IMPEACHMENT TRIAL OPENED

ACCUSED COMMERCE COURT JUDGE BEFORT THE BAR OF THE SENATE

REVIEW OF THE CASE

Thirteen Separate Articles Constitute Basis for Impeachment Proceedings

Washington, Dec. 3.—For the ninth time in its history the Senate convened today as a high court of impeachment to try Judge R. W. Archbald of the commerce court on thirteen separate charges alleged to constitute "high crimes and misdemeanors." Counsel for the judge has admitted commission of all the acts alleged, but denied that any is improper.

The court adopted orders setting the hour of meeting at 2 o'clock daily, It then recessed until 2 o'clock after a

The charge against Judge Archbald arose in connection with private and official acts both as a judge of the Court of Commerce and as United States District Judge for Middle Pennsylvania. He was impeached by the House of Representatives after a full investigation of the facts by the De partment of Justice, and extended hearings before the House Judiciary Committee.

Thirteen separate articles constitute the basis for the impeachment trial Those embrace dealings between Judge Archbald and railroad officials and others in regard to Pennsylvania coal or "culm" dumps and coal lands; contributions by attorneys and others to the Judge's vacation trip to Europe in 1910; reputed "secret correspondence by the judge with a railroad at torney concerning a pending case; and alleged attempts to have notes payable to Judge Archbald discounted by attorneys and litigants before his

In presenting the case to the House Representative Clayton said that the Judiciary Committee was of the opin-on that Judge Archbald's "sense of ponsibility had become dead ened" and that he had "prostituted his high office for personal profit." The principal charge grew out of the atydid Culm Bank deal. In this charge it was asserted that while the Eric Railroad Company had pending be fore the Commerce Court two suits Judge Archbald, corruptly taking ad vantage of his official position, induc ed the officials of the Hillside Coal & Iron Cmopany and of the Erie railroad which owned that company, to agree to sell the coal company's inter est in the Katydid dump to Judge Archbald and Edward J. Williams.

In his answer Judge Archbald de nied that he had acted corruptly, or had taken advantage of his position His attorneys took the position tha it was not a crime for a federal judge to become interested in an attempt to purchase property from one who was

JOHNSON TO WED LUCILE CAMERON

Negro Puglist Will Marry/White Gir With Whom His Relations Re-

By Associated Press. Chicago, Dec. 3.—Jack Johnson negro pugilist, today declared that tonight he would marry Lucile Cameron, the 19-year-old Minneapolis girl whose mother caused Johnson's arrest on a serious charge.

The impending marriage will not affect his case before the Federal court, according to Johnson's attorney. The fighter said a moving picture concerp thad agreed to pay him $5000 for a said he told the Cameron girl he had been blamed for ill-treating her, and that "we might as well be married right away."

"She is alone in the world now, said Johnson. her mother has left her and her step-father is quoted as saying he wanted to have pothing more to do with her."

Johnson said the ceremony would take place in his mother's home. The clerk of the marriage license office declined to issue a permit to Johnson because the Cameron girl was not there to swear to her age. The county clerk however, issued 'the license. Johnson gave his age as 34, the girl's

Chief of Police McWeeny said today the whole affair is antagonistic to public policy and morals generally. The chief said he would prevent the pictures being shown if possible,

MISSISSIPPIAN DELIVERS AN IN-STRUCTIVE ADDRESS AS DIS-TRICT FARMERS UNION MEETING

WAS DISCUSSED

Better Methods of Handling Urged and Warehousing Plan Explained

"Ran" Wilson, otherwise Rev. R. A N. Wilson, chairman of the Farmers Union executive committee of Missis sippl, spoke at the district conven tion of the Farmers' Union last night discussing the Farmers Union ware house plan. The actiress was attentively heard by the delegates and was considered a masterpiece.

Mr. Wilson by profession is a co try preacher, and so styles himself. For the past six months or more, he has been in Texas helping get the varehouse plan started in this State.

There were two very interesting features of Mr. Wilson's address; one was his discussion of the waste which poor ginning, careless handling, sampevery bale of cotton that is picked. Better ginning, better compression, he said would save $6 per bale. He said that the samples, instead of being cut by the buyers, should be taken out at the packer, by a man employed for that purpose and bonded for that pur-

The needs of the country residen weer also discussed by the speaker, n connection with the warehouseing plan. This plan, he explained was simply to take the middleman's profits on cotton and give them to the farmer by making the farmer the middleman. He painted a pretty word picture of changed conditions in the rural sections when the farmers were aroused. "Only the poor people will live in the city then," he said, "in the country there will be good schools and good churches and good roads." Mr. Wilson's ministerial experience broke through his business talk as he warmed up to his subject and he mixed considerable philosophy that held his hearers' rapt attention.

T. B. Taylor of this city made a short but stirring talk after Mr. Wilson had finished, endorsing all that had been said and expressing the wish that every farmer could have heard him. Money was raised to defray Mr. Wilson's expenses from Fort Worth here.

The first speaker was F. I. Town sond. He began by expressing his pleas ure at meeting the farmers of this section, whose reputation for progress he said, was extensive. Though only a private in the Farmers' Union ranks, Mr. Townsend said he was glad to be of some service wherever

The Farmers' Union, he continued had passed the experimental stage: its motives were once misunderstood and criticised, but that day was gone, and it was recognized as a material factor in the agricultural life of the South. 'Texas' prosperity depended on her farmers, he said, and she

POLL TAX PAYMENTS VERY SLIGHT TO DATE

Only Fifty Receipts Have Been Issued at Court House Up to This Morning

There appears to be no great rush to pay poll taxes so far, and those who want to go to the cuort house and attend to this necessary formality have ample assurance that they will not be required to stand in line for half an hour to get to the tax collector's win-

Seven poll tax receipts were issued yesterday, it being the biggest day so far. A total of 57 had been issued up to last night. This is considered a od showing for this time of year as most of the voters seem to prefer to wait until late in January when the rush is on.

There are several matters to come up next year, for which poll taxes will be required. Chief among these will be the city election, as new officers will be chosen under the new charter. The legislature may submit amendments to the voters and it is possible among other things, that there may be a test of strength, sometime during BILLS INTRODUCED ponents of local option.

SENATOR GORE WILL LEAD MOVE MENT TO PREVENT SEN-ATE CONFIRMATION

Campaign Directed Especially Against Nominations That Would Extend Terms

Washington, Dec. 3.—President Taft sent more than two hundred recess appointments to the Senate today and the immediate indication of a movement among some of the democratic senators to prevent their confirmation became evident.

Senator Gore, it was said, would have the active support of several his breast, colleagues in heading the movement. I knew ly against nominations, which, it was yl against nominations, which, it was claimed, had been postponed from time to time, thus bringing the new term close to the beginning of the democrat ic administration.

Democratic senators claimed the president already had deprived the democrats of the privilege of appointing 50,000 postmasters, by placing themselves within the civil service law by a single order. Most of the democratic senators express themselves as favorable to a "discriminating obstruction" but several Progressive senators whose assistance had been counted on. did not appear to be willing to be counted upon.

By Associated Press Fort Worth, Texas, Dec. 3.-John Beal Sneed was found not guilty of the charge of murdering Captain A. G. Boyce, The verdict was returned at 9 o'clock this morning. In the court room at the time were Sneed and many of his relatives and friends.

When the verdict was announced sneed emitted a cowboy yell and a moment later Walter Scott and W. P. McLean Jr., attorneys for the deense, were fined for throwing their nats over the chandeller.

Sneed insisted on talking to the jury and promised to send each member a picture of himself and his chil

Mrs. Sneed, the woman whose lopement with the dead man's son started a series of tragedles in the sneed and Boyce families, awaited the verdict in selusion in a downtown hotel. Sneed himself telephoned the news to her.

Sneed and his relatives and friends went to his attorney's offices across the street from the court house and in five minutes the offices were crowded. Sneed shook hands until he was weary. Then his little daughter, Leonora came in with Miss Eleanor Sneed of Waco and the crowd became silent. The child rushed into her father's arms and he kissed her, while he held her tightly to

"I knew they'd do it, daddy," said, and kissed him again, Mrs. J. T. Sneed, the defendant's mother said: "I'm too happy to say Sneed dictated a score of telegrams to friends throughout the State. His relatives denied that Mrs. Sneed hasen closely guarded while here.

"Of course she doesn't want to talk | Jem Theater this morning and proved for publication," they said, "she is happy over the verdict and loves her husband and her children." Sneed was asked for a statement After consulting his attorneys, one of them said, "All he could say is that he expected this verdict and he got it."

County Attorney Baskin could be found, Jordan Cummings of the prosecution declined to make a state ment and Senator Hanger said he was too busy. Senator Odell said that he has tried cases in Texas' courts for twenty years and has never vet tried one out of court. The case went to the jury Monday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock, Judge Swavne charging for murder in the first and second degree, and rigidly refraining from anything that tend ed to reduce the crime to manslaugh-

Counsel for the defense submitted number of supplemental charges covering manslaughter and self-defense, but these were promptly over ruled, to which bills of exception were taken

At the former trial the charge was voluminous affair, covering fifteen typewritten pages, which required practically an hour to deliver to the jury, as well as self-defense and manall through the trial just ended

Judge Swayne excluded any testimony that would make the crime anything but murder in the first or sec ond degree, and more than 100 bills of exception were taken for one cause or another.

The jury has been very attentive throughout the trial and S. B. Austin, who occupied the second seat the jury box, kept tab on the wit nesses. When a new witness was put on he would jot the fact down in his book and occasionally would have a question or answer repeated Several persons who have attended the trial regularly had ventured s guess that Mr. Austin would be select ed as foreman of the jury, but this could not be known until the verdict had been returned.

The lights in the jury room burned until after 10 o'clock last night. and watchers from the streets could see figures moving to and fro occas-ionally as the ballots were taken When the lights were extinguished without a call for the judge, the onlookers who had been sticking around in the hope of an early verdict wend ed their way homeward.

It is understood the verdict was reached on the first ballot which is bertson, D. M. Hardy, Frank Collier, reported not to have been taken until this morning.

During the first sesion of the delegates, the Turks absolutely refused to consider the surrender of the stronghold of Adrianople and when the Buigarians subsenquently yielded to them on this point, the Greek delegates shrank back and demanded time in which to submit the question to the

The reason for the Hellenic objection to any submission to the desires of the Ottoman representatives is not far to seek, according to the opinion expressed in diplomatic circles. It is pointed out that it is obvious that if the Bulgarians sacrifice the ultimate position of Adrianople in the interest of peace ,they will expect their allies to share their sacrifice and the only way in which this can be done is to give Bulgaria compensation in the shape of territory conquered by the Greeks, Servians and Montenegrins, and which they had staked out or might become a litigant before his court. They declared that no attemp was made to get the property for less than its fai rvalue.

Another prominent charge was tha Judge Archbatd undertook for a con sideration to assist George M. Watson an attorney of Scranton, Pa., to settle a reparation suit brought by the Ma on Coal-Company against the Dela road company, and to sell for C. G Boland and W. P. Botnd, a large por tion o fthe stock of the Marion Coa Company to the raffroad. In his an swer Judge Archbald declared he act ed in this manner as a friend of Wat son and C. G. Boland, without ever having received a suggestion of com pensation.

In response to every charge attor neys for Judge Archbald replied that the acts charged did not constitute as impeachabel offense, or a high crime or misdemeanor, as defined in the constitution. Each of the impeachment trials in American history has, in turn, been the sensation of the period in which it occurred. The first case was that of William Blount, a U. S. Senator from Tennessee, who was in the year 1798 tried on a charge of conspiring with certain British officers to steal part of Louisiana from Spain for the benefit of England. He was acquitte on a technicality but was expelled from the Senate. Then came Judge John Pickering, of New Hampshire who was tried for drunkenness and profanity during the year 1802 and was convicted an dremoved. In the year 1804 Samuel Chase, one of the Associate Justices of the U. S. Su. preme Court, was tried on charges of rregularities growing out of the conduct of a trial but was acquitted. An acquittal was also secured by Judge James H. Peck, of Missouri, who in 1830 was accused of partiality in legal

During the Civil War, or in 1862 to be exact. Judge West H. Humphreys of Tennessee, was impeached and removed from office, his offense being that eh entered the service of the Con federacy without resigning or vacating his office. Soon after the Civil War came our most sensational impeach ment trial, that of President Andrew Johnson, who became Chief Magis trate by reason of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. The charges against Johnson were largely the outgrowth of his attempt to remove Ed win M. Stanton as Secretary of War regardless of the wishes of the Senate. After a stormy trial Johnson was acquitted, but by the narrowest mar gin. An acquittal was likewise se cured by William W. Belknap, Secre tary of War, under President Grant who was charged with having accept ed money to rthe privilege of conducting a trading post at a U. S. gov. ernment military post in the West. The most recent impeachment trial was that of Judge Charles Swayne, of Floriad, which took place in 1904 and esulted in an acquittal. Judge Swayne, it may be remembered, was tried on twelve charges (only one less than Judge Archbald), of corruption and incompetency.

EXTENSION OF

President Taft's First Message o Last Session Deals With Foreign Relations

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Presi dent Taft's first message to the last session of Congress in his term was eceived with close attention in both branches when legislative busines began today.

Dealing entirely with foreign rela tions and America's progress in foreign trade the message paves the way for others later dealing with other questions.

In concluding his message Pres

Congress a communication upon the present foreign relations of the United States so detailed as to convey an adequate impression of the enor mous increase in the importance and activities of those relations. If this Government is really to preserve to the American people that free opportunity in foreign markets which will soon be indispensable to our prosperity, even greater efforts must be Otherwise the American merchant, manufacturer and exporter will find many a field-in which American trade should logically predom inate preempted through the more energetic efforts of other governments and other commercial na-through party co-operation the legis lative and executive branches of this Government can do much. The absolute essential is the spirit of united effort and singleness of purpose. I will allude only to a very few spe cific examples of action which ought then to result. America can not take its proper place in the most important fields for its commercial activity and enterprise unless we have a merchant marine. American commerce and enterprise can not be effectively fostered in those fields unless we have good American banks in the countries referred to. We need American newspapers in those countries and proper means for pubilc information about them. We need to assure the permanecy of a trained foreign service. We need begislation enabling the members of the foreign service to be systematically brought in direct contact with the industrial, manufacturing and exporting interests of this country in order that American business men may enter the foreign field with a clear perception of the exact conditions to be dealt with and the officers themselves may prosecute their work with a clear idea of what American industrial and manufacturing interests require.

"Congress should fully realize the conditions which obtain in the world as we find ourselves at the threshold of our middle age as a Nation. Weured in the struggle to develop our lomestic resources and deal with our iomestic questions. The Nation is now too mature to continue in its foreign relations those temporary expedients natural to a people to whom iomestic affairs are the sole concern. n the past our diplomacy has often consisted, in normal times, in a mere assertion of the right to international existence. We are now in larger relation with broader rights of our own and obligations to others than ourselves. A number of great guiding principles were laid down early in the history of this Government. The recent task of our diplomacy has been to adjust those principles to the conditions of today to develop their corollaries, to find practical applications of the old principles expanded to meet new situations. Thus are being evolved bases upon which can rest the superstructure of policies which must grow with the destined progress of this Nation. The successful conduct of our foreign relations demands a broad and modern view. We can not meet new questions nor build the future if we confine ourselves to outworn dogmas of the past and to the perspective appropriate at our emergence from colonial times and conditions. The opening of the Panama Canal will mark a new era in our international life and create new and world wide conditions which, with their vast correlations and consequences, will obtain for hundreds of years to come. We must not wait for events to over take us unawares. With continuity of purpose we must deal with the problems of our external relations by a diplomacy modern, resourceful, maganimous and fittingly expressive

Report Gives Them 7,000 Barrels, Cor sicana 5.945 Barrela, Burkburnett District 540 Barrels

A decrease in average daily production of approximately a thousand barrels under October, is shown by the production report of the Wichita county oil field for November. The average for the month was 15,550 including the Burkburnett production, as compared with 16,568 barrels for October.

The failure of the wells in the Eeds district was a contributing factor to the decline, the new production for the month being only about 15,000 barrels daily.

The Burkburnett country, including he Schmocker and Borcheldt wells, new has a daily production of 540 barrels. The production by com anies follows:

This will not make i so embarrassing for President Wilson after he takes the office!"

One week after his inauguration President Harrison, Republican, susended the order of President Cleveland Democrat, whereby the em ployes in the railway mail service were placed under the civil service law. Now that President Taft has issued an order placing about 36,000 fourth-class postmasters under the civil service law, for no purpose other than to keep that many Republicans in the service of the government per manently without examination or test as to efficiency, are there any Demo crats who would censure President elect Wilson should he, upon taking his office, revoke the order of Pres ident Taft and declare all the 36,00 postmasterships vacant? This is a purely, if the Demo cratic party expects to retain control it can hardly expect to succeed by playing into the hands of the Republican party.

Thanksgiving is now a thing of the past, and Christmas is the next event to claim the attention of the Christ mas shoppers. Nearly every paper in the state is urging early Christ mast shopping, but in looking through advertising columns of most of these papers It is a noticeably fact that but few stores that make a specialty of carrying Christmas goods, are advertising to any great extent. Therefore it is almost useless for these papers to urge early Christmas shopping unless the merchants are prepared to re ceive them. At least three weeks should be given to the shopper to pick out what they want. Perhaps if the dealers would give the opportunity there would be more early shopping but as a rule, they wait until about one week before Christmas and ther place their goods on display. The result is a jam, and many who would make purchases if they had time to select what they wanted, go away disgusted. Of course, there are a great number of the shoppers who could no be induced to make purchases early, but there are also quite as many who would do if the opportunity was given.

With all-its boasted superiority, the city of New York is not yet grown too big or too prosperous to call upon its citizens to "lend a hand." In a recent issue of the New York Times we find the following: "No town ever went ahead without men to push it ahead. Think that over. Your prosperity depends upon the prosperity of New York. Bear that in mind. If you work for New York you work for yourself. Give that careful consideration. If you neglect New York you neglect your best interests. Now where does your duty lie?" All of which can be applied to Wichita Falls. If we want to double the population of this city in the next two years, it can be done and with the doubling of the population will follow the doubling of property values. This has been proven to necessary is for our citizens to continue to "pull together." whatever it might be.

President Taft is displaying more spirit than has been his wont. The summary dismissal of two marshals in Texas for "pernicious political activity" in behalf of Cecil Lyon, former Republican chairman and chief Bull Mooser, might be called spunky. No doubt these gentlemen were active; whether their activity was "pernicious" depends largely upon the point of view. There were many Republican officeholders in Texas equally active in opposition to Lyon and in behalf of his successful rival, Mr. Mac-Gregor.

The quarrel between Republicans and Progressives ought not to keep good Democrats out of positions to which they are entitled. GRAND JURY BEGINS ITS DELIBERATIONS

Judge Martin Calls Attention to Conditions in This City and at

The grand pury began its delibera tions yesterday afternoon at 3:30 following the delivery of the charge by District Judge Martin. The jurors are in session today and are apparently

Judge Martin's charge covered the usual subjects which a district judge is required to instruct the grand jury upon. Of special interest was his reference to liquor sales at Electra. It will be recalled that the last grand jury made investigation of conditions in the oil city and reported upon them rather sharply, criticising the citizenship of Electra for its attitude on the matter. Judge Martin reminded the grand jurors of the work of their predecessors on this point, and explained the law at some length, urging the jury to delve deeply into the situa-

Another feature of the charge was the reference to the "reservation" conditions in Wichita Falls, and Judge Martin urged the jurors to go after the owners of the property that may be found in use for improper purposes, saying the owner of the property is just as guilty, morally and legally, as any inmate. The acts of the peace officers in this connection, in making arrests and in endeavoring to put an end to practices, were also laid before the jury for investigation.

J. P. Jones was appointed foreman of the grand jury, which at once reired and began its work.

"All good citizens," said Judge Martin, discussing enforcement of the liquor laws, "however widely they may differ as to the wisdom of permitting or prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors, agree that when its sale has been prohibited, the law should be enforced and the violators brought to justice." Atthough a number of cases await he attention of the grand jury this term, they are mostly of a compara-tively minor nature. There are no murder cases bound over this term.

R. A. N. WILSON'S TALK TO FARMERS

would always be an agricultural state. As evidence of the change in sentiment, he cited the fact that the Commercial Secretaries Association had recently offered to co-operate with the Union in "spreading the gospel."

Mr. Townsend then presented Mr. Wilson, introducing him as one of the foremost figures in the country

Mr. Wilson said he would go away able to tell everyone that he had found in this section farmers, who knew how to do things, and with de termination and good leadership, had really accomplished something.

The speaker said he was not one of those who patted farmers on the back and told them they were the best fellows in the world.

"That's not so," he said, "there are sorry farmers and good ones. They're no better than the average and no worse. Sometimes, when I see how they work against their own inter ests. I think they're worse,"

Farmers' ownership of gins was a necessity to the farmers' welfare, Mr Wilson said, in connection with the solution of the marketing problem, for which the Union was organized. The abuses and disadvantages under the old regime, Mr. Wilson said, had brought home the necessity for action.

B. F. Yoakum's expression, "It's too far from the farm to the table" was quoted by the speaker, who said a Union purpose was to reduce the distance. Since the farmers had tackled the matter, many others had come with remedies and solutions, but he believed the Farmers Union should undertake the work itself.

"No marketing system can be satisfactory that isn't controlled by the man between the plow handles," Mr

Wilson said, He then discussed the warehouse plantelling how it was started in Missis sippi some years ago. Pres. Barrett of the National Union, he said, had investigated every plan proposed, without success. Finally the Mississippi plan had been adopted, being recom nended for the handling of cotton, tobacco and grain. The system had been investigated carefully by the Union officials, and finally adopted. Texas had getten into line on the

Answering the claim that prices are subject to supply and demand alone, the speaker cited a brand of snuff which he said had always sold for 25 cents a bottle. Regardless of the supply of tobacco or the demans for snuff, he said, the price was al ways the same, The manufacturers stored their product to their ware louse, and waited, the speaker said: that was the way for the farmer to do; hold his product until there was a demand for it and then sell at his

"I believe it can be organized and handled and for the betterment of the world," said, Mr. Wilson, "and are; It isn't The banker or the speculator or the railroad man. Formerly the farmer didn't know how to help himself and he blamed everybody else. He was to blame himself."

Mr. Wilson related experiences to show that when there was a demand the producer fixed a price; when there was no demand, and a surplus, the buyer fixed the price. -In times like these, he continued, the speculator was the farmer's friend, providing the market for cotton when the spinner's didn't want it. No system for marketing could succeed that didn't take care of the man who had debts to pay. The system must have the confidence of the big farmer and belp the little farmer, Mr. Wilson said.

"It's up to the farmer," declared Mr Wilson, "if he doesn't see the value and doesn't handle it, somebody else

Elimination of waste and unneces sary expense was one great advantage of the system, continued the speaker. That was the secret of the Standard Oil company's success. He discusser the poor methods of ginning still in vogue in the South, saying the South was far behind Egyptian ginners in this regard. Gin compression, he said would be the eventual plan; it would save $6 per bale-$25,000,000 for Texas. He discussed the feature at some length. The warehouse plan was almed to remedy some of these ills. To cut out some of the unnecessary

> But, doubtless our lawmakers will need all these new aids for handling the affairs of the nation for it looks as though this would be a very busy session. There are many things on the program for so short a session. The Senate has a momentus impeachment trial as the opening number on its program and the House is expected to take up the revision of our Patent Laws and possibly the authorization of a new Patent office. In the closing days of the last session $10,000 was anpropriated to enable the President's Efficiency and Economy Commission to investigate the needs of the Patent Office and a report with recommendations must be ready this wee.

This closing session of the present Congress will find it simply imperative, too, to make some provisions for the bigger Congress that will succeed it. This is the last year that we will have less than 400 Representatives.
