TALKS ON FARM WELFARE HEARD

PETER RADFORD AND BEN B. CAJIN SPEAK AT THE COURT HOUSE

UNION DISTRICT MEETING

Small but Interested Audience Hears Forceful Addresses on Welfare of Farmers

Hon. Peter Radford, president of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union, and Hon. B. Cajin, president of the Texas Farm Life Commission, addressed a small crowd of farmers and business men at the court house Tuesday afternoon, explaining the aims and purposes of the Farm Life Commission.

The two speakers came at the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce and the Farmers' Union, the latter having held a district meeting here Tuesday. While the attendance was not so large as it ought to have been, either in the number of farmers or business men, there was keen interest and evident sympathy on the part of those present, so that the meeting was a very successful one.

Mr. Radford in addition to being president of the Farmers' Union is also manager of the Texas Farm Life Commission organized a few months ago by the Texas Commercial Secretaries. Mr. Radford had been subjected to criticism from some sources for his connection with anything that was associated with the Texas Commercial Secretaries. His address was chiefly a defense of his own course and that of the union in this connection, and an explanation of the purposes of the commission.

He also took opportunity to extol the Farmers' Union. Many of his phrases were picturesque yet homely, and while his talk was simply a talk, probably on this account it struck a more sympathetic chord. He ridiculed the "book farmer" whom he said had "hooked" the motto "Prices not production." He said he saw men in the audience who cultivated 2000 acres of crops, yet there were men who were telling them they didn't know how to farm. He said he did not want to be understood as believing the farmer did not want advice. "The farmer needs all the advice and help they can get from the business men," he said.

Fears Over Production. But the farmer did not need advice or help in the matter of production, he argued.

"You pay a man for what he does," he declared, "and he'll be his own genius and his own mentor—he'll attend to the production." As an instance showing the folly of preaching more production he cited a meeting he recently attended at Gallatin, Texas. Farmers were at that meeting who had shipped fifty carloads of tomatoes, he said. "When I asked for my own information how many made any money from these tomatoes not a single man answered in the affirmative."

He quoted from the declaration of principles of the Farmers' Union formulated eleven years ago to show that one of its purposes was to encourage scientific farming—which he explained to mean the preparation of the seed bed, planting, cultivation and the handling of the crop through the market at a profit. He declared the Farmers' Union and the Texas Life Commission were the only two organizations that put their intelligence and help alongside the producers and marketers all the way through. He said the grange came in the chaos and distress following the war and taught us to grow two blades where one grew before. The grange taught production alone, he said, and that did very well for a period but the production side was emphasized to the exclusion and neglect of marketing until cotton was selling for four and one-half cents and the whole country was in debt. Then came the Farmers' Union with its campaign of organization, education and agitation for marketing in keeping with the law of supply and demand, and in eleven years it had brought the price of cotton up over $11 per hundred and had brought cotton seed and other products up with it.

Figures given out by the department of agriculture, he said, showed that in the eleven years preceding 1909, the farmers of the country had produced $70,000,000,000 in wealth, or two-thirds, the entire value of the whole United States. Yet during the same period the number of farmers owning their own homes had not increased. He pointed to Ellis county—the largest producer of cotton of any county in Texas, where the number of home-owners has decreased and the number of tenants increased as an example of this fact. Williamson county was another.

Noted Wichitan Celebrates His Seventy-Seventh Birthday Today

MAJOR ROBERT COBB

Major Robert Cobb is celebrating the seventy-seventh anniversary of his birth today, and is being congratulated on the event by his many friends here where he has lived for nearly thirty years.

The past twelve months have brought much sorrow to Major Cobb and his family by the untimely death of his son, Robert, and the Major himself is just recovering from a long and severe illness, but he has born all with a fortitude that befits a gentleman of the old school and a Confederate soldier.

Major Cobb is one of the most distinguished of the surviving officers of the Confederacy and his record as a soldier is one of which his fellow-countrymen, his adopted State of Texas and his native State of Kentucky may well be proud.

Major Cobb was born in Lyon County, Kentucky, May 21, 1836. He was educated at the Trigg male seminary under the teaching of Quintus Tyler and at the Western Military Institute of which Col. Bushrod Johnson was superintendent. He studied law at the University of Virginia one term in class of '55-'56 and had only begun the practice of his chosen profession when the war between the States broke out. He volunteered in the Confederate States Provisional Army at Camp Boone in 1861 being elected First Lieutenant of Co. F, Third Kentucky Infantry of which Lloyd Tilghman, afterward Brig. Gen., was colonel.

In September, 1861 Gen. L. B. Buckner having been assigned to the command of the Kentucky Brigade at Camp Boone and a Tennessee brigade formed at Camp Trousdale and some other assignments, transferred Capt. Lyon's company of which Major Cobb was a member, temporarily as was supposed to the artillery service for the movement on Bowling Green. The company was supplied with six bronze guns taken from Paducah, south and turned over to Gen. Polk in West Tennessee, the guns being belonged to Kentucky were said to have been made from cannon taken during the war between the United States and Mexico.

In February, 1862 Capt. Lyons was made colonel of the Eighth Kentucky Infantry and Lieut. Cobb became captain of the company by election of the men, which he himself requested and obtained an order for through Gen. John C. Breckinridge from Gen. Johnston at Murfreesboro, Tenn., in March, 1862.

The company's first engagement was at Shiloh, April 6th, 1862. After that battle the company was permanently detached from the Third Kentucky Infantry and on orders from Gen. Breckinridge, commanding the reserve division of the army at Corinth, formally named Cobb's Battery, which name it bore to the end of the war.

On the 22nd day of February, 1864 Capt. Cobb was promoted to Major of Artillery, after application made by Gen. Breckinridge after the battle of Chickamauga, (approved by Gen. Bragg) and Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, (approved by Gen. Pendleton, chief inspector of artillery) and was assigned by Gen. Johnston to the command of the battalion of ar-

HOUSE ORATORY WORRIES WILSON

ASKS SESSION OF ALABAMA NOT TO MAKE AN INCENDIARY SPEECH

FEARS OFFENDING JAPAN

Alabama Recently Made War Speech and Further Utterances Viewed With Alarm

By Associated Press. Washington, May 21.—President Wilson today sent for Representative Sisson of Mississippi and urged him not to make any speech that would offend the sensibilities of Japan.

Mr. Sisson who recently made a "war" speech, has given notice of his intention to speak in the House Friday on the legal phases of the Japan alien land question. He had a conference lasting twenty minutes with the president, during which he assured Mr. Wilson he would not discuss the pending negotiations or touch on anything of an incendiary character, limiting himself to an argument on alien ownership. That was the White House version of the conference, so Mr. Sisson himself declined to make any comment, declaring merely that he would speak Friday. The president is known to be anxious about discussions in Congress at this stage on the Japanese question, especially observations on the United States policies.

JAPAN NOW STUDYING UNITED STATES' REPLY

By Agreements its Contents Have Not Been Made Public—People Are Waiting

By Associated Press. Tokio, May 21.—The Japanese foreign office is studying the reply of the United States government to its original protest in regard to the California alien land ownership legislation. It is declared that by agreement with Washington the document will not be made public. The officials make no comment on the subject.

The Japanese public apparently is awaiting for information before expressing its opinion on the United States reply. In the meantime the press claims that the question goes deeper than the ownership of land or making of treaties and that it is radical discrimination which must be wiped out by mutual education and the fusion of ideas.

Houston, Texas, May 21.—When the legislative prison probe convened this morning Commissioners Braban, Tittle and Cabell gave testimony on the charges of drinking and gambling at the Clemon's farm, testified to by former Assistant Superintendent Thomas. They said that Thomas made no complaints to them and if he had directed their attention to the matter it would have been remedied.

H. L. Trammell was heard again in connection with the working of convicts, reiterating his views that with the abolition of the "bat" convicts stood in no terror of discipline and hence, it required from three to four men to do the work of one.

DYNAMITE PLOT DETAILS GIVEN

UNDERTAKER IS WITNESS IN TRIAL OF WOOLEN COMPANY PRESIDENT

SECURING OF EXPLOSIVE

Witness Tells How Atteaux, One of Defendants, Secured His Aid in Alleged Plot

By Associated Press. Boston, May 21.—In the trial of William Wood, president of the American Woolen Company and Frederick E. Atteaux, charged with planting dynamite in the Lawrence textile-strike, the first testimony connecting either of the defendants with the dynamite was given by John J. Breen this morning. He testified that Atteaux had asked him if he could obtain some dynamite.

Breen, an undertaker, previously had been convicted in connection with placing the dynamite and fined $500.

Breen said he knew both Collins and Atteaux in January, 1912 he met Atteaux at the latter's office a few days before the dynamite episode. Atteaux said, "Can you get some dynamite?" Breen replied, "I said no," said the witness. Then he suggested that perhaps Mr. Pittman, a builder with whom the state alleges the accused men conspired might get some. Pittman later committed suicide on the day he was subpoenaed as a witness before the grand jury investigating the alleged plot.

"Atteaux telephoned to Pittman," Breen continued, "and an hour later Pittman arrived at Atteaux's office. Atteaux took Pittman into the corridor and Pittman returned in about three minutes, and said 'Do you think you can do this business?' and I replied, 'Yes.'"

"Pittman said 'I'll get some dynamite—Atteaux came in and said, 'Well, you can't do it for nothing. How much do you need? Will $500 be enough?' Atteaux then asked me about the police and I told him that Inspector Rooney was a friend of mine and would never suspect me when I gave him a tip about the dynamite."

Breen testified he said to Atteaux, "If I were fighting those fellows (meaning the strikers) I'd fight them by their own methods."

Atteaux he said asked him if he meant dynamite and he replied, "dynamite or anything else." On cross examination the witness said he never had conferred with Wood, Atteaux or any others to injure anyone.

SENATE COMMITTEE HAS PRACTICALLY REACHED AN AGREEMENT.

By Associated Press. Washington, May 21.—Chairman Owen of the Senate Banking and Currency committee said today that an agreement had practically been reached as to the fundamentals of currency reform. Those working on the subject felt that a system of regional reserve banks was the best means of mobilizing reserves and that an elastic currency could be obtained by the issue of money through such banks placed primarily on the credit of the United States, the gold in the reserve and on prime securities.

By Associated Press. Washington, May 21.—Senator Williams, chairman of the finance subcommittee on the agricultural schedule, said today it had been decided to treat beef cattle, sheep and hogs and their products, wheat and flour and oats and oatmeal on an equal basis. If a duty is to be put on the raw material, it will likewise be put on the products, or vice versa.

That the subcommittee had decided to put cattle, wheat, etc., on the free list with beef and flour, he denied, declaring it had not been determined what basis all such articles would be treated, whether dutiable or undutiable.

Democratic members of the Senate finance committee decided today to hear no more manufacturers on the schedules of the Underwood bill after next Tuesday, and then begin actual work of revising the bill. Senator Simmons, chairman of the committee, added that no individual members of the committee would spare any further time listening to manufacturers and that all who wished to be heard must apply to the various subcommittees.

After next Tuesday the committee expects to complete the bill in four days, in time to report to the full committee the following Monday. Then the democratic caucus will be called and it is believed the bill will be ready for the Senate by June 7. Cutting off of hearing will not stop the filing of briefs which will be received until the committee completes the bill.

The Farmers' Side.
"Yet there are fellows," he commented, "who wear stand-up collars who'll tell you farmers it's more production you need. Why did I hurt 'em. I'd like to shoot 'em with a peck gun that wouldn't hurt."
He declared that some of these same fellows were after him, but that he was going to show 'em up."
He quoted B. F. Yoakum as saying that a mechanic worked three hours to earn a dollar, a railroad employe two and a half hours, while a farmer had to labor ten hours for the same dollar.

He said the farmers were asking the business men to co-operate with them in equalizing the difference against the farmer and the other producers of the nation.

"We're not asking him to help us produce more," the speaker said "I'll guarantee that there won't be any lack of production if they'll show up a market at a fair profit." He advised the farmers not to plant a seed of anything they didn't think they could get a fair price for.

He then took up the inception of the Texas Farm Life Commission and its organization saying that he attributed the sincerest and most earnest motives in its creation. He said the organization had been turned over to the commission with all strings of any kind on it and that the Commercial Secretaries Association had not attempted to influence its deliberations or actions in any manner but had said "work out your own plan for making farm life more attractive and the business of farming more remunerative, and when we can help you let us know."

He said that an effort was being made to discredit himself and the Farm Life Commission. The real purpose of this attempt was to discredit the Business Men's Association with the farmers. Peanut politics was behind it all, he declared.

Calling to Tom Taylor who was in the audience he said: "Tom, you remember the fellow who ten or fifteen years ago got up on a dry good box and berated the corporations, the railroads, the bankers and every body and every organization generally, and always drew a big crowd and was considered a big man—the politician. Well, you don't hear him anymore. He's dead now, and I helped kill the dad-blamed scoundrel, and I count it one of the proudest acts of my life."

"You think I'm using pretty strong talk, maybe. Well, I've been dealing with all kinds of folks lately, and have to give them different kinds of medicine. Sometimes I get the dose mixed. This may cause a little trouble for a while, but it'll work of all right, if you give it time."

Business Men's Co-operation.
Speaking of the desire of the business men to co-operate with the farmers in their effort to bring about better conditions, he mentioned a few of the bankers last summer to loan the Farmers' Union money for holding the crop. The price was thirteen and a half cents and if farmers had taken the money cotton would have been thirteen cents and higher today, but instead four-fifths of the crop was put on the market in the first four months and the price went down, he said.

He said he had nothing to say against the speculation so long as the farmer made gambling possible and even necessary by rushing his cotton into the market without regard to the demand.

"Many a fellow who goes to church on Sunday and grunts like a horse with the collar is just as much responsible for gambling as the speculator himself," said Mr. Radford, amid shouts of laughter, and added "the banker who forces the farmer to sell is a party to it."

Mr. Cain said the creation of the Farm Life Commission did not arise from an altruistic but from a selfish motive; that the business men of the State had seen that the farmer was not getting a square deal, and realized that all must suffer when the farmer suffers. He said he knew and others knew that the farmer must work out the plan for his own industrial salvation, and the other could help him only through co-operation.

He said he would not pretend to be a Moses to lead the farmer out of the wilderness but that he would call some figures to their attention.

He quoted statistics from the census bureau showing that Texas brought over $42,000,000 worth of cotton outside the State; over $19,000,000 worth of wheat outside the State; $18,000,000 worth of oats; $18,000,000 worth of sorghum; $950,000 worth of broom corn; $2,174,850 worth of cow peas; $9,892,000 worth of fruits and vegetables making in all $92,934,850 paid for farm products from outside the State. Against this Texas produced $250,000,000 worth of cotton, and consumed only $42,000,000 worth leaving a balance of $308,000,000 more cotton than was consumed, and leaving a balance of more than $200,000,000 after paying for other farm products bought outside the State.

Much of the farm products bought outside the State might be grown to advantage in Texas, the speaker said, "but it is plain that the thing that saves us all from bankruptcy is cotton. Surely the pressing problem for us all is the marketing of cotton at a fair profit."

He said the industrial and commercial situation reminded him of a merry-go-round he used to admire when a boy. He pictured organized labor riding a camel on the merry-go-round, the manufacturer an elephant, the banker a burnished horse, but the farmer had been put to sleep back in one of the chariots reserved for the women and children. As the merry-go-round raced on its way, he pictured first labor, then the banker and others leaning out and clutching a ring, but the poor farmer back in the chariot was asleep and couldn't have reached the ring if he had tried.

Better Understanding Coming.
He said the trouble had been that the farmer and the business man hadn't understood each other. Another trouble was that each had been prejudiced against the other, and another trouble was that the farmer hadn't been organized.

"Now," he said, "the farmer is organized and a better understanding is being reached, but whenever the fires of prejudice have died down, and have been about to go out, the politician and the demagogue have fanned the flame afresh."

He said the time has come when the farmer has got to look to his own selfish interests no matter with whom it lies. He said the farmer had an interest in tariff legislation. In this connection he said, "I wouldn't predict it, but it looks like disaster to the farmer, when men high in the councils of the nation say we've got to look to the interests of the consumer, and forget about the producer."

He declared that the days of slavery were not any worse than the condition with some of the tenant farmers of East Texas, "who are under bondage to the credit system."
He drew a pathetic picture of a typical farmer of this class, and as he proceeded with his description he said in the audience exclaimed "from time to time 'that's right, I've seen there.'"
At the conclusion of this description Mr. Cain said "it's up to you and to all of us, and it's got to stop."

At the conclusion of their talks R. E. Huff and Tom B. Taylor responded to calls with brief speeches. Judge Scurry was also called on and spoke briefly.

DEFENDANT TESTIFIES IN W. M. WOOD'S TRIAL.
By Associated Press. Boston, May 21.—Dennis J. Collins, a dog fancier on trial with President William M. Wood of the woolen company and F. B. Atteaux, a Boston manufacturer for conspiracy to "plant dynamite" at Lawrence in the textile strike, testified as a witness for the prosecution today. Collins said that on May, 1912 he met John Breen an undertaker who was convicted of actually planting the explosive in a Boston saloon. Breen said he would like me to go to Lawrence that night.

"I told him I would go if I could help any," Collins said. He said they received a package weighing about forty pounds and carried it to Breen's house. It contained sticks which fell cold.

"I asked Breen what they were and he told me it was 'juice.'"

BROKE DOWN
Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good. I was surprised, and took some more. Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need.

We urge you to try it.

Reflection.

I did pretty well with that trouble I had. That trouble that frightened me so; Now it's over I think I've a right to feel glad. That I didn't give in to a blow. For a while it appeared that I could not succeed. I was tempted to give up the fight, but now that it's over I'm happy, indeed. To think that I came out all right I nearly gave up when the thing looked so bad. I had almost decided to quit. I'm surprised at myself at the courage I had. And I'm glad that I have so much to get on with.

When the next trouble comes I shall stand up and fight. And meet it the best that I can; I've reached the conclusion that a trouble's all right. It brings out the stuff in a man. —Detroit Free Press.

'OLD MAIDS AID' MEETS WITH MISS CARRIE KELL.

Tuesday's meeting of the "Old Maids Aid" was held with Miss Carrie Kell, it being a very enjoyable session, with all the members present. Needlework occupied the young ladies for a time, dainty refreshments being served before the gathering broke up. Those present were Misses Agnes Reid, Katherine Hindman, Mabel Simpson, Mabelle Clouton, Jewel Kemp, Esther Gorsline, Vivian Mathis, Kathryn Wilson, Edith Carver, Lillian Durrett of Fort Worth, Mrs. Orville Bullington.

CIPHER CLUB WILL GIVE DANCE AT LAKE TONIGHT.

Another dance will be held tonight at Lake Wichita by the Cipher Club and an unusually large number of couples are expected to attend. These dances are proving among the pleasant diversions of the warm weather and are greatly enjoyed.

Miss Kathryn Wilson of St. Joseph, Mo., who has been spending the winter in Wichita Falls, will leave tomorrow with her sister, Mrs. A. W. McCoy to spend the summer at home. Her departure is viewed with much regret by the numerous friends that she has made during her sojourn in Wichita Falls, and these will look forward to her return.

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS REMEMBER GRANDMA HUFF.

Tuesday morning bright and early letters and telegrams from her absent children began to shower upon Grandma Huff of 1605 Tenth street, congratulating her upon her seventieth birthday. From the absent daughter in far off Alabama, the sons in Oklahoma and grand-children generally came the words of loving remembrance as well as from relatives and friends in the city as she enter-

Not dreaming that any one outside her own family knew of the occasion she was taken utterly by surprise when a number of her lady friends came in each one bringing congratulations and an appropriate present. It was a very happy old lady who so gracefully and tenderly acknowledged her appreciation of these kind remembrances and bade her guests a tender farewell.

"COLDS" Caused By Lowered Vital Resistance.

What To Do For This. It is a well known fact that when a person is run down, stomach out of order, or the system overloaded with waste matter, vital resistance is lowered and colds and coughs are easily contracted.

The safest and surest method we know to overcome this condition is by taking our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. In the most natural manner Vinol tones up the digestive organs, promotes hearty appetite, enriches the blood and creates strength for every organ in the body and as a specific for chronic coughs, colds and bronchial troubles Vinol is unequalled.

Mr. Albert Porter of Richmond, L. I., says: "All winter I had a bad cold and a cough which I could not get rid of, and was badly run-down besides. Vinol was the one remedy which cured my cough and made me well in every way."

Try a bottle of Vinol on our offer to return your money if it fails to help you.

Notice to Patrons of the Wichita Falls Traction Co.

On and after June 1st., 1913, the Wichita Falls Traction Company will inaugurate the "Pay-as-you-enter" system of collecting fares, and patrons are requested to have the exact fare ready on entering the car, in order to save time and avoid confusion.

Packages can not be handled on the street cars except those that can be handled by the owner and within the car. Baby buggies can not be handled unless folded or of such size as can be handled on inside of car and not block the aisle.

With the above system in effect, we will be able to give the public much more efficient service, and hope our patrons will assist us by having their nickles and tickets ready on entering the car, and not attempt to take packages on the cars other than specified above.

AUTO DELIVERY

A friend of mine reported a conversation that she overheard a conversation between a couple of women on the meat question. They discussed various meat shops and among them mine. One woman said, "Yes, I know Hardeman's meat service. You get just what you want and get it on time and the price is very fair."

I couldn't add anything to that endorsement that would make it one bit stronger. The only thing I can ask is that you try it yourself and see if you don't agree with this woman. Your phone order will have very careful attention and very prompt delivery.

Wichita Falls, Texas, May 21, 1913

That was a nice bouquet Gov. Colquitt handed out to Lieut. Gov. Mayes at San Antonio last week,—equalled only, perhaps, by the one the lieutenant governor handed back to the governor on the following day at the same place and on the same occasion. A sort of mutual admiration society.

Governor Johnson of California has signed that much-talked-of alien land bill which is said to discriminate against the Japs, and now it appears the matter will be tested in the higher courts. In event the higher court decision upholds the legality of the bill, it will then be up to the Japs to take their medicine, fight or back down.

Within the next two weeks Wichita county farmers will be harvested the largest small grain crop it has been their fortune or good luck to produce for several years, and the prospects are at this time that the same can be said later on of their corn and cotton crop.

If the owners of Lake Wichita and the Traction Company combined have not sufficient influence with the Telephone Company to induce it to put in a pay station at the lake, then a petition should be circulated among patrons of the Telephone Company to have that done. The tolls may not pay the company to maintain such a station, but all of us like to visit Lake Wichita, but knowing that there is no telephone connection with the city will be the cause of many to refrain from enjoying that pleasure as often as we might.

Postmaster General Burleson, by the removal from office of a Democratic postmaster in South Carolina, has caused the report to go out that all postmasters now in the service, without regard as to whether they are Democrats or Republicans, must not leave the duties of the postmaster to be performed by the assistant, if they expect to hold their positions. In other words, the postmasters are expected to do something other than draw their salaries and their breath. If this order, if an order it is, shall be enforced, we may look for a decided improvement in the mail service over the United States. In nearly every town or city where the postoffices are in that class that justify the employment of an assistant, the assistant does the work, or as much of it as he is physically and mentally able to do and that which he cannot perform goes undone. The mail service throughout the whole United States, so far as this paper has been able to observe, has been getting worse instead of better, and much of this poor service, no doubt, is directly attributable to the fact that the postmasters in the service are drawing salaries for which they are not performing any service in return. Mr. Burleson, while new in the business, is making a splendid start, and whether he substitutes Democrats for Republicans seems to be a secondary matter with him. Apparently he is making an honest effort to improve the postal service, and the Lord knows there is ample room for this.

J. P. MORGAN'S WAY
(From the Washington Herald)
Every banking house has little speculations at one time or another. No public record exists to show that the Morgan house suffered in this respect, but that is because the late J. P. Morgan insisted on handling these cases in his own way. Two instances are recalled by a Wall Street veteran. In one the culprit, a married man, admitted that he was some $3500 short when the head of the house called him into his office. If he had gone in speculation, he said, he admitted that his salary was ample for his needs.

Mr. Morgan advised the delinquent clerk to go home and tell his wife about it and see him again the next morning. In the morning, after the clerk said he had told his wife everything, Mr. Morgan handed him an amount equal to that which he was short.

"Put that where you took the money from," he ordered. "It is a loan from me. I expect you to pay it back. None

In your hand you hold a five-cent piece.

Right at the grocer's hand is a moisture-proof package of Uneeda Biscuit. He hands you the package—you hand him the coin. A trifling transaction?

No! A remarkable one—for you have spent the smallest sum that will buy a package of good food; and the grocer has sold you the most nutritious food made from flour—as clean and crisp and delicious as it was when it came from the oven.

"Humph!" said the banker. "It was a bit harder saving than losing it, wasn't it? Well now, take it home and give it to your wife. I guess she saved more of it than you did."

The other clerk, unmarried, became involved through associating with too lively a group. Like the other, he was advanced the amount of his shortage, and like the other, repaid it. Not long afterward Mr. Morgan called him into his office and gave him three months' notice.

"But Mr. Morgan," he protested, "I'm all right. I haven't taken a dollar of your money since you gave me another chance."

"I know it," said Mr. Morgan, "but it won't be long before you will be traveling with your old cheque again."

TRIED IN VAIN

During a highly intellectual contest in the lobby of a Washington hotel, sometime since, mention was made of the wonderful influence wielded by wife in all affairs.

"Reminds me of one I heard a few days ago," smilingly remarked Congressman Suloway of New Hampshire. "Two acquaintances were sitting together one afternoon when one took the other to task for the husband in boasting he allowed his wife."

"Look here, Jake!" he exclaimed, "why on earth do you permit your wife to go around saying that she made a man of you? You never hear my wife say anything like that."

"No," was the prompt response of the other, "but I have often heard her say that she tried her hardest."—Exchange.

HEAVY RAIN FALLS IN NORTHERN PART OF COUNTY.

The heaviest rain of the season fell over the northwestern portion of Wichita county late Tuesday evening and Tuesday night. Creeks were out of their banks and tanks and ponds were filled to overflowing. The rain extended north to the river from Electra and reached as far south as Iowa Park. It was particularly heavy in the Clara community.

Rains Monday night and Tuesday night extended over all the Wichita Falls & Northwestern system north of Red River, and have placed crops on that side of the river in splendid shape. Good rains have fallen at Seymour and other points within the last few days.

Cloudy skies and excessive humidity was reported today by the Fort Worth & Denver at nearly all points on that line from Fort Worth to Texline.

Special to the Times. Denison, Texas, May 21.—After six innings of good baseball, the Wichita Falls infield blew up in the seventh yesterday and the contest became a farce, so loosely played as to be disgusting. THE SUFFRAGETTES TO BE PRESENTED AT MAJESTIC.
Miss Nan Talperin, who comes to the Majestic Thursday for a three nights engagement in "The Suffragettes" is the highest salaried woman now in tabloid musical comedy. In fact she receives more than twice the salary of any other artist engaged in this new form of musical comedy. She is already engaged for next season for a new Viennese musical comedy entitled "The Princess" which will be sent on the road by the Interstate Amusement Company as a regular $2 production.

In "The Suffragettes" she not only takes the leading feminine role, but also presents a specialty that is said to rival most of the single acts in vaudeville. The story of "The Suffragettes" is one that makes situations for hilarious laughter from one end to the other, as one might easily judge from the title. Miss Halperin, as Daisy Lovegold, is a suffragette, enthusiastic for her cause and disdain-ing all attentions from men. Jack Diamond is in love with her, but she refuses him to devote her life to the cause of woman's suffrage. McDurham B. Fixer comes along with a love tonic guaranteed to win the love of any one who takes it, and Jack hires him to get Daisy to take some of it, which she does and at once the cause of suffrage is forgotten and Jack gets his bride. The play is replete with new, catchy musical numbers written especially for this production and is staged and dressed in very handsome style. The company comes here from Muskogee, Okla., where it met with a most flattering reception.

"Nature's Gift from the Sunny South"

DO YOU know the difference between Cottolene and lard? Cottolene is a vegetable product; lard is an animal product. Cottolene is made from purest and choicest cotton oil, a product of Nature.

Lard-cooked foods tend to heat the system unduly, and cause discomfort and indigestion; Cottolene makes food rich but never greasy, and food which any stomach can digest with ease.

Cottolene

The better class of housewives often use butter instead of lard for cooking purposes. It's a mighty expensive and needless habit. Cottolene is every bit as good as butter for shortening; it is better than butter for frying. And Cottolene costs much less than butter.

Cottolene will not burn nearly as easily as butter or lard, and with its use the strong, irritating and indigestible acids found in foods fried in animal fats are avoided.

Two-thirds of a pound of Cottolene will go as far as a full pound of butter or lard.

Just think these facts over and let them sink in. Then order a pail of Cottolene of your grocer.

MOTHER JONES TELLS OF PLANS IN WEST VIRGINIA

Pittsburg, Pa., May 21.—"We are going to organize the State of West Virginia if every one of us dies in the battle," declared Mrs. Mary (Mother) Jones, the aged leader of the miners of the mountain State, to a large audience at a local theatre. "I'm going back to West Virginia. If I can't go on a train, I'll walk in."

Mrs. Jones arrived here from Washington, where she had presented the miners' side of the West Virginia strike situation to Senator Kern.

When martial law was declared in the West Virginia coal fields, Mother Jones hurried to the scene from Montana and announced her intention to address the men in the trouble zone.

"One of the boys," she said, "told me: 'If you go up there, mother, you'll come back on a stretcher; no organizer can speak there.' I spoke there. I did not come out on a stretcher. I raised hell."

Some of the miners had guns. She explained that after organizing the men she went to work to organize the women. "I organized the women," said the speaker, "because the women can lick a scab better than you fellows here can."

In discussing the question as to whether the miners had weapons, Mother Jones answered that some miners had some guns; they needed 'em.

"When I was addressing the boys at a meeting," she added in this connection, "I said 'The governor wants your guns. Don't you dare give up any of them. If you are forced to use them, you use them.'"

In a vigorous attack on the laboring classes of the country, she exclaimed: "You are moral cowards! There was a drumhead courtmartial made up of military despots and you did not even stir!"

Tells of Military Trial. The trial of both herself and miners by the military commission was related. "I shall never forget the last day of the trial. It seemed to me as if the flag of liberty was gone and in its stead the flag of Russia waved," she said. "When you do go among those people down there and see them as I have, I want to say that the brutality is worse than that of the most barbarous Mexico."

CHATTANOOGA GETTING READY FOR THE REUNION

Work of Preparation for Veterans' Gathering Next Week is Now Nearly Finished

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 21.—The work of preparation for the Confederate reunion, May 27-29, is fast being completed, and a most enjoyable and successful meeting is assured. Everything will be in readiness for the veterans and visitors. Chattanooga has worked hard and intelligently on these preparations, a fact recognized by all well informed people who take an interest in the reunion.

The best and highest authority in the country on the prospects for a successful and enjoyable reunion is Gen. Bennett H. Young, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans Association. Gen. Young has kept in close touch with the work; noted and studied all of the preparations and signed the official program. In a private letter to a Chattanooga friend and reunion worker, Mr. George F. Milton, editor of the Chattanooga News, Gen. Young says among other things:

"All indications point to a great reunion at Chattanooga. The people in your city have done magnificent work. They have shown great interest, enthusiasm and intelligence and I believe they will produce a reunion that will live as a most pleasant memory in the minds of veterans."

Gen. Young's optimism is shared by all prominent ex-confederates who are familiar with what Chattanooga is doing and has done to make the reunion a success from every point of view.

ELEVEN MILLION ANNUALLY FOR FEEDSTUFFS SPENT IN TEXAS

The farmers of Texas do not raise enough cereals and forage crops for their own farm animals. They expend, according to a recent census report issued by the Federal Department of Commerce and Labor, $40,800,000 annually for feed stuff. The official figures show that twenty-seven per cent of the farmers buy feed.

Peter Radford, president of the Farmers' Union, in discussing the subject, said: "A farmer should, as a rule, raise his own feed. While cotton is our money crop and the moisture requirements of cotton and cereals are in a measure antagonistic and nature usually favors cotton, yet a farmer should plant enough feed to take his stock through the season."

The farmers of Wichita county expend $4065 annually for feedstuffs. 257 of the farmers of this county report purchases of feedstuffs and the annual expenditure per farm reporting is $158. By proper diversification of crops this money can be kept at home.

WELL ON EEDS FARM IS GOOD FOR 100 BARRELS

Brought in After Several Failures—Commissioners Court Takes Appropriate Action

Northwestern Oil Company's No. 3 Eeds was drilled in yesterday and is believed to be good for from 75 to 100 barrels. It is in the 1450 sand where the original Eeds well was brought in.

After a number of dry holes were drilled in almost every direction around Eeds No. 1, the Northwestern made a location immediately northeast of the first well, with the above results.

County Commissioner Eeds telephoned in the news to the commissioners' court, which this morning adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, an oil well has just been brought in on the farm of R. L. Eeds, and

"Whereas, such good fortune calls for appropriate action by this court, therefore be it

"Resolved, by the commissioners' court of Wichita county, by virtue of the authority conferred upon us by the Constitution, or what is left of it, that we hereby invite ourselves and the force of The Times to be Mr. Eeds' guests at a dinner at the Westland on Thursday, June 1913, Aani Domino."

CAN YOU DOUBT IT? When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of Wichita Falls testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a resident of Wichita Falls says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony?

J. E. Sport, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "We still use Doan's Kidney Pills in our family whenever we need a kidney medicine and are always greatly benefited. We have previously endorsed this remedy and you may continue to use our former statement."

Mr. Sport is only one of many of the Wichita Falls people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Sport had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50 cents all stores. OUR STANDARD

Great individuals and good individuals, with any kind of successful business, must hold and maintain the proper STANDARD.

No individual can lay claim to success alone. There must be something to bring about even a fair degree of success. Conditions, environments and grit contribute towards the success of any enterprise or undertaking, but the main thing in this world of endeavor is to set a high STANDARD and live up to it.

The word STANDARD in our business means an IDEAL with the best none too good for those we serve.

We are fully equipped to serve you most efficiently. We remember those whom the great reaper, death, has gathered, and our high ideals permit of nothing but the best in quality and service. Remember this is not an agents proposition. We are leaders in MEMORIAL ART. Telephone 440

A DENTIST SAID TO THE WRITER THE OTHER DAY

"Some people say I am high priced, and some say I am rough, but none of them can say my work don't stand." That's what counts—RESULTS—We have customers say, "At first glance some of your prices seem high but we find upon comparison that we live cheaper and better when we trade with you." We think it the nicest thing they could say. We have been in the grocery business under one roof for twenty-five years and have lots of customers that started with us.
