VICE PROBE BRINGS RESULTS

CHICAGO MERCHANTS AWAKENED TO SENSE OF THEIR RESPONSIBILITY TOWARD EMPLOYEES

PLEDGES OF CO-OPERATION

Relation Between Low Wages and Social Evil Will Receive Thoughtful Consideration

By Associated Press.
Chicago, March 8.—Members of the State senate vice commission as a result of the last two sessions here, are beginning to regard themselves as successful missionaries rather than legislators and framers of laws. Since employees of female labor have been among the witnesses as was the case yesterday and today, the commission has not overlooked any opportunity to demonstrate that the commission, standing alone, is helpless to improve conditions of immorality among working women. The attempt was made to instill some enthusiasm on the subject into the big employers and to convince them that their responsibility for the welfare of employees, is an active rather than a passive one. This responsibility goes further, the commission asserted, than merely paying fair wages, sick benefits and philanthropy.

As a result, two of the biggest merchants in the city, employing thousands of women in their department stores, entered into the spirit of the movement today, and took steps to learn if home conditions were such as might augment temptations surrounding working girls.

Edward Hillman and E. Mendall took the lead in promising to make certain that no employe of their store can ever justly claim that they took the downward path because they were not paid a living wage. Individual cases will be studied and compensation paid in accordance with individual needs. Mr. Hillman was the first witness and testified in a bluff and hearty manner. His saleswomen, he said, receive an average of $8.17 a week, although there are some errand girls who receive as low as $3. He said he thought there was in some cases a connection between low wages and immorality among women.

"Do you think that a woman should sell her virtue before she would starve?" asked Lieut. Gov. O'Hara, chairman of the committee.

"Yes, I do," came the prompt answer. Hillman said 517 girls are employed at his store.

"If one of your $3 girls lost her virtue, would it hurt your conscience?" asked O'Hara.

"Yes, certainly."

"Would you hold yourself responsible?"

"Well, now, let's think. Here is a girl brought in by her parents, living at home. Should I be responsible? I think not; I think the parent would be responsible." The witness said he never had heard of a girl being black-listed for bad conduct, but he did of a floor-walker who had suffered that fate for immorality.

That the vice commission's work has borne fruit was shown in a letter received by Mr. O'Hara from E. F. Mengel, president of Mengel Brothers, stating he had raised the minimum wage of juveniles to $4. The juveniles are girls between the ages of 13 and 15, who are employed on small errands. Wherever possible, by reason of the aptness or general fitness of the girl, the wage will be more than $4. In addition, Mengel said that following a suggestion of the commission, he will employ an investigator to ascertain if applicants can live on the wages they are to receive.

Resuming his testimony, Hillman admitted that he was a self-made man. He started at $2 a week as a cash boy.

"Could you live on it?"

"Well, my father earned $14 and my $2 helped out; I walked to and from work."

Readiness of Hillman to agree with the commission surprised and delighted the legislators. For instance, O'Hara asked if it ever had occurred to him to investigate applications for positions to ascertain whether the applicants could live on the salary in prospect. It never had occurred to him, he said, but "it is a good idea."

"Mr. Hillman will you promise this commission to have such an investigator?"

"Yes, certainly, glad to."

Asked what he thought a girl should support herself on independently, Hillman answered $8 or $9 a week. He said:

"I could live on $12 myself; yes, I could squeeze through on $10, I think."

"So $8 or $9 would sustain a girl?"

CLOWN AND WIFE ARE FOUND GUILTY

Charles Kramer Sentenced to Life Imprisonment for Murder of Sofia Singer

By Associated Press.
Chicago, March 8.—Charles Kramer and his wife were found guilty today of the murder of Miss Sofia Singer, a young Baltimore woman. Kramer was sentenced to life imprisonment and his wife to fourteen years. Miss Singer was beaten to death in an apartment house here where she lived with the Kramers.

Miss Singer had gone to Chicago to be married to a young man there. She had taken a room in the same apartment with the Kramers. Her body was found with marks of blows. The Kramers were arrested several days later in an Ohio town. Kramer had been a circus clown.

SENATE KILLS WESTBROOK BILL

MEASURE TO KEEP CORPORATION EMPLOYEES OUT OF STATE LEGISLATURE FAILS

AN ILLITERACY BILL

House Passes Finally a Bill That Would Prevent Illiterates From Voting

Special to The Times.
Austin, Texas, March 8.—The Westbrock bill providing that persons connected with or employed by public service or other corporations cannot become members of the legislature while continuing such connections was killed this afternoon when the Senate refused to send it to enactment by a vote of 6 to 14.

The Senate then finally passed the following measures:

By Collins, the 54 hour law for females employed in industries.

By Darwin and Astin, the bill fixing the tenure of the board of regents of the higher educational institutions at six years, carrying into effect the constitutional amendment on this subject.

By Conner, a bill creating a board of regents for the John Tarleton College at Stephenville, thus taking that institution out of the hands of the present board composed of the Governor, the state superintendent of public instruction and the county judge of Erath county.

By Nugent, the House bill appropriating $2,000 for the purchase of additional land for the Sam Houston State Normal at Huntsville.

By Collins, the employers' compensation law which creates an industrial accident board for the protection of employes.

By Hudspeth, the bill re-organizing the Thirty-first and creating the 78th judicial district out of El Paso county.

By Vaughan, permitting one telegraph or telephone company to buy the plant of another company.

The joint resolution by Senator Kaufman submitting an amendment to the State constitution permitting the state to reward the defenders of the state treasury from robbers at the close of the civil war was engrossed, after which the Senate adjourned until Monday morning.

Senator Collins introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of beverages to minors in which is mixed caffeine.

After the House had debated all day on the measure it passed finally, by a vote of 61 to 26, the illiteracy bill which prohibits a person from assisting another in the preparation of his ballot. The House then took up a number of local bills which were passed.

The compulsory education bill was recommitted before adjournment was taken until Monday.

REARRIED DIVORCES ILLEGALLY MARRIED

By Associated Press.
Chicago, March 8.—A decision which may affect the standing of a large number of remarried divorces in Illinois, was made today by Judge Kavanaugh. He ruled that divorced persons could not legally marry again in Illinois within a year, whether the divorce was obtained in Illinois or some other state.

PANAMA CANAL EFFECTS ON EUROPEAN TRADE

By Associated Press.
Paris, March 8.—The chief consulting engineer of the Suez canal, A. E. M. Quellenc, does not share the view prevailing in Europe, that the Panama Canal will have only slight effect on the old world trade. He told the Commercial and Industrial Association of France today that the canal would establish serious competition with Europe for the trade of eastern North America and the Far East.

TWO WERE KILLED IN WACO FIRE

THEODORE VERSUTH AND PAUL GROSS WERE VICTIMS SATURDAY MORNING

BUILDINGS WERE CRUSHED

Three Story Horne Building Crashes Down Upon Building Adjoining

By Associated Press.
Waco, Texas, March 8.—Two men were killed early this morning when the falling walls of a burning three-story building here. The dead are Theodore Versuth an electrician and Paul Gross, an engraver, both unmarried.

Their bodies were recovered this afternoon. The fire was discovered shortly before 3 o'clock in the three story building belonging to J. E. Horne on Austin between Sixth and Seventh street; by the time the alarm was given, the blaze was leaping out at the rear of the building, apparently coming from the ground floor.

Soon after the firemen reached the scene, the entire inside of the building was a mass of flames and the roof and floors heavily loaded with goods fell one after another.

Fire Chief A. M. Prescott walked directly under the tottering walls, directing the firemen, until within five minutes of the time when they fell. The walls swayed a second and then spread out horizontally, crashing down upon a row of buildings fronting on Sixth street. The enormous mass of brick crushed two of these buildings, one a two story structure at the corner of Sixth and Austin and adjoining it, a one story building. These buildings seemed to be crushed like egg shells.

The crashed buildings were occupied by a jeweler, a drug store, a printing office and a tailoring company. In the Horne building there were two picture shows.

The loss is estimated at $200,000, covered by insurance. Versuth was employed by the Vessey Electric Co., and is believed to have gone into the burning building to get his tools just before the walls fell.

NO APPOINTMENTS BEFORE APRIL

ONLY IN CASES OF EMERGENCY WILL POSTMASTERS BE NAMED BEFORE THEN

IS BURLESON'S POLICY

President Wilson Announces He Will Not Let Down Civil Service Bars

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 8.—Postmaster General Burleson said today no appointments of postmasters are likely before April 1 except possibly in cases of emergency. Approximately 1,500 such appointments by Mr. Taft were not acted on by the last Senate and Mr. Wilson must make appointments to all these offices. Mr. Burleson indicated it would be his policy not to disturb capable and official post employees protected by the civil service. He is said to recognize that the postoffice department is a great business institution and he proposes to do nothing that might lower its efficiency.

ARREST MADE FOR DYNAMITE HORROR

Baltimore, March 8.—William J. Bomhardt, assistant foreman of the gang of stevedores who were loading dynamite into the Alunchine, was arrested shortly after midnight and held for a jury of inquest summoned by Coroner Russell. The coroner ordered the arrest after a statement made to him by Morris Trice, a stevedore. Trice told the coroner that Bomhardt reproved several of the stevedores for working too slow and at the same time hastily jabbed a ball hook into one of the boxes of dynamite on the chute.

Immediately there was an explosion. Earlier in the day Bomhardt made a statement to the effect that there were two explosions aboard the vessel, the first occurred when a box of dynamite he and another man were handling exploded soon after they set it on the floor.

Seventeen bodies have been identified, two remain in the morgue unidentified, twelve among the missing have been given up as lost, and it is believed at least ten stevedores known only by number, lost their lives.

Two of the forty-three known injured probably will die. A conservative property loss is between $40,000 and $500,000.

MAJOR SYLVESTER'S UNHEROIC CONDUCT

Washington, March 8.—In a stuffy over-crowded committee room, the leaders of the suffrage parade that was halted by disorder in the streets here Monday told the Senate subcommittee today of the affair.

Major Sylvester, superintendent of police, related his side of the story, declaring he believed he had placed a force on Pennsylvania avenue ample to handle the crowd and protect the parade.

Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the arrangements committee, said for a month she had bombarded Major Sylvester and the war department trying to secure proper protection for the parade. She said:

"The district authorities would refer us to the war department and the war department would tell us that if there was any trouble the fault would be with the district authorities."

Miss Paul also said that Major Sylvester told her the rif-ruff of the South would be here for inauguration on account of the Democratic victory. She said he told her that when he opposed the parade, but that after the women secured a permit and were trying to secure proper protection, Sylvester merely said, "O, that will be all right."

Sylvester testified that he was surprised and shocked when he reached Pennsylvania avenue, after escorting President-elect Wilson to his hotel, at finding the crowd had overflowed into the street all along the line. He said hospital reports showed only one person injured and eleven cases of exhaustion during the day. He declared that there were more men on duty along the line of the march for the suffrage parade than for the inaugural parade on March 4.

Women prominent in suffrage circles have started a movement to recognize the services of the Boy Scouts during the suffrage work. The scouts did splendid work in attempting to keep the crowd back.

SECRETARY BRYAN RECEIVES CALLERS

Washington, March 8.—Several senators and representatives called on Secretary Bryan today, some alone but many accompanied by constituents looking for positions. The secretary made no direct promises but gave each applicant the privilege of filing his application with the understanding that his claim would receive due consideration.

Professor John Bassett Moore of Columbia University, called at Bryan's invitation. After nearly an hour's conference, the two went to the White House and talked with President Wilson. No announcement was made as to the result of these conferences, but Prof. Moore has been mentioned as a probable successor of Chandler Eason, counselor of the department of state.

Robert H. Lansing, member of the American side of the British pecuniary claims commission, also called on Bryan. He has been mentioned for assistant secretary of state to replace Wilson. Bryan is trying to systematize reception of his many callers in order to devote attention to some urgent departmental business involving questions of policy and requiring careful study of the history of preceding negotiations.

BATTLE BEGUN AT NACAZARI

AMERICAN MINE MANAGER KILLED IN TRYING TO STOP THE FIGHTING

CARRANZA NOW ACTIVE

His Forces Clash With Federals in Coahuila—Rebels Forced to Retreat

By Associated Press.
Douglas, Arizona, March 8.—A battle began today at Nacazari between Maderistas and the federal garrison. Manager Williams of the Nacazari mine, while trying to communicate with leaders of both sides to stop the fight, was wounded. The fight is believed to have been a clash of constitutionalists moving to assist in the ex-morrow morning at Agua Prieta. Refusal of Carranza to detach in the Nacazari is the center of an American mining district. No additional details of the fight have been received yet.

BLIND SINGER STOPPED PANIC

HE SANG WITHOUT A QUABER WHILE FLAMES SPREAD THROUGH BALCONY

THEATER WAS BURNED

Blind Hero Led From Stage as Last of Audience Passed Out to Safety

By Associated Press.
Worcester, Mass., March 8.—The coolness of Edward I. Boyle, a blind singer, in keeping on with his song while fire spread rapidly in the balcony of a local theatre tonight, prevented a panic among the five hundred spectators, all of whom fled out to safety.

When the last of the audience reached the door, Joseph L. Rogers, the pianist, leaped on the stage and led the blind man out through a rear exit. The son of the theatre proprietor discovered the flames, which started from crossed electric wires. He stepped to the side of Boyle, who was singing an illustrated song, with all lights turned down. He announced quietly that a small blaze had been discovered. He requested the audience to file out promptly, but without confusion.

There was a quick shuffling of feet and several persons had broken into a run, when Boyle signalled to Rogers at the piano to "start something." Rogers struck at once into a popular air and as Boyle's voice rang out distinctly without a quiver, all signs of a panic vanished. In the dark, the singer and the pianist kept on with the song. Boyle's brother, Thomas, who attends the blind man, was across the street being shaved when he saw smoke pouring from the theatre. Collarless, with half his face shaved and half lathered he bolted for the theatre and fought his way through the crowd that jammed the stairs to save his brother. He reached the door just in time to see Rogers rush the blind man through a rear door.

On February 19, while playing the piano at another theatre, Rogers was caught in a fire, but stuck to his post until all the audience fled out. The theatre tonight was destroyed and adjoining property seriously threatened.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Two Under Officers and Private Killed in Railway Collision in Nicaragua

IS MASTER OF HIS WORK

Finished Labors at 4 p. m. Saturday and Enjoyed Long Automobile Ride

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 8.—Sergeant C. A. Norton, Corporal T. B. Roberts and Private Ernest Johnson of the marine guards at Managua, Nicaragua were killed and Captain Edward A. Green and several other marines were injured yesterday in a railroad collision near Managua. The accident indirectly resulted from the action of a band of lawless, drunken raiders at Nagarote Thursday night. The raiders looted the town and fled to the hills, after cutting communication to make sure that the line between the American legation and the American guardship at Corinto was interrupted.

Captain Green started down the railroad yesterday on a special train leaving Nagarote without orders and without flagmen, collided with the special train.

Four days' work in the White House have gone by as smoothly as if its occupants had been there four years, though the President has had a long list of engagements every day, the work has been far from exhausting.

The mass of detail which held Mr. Wilson in its grip while he was governor of New Jersey and preparing at the same time for the presidency, now is relieved by an office of well-trained assistants and the transfer to his cabinet members of the chief burdens with respect to appointments.

Visitors who have called on him say he is as non-committal as ever about appointments to those who come to make recommendations, and as quick and to the point as he was as governor of New Jersey in discussing general policies. In the office adjacent sits Secretary Tumulty, already a favorite with the newspaper correspondents. He told half a hundred correspondents today that the policy of the administration would be one of utter promptness and candor.

Thus far the new administration has done little besides getting organized. Next week, it is expected, the members of the cabinet will begin, with the President, to formulate the new policies of the Wilson regime. The President also will begin work on his special message. Though he has not finally made up his mind on what he will recommend, his present intention is to devote his message exclusively to the tariff, putting out currency reform as the next legislative goal.

The President now has had an opportunity to get into intimate touch with some of what impelled some of whom he never had met before inauguration day. He heard by reputation all about these men, but he had never met Attorney General Reynolds or Secretary Lane of the Interior Department. His meetings had been casual with Secretaries Wilson, Garrison and Houston. Curiosity as to what impelled some of the selections brought the explanation from some of the President's friends, that Mr. Wilson believed that the war and interior departments should be managed by trained lawyers, able to render constructive opinions. The Philippine problem and the administration of the canal zone influenced Mr. Wilson to pick Secretary Garrison because of his long experience on the equity bench of New Jersey.

Diplomatic appointments continue to occupy the center of attention. Richard Olney has been decided upon for the ambassadorship to Great Britain, and George W. Guthrie, Democratic State chairman of Pennsylvania, is said to be slated for the ambassadorship to Italy. The secret service men have had little trouble with intruders, but today detectives detained a woman, who gave her name as Ellen Kelley and said she was from Philadelphia. She declared someone owed $50,000 and she wanted President Wilson to help her collect it. She was sent to the Washington asylum for an investigation.

WILSON WILL NOT REVOKE CIVIL SERVICE ORDER.
By Associated Press.
Washington, March 8.—President Wilson let it be known today that there is no immediate prospect of letting down the civil service bars to thousands of Democratic office-seekers. He told Senator Pomeroy that so far he and the cabinet have formulated no policy as to appointments for minor government positions. It had been reported, President Wilson might revoke Mr. Taft's recent order putting 36,000 fourth-class postmasters under civil service.

NO AGREEMENT BY DARROW JURY
EIGHT FOR CONVICTION AND 4 FOR ACQUITTAL AT END OF 38 AND A HALF HOURS

DARROW HURT OWN CASE

His Argument as to McNamara's Guilt Alienated Jurors—May Recal Fredericks

By Associated Press.
Los Angeles, March 8.—Clarence S. Darrow's second trial on a jury bribing charge ended today in a disagreement of the jury. Eight jurors were for conviction, four held out for acquittal. Darrow immediately demanded a new trial and District Attorney Fredericks said he would have one.

Judge Conley, who presided, set March 31 as the date for the beginning of the retrial. Failure of the jury to agree was received with emotion by the defense and prosecution. Darrow himself, nervous under the strain of waiting 38 1/2 hours for the jury to report, seemed to regard the disagreement as a relief. He even smiled when making brief arguments in favor of demands for a new trial. He met reports that the prosecution might not press the case again with the declaration that he would not rest content with freedom, his character smirched by the verdict "not proved" character of the verdict.

The prosecution admittedly was disappointed. W. J. Ford, assistant district attorney, declared he would not participate in a retrial of the case, as he felt that a conviction was impossible for the failure in the trial just closed. Incidentally Ford made known his intentions to resign but said this decision was not due to the outcome of the Darrow trial. Darrow's friends flocked about him and sympathized with him.

Darrow's own arguments were responsible for his failure to go free, according to one of the jurors who asked that his name be withheld. Darrow's declaration that although they set the bomb which destroyed the Times building had killed twenty men—the McNamara Brothers were not murderers but were workers in a great cause, alienated several of the jurors. One of Darrow's associate counsel averred the same belief.

A. J. Mooney, secretary of the Los Angeles building trades council, announced tonight that plans are being perfected to attempt the recall of District Attorney John Fredericks because of his attitude toward union labor and toward Clarence Darrow. Mooney said:

"Petitions for a recall election are being prepared and will be circulated within a few days."

Baker For Secretary of Senate.
By Associated Press.
Washington, March 8.—J. M. Baker of South Carolina, assistant librarian of the Senate, was nominated by the Democratic caucus today for its secretary. Nomination is equivalent to election. Among opponents was J. L. Wilson, the president's brother and former senator Obediah Gardner of Maine.

Anti-Administration Victory.
By Associated Press.
Houston, Texas, March 8.—Full returns from yesterday's Democratic nominating primary give Ben Campbell 5431 for mayor; his opponent, J. M. Geiselmann, received 2200. It was a big anti-administration victory. The city commissioners selected are J. J. Pastoriza, Matt Drennan, Dave Fitzgerald and H. A. Halverson.

First Clash With Carranza
By Associated Press.
Mexico, March 8.—The first serious clash between federals and Carranza's troops is reported today to have occurred at Reata, Coahuila, about midway between Monclova and Monterrey. The engagements lasted four hours. The rebels were stubborn. Overment dispatches say the federals lost twenty-six and eleven wounded, and the rebels thirty-three killed.

The rebels retreated thirty miles north to Dajan. Another engagement is expected soon, as the federals are pursuing.

Finished Labors at 4 p. m. Saturday and Enjoyed Long Automobile Ride

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 8.—President Wilson divided his time today between discussions of prospective appointments with members of his cabinet and legislative policies with members of Congress. He cleared his desk for the day at 4 p. m., and took a long automobile ride with Mrs. Wilson coming back to the White House with his face aglow with the flush of wintry air.

Modern Preachers Are Becoming More Like Politicians

By the Rev. Dr. SAMUEL SCHULMAN of New York

We are going through a time of great religious uncertainty and intense social unrest. Man in large measure seems to have lost the satisfactions that come from within himself. He has LOST HOLD ON GREAT PURPOSES IN LIFE. He has lost his sense of proportion between the eternal values and the temporal comforts and social arrangements.

Because of this we witness the peculiar phenomena of confusion which are manifested by some representatives of the two kinds of important leadership among men. The preacher, whose main business it should be to lift up men in spiritual freedom, tends, because of the lack of interest in his special work, to outside activities.

HE CEASES TO BE THE PRIEST AT THE ALTAR AND BECOMES THE POLITICIAN, THE SOCIAL AGITATOR. ON THE OTHER HAND, THE STATESMAN AND THE POLITICIAN SEEK TO DRAW ATTENTION FROM THEIR INCOMPETENCE IN THEIR OWN PROVINCE AND TAKE THE LINE OF LEAST RESISTANCE.

The preacher MUST ATTRACT ATTENTION. He has a message on every political situation, and he has a dogmatic word ready for every industrial contest, although he may not have examined the case, and he is glib in committing himself to social programs. He BECOMES A POLITICIAN.

When he becomes a politician he KILLS WHAT IS LEFT OF THE RELIGIOUS SENTIMENT which he is supposed to stimulate. He may be talked of and become notorious, but he is a failure as the revealer of the divine spirit of men.

Scene in Fields' Minstrels, Majestic Thurs. March 13th

MAJESTIC WILL REOPEN MONDAY

ARRAY OF EXCELLENT ACTS IS PROMISED LOCAL THEATREGOERS

ERNEST KATZ IS MANAGER

Program For First Half of Week Includes Several Pleasing Interstate Circuit Features

The Majestic Theatre will open its doors again tomorrow Monday with a matinee at 3 p. m., and a night show at 8:15 p. m.

Nothing but the very best Majestic acts are promised to the people of Wichita Falls. The vaudeville acts are identically the same as those playing the Majestic Theatres of Fort Worth and Dallas and many other large cities in the south. They will be booked exclusively by the Interstate Amusement Company of Chicago.

There will be a slight variation in the price putting same in the reach of everyone. The entire lower floor will be reserved for night performances at 35 cents a seat, the balcony prices will remain as before, 20 cents and gallery 10 cents.

It is the sole intention of the new management to give Wichita theatregoers only guaranteed attractions, and with such to gain the confidence and favor of every Wichita Falls citizen.

The acts for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are Harris and Harris, Billy Woodall, Moore and St. Clair and Carver and Oliver. Following is the press report on the above acts:

A perfect number will be found in the offering of Moore and St. Clair who have a refreshing bit of rural comedy, entitled, "Along a Country Lane." Many new diversions are to be found in this number, as well as new song hits, some very pretty costumes, and two more than usually clever performers. The incomparable excellence with which they introduce their delightful bits proves beyond doubt that they are masters of every intricate mechanism of their act. This act will be another cream delight of the bill.

In the act of Carver and Oliver will be found fifteen more minutes overflowing with exuberantly funny foolishness, clever jokes and wit. Carver and Oliver are recent importations from abroad, and with them they have brought a supply of new jokes, new song-hits, new entertainment throughout that is refreshingly interesting and intensely entertaining from start to finish. Their comedy sketch, entitled "Getting Wise" will be a screamingly good treat for young and old alike, and one of the brightest gems of this, one of the most complete vaudeville programs ever put together.

A delightful novelty in blackface comedy will be offered by Billy Woodall, billed as "Prince of Minstrelsy." He is so delightful as a minstrel that his audience is completely overwhelmed. He is, indeed, the cleverest burnt-cork comedian seen in the Southwest this season, with a monologue full of cleverest, most interesting and fun producing entertainment conceivable. His ten minutes of entertainment will pass all too quickly.

Harris and Harris, comedy acrobats and gymnasts, will show the first half of the week with one of the greatest acts of its kind in show business. One of the fellows is an unusually funny comedian, while the other does straight work better than some of the greatest acrobats of the world. The rapid-fire manner of delivery, the excellence of the performance and the generous geniality of the performers themselves gives to the offering an extraordinary amount of interesting entertainment pleasantly original.

GOLD-FINISHED INSTRUMENTS USED BY FIELDS' MINSTRELS

Silver bands once were considered the last word in minstrelsy. With the progress of the world of amusement, however, these instruments have become more or less common-place, and the twentieth century novelty is the gold band. It is quite natural that

The Al G. Field Greater Minstrelsy introduced his innovation, and when the company appears here at the Majestic Thursday night Professor William Walters' Banner Gold Band will be one of the "really new" novelties that Field annually prepares for his friends and admirers.

The instruments used by the band musicians, while being of an exceptional tonal quality, are all finished in gold. The only organization of its kind on tour with a minstrel company, the aggregation will offer two concerts daily besides heading the parade which is one of the anticipated features of the minstrelsy.

In the opening spectacle "Minstrelsy Past and Present" the curtain rises just as the GOLD Band is concluding a concert on the lawn in front of a hotel at Ormond Beach, Florida, on the eve of the big automobile races.

The melodious melodies of yesterday are the songs I like to sing" Jack Richards declares. He is one of the soloists with the Al G. Field Greater Minstrelsy, and his rich baritone voice has endeared himself to thousands during his tour with Al G. Field Greater Minstrelsy. "The old songs always contain a story that is really a story, and it is mainly because of this that I like to sing them. However, the up-to-date lyrics are quite fascinating to the audience attracted by the Al G. Field Greater Minstrelsy like to hear the tunes of today as well as the ballads their fathers and mothers sang."

YOUNG MAN USES MINISTER'S NAME

SOLICITS SUBSCRIPTIONS AND GETS AWAY WITH IT UNTIL TOO LATE

WORKS TOWN THOROUGHLY

Passes Self Off as Relative of Dr. J. L. McKee, Who Discovers Deception After Departure

Wichitans who yielded to the affability and plausibility of a young man who passed himself off as a relative of Dr. J. L. McKee, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, may charge the money they gave him to the profit and loss account and forget the matter. The young man canvassed the city for subscriptions to a leading magazine and secured a large number.

The young man would ask each person he visited if the latter knew Dr. McKee; receiving an affirmative reply, he would declare himself a nephew of the minister; if the person solicited did not know Dr. McKee, the young man then became a son. Dr. McKee's name seemed to be an influential one, as numerous subscriptions were secured.

The first that Dr. McKee knew of the matter was when a woman who had subscribed for the magazine called at his home to find out why she was not getting the publication. She was surprised to learn that neither Dr. McKee's sons or his nephews had been soliciting for it. The young man in question has left the city and no trace of him has been found.

Called On Dr. McKee.

That the solicitor was not lacking in nerve is evidenced by the fact that he called on Dr. McKee himself and asked him to subscribe; Dr. McKee declined to do so, but Mrs. McKee later gave him a subscription. The young man's story was a very plausible one, he passing himself off as a student working for money to go to college. More than one sympathetic individual yielded to his importunities, but never received the magazine. Dr. McKee feels compelled to state that his name should be selected as one having such weight, but he of course regrets very much that it should have been used in such a manner.

BULGARIANS AT HOME IN WAR TIME

OFFERING CANDLES FOR THOSE AT FRONT

INTERMINGLING with the roof of the Maritza rises the wailing of widows. For thirty years Bulgaria has sung these words of her national hymn, embodying the temperamental Slavic melancholy which permeates her literature and music. But now the wall of centuries deepens into a paean of victory; the children and the soldiers are now singing this new version of the old melody:

The blood-red Maritza is foaming. Mortally wounded Turkey lies groaning: "On, on, Zangirad (Constantinople) is ours, two, three, march the infantry. "During all my twenty-five years here," writes a Russian exile, a civil engineer in southern Bulgaria, in a personal letter to a friend in New York, "I have never seen the Bulgarian people so deeply roused. The women are organizing committees to raise funds for the Red Cross work and for the relief of the families suffering because all their male-members have gone to the front. For several days after hostilities broke out it was impossible to buy bread. The bakers were working night and day, but they would not sell to the civilians; all went for the soldiers.

Young Boys Volunteer. "Our arsenal is three kilometers from the barracks, and the authorities were puzzled how to transport the Mauser rifles for the new recruits over to these barracks." The soldiers were all on duty or drilling, and every wagon in town was in use for carrying supplies. Help came to them from an unexpected quarter. A committee of three boys appeared and asked that they be allowed to solve the problem. All the small boys of the town—they ran in age from eight to fourteen—marched out to the arsenal, organized into large companies, and each company under the direction of an old man, the little fellows solemnly shouldered the guns and trudged these three kilometers over plowed fields to the barracks, retracing their steps many times until every Mauser had been carried over to the barracks.

This is a war that the people have wanted and have been expecting for many years, so they gladly have come to the financial assistance of the government. In every town citizens formed committees to raise the necessary funds. In Lom, one of the smaller provincial towns, such a committee collected 4,100 francs the first day the subscription was opened, 4,500 francs on the second day, and at the end of the fourth day it had 15,000 francs in hand. In this particular case the money was used to equip volunteer companies which were escorted to the trains by all the city officials and the citizens who had not yet been called to the colors.

Each small town is the market center of its surrounding district, and it is in them that the commissary department of the army has established depots for gathering in supplies for troops. Every day the peasants come driving in their cattle and sheep and pigs, and compete with each other in giving. Many old peasants, who fought in the Russo-Turkish war, are in the war with Serbia, are trying to have themselves enlisted again. One old man from Boyana drove into town in a wagon drawn by two buffaloes and sought out the recruiting officer.

Cliving of Slender Store. "I know I am too old to fight," he said, "but you need men to drive the supply wagons. Can't you make use of me and my wagon and my buffaloes?"

In the towns the very poorest people are giving all the clothes they can spare for the use of the soldiers. Those families which have been left without means of livelihood, because the men have gone to the front, are being amply provided for by committees of women and the wealthier citizens.

zons. In Varna, the business men raised a fund of 30,000 francs for this purpose alone, and the relief work will be carried on until the country is once more under normal conditions. Nor is only money given. In Pleven one citizen gave 1,000 francs worth of tobacco and cognac. The Jews in Dupnitsa, a very small town, gave twenty completely equipped beds to the Red Cross society, in addition to stocking. All this is aside from what the municipalities are doing for the same end. In Ruzhich the municipal council appropriated 100,000 francs for distribution among the families of soldiers, while Jambol, a much smaller town, could give only 30,000 francs. Special committees have been appointed to administer these funds.

In the outlying villages, beyond the reach of the activities of the municipal committees, the peasants are showing themselves equally capable of handling the situation. The peasants are often rich in grain, firewood, and the other necessities of life, which they store away for their own consumption during the winter. It would be useless to send out subscription lists, for there is little ready cash about that which has been laid aside to pay the heavy taxes. The village authorities follow no rule, and in many places the relief work is carried on entirely with donations in kind. But this is not the most important work of the village committees.

The lives of the peasants depend on their crops. If these fall poverty, and even famine, will follow. The men were going to war just as the winter crops of wheat should have been sown, but village committees are undertaking to sow the fields of their fellows who have enlisted. In one village, Novo Selo, the committee worked so energetically that it has almost finished its task. The rich peasants contributed the seed; one man alone gave 1,100 kilos, over one ton of wheat. Behind much of this activity are the co-operative banks; they are advancing much money and quantities of seeds to the families of those of their members who have gone to the war, and they are superintending much of the committee work in planting the winter wheat crop.

All the schools and gymnasia in Bulgaria have been closed; only the girls' assembly to sew clothing and prepare bandages for the hospitals. This is true also of schools in Serbia. Many of the teachers and professors are drilling in the barracks. The women teachers have entered the special training courses for nurses which have been opened in every town. In Timovo the monks in one of the large monasteries sent a petition to the mayor asking that they be allowed to join the army or enlist in the Red Cross corps. Not a dozen of them are taking up the Red Cross training courses.

Naturally there is a scarcity of able-bodied men which, in some of the towns might result in disorder if the local authorities did not show ingenuity in solving local problems. In Pleven all the policemen were called to the barracks and the streets were left unprotected. The prefect called on all the boys of the upper gymnasium classes to organize themselves into a provisional police force. Being only boys, two were made to fill the place of one policeman, so now the streets of the city are patrolled by pairs of boys in the green-tinted caps of the gymnasium.

That the women are responding quite as eagerly to such emergency calls is shown in word coming from Sofia which, after stating that almost all the street cleaners had entered the army, adds: "Now the women have organized themselves into a street-cleaning brigade."

STAMPFLI BAKERY WILL MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS

Capacity to be Increased to 4000 Loaves Daily—To Be on Indiana Avenue

The Stampfli Bakery, which has occupied quarters on Seventh street for many years, is making its plans to move to the Stampfli-Roberts building on Indiana avenue, taking the place now occupied by the China Palace.

Incidental to the moving, Mr. Stampfli is planning an enlargement and extension of his business and he will install baking machinery capable of turning out 4000 loaves of bread daily, or about twice the capacity of his present plant. The store will be given a new front and will have new furniture, show cases and soda fountain, making it one of the real modern places of Wichita Falls.

The bakery department will be second to none in the State, Mr. Stampfli declares, either in size or up to dateness.

The Cream Bakery has been in its present location on Seventh street for twelve years, being established there when Wichita Falls had less than 3000 people.

LARGE SUM IN FINES WAS ASSESSED

Many Convictions in County Court During the Past Week

Over $1300 in cash fines was collected in the county court last week, this being the largest amount collected in a single week in the past several years.

One man contributed $458.90 of the total. This man was "Kid" Humphreys. Humphreys was convicted on a charge of running a disorderly house by a jury. He filed an appeal bond, but by agreement plead guilty in two other cases and four others against him were dismissed on condition that he "leave the flats forever." The remaining cases will be held open until County Attorney Boone is satisfied the defendant has complied with his part of the agreement.

Pat Keys who had been convicted of running a bawdy house and who had been fined $200 and given twenty days in jail, from which he appealed, plead guilty to a charge of vagrancy that he had appealed from the city court. The same fine was assessed as had been assessed in the city court. Other cases are pending against Keys.

H. R. Faubion Sues Southwestern Telephone Company—Asking $2,000 Damages

H. R. Faubion of this city has filed suit against the Southwestern Telephone Company, asking $2,000 damages for the alleged failure to deliver a telephone message from Bellevue, Texas. The message announced the fatal illness of his father there, and before Faubion learned of this his father had died.

In his petition Faubion claims the telephone company could have found him had it used ordinary diligence in the effort.

"There's a Reason"

BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN IS FOUND

SUPPOSED SLEEPER SITTING AGAINST TELEGRAPH POLE FOUND DEAD

HEART TROUBLE THE CAUSE

Body Found Near Denver Freight Station Last Night Unidentified

Sitting on the ground, with back against a telegraph pole at the side of a footpath running from Seventh street to the Fort Worth & Denver freight office, along which a number of men were passing back and forth, the body of an unknown man remained for an hour or more last night without it being detected that the man was dead.

The discovery came after E. F. Dodge, night clerk at the freight office, had attempted to awaken the supposed sleeping man. Dodge shook the body vigorously and when there was no response he went over to some men on the street to get their help. When they came they found the man was dead, although his body was still warm. He had been dead probably an hour. Many had seen him sitting there but none had suspected that he was dead.

Justice W. J. Howard who was called pronounced his death due to heart failure. The body was later removed to Hill's undertaking establishment but had not been identified until a late hour last night. It was first learned at about 9:30 that the man was dead.

No letters or other articles by which the identity of the man might be established were found other than a card in one of his pockets such as tailor's use in marking clothing. This card bore the following names written with a typewriter: "Dealer—D. L. Kett."

"Customer—J. W. Wilcox." No one had been found last night who knew either of these names. A railroad switch key and a coach key were also found in his pockets, together with a key such as is used to unlock Pullman sleepers.

The man was apparently about 38 years of age, was about six feet tall and probably weighed 200 pounds. He was smooth shaven and light complexioned. He wore a black Stetson hat, a dark coat, light pants, a brown flannel shirt and black shoes. His clothing was in fairly good condition and was such as is worn by railroad men.

Many Eggs Broken. Forty-five million dollars annually is spent by the agricultural department to be the breakage in the handling of eggs by the railroads. A crusade against the sale of small, dirty, stale and cracked eggs has been started by the expert. Particular stress is placed on the candling of eggs by the experts, as well as on the necessity for cultivating the production of large eggs. Mechanical refrigeration is also urged by the experts as a means of stopping some of the waste. They say that the eggs should be thoroughly chilled before being shipped.

Stringent Vienna Law. Vienna police, being of the opinion that pedestrians are chiefly to blame for street accidents, have issued a notice to the effect that a pedestrian, if he wishes to cross the road, must do so in a direct line, taking the shortest path. Persons found walking along the street lengthwise and thus endangering their own safety and that of others, will be reprimanded by the police.

The National government has put into circulation about four million new nickels, and some of them are being paid out by the banks in this city.

The Wichita Times thinks all the new postmasters will favor a six-year presidential term—Houston Post.

Three aldermen are to be elected at the city election on the first Tuesday in April, which falls on the first day.

Owing to failure to publish the result of the recent local option election held at Burk Burnett, the penalty for boot-legging liquor is reduced from a penitentiary offense to fine and jail sentence.

The Times understands the notice of the result was sent by the proper authorities to the local paper at Burk Burnett in ample time to have been published within the time limit.

and on failure to appear in the first issue after the notice had been given the publisher, the publisher's attention was called to the omission, but failed to get the notice in the following issue of his paper.

The time set for publication of the result of that election expires with today. The Times, of course, does not know of its own knowledge that the local notice declaring the result, was ever prepared by the proper authorities and handed the publisher to be published, but gets its information on what it deems good authority.

There is talk of holding another election in order to make boot-legging a penitentiary offense.

The Times is glad to announce that our city council has at last agreed upon a plan for the expenditure of the $12,000 worth of bonds voted several months ago for street lights, and on yesterday awarded a contract for the installation of ninety lamp-posts with a cluster of five electric lights to each post, which are for the business district, and what is left of the fund will be expended in installing arc and incandescent lights in the residence portion of the city.

After these lights are installed it will cost the city $100 per year to burn them on an all-night schedule. The only objectionable feature that could be urged against the action of the council is that there seems to be an inclination to include only that part of our streets that are paved as "being in the business district property, when if the cluster lights were placed only on street corners, (one on each corner) the ninety cluster lamps could be made to cover all that portion of the business district from Sixth to Tenth streets and from Ohio to Lamar avenues.

This would include all that portion of the city that is now included in the fire limits. That kind of arrangement, in the judgment of many taxpayers, would come nearer giving general satisfaction than if the lamps were placed thick on some streets, while on others there would be none.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram carried on its front page Thursday a picture of a gallows on which a web of the spider had been spun, and from which an unused rope, rotten with age and covered with insects, dangled in the wind.

It was a lesson and a picture without words—impressive, instructive, and striking. The Herald believes that a million copies of this picture should be made and scattered broadcast over the land. It would do good. We think the picture could be improved if there was a lawyer, bearing the name of Technicality standing guard near the gallows, with a drawn sword. Understand, this would apply to some lawyers—not all, because Texas has an abundance of excellent lawyers who would not do anything willingly to keep the lid off from getting busy—Denton Herald.

That certainly was a very, very suggestive cartoon—about the most impressive that has ever appeared in any Texas newspaper. The hip-pocket gentry are given entirely too much consideration by our laws, courts and juries. There is no record of any man ever having been wrongfully hung in this state for committing murder without

NEW YORK'S MOST DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR KEEPS FAITH WITH PEOPLE OF HIS STATE

Gov. William Sulzer.

William Sulzer, "New York's most democratic governor," gives every promise of keeping faith with the people of his state. In office one month, Gov. Sulzer has abolished all "secret chamber" conferences, has started a campaign of economy, and has adjusted the troublesome Brandt case to the entire satisfaction of all concerned.

He has rechristened the executive mansion the "people's house" and here all the time he has been with the people.

fully, but there are hundreds of cases where they have managed to be legally acquitted. The insanity dodge is worked in some instances, where the crime is unusually atrocious, but the trouble seems to be that in most cases where insanity is pleaded, the man is allowed his freedom after acquittal.

The plea for insane people, or people who even plead insanity, is in an asylum.

CONSTITUTION AND THE KATY CONSOLIDATION BILL

It is as elected knight of the Constitution, of course, that Attorney General Lacey seeks to nullify the act of the Legislature permitting the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company of Texas to operate and manage its own property.

Having expressed the opinion previously to its passage that the bill would be unconstitutional, doubtless Mr. Lacey conceives that his oath of office requires him to attack that measure in the courts.

Also, we can readily imagine, he has been somewhat incited to that course by a sense of wounded vanity; for the Legislature, by passing that measure after Mr. Lacey had told it that it would be unconstitutional, manifested no very great confidence in the opinion of the State's Attorney General.

But the Constitution may appreciate the gallant determination of its chosen champion and at the same time devoutly pray that he will be defeated in this enterprise. For if the Constitution forbids the doing of something that is in every respect so sensible and advantageous to the interests of this State, then the people of Texas will have an additional reason of no little gravity for wishing that the Constitution were in limbo.

They are apt, in that case, to think that our Constitution is not only venerable, but also sensible. By succeeding in the courts Mr. Lacey might indeed prove that he has a truer knowledge of the Constitution than the Legislature credited him with having, but he would likewise prove that the Constitution is a greater obstacle to the progress of this State than even some of its critics have alleged.

We doubt if there is a great deal of reverence for the Constitution outside the circle of those to whom its ambiguities and mysteries supply a professional and profitable occupation; and if now it is proved that it forbids the doing of something so essentially just and sensible as this Katy merger, then there will be a large number of citizens who profess no higher intellectual endowment than the possession of common sense whose lack of reverence will degenerate into something akin to contempt for the Constitution.

Although animated by a sense of gallantry and although acting as a friend of the Constitution, Mr. Lacey is pursuing a course which, if it succeeds, can only bring the Constitution into disrepute.

This Katy consolidation bill may be unconstitutional. Experience admonishes common-sense to mark no limits for the follies of the Constitution. But if this measure is unconstitutional, then the reproach will be, not on the measure, but on the Constitution. The Constitution, like individuals, has frequent occasion to pray to be saved from the soliloquy of its over-zealous friends.—Dallas News.

POLLY WANTED TO KNOW

Parrot Belonging to Miss Ivy Hayes Makes Anxious Inquiry After Short Separation.

Miss Ivy Hayes, daughter of the late Gen. Edward M. Hayes of the United States army, has been appointed to a clerk's position in the department of agriculture.

She has a talking parrot, "Polly" by name, who was unintentionally left at Morganton, N. C., the other day by Miss Hayes and her mother, when they departed for Washington.

Miss Hayes and Polly have been constant companions for nearly two decades. They had never before been separated for longer than two or three hours at a time.

The other morning at seven o'clock, when Polly arrived at the Washington office of the express company, Miss Hayes was there to greet her.

"Ivy, where in the world have you been?" said the parrot, as the cover was lifted from her cage.

New Scheme for Disposal of Dead. A startling new scheme for the disposal of the dead has been outlined by F. W. McPatrick, an American consulting architect.

He proposes that each body should be molded into a block of clay until all semblance of form is lost. This, after baking in an intense electrical heat, is to be employed as a structural unit in a wondrous national monument of the dead.

This latter is to outrank in beauty and size anything hitherto built by man. Each individual slab is to have graven deeply on its end the person's name. The scheme is a tremendous one and its basis might form a good solution of some difficulties and objections that are urged against burial and cremation.

Round Rock—The first meeting of the Round Rock town council was held a few days ago. Ordinances for the new corporation court, which were prepared by City Attorney Wilcox of Georgetown, were read and adopted, as well as other routine matters.

and American troops, the war department proposes to send 600 federal troops to occupy the border town in Sonora. Probably the government will ask permission for these federal troops to pass through American territory.

Federals Re-Occupy Saltillo

By Associated Press. Laredo, Texas, March 8.—After two weeks occupation by followers of Carranza, durig which martial law was in effect, Saltillo, capital of Coahuila, was again occupied by federal troops tonight. While fighting was reported between the forces of federal General Lasquez numbering 1200, and the rebels, lasting from 2 to 8 o'clock this afternoon until 8 o'clock tonight, the number of casualties was not given. A train bearing reinforcements left Laredo tonight to prevent any effort to retake Saltillo.

Prussian Loan Fails

By Associated Press. Berlin, March 8.—The failure of the Prussian government to float the $100,000,000 sohtz term 4 per cent notes, marking the first occasion on which the government loan here has not been oversubscribed appears to have been more serious than was indicated yesterday. Only $42,500,000 of the notes were taken up.

Banking circles had hoped to interest Americans in the issue, but the foreign subscriptions turned out very scanty.

BETTER FARMING METHODS INCREASED CORN YIELD RESULTS FROM PRIZE CONTEST OF TEXAS INDUSTRIAL CONGRESS.

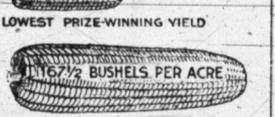

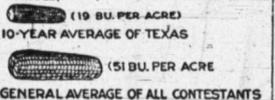

FORD BRANCH "Champion Corn Grower of Texas." 167 1/2 Bushels on One Acre.

Alford Branch is a wide-awake farmer living at Overton, Rusk County, Texas, who, by careful preparation of his land in the fall of 1911, so that it was in condition for the winter rains to sink in and to be stored for the use of the plant during the following season, who carefully selected the best seed-corn that was grown in his section and by shallow and constant cultivation from the time the corn was a few inches high until it was actually mature, not only kept it free from weeds, but kept the surface for an inch and a half or two inches so finely pulverized that it acted as a mulch and prevented the loss of moisture by capillary attraction, has raised on one acre of second bottom land 167 1/2 bushels of corn at a cost of 13 cents per bushel. Rating the corn at the low price of 70 cents per bushel, there was a net profit of $95.35 from this acre. Adding to this the $250 prize money awarded him by the Texas Industrial Congress makes a total of $345.35, which is the interest at 6 per cent upon $5,755.83, and represents the value of an intelligent combination of brains and work.

This young man broke his land in the early winter with a two-horse plow, cutting about six inches deep; followed in the same furrow with a team pulling what is known as a "bull-tongue" that cut ten inches further into the earth, but turned up no new soil, and formed a reservoir to hold the moisture as well as to aerate the land and make more plant food available. He used five hundred pounds of commercial fertilizer that had been recommended by a reliable house as best adapted to the successful growth of corn upon his black, sandy land, which had been in grass for a number of years and was very rich in humus. He used seed-corn that was popular in his neighborhood, known as the "Bloody Butcher." He states that he made as much corn on the one acre by the better methods above-mentioned as his father made on ten acres prepared and cultivated in the old-fashioned way.

The picture below is a graphic illustration of the value of using improved methods.

LARGEST PRIZE-WINNING YIELD. The general average of all contestants was fifty-one bushels to the acre, while the general average for the State in 1912 was but twenty-one bushels. If all of the corn growers in Texas had averaged just what these contestants averaged, at the prevailing price, the crop would have brought one hundred and sixty-odd million dollars more than it did.

In 1911 the average corn crop of Texas was 9.6 bushels to the acre. Seventeen hundred and forty-six contestants for the prizes offered by the Texas Industrial Congress, coming from one hundred and sixty-one counties, averaged 31 1/2 bushels of corn per acre. All of the prizes were won in seventeen counties. In 1912 there were 7,230 contestants from 205 counties. Fifty-five counties won prizes, and 16 of the 17 that won in 1911 won again in 1912. This clearly demonstrates that the work of the Congress is constructive, permanent and cumulative.

The Congress keeps in touch with all contestants, makes suggestions as to preparation of soil, conserving moisture and fertility to make plant food available, as to seed selection and the best methods of cultivation, but all of these are subject to any changes that the contestant thinks best to make; the only object being to offer suggestions that cause the farmer to investigate and with all the information at hand to determine the best methods to adopt.

TIGERS AND ATHLETICS TO HAVE GAME THIS AFTERNOON

The Tigers and the Athletics, two cub team nines of this city, have matched a game for this afternoon, which may be considered the formal opening of the local baseball season. The line-up of the Tigers has already appeared in The Times; that of the Athletics is as follows: Catcher, A. Fontaine; pitchers, Earl Weaver, Carlie Boine and Dick Wheeler; (captain); first base, Eugene Breyer; second base, Charlie Campbell; third base, J. Meecher; short stop, Chancy; right field, Avis Taylor; center field, Page Carter; left field, Jessie McCullen; utility, George Erick.

ENGLISH FIGHTERS LAST LONGER THAN AMERICAN; OFTEN STICK FIFTEEN YEARS

There seems to be no particular reason why English boxers should last longer than American. But they do. It isn't anything uncommon for an English pug to stick to the game fifteen years. How many American fighters can you think of who have lasted more than seven or eight? Johnny Summers and Jim Driscoll, who are respectively the welter-weight and the featherweight champions of Europe, have been in the game since 1900. They are still going and apparently have several years apiece yet in the fist arena. Owen Moran has been in the game thirteen years, is still a lightweight of renown in Great Britain. Digger Stanley has been meeting all comers since 1901, and is still in shape. Freddie Welsh, after eight years of battle, is lightweight champion of England.

On the other hand, Abe Attell, who first entered the ring in 1900, has been lost to view; Jimmy Walsh, who started in a year later, was through two years ago; Jim Flynn, whose fighting career has spread over eleven years, is about ready to throw up the mitts. Jimmy Britt's career extended over seven years. Hugo Kelly, Tony Cannon, Young Ernie, Young Donohue and Matty Baldwin who entered the game not so very long ago are now mostly back numbers as pugilists.

Two American fighters, however, have made records that do not look puny in comparison with the English. Tommy Murphy has remained at tip-top form for ten years participating in scores of contests. Battling Nelson is on his seventeenth year in the arena and is still dangerous.

It cannot be said of the English boxers that they retain their efficiency for a longer time because they participate in fewer contests than do the Americans. Moran in thirteen years has worked 1,112 rounds; Stanley, 694; Welsh, 715; and Summers, 601 rounds. Driscoll and Flynn have been rather inactive.

CHARTER DELAY NOW POSSIBLE

NEXT MONTH'S ELECTION WILL BE UNDER PRESENT ORGANIC LAW

TERMS TO RUN TWO YEARS

Could Not Be Forced out of Office—Enabling Act Is Not Yet Passed

Wichita Falls may have to worry along with her present charter for two years more, regardless of what action the Legislature may take on the "home rule" bill. There is no possibility that the bill will be finally passed and approved in time for it to let Wichita Falls' special charter be in operation by the date of the April aldermanic elections, and should the aldermen who are elected at that time insist upon retaining their positions for the full two years for which they will be elected, there will be nothing to do except to wait.

It is understood that the present aldermen whose terms do not expire until April, 1914, have signified their willingness to resign so as to allow the charter to become effective and it is possible that the aldermen to be elected next month will also be willing to step out should the new charter be ready to put into effect in the meantime.

Committee Marks Time. The charter committee has been simply marking time recently, waiting for the Legislature to pass the enabling act; this bill has passed the House, but has still to get through the Senate and be approved by Governor Colquitt. The governor's veto, according to dispatches from Austin, is by no means certain if the bill is finally passed in its present form. This is said to be on account of the provision which permits cities to make the initiative, referendum and recall parts of their charter, and the governor is known to be unfriendly toward these measures.

There is little doubt, however, that some sort of enabling law will be passed and the other apparent obstacle, that of the city officers whose terms do not expire, will, it is believed, be successfully bridged.

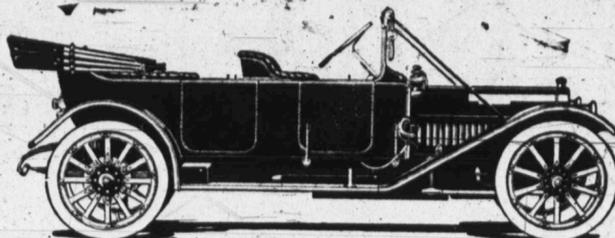

NEW BRAND OF NICKELS IS IN CIRCULATION HERE

Government Gets Out New Kind of Jitneys—Local Bank Gets Supply of Them

If the street car conductor today hands you a funny looking piece of money in your change, you needn't give it back to him and say, "You might turn that in to the company, it's bad." The new nickels are now in circulation, a supply having been received here by the City National Bank, which is retailing them at the remarkably low price of five cents.

On one side of the nickel appears what might be taken at first, blush for a bull moose, but which is intended to represent a buffalo. The head of an Indian appears on the other side. The new nickels are pretty to look upon, as all money is, for that matter. Those in circulation here may some day become valuable, from the fact that after only a paltry few million of them had been coined it was discovered that they would not fit slot machines; so the coinage of them was stopped and a new design is now being prepared that will fit the slot machines and enable you to buy salted peanuts, shoe strings and other slot-machine merchandise.

Chalmers Cars are Setting New Sales Records AS USUAL

The 1913 season will be the biggest in the history of the Chalmers Motor Company—which covers five years of records in the selling of medium-priced cars.

At the New York Show our metropolitan dealer sold 54 Chalmers cars at retail.

Some thirty dealers from outside New York who met prospective buyers from their territories at the show, sold twice as many more.

In one day of the week following the New York Show 32 retail orders were taken in New York alone.

For five years Chalmers cars have out-sold all other cars at their price or above in New York—the most critical market in the country.

At the Chicago Show 36 new Chalmers cars were sold at retail during the week by the Chicago dealer. Dealers from other middle western territories also sold many cars at Chicago.

In addition to these retail sales, we signed contracts with nearly 50 new Chalmers dealers during the Chicago Show. These men are in the automobile business to make money. They want cars that are easy to sell and that stay sold. They selected the Chalmers because of its reputation for satisfactory service in the hands of more than 35,000 owners.

In California, also, this season Chalmers cars hold the leadership in sales over all other medium-priced cars.

California now has one motor car to every 28 of the entire population. Californians know automobiles pretty well from experience. Their approval of the Chalmers is significant.

In Texas the Chalmers cars have this year gained the ascendancy over all other cars in their price classes. Of many other sections the same story could be told.

As a result of this rapid sale of Chalmers cars in all parts of the country, the Chalmers Motor Company had by March first shipped two-thirds of its entire 1913 production. And the best selling season of the entire year—the spring—is yet to come.

Chalmers dealers are asking for added allotments. For instance, the Chalmers dealer in Waterloo, Iowa, in a recent wire ordering 13 cars for immediate shipment says, "May we increase our allotment?" Carl H. Page & Co., New York distributors, have already ordered 150 more cars than they originally contracted for. The Chalmers dealer in Los Angeles, Calif., has delivered more than his original allotment for the entire season.

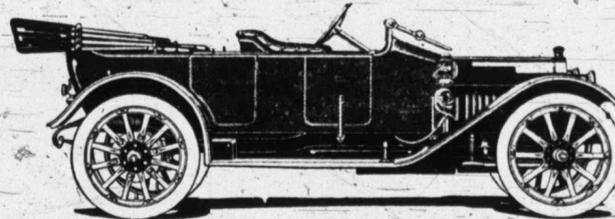

Philadelphia, Chicago, Des Moines, San Antonio, Pittsburgh, Portland, Ore., Denver, Colo., Baltimore, Detroit, Buffalo, Cleveland and many other cities are setting Chalmers sales records.

Chalmers salesmen, all over the country, are now engaged in a selling contest for five valuable prizes offered by the Chalmers Company.

Chalmers salesmen are working as never before for the honor of winning these prizes. They are establishing new Chalmers sales records.

This is just one more reason for believing that Chalmers cars will be "sold out" early this year.

A reproduction of the nickels appears herewith, but it must not be understood that the nickels are as large as the picture. Company, who declined yesterday to disclose his firm's profits, offered the commission private access to the company's books. Senator Beall, addressing Hillman as a self-made man, asked if he gave his employees the same chance to advance as he had. Hillman replied: "You bet; we want 'em to advance. Why, there's a sign in my office, 'grow or go.'" Senator Tostie asked if there was a tacit agreement among retailers whereby one would not entice the other to obtain a desirable clerk. The answer was an emphatic denial. He said clerks were always leaving one firm to go to another. Representative Lloyd informed him that the Chicago vice commission's report shows many department store girls lead lives of shame. This was news to Hillman, who dignified any such condition in his store. He exclaimed: "Why, let me tell you about one of those mashers who are always taking up the time of the girls. Two weeks ago, one of our detectives caught one of them all honest! When that bull got through with him, he was a sight; he got more than was coming to him."

Hillman said the moral standards of the girls at his store were high. "Come on over and size 'em up," he invited. Only one girl witness was heard today. She was 25 years old and was known as "L. W." She looked much less than her age and said she had been a servant at Oregon City, Ill. A male friend brought her to Chicago but on her first night, she did not earn enough to satisfy him. She said: "He beat me up, and I shook him." "Where is he now?" "He is serving six months in the Bridewell," came the reply vindictively.

NEW DRILLING ON OKLAHOMA SIDE

SEVERAL WELLS STARTED RECENTLY ACROSS RED RIVER

DELAY ON MARCUS WELL

Will Not be Drilled in Until Tomorrow—Other Oil News of the Past Week

Business is picking up across Red River in Southwest Oklahoma and several wells are drilling there at present. The Norfolk Oil company has a rig up on the James A. McInnis farm west of Davidson, Tillman county and expects to begin spudding tomorrow. Another new well will be in the vicinity of Handlett. The Big Pasture well near Loveland, Tillman county, where was stopped at a depth of about 1500 feet, will probably be drilled deeper, arrangements to that effect being under way. The Frederick Oil Producing company has started a well at Burt's Switch, Tillman county. Work is also to be resumed on the Cabelka well, northwest of Grandfield in the Rock Ford settlement. The Northwest Electric Oil & Gas company's well on the Finley farm, south of Frederick, is reported to have had a nice showing, but nothing definite has come from the mystery which enshrouds this affair. Drilling activities across the river were considerably stimulated by the government's geological report, which purported to tick the wet spots.

A local oil man, who is inclined to be something of a cynic, has seen fit to comment upon the way some papers handle the oil news. "He says the dope usually runs this way: First day, 'Twenty-five wells on Oklahoma side have been drilled in today, showing for 269 barrels'; second day, 'Twenty-five wells drilled in, making 150 barrels'; third day, 'two new locations have been made near the Empty-Ump well, which was drilled for seventy-five barrels'; sixth day, 'new production for the week includes the Empty-Ump well, which was drilled in for forty barrels'; eighth day, 'The Empty-Ump, which struck about a ten barrel showing last week, is to be drilled deeper.'

It is understood that a location has been made for Developers No. 5 at Petrolia, and that it will offset Producers No. 12 Byers, a short distance from No. 4.

Petrolia production at present is said to be at the high-water mark of field, with better than 1100 barrels going into the tanks daily. Of this, about 550 barrels is produced by about eighty shallow wells, and the remainder from the deeper wells, headed by Producers No. 11 Byers and Developers No. 4, each of which is making around 200 barrels daily.

The Marcus Oil Company's well on the Biggers farm was in trouble again yesterday and will not be drilled until tomorrow. There is every indication of a good well.

The Interstate well on the J. J. Kierst strip, which was reported as showing Friday night, is drilling at 1350 feet, where it has a water sand.

Interstate No. 7 Borchardt put ninety barrels into the tank in eight hours Friday, but a great deal of water is coming up with the oil. An effort will be made to shut this off before pumping any further. No. 1 Borchardt is making about fifty barrels and No. 2 the shallow well is making about two barrels; it is not resting anything to pump No. 2 and its tiny production helps to cut down the fuel bill.

This has been a good week for bonifetols. Two local companies have wells, the Developers and the Marcus; the latter's is not a well yet but is making a noise very much like one. Practically all the stock in these two companies is owned by Wichitans who were not afraid to get their feet wet.

J. E. Head of the Interstate Company is gathering something over 500 barrels of oil that had accumulated on his water tank. Some genius rigged up a hand pump to connect with the power and the waste oil is now being pumped. As Mr. Head gets $1.25 per barrel, selling this oil for fuel, he figures he has just found about $250 that he wasn't looking for.

Barkburnett and Petrolia have furnished the chief news of interest during the past week, though little of interest has developed outside the bringing of Developers No. 4 at Petrolia, for 200 barrels. There was little new production during the week at Electra.

Among the week's completions at Electra are the Producers No. 13 Skinner 75 barrels and the same company's No. 15 Stringer, good for about 75. There were no Corsicana or Offey completions there during the week.

Producers No. 11 Bickley an offset to the Corsicana No. 13 Honaker, was dry at the depth of the big 3500 barrel well, indicating that the new sand does not extend far to the northward. The 1500 barrel well is believed to be in one of the fresh sands of which the Electra field is getting famous.

J. L. Powell has resumed drilling on his well one and a half miles northwest of Day Station. He is working day and night shifts on this well.

Considerable work is in progress around Iowa Park, especially in the country to the southward toward the Ferguson well. Among the wells drilling are: Staples et al. Winfrey, 1125 feet; L. C. Hivick, Brown, 1175; Gaffey, W. R. Suttie, 1420; Reese, Patterson et al. Manden, spudding; Brokaw, Friend and Haisdon, Lochridge, Hig. Producers, Waggoners Brothers, 500; Owen & Wilson No. 1 Ferguson, 850 and fishing. The Buffalo well is shut down at 1240 feet.

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET TOMORROW

Location for New Schools Will be Discussed and Election Returns Canvassed

A meeting of the school board will be held tomorrow evening, at which the returns from Thursday's election, when the school bonds were voted, will be canvassed, and some decision reached as to the sites for the new schools. It is expected that the north side property owners will be on hand to present their claims for a school across the river.

A number of architects have already prepared plans to submit to the board for the new buildings, and the trustees will be able to proceed very rapidly with the buildings. The bonds are first to be sold, but not much difficulty is anticipated in disposing of them.

Medical Examiners Named

Austin, Texas, March 8.—Governor Collier today submitted to the Senate for confirmation the following appointments to the state board of medical examiners: Doctors W. B. Collins of Houston county, W. L. Crosthwaite of McLennan county, George L. Baber of Wood county, J. H. Evans of Anderson county, and E. R. Osborn of Johnson county, representing the regular school of medicine; Doctors J. F. Bailey of McLennan and Paul M. Peck of Bexar county, representing osteopaths; Doctors M. E. Daniel of Fannin and George W. Johnson of Bexar, representing the eclectic; Doctor J. T. Crowe of Dallas county; and H. C. Morrow of Travis county, representing the homeopaths.

CORPORATION EMPLOYE BARRED

WESTBROOKS WOULD KEEP THOSE CONNECTED WITH CORPORATIONS OUT OF LEGISLATURE

IT PROVOKES A FIGHT

Serious and Burlesque Amendments Offered—Early Proceedings in House

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, March 8.—The Senate convened this morning with scanty attendance. By agreement, the McGregor-Terrell highway commission bills were allowed to go over until Monday. The bills affecting probate matters also were set for Monday.

The bills placing pool halls and moving pictures among the contraband Sunday amusements and the bill forbidding sale of liquor in clubs were set for Thursday.

The Senate finally passed the McGregg bill cutting out the paid tubercular commission and substituting for it a commission of citizens to be paid only for actual services rendered at meetings. Consideration then began on the Westbrook anti-graft bill, which would forbid any person in any way connected with a public service or other corporation from becoming a member of the Legislature. It precipitated an extended fight and brought out many amendments, some of them burlesque. Greer offered an amendment that when an officer or attorney of a corporation is elected by a constituency whom he has fully advised of his employment and connections, such public officers shall not be compelled to resign his corporate connections. This amendment was adopted.

Lattimore offered an amendment that no newspaper owned in whole or in part by a legislator shall accept advertising or paid matter from a corporation during the term of the member of the Legislature. A point of order was made that this amendment is not germane to the bill and Lieutenant Governor Hayes, who is a newspaper owner, called Senator Austin to the chair. Westbrook, author of the bill, accepted the amendment and Taylor another newspaper owner, expressed his approval.

The amendment, Nugent, who asked the bill as a joint author, stated that his name be stricken from the bill as he did not agree with it. Cogner then offered an amendment forbidding any newspaper belonging to any member of the legislature from commenting unfavorably on any corporation and Senator Westbrook remarked:

"I congratulate the corporations of Texas that they have such a champion as the senator from Brown."

Vaughan insisted that the legislature is considering a serious matter as a joke, and he protested vigorously against joking.

Passes Discussed in House.

Austin, Texas, March 8.—After closing the night session just before one o'clock this morning, the sleepy representatives in the House this forenoon again took up their duties and worked very fast in the hope that perhaps another night session might be avoided.

First, the Davis-Oliver-Reeves bill designed to place all precinct officials on a salary basis, instead of a fee system was passed. The anti-pass law designed to give free passes to Confederate veterans and their widows was passed, after considerable amending. The first amendment was passed and allowed free passes to five deputy sheriffs in counties of over 100,000, also passes to city health officers. Then an amendment to give the governor passes was defeated. Passes were allowed to presidents and superintendents of orphan's homes. An amendment was adopted striking out the present law provision allowing railroad commissioners to have passes; another amendment granting passes to the state revenue agent was defeated. An amendment permitting passes to insurance adjusters was adopted, but one for passes to legislators was lost; also, an amendment making it mandatory to give passes to railroad commissioners was lost. An effort failed to strike out the provision allowing passes to the game, fish and oyster commissioner and two deputies. Then an amendment was adopted restricting official use of passes to official business only. Previously, an effort to eliminate every one from the pass privilege except railroad officials and employees failed.

The Boehmer ill-tracy bill was then taken up on final passage and a hard fight against it began.

Death Penalty For Negro.

By Associated Press. Danversfield, Texas, March 8.—Gus Pinsky, a negro, aged 37, was convicted and given the death penalty today for murdering George Tucker, a consular of Morris county on November 26, 1912. The date for hanging is not yet set.—H. Finley alias, he will be the first negro legally executed in Morris county in twenty years.

THE EXPOSITION DATES ARE FIXED

BIG CELEBRATION WILL BE HELD HERE MAY 5 TO 10—PROGRESS OF PLANS

ITS MAGNITUDE SURPRISES

Exposition, Celebration and Tournament Will be Combined in Big Event

The dates for the Merchants and Manufacturers Exposition, Prosperity Celebration and Military Tournament were fixed yesterday afternoon by the committee, and the events will be staged May 5 to 10, inclusive. It has been the original plan to hold the celebration a week later, but on account of the fact that the Shriners' Conclave will be in progress in Dallas at that time, earlier dates were decided upon; many Wichitans will wish to attend the conclave, and it was deemed more satisfactory all around to fix the earlier dates.

The change in the dates shortens the time in which to complete the preparations, and the committee is anxious to complete the fund of $10,000, so that work may be started on the active operations that are necessary. A total of $3700 had been raised up to last night, leaving $1300 still to be secured. While this amount is small, the committee feels that it would be unwise to proceed with the plans until the entire $10,000 is pledged and it will take no further steps until the full amount is pledged. It is felt that those who have not subscribed should do so without delay, so that no further time may be lost.

As more and more of the details of the plans come to light, the magnitude of the affair becomes more and more impressive. It is to be on a scale unparalleled by anything ever attempted in a year in the state and will be something of which Wichita Falls can boast.

The Exposition Feature

The affair centers about the exposition feature, which will be staged in an enclosure fronting on Indiana avenue north of Sixth street. The city council has granted the committee the required permission for use of the streets in that section and has already given it all the licenses for the occasion; this will bar any other shows which might want to take advantage of the extensive publicity which is to be given the affair, and will insure none but the high class attractions which J. S. Berger, the producer-manager, will bring here under his own auspices.

These shows will be in the open air inside the exposition enclosure and will constitute one of its main features. They will not necessarily be the leading features, however, as it is hoped to have the merchants, jobbers and manufacturers of this city prepare exhibits which will in themselves be an attraction worth coming here to see.

The state convention of firemen will be in session here while the exposition is in progress and the fire-fighters will have an important part in the festivities. They will have a parade, one of several parades which will feature the exposition. It is hoped to have an industrial parade, a fraternal parade, an automobile parade, a military parade, and other pageants that will add to the brilliancy of the week.

To Decorate Streets

The streets downtown are to be decorated extensively for the exposition, and the lighting will be especially ornate. It is hoped to have the new downtown lights installed by that time, and if this can be done, the initial turning on of the illuminating system will be one of the auspicious events which the celebration will strive to commemorate. In connection with the plans for parades, it is proposed to offer large cash prizes for both organizations and individuals who prepare the most attractive parade displays.

The arrangements for advertising the affair are the most novel ever undertaken in this country. In addition to an extensive newspaper and bill-board publicity, arrangements have been made whereby an aeroplane will distribute literature in the surrounding country for a period of forty days preceding the opening of the exposition. Nothing of this kind was ever attempted before and it is expected to add very extensively to the thousands who will come for the attractions.

Reduced Railroad Rates

Further promise of a large attendance is given by the assurances of the railroad companies that reduced rates and excursions will be arranged for from points as far distant as 200 miles, nabbling people from all over north and west Texas and from a large part of Oklahoma to come to Wichita Falls at little cost and see what this city has to offer.

Efforts will be made to have every downtown business house illuminated and decorated for the exposition. The Chamber of Commerce committee which includes J. A. Kemp, C. W. Bean, M. J. Ardner, H. B. Hines, M. A. Marcus and F. H. Gohlke, is ready to start without further delay upon all the preparations and plans set forth above, as soon as the $10,000 is entirely raised. The committee will be at work tomorrow and is hopeful of completing the fund by tomorrow night.

BASEBALL BUNCH NOW AT WORK
PRACTICE STARTS FRIDAY WITH TWELVE MEN REPORTING FOR DUTY

OLD MEN ARE RETURNING

Phillips and Myers Here and Others Expected Soon—To Move to Lake Shortly.
Baseball practice began at the City Park Friday afternoon. Captain Morris having a squad of twelve recruits on deck for the opening work-out.
Preliminary practice is very light until the boys get limbered up somewhat and consists so far of easy batting practice, catching and other mild activities, the purpose being to get the winter kinks out of the boys' muscles before giving them anything strenuous.
Early this week a number of other players are expected to report for duty and a squad of twenty or more will probably be at work by the end of this week.
Phillips, who put up such a pretty game at second last season and who is expected to be one of 1913's infield mainstays, is here, as is Bobby Myers. Foley White is expected early this week and some other old-timers are due to show up before very long. For the present, the boys will hold forth at the City Park, but will be transferred to the lake grounds as soon as the squad gets of sufficient size.

LINE IS DRAWN AGAINST THOSE WHO ARE HABITUAL DRINKERS

SOBRIETY TO BE REQUIRED

Captain Morris Turns Down Applications From Players Who Can't Ride the Wagon
"Too much habits," said Captain Fred Morris of the Wichita Falls baseball team as he tossed a letter onto a growing pile of applications which he was setting to one side as not to be considered. The player, referred to, Captain Morris explained, had some promise, but was already addicted to the use of intoxicants and for this reason would not be given a try out with the local team.
"We are letting one of our best men go because of his habits," continued Morris, "and I have had instructions from the directors to sign no new players who are known to be habitual users of intoxicants. Drinking not only interferes with their playing but it is bad for discipline and we can't hope very strongly that a fellow who drinks will be called on to go in fast company."

MRS. SHERWOOD'S LECTURES PROVE OF MUCH INTEREST.

Little journeys into two of Europe's capitals, Paris and London, were taken Monday and Tuesday night at the Alamo Theatre by large gatherings of Wichitans, under the accomplished tutelage of Mrs. J. B. Sherwood of Chicago, who delivered two-illustrated lectures, the first upon Paris, the second upon London. The lectures would have been a treat by themselves, but amplified as they were by the faithful slides which accompanied them, their value was increased. Mrs. Sherwood displayed a familiarity born of intimate associations in these cities and it was as near a real journey to these cities of the old world as one could hope to take for many times fifteen cents, which was the price of admission. Not only did Mrs. Sherwood tell of London and Paris themselves, but she took her hearers to the homes of the poets of England, making the lectures a lesson in literature as well as geography. Mrs. Sherwood has the knack of adding very materially to the natural interest in the scenes she presents, by her forceful discussions of them, and both lectures were very greatly enjoyed.

TUESDAY PRISCILLA CLUB WITH MRS. W. P. BOLDING.

A very pleasant session of the Priscilla Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. P. Bolding. The usual needlework occupied the members while they were entertained by Mrs. Mark Moore, who told the story which is a feature of all club meetings. A salad course was served at the conclusion of the meeting, and Mrs. C. B. Felder was chosen as the next hostess. Those present were Mesdames A. R. Prothro, Cotton, Wade Walker, W. B. Shepherd, W. R. Ragland, Mark H. Moore, Fred. Harrington, Googer, Erwin, Nina Butler, C. B. Felder, W. E. Norton.

LITTLE LOUISE BACHMAN CELEBRATES FIFTH BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. W. H. Bachman entertained on the afternoon of Saturday March 1, in honor of her little daughter, Louise, whose fifth birthday it was. A large number of little ones gathered for the occasion, bringing their little hostess many beautiful gifts. Games were played until a late hour, when refreshments of chocolate and cake were served by Mrs. Bachman, assisted by Mrs. A. E. Rankin and Mrs. J. R. Bachman. The following were present: Misses Evelyn Hauerman, Theresa Montgomery, Maudie Webb, Louise Deaton, Juanita Bachman, Lona Bachman, Lillian Deaton, Aileen Anderson, Elsie Priebe, Mildred Lucy Bachman, Mary Virginia

ART LITERATURE OBSERVES TEXAS INDEPENDENCE DAY.

Observance of the anniversary of the declaration of Texas independence was the feature of Tuesday afternoon's session of the Art Literature Club, which gathered at the home of Mrs. Elmer Fligo. The roll call was answered with facts about the Alamo, and the program included a biography of Sam Houston by Miss Essie Seelinger, a history of Texas by Mrs. J. M. Blankenship and a description of the battle of San Jacinto by Mrs. E. M. Harris. Music by Mrs. Harris was very much enjoyed. A refreshment course of sherbet and cake was served by the hostess—Mrs. C. W. Bean will be the club's next hostess.

PRESBYTERIAN AID SOCIETY HAS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The members of the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church were guests Monday afternoon of Mrs. J. A. Richolt, for a social session. Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. T. W. Leacham, president; Mrs. J. A. Richolt, first vice president; Mrs. H. A. Waller, second vice president; Mrs. D. J. White, secretary; Mrs. L. M. Boyd, treasurer. About forty were in attendance. At the conclusion of the business session Mrs. Richolt served delightful refreshments.

"KISS WALTZ" BOX PARTY FOR ELKS MINSTREL GIRLS

A box party in honor of the young ladies who took part in the Elks' minstrel performance was given Monday night at the "Kiss Waltz" at the Majestic. The party occupied the lower boxes, palces being assigned by faintly place-cards bearing the names of the honorees. The girls all carried rose bouquets. The members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bessey, Misses Mabel Simpson, Eddie Carver, L. McGinley, Esther Gorsline, Kathryn Wilson, Vivian Mathis, Lillian Avis, Messrs. R. J. Marin, M. Blair, J. Griffin, John Thomas, Walker Hendricks, J. Bonner, J. Naylor.

WELL-ATTENDED MEETING OF AUSTIN SCHOOL MOTHERS HELD

The Austin School Mothers and Teachers Club met in regular session Thursday afternoon with good attendance, there being equally as many new faces as old ones. Mrs. T. H. Peery led the devotional exercises, reading from the sixth chapter of Luke and commenting upon it as applying to the members; Mrs. Lee led in the Lord's Prayer. The program was carried out in full, with the exception of the paper which was to have been read by Mrs. Ford. She asked that it be postponed to the next meeting on account of the lateness of the hour. The children who took part in the program performed their respective duties beautifully, and their performance was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Garth, by special request gave a vocal solo that was very greatly enjoyed. Among the subjects discussed at the meeting was that of child labor in Wichita Falls; another topic was compulsory education. Professor Niles and several members taking part. A committee was appointed to write to this district representatives in the Legislature and let them know how the members stand on this question.

The next meeting of the Club will be held in two weeks, on March 20. The campaign for new members is on; every member should find out which side she belongs and enter the contest in earnest.

MRS. T. H. PEERY, Press Reporter.

MCABEE-WALKUP WEDDING SOLEMNIZED WEDNESDAY.

Paul McAbee and Miss Lena Walkup were quietly married Wednesday evening at the residence of Rev. F. P. Walters, pastor of the Christian Church. The groom is a young building contractor, and the bride is a popular young lady, who has resided here for some time. They will make their home at 703 Lamar. The best wishes of a large number of friends are extended these estimable young people.

ALAMO HOME AND SCHOOL CLUB TO MEET TOMORROW.

A meeting of the Alamo Home and School Club will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:40. The program will include a vocal solo by Mrs. Barron, a talk by Mrs. J. A. Kemp and an address by Dr. J. W. Hill, who will discuss in particular the problem of keeping the boys off the streets. Exercises by the children will also be a feature of the meeting and an interesting time is expected.

NEW CENTURY CLUB MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. SMITH.

Mrs. R. C. Smith was hostess to Wednesday's session of the New Century Club, the subject for the afternoon being Mexico, with Mrs. J. W. Lee as leader. Mrs. C. B. Montgomery read an interesting paper on the life of Porfirio Diaz. An enjoyable musical number was a vocal solo by Mrs. Wade Walker. A simple refreshment course was served. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. W. J. Grisham, with Mrs. Whitney as leader.

NEW IDEA CLUB HAS MEETING ON WEDNESDAY.

The New Idea Club met at the home of Mrs. Homer W. Little, 1302 Eighth street on Wednesday afternoon and enjoyed a pleasant and social hour. Refreshments were served. Aside from a full attendance of members the visitors present were Mrs. L. Thornberry, Mrs. Keller and Mrs. Jukes. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. J. Simon, Tenth street next Wednesday afternoon.

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETING HELD MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The Civic League met in regular session Tuesday afternoon March 4 at the home of Mrs. A. H. Carrigan. A large number of ladies being present much enthusiasm was manifested in every branch of work that was taken up. The election of officers which is held in March was by vote postponed to the April meeting. A nominating committee was appointed to report on names of officers for the coming election. Mesdames Richolt and Beavers reported having met with the Chamber of Commerce, requesting their co-operation in bringing Mr. Keller the civic architect to our city for the purpose of giving us plans for a city beautiful. Mr. O'Reilly reported having had a personal conference with Mr. Kessler and that gentleman stated he would take pleasure in making a friendly visit to Wichita Falls, look over the situation and be ready to tell us what to do. The committee on more sanitary and beautiful premises also met with success in their request to the Chamber of Commerce as will be seen by the prizes offered by that body through the columns of The Times. The League hurriedly adjourned on account of some of the members wishing to attend Mrs. Sherwood's meeting with the Unity Club at the home of Mrs. Kemp.

CEMETERY ASSOCIATION TO MEET TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

A meeting of the Cemetery Association is called for Tuesday, March 11 at 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. S. H. Burnside. There will be the election of officers and all members are requested to attend.

ENGLISH BOYS TO STUDY IN STATES

PLANS FOR NEW FORM OF SCHOLARSHIP ARE TAKING FORM

OTHER NEWS FROM LONDON

Canine Aristocracy is Absorbing Top-ic in London—Dogs Prove Their Own Worth

By Associated Press. London, March 8.—A plan for a system of imperial scholarships, to serve as the converse of the Rhodes scholars' foundation, is expected to take shape here in a short time. In addition to the self governing dominions of Great Britain, it is believed the United States will be brought into the plan, which will be supported at first by private philanthropy. Later, attempts will be made to interest the various governments concerned, with the idea of making the plan part of their public school systems.

Some time ago several wealthy men of the United States were approached in behalf of this plan. They promised substantial aid, and the campaign here has progressed so far that the committee in charge of the movement will soon announce the details of the scheme.

It is recognized that English public school boys suffer from a form of insularity, which only study abroad can cure, and that such foreign instruction must come if England expects to remain an empire. The plan, as tentatively formed, contemplates a system of traveling scholarships open to English boys for study in American, Canadian and Australasian institutions.

Aristocratic Canines.

Dogs of high degree, the aristocrats of the canine world of Great Britain, are competing this week in large numbers for the yearly allotment of blue ribbons, but the most popular, the most admired, and the most petted animals at the Dog Show at Agricultural Hall are a group of sixteen dogs without lineage each of which has saved a human life. The aristocrats who have nothing but ancestry and form to commend them to the dog loving public are passed by for the "mongrels" who have proved their worth.

Under the ordinary rules practically all of these sixteen hero dogs would have been excluded from the company of the 4,000 high bred animals which occupy the benches of the show for with two or three exceptions the heroes boast no pedigree and must be described as just plain dogs. The advocates of eugenics and the Mendelian theory have been rather subdued in the presence of these mongrel life savers which have received more attention from visitors than the pampered champions. Rover, apparently a cross between an Irish terrier and a sheep dog, was a great favorite. For it was stated that during a heavy gale he had rushed into the water off Straw Island, caught a drowning man by the clothes and dragged him ashore. He belongs to the keeper of the Straw Island light, where he is counted an extremely valuable assistant. The most aristocratic dog of the lot is Duke, a collie, said to have saved the life of a child by snatching it from under the feet of a dray horse.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

The baseball team at the high school is now organized for the season and practice has been started. The season will open next Friday, when the boys will go to Nocona to meet the school nine of that place. On the following Friday it is probable that a game will be played at Henrietta. Lynn Smith is captain of the team and Karl Hammond is manager. The team promises to be a strong one and the boys expect to be able to clean up with all the neighboring towns. It is probable that a number of games will be arranged in this city.

CITY COUNCIL ADOPTS STREET LIGHTING PLANS

WILL LIGHT ENTIRE CITY

PLAN ADOPTED PROVIDES FOR 905 LAMP POSTS / ND 150 HUNDRED WATT LAMPS

CONTRACT FOR THE JUICE

Ten Year Contract With Light Company Agreed Upon at $4200 Per Annum

Lighting plans for the city were finally adopted and a contract with the Wichita Falls Light Company agreed upon at an adjourned meeting of the city council Friday evening. A formal contract with the light company is now being drafted and will be signed by the proper officials. The plan adopted by council includes 150 fifty watt lamps throughout the residence districts and 90 posts each bearing five ornamental lamps in the business district. These lamps and posts will be similar to that at the City National Bank corner. The lamps in the residence district will be like that now installed in front of the city hall. The four lower lamps on the posts in the business district will be fifty watt capacity and the top lamp 100 watt. The top lamp will burn all night and the four lower lamps until ten o'clock every night except Saturday night when they will be burned until midnight. The lights in the residence district are to be burned all night every night in the year. The city will furnish the fixtures and maintain the lights on the 90 posts in the business district, while the light company will install and maintain the lights in the residence districts. The plans adopted contemplate the installation of 710 lamps in all for which the city is to pay the light company $4,200 per annum for current, and for maintenance of the lights which they have agreed to maintain. The contract covers a period of ten years and additional lights that may be desired by the city are to be furnished at a proportional charge. It is believed that the ornamental lights can be maintained at a low cost and the action of the light company agreeing to install and maintain the lights in the residence districts has enabled council to solve the lighting problem very satisfactorily. The terms are believed to be most reasonable. The light committee will now ask for proposals for furnishing the fixtures for the downtown lights. J. T. Young, chairman of the committee will go to Dallas this week to confer with representatives of the companies supplying electrical fixtures. Work of installing the lights will start within the next few weeks. The distribution of the 90 posts in the downtown district has not yet been definitely determined.

KENNEDY-JONES OPENING FRIDAY

HANDSOME NEW DRY GOODS STORE BEGINS BUSINESS IN THIS CITY

LARGE CROWDS PRESENT

Establishment is Attractive One, and is Stocked and Furnished Along Up-to-Date Lines

An event of more than passing interest was the formal opening on Friday afternoon and evening of the store of the Kennedy-Jones Company at the corner of Seventh and Indiana. A crowd that numbered well into the thousands visited the establishment during the day and "got acquainted" with the new concern. No goods were sold until yesterday morning.

The interior and exterior of the store are both attractive, the general appearance being inviting and pleasing. The outside is a pretty red, making the building a conspicuous one; this decoration was by Heath of this city. Green is the dominating color inside. Convenience of arrangement for both employes and customers is to be noted inside. The show cases are low and handy, so that ladders will scarcely be needed at all. All the furnishings are new and modern and combine to give the store a very up to date appearance. The new store is managed by R. D. Kennedy, who has resided here for some time and L. E. Jones, formerly of Bridgeport; the personnel of the firm is sufficient evidence of its stability. A large crowd was present Friday afternoon to witness the opening and many were the admiring remarks to be heard. Katz orchestra dispensed music throughout the afternoon and evening and those who called received dainty framed pictures as souvenirs of the occasion.

TO REORGANIZE TRADES COUNCIL

MASS MEETING OF LOCAL UNION MEN HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

MR. CUNNINGHAM SPEAKS

President of State Federation Delivers Address—Working Committee is Appointed

A large number of local union men attended a mass meeting at the court house Friday night to hear the address of President Edward Cunningham of the State Federation of Labor and to take steps toward the organization of a permanent trades council here. Mr. Cunningham spoke for about an hour, telling in an interesting manner of the work of the State Federation and of the benefits to be derived from a central labor body here. At the conclusion of his remarks brief talks were made by J. J. Deberry, F. Scott and J. J. Manley. A committee was appointed to take up with the unions not represented at the meeting, the matter of organizing the trades council, and they are very hopeful of being able to perfect the organization.

Mr. Cunningham left yesterday for his home at Bridgeport.

PROSPECTIVE MERCHANT BUSINESS VISITOR HERE.

Bue Millsap of Weatherford, who, with Hugh McGratton of that place, will soon open a new dry goods store on Ohio avenue, is in the city making arrangements for the new concern. The building will be ready by March 25, Mr. Millsap hopes, and he already had part of his stock here, ready to install as soon as the building is sufficiently completed. Both the members of the firm are now in business at Weatherford, where they have the reputation of being up to date and progressive business men. Both look forward with pleasurable anticipation to beginning business here.

BUGSCUFFLE BUDGET

Editor Daily Times:
 We are having some excitement at Bugscuffle just now. I told you in a former letter, that we contemplated the organization of a private bank here. Well, the expected has happened. The organization took place in the office of Col. Jim Jawsmith last week. Several Wichita Falls people went into the corporation, prominent among them were Judge Huff of the First National Bank of your city, Mr. Bradley, one of your leading furniture men, Mr. P. P. Langford of the City National Bank, our county attorney, Mr. T. R. Boone, Mr. M. P. Kelley, the lawyer-shoe man, Mr. R. D. Kennedy of the Jones & Kennedy dry goods store, Mr. J. C. Hunt and a number of others. The local stockholders are Squire Yukes, Dutch Bunker, Old Man Seets, Sid Wackles, William Wunk, Gabe Ponder, Bernard Butes, Tray Sakes, and Col. Jim Jawsmith. The following are the officers: Sid Wackles, president; Bernard Butes, vice president; Squire Yukes, cashier; Josh Baggs Jr., assistant cashier; Col. Jim Jawsmith, attorney. The bank at present will do business in the back room of Squire Yukes' store, but later on there will be a special building erected for it. The capital stock subscribed at the organization amounted to $1500.

I told you about Lem Jawsmith buying the Weekly Bug from Tray Sakes—the latter having been selected by the community as their postmaster under the new administration. Lem is a very smart young fellow, but has never had much experience as a writer and none at all as an editor. The result is that he has been laying himself liable to prosecution under the libel law since he took charge of the paper; and were he not the nephew of Col. Jim, he would have been into it up to his neck—even yet over a paragraph which appeared in the Bug last week. In his report of a "tea" given at the home of Mrs. Wunk he spoke of Mrs. Von Bungs—nee Tilby Tut—as a successful adventuress, who as a husband hunter, had used school teaching as a blind. He stirred up the Ponder family by referring to Mrs. Ponder's cross eyes as "so badly mixed up that if she were to look down a lightning rod it would twist them out of her head." He also said that "when she wept the tears ran down her back." If Old Man Seets were not one of the best men in the world, Lem would have started something with him, with the following paragraph: "Talking about public interests, the best thing this community could do would be to hog tie Old Man Seets and cut his hair and trim his beard, give him a bath and put a clean shirt on him."

As soon as the paper was delivered which contained those things, Col. Jim went over to his nephew's office and balled him out. He then went around to each of the offended parties and fixed the matter up with them. It was mighty hard to satisfy Miss Tilby. That Old Man Seets did need washing and shaving, and that Old Mrs. Ponder's eyes were terribly crossed could not be denied; but that Miss Tilby had sought the position as a teacher in Bugscuffle in order to capture Prof. Von Bungs, was an open question. The Professor was mad about it, too; but as Col. Jim is a great favorite with everybody and has always been a good friend to the Professor, it was finally agreed to let the matter drop. Your correspondent interviewed several of the citizens about it, and while all of them seemed sorry that the matter had been mooted, everyone burst out laughing when it was mentioned. Lem looked a little sheepish last Sunday morning at church—especially when Old Bro. Bugle in his sermon remarked that it was one of the first principles of gentility to overlook and ignore natural defects and minor tunes. I saw Col. Jim watching Lem. Col. Jim is not only a great man but a good man. He is heart and soul for the best interests of the people of the people of Bugscuffle and deplores anything that would cause a division among them, except in a matter where principle is involved. In that case, when it comes to a matter of right and wrong, he would stand up for the right if every man, woman and child in town were against him. For instance, not long ago a ramshackled sort of a rounder came to Bugscuffle prospecting for a pool hall; and there were a few who seemed willing for the thing to be opened up, but Col. Jim took the streets against it and finally called a mass meeting in which he went after the whole business with tooth and nail. He declared that as the people had voted out liquor and closed their only saloon as a loafing place for bums and rounders, he thought the same principle would hold good in this matter. Throwing his head back and stretching out his arm as is his habit, he threw his eye down on Old Bro. Bugle and cried out: "If you sir, should open up the basement of your church for a loafing center, I would oppose you. There are just two ways to live in this world; one is to work and the other is to steal. Anything which fails to produce something necessary for the community is not an economic element; it does not build up; it tears down. A citizen, we can not stand for any thing that ministers either to idleness or dissipation." Then turning to Squire Yukes, he asked in a loud voice: "If you wanted to get a reliable clerk to work in your store, would you seek a young man who attends pool balls and saloons? If a young man should apply for a position in our new bank, is there a single director who would be willing to employ him if he were known to be of that crowd? No, sir! Many of our towns are full of that kind of trash; and yet business men will tell you everywhere that they are short on help. The world is looking for men who know how to do things and who can be depended upon. Such men can always find employment. They are sought after. Not long ago a great corporation advertised for a man who could draw a salary of $10,000 a year. You remember that Mr. J. P. Morgan said the other day that 'the basis of business was character;' and that he had given his check for a million dollars to a man who didn't have a cent, but who had character. Do you suppose he would have given twenty-five cents to a saloon or pool hall rounder? No, sir! Nobody will do it. The railroads don't want such people; the banks don't want them; the stores don't want them; nobody wants them."

When Col. Jim took his seat the crowd cheered; and when the vote was put, as to whether or not the fellow should be allowed to open his pool hall, there was only one vote in favor of it—Sime Stiggins.

Col. Jim and Squire Yukes are now agitating the question of voting bonds on the precinct for building a new school house, and if the thing carries I'll tell you about it in my next letter; and I think it will carry, for not only are Col. Jim, Squire Yukes and the leading men here in favor of it, but the good women—especially the Mother's Club—have got in behind it; and when the best women of a community get together and push anything that is sanctioned by law, it is generally a go.

Everybody out here is now getting ready for Easter. The choir is having nightly meetings at the church and Prof. Howler—our new music teacher—says that the Easter services at Wichita Falls—especially the singing part, when compared with ours will sound like about thirty cents. Prof. Howler is not only a great singer, but plays on all kinds of instruments. He can make his old cornet talk. Col. Jim Jawsmith remarked the other day, at a reception given by Dr. Pellet in honor of a visiting physician from Dallas, Dr. Sawbones, that "Bugscuffle could boast not only of the best people, the prettiest women, the finest school and the most eloquent preacher (looking at Old Bro. Bugle) but the most topological and tempestuous tooter that ever blew a brass horn." This greatly pleased Prof. Howler; and when the cheering had ceased which followed, Col. Jim's speech, the Professor rose and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, it occurs to me that we should add to the list of Col. Jim's summing up of Bugscuffle bounties, that we have also the most learned and eloquent jurist to be found anywhere since the days of Calhoun and Webster, in the person of Col. Jim Jawsmith."

These remarks set the people wild; for whenever there is a compliment paid Col. Jim, Squire Yukes, Dr. Pellet or Bro. Bugle, everybody seems called upon to scream themselves hoarse.

The Weekly Bug is all home print now. The patent inside is a thing of the past. Lem Jawsmith says he is going to make the Dallas News, the Wichita Daily Times and the Searchlight hard to catch. He invites contributions on all live subjects, and has a "Department of Poetry," in which as Col. Jim says, "The Muses may express what the common people cannot." The following poem appeared this week:

Just so—
 The rose and the thorn grow together
 The bee with its sweet has its sting;
 There are any and all kinds of weather,
 For the year is not all like the spring.
 And man, like the rest of Creation,
 Is a bundle of bitters and sweet—
 Joy, sorrow, grief, consolation—
 The changes are many and fleet.
 The spring cannot hold on forever;
 'T must pass, ere the harvest appear.

MR. RENTER

Here is an opportunity offered you that you cannot afford to overlook. The secret of getting a start in life is to own your home and have something to look forward to. It may mean a little hard work in saving but only by assuming an obligation will one attempt to save. If you pay rent all your life your bunch of rent receipts will astonish you in amount of money paid out and with a little extra effort you can own a home. The man who owns his home increases his influence and standing in a community. Many people make the mistake by overloading themselves with high priced property but in this case you are getting a property worth every dollar and a modest price and at terms that you can reach without risk. In this manner the future will take care of itself and pave the way to secure a better home.

Make rent money work for you instead of working for rent money.

ABOUT THE HOUSES, TERMS, ETC.

The group of houses offered for sale were built under one contract and at a cost that cannot be duplicated by an individual. The houses were constructed out of first class material and each house has a concrete foundation, which in itself adds to the cost of the house besides being of immense value in permanency and warmth in winter. All flues were built from the ground up. Several of the houses have fire places and each house is piped for gas, wired for electric lights, have city water and sanitary closets connected with sewerage system. The houses are in first class repair and practically new. Numbers 500 and 503 Burnett are five room houses and the remaining are four room houses. All have bath rooms but no fixtures.

As an evidence of their desirability the houses have always rented to a good class of citizens even when there were many vacant houses for rent in the city. A good number of tenants have lived continuously in them for the past two years and several of them for three years. The close proximity to the business district, the saving of car fare, the well drained ground, continuous sidewalk to town and the location of a first-class, two-story brick school house within two blocks of the houses are assets to be considered in buying a home. The present tenants will be given preference in the purchase of these houses. They have never been offered for sale until now.

The terms will vary from one-third cash and annual payments to a small cash payment and balance in monthly installments that can be reached by the average wage earner. Payments can be arranged to come due monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually based on amount of cash payment. There will be no difficulty in arranging terms to suit and it will pay the homeseeker to call on us, see the property and get our terms.

Why pay rent when you can own your home with rent money and a little effort in saving

First house to left is 409 Burnett, next two 411 and 413. Looking north on Burnett.

MOTOR TALK

Showing visitors through the factory is a pleasure for the up to date manufacturer who is anxious to put his product on an advanced footing with the public; the visit to the factory not only affords the manufacturer an opportunity of winning the callers esteem through courteous treatment but it presents an occasion for impressing the sight-seer with the solidity, thoroughness and reliability of the company, and hence the desirability and safety in owning its product. Many factories extend a perpetual invitation to interested and uninterested persons to inspect the plant.

The Chalmers Motor Company of Detroit, Mich., however, has gone this personal visit one better, as is evidenced by this company's metropolitan distributor, Carl H. Page & Co., of Broadway and West 50th street, New York City. As Page cannot take New York to the factory, he has brought a fairly good substitute and is daily educating Broadway in the workings of the big Chalmers plant.

The plant, although it occupies several acres in the "Automobile Capital," is in New York contained in one of Page's show windows and he is getting value received for the money invested in window space. The factory in the window is nothing more nor less than a large paper mache picture in relief, showing the entire factory, detached structures and all, just as it is seen by a bird flying over the establishment. The windows are translucent and the throwing of an electric switch in the background gives an excellent imitation of the factory as it appears when the night force is at work. From the street the picture is seen in attractive perspective and of itself is sufficient to win attention.

But the scheme does not end here—in fact, the picture may be said to be a minor part of the plan. Between the picture and the window is an upright standard carrying a book of photographs taken in the factory, the separate pictures being mounted on linen and capable of being let fall over the top and at the back of the standard, just as maps are handled in school rooms. On the floor near the window are a quantity of automobile parts. The remaining figures in the scene are a pointer and a man.

The man is the teacher in the public school. Turning the leaves of the book to a photograph of the paint shop, for instance, he points to the explanation, printed on the photograph in letters large enough to be read from the sidewalk, indicates the operations described and then, with the pointer, touches the relief picture of the paint shop at the rear of the factory premises. The next photograph may be that of a man drilling a connecting rod big end. The explanation is indicated, the teacher pushes his pointer through the hole in a real connecting rod he has picked up from the floor and holds the part up to the photograph as nearly as possible in the same position as the rod is held by the mechanic in the picture. Next may be a man turning a camshaft of a crankshaft, and similar procedure is followed. The demonstration serves to dispel much of the mystery that shrouds the making of an automobile with a large part of the public; many operations are unfamiliar even to the owners of cars.

The big relief production of the factory is sufficient to attract attention; but when the man is on the scene, mystically operating his pointer, spectators are never lacking. "The show window is close to the 50th street downtown station of the subway, and hundreds of people pass the corner every day.

"Motorists in the South American republics are going after good roads with a zeal that promises to make their highways among the finest in the world," says Hon. H. E. Fletcher, United States minister to Chile, who recently purchased a Chalmers Thirty-six five passenger touring car.

"As a rule, the highways in Chile have excellent natural foundations, in many localities the roadbeds being solid rock. Until the advent of the motor car there, however, little attention was paid toward the upkeep of the roads and frequently they were so littered with small boulders and sand as to make travel by automobile an expensive, unpleasant and somewhat hazardous undertaking.

"Now the motor enthusiasts are organizing and are pushing the good roads movement with great result. In Santiago, Chile, the members of the American colony are active in the work of improvement."

"A two hour trip through a big automobile factory is of more practical benefit to a high school student than half a dozen class room lectures," declared Prof. J. L. Holtzclaw, a widely known preparatory school educator, of the Cass Technical High School of Detroit, after he had piloted a class of twenty-five high rank students through the Chalmers plant one day last week.

"Here the boys learn the great principle of system, both in the offices and in the factory proper," said Prof. Holtzclaw. "They get a working idea of the value of time, economy, efficiency and the importance of detail. They might have those things pounded into their heads, day after day in the class room and still not get any practical value from it. Since the automobile industry is one of great competition, the successful manufacturer must be right up to the

NEBRASKA PREACHER ADDS MATRIMONIAL DEPARTMENT TO CHURCH; IT WORKS FINE

Omaha, Neb., March 8.—The Rev. Charles Savidge, who some time ago added a "marrying department" to his church, is delighted with the progress he has made thus far. In fact, he has received so many applications for husbands and wives that he has been forced to hire a secretary and an assistant and to open an office in one of the big downtown buildings. Business is brisk. Everybody is happy.

The Rev. Mr. Savidge, it will be recalled, was the original of the many "marrying parsons" of the country, the title having been bestowed upon him by the newspapers some years ago when he joined his 2,500th couple in wedlock. That he is still one of the closest co-workers with Cupid may be gleaned from a perusal of his lists. Here are a few samples of "headliners."

Your Affinity Here?
"No. 1.—Rich widow. Southern city. Beautiful home. Travelled extensively in America and Europe. Wishes to correspond with Christian gentleman.

"No. 2.—Widower. Forty-seven years old. One son, thirteen years of age. Good home. No bad habits. Not rich, permanent employment. Has held present position eleven years. Salary $20 weekly. Some money in bank. Lives in Nebraska.

"No. 3.—Farmer. Twenty-eight years. Never married. Iowa. Eighty-acre farm. Fine horses. Two houses. Will furnish as bride desires. Has money in bank.

"No. 4.—Man thirty-five. Never married. Would marry widow with children. Not rich, but can give good home.

"No. 5.—Two young ladies, sisters, twenty and twenty-two. Making own way in world. Clerical work. Have knowledge of music. From nice but not wealthy home. Live with parents in Western city. Both good looking and jolly.

minute all the time. For that reason I brought my class to the Chalmers factory for a bit of practical instruction."

The newest illustration of the versatility of the motor car comes from San Francisco. Racing machines have been known to imitate aeroplanes for short distances, and farmers have used their cars to pump water for the stock and to clear the roads of snow. Now the automobile takes the place of a boat.

C. A. Penfield and Charles B. Dunham, San Francisco business men, drove to Los Banos during a recent cold snap to shoot ducks. When they arrived on the grounds they found the ponds and swamps frozen over, rendering their boats useless.

Determined not to lose out on the day's sport, the nimble, in a spirit of chance, piloted their Chalmers car out over the ice. In places it was dangerously thin and threatened to give way under the weight of the car but by exercising caution and picking their route carefully the hunters avoided any mishap. They managed to get around with no more noise than they would have made had they been in a duck boat. When they left the ponds in the evening they had a full bag as a reward for their originality and persistence.

That the motor car has possibilities of a no less strong sentimental appeal than the famous carriages of the past, is proved by a recent experiment made by Harold F. McCormick, son-in-law of John D. Rockefeller.

Mr. McCormick was the possessor of a horse drawn brougham of rare design and fine workmanship. This brougham, built by one of the famous carriage builders of the country, was a favorite with Mr. McCormick, and though he is ardently devoted to the motor car, he did not desire to part with this notable example of the carriage builder's art.

Mr. McCormick has accordingly taken the body of his horse drawn brougham to one of the prominent body builders of Chicago, who have mounted it on the chassis of a Chalmers Thirty-six. It is the consensus of opinion of Chicago motorists that "No. 6.—Nice lady. Forty years old. Experience in life such as to make her long for a home and is well worthy of one. Tall. Dark. Very intelligent. Good conversationalist. No money."

Rev. Savidge has evolved what he regards as an almost perfect system. A young man, wishing to get married, writes in describing the sort of wife he would like to have. The minister then goes over his lists and picks a half dozen prospects in the young man's community answering nearest to the description given. These names he sends to the matrimonially inclined young man. The minister makes it clear, however, that he does not guarantee the character of any of his prospects. He tells each applicant to be sure and look into this point before he takes any steps that will be beyond recalling.

Not Doing Their Duty.
"The young men of this country are not doing their duty," says the minister, "and a whole lot of young women are not doing theirs either. But I am sure there are hundreds and thousands who would be glad to get married if they knew just where to look. The present strenuous life of the city man or woman is not conducive to marriage. I'm going to put a stop to that condition so far as it is in my power to do so."

"Get these people together. Here's a girl in a town who would like to marry, but she has not been asked. And here's a man in a city who would like to meet that girl, but he don't know where to look for her."

"It's the greatest tragedy of this age—this single life men and women are leading."

When Dr. Savidge started in the work of "matching mates" it took only a small part of his time. Success crowned his efforts, however, and that accounts for his taking a downtown office and bring an assistant and a secretary.

The McCormick brougham is one of the Frenchiest and most stylish cars seen on the Chicago boulevards.

Mr. McCormick has neglected none of the details. As the car is regularly seen on the streets, there are always two liveried men up in front, the driver and the footman. The chassis has been repainted in the cool scheme of the brougham body and the liveries of the attendants are also in harmony.

Six cars for use by one company in Brazil, is the unusual order received recently by the Chalmers Motor Company. The shipment consists of six Chalmers Thirty-six roadsters for the Sao Paulo Tramway, Light and Power Company. This Brazilian concern is a subsidiary company of the Pearson Engineering Company, an English engineering firm which ranks as one of the world's largest. The Pearson Engineering Company has done notable work in the United States, probably their best known project being the famous Long Island tunnels. The same firm has extensive operations in South America. It is a singular compliment to the Detroit company that six of its cars should have been selected by such a firm for its most important Brazilian project.

This particular order is no doubt the result of the showing of Chalmers cars in Brazil. Rio Janeiro has long been one of the strongest export markets for Chalmers cars.

Trenton—A modern cotton oil mill is being erected here, and will be ready for operation by the first of the cotton season.

Q. A. & P. Extension Plans.
D. E. Decker returned home from the plains last week. He had been assisting the Plainview people in getting their bonus up in a tangible form. Besides Plainview the little town of Oton is offering big inducements for the Q. A. & P. to go out of their way and strike Plainview and Oton. While the former is offering a bonus of $100,000 the latter is adding $75,000 thereto, which is going to make it hard for Lubbock and Crosbyton to equal it. The latter have offered the old Kennedy grade connecting their towns to Mr. Lazarus.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Tillman County Wheat.
The large acreage of wheat in this section is certainly very promising, as the last rain added it strength and if nothing unforeseen happens to destroy it, wheat growers in this section will be head over in prosperity. Last year Davidson skinned off all in its wheat shipments and all old timers agree that the outlook for a bumper wheat crop is as good as ever before and the acreage being so great this year a good yield means millions of dollars to this country.—Davidson News.

Install New I. O. O. F. Lodge.
Iowa Park I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 394 went to Electra on last Saturday noon, where they organized a new I. O. O. F. lodge in that city. Work in the lodge began about four o'clock and after the officers were elected, the following charter members were given the work: E. W. Napier, G. E. Avens, Roy Carroll, D. Walker, T. D. Walker, Jr., C. O. Grove and J. Smith. Those who went from here say the work was out in excellent style by the following degree team: A. L. Brubaker, J. C. Ralston, Aaron Brubaker, H. C. Zink, Jim Atchley and Robert Brubaker. Members from the Iowa Park lodge who went along to see the work put on were John Givens, Ben Hardaway, C. Parker, W. C. Hardaway, B. A. Freeman, Tom Cobb, George Wells, B. F. Gabbert and Will Detlefs.—Iowa Park Herald.

May Raise Cattle Quarantine.
Twenty delegates of the Tillman County Breeders' association met in Frederick Monday with the county commissioners for the purpose of taking up the matter of raising the cattle tick quarantine, federal interstate, from Tillman county below the base line, or south of Hunter township. Hunter township has already been cleaned up and is no longer under quarantine, but the balance of Tillman county is under quarantine. All cattle sent to Oklahoma City from the quarantined district must go into the quarantine section in the stockyards and from there direct to the slaughter pens. On that account these cattle are worth less than they otherwise would be, in amounts ranging from $1.50 per head up.—Frederick Leader.

Little Girl Fatally Burned.
The two year old daughter of Mr and Mrs. W. F. Leonard, residing four miles northwest of Tipton, was fatally burnt Saturday afternoon. At 1 o'clock that afternoon Mr. Leonard started from his home to that of his father, T. L. Leonard, a short distance away. As he went he set fire to some grass burs along the path, for getting at the time that this was the path that the baby often took alone in going to see her grandmother. The child followed her father and her dress took fire from the burning weeds. Her father saw her, almost enveloped in flames and ran to her rescue, but he had about 100 yards to cover before he could reach her side and when he got to her the flames were curling about her head. She was burnt in a fearful manner and died at five o'clock the same afternoon.—Frederick Leader.

Maize Near Iowa Park.
Will Detlefs thrashed into maize for W. R. Davis Tuesday. From two acres of the maze he thrashed 14 bushels, an average of 73 bushels to the acre. This is certainly a fine report. It is said that 10 bushels of maize equals nine bushels of corn, and since corn has proved such a failure in this community the past few years why not raise more maize. A number of farmers raised it last year and considered it very fine feed.—Iowa Park Herald.

Revival At Frederick.
With a record of about 200 professions and reclamations to its credit, the revival meeting which has been in progress at the First Methodist and First Baptist churches for the past three weeks came to a close Sunday night. While Evangelists McIntosh and Phillips, who conducted the revival, were engaged by the First Methodist church, a large number of the meetings were held in the First Baptist church, and the two congregations co-operated in making the gospel campaign a success. The closing meeting was held at the First Baptist church and one of the features of it was the immersion of 12 new members by Rev. Jennings, pastor of the Baptist church.—Frederick Leader.

Monday Business Men Organize.
A few of the progressive citizens of the town met last Monday night in the Odd Fellows' Hall in response to a call made at a previous date and perfected plans for a permanent commercial organization. R. S. Ragsdale was elected chairman of the body and H. A. Pendleton was elected secretary. A committee was appointed on membership and also to make arrangements for a permanent meeting place. A call was issued for the body to meet at the above place Monday night, March 17th, to make reports and attend to such other business as may come before the meeting.—Monday Times.

Graham Court Nearly Idle.
District court opened last Monday, and there being very little on the docket, Judge Martin and District Attorney Edgar Scurry are having a little vacation so to speak. The grand jury was empaneled Monday afternoon.—Graham Reporter.

Oklahoma Improvements.
John Brownlee of the King Bank & Mercantile Company was in the city yesterday and informed us that the brick is now being placed on the ground for three brick buildings at Oklahoma, one for the bank and one each for the dry goods and grocery departments. This improvement is being done by Mr. Brownlee and R. P. Webb of Wichita Falls, who took over the business on January 1st of this year. Work will commence in the next few days and the management hopes to occupy the new building by June 1st. Mr. Brownlee tells us that he will elave for market in a few days to make purchases for the dry goods department.—Vernon Record.

Cotton Deal At Vernon.
Rev. J. C. Clement and two sons, Edgar and Travis, placed on the local market the first of this week eighty-seven bales of their 1912 cotton crop, and received in return a check amounting to $5589.45. This was the remainder of a very large crop which was produced on the Clement farm northeast of town the past season, and serves as a slight indication of the money that can be made from farming in Wilbarger county.—Vernon Record.

Many Wichita Falls people rely on it.
R. F. Redin, Avenue A, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "My back bothered me for two or three years, and the spells often came on without warning. I was so lame across the small of my back that I could hardly bend. My kidneys became disordered and the kidney secretions were too frequent in passing, causing me annoyance. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me and I have not felt a sign of the trouble since. We always use Doan's Kidney Pills when we need a kidney medicine and we know that they will act quickly in bringing relief. You are at liberty to continue publishing my former testimonial."

Osteopathy.
What can the osteopath do if one is sick?
First, he can tell what is the matter with you and explain it so you will know, yourself; second, he will give a specific treatment for your trouble just as the man who repairs an automobile, seeks out the part at fault and adjusts it. So does the osteopath locate the congested area or the pressure on some nervous center and adjust it to its normal condition then health follows.

Osteopathy conflicts with no law but is the correct interpretation of nature itself. The osteopathic physician is rounded out and perfected by education and experience as he should be (the standard to which we all endeavor to attain), brings to the bedside the product of the cumulative wisdom of all the ages. His slogan being mechanically correct and all in correct. Dentistry and surgery have the above every day. The osteopath teaches that if you would enjoy good health, you must blend in your life proper environment, diet, habits, avocation, etc., and this leads them to an elevated plane of health and teaches them to be masters of their own bodies. If interested consult an osteopath.

Sashes and Girdles For Spring Wear Are Features

New York, March 8.—Never has a coming season offered greater opportunity for dainty and attractive dresses at small cost. New voiles, dimities and crepes, which come in plain and floral effects may be developed into most pleasing frocks at the minimum of expense. The materials may be had in a great variety of colored grounds ranging from white through the pastel shades to the deeper tones of brown and blue. The motif may be a simple leaf, a spray, a tiny bud or blossom or a large or small conventional design. All are equally smart, and very attractive. With these sheer, summer frocks the sash is the thing. The body is swathed about like an Italian bambino.

A girdless dress will be unknown among frocks this spring and summer. All the art of the manufacturer must have been spent on producing the beautiful ribbons from which girdles may be developed. These range from simple spray motifs to the gorgeous floral designs in raised velvet and plush or Bulgarian coloring on silk and satin foundations; ribbons of heavy corded silk with picot edge, moire ribbons and plain faced unadorned ribbons are all equally stylish. But the development of sashes, girdles, and belts will not be confined to ribbons alone. Messaline, crepe de chine, chiffon and pannel velvet will also be used extensively.

The enveloping girdle, when the skirt is of soft material, as messaline or crepe, is of similar fabric. It is about nine inches wide and from four to five yards long. Carried well over the bust to the back—it is brought together with snap fasteners, then crossed and wound loosely about the figure to a lowered waistline where it is carelessly knotted, the ends falling to the hem of the skirt.

Very effective is the frock of the first illustration developed in navy blue cotton crepe. The vest and collar are of sulphur colored messaline. The dress has the fashionable, swathed girdle of sulphur colored messaline brocade brought high over the waist, crossed in the rear and carried forward to a dropped waistline where it is tied loosely, the ends falling almost to the hem of the skirt.

The chemise of Milan lace, and the lapels and cuffs of the same material as the vest. The skirt has drapery on either side the back panel and slight fullness at the back waist. The lines about the front of the skirt are slender. Very attractive for the frock of diaphanous fabric is the present fashion of running ribbon similar to that of the girdle on the petticoat or silk foundation. It may extend all the way round or across one side terminating in a tailored bow. Just a suggestion of the color showing through is both smart and pleasing. Other attractive undergarments subject to much artistic trimming for wear with transparent materials are the dainty, new corset covers. The foundation is of any preferred shade of thin silk, the outside of chiffon or net in a shade of pink, blue, white or flesh color. Two deep hemstitched tucks extend across the bust. These are surmounted by a wreath of rosebuds, in various pastel tones with green ribbon stems. If preferred, a wide ribbon may be twisted between the foundation and the chiffon. A large tailored bow of ribbon, concealing in its loops small sachets, makes an effective finish at the front closing.

The cover is held in place by shoulder straps of chiffon, ribbon or lace.

For spring wear women want suits as well as gowns. Prominent among new coat styles is the Tuxedo. It is constructed on the lines of a man's dinner coat, hence its name. With a tailored skirt of similar or contrasting material it forms a handsome suit designated as the Tuxedo woman's walking suit. Very attractive is the skirt developed in black and white wool with coat of woolen material in either black or white; the collar may be of a contrasting shade or of similar material to that of the skirt. A skirt of blue and white striped French flannel and coat of fine blue serge with collar of striped flannel is also effective. The Tuxedo suit will remain smart for the spring and summer seasons.

As a general rule, woman refuses to borrow a style outright from man's apparel unless she finds it readily adaptable to her own needs. The attempt to introduce the divided skirt met with so little response that the designer was obliged to forego the idea. His models have been received half heartedly by American women ever since. A few extremists indifferent to popular opinion, adopted the garment. But women generally have minds of their own, into to be veered about by every turn of fashion's vane. Their natural intuition and sense of fitness in dress form a wall of protection against the ridiculous. They feel themselves entirely justified this season in accepting the vest, the smart cutaway lines of the man's evening coat and the Tuxedo.

The dress of the second figure was also developed in one of the new inexpensive fabrics. Cotton voile having a white ground and blue floral motif was the material chosen. The lapels are of white, silk, chemise of shadow lace and the girdle of Gobelin blue messaline ribbon. The bodice has simulated front yoke; the skirt has observed the prevailing mode in drapery, gathered back and narrow hem.

The size of the feminine waistline has been increasing for the last couple of years until now the waist is conspicuous by its disappearance. If such a thing can be. The corsetless form is already the accepted mode. But you ask how is it possible for a woman not slender to discard her corset? The problem confronting the stout woman has never been that of waist, but rather how to dispense with the layers of flesh above and below the waist. Greek costumes and swathing girdles overcome this difficulty, the former by disregarding all lines, the latter by showing none, as the girdle encircles the form loosely, regardless of contour. Boned supports for waist bands will still prevail and a new style of corset which extends downward over the hips rather than in the opposite direction, as heretofore, will be used.

Closing Out Sale Continues

Our landlord has given us a few days more in which to dispose of as much of our stock and fixtures as possible before taking charge of his building, and those who want to avail themselves of the opportunity we are now offering, to obtain goods at cost or less, can do so by visiting our store during the next few days. Our stock consists of most everything in Graniteware, Chinaware, Tinware, Toys and Notions, and rather than pack and move them elsewhere, we have decided to sell them at a sacrifice.

HEARS DAUGHTER SHOT AS HE LOOKS FOR GUN.

New York, March 8.—When Herman Corell, a policeman, opened the top drawer of his dresser, his pistol was missing. As he started to look for it he heard a shot in the next room. There he found his 4 year old son holding the weapon in his hand, boy's sister, aged 18 months. The bullet had pierced her brain.

TILE

When you want a first class piece of work, you don't go to a novice, do you? But to one who has the reputation of being able to carry out his contract.

We are daily building a reputation, that the assaults of our enemies only make more secure. Every successful business man has his enemies, but usually his name is sufficient to "silence envious tongues." He has only to "be just and fear not." Our reputation is builded upon the class of work we do. We do the best! We demand a fair price for our ability, our time and our labor, so that we won't have to stand for second class goods being shipped us, or employ an apprentice. Our employees have to know their business.

If you want anything in the Tile line, leave it to us, and if our competitors don't say it is first class, don't ante.

Tile in the bath room, tile in the business house, tile in the vestibule—in fact, anywhere it is placed right is the best floor, the brightest and the cleanest wall you can place. We carry the tile in stock, we do the work, we take the risk. When the work is done you will shell out the coin and smile.

Like all home dealers, whose reputation is at stake, WE MUST PLEASE. Our office phone is 440.

ATTENTION Cotton Farmers

On next Saturday, March 8, at 2 p. m. we will give a demonstration of the

H. M. PARIS Cotton Chopper

on the vacant lot south of postoffice and in rear of opera house on Ohio avenue. This chopper is manufactured by the Wichita Falls Foundry and Machine Co., and for two years it has proven a success beyond a doubt, chopping the cotton to a stand, leaving any space desired between the plants. It will cost you nothing to look, and we invite the farmers as well as all business men to see this demonstration.

STUDENTS' DUEL SOMETIMES HAVE FATAL RESULTS, IT APPEARS

PICTURES BY TELEGRAPH

New Invention by Berlin Engineer Practically Perfected—Other Berlin News

By Associated Press. Berlin, March 8.—A student duel with fatal issue is reported from Kiel, where Friedrich Haase, a medical student, has just been condemned to three months' imprisonment for participating in a duel with deadly weapons.

His opponent, also a medical student, died from blood poisoning resulting from the sabre wounds. On the more serious charge of having caused the death of his antagonist Haase was acquitted, the testimony showing that the blood poisoning was due to the dead man's efforts to keep the wounds open and obtain as prominent scars as possible.

The duel was one of the so-called unprovoked ones, in which members of the student fraternities who have not been fortunate enough to challenge or be challenged in regular affairs of honor, are drawn by lot to fight the necessary number of duels to retain membership in their fraternities, the opponents meeting of course without ill feeling on either side.

The incident strengthens the hands of the strong party in Parliament who wish to have the penalty removed from duelling in the pending revision of the criminal code.

Seeing at Long Distance.

A device to enable a person on one side of the world actually to see what is going on thousands of miles away has just been invented by a Berlin engineer, Dr. J. Michel Schmierer.

Dr. Schmierer has long been working with many other investigators on the problem of transmitting photographs and pictures by telegraph, but in his results he has unexpectedly gone a stage farther than the other picture transmitters. At the sending end of his wire he uses a camera, the lens of which can be pointed at any desired object or scene. The light rays are thrown on a screen, which divides the picture up into light points of varying brightness. These points are in turn thrown on a sensitive plate treated with selenium and are converted into variations of the electric current.

At the receiving end, which may be half way around the world, this current becomes light of varying brilliancy, and by a mirror arrangement the picture is reproduced much like the newspaper half tone, in dots of varying size and frequency. In the shadows of the picture these dots are crowded closely together to reproduce the darker areas, appearing only rarely, if at all, in the bright lights of the original scene. The transmitted picture is therefore far truer to nature than in the earlier process of transmission in which the picture was reproduced in lines of varying thickness.

German Police Dogs.

Police dogs have not justified the extravagant claims that were made for them when they were introduced into the German police service. They form a valuable adjunct to the service of detection of criminals, but they have distinct limitations and their mate testimony cannot be implicitly credited.

These limitations have been recently admitted by police officers in charge of the training of the dogs. The sentence of an alleged murderer was reduced from life to ten years' imprisonment at a recent trial in Frankfurt on the Oder, owing to the testimony of a Berlin police lieutenant discrediting police dogs which had followed the man from the scene of the murder, and now comes Lieut. Most, in charge of the police dog training institute for Berlin, with the statement that the animals are absolutely dependable only as defenders of the officer with whom they are working.
