EFFORT TO DELAY TARIFF BILL IN THE SENATE

PUBLIC HEARINGS CRITICAL POINT

REPUBLICANS MAY CHECK PROGRESS OF TARIFF BILL IN THE SENATE

AMENDMENT BY PENROSE

Louisiana Senators Join Republicans In Demand for Hearings on Tariff Bill

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 10.—A proposed amendment to the tariff law to have the secretary of the treasury to proclaim values for the purpose of assessment of imports, approximating a system of specific duties, was made today to Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee and Chairman Simmonds of the finance committee by Assistant Attorney General Denison and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Curtis.

Its adoption would bring a completely new feature into the administration of the tariff laws. It was conceived by Assistant Attorney General Denison several months ago while investigating the board of appraisers.

Chief interest in the tariff now lies in the contest over the question of public hearings precipitated by Senator Penrose. There is a possibility that the Republicans may rally enough support to defeat the majority party in its tariff program at this time. Such a development would undoubtedly result in slowing up consideration of the measure in the senate. This is the Democrats' chief objection to public hearings. They feel that hearings would not result in material changes in the bill and that the country is entitled to the new law as soon as it possibly can be made ready for the statute books.

The two Louisiana senators are openly in favor of the hearings. The Democratic leaders assert they will have enough votes to defeat the Penrose amendment when it comes up Tuesday.

MESSAGE TO JOHNSON PREPARED BY BRYAN

Secretary of State Forwards Japan's Protest to Governor of California

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 10.—Secretary Bryan tonight formulated a message to Governor Johnson of California setting forth representations of the Japanese government and views of the administration here as to what was considered discriminatory in the Webb anti-alien bill passed by the California legislature and now awaiting the governor's action. Mr. Bryan conferred with President Wilson an hour discussing in detail the formal protest by Ambassador Chinda. It was decided the secretary should send a communication, but its nature was not disclosed.

Mr. Bryan said the message would not be sent tonight. He probably will confer with the President tomorrow before dispatching it. Mr. Bryan communicated with the Japanese ambassador immediately after his conference with the President, but it is believed he merely advised the ambassador of the intended course of action.

MINING TOWN WIPED OUT BY EXPLOSION

By Associated Press.
Uniontown, Pa., May 10.—The explosion of 500 sticks of dynamite in the magazine of the Sunshine Coal and Coke Company's mine No. 1, three miles from Masontown, Pa., at 1 o'clock today practically wiped out the little mining settlement, killed three men and injured forty persons, twenty of them seriously. The cause of the explosion is not known.

The twenty-five or thirty dwellings in the settlement at the mine were so uninhabitable that tonight the residents moved to another mining settlement. There were four cars near the mine. One of them was loaded with dynamite.

G. O. P. LEADERS ARE GATHERING

THEY GATHER IN CHICAGO FOR AVOWED PURPOSE OF RE-ORGANIZING PARTY

CONVENTION IS PROPOSED

Senator Cummins Is Moving Spirit of Get Together Effort

By Associated Press.
Chicago, May 10.—United States senators and Republican leaders from various parts of the country began to arrive here today, with the avowed purpose of promoting a movement for a Republican national convention this year "to reorganize the party on progressive lines."

Senator Cummins of Iowa said the purpose would be to change "conditions in the party so as to prevent a recurrence of what happened at the Republican national convention."

Senator Cummins said: "Our purpose is to talk over the situation informally until Monday. We will have a meeting Monday and get through by noon. The movement for a Republican national convention this year already has become pretty well defined. It will be an extraordinary thing, but the result of the last election calls for some unusual action. The Republican national committee will meet in Washington May 24. We hope to present to this committee the necessity for a national convention."

"A convention this year, of course, would not have to nominate anybody, and it would not be dominated by the ambition of anyone. It simply would get together in a spirit of harmony and devise plans for the best interests of the party."

Mr. Cummins said among the aims of the convention are:

1. To change the basis of representation according to Republican strength, and not according to the representation of states in congress.

2. To do away with the rule which ignores primaries.

3. To modify any other custom of the party which might interfere with a modern spirit in the ranks of the party.

Senator Cummins said no attempt will be made at the convention to amalgamate the Republican and Progressive parties. He said:

"It will be like the Lord's supper. All who believe may partake. Let me say also we will have no secrecy about it."

Boy Police Force For Portland, Ore. Starting Monday

By Associated Press.
Portland, Oregon, May 10.—It was announced today that a boy police force will be instituted here next Wednesday. It is proposed to have a boy chief of police, with captains, sergeants and other sub-officials for every city ward. The boy officers will range from 12 to 18 years old. They will wear stars with the inscription, "Portland Juvenile Police." A code of procedure to govern this department will not permit the boy police actually to make arrests, but they will report youthful offenders to their superiors, who in turn will notify the police department and a regular officer will be sent to make the arrest.

Club Prizes Violate Law Says Grand Jury

By Associated Press.
Waxahachie, Texas, May 10.—Consternation was spread among members of women's social clubs of Waxahachie and by the Harris county grand jury just before adjournment today when it issued a statement declaring that ladies' organizations and other clubs that gave prizes for forty-two and other games, violated the laws of the state.

The grand jury did not stop with this expression of opinion but recommended that it investigate such violations fully and "treat them as the laws demand." The reason such action was not taken at this session was given to be that the ladies had been permitted to continue the violations without warning.

The ladies' clubs of the city filed a petition with the grand jury asking that it take action against pool halls. The grand jury commended the ladies for their interest and then threw the bombshell on the club prizes.

ALL READY FOR FIREMEN'S MEET

WICHITA FALLS PREPARING TO GIVE TEXAS VOLUNTEERS ROYAL ENTERTAINMENT.

WILL OPEN ON TUESDAY

Thousands of Visitors Expected Here for Three Days' Convention—Program Announced.

Wichita Falls will have as her guests this week the most patriotic and unselfish aggregation of individuals in Texas—the volunteer firemen of the state—patriotic and unselfish because they risk their lives for the protection of the property and lives of others for scanty recompense.

From reservations that have come in and from reports from over the state it is expected that fully one thousand firemen and sponsors will be here to attend the convention which opens Tuesday morning. Acting Secretary Thomas of the Chamber of Commerce, who is chairman of the committee which is looking after quarters for the visitors has found rooms for over seven hundred and believes there will be accommodations for all who come.

Delegates will begin arriving on the afternoon train Monday. More will come in Monday night and Tuesday and it is expected that practically all the delegations will be in Tuesday. A number of towns are going to make a fight for the next convention and Wichita Falls will see not only the biggest convention ever held here but will also see some of the most active campaigning ever witnessed in Texas.

The convention will be opened Tuesday morning with a firemen's parade led by Mayor Bell, Chief of Police Gwinn and J. C. Ward, president of the Wichita Falls firemen's organization. There will be several novel features in this parade which we are not at liberty to divulge at this time, but they will make the parade a feature which should not be missed.

Sessions of the convention will be held in the Majestic Theatre. A bureau of information will be maintained at the city hall but delegates will be required to register at the theatre.

The first session of the convention will be held following the parade Tuesday. The meeting will be called to order by H. W. Speckles of Lagrange, Texas, president of the State Firemen's Association. The invocation will be delivered by Rev. Father P. A. Heckman of Temple, who holds the affection of all the firemen of the state. The address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Bell. President Speckles will respond in behalf of the association. B. J. Bean, a member of the pioneer firemen's organization of the city will deliver a welcome in behalf of the local department to which a response will be made by E. P. Coopwood of Lockhart. A business session will then follow.

Business sessions will be held on Wednesday and Thursday.

Tuesday night the visiting delegates will be the guests of the Wichita Ice Co. at a Dutch lunch served from tables in the street in front of the ice plant. Wednesday night the visitors will enjoy a trolley ride to Lake Wichita where another lunch will be served by the Chamber of Commerce. The lunch will be followed by a dance for which Katz orchestra will play.

The closing entertainment will be Thursday night when reservations have been made for the visitors at Wren and Berry's Aldrome which will be opened that night with a special program, one which will be of particular interest to firemen.

Special committees have been named to look after the entertainment of the ladies who are coming as sponsors for a number of departments. Tuesday night while the firemen are enjoying the lunch, the ladies will be taken out and shown the window glass factory. Several other entertainments are being planned for the sponsors.

One of the most interesting features of the whole convention will be the hose reel contests for which cash prizes aggregating $525 have been hung up. These contests will be held Thursday afternoon. The events and as follows:

Hose reel race 1st prize ..... $250.00
Hose reel race 2nd prize ..... $150.00
Hose reel race 3rd prize ..... $75.00
Hose reel race, 4th prize ..... $50.00

O'HARA VICTIM OF A FRAME-UP

WOMAN WHO MADE AFFIDAVIT SAYS RELATIONS WITH VICE PROBE NOT IMPROPER

TESTIFIES AT HEARING

Springfield Liquor Dealer at Bottom of Charges Says Woman Who Made Affidavit

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Ill., May 10.—Miss Maude Robinson, author of the affidavit calling into question the moral conduct of Lieutenant Governor O'Hara, chairman of the Illinois vice probing committee, today testified that O'Hara had not been unduly intimate with her as charged.

In her testimony Miss Robinson brought into the case the name of Mrs. Mabel Imbush, a widow of Madison, Wisconsin, daughter of a former governor of that state. She said she came from Springfield to Chicago on the same train with O'Hara and Thomas Friedenbergs. They went to the hotel LaSalle where they met Mrs. Imbush, she said, and then went to the Hotel Sherman for dinner. While others remained with the two women, the witness said, Friedenbergs left the party returning later and announcing that he registered for the two couples as "J. F. Miller and wife" and "F. E. Duncan and wife." O'Hara, however, did not accompany the party to the suite and she saw him later standing in front of the hotel. Later, she said, O'Hara called at the apartment but denied that there was anything improper.

Miss Robinson testified that she went to the hotel on January 17 and remained there three days. She said she signed the affidavit at the request of Samuel Davis, a liquor dealer of Springfield, who assured her that it would never be made public, but would be held as a club over O'Hara to compel him to steer the vice investigation away from Davis' place at Springfield. She said she refused to sign a second affidavit upon the advice of a lawyer friend.

"Why didn't he want you to do it?" the witness was asked.

"Because he said Davis might not keep his promise not to make the affidavit public."

The witness testified that she had been married and was divorced, and that she was engaged in the dress-making business at Springfield.

Mrs. Imbush is reported to have said according to a dispatch from Madison, "I have nothing to do with this affair. I never stayed at the Hotel Sherman with Mr. Friedenbergs nor do I know Mr. O'Hara, and I never knew or heard of Maude Robinson." She said she believed the bringing in of her name was a part of a political conspiracy against her father, just as were the charges being used by saloon keepers and dive keepers against O'Hara.

O'Hara at the afternoon session told of the meeting Friedenbergs on the train January 17. On the way to the dining car, Friedenbergs was accused by Miss Robinson and Friedenbergs having invited O'Hara to luncheon introduced him to the woman and asked her to join them at luncheon. O'Hara's subsequent testimony was a complete alibi for January 17 after leaving the cafe. His actions on the 18th and 19th were similarly accounted for.

CORNER STONE LAID FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Simple But Pretty Ceremony Marked Placing Stone Saturday Afternoon

A very simple yet impressively beautiful ceremony marked the laying of the cornerstone for the First Christian Church Saturday afternoon. It had been intended to hold this ceremony at a later date, but the attendance of the pastor, Rev. F. F. Walters, at the state convention of the Christian church at San Angelo this week made it necessary to hold the cornerstone laying ceremony before he left yesterday.

A number of the congregation gathered at the site of the new church at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was opened with an invocation, following which the audience sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

A Bible, lists of the committees and copies of papers were then placed in the stone, following which it was set into place. Rev. Walters read from the thirteenth chapter of Revelations. Following this reading W. H. H. Thatcher offered prayer and the service closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

FEDERALS DEFEATED IN THREE ENGAGEMENTS

WILSON WILL NOT BE RECALLED

AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVE WILL REMAIN IN MEXICO TO LOOK AFTER AMERICAN INTERESTS

A PROTEST TO BRYAN

Americans in Mexico Declare They Have Not Been Protected for Two Years

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 10.—President Huerta's reminder to Ambassador Wilson of the limitation imposed upon him in his official intercourse with the Mexican government is not expected to change the status of the American ambassador. Mr. Wilson had been doing business with the Huerta government, and although he had not been able to extend the recognition desired by Huerta, he will continue to transact the necessary business in Mexico City for the present.

It is not expected that he will be given his passports or that he will be recalled in view of the almost certain confusion that would arise in the large American colony in Mexico if the ambassador were to leave summarily.

The state department considers Mr. Wilson's work in the interest of Americans, quite aside from any diplomatic functions, and thinks it of great importance.

A protest filed on behalf of Americans.

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 10.—Protest against lack of protection of American lives and American property in Mexico were made to Secretary of State Bryan today by Representative Hamilton for Americans holding large ranch interests in Mexico.

The written protest of the ranch owners says: "We have been without protection for two years. Our men are held for ransom, our horses and cattle stolen and driven off in large numbers. There is no law, no respect for American life and property. The Palomas Land and Cattle Company paid $5,000 in gold to get its foreman released and then had to pay a heavy ransom for the release of its bookkeeper."

"If the United States is not going to protect American citizens in foreign lands it should at least publish that fact broadcast to protect small investors. We have been held up continually by the Mexicans for every piece of work done on our ranch and have had to pay thousands of dollars in gold for the privilege of branding our calves. It is apparent that our government has forsaken us."

It is reported that Salazar, the rebel leader, has over $800,000 deposited in American banks from the proceeds of ransoms and pillage from foreigners, most of whom have been Americans.

JONNERAIL WINNER IN KENTUCKY DERBY

Unknown Nipped Ten Point at Wire and Broke the Derby Record

By Associated Press.
Louisville, Ky., May 10.—A champion three-year-old of America leaped into prominence today and the Churchill Downs derby course record was broken before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a derby here when Donnell, a Kentucky horse nipped Ten Point at the wire and won the 39th renewal of the Kentucky derby. The winner never having shown startling ability as a two year ability, and paid $184.50 for two dollars in the pari-mutual betting. The time was 2:04 4-5.

Dr. Everett Jones returned yesterday afternoon from San Antonio where he attended the convention of the State Medical Association.

REBELS EXTEND THEIR CONTROL

ONLY 3 IMPORTANT CITIES IN NORTHERN MEXICO HELD BY FEDERALS

MANY REBEL VICTORIES

Federals Apparently Concentrating Their Forces for Stand at Chihuahua

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 10.—Reports of many successes by the Constitutional troops in engagements with the federal troops in Northern Mexico within the past twenty-four hours received here tonight by constitutionalist agents have been confirmed by press dispatches.

Parral, a rich mining center of southern Chihuahua is in the hands of the Constitutionalists. The federalists after evacuating Parral went toward Chihuahua City where all the federal troops have been ordered to concentrate. General Villa is hurrying overhead to intercept the federalist enroute from Parral. The federalist number about 1500. General Villa has 400.

Federals Driven Back at Guaymas. Nogales, Arizona, May 10.—Federal troops were driven back into Guaymas today leaving more than 200 dead lying in the trenches. Cannoning tonight is heard at Nogales. The Sonora State troops captured ten machine guns and numbers of prisoners.

Fighting at Reynosa. Brownsville, Texas, May 10.—Four hundred Constitutionalists and 250 federalists fought for four hours at Reynosa 52 miles west of Matamoros this afternoon. The federalists were defeated and retreated in the direction of Matamoros, leaving five dead and fifteen wounded. Bullets from the battle fell thick at Hidalgo, Texas, less than a mile distant, and one Mexican woman there was struck and killed by a deflected bullet.

Three other Mexicans on the Texas side were wounded. All were cared for by doctors on the American side from Mission, Mercedes and other points. Many bullets struck the United States Immigration office, but injured no one.

G. A. R. TO MEET AT CHATTANOOGA. Chattanooga, Tenn., May 10.—The reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in Chattanooga next September. The invitation of Chattanooga was accepted by the G. A. R. by telegraph tonight.

Reward Will Be Paid. Sacramento, Cal., May 10.—The $10,000 reward offered by the state two years ago for the apprehension of the persons responsible for dynamiting the Times Building in Los Angeles is about to be paid. A bill appropriating that amount to satisfy the claim of W. J. Burns was passed by the assembly today. It already had passed the senate.

WINDOW GLASS PLANT TO CLOSE MAY 29

May 29 is the date set for closing down the Wichita Falls window glass plant. Representatives of the glass workers and of the association of which the local factory is a member will meet in Cleveland early in June to negotiate a wage scale which will govern in all the window glass plants of the country.

The probable effect of the tariff reduction is expected to be a question likely to prolong the negotiations between the workers and the manufacturers. The plant here will probably be closed about that time.

Sentiment Favorable to Americans. New Orleans, May 10.—"Revolution in Mexico will continue until slavery has been wiped out and the people effectively establish a government grounded in the principles of social and political justice." This declaration was made here today by Alberto Fuentes, former governor of the state of Aguas Calientes, who arrived here last night en route to Jolo Governor Carranza. Fuentes declared a sentiment favorable to Americans is developing throughout Mexico because of the refusal of the American government to recognize the Huerta administration.

ABILENE WILL KEEP TAYLOR COUNTY SEAT.

By Associated Press.
Abilene, Texas, May 10.—In the county seat election here today Abilene received 1,869 votes and Buffalo Gap 969. The county seat was moved from Buffalo Gap in 1883.

We Will Get You Yet

This is the first of a new series of advertisements to be published in this paper daily or thereabouts on the subject of the Globe's clothes. We shall make these advertisements as brief as we can and we should like every man to read them, particularly you. The burden of these advertisements will be the superior merits of The Globe's clothes, which is really not a burden, but a boon. Incidentally we shall from time to time comment impersonally upon what is new or novel in men's styles. We do not expect to convert you with a single advertisement any more than would expect to woo and win a girl in one visit. Reform must be accomplished slowly, and the best wives in the world took a lot of getting. But whether it takes ten days or twelve months to convert you, you may make up your mind to one thing—WE WILL GET YOU YET.

GOOD WORK BY PITCHERS LOCALS IN SCRAPPY TRIM

Scoggins Pitching Splendid Ball at Close—Trammell Very Effective But Support Poor Did Foley swat the pill? Believe me, Geraldine, he EVEN swatted it. It happened in the twelfth inning. Foley caught one of those roundhouse curves on his stick and started it east. Then he started east and when the ball finally got back to home plate Foley White was there some fractions of a second ahead of it and a perfectly good ball game was completely busted up.

Visitors' Errors Help. Errors behind Trammell were responsible for his defeat. Of the three runs off him in the first nine innings not one was earned, while Bonham earned all of her's. One little misplay that didn't hurt anything was all that kept Scoggins' support from being perfect. Some nice things might be written about the locals' fielding, but the last time we did that, which was Thursday, they blew up the next day—but why bring up unpleasant memories? Mention must be made, however, of Lawson's beautiful one-handed stab in right field and of another of the same kind by Phillips. Scoggins was touched for nine hits, four of them for extra bases, but seven of the bingles came in the first four innings. He yielded two hits in the last eight inning, and there were times when hits meant runs. Twenty-six men faced him in the last eight innings.

By and large, it was an all-round good ball game. Rain interrupted it for a few minutes, making the field slow, but doing little harm.

How They Scored. Bonham started in the second. Fenner tripled and scored on Dorsey's scratch single. The Drillers tied it up in the same frame, after two were down. Phillips walked and fifty singles by Morris and Scoggins scored him. In the third Trammell singled and scored on Nichols' triple. Again the Drillers tied it up. White stopped one with his ribs, getting his base, was sacrificed to second, took third on a passed ball and scored on a scratch single by Brown. Once more the visitors forged ahead in the sixth. Fenner doubled, took third on an infield out and scored on Seebach's long fly to right field. Wichita Falls tied it in the seventh, starting after two were down. White singled, stole second, Brown sent a grounder to third and Nichols dropped the throw; White came in home and Scott fumbled the throw from first, letting him score. Then for four innings it was mostly three-up and three down. In the twelfth, with one out, White sent that smashing drive to right field, beating the ball back to the plate by inches, but inches were enough.

Jones and Fusich, pitchers, umpired the contest in the absence of Lucky Wright. There has been worse umpiring on this diamond this season than these two put up. The score: Bonham AB RH PO A R

INFIELD ERRORS LOSE; BONHAM OPENED FRIDAY.

The jinx was among those present Friday afternoon, but it wasn't her fault (yes, Ermitrude, a jinx is female) that Bonham won. Bonham didn't have to win—the game was just simply dished out to her on a silver platter, with spinach and watercress around it. No, you can't blame the jinx for eight errors. The jinx has troubles enough of his own.

There were eight errors behind Jones, and five of them paved the way to scores. Brown is charged with five of them and Foley White with two. Nevitt also bobbed, but his miscue didn't hurt anything. Jones certainly had an off day.

Covington opened the fray in the box for the locals. An error by Brown, a scratch single, a walk, a hit batter, a sacrifice fly and a single netted three runs. Then Covington was beckoned to the bench and Jones went in. Of the six runs scored off him only three were earned, which tells something more about his support.

The locals never really rallied after that first inning, and Bonham had things pretty much her own way. Fusch pitched pretty tight ball in spite of the fact that five of the seven hits off him were for extra bases. He was effective in the pinches and, while his support was not perfect, it never wavered with men on bases. In the ninth inning, after he had been cloaked for a double and a triple, Fusch was taken out and Dorsey, who replaced him, cut the locals down after his error had let in another score.

One freak play was made in the third inning. Dorsey was safe on Brown's error and tried to steal. White's throw was wild and struck the runner, bouncing out into left field. It was retrieved in time to catch him at the plate, but White dropped the throw, making two errors in a bunch.

One of the best week-day crowds of the season saw the slaughter.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES

"A good school is an investment; a poor school is a tax."—State Superintendent of Vermont.

"To arouse and develop public opinion in a democracy offers as difficult a task and at the same time as worthy a task as men are called upon to accomplish."—W. S. Sutton.

Wise county parents are reducing their cotton acreage and planting peanuts in order "to let the children go to school." This is a commendable effort and its result will be watched with interest.

County superintendents should render a valuable service by furnishing members of school boards a ysting blank, to be filled out with information regarding the condition of the local school when they visit it.

Six states—Massachusetts, New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Indiana—have established systems of vocational education which intend to give training for a specific employment in addition to regular schooling.

The next great advance step contemplated in the improvement of rural schools in Texas is the extension of professional county supervision to all counties and the election of the county superintendent by the county board.

The Moulton Home and School Club has raised during the year $230. At a recent meeting the question of providing adequate laboratory equipment for the high school was discussed. This organization has done much for the upbuilding of the school.

"Realizing that illiteracy is a blighting, blistering, withering curse that makes every progressive measure impossible, we have placed 'education' as the first word of our official name."

Peter Radford, President Farmers' Education and Co-Operative Union of Texas.

The parent-teachers' associations have become a valuable factor in bringing the home and the school into closer understanding and sympathy to the betterment of both. Reports from many sections of the state tell of important results accomplished. May their number increase.

The Conference for Education in Texas has been requested to furnish plans for a model one-room school house to be built in Lavaca county with funds contributed by one of the citizens, who has also donated an additional sum as a partial endowment for two school districts.

"If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be."

Forty thousand children are employed in the manufacture of cotton goods, together with the vast multitude who cultivate and gather the cotton crop, represent a large class of our people who are being deprived of that preparation for life which gives the highest type of citizenship. No state can afford to exchange its children for temporary industrial prosperity.

The rural schools could render a distinct service by planning home projects during the summer vacation. In addition to the corn, beef and poultry clubs already organized they could encourage the inoculation of soils, spraying fruit trees, raising our-bred seeds, the study of plant and bird life and other things that the special needs of the several communities might suggest.

There are about 30,000 school trustees in Texas. F. L. Auten, Round Rock, is president and L. T. Cunningham, Anson, is secretary of the State Trustees' Association, which holds its annual meeting at College Station during the farmers' congress. It is hoped that this organization may develop into one of the greatest forces in the State for the improvement of school conditions. How many will attend from our county?

Several counties in Texas have consolidated schools and transports children. A noticeable illustration of the success of this plan is one of the Harris county schools that transports sixty pupils at a cost of $30 per month. Some advantages gained in this instance are a nine months' school, additional teachers' brick buildings, steam heat, hot lunch and not over 5 per cent tardy or absent. Remember this in Texas.

The largest percentage of factory workers under 16 are found in the South Atlantic states and Alabama. The next largest is Rhode Island and Massachusetts. About 160,000 children in the United States are employed in manufacturing industries in addition to those in the great child-laboring occupations, such as mercantile establishments, mess-ager service, letter-workers and street trading. These should protect their children.

For several years rural schools in Gregg county have manifested considerable interest in spelling. District county and inter-county spelling matches are held. At a recent county educational rally at Longview the ability to spell every word in the state-adopted speller was claimed for one or more of the children who entered the contest. Why not have a state spelling contest as a special feature of the Dallas state fair?

The farmers' national congress, at its last session, which was held in New Orleans, provided a fund to be used in studying the consolidated rural schools in the different states. The plan is to select a farmer from each state represented in the congress and the committee thus appointed are to visit the states having consolidated schools and obtain information in regard to the success or failure of such schools and report at the next session.

Wichita Falls, Texas, May 11, 1913

Wear a white flower for your mother today. This is her day.

Wichita Falls' building permits for April, $169,864. Fort Worth's, $155,292. San Antonio's, $154,245.

Even if times do get a little dull all that will be necessary to make life seem like worth living is for our Democratic administration to begin to work the gullotine a little more often than now. At the present rate the material to be worked is not likely to be exhausted.

If a man of the calibre of Tom Ball is to be the next governor of Texas, then we're willing that the governor's salary should be at least $10,000 per annum. But the selection has not yet been made, and it may be that some fellow will get the nomination that will make most of us feel as if the salary as now, meager as it is, should be reduced. Texas is a big state and deserves to have as her governor a big man, and Tom Ball will fill the bill.

The most conservative reports from the country surrounding Wichita Falls on every side, which reports come from farmers, who ought to know, are to the effect that the prospects for a bountiful wheat crop are better at this time than they were last year, with this advantage: that all wheat looks now as if it would grade No. 2 and better. It is true that the heads are shorter this year than last, but they are filling out rapidly, and if they do the yield per acre will be fully as great on an average as it was last year.

President Wilson suggests that federal judges should be retired on full pay after reaching the age of 70 years. In other words, after reaching 70, a fellow should be ousted. It would be interesting to hear just what Uncle Joe Cannon would have to say about this matter. He is now 77 and will be in the eighties by the next presidential election, and there is talk of making him the nominee for president or the Republican ticket.

It has been several years since the State Press Association met in West Texas and in asking for the 1914 meeting, Wichita Falls feels that this section of the State is entitled to the gathering. This city asked for this year's meeting, but gave way to San Antonio and Wichita Falls certainly has prior claim to the 1914 meeting. This city is amply able to entertain the convention—ask any delegate to any convention that has met here in the last five years. She has the hotel accommodations, the attractions, the facilities, and above all, the spirit and the willingness. Our brother editor, will have many opportunities to see Dallas and Galveston, who also want to submit the claims of those cities, to the convention's consideration. Vote for Wichita Falls' brother editor, and the "busiest and best-built city in Texas" will see that you never regret it.

The fifty-old thousand-Republican fourth-class postmasters, who were leary to believe they could hold the offices for the balance of their natural lives can now begin to study up a little in order to pass the civil service examination. It does not necessarily mean that they will retain the offices. Any one can make a try, and the names of three of those who make the best records will be submitted from which one will be chosen to fill the office. Thank the Lord for that order. Things will from this time on be coming a little more to the liking of Democrats in that this order will at least place them on an equal footing at the federal pie counter with their Republican brothers.

AMARILLO GETS 1914 CONVENTION U. C. T. By Associated Press. ## MOTHER'S DAY TO BE REMEMBERED

PROGRAM FOR EXERCISES THIS AFTERNOON AT M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

SEVERAL TO MAKE TALKS

Special Musical Features to Be Provided—White Flowers to Be Worn Today.

Today, mothers' day, will be observed with a special program this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the M. E. Church, South, at which there will be special music and several addresses.

Observance of mothers' day was inaugurated several years ago, the philosophy of the occasion being that there should be one day of the year set aside upon which special honor might be done to the mothers of the land. Of late years the idea has grown until there is hardly a community that does not observe the occasion in some way. The emblem of mothers' day is the white flower, more particularly the white carnation.

The program for this afternoon's services is as follows:

Organ prelude..... Mr. Dyrland
"Nearer, My God, to Thee".....
Prayer..... Congregation
Vocal solo, "How the Beautiful Gates Came Ajar"..... Mrs. F. C. Brown
"Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother".....
"Our Mothers Our Heroes of Heroes".....
Quartet, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere"..... Mrs. G. H. Carpenter, Mrs. W. H. Walker, Mr. Bradley and Mr. Strange.

"Upon the Purity and Sanctity of Our Homes Depend the Success of Our Nations"..... Mrs. McKee
"The Father's responsibility in Raising His Children and Building a Home"..... Mrs. W. H. Walker
"The Young Man's Responsibility to His Mother"..... Mrs. R. E. Huff
Vocal solo, "Tell Mother I'll Be There"..... Miss Laura Bell
"America"..... Congregation
Benediction..... Rev. Boone

OPEN MEETING OF MUSICIANS' CLUB HELD FRIDAY EVENING.

The open meeting of the Musicians' Club was held Friday evening at the College of Music and Art and was attended by an audience that was large and representative. An exceptionally fine program was rendered and proved of marked enjoyment to the hearers.

The club was assisted by Charles Templeton, who gave two beautiful violin solos. Mr. Templeton is an artist of unusual ability, both his technique and interpretation being of the highest order. Mrs. Barron, always a favorite, was heard to advantage in a vocal solo, "Midnight" (Gelli). Mrs. J. L. McKee played Moscheles' G minor concerto, a composition that taxes the resources of any musician, requiring delicacy of touch as well as elasticity and strength. It was unusually well played, and it is a pity that a pianist of Mrs. McKee's ability is not heard oftener in public. The chorus, under the able leadership of Mrs. Fred Barron, gave a beautiful cantata, which was greatly appreciated. The other numbers were all well rendered and a source of much pleasure. These open meetings are not only a source of much enjoyment to those attending, but elevate the musical standards and are of value in that way.

The program follows:
Piano quartet, "Tolatta Brilliante" (Bohn)..... Mesdames Wade Walker and Mark Walker, at first piano, Mrs. S. J. Ashmore and Laura Bell at second piano.

Duet, "O, That We Two Were Maying"..... Misses Jewel Kemp and Vivian Mathis.

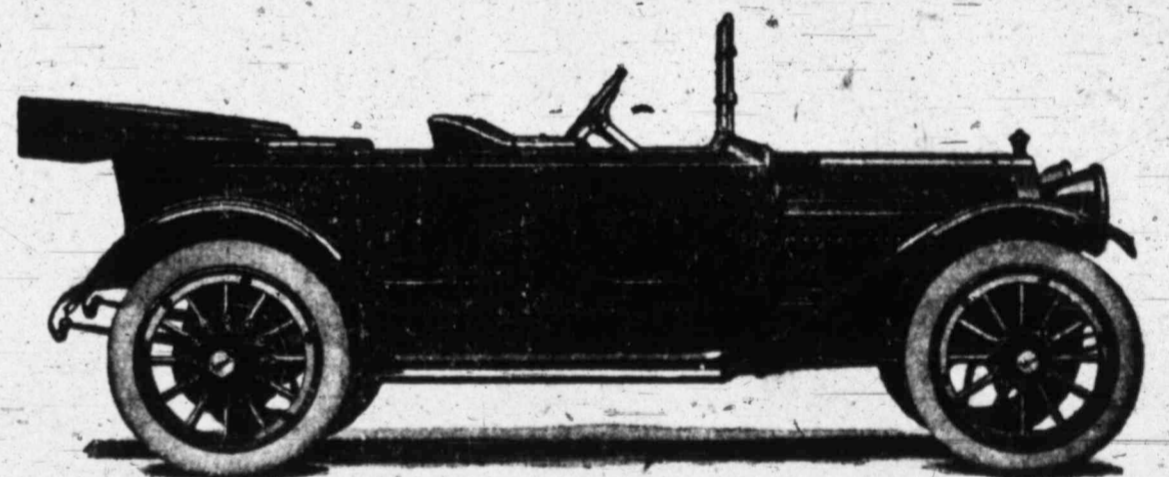

Violin solo..... Mr. Templeton
Vocal solo, "Midnight" (Gelli)..... Mrs. Fred Barron, with violin obbligato by Mr. Templeton.

Concerto (Moscheles)..... Mrs. J. L. McKee, accompanist on second piano, Mrs. A. B. Huff.
Cantata, "Midsummer Night" (Paul Bliss)—By chorus, with Mesdames Louis Campbell, Fred Barron and Wade Walker as soprano soloists, Mrs. T. B. Smith and Miss Laura Bell as mezzo soprano soloists.

KILLS EVERY CATARRH GERM
Balsamic Air: Nature's Own Remedy That is Guaranteed to End Catarrh

If you, Mr. Catarrh Victim, could only take one good look into your nose and throat and see the filth and the raw sore spots that are caused by germs of Catarrh you would secure a HYGIENE outfit this very day and start at once to destroy the cause of nose and throat illness.

Booth's HYGIENE is a germ killing air which when breathed through a small inhaler or in vapor form begins at once to drive out all mucous and bring the membrane back to a normal clean, healthy condition. Complete outfit includes inhaler, $1.00. Extra bottles if later needed, 50 cents, and money back from Pooshee & Lynch if dissatisfied. Just breathe it—no stomach dosing.

Imperial Power

Fully as essential as wheels and tires, and without which all other features are useless, the power plant of the Automobile demands and merits the most careful attention from builder and purchaser alike.

The demand for a powerful, reliable and simple motive power for automobiles has been adequately met in our Imperial motor.

It is of the big bore and long stroke type 4 1-2x5 1-4 inches and develops with ease 45 horse power with an overload capacity largely in excess of this rating.

The motor operates with a degree of efficiency, smoothness and quietness that is remarkable and has a hill climbing capacity that is a joy to the owner.

Every principle of construction of this Imperial car has been thoroughly tested in cars of the past that have made good. There is nothing new or untried. Every part has been proven.

We know these cars are right and numerous gruelling reliability contests have shown this beyond any doubt. We know they are right for behind them are the records of Imperials Cars of the past—records of satisfactory service rendered many owners. Our motto is "The Car that gets There and Back."

Call and let us give you a demonstration.

CANCER BRINGER OF MANY DEATHS

ENGLISH STATISTICS SHOW IT TO BE RUNNING CLOSE TO CONSUMPTION

LONDON NEWS LETTER

Prince of Wales May Visit Canada in the Near Future is Report

London, May 10.—"The time has now arrived when the attention of the public must be directed to the fact that the cancer is at the point of overtaking consumption, statistically, as a bringer of death to English men and women."

This statement occurs in a summary of mortal statistics from 1851 to 1910 just issued by the Society for the Relief and Prevention of Cancer. The object of the report is to furnish to the information of the public the essential statistics of the cancer problem in England and Wales.

The compiler says: "The public has long been familiar with the numerical gravity of the white scourge, but the malady, now so well in hand, pale into insignificance beside the new terror that has arisen. There is little real news in prophesying that within five years cancer will have a heavier death roll than consumption. The one, moreover, is a dying and conquered foe the other shows a prime vitality and rides roughshod over the whole realm of medical ingenuity. Yet the public has campaigners galore against consumption, but its war against cancer has been left practically to a single imperial committee."

The annual death roll from cancer in the United Kingdom during the sixty years covered by the survey of this committee has increased from 17,265 (457 a million) to 43,134 (960 a million). In other words, the percentage has more than doubled.

Prince of Wales Coming Across Atlantic

Although nothing has as yet been definitely arranged, it is very certain that the Prince of Wales, who has paid long visits to France and Germany, will before long start on a tour of the Dominions and Colonies. Canada in all likelihood will be the first Dominion visited and when there it is possible that the Prince, like his grandfather thirty-three years ago, will have a look at America.

The Prince will finish his university education at Oxford at the end of the present year. He will then be given a commission in the Grenadier Guards. Whether he will actually serve with the Guards is not yet known, but if it does he will only be for a short time. If nothing happens to interfere, he will be free to start on his tour of the Dominions in the spring of 1914.

Will Teach Brazilians New Method Rubber Tapping

Alexander Irving, an experience rubber grower of the Malay States, will soon sail for Brazil in charge of a party of rubber tappers who will teach the natives the methods of tapping in vogue in Ceylon and the Federated Malay States. It is expected that by the use of this method the output in Brazil will be increased fivefold. Many thousands of tapping knives already have been shipped to Para, and the Brazilian Government is prepared to spend $250,000 to instruct the natives in the rubber country in this very effective system of tapping.

In the meantime rubber prices continue to tumble in the London market and 75 cents a pound is now being offered for the quality which brought these dollars during the great boom of 1910. The output is rapidly expanding and rubber brokers are wondering how low the price will go if the promised five fold increase in Brazil materializes.

Lord Hamilton to Retire
Lord Claud Hamilton, who was elected to Parliament before either Disraeli or Gladstone became Prime Minister, and is thus the last link with the House of Commons as it was in the days of Palmerston, Russell and Derby administrations, has decided to retire at the next general election.

Lord Claud, second son of the first Duke of Abercorn, was elected a member of parliament for Londonderry, a seat which until the recent bye-election, when it was won by the Liberal Home Ruler, has invariably been represented by a Hamilton, in 1865, when he was only 22 years of age. He was defeated in the next general election by which time he had become a Lord of the Treasury. But he found a safe seat at King's Lynn, going thence to Liverpool for which he sat until 1888 when he retired. At the last general election he again entered politics, and was elected for South Kensington.

Although a strong party man and keen politician, Lord Claud is better known as chairman of the Great Eastern Railway. He is one of the few members of the aristocracy who through family and financial influence have been placed at the head of a great railway, and have made a success of it. With Sir Frederick Banbury, formerly a successful stock broker and a man of considerable financial influence, he has been considered the representative of the railway companies in parliament, and has consistently fought their battles.

The announcement of Lord Claud's retirement from parliament followed the passage of a government bill enabling railways to raise their rates

DUKE OF LEINSTER COMING TO AMERICA; IS HE AFTER BRIDE?

New York, May 7.—The Duke of Leinster, handsome, 27 years old and possessing a large estate in Ireland of $5,000,000 or $10,000,000 to keep it up, is coming to America. It is intimated by some of his friends here that a romance is not impossible as a result of his voyage. He and the Duke of St. Albans are the only bachelors of marriageable age among the twenty-even dukes of Great Britain.

Protect Austrian Beneficiary Estates in America

The Austrian government has taken steps to prevent, as far as possible, the recurrence of incidents in which Austrians entitled to a share in estates in America have been victimized by agents who fraudulently secured their power of attorney, and then appropriated the whole or part of the inheritance.

A circular, addressed to the provincial authorities, has been issued by the ministry of Commerce, instructing them to warn relatives of Austrian subjects dying in America against sending powers of attorney to unknown individuals, and suggesting that such powers of attorney be not sent to unknown individuals and only to Austrian consular officials. There have been many cases in which obscure agents have made away with estates rightfully belonging to poor people in Austria.

Glen Rose—The construction of the Glen Rose-Dallas speedway is progressing rapidly. The highway has already been graded to the Brazos river ridge and auto parties are using this part of it. The road will be a valuable commercial factor.

Paris—The Lamar County Fair Association has been organized here. The organization is composed of and supported by prominent and reliable public spirited gentlemen of the entire community, who desire to place the exhibition on a high moral plane. Ed Soter is secretary.

Rockport—The Young Men's Business League, another booster for Rockport and the Gulf Coast, has been organized with W. H. Gossage, secretary. A publicity committee composed of five members has been appointed to handle the Rockport's advantages to the outside world.

The business methods and the class of merchandise of our store today will make or unmake the business of the years that are to come. Nobody knows this better than we do. THE COST OF IT.

By Savoyard in Houston Chronicle.

"A year or so ago the country was startled by a declaration of Nelson W. Aldrich—who perhaps knew more about it than anyone else—that there was an actual waste in the conduct of the public business of our federal establishment above $300,000,000 per annum. That sum represents largely more than half the value of all property of the state of Kentucky, real, personal and mixed, that was listed for taxation when Proctor Knott was governor of the "Old Commonwealth." And peradventure some boy may read this, and let him learn that of our sisterhood of forty-eight there are only four "commonwealths"—Massachusetts and Pennsylvania at the north and old Virginia and Kentucky at the south. All the rest are "states" except New York, where the writs run in the name of "the people." Recollect that, young fellow; it may aid you some time.

I was talking with a public functionary the other evening, a very intelligent man connected with one of the departments. Our theme was the public business, and I mentioned this statement of Aldrich.

My friend said the estimate was by no means extravagant, and then he cited these incidents that came under his observation, and he declared that they were only samples of ten thousand.

The army post at San Antonio needed 500 barrels of salt, or said it did, which is the same thing. That salt was purchased at Louisville, Ky., and shipped to San Antonio at a railroad freight charge of $1.25 a barrel. The salt could have been obtained in the city of San Antonio, within a stone's throw of the barracks, for less than the freight charges from Louisville.

Again, the San Antonio barracks needed a mule. That mule was bought in Kentucky, shipped to San Antonio and a fellow was hired to go along and take care of the mule. His passage was paid both ways—"a comin' an' a-goin'"—and it was perhaps the costliest mule that even the American army ever bought, and that is saying a heap. Within a radius of ten miles of the soldiers' quarters at San Antonio as a rule a mule could have been bought from any one of half a score of ranchmen at half the cost, the American people paid for that mule.

And besides "ivory" soap sells for the same price in the largest metropolis and at the smallest hamlet. It is a standard article of domestic economy of universal consumption. The military post at Governor's Island, New York, wanted some Ivory soap. What was done? It was bought in St. Louis, Mo., and shipped to New York and the government paid the freight. About that time the garrison at St. Louis, or somewhere out there, maybe Leavenworth, Kan., wanted some Ivory soap. What happened then? It was bought in New York and shipped to the West—and the people paid the freight.

You see, money grows on trees here in Washington. The government gathers it, the railroads need it and the paternal government makes business for the railroads in the way my friend narrated to me. It is but just to say that Secretary of War Dickinson saw some of this graft and soaked the knife into as much of it as he was in reach of. But there must be teamwork; all public officials must work together to eradicate the graft.

It is estimated that the Spanish war cost $800,000,000, exclusive of pensions. Napoleon could have fought the war with $100,000,000. And it was a disgraceful war at that—an enterprise that no self-respecting government would have entered upon. If Tom Reed had been president Cuba would have been freed without the fire of a gun or the interruption of amicable relations with Spain.

To my mind there is no more fascinating story than that of Spain. It is a noble people, and to this day and always, even before the momentous voyage of Columbus—there is pride in the Spanish peasant that we cannot match in any state of our glorious Union.

There, I was talking about one thing and got off to another. But what would you have? Discussion is the spice of narration; read "Don Quixote" if you don't think so. Washington, D. C.

acts in addition to the regular carnival attractions. Officers of the Moose lodge, who have investigated, say the Lachman shows are clean and moral and that no games of chance will be allowed.

As a special feature Monday night there will be a parade headed by the Moose lodge and the Lachman band. Firemen will also join in this parade, as will some of the feature acts of the carnival including Texas Bud and his broncho riders. Floats advertising numerous business enterprises of the city will also be entered in the parade. On Friday night there will be a wedding in the lions cage of the carnival grounds, provided a couple can be found with nerve enough to tackle matrimony under such circumstances.

THREE VAUDEVILLE ACTS AT THE LYDIA MARGARET. The Lydia Margaret will have three vaudeville acts for the first three nights of the week, and the management thinks the program will be one of the best it has presented in a long time. All of the acts are highly recommended by the booking agency. The bill opens with Elmore and Bartlett in a comedy sketch entitled "The Leading Lady and the Old Maid," in which a number of female impersonations are introduced. Moray and Connors have a comedy sketch and the Harveys have a singing and dancing act in which the actors are said to be exceptionally clever.

MEETING OF CITY TEACHERS IS HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL.
The teachers of the city schools met yesterday at the High School building. This was the last meeting for the current school year. After the reading of the roll and the minutes for the last meeting Superintendent Carpenter made a few remarks concerning the term reports. He stressed the fact that the teachers should be accurate in such reports. He also stated that pupils who are able to do the work of the next grade should be promoted. Examinations will begin Tuesday, May 20.
Mr. Carpenter thanked the teachers for their co-operation during the past school year.
The following program was ren-dered:
"High School and College".... Mr. Barr
"The University"..... Miss Burgess
"The Training of Teachers"..... Miss Collins
"Education of Girls"..... Mr. Fountain
"Racial Pedagogy"..... Miss Ward
"Sunday Schools"..... Miss Beaver
"The Church Organizations"..... Miss Reid
"Christian Associations"..... Mr. Settle
The following are some of the teach-ing thoughts brought out during the course of the discussions:
Opportunities for a real education are better in the high school than in any other department of public school work. High school work should be practical rather than theoretical. Be-cause a majority of the pupils never go further than the high school, in-struction should be of such a nature as to prepare the pupils for the real ex-periences of life rather than to prepare them exclusively for college. How-ever, since the college entrance re-quirements are those subjects which best fit the child for the real needs of life, there is no conflict at this point.
Normal schools are beginning to give better training to teachers.
"What the teacher needs is not ped-agogy, but a deep love for knowledge."
In the education of girls stress should be placed upon domestic sci-ence, pedagogy and religion.
In the training of other races "the aim must always be to make the na-tive the best possible representative of his own kind." To change him into a weak imitation of something Ameri-can or European is to do him a poor service.
To secure teachers who are compe-tent to teach in Sunday schools is very difficult. Such teacher should be in entire sympathy with children; just as in day school work. Public school teachers should be willing to aid in Sunday school work if their services are needed.
The character of Young Men's As-sociation and of the Young Women's Association has changed very much in recent years, in that they are becom-ing more and more associations for boys and girls rather than for men and women.

Mother's Day

May 11, 1913

From the northern plains of Texas
Where Red River flows along,
Down to where the Mexic waters
Sound in never ending song;
And from where the Rio Grande
Rushes on to meet the sea,
Over to the eastern pine trees,
Which define our boundary,
Comes the sound of many voices,
Voices with a crooning note;
And you recognize the mothers
By the tightness in your throat.

Mother love, the world all over,
Is a thing of birth divine,
But methinks the Texas mothers
In the foremost ranks doth shine.
Maybe 'tis the Southern sunshine
That imbues their souls with truth;
Maybe 'tis their sense of danger
While they guard their children's youth.
What it is we know not care not,
We can only say that they
Are the mothers of we Texans,
And we love them all today.

Yours may be on lonely prairies,
Or, perhaps, in crowded towns;
Mine is where the Houston mosses
Drape the trees with trailing gowns;
But alike today we honor
Texas mothers, every one;
And alike today their station
As they hear our glad "Well done."
Like the flower with subtle fragrance,
Whether by great house or cot
Is the mother with her mission
Of the love that faileth not.

Texas mothers, Texas mothers!
Honor them, oh friends, today;
Make this day the fairest, gladdest
Of the year as well as May.
Praise their names with glad thanksgiving;
Give them flowers of purest white,
Emblems of their sacrificial
Lives endowed with power and might.
Let the grand old state of Texas
Lift its voice with sweet accord,
And in accents high and holy,
For its mothers, thank the Lord.

PLEATED EFFECTS HAVE BECOME VERY POPULAR

New York, May 10.—After some months of hesitation, the pepum has become an established style feature. Few costumes, except house gowns, are so simple, are now made without some kind of tall or extension to the waist. These extensions are known by a dozen different names, but all have a similar effect. The Russian and Balkan blouses are the best examples of this fashion, but these we all know, as their reign has been established for several months. But as the cool spring days give place to warmer weather much variety is seen, even in these accepted models, not alone in development but in material as well. Pleated effects, replacing straight gathered lines, have been introduced. These, too, show much dissimilarity. They may extend straight about the form, be rounded or sharply cut away in front and with much or little droop in the back. Belted coats and waists, with circular pepums reaching midway to the knees, presenting pronounced godets or decided rippling effects, are also fashionable. Russian has become the accepted name for almost every style of belted coat or waist. Its loose negligee lines and simplicity of workmanship, after an era of strictly tailored effects, have scored in its favor.

The smart waist of the frock in the first illustration is fashioned on the Russian lines. It has a pepum extending well over the hips on either side and to a point in the back. The closing of the front is a unique feature. The skirt shown with the waist is two-piece, with slender lines at hem and waistline. Waist and pepum were developed in silk crepe of Cubist motif, and in shades of tan, yellow, brown and cerise. The girdle is of brown panne velvet, and the skirt of tan eponge. It is entirely up-to-date and for spring and summer days, whether spent in city or country, will be most satisfactory.

Tunis appears either on coat or skirt. On the coat they are joined to the waist section by a wide girdle of messaline or ribbon, either in dull or gay tones. They are much in evidence in the costume for afternoon and evening wear. Whether made of the lace, net or chiffon of constringing, hue to the foundation, or of charmeuse silk of similar tone and material, they are all attractive. One handsome dress, of old rose silk, recently seen, had a tunic of pale blue chiffon slightly gathered at the back and draped at the side. Another gown—of muave charmeuse—had a tunic of plain black net, which rippled somewhat at the lower edge. The waist was fashioned on the Russian lines, and the edges of sleeves and tunic were finished with a ruffle of sheer blue or black mesh, the edge of which presented the rippling effect. Chiffon embroidered in monochrome, or in pleasingly contrasted shades, net with motifs of beads and jet, are much used for attractive waists and tunics. Finished with girdles of vicoted, Roman striped ribbon, or ribbon with raised floral designs, and worn over a silk messaline foundation of turquoise blue, yellow, Nell-rose, pink, mauve, or black and white, they make most charming costumes for any occasion.

Many of the jackets, so-called, bear some resemblance to dressing sacques. The blouse effect of the waist back and front, the fulness under the arm, the low cut of the neck with finish of frill of fine embroidery or lace, and the short skirt of pepum, confined above the waist by sash of ribbon, are the characteristics of this garment. And many are the new and fascinating materials of which such jackets are made. Crepon, figured and brocaded silks, Futurist and Cubist silks, ratine in fancy figured designs, are all used and are all effective.

One of the most attractive of these waists is the one seen in the second figure. It is fashioned on the Russian lines, with close-fitting sleeve and high collar. It was made of Cubist silk of soft, flexible quality in tones of green, yellow and black on a background of white. A girdle of black satin finishes the waist. The skirt was made of black satin. The short slashed effect at lower left side is in very good style.

For the evening dress of chiffon or lace and lingerie—frock of batiste or eyelet embroidery, a coat constructed on these loose lines is particularly desirable, as even in summer some additional warmth is often essential.

Made of one of the new silks, either figured or plain, or of lace or chiffon, it is not only serviceable, but a charming addition to the toilette. A combination of French colors in pink and blue, Futurist shades of purple, yellow and red, or Oriental and Occidental shades may be chosen, regardless of tone, glaring or bizarre, just so long as it be sufficiently striking. Colors long considered smart no longer receive the least notice in the chronicles of Dame Fashion. Black and white, for example, surely a combination worthy of the best treatment, if used now must have another note, one of stronger appeal, to make it effective. With it are used shades of purple, cerise, Gobel blue or Nell-rose. These tones are introduced in hat and in neck ruff of net or maline. This last feature adds a charming touch to the costume, and perhaps has won more popularity than any other of the season's fads.

Certainly, the cry of the yellow peril is not without foundation. For this color is surely invading our midst. At first it came with a reluctance almost approaching timidity and established itself in blouses of drapery and chiffon, net and lace. Emboldened by this success, it made its way into the evening gown of silk, charmeuse and satin, until at the present time few are the models either for afternoon or evening where this hue is not smartly in evidence. Rating in mustard color, covert cloth and serge in shades of tan and beige, are fascinating materials which come in this extremely popular coloring.

DISCUSS HORTICULTURAL TOPICS

College Station, Texas, May 10.—More gardens and more canned tomatoes and fruits is the slogan of the canning experts of Texas, who began their first annual meeting at the Agricultural and Mechanical College today. Attending the convention are the eighteen lady supervisors of the canning clubs for Texas girls. These workers are maintained in the field by the extension department of the college, in conjunction with the United States department of agriculture, and these women are in earnest. They talk right up in meeting, and this afternoon when Professor E. J. Kyle, dean of the school of agriculture, discussed pruning and staking, cultivating tomatoes, he consumed an hour's time in answering their questions, all of which were pointed.

ASSASSINS OF CHARACTER.

Communicated.
In an article recently published in a leading magazine this sentence appeared: "The half of a truth is the worst lie ever told."
Commenting on this assertion, several gentlemen of observance and experience who had read the article expressed an opinion, and the question arose: What ought the victim do when the covert attack is whispered from mouth to ear of the scandal-mongers? One gentleman said: "This question comes home to every individual, because the diversified duties of life often bring us in conflict with the interests and opinions of our fellow men, and our success in any undertaking rests upon our ability to guard our plans and keep our own counsel. The every-day business affairs, in a conflict that engenders more or less friction that may lead to personal hatred on the part of your opponent that will make him to attack your character by insinuation, pointing out acts and conditions that, upon their face and unexplained, give color, arouse suspicion and lay the foundation for scandal-mongers."
Another gentleman said: "The breeding ground for the majority of character assassins is the political hotbeds, where rival parties and ambitious leaders strive for victory at any cost." He pointed to the unfortunate conditions in cities and towns where the dominant interests enforce the "rule or ruin" policy and render ineffectual the will of officers to enforce statutory laws. The same pressure is brought to bear upon the newspapers, which are generally found advocating enforcement of laws. In these communities the people are subject to the dominant interests and have "just as good laws and just as good enforcement of the laws" as the interests desire. And the officer or editor who dares to oppose will be subject to discrimination and ostracism, even if he requires the character assassin to accomplish it.

This is an abstract truism and will apply to any community where conflicting interests fight their battles for supremacy.
But when the stubborn officer or editor who refuses to be disciplined and comes the victim of character assassins, what is he to do in the premises? Go quailing for his assailants and perhaps be killed in his efforts to establish his innocence, or step down in disgrace, a sacrifice to his efforts to refute the lies of his oppressors?
Another gentleman said: "Perhaps the worst of all character assassins are those who have a malicious desire to ruin in scandal and delight to push a racy story, without stopping to inquire the source or truth of the rumor. They will accept the bare statement of a man or woman with whom they will not associate or believe in the ordinary business affairs of life, notwithstanding the victim of these base rumors has always lived an exemplary life. But what can the victim himself do if they take advantage of some act, time or place out of the ordinary and use it as a basis for their malicious scandal?"
Of course he can deny and try to explain, but the character assassins have done their work and only time can right the wrong and bring home to the assassins their punishment.

Anti Alien Agitation in California Is Not New

Anti-Japanese legislation of one sort or another has been proposed in every California legislature for the past ten years, and for at least eight years there has been acute biennial agitation. This year probably more excitement has been stirred up in the whole world than ever before, though the actual bills proposed have been less radical than in previous sessions. In former legislatures, in addition to the alien land bills, there were always bills depriving Japanese children of the right to attend the public schools, and other bills intentionally and offensively discriminatory. This year few such bills have been proposed, and none have been seriously considered. In former years the alien land bills, by becoming a part of the general anti-Japanese legislation, have usually failed with it. They have also in other years divided, as this year, into two classes of bills, which succeeded in mutually exterminating each other.

The alien land bill is one thing and the anti-Japanese land bill is another thing. Alien land laws, applying to all nations alike, are a part of the common policy of nations and states. The federal government has three separate statutes applying, one to the District of Columbia, one to the public lands and one to the territories. At least eight states have alien land laws, five of which are practically identical with the federal statute and with the more conservative of the bills introduced in the California legislature. One state, Washington, has a law directly discriminatory against those aliens who cannot acquire citizenship.

The main objection of the Japanese government is to the discriminatory sort of bill. It is not the right to hold land in California which they so much desire, but the dignity of being treated on a par with all nations. This demand on the part of the Japanese, reinforced by strong representations at Washington, has in all previous legislatures prevented the passage of a law discriminating against either Japanese or aliens not eligible to citizenship, and has caused the legislature to revert for a time to the proposal of laws applying to all aliens alike, after the analogy of the laws of other states. Even these laws would discriminate in effect, but not in form, against the Japanese, inasmuch as any alien of European race can, by removing his allegiance, thereby remove its disability, while the alienage of the Japanese and Chinese is by federal statute permanent. In every legislature, as soon as the pendulum begins to swing toward a general alien land bill the interests representing British capital invested in California have been able to prevent the passage of such a bill also. The two sorts of alien land laws have thus hitherto neutralized each other, and each one has made the other impossible. This year the agitation is more acute than ever before, and the situation changes so rapidly that no article written four days before publication, as this is, can take any notice of the immediate situation. On the general situation it may be asserted unconditionally that the menace of Japanese land ownership in California is not a present fact, but is a fear of the future. We have just next door, in Hawaii, an object lesson of what general Japanese settlement in California would mean, and probably the people of California, with the single exception of the large land owners and the anti-union employers, are unanimous that such a condition must be prevented in California at no matter what cost. But the intense interest aroused in the whole proposal of what some day might happen, rather than upon any present facts of what has happened.

The Japanese have invaded California indeed, and have practically monopolized one of its principal occupations. They constitute a dominant element in the migratory farm labor of California. Practically all the berries, most of the grapes, more than half of the oranges and one-third of the citrus and delicious fruits of California are produced by Japanese labor. If there be any invasion this is where it is, but there seems to be almost no agitation against this real displacement of our own race from an important industry. Of the 55,000 Japanese in California 20,000 have no other occupation than that of migratory farm laborers. At least 20,000 more work occasionally in these tasks. Japanese immigration has almost without objection revolutionized this industry, and if the Japanese were by any means to be excluded from it, it would require the unmaking of this revolution.

In the case of land holding the situation is exactly the reverse. Here, instead of dominating anything, the Japanese are practically a negligible quantity. In two or three very limited neighborhoods they have so far invaded the country that white men are moving out. This is a picture in miniature of what might happen if there were any wholesale and continued Japanese immigration into this country, and is sufficient justification for preventing at any cost such a result. But these places so far are few and small, and the Japanese authorities offer their assistance in securing the dispersion of the Japanese who tend to concentrate there. They do not, in their present dimensions, constitute anything but a local menace. Taking the state at large, barely 2 per cent of the population is Japanese, and no county contains over 9 per cent of Japanese. The largest number of resident Japanese is in Los Angeles county. The largest number of land owners is in Fresno county. The largest proportion of Japanese is in Yolo and San Bernardino counties. There were in 1912 only 312 farms owned by Japanese in California, covering 12,726 acres, and worth about $4,000,000. The increase since 1909 had only been from 208 farms and 10,791 acres. Nearly all this increase was in Fresno county. Japanese last year owned 218 town lots, with an assessed valuation, including improvements, of $235,675. This was an increase of $69,981 in three years. In November, 1901, there were 319 recorded leases to Japanese, covering 20,294 acres. Since then 282 leases, covering 17,586 acres, have been recorded, but there is no way to tell how many of these are duplicates or renewals. There must, however, be more than this in California actually farmed by Japanese. Even the Japanese statistics allow for 4,500 "farmers," and no matter how temporary or unimportant many of these farmers are, certainly it would take a larger number of farms than these figures indicate to occupy them. Probably a good many of them are contractors for crops on shares, and are therefore recorded as farmers rather than as laborers.

These figures, though absolutely fairly large, are relatively insignificant in a state which has a single land holding of millions of acres. All the Japanese farms in California owned or leased could be located on the Miller and Lux ranches and be lost in the shuffle, and all the present exclusion of the white race from the land by the Japanese ownership and by the influence of Japanese neighborhoods in depopulating the vicinity of white farms, is as nothing compared to the exclusion of the people from the land caused by these gigantic land holdings, which are still so characteristic in California.

What will come of the present agitation at Sacramento is beyond prediction at this writing. Possibly the readers of the California Outlook will know by the time this is printed, but inasmuch as 99 per cent of the whole Japanese question is of necessity national and international, it would seem that those who wish to reserve the power of the nation for vigorous and, if the emergency should require it, for radical action, may consistently favor conservative action by the state on that small fragment of the whole question which is within its jurisdiction.

ONLY TWO CITIES IN TEXAS BUSIER

WICHITA FALLS' APRIL BUILDING
THIRD AMONG STATE'S CITIES.

MORE THAN FORT WORTH

Only Dallas and Houston Ahead of Wichita Falls—Development
Work During Month.

The Wichita Falls' claim to being the "busiest and best-built city in Texas" is not an empty boast as shown by a comparison of this city's building figures with those of the larger cities of the State. Figures compiled by the Commercial Secretaries' Association show that during April only two cities—Dallas and Houston—were ahead of Wichita Falls in building permits.

Wichita Falls was ahead of Fort Worth and San Antonio; had more than twice as much as Galveston or El Paso; had $50,000 more than Waco; five times as much as Beaumont and eight times as much as Austin. These cities are from three to eight times as big as Wichita Falls.

This city's total for April was $169,864.

The building permits in the nine cities having the largest population totaled $2,362,754 in April, compared with $1,984,745 in April of 1912, an increase of $378,009.

Dallas led the other cities of the state, with a total of $1,207,835, one item alone—the city hall—being over $400,000.

The amounts of building permits issued in the nine cities of Texas leading in population were:

Dallas	$1,207,835
Houston	582,320
Fort Worth	155,232
San Antonio	153,245
Waco	101,995
Galveston	80,532
El Paso	72,911
Beaumont	36,904
Austin	21,690

Total $2,362,754

Other Activities.

Building and construction work continued steadily in every section of Texas during April, according to reports received by the Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association. Building permits in the nine leading cities in population aggregated $2,362,754, while reports from cities and towns throughout the state tell of improvements being made not alone by individuals and companies, but by many municipalities as well.

Six good roads bond elections held during the month resulted in $640,000 being voted for highway improvements, while commissioners' courts set dates for good roads bond elections in five counties, involving a total of $805,000.

During April the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient completed its extension from Girvin to Alpine and inaugurated passenger and freight service. This line connects with the Southern Pacific at Alpine. The Paris and Mount Pleasant railway completed its extension from Paris to Mount Pleasant during the month, and work of surfacing is now in progress.

The grading of the Beaumont-Port Arthur Interurban was commenced during April, and the San Benito and Rio Grande Valley Interurban line began the extension of a twenty-mile loop in the lower Rio Grande valley. Announcement was made during the month of the survey of several proposed interurban lines in different sections of Texas, and a banner year for interurban construction in this state is indicated.

Good Roads Bond Elections.

Eleven good roads bond elections, in which a total of $1,215,000 was voted upon in nine counties of Texas, were held during April. Six of the elections resulted in favor of the bond issues, resulting in $640,000 being made available for improved highways in four counties. Brazoria took the palm during the month for voting the largest amount of bonds for good roads, with $500,000. Milam county, in two elections, voted $200,000. Victoria county, in two elections, voted $90,000, and Midland county $50,000.

Elections in Hays, Henderson, Limonstone, Polk and Colorado counties resulted in defeat for back of a two-thirds majority in most every instance.

Elections have been called in Kerr, Bell, Jefferson, Smith and again in Polk county for May, when a total of $805,000 will be voted upon. Jefferson county will vote on a $500,000 bond issue on May 22 for good roads. Commissioners' courts are being petitioned to call elections in Fort Bend, Red River, Denton, McLennan, DeWitt and Dallas counties.

Since January 1 there has been a total of $2,340,000 voted in fifteen good roads bond elections in Texas.

Railroad Construction.

The Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway finished its extension from Girvin to Alpine, a distance of 94.6 miles, to a connection with the Southern Pacific at Alpine on April 9. The work on the extension commenced September 13, 1912. The distance from San Angelo to Alpine is 226.89 miles. Freight and passenger service has been inaugurated and a depot is under construction at Alpine.

The Paris and Mount Pleasant railway finished laying steel on the extension of twenty-eight miles on April 1. The line, with the extension, is 50.9 miles long and connects Paris with Mount Pleasant. Traffic will be inaugurated about June 1.

The Quansh, Acme and Pacific railway reports that it averaged a mile of steel per day during April on the extension from Paducah to Roaring Springs. All dumps and fills, bridges, concrete culverts and road crossings have been completed. Officials of the road made an inspection during April and stated that the extension will reach Roaring Springs June 1.

The Santa Fe railway reports eighteen miles of track laid during April on the Lubbock-Texico extension of the Coleman cut-off, and the work of ballasting is being kept close up behind the track layers. Track will reach Littlefield station before the end of May, it is reported. The work of grading is practically complete, and present indications point to the completion of the line in September.

The San Antonio, Uvalde and Gulf railway reports five miles of steel laid, twelve miles of grading and bridge work completed to the Nueces river during April.

The Houston and Texas Central railway reports that track laying on the branch from Hearne to Giddings is being rushed and that eight miles of track were laid on the line between Giddings and Caldwell during April.

The San Antonio, Fredericksburg and Northern railway reports that a large force of men is putting in from eighteen to twenty hours daily on the tunnel near Fredericksburg. Twenty cars of steel are en route and will be unloaded on a siding near where the connection is to be made with the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railway. Laying of steel will not be delayed, and the road is expected to be opened for traffic by August.

The Gulf, Texas and Western railway has made two reconnaissance surveys for the proposed extension of its line west of Seymour.

Interurban Construction.

Track for the Southern Traction Company has been assembled from Hillsboro to a point about five miles north. Track has also been assembled from a point on Hutchins Hill, just north of the Dallas county farm, to a point about four miles north of Corsicana. Ballasting has been commenced near Waco and the first layer of ballast has been put on for about seven miles of track. About thirty miles of trolley poles have been erected. The line is more than 83 per cent completed.

The San Benito and Rio Grande Valley interurban will at once begin the construction of a new twenty-mile loop at the Rio Hondo end of the road.

The Rio Grande Valley Traction Company reports construction on the El Paso-Ysleta Interurban line progressing rapidly. A mile of track from the end of the Washington Park line eastward has been laid. The line is expected to begin operation August 1.

The Anna-Blue Ridge-Greenville interurban reports track laying proceeding, and the steel bridge over the Sister Grove creek ready to be put up. Work was started on the Beaumont-Port Arthur interurban line during April and the first shipment of rails and ties has been received. The line will be sixteen miles long and work will be pushed. The contract calls for the completion of the grade in ninety days.

The San Antonio and Austin interurban reports that the survey of eighty-five miles will be completed by June 1 and construction will begin soon afterward. Estimated cost is $2,400,000, including power plant and equipment.

The Eastern Texas Traction Company reports satisfactory progress on the Dallas-Greenville interurban.

The Bryan Central Texas Interurban Railway Company was organized during April and work was commenced on the extension from Bryan to Stone City and to the Brazos bottom. The company took over the Bryan College interurban company.

A corps of surveyors is now running a line for the proposed Dallas-Denton-Gainesville interurban.

CHEAPER FACTORY GAS IS OFFERED AT HENRIETTA.

Henrietta People's Review.

S. J. Slade and Dr. G. W. McMillan, representing the Amarillo Oil and Gas Company, were in Henrietta Tuesday and Wednesday with a proposition that looks good. These folks have two gas wells in the field, on which they desire to "get action," and they came with propositions. An impromptu call brought a representative body of our best citizens to the conference to learn that with proper encouragement the Amarillo company will deliver gas in Henrietta at 20 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for domestic purposes and at 5 cents for factories—and as to factories, will compete with any prices elsewhere. And this factory rate is what counts, being little more than half the

MISS MABELLE CLOPTON HAS SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The twentieth birthday of Miss Mabelle Clopton was the occasion for a surprise supper party, given by Mrs. Clopton in connection with the meeting of the Old Maids' Aid. This club met with Miss Esther Corning for a pleasant session of sewing, followed by refreshments. It was then suggested that all walk to the Westland, where Miss Clopton discovered that she was the honoree of a very pretty supper party. The decorations were in pink and white, the cake with its twenty candles being a prominent factor. There was much merriment over the blowing out of the candles to determine how many years would elapse before the blower should wed. The occasion was a thoroughly delightful one and more enjoyable because of its unexpectedness to the honoree. Those present were: Misses Agnes Reid, Jewel Kemp, Esther Corning, Vivian Mathis, Eddie Carver, Mabel Simpson, Kathryn Wilson, Kathryn Hindman, Mabelle Clopton and Mrs. R. E. Clopton.

OPENING MEETING OF NEW CENTURY CLUB WEDNESDAY.

NEWLAND TAYLOR NUPRIALS TUESDAY

J. A. Newland and Miss Mary Taylor were married at noon Tuesday at the home of the bride's father, D. Phyll Taylor, 912 Burnett, Rev. J. P. Boone officiating. It had been planned to make the wedding a "quiet" one, but the associates of the groom in the Katy offices decided otherwise; consequently Mr. and Mrs. Newland were escorted to the station by a large wagon load of bell-ringing, horn-blowing young people, while large placards on the carriage permitted no doubt that a newly married couple was inside. Mr. and Mrs. Newland left for Galveston, and will return shortly to make their home here. The groom is employed in the Katy offices and is a popular and efficient member of that road's office force here. #### SOME DON'T'S.

The American School Board Journal offers a valuable list of don't's that are worthy the attention of Texas school trustees: Don't hire a friend because he is a friend. Don't hire a teacher without a valid certificate. It is illegal and violates your oath of office. Don't hire an experienced failure. Don't hire an applicant unless you know something definite about her scholarship and personal character and ability.

Don't wait for the good teacher to seek your school. Go after her yourself.

Don't let a good teacher go if a merited raise in salary will hold her.

Don't keep a poor teacher. She is worth less than $0.06 a year.

WARNING!

Every man who has been summoned to pay a street tax who fails to appear when the sum is due will positively be fined.
