston Transcript.

Goat Proved Poor Sailor.—While a man temporarily abandoned his skill along the banks of the Chesapeake river in Pennsylvania the other day a goat jumped into the craft. The animal chewed the shore line. The skipper swung around in the current and was some distance away when the owner returned. The goat ran from stern to prow and back again until one of its hoofs punctured the craft. The skipper quickly filled with water and sank, taking the goat with it. The goat was drowned.

N. E. CHAPMAN, AN ADVOCATE OF FRESH EGGS

N. E. Chapman, Advocate of Fresh Eggs—No Hen ever laid a bad egg.

Nothing is more pure and innocent than a new-laid egg. But if ten days elapse before the farmer collects that egg and takes it to the local storekeeper, and if the storekeeper holds it a week or so before shipping, and if the egg carries another week or more on hot railway platforms and cars in leisurely transit, before it reaches the city commission man who sells it to the corner grocer, it is really the grocer's fault that egg doesn't appeal to the Ultimate Consumer as being quite as "fresh laid" as the placard proclaimed it to be.

The annual production of the United States is estimated to be worth four hundred million dollars, and of that total two eggs in every dozen, worth over sixty-six million dollars in all, go into the garbage can as unappealing. Is it any wonder that the United States government is co-operating with the farmer to save those two expensive eggs?

The most elaborate campaign for the preservation of the egg is that conducted in the state of Minnesota by Mr. N. E. Chapman of the extension staff of the agricultural college of the State University. His mission is to encourage the egg to get to market while it is fresh. He preaches the doctrine of fresh eggs to railroads, dealers, teachers, farmers, and country children.

He traces each bad egg to the source of its badness, and delivers his earnest lecture to the responsible party. Mr. Chapman glories in the hen. He tells her story on an average of four times a day the year round. His best audiences are the children to whom the rosy gentleman in gold-bowed spectacles is known as "Uncle Norton." Last fall he ran a poultry class three days and nights in a country school.—Woman's Home Companion.

KING CHRISTIAN TURNS BICYCLE REPAIRER

If Christian X. should lose his crown as King of Denmark, he could make a good living with a bicycle repair shop, and he has the promise of at least one customer.

While driving with his sons recently, the king ran down a cyclist with his carriage. Although the accident was due entirely to the carelessness of the bicycle rider, the king stopped the carriage and went to the assistance of the young man, whose machine was smashed. His majesty, who is very fond of cycling and who repairs his own machine, saw that he could put the broken bicycle in running order again. The young man seemed helpless, and stood looking on, with his hands in his pockets while the king worked for ten minutes repairing the damaged machine.

When the king had finished the work the rider asked him for his card, promising to patronize him whenever his machine needed repairs. As the rider stood with wide open mouth looking at the king's name engraved on the card, the royal party drove away.

And Yet Occasionally?—"Life is not a solemn thing. Pathetic, yes; tragic, often; squalid, splendid, crazy, jolly, lit with dreams and laughter, an immense joke, and a black grief—but solemn, never."—Views and Vagabonds, by R. Macaulay.

Old Fortification Sold.—At a Dublin auction mart the martello tower on the island of Shenick, near Skerries, was recently sold. The monument to the old style of resisting invasion was disposed of for a good price, but the name of the purchaser was not disclosed.

Quickest Are Not Always Best.—Men think highly of those who rise rapidly in the world; whereas nothing rises quicker than dust, straw and feathers.—Augustus W. Hare.

Attorney General's Opinion is Used by Publishers in Trying to Make Law Invalid

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 30.—An unexpected turn today was given the legal fight for the constitutionality of the "newspaper publicity" law by attorneys for the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin who filed with the United States Supreme court an opinion of Attorney General Wickersham as their answer to Solicitor General Bullitt's argument in favor of the law.

James M. Beck, attorney for the Lewis publishing company of New York, also attacked the law in a brief filed today. The case is set for oral argument Monday. The solicitor-general's defense of the law was built on the theory that the law established new conditions regulating the admission of newspapers to second class mail. Attorneys Morris and Plante, in reply to this argument, referred the court to the opinion Attorney General Wickersham sent to Postmaster General Hitchcock on September 25, in which the Attorney General said:

"Provisions of the statute under consideration should not be confused with those of the statutes relating to second class mail matter." The attorneys added that the construction given the act by the attorney general has been adopted by the postmaster general in the enforcement of the law, and an authority was quoted that this construction should be disturbed unless clearly shown.

CHRISTMAS

Is a magic word that brings gladness, good cheer, peace and good will to men. It brings back pictures of the past and is the milestone that marks the way back to childhood's innocent days when it meant new toys and a visit from good old Santa. Who can't remember Christmas morning when our longest stockings were stuffed with trinkets that made our childish hearts glad.

We are all children and the only difference in us is that some of us have come from further up the stream of years than others. A few days more brings another Christmas and the buying of gifts for friends and ones will occupy our thoughts. We are showing the best that money will buy in gift goods. Quality was our foremost thought when selecting the goods. We have bought goods of a quality that will represent the value the friendship and regard of the giver.

soliciting or taking orders therefor," etc., and providing further that such counties may levy an additional tax of $2,000. This case presents a question which so far, as I am informed, is entirely new in Texas jurisprudence, this statute not having been judicially construed heretofore.

The leading rule of statutory construction, is that the court shall ascertain and declare the intent of the law making power, the legislature. The controlling question therefore, is, "Did the legislature in passing the act in question, intend to tax persons soliciting business by mail—persons who have their domicile in other counties and transact their principal business in the county of their domicile?" If the act was so intended and if its language sufficiently expressed such intention, then the acts of the defendant would bring it within the purview of the statute and it would be liable.

In the opinion of this court, the act was leveled at the peripatetic liquor drummer who operates in a local option county and personally takes or solicits orders for liquor. I do not think that the legislature contemplated or intended to tax those who, having their domicile or place of business outside the county, send out circular letters or advertising literature to the people of a local option county inviting the people to patronize them. If such had been the legislature's intent, it would have been easy to have expressed it in simple words so as to make such intention clear. But, this the legislature failed to do and this court cannot add to the expressed will of the legislature, however, much we may be inclined to deplore the practice of receiving orders from and shipping liquors into a county that has adopted the local option laws.

Therefore, it is the opinion of the court that defendant is not liable for the taxes sued for, and consequently the judgment of the court will be for the defendant.

offic vice-president. The Albanian flag has been raised and Albania has been proclaimed a neutral state under the protection of the powers.

The new government has advised the people of Durazzo and Ellassona not to oppose the Servians. This autonomous Albania is an extremely nebulous stage, since Albania is without definite geographical boundaries and almost roads, and the people therefore have fostered a deep rooted prejudice against paying taxes to any government. The final settlement of their future problems is second only to that of reconciling Serbia and Austria over Serbia's determination to retain a port on the Adriatic.

While the danger that the belligerents may fall to settle their differences and hostilities may be resumed after the negotiations looms large, and the fact that the armies before Constantinople practically have reached a deadlock is the strongest force making for peace.

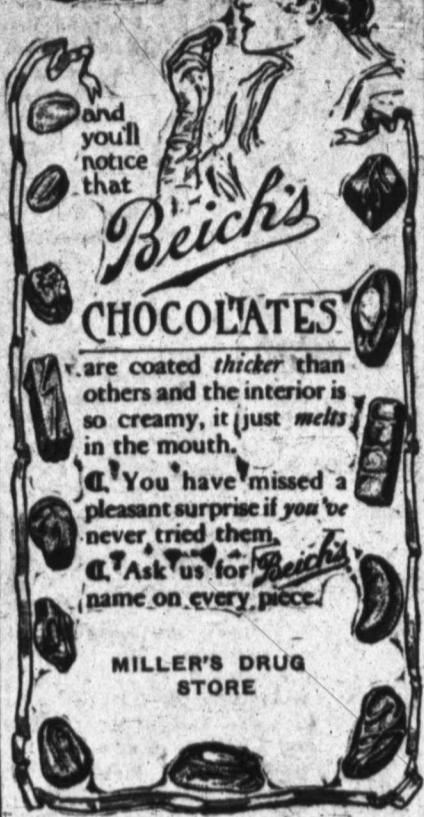

Military experts consider it would be almost impossible for the allies to take the Tchatalja breastworks.

SENSATION IN TEXAS FOOTBALL CIRCLES

Five Texas Players Disqualified and Steps to Disbar Two Coaches Started

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 30.—The Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association disqualified five well known football players and cited two prominent coaches to appear before the association at the May meeting and show cause why they should not be barred from playing their vocation among the Texas colleges.

The coaches affected are Willis Stewart of Texas Christian University and Coach Ralph Glaze of Baylor University. The players barred are Captain Ware, W. J. Osborn and Hunter of Texas Christian University and Players Moseley and Touchstone of Baylor.

At T. C. U. it was stated that Hunter and Osborn had played at Transylvania College Kentucky and were therefore ineligible under the rules of the Texas conference. The other players are charged with playing professional football, while it is alleged the coaches knowingly have allowed ineligible to play.

By Associated Press. Cincinnati, Nov. 30.—"When Murphy speaks of Fleider Jones as manager of the Cincinnati club, he is joking. I know of no deal for Jones, and further than that he will not be Cincinnati's manager next year." So said President Herrmann of the National League team of this city tonight.

CLARK FINDS HIMSELF GOOD-LOOKING, ANYHOW.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Speaker Champ Clark took his daughter, Genevieve, to the White House recently to introduce her to President Taft. It was the first meeting in months between the man who was defeated for the presidency and the man whose friends believe he lost that high office only because of happenings at the Baltimore convention. The President rose from his desk to greet the visitors and stood chatting for several minutes with Miss Clark, who declared that she was a "Taft democrat and a loyal believer in Taft policies." The Speaker did not figure much in the conversation, but the President noticed that he was receiving a thorough scrutiny and finally turned to see what it meant.

"Well, Mr. President," said Mr. Clark in that drawl which his colleagues know so well, "There is one thing about it. We are better looking than the others, anyhow."
