TALKS ON FARM WELFARE HEARD

PETER RADFORD AND BEN B. CAIN SPEAK AT THE COURT HOUSE

UNION DISTRICT MEETING

Small but Interested Audience Hears Forceful Addresses on Welfare of Farmers

Hon. Peter Radford, president of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union, and Hon. B. B. Cain, president of the Texas Farm Life Commission, addressed a small crowd of farmers and business men at the court house, Tuesday afternoon, explaining the aims and purposes of the Farm Life Commission.

The two speakers came at the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce and the Farmers' Union, the latter having held a district meeting here Tuesday. While the attendance was not so large as it ought to have been, either in the number of farmers or business men, there was keen interest and evident sympathy on the part of those present, so that the meeting was a very successful one.

Mr. Radford in addition to being president of the Farmers' Union is also manager of the Texas Farm Life Commission organized a few months ago by the Texas Commercial Secretaries. Mr. Radford had been subjected to criticism from some sources for his connection with anything that was associated with the Texas Commercial Secretaries. His address was chiefly a defense of his own course and that of the union in this connection, and an explanation of the purposes of the commission. He also took opportunity to extol the Farmers' Union. Many of his phrases were picturesque yet homely, and while his talk was simply a talk, probably on this account it struck a more sympathetic chord. He ridiculed the "book farmer" whom he said had criticized the motto "Prices not production." He said he saw men in the audience who cultivated 2000 acres of crops, yet there were men who were telling them they did not know how to farm. He said he did not want to be understood as believing the farmer did not want advice. "The farmer needs all the advice and help they can get from the business men," he said.

Fears Over Production. But the farmer did not need advice or help in the matter of production, he argued.

"You pay a man for what he does," he declared, "and he'll be his own genius and his own mentor—he'll attend to the production."

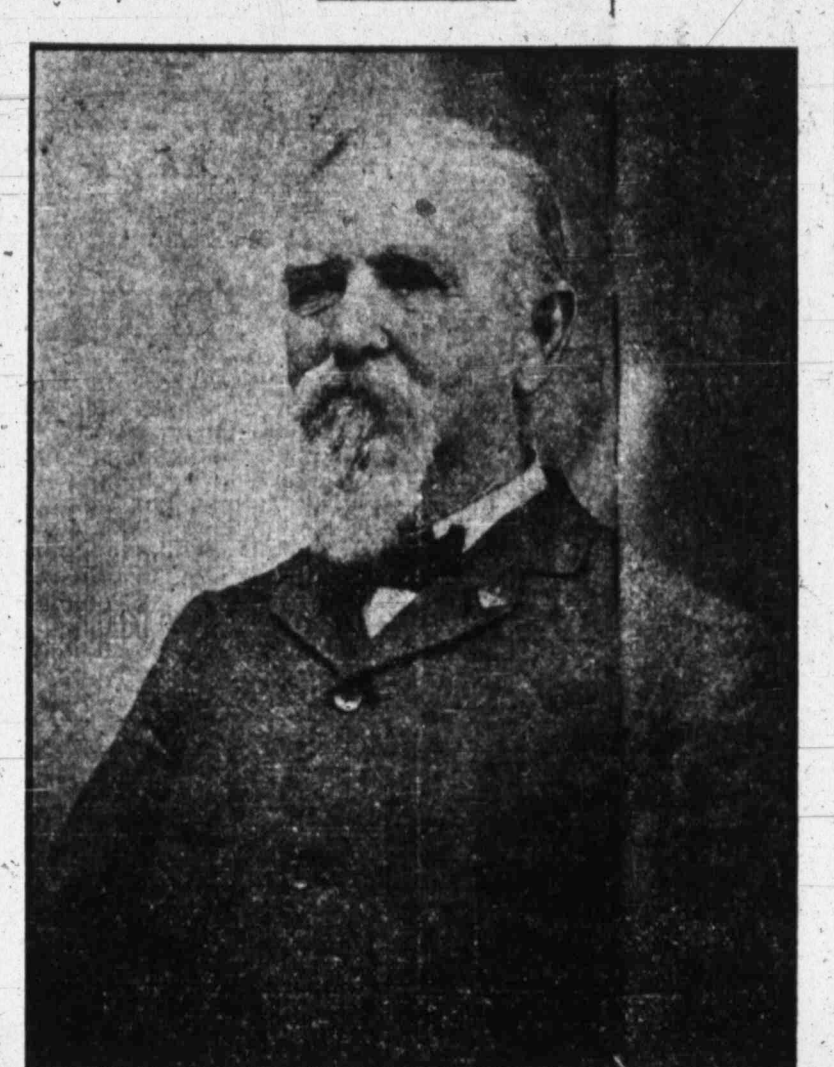

As an instance showing the folly of preaching more production he cited a meeting he recently attended at Gallatin, Texas. Farmers were at that meeting who had shipped fifty carloads of tomatoes, he said. "When I asked for my own information how many made any money from these tomatoes not a single man answered in the affirmative."

He quoted from the declaration of principles of the Farmers' Union formulated eleven years ago to show that one of its purposes was to encourage scientific farming—which he explained to mean the preparation of the seed bed planting, cultivation and the handling of the crop through the market at a profit. He declared the Farmers' Union and the Texas Life Commission were the only two organizations that put their intelligence and help alongside the producers and marketers all the way through. He said the grange came in the chaos and distress following the war and taught us to grow two blades where one grew before. The grange taught production alone, he said, and that did very well for a period but the production side was emphasized to the exclusion and neglect of marketing until cotton was selling for four and one-half cents and the whole country was in debt. Then came the Farmers' Union with its campaign of organization, education and agitation for marketing in keeping with the law of supply and demand, and in eleven years it had brought the price of cotton up over $1 per hundred and had brought cotton seed and other products up with it.

Figures given out by the department of agriculture, he said, showed that in the eleven years preceding 1909, the farmers of the country had produced $70,000,000,000 in wealth, or two-thirds the entire value of the whole United States. Yet during the same period the number of farmers owning their own homes had not increased. He pointed to Ellis county—the largest producer of cotton of any county in Texas, where the number of home-owners has decreased and the number of tenants increased as an example of this fact. Williamson county was another.

Noted Wichitan Celebrates His Seventy-Seventh Birthday Today

MAJOR ROBERT COBB

Major Robert Cobb is celebrating his seventy-seventh anniversary of his birth today and is being congratulated on the event by his many friends here where he has lived for nearly thirty years.

The past twelve months have brought much sorrow to Major Cobb and his family by the untimely death of his son, Robert, and the Major himself is just recovering from a long and severe illness, but he has born all with a fortitude that befits a gentleman of the old school and a Confederate soldier.

Major Cobb is one of the most distinguished of the surviving officers of the Confederacy and his record as a soldier is one of which his fellow-townsmen, his adopted State of Texas and his native State of Kentucky may well be proud.

Major Cobb was born in Lyon County, Kentucky, May 21, 1836. He was educated at the Trigg male seminary under the teaching of Quintus Tyler and at the Western Military Institute of which Col. Bushrod Johnson was superintendent. He studied law at the University of Virginia one term in class of '55-'56 and had only begun the practice of his chosen profession when the war between the States broke out. He volunteered in the Confederate States Provisional Army at Camp Boone in 1861 being elected First Lieutenant of Co. F, Third Kentucky, Infantry of which Lloyd Tilghman, afterward Brig. Gen. was colonel.

In September, 1861 Gen. L. B. Buckner having been assigned to the command of the Kentucky Brigade at Camp Boone and a Tennessee brigade formed at Camp Trousdale and some other assignments, transferred Capt. Cobb was a member, temporarily as was supposed to the artillery service for the movement on Bowling Green. The company was supplied with six bronze guns taken from Paducah, south and turned over to Gen. Polk in West Tennessee, the guns having belonged to Kentucky were said to have been made from cannon taken during the war between the United States and Mexico.

In February, 1862 Capt. Lyons was made colonel of the Eighth Kentucky Infantry and Lieut. Cobb became captain of the company by election of the men, which he himself requested and obtained an order for through Gen. John C. Breckinridge from Gen. Johnston at Murfreesboro, Tenn., in March, 1862.

The company's first engagement was at Shiloh, April 6th, 1862. After that battle the company was permanently detached from the Third Kentucky Infantry and on orders from Gen. Breckinridge, commanding the reserve division of the army at Corinth, formally named Cobb's Battery, which name it bore to the end of the war.

On the 22nd day of February, 1864 Capt. Cobb was promoted to Major of Artillery, after application made by Gen. Breckinridge after the battle of Chickamauga. (approved by Gen. Bragg) and Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, (approved by Gen. Pendleton, chief inspector of artillery) and was assigned by Gen. Johnston to the command of the battalion of ar-

HOUSE ORATORY WORRIES WILSON

ASKS SISSION OF ALABAMA NOT TO MAKE AN INCENDIARY SPEECH

FEARS OFFENDING JAPAN

Alabamans Recently Made War Speech and Further Utterances Viewed With Alarm

By Associated Press. Washington, May 21.—President Wilson today sent for Representative Sisson of Mississippi and urged him not to make any speech that would offend the sensibilities of Japan. Mr. Sisson who recently made a "war" speech, has given notice of his intention to speak in the House Friday on the legal phases of the Japan alien land question.

He had a conference lasting twenty minutes with the president, during which he assured Mr. Wilson he would not discuss the pending negotiations or touch on anything of an incendiary character, limiting himself to an argument on alien ownership. That was the White House version of the conference, so Mr. Sisson himself declined to make any comment, declaring merely that he would speak Friday. The president is known to be anxious about discussions in Congress at this stage on the Japanese question, especially observations on the United States policies.

JAPAN NOW STUDYING UNITED STATES' REPLY

By Agreements its Contents Have Not Been Made Public—People Are Waiting

By Associated Press. Tokyo, May 21.—The Japanese foreign office is studying the reply of the United States government to its original protest in regard to the California alien land ownership legislation. It is declared that by agreement with Washington the document will not be made public. The officials make no comment on the subject.

The Japanese public apparently is awaiting for information before expressing its opinion on the United States reply. In the meantime the press claims that the question goes deeper than the ownership of land or making of treaties and that it is radical discrimination which must be wiped out by mutual education and the fusion of ideas.

DYNAMITE PLOT DETAILS GIVEN

UNDERTAKER IS WITNESS IN TRIAL OF WOOLEN COMPANY PRESIDENT

SECURING OF EXPLOSIVE

Witness Tells How Atteaux, One of Defendants, Secured His Aid in Alleged Plot

By Associated Press. Boston, May 21.—In the trial of William Wood, president of the American Woolen Company and Fredrick E. Atteaux, charged with planting dynamite in the Lawrence textile strike, the first testimony connecting either of the defendants with the dynamite was given by John J. Breen, this morning. He testified that Atteaux had asked him if he could obtain some dynamite.

Breen, an undertaker, previously had been convicted in connection with placing the dynamite and fined $500.

Breen said he knew both Collins and Atteaux. In January, 1912 he met Atteaux at the latter's office a few days before the dynamite episode. Atteaux said, "Can you get some dynamite?" Breen testified.

"I said no," said the witness. Then he suggested that perhaps Mr. Pittman, a builder with whom the state alleges the accused men conspired might get some. Pittman later committed suicide on the day he was subpoenaed as a witness before the grand jury investigating the alleged plot.

"Atteaux telephoned to Pittman," Breen continued, "and an hour later Pittman arrived at Atteaux's office. Atteaux took Pittman into the corridor and Pittman returned in about three minutes, and said 'Do you think you can do this business?' and I replied, 'Yes'.

"Pittman said I'll get some dynamite. Atteaux came in and said, 'Well, you can't do it for nothing. How much do you need? Will $500 be enough?' I told him that would be enough. Atteaux then asked me about the police and I told him that Inspector Rooney was a friend of mine and would never suspect me when I gave him a tip about the dynamite."

Breen testified he said to Atteaux, "If I were fighting those fellows, (meaning the strikers) I'd fight them by their own methods."

Atteaux he said asked him if he meant dynamite and he replied, "Dynamite or anything else." On cross examination the witness said he never had conferred with Wood, Atteaux or any others to injure anyone.

WICHITANS BACK FROM MEETING

TELL HOW THEY CAPTURED 1914 PRESS ASSOCIATION CONVENTION

FIND CONTEST STRENUOUS

Systematic and Tireless Work, However, are Successful and Meeting is Secured

The victorious Wichita Falls delegation to the Texas Press convention at San Antonio returned yesterday and this morning, very full of San Antonio's hospitality and very well pleased with themselves for the success they had in their fight for the 1914 convention. All report a splendid time, which was augmented by the joy of victory.

The fight was not won without a struggle. At first it looked like every town in Texas that was on the railroad wanted the meeting. Galveston, Houston, Dallas, Texarkana, Beaumont, Orange and Corpus Christi were among the contestants, but it was evident from the very start that Wichita Falls was very much in the running. The names of Dallas, Corpus Christi, Houston, Orange and Wichita Falls were the only ones presented to the convention but all except Wichita Falls and Corpus Christi withdrew before things came to a show down.

Bill Long Leads Fight

Wichita Falls started her fight the minute she arrived. The Dallas contingent placarded an armored figure in the gutter lobby with a sign reading "I Am For Dallas." Bill Long placed underneath this another sign reading, "But Everybody Else is For Wichita Falls." Another idea of Bill was that of dispensing punches to the editors. This was done with the assistance of Mrs. Long and Mrs. A. G. Deatherage and some pretty San Antonio girls, who served the refreshments and pinned carnations on each editor, while Bill talked for Wichita Falls through a megaphone.

When the fight came on the convention floor, a youngster from Corpus Christi presented that city's claims. To show the force of the city's invitation, he dramatically unrolled a number of telegrams inviting the convention; these were put together to make a strip 45 feet long, and the stunt made quite a hit.

But when "Buttermilk Jim" Lowry of Honey Grove got up to nominate Wichita Falls he was ready with an answer.

Humans, Not Telegrams.

"Any town can read a bunch of telegrams," he declared, "but Wichita Falls has sent sixty-five feet of human beings." There were clever Wichitans present, counting Mrs. Long; all of them weren't members of the delegation, but that didn't matter.

Senator Wilkey in a pretty speech seconded the nomination of Corpus calling attention to the bay and the sky and the moon and other beauties of Nature.

"Ogd made the bay, the sky and the moon," said E. P. Hanes, speaking in reply, "but Wichita Falls was built by hand, and we want you to see what she has done."

The vote was 69 to 33 in favor of this city. Although it is a full year until the convention comes, the members of the delegation have already made up their minds that the entertainment Wichita Falls provides shall eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted.

WICHITAN'S BROTHER IS BOOSTER AT SAN ANTONIO

A good boost for Wichita Falls was given at San Antonio by WILL Gohlke brother of F. H. Gohlke of this city. In an interview in the Express, in his interview, Mr. Gohlke assumed that the editors' convention had already selected Wichita Falls, although taking that for granted. The interview follows:

"I am glad to see that the 'pre-gang' are going to Wichita Falls in 1914. Two years ago I was a delegate to the Retail Merchants' convention at Wichita Falls and I want to say we did not have a dull moment. They turned the town over to us and then helped us to have a good time. Their breezy, western good fellowship made us feel at home the minute we hit town and we hated to leave when time came for us to go home."

"The wonderful development of Wichita Falls will prove a revelation even to members of the press association. Their natural gas field, have made of Wichita Falls the 'new Chicago' of the great Southwest. So important are the many industries that have built at Wichita Falls, actuated by the wonderful natural gas resources, glass factories, large brick works, flour mills, and many other important industries in addition to this being a large railroad center, have made of Wichita Falls a busy live modern city. Right up in the plains country where only a few years ago the long horn held undisputed sway."

"The greatest boosters on earth are the 'pre-gang' and they will come back from Wichita Falls surprised and jubilant over the great progress our grand old State is making."

50 CENTS REPAID AFTER 50 YEARS

MRS. F. A. WRIGHT RECEIVES "CONSCIENCE MONEY" FROM OLD FRIEND

DOESN'T REMEMBER DATE

Payer, Recently Converted, Wanted to Pay the Money Back Before Death Came

Her conscience awakened after 50 years, and with the thought of death before her, a woman in Missouri has paid to Mrs. F. A. Wright of this city fifty cents which the payer declares she has owed for the last half century. The conscience-stricken one was a girlhood friend of Mrs. Wright.

Fifty years ago, during the Civil War, this girlhood friend bought some peanuts from Mrs. Wright, who was then Miss Killian, back in Newton, Missouri. In some way unknown to Mrs. Wright, this transaction benefited the purchaser to extent of fifty cents, which amount has been repaid Mrs. Wright has just received a money order for the amount, with an explanatory letter.

In her letter, the other woman said that she had recently been converted and that she wished to clear her conscience; she had always remembered owing the money, the letter said, and wished to pay it before she died.

Mrs. Wright does not remember anything about the peanut transaction and had been totally unaware, during the intervening half-century, that she had anything coming to her. She remembers the girl friend very well, however. It was learned that the friend had written letters to New Mexico and other points in an effort to locate Mrs. Wright and pay back the half dollar.

This is one of the strangest cases of "conscience money" on record. There have been cases where someone who used a cancelled stamp had sent her government two cents, years after, to clear his conscience, but repayment of a 50-cent debt after fifty years probably sets a new record.

RETURN TO NORMAL WAIST IS PREDICTED

New York, May 17.—Late fashion advice is to the effect that the figure is returning to its normal lines. After a season of short waists, and then long ones, nature is to be allowed her natural sway. This is already more than hinted in advance styles. Lines of waist, hip and throat, too, are fluctuating and even the lines about the ankles, although to be exaggeratedly narrow, at least, according to former measurements are, nevertheless, not so far removed from the natural standards. To be sure, fashions are neither made nor unmade in a day, and abnormal lines may still prevail for a time. The dropped waistline is at present one of the most favored of these fancies, and it is surprising how delightfully chic it is when worn by a slender girl. Generally, however, a style so unique is not long lived. Fortunately for those who like change the vane of fashion has a way of whirling about with wonderful rapidity when dealing with the unusual.

One of the vagaries which has been with us longer than any other is the dropped shoulder. It is a striking style feature of the frock first illustrated. Waist, neck and hip lines are all extremely smart. The frock was developed in pale blue tulle, with piping floral motif. Allover eyelet embroidery was used for collar and cuffs. Many women are obliged to make one frock a season do duty for all sorts of occasions. If care is taken in choosing both model and material there is no reason why midday may not always appear stylish and well gowned. To be sure, she will have no variety, but it is better policy to wear a dress continuously when in style than to wear it occasionally and have it remain in the wardrobe as a memento of bygone glories. For the woman who may have but one frock, as well as for the one who may have many, the model shown above, developed in the materials described, is equally pleasing. For the woman of abundant gowns, a few suggestions may not go amiss.

Judging from the slogan of the importer, the number of fancy fabric one sees in the shops, and the number of these already seen made into most charming frocks, a change in materials will take place when the mercury begins to climb, and the daintiest and most diaphanous fabrics will be used. To be sure, printed silks, liberty mouseline, foulard and champagne will still be popular, especially where drapery is a feature of the gown, and in the models for cool days. In spite of the adaptability of soft silks to drapery, transparency will become for summer the prevailing note. Drapery and filmy fabrics are not so near akin as are flounces and filmy fabrics. As an outcome of this departure from draped styles and the introduction of flounces, there will be a marked difference in the silhouette. The long, tube-like lines will disappear, to be replaced by the more bouffant. But even where this fullness about the hips appears, the gowns, being of very sheer materials, will still retain many of their original slender characteristics.

Another peculiarity of the summer modes will be noticeable in the likeness that exists between the afternoon and evening frocks. They will be made of similar materials, dotted plain and embroidered net, chiffon and mousseline de soie, whether the occasion be afternoon garden fete, tea at the Casino or an evening dance at a smart hotel. Even though the gown be of ray, printed silk, soft and supple, which has recently been replacing foulard, the bodice is finished about the upper section with chiffon or mousseline in white or in delicate contrast to the fabric of the gown.

When the frock is developed in sheer fabric it is advisable to wear it over a silk foundation-slip, but an attractive combination petticoat and corset cover, especially if the frock be of cotton, is equally suitable and much more practical, as it is easily laundered. These combinations are most effective when developed in shallow lace and crepe de Chine. They may be trimmed with ribbon or tiny rosebuds, both about the flounces of the skirt and about the bodice. The shoulder straps may be of ribbon or lace. Bonnets, too, in white and pastel shades, is much in favor for these petticoats and equally in demand for the various articles of underwear. It is not a strong pink that is used, but a pink so delicate that it is almost like the rosy flush of healthy skin. It, no doubt, owes its popularity to the transparency of the upper section of the waist and frock. It is trimmed with Cluny, Valenciennes and point de Paris, and frequently has a broad ribbon run through a wide hem.

Beaumont.—Work of construction has started on the machine shops and auxiliary buildings of the Texas and New Orleans railway in Beaumont. Buildings and equipment will cost $65,000.

The elbow sleeves may be of singular material, and either lined or unlined. This arrangement presents a much dressier appearance, quite smart enough for informal evening wear. The greater number of these stylish new skirts in sheer fabrics are made of two or three flounces. The corsage is of material similar to that of the skirt, has a little drape over the circle back and front, and, if for afternoon and evening, is fashioned with slightly rounded or V-shaped neck, and with elbow sleeves. The entire gown is poised over a silk slip of pale blue, Nell-rose pink, white or other fascinating shade.

With these attractive frocks a deep circle of bright-lined ribbon is worn. This may match in tone the foundation slip, or be in pleasing contrast to it. It may be of monotone or many-toned ribbon, and with picot edge or raised floral motif. Sashes of chiffon in two or more colors are also popular with this dainty style of gown.

The girls finishing the frock of the second illustration shows affectively one method of tying these sashes—to the left over the hip. Other than the girle, many up-to-date features make this dress desirable, notably a low turned collar, snug-fitting lines of waist and skirt, smart finish of the sleeves, and the attractive note of contrast in the materials employed. It was developed in gray voile, and Futurist silk in purple tone, shading into pink, green and gray, was used for girle and inset.

BOAT UPSETS, TWO DROWN

H. C. STEWART OF DENVER AND MISS SIBYL COLLINS MEET. DEATH IN LAKE

OTHERS RESCUED

Boat Tampered With At Bugg Point, According To Surviving Members of Party

H. C. Stewart of Denver, Colorado, aged 28 and Miss Sibyl Collins of this city, were drowned in Lake Wichita shortly after 11 o'clock last night when a row boat which they occupied was overturned near the eastern edge of the lake, about 75 yards from the dam. Their bodies were recovered at 2:30 this morning.

Ed Richardson and Miss Pauline Gebhart, the other occupants of the boat, were rescued. They saved their lives by clinging to the boat after it overturned, a party of young men rowing out from the pavilion to where they were marooned.

When the boat upset, Stewart and Miss Collins started to swim for the shore, Stewart remaining close to the young woman's side. He evidently decided to go back and make an effort and bring the overturned boat to her and turned around. Seeing that she was about to sink, he swam back to her and they sank together. Stewart had been here only a day or two, coming here from Amarillo Friday. He travels for a coal company. Miss Collins was 23 years of age and was employed by Orville Bullington as stenographer.

Say Boat Was Damaged.

That the accident was due to the boat's being tampered with by unknown parties while the quartette was at Bugg Point is the story of Richardson. He said that while the two couples were walking around on the point, they noticed two men, seemingly drunk, tampering with the boat. Fearing that the intruders would steal the craft, the four returned and drove the men away. Shortly after setting out in the boat they noticed that it was leaking badly and determined to cut across the lake as directly as possible. When about 75 yards from the dam, the boat suddenly settled in the water.

Stewart and Miss Collins jumped out, overturning the boat, to which Richardson and Miss Gebhart clung. The boat turned completely over and Miss Gebhart was sitting upon it when the rescue party arrived.

Cribs for help attracted the attention of people in the pavilion, and two boats occupied by Bob Koark, Joe Perry, Ed Gorsline Jr., Reilly, Hickman and Harry Lewis went at full speed to the scene. They found Richardson and Miss Gebhart on the boat, but there was no sign of the others. Miss Gebhart was taken to the Lakeside Hotel, while Richardson joined in the search which was quickly begun.

Many Join In Search.

News of the accident was brought to town by Joe Perry and the alarm was quickly spread. A number of citizens went out in automobiles and a special street car carried a number of others. A large supply of linen and hooks was taken and the lake was systematically dragged for a hour and without results.

Officers were dispatched to Bugg Point in an effort to apprehend the two men who it is alleged tampered with the row boat but these had not returned at 2:30. A fire could be seen burning on the point.

The four occupants of the boat were members of a small picnic party which went out late yesterday and the stiffness of the lake, with the moonlight, prompted them to take a boat ride. Richardson declared that the boat gave no trouble on the way over to the point, and that it did not begin to leak until after the two men were seen to toy with it.

Mayor J. M. Bell went out in his auto promptly upon hearing the news and took personal charge of the search work.

Richardson is employed by the Oil Well Supply Company of this city. While Miss Gebhart is registry clerk at the postoffice.

Miss Collins Well Known. Miss Collins is a niece of Mrs. W. H. Cousins of this city and for more than a year has been employed as a stenographer in the law office of Huff, Barwise and Bullington. LACK OF EQUIPMENT CAN'T BOOST RATES

Washington, May 20.—A railroad is not warranted in exacting increased rates merely because it has no direct facilities for delivering shipments; the interstate commerce commission today held, in effect, in a contest case involving freight rates on ice from Wisconsin points to Chicago.

The Soo line has no terminal facilities in Chicago. "If it cannot afford to pay for terminal services," the commission announced, "it will doubtless retire from competitive traffic. It may not either by itself or in conjunction with other carriers maintain agreeable or unjustly discriminatory charges."

BYRNE NEW VICE-PRESIDENT; 1914 MEETING TO VICTORIA Firemen's Convention Ends Business-Repeat of Rating Board Law Asked-Reel Races

With the selection of Victoria as the place for meeting in 1914 and the election of officers, the business sessions of the thirty-eighth annual convention of the State Firemen's Association of Texas came to a close at 12:30 this afternoon.

The hose reel races, in which a number of teams are entered, are taking place this afternoon, having started at 2:30 o'clock. The closing feature of the entertainment will take place to night, when a special performance will be given for the visitors at the Air-dome theater. Some of the delegates left on the afternoon trains, but a large number remained for the races.

The selection of the next place of meeting was the last business of the convention. The names of five cities—Victoria and Corpus Christi—were placed in nomination.

When nominations were called for the next convention place the Victoria crowd dropped a big Texas map from the loft into the middle of the stage, on which the location of Victoria was prominently emphasized. Judge S. G. Galley of Houston placed Victoria in nomination and was seconded in a very eloquent speech by John T. Land, secretary of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. Corpus was placed in nomination by a member of the fire department of that place and was seconded by a Mineral Wells delegate. A standing vote was taken, and it was plainly evident that Victoria had the larger number. A Corpus Christi man then moved the selection of Victoria be made unanimous, which was done.

Roger Byrne Wins. The election of a fourth vice president provided the only contest in the election of officers. The names of Hon. Roger Byrne of Smithville, James B. Severn of Hillsboro, C. L. Hoecker of Bowie and W. D. McGalley of Brownwood were placed in nomination and a ballot taken. Before the tellers were half through the count it was seen that the Smithville man was the choice of the convention, and the other candidates gracefully withdrew and Mr. Byrne's election was made unanimous. Mr. Byrne, who is also a member of the legislature, acknowledged the honor in a feeling and eloquent speech.

I. B. Warren of Belton, first vice president, was promoted to the presidency, succeeding Hon. H. W. Spickles of Latrance, who retired. Other vice presidents were promoted, and other officers selected. The roster of officers now is:

First vice president—Peter Schramm of Taylor. Second vice president—H. J. Braunig, Hallettsville. Third vice president—T. S. Wright, Temple. Fourth vice president—Roger Byrne of Smithville. Recording secretary—J. Ed Schmitz, Dallas. Treasurer—James L. Storey, Houston. Assistant recording secretary—W. L. Talbot, San Marcos. Corresponding secretary—W. P. Walker, Luling. Chaplain—Father Heckman, Temple. Mascot—Billy Brunner, Taylor. Official matron—Mother Clinton of Abilene.

Gwinn Is Honored. Chief R. V. Gwinn was elected delegate to the convention of the National Firemen's Association and $100 was appropriated for his expenses. His election followed the custom of the association in electing the chief of the department in the city entering the convention. Secretary Schmitz was elected delegate to the West Texas and Panhandle Firemen's convention at Sweetwater, and Mr. Kemp of Seagraves was elected a delegate to the Central West Texas Firemen's convention at DeLeon.

The adoption of resolutions was one of the important features of the morning session. The resolutions committee reported on six resolutions, among them one requesting Governor Clegg to submit to the special session of the legislature to be convened in July the repeal of the law authorizing and regulating the present state fire rating board. The committee, in its report, recommended the adoption of other resolutions as read, but recommended the resolution relating to the repeal of the fire rating board law be rejected. After considerable discussion the question was put to a vote with the result that all the resolutions were adopted. The vote for the adoption of the resolution asking the repeal of the fire rating board law was adopted by a decisive majority. The other resolutions were adopted by acclamation. They included one amending the constitution and by-laws relating to the compensation of the secretary, one approving the efforts toward fire prevention and one thanking the people of Wichita Falls for courtesies and entertainment given them during the convention.

Rating Law's Repeal. The resolution for the repeal of the fire rating board provided one of the most interesting contests of the convention. Mr. Schramm of Taylor asked the convention not to take precipitate action against the law, saying the law was too new, and, while there were evident weak places in it, the association's influence should be exerted to ward the abolition of the bad features. Judge Kone of San Marcos declared that the law had been written by the insurance companies for their benefit alone, and that it was costing the people of Texas millions of dollars in excessive rates.

Another delegate declared the insurance companies had kept a lobby at Austin and that it was gotten up and written by the insurance companies to prevent competition. Calls of "Vote," "Vote," finally brought the discussion to a close.

During the morning session Mrs. W. D. Carroll, sponsor of the Comanche Plainview team, returned to the association the cup won by the Comanche team in the hose reel contest at the last convention. This cup is known as the O'Connor cup, and has been in the association a number of years. Miss Isabel Wilks, sponsor of the Hillsboro department, also returned the silver trophy won by the Hillsboro department last year. Both ladies made pretty speeches and were greeted with much applause.

LUNCHEON AND DANCE ENJOYED AT LAKE MUCH ENJOYED. More than a thousand visiting firemen and ladies were guests of the Chamber of Commerce at the luncheon and dance at Lake Wichita last night and the entertainment was one of the most delightful features of the whole convention. A luncheon was served on the lower floor of the pavilion while dancing was enjoyed in the big ball room on the upper floor where the cool breezes from the lake dislodge all the heat that prevailed elsewhere.

Kata-orchestra furnished the music for the dancers and it was after midnight when the dance stopped and the guests returned to town on special cars that had been held for them.

HILLSBORO TEAM WINS FIRST PLACE. Hillsboro captured first money in the reel races this afternoon, with Stephenville second, Plainview third and Rosebud fourth. The winning reel was made in 26.45 seconds, Stephenville had 27.15 seconds, Plainview 28.15 and Rosebud 29 flat. There were thirteen entries. The race was made for 300 feet to a plug, and 150 feet from plug to nozzle. The contestants had to make a run, couple the hose to the plug and turn on the water. Five of the teams failed to make the connections. The prizes were $250 cash for first, $200 for second, $150 for third, and $100 for fourth. Other races including the cup events are being run as we go to press.

STERLING WHITE GIVEN 50 YEARS

SLAYER OF BEULAH LEE FOUND GUILTY OF SECOND DEGREE MURDER. VERDICT SATURDAY A. M.

Defense Files Suggestion of Present Insanity Which Will Be Heard This Week. Guilty of second degree murder was the verdict of the jury in the Clay county district court at Henrietta in the case of Sterling White, who had been on trial for murder for the killing of Beulah Lee in October. His punishment was fixed at fifty years imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

Attorneys for the defense have filed a "suggestion of present insanity," which will be heard by a jury before Judge Martin some time next week. The time for this hearing has not been definitely fixed.

The case has features of the Frank Hirsch case, tried here a year or more ago. Hirsch was found guilty by the jury, but the same jury also found him insane at the time of the trial. In White's case the present insanity suggestion will be heard by another jury. If he is found to be insane at the present time sentence will be suspended until such time as he is pronounced sane.

The case was given to the jury at 6:25 Friday night, and a verdict was reached at about 11:30 Saturday morning.

Judge Martin, Judge Scoury and Court Stenographer Eugene Sherrard are home to remain over Sunday. It is expected that the term of the Clay county court will be closed this week.

White is 22 years of age, and if he is not found insane now his sentence will mean practically life imprisonment.

Plainview Gets O'Connor Trophy for Next Year. Winning the coupling race in the excellent time of 19.15 seconds, the Plainview team yesterday captured the O'Connor cup, won last year by the Comanche team. To retain this cup, a team must win it for three successive years, something that has not yet been accomplished. The silver trophy which is the reward for several seasons of excellence was taken home by the Brownwood No. 1 team.

These trophies were presented to the victors at the city hall last night by Mayor Bell whose supply of oratory was not yet exhausted. The cash prizes were also presented at the same time.

In the reel race, which was won by Hillsboro, there were thirteen contestants, so that it took some speed to get "in the money." Hillsboro's winning time, 26.45 seconds, was closely pushed by Stephenville, which was second in 27.15 seconds. Plainview was third with 28.15 seconds, Rosebud fourth with 29 seconds.

The races were participated in by a total of thirty teams, thirteen in the reel race and seventeen in the cup race, as follows:

Reel race—Grandview, Thurber, Rosebud, Chico, Taylor, New Braunfels, Plainview, Cameron, Brownwood, Belton, Hillsboro, Austin, Stephenville.

Cup race—DeLeon, Taylor, Thurber 1 and 2, Chico, Austin 1 and 2, Stephenville 1 and 2, Hillsboro 1 and 2, Galveston, Brownwood 1 and 2, Plainview, Comanche, New Braunfels.

FIREMEN ENJOY OPEN AIR PERFORMANCE AT AIRDOME. When Berry's Airdome was thrown open to the breeze last night and a picture and vaudeville show that was really excellent was provided for the visitors, if the enjoyment of the latter was in proportion to the noise they made they certainly appreciated the show, and it was a show worthy of any appreciation, being the same as that at the Lydia Margrat for the half of the week.

Among the pictures shown was one dealing with "Jimmy," a fire horse there being several scenes showing the fire fighters in action. These evoked much enthusiasm, the firemen cheering heartily at the sight of the apparatus going up the street at full speed. Their applause was punctuated with comments and remarks that added to the fun of the evening.

When the brave fire captain in the picture rushed into the building and rescued the pretty young widow the applause was deafening.

Taylor fire department in action, featured a Taylor delegate, and this called for replies from every part of the audience.

Other pictures were equally enjoyable and the vaudeville was of exceptional quality. Barber and Palmer impersonating and talking act and Rogers and Asada in a black and white act, and last but not least, the waltzers. Miss Palmer's singing brought hearty applause, and the contortions of Asada were also greatly enjoyed, being one of the cleverest of the kind ever seen here.

MEXICO CITY OUTLOOK IS FAR FROM HOPEFUL. Diaz is Making None But General Promises—Pessimism Prevails in Capital.

Mexico City, May 17.—General Felix Diaz has published his platform in the form of a manifesto or open letter to the political clubs, supporting him. In it he has carefully refrained from giving any but the most general undertakings, such as agrarian reform, to justice to all, without entering into details as to how he is going to proceed.

But the election of Diaz appears far from certain. Had the election for president been held the day after the close of hostilities in the capital, there is no doubt he would have been elected without any material opposition.

With Huerta in the chair, however, and a big revolution to attract and distract the people, there are much to be heard of the popularity of General Diaz. There are many of his own people who have expressed the opinion that he never will be president. It is nothing that he has done, say they, to turn from him the popular support, but rather the fact that he has done nothing spectacular since he ceased firing shrapnel into all quarters of the city.

Investigation of the army payroll has shown an expenditure of 27,000 pesos ($13,500) a month for salaries to officers who never appeared in uniform. It is charged that this was the work of one of the Madero family. He is said to have used the paymaster of the Rurales Guard to pay of his own men. This method was, according to the story told at the palace, to name a man whom he wished to Corpus Christi is in the race for the 1914 convention of the Texas Press Association.

John Stuyton put up a great fight for the privilege of introducing Texas editors to underwriters in 1914, going so far as to promise each married man who left his wife at home a mermaid during his stay.

Wichita Falls, in landing the 1914 meeting of the Texas Press Association, was only keeping up her reputation of getting everything she goes after.

Here's a revised version of "The Story of the Talents." It is good. Read it, and it may do you good.

"Not long ago," says Bert Walker, "I was in a Pullman car at the dusk of evening. A tired old man and his still more tired wife came in and asked the price of a berth."

A PLEA FOR MORE PARTICULAR PARENTS

To Whom It May Concern: And now that our schools are closing and vacation is looming before us, the next question is what shall we do with the children?

No matter how good a child, your Willie may be we do not want him while we are trying to persuade our Johnnie to hold close communion with the host.

During the past school year I have done battle with the wayfaring child every Saturday and now that every day is to become a Saturday I have ordered weapons of war.

called names before, but it was the first time I ever was called that.

I cannot conceive of anything more delightful than a Wichita summer morning in my own home without the neighbor's children, but it has been so long since I have enjoyed such an experience.

Now I am not the only crank along this line. It is the walls all over town that have prompted this. Herd your own tribe this summer and many will rise up next fall and call you blessed.

ALICE BROWN YEAGER.

In selecting as the head of its organization, the Texas Press Association not only conferred an honor on Joe Taylor, but honored itself.

As one individual the entire party highly praises the people of Wichita Falls for the magnificent manner in which they entertained more than one thousand guests.

A movement was set to work at San Antonio by Col. Frank Holland of the Texas Farm and Ranch to organize a stock company with none but Texas editors as stockholders.

Dallas entertained the Shriners right royally, and Atlanta will have that pleasure next year.

It may be true that "class legislation" to tax incomes above $4,000 annually, but most of us are escaping the tax.

It is objectionable for many reasons, some of which are as follows: (a) The income from the permanent fund is needed for current expenses.

Six years ago the Texas Press Association held what is admitted to be the largest attended and most successful meeting in its history at Corpus Christi.

Worth and Orange, but it was plainly evident that it was a contest between Corpus Christi and Wichita Falls.

The remainder of this Resolution No. 18 covers pretty much the same ground as No. 4, mentioned above.

This whole job should be done over, the objects separated, and the purpose made clear.

Both bond amendments to the constitution should be defeated.

It seems amazing that two resolutions amending the same section, No. 52, of Art. III, of the State Constitution should have been submitted by the same Legislature at the same time.

STUDENTS MAKE GOOD AS ACTORS

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS PRESENT PLAY TO CROWD AT MAJESTIC

MUCH TALENT DISPLAYED

Parts are Well Carried out and Production Finds Favor With Large Audience

Students of the high school took the boards as actors and actresses at the Majestic last night, in the presentation of a college play, "At the End of the Rainbow." A house that was filled almost to capacity witnessed the performance and enjoyed the production to the limit.

While dealing with college life, the play has many dramatic possibilities, which the members of the caste availed themselves of to excellent advantage. With the one general criticism that they did not speak their lines loud enough to be heard all over the house, the students acquitted themselves very creditably indeed.

The audience was enthusiastic, in its appreciation, for the most part, but some naughty boys in the gallery threw lemons at the actors, while bunches of garden truck were tossed from the parquet in lieu of the bouquets which are supposed to express one's compliments.

The students seem to suffer not at all with stage fright and so far as the interpretation of their lines and parts went, there has been much worse acting seen on the Majestic stage at $1.50 per throw. The students were directed by Miss Stringfield of the College of Music and Art, to whom belongs no small share of the credit. The play was for the benefit of the high school library and the sum of $150 was realized. Following is the caste of characters:

Robert Preston, a lawyer—Roy Anglin.

Douglas Brown, a football player—Ralph Pond.

Stanley Palmer, Hawkins the Butler—J. M. Jackson.

Dick Preston, the groom—Walter Hall.

Ted Whitney, captain of the Varsity team—Robert Nolen.

Jack Austin, Preston's Secretary—Ivan Lawler.

Marion Dawson, a ward of Preston—Pauline Mears.

Nellie Preston, a bride—Jessie Thomack.

Louise Ross, known as Miss Grayson—Daisy Stuart.

Thylis Lane, a football enthusiast—Andrew Addicks.

Kathleen Knox, chairman of the Rushing Committee—Bernice Landers.

The Imp, a Freshman—Hellen Hines.

Emily Elliott, with a Conscience—Lillian Bell.

Jane, the Maid with a Taste for Literature—Anna Laura Sasser.

Mrs. Brown, Step Mother of Douglas Brown—Nellie Berry.

Theta Phi Girls:

Polly Price—Minnie McClellan.

Elsa Ernst—Beryl Murph.

Marjorie Arnold—Mary Hub.

Marie Swift—Katherine Bartle.

Molly Bruce, Maid—Louise Montgomery.

PLAN FOR COUNTY FAIR TAKES FORM

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS TAKE FAVORABLE ACTION

RACES WILL BE FEATURE

Circle Building at Lake Wichita Will Be Used for County's Agricultural Exhibits

A movement for a county fair, to be held at Lake Wichita in connection with the race meet here next August, was set on foot this morning at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors, and seems likely to go through.

The matter was brought up by T. R. T. Orth, who explained that the circle building could be used for agricultural exhibits and that it could be in the same enclosure as the race track and live stock. It was planned, he said, to fill in the arches of the circle building, making it a closed structure. Fancywork and cooking exhibits, he said, could be placed in the pavilion.

The exhibits could be used to make a Wichita county exhibit at the Dallas Fair, Mr. Orth said, and the fair would be of value in that way. The only expense to be incurred, he said, was the money for premiums.

The directors expressed themselves favorably on the proposition, which was referred to the fair committee, with authority to act. It is probable that a paid secretary will be employed and the committee has an available man in mind.

Two racing circuits will be represented at the fair, one coming from the south, the other from Oklahoma, so that followers of the "sport of kings" ought to be able to find ample entertainment. It is hoped to go into the matter on a basis that will secure representative exhibits of every class and make the fair a successful one from its inception.

TWO ADDRESSES AT COURT HOUSE

SMALL CROWD HEARS PETER RADFORD AND B. B. CAIN TODAY

ANSWER TO DALLAS NEWS

Farmers' Union, President Replies to That Paper's Criticism of the Organization

Peter Radford, president of the Farmers Union of Texas and Ben B. Cain, of Dallas, addressed a rather small gathering at the court house this afternoon.

The addresses were in connection with the district meeting of the Farmers' Union, which was held here this morning.

Mr. Radford's address was largely in reply to criticisms of the Farmers' Union, which have appeared recently in the editorial columns of the Dallas News, based on the union's attitude toward the Texas Industrial Congress offer of $10,000 in prizes for Texas farmers. Mr. Radford replied with fervor and in detail to the News on this matter.

Mr. Cain began speaking at 3:15. The first part of his address was an explanation of the work of the Texas Welfare Commission.

UP TO JAPAN TO MAKE NEXT MOVE

SHE IS TO TAKE NEXT STEP IN ALIEN LAW NEGOTIATIONS

COURT TEST IS POSSIBLE

Will Likely Be Several Days Before Any Further Action is Taken

By Associated Press. Washington, May 20.—With the answer of the United States to its protest in hand, it now devolves on the Japanese foreign office to take the next step in the negotiations over the California alien land law. It was expected today that the forthcoming rejoinder will be strongly argumentative and calculated to result in the conduct of the future negotiation on a strictly legal basis.

It is understood the State Department is looking to the Japanese government, or some Japanese citizen, to test the new law by recourse to the United States courts and it may be significant of the drawing of another issue that the Japanese are believed to be reluctant to take such a movement.

Delay of Several Days. Viscount Chinda dispatched the State Department's reply to his Government and it is assumed that several days may elapse before the next step is taken.

In view of the understanding between the two Governments regarding withholding of the correspondence from publicity, none of the officials at the White House, the State Department or the Japanese embassy cared to indicate the nature of the Japanese objections, or of Secretary Bryan's reply.

From other sources, however, it was gathered that while the Japanese allege technical violations of the treaty of 1911 by the California law, these relate to minor provisions, such as that prohibiting Japanese from inheriting property in California. The real weight of objection is against the spirit of the whole legislation, which is regarded as distinctly discriminatory against the Japanese. The spirit of the convention, as well as the general principles of international law, are regarded by Japan as outraged by this act. The fact that the United States has entered into treaty relations with Japan is cited as an admission of equality.

Bryan's Answer. In his answer Secretary Bryan is understood to have recounted at length efforts made by the Administration to guard against an infringement of the treaty rights of the Japanese. Officials here believe that this substantially has been accomplished and that at any rate, if the Japanese Government takes a contrary view, it will be easy for it to test the matter in American courts. This is pointed out to seem to remove the issue from one of treaty construction, if the State Department's view is correct.

It is realized here that the Japanese Government is not much concerned about the exclusion of its subjects from America, for they are much needed in Manchuria, Korea and Formosa. Underlying the whole objection, it is said, is the intense national pride of the Japanese, which has been touched to the quick by the general development of anti-Japanese feeling on the Pacific coast. Official circles realize that the negotiations from this point forward must be conducted with extreme caution but there is a general conviction that an amicable solution of the problems involved eventually will be reached.

WANTS PEACE MAINTAINED

Express Friendship for United States—Outlook for Island Republic Hopeful

Havana, May 20.—With the inauguration of General Mario G. Menocal today as president in succession to President Gomez and Dr. Enrique Jose Varona as vice-president the Cuban republic enters on a new phase of its existence, in a spirit of high hopes for the preservation of peace and establishment of the prosperity of the island.

President Menocal on taking office, contented himself with the declaration that he will devote all his energies to giving the country a clean business administration which will foster the industries of the island and develop its splendid resources which will welcome foreign capital and immigration and maintain friendly relations with all nations, especially with the United States, to which Cuban's are closely linked by a bond of mutual affection and interest.

DEATH OF HENRY FLAGLER TODAY

OIL MAGNATE AND RAILROAD BUILDER DIES AT PALM BEACH

ONE TO RECENT INJURY

One of Organizers of Standard Oil Company—Interested in Development of Florida

HENRY M. FLAGLER

By Associated Press. West Palm Beach, Fla., May 20.—Henry M. Flagler, aged 83, the noted capitalist and railroad magnate, died at his winter home here this morning after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Flagler sustained a fall from the step of his home and because of advanced age, his recovery has not been anticipated.

He was born in Canandaigua, New York, in 1830. Little is known of his early life, except that he was a clerk in a country grocery store in Michigan. Later he removed to Saginaw, where he engaged in the manufacture of salt. Becoming interested in the possibilities of petroleum, he removed to Cleveland where he organized the company of Rockefeller, Andrews and Flagler, engaging in refining oil. The Standard Oil Company was the outgrowth of this venture and Mr. Flagler has remained actively connected with the management of the great corporation since its inception.

His Work in Florida. In 1855, Mr. Flagler became interested in Florida, and entering actively into the work of turning it into a winter resort, he built the Florida East Coast railroad, and later erected two hotels at Palm Beach at a cost of $3,000,000.

His greatest achievement however, was the extension of the railroad from Miami to Key West. For many years his place was ridiculed and was called "Flagler's Folly." The opening of this "oversea" railroad was listed as one of the engineering triumphs of the age.

Mr. Flagler formerly was vice president of the Standard Oil Company, president and chairman of the board of directors of the Florida East Coast Railway, and Jacksonville Terminal Company, director of the Western Union Telegraph Company, Morton Trust Company and others.

The body will be buried in a mausoleum at St. Augustine in the yard of the memorial church which he gave to the Presbyterians.

REFUGEES FROM MEXICO REACH SAN FRANCISCO

By Associated Press. San Francisco, May 20.—Steamers arriving from the Mexican coast are bringing many refugees. More than forty passengers arriving on the steamer San Jose said they had been compelled to travel long distances out of their way to get out of the country by way of the west coast, on account of the demoralized state of the railroad. Dr. M. T. Moore of El Paso, who arrived with his family told of the ten day siege of the town of Alamos.

He said the American in the district from which he fled had been treated with every consideration by both state troops and federals.

BRIEFS IN MISSOURI INSURANCE CASE FILED

Jefferson City, Mo., May 20.—Briefs were filed in the supreme court here today in the injunction proceedings instituted by Attorney General Barker to prevent the fire insurance companies from leaving the state.

The briefs attacked the position of the attorney general in every particular, claiming that the companies did not combine to leave the state in violation of the law and they were not in a combination at the time the suit was filed.

JAPAN AROUSED, BUT IS HOPEFUL

BELIEVES WASHINGTON WILL YET FIND SOLUTION OF PROBLEM

PUBLIC NOT RECONCILED

Feel That Affair is One Which Involves Nation's Honor—Pacification Not Easy

By Associated Press. Tokio, May 20.—News that the California alien land ownership bill had been signed by Gov. Johnson was received here with regret, although it had been discounted in official and non-official circles. It was hoped, however, up to the last moment, that Washington's intervention would prove successful. Efforts of the Japanese government are concentrated at present in pacifying public opinion but the task is regarded in many quarters as more difficult than the California school controversy of a year ago.

Since the death of the old Japanese emperor, the authority of the government has steadily diminished in resisting the growing influence of public opinion and the spirit of democracy is augmenting throughout the empire.

It is generally believed here that Washington will find a solution of the problem, but more conservative elements are now echoing the public agitation for equal treatment of the Japanese. They declare that the racial issue which is involved in the steady recurrence of anti-Japanese bills in California should receive "drastic curative treatment."

The Japanese feel that their national honor is involved.

SUPPOSED RICH WOMAN DIES FROM STARVATION

Clad in Rags, Body Found in Dilapidated Mansion—No Food in Home

Yonkers, N. Y., May 20.—In the spacious residence occupied by herself and her brother on a fashionable residence street here, Ada Dunscomb, a middle aged spinster, was found last night, a victim of starvation, according to Coroner Dunn. So far as the searchers could discover there was no food in the house.

The authorities stepped into the case when a physician whom S. Whitney Dunscomb Jr., 60 years old the dead woman's brother, had summoned, found Miss Dunscomb dead on a couch in her bedroom, her body clad in mere rags, and notified the coroner.

The Dunscomb residence has been a house of mystery to the neighbors for twelve years since the family moved here, the blinds always being drawn, no servants being employed and no one ever being seen to visit the mansion. The officials who visited the place today reported that the costly old furniture seemed to be falling to pieces from neglect, while dust and dirt had been allowed to accumulate, apparently for years.

Dunscomb was reticent as to herself and the family affairs in general, only saying he would go to Jersey City to notify the relatives there of his sister's death. Neighbors believed the pair to be wealthy.

CLOPTON'S SECOND TRIAL COMMENCES IN DALLAS.

Dallas, Texas, May 20.—For the second time within two months J. A. Clopton, charged with murdering J. L. White Feb. 20, in the offices of the Republic Trust Company in the Wilson building, is on trial here. Defense attorneys presented a motion for a continuance on the ground that Merrill W. Johnson, a witness, was ill. Judge Seay overruled the motion and fixed two witnesses for disobeying the process of the court.

Clopton's plea is self-defense. The former trial resulted in a jury disagreement. It is expected most of the week will be required by the trial. One hundred special veniremen were in court Monday.

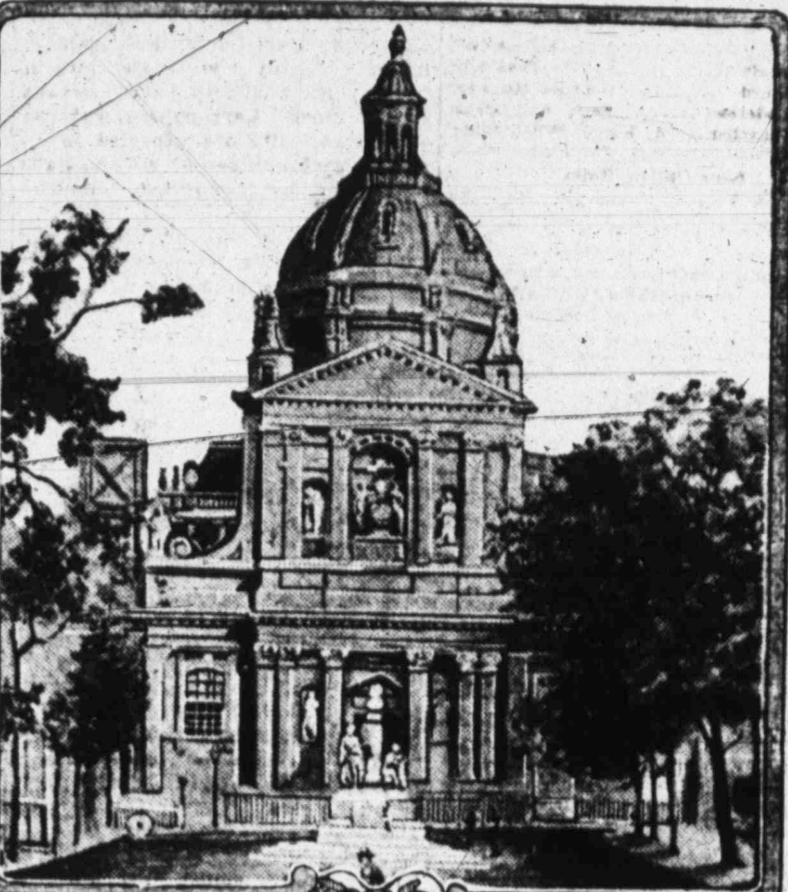

Help! Assistance! Apple Pie Is a Concoction of Old Scratch Himself

By Associated Press. Zion City, Ill., May 20.—"Shun apple pie as you would a rattlesnake," Wilber Glenn Volvia, overseer of the Zionists advised members of his flock last night, relative to their trip to Chicago next Sunday for a mass meeting. He told them to put Satan, pie and friend potatoes behind them, the latter because they contained hog fat.

SOCIALIST RED FLAG IS BARRIED IN MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, May 20.—The flying of any except national and state flags and friendly foreign nations in any parade in this commonwealth is prohibited in a bill which received the approval of Gov. Foss today. The measure further provides that no sign bearing an inscription opposed to organized government or which is sacrilegious shall be carried. This will bar the carrying of red flags in Socialist parades.

SEEING the GREAT SORBONNE

ENTRANCE TO MAIN BUILDING

CAN anyone imagine a great university without any dormitory, without a football team, without college colors, without even a yell? If any American should go to Paris that is what he, or she will see, writes F. L. S. in the Kansas City Star.

When I tried to find the University of Paris—or the Sorbonne—I had to use my Baedeker and then to supplement the information it gave with directions furnished by a corner sergeant de ville. From the boulevards you can reach it by taking a rickety double decked street car, or, surer and almost as cheap—in Paris—a taxi; but, once deposited before the main entrance you will swear a mistake has been made.

"Ou est elle?" I asked. "Ici," replied the cocher. I stood before an old ruin, a "venerable" ruin, like all those in France and Italy. I looked in vain for the campus; there was not a blade of grass in sight. I scanned the horizon for a standpipe on which the numerals of this year's class might be painted. I tried to find a "quad." Nothing doing.

The old building is not detached, like university buildings in America. It is a somewhat squat structure, crowded in between higher buildings in a narrow, noisy street. But of course, this is not the whole of the university, as I soon found. Adjoining is a big four-story building, thoroughly modern, but more like a hospital in appearance than a college hall. It stands firm against the sidewalk, and street cars, motor cars and trucks pass it through the paved street in front in a never ending procession.

The university is in a busy quarter, in one of many centers of commercial activity. No one, in passing, would suspect that it is a great seat of learning. It bears no distinguishing mark.

Bearded Students! I stood before the entrance to the new building and waited for the students to appear. I saw half a dozen men and two or three women. They wore neither caps nor sweaters; there was nothing of the "rah-rah" in their appearance. They seemed to be serious men of affairs. The women were no younger and looked even more sober. And these men were really "undergrads" and these women were really co-eds!

There are many reasons—I have since found this out—why a comparison between the University of Paris and those of America is almost out of the question. The Sorbonne student attends his class or his lecture, then goes about his business or his pleasure, alone. There is absolutely no community life in this "U." There are no "frats" or other societies. There is no college paper, no class organization, no spring dance or "pig dinner" or "junior prom" or "nightshirt parade"—no anything which the healthy red-blooded American finds when he enrolls in a university. There is nothing but business—spelled with the big, g-e-e-t of B's—in the Sorbonne.

All this, anyway, is true of the great mass of students. It was inconceivable that among 13,000 students there should not be some who are yet young enough to look now and again on the lighter side of life, who are not so tremendously serious that they regard with horror everything which is not of the earth earthy.

Public Examinations. When a man enters the Sorbonne he is already a bachelor, in letters, science, medicine or law. The man who follows a profession in France aims, to a greater extent than some men in America, to obtain the very best possible equipment. Entrance to the Sorbonne demands prolonged and exceptionally thorough work, while the university course itself ordinarily consumes four years. So it is easy to understand why he may be well along toward middle life before he graduates. The examinations for a diploma are no joke, believe me. The successful candidate must present two original theses, one of them usually in some other language than French. These must be accepted as solid contributions in the department of letters, science, medicine or law, as the case may be. And, having presented them, the candidate must publicly defend his theses.

He presents himself in a large hall, open to the public, where three or four hundred persons may have assembled to watch him undergo the tortures of the "third degree." He takes his seat at a desk facing perhaps twenty grave professors who have certified to the quality of the thesis he is to defend. Each of them is provided with a printed copy of the thesis and during two or three hours they take turns in attacking it. Every adverse comment which a learned and critical mind can conceive is offered.

To these comments the squirming candidate must instantly reply, with as much intelligence and fluency as he is able to muster. He must be extremely polite and formal. When detected in a slight error of fact he accepts the correction with thanks. Finally his defense of the thesis is pronounced adequate and he richly deserves the doctor's degree which is awarded him, for he has passed a mighty bad half day.

The old Paris University building, the one I encountered first, was erected by Cardinal Richelieu in 1629. It has stood for 284 years and in 284 years traditions find time to pile up in some abundance.

WALKED SIX MILES ON WATER Two Men With Specially Adapted Shoes Crossed the Bay at San Francisco

Two men crossed San Francisco bay on foot a few days ago, the San Francisco Call states. They covered the six miles without fatigue in two hours and a quarter. A crowd of commuters watched their passage with satisfaction while railroad officials looked on darkly. If walking on water is as easy as Rupert Merkl and Johann Gross demonstrated it to be, goddy ferry boats. Every pedestrian may become his own pilot.

The bay was smooth when the two Germans made their dip into the waters. They wore long shoes that balanced the walker and permitted him to move freely. Each carried a long pole, held lightly, such as a tight-rope walker uses in an exhibition. The walk is the longest that has been accomplished by either Merkl or his companion.

When pleasure boats crowded around them they became more daring. First one and then the other would turn in his course and walk backward as an exhibition of his skill. This they did with comparative ease. Once or twice they ran for several dozen yards over the surface of the water.

Merkl, the inventor of these water shoes, is confident his device will be a boon to fishermen and hunters, who, by using them, will be enabled to go into any kind of water. The shoes are collapsible and may be carried in a suitcase or a trunk.

An Old Saw. Up in Bristol, R. I., where great rafts that have so long defended the cup have been built, they tell a story about the blind man, Herreshoff, who designed so many of these boats.

"He was examining an old mahogany table of beautiful design, and rubbing his hands carefully over the upper surface and underneath. When he had finished 'looking' at the table, he said: 'Humph! I didn't know they had started making back in 1790.'"

MRS. LONGSTREET TELLS HER SIDE

WIDOW OF CONFEDERATE GENERAL BEFORE COMMITTEE AT WASHINGTON

HAD BEEN POSTMISTRESS

Not Asking for Reinstatement But Replies to Burleson's Statement About Her

By Associated Press. Washington, May 19.—Mrs. Helen Longstreet, widow of the noted Confederate general, had a hearing before the Senate postoffice committee today to give her version of the circumstances leading to her displacement as postmistress at Gainesville, Georgia. She did not ask reinstatement, but sought to reply to Postmaster General Burleson's statement that her office was poorly managed. She referred to Mr. Burleson as "President Wilson's 60-day postmaster general." She declared she was the victim of the Georgia Railway and Power Company which she said had pursued her because she urged legislation to curtail its favors. She asserted that the people of her community were more competent to judge her conduct than the postmaster general. "The immortal commander whose name I bear, who resigned a commission in the American army to follow the banner of the South, until the last stainless one was furled at Appomattox, and thenceforth found himself an outcast in the land whose Littlefields had run red with heroic blood," declared Mrs. Longstreet, "was not made to suffer more than I have suffered at the hands of that branch of democracy which is, in the saddle down in the good old democratic State of Georgia in the year that has placed a Virginia gentleman in the White House."

Man Holds Reception When Doctors Declare Him To Be Near Death

By Associated Press. Macon, Ga., May 19.—D. Sanders Walker, a prominent banker and real estate dealer of this city, who swallowed poison by mistake Wednesday night, was able to be up and about early today although physicians declare he cannot live. Physicians from all parts of the country have offered their services in their fight to overcome the poison. He swallowed the poison mistaking it for a headache tablet. When told Friday he could not live Walker resigned himself to his fate, left his bed, dressed and held a reception to his friends at his home.

PRESBYTERIAN UNION PROPOSALS TO BE MADE

Northern Assembly Adopts Resolution Making Offer to all Other Branches. Atlanta, Ga., May 19.—The Northern Presbyterian general assembly today unanimously adopted a resolution authorizing the transmission of proposals for an organic union to the supreme jurisdictions of all the Presbyterian Churches.

TENTH STREET PAYING PROPOSITION GROWING

A total of 115 property owners on Tenth street, representing 11,000 front feet of property, have signed the new paving petition to the city council, and only about 3000 more front feet are needed to have a sufficient number for the work to go ahead. The new plan for paving is to carry the work from Indiana avenue all the way to J. A. Kemp's residence, a distance of about two miles, giving one of the finest and prettiest roadways in the South. To carry the plan through, three-fourths of the property owners must agree to pay their pro rata of the cost, standing the full expense of paving from the curb to the center of the street. When three-fourths of the property owners agree, the work can proceed without the consent of the other one-fourth. The committee in charge of the work, headed by C. W. Snider will resume work shortly and hopes to have the proposition in shape for the work to start without further delay.

WICHITA SOUTHERN LIFE PASSES $3,000,000 MARK

The Wichita Southern Life Insurance Company this week passed the three million mark in amount of business in force, having at present $25,000 in excess of three million on its books. The company has written over $200,000 this month so far, and expects to add at least $100,000 more before the month is out. Texarkana—The members of the Board of Trade are pushing a vigorous subscription campaign to raise funds for the holding of the joint Bowie and Miller county fair and exposition in this city.

PRISON PROBERS RESUME DUTIES

WILL HEAR EXPERT ADVICE ON MANAGEMENT OF SYSTEM

NEW IDEAS SUBMITTED

W. T. Eldridge of Houston Offers Sweeping Recommendations for Change of Plans

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, May 19.—The joint board of legislative prison probers convened here today. Most of the members are present. It has been decided to hear further testimony and Judge W. H. Gill, W. T. Eldridge and Col. T. W. House, all of whom are regarded as experts, were notified they would be examined. All have positive views regarding prison management and Mr. Eldridge has submitted a reorganization plan to the board for its consideration, the salient features of which are: Abandonment of both Huntsville and Rusk. Establishment of headquarters and walls near farms. Cultivation of 65,000 acres by seven-eighths of the men. Manufacture of cloth and other necessities by the others. Each prisoner to get half his production less his maintenance. Control by a board of three and a general superintendent. This board to be also the parlor board. "Substitute hope for the rod." Copies of the proposed plan, containing Mr. Eldridge's recommendations, have been furnished other members of the committee, and it is understood to have met with considerable favor. Mr. Eldridge has had more than an average opportunity to study the prison situation for more than fifteen years. He has employed convict labor a good part of the time and has been in touch with conditions that affect the profit and loss side of the system. When the committee created under a resolution passed at the recent session of the legislature to investigate the penitentiary system began its work, it soon developed that a complete reorganization of the system was probably the only solution. The problem that confronted the committee was the kind of a plan that would bring the desired results. The committee is endeavoring to seek a plan that will settle permanently the penitentiary problem of Texas. What the committee wants is a system that will perform its penal function without being a constantly increasing financial burden on the state.

ASSEMBLY IS AROUSED BY NEWSPAPER ARTICLE

Story Says Moderator's Election Was Due to Politics, Which Meets With Denial. Atlanta, Ga., May 19.—The publication in Atlanta today of a story in a New York newspaper charging that the election of Dr. John T. Stone of Chicago as moderator of the Northern Presbyterian general assembly was the result of a "deep laid political scheme" threw that assembly into a turmoil today. Dr. Stone himself begged that the article be overlooked as an "error in judgment." William T. Ellies of Pennsylvania, who seconded Dr. Stone's nomination, denounced the story as untrue.

BODIES SENT TO VICTIMS' HOMES

MISS COLLINS' FUNERAL AT HASKELL AND STEWART'S AT VERNON

NO LEAK FOUND IN BOAT

Accident Believed to be Due to Some Other Cause—Stewart's Brothers Arrive

Further developments in the Saturday night tragedy in which two young people were drowned at Lake Wichita fail to definitely establish the cause of the accident, but subsequent investigations, disprove of the theory advanced that the boat had been tampered with. The boat itself was carefully examined Sunday morning and was found to be in perfectly good condition, without a leak of any kind. Five men whose aggregate weight was 804 pounds got into the boat and it carried them without sinking or leaking. It is now believed that the boat by some shift or other suddenly dipped taking water and in the excitement Mr. Stewart and Miss Collins jumped out. Miss Collins is said to have been an excellent swimmer and might have reached the shore safely, but it is now evident that she turned back to reach the boat and in turning probably became entangled in her skirts. Stewart had told members of the party before they started that he could not swim. The only words heard from either of the survivors were spoken by Stewart just as he sank when he said "I'm going down." Recovery of Bodies. The whole thing happened so suddenly that neither of the survivors, Miss Gelbart or Mr. Richardson, could add much to the account published Sunday. The bodies of Stewart and Miss Collins were recovered by Doc McCauley and Will Huff at about three o'clock Sunday morning. They were found in deep water within about ten feet of each other. They were brought to the Hill undertaking parlors. J. W. Collins of Haskell, father of the drowned girl left his home in an automobile within half an hour after receiving the news of the accident and made the 116 miles in four hours and ten minutes. Knowing that his daughter was a splendid swimmer he refused to believe she had drowned until he reached Dundee and learned by telephoning from there that her body had been recovered. Her remains were taken to Haskell on the afternoon train yesterday. Stewart's Brothers Here. R. T. Stewart of the Bankers Trust Company and O. E. Stewart of Fort Worth, brothers of the dead man, reached here on the noon train Sunday and arranged for the removal of the body to Vernon this morning. Members of the Masonic fraternity of which the deceased was a member, sat up with the body last night in Hill's chapel, and an escort of Masons accompanied his body to the train at three o'clock this morning and the funeral will be held today at Vernon. Young Stewart traveled for a coal company at Denver and for this reason, registered as from that place. He made frequent visits here and was very popular with the young people and also with the business firms with whom he had dealings. He was known all over Northwest Texas and news of his death brought many inquiries for further details. The tragedy cast a feeling of gloom over the entire city Sunday and was a topic of sorrowful discussion in nearly every home.

POISONED BANKER MAY RECOVER, DOCTORS SAY

Macon, Ga., May 20.—The case of R. Sanders Walker, the young banker who last Wednesday swallowed a seven grain bichloride of mercury tablet mistaking it for a headache tablet, is still puzzling his physicians. Mr. Walker was reported early today to be holding his own and physicians stated there are indications he may recover. Water is being given the patient, intra-venously. A pint of olive oil is given him every twelve hours and he is kept in a steaming blanket. He is responding slowly to treatment.

MOTHER JONES TELLS OF PLANS IN WEST VIRGINIA

Pittsburg, Pa., May 21.—"We are going to organize the State of West Virginia if every one of us dies in the battle," declared Mrs. Mary (Mother) Jones, the aged leader of the miners of the mountain State, to a large audience at a local theatre. "I'm going back to West Virginia. I can't go on a train, I'll walk in." Mrs. Jones arrived here from Washington, where she had presented the miners' side of the West Virginia strike situation to Senator Kern. When martial law was declared in the West Virginia coal fields, Mother Jones hurried to the scene from Montana and announced her intention to address the men in the trouble zone. "One of the boys," she said, "told me if you go up there, mother, you'll come back on a stretcher; no organizer can speak there. I spoke there. I did not come out on a stretcher. I raised hell." Some of the Miners Had Guns. She explained that after organizing the men she went to work to organize the women. "I organized the women," said the speaker, "because the women can lick a scab better than you fellows here can." In discussing the question as to whether the miners had weapons, Mother Jones answered that some

WELL ON EEDS FARM IS GOOD FOR 100 BARRELS

Northwestern Oil Company's No. 3 Eeds was drilled in yesterday and is believed to be good for from 75 to 100 barrels. It is in the 1450 sand where the original Eeds well was brought in. After a number of dry holes were drilled in almost every direction around Eeds No. 1, the Northwest firm made a location immediately northeast of the first well, with the above results. County Commissioner Eeds telephoned in the news to the commissioners' court, which this morning adopted the following resolution: "Whereas, an oil well has just been brought in on the farm of R. L. Eeds, and "Whereas, such good fortune calls for appropriate action by this court, therefore be it "Resolved, by the commissioners' court of Wichita county, by virtue of the authority conferred upon us by the Constitution, or what is left of it, that we hereby invite ourselves and the force of The Times to be Mr. Eeds' guests at a dinner at the Westland on Thursday, June 1913, "Anni Domino."

"THE WAY TO WEALTH"

SAYS FRANKLIN

"IS AS PLAIN AS THE ROAD TO MARKET"

Our failures are not caused by not knowing what to do or how to do it, but because of the lack of will to do what we ought—lack of determination. Every man and woman knows they ought to save; almost every man and woman can save, but lack the will to start saving. So they live on, paying high prices for the merchandise they use, paying credit prices, yet many of them pay the cash for these credit prices. Is this wise? Are you not entitled to your goods as cheap as it is possible to buy them? Then convince yourself that your dollars are buying their full value, for "every dollar saved brings a fortune a dollar nearer."

Without fear of contradiction we claim WE CAN SELL YOU MERCHANDISE CHEAPER, and we tell you why we can. It's no secret. It's the plan under which we do business. A method stripped of all unnecessary expense—no bookkeepers, no stenographers, no collectors NO LOST ACCOUNTS. All these things must be paid for. We ask you frankly who pays for them? It's an old adage that "those who dance must pay the fiddler." Then why have this painless surgery upon your pocketbook go on forever? Why not try the Balm of Gilead—the cash system. Buy as cheap as anyone. We buy cheap because we sell for cash and have the cash to buy with. Try it once and we guarantee you will never go back to the high price plan. "No morning's sun lasts a whole day." Come and see now—a good time to commence saving. "Where there is so much smoke there must be some fire." Why is our store always busy?

The Farmers' Side. "Yet there are fellows," he commented, "who wear stand-up collars, who'll tell you farmers it's more production you need. Why did you burn 'em. I'd like to shoot 'em with a pea gun that wouldn't hurt."

He declared that some of those same fellows were after him, but that he was going to show 'em up."

He quoted B. F. Youkum as saying that a mechanic worked three hours to earn a dollar, a railroad employe two and a half hours, while a farmer had to labor ten hours for the same dollar.

He said the farmers were asking the business men to co-operate with them in equalizing the difference against the farmer and the other producers of the nation.

"We're not asking him to help us produce more," the speaker said. "I'll guarantee that there won't be any lack of production if they'll show up a market at a fair profit." He advised the farmers not to play a game of anything they didn't think they could get a fair price for.

He then took up the inception of the Texas Farm Life Commission and its organization saying that he attributed the sincerest and most earnest motives in its creation. He said the organization had been turned over to the commission with no strings of any kind on it and that the Commercial Secretaries Association had not attempted to influence its deliberations or actions in any manner but had said "work out your own plan for making farm life more attractive and the business of farming more remunerative, and when we can help you let us know."

He said that an effort was being made to discredit himself and the Farm Life Commission. The real purpose of this attempt was to discredit the Business Men's Association with the farmers. Peanut politics was behind it all, he declared.

Calling to Tom Taylor who was in the audience he said: "Tom, you remember the fellow who ten or fifteen years ago got up on a dry goods box and berated the corporations, the railroads, the bankers and everybody and every organization generally, and always drew a big crowd and was considered a big man—the politician. Well, you don't hear him any more. He's dead now, and I helped kill the dad blamed scoundrel, and I count it one of the proudest acts of my life."

"You think I'm using pretty strong talk, maybe. Well, I've been dealing with all kinds of folks lately, and I have to give them different kinds of medicine. Sometimes I get the doses mixed. This may cause a little trouble for a while, but it'll work off alright, if you give it time."

Business Men's Co-operation.
Speaking of the desire of the business men to co-operate with the farmers in their effort to bring about better conditions, he mentioned a number of bankers last summer to loan the Farmers' Union money for holding the crop. The price was then thirteen and a half cents and if farmers had taken the money cotton would have been thirteen cents and higher today, but instead four-fifths of the crop was put on the market in the first four months and the price went down, he said.

He said he had nothing to say against the speculation so long as the farmer made gambling possible and even necessary by rushing his cotton into the market without regard to the demand.

"Many a fellow who goes to church on Sunday and grunts like a horse with the colic is just as much responsible for gambling as the speculator himself," said Mr. Radford, amid shouts of laughter, and added "the banker who forces the farmer to sell is a party to it."

Mr. Cain said the creation of the Farm Life Commission did not arise from an altruistic but from a selfish motive; that the business men of the State had seen that the farmer was not getting a square deal, and realized that all must suffer when the farmer suffers. He said he knew, and others knew, that the farmer must work out the plan for his own industrial salvation, and the others could help him only through co-operation.

He said he would not pretend to be a Moses to lead the farmer out of the wilderness but that he would call some figures to their attention.

He quoted statistics from the census bureau showing that Texas brought over $43,000,000 worth of corn outside the State; over $19,000,000 worth of wheat outside the State; $18,000,000 worth of oats; $18,000,000 worth of sorghum; $25,000,000 worth of broom corn; $2,174,850 worth of cow peas; $9,802,000 worth of fruits and vegetables making in all $92,934,850 paid for farm products from outside the State. Against this Texas produced $350,000,000 worth of cotton, and consumed only $42,000,000 worth of cotton. The balance of $208,000,000 more cotton than was consumed, and leaving a balance of more than $200,000,000 after paying for other farm products bought outside the State.

Much of the farm products bought outside the State might be grown to advantage in Texas, the speaker said, "but it is plain that the thing that saves us all from bankruptcy is cotton. Surely the pressing problem for us all is the marketing of cotton at a fair profit."

He said the industrial and commercial situation reminded him of a merry-go-round he used to admire when a boy. He pictured organized labor riding a camel on the merry-go-round, the manufacturer an elephant, the banker a burnished horse, but the farmer had been put to sleep back in one of the chariots reserved for the women and children. As the merry-go-round raced on its way, he pictured first labor, then the banker and others leaning out and clutching a ring, but the poor-farmer back in the chariot was asleep and couldn't have reached the ring if he had tried.

Better Understanding Coming.
He said the trouble had been that the farmer and the business man hadn't understood each other. Another trouble was that each had been prejudiced against the other, and another trouble was that the farmer hadn't been organized.

"Now," he said, "the farmer is organized and a better understanding is being reached, but whenever the fires of prejudice have died down, and have been about to go out, the politician and the demagogue have fanned the flame afresh."

He said the time has come when the farmer has got to look to his own selfish interests no matter with whom it lies. He said the farmer had an interest in tariff legislation. In this connection he said, "I wouldn't predict it, but it looks like disaster to the farmer, when men high in the councils of the nation say we've got to look to the interests of the consumer, and forget about the producer."

He declared that the days of slavery were not any worse than the condition with some of the tenant farmers of East Texas, "who are under bondage to the credit system."

He drew a pathetic picture of a typical farmer of this class, and as he proceeded with his description one man in the audience exclaimed from time to time "that's right, I've been there."

At the conclusion of this description Mr. Cain said "It's up to you and to all of us, and it's got to stop."

J. L. McConkey introduced the two speakers. At the conclusion of their talks R. E. Huff and Tom B. Taylor responded to calls with brief speeches. Judge Scary was also called on and spoke briefly.

Association Decides To Keep Agent At Austin To Keep Tab on Legislation

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, May 17.—The Texas Press Association today voted to maintain a representative at Austin during the sessions of the legislature to keep its members informed on all bills affecting the members of the association. It was further decided not to support any candidates for office who would not declare themselves unequivocally on questions affecting the press.

The annual dues were raised from $1 to $1.50 and it was voted to drop any members whose dues were in arrears three years.

The retiring president, W. C. Edwards, editor of the Denton Record Chronicle, was presented with a handsome silver service.

A change in the constitution to create a committee of three members to keep the members in touch with legislative matters was made. This committee will be in addition to the special agent whom the association will keep at Austin.

Mrs. Grace Mitchell introduced a resolution calling on the members to advocate woman's suffrage, but her resolution was declared out of order. Officers were elected as follows:

President—J. J. Taylor, editor State Press in Dallas News.
Vice President—D. R. Harris of Henderson.
Secretary—Sam P. Harbin, Richardson.
Treasurer—C. S. Lehman.
Essayist—Mrs. R. D. Hudson, of Farmersville.
Orator—C. E. Gillespie, Houston.
Poet—Clarence Guesley, Fort Worth.

MORE TIME FOR TARIFF HEARINGS

MINORITY LEADERS SEE IN CHANGE OF PLANS CONCESSIONS CAUSED BY THEM

A REPORT OF HEARINGS

Senate Stenographers Will Make Reports For Benefit of Other Committee Members

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 17.—Announcement today by Chairman Simmons of the finance committee that the subcommittee on the tariff bill had decided to grant more time to protesting manufacturers than at first intended aroused considerable interest at the capital. Although the effort of Senate Republicans to force public hearings was defeated, minority leaders see in the changed tactics of the Democrats a concession on which they claim resulted from the denunciation of the Democrats' plans for consideration of the bill.

Another interesting development was the determination of Senator Smith of Georgia, to have the private hearings on the cotton schedule conducted by him reported by a Senate stenographer. This is an innovation which Republicans assert was brought about through the insistence of Senators LaFollette and Bristow who urged that the private hearings be published for the benefit of senators not on the committee.

It also has been agreed that the finance committee will send to manufacturers the list of questions on cost and production proposed by Senator LaFollette. Still another liberalizing feature resulting from the debate on the public hearing amendment was the reiteration by Hoke Smith and some colleagues that members of the press could attend the private hearings. The previous statement was the first of the newspaper men ever heard of it and it also was news to other members of the finance committee. Today Senator Smith met other members of the finance committee and found they were agreeable to admitting reporters.

None of the tariff subcommittees had hearings except Senator Willing's hearing to Assistant Secretary of the Iliams' committee which gave a brief hearing to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Curtis and Assistant Attorney General Denison, on the administrative features of the bill.

"We will try to have the bill ready for the Senate by June 1," said Senator Simmons today, "but it probably will be a little later than that owing to the fact that subcommittees have agreed to give a little more time to manufacturers who are protesting against rates in the Underwood bill."

Democrats of the committee practically have decided they will propose no changes in the wool and sugar schedules and that Democrats opposed to these must carry their fight to the party caucus. According to the present plan, the subcommittee on the wool and sugar schedules will listen to all arguments that senators wish to make, but will report the bill to the full Democratic membership of the committee without recommendation. Democrats of the committee will refer sugar and wool to a party caucus and senators interested will be given an opportunity to make a final appeal there.

If they fail, and leaders believe they will, they will support the bill before the Senate. The leaders do not expect that the two Louisiana senators will abide by a caucus decision.

Owen of Oklahoma are the only senators on that committee and it has been suggested that the committee should include a senator from every state which is to elect a senator in 1914 and which now has a Democrat in the Senate.

MUCH SCULPTURE AT FRISCO FAIR

ELABORATE OF STATUARY WILL BE ONE OF PRINCIPAL FEATURES

WILL FORM A SEQUENCE

Designed To Bring Home To Spectators The Significance of The Panama Canal

San Francisco, Cal., May 17.—The sculpture of the Panama-Pacific exposition will carry out the note of the exposition in celebrating the opening of the Panama canal. The spirit of achievement as exemplified by America's work at Panama will be idealized through the works of a number of America's greatest sculptors, who are now engaged in completing the models. Figures of the early explorers of the oceans, statuary symbolizing the struggle to pierce the rocky backbone of the continents, masses of glorified workmen, the human bulwark of the canal, and great groups of idealizing the crowning success at Panama will be among the important sculptural works that will bring home to everyone the world significance of the Panama canal.

The statuary will be executed upon a vast and wonderful scale and in its complete presentation of sculptural art will carry forward the work of the great expositions of the past, each of which has marked a distinct advance in the popular appreciation of sculpture.

The sculptural plan will be easy for anyone to comprehend. The sculpture is designed to form a sequence from the moment the visitor first enters the main gate of the exposition until he has made the circuit of the exposition courts and of the enclosing walls. Entering from the city by the main gate, the visitors will first be confronted with a huge equestrian fountain, symbolizing the creation of the isthmian waterway between the oceans.

The fountain will be outlined against the opening of the 110-foot archway of the Administration building, which will rise to a height of 400 feet. An epic equestrian group representing Energy, the Lord of the Isthmian Way will be the main motif of the fountain. A colossal figure of a splendid nude youth mounted upon a Homeric horse will be depicted as advancing steadily through the waters of the dam. The pedestal itself will be extremely simple, recalling the constructive elements of the canal, and will be planned to permit the flowing of water down its sides in four great vertical sheets, which will empty into a large horizontal basin. Grouped in serried-ranks about the piers of the pedestal beside the falling waters will be figures of canal workers. In the basis before the pedestal an auxiliary Victory will be perched upon a huge winged sea monster.

Arch of Setting Sun.
Passing beneath the arch of the Administration building the visitor in 1915 will arrive in the vast oval courtyard of the Court of Sun and Stars, around which colonnades sweep to the right and to the left. Before the sightseer, fifteen hundred feet to the north, will be a vision of the flashing waters of San Francisco bay, seen through the three hundred foot wide entrance of the Court, with the column of Victory on the water-front standing out as its central feature. On the west side of the court will be the great triumphal arch, the Arch of the Setting Sun, 160 feet high and cleft by an archway 90 feet in height. On the east side of the Court of Sun and Stars will be seen an arch of equally magnificent proportions, the great Arch of the Rising Sun. The crowning sculptural features of these arches will be massive groups of statuary; crowning the arch of the Rising Sun will be a colossal grouping of elephants, camels, mounted Arab warriors, all figures suggestive of the Orient. Surmounting the Arch of the Setting Sun will be a huge group consisting of prairie schooners, Indians, pioneers, symbolizing the march of the Anglo Saxon across the plains of America to his final position on the shores of the Pacific. Each of these groups will be in gold-leaf tint but without a glaring effect. These groups, inventions of monumental conception and rich treatment, will replace the form of the old Roman quadriga.

Occupying positions relatively East and West in the center of the court will be two free standing monuments, the fountains of the Rising and of the Setting Sun. The upper portion of these fountains will be the sources of the night illumination of the court. Great globes surmounted by figures representing a sunrise and sunset and typifying the Rising and Setting suns, will give forth at night an in-

THE FOUR ELEMENTS

In the center of the Court of Sun and Stars, the great central court of the exposition, will be a sunken garden in which there will be set titanic figures in horizontal compositions of the four elements, Fire, Water, Earth and Air. These figures capable of a most symbolical imaginative rendering, are being designed by Mr. Robert Altlin. Facing each of the two arches in the court will be vertical groups of figures representing Order and Chaos, Eternity and Change.

But perhaps the most beautiful feature of the splendid Court of Sun and Stars will be an encircling colonnade which will screen the walls of the surrounding buildings. Above each column, which will be sixty feet in height, will be a hovering figure with a jeweled head, representing a scintillating star. At night these stars, ornamented with quivering prisms, will glimmer and sparkle with all the colors of the rainbow, reflecting the lights of masked batteries of searchlights on the roofs of the exhibit palaces.

In the entrance of the court upon San Francisco bay there will lie, between the Transportation and Agricultural buildings, a great lagoon in which will be reflected the column of progress upon the waters edge, and also the great four hundred foot tower of the Administration building. The upward spiral of this column will symbolize man's climb toward achievement. Converging about the square base of the column will be a stream of figures embodying the conceptions of the great spiritual divinity of mankind advancing to a doorway in the center of the base. At the summit of the column a fringe of figures will appear 160 feet from the ground supporting by their united effort the figure of a youth who is launching his adventurous arrow toward the sun.

Throughout other portions of the grounds will be witnessed statuary of an exalted nature and of a highly imaginative rendering. In the lagoon before the Palace of Fine Arts, a single reclining statue, representing Ancient Civilization will occupy the western portion of the lagoon, while a similar group representing Modern Civilization will occupy the eastern portion.

The dominating architectural feature of the Exposition, the four hundred foot tower of the Administration building, will be decorated with much sculpture of a purely ornamental character as well as the repeated figure of an armored horseman. Terminating the open colonnades on each side of the tower gate mural fountains will be created by two talented women; Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney who will design in accord with Mr. Hastings' architecture, the Fountain of El Dorado, while Mrs. Edith Woodman Burroughs will design at the opposite wing of the colonnade the Fountain of Youth.

Paralleling the Court of Sun and Stars on the west will be the great west court, designed by Mr. Henry Bacon and known as the Court of Four Seasons, situated between the Agricultural and Educational buildings. In this court the sculpture and painting will symbolize the benign forces of nature; a great group representing nature will occupy a pedestal beneath the archway at the head of this court. Ceres, Goddess of Agriculture, will be the subject of a classic Greek design and groups of the Four Seasons, Spring, Summer, Autumn, Winter, in plastic form will occupy positions in fountain basins placed in the four corners of the court.

GARRISON AT BROWNSVILLE IS WANTED BY CITIZENS

San Antonio, Texas, May 18.—The hopes of residents of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, near the Texas-Mexico line, for the re-establishment of a garrisoned post at Brownsville can be fulfilled only through action of the War Department and of Congress, according to Brig. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, commander of the Southern Department of the Army, who returned here from a trip of inspection along the border. During his stay in Brownsville he was visited by a delegation of citizens, whose mission was to secure a garrisoned post, and if possible to enlist the aid of Gen. Bliss in accomplishing their purpose.

PHILADELPHIA SUFFS TO INVADE BALL PARKS

Philadelphia, May 20.—The woman suffragists will begin at once here a campaign to convert the baseball "fans" to their cause.

Permission has just been given some of the suffrage workers to invade the parks of both the American and National leagues.

The campaign will start with the distribution of a pamphlet entitled, "Woman Suffrage from the Standpoint of a Young Man."

Cato Sells One of Three Selected To Help Plan Congressional Campaign

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 17.—Officers of the Democratic National Congressional committee today mapped out a program for active co-operation in the coming congressional and presidential campaigns and placed it in the hands of a joint committee composed of National Committeeman Palmer of Pennsylvania, Howell of Georgia, Lynch of Minnesota, Sells of Texas and Cummings of Connecticut, and two senators and three representatives acting for the congressional committee.

President Wilson has expressed himself as being in thorough sympathy with the program. The plans are designed to concentrate campaign strategy. The committeemen expressed their willingness to co-operate and will make their report to the full congressional committee at a meeting to be held June 3 or 4. Its five members will be selected then.

The permanent organization of the congressional committee probably will be effected at the June meeting and a chairman chosen, Chairman Lloyd and Secretary Page of the congressional committee will confer with President Wilson Monday and with a committee of senators during the week regarding the proposed increase in representation of senators in congressional committee. So far, Senators Stone of Missouri, Martin of Virginia, Culberson of Texas, Newlands of Nevada, Bankhead of Ala-

On their way from San Antonio to Greeley, Colorado in an automobile, Professor Wesley Peacock, head of the celebrated Peacock's Military Academy at San Antonio, and Cade's Hale Denny of Chicago and Donald Rothchild of Greeley, Colorado and Will Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. C. T. Christensen of this city, arrived in Wichita Falls last night. After a brief stay in the city the party went on out to Lake Wichita where they will camp for the night. They carry a camping outfit and are cooking their own "chuck" and sleeping out of doors. They will make an exception of one of their rules tomorrow when they will take dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Christensen. They will also come in to attend church in the morning.

On their way into town last night they discovered a crossie burning near Jolly under the railroad track. They put out the fire and on their arrival here informed the railroad officials.

Will Christensen will stop off here to spend the vacation with his parents. The other members of the party will continue their trip to Colorado early in the week. Professor Peacock is enjoying the trip as highly as the other members of his party. This capacity for enjoyment and his comradeship with the boys is probably one of the reasons why his military academy has achieved the enviable position it now holds.

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good I was surprised, and took some more."

Before I took Cardui, I had headaches and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need.

We urge you to try it.

SLAYER UNABLE TO GO TO TRIAL

CASE IS POSTPONED TO JUNE 12 IN JUDGE SWAYNE'S COURT

DEATH IS LIKELY BY THEN

Negro's Condition Very Critical and he Can Hardly Survive His Injuries

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, May 23.—Tom Lee, slayer of Policeman Ogilvie and Walter Moore, who was sought by a Fort Worth mob, was not put on trial this morning, despite announcements of speedy justice.

Infection had developed in the wound in his jaw. His condition is critical. The county jail, where Lee is confined, was guarded all last night by 200 soldiers to prevent a repetition of the rioting.

Lee probably will die in a few days. It is believed gangrene has set up in the negro's throat. His body gives off an odor which is almost stifling.

Lee's attorneys, C. R. Dowlin, W. D. Harris and O. W. Gillespie, after visiting their client, reported to Judge James W. Swayne of the Seventeenth district court that the negro was not physically able to go to trial.

This also is Sheriff W. M. Rea's opinion. Judge Swayne declared he would not force a trial until the negro improves, after he had read the report of the attorneys.

"It wouldn't be justice and I wouldn't stand for it," he continued. "I am confident the report of these attorneys is true and I will be guided by it. That is the reason I appointed men of unquestioned integrity to represent Lee. I knew they would aid, not hinder, justice."

Lee was brought to Fort Worth on the Katy by Sheriff Rea and Deputy Barney Fitch shortly after 8 o'clock Thursday morning. They were met at the station by Deputies Estes, Thompson and Williams. Lee was hurried to the jail in an auto. He was locked in a cell in the women's ward.

Lee declared he was feeling better when he first reached Fort Worth, but grew worse during the day. Since he shot himself a week ago Lee has apparently felt better in the mornings, but grows worse during the afternoons and nights.

The symptoms of gangrene had not appeared until Thursday, however. There is apparently no movement left in Fort Worth, and Sheriff Rea has no fear that another attempt to take the negro from the jail will be made. The building will be well guarded, but the officers are not anticipating trouble.

Report of Attorneys. Following is the report of Lee's attorneys to Judge Swayne: "Having visited and talked at your request, with Tom Lee, now in the county jail under indictment for murder, with a view of determining whether or not he is in such physical condition to be placed upon trial, we beg leave to report that, in our opinion, he will not be physically able to present his side of the case, which he expresses a desire to do."

Sheriff Rea, who has talked with and been with him more than a week, expresses the opinion that he will not be in condition to be tried for about a week. We think that he ought not to be placed on trial until he has sufficient strength to undergo the trial and until he gets able to talk. In our opinion, the case should be postponed two weeks at least, at which time he will probably have so far recovered as to be able to go through with the trial and present his side of the case to the court and jury.

"We make this report to you not as attorneys for Lee, but as attorneys of this court, acting under the direction of the court."

BOSTON BANK OFFICER DIES IN SOUTH AMERICA. By Associated Press. Boston, May 23.—The death at Valparaiso, Chile of Fred P. Moore, former assistant receiving teller of the National Bank of Commerce, who absconded fourteen years ago with $53,000 of the bank's funds was reported here today. Moore fled in 1898 when irregularities were found in his books. He was arrested in Valparaiso a year later on a charge of embezzlement but the courts refused requisition. During his residence there he became one of the leading business men of that city.

REPUBLICANS PLANNING FIGHT TO RETAIN SEATS

Are Organizing Their Congressional Campaign Along Same Line as Democrats

By Associated Press. Washington, May 23.—Republican senators in conference have appointed a committee of five, including Senators Gallinger, Townsend, Norris, Jones and Clark of Wyoming to confer with members of the House on the advisability of an early joint caucus to organize a congressional campaign committee, establish headquarters and organize the coming congressional campaign. It was attended by thirty-one senators, among them Senators Cummins, Sherman and Norris of the progressives.

It was the opinion that the campaign to elect a Republican congress should begin at once and that the campaign committee should be composed of representatives of senators and the plan already adopted by the Democrats at the suggestion of President Wilson.

EXTENSIVE PLANS MADE

Hope to Have Improved Highways From Amarillo to Fort Worth—Enthusiastic Meeting

D. P. Talley, Walter Reid and Sam Scalling returned today from Childress, where they attended the meeting of representatives of the counties along the Fort Worth & Denver line, in the interest of the Colorado Texas automobile highway. More than 300 delegates were in attendance, every county from Fort Worth to Texline being represented except Armstrong.

The organization of the "Colorado-to-Gulf Highway Association, Panhandle division" was perfected, G. L. Williams of Bowie, being elected president, D. P. Talley of Wichita Falls, vice president; W. A. Bennett of Memphis, vice president; A. W. Reed of Memphis, vice president.

Among the important acts of the association was the decision to employ an expert road supervisor to assist in each county where road improvement is being undertaken. The plan is to have a standardized road from Amarillo to Fort Worth. Directors were chosen from every county represented, Walter Reid being appointed from Wichita county.

A motion carried authorizing the chair to appoint a committee on by-laws and constitution: D. P. Talley, Wichita Falls; Seth B. Holman, Amarillo; R. H. Nichols, Vernon. The chair instructed this committee to report to the secretary by Tuesday, May 27, 1913.

A motion was adopted requesting each county to perfect its organization not later than Saturday, May 31. The chair set the next meeting of the association on Thursday, June 5 for Childress.

Resolutions were passed extending thanks to Childress for entertainment.

A vote of thanks was given to the press for its help and encouragement of the good roads movement, and attendance at this meeting. A motion was adopted, stating that it was the sense of the meeting that the commissioners of each county should be requested to render all aid possible in this movement.

FUGITIVE'S CONSCIENCE SENDS HIM BACK TO PEN. Austin, Texas, May 23.—Henry Wilson, who escaped from the Rapsey state farm about ten days ago, came into the governor's office this morning and surrendered. Wilson was sent up for fifty years for murder in the second degree.

According to the statement of Wilson he believed that fifty years was too long a sentence and decided to escape. Later his conscience twinged him and he decided to give himself up.

By Associated Press. Tokyo, May 23.—The official bulletin on the emperor's condition issued this morning by court physicians says: "His Majesty's temperature has risen to 103.46 degrees. His pulse is ninety and his respiration thirty."

Official reports that the emperor Yoshito is ill with pneumonia, the constant attendance upon him by one or more of the eight court physicians and the vigil which the empress is keeping indicate his condition is very grave.

The emperor is holding his own, according to officials at the palace. They declared this afternoon that his prospects of recovery are more hopeful. Multitudes of Japanese prayed throughout the day in the streets near the palace and in temples and churches.

Effort Now Being Made to Show President Wood's Connection With Affair

By Associated Press. Boston, May 23.—Checks and vouchers for several payments made by the American Woolen Company to Frederick Atteaux were introduced by the state this morning at the opening of the trial of Atteaux, William Wood and Dennis Collins. The first of the vouchers showed the payment of $50 to Atteaux for expenses incurred in the Lawrence strike. This was drawn March 22, 1912.

Another check for $2200 was drawn on June 26, this being marked "in full for all claims to date." The vouchers indicated that the payments were authorized by President Wood. Both were indorsed by Atteaux. The checks were to support the claim that the defendants conspired with John Breen and Dennis Pittman to "plant" dynamite in the homes of the strikers at Lawrence in order to give the public the impression that the strikers contemplated blowing up the company's mill.

The state attempted to show that President Wood was involved and that the American Woolen Company through Wood helped pay the expenses of the conspirators.

WILL DELVE IN ART.

San Francisco, Cal., May 23.—Members of the Bohemian club, who cannot paint and who are proud of it, will hold an exposition June 4 of "cubist" art. The success in the East of the post-impressionists encouraged the Bohemians, who had never drawn anything but a salary to try their hands.

For the past fortnight fifty of the very latest "cubists" have been hard at it with floor paint and varnish. "Justice" by Supreme Court Justice Melvin, will show a waterfall of whitewash tumbling over the revised statutes. He believes it to be the most confusing painting ever attempted.

UNION MAN ASKS HIGHER TARIFF

SAYS DUTY ON COTTON MANUFACTURES, AS PROPOSED, IS TOO LOW

NO REDUCTION OF WAGES

Unions Don't Fear That, He Declared—Senate to Rush Consideration of Bill

By Associated Press. Washington, May 23.—Announcement that the finance committee will hear no more tariff arguments after Tuesday has brought from all parts of the county appeals for an extension of time. They will be disregarded.

State Senator Ross of Massachusetts, representing the United Textile Workers of America, appealed to Senator Johnson's subcommittee for not so great a reduction on cotton manufactures as proposed. Senator Hughes asked if he thought the proposed cut would reduce wages.

"No it won't reduce wages," said Ross, "because we won't stand for it, and the time is past in this country for any reduction in wages. We have nothing to do with the manufacturer's end of it, but we feel that the great reduction in cotton duties will throw men out of work. If the duties on the finer grades are cut it will put a heavy drain on the capitalization of the mills. I do not think the cotton mills are over capitalized, but the workers do fear that men will be thrown out of work, because manufacturers cannot meet foreign competition, if the duties are too low."

Democratic leaders determined today upon a plan to hurry consideration of the bill in the Senate. Senators Simmons and Hoke Smith declared that when the debate begins the Senate will meet daily at ten a. m., and continue to 6 p. m.

Valuable Tapestries Missing—Taken as Lining for Boys' Pants

By Associated Press. Paris, May 23.—The loss of some Gobelin tapestries which were presented to the museum at Pau fifty years ago and which were valued at several thousand dollars, has been explained by the confession of the caretaker and his little boy that they were taking some of the tapestries for lining for their trousers. They believed the tapestries were worthless and selected a woodland scene to turn into pajamas.

ANOTHER GASSER COMES IN NEAR MEXIA TODAY

Derrick is Blown Down by Pressure and Some Oil is in Evidence

By Associated Press. Mexia, Texas, May 23.—Another gas well was brought in here shortly before noon today at 800 feet with a pressure that blew down the derrick. So strong is the flow engineers declared they believed the gas would go 250 miles without pumping. Some oil was in evidence.

CONVICTED LAWYER IS SENTENCED IN NEW YORK

EUROPE WARNED ON MEXICO LOAN

CARRANZA SAYS ENTIRE NATION IS IN PROTEST AGAINST IT

WIRES PRIME MINISTERS

Declares Debt Will Not Be Paid if Constitutionalists Triumph over Huerta

By Associated Press. Eagle Pass, Texas, May 23.—Gov. Carranza this morning cabled to the prime ministers of France and England with reference to the reported loan negotiations with Huerta and for which customs receipts are pledged in payment, declaring that the Huerta government is unconstitutional and that the entire Mexican nation is in protest against it. Carranza said when the constitutional movement has triumphed, attempts to collect the loan might cause war.

A meeting of the principal leaders of the constitutionalists in northern Mexico is in progress at Piedras Negras. Some of the leaders brought news of the defeat of Carveo, a former Orozco follower at Sacramento. They said Carveo had been ambushed by constitutionalists and over 100 federals killed. They reported also the capture of the city of Zacatecas and other towns in Northern Mexico.

VESUVIUS IS CUTTING UP: SHOWS SIGNS OF ACTION

Eruption Followed by Slight Earthquake But Little Damage So Far

By Associated Press. Naples, May 23.—Vesuvius during the night and this morning showed renewed signs of activity. One eruption was accompanied by a slight earthquake. A new and large central fissure has opened around the crater from which ashes are emitted. The ashes, however, have not yet gone beyond the limit of the volcano.

SISSON ATTACKS TREATY POWERS

DENIES THEY ARE SUPERIOR TO RIGHTS OF INDIVIDUAL STATES

By Associated Press. Washington, May 23.—Representative Sisson of Mississippi, made his announced Japanese speech in the House. President Wilson, after Sisson recently made a "war" speech, called him to the White House and asked him not to make another speech that might complicate negotiations with Japan or influence the public mind.

Mr. Sisson today attacked the position that the treaty making power superseded the lawmaking powers of the States. He declared he took this position "not because the Japanese were involved" but that he would take it toward any other nation and it only required "patience and cool heads for both countries" to arrive at a fair settlement of all difficulties.

"If any nation," he said, "should decide that they will dictate to us our laws, then we would be unworthy of national existence. If we submitted to such dictation, it is no declaration of war for the United States" to decline to override the rights of a sovereign state at the dictation of a foreign power. If the United States should deliver a state over to the mercies of a flood of aliens from any nation, then I maintain the federal government would have prostituted its authority."

"Nothing has been further from my mind than to embarrass or to render more difficult the peaceful solution of whatever differences may exist between the friendly government of Japan and our own government."

Mr. Sisson pleaded for the open door on treaty sessions of the Senate. He made a lengthy argument purporting to show the possibility of corporation control of land which would be made possible by allowing the importation of alien labor.

MOVING PICTURE MEN AT ELECTRA

VIEWS OF OIL WELLS BEING TAKEN TODAY—SCENES AT FACTORIES

TAKE DOWN TOWN VIEWS

Operators Will be at Work in Business Section of the City Tomorrow

The operators making the moving pictures of scenes in and around Wichita Falls for the Chamber of Commerce went up to Electra this morning to get pictures of a flowing oil well and operations in the oil field. They expected to return this afternoon to get views in the residential section.

Yesterday they took interior and exterior views at the window glass and the bottle plants. They also made exterior views at the broom plant. The brick and tile plant and the Wichita Falls Mill & Elevator Company. The interiors of the broom plant and the flour mill were found too dark for successful picture making of operations in those plants.

Tomorrow afternoon probably pictures will be taken at the auto factory, the pottery plant and the construction work at Ball Brothers plant.

Sometime tomorrow morning probably between ten and twelve o'clock pictures will be made of downtown street scenes including an automobile parade and a run by the fire department.

Sunday afternoon pictures will be made of Lake Wichita scene. The bigger the crowds on the streets tomorrow morning the better will be the pictures.

The Chamber of Commerce will buy the reels outright after they are shown in some local picture show house for several days or longer and will keep them for use in advertising the city and its resources. For instance when the city wants to secure a convention of any kind it will send some boosters to the convention with the reel where it will be displayed in some picture show and the delegates invited to see just what the town is and looks like.

It is expected that the Chamber of Commerce share of the proceeds from the display of the pictures here will be enough to pay for having them made.

The Fitzhugh Motion Picture Company is making the picture being taken here.

Announcement was made late this afternoon that the views on the downtown streets would be taken at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The first view will probably be taken at the corner of Eighth street and Ohio avenue. Citizens generally and automobile owners in particular are invited to come out and get in the "movies." A feature will be an automobile parade.

Pictures at the lake will be taken at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. All who can be out are invited to get in to the pictures at this resort.

NEW BOSTON CONTRACTOR HAS PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

By Associated Press. Texarkana, Texas, May 23.—When Otis McKendon, a contractor, fell from a slippery roof yesterday afternoon at New Boston, the ankle bone in his right leg was broken and driven several inches into the ground. It was necessary for friends to pull out the bone to release him from a standing position. He was brought here this morning in a precarious condition.

PRESBYTERIANS' MISSION REPORT

INCREASED ACTIVITY IN CHINA DUE TO NEW REGIME THERE

LITTLE WORK IN MEXICO

Warfare There and in Near East has Interfered With Missionaries' Labors

By Associated Press. Atlanta, Ga., May 23.—The Seventy-sixth annual report of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions presented to the General Assembly showed total appropriations and disbursements for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1913 of $1,952,644. The total credits were $1,887,342, showing a deficit on the total appropriations of $65,302.

It was estimated at the beginning of the year that the receipts from churches, women's societies, Sunday schools and young people's societies would amount to $1,300,000. There was received from these sources $1,234,628, showing a deficit of $65,302. The increased appropriations were made necessary by the expansion of the work. The total amount received from the churches during the year, which is the stable source of income, was $706,251. This is $12,600 more than has ever been received from this source in sixteen years of the church's history.

In 1902 the board received from the churches only $339,185, in 1913 $706,251, thus the receipts from this source alone have more than doubled in the ten years. Receipts from women's societies were $410,193, being an increase of $11,765 over the previous year.

"The last General Assembly, recognizing the unique and urgent situation in China," says the report, "authorized a China Emergency Propaganda, with a view to sending out 100 missionaries as an extra and funds sufficient for this enlarged work." The campaign was begun in the fall of 1912, and the financial results at the close of the fiscal year showed in cash and pledges that some $300,000 had been received.

"To the above amounts should be added the receipts on the field from native sources, such as Educational, Medical and Evangelistic work, the sum of $501,192.

"The investment securities of the board purchased and acquired the last year amounted to nearly $500,000, making the total net amount of securities owned by the board at the present time $2,350,909.

"The board has sent out during the year to the foreign field 89 new missionaries. The total number of missionaries now engaged in the work of the board on the foreign fields is 1,157. To this must be added 315 native preachers and 4,970 other native helpers. The communicant membership of the native church is 122,000. To this should be added 69,770 catechumens or those who have confessed Christ and are under instruction preparatory to being received into full communion in the church.

"The board has under its care seventy-three hospitals and 118 dispensaries. Patients treated, 456,658.

"Under the care of the board in non-Christian lands there are about 1,800 educational institutions, from the village school in Africa and the kindergarten in Japan to great universities like the Shantung University at Wehsien, China, or the Sikh man institute at Damagete, India, or the Forman Christian College at Lahore, India, one of the leading educational institutions in the Punjab. More than 100,000 pupils are boarding and day-receive instruction in these various schools of learning.

"The revolution in Mexico and the disturbed condition in the Turkish Empire, and the changes growing out of the relations of Russia and Great Britain in Persia, have interfered somewhat with the work in these lands. The arrest, trial and conviction of more than 100 Korean Christian leaders, most of whom were members of Presbyterian churches, caused no little anxiety to the board and interfered somewhat with mission activities in Korea. However, ninety-nine of the 195 convicted Koreans have now been acquitted, to the great joy of thousands of Korean Christians. Notwithstanding the anxiety and unrest caused by these trials of the Korean Christians, there were added to the churches in Korea under care of the board 6,408 communicants; and at the present time there are 22,503 catechumens under instruction.

"The great political changes which took place in China during the year gave a new impetus to mission work."

Ten thousand tongues singing the praises of a community won't help it a little bit unless willing hands undertake the practical work.

NO MORE LEAGUE BASEBALL HERE

STOCKHOLDERS ABANDON EFFORT TO MAKE THE TEAM PAY

CONTINUE TO JUNE 1ST

After Then Franchise Will Go Elsewhere or be forfeited Unless Wichitans Act

When the last man is called out at the ball park this afternoon, it will, in all probability, mean the end of league baseball in Wichita Falls this year.

The directors and stockholders of the baseball association this morning voted to discontinue the team after June 1 and to make the best possible disposition of the franchise in the meantime. Its sale to Hugo or McKinney is contemplated, but nothing definite has been done yet.

It has been demonstrated this season that it is useless to attempt to support a team with the park so far out and the only glimmer of hope that is held out to the fans is the chance that someone will take the team over and build a close in park. There is a possibility that this can be done, but on the whole, the prospects for more baseball this year, or next year, either, are not bright.

The stockholders believe that there are enough baseball lovers here to give the team good support, but that it is worse than useless to attempt to make things go with the park where it is. The team has been a steadily losing proposition so far and the stockholders took the only way out.

NEW BUILDING WILL BE ERECTED ON INDIANA

C. W. Bean and Mrs. A. D. Anderson Have Plans Prepared for Handsome Structure

Glenn Brothers have prepared plans and a contract will be let about July 1 for a two story reinforced concrete fire proof building for C. W. Bean and Mrs. A. D. Anderson on Indiana avenue to replace the structure now occupied by Hooper's tailor shop and Mrs. Clouton's millinery store.

The building will front fifty feet on Indiana avenue and will extend back 100 feet. It will be divided into three store rooms downstairs with office rooms on the second floor. The front will be of stone, art glass and concrete.

Mr. Bean and Mrs. Anderson this morning took out a permit for a one story brick building to be erected on Tenth street between Ohio and Indiana avenues in the same block as the Majestic Theatre. It will be occupied by Clasbey and Brown's auto salesroom and supply store.

THESE ARE DULL TIMES IN CITY'S POLICE COURT

The city court is a dull place these days. Few arrests are being made and practically all the prisoners get out of all before court convenes in the morning. Only one man arrested yesterday and last night but he was gone this morning.

A few prisoners have elected to serve out their fines rather than remain their liberty by the hole in the all wall and the hinged door and here are now preparing a petition to be presented to the city council and mayor asking them to put up a fire escape as there is danger of the fire men who so far has refused to escape is serving out a $200 fine.

Not a few of those who have escaped within the last few months have called at the city hall and paid their fines in cash, rather than run the risk of being re-arrested and compelled to serve out their fines when they might have no money and the jail be more secure. Some of those who stay in to prefer board and room with the city than anywhere else. One of the men who so far has refused to escape is serving out a $200 fine.

CLEVER ENTERTAINERS AT THE LYDIA MARGARET.

Roberts and Matland made their premier appearance at the Lydia Margaret last night in singing, talking and dancing and went straight to the hearts of the audience. He is clever as a conversationalist and sings well, particularly the topical song, "The Bridge of Sighs," dealing with the night police court at New York. Miss Matland does some very clever turns as a high kicker and tumbler.

The program also includes Doc Dell and the Frances Sisters in a singing and dancing act that is exceptionally entertaining.

STERLING WHITE'S MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL OVERRULED.

Motion for a new trial for Sterling White, convicted for the murder of Beulah Lee and given fifty years in prison, was overruled by Judge Martin at Henrietta yesterday. Judge Scurry will be at Chattanooga attending the Confederate reunion at that time and the state's side in the hearing will be headed after by Judge Allen who assisted in the prosecution.

THREE PLAYERS RELEASED BY THE DRILLERS TODAY.

Three members of the Wichita team, all of whom played last year, have been released. They are Guthrie, Jones and White. Guthrie promptly was taken on by Ardmore and it is likely that the others will be able to find berths very shortly. These three were all favorites with the fans, but there was no place for them on the squad.

Wichita Falls, Texas, May 23, 1913

This is the time of the year when it is pretty apt to be established with absolute certainty that Italy is on the other side of the Alps.

Farmers at Wichita Falls have been advised to use arsenic in a fight against grasshoppers. Your first catch your grasshopper and then feed him a syrup containing the poison. It is just as easy as catching birds by placing salt on their tails.—Fort Worth Record.

Oh, no, no, no. A far cheaper and surer method would be to surround the infected fields with the Record's editorial pages and let the happy grasses laugh themselves to death.

Those good Texas ladies who ask the grand jury to put the pool hall out of business have opened a Pandora box. A polite grand jury, while thanking them for their earnest efforts to suppress the great potting and caroming games have also pronounced an investigation of the prize giving connected with the fascinating game of 42. The ladies evidently are bored under the belief that it was all very well for Mary Ann but a sad business with Abraham. The efforts of reformers sometimes lead to hard luck.—Mineral Wells Index.

It seems that in spite of the prediction being made by those who have fattened their purses through the high tariff laws that the country is bound to have a panic and as a consequence hard times, conditions are better now than ever before. This is probably due to the belief that after the present administration at Washington get a chance to put into practice the new proposed tariff, there will be a more even distribution of profits, or in other words, there will be fewer millionaires made in the United States—less paupers and more people to enjoy the great prosperity wave that is sure to sweep the country from one end to the other.

Probably by this time Harry Thaw realizes the mistake he made in allowing his lawyers to plead the insanity dodge instead of going for a jury and take whatever it should give him for the killing of Stanford White, the man who was intimate with Thaw's wife before her marriage to Harry, and who did not have judgment or sense enough to cut it out after she was the wife of another man. Thaw is now confined in an insane asylum, and the chance are that he will never succeed in getting out, notwithstanding that he has a rich mother, and a father snug for time in his own name, Evelyn Thaw, the woman in the case, has secured a divorce from Harry, and is endeavoring to secure some of the Thaw millions for her child, which is being resisted by the Thaws on the ground that Harry is not the father of the child.

THERE WILL BE NO DISAPPOINTMENT

By dint of hard work and the expenditure of no little money Wichita Falls won the honor of entertaining the Texas Press Association next year. This was accomplished against the hardest competition of the kind ever known in Texas, perhaps. There were Dallas, Fort Worth, Orange, Corpus Christi and Galveston—all bent on securing the prize for next year but the Wichita crowd had laid their plans well and the commercial club of that city had sent a committee there that established regular campaign headquarters and worked like beavers until they got what they went for—on the first ballot. Almost every man in the convention was for Wichita Falls first or second, but the decision could not have been won without an effort and a hard one. Wichita the time comes we shall expect Wichita to show the editors something unusual in the way of a good time and we know there will be no disappointment.—Childress Post.

ONE CENT LETTER POSTAGE

Postmaster General Albert S. Burleson, recently appointed by President Wilson to take charge of the postal affairs of the United States, is heartily in favor of one cent letter postage. He so announced himself to a delegator representing the National One Cent Letter Postage Association which waited on him in Washington a few days ago. "I am heartily in favor of one cent letter postage," declared Postmaster General Burleson, who went on to explain that he hoped to bring it about just as soon as revenues of the department could be adjusted. The postmaster general told the advocates of one cent letter postage that he had long believed that their contention was right. He stated, however, that as head of the department it was his business to see that sufficient revenue was raised to meet all expenses and while he admitted that there was a big surplus received from first class mail each year he added that it would be necessary to make such an adjustment of rates as would put the department on a business basis.

Postmaster General Burleson is strongly in favor of putting the postal department on an efficient basis. He also favors adequate compensation for postal employees, and such a reduction of rates as will permit the operation of the department in a business like manner.

It is the purpose of the present post office administration to establish civil service rules throughout the department, applying eventually even to first class postmasters.

Senator Theodore E. Burton from Ohio, and Representative Charles L. Bartlett from Georgia, have re-introduced one cent letter postage bills in the senate and house of representatives. These bills call for the inauguration of one cent letter postage by July 1 of this year.

Senator Burton has long championed the battle for one cent letter postage, while Representative Bartlett has favored the cheaper rate for many years.

A strong advocate for the lower rate has appeared in the person of Hon. James J. Britt of Asheville, N. C. Mr. Britt recently retired from the position of third assistant postmaster general. Upon being asked for his opinion of one cent letter postage, he expressed it in no uncertain tone.

"I am heartily in favor," declared Mr. Britt, "of the immediate reduction of letter postage from two cents an ounce to one cent per ounce for these reasons: "It will promote general intelligence and will improve the social relations of the people. "It will advance the business interests of the country, by lowering the cost of communication. "The rate of one cent an ounce for letters, with the increase of mail matter which the reduction will induce will defray the cost of handling and transportation. "But few public questions are of such vast concern to the great body of the American people, and I earnestly hope it may receive the early and serious attention of the congress."

A recent decision of the Supreme court of the United States makes it hard on the National bank cashiers, the following is opinion rendered: "A usage to allow customers to overdraw and have their checks and notes charged up without checks and notes, the usage and practice to misapply the funds of the bank; and to sonnie at the withdrawal of same, without any security, in favor of certain privileged persons. Such a usage and practice is surely a manifest departure from the duty, both of the directors and cashier, as cashier receive any countenance in a court of justice, it could not be supported by any vote of the directors, however formal; and therefore, whenever done by the cashier, is at his own peril and upon the responsibility of himself and his sureties. It is anything but well and truly executing his duties as cashier."

This is the opinion of the United States Supreme Court—verbatim. Considering that fact there is very little verbiage about it. An overdraft is a plain misapplication of funds.

This makes it hard on the cashier, who often times would like to accommodate the drawers of a check at same time does not want to be personally responsible for the check creating the overdraft.

DISAPPOINTMENT

Is that which comes to those who build their homes, and fall to use the best Mantle, Wall, and Bathroom Tiling, set by some one who knows how.

Every few days some one comes to us with a tale of disappointment, having been misled by the apparent difference in cost between superior and inferior material and labor. Cheap material, set by inexperienced hands comes high and results in disappointment. We demand only a fair profit, regardless of what competitors say, and what we say, we do—without any disappointment to you. If you are in the market for anything in our line, remember we are leaders.

MUCH DAMAGE BY FIRE AT CHARLIE

CLAY COUNTY COMMUNITY IS PRACTICALLY WIPED OUT
BY FLAMES

LOSS IS ABOUT $25,000

None of Buildings Insured—Fire Starts in Grocery Store and Spreads Rapidly

A large part of the community of Charlie, northwest of this city in Clay county, was wiped out by fire, which late last night destroyed five stores and one residence, as follows: Patterson Grocery.
W. J. Duffwall barber shop.
Dr. McNew's office.
H. Weisinger-grocery.
B. F. Allison dry goods store.
B. F. Waits dry goods store.
B. F. Waits residence.

The fire started at 1:30 a. m., in the Patterson grocery, but its cause is not known. It spread to the other structures which were all destroyed with all their contents except such as could be hurriedly carried out. The loss is estimated at about $25,000, with no insurance. There is no fire department at Charlie and consequently little could be done to check the flames, which were allowed to rage as long as there was anything left to burn.

START YOUR LIVER, DON'T STOP WORK Dodson's Liver Tonic Acts Mildly, but Surely. Livens Up the Liver

It is the experience of calomel users that if they take enough of the drug to have the desired effect, it seriously interferes with their work the day after. But this is the least important item, for calomel is often a dangerous drug and acts on the system violently.

Don't take chances with calomel. Get a bottle of the pleasant, safe and perfectly harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic, guaranteed to take the place of calomel. Instead of making you feel worse the next day it makes you feel better—and you actually are better, for no remedy in the whole world livens up the liver, regulates the bowels and really rejuvenates the system any better than this does.

You are the sole judge of its merits. Miller Drug Store is full authority to hand you back your money without question if it fails to please you and relieve you.

REPORT OF AUDITOR IS PRESENTED TO COUNCIL

Makes Recommendations for Handling
Interest and Sinking Funds and Other Matters

Consideration of the report of A. E. Myles, the special auditor who has been going over the city's books for the fiscal year ending March 31, occupied the attention of the city council at its session last night. The audit disclosed only trivial discrepancies so far as accounting for the city's funds was concerned, but made several recommendations for changes in the city's accounting.

The council will meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon to take final action on this report.

R. J. Montgomery, representing a Fort Worth paving concern, addressed the council briefly when it convened in the interest of the material he advocated, saying he would present his bid when the time came.

The council appropriated $305.50 as the city's share of the expense of maintaining the smallpox camp. A communication from N. Henderson was read, saying that the city had trespassed on some of his property in grading streets and that the council would find him "quite approachable" if it wished to acquire same for keeps. This was referred to the street committee.

Auditor Myles then presented his report. He recommended that instead of having one interest and sinking fund account, the city keep a separate account for each of the eleven outstanding bond issues. He also called attention to the fact that the state law with reference to use of the sinking fund was being violated, in that some of the securities purchased by the city did not mature until after the city's bonds did. He discussed this feature at length.

The council went over the report in detail and adjourned at 11 o'clock to meet again at 5 this afternoon to accept the report.

GAME FORFEITED IN THE SEVENTH

MARKLE GIVES VICTORY TO LOCALS WHEN ARDMORE DELAYS PLAY

DID BIRGE TOUCH SECOND?

Umpire Says He Didn't and Visitors Turn Good Game into a Far-ical Exhibition

After six innings of real good base ball yesterday afternoon, Ardmore laid down, and before the seventh inning was over, the game had been forfeited to Wichita Falls, 9 to 0. Disatisfaction over a decision by Empire Markle, who called Birge out for failure to touch second on a home run drive to deep center, caused the breaking up of a good game. When they took the field, the Ardmoreites sent Henderson, an outfielder, in to pitch, and made little or no effort to field the ball which were soon being banged to all corners of the lot.

After Wichita Falls had scored six runs Umpire Markle decided that things had progressed far enough and declared a forfeit to Wichita Falls because he said Ardmore was delaying the game. The score at that time stood ten to one in Wichita Falls favor, with one out and Bill Guthrie on third base. Manager Pelkey of Ardmore gave notice of protest on the forfeit.

Whether or not Birge touched second, no one in the grandstand was aware as all were watching Workman and White chase the ball to the far end of the lot. Failure to touch second, he it remembered, cost New York a pennant on one notable occasion and after a careful perusal of all authorities on the subject, the writer feels impelled to give it as his opinion that second base was put where it is for the express purpose of being touched by base runners. If Birge failed to touch it and Markle saw him fail, he had no choice in the matter; and there seems to be mighty little reason to believe that he would have deliberately called Birge out without some cause to believe that the runner failed to touch the base.

And Markle was right, furthermore in forfeiting the game as he did. The rule book gives him the authority in cases of this kind and he exercised it. Incidentally he stood for a great deal more ragging by the Ardmore players than any umpire should.

Having gotten the above thoughts out of our system, let the story of the game be told. It was a good game up to the seventh, with both pitchers in form. The Drillers batted Allen out of the box in the first frame, scoring three runs, but Deardorf went in the next inning and was real stingy with his hits. Scoggins was working nicely, but not with his usual good control, and things might have happened had the game been played as it was intended to be played.

How They Scored. The Drillers started when Nevitt walked, White sacrificed and Nicholson cut loose for three bases, scoring Nevitt. Brown fouled out, but Workman singled handily, scoring Nicholson. Lawson was safe when Gray failed to handle his grounder and Workman scored when Phillips beat out an infield hit. Guthrie forced Phillips at second.

Both sides scored in the fourth. With two out, Carey walked and scored on Birge's two bagger, that Workman couldn't quite reach. In Wichita's half, with two down, Nevitt walked and some very sorry handling of the ball when he went to steal permitted him to score. In the seventh, six scores were run on singles by Nevitt, White and Nicholson, a two bagger by Brown, a three bagger by

Lawson, a two bagger by Phillips and a three bagger by Guthrie. Some of these could have been fielded, but Ardmore fielders allowed the drives to sail by then trotted cheerfully and deliberately after them. After crippled Bill Guthrie had gotten to third base on a long drive, Markle ended the agony by forfeiting the game. The score:

INDIAN OF GLACIER NATIONAL PARK RESERVATION WHO WILL COMPETE IN A.A.A. RELIABILITY RUN

THE ROUTE OF THE TOUR LIES THROUGH THREE STATES, 1,233 MILES

BRANDING SCENE ON MONTANA RANGE

FACTS ABOUT A. A. A. RELIABILITY TOUR.

- Wealthy fullblood Indians of two tribes—Blackfeet and Sioux—will have autos entered and take part in the tour, camping in their tepees at night.
- Tour is from Minneapolis, Minn., to Glacier National Park, Mont., 1,233 miles, July 11-13, through three States.
- One hundred automobiles are expected to start in the contest.
- A palatial hotel train will be run ahead of the motorists, on the Great Northern Railway, stopping at the noon and night controls to furnish adequate eating and sleeping accommodations for the automobilists.
- A repair car will be attached to this train so that automobiles that meet with accidents may be readily repaired.
- A daily automobile paper will be printed on the train.
- Brilliant finish is being prepared the last night of the run, when the Rocky Mountain range will be illuminated with Roman fire while the motorists are approaching upon the prairie road forty miles away.
- This is the first time an A. A. A. Reliability run has gone to the Rocky Mountains.
- Daily distances have been so arranged that the run will be made in easy stages.
- Cities and towns along the route are preparing elaborate entertainment for the motorists, including wild west performances of other days, such as bucking broncho riding, roping steers, broncho races, etc.
- Two thousand Indians will pitch their tepees at Poplar, Mont., on the Fort Peck reservation, as a reception committee.
- The Blackfeet Indians will do likewise on the Glacier Park scattering buckskin confetti as a welcome to the tourists on the last lap of their journey.

the representatives of two Indian nations quitting their ponies for the modern sport of taking part in a cross-country motor car run the contest between the red men and the pale faces ought to develop one of the most novel and interesting automobile events of the year. This is the first time an A. A. A. Reliability run has gone to the Rocky Mountains. Several thousand Indian tepees will be pitched by the Indians of Montana in welcoming the autoists.

In many ways this year's American Automobile Association's National Reliability tour promises to be the most unique in history. The tour starts from Minneapolis, Minn., July 11 and ends July 19 at Glacier Park station, the eastern gateway to Glacier National Park. The distance covered will be 1,233 miles, through three of the Northwestern States—Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana.

One hundred automobiles are expected to start in the run and the entries will be from every section of the United States, the southern, eastern, middle western, western and northwestern states being represented. Minnesota, being located so near the starting point, will, of course have the largest representation, but already autoists of the other sections of the country have shown keen interest in the novel run and entry blanks have been mailed to several who will take advantage of low tariff freight rates and ship their cars to Minneapolis for the start.

In order to insure adequate eating and sleeping accommodations for the contestants in the tour, Louis W. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern railway, will equip a palatial hotel train which will run just ahead of the motorists, stopping at the noon and night controls so they can have access to the dining cars, and parking at the night controls, so the automobilists will occupy the sleeping cars at night. The Indians will carry their own tepees and these, pitched along the right of way, near the hotel train at night, will lend picturesqueness to the tour.

The hotel train will carry an automobile repair car, so that broken parts can be replaced without any great delay to the tourists. Besides a baggage car, will be equipped for the publication of the first daily automobile paper ever printed on a train. Newspaper correspondents from various parts of the country who accompany the tour will contribute daily to this unique sheet. An engraving plant will be operated in connection, so that graphex men will see their photographs reproduced en route.

Louis W. Hill, who has entered his own automobile in the tour, is planning to prepare a brilliant finish for the automobilists by illuminating the Rocky Mountain range for their benefit the night of the finish. Here is how Mr. Hill proposes to have the tourists get their first glimpse of the Roof of the Continent:

He will have stationed on the mountain peaks along the picturesque Rock range just back of the unique log hotel at Glacier Park station, a score of men who at a given signal will touch off great pyramids of red, white and blue Roman fire. This illuminated panoramic mountain spectacle will be flashed upon the approaching motorists when the pilot car of the tour is crossing the Montana prairie within forty miles of the Rock Mountain range. This no doubt will be a memorable flashlight revelation of the seven wonders of the Switzerland of America.

The itinerary follows, with the total mileage for each day:

OPENED BY MISTAKE

By NAN LORD and CHESTER KANE

ON Tuesday morning the mail-coach brought in the well-studied rumor that Buckton had really been located again—this time in the foothills beyond the Star-Y range. By noon on Tuesday—and this despite the fact that Buckton had been definitely located five times in the last two months, without ever being taken in the flesh—Sheriff Bull galloped out of Phillipstown with a posse of seven behind him. Phillipstown may not be strong on population or culture or commerce, but when it comes to sending out a sheriff's posse in good shape at short notice, Phillipstown is there! Just before sunset on Thursday they came upon Buckton.

Buckton was sitting, hunched into a miserable ball, just as he had fallen when the spunky little black mare dropped dead six hours before. He was the God-forsaken wreck of a man, hardly over thirty.

What clothes he still owned were tattered; scantily covered bones literally protruded through the rents and holes. His hat was crumpled; the straggling beard of weeks gave his gaunt face much the look of the traditional "wild man." His thin hands were clenched over bare knees. His cheeks cracked suddenly into a smile nothing less than ghastly.

"You've got me, Bull," he said. "I never thought you had wits enough for the job, but you've got me. Go ahead with your fun. What do you want?"

Pell, the Phillipstown grain and feed man, took the liberty of laughing. Bull's official dignity came back, and he straightened up suddenly.

"I've got a warrant here for your arrest, Buckton," he said. "In fact, I have four of them, but the last of the one I'm going to use. They charge you with horse-stealing and cow-rustling. One of 'em has been sworn out on a complaint of smashing down a bank-clerk in Kinville and taking three hundred dollars from him in broad daylight. Here they are, if you want to read 'em."

"I'll take your word for it, Bull. The weird smile came again.

"Then—"

The derelict hitched to a little more upright posture and faced the man notwithstanding, went forward with a stride.

"Gee!" he thundered. "You ain't going to take this man out of my hands and—"

The seven took to shouting, again, and the sheriff all but rubbed his eyes. He had known very well that sentiment was very, very much against Buckton; yet he had most certainly believed that the seven representative members of Phillipstown whom he had picked for the ride were standing for law and order.

Carter, the cold-eyed one, remarked: "That man's going to swing, Dick. You just look away and forget it. It'll be over quick. Yer rope ready, Tom?"

"Gee!"

"Say! Hold on a minute!" Bull's face was almost started as he tumbled in an inner pocket. "Just a second. I'll submit, I suppose—and I'll arrest every man back of you when we get home, but—"

He fumbled further; and he produced a much-soiled envelope that seemed to have come through many stages of the United States mail service, and he handed it to the wretched Buckton with a hand.

"Here! That came to town for you a month ago, when we were chasing you around Duncan's ranch. I said I'd deliver it in person."

It had been rather a grim joke at the time; it was a far grimmer one now, and Bull set his teeth and stared at Buckton and wondered if there was no earthly line of reasoning that could be advanced to save the situation.

Buckton, however, was paying him no attention whatever. One glance at the envelope and the captive's eyes narrowed in a sudden wince. His dry tongue came out and moistened his cracked, hairy lips. His hand shut over the envelope until the thing was crushed into a crinkled mass.

And then Buckton's face grew stony. He tore the thing open carefully, brought forth a folded sheet of newspaper, written from end to end in a thin hand. His head dropped low, until the unlovely chin all but touched the ragged chest. Buckton read on and on and on, oblivious to all else in the world.

At last he raised his head abruptly and, folding the sheet, replaced it carefully in the envelope. He held it forth and thrust it into the hand of the astonished sheriff with:

"Will you do me one last favor? It ain't very much. Won't be any trouble to you."

"Well, if they's anything—"

"Just stick that together again, Bull, with a piece of paper or something. Then mark it 'opened by mistake' and drop it in the mail-box in town. The address is on the back, and I'll get to where it came from." He paused a little and clasped his hands behind his back, in calm defiance of the coming fate. "Opened by mistake." Understand? Yes? Well, then go on, and be darned to you all!"

Buckton waited, motionless.

Bull seemed rather staggered as the group crowded about him and stared curiously at the letter.

"Well, I'll do that, Buckton—the sheriff began.

"Aw! Let's see it!"—Menken laughed as he snatched the little envelope suddenly and held it aloft.

Buckton started forward with an oath, to be stopped short by Carter's gun. Bull, too, made a move toward the saloon man, but the latter waved the letter over his head and cried:

"Well, we'll make an investigation, Bull. Maybe this here's more evidence, or maybe—"

He broke off again and drew forth the sheet. As he did so Buckton shouted shrilly:

"Put that back, Menken! Put that back, I say! If you don't and I live, I'll kill you; and if I die, I'll come back from hell and haunt you every day of—"

"Girl in the case!" Carter observed facetiously.

Menken, who owned latent dramatic tendencies, had cocked himself jauntily side-saddle on his horse. The little note-sheet was extended now, and Menken's full-throated voice roared forth:

"Listen! Here she goes: 'My dear sonny boy—'

"She's sure-fond of him, ain't she?" the red-haired one chuckled.

Menken read on gleefully:

"My dear sonny boy—"

"Do write and tell me what is the matter. It is over a month now since I have heard from you. The last letter you wrote—the one with the fifty dollars and the money-order for one hundred—came on your birthday, and I was very, very glad to hear from you and thank you for the money."

"Have you left your position in Phillipstown and gone back to Laramie? I think maybe it is as well, because you said the Laramie people were good to you and the position was certain, even if the pay was a little less. But you use your own judgment, my dear little boy, because always knew what was right and did it, and you are his own boy."

Mr. Menken cleared his throat; his voice had been dropping away noticeably with the last few words. Menken looked almost furtively over the crowd for the tiniest fraction of a second—and the crowd looked back rather bewilderedly. Whereat Menken continued, less jovially:

"Everything is the same here as it has always been. I am just about the same, too, though Dr. Harris said last week I looked some better, though worried. Mr. Welch was asking about you day before yesterday. He said, whenever you get ready to come back, you could have your old place in the store. He said he couldn't pay any more than eleven dollars a week, but he said—he always does—that Insburg is bound to be the biggest town in Indiana within twenty years, and that whoever grows up with his store, will be among the foremost citizens. It made me wish so much that you were back, Noddy. I thought of you all night, and wondered if you wouldn't be better home."

"This should reach you by Thursday. Please write as soon as you can and tell me about everything. Good night, my little son."

"Mother."

Menken had read his way to the end. Just now his eyes dropped, and, without comment, he replaced the letter rather carefully and tapped his knee with it.

Nor did the group seem inclined toward hilarious comment. Carter emitted a little snort and stopped. The red-haired one essayed a contemptuous chuckle, and it died out in rather sickly fashion.

The last puff of wind had died away now, and the silence was intense. Out of it came long, whistling, wheezing breaths from the derelict—big, rasping gasps of pure, infuriated pain.

Then:

"Give that letter back to Bull!"

Menken returned it silently.

"And you'll swear to send it off, Bull?"

"I'll sure send it off, Buckton, but—the sheriff looked at the dry ground for a little while. "But—"

"But what does it mean?" the captive cried. "It means just what it says! It means that my mother's back home—that little town in Indiana, waiting for the black-sheep of the family to come back and show that he isn't a black sheep! It means—oh!"

Buckton looked them over almost wildly, and when he spoke the words seemed hardly addressed to the lynching-group.

"My mother brought me up with the idea that I couldn't hit anything less than the Presidency," he said. "I was the only boy, and dad died when I was little. She scribbled and scraped and kept me in school and put me through college when she and the girls didn't have enough to eat. She sent me to New York; and when I made a fizzle there, she got me back home and took me in her arms and told me it'd be all right, and I'd only have to try over again, and that everybody fell down first time and did better for it. She tried to start me right in the town back home, and when I got sore on it, she was the one that raised the cash—"

God knows how—to send me out here, to try a new country and make a big hit!" His voice mounted higher and higher. "That's the kind of a mother I had, and by the Almighty, Bull, she's going to believe to the end of her days that I did make that hit!"

Bull was squinting at him. The ragged, whiskered wreck leaned forward, and his glittering eyes grew more intense.

"I came on here, and I didn't make good," he said. "I tried everything, and I hit nothing. Then I got a chance to steal a horse and sell him, and I did—and I sent back the money and told mother I was in a good job. After that I saw a chance at rustling part of a herd, and I cleaned it up quick and sent the money home. And after that—"

He stopped again and licked his lips.

"I guess that's all," he said huskily. "But I want to tell you this: 'My mother's sick. She'll never get well. She may live a year or five years, but she mustn't ever know how or where or why I shuffled off, and she's got to die believing that her only son was the only real article that ever lived. Dye understand?' I've been keeping up the impression by stealing, and, if it's made her any happier, I'm glad of it! I'm glad of it! I'm a bad egg; and if I had it to do over again, maybe I'd be a better one, but—"

He tore open the neck of his ragged shirt and bared his neck to the grisly noose.

Not a man of them moved.

"You'll see that that's mailed, Bull?"

"I certainly will, but—"

"And mark it 'opened by mistake,' and don't sign your name. Mother might come and—"

He choked for an instant; then: "Here! Come on and get it over with, will you? Have some mercy on a man!"

Still there was no perceptible movement. The red-headed member avoided looking at the lariat. Instead he turned and walked away a few paces and executed, in private, his trick of rolling a cigarette with one motion of one hand. When the cigarette was lighted, he studied the landscape eastward.

Bull looked at the ground and chewed hard at his mustache. Carter dropped his gun into its ornate holster and examined the fuses. The others pursed their lips and spat or smoked or coughed, as pleased them. None of them looked at the prisoner save Menken.

Menken, however, slid down from his horse after some two minutes and walked very slowly toward Buckton. He contemplated the noose, and finally lifted it and cast it away from the neck.

"What 's he do if you see back home? Go to work in the store?"

Buckton gasped.

"Ye would, eh?" Menken scratched his head and smiled in a way that Menken very seldom smiled. Menken, in fact, was thinking of the mother he had last seen in Darmstadt, Hesse, some forty years back.

"S'posin' we hadn't found you—s'posin' the cayuse hadn't petered?" he said. "You might 'a' got to Water-tank-19, over the ridge there, eh?"

"Ye—"

"Might 'a' stopped in Walkins' Falls and got a shave and a decent suit of clothes, if you'd had the price?"

Buckton's eyes brightened queerly.

"Yes."

"Anyway, if you had the price and a horse and twenty-four hours' leeway, there ain't a sheriff could get you," said Menken pensively. "Ain't any doubt about that. Say!"

The group turned suddenly. Menken was fingering a handful of money, and a twenty-dollar gold piece seemed to have separated itself.

"It's a funny coincidence," bellowed Mr. Menken, "but it just occurred to me that every blamed one of you fellows owes me ten dollars. I'm short just about now. Pay up!"

He didn't wait for them to come to him. He went to them. That was one of the secrets of Menken's moderate wealth. He went to Bull, and Bull handed him two five-dollar coins. He passed to Carter—and Carter scowled—and parted with a gold eagle. He made for the red-headed gentlesman, who was prepared and shot a yellow piece at him.

In the course of two minutes Menken was back at Buckton's side and whispering as he proffered the collection.

"You know the trail over the ridge, but you don't know Bull's mind. Best it!"

"Shut up!"

"Shut up!"

Menken walked away to his own horse. He loosened the short tether and twisted it around the pommel swiftly. He headed the animal toward Buckton and slapped it sharply. The little beast started on a quick lunge. She did not stop, moreover, for as she passed Buckton, Buckton swung into the saddle and drove in what remained of his lonely spur.

And Bull turned suddenly with: "Menken, you blasted idiot!"

Menken took him firmly by the shoulder and faced him eastward.

"S'pose you he'llowed. 'Did you ever, in all your eternal days, see such a man gets over on those hills? Look! Keep on looking!'"

Now somewhere behind them, sharp little hoofs clicked rapidly, methodically as a mare hit the stony trail over the ridge to Walkins' Falls.

What 's he do if you see back
