A GUN FIGHT WITH MURDERER

THREE WOUNDED IN EFFORT TO CAPTURE A. J. BOEHLER, WHO WAS FINALLY KILLED

FORMALDEHYDE IS USED

After Eight Hours Resistance Wife Slayed Rushed in Her Barricade and Shot

MURDER KILLED AFTER DESPERATE RESISTANCE.

By Associated Press. Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 19.—Adam J. Boehler after holding a squad of policemen and detectives at bay for eight hours this morning, was shot and killed shortly before noon, by city detectives who forced their way into Boehler's stronghold, in a downtown rooming house, after the man had been partially overcome by the fumes of formaldehyde, forced into the room through holes cut in the walls and ceiling.

By Associated Press. Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 19.—Spaulding Parsons was shot and probably mortally wounded, Jessie Wotten, police officer, seriously wounded and Charles Davis, a policeman, was slightly hurt, early today, as the result of an attempt to capture Adam J. Boehler, a tinner, who almost severed his wife's head with a razor last night.

Boehler, well supplied with ammunition, barricaded himself in a rooming house in the central part of the city. Policemen armed with riot guns were stationed at all the exits of the building. Boehler declared his intention to fight as long as his ammunition held out. Parsons was shot through mistake by Police Sergeant Julius Grett when he stepped out on a balcony of an adjoining building. Grett thought he was Boehler and fired.

Wooten and Davis who were standing guard in a hall way just outside the room occupied by Boehler were fired on by the fugitive. Boehler, who came to Memphis from Indiana, in a house boat, attacked his wife from whom he was separated, in a boarding house last night. Other occupants heard the two scuffling but the only witness to the killing was Boehler's child who met the officers when they were summoned with the announcement that "papa has killed mama."

The woman was found lying on the floor, her throat slashed. She died in a few minutes. According to the child, who was four years old, Boehler after cutting the woman's throat deliberated a moment, washed his hands and left. He was traced to his rooming house where he had entrenched himself after driving his room-mate from the room. A demand that he surrender was replied to by a bullet through the door.

Boehler's fire was returned but it is not thought he was wounded. Boehler and the police exchanged an intermittent fire throughout the morning while others of the attacking party succeeded in reaching a floor above that on which the man was entrenched. Holes were bored through the floor and quantities of formaldehyde were poured into the room.

When all appeared quiet in the room, detectives stormed the barricaded door and in an exchange of shots, Boehler's body was riddled with bullets.

A MORE SPECIFIC DECREE IS ASKED

Government Joined by Union Pacific in Petition to Supreme Court

By Associated Press. Washington, Dec. 19.—A motion for a more specific decree in the Union Pacific merger dissolution case, was made in the supreme court today by Attorney General Wickersham, Chief Justice White stated formally that the court would take it under consideration.

Attorneys for the Union Pacific joined with the government in asking for a more specific decree as to the right of the Union Pacific stockholders in the distribution of the $126,650,000 worth of stock owned by the Union Pacific Railroad Co.

The railroad attorneys want the Union Pacific stockholders exclusively to be allowed to buy the stock. The government is opposed to such an exclusive privilege.

CITY SCHOOLS WERE VISITED

MORNING SESSION OF INSTITUTE TAKEN UP WITH CLASS ROOM VISITS

IT CLOSES TOMORROW

Discussion of School Evils Provided Plenty of Material Yesterday

This morning's session of the Wichita County Teachers' Institute was taken up with visiting the schools of this city, and the fifty teachers attending the meeting paid visits to class rooms in each of the buildings. The Institute will close with tomorrow's session.

Yesterday afternoon's session began with a discussion of some of the school evils, such as tardiness, irregularity, indifference, Miss Gertrude Denny leading in the discussion. Prof. Woods spoke on some features of the physical condition of school rooms.

An address on school legislation by E. P. Haney, representative from the district composed of Clay and Archer counties, was next on the program. He compared Texas with other states of the union, showing the low standard of this State. He criticized Gov. Colquitt for vetoing the bill which extended the age limit from 17 to 21 years and promised to make another attempt to have the same measure passed at the coming session. Mr. Haney advocated the extension of county supervision to those counties that are now without it, and also favored a constitutional amendment whereby rural districts should be allowed to levy any tax they saw fit.

President Minick of the county school board discussed the workings of that board, outlining its duties and commenting upon needed legislation. Mrs. J. E. Lee, president of the Mothers Clubs of this city, addressed the Institute upon the work of the mothers' organizations.

The program for this afternoon is as follows:

Arithmetic, School Room Essentials, Chapter 22.—E. C. Hall.
Fractions.—R. I. DeArmond.
Percentage.—Ben Harney.
Algebra; When Begun and How Taught.—Miss Alida Roberts.
School Room Essentials, Chapter 18.—Miss Bertha Trisler.
School Room Essentials, Chapter 19.—Miss Maud Lindsey.
How to Secure Better Co-operation Between the School and Community.—Miss Lillian Blankenship.
Following is the final program for tomorrow morning:

9:00 a. m., Invocation.—Rev. J. L. McKee.
Child Nature.—Miss Erma Shelton.
Systematizing our Work.—Miss Lulu Smith.
Discuss the Underlying Causes of Disorder and Suggest a Remedy for Each.—Otto Huffstetler.
The Boy Problem.—Miss Kate Jackson.
Agriculture in the Rural Schools.—D. L. Horton.
Address.—F. E. Barr.
School Room Essentials, Chapter 20.—Miss Ray Cameron.
Discussion of Topics Suggested of Teachers.
Business Meeting.
Adjournment.

INCREASE IN FURNITURE RATES UPHELD BY I. C. C.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Increases averaging about six cents a hundred pounds on furniture from points between Washington and the Rocky Mountains, to destinations in the Southwest, particularly Texas, were held today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to be reasonable, and will be effective December 24.

BOND ELECTION IS INVALID

ATTORNEY GENERAL WILL NOT APPROVE BOND ISSUES VOTED IN NOVEMBER

NOTICE OF ELECTION

Was Not Given as Prescribed by Statute, He Declares—Another Election Will Be Necessary

State Attorney General Wallhall will not approve the proposed sewer and street improvement bonds voted in Wichita Falls, in November and if the bonds are to be issued another election must be held.

The matter will be discussed at a meeting of the city council tonight but it is probable in view of the steps being taken to secure a new city charter, another election will not be called until after some definite action is taken in reference to its adoption.

In his letter to City Attorney Bonner, the Attorney General leaves no doubt but that he considers the proceedings relative to the bond election defective in such a manner that they cannot be remedied without another election being called.

Referring to previous correspondence relative to the question the Attorney General quotes the statute governing the point in question as follows:

"Art. 2934. In all city, town and village elections the mayor, or if he fails to, then the board of aldermen or the officials in whom authority is vested by law, shall order elections pertaining alone to municipal affairs, give notice and appoint election officers to hold the election, unless a different method be prescribed by the charter of such city, town or village, etc."

Commenting on the statute the Attorney General says:

"The point I make is that the mayor or did not order this election nor did not give notice of election as contemplated by this statute. It distinctly appears that the city council ordered the election without the mayor or having failed to, and that the notice of the election was given by posting a copy of the order of the city council. The courts of this State have held that the officer defined by law must act and must act as provided by the law or that a special election, such as you have."

BRISTOW INTRODUCES BILL FOR POSTMASTERS' PRIMARIES

Washington, Dec. 19.—Senator Bristow of Kansas introduced a bill providing for a preference primary for the appointment of postmasters, which would affect the appointment of every postmaster in the United States who receives $300 or more a year.

Senator Bristow's plan is to hold a nominating election for postmasters hereafter where vacancies occur for the purpose of filling the office by the voice of the people. The candidate receiving the largest number of votes cast in the nominating district would be appointed by the Postmaster General and would serve for a term of five years. Only after full hearing on written charges could a postmaster be removed, and in such a contingency the postmaster would not be eligible for re-nomination.

The bill provides that the nominating election may be held at the time of the county, State, local or municipal election held next preceding the expiration of the term of the postmaster at the discretion of the Postmaster General.

PRESIDENT-ELECT WILL SPEND BIRTHDAY AT BIRTHPLACE

By Associated Press. Princeton, N. J., Dec. 19.—When Woodrow Wilson wakes up on the morning of December 28, he expects to find himself in the same house in Staunton, Virginia, in which he was born, just fifty-six years ago that day. The President-elect will leave here December 27 and reach his birth-place that night.

18-YEAR-OLD NEGRO HUNG AT NASHVILLE

TAKT WILL LEAVE TONIGHT FOR PANAMA

Washington, Dec. 19.—The President and Mrs. Taft and their invited guests will leave Washington tonight for Key West, Florida, on the first leg of a flying trip to Panama. The President will eat Christmas turkey in the tropics, spending three days inspecting the Panama Canal and will be back in Washington in time to shake hands with a few thousand persons at his last New Year's reception.

The presidential party will be away from Washington twelve days. It will be the President's fifth visit to Panama.

TURKS LEAVE CONFERENCE

OFFER NO EXPLANATION

Question of Peace or Continuation of War Will be Settled in Few Hours

WAR SPIRIT GAINING STRENGTH IN TURKEY

Constantinople, Turkey, Via Constantinople, Dec. 19.—Grand Vizier Kiamil Pasha's regime is threatened with collapse. The Young Turk dare-alls are gaining the upper hand and have deserted him. He is criticised as lacking in acumen and is urged to resign. Peace talk here has suddenly been silenced and everybody is expecting a renewal of the war, as the Turks seem to be bent on driving the invaders out of Thrace and Macedonia.

This correspondent is convinced, after a thorough inquiry, that the prevailing rumors spring from the intentions of the Young Turks and are not merely circulated for consumption by the Balkan peace delegates in London.

It is understood here that the Balkan allies are having difficulty in keeping together. The Bulgarians and Greeks are disputing about Saloniki, while the Serbians suspect all the others because of their disinclination to support Serbia against Austria.

This correspondent found on a visit to the local hospitals ample evidence in the condition of the wounded of the terrible nature of the Turkish defeat. He saw twenty-eight troopers from Scutari with arms and legs amputated, who were in danger of death from gangrene. The surgeons said that 50 per cent of the wounded died, owing to the neglect they had suffered on the field.

Odors in the hospitals are unbearable, except to those accustomed to them. The nurses (men and women) are working with complete self-forgetfulness, moving one to admiration and wonder. Miss Buckley, an Irish nurse from Scutari, said that her cases "tore her heart." She expressed the opinion that if the horrors of this Turkish debacle were ever fully known it would fill the world with disgust and shame and possibly put an end to war.

The Turkish fleet, which is supposed to be engaging the Greek warships, is declared to be practically worthless. The English constructors long ago gave up the Turkish navy as a bad job.

Russia is reported to be meddling with the Armenians in Asia Minor. Trouble is certain to arise in that quarter if the Balkan war is resumed, and especially if Europe is drawn into it.

It was announced later that the peace conference had adjourned until 4 p. m., Saturday. The Turkish delegates said they were not in possession of their full instructions or their new credentials, which had been dispatched from Constantinople and the conference had decided it must await their arrival.

EGGS SELLING HERE AT 35 AND 40 CENTS

"Housewives' League" Campaign in East Has Had No Effect on Local Market

While members of the "Housewives' League" in northern cities are getting eggs at 24 cents a dozen, through co-operative buying methods, Wichita Falls housekeepers are paying 35 to 40 cents per dozen for eggs, with no prospect of cheaper prices before Christmas.

Turkeys, celery, fresh vegetables, fruit and the other ingredients of the usual Christmas dinner, however, are quite reasonable in price, compared with former figures, turkeys being exceptionally plentiful. Eggs are five cents cheaper than they were a year ago, when 45 cents was the current price.

WAS WICHITA FALLS YOUTH WRECK VICTIM?

Letter Received From Bradley, Oklahoma Man Leads to That Conclusion

Was the unknown man, recently killed in a wreck in Oklahoma, a Wichita Falls boy? Earlier in the week a wreck resulted in seven being injured, and one, an unknown man riding the blind baggage, killed. In a letter to Postmaster Bacon, H. P. Haley of Bradley, Oklahoma, submits evidence that the dead man was from this city. The letter says:

"I was at Chickasha yesterday (Monday) and while I was standing at the depot a young man came to me and asked me for some money to buy him something to eat and said that he would ride the blind baggage to Fort Worth. I see in the paper that that train was wrecked ten miles south of Chickasha and one man was killed on the blind baggage, and I think it might be the boy I saw at Chickasha."

"The boy said that his home was in Wichita Falls, so I thought I would write to you about it and maybe you would know something about him. The boy looked to be about 17 or 18 years old, and seemed to weigh about 125 pounds. If his people live in your town, you will know them; the boy did not tell me his name, but said he lived in Wichita Falls."

While it is not known that anyone answering the above description is missing from this city, the fact that the boy said he lived in Wichita Falls indicates that he had relatives here and this may lead to his identification.

JONES, OKLAHOMA BANK ROBBED LAST NIGHT OF $1800.

By Associated Press. Jones, Okla., Dec. 19.—The Bank of Jones was robbed about 4 o'clock this morning by safe blowers who secured $1800. The charge of nitro glycerin used by the robbers blew the safe door into the street.

Denton County Man Pays $8,500 for 30 Foot Front-Adjoining Federal Building

RECENT TRANSACTIONS IN WICHITA REALTY.

Phy Taylor to O. F. Marchman, 19x50 feet on Eighth between Ohio and Michigan avenues $15,000
R. M. Moore to P. H. Pennington, 25x150 feet on Indiana between Eighth and Ninth streets $12,000
R. M. Moore to W. J. Bullock, 25x150 feet on Indiana between Seventh and Eighth streets $15,000
Frank Kell to J. A. Fisher, 100x150 feet at corner of Scott and Ninth $25,000
R. M. Moore to Alex Kahn, 65x75 feet at corner of Indiana and Eighth street $38,500
Heirs of Black estate to Hamlin Morgan of Denton, 30x150 feet on Ohio near government building $8,500.

The sale of the building occupied by the Kahn Clothing Store, at the corner of Eighth and Indiana avenue, was announced this morning. Alex Kahn being the purchaser, from R. M. Moore. The building fronts 60 feet on Indiana and 75 feet on Ohio avenue, being a two-story structure. It was erected a number of years ago by Mr. Moore.

Another trade announced today was the sale of 30x150 feet on Ohio avenue, just south of the new government building, for $8,500. This property was unimproved. It was owned by the heirs of the Hamlin Morgan of Denton, the consideration being cash.

In connection with R. M. Moore's recent sales, a bit of history may prove of interest. Mr. Moore moved to Wichita Falls about eight years ago, when his earthly possessions were valued at $45,000 to $20,000. Since he moved to California, he has sold property here aggregating in value about $70,000 and still has holdings here that would probably bring in excess of $30,000. An increase of four hundred per cent in eight years in property values is indicated by Mr. Moore's trades.

The tract sold by Mr. Kell to Mr. Fisher on Scott avenue was sold to the former by C. W. Bean in 1903 for a consideration of $300. Since then Mr. Kell has placed about $3,000 worth of improvements on the lots. This indicates an increase of over 700 per cent in less than ten years.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS REMEDY DISCOVERED

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Infantile paralysis, the deadly disease which has baffled science since the beginning of the world and which recently has stricken down hundreds of persons, mostly children, hereafter may be cured by a simple treatment administered by any mother or father without medical aid.

After millions of dollars have been spent in unsuccessful efforts to discover even the cause of the disease, it appears to have been proved that the affliction can be cured as easily as any fever.

After a year of practical tests on seven persons suffering with infantile paralysis, Dr. Roy Bernard, 132 North Wabash avenue, has cured permanently four out of seven cases and believes he has discovered the exact cause of the disease.

Three of these patients, who still are living, were beyond cure, the cells of the anterior horns of gray nerve tissue having been destroyed before the tests were made.

Believing that he could bring joy to poorer classes of people, among whom the disease is most prevalent, by making public the symptoms and cure, Dr. Bernard last night decided to spread this information broadcast by giving to the press a prepared article, which he originally intended to donate to the medical profession.

The article, which will be worded plainly so that it can be understood by anybody, will be available within ten days.

Letters to Santa Claus

Dear Santa Claus: Will you please bring me a doll, little suit case full of clothes, a speech book, and a little bank. My home is 1304 12th street.—Maudie Webb.

Dear Santa Claus: We are three little sisters, Ellene, Miriam and Audrey. Ellene wants a doll, a book, a doll trunk, a slate and pencil, a tin top, nuts, candy and fruit. Miriam wants a shut eye doll, a doll trunk, a pretty book, nuts, fruit and candy and something to make a noise with, a horn, harp, drum or some thing. Audrey wants a doll and a red rocking chair. We still live at the same place six miles from Washburn.—Your Little Girls, Washburn, Texas.

Dear Old Santa Claus: I want a bicycle, a slate and pencil, a knife, a sharp one, candy, nuts and fruit. Your little friend—Leland Cayton. At the same ranch six miles from Washburn, Texas.

Dear Santa: I want a bicycle and an Indian suit and some candy and nuts and three packages of five crackers, six roman candles, two boxes of sparklers. Good bye Santa.—Lester Prather, 2111 9th street.

Dear Santa: I am a little girl 7 years old and I want you to come to see me in Commerce, Hunt county, Texas, this year and I want you to bring me a big doll, a doll swing, a doll cradle, a story book, a little telephone and a small doll dressed in blue with a hat on. Your little friend.—Fay Layne, 2411 9th street.

Dear Santa Claus: I am so glad 'tis time for you to come again. I am a little girl six years old. Will you please bring me a baby doll like the ones I saw at Morris' Drug Store, dressed in long clothes, a little cradle, and a sewing box and some fire works. Good bye Santa Claus. You are a good old fellow and I love you.—Kathleen Phillips.

Dear Santa Claus: I am six years old and live at Thornberry. I want a pop gun, knife, Teddy bear, and a ball that will bounce. I will try and be a good boy next year. Your little friend.—Joseph Stephenson.

Dear Santa Claus: I have tried to be good. I want a bicycle and that is all I want. If you haven't a bicycle left, I want a wooden duck and a story book, and a box of chocolate candy. Now please don't forget me. Good bye Santa Claus.—Joe Bailey Bell, 1414 11th street. I am nearly eight years old.

Dear Santa Claus: I am writing you a letter to tell you what I want. I want a Rugby foot ball and some nuts and candy and fruit. I want a pair of skates and a skate key and a pair of gloves. Please don't forget to go to the poor little children. Your friend.—Tolbert Moore.

Dear Santa Claus: I want a big doll with curly hair and set of dishes and a book and a pair of kid gloves. I have been a good girl and bring me anything else you can.—Mabel D Bundy, 2008 Tenth street.

Dear Santa Claus: I heard that you are going to read our letters in the paper. Will you please bring me a bicycle and some Tom Swift books. Also some candy and nuts and fruit. My address is 2111 Ninth street. Good bye Santa.—Byron Prothro.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl eight years old. Can't hardly wait for you to come. Would you bring me a baby doll dressed like a sure-ought baby? I want a go cart to roll her in, a tea set, a table and four chairs, some little knives and forks and spoons. That's all. With love.—White Hall Phillips.

Dear Santa Claus: Please bring me some fire works and a story book, and a cowboy on a horse that will throw him off, and a man on a trapize and a pair of skates, and a skate key, and nuts and candy and fruit. Your little friend.—Roy Moore, 1103 Bluff.

Dear Santa Claus: Please bring me a little desk and chair, a set of paints, a horn, some books, an Indian suit, and a train with animals in it, and nuts and candy.—Edward Anderson, 905 Scott.

Dear Santa Claus: I've tried to be good in school and I've helped mama all I could, and Santa Claus, please bring me that base ball doll and lady doll that papa told you about, a pair of skates, a piano and a little bell that I can tap. Oh, yes I forgot I want a good story book. The little piano and bell are for my little brother. He is a little baby, I am seven years old, that is all I want. Good bye, with love.—Sylvia Harrison. Be sure and come.

The Osteopath.

She's an osteopathic doctor. And successful, too, they say. Though her cures are not effected in the ordinary way.

Her methods are somewhat different from those we've read about: When folks are sick, she treats the cause. And drives disease out. No matter what the trouble is. With woman, child or man. When other methods fail to cure. She shows you that she can. That is what the record shows. If we can judge by that. Because the science always shows. Just where the trouble's at. There is no fad, nor faking in her philosophy. It's curing Nature, Nature's way. That's osteopathy. 89 1/2

WATCH YOUR HAIR, LADIES.

Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Luxuriant and Radiant Hair. If dandruff germs are devouring the nourishment that belongs to the hair it will soon begin to fall. Furthermore it will lose its life and lustre and will become dull, faded and even gray.

Now is the Time to Buy Hair in China.

In a fiction story about China, in the January American Magazine, appears the following: "There is certain to be an enormous market for Western clothing in China after the revolution, both good materials and the cheaper grades of ready made suits. These poor devils, a few hundred millions of them, are determined to catch up—five thousand years at a clip—and some folks are going to make a lot of money exploiting them. It might as well be you, among others. Besides the Chinese really want the clothes. "Also, now is a grand time to pick up human hair for a song. Pigtales are falling by the million. And there is nothing your Chinaman won't sell. You can even buy the right to disturb an ancestral grave for about ten dollars Mex. If you have any friends in the hair business, tell them about it."

"A CURABLE DISEASE" IN MOTION PICTURES

Pictures Showing Treatment of Tuberculosis in Union Printers Home At Lydia Margaret Tomorrow

"A Curable Disease" will be shown in motion pictures at the Lydia Margaret Theatre tomorrow afternoon and night. These pictures were taken at the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs, Colorado and show the treatment by which printers suffering from tuberculosis are cured. This picture is being shown through the co-operation of the Texas Anti-Tuberculosis Society and local members of the Typographical Union with the proprietors of the Lydia Margaret Theatre. The local Red Cross Seal committee will take advantage of the opportunity to offer seats for sale in the lobby of the theatre.

A description of this picture was printed in the Kinetogram of recent date. The description says: "This strong dramatic story deals with the 'White Plague' showing the conditions that arise in the life of a young linotype who contracts tuberculosis while working on a New York daily. We are shown his deep love for a young girl and eventually his engagement and preparation for marriage. All goes merry as a marriage bell until within a few days of his wedding when he hears from the doctor that he has become a victim of this dread disease. In a moment all his bright plans for the future are torn from him and with the solemn words of his medical adviser in his ears 'You have no right to marry until you are cured,' he staggers blindly to the home of his fiancée and there is enacted that pitiful scene where two young lives stand upon the brink of separation, forced apart by the cruel hands of the disease. Fond eyes look into eyes for the last time perhaps and dear hands clasp dear hands and the victim goes pathetically to his little bed room to face the black future with only one gleam of hope—The Union Printers' Home Colorado Springs, Colo.

claim the man who loves her. And when the victim, no longer a victim, steps forth into the world again he is clasped in the arms of the woman he loves.

"Hand and hand they go forth happily while the other one looks sadly on, then turns back to carry out her great and ennobling work of saving the lives of those poor victims who are still under her care.

"This story is simple and sweet and contains the tender element that reaches the heart chords and lives in the memory of the spectator who witnesses it."

HELPED OUT OF TIGHT PLACE
Woman Worries Now Over Mystery of Taxicab Where Before She Worried About Bill.

"Just as I am beginning to feel that life is unprofitable, dull and stale something happens to reconcile me to existence," said a pretty girl.

"Take the affair of the taxicab; that was about the strangest thing that ever happened to me. I went calling in a taxi. The woman I called on had so much to say and took so much time to say it that the last five minutes of my stay I couldn't listen to a word she said for counting to myself the rate at which that taxicab was eating up money. 'Six dollars and ninety-five cents,' I figured, finally, and bolted desperately. Just as I reached the sidewalk another woman equally desperate shot out of the adjoining apartment house.

"Have you engaged this cab?" she said. "Please let me take it. I am in a great hurry. I cannot wait for another."

"I have had it for an age," I said. "I owe—"

"That's all right," the woman interrupted. "I will pay it."

"A roll of bills in her hand showed that she was financially equal to the demands of a waiting taxicab. The driver nodded acquiescence in the change of passengers, the woman jumped into the cab and away they went. I went back to make inquiries of my friend, but she could tell me nothing on the subject in which I was then vitally interested—the identity of the woman next door. It was a big apartment house through whose doors a hundred women pass each day, and probably we never shall find out who the woman was or why she was in such a desperate hurry."

Now when I say fancy I mean exactly that word in all its significance. I have never seen a nicer evaporated peach than I am offering this winter at 15c per pound. They are very large, clear bright and neat, being put up from California's best orchards. They are tender and of excellent flavor.

I can also offer you some extra fancy evaporated apricots at 20c per pound. These are a little larger than the average apricot, brighter and sweeter and especially fine flavored.

Great big new prunes the 30 to 40 size only 15c per pound. These are cheaper than a y of the small size you can buy even though the prices of the smaller size is less per pound. Remember you buy more prune pits in the smaller size than you do in the larger.

I am sure you will like these dried fruits very much.

MRS. MARY R. MCKEE, Director of the Wichita Falls College of Music and Art, is a musician of ability and experience. She was educated in Chicago, Cincinnati, New York and London, and was a member of the faculty of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music from which celebrated institution she received the following recommendation:

"This is to certify that Miss Mary M. Ritchie (Mrs. McKee) has been a student of the Pianoforte and Theory of Music in the Normal and Artists' Departments of the Cincinnati Conservatory. She distinguished herself by her rare talents as well as by her extraordinary zeal and conscientious labor. As a student she commanded the admiration and deep respect of her instructors, and when she, after having finished the Normal Course, filled the position of a teacher in the Conservatory, her course was marked by decided success. She possesses to a high degree the ability of imparting knowledge and of inspiring her pupils with enthusiasm for art.

Miss Ritchie (Mrs. McKee) is a young lady of refined manners, lovely disposition and deep religious principles, who in every regard is deserving of the highest recommendation.

Being a member of the linotypers' association (Typographical Union) he presents his card of admission to the home and after a careful examination by the physician he is introduced to his nurse and assigned to his tent, which is either to become his salvation or the scene of his death. The strong willing hands of the hospital nurses slowly but surely push back the impending doom and bring him back from the edge of the grave into the bright future of happy, healthy life.

"During these hours of patient watching something steals in unexpectedly and that something is the love of a woman for a man. But the sad part of it all is that the eyes of the man never see the beauty of the woman who saves his life but look far from the gray mountains towards the East where waits and watches the woman he loves and longs to marry. The nobility of the woman who saved his life is brought forth when she learns of the dear one far away, writes to her and bids her come and

It is announced that work on Dallas $5,000,000 passenger station will begin within 90 days. There is not a city in Texas that needs such a structure more than Dallas. The railway stations now afforded by Dallas are by no means a credit to the city. In fact there are small cities of from 10,000 to 15,000 population that have passenger stations that afford better accommodations to the traveling public than any one of Dallas' several rail-way stations. The news that railroads have finally agreed upon plans for a union passenger station that will exceed anything of its nature in the South is welcome news to all who travel to and from Dallas.

A NEWSPAPER'S DUTY

The Walmisley libel suit, which The Star has just successfully resisted, directs attention to one phase of newspaper work which is not generally recognized.

If a newspaper is to do its duty by the public which it serves it is under the frequent necessity of printing news of importance for the public welfare that subjects it to attack. The risk it assumes in doing this is part of the day's work, and is accepted cheerfully by every newspaper that recognizes its obligation to the community.

It would be much easier, of course, to play safe and to refrain from giving publicity to news that is likely to arouse anger and resentment and to lead to litigation. But such a policy would be unworthy of any newspaper that assumes to deserve public confidence.

Every responsible publication feels keenly the need of using the utmost care not to do individuals an injustice in its columns. It feels just as keenly its obligations, not to be frightened out of doing justice to society by suppressing news of vital importance.

An appreciation of these facts by the community, as well as by the newspaper, is essential to the preservation of that measure of freedom of the press which is so important for social progress.—Kansas City Star.

A GRACEFUL ACT

The decision of President Taft to leave the appointment of an ambassador to Great Britain to President-elect Wilson is a graceful act and serves to further increase the esteem in which the people of the country, regardless of politics, hold him.

The President could have paid a political debt by making an appointment, or he could have gratified the ambition of some personal friend, and it is needless to say that there are many who would have gladly accepted the position were it offered them, even though the period of service would be short.

Mr. Taft has exhibited in this, as he has in other ways, a delicate regard for his successor, even though he belongs to a rival political party and defeated the President for a second term. Throughout his public life Mr. Taft has evidenced an exalted character which, even more than the high office he holds, entitles him to the honor the people of the United States have seen fit to confer upon him.—San Antonio Express.

BUY A LOT NOW IN Floral Heights Addition

THE JOY OF HOME BUILDING

Is the highest type of moral and civic development. Buy a lot and plan to build a home. No sum acquired through a savings bank ever gave such exquisite thrills of satisfaction, as a similar sum invested in a lot which is the foundation of your home. Never was there such an incentive to save as for a home. No accomplishment ever gave more ambition for better service to work, to friends, to home, than when one has strived and established that which is his castle.

SELECT THE SITE OF YOUR FUTURE HOME

Along practical ideas. You want elevation for fresh air and cooling breezes; you want a section populated with a home building people; you want all municipal conveniences similar to the best available; you want a location that someone else will want; you want your investment in your home to represent a paying proposition and one that will make you money if you seek a change. Floral Heights Addition has all these qualities. It is the only addition of equal area that combines all the best that is found in Wichita Falls. It is the most pleasing proposition in a real estate investment because lots can be bought at less than one-third the price than lots in older established residence sections, and will enhance in value rapidly because the demand will force values up.

AS AN INVESTMENT

Floral Heights Addition offers the safest and most inviting opportunity for an investment that will show a big profit in the near future. The reasons are logical and easily verified by a little thought and investigation. It is a well known fact that the area of the highest and most desirable residence property in Wichita Falls is very limited, the city being surrounded on three sides by lower elevations. The older settled hill section range in price up to $2000 for a 50 foot lot whereas lots in Floral Heights can be bought from $200 to $400 a lot. Floral Heights has built more rapidly in the past four months than any portion of Wichiat Falls and any increase in population must find its way to this addition for the simple reason that high prices and limited choice in the old hill section will develop Floral Heights Addition in a surprisingly short time.

THE RESTRICTED DISTRICT

The choicest lots in this district can be bought at $650 to $750 a pair and this section will become the best built residence section of Wichita Falls in a few years. No real estate investment in Wichita Falls will show as great ultimate profit as lots in the restricted district will show. The Floral Heights Realty Co. will guarantee the extension of sewer system to any one building in the restricted district.

A Texan Formerly Sworn At, Now Sworn By.
 In the January American Magazine appears in the "Interesting People" department a sketch of J. J. Pastoriza, tax commissioner in Houston, Texas, who has cut the rate in his city from $1.70 to $1.30, by taxing land at its full valuation, improvements at a partial valuation, and by letting all personal property go free. Following is an extract from the article:
 "It happened thus. Pastoriza took an early gamble in some real estate that turned out good, netting him enough to jog on comfortably for the rest of his days. Pastoriza has no illusions about himself, so he knew he hadn't earned the profit of a rise in land values. If he had been pious, like the English dukes or Mr. Baer, he might have decided that 'the Almighty in His wisdom had committed the guardianship' of that real estate to him, with the increased increment as a perquisite for holding the job. But Pastoriza isn't pious, so that did not occur to him. All his one track Texas mind could think of was that since he had absorbed public property as a private rake off—the land values created by the public—he was a social parasite and thief.
 "But did that worry him? Not a minute—you don't know Pastoriza. He owned up with a cheerfulness that would surprise you, and promptly went on the war path after more. Like Joseph Fels, Congressman Kent and other good single taxers, he said to himself, 'Here's richness,' reinvested in land, and stung the public again and yet again. While thus profiting by the industry and enterprise of others, he entertained himself by going up and down the State of Texas with his thumbs in his vest, telling the public what 'suckers' they were to let him do it. Pastoriza has command of a fine time of picturesque language. Some of it won't parse without stimulants, and he doesn't always spell straight, but it blisters where it lights.
 "After a while the beauty and chivalry of Houston got tired of being twitted on facts by Pastoriza, and decided it would be a good joke to put him where he could practice what he preached. They thought it would hold him a while if they confronted his theory with the iron clad conditions of the Texas Constitution. So when Houston needed a tax commissioner a year or so ago, they played their joker by offering the job to Pastoriza, expecting him to take the small end of the 'put up or shut up' alternative. But it didn't turn out that way.
 "You bet, cried Pastoriza in his sinful slangy way, 'I'll be a tax commissioner—believe me! I'll be the kind of tax commissioner you read about. Stand back and give me room according to my strength, and when the kiddies grow up they'll find all records dating from the year when Pastoriza was commissioner!

 "One must make a long story short for this department. The beauty and chivalry gasped but stood pat waiting to hear that Pastoriza, having bankrupted the town, was in the insane asylum. But, behold! he shows the biggest assessment roll of any city in the State—$120,000,000—and a rate cut from $1.70 to $1.30. The city has plenty of money, the newspapers are crowing, everybody who used to swear at Pastoriza now swears by him, and other cities like Beaumont, Galveston, Austin, Waco, are inquiring why and wherefore."

RATES ARE HIGH

Not Put Down in the Disclosed by Wife of Hotel Manager.

Every now and then something new of the New Mrs. Max Thompson, assistant manager of a hotel, is entitled to the gratification of letting in a little of the duties and emoluments of hotel managers—even if he letting in because, after husband, some dispute a fuzzy puddle had risen in. In her petition for alimony she alleges that her income is $8,400 annually, $1,800 for his services; $1,000 for a champagne—$720 named services performed in Paris, Berlin and London by steamship lines for certain business for them. She asks for up to $10,800 the difference may be set off against which ladies experienced in dealing with facts. It also happens that she does not state all the facts, in Mr. Thompson's case the facts in the other case. For example, the manager of the hotel is allowed a certain specified in the dining-rooms. The thing of a brand of cigars worth something. One baronet of the great hotels received $10 a day for pushing whisky. No doubt his superiors may have profited by the same brand. The sales, head porters, stewards, laundry chiefs, and every other employe in the hotel are able to add to their income by certain other side jobs. They are sometimes more than willing to share their salaries with the men who have power of discharge over them. They will take any position of responsibility whatever in any one of the hotels, said a competent hotelier, "and I will serve without pay with absolute honesty. And if at the end of the year I will have more money than the manager's accounts to. It isn't any wonder that the public complains of the hotel charges. Look what those hoteliers do."

LIVE WITHIN INCOME

Wishes to Grant a Divorce to Who Charges She Was Subjected to Cruelty.

In Pa.—That it is the right and to insist that his wife's family's expenditures well exceed income was a rule laid down by Judge George S. Cristofani to grant to Mrs. Laura W. Sylvester, a divorce. She asked for a decree on the ground of cruelty, and at the hearing she alleged that her husband restricted her expenditures for the family to a sum within his income. She said that her husband had upon him the burden of the family maintenance. She said, while fair, was limited, as only reasonable on his part that proper relation should be maintained between such income and family expenses. The failure to do so could result in his loss and loss of caste and for business integrity among his associates and in the community, being highly prized by a man of his standing and honor.

BRAGANZA DAGGER IS FOUND

Portuguese Official Recover $50,000 Weapon, Missing Two Years—Bought by American.

Lisbon, Portugal.—The famous dagger of the dukes of Braganza, long coveted by wealthy American collectors, has been returned to the state as mysteriously as it disappeared from the royal palace of Necessidades on the night of October 4, 1910, when King Manuel fled from his castle to find refuge on British shores.

The weapon, studded with precious stones and bearing chiselmanship attributed to Benvenuto Cellini, is estimated to be worth $50,000. Many foreigners have sought to purchase it, romantic tales associated with the blade having added a historic worth to its intrinsic value.

At the time of the revolution the Republican leaders visited the deserted palace and took possession of all the jewels and works of art that the royal family had left behind. The dagger and some other valuables, however, failed to find their way into the hands of the new authorities.

Some time ago the government decided that all the furniture, jewels and other property seized at the palace, but which belonged to the fallen monarch and his mother, Queen Amelia, should be returned to them in London, and the old inventory books of the Braganza family are being examined to separate what belongs rightfully to the royal family from what is considered as the property of the republic. Recently the dagger was secretly placed in the letter box of the official who is conducting the inventory. There was nothing to indicate by whom it had been restored.

THEATER FOR GOTHAM YOUNG

Only Playhouse in World Devoted Exclusively to Children Will Be Open Soon.

New York.—A children's theater, the only playhouse in the world devoted exclusively to the entertainment of children, will be opened in New York soon. The funds for the enterprise were provided by William K. Vanderbilt, but the theater is expected to be practically self-supporting.

The auditorium, which is placed on the roof of the building erected by Mr. Vanderbilt and others for their new theater enterprise, will seat 800 children and has twelve boxes. The wall decorations are in nursery style, and great arched windows looking out over Central Park give it an abundance of pure fresh air.

Plays will be given in the afternoon beginning at 3:30 o'clock, an hour convenient for school children.

A partial description of the theater was made public. The stage is low and has the general appearance of the stage of a toy theater in some garret. The seats are lower than those of the ordinary playhouse. The frame of the proscenium is decorated with a frieze. The base of this frieze is supported with bits of animal life illustrative of the fables of Aesop and La Fontaine. This idea is carried out through the interior of the building, through eight pictures in cameo relief in the arches of the boxes.

RAINBOW-HUED DOGS IS FAD

It Started When a Futurist Artist Painted Actress' Pony to Match Costume.

Paris.—Painted dogs are becoming the rage among a certain fashionable and theatrical set in Paris. An actress appeared the other day on the Bois de Boulogne dressed in a green gown with fringes touched with yellow. Her hat drooped with the weight of sea-green flowers. She led three toy dogs by silver chains. The dogs were painted orange, striped with silver; their paws were green, and their ankles were yellow. A fourth dog, which she led by a gold chain, was painted a sky-green all over.

A New Yorker who sighted the dogs as he was emerging from a cafe let out a whoop and dived into a passing taxi.

Another actress has had her fox-terrier painted a Parma-violet, with gentlemanly paws.

Still another actress is accompanied by a monkey, which she has had painted seven different times in a fortnight to match her seven different afternoon promenade costumes. A futurist artist one night attended a theater where an actress appeared mounted on a dull-looking brown pony. Her gown was blue, trimmed with old rose. The artist suggested that the pony be painted blue, and it was done. That started the painted-dog fad.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Applicants for a night's lodging must hereafter be able to walk a literal chalk line—a white streak across an eighteen foot room—before there is any shelter for them at the Wayfarers' lodge of the Associated Charities here. Superintendent Charles J. Wright of the Associated Charities instituted the custom when he refused lodging to a tramp from Philadelphia because he wavered from the narrow path.

Wright said that he believes the custom should become general and that applicants who are unable to negotiate the feat in proof of their sobriety will be turned out in the cold. The more serious cases will be given to the police.

From the Diary of a Cop.

In the January American Magazine appears the beginning of the "Diary of a Cop." It is the plain unvarnished tale, though true, of the gentle art of making a decent man a grafter. The first chapter is entitled "How I Learned." Following is an extract:

"If a cop can be on the square the first year and not die of starvation or see his wife and kid die, he's safe. But the first year is hell. Was looking in the hat window when along comes Harry Ebbins. He is the Tammany precinct captain in my district, and a good fellow. He asked me if I was going to get a bonnet for Minnie, and if I was he would get his Mary to pick it out for me. He helped get me over the jumps in landing on the cops. I told him I wasn't getting any hats this Christmas."

"We went over to the rear entrance of Paddy the Pig's for a drink. Harry wanted to open a small bottle of wine because it was Christmas eve, but nix on the hard stuff for me. Harry said things were going fine with him and that the pickings were good. He showed me his precinct book, and it had the name of every voter in his district and he could tell months ahead what a Democratic majority would cast when he would go down to the hall in Fourteenth street on dough day. He said he was slated for a deputy commissionership with a bunch of jobs to hand out. That is his strong game. He knows how to place the right fellow every time.

"Harry flashed a roll of money and strung me along for a half hour, me sipping my beer and porter."

"My Mary knows what you and Minnie are up against, he said, she was over to see Minnie last week and found her doing the washing with a pain in the back. She told Mary that she thought there would be more trouble and expense in the summer. I told him she didn't tell me nothing about it. The women always tell those things to each other first, he said. I felt cold all over. If a baby comes along during the summer, God knows where we'll get staked to pull through. It would break her heart to go to a free hospital, she is that proud. But I made up my mind not to say anything to her about it until after the holidays."

"Sure I know the game you're up against," says Harry. "Ain't I helped a dozen fellows in this district get on the cops, and ain't I helped every one of them get through the first year? Don't I know? Well, I guess, I'm no bonehead, Mike says. I'll help you all I can over the hard spots and when you get through the hard times they can slip it back to me. When I see a guy peeking in a window full of fancy lids for ladies on Christmas eve, I know what he's up against if he don't go in the shop and rush out with a new bonnet."

"Harry peered a twenty-case from his roll and slipped it to the minor the table. I felt like I was having a chili when I took it. It must have been the beer and porter. I'll say him back as soon as my equipment is all settled for."

Elaborate Nativity Group

FROM the 12th Century at least we have had at Christmas and Easter, dramatic representations of the shepherds, the adoration of the Magi, the massacre of the Innocents, the resurrection.

From these representations grew the mystery plays and undoubtedly the plays of Assel, to whom story-tellers attribute the credit of having originated and arranged the idea of making real for the people who could neither read nor visit picture galleries, this wonderful scene of the Nativity.

The Christmas Crib, as everybody knows, represents the manger of the infant Jesus in Bethlehem, with the Holy Child, Joseph and Mary, the wise men who came with their offerings and various other figures, more or less realistic.

The story with legend connected with this dramatic representation of the birth of Christ, has many variations, but the one usually accredited with the greatest accuracy is given in Sabatier's "Life of St. Francis" and runs as follows:

It was on one of the Saint's pilgrimages from Rome to Ricci, it was nearing the holiday season, and Francis was filled with an ardent desire to observe to the life the mysteries of Christmas that had taken possession of him. He consulted one of his knights, Giovanni di Greccio, and he agreed to make all the necessary preparations.

The population of Greccio and its environs was asked to join with them, as well as the Brothers from the neighboring monasteries. On the evening of the vigil of Christmas one might have seen the faithful hastening to the hermitage with torches in their hands; they came in great numbers from all directions and made the forest ring with their joyful hymns.

Everyone was rejoicing and Francis most of all. The knight had prepared a stable and arranged a manger filled with straw; into this was placed the poor bambino whose only warmth came from the breath of the ox and ass who stood patiently by.

St. Francis was transported; his heart was in Bethlehem; with were-chanted, then Mass and the deacon read the Gospel. Every day was touched by the simple recital of the sacred legend in a voice so full and fervent. They were lit over a simple manger of the shepherds of Judea who made the first pilgrimage of adoration.

Visitors to Ricci are told about the chapel built upon the spot by the Lord of Velenza, who was a devoted adherent of the Saint.

With this introduction by St. Francis, the Presepio, Nativity, Greek Crib, Nativity, as it is variously called in different countries, has found its way and attained prominent place in the Christmas festivities of all Christian nations.

At first it was only arranged in Catholic churches and in a very crude manner patterned after the first one, but as time went on the nativities grew more elaborate and expensive until now they are very costly. Within the past century Protestant churches have adopted the charming custom and the fashion is rapidly growing.

In European countries the custom of the Nativity spread to the palaces of royalty where the figures were carved by the best artists of the time. Some of these have been preserved and are found in a fine state of preservation in the museums.

There is one in the Pitti Gallery, Florence, a very fine one which is credited to Buonholenti, the celebrated architect. He was employed by

KIN STOLE HIS WIFE

Philadelphia Park Guard Is Unable to Find Wealthy Spouse.

Believed Relatives Spirited Woman Away—Begins Search in Sanitarium—Declares She Proposed Marriage to Him.

Philadelphia—Thomas S. Downey, a Fairmount Park guard, recently started a systematic search of all the private sanitariums here in a quest for the wealthy woman to whom he has been twice married, never lived with and who he believes has been spirited away by her relatives.

Not only has he been twice married to her, according to Downey, but both times she proposed to him. The first marriage took place July 22 and the second was performed two months later. Downey's wife feared the first ceremony was not legal because she gave her maiden name to the license clerk, although she was a widow.

Downey has been a guard for many years and became acquainted with Mrs. Josephine Wolf, who took walks in the park with her husband, a retired business man. Although 50 years old Downey is hale and hearty and he used to look after Mrs. Wolf and her husband.

"It was shortly after March 12, 1911," he says, "that Mrs. Wolf came to the park alone. She sought me out and told me her husband had died on March 12. I took the same care of her that I had taken when she accompanied her husband. She came to the park nearly every day, and one day, she said to me:

"Tom, I need a bodyguard and you have been good to me. Suppose we go and get married."

"I accepted the proposal," continued Downey, "and we went and got a marriage license. Mrs. Wolf gave the name of Josephine Gigon, which was her maiden name, but we were married just the same."

"Following the ceremony I walked home with her and when we got to the house she suggested that I had better not come in as the neighbors might talk. So I went home and every day I would call and take her for a walk.

"One day several weeks after the first ceremony she came to my house and said we would have to be remarried immediately, as the first marriage wasn't legal because she had given her maiden name, instead of that of her first husband. I told her there wasn't any need of a second ceremony, as we didn't live together any way. To please her, I agreed to the second ceremony."

Downey kept the search for his wife secret until he learned that a local attorney had been retained by her family for the purpose of annulling the marriage. Then he got busy, he says, not because he wants any of his wife's money, but because he doesn't propose to be the "goat."

Owen J. Roberts, who has been retained by Mrs. Downey's family, declares that there will be no necessity for annulling the marriage, as the woman was adjudged incompetent several years ago and therefore could not contract a marriage.

The relatives of Mrs. Downey acknowledge that she is in a sanitarium, but decline to tell where it is situated. They also admit that she is in comfortable circumstances, having $5,000 in cash in one local bank.

Downey declares he won't give up the search until he has straightened the affair out and ascertained the reason for the action of Mrs. Downey's relatives.

Cincinnati Woman's Twenty-Year-Old Pet Given a Real Funeral—Four Doctors Attend Him.

"Monkey" died of old age recently, after four veterinarians had been in attendance. Mrs. Jackson was prostrated almost, and sat weeping beside a costly coffin containing the body. The dog was twenty years old.

"Monkey" and Mrs. Jackson traveled nearly 60,000 miles together in the United States. Mrs. Jackson spent more than $2,000 for his comfort and health in the last 12 years. A hearse carried the casket to Prince Hill, where "Monkey" was buried in a lot furnished through the Ohio Humane society. There were four carriages in the procession. Funeral services, consisting of short addresses by members of the society, were held at the residence.

FIVE SLAIN IN FRENCH PRISON

Convicts Killed Warden and Wife, and Then Committed Suicide When Surrounded.

Rochefort, France—Five persons were killed and three wounded in a revolt which took place in the prison here. Prisoners overpowered their guards and shot to death the warden and his wife. An officer and sailor who went to the assistance of the warden were wounded dangerously. Troops were summoned, and after surrounding the building drove the mutinous prisoners to the top floor of the prison and killed one of them. The two ringleaders barricaded themselves in a cell, which they defended desperately. They finally committed suicide by shooting themselves.

KIN STOLE HIS WIFE

Philadelphia Park Guard Is Un- able to Find Wealthy Spouse.

Believed Relatives Spirited Woman Away—Begins Search in Sanitar- ium—Declares She Proposed Marriage to Him.

Philadelphia.—Thomas S. Downey, a Fairmount Park guard, recently started a systematic search of all the private sanitariums here in a quest for the wealthy woman to whom he has been twice married, never lived with and who he believes has been spirited away by her relatives.

Not only has he been twice married to her, according to Downey, but both times she proposed to him. The first marriage took place July 22 and the second was performed two months later. Downey's wife feared the first ceremony was not legal because she gave her maiden name to the license clerk, although she was a widow. Downey has been a guard for many years and became acquainted with Mrs. Josephine Wolf, who took walks in the park with her husband, a retired business man. Although 50 years old Downey is hale and hearty and he used to look after Mrs. Wolf and her husband.

"It was shortly after March 12, 1911," he says, "that Mrs. Wolf came to the park alone. She sought me out and told me her husband had died on March 12. I took the same care of her that I had taken when she accompanied her husband. She came to the park nearly every day, and one day she said to me:

"Tom, I need a bodyguard and you have been good to me. Suppose we go and get married."

"I accepted the proposal," continued Downey, "and we went and got a marriage license. Mrs. Wolf gave the name of Josephine Gigon, which was her maiden name, but we were married just the same."

"Following the ceremony I walked home with her and when we got to the house she suggested that I had better not come in as the neighbors might talk. So I went home and every day I would call and take her for a walk.

"One day several weeks after the first ceremony she came to my house and said we would have to be remarried immediately, as the first marriage wasn't legal because she had given her maiden name instead of that of her first husband. I told her there wasn't any need of a second ceremony, as we didn't live together anyway. To please her I agreed to the second ceremony."

Downey kept the search for his wife secret until he learned that a local attorney had been retained by her family for the purpose of annulling the marriage. Then he got busy, he says, not because he wants any of his wife's money, but because she doesn't propose to be the "goat."

Queen J. Roberts, who has been retained by Mrs. Downey's family, declares that there will be no necessity for annulling the marriage, as the woman was adjudged incompetent several years ago and therefore could not contract a marriage.

The relatives of Mrs. Downey acknowledge that she is in a sanitarium, but decline to tell where it is situated. They also admit that she is in comfortable circumstances, having $58,000 in cash in one local bank.

Downey declares he won't give up the search until he has straightened the affair out and ascertained the reason for the action of Mrs. Downey's relatives.

DOLL-MAKING AN INDIAN ART

Marvelous Miniatures Are Those Turned Out by Clever Aborigines of Mexico.

It is thought that the finest dolls are those made by Mexican Indians. They are barely three-fourths of an inch long in many cases, but are nevertheless perfect in detail. The method of manufacture is as follows: First there is a diminutive framework of wire. This is then wound with the fine thread until the proper figure has been secured. The costumes are then cut according to the character of the doll, and fitted to it. With needles that can scarcely be held in the fingers, needles of which the eyes are almost invisible, various designs are embroidered on the dolls' clothes with the finest of silk threads. So cleverly do the Indians execute these designs that even through a powerful glass the details appear to be perfect, although the work is accomplished—without the aid of any—enlarging device.

Once properly dressed, the doll is given its hair. Even to the details of braids and ribbons this work is carried out. Then there are formed the eyes, nose, mouth, hands and feet.

In Mexico these dolls are sold for ridiculously small sums. It takes about two hours of painstaking labor to make one of the simplest of the miniatures.

Some dolls are provided with tiny baskets of flowers, fancy sombreros, water jars and other paraphernalia. The baskets are made of hair by the Indians of Guanajuato. The bits of pottery are made of clay, in exact imitation of the practical articles. All these accessories are sewed to the dolls. Miniature roses are embroidered in the costumes of the dancing girls and ornaments are arranged in their hair. Wreaths of flowers are hung about the shoulders and the arms are formed in graceful and life-like attitudes of dancing. The matador is complete in every particular—his costume being gayly decorated in many colors, the hair dressed in true Spanish fashion, including the conventional queue.

Meat Labels.
"Economizing sometimes produces ludicrous results," a woman said. "When we moved last October we used travelers' tags to label the kitchen supplies, and when we went traveling in May we tried to save money by using those same tags which, as luck would have it, happened to get fastened on wrong side up, and when we got down to the pier all our luggage was labeled 'Sugar,' 'Flour,' 'Prunes,' 'Bread,' and 'Roast Pork.' Instead of Laura, Margaret, and Pauline Smith, and although we finally got straightened out, you really cannot blame the crew for stily poking fun at us all the way over."

Change in Wireless Operations.
On vessels having but one wireless operator, it will be hereafter necessary to train a member of the crew to act as a relief to attend the instrument for ten minutes during each hour to detect any distress signals.
