

DEMOCRATIC TARIFF BILL NOW BEFORE THE HOUSE

DEBATE TO START ON WEDNESDAY

ALL REPUBLICAN MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE VOTE AGAINST FAVORABLE REPORT

A MEASURE FOR REVENUE

"Difference in Cost of Labor" Theory Entirely Ignored in New Bill

By Associated Press. Washington, April 22.—The Democratic tariff revenue bill was reported to the House today by the ways and means committee by a vote of 14 to 7.

This bill makes a radical re-adjustment of the entire fiscal policy of the nation by making an income tax the means of raising revenue.

Chairman Underwood's Statement Chairman Oscar Underwood in his report to the House said:

"The revenue from the income tax can be raised or lowered within a few days time without business disturbance such as general tariff changes might occasion. This can be done by raising or lowering the income tax rate.

"It is believed Congress will be able to determine in advance forth coming expenditures so that it should be easy to maintain a close balance between expenditures and revenues such as is practiced in nearly every other civilized country."

Cost of Production Disregarded. The Democrats in outlining their policy in preparing the bill announced an absolute disregard for the cost of production on theory as regulating tariff rates. They declared they had attempted to eliminate the protection of food products and to cut off duties which would enable an industrial manager to exact a bonus for values no equivalent was rendered. They declared there is a great but scarce touched field for American products in foreign markets which the new tariff will now reach.

Income Tax Estimate. The committee estimated that there are 126,000 annual incomes of between four and five thousand dollars which will be taxed under the new income tax bill.

BIGGEST BRITISH SHIP FLOATS ON THE CLYDE.

Glasgow, April 22.—The largest steamship ever built in Great Britain, the Cunard liner, Aquitania, was successfully launched on the Clyde late yesterday.

The new vessel is double shelled and carries boats sufficient to accommodate 4,250 persons, the entire complement of passengers and crew. She is a vessel of about 47,000 tons gross.

FIRST FATALITY IN CHILDREN'S STRIKE

Little Girl in Parade of Pittsburg School Children Killed by Street Car

By Associated Press. Pittsburg, Pa., April 22.—The first fatality attending the strike of the school children in the Pittsburg schools protesting against Superintendent S. L. Teeter occurred today when a little girl marching with about one hundred others, was killed by a street car.

The strike began yesterday soon after Mr. Teeter was acquitted of serious charges preferred against him by a domestic in his home and had returned to work.

President Oliver of the board of education said today: "This is an organized and financed movement to down the school board and drive Teeter out of the schools."

JOB WITH I. C. C. AN ETHIOPIAN FOR THOMPSON IN WOOD PILE

FORMER ENGINEER FOR WICHITA FALLS ROUTE RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

NEWS COMES IN LETTER AN ULTERIOR MOTIVE

He Will Leave California on or About May 1 for Washington

A letter received from M. M. Cook by J. C. Mytinger from San Francisco, California, brings the information that R. A. Thompson, formerly chief engineer for the Wichita Falls & Northwestern, which position he resigned to accept a more lucrative one with the State Railway Commission of California as chief engineer, has been tendered and has accepted a position with the Interstate Commerce Commission which carries with it a salary of $7,500 per year.

Mr. Thompson will leave San Francisco for Washington on or about May 1st to take his new position.

Mr. Thompson has always been considered a man of great ability in his special line and that the position has sought the man in this instance there is little doubt. He took but little interest in matters of a political nature and while it is true he numbers among his friends many who have great political influence, if they used it in his behalf it was without his knowledge and therefore the compliment to him and his ability as a civil engineer is the greater.

The many friends of Mr. Thompson and his most excellent family will rejoice with them in his good fortune.

NEW CONGRESSIONAL DIRECTORY ISSUED.

Washington, April 22.—What the members of the Sixty-third congress think of themselves became public when the new congressional directory was issued. The directory contains biographies of representatives and senators prepared by themselves.

Lawyers as usual, form the bulk of the legislators. Sixty-nine are in the senate and 270 in the house.

In the senate there are eight editors, six farmers, five business men, five bankers, two doctors and one soldier. The house contains 79 business men, 33 editors, 10 teachers, 18 farmers, 9 mechanics and workmen, 6 bankers, 6 doctors, 1 author, 1 soldier, 1 preacher, and 1 lecturer.

The directory lists in the senate 51 Democrats, 44 Republicans and one Progressive. In the house there are 290 Democrats, 127 Republicans, 7 Progressive Republicans, nine Progressives and one Independent, with a vacant seat caused by the death of Representative Legare of South Carolina. In the house the roll call which for several years has been led by Representative Adair of Indiana, will be led in this congress by a new representative, John D. Abercrombie of Alabama. The new senator from Kansas, William Thompson, in discussing his future, says:

"It is acknowledged by all who know him, that as senator, he will not only bring credit and honor to himself, but to the state and the nation as well."

Wilson Appeals for Observance of Treaty Obligations With a Friendly Nation

By Associated Press. Washington, April 22.—President Wilson today telegraphed to Governor Johnston and California legislative leaders appealing to them not to enact anti-Asian land legislation contrary to treaty obligations with Japan. His telegram said in part:

"I speak upon the assumption which I am sure is well formed that the people of California do not desire to embarrass the government of the United States in dealing with a nation with whom it most earnestly and most cordially has sought to maintain relations of amicable good will and peace."

MAN GETS TWO YEARS FOR WHIPPING CHILD

Belton, Texas, April 22.—What is believed to be the severest penalty assessed against a man for whipping a boy in Texas has been given Ed Munz, a farmer living near Temple. Munz was fined $1.00 and sentenced to two years in jail or on the country road for whipping 8-year-old Earl Blake.

Besides this fine, Munz must pay the court costs of several hundred dollars; a $500 judgment in a damage suit in behalf of the boy, while a suit for a like amount on behalf of the boy's mother is pending. Munz already has paid the money fine in the principal case and has begun his sentence.

The Blake boy's father is dead. His mother not being able to care for him agreed to let Munz take him for his board and clothing to do the chores about the farm.

Father P. A. Hickman, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, and who is also humane officer, found the boy, and after hearing his story, and looking at the wounds, filed a complaint against Munz. He was placed on trial and pleaded guilty. His only reason for whipping the boy was that "he told a lie."

Testimony developed that the untruth referred to was that the boy had said that he got water for the chickens from the well, when he had gotten it from the cistern.

The boy testified that Munz had whipped him "lots of times" and that "five times that he could remember he had whipped him awful hard."

The whipping that resulted in the arrest of Munz had been done while the hands and legs of the boy were tied. A buggy whip and a blacksnake whip, each of which had a "long cracker" were used to flog the child.

When Father Heckman found the boy and took him to Temple at the time the complaint was made, a number of citizens learned of the extent of the boy's injuries, and became so enraged that the officers deemed it unwise to take their prisoner through that city, but made a detour to Belton where he was placed in the county jail.

Attorneys for Munz pleaded for leniency, but when the body of the boy was bared before the jury the members were moved to tears, but not tears for the defendant, as shown by their verdict, which was the extreme penalty for aggravated assault—$1,000 fine, two years in jail and the court costs.

By Associated Press. Washington, April 22.—By an overwhelming vote today, the House passed the sundry appropriations bill with a provision to prevent the use of funds appointed to carry out the anti-trust law to the prosecution of labor unions and farmers' cooperative societies.

These provisions caused President Taft to veto the bill at the last session and to characterize them as "vicious class legislation."

From Any Point of View

The Globe's ready-to-wear service clothes are the logical clothes to wear. You may examine them with a microscopic eye and you will be satisfied with respect to details; you may take a prospective view and you will be satisfied with a Globe's garment as a whole. Finally, but by no means least, The Globe's prices are something more than a satisfaction. They are an inducement, for to buy that which satisfies as to style and quality, at a price which cannot diminish that satisfaction. No more conscientious statement has ever appeared over or under our name than this. That The Globe's clothes embody all that is best in the art of tailoring and most fashionable in current design, at prices which are perfectly justifiable from your point of view and from ours.

AMUSEMENTS

Those who had the good fortune to see Albert Taylor in his new play "The Man From Home" at the Majestic last night saw the popular comedian in one of the very best roles he has ever essayed, supported by a company of far more than average merit.

"The Man From Home" is a good story and even with indifferent acting would please and interest. The plot is light enough to enable you to grasp it at the outset; there are no missing wills, lost heirs or other of the hackneyed themes. True there is a bit of intrigue among the nobility but it is absolutely necessary to the story.

John Henry Patrick, the attorney, and Eva Halls, the American heiress, are the central figures of the play and these characters are most satisfactorily delineated by Albert Taylor and Miss Maud Hollingsworth. In spite of his name which suggests a Irish character, John Henry Patrick is a Missourian and is unmistakably proud of it. He is a fine type of the honest, conscientious, country practitioner; has the confidence of his friends and neighbors in the little town of Bowling Green, Mo., and is appointed the guardian of Eva Halls and her brother. When his wards go to tour Europe they become enmeshed in the snarls set by some of the impoverished nobility in the city of Naples whose ultimate object is to secure the Halls millions by the marriage of Miss Halls and the foppish Lord Newcastle.

Ostensibly to protect the financial interests of his ward, but in reality moved more by an affection for her that he has never disclosed, John Henry Patrick hastens to Naples and frustrates the schemers and then does just what every auditor wants him to do—marries his ward himself.

At the Alamo.

The Alamo Theatre tonight offers another of the clever Broncho three reel war dramas entitled "The Price of the South." The story deals with incidents of the Civil war and is full of action from start to finish. Also with this is also given "Petticoat Perfectly," a comedy of the mirth provoking kind.

At the Gem.

"Kerry Gow" old Joe Murphy great Irish drama, was the feature of the Gem program and one that appealed to all lovers of Irish drama. "Kerry Gow" is a sweet story of love mingled with a horse race and the picture was fully as entertaining as the original production.

THE BRAVEST BATTLE

The bravest battle that was ever fought:
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you will find it not:
It was fought by the mothers of men.

Nay, not with cannon or battle shot,
With sword or nobler pen;
Nay, not with eloquent word of thought,
From mouths of wonderful men.

But deep in a walled-up woman's heart—
Of woman that would not yield.
But patiently, silently bore her part—
Lo! here is that battlefield.

No, marshalling troop, no bivouac song;
No banner to gleam and wave:
And oh! these battles they last so long—
From boyhood to the grave!

Yet, faithful still as a bridge of stars,
She fights in her walled-up town—
Fights on and on in the endless wars,
Then silent, unseen—goes down.

Mesdames Duffey, Garner and McFall will entertain the members of the Woodman circle at the home of Mrs. McDowell, 1703 Austin street Thursday afternoon. All members invited.

SUNFLOWER EMBROIDERY CLUB IS ORGANIZED.

A number of ladies living north of Seventh street met at the home of Mrs. Comer last Thursday afternoon for the purpose of organizing an embroidery club. The first thing in order was the naming of our club. After some considerable discussion of names we decided upon for the "Sunflower" Club.

Mrs. Comer was elected president; Mrs. Klaster, vice president; Mrs. Shields, secretary; Mrs. Rawls, corresponding secretary.

Our next place of meeting will be with Mrs. G. W. Burns, 410 Austin, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The following ladies were enrolled: Mesdames Comer, Shields, Dickey, Dowis, Burns, Brown, Frost, Klaster, Smith, Rawls, McClure, Benson, Misses Shields, Comer and Tobolow; sky, making a membership of sixteen.

The purpose of our meeting to gather is to bring the ladies in closer touch with each other and to promote the sociability of all present. To those living in this vicinity will be glad to have them join us.

FARM HANDS ARE VERY POORLY PAID

Employers Deplore $5 Weekly Wage N Planters and Grpwers However Unable to Better Things

The Farmers' Union has been making a comparison of the condition of farm laborers with other classes of laborers in Texas, and in the United States. Peter Radford, president of the union, in discussing the subject, said: "The nation has been shocked to find young women receiving wages under $8 per week, but did you ever stop to consider that the farm laborer works for less money? The legislature has just placed an eight-hour law upon the statute books, but did it ever occur to you that the farmer works from sun to sun?"

"The Farmers' Union is in sympathy with the working girls and in favor of the eight-hour law, and we stand for fewer hours and better wages for all who toil, but what about the farm laborer? There are more men who labor on the farms of Texas than in all other occupations combined."

According to the report of the Federal Census Bureau, farm wages in Texas average $19 a month with board and $27.30 a month without board. Reduced to a weekly basis it means that the farm laborer of Texas get $6 a week where they board themselves and in many instances they have a family to support. The farm owner can not increase the wages of his hired help and "shift the burden" to the consumer, as is often the case with the merchant and the manufacturer. He does not fix the price of his products and while producing the wealth of the nation he receives minimum pay for his services. Overproduction and crop mortgages force the farmer into ruinous competition with each other, forcing down prices and compelling low wages and long hours. The remedy lies in organization and in cooperation in marketing.

In Texas 160,538 farms of the 417,770 employ help at an annual expense of $25,785,000. During the past 10 years farm wages have increased $4.97 a month.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MRS. J. W. CULBERTSON.

A few of her friends gave Mrs. J. W. Culbertson a genuine surprise when they dropped in upon her at her home in Floral Heights last night on the occasion of her birthday each one bringing an unique present. The visitors also brought refreshments of cream and wafers and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent with the surprised hostess. "We just had a jolly good time," one of the guests told the reporter.

On account of the serious illness of Mr. Barnard's mother the New Century Club's open meeting at Mrs. Barnard's will be indefinitely postponed. There will be a business meeting at Mrs. Guest's tomorrow afternoon.

N. HENDERSON MAKES OFFER FOR CITY HALL

Nat Henderson today made the city hall building committee of the city council an offer of the lot at the corner of Seventh street and Scott avenue and $25,000 in cash for the present city hall building. The offer was made to John T. Young, as one of the committee, for presentation to the council and action will probably be taken by that body at its next meeting.

The lot in question is 100x150 feet and is considered an ideal location for the city hall. It is large enough to permit of a building adequate to meet the needs of the growth of the city for many years and is an ideal location, being so near the heart of the city and also close to the court house.

TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION LUNCHEON TOMORROW.

The Wichita Falls Traffic Association will hold a luncheon at the Westland at 12:30 tomorrow to which merchants, manufacturers and jobbers are especially invited. Those intending to attend should notify the secretary, J. G. Kilgore at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

It is estimated that there are about 7,000,000 square miles, or about one-eighth of the land surface of the world, waiting to be explored by discoverers.

The Times notes that most counties are now issuing itemized quarterly financial statements, giving a correct and comprehensive account of the expenditures of the county, for what the money was expended for, and to whom the warrant was issued. Many cities also, have adopted this plan, probably for the simple reason that it can be read and understood by anyone of ordinary intelligence. The form of financial statements usually issued by Wichita county is so condensed that only those who are expert at bookkeeping can draw from them a clear and concise idea of their meaning. "The itemized statement is by far the best, and there is no good reason why they should not be published quarterly, not only by the county, but by the municipal government. When more money is needed to defray the expense of the government, taxes are made higher to meet that expense. Perhaps it will cost a trifle more to issue these itemized statements, but the satisfaction afforded those who pay the tax would more than offset the small increase in cost. Nearly all the progressive county and municipal governments of the state have adopted the plan of keeping the tax-payers posted by publishing quarterly itemized statements. In this respect the county and city government of this county are lagging behind the times.

HELEN KELLER FORECASTS TROUBLE FOR WILSON

Miss Helen Keller is forecasting trouble for the Wilson administration and she is not by herself in this. No one really expected trouble could be avoided in bringing about such a change as is demanded by the masses of American people. Miss Keller, a blind, deaf, dumb and socialist. Her statement is as follows: "The tariff will keep President Wilson very, very busy for a long time and I believe will end in a compromise with big business or with its representatives in the legislature. We cannot have justice until the great trusts of all—the property trusts—has succeeded, these money-making trusts. And that time is coming. "I foresee the day when the people will take over all of man's product and distribute and transport them to the consumer. Man's affairs will be managed by all for the benefit of all. "That is democracy. We have never before seen democracy. It has never existed in the world. There has never been a free nation. From time immemorial men have bowed to the wills of masters. They have never rejoiced in the labor of their hand because some master has a large part of their toil for his profits. This is the most wonderful thing in the world to me—that men have continued all these centuries to allow other men to take the greater portions of their labors. Nobody robs us on the highways with the hand and cry of law, but the trusts have taken our produce, our waterways, our resources—and have converted them to their own usage. Never until the people own and manage these things will there be happiness. "But I feel more hopeful. It is all in a days work to hope you know. "But President Wilson, though his intentions are good, and his ability great, cannot aid us in our fight for true democracy. "President Wilson will fail because the forces against him are stronger than himself, stronger than any president has ever been. He will have to fight blindly against a system that has been carefully built up—a system of trusts that have been concentrated more and more the world's wealth and the world's efficiency and profits. "His own party will be against him in lessening 'big business' profit by will alienate his closest supporters. The president has said he will hand all who disturb this condition higher than Haman. The 'interests' when they hear that must have laughter in their sleeves. He cannot lay his hands on them. As fast as one is divided another springs up."

COINCIDENCE OR CUSSIDNESS, WHICH?

New York City, April 18th, 1913.—Mr. B. D. Donnell, Managing Editor The Times, Wichita Falls, Texas. My Dear Donnell: I am dropping you a note to give you the details of a very interesting coincidence. It might be properly styled, "Coincidence and Cussedness," or the tragedy of third class mail. It all amounts to an indictment of Uncle Sam and evidences the degeneracy of the U. S. postal system. Of course we don't know whether to charge it to the democrats or to the republicans, for, although the democrats are entrenched in power at the big city-on-the-Potomac, there are still republicans to be found in remote and isolated localities who are warning chairs which, under the rule of "vae victis," should be warmed by democratic anatomies. The clipping which I attach and mark exhibit "A," was taken from your paper under date of February 6th. It arrived today, April 18th, two months and twelve days after it was published. The coincidence lies in the fact that in the very paper in question was this editorial which referred to the rottenness of the postal service in its relation to matter of newspaper class. It would almost seem that the postal authorities were retaliating against the issue in question for daring to criticize postal methods. I only wish that the paper in question could speak and had the power to relate to an interested and sympathetic ear just what happened to it during the seventy-two days that intervened between the time it started on its journey and the date it arrived at its destination. I feel that it could a tale unfold which would make each particular hair stand straight upon the heads of Albert Burleson and Mr. Bacon, like quills upon the peevish porcupine. With kind regards, I have the honor to remain, as ever, Your friend, H. W. GASTON.

This is the clipping the writer of the above refers to as Exhibit A.

"SOME MORE KICKS"

Before leaving the city about three weeks ago, P. H. Pennington, one of our prominent merchants, stepped in at the Times office and ordered the paper sent to his address. He returned home yesterday, and during his absence of twenty-one days in New York he succeeded in getting four copies of the Times, though a copy was mailed him each day it was published. Another gentleman, formerly of this city but now located in New York, sends word by Mr. Pennington that the copy of the Times he is supposed to get every day except Saturday, reaches him but once or twice a week. Still another kick comes from Vernon, just fifty-five miles west of us, who says the paper came so irregularly during the past year that, while he likes the paper, he does not feel like paying for something he does not get. He also says that he finds little or no trouble in getting his other mail. But what is the use of all this kicking? The Times can only guarantee to properly address, wrap and mail the papers and that is all it can do. It is up to the postal authorities to see that service is rendered, and when it is not an investigation should be ordered.

FREE THEATERS FOR THE PEOPLE.

There are many in the United States to whom the idea of supplying the public with free entertainment under government or private auspices, is paternalistic and objectionable. Yet those people have accepted the idea, essentially, with little or no protest, through many years. They would hold, perhaps, that there is a great difference between the establishment and maintenance of national, state and municipal parks and boulevards, free museums and libraries, free bathing beaches and recreation places, free open-air concert, free pyrotechnic displays, and a free opera or a free drama; but the difference is rather imaginary than real. If the people may legitimately tax themselves to entertain or to amuse themselves in one particular, they can legitimately do so in another. If they can safely accept philanthropy or benevolence in relation to one class of benefits, they may safely do so in another.

Many communities in the United States have so decided. From San Francisco to New York and from New Orleans to Detroit, free entertainment of one kind or another is applied to the public, if not regular, at least periodically, in hundreds of American towns and cities. Striking instances of departure from the general line are to be found in the Milwaukee, Denver and other municipalities that have opened free theaters or amusement parks. Beyond the fact that certain Chicago folk propose to go into the free theater enterprise more extensively than any of their predecessors in public or private life in other cities here, is, then, nothing to surprise or shock public sentiment in their proposal to construct in one of the Chicago parks an amphitheater capable of seating 30,000 persons, for the purpose of furnishing the mass of the people with free theatricals, or in the proposal to supplement this undertaking by establishing free theaters in all of the small parks of the city. Manifestly, the value of the free theater must be determined by the character of its productions. It is not difficult to see how it might become a detriment rather than a benefit to the mass of the people. But it is only right to assume that whether conducted under public or private auspices in this country it will be subjected to such regulation as shall accord with the higher sentiment and higher moral standards of the nation. There is no excuse for pessimism on this score. American public sentiment is sound at the core. The preliminary announcements with regard to the Chicago enterprise indicate that the aim will be to make the free theaters educational as well as entertaining. Who that has even a superficial knowledge of the mass in populous communities can question the need that exists for such education as a clean drama can impart, or

TWO MONTHS OF HUERTA.

It is now a little more than two months since Victoriano Huerta precipitated himself into the forefront of Mexican politics, and in the space of hours made memorable by acts of treachery the like of which the world has seldom seen, became provisional president of Mexico. Despite the fact that he had betrayed the constitutional administration in whose services he was acting as a sworn officer; that he had voluntarily gone out of his way to deceive a heart broken wife as to his actual intention toward her husband, Francisco I. Madero, whom he had tricked into captivity and was holding a close prisoner; and that he had treated the diplomatic hint of this government that Madero be given a fair and impartial trial with a disregard as cold as I was ill-advised, Victoriano Huerta was accepted by the world at large as Mexico's best bet.

He had achieved success by a betrayal the recollection of which will ever draw an unhappy parallel between himself and that other who "went out and hanged himself," yet the honesty of his intentions seems to have been relieved. He had assumed an attitude of hypocritical self-righteousness before a weeping woman from which a Bowersy thug would have turned away in shame, yet the sincerity of his purpose, so far as Mexico was concerned, was not impugned. He had mocked the American people in their protest against the possible unfair treatment for Francisco I. Madero by doing him to death in a manner so palpable and apparent that a 10-year-old child would have had no trouble in recognizing it as murder, yet the American people accepted him at his word.

Victoriano Huerta was acclaimed as an "iron man," the reincarnation of Don Porfirio himself. His sternness and severity were commented upon as auspicious omens for the speedy solution of the intrigues and revolts with which the unhappy republic to the south of the Rio Grande was beset. His ruthless use of the market as a national safeguard was contrasted in the most favorable light with the mildness and humanity of his predecessor, who was termed a man beyond his time, a dreamer, "honest but misguided."

As soon as Madero was well out of the way, the bloody automobile scrubbed clean and the leaders of the "red" mob allowed to escape without identification, Huerta gave out a statement before the assembled newspaper men, in which he said that all of his acts had been actuated by no other motives than those of patriotism; that he had been influenced by personal ambition; that he had no desire to become permanent head of the government, and that his dearest wish was that it might be said of him when he turned over the reins of the government to his successor: "He restored peace to Mexico."

Huerta then proceeded to promote Major Cardenas from the rurales to the regular army—a gratuity not to be despised, and conferred for no other apparent reason than as a reward for services well rendered. Major Cardenas having commanded Madero's escort and having been one of the occupants of that fatal automobile. This act on Huerta's part may have come as a happy afterthought to his declaration that "society should be satisfied as to the facts surrounding Madero's death." If so, it has not failed of its purpose.

What else is there to announce in the two months reign of Huerta? A few statements as to future campaigns; perhaps, a few assassinations; now and then a massacre, but really nothing out of the ordinary, viewed in the light of the past two years of Mexican history.

The country is still distraught with revolutions; property is still being confiscated; the border still needs protection, and foreigners are still getting away as fast as a constantly interrupted train service will permit.

Did any serious-minded person expect anything else? Did anybody ever believe that Victoriano Huerta would accomplish aught in the relief of Mexico? If so, he put a high premium on treachery and a rather remarkable value on deceit.

Two months of Huerta have discovered to the world little except the disposition of false hope, the passing of a rainbow dream, and the regrettable but obvious conclusion that the man who is guiding the destinies of Mexico is, after all, as helpless as his predecessor.—Houston Chronicle.

Congressman John H. Stephens has honorable mention as a prospective candidate for gubernatorial honors. As to whether he has aspirations in that direction is not known, but should it turn out that he has, and will enter the contest, then we will know to a man how many men there are in this great big district who are of congressional size, and who would like to step into John H's shoes. It would require a stick or two of type to enroll their names.

Perhaps we ought not feel that way about it, but if it is to be the policy of the Democratic administration to permit the Republicans to feed at the federal pie counter throughout a greater portion of the Democratic term, we'd just like to know it right now. It would serve to lift a heavy load from the shoulders of some who have hopes of lightning striking them.

FACING THE GUILLOTINE. BANDITS REFUSE RUM.

Paris, April 22—None of the three automobile bandits who were guillotined today took the big glass of rum offered, as is usual to men about to be executed. Calhoun and Sady refused by a nod, while Monier declared, "I will not alcoholize my self."

Without the definite knowledge that Monday was to be the day of their death, the three condemned men played cards on Sunday afternoon in jail. Suddenly Calhoun rose and said: "I have a presentiment that this is my last day. Tomorrow I shall see Dobbler, the executioner."

When he was told, "Your time has Cuero, Texas, April 22—Lucia Mendoza, a Mexican section hand, was shot five times and killed Sunday morning in the Westhoff section. Monier Duran, another section hand, charged with the offense, fled and has not been apprehended. The playing of a guitar is said to have started the difficulty.

the masculine luxuries there is probably none that produces a keener sense of enjoyment than a good cigar properly kept. To the man who thinks a cigar is a cigar and who is merely looking for something that will make a fog regardless of taste or smell any kind of a stink stick will do. But to the smoker who is a connoisseur of tobacco and recognizes the bouquet or blend of a high class cigar the cheap or badly kept cigar is a hideous nightmare, a bitter joke and a disgusting disappointment.

We cater to the taste of the man who knows. First, we buy the best cigars we can get. Second, we examine them closely every day to see that they do not get dry and that they do not get too moist. And third, our stock is always fresh, not a cigar in the house that has been there over sixty days.

HALF SUFFER DECAYED TEETH

MEDICAL INSPECTOR HOUSTON SCHOOLS SAYS PUPILS HAVE DEFECTIVE TEETH

A MENACE TO HEALTH

Bad Teeth Cause Bad Digestion; Bad Digestion Also Often Causes Bad Teeth

Houston, Texas, April 22.—"From 50 to 90 per cent of children in the grade schools suffer from defective teeth," said Dr. W. W. Ralston, medical inspector for the public schools of Houston. Dr. Oster has said the intelligent consideration of dental hygiene is of greater importance to a nation than that of consumption of alcohol, great as that is.

"In most of our public schools the teachers are attempting to teach physiology and mental hygiene to pupils, the majority of whom possess mouths constantly unhygienic.

"Let any teacher who doubts this statement examine even superficially the teeth of the pupils in an average grade and she will be convinced of the truth of this statement.

Decay Menace to Health.

"Decayed teeth are a constant menace to child health. They furnish a lurking place for various sorts of dangerous bacteria. They constantly contain food which has undergone decomposition and which consequently furnishes toxins which are absorbed. Faulty states of nutrition, bad teeth and enlarged lymph glands in the neck are conditions which usually accompany one another. Bad teeth cause bad digestion and bad digestion often causes bad teeth. If you have one you are pretty sure to have the other.

"Many cases of neurasthenia seem to be due at least in part to diseased teeth. Constipation, says Dr. J. H. Kellogg of Battle Creek, is the most common malady of civilization, except one—decay of the teeth—and the two disorders often go together.

What Oster Thinks.

Dr. Oster, the most famous physician in the world, says:

"There is not anything more important to the public in the whole range of hygiene in the mouth. If we are asked to say whether more physical deterioration was produced by alcohol or defective teeth, I should unhesitatingly say defective teeth."

It is true that a mouth containing bad teeth or diseased gums interferes very materially with the nutrition of the person that depends upon healthful nutrition for strength and efficiency.

It is not strange, therefore, that the mouth, the orifice through which food is introduced to build up the body, should cause disease and weakness if it is not clean. Even poor eyesight and trouble with the eyes and ears often attend, and are caused by a dirty and uncared for mouth.

What to Do to Drive Out Germs.

"If you don't want germs to collect and grow in your mouth," Dr. Ralston continued, "keep it clean. Go to a dentist, see that all roots are extracted, that decayed teeth are filled, and then use a tooth brush and keep the mouth clean. This is one step which is necessary to prevent consumption, also to prevent infectious diseases."

"The Society of Oral Hygiene has prepared the following rules for keeping the mouth and teeth clean:

"Chew your food slowly and thor-

German and French Army Circles Agog Over Recent Disturbing Incidents

Berlin, April 22.—The German government has called upon the French government to investigate the Nancy affair, when three Germans were captured by two ladies, were consulted by French students, which caused a great impression in Germany. Foreign Secretary Jagow before the reichstag that the German ambassador in Paris had been instructed to take the necessary steps to secure an investigation. In case the official reports prove to be true, the ambassador is to make representations in regard to the inadequate protection afforded Germans in France. The reichstag greeted the foreign secretary's statement with demonstrations of approval. A preliminary report received by the French ministry of the interior, from the central police authority of Nancy says: "Three Germans, accompanied by two ladies, were present Sunday evening at a performance of the Casino. Some coarse remarks were addressed to them by a party of students, and there were some hisses from the gallery. The incident, however, passed unnoticed, and the strangers left the Casino shortly after, and went to the Brasserie Lorraine. Five or six students followed them to the cafe and repeated the incident of the Casino. The proprietor of the establishment requested the students to be quiet. This they did, but when the house closed the same students, escorted by about fifty onlookers, accompanied the five persons in question to the station and regimed their jests. A dozen of the manifestants succeeded in making their way to the platform and continued the demonstration until the train left for Metz. The three Germans were not officers. Inquiry into the incident is still proceeding, but it appears that the deed was done by excited young men who did not realize their bad taste. The Nancy incident and the Luneville war alrship affair have aroused much ill feeling in both countries. These pictures are of interest in connection with these events and the coming war maneuvers.

ughly, it helps to keep the teeth and gums clean. Try it.

"Brush your teeth thoroughly and always before going to bed.

"Brush your teeth from the gums and toward the cutting edge. Brushing sideways does not remove particles from between and causes unnecessary wear to the teeth and injures the gums.

"Brush the inner sides of the teeth to prevent tartar from forming.

"Use floss silk between the teeth to keep these surfaces clean.

Doing these things will help you to have pretty and sound teeth and sweet breath.

Number of Teeth.—There are 20 teeth in the first or temporary set—10 upper and 10 lower. In the permanent or second set there are 32 teeth—16 upper and 16 lower.

Their Purpose.—The teeth are for ornamentation, for grinding the food (thus preparing it for proper digestion) and assistance in talking. They should last to the end of life.

How Lost.—By decay and loosening decay is caused by allowing food to remain about the teeth and by poor health. Teeth become loose by a deposit on them at the edge of the gum, called tartar.

How can decayed teeth and diseased gums be prevented?

By cleaning the teeth with a tooth brush and water on arising in the morning and before going to bed at night. A quit toothpick, properly sharpened, should be used after each meal. The essential ingredient in all good tooth powders is precipitated chalk. This may be flavored to suit the taste.

The slow and thorough chewing of the food helps to preserve the teeth and keep the mouth in a healthy condition.

Every person should have his teeth examined by a competent dentist several times a year.

Cleanliness is the best guard against disease.

REV. W. H. GONWILL DIED FRIDAY NIGHT.

The subject of this sketch, Rev. W. H. Gonwill passed away Friday night at 10:15, the cause of his death being tuberculosis from which he had suffered for the past two years.

Rev. Gonwill was born in Misamisippi, January 21, 1861 and died April 18, 1913. He was married Jan. 28, 1883; was converted when young and ordained to the full work of the ministry in the Baptist church, August 20, 1890.

Throughout the two years of his suffering he has shown great patience and submission; at all times was cheerful and thoughtful of others. He was patient in his affliction and brave in the hour of death.

He was buried by the Masonic lodge. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church and the beautiful tributes paid to his memory by the number of ministers of different denominations and the large crowd that followed the remains to the last resting place showed the high esteem in which Bro. Gonwill was held. Quite a large number of Masons came from Electra, Wichita Falls and Archer City to pay tribute to his memory.

He leaves a wife and six children who have the sympathy of the people of Iowa Park and surrounding country in this their great sorrow.

A FRIEND,
Iowa Park, Tex., April 21, 1913.

Cottolene
makes delicious doughnuts

Cottolene makes delicious doughnuts—free from sogginess, grease and indigestion. The reason is that Cottolene contains vegetable oil—not animal fats—heats to a much higher degree than butter or lard, fries so quickly that it forms a crisp, dry crust over the dough and prevents the absorbing of the fat.

Cottolene is decidedly better than butter or lard for all short ening and frying. It is healthier, it is quicker, it is more economical.

Cottolene costs no more than lard; you use but two-thirds of a pound of Cottolene to do the work of a full pound of butter or lard.

Cottolene is never sold in bulk—always in air-tight tin pails, which protect it from dirt, dust and odors. It is always uniform and dependable.

DRILLERS LOST GAME TO SHERMAN

OPENING GAME OF SERIES THERE PRETTY CONTEST ALL THE WAY THROUGH

GOOD CROWD SAW GAME

Scroggins Pitched For Locals and While He Lost Game His Performance Pleasing

Sherman, Texas, April 22.—Sherman playing on their home lot before a big crowd yesterday took the "champs" into camp by a score of 5 to 3. The game was a pretty contest all the way through. Scroggins was the twirler for the drillers and pitched a game that shows when he gets a little more experience and steadies down he will be one of the most formidable pitchers of the league. He allowed eight hits and passed six men and some of the hits and passes came when they meant runs, but at that Scroggins "em up in a manner that gave hope for steadier performance in the future. He also lamed out a three bagger, the only one of the game. The score:

Battleships Comprising Fleet.

The vessels to go on the journey-cruise will be the battleships, Wyoming, Florida, Arkansas, Delaware, North Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Michigan, Louisiana, New Hampshire, South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Nebraska, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Minnesota, Connecticut, Kansas and Idaho.

Comparing these ships with the battleship fleet which went around the world, they aggregate a tonnage of 364,500 as against 223,500. Navy officers point out that a more striking example of the advance of the navy's effective fighting power is shown, by a comparison of the muzzle energy of the main batteries of the fleet with the world gridding fleet of 1907. In round figures the muzzle energy of the fleet of 1907 summed up 5,300,000 foot pounds. The main batteries of the fleet which will make the Mediterranean trip will total 9,550,000 foot pounds, almost twice as much. The battleships will be accompanied by all the destroyers that can be spared and an accompaniment of repair and supply ships. This official announcement by Secretary Daniels makes it apparent that the ships will go fully equipped.

Will Sail 'About January 1.

While it is the plan to have the ships sail about January 1, and make their first call at Gibraltar, with possibly a stop or two on the way, a schedule and plan of the ports of call has not been worked out. Those who will watch the tour of the fleet are evincing a great deal of interest as to what this schedule will provide.

The navy department's official announcement declares that the fleet will be too large to be accommodated at any one time in many harbors to be visited and that at Gibraltar it will be divided and make a tour of the Mediterranean in divisions.

Official announcement of the fleet movement, as made last night at the navy department, declared the object was to send the fleet on a pleasant cruise to stimulate enlistment and educate officers and men. Accompanying the announcement was a comparative statement of the fighting strength of the fleet as against the battle fleet of 1907 and also a short review of the cruise of the white squadron, the first of the new navy to cruise in foreign waters and the cruise of the battle fleet of 1907.

ANOTHER WORLD CRUISE FOR NAVY

UNCLE SAM'S FLEET TO SAIL FOR MEDITERRANEAN NEXT JANUARY

Nearly Twice As Great As On First World's Cruise—Tonnage Half Again As Large

Washington, April 22.—When the American fleet sails for the Mediterranean in January it will be nearly twice the muzzle energy of the famous battleship fleet sent around the world in 1907 by former President Roosevelt, and a fleet of half again as great tonnage.

The schedule and ports of call remain to be worked out and it merely has been announced that the big fleet would tour the Mediterranean in divisions. It was the original plan, in connection with the opening of the Panama canal, to have the fleet pass through from the Atlantic to the Pacific about January 1, the tentative date of the opening. This is practically disarranged by the decision to send the fleet abroad, but it was pointed out today that from the Mediterranean it was comparatively a short voyage through the Suez canal and into the Pacific and the fleet could return that way, making the passage through the canal from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Comparing these ships with the battleship fleet which went around the world, they aggregate a tonnage of 364,500 as against 223,500. Navy officers point out that a more striking example of the advance of the navy's effective fighting power is shown, by a comparison of the muzzle energy of the main batteries of the fleet with the world gridding fleet of 1907. This picture shows the huge 126 foot high arches of Machinery hall, the largest of the Panama-Pacific exposition structures. In San Francisco. It will be 967 feet in length and 367 feet wide, and each of the three vaulted naves, which will follow the line of these arches, will be more than 900 feet in length. The building will cover more than eight acres. The parts of the structure are fitted together and then raised to place by huge cranes traveling on double-track railroads. More than 8,000,000 feet of lumber will go into the building. Work has started on five others of the exposition buildings. All of the main exhibit palaces will be under construction during the coming fall, and all of them will be completed eight months before the opening of the exposition.

How Public Can Assist in Prevention of Railroad Accidents

A very interesting circular is being issued to agents for the M. K. & T. system, giving the Interstate Commerce Commission's report of railroad accidents in the United States during the year ending June 30, 1912. Besides the statistics, information is printed for the benefit of the public showing them how assistance by them can greatly aid the railroads in lessening the large number of fatalities resulting each year from negligence, carelessness, trespassing, etc.

Railroad Travel Not Hazardous.
The statistics show that there is comparatively small danger in traveling by railroad. Of all the passengers carried on the railroads of the United States in 1911, only one out of every 3,000,000 was killed. While but 139 were killed in collisions and derailments, over 5,000 trespassers were killed. On all of the railroads of Great Britain, with its dense population only 462 were killed trespassing. Loss of life by trespassing on railroad property is practically unknown in many European countries where laws prohibiting trespassing have been enacted and are rigidly enforced.

Katy's Safety Commission.
The M. K. & T. system recently appointed a safety commissioner, A. A. Kruse with headquarters at St. Louis. It is the duty of this commissioner to take all possible steps in aiding the company's employees in the prevention of accidents, and also in instructing the public in this connection. An employee's magazine is being published which is mailed monthly to all employed by the system. This publication deals with modern safety devices, methods for lessening danger to both traveling public and employees, also containing stories and personal items of interest to the company and their employees. Although the subscription price is one dollar per annum this magazine is mailed free to 20,000 employees. Accompanying the magazine this month, its second issue are the above mentioned statistics, as follows:

How the Public Can Assist
The Interstate Commerce Commission's report of railroad accidents in the United States during the year ending June 30th, 1912, shows:

318 passengers were killed.
126,386 passengers were injured.
(997,495,882 passengers were carried on the railroads of the United States in 1911.)
Only one passenger was killed out of every 3,000,000 passengers carried.
Only one passenger was injured out of 61,200 passengers carried.
During the last twenty-five years the M. K. & T. Ry. has had but one passenger on a passenger train killed in a collision or derailment.

From the foregoing it will appear that a passenger is safer on a railroad train than he is anywhere else in the world, and this further demonstrated by the well known fact that one can, at the same cost, obtain twice the amount of insurance against accidents occurring on passenger trains, that he can secure against accidents occurring elsewhere, even in his own home.

Of the passengers killed and injured during the past year, 139 were killed and 9391 were injured in collisions or derailments, and 179 were killed and 5995 were injured in accidents other than collisions and derailments.

5434 trespassers were killed, (nearly 15 every day.)

1198 travelers on highways, and other non-trespassers, were killed.

10,710 trespassers and non-trespassers were injured.

6,782 persons, or 66 per cent of the total killed, were struck or run over by engines or cars, while standing or walking on railroad tracks.

1,782 persons, or 17 per cent of the total killed, lost their lives by getting on or off, or by falling from cars or engines.

Many of the trespassers were either small children playing or straying upon the tracks, or young boys "hopping" trains, or young and middle-aged, able-bodied, working men or heads of families, walking upon the tracks or unlawfully riding on trains; all of them living at or near the place of the accident.

Loss of life by trespassing on railroad property is practically unknown in many European countries, where adequate laws prohibiting trespassing have been enacted and are rigidly enforced.

On all the railroads of Great Britain with its dense population, only 462 trespassers (including suicides) lost their lives and 124 were injured in 1911.

Over 5,000 lives are sacrificed every year in the United States on the altar of public sentiment, because the railroads can do nothing to prevent trespassing, and because the public countenance trespassing, and either will not insist upon the enactment of laws against this evil, or if enacted will not insist upon the enforcement of such laws.

By taking the following precautions many of the deaths and injuries occurring in the foregoing manner can be easily prevented:

Some Don'ts for Everybody
1. Don't attempt to cross a track in front of a moving train; wait until it passes.
2. Don't attempt to cross a track without first stopping and listening,

Chalmers "Thirty-Six"

Worth $1000 More

But costs only $300 to $500 more than some other car you may be considering

First of all we want to impress upon the motor car buyers of this community that the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" is a good car.

It is exceptionally good. It is worth more than passing notice. Because there is no other car at the price which offers so many fine features and so much real value.

This car has a really wonderful motor, 4 1-4 inch bore and 5 1-4 inch-stroke. It develops full 36 horsepower at low engine speeds and goes as high as 45 horse power when the motor is turning over rapidly. But the beauty of it is the great power at slow speeds. You know that means "she is there" on the hills.

The four forward-speed transmission is an advanced feature hitherto found only on the highest priced cars. And the gears in Chalmers transmissions are ground to eliminate all noise. You positively cannot get this feature in any car under the Chalmers price—and in no other at this price either.

Utmost comfort is found in the deep 11-inch upholstery, the Turkish cushions, the long wheel-base (118 inches), big wheels and tires (36 inches by 4 inches), the long springs, the roomy body.

In convenience, no car surpasses the "Thirty-Six." Every driving operation is controlled from the seat. A foot-button operates the efficient Chalmers-compressed air starter. One simple switch controls the Gray & Davis lighting system. Carburetor is adjusted from the dash. Ignition switch, gasoline pump, light meter, horn and Warner speedometer are all on the cowl dash.

The "Thirty-Six" is staunch and safe. Axles are of nickel steel; double drop frame unusually heavy; steering connections are all drop forgings; brakes of maximum strength and grip.

In looks, style, grace, elegance, no car offers more than the "Thirty-Six." It is a beautiful car in every line.

And lastly—the "Thirty-Six" is a factory-built car. Not assembled from parts bought here and there—but actually built by the company whose name it bears. There is one inspector to every 13 workmen in the Chalmers factory. That's your assurance that Chalmers cars are built right.

Come see the "Thirty-Six" and learn for yourself why it is such a good car—such a wonderful value for the price, $1950 (fully equipped, f. o. b. Detroit.)

"I'll Fly Across Atlantic Yet,"
Says Brucker, Whose Start
Delayed by Leak in Gas Bag

JOSEPH BRUCKER, WHO HOPES TO BE THE COLUMBUS OF THE AIR

Joseph Brucker, the Austrian-American balloonist, hopes to get away successfully soon on his attempted flight across the Atlantic ocean from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, off the coast of Africa, to the West Indies or Florida. This is the latest picture of him. He says he believes his great dirigible balloon Suchard II, will accomplish the feat and not meet with the same fate that befell Wellman and Vanman when they started from Atlantic City, N. J., and tried to fly across the sea. When Brucker was ready to start the other day he found that the gas had leaked out of the big bag, and he had to delay the trip. "I'll fly across the Atlantic yet," he said, as he made arrangements to get a new supply of gas.

and looking in both directions to see if a train is approaching.

3. Don't step off one track onto another to let a train pass without first seeing if a train is approaching on the other.

4. Don't stand upon or near tracks to conduct conversation or kill time; it is extremely dangerous, especially at stations and crossings, and in yards.

5. Don't use the tracks as a pathway; there is unlimited space outside of the rails where you are free from danger.

6. Don't permit dumb brutes to be on crossings or tracks if you can prevent it; it is both dangerous and cruel. Drive them off.

7. Don't permit children to play or go upon the tracks.

8. Don't get on or off trains while in motion.

9. Don't stand up in trains or unnecessarily pass from one part of the train to another while in motion.

10. Don't get on trains which you do not intend to become a passenger and remain thereon until after the train has started.

11. Don't allow boys to indulge in the dangerous practice of "hopping" on and off moving cars and trains.

12. Don't steal rides on trains.

13. Don't stand or walk on track until train is upon you before getting off; have a due respect for the engineer's feelings and promptly observe the warning he sounds for your protection.

14. Don't stand on platforms or in open doorways of moving coaches, and don't place hand on posts or jamb of open door.

15. Don't place suit cases, large satchels, or other large packages in racks in coaches, as they are liable to fall out and injure those sitting underneath racks.

16. Don't throw banana peels, or other fruit remnants on floor of station or car, or in other places where they are liable to be stepped upon.
