By Associated Press. London, Eng., April 3.—Emeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant English suffragettes was today found guilty of inciting persons to malicious damage and was sentenced to three years penal servitude in the Old Bailey Station.

The jury added to its verdict a strong recommendation for whipping. When the judge pronounced the sentence there was an angry protest from the crowd in the court room.

Mrs. Pankhurst said "Whatever may be my sentence I will not submit. From the very moment I enter prison I will refuse to eat and I will come out of prison dead or alive at the very earliest possible moment."

The judge addressing her said: "If you could only realize the harm you are doing to your cause you would abandon your course. If you would turn your energies in the right direction, I would be one of the first to give you support. I do not wish your crime to be considered trivial. It is a most serious one."

PRIZE FARMING IS CONDEMNED

DAMAGING TO AGRICULTURE SAYS FARMERS' UNION IN A RESOLUTION

WHAT THE FARMER NEEDS

Caring For Surplus Products Is Problem That Awaits Solution
Special to the Times. Fort Worth, Texas, April 3.—The executive committee of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union at Wednesday's session formally condemned prize farming as carried on in this State during the last few years and in a resolution considers it damaging to the industry.

Wednesday's session was spent in carefully reviewing the organized forces now at work in the State in the interest of agriculture. The committee concluded that prize farming as now carried on in this State is damaging to agriculture.

According to the estimate of the Farmers' Union over a quarter of a million dollars have been spent in Texas in prize farming during the past five years and the recognition which many business men have given to prize farming has caused the Union to officially review its effect upon farming and to point out more practical lines of co-operation for the information of those who may desire to render effective service to agriculture.

Resolutions Adopted. The committee asks that marketing and rural credits be given attention and commends the articles given to the press by President Radford discussing the problems that confront the farmers. The committee will be in session all week. The resolution follows:

We most heartily endorse the series of articles that have appeared in the press prepared by our able president, Mr. Peter Radford, concerning production and marketing and hope the public has given him a patient hearing in his discussion.

We suggest that the production and marketing of farm products is the largest and most intricate business problem that civilization has ever confronted and we deplore the tendency of friendly agencies to confine their efforts to the production side of our problems which is the most easily mastered and is already overdone.

Prize Farming Condemned. We have carefully reviewed from the standpoint of practical farming the result of prize farming as carried on in the State during the past few years, and consider it in every instance inadequate and, as a whole, damaging to the farming industry. Its educational value is too limited to be of any practical use, it turns the mind of the child from practical to fancy farming; its effect is immoral where the cost of growing a prize crop exceeds the value of products. It gives the occupation of farming a childlike appearance and acknowledges the farmers are delinquent, feeble and incompetent. We consider the assembling of the best products of the farm in a community for study and comparison—educational value, and small prizes offered after the crop is grown, not so objectionable, but the offering of large prizes before the crop is planted, we think damaging to agriculture for the reasons above stated.

It is prices, not prizes, we want. Only one farmer can be benefited by a prize, but a half million profit by increase in prices.

What the Farmer Needs. Production is not a problem that we submit to the business interests for solution. It is caring for the surplus products that deeply concerns us and one in which we ask co-operation of strong men with wide experience and world vision in business.

The important material assistance that business men can render is in increasing the value of our products while in the hands of the producer through a more intelligent and systematic method of marketing and thereby making our securities more stable.

Financial paper issued upon a bale of cotton for a reasonable amount is as good security as a government bond, yet it receives little or no recognition upon the market although it may bear double the interest rate. The value of our staple crops can be increased at least 20 per cent without increasing the cost to the consumer by a more business like method in marketing.

We are anxious to counsel with bankers in perfecting our securities, and in studying marketing problems with business men, but production is wholly a farmer's problem and is much better understood than marketing and rural credits.

We want to own and improve our homes; give our children better educational advantages; possess the comfort and conveniences of modern life and make the farm more attractive, but these and many other problems can be solved only after we have made the business of farming more remunerative.

Saturday will be tag day in Wichita Falls and tags will be sold by members of the Civic League for the benefit of the Cemetery Association. The members of the League expect to start out early in the morning and to see that everyone who comes along is tagged.

It is felt that on account of the worthlessness of the cause for which tags are sold there should be a liberal response and a heavy demand. There will be no set price for the tags and no limit to the number one may buy. It is hoped to realize sufficient funds to enable the ladies to carry out their plans at the cemetery.

SPLIT IN RANKS OF SUFFRAGETTES

ANCIENT DOCTRINE OF STATES RIGHTS NEARLY DISRUPTS SAN ANTONIO CONVENTION

ASK WILSON FOR HELP

One Faction Holds Out For Appeal to Texas Governor Only For Suffrage

San Antonio, Texas, April 3.—The ancient doctrine of State Rights re-fueled in novel form, and wearing feminine frills stalked through the convention of the Texas Woman's Suffrage Association and for a time threatened to take that organization into elysian shades. The critical situation was produced by the introduction of a resolution calling upon President Woodrow Wilson to urge, in his special message to Congress, the passage of an amendment to the Federal Constitution giving suffrage to women on equal terms with men. The only immediate result of the adoption of the resolution, besides creating two factions in the association, was the announcement by Mrs. James L. Slayden, wife of the Congressman from this district, that she would resign as a member of the National executive committee, to which position she was elected yesterday afternoon.

The resolution, submitted by mail by Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional committee of the National Suffrage Association, provoked little comment when it was first read, but with an unfavorable report from the resolutions committee, Mrs. Slayden being the chairwoman, a caloric debate was precipitated.

Substitute Motion.

A substitute motion seeking to place the convention on record as accepting the dictum that it is within the power of the State either to confer or withhold the equal franchise privilege, was defeated, and the original resolution was adopted amid a fusillade of objections from the champions of the State Rights theory. Leading the debate in favor of the substitute, Mrs. Slayden declared she was entirely out of harmony with the idea of carrying the suffrage movement into National politics. She asserted that even if the Federal Government should give women the right to vote the States could prohibit the exercise of that right except in elections for Federal officers. Those who opposed Mrs. Slayden's views said that a refusal to adopt the original resolution would be, in effect, a repudiation of the National Suffrage Association. The cleavage over the State Rights question, however, did not prevent unanimity of sentiment in the passage of a resolution calling upon Gov. O. B. Colquitt to submit to the coming special session of the Legislature a message recommending an eight hour law for all working women of the State, without discrimination in favor of or against any class of female workers.

To Revise Constitution. On the recommendation of the committee on constitution and organization, Miss Eleanor Brackenridge, newly elected president, was authorized to appoint a committee to draft a new constitution to be submitted at the meeting of the association, it being stated that the present constitution is so inadequate that the association can hardly operate without violating it. Announcement that the membership of the association the numbers 880 was accompanied by the information that the organization is entitled to nine delegates to the National convention. Each of six clubs, Galveston, San Antonio, Dallas, Houston, Austin and Temple, will send one delegate, the remaining three to be chosen from at large by the executive officers of the Texas association.

The resignation of Mrs. Mary Fowler Bonefield as vice president necessitated the election of another woman to that office. Mrs. W. E. Shell of Waco being chosen to fill the vacancy. Two cities have made bids for the 1914 convention.

Miss Louise Murphy offered the hospitality of Dallas and Mrs. Cone Johnson said that Tyler would receive the suffragettes with open arms.

Miss Etta Lasker of Galveston submitted a unique plan for keeping the suffrage movement constantly before the public. The club in that city, she explained, had devised a letter seal bearing the slogan, "Votes for Women," and these seals are being used by all the members in their correspondence.

The Galveston delegates to the convention are Miss Anna Maxwell Jones, Miss Etta Lasker, Miss Beate Ballinger and Mrs. J. S. Sweeney.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

MRS. EDWINA WITTEN-BARLOW MARRIES WHILE DIVORCE APPEAL IS PENDING

A MOST UNUSUAL CASE

Witten Active in Her Prosecution Accompanies Sheriff to Arrest Her

Fort Worth, Texas, April 3.—Mrs. Edwin Witten-Barlow, 30, petite and beautiful, was arrested Tuesday night at her home on Gordon street in Frisco Heights on an indictment charging bigamy returned by the Parker county grand jury. She is charged with having married Clarence L. Barlow before the court of appeals had passed on an appeal from the district court granting her a divorce from G. P. Witten.

It was following testimony of Witten that the Parker county grand jury acted. He went to Weatherford Monday, laid the matter before the grand jury, and a bill of indictment was returned Tuesday. He accompanied Sheriff Gilbert here in an automobile from Weatherford Tuesday.

Mrs. Whitlow or Witten, or Barlow—there is question as to what is her legal name—pleaded that she was too ill to go to Parker county, and she accompanied the officers to Sheriff Rea's office, where relatives made bond for her in the sum of $750.

Attorneys say that this is one of the first instances in Texas in which the question has been raised of a woman marrying after she had been granted a divorce in the district court, but before the appeal to the higher court was acted upon.

Legal Fight Over Name.
In the judgment of the jury in the district court, her former name, Mrs. Whitlow, was not restored to her by the verdict of the jury, but by the judgment of the court, and Witten's attorneys have raised the question as to whether she is legally entitled to the former name. Before she will know what is her legal name, she must await the action of the court of appeals. A decree from that court is expected within a week or two.

The divorce proceedings were hotly contested in the Seventeenth district court at the time, but Witten took an appeal on the ground that he was too ill to be in court during a portion of the hearing and that eighteen witnesses summoned in the case were not present.

Horse Show Romance.
Mrs. Witten's life story is an interesting one, and her marriage to Witten, a man 58 years old, was romantic. At the age of 19 years she married Whitlow, a breeder of fine horses.

He was accidentally killed February 15, 1910.

It was a few weeks later at the Fort Worth Horse Show that business relations between Mrs. Whitlow and Whitlow began. Witten himself a breeder of fine horses, was a friend of her family. Their fathers had been fast friends back as far as 1854 when both were pioneer citizens of Tarrant county.

Witten consented to look after her horses, which were on exhibition at shows throughout the state, and it was not long until they became friends. Soon their friendship had ripened into love and she and Witten were married in San Antonio, Sept. 17, 1910. It was in the nature of an elopement, for Mrs. Witten said that her mother had married a short time before without telling her about it in advance and she wished to surprise her in the same way.

Divorce Suit Filed.
Somewhat more than a year later Nov. 15, 1911, Mrs. Witten filed suit for divorce. The allegations set forth financial differences. Witten contested the case. It came to trial June 13, 1912, before Judge Swayne.

The jury awarded her a divorce. She had asked for the restoration of her former name but the jury did not pass on this point. The court however, in preparing the written judgment, restored her former name. Witten took an immediate appeal to the higher court. The case was submitted to the court of appeals by attorneys recently.

On Feb. 12, Mrs. Whitlow or Witten and C. L. Barlow, went to Weatherford and were married there. Barlow is said to be twenty-five years old. Since the marriage they have been living beyond the Frisco roundhouse on Gordon avenue. The indictment is based on the assertion that the higher court has not given its decree.

Ex-Husband Against Divorce.
Witten says that his activity in the case is due to the fact that he desires to see justice carried out. "I don't believe in divorce," he said. "I believe it to be one of the greatest evils in the world today, and to be doing more to undermine society than anything else."

"She did not give me a square deal, I believed, and I appealed the case with the intention of fighting it out to show the world in the end that I was not in the wrong."

EIGHT PARENTS FOR GIRL IN SEVEN YEARS

Cleveland, Ohio, Foundling is Having Difficult Time to Find a Home

Cleveland, O., April 3.—Ethel Mary Marshall, 7 years old, who, with her two brothers, Henry and Albert, 3 and 5 years old, respectively, were taken to St. Ann's Infant Asylum two years ago by their mother, is to be taken into her third home for adoption.

The boys have been adopted. One of them is in Cleveland and the other is Loraine, and two families have taken Ethel Mary, but they did not want to keep her in touch with her brothers. Sister Alexandrine said that the St. Ann's authorities do not want these ties broken, so both times the child was taken back into the asylum. She has been there for several weeks the last time.

Now, however, foster parents have been found for her who will let her brothers visit her occasionally and will let the child visit her brothers. "When the children were left at the asylum the mother said she would come back for them, but we have never heard from her," said Sister Alexandrine.

RAOUL MADERO IN FORT WORTH

Brother of Murdered President of Mexico Accompanies Shipment of Cattle

Fort Worth, Texas, April 3.—Raoul Madero, the brother of the late Francisco Madero, president of Mexico, spent Wednesday in Fort Worth with friends among the commission merchants on the north side.

Although counting himself a resident of Mexico, Mr. Madero is now living in San Antonio, where he has been since the death of his brothers, Francisco and Gustavo. Soon after learning of the death of his brothers, Mr. Madero fled to Brownsville, making the entire distance of 800 miles on horseback. At Brownsville he took a train for San Antonio.

He was the guest of Ireland Hampton at the Saddle and Sirolo club in a private dining room Wednesday, and refused to give anything out to the press. During the afternoon he was in the company of John A. Stafford, a prominent official of the Fort Worth Stockyards Company, and made an inspection tour of the yards off he company and the two packing houses.

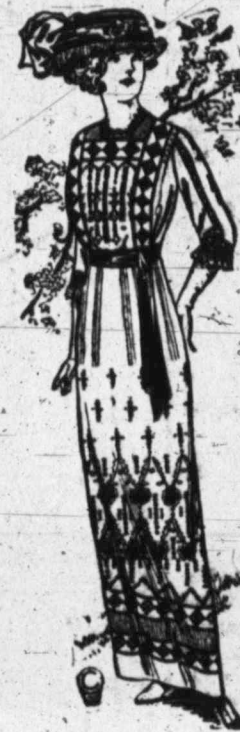

Mr. Madero appears to be of a very reserved nature. He evaded every advance made by the newspaper men to receive an expression from him on conditions as he views them in Mexico.

He is in charge of eighteen carloads of cattle which have been shipped out of Mexico, and has several of his employees with him. He registered at the Westbrook early Wednesday morning and told Ireland Hampton with whose firm Mr. Madero is negotiating for the sale of the cattle, to keep all newspaper men away from him.

Grinding Up Mustard Seeds

is not by any means all to good mustard making. In the first place there's just one mustard seed that will make thoroughly satisfactory mustard—that seed comes from England. Then there has to be extraordinary care taken in the handling and the grinding of the seed so that strength and delicacy of flavor will not be lost.

White Swan Dry Mustard is made from the best selected English seed and is ground by a special process which retains all the "mustardy" goodness of the seed. A little White Swan goes further and gives better results. Not only pure—better than the law requires.

WHEAT PROSPECTS GREATLY IMPROVED

Oat Crop Too is Thriving and Cotton Coming Up in Some Fields

Rain and snow within the past few weeks have greatly improved wheat prospects in this section, according to farmers in the city today, and prospects are better than at this time last year. The oat crop is also thriving they say. There was some complaint in the northern part of the county recently of insects injuring the wheat, but this seems to have been confined to a small area. A good rain within the next ten days would be very timely as wheat and oats will be in need of moisture by that time.

Farmers report a naturally increased acreage this year in milo maize and kafir corn and therefor crops are getting to be a decided factor in the agriculture of this county.

FIRST DRILL BY NEW MILITARY COMPANY

Members Will Meet at City Hall at 7:30 Tonight For Practice

The military company being organized here will have its first drill tonight. The members are to meet at 7:30 at the city hall and will go through the maneuvers under the direction of E. H. Morter, first lieutenant. The company now has 35 men enrolled.

At the Lydia Margaret.

The Lydia Margaret offers tonight for the opening of the new bill the Williams comedy trio and Mme. Hobenad's acting dogs and cats. The latter is an Orpheum act and the advance press notices speak very highly of it. A fox terrier of the troupe is said to be one of the best educated dogs in the world, and the trained cats are a distinct novelty. An educated pig is also a feature of the act.

The Williams trio have a comedy sketch entitled "A Summer Romance" which gives play for a number of good songs and introduces Baby Al G, a two year old youngster who does an original buck and wing dancing specialty. Both the acts are carrying special scenery and look capable of putting on a first rate show.

AUTOMOBILE PARTY LEAVES FOR LAWTON

Wichitans Make Trip of Inspection Over the Meridian Road Route

A number of Wichitans left in automobiles this morning for Lawton, Oklahoma, on a trip in the interest of the Meridian road, it being the purpose to see what can be done on the Oklahoma side toward keeping the Meridian Route highway proposition before the people. Autoists at Burk Burnett and other points along the route were to join the Wichitans.

The question of permanent road improvements, signs and other matters will be considered at Lawton and it is hoped to arouse sufficient interest to secure betterments that will make the route an attractive one to autoists. Among those who went from here were D. P. Talley, C. W. Bean, Wiley Blair, W. M. McGregor, P. H. Pennington, M. A. Marcus, Walter Reid and J. A. Fisher.

A FASCINATING CONVERSATION-ALIST

"I agree with Andrew Jackson," observes Vice President Tom Marshall, "who said that if an office could not be filled with a Democrat it ought to be abolished." Tom is a fascinating conversationalist.—Chattanooga News.

Though the state Democratic nominating primary is more than a year off, the candidates for governor are beginning to "throw their hats in the ring." So far Comptroller Lane is the only avowed candidate, but Chester H. Terrell, speaker of the house, H. C. Tom Ball of Houston, Cullen Thomas of Dallas, and Judge Hanger of Fort Worth are known to have aspirations in that direction but are a little backward about coming out so soon. It is not always the case that the first in comes out in the lead. At least, there are instances where the first has come out last. It was that way in the senatorial race. As Comptroller, Mr. Lane has made a good official, but those who supported him enthusiastically for that position might not think him of gubernatorial size. Texas is a big state—big in every way, and she should by all means select a big man for governor. Of those possible candidates mentioned, either Ball, Thomas or Terrell, in the humble judgment of the paper are better and more able to fill the governor's office than Mr. Lane.

Congressman John H. Stephens has gone on record as refusing to represent and comply with the wishes of Childress people at Washington when their wishes were made known to him in a certain manner, hence in the future he need not be surprised if a large number fail to favor him at the polls. When it becomes known that a congressman will use his high office to pay his political debts, imaginary or otherwise, and when he does so to thwart the expressed will of his people for a new public servant and hundreds of Childress voters are now doing that very thing.—Childress Post.

As the Times understands the Childress postoffice situation, Congressman Stephens, far in advance of the primary which was held to select a postmaster, had pledged his endorsement to Mr. Haskett, editor of the Index, and had made this fact known to those who were candidates at the primary. Mr. Haskett refused to enter the primary, for the reason, perhaps that that method of selecting postmasters did not meet with the sanction or approval of Mr. Stephens. Having pledged Mr. Haskett's endorsement, Mr. Stephens can hardly be expected to go back on it. The Times further understands that the gentleman who was successful at the primary election had, for some reason or other, failed to pay his poll-tax for the year 1912, and if that be true, in the humble judgment of this paper, then he has been honored by the Democrats of Childress far beyond his deserts. The fellow who has not sufficient interest in the affairs of his state and of his party to qualify as a voter should not be expected to walk off with the honors when there are others who are perhaps just as well qualified to hold office who have not waited for the distribution of honors to arouse their enthusiasm. The men who helped bring about the victory should come first.

AMERICAN AMBASSADOR TO ENGLAND.

The appointment of Walter H. Page United States ambassador to Great Britain is an admirable one. President Woodrow Wilson has selected to send as our representative to the mother country a scholar and a gentleman who will be a credit to the United States. He has followed the tradition which gives this important post to leading editors and men of letters. Mr. Page is both an editor and an author of distinction and will worthily fill the position held by Whitelaw Reid and James Russell Lowell.

Born in North Carolina, educated in Virginia and Maryland, Walter Hines Page has had a successful career as editor of famous magazines in New York and in Boston and as literary adviser and publisher in these two centers.

The reason why the American ambassador to the court of St. James should be a literary man is because as the great cardinal expresses it in the familiar quotation in "Richelieu" "the pen is mightier than the sword."

It is essential for the welfare of both countries to keep a good understanding between Uncle Sam and John Bull. A bookman who can in his public addresses make allusions to the great literary past common to this country and to England and so reach the hearts of Englishmen, and who is at the same time a democrat in sympathy with the needs and aspirations of the American people and an editor in touch with the great practical movements of the day (Mr. Page has been for many years the editor of the World's Work), ought to make an ideal ambassador to King George's country.

It is peculiarly fortunate that we have a democratic administration and are sending a democratic ambassador, since progressive liberalism is in the ascendant in Great Britain. The party in power there corresponds to the democratic party, while the conservative party, which is in opposition, is more like our republican party. William Jennings Bryan, America's great commoner, is at the head of our department of state and is Ambassador Page's official chief. Bryan has often been called the American Gladstone. The statesman who is at present dominant in shaping the government of Great Britain is Lloyd George, the latter day Gladstone. Both in Great Britain and the United States the people are coming into their own.—Houston Chronicle.

IN DEFENSE OF AUTOMOBILE.

It seems only a short time since Kansas bankers went into a solemn agreement not to lend money for the purchase of automobiles. They apprehended that the general ownership of the machines would result in an economic menace to the welfare of the entire country, and that it was up to them, as arbiters financial, to set their faces against such extravagance. We know not the figures for Kansas but throughout the civilized world since then the manufacture and use of automobiles have grown apace. There are hundreds of cars in use today where there were tens only a few years ago. Millions of dollars are invested in factories; perhaps more millions in automobiles themselves. People who use them have been charged with living beyond their means and with extravagance. And yet if the use of autos is an economic waste, the results are not so far evident. To the contrary, many businesses are feeling the beneficial effects. Only the other day, bringing it to a local standpoint, a Denton business man remarked that Denton today is getting business from distances not known in many years, and the observation is in line with those of other business men here. Even under the present road conditions a family twenty miles from town in as close in, measured by time, as the family three or four miles out and dependent on Old Dobbin for transportation. Were good roads general—and surely, that time will come in this enlightened community—the family living twenty-five or thirty miles away will be, for all ordinary purposes, residents of the suburbs. The automobile is cutting a very considerable figure in national economics. But, as we see it, it is an economic factor rather of good than of harm.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

AND THE MEN LAID DOWN.

There was something of grim humor in the fight that Colorado women made on the Biles segregation bill Saturday, pending at that time in the lower house of the legislature, but as a result of their efforts overwhelmingly defeated.

The dispatches state that Mrs. Marshall attacked the bill on the ground that "fallen men should be segregated the same as fallen women."

The author of the bill, who seems to be imbued with the idea that man is not one whit better than woman and, therefore, should not in violation of fundamental principles of republican government be granted special privileges, announced his willingness to insert a section providing for Mrs. Marshall's suggestion.

Another opponent of the bill, Mrs. Riddle, who apparently is up to snuff so to speak in more particulars than one with regard to man's inheritance of Adam's weakness, termed by our spiritual teachers as "the corruption of original sin," interposed with the objection that under the operation of the proposed amendment "there would be no men left." Thereupon she insisted that the bill be submitted to vote on its merits without the proposed amendment. Upon the ordering of the roll call on the passage of the measure, she arose in her queenly dignity and admonished: "Let him among you who is without sin cast the first vote."

The report states that not a member of the house voted for the bill. What is the necessary conclusion? That man is vile and woman knows it, yet she is willing to tolerate him provided he will indulge like tolerance toward the weaker sex that is so considerate of his welfare in the As a matter of fact, woman has always resented the double standard of virtue which society accepts, but it is only in recent years that she is making herself felt in efforts to abrogate it. Whether the movement to that end is going to prove effective in lifting man up to her level, or to bring her down to his level is the uncertain problem that yet remains to be worked out.

But whatever may be the eventualities, it is evident that woman's potentiality in civilization is increasing.—Houston Post.

Spanish Minister Rejoices in Fifty Suits, Etc.

It was stated in an authentic quarter the other day that the Spanish minister, Senor Don Juan Riano, has 50 suits of clothes and a corresponding large number of accessories. "Spacious and perfectly equipped quarters are required to accommodate this wardrobe, and in selecting the new location special attention was paid to this feature."

The present location, in New Hampshire avenue, has commodious dressing rooms and closets for each suite, but such an outfit as Senor Riano's in order to be easily handled and accessible has to have a room to itself, and, it is possible, one built for the purpose.

The garments are classified, and that they may be easily found an inventory is fastened on the door. According to the most advanced authorities "wet" and "dry" rooms are necessary for the complete wardrobe. The "wet" room removes the creases and takes the place of sponging; the "dry" room hardens the costume in the lines it has taken.

Whether Senor Riano's new home is provided with all these comforts is not known, but that every means has been adopted to keep the minister the "best dressed man in town," as he was considered in Paris when connected with the Spanish embassy there, is certain.

And it may be mentioned in this connection that as much care is exercised in the selection and proper preservation of the so-called "accessories" as in the actual suits. These "accessories" include many articles of personal adornment little known to the ordinary man, but are considered absolutely necessary in mind of the Spanish Don. Of course, under this head, may be considered first, the very latest in hats, gloves and ties.

WORSHIP OF WEALTH.

Commerce has set the mark of selfishness. The signet of its all enslaving power. Upon a shining ore and called it gold. Before whose image have the vulgar great. The vanity rich, the miserable proud. The woe of peasants, nobles, priests and kings. And with blind feelings reverence the power. That grinds them to the dust of misery. But in the temple of their hireling hearts Gold is a living god and rules in scorn All earthly things but virtues.—Shelley.

SOUTHERN WILL HAVE NEW TRAIN

DOUBLE DAILY PASSENGER SERVICE BETWEEN HERE AND NEWCASTLE

CARS TO MINERAL WELLS

Direct Connections at Olney—Double Daily Service To Dallas a Certainty

Double daily passenger service on the Wichita Falls & Southern, with direct connection at Olney with the Gulf Texas & Western train for Mineral Wells, will be inaugurated by the Katy next Thursday, it was learned today. The official time card will be given out next week.

Under the new arrangement on the Southern, the mixed train which now serves that road will leave Wichita Falls early in the morning, probably about 7 a. m., and will return about 5 p. m. The new passenger train will take about the same time as that of the present mixed train, leaving here at 2:30 in the afternoon and arriving from the south about noon in the morning. This train will carry a car which will permit Wichitans to go through to Mineral Wells without leaving their seats, arriving at the health resort at 8 p. m. Returning passengers will leave Mineral Wells at 6:30 a. m. and reach here at noon.

The double daily service over the Katy to Dallas will not mean any new trains out of Wichita Falls. The train now arriving here at 12:20 p. m. will not get in until 1:35 so as to permit a new train from Dallas to Whitesboro to make connection with. An eastbound train will leave here at 1:35 p. m., connecting at Whitesboro with a train for Dallas; this takes the place of the train leaving here now at 1:40.

Ever since the Wichita Falls & Southern was built, the service on it has been limited to one mixed train daily in each direction; the Katy officials feel now that the business justified an improvement in the service and this will be made at once. With double daily service into and from Dallas and with two trains daily to Newcastle, affording a direct line to Mineral Wells, the Katy is giving Wichita Falls materially improved service.

GOETHE'S REFLECTIONS.

It is not always useful for truth to take a definite shape. It is enough if it hovers about like a spirit and produces harmony; if it is wafted through the air like the sound of a bell, grave and kindly.

Translators are like busy match-makers—they slug the praises of some half veiled beauty and extol her charms and arouse an irresistible longing for the original.

There is nothing more odious than the majority. It consists of a few powerful men to lead the way; of accommodating rascals and submissive weaklings; and of a mass of men who trot after them without the least knowing of their own mind.

HORATIUS

Who kept the bridge in the brave old days of old, is probably the most pleasing Roman hero of historic narrative. He was what is known in some of the modern vernaculars as a Hum-Dinger. He stood pat and dared a powerful army to invade Rome and made it stick. He was crowned with a laurel wreath which in the matter of honor was about the same as getting yourself fastened to a Carnegie medal for rescuing a pie-eyed wreck from a duck puddle who thinks he was aboard the Titanic when it sank.

But, speaking of honor, the chap who will come in for tears of admiration as big as a gas meter for making a noise that reached round the world and blessed humanity from one end of the world to the other and who will reap a wreath worth mentioning is the chap who invented ALTA VISTA PURE ICE CREAM. That taste-teasing, palate tickling ALTA VISTA PURE ICE CREAM that has a fetching farewell that you can't forget if you live until Matheuslah looks like a trundle bedder. TAKE A BUCKET HOME.

You have never tasted Fruit like Hunt's Quality. You will never be satisfied with other Fruits afterward.

HUNTS QUALITY CALIFORNIA FRUITS

"The Kind That Are Not Lye-Peeled."

Each member of your family needs a varied Fruit diet. Fruits aid digestion, make for perfect health. Think of the delight of having appetizing California Fruits, fresh as when picked, every day in the year. Many housewives buy Hunt's Fruits by the dozen or case, rather than preserve at home, for they have found that Hunt's Quality means the highest quality in Canned Fruits.

PEACHES BARTLETT PEARS PLUMS CHERRIES MUSCAT GRAPES STRAWBERRIES RASPBERRIES HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLES APRICOTS PRUNES

Hunt's Peaches, unlike most others, are knife-peeled. You cannot afford to serve your family lye-peeled Fruit, a cheapening process used by most canners to add to their profits. The boiling lie softens unripe fruit, kills the natural fruit juice, gives it the appearance of being ripe, but is lacking in flavor. Don't accept fruit offered you "just as good as Hunt's." You pay just as much for inferior fruits.

Madame X a Play of Depth And Power, Faultlessly Produced

A play that deals with the scarlet woman and the purple path is not, as a rule, considered an ideal one for an evening's entertainment; such a play must have much of human interest to cause one to forget the ugly setting and it must be faultlessly produced, if the spectator is to leave at the end of the performance without a bad taste in his mouth. "Madame X" which was presented at the Majestic Theatre last evening to a fair house, fulfills these conditions. Unpleasant and uncomfortable in setting and execution, so far as the play itself is concerned, it has a depth and sweep of power that, with the talented acting, cause the spectator to forget the ugly, almost nauseating scenes in the lesson of love and loyalty that is set forth. The title role was filled admirably by Adelaide French and the writer need not be misunderstood when he says that she seemed to fit the part to perfection. From the moment of her first entry until that tragic closing scene, her face, her gestures and her voice portrayed all too vividly the character she represented. It is hard to think of that kind of a woman, sitting there with the cigarette in her mouth and the glass of absinthe in her hand, still retaining in her breast the mother-love and the loyalty to the name of her son; yet in Miss French's interpretation of the part one could forget this incongruity when in her anger she slew and in her love she sobbed and caressed. Both in the parts when she was only a dissolute being and in those when she was asserting herself still as a mother, Miss French displayed strength that made her portrayal seem little short of wonderful.

The supporting caste is an excellent one, with one or two parts overdone and one or two underdone. Malcolm Owen as the son and Frederick Smith as Floriot, Sr., neither filled their parts as well as might have been. The elder Floriot's lines furnished opportunity for some splendid acting, but at times they were not expressed with the right punch; the young man did not impress one particularly as a lawyer; we have heard some of our own youthful lights get off a speech in better shape when defending some negro for shooting craps; the lines of the speech, however, were among the strongest in the play. Henry Sharpe as Noel, Dane Hamlin as Laroque, William Harris and Thomas Blondin as the confidential missionaries and Miss Abbey as Helen were among the members of the caste who displayed much talent.

The audience was an appreciative one and evinced its enjoyment of the last sad scene by shedding real tears. One full-grown man got up and left his seat, sobbing audibly and there were others who had to give way to the tenderer emotions. The play was well presented and its theme and interest make it one to be remembered.

AVIATORS WILL ATTEMPT TO CROSS ATLANTIC

London, April 3.—Several aviators have announced their intention of competing for the Daily Mail's $50,000 prize for a trans-Atlantic flight. Gordon England, a British aviator, and Herr Rumpel, a German inventor, have declared that they will enter the contest and the Bleriot and Captain F. S. Cody say they will be competitors in both the Atlantic flight and that around Britain.

The Mail says the best experts believe that the Atlantic prize will be won before the end of 1914. Horace Short, the builder of the naval water planes, considers a flight from America to Great Britain with the help of the wind, almost feasible now, and says that a flight in the reverse direction may be accomplished within eighteen months.

The only skeptic, says the Mail, are the builders of German airships, who know nothing about water planes. Major Von Parseval considers the Atlantic flight far beyond the realm of present possibilities.

8-HOUR LAW CLOGGING MAILS

PARCELS POST SERVICE ALSO ADDS TO GENERAL CONGESTION OF MAIL

NEWSPAPERS SUFFERERS

Many Complaints of Delay in Service from All Parts of the Country

The following from the Coffeyville, Kansas Journal shows that the slow delivery of second class mail recently complained of by The Times is not altogether a local trouble, but is nationwide:

A storm of complaints is pouring in on the postoffice department at Washington, chiefly from newspapers relative to deplorable postal service. The new 8-hour law which has cut down the working hours without adding more employees and the added burden of the parcel post are largely blamed.

Work in the news department of the Journal on Sunday has practically become an impossibility because of an inability to get the mail. Subscribers are complaining of belated deliveries which can not be laid to the floods in the east. Exchanges of the Journal are received much later than three to six months ago, greatly inconveniencing the employees and delaying their work.

As evidence that Coffeyville is but one of a thousand cities affected, the following from the New York Sun is reprinted:

"E. M. Norris, superintendent of the Railway Mail Service, second district, which embraces New York, said yesterday that he has traced many of the complaints received about the non-delivery, delayed delivery and wrong delivery of newspapers sent through the mails and has found that many of the complaints are not caused by any fault of the railway service. From what he said it seemed that he was inclined to place the blame at points of delivery."

"For several months the Sun and all other New York newspapers have been receiving complaints from out of town subscribers and practically every newspaper in town has done all it could to remove the basis for such complaints. The complaints have been of all kinds and show that this class of mail, which is supposed to be accorded preferential treatment in postoffices, has been receiving a demoralized service."

"Complaints have been received that newspapers sent by mail have not been delivered at all; other complaints are that subscribers who formerly received their papers a day or two after publication, lately have received them three or four days later. A man in Seattle complains that sometimes he has received his Saturday's paper several days before the paper for the previous Monday was delivered."

"That the trouble is not purely local is shown by the following clipping from the Scranton Tribune-Republican:

"When twenty-eight hours are required for a New York Sunday newspaper to reach a Scranton destination and a day and three-quarters for a Pittsburgh newspaper to get into the hands of a Scranton subscriber it would appear that there is some foundation for the complaint that the new eight hour law is playing havoc with the mails and that there is imperative need for more employees in the postal department."

The new law went into effect on March 1. It provides that postal clerks may work only eight hours a day, and that these eight hours they work must be within a ten hour limit.

The parcel post business has added to the congestion in postoffices and not enough clerks have been put on to offset the loss of time caused by the new law. It should be understood that the tie-up caused by weather conditions in the middle west has nothing to do with the complaints, as these were numerous long before the floods and have continued to come from districts not affected by the weather conditions.

Second Assistant Postmaster-General J. J. Britt resigned shortly after the advent of the new administration and he has been succeeded by former Governor Dockery of Missouri. Mr. Dockery has sent out inspectors to investigate the causes for delays, but the situation has not improved.

RELIABILITY RUN OVER MERIDIAN ROAD

Secretary Nicholson Making Plans For Run From Wichita, Kansas, to Laredo

Guthrie, Okla., April 2.—Plans are being now formulated by John C. Nicholson, secretary of the International Meridian Road Association, for the first annual reliability run from Wichita, Kan., through Oklahoma and Texas to Laredo, Texas, one of the Southern terminals of the road. Such a run, announces Secretary Nicholson will be for pleasure, as well as for business, as there are some roads in this State and Texas that must be relocated. The road was logged southward through Guthrie on December 6 last, and completed to Laredo immediately afterward.

Prior to the reliability run, the entire road through Oklahoma and Texas will be sign posted and put in shape for the motor traffic, which will keep it busy. It is already signed posted and in good condition northward from Wichita to Winnipeg, and the entire system now affords a highway from Canada to the Gulf. The first annual report, just issued, shows that $500,000 was spent on this road during the past year, of which $150,000 was spent in Kansas. The road is now 2,485 miles in length and passes through the greatest agricultural section of the United States. There are 300 directors at the head of this international motor-car highway, including men of prominence in almost every State in the Union.

Via Dallas and Fort Worth.

The reliability run from Wichita south will be routed through Winfield and Arkansas City, in Kansas; Newkirk, Ponca City, Red Rock, Perry, Guthrie and Oklahoma City, in Oklahoma; Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco and San Antonio, in Texas. South from Oklahoma City in this State and north from Dallas and Fort Worth the road it is understood, is to be relocated. There are two routes south from Oklahoma City. One is via El Reno, Anadarko, Lawton and Wichita Falls, Texas, and the other goes southeast via Norman, Sulphur, Mifflin, Durant and Denison, Texas. The Red River, at the present time, can be crossed at only Denison and Wichita Falls, and both cities are making high bids to secure the permanent Meridian highway location.

The reliability run will be under the direction, as a rule, of the Kansas Good Road Association, which was organized in December at the time the Meridian highway was logged. Prominent in the make-up of this organization are Secretary Nicholson of Nerton, William Kennedy, secretary of the Arkansas City Commercial Club; J. A. McElhinney and E. D. Walton of Guthrie, C. M. Greenman and J. B. Burwell of Oklahoma City, Sidney Suggs of Ardmore and James Lobitz of Perry. At each town and city along the entire route the drivers will be entertained by the local automobile clubs, and at Guthrie a luncheon will be served by the Logan county Women's Good Road Association.

Plans include Big Steel Bridge. An attempt is now being made by the business men of Henrietta, Texas, and other towns in that locality to divert the Meridian highway so that it will cross the Red River north of Henrietta, and thus put three additional counties in Texas on the Meridian map. The plans include the construction of a $30,000 steel bridge over the Red River. Henrietta has sent delegations to Lawton and other Oklahoma towns north of the river, soliciting their co-operation. The business men of Denison, Texas are also busy in order to keep the permanent route through their city and plans are being completed there for another bridge over the Red River, south from Durant, Okla.

FIRE LOSS BULLETIN FOR PAST THREE MONTHS

Austin, Texas, April 2.—The semi-monthly fire loss bulletin issued by the state insurance board showed that 26,000 fire losses had been filed with that department since December 10, 1910. Of this number 11,696 were confined to the class embodying dwellings, apartment houses, boarding houses and private houses, and 13,625 to all other classes excepting cotton gins and automobiles. Preventable fires in the first class were estimated to be 9,754 or 83.4 per cent and the defective flames furnished the greatest number of classified causes, 1,979 fires having been traced to this source. This is 17 per cent.

Only 64.7 per cent, 8,815 fires were preventable in the second class. Exposures lead the classification with 3,918 fires or 29 per cent. The largest number of flames was credited to mercantiles, a total of 9,445 while fires in frame dwellings occupied by owners recorded 6,527 flames.

PROFERRED CASES ARE TOO FAR ADVANCED.

New York, April 3.—Announcement was made today on behalf of Dr. F. F. Friedmann that he had postponed the treatment of 100 patients selected by government physicians as mediums for the demonstration of his tuberculosis vaccine.

The reason given was that half the cases selected were in such an advanced stage that recovery was practically hopeless.

20,000 Miles

What car will carry you that distance in greater comfort and safety, and with less trouble and expense than a Chalmers "Thirty-Six?"

It's a pretty poor car indeed that won't make a good showing in a salesman's demonstration.

But it takes a pretty good car to travel 20,000 miles and please you as well at the end as it did in the beginning.

Chalmers cars stand this test. Hundreds are driven this far every year. Some have been driven as high as 140,000 miles, and are still in daily service.

You can pay almost any price for a motor car, but even the highest priced won't carry you 20,000 miles in more comfort with greater economy, or with less mechanical attention than the medium-priced Chalmers "Thirty-Six."

No lower priced car will give you equal comfort, economy and reliability.

Long stroke motor, four-forward speed transmission, nickel steel axles, extra large brakes—these and many other features of design secure the mechanical excellence of the Chalmers.

Large valves, new style Chalmers piston rings, improved carburetor, Timken bearings throughout the running gear—these are some of the Chalmers features which make for economy.

Turkish cushions, 11-inch upholstery, long wheel base, large wheels and tires, long, flexible springs—these are the things which make your Chalmers "Thirty-Six" comfortable. None more so.

Try the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" for 20,000 miles. By that time you will be agreed with us that no car at any price offers as much real automobile value for the money.

Let us give you your first Chalmers ride at your convenience.

FINE CHICKENS ARE BURNED WHEN LAMP EXPLODES.

A number of fine chickens belonging to M. P. Kelly at 2314 Ninth street were burned to death early this morning when the chicken house caught fire and was destroyed. The fire originated from the lamp in the brooder and had gained too much headway when discovered for the poultry to be saved. The fire department responded to an alarm, and with the use of the chemical kept the blaze from spreading to other buildings. Mr. Kelly estimates his loss at about $50; more than forty little chickens and over a dozen larger ones were killed.
