KATY OFFICIALS GUESTS OF CITY

SPEND AFTERNOON HERE ON TRIP OF INSPECTION OVER LINES

ARE TENDERED BANQUET

Chairman Trumbull and President Schaff Express Friendship For Texas, in Speeches

High officials of the Katy system, on an inspection tour, were guests of Wichita Falls yesterday afternoon and last night, leaving for Altus early today. A banquet at the Lake last night was the principal entertainment feature.

The special train bearing the officials of the Katy system, pulled into the station here yesterday afternoon at 3:30, on the dot, having made a fast run from Fort Worth. They were met by Superintendent Sullivan and Frank Kell.

As soon as informed that the hour of the banquet was to be 8:30, the visitors pleaded for a change to an earlier hour, as they had been wined and dined at night, and traveling in the day time, until they were longing for some rest. The change was promptly made in accordance with their wishes.

The train carrying the officials was made up of a baggage car, two Pullmans and a private car. All were elegantly equipped. In the president's private car could be found every convenience that could be found in one of the local hotels, except the elevator.

The officials inspected the union depot, which the two negro porters had put in excellent shape, having been warned by Ticket Agent Clifford that if there was any dust on the floor, Mr. Trumbull would fire everybody on the place.

Personnel of Party
The train stood at the station for an hour when it was run out to Lake Wichita and parked for the night. The special went up to Altus today, leaving here at seven o'clock.

Those in the party were: Frank Trumbull, New York, chairman of the board of directors of the Katy; C. E. Schaff, St. Louis, president of the Katy; C. Hallie, St. Louis, vice president and traffic manager; W. A. Webb, Dallas, general manager; A. M. Acheson, chief engineer; S. J. Strong, secretary to Mr. Trumbull; Afton C. Davis, secretary to Mr. Schaff; and Hurst Campbell, secretary to Mr. Webb.

Mr. Strong, who was the apparent spokesman for the party, when it came to giving out any news or not giving it out, said that this visit to Wichita Falls had no special significance whatever, and was only a part of the inspection trip being made over the entire system.

While at Freeport, Texas, they participated in the formal taking over of the Houston and Brazos Valley Railroad, the Katy's most recent railroad purchase. The officials inspected the harbor and terminal facilities there and intercoastal canal.

C. E. Schaff was elected president of the Houston and Brazos Valley and the Katy assumed active operation of the road.

The banquet at the Lake last night was spread in the pavilion, where the guests and a number of citizens gathered. The banquet had been managed by F. P. St. Clair, and a very delectable menu had been provided, including consommé royal, filet of black bass, tomato sauce, saratoga chips, radishes, olives, young onions, sliced tomatoes, chicken à la Maryland, shrimp salad, green peas, asparagus tips, egg potatoes in cream, vanilla ice cream, cakes, iced tea, mints, La Rezailla cigars.

Those present were: Frank Trumbull, C. E. Schaff, W. A. Webb, Frank Kell, J. M. Bell, C. C. Huff, P. A. Martin, John C. Robinson, E. A. Humphrey, Fred M. Gates, M. J. Gardner, H. O. Campbell, R. J. Sullivan, T. R. T. Orth, W. N. Bonner, T. S. Halch, C. W. Snider, W. G. Lonz, George Whitten, Jack Culbertson, W. M. McGregor, W. R. Ferguson, Ed. Howard, W. M. Friday, O. C. Thomas, E. P. Haney, N. L. Inge, Marvin Smith.

Frank Trumbull speaks.
At the conclusion of the banquet and after the cigars had been passed, Mayor Bell who was toastmaster, arose and introduced C. C. Huff, who, in a few words welcomed the distinguished guests on behalf of Wichita Falls and before leaving his seat introduced Frank Trumbull, president of the board of directors of the M. K. & T. Ry., and who also holds a like official position with the Chesapeake & Ohio railway.

Mr. Trumbull spoke of railway legislation in his own State, New York, and discussed some of the laws that had recently been enacted in that State that are detrimental to the railroads as well as to the people, among such being the full crew law, which he said had been turned down by both Oklahoma and Texas, and for doing this he said some things that were very complimentary to Oklahoma and Texas legislatures. He said that his own State, New York,

MAGNOLIA CODE NOW UNDER FIRE

WITNESSES DECLARE THAT H. C. FOLGER, JR., AND CAL PAYNE HAVE COPIES

TESTIMONY IS RESUMED

Investigation of Secret Codes of Defendant Companies is Subject of Evidence

By Associated Press.
Corsicana, Texas, June 5.—The Magnolia Petroleum Company codebook was put under investigation when testimony was resumed today in the State's hearing in the $99,000, 000 oil penalty suit.

W. C. Proctor, secretary of both the Magnolia and Corsicana Petroleum Companies, the two Texas concerns involved, took the witness stand. He testified that H. C. Folger, Jr., a stockholder of the Magnolia company and president of the Standard Oil Company of New York, has a Magnolia code.

C. M. Payne of Titusville, Pa., another Magnolia stockholder who is an official of the National Transit Company, also has a code book. The official reporters copied 76,500 words at yesterday's two hour hearing and Special Commissioner Charles C. Robey handed the complete transcript of this testimony to the attorney before the proceedings resumed at 9:30 this morning.

Defense Plan Outlined.
The defense today outlined part of its position in the Texas oil suits by filing objections to the admissibility of evidence covering several years. These objections were that the present Magnolia Petroleum Company, its officers and stockholders, the latter including some Standard Oil officials, are in no manner liable for transactions of the predecessors of the Magnolia company especially during the years from 1898 to 1909. Practically all the state's evidence so far has been confined to these years. The objections were noted by Commissioner Robey, who is taking the testimony and will be argued at the trial.

The state spent the morning session delving into the Magnolia's telegraph code, a message alleged to concern legislation being under examination. It was sent February, 1909 by W. C. Proctor, an official of the present Magnolia company and also of its predecessors to C. M. Payne of Titusville, Pa. It did not specify the place of the legislation. Under examination Mr. Proctor pointed out that his transition on the stand today might not be accurate since the message was written before the issue of the Magnolia code with which he deciphered it.

FRANCE MAY SAFEGUARD WOMEN IN MOTHERHOOD

Law is Proposed to Force Employers to Continue Salaries While Absent

By Associated Press.
Paris, June 5.—The question of the protection of the working women in France during motherhood came up in the Chamber of Deputies today and caused lively debate. A measure was offered to compel employers to pay the wages of working women during four weeks in case they were absent from their employment owing to motherhood.

"If France had passed a measure of this kind twenty years ago," said Deputy Henri Schmidt, "the Chamber of Deputies would not be obliged to vote now a law compelling Frenchmen to serve three years in the army, nor to appropriate the millions we are called upon to expend."

"BIG TIM" SULLIVAN RECOVERING HEALTH.

New York, June 5.—Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan, whose affairs have been in charge of a committee for the past four months, has so nearly recovered his health that he is planning a summer trip to Europe, according to Sheriff Julius Harburger, who has been the Bowery statesman's friend through many campaigns. Harburger, who visited Sullivan at a farm in Westchester county, where he is resting, said that Big Tim hoped to take his seat in Congress next December.

DIAMOND IMPORTS GAIN ON ACCOUNT OF TARIFF

Prospect of Increase in Duties on Gems Causes Large Increase in Receipts

By Associated Press.
New York, June 5.—Diamond importers are still pushing large quantities of gems into this country in expectation of an increase in the tariff. According to customs appraisers today the value of gems received here during May was $4,606,232, record-breaking figures for this month. Since the first of the year the importation of gems has amounted to more than $22,000,000.

Stefansson Arctic Expedition To Start This Week To Explore Icy Regions of the Far North

New York, June 5.—Preparations are complete for the Stefansson arctic expedition which will start from Esquimaux, British Columbia, this week. Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the leader, announced that he would leave at once for Esquimaux, and he was preceded by Captain Robert Bartlett, who was Peary's captain in charge of the north pole ship, Roosevelt. Bartlett will captain the Karluk, Stefansson's ship. With Captain Bartlett went also two other members of the expedition, Henry Beuchat of Paris, anthropologist, and Fritz Johansen, the Norwegian zoologist of Stefansson's expedition. Two other members of the company are already at Esquimaux. So large has Stefansson's expedition grown, he said, that original arrangements have been quite outgrown, and instead of taking one party in one ship he will have to take two parties and two vessels. The second ship, he said, would be selected from three now in northern waters. Stefansson explained that, while he would make every effort to find the vast hypothetical arctic continent which he believes to lie north of western Canada, north of Alaska and northeast of Siberia, his chief object would be to gather comprehensive scientific data about the vast unexplored area thereabout, whether he finds land or not. He expects to be gone until the fall of 1916 at the very least. During his stay in the arctic he or his expedition will be for a long time in touch with wireless telegraph with the two most valuable meteorological stations in the northern hemisphere, at Iceland and on the Aleutian islands, to which he hopes to furnish daily messages, thus providing, among other things, a means of predicting storms from the north, a matter of utmost importance to navigation in the northern oceans and in the great lakes. According to the final plans outlined by Stefansson, it is not unlikely that his expedition and that of Captain Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the south pole, who will set out a year later with a similar object in view, may meet in the midst of the arctic night.

BODIES OF DEAD CREMATED TODAY

FUNERAL PYRE AT MATAMORAS FOR 110 WHO DIED IN BATTLE

ARE PILED IN TWO HEAPS

No Prayers are Said and Bodies are Burned Without Bell, Book or Candle

By Associated Press.
Brownsville, Texas, June 5.—The bodies of 110 soldiers killed in the fighting incident to the capture of Matamoras by constitutionalists Tuesday and Wednesday, were piled in two heaps, covered with wood and the torch applied.

Cremation was decided upon as the quickest and most sanitary way of disposing of the bodies. The odor of burning flesh is plainly discernible even in the center of the city. The dead of both forces were placed in the pyre and no word of prayer or funeral service was said.

Statement By Blanco.
In an interview today Gen. Blanco in command of the victorious forces, said that he would take steps at once to establish constitutional government in Matamoros. He will invite Casimiro Gadea, the Mayor, who was ousted at the fall of the Madero government, to resume the reins of office and will also reinstate other elected officials.

As quickly as possible, he said he would make arrangements to open the port and intends to appoint as customs inspectors citizens who have resided in the city a long time and who are well known.

Reardon, a detective of Pittsburg and Steubenville, Ohio, in 1910. Care was tried at Steubenville on a charge of having murdered Reardon, but was acquitted.

He cannot be tried again for the same charge, his life having once been in jeopardy. His confession resulted in the speedy dismissal in proceedings pending involving the disposition of $5000 reward money offered by county officials and another suit by Reardon's administrators to collect $5000 from Jefferson county because of Reardon's death.

LOBBY METHODS OF NEW VARIETY

SENATOR OVERMAN TELLS OF WORK OF INQUIRY COMMITTEE

MOULD PUBLIC OPINION

Interests Do Their Work Through People and Publicity, Instead of Personal Appeal

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 5.—The Senate lobby inquiry has already disclosed the activity of powerful lobbying interests of a "new character," was the opinion expressed by Chairman Overman of the committee, after this morning's session.

"We have developed thoroughly the fact that there is a powerful and concerted lobbying," he said. "It is not the personal appeal to senators but the newer form of organized activity to mould public sentiment through influence senators by means of public pressure from various sources. It is insidious to the extent that this publicity and organization campaign often partakes of misinformation."

Senator Overman's statement was an individual one, but he added that he had some decided views as to what he would recommend for the committee's report to the Senate. The list of outside witnesses who will testify Saturday and next week over their activities in urging or opposing legislation was considerably augmented today.

Among the refugees is W. I. Voight who was recently attacked by marauders in his home near Tampico and seriously injured while defending his wife and her sister. He still shows signs of his injuries. It was learned that hundreds of other people are flocking into Tampico in the hope of being able to return in safety to the United States.

CATTLE RECEIPTS SHOW SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE

Gain of 112,000 at Fort Worth Due to High Prices and Prospective Tariff Change

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Texas, June 5.—Figures issued this morning by the Fort Worth Stockyards Company show that cattle receipts for the first five months year exceed last year's by 112,000. The gain is due to the high prices that have prevailed and to the anxiety of stockmen to get their cattle on the market before any changes in the tariff are made.

TARIFF BILL TO FACE ACID TEST

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS WILL SHOW MEASURE'S STRENGTH IN SENATE

WILSON STANDING FIRM

Demands Free Sugar and Free Wool—Lobbying on These Articles is Aired

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 5.—President Wilson's position in support of free wool and free sugar seems to grow stronger as the day of the Senate caucus draws nearer. The tariff bill will be put to the acid test there and party leaders now feel that the president's stand will be supported almost unanimously by the party with the exception of two or three senators who were released from the caucus pledge. There is an increasing possibility it was said today that not more than two Democratic senators will oppose the bill to the end.

The activity of the sugar tariff forces was partially responsible for President Wilson's statement that presidential lobbying influences are at work in Washington to effect changes in the tariff bill. Several names were added to the list of persons who are being subpoenaed by the Senate committee and who will testify Saturday as to whether or not they are "lobbyists." These included employees of a bureau maintained by the sugar growers and by various persons who have been identified with the anti-free sugar fight.

Senator Ransdell discussed the organized activity of the Louisiana sugar cane growers, but he believed little money had been spent, as compared with the amount spent by Claus Spreckles, the Federal Sugar Refining Company, and Frank C. Lowry of New York, said to be an employee of that company, in the attempt to create a public sentiment in favor of free sugar.

"I urged Louisiana people to organize two years ago and combat this false sentiment that was being courted in favor of free sugar," he said, "but they did not act in time."

Hawaiian and Porto Rican growers, who also oppose free sugar by the senator. He denied there had been any concerted action among the three forces, and said the Louisiana growers had accepted their efforts to distribute literature, putting up arguments, to show that free sugar meant destruction to their business and no benefit to the consumer.

Senator Ransdell named Henry T. Oxnard, Truman G. Palmer, Sidney M. Ballou and A. D. Baldwin as leading figures in the anti-free sugar fight, and said H. H. Harr, J. D. Hill, Jules Burguiere, Charles Godchaux, and E. F. Dickinson were sugar planters who "taken turns" in carrying on the campaign from the Washington headquarters.

The investigating committee probably will finish taking the testimony of senators today and then will begin hearing outsiders, whose names have been mentioned during the inquiry. Many subpoenas already have been issued, and the names of J. E. Rhoades, F. R. Hathaway and Fred L. Fishback of Washington were added to the list. All of those mentioned by Senator Ransdell probably will be called.

President Wilson had not sent any communications to the committee or indicated what further statements he wished to make. He had already given the chairman the names of several men who might know something about congressional "lobbying."

Senator Ransdell of Louisiana testified that he knew of no improper influences used to prevent sugar going on the free list, or to prevent a larger reduction in tariff. He said there had been a long campaign for free sugar, and that over two years ago he advised Louisiana cane growers to "get busy and offset" the efforts that he believed would result in great loss to Louisiana growers. He called attention to activities of F. C. Lowry of New York, whom he said, was the sales agent of the Federal Sugar Refining Company, who testified before a Congressional committee that he had spent $16,000 within a certain period in advocating free sugar.

Claus Spreckles of the Federal Sugar Refining Company told Mr. Lowry "to go out and beat a drum and stir up something in favor of free sugar," said Senator Ransdell.

Louisiana planters have maintained an office openly in Washington for several weeks past, the senator said, "trying to counteract this influence for free sugar."

"But they started too late," he said. The names of Paul Christian, a clerk in these offices, given by the senator as authority for some of his statements, and Edward J. Gay, a sugar planter now in Washington, were added to the list of witnesses to be summoned.

Senator Ransdell said he thought comparatively little money had been raised by the sugar planters for the tariff campaign; that a tax of 10c per ton on the sugar crop had been assessed, it was reported—a tax that would yield approximately $30,000, but he believed only a small part of this assessment had been paid by the sugar growers. He said he understood

CANYONS of the SOUTHWEST

FLATHER RIVER CANYON, CALIFORNIA

THE canyons of the southwest are like people we meet in life. They are particularly at first glance as to either feature or personality. Their beauty of character and their great heart interest are hidden from us on a superficial view. Even from a short distance away most of the canyons look like mere gouges scooped out of the mountain sides, of no great depth, nor of many possibilities in the way of variety, charm, or beauty, of special interest, yet upon an intimate acquaintance with them they will reveal the fact that they possess all of these attributes and more. To traverse the length of some of them is a good day's journey by thirty miles or by team. Twenty or thirty miles they may penetrate into the very heart of the range. This fact of the length of many of the canyons is a great surprise to the canyon-seeking novice, and even at times to one more familiar with them. You may enter a canyon with the assured intention of penetrating to its end, and you may entertain this idea for some time as you plod on determinedly, clambering over rocks, ledges and fallen trees, and making your way through brush and vines. After a time you are sure that each turn in the canyon will bring you to the desired goal, but as it does not, you keep persistently on, knowing that the next corner will be the last. After keeping up this more or less pleasant illusion for some time you will begin to get somewhat weary, if you are not in training for such climbs, and if your time is not unlimited you will find it running short, yet you dislike to give up, as around the next turn you may reach the mountain wall that marks the end. To be perfectly candid with yourself, however, you by this time really have your doubts as to the truth of your theory. So if you have the usual experience of such occasions, you finally turn back with some reluctance, a trifle of chagrin, and a little bewilderment at your lack of understanding. You find it a long way back, for you may have gone many miles, but seemed but a few, in your eager quest.

Easy to Get Lost.

Each canyon has a character of its own quite different from that of its neighbors. They vary in appearance quite as the human physiognomy varies. Though some of them may look much like another, there is a marked difference. Yet it is extremely easy to get lost among them on a long tramp during which you go into a number of them, unless familiar with their general topography. The constant variations in one's course caused by the various windings of the canyon are apt to confuse one and cause one to lose his sense of direction.

Some of the larger canyons contain more or less comparatively level land, and frequently in such you will find settlers who have their mountain homes here, cultivate their few tillable acres and make out a living in the heart of the eternal hills. In such places and in the lesser canyons the bee rancher finds desirable location for his busy bees, as quantities of bloom of wild flower, sage and chaparral afford rich pasturage for the tireless honey-makers. But it is the uninhabited canyon that the nature lover prefers, one giving no evidence of man's handiwork, one in its primeval state, wild and unchanged. Such a one is a mine of interest, with treasures hidden behind every turn, to be revealed as one advances deeper into the heart of the range.

If you are a geologist, you will find a great deal to interest you in these canyons. The erosive action of the stream has revealed many a secret of rock and ledge and soil. Small landlides have exposed the inner structure of the earth that has lain hidden for centuries perhaps. Curious starts of rock in huge ledges show the terrible force and power of the mighty upheaval that brought them into being. Rocks of many strange formations and of great variety of color are constantly met with. If you are a mineralogist, you will be interested in the various minerals that the rocks and ledges contain, and in the float that indicates hidden veins of gold and other valuable minerals such as are found in nearly all sections of the southwest. If an arborist, the wonderful variety of tree life will appeal strongly to you.

No Two Alike.

A day in a canyon will give you but a taste of its many interesting revelations and many days spent there will not exhaust them. Remember, however, that there are very many canyons in the great mountain ranges and that no two are alike. What you may expect to find in one canyon you may not find, but you will find it in another, and, too, the canyons present a somewhat different aspect at different times of the year. In the late summer the stream may have dwindled considerably, having just passed through the dry summer, but the absence of its loud voice is made up by the greater volume of bird song and its more readily distinguishable notes. In the spring the streams will be at their best, the wild flowers the most numerous, the evergreens will be washed clean and the deciduous trees will have on their spring dress of tender green. This is perhaps the best time of the year for a visit, yet during all the other seasons the canyons have their lure, their fascinations and their charms. The beauty of the trees and shrubs, the wild flowers and the grasses, the joy of the flowing, talking brook, with its falls and its clear deep pools, the formation and the stories of the rocks and ledges, the songs of the birds and perchance an interview with that water-loving bird the water-ouzel, the most interesting of the canyon birds, or a glimpse of a deer, or some other denizen of the wild, come to the brook to drink, the beautiful lights of the dying day, dazzlingly brilliant as they creep up the canyon's sides leaving below in the purple twilight, all these things and many more present themselves for your enjoyment, and if you are a true lover of nature you will fall in love with the canyon and all its varied children, and you will want to return to it when the first opportunity presents itself.

Need for Oxygen Supply.

That there is less oxygen in the rarified air of celebrated mountain health resorts than in any room with closed windows, no matter how crowded with persons, was an unchallenged statement made in the Times by the English expert on ventilation, Dr. Leonard Hill. The British Royal Society has just published a paper supplementary to the report on the Anglo-American Pike's Peak expedition by Miss M. P. Fitzgerald, which concludes with the statement that "arterial blood contains considerably more oxygen at high altitudes than at sea level." The lungs are better ventilated, for one thing, but it is certain, also, that the old theory that the lungs should be plentifully supplied with chemically pure air must be discarded. The little sail-like alveoli at the ends of the lung branches have a special power of extracting oxygen even while the supply of extracting oxygen in the air is deficient. This secretory power is increased at high altitudes, and the increase does not disappear until a considerable time after descent to sea level.

Of Course.

"When I asked the lady to gimme a little dinner she set the dog on me." "Well, a feller as sensitive as what you are oughter have a social secretary to act as a sort of buffer."

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

Telephone No. 187.

Don't be in a hurry. Hurry brings about worry. Worry wears us out. Easy-going people know what they're about. Headless haste will bring us surely to the ditch. And trouble overwhelms us if we hurry to be rich.

Don't be in a hurry To throw yourself away; By the side of wisdom For awhile delay. Make your life worth living. Nobly act your part And don't be in a hurry To spoil it at the start.

Don't be in a hurry To speak the angry word; Don't be in a hurry To spread the tale you've heard; Don't be in a hurry With evil ones to go. And don't be in a hurry To answer yes or no.

FIRE EARLY IN MORNING DESTROYS THREE HOUSES

Restricted District Boons of Blaze, Small Dwellings Being Total Loss

Fire which started at 3 o'clock this morning destroyed three of the buildings in the restricted district. The buildings were small two or three room structures and the loss on them was small. Some of the inmates report losses of money and jewelry ranging from $65 to $1500. Seven of the inmates lost all they had, their possessions consisting principally of wardrobes and trinkets.

The telephone and electric light companies are also losers by this fire, as several cables intersected just above the houses which were destroyed. On the top of one pole this morning there was an entanglement of wires that looked very much like a bird's nest.

The firemen arrived at the scene of the fire promptly but upon their arrival found a passenger train standing on the track and they were unable to lay the hose until the train had backed onto a switch. Such a great length of hose had to be laid that this work required considerable time.

The inmates of the houses which were burned profess ignorance as to the origin of the fire.

The fire department was ably assisted in their battle with the flames. The assistant was a woman who not only volunteered but insisted upon her right and ability to use her own methods in the emergency which confronted the firemen when an electric light pole caught fire near the burning houses. The woman grabbed a water pitcher, such as will hold about ten cents worth of beer, and filling it with muddy water, she poured it over the base of the burning pole in an effort to put out the flames that made the pole a torch.

The fire sufferers, bedecked with New Mexico diamonds, Nebraska opals and Oklahoma pearls, and garbed in unconventional red and green gowns were loudly bewailing their loss and berating the firemen for not getting there before the fire started.

GOVERNOR DESIGNATES DAY FOR SEED SELECTION

Says It Is Important Factor in State's Agriculture and Should Be Observed

Austin, Texas, June 5.—Governor Colquitt announced by proclamation the choice of the first Monday in September as "Seed Selection Day."

In his proclamation he says:

To the People of Texas: Realizing that to a great extent our material welfare and prosperity depends upon the success attained by the people engaged in agricultural pursuits, the federal and state governments have done much to assist the farmers in getting better results from their labors. Laws have been enacted and bureaus created for the purpose of enlarging the scope of agriculture and bringing the producers into a fuller realization of the possibilities of production.

Seed Selection Important Factor.

One of the most, if not the most potent factor in this work has been the instruction regarding the proper selection of seed and results to be obtained thereby. Competent authorities agree that the increased yield, from 25 to 50 per cent.

As this work is now progressing, it is only a question of time when all of our farmers will come to know that a little effort and care in the selection of their seed will mean more of the comforts and better opportunities for their families. Unfortunately, it will take a long time for the government and our own agents to impart this knowledge throughout the State, hence it is my purpose to ask for the united effort of all the people toward that end.

Names Monday, Sept. 1, hereafter, I, O. B. Colquitt, Governor of Texas, do hereby proclaim the first Monday in September as "Seed Selection Day," and I feel sure I can rely on our farmers, the press of the State, our educators, bankers, merchants and others to do their best to give effect to this proclamation. Farmers throughout the entire State are urgently requested to assemble at their schoolhouses or other convenient places of meeting on the above date for the purpose of discussing this important matter. The results to be obtained from this work can hardly be estimated.

OMAHA AUTO TOURISTS IN-CITY THIS MORNING

Real Estate Men Here En Route To Gulf—Carry Complete Camping Outfit

Geo. H. Pritchett and Sherwood Wilson, two real estate men of Omaha who are making an auto trip from that city to Galveston in a Lexington 45 h. p., were in town this morning. They left Omaha about the middle of May, and have been to Chicago and Kansas City on their way here. They have made an average of 175 miles per day while traveling and yet made no effort to make time.

They carry a complete camping outfit and are getting the full benefit of the outdoor life. Included in their outfit is a $500 bulldog, who makes a specialty of keeping all strangers at a distance of thirty paces during the night. Mr. Pritchett and Mr. Wilson have paid close attention to crop conditions along the way, and say that the best crops they have seen on the trip were in Nebraska and Kansas. They are not following beaten paths but ramble around at will. They didn't deny that the detour to Wichita Falls was made to get some cracked ice and other stuff.

On their long trip they have not had a breakdown, nor have they had any

"There will be autos in heaven," a Tennessee preacher is quoted as saying. It may be the place for them, and some of us might have to wait until we get there to be the proud and happy possessor of an auto, but what's the use of riding when you can fly?

Years ago a bottle of quinine that now sells for 25c or 30c could not be purchased for less than $5, the drug at that time being on the list of articles that were protected by tariff. Congress took the tariff off, however, and there were those then as now who predicted that the industry would be destroyed if the tariff was removed. But nothing of the sort happened. On the contrary, its sale was increased, and the manufacturers seem glad to sell all they can at present prices.

The railroads have done much for Wichita Falls, and as a result Wichita Falls and her people have a kindly feeling for the railroads and railroad men. This was evidenced at last night's banquet given in honor of the "Katy" officials at Lake Wichita. The railroad official of today is not like the railroad official of twenty years ago. He is approachable, and is making an honest effort to cultivate the acquaintance and the friendship of the people. As a result, much of the prejudice that at one time existed against railroad corporations has been wiped out. It is the correct and proper way.

"The United States is ludicrously unprepared for war," ex-President Taft is quoted as saying. But, admitting that to be the truth, she is in no worse fix than she has ever been, and yet she never lost a fight. It does not require a life-time of military training to make an efficient soldier of the average American. His patriotism and loyalty can be depended upon, and should an emergency arise is always willing and ready to get on the firing line. After all, that's what counts in a scrap. It is also noticeable that while the fact is being advertised the world over that the United States is unprepared for war, other warlike nations are not over anxious to take advantage of the situation to make trouble.

INTRUDER IS WOUNDED BY FARMER, BUT ESCAPES

Believed to be Fatally Hurt by Bullet, But Gets Away in the Darkness

Paris, Texas, June 5.—W. C. Morley, a farmer, hearing burglars trying to enter his home last night, went to the door shooting. Two men were standing outside, one on each side of the house. One of the men was shot twice but his partner dragged him across a field to a buggy. Officers today are searching for the man who is believed to have died from his wounds.

EDITOR NOT PERMANENT CANAL ZONE GOVERNOR

Washington, June 5.—Secretary Garrison today declared that the selection of Richard L. Metcalf of Lincoln, Neb., to be a member of the Panama Canal commission in charge of the civil administration, did not mean that he was to be governor of the zone when the permanent establishment was created.

TARIFF BILL TO FACE THE ACID TEST

stated Henry M. Ballou, a Hawaiian sugar man, had done some newspaper advertising against free sugar. Senator Ransdell said he had 5,000 acres of timber land and a 3,000 acre plantation, partly planted in cotton and corn, but declared he had no personal interest in any rates. The majority of his visitors, he said, had talked about the sugar and rice duties. Senator Robinson of Arkansas told the committee of a letter he had received from E. A. F. Milliken of Bayou Meto, who had threatened to vote against him if the senator voted for removing the duty on sugar. He told of a talk with R. D. Bowen of Texas, representing the Farmers' Union, which was fighting the reduction of rice and cotton duties. The senator said he knew of no corrupt lobby.

POSTAL FRAUD WORKERS MEET TROUBLE IN TEXAS

Austin, Texas, June 5.—That the State of Texas is an open field for persons who operate schemes to defraud the mails, and otherwise use the mails for their own good, is evidenced by the reports of arrests, pleas of guilty and convictions during the past week that have been received by C. B. Anderson, the postoffice inspector in charge of the Texas and Louisiana division. The postoffice inspectors have been very active during the past week and as a result eleven cases have been called to the attention of the various United States commissioners. The majority of these cases have been at Dallas. Inspector in Charge Anderson says the postal authorities are more strict and are giving attention to all matters that don't look just right. Perhaps the most important case under consideration last week was that of Nat H. Morgan, alias W. H. Morgan of Dallas, who was operating as an insurance man and claimed to be representing several large concerns of New York City, which the postal authorities say do not exist. He was arrested about a week ago on a charge of using the mails to defraud, and on May 27 he pleaded guilty. On May 30 he was sentenced to serve two years in the Leavenworth penitentiary. Levi Anderson of Dallas pleaded guilty to a like charge May 29 and was sentenced to pay a fine of $500, which he did. J. R. Day of Dallas pleaded guilty to a scheme to defraud, charge May 29, and was sentenced to pay a $500 fine. J. H. Burns of Dallas of the University Extension Association was arrested about a week ago on a scheme to defraud charge, and pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve three months in the Dallas county jail. Sol Johnson was convicted of a scheme to defraud at Shreveport, May 27, and given four years in the Atlanta federal penitentiary. Leonard Edwards Jr., also of Shreveport, was convicted of a charge of postoffice fraud and given five years in the National Training School for boys at Washington.

OLD SHIPS MAKE GOOD IN BIG GUN PRACTICE

Washington, June 5.—The armored cruiser Maryland made the best record in the long range firing of the big guns conducted by the navy. In order of merit were the battleships Rhode Island, Idaho, Virginia, New Hampshire, Michigan and Utah. Commander Craven, director of target practice, reported today that the performance of the older ships in the competition was particularly gratifying as they were using older materials and mixed calibers, "thus reflecting great credit on the personnel of the older vessels."

MAY ORGANIZE 60,000 BOOTBLACKS IN UNION

New York, June 5.—Steps are being taken to organize a union of bootblacks in New York. In this connection the estimate is made that there are over 60,000 bootblacks in the city or one to about every 100 persons. In many cases their earnings are as low as $5 a week and those who

TRIPLE WEDDING—BRIDES ARE SISTERS.

Justice Howard will officiate at a triple wedding at the courthouse this evening and all of the brides-to-be are sisters. The three couples are from Burk Burnett. They came in this morning to get their licenses and have the ceremonies performed, but one of the girls being under age, and the consent of her parents not being gotten up in proper form, a hurried trip back home was necessary and the ceremonies had to be postponed until a later hour in the evening. The two licenses already issued are to Walter Finnah and Salie Belle Hodges, and to Willard McReynolds and Myrtle E. Hodges.

STOCK MARKET RALLIES AFTER MUCH SELLING

Unloading is Resumed at Opening Today, But Recovery is Soon Noted

New York, June 5.—Selling of stocks on a large scale was resumed at the opening of the market today and many new lows were established. After the first rush of selling offers the market rallied.

CLAY COUNTY RESIDENT INJURED IN ACCIDENT

C. B. Everett of Near Jolly is Dragged by Fractious Horse and Painfully Hurt

C. B. Everett, a prominent resident of the county, just north of Jolly was badly injured in an accident just before noon today, which occurred on Ohio avenue. Mr. Everett's horse became frightened and started to run. Mr. Everett grabbed the lines and was jerked to the pavement and dragged for several feet. The knee cap of his right leg was torn from its place and he suffered intense pain until medical aid could be secured. Dr. R. A. Bennett attended the injured man.

WHY IS A LOCAL AGENT? IS DECIDED.

Three attorneys argued two hours and each side produced three different volumes of law books in proof of their contention, in arguing the question as to whether a local agent is "an agent" or "the agent" before Judge Martin this afternoon. As near as a layman can understand the arguments and the court's ruling, the decision of the court was that a local agent is "an agent" or "the agent."

GIRL STRIKEBREAKERS USE HATPINS TO DEFEND SELVES

Hazleton, Penn., June 5.—Girls employed at the shirt factory of J. Gethardt and company continued today the use of hatpins when approached by pickets of the United Mine Workers and other unions to urge them to remain away from the factory. At the West Hazleton suburb a number of pickets were scratched with hatpins when fighting to take these weapons from the operators. One girl was arrested.

EMPIRE EXPRESS CASE ON TRIAL AT GREENVILLE. Greenville, Texas, June 5.—Proceedings in the case of the Empire Express Company vs. the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, its manager and its vice president, in which the former seeks to have the railway carry its business, came up before Judge William Peterson of the Eighth District Court here for a hearing. The first step was an effort by the American Express Company which has been granted an injunction against the Empire Express Company by Judge Meek of the Federal court at Dallas, through its attorney, Mr. Andrews of Houston, to have the case removed to the Federal court. He presented his motion and argued it, citing authorities as precedents etc. Judge L. A. Clark and Judge J. E. Gilbert, general attorney for the Empire Express Company, took part in the arguments as to the jurisdiction of Judge Pierson's court. After hearing both sides, Judge Pierson overruled the motion of the American Express Company. Attorney Coke of Dallas, representing the M. & T. Railway, then presented the company's answer and exceptions to the petition of the plaintiff company, after which the taking of testimony was begun. Those who were placed on the witness stand today were Y. O. McDermis of Dallas, president of the Empire Express Company; H. F. Anderson of Dallas, general superintendent of the Katy; E. J. KATY OFFICIALS GUESTS OF CITY had passed the full crew bill and put the railroads on trial. He also spoke of railway regulation, saying it had accomplished a few good things, but it had failed to bring new capital into railroad building. He said, however, the railroads were not complaining and he felt satisfied the pendulum would ultimately swing back and the people would realize the chief aim of nearly all railroad men was to develop and make prosperous the country through which their roads run. He was glad, indeed of the opportunity to again meet with the people of Wichita Falls, he said.

Judge P. A. Martin was next introduced by the toastmaster, who spoke on "the laws of Texas." Judge Martin had made no special preparations for an address on this particular subject, but from his twenty-eight years practice, was of the opinion that the people of Texas were not unfriendly toward the railroad corporations, and to prove this cited the fact that the last legislature had passed a railroad consolidation bill over the veto of a popular governor. "The people and the railroads are getting closer together," he said, and the railroads realize fully that they can not thrive and prosper unless the people are prosperous. In this part of Texas the railroads have been treated fairly, said the Judge, but in some parts of the State they have not received that kind of treatment. In West Texas the railroads get a square deal. The speaker said he hoped to see the day when personal injury damages would be fixed by statute and then no one but the damage suit lawyer or damage suit doctor would have cause to complain. The speaker concluded his remarks by taking a shot at a few newspapers and some politicians, whom he charged had done great injury to Texas by causing the report to go out that the people of Texas were prejudiced against the railroads. He thought such newspaper men and such politicians (of the peanut variety) should be muzzled.

C. E. Schaff Speaks. President Schaff was introduced and responded by addressing his remarks to the toastmaster and fellow citizens of Texas, emphasizing the fact that he himself was now a citizen of this State, and seemed proud to make the announcement. He explained his great pleasure in being called upon to address a body of citizens of a city like that of Wichita Falls—a city that had, by its pluck and enterprise, he said, added more than sixty per cent to its population in less than three years. For the nice things said of himself and of the road of which he is president, he seemed unwilling to accept all the credit, but said much of it could be attributed to his associates—his fellow officials gathered around the banquet table with him in speaking for the road and the service it had and is now rendering its patrons. He said as the road prospered the service would improve, but that this could only be accomplished with the assistance of the people. He complimented highly the good work done and being done by the Texas Commercial Secretaries Association.

Judge R. E. Huff followed Mr. Schaff, starting off by saying that from the picture drawn by the toastmaster, he felt sure he was paying the way for another gentleman expressing surprise that the toastmaster had concluded by calling on him for an address. Mr. Huff thought the better the people understood the proposition of developing the country the more friendly they become toward the railroads. At this point he took occasion to deliver a shot at an ex-governor of Texas whom Mr. Huff persistently referred to as the Texas Commercial Secretaries, of which organization he had both the pleasure and honor to be a member as "the Criminal Secretaries." So far as he was able to observe, the organization had never done or attempted to do anything that was not for the best interests of Texas. The speaker complimented Mr. Trumbull on taking the people into his confidence, saying that it was partially through the efforts of Mr. Trumbull and men like him that a better feeling existed between the people of Texas now than was the case a few years ago. He said he wanted laws that would compel the railroads to do justice by the people, and laws that will do justice by the railroads and concluded his remarks by complimenting Judge Martin in having no fear of the consequences of deciding a case in favor of the railroad, when the evidence was sufficient to sustain him, saying that a few years back a district judge who would render a verdict in favor of a railroad would have been threatened with a coat of tar and feathers. But now, things were different, and that railroads could and do get justice in the courts.

A. H. Carrigan is Heard. Judge Carrigan, in responding to the call of the toastmaster, spoke on the subject of "Who is Who, and Why," and began in his characteristic way by saying he was in favor of railroads, and if there had been no railroads built to Wichita Falls, there was not but one man who is at this table tonight who would now be a citizen of Wichita Falls, and that was R. E. Huff, who came before the railroads, and while it was not proved that he was in fact a citizen of Wichita Falls, it was a fact that could be proven that he walked in his opinion much of the existing prejudice that had existed against railroads was due largely to the conduct of ticket agents and conductors toward the traveling public. In former days these employees were not courteous and were often discourteous to the public. As a consequence when opportunity presented, the railroads were made to suffer for the misconduct of their agents and employees. He was glad, however, to know that the railroads had at last found out that such conduct on the part of their servants was making against them, and had substituted for such employees gentlemen who could answer a civil question when asked for information without making the one seeking such information feel that he was asking for something that would do him no good if he got it, and that it was none of his business anyhow. In his opinion, gentlemen agents and gentlemen conductors could do more toward allaying prejudice against railroads, and had in fact done so, than all other agencies combined. The railroads are now treating the people decent and are getting a square deal he said.

Col. L. F. Wilson, capitalist of Kansas City, and ranchman of Archer county, made a very entertaining talk, injecting much humor into his remarks and occasionally mixed a little politics with his talk. In which he developed that he was not exactly pleased with the Underwood tariff bill, but finally got back on his bearings and had some very complimentary things to say of the treatment given him as a large shipper of cattle by the railroads.

Frank Kell was the last speaker. He was hopeful that he would be excused from making an address, but expressed his pleasure at being present on this occasion. He spoke very complimentary of Mr. Trumbull and the other guests, adding that some one had told him that Frank Trumbull was one of three men only residing in the city of New York who understood most thoroughly the people of Texas. That when Trumbull wanted to put a proposition before the people of this State he knew how to do it—by taking the people into his confidence, telling what he wanted, and his reasons for wanting it, and that he generally got all he asked for. At least, that was the way Mr. Trumbull went to when he was connected officially with the "Denver" and after having disposed of his "Denver" interests, he lost no time in acquiring an interest in the "Katy"—another road that entered Wichita Falls. He did not fully agree with Judge Carrigan as to the cause of the prejudice that existed against the railroads, but attributed much of it to a class of politicians who had managed to ride into office by creating prejudice against the railroads. He thought conditions in that respect had greatly improved in the past few years. Mr. Kell concluded his remarks by saying that some of the high officials of the Farmers' Union were due much of the credit for putting down the prejudice that existed against the railroads of Texas.

The three private cars and one baggage car in which the officials are traveling were parked at Lake Wichita last night and early this morning an engine was sent out to bring them to the city and at 7 o'clock the special went north on the Wichita Falls & Northwest.

FOSTER LEASE HEARING NOW ON AT WASHINGTON

Involves Million and a Half Acres in Osage Nation in State of Oklahoma

Washington, June 5.—With oil men from many points of Oklahoma in attendance, the hearing of the application for a renewal of the Foster lease of the Osage is in progress. There probably will be some opposition to renewing the lease, but the principal controversy will center around the question of royalties for oil and gas. The Foster lease was granted on March 16, 1896, by the Osage Council to E. B. Foster and it covered the entire nation, which embraced 1,500,000 acres of land. It was granted in accordance with the provisions of Sec. 3 of the act of Congress approved Feb. 18, 1891, as amended Aug. 15, 1894. At that time oil had not been discovered in Oklahoma and in order to give both the government and the Indian ample protection the maximum limit of the first lease was only for a period of ten years. Recent investigations by the government officials clearly showed that a ten-year lease was unfair to the producer and now all leases run as long as oil and gas are found in paying quantities. The Foster lease was granted under the original act and explains why it is necessary for the lessees to apply for renewals at the expiration of the ten-year periods.

First Drilling in 1896. The lease secured by Edwin B. Foster was turned over to the Phoenix Oil Company, which company was organized solely for the purpose of developing the Osage fields. The first wells were drilled in the summer of 1896 and little did Edwin B. Foster believe at that time that he was to be the pioneer producer in what has proven to be the greatest oil field in the known world, for during the past eight years the average production in Oklahoma has averaged 50,000,000 barrels and this production has been confined to a few counties—Osage, Creek, Kalmuckee, Washington, Tulsa, Pawnee and Rogers—With Osage and Creek averaging 25,000,000 barrels between them. One-sixth of the world's supply of oil comes from Oklahoma.

When the company was at its lowest ebb in 1901 both Edwin B. and J. H. Foster, treasurer and secretary of the producing company, died and these deaths materially hindered the work of the reorganization which had been taken up in the fall of 1900.

H. V. Foster, son of Henry Foster, was made president of the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company, which corporation since 1903 has been known as the parent company. The new company had 1,500,000 acres of land, but no money, and at this period in its existence the work of subleasing the acreage was taken up and carried through to a successful finish. Royalties $2,500 Day.

The next matter to confront the parent company and the sublessees was the renewal of the Foster lease, which expired in 1906, and this was accomplished through a Congressional act in 1905. This renewal proved of incalculable advantage to both the producers and the Osages, for the production the first year jumped to 3,000,000 barrels and during the past three years it has averaged 9,000,000 barrels.

The Osages receive in royalties one-eighth of all the oil produced and the royalty so far paid exceeded $3,000,000, and it now averages more than $2,500 per day. The average oil royalty paid to each Osage family exceeds $3,000 per year and it is increasing every year. The Osages also receive a bonus for each gas well, and this in a measure explains why they are considered the wealthiest and happiest tribe of Indians.

When the lease was renewed in 1905 it was only to the acreage which actually had been subleased and this explains why the parent company and its sublessees only have a lease on 650,000 acre, practically all of which is in the eastern part of the county.

Wiley Blair, who is one of the boosters for Wichita Falls, who was here yesterday to give a shout in Dallas, where it was heard by many thousands of people; The News said: Wiley Blair of Wichita Falls was in the city yesterday. He said: "Wichita Falls is growing faster than any other city in the country. In ten years it has increased more than 400 per cent population. We have an abundance of natural gas, which is sold for manufacturing purposes at 5c per 1,000 cubic feet. The oil wells of the county yield 25,000 barrels of oil per day. MANY BANKS WILL LEND MONEY FOR COTTON CROP

President Radford Makes Announcement That Co-operation Has Been Secured

Fort Worth, Texas, June 5.—Texas farmers will be aided in marketing their 1912 cotton crop by approximately 800 banks, according to Peter Radford, president of the Farmers' Union who has written practically all bank presidents in the cotton sections to determine the exact number that will cooperate with the farmers.

The banks will advance money on warehouse receipts for stored cotton at the rate of six per cent per annum for six months or longer. The loan will be made to the farmer upon depositing his warehouse receipt and signing a note negotiable in any part of the country, and a bond signed by a warehouse manager, specifying the number of bales owned by the farmer desiring the loan.

President Radford will urge that the farmers borrow at the rate of 35 per cent, or 70 per cent of the market value of the cotton at the time of the loan.

To Regulate Market.

"It is not our purpose to hold cotton for an arbitrary price," President Radford said. "It is our desire to distribute the sale of the staple over the time required to manufacture it and to prevent driving down the price early in the selling season by glutting the market."

"Throwing the entire crop upon the market within a month or two after it is made is the result of pressing financial obligations upon the farmer. If he can hold his cotton and at the same time meet his obligations there will be no immediate necessity to sell. Then the cotton can be disposed of as it is needed by the spinners and will serve to keep the price regular to a greater degree than heretofore."

KIZZIAR BOARDING HOUSE SCENE OF SMALL BLAZE

Fire started in a closet of Mrs. Kizziar's boarding house at the corner of Eighth and Scott streets last night about nine o'clock, while all the families were asleep. The fire department promptly extinguished the blaze and there was little or no loss from that source, but the water finished up what the fire had overlooked, and this morning the interior of the home presented a sorry appearance. Mrs. Kizziar carried insurance. The origin of the fire is not known.

SPORTS GAIN IN POPULAR FAVOR

EACH YEAR FINDS MORE AND MORE ENTHUSIASM IN ATHLETICS

INTEREST IS WORLDWIDE

Western Universities Now Send Teams East—Nations Meet in Olympic Contests

New York, June 4.—In a recent discussion regarding the development and future of sport, both amateur and professional, a prominent athletic authority stated that in his opinion the extent of popularity would not be reached for another twenty years. If this idea proves correct it would appear that when 1933 is reached the axiom "If business interferes with sport, cut out business" will of necessity have to be enforced. Each year finds the schedules of sport increasing in number and importance. Time was when an international meet of any type was a nine-day wonder in the world of sport. Today such competitions attract little attention beyond the circle of devotees of a particular pastime, accepting always contests of the type of polo and yacht cup matches. Teams representing various countries are constantly traveling thousands of miles to test skill and endurance with those of other nations. In the United States, college, school and athletic club combinations cross the continent so frequently that such trips no longer arouse more than passing interest.

The increasing circumference of sport's domain is provided, however, by these invasions of foreign territory, either national or international, and in this respect the present year, although but a third completed, already has wrestled the record for the past. For months the meets and dates have been piling up until almost every form of athletic competition is represented in the list to date.

Although the international tennis and polo play is at this time the uppermost in the mind of the average American sportsman, there are a score or more of events of somewhat similar type which are not attracting attention beyond the circles of their own followers. This very lack of widespread publicity attests the magnitude and breadth of the present situation in sport. As an illustration of the activity planned or in operation at this writing it is only necessary to mention a few of the leading features carded for 1913.

Several American golfers have just completed play in the English amateur championship, and British players are expected to return the compliment by competing in the United States title events in September. The Australian cricket team is en route to this country for a series of matches both in the States and Canada. The baseball team of the Chinese College of Hawaii is at present giving battle to our various university teams. Sailors of the Soudor boat type are looking forward to the races to be sailed between three Americans and three German racing craft of this type off Marblehead, Mass., early in September. Members of the American Canoe Association are elated at the prospect of great sport in the races to be sailed for the New York Canoe Club international challenge cup between the tiny craft of the Gananogue C. M. B. C. of Canada and a trophy defender yet to be selected.

The United States National Rifle Association has completed arrangements for what will, in all probability, be the greatest international rifle and pistol tournament ever held. Teams have already been entered by Switzerland, Mexico, Chile, Sweden, Cuba, Canada, France, Italy and the various states of the Union for the matches to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, August 15-20. The Amateur Athletic Union will send an athletic team to Australia in December and the Giants and White Sox plan to tour the world, playing exhibition games between the 1913 and 1914 baseball seasons. The Maryland Agricultural College football team will invade Cuba during Christmas week for three games, with Cuban College and amateur teams.

In the national field, the University of California has sent ten of her best athletes East to compete in the intercollegiate games at Cambridge and the Western Conference meet a week later. The week of athletic carnival at Chicago this summer will attract teams from all parts of the country and possibly from abroad. The University of Washington entered its eight-oared varsity crew from Seattle to compete in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie. What the next few months will develop in the way of further competition for even a prophet would care to predict.

At this period of the year when college sport is at the height of its swing, the varsity colors play no small part in the various meets. Almost every university combination of colors has some interesting history attached to its adoption, and in this respect the Red and Blue of Pennsylvania is not the least. According to the University Recorder, G. E. Nitsche, red and blue came to be adopted as Pennsylvania colors in the following manner: In the summer of 1875 a track meet was held by the citizens of Saratoga in connection with the annual boat races. Pennsylvania had up until this time never entered intercollegiate track competition, but that year sent a lone representative, H. L. Gevelin, 77, the present president of the Pennsylvania Athletic Association.

Numbers were not attached to the competitors at that time, but instead the athletes ran under different colors. Gevelin was asked what colors he was running under, and when he said that he had no colors, he was told that he would have to select some. It happened that he was wearing a red and blue striped cap at the time, and so he selected those colors. This was the first time "Red and Blue" was worn in public as colors of the

BADLY CRIPPLED WHILE AWAY, BUT ALL IN CONDITION NOW

HAVE TWO NEW PITCHERS

Brady and Mathews Now On Staff—Take Two Out of Three at Bonham

Pretty nice, pretty nice, taking two out of three from Bonham on the latter's home lot. The Drillers arrived home this morning, accompanied by the Far team, both being able to catch the train at Whitesboro last night instead of having to wait until noon. Fourteen games were played on the trip and out of these the Drillers won five, tied one and lost eight. While this showing looks bad, it must be remembered that for nearly half the time the team was very badly crippled, in addition to being short of pitchers. Four new faces appear in the lineup, being those of Brady and Mathews, pitchers, Shelton, infielder and Dupuy, third baseman. Brady is a Baylor product, slightly under seven feet tall, and a youngster who has done well on the college diamond, is a poor control when he worked at Bonham, but when working good has all the control needed. Mathews was with Bonham last season, being one of the game in the first part of this season with a broken finger. Dupuy, the new third baseman, is a heady player, formerly with Texas-Kana. Shelton is now being used in the outfield; he was formerly with Durant.

Crippled On Road. In the game at Sherman which the Drillers won, eleven to one, four pitchers were in the lineup. Hornbuckle had caught the day previous, being barely able to stand up after his spell of measles. Lawson was out with a bad sprain and Phillips had also sustained injury. This badly crippled condition kept the team from giving a much better account of itself. The jinx was busy for a while on the trip, but everybody is well now and the team looks stronger, in Drake's opinion, than at any time since the season was opened. The Bonham series is some proof of this.

Brady will probably work this afternoon and Mathews tomorrow. The batting order has been changed so that Phillips lead off with Nevitt next, then Nicholson, Brown, Workman, Lawson, Kiszlar, Dupuy and the pitcher. Nevitt is back at short with Dupuy at third and Brown in center field. Kiszlar is in right. The boys all seemed to be glad that they can still play under a Wichita Falls flag instead of being transferred, as was feared. Bonham out-hit the Drillers yesterday, but according to the Bonham correspondent,

VISIT OF BISHOP LYNCH AWAITED WITH INTEREST

Catholic Dignitary Will Spend Practically All of Next Week in This City

Wichita Falls Catholics are looking forward with much interest to the visit of the Right Rev. P. J. Lynch, bishop of Dallas, who will spend most of next week in this city. This is Bishop Lynch's first visit to this city since he was consecrated, and is the first episcopal visit since that of the late Bishop Dunne in January, 1909.

On Sunday, Bishop Lynch will make the canonical inspection of the church equipment and properties. In the afternoon a delegation of laymen will visit him and in the evening he will be tendered a reception at the Academy of Mary Immaculate, to which the public is invited.

Monday, Bishop Lynch will preside at the graduating exercises of the Academy and will deliver the commencement address. On Tuesday he will make an automobile trip over this city and the surrounding country in connection with his duties. Wednesday and Thursday he will spend at Scotland and Windhorst, returning here Friday. Saturday he will leave over the Katy, reaching Dallas Sunday after stopping at one or two points en route.

university in an intercollegiate contest.

In an endeavor to improve the general standard of English field athletics before the next Olympic games, the Field Events Association has evolved the plan of awarding medals to all British athletes who equal or excel certain set standards during the season of 1913. The medals can be won at any time and at any meet, thereby different from the standard medals given by the Amateur Athletic Association, which are only granted to competitors in a championship meet.

For the first year the standards have been made moderate, comparing favorably with American interscholastic marks, and being as follows:

Running broad jump, 2 feet; hop, step and jump, 45 feet; standing broad jump, 9 feet 5 inches; running high jump, 5 feet 8 inches; standing high jump, 4 feet 6 inches; pole vault, 30 feet 6 inches; javelin throw, 130 feet; discus, 150 feet; shotput, 38 feet; hammer throw, 130 feet; cricket ball throw, 110 yards.

and not price should rule in drug buying or rather quality regardless of price. You would not buy any more compound cathartic pills at fifteen cents the bushel than you would at ten cents the dozen. If your child was sick you would not endanger its life and health to save a dollar. Cheap drugs are dangerous and to sell them is crime. What's-His-Name

By George Barr McCutcheon. A charming human story which has its beginning in a little western town, and shifts later on to "the white lights of Broadway." "What's-His-Name" is the husband of a "popid" actress whose name twinkles in electric lights in front of Broadway theatre. He has but little part in the gay life of his wife, and as she is billed under an assumed name, he is simply referred to as "What's-His-Name." He devotes most of his time to their little daughter, while the wife goes the pace of a theatrical favorite, and matters finally come to a dramatic climax. The situation is worked out with uncommon power, and Mr. McCutcheon manages to tell a most pathetic story, at the same time presenting a great deal of it in humorous fashion.

DIVINE ATTRIBUTES

Love and respect for those who have departed this life are two of the higher attributes that distinguish us from the lower animals. We erect beautiful and lasting MEMORIALS to commemorate the life and death of those we hold dear, because of this DIVINE emotion we are pleased to call LOVE, yet no words in any of the love or dead languages can encompass or express the things of the heart, or the thoughts and emotions that make of us more than beings of less intelligence. There is a distinction between frailty and robust health, between wisdom and ignorance, between morality and immorality, but there is no distinction between LOVE and MEMORY. That which clothes in a mantle of charity and wreathes in forget-me-nots. We express these divine emotions as nearly as the human hand and loving hearts can, with our LASTING MEMORIALS.

DUELISTS SHOOT FOUR TIMES THEN "SHAKE."

Paris, June 5.—A duel was fought today by leading literary men of Paris—Paul Hervieu, the academician or immortal, offended by a critical paragraph which appeared in the Action Francaise, had challenged Leon Daudet, the chief editor of that paper, and the couple met at the Paris des Princes, and fought with pistols. Four shots were exchanged, but neither was hit. A reconciliation was brought about.
