

Farmers Not Opposed To Scientific Methods, Says Radford

Fort Worth, Texas, June 2.—To the City Men: In this article I want to reiterate the position the Farmers' Union has always held on scientific farming. As those who farm understand it, farming embraces both production and marketing and they cannot be segregated. Science in farming is useful in so far as it contributes toward successful farming. A farmer who produces a crop but sells it at a loss or at a profit, is an unsuccessful farmer regardless of the science he employed in production. He is as much a failure as a manufacturer who makes goods he cannot sell, although he may have used scientific methods in production.

There must be co-ordination between production and distribution and growing two bales of cotton where the market needs only one is as unscientific as growing one bale of cotton on land that should produce two and far more disastrous to the producer. I contend that while we are suffering from over-production, or perhaps we should term it a lack of proper distribution, the agencies seeking to assist agriculture, whether they be governmental or voluntary can render a greater service by extending their efforts to the marketing side of the problem.

Large Crops Bring Less Money Than Small Ones.

The officers and lecturers of the Farmers' Union have publicly approved every intelligent effort of the people and the government to help the farmer. On April 25th of last year, I discussed, before an audience of University students at Austin, the relation of production and marketing. I quote a paragraph of my address:

"A tremendous amount of attention is being paid to the subject of scientific production and all this the Farmers' Union approves. It is a long thing to know how to raise twenty-five bushels of corn on the same acre that produced twenty or to raise two bales of cotton on land that did produce one, but so long as the growers realize less on a 15,000-600 bush crop than on one of 13,000-000 bales, the increased productive capacity works in a practice under present conditions as a disadvantage to the farmer."

Where Shall the City Man Work?

The farmer is the last man on earth to restrain the plow or hinder the beneficence of nature, yet the farmers of Texas must either stop the plow, find a market or go broke. When the more we raise the less we get for our crop, shall we continue to produce? Is not any agency that will reduce production to the market demand a better friend to the farmer than one that increases it beyond the market demand? Cannot the city man render more efficient service in removing, rather than in increasing, the surplus? The Farmers' Union has for more than ten years pleaded with the farmer of Texas to reduce the cotton acreage and plant cereals, vegetables and feed stuff and while we have made some progress, new farms are, of course, opened up daily and the total cotton acreage has gradually increased. Texas, excepting a few small sections, is not a cereal country and we cannot compete with Illinois and Iowa, but we should supply our own demands. No farmer can afford to buy a thing he can raise no matter how cheap it is offered. With the age of the silo and by growing milk, maize, and kafir corn we can grow crops that will all most equal cotton in value. I do not consider that we are suffering through so much from over-production in cotton as the lack of system in marketing. We dump the bulk of the cotton on the market the first three months of the harvest season while the consumption of cotton runs evenly throughout the entire year. The Farmers' Union has succeeded in steadying the market to a certain extent and improving prices, but we need help. We become the prey to speculators and gamblers and enter into ruinous competition with each other in both production and marketing.

Agriculture is the most practical of industries and the solution of its problems must be made by the continued efforts of those seasoned with success. No amateur need apply.

We welcome the criticism of our city friends but we think there is much needed work outside the city limits that is being overlooked; you have by no means a perfect civilization in the cities. We have very few factories and many of them are shut down. Why don't you give the manufacturers some good advice? We need more railroads. Why don't you build them? We have vast areas of mineral land sleeping. Why don't you develop them? These are all city problems of the city men.

Back to the Cities.

A "back to the soil" movement has for some time attracted the attention of the public, but I want to start a "back to the city" propaganda. Now that the city is seeking with advice to the farmer and the most inexperienced do not hesitate to throw their observations upon the public canvas, I am emboldened to make a few remarks in regard to our cities.

Texas needs factories. They must be built and operated by the city man. The factory is the farmer's market house and he must travel until he reaches it.

The Texas factories at present can take only ten per cent of our products and we are compelled to cross the ocean with a quarter of a billion dollars of our raw material per annum and seek the eastern markets with the remainder. We are suffering from over-production of the farm and under-production of the factory. Yet the city man, instead of relieving our distress by putting the wheels of the factory in motion, is increasing our predicament by rushing to the plow.

A Word With the Bankers.

The banks are located in cities and managed by city men. The banker is a very necessary and important servant to agriculture and no class of citizens confronts greater opportunities or has more serious responsibilities resting upon it than the one who holds the purse strings of industry.

Our money is lacking in volume and the rate of interest is too high to sustain much less develop, productive industry. These problems belong to the banker and the task is sufficiently largely to engage the entire attention of all bankers who feel a desire to render a service to progress and prosperity.

I attended the State Bankers' Convention recently held in Galveston. A committee on marketing was appointed for which I now want to publicly thank the association. The bankers have been plowing for several years, but this is the first time they have gone to market. Let me quote, for the encouragement of the bankers, a paragraph from an address of Col. David F. Houston, secretary of agriculture, who is the highest authority in the nation: "We have learned how to produce, now we must learn how to market our products."

The merchants are located in cities and towns. There is no person more influential among the farmers than the local merchant. It is the credit merchant who, in the main holds the crop mortgages and the terms are frequently beyond endurance, running as high as thirty per cent. He has the misfortune of being the payee broker of agriculture. The merchant takes high risks and excessive charges are necessary to protect him against loss. He is also a victim of the crop mortgage system and in many instances suffers in common with the farmer. The crop mortgage system is a mill stone around the neck of industry and sends thousands of farmers each year staggering down the back alleys of agriculture. It stands by the wayside like a terrible giant plucking its victims from the thoroughfares of commerce.

The abolishment of the crop mortgage system would cut out the floating deficits of trade that wander from farm to farm and force them to be enterprising and honest and lift a burden of excessive interest rates from the farmer who struggles for a home as well as make the mercantile business more safe and profitable. It is in the power of the city man to change this system.

The printing presses are in the cities and the newspapers have more influence than perhaps any other institution, and there is room for improvement in this business. The farmers of Texas subscribe for an average of four papers per annum and we liberally reimburse its advertiser and the farmer seldom makes claims upon its columns except in case of birth, marriage and death.

I shall not be so ungenerous as to take advantage of this occasion to return criticisms that have been uncharitably heaped upon me by the press but no field is well plowed until all the soil is upturned and at the risk of being considered impertinent, I want to say a few things to the press this time before I unhitch. A few editors understand our problems and are rendering efficient service and what I say does not apply to them. Many articles and editorials appear in the press that I feel sure if the writer would plow a round or two he would throw them in the waste basket.

Farmers' Union Stands For Scientific Farming.

A very brief review of our organization and its purposes will perhaps assist in a better understanding of our work. The Farmers' Union was organized in 1902 superseding the Grange and Farmers' Alliance, as an agricultural association. There have been initiated into the union to date 200,000 farmers. No one except a farmer is eligible to join. I quote in part from our constitution on this subject: "No person shall be admitted to membership unless of sound mind, over the age of sixteen years, a white person of industrious habits and who is a farmer or farm laborer residing upon the farm."

The declared purposes of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union insofar as relates to this discussion, are set forth in the preamble of the constitution as follows: "To educate the agricultural class in scientific farming." "To systematize methods of production and distribution." "To bring farming up to the standard of other industries and business enterprises."

"To teach farmers the classification of crops, domestic economy and the process of marketing."

"When a farmer lives up to the tenets of the Farmers' Union he will know how to farm."

Union Co-operates With Farm Demonstrators.

The Farmers' Union has repeatedly announced its allegiance to these principles and members of the union co-operate with farm demonstrators and adapt all scientific methods of culture of practical value. The government selects its demonstrators from among the farmers of whom are members of the union and they collect the best methods of any one farmer and disseminate them throughout the community and in this manner a high standard of efficiency is maintained. The cost of production is constantly under strict surveillance by three hundred government farm demonstrators and half a million farmers. The demonstrators are competent and skilled. In their line of work they are constantly in talking advantage of any economies or improvements in their interest. The suggestion that the farmers could, if they would, double production per acre without cost is a book farmers' dream.

I want to say that all this stirs about the farmers of Texas being ignorant, indolent and incapable of applying economic methods and these "springings" in cities to stimulate him to activity is a slander on the intelligence of the rural population and an insult to the government demonstrators who have wrought so nobly. We crave more wisdom and welcome intelligence

To the Press.

The printing presses are in the cities and the newspapers have more influence than perhaps any other institution, and there is room for improvement in this business. The farmers of Texas subscribe for an average of four papers per annum and we liberally reimburse its advertiser and the farmer seldom makes claims upon its columns except in case of birth, marriage and death.

JURY OF TWELVE MEN IN CLAY COUNTY DISTRICT COURT SO FOUND FRIDAY

Defendant's Attorneys Give Notice of Appeal to Court of Criminal Appeals

A jury of twelve men in the Clay county district court, Friday found Sterling White, slayer of Houlif Lee not to be insane and following their verdict Judge Martin pronounced sentence upon him.

The penalty fixed by a former jury which found him guilty of murder in the second degree, was fifty years imprisonment. White's attorneys gave notice of an appeal to the court of criminal appeals.

This hearing closed the term of the Clay county court and Judge Martin returned here Friday night for the opening of the June term of the Wichita county district court Monday morning.

After the trial and conviction of White several weeks ago on a charge of murder, his attorneys entered a suggestion of present insanity and a hearing of this suggestion by another jury of twelve men became necessary. If he had been found insane, sentence would have been suspended until he was pronounced sane.

from whatever source, but the farmers of Texas as a rule compare favorably in knowledge with those of other states and with other classes of people within the state. We supply the cities with their brains, the schools with their wisdom and the press and pulp with their power, and we keep our brightest minds on the farm. We are the jury and must settle all disputes in court. We cast seventy-five per cent of the ball-and-must give you justice at the polls. It is around our fireside the problems of this age must be solved. Certainly we are reasonably intelligent or we could not discharge the responsibilities laid upon us by society.

We want our share of the fruits of our toil. We see the banker and the broker take their commission, the railroads make their tariff, the manufacturer add their profit, the laborer sign the pay roll. They get theirs and we want ours in the coin of the realm.

My next and last article of this series will be devoted to discussing the farmer as a business man.

Lawyer Gibson, His Alleged Victim, Scene Of His New Trial, Judge and Lawyers

Newburgh, N. Y. June 2.—Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer accused of the murder of his client, Mrs. Rosa M. Szabo, in order to secure her little fortune of $10,000, faced his second trial for his life in the courthouse here with the assertion that this time he would be acquitted. He was tried last fall at Goshen, N. Y., and the jury disagreed. The second trial bids fair to be even more sensational than the first because it was said that new evidence had been obtained. The case attracted wide attention because of its mystery. It was alleged by the state that the lawyer choked Mrs. Szabo while boating with her on Greenwood lake, New York, before the boat capsized. Gibson claims that the boat simply overturned and that the woman was drowned after he had made vain efforts to save her. The state set up as a motive that Gibson obtained possession of his dead client's money after he had buried her quietly in Jersey City, N. J., by presenting a false power of attorney from some one who posed as Mrs. Szabo's mother, the prosecution claiming that the mother had been dead for two years. District Attorney J. D. Wilson, Jr., appeared for the state, and Henry Kohl, a local lawyer, was assigned by Judge A. S. Tompkins as Gibson's attorney. Robert Elder of New York, who represented Gibson at the first trial, having withdrawn except in an advisory capacity.

DEMOCRATS PLAN TO TIRE OUT OPPOSITION IN SENATE WITH REAL WORK

Leaders Assert that Even With Defection of Some Democrats Bill Will Pass

DEMOCRATS CONFIDENT

Washington, May 31.—"Make the Republicans work" is the slogan adopted by the Democratic Senate leaders in charge of tariff legislation who today predicted that the Senate would vote on the tariff bill by Aug. 1. Members of the finance committee declared that the bill would be out of the subcommittee by June 9; that the full committee report should be ready for the caucus by the following week, and that the revised measure would be reported to the Senate on June 22.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, said the Senate should vote on the bill the latter part of July. He added:

"We will meet in the Senate every day at ten o'clock in the morning and keep at work until 6 o'clock at night. That will prevent the opposition from delaying the bill by playing with it. We will tire the Republicans out of playing."

per cent. On cotton yarns the duties are to be increased ten per cent to be taken, as the lowest rate instead of five, and the rates of the Underwood bill are to be increased from that basis upward.

The citrus fruit rate fight was said to have been settled today, practically as the rates came from the House. Senator Johnson's subcommittee has not reached a decision on the advisability of putting a retaliatory duty on print paper from Canada owing to Canada's restrictions on wood and wood pulp.

The agricultural schedule still is under debate. Some senators favor a duty on meat, flour and oatmeal; instead of placing cattle, sheep, hogs and grain on the free list. Members of the subcommittee are inclined to free list the raw materials, but they said today that the sentiment of the Senate would be sounded further before a report on this question was made. President Wilson has been consulted by his views on the matter have not been disclosed.

A CO-OPERATIVE BAGGING PLANT

Ginners Association Plans Erection of Big Factory at Dallas in Near Future

Dallas, Texas, May 31.—The Texas Cotton Ginners' Association before adjournment of their three days' annual session today launched a movement for the erection and operation at Dallas of a cotton bagging factory under the co-operative plan and a committee of five was named to work out plans for the enterprise. The committee includes F. W. Jackson of Renner, president of the association, who proposed the factory, Secretary Dabney White and J. E. Rhea, S. H. Barton and J. H. Sammons. The committee will hold a two days' session beginning June 20 at Waco when plans will be announced. The association proposes to erect the largest bagging factory in the country using as material jute waste from the gins of the state and low grade cotton. It was the opinion of the members that every gin and compress in the state can be supplied with the home product at a saving over the price of bagging which now, it is claimed, is supplied by a trust.

All the stock, it is planned, will be held by Texas and Oklahoma ginners and producers. Announcement was made by Secretary White that the Ginners' Mutual Insurance Company headquarters will be removed from Tyler to Dallas and that the erection of a large office building to house not only the insurance company but the officers of the association as well would be begun within sixty days. Following this announcement Dallas was chosen as the permanent meeting place of the association and of the annual meeting changed from the last Thursday in May to the first Wednesday.

May Cut Famous Old Astor House In Two; Historic Hotel's Doom Sealed By Subway

New York, May 31.—The famous old Astor House, for years visited by notables from all parts of the world, will be closed on May 29 for good. The final curtain on the historic hostelry may be rung down in an odd manner, however. There is a possibility that the half of the hotel owned by William Waldorf Astor will be left standing, while the half belonging to the estate of John Jacob Astor, the Titanic victim, will be torn down about June 15. This is why the public service commission signed an agreement with the estate of John Jacob Astor, which owns the southern half of the building, to buy a perpetual easement beneath it in return for a payment of $600,000 and to construct a wall from bed rock along the Broadway and Vesey street side of the lot, which will be strong enough to hold any building which the estate may decide to put up. The original line of the new subway was laid out by the commission's engineers so as to cut across one corner of the northern half of the hotel, owned by William Waldorf Astor. It has been found possible, however, to divert the subway so as to avoid this property. The John Jacob Astor estate will start the demolition of the southern half of the building, but nothing was known at the offices of the public service commission as to the plans of William Waldorf Astor. He will be left with half of an antiquated hotel standing, and some lots adjoining it, running through from Barclay street to Vesey street. There is probably more history, tradition, tragedy and comedy associated with the weather stained, gray stone old Astor House than with any other old building in New York. John Jacob Astor, the founder of the Astor family in America, bought the plot and in the early thirties decided, much to the alarm of some conservative old Knickerbockers, to erect there the finest hotel on the western continent. The cornerstone was laid on July 4, 1834. It took three years to erect the building, and the original cost was $70,000. Perhaps there is no place in America where during the march of years so many celebrated Jenny Lind to her coach, and Macready followed.

MOVEMENT BEGUN ON MATAMORAS Constitutionalists Force of 650 Camped Within Five Miles of Border Town. Brownsville, Texas, May 31.—The march on Matamoras by constitutionalist forces is on. A force of 650 soldiers, headed by Col. Castro tonight is camped at a ranch five miles northwest of Matamoras, arriving there at six o'clock this afternoon. The ranch is the property of J. H. Fernandez of Brownsville who was notified immediately upon their arrival of the occupation of the place by the constitutionalists. General Lucio Blanco broke camp at Rio Bravo early this morning and tonight is occupying the Soledad ranch twenty-three miles west of Matamoras, being reported by his representative here to have 1300 mounted men. He is to be joined shortly by Col. Clemente Gutierrez with two hundred men who are en route from Tula in the south of Tamaulipas.

STRANGE SUICIDE PLAN BELIEVED BY POLICE. Philadelphia, May 29.—Alter W. Weiss, 55 years old, a clothing manufacturer, was found dead today sitting upright in his automobile in his private garage. Gas was escaping from a fixture in the garage and the police say Weiss undoubtedly committed suicide.

NEW ROUTE TO LAKE IS NOW NEARLY COMPLETED Will Be Ready for Traffic Within Short Time—Is Well-Suited Roadway. Within ten days there will be a greatly improved roadway to Lake Wichita. This roadway will follow Tenth street to J. A. Kemp's residence, thence go south to the restricted residence district and will cross the present road at the Southern crossing. This road will pass through the factory addition and is expected to prove a popular "Scenic Wichita" route. County Commission Jackson had sent an ardent worker for this road, and has his teams at work on it and deserves a portion of the credit for its early completion.

TOY CANNON IS REMOVED FROM SMALL BOY'S STOMACH. Chicago, June 2.—Physicians removed a toy cannon yesterday from the stomach of six-year-old O'Shughes, three years old who swallowed it while celebrating Memorial day. The cannon was one and one-half inches long. Neither the child nor the toy suffered very much from the experience.

LOBBY INQUIRY TO BE SEARCHING NEW LUTHERAN CHURCH FINISHED

PRIVATE AFFAIRS OF EVERY MEMBER OF SENATE TO BE LAID CARE BEFORE PROBERS. INVESTIGATION OF BE MOST THOROUGH EVER UNDERTAKEN INTO BUSINESS CONNECTIONS SENATORS. Washington, May 31.—The most searching investigation ever undertaken into the private affairs and business connections of members of the United States Senate will be the outgrowth of the lobby investigation which will open Monday. President Wilson's recent declaration that a powerful lobby is at work against the tariff forms the basis of the inquiry, but questions prepared tonight by the committee to be asked of each member of the Senate are such as to carry the inquiry far outside of tariff matters. Each senator will be required to tell, under oath if he has any interest in any matter affected by any bill now before Congress, or that has been before the Senate during his term and whether he has ever tried to influence another senator's vote for a measure in which was interested. Subcommittee Chairman Overman tonight said the questions would require a statement by each senator as to any business interest he may have had that would be affected by tariff, currency or other legislation. Many members of the Senate are openly associated with manufacturing and other corporations and interests and under the questions of the committee they probably will be required to give such connections in detail if the tariff would affect their business in any way. Senator Overman tonight issued an appeal for public aid in the hearings. "We invite the public to give us any information they may have in regard to a lobby," he said. "The committee wants to go into this matter as fairly as can be. The committee wants to get the facts fully. We will not ask the president to come before the committee. What the president wishes to do in the water the committee will leave to his own good judgment. We hope to conclude the inquiry in ten days as specified in the resolution. It is our purpose to rush it as rapidly as possible not overlooking anything of importance that develops." The hearing will begin Monday morning at 10:30 a. m. before a subcommittee composed of senators Overman, Walsh, Cummings, Reed and Nelson. Mr. Overman will be chairman. The investigation will be conducted openly and members of the Senate will be called in alphabetical order.

COLQUITT ASKS INVESTIGATION INJURY TO TEXAS CITIZEN IN MEXICO AROUSES GOVERNOR TO ACTION

WAS DEFENDING WOMEN. M. I. Volght Reported Seriously Wounded by Two Mexican Soldiers at Xicotelenc. Austin, Texas, May 31.—Governor Colquitt late today sent telegrams to both Secretary of State Bryan and to Ambassador Wilson in Mexico City, asking for a thorough investigation of the reported injury of a Texas citizen here to have 1300 mounted men. He is to be joined shortly by Col. Clemente Gutierrez with two hundred men who are en route from Tula in the south of Tamaulipas.

NEWS OF ATTACK RECEIVED BY PARTNER. Arooused by the report that M. I. Volght, one of the best known Americans in northern Mexico, was severely injured in protecting his wife and sister, Miss O'Keith of Topeka, Kansas, from assault by two Mexican soldiers in his home at Xicotelenc in the state of Tamaulipas, John Warren of this city, a business associate and personal friend of Mr. Volght, has sent urgent telegrams to Senator Culberson and Gov. Colquitt demanding protection for the women and an official investigation of the outrage. The following telegram was sent to Senator Culberson: "Press dispatches report serious injury of my business associate, M. I. Volght by soldiers while trying to protect his wife and sister by these scoundrels in his own home. Can't hear direct from him. Please appeal to State Department in my behalf for particulars through consulate at Tampico and for protection for these American ladies, now defenseless since their protector has fallen. In God's name how much longer are we to suffer and endure these indignities?"

NEGRO TALKS TOO MUCH, COST IS FIVE DOLLARS

Says He is Second-Timer—One Prisoner Beats Arresting Officer to the Jail

George Taylor, colored, was before Justice Howard this morning, charged with vagrancy. He pleaded guilty. With the desire in mind to temper justice with mercy if worthiness was shown, Judge Howard asked of the officers and others present, "What do you know about this nigger?" Before anyone else could answer, the prisoner spoke up, "Why, you ought to know me, Judge—I was up here before and you fined me for being drunk. Don't you remember I paid you the money?"

"Oh, you have been in this court before, have you?" inquired the judge. "Well, I will just fine you five dollars and costs." Second offenders always get it a little bit harder than anybody else in this court. Now George wonders if he didn't talk too much.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Married Women as Teachers.

(From the Washington Post.)

The reason why the educational authorities want teachers who are unmarried is because they are able to give all their time and thought to their chosen work. When a teacher marries she naturally takes on increased responsibilities in her home. Unless her husband is able to afford servants, she must do the housework and mending. This, in itself, is a large sized job for any woman. The question is whether the teacher would attend to her duties in the school and neglect her husband and her home, or vice versa.

When the teacher becomes a mother it is necessary for her own sake, and especially for the sake of her child, that she give her personal attention to her home. If she keeps on teaching, her own home must suffer. Her husband must pay for a nurse or other servant to look after the baby and the home. Moreover, if the child should become ill, the mother would soon forget about classes at school and might frequently send a substitute. It is far better for the children in the schools and far better for youngsters in the homes that mothers should not be teachers.

A State's Revenue.

(From the Pittsburg Dispatch.) Minnesota presents a striking example of the advantages that may come to a state which does not proceed as soon as it has paid off its old debts to blow in a lot of new ones for such a round amount, say, $50,000,000. Its constitution permits it to invest its funds in municipal loans, and it is to this source that Minneapolis and St. Paul are looking for floating their bonds at 4 per cent.

Not only has Minnesota eschewed the temptation to rush into a big debt for some purpose believed to be popular, but she has conserved her financial resources. For instance, the state refused to follow the general example of selling lands granted by the government in aid of public schools. She has kept those lands and they have become very valuable, the income from them at present being about $2,000,000, while it is predicted to reach $5,000,000 in ten years. Iron ore royalties yielded the state $5,000,000 last year. The state auditor estimates that in forty years Minnesota will have a revenue without taxation of $200,000,000.

The Threatening Danger.

(From the Hamilton Herald.) The greatest danger that threatens our nation is in the fact that we have too many politicians in every walk of life and too few men with the courage of their convictions. In congress today there are men who were elected on account of their high character as well as their great ability, who simply haven't the courage to stand up to their principles and fight for the right when they must antagonize some political supporter or political leader. We need moral courage in the halls of congress and we need it in the pulpit. Preachers of the gospel are afraid to stand for purity except in a general way. They denounce the evil forces in the world, but are afraid to name the vehicles used to carry out wicked designs. And the editors of newspapers, too, write only what they think will please the powers that be. It is moral cowardice all along the line. The world needs men with the courage to do right, in politics, in religion and in business. The Herald would rather risk a man whose principles are bad than one who is a moral coward. A bad man may get right, but a coward can never be depended on. Some business men of this country will go into partnership with the devil himself in order to get trade. They are after the almighty dollar and will compromise everything to get it.

Underwood Blunder Repaired. (From the New York Tribune.) The senate finance committee yielded to the inevitable when it decided to strike out of the Underwood tariff bill the foolish provision allowing a 5 per cent discount on all duties imposed on goods coming to this country in American built and American owned vessels. The Tribune pointed out when the Underwood bill was being considered in the house of representatives that legislation of this sort would be a direct violation of our treaties with the chief maritime nations of the world and would inevitably lead to trade reprisals.

Since from 65 to 75 per cent. of the imports into the United States, under the new law will probably be untaxed, the slight benefit to American vessels from the proposed discount would not compensate for the diplomatic embarrassments and money losses sure to follow a trade war with the nations which are at present the best customers for American goods.

The idea of a differential in favor of American shipping is an old one and has been much favored by high protectionists and by advocates of a revival through legislative aid of the American merchant marine. But the framers of the McKinley and Dingley bills, who were in hearty sympathy with the purpose of a differential, had to admit the foolishness of cutting away the basis of reciprocal concessions on which most of our treaties of commerce rest.

SENATORS' DISREGARD OPERATORS' OBJECTIONS

Will Adhere to Original Plan of Vindicating Coal Fields in West Virginia

Washington, June 6.—Despite suggestions from coal operators that the visit of the Senate committee investigating the West Virginia coal strike situation "might undo all the work of the State authorities in suppressing disorder," the committee to-day determined to adhere to its original program to begin hearings at Charleston Tuesday, June 10.

C. C. Watts and Z. T. Vinson, representing the operators, suggested that an investigation in the field might lead to renewed disorders and even precipitate a general strike. "If you go down there now and flood Charleston and the court house grounds with these discontented men, all of these terrible conditions may break out again," said Watts. "There is a feeling down there even now," declared Vinson, "that the government of the United States is going to hold up the government and the authorities of the State and prevent them from preserving law and order."

"There ought to be no such feeling," Senator Borah told the two men emphatically. "There ought to be no idea that we are going there to paralyze the local authorities in their efforts to preserve the peace. This committee has no power to punish anybody. All we can do is ascertain the facts and make a report." Chairman Borah and Senator Swanson were not to be dissuaded, but Senator Shields was not satisfied that the committee go to Charleston. Senator Martine suggested that the advent of the committee would have a reassuring effect.

DESERTED "NAVY" IS SENT TO SCRAP HEAP.
Philadelphia, Pa., June 6.—Hatt's "navy" the converted yacht Ferritor, which has been at this post for more than a year left yesterday in two of a tug and it is said she will be sent to a scrap heap.
The little vessel was brought here for repairs and lay for months at the Philadelphia navy yard. Most of the crew deserted before this port was reached, but Admiral Watt, who was in command, stuck to his task three months, awaiting orders from the little West Indian republic. He, too, finally left the vessel.

To the Unknown
I strike a harp with muted strings
And chant a measure soft and low;
My muse melodiously sings:
Of heroes that men do not know,
O brave unknown! Oblivion deep
I probe to bring you fleeting fame,
And for at least a moment sweep
Aside the mists that hide each name.

Thou spouse of some bold sargeant,
Thou father of war waging girls,
Take these ephemeral bays I set
Upon thy hypothetical curls!
A wreath I give each trousered him,
Each "general's" spouse who heaves
no stones!

Thus each escapes that fate so grim,
Place with the Utterly Unknowns!

I single peaceful menfolk out
Whose wives so militant and fair
Have stormed fame's ramparts with a shout
And wave triumphant banners there.
I sing men lean, I sing men fat,
Yes, each of that fond, faneless clan
Named you, at least should grant he's that
"The harmless, necessary man!"

GWINN'S REPUTATION AS PROPHET GONE—MAY SUE.

Since The Times exposed the weakness of Chief of Police Gwinn as a weather prophet, the chief has become pretty hostile toward all reporters and all newspapers. He says he will sue The Times until he is black in the face unless it retracts every thing it ever said about him or the weather, either separately or in connection with each other. He says now that he never did say it would rain Tuesday night or any other night, that if he had said it would rain, it would have rained, and that he does not claim credit for the dew which did fall that night, and that he can prove an alibi on any other charge that can be brought against him. The chief says that when he sees The Times for injuring his reputation, it will take more than six cents to satisfy him.

GOVERNMENT TO AID IN FIGHT ON GRASSHOPPERS

Department of Agriculture Man Sent to Panhandle—Damage is Extensive

Washington, June 6.—"This looks like a grasshopper year," was the comment of Prof. F. M. Webster of the Bureau of Entomology, after the fourth outbreak of the invaders had been reported to him. The latest appearance of the "hoppers" is in Kansas, previous States afflicted being New Mexico, Idaho and California. The department of agriculture regards the New Mexico outbreak so serious that Harrison E. Smith, an expert in the division of forage insect investigation, has been ordered from Wellington, Kan. to the scene of trouble. He reported his arrival today at Amarillo, Texas. Further grasshopper raids in various parts of the country are looked for, although it is not believed by the officials here any of them will do any damage.

An army worm invasion reported today near St. Louis is giving the government's insect fighters considerable worry. Telegraphic instructions were sent to a department field agent to take immediate steps to combat the pests.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meets, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well."

One day I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women.

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness. It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy. Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it. It may be just the medicine you need.

CLAY COUNTY'S LIQUOR SENT IN SUPREME COURT

Case Against Texas Brewing Company Is Certified by Appellate Tribunal

Austin, Texas, June 6.—The supreme court of the State was asked to pass upon a certified question submitted in the case of the Texas Brewing Company, of Fort Worth. The case came up from Clay county and is the first of its kind that has been carried to the supreme court.

The Texas Brewing Company, it is charged, pursued the business of selling and offering for sale intoxicating liquor by soliciting orders therefor in Clay county during the years 1911-12. The brewing company, after Clay county had gone dry, mailed circulars, it is claimed, to various citizens in Clay county giving prices and soliciting orders for beer. Several orders were received, filled and shipped. Clay county now is suing to recover $3000 damages for the State and $4000 damages for the county, for license fee.

The question certified to the supreme court is whether the act of mailing circular letters in Fort Worth to citizens of Clay county soliciting orders without sending a personal representative into the county, constitutes pur suing business or occupation in Clay county of selling or offering for sale intoxicating liquors by selling or taking orders for liquor within the meaning of the act of the Legislature.

It is the contention of the attorneys for the defense that no sale was made in Clay county and numerous authorities are cited for the ruling that the sale takes place at the point of actual shipment, and not where the order is solicited. This would place the orders in Tarrant county and obviate any necessity for taking out a license in dry counties. It would also place the recent act of the Legislature regarding the shipment of liquor into dry territory subject to certain holdings to conform with the statutes.

Wichita Falls, Texas, June 6, 1913

The way to build cities is to secure manufacturing enterprises. Wichita Falls is securing the factories, and as a result is growing faster in both population and wealth than any city in Texas, excepting no city of more than 5,000 to 50,000 population.

Most of us will remain at home during the hot, dry, summer months but we will not complete at our work, back if only the Chataouqua lecturers will confine their lecturing dates to summer resorts.

Ex-Governor Hadley of Missouri is being urged to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for president. It is thought he is the man who can come nearest to reuniting the G. O. P. and it may be that he can accomplish that trick, but even then it does not necessarily follow that he will be the next president. Should Woodrow Wilson decide to accept a second nomination, and with the Democrats as well organized as they were in 1912, it would be easier to elect the Democratic ticket in 1916 than it was in 1912.

Attorney General Looney has ruled that C. O. D. liquor shipments into dry territory by an express company or railroad company makes such companies subject to a tax of $5,000 per year at each office where such deliveries are made, thus making the express or railway agents the only ones who can sell liquor in those towns and communities where local option has been voted. This may or may not be a good law. To us, it looks like the all local option territory has been turned into high license territory, provided the express companies who carry and deliver the packages of liquor are willing to pay the $5,000 annual tax. The only redeeming feature to the attorney general's interpretation of the law is that there will not be so many places where liquor can be secured in dry territory.

The editor of the Courier-Times me and talked yesterday with the man who takes more papers than he can read. He gets four of them and says he never subscribes for either one and does not intend to pay for them. One of them is the "Appeal to Reason" and he says it is the best one in the whole bunch; but it seems impossible for this to be true.—Tyler Courier-Times

And yet, there are a few people who wonder why it is that successful newspaper publishers require subscription to their publications paid in advance. There are only a few successful newspaper publishers. Most of them are too afraid of offending, and at the expiration of subscription dates continue to send the paper to the subscribers. In nine cases out of ten, the subscriber whose subscription has expired, appreciates the confidence the publisher has in him and comes for ward and pays up, but the tenth man refuses, and that knocks off the profit of the publishers.

HILL'S TRIBUTE TO LEE

The tribute to General Robert E. Lee paid him by Benjamin H. Hill may have appeared a time or two before in the columns of the Times, but as it is so good and so well deserved, it will not hurt to reproduce. Ever the eloquent Ben Hill could not find it in his wonderful power of speech to over-estimate the character and standing of a man like Robert E. Lee who in the humble opinion of this writer, was the greatest American who ever lived:

"When future historians come to survey the character of Lee, he will find him rising like a huge mountain above the undulating plane of human life, and he will have to lift his eyes toward heaven to catch its summit. He possessed every virtue of the great commanders without their vices. He was a God without hate, a friend without reproach, a Christian without hypocrisy, a man without guile. He was a Caesar without his ambition, a Frederick without his tyranny, a Napoleon without his selfishness, a Washington without his reward. He was obedient to authority as a servant, and loyal in authority as a true king. He was gentle as a woman in life, modest and pure as a virgin in thought, watchful as a Roman vestal virgin in duty. Submissive to law as Socrates, and grand in battle as Achilles."

ROBING DEATH OF ITS TERRORS Modern discoveries in science and the consequent increase in the general knowledge of the operation of the laws of the physical universe have contributed phenomenally to the conservation of human life as well as to the mitigation of suffering entailed by disease, both by the application of preventative measures and by remedial treatment. Likewise, a clearer conception of spiritual law and a closer acquaintance with the soul of divinity, largely the result of reasoning that has proceeded from these discoveries in the physical world, enlarging the vision, and supporting the spiritual insight of men of the past who gave their lives to rob death of its terrors. (The nightmare of hell that has hounded the ages of the past so paralyzed the faculties of the human mind as already been banished from intelligent thought, and the fear of "future punishment" is fast being displaced by a growing confidence in the all-mercy of a creator who reigns in a kingdom of love.

As an instance in point we cite the remarkable case of B. Sanders Walker, the Macon, Ga., banker, who with perfect composure faced death after intentionally swallowing poison. Throughout a week the doomed man talked calmly about his condition and just before passing into a state of coma, which ended in death, he said: "If this is death, then none need fear its terrors." He was indeed, dying, and had been lying for a week; but the process of dissolution was not attended by any of the terrors generally associated with the thought of death. "For this reason," says the New Orleans States, "his testimony ought to be gratifying to many thousands of men and women who could not bring themselves to believe similar declarations by medical scientists and others who have studied life and death together with all their phenomena. The case of Mr. Sanders, however, is proof that nature prepares both the mind and body for the final event in human existence, so that the dying pass away without fear of the change. There are exceptions, of course, as there are to every rule, but it is now demonstrated by actual experience and by scientific investigation that death is not the terrible thing, physically and mentally, that it is generally thought to be.

Aside from what science is doing in that direction, the religion that impresses man with the duty of lending his best efforts to the improvement of the conditions of this life as the easiest approach to death, is the soul of intelligent religion.—Houston Post.

PARIS WINS EASY GAME THURSDAY

KERR HOLDS LOCALS TO TWO HITS, BUT LOSES FINE RECORD

VISITORS HIT BALL HARD

Brady and Matthews Serve Shoots—Much to Parisians' Liking—Locals Field Poorly

Paris took the Drillers safely into camp yesterday, hitting the local ababmen hard, taking advantage of numerous misplays, and giving almost perfect support to one of the most brilliant pitching exhibitions ever witnessed in this league.

When Kerr of Paris faced Workman in the eighth inning yesterday afternoon, it had been thirty-eight innings since a run was scored on him. At the beginning of yesterday's game, his record was thirty-one innings and he added seven more yesterday. For thirty-eight innings, batters had faced him some of them had hit his shoots; some of them had gotten to first, to second, to third, on errors behind him; but in all those innings he had not seen one batter complete the circuit and cross home plate.

But this remarkable record could not last. Workman met one of the fast ones squarely and sent it far, far away, between right and center; the fielders raced for it, but before it could possibly be retrieved the local center fielder had driven his spikes in the home plate and the record was broken.

Only One Reaches Second.

Workman was the only Driller to reach second base. Of the eight who reached first base one walked, two were hit, two got hits, and three got there on force-outs. Dupuy's single in the ninth was the only hit beside Workman's; just twenty-one Drillers faced Kerr in the first seven innings.

While the locals were being mowed down, Paris batters were having things pretty much their own way, with Wichita Falls' pitchers. Brady, the Baylor product, started, but was not allowed to finish the first inning. Three runs had been counted on him, one being a homer, by Dalley, but his main trouble was the indifferent fielding behind him. Matthews, who reached first, forced the better work of the Parisians counted thirteen hits during the game. These, aided by lax and loose fielding by the locals, netted eight scores. The locals played dumbly and helplessly for the most part; at times there would be a bit of clever fielding, and no men were nearly nabbed behind by fast work, but the exhibition, taken as a whole was not the kind to enthrall. It was the same sort of stuff they dished out at the start of the season. Come out of it, bunch.

Brown was in center field for the locals and distinguished himself by pulling in three drives that had two and three base labels on them; Workman and Kizfarr each nabbed a fly that looked dangerous and in saying things about the fielding, it must be understood that the outfield is distinctly not included.

Wichita Falls never had a bare chance to score, except on Workman's sixinning drive. Occasionally a batter would reach first, but Tris Speaker Workman was the only one to get to second; and he didn't tarry very long in that vicinity.

How They Scored.

Paris made enough in the first inning to win. Harper was safe when Nicholson had to leave the bag to get Nevitt's throw and took second on a passed ball. White was an infield out; Mathis beat out a grounder the Nevitt might have fielded in time and Harper scored on another passed ball. Dalley lifted one over left field fence, sending Mathis around ahead of him. Weber singled. Then Brady went to the bench and Matthews quickly retired the side on two pop-ups.

In the third, Nagle, singled and scored on Robinson's two bagger.

We don't love Paris, but we venture this prediction. The team that beats that bunch will win the pennant. We have customers to come into the store every day who say, "That shoe you sold me certainly is solid comfort. The first day I wore it it felt just like an old shoe." Do you know when your foot is fit with a shoe that feels like that, that it doubles the life of a shoe? We are not satisfied with a sale that merely gets your money and we won't have it that way. The shoe must fit, must be the kind of stock for the service you are going to give it, and the style to suit your individual taste. If we sell you we expect to make you a friend, not an enemy. We are trying to fill that kind of place in your shoe world. We know the Selz shoe is the shoe to fill this place. If we do our part we know we will get your future shoe business. Come in and try us once and you will come again. Selz means satisfaction guaranteed.

and his work seemed to satisfy all around. If he gave Wichita Falls the best of anything, nobody noticed it. It was too bad Kerr's remarkable record had to be broken, but Workman is the man to do that sort of thing. Paris has an infield that looks like Class A material. It works like a clock. Kerr and Mathews, yesterday's opposing pitchers, are an exceptionally small pair. Each is just about as big as a minute, but one of them at least, can pitch ball. Dupuy looks pretty good on third and he talks 'em up in a way that sounds good. He got one of the two hits yesterday. They can't pitch Kerr every day and Wichita Falls is entitled to two out of three in this series.

But play, heady, consistent ball every day. Despite Byron of the National's snafu of empiric pulls some of the weirdest third base decisions we've ever lamped. Tinker has certainly shaken up those Reds. Peckinpaugh should steady Chance's infield. Robinson refuses to listen to reason. Joe Tinker insists on keeping Boston out of last place. Hal Chase's re-entrance into matrimony proves he's a glutton for punishment and one game guy. With Stovall back the Browns are showing their old time form, and losing with customary regularity. The Pirates waited until Brooklyn was reached to shake off their lethargy, arise and smite the mighty N.Y. is still the manager of what's left of the Cubs. You've got a hard time Fletcher. The sometime Giant shortstop seldom makes an error unless it means the loss of a game. The task of heading off the Athletics seems to have shifted from the shoulders of the Senators to Joe Birmingham's Naps. The only reason everyone seems to have confidence in the ultimate return to form of the Pirates is because of one Hans Waggoner. The Cubs having won a few games at home, it appears up to Mr. Murphy to reclaim that pennant by a least twenty games. By gazing at the club standing in the big leagues one can readily understand why Joe Tinker and Frank Chance are such firm friends. We know just about what McGraw said when his Giants dropped; car recent double header to the Boston Braves, but we can't print it. Some of the queerest names break into the big league box scores these days. Detroit now exhibits a recruit pitcher named Zambo.

EXHIBITION OF PATHFINDER CAR MAY BE GIVEN HERE.

O. N. Crawford of Fort Worth, accompanied by Mrs. Crawford and a chauffeur, are registered at the St. James. Mr. Crawford is state agent for the Pathfinder car, and has two cars with him—one a five passenger touring car and the other a racer. The racer is one of the trimmest cars ever seen here. It looks like it could leap a fence. It is capable of making eighty-five miles per hour, but neither Mr. Crawford nor his chauffeur have ever let it out to see what it could do, for they are afraid to try it. They are looking for a good stretch of hard level road near Wichita Falls and if such a road can be found will give an exhibition here. The car is so long that it is not safe to make high speed on a half mile track with it. The car has attracted a great deal of attention since the arrival of Mr. Crawford. The boys at the Motor Inn say they chain this racer down at night to keep it from prancing around over the other machines.

SUPPOSED HOLD UP MAN INJURED HAS NOT BEEN LOCATED

CALLS TO HUNTERS TO STOP, IS KNOCKED DOWN WITH SHOT-GUN

J. D. Hurley and W. S. Malone Accidentally When Supposed Robber Accosts Them

J. D. Hurley and W. S. Malone believe that an attempt was made to hold them up last night. Acting on that presumption at the time, they hit a man over the head with a shot-gun, and left him lying in the road while they came to town to look for officers.

Hurley and Malone were out driving and had a shotgun with which to shoot rabbits. Shortly after they crossed the bridge across the Wichita river, a man ran out of the weeds by the roadside, and calling to them to stop, ran toward the horse's head. Believing that it was a holdup, Malone cocked the gun and started to shoot him. Hurley grabbed the gun, and leaped from the buggy, with the intention of doing the shooting himself if it became necessary. In his excitement he jerked the plunger, not knowing the gun was cocked and this discharged the only cartridge there was in the gun.

The hold-upper stranger did not stop, but rushed at Hurley, with the gun held close enough, Hurley hit him over the head with the shotgun, knocking him down. The man then began to plead, and offered apologies for his strange action, explaining that he was drunk, and did not know what he was doing. Hurley and Malone left him lying by the roadside, and came back to town for officers. When officers reached the scene they were unable to find any trace of the supposed highwayman.

Mr. Malone says the man was a white man of about middle age and rather roughly dressed. He could not say whether he was a large or small man. At the time he ran toward the buggy he had his hands in his pockets and at no time did he exhibit a gun or other weapon.

UNFAIR TO THE DRUGGIST: The Old Joke About "Something Just as Good" Doesn't Apply to This Drug Store

You have probably heard dozens of times the old story that a drug store was a place to "get something just as good." There is at least one druggist in the world that you can't say this about. It is certain that an inferior article will never be substitute for a guaranteed one by Miller Drug Store. Take for instance a safe, reliable remedy for constipation and liver trouble like Dodson's Liver Tonic. This harmless vegetable liquid has proved so satisfactory a liver stimulant and reliever of biliousness, and to entirely take the place of calomel without any danger or restriction of habits or diet, that there are dozens of preparations springing up with imitations of its claims. But Dodson's Liver Tonic is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it, and if you are not satisfied with it, Miller Drug Store will hand your money back with a smile. Any person going to this store for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic will be sure of getting a large bottle of this genuine remedy in exchange for his half dollar.

SUFFRAGETTES CONTINUE CAMPAIGN IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, June 5.—In continuation of their campaign with Congress, members of the Congressional Union of the National American Woman Suffrage Association announced that active work would begin in every Congressional district in the United States for the advancement of the "cause." Bands of workers in each district will be formed so that whether at home or in Washington unsympathetic Congressmen will have with them advocates of a constitutional amendment giving the ballot to women.

Miss Agnes Paul, chairman of the Congressional union, declared that the work of the organization already had begun. The suffragists propose to make themselves felt in Congressional circles.

THREE SISTERS BECOME BRIDES

UNUSUAL WEDDING TAKES PLACE IN THIS CITY THURSDAY NIGHT

ONE CEREMONY IS USED

Justice of the Peace Brothers Ties Triple Knot—Parties Live in Burk Burnett Vicinity

Justice W. E. Brothers officiated at the triple wedding last evening, at which time three sisters became brides, all with one ceremony. The ceremony was performed at the Fred Gertz Jr. home at 905 Lamar.

Justice Brothers feels that he has made a record seldom equalled in officiating at this triple ceremony, and such instances are very rare. The three bridal couples had a group picture taken this morning and presented one to the Times.

The contracting parties in this wedding all live at Burk Burnett. They left today for their homes at that place, after having spent the night at the Gertz home. The following are the couples married: Willard McReynolds and Myrtle E. Hodges. John H. Bivens and Dora M. Hodges. Walter Hahn and Sallie Belle Hodges.

The members of the Gertz family were the only witnesses of the ceremony. The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hodges who have resided at Burk Burnett six years, coming from Erath county. Mrs. McReynolds is twenty years old, Mrs. Hahn, is eighteen and Mrs. Bivens seventeen.

WANTS SEWER EXTENDED TO NEW SOUTH ADDITION

City Council Considers Proposition From R. E. Huff—Other Matters Receive Attention

The city council last night reaffirmed its former decision not to order the charter elections at present, and this important matter will go over until fall. The adoption of the charter now could not affect the tax rate for this year and it was decided best to wait.

Administration to meet these payments, but said that if Mr. Huff wanted to run the risk of a council being elected that would not pay him, the council could agree to have the work done.

The same plan was adopted when the Floral Heights sewer was built, the company proceeding on the apparently safe assumption that the people would not elect councilmen who would not stand by the city's moral obligations, even though the debts were without standing in law.

The council ordered two new ledgers for the city treasurer, in line with the recommendations of A. E. Myles, the auditor who recently went over the city's books. A request from residents of Mississippi, Barwise and other streets in that part of the city, for sewer extensions, was received and referred to the sewer committee. The council did not seem disposed to have sewer work pushed during the summer months on account of the heat being so severe upon men working in deep trenches. Auditing of reports and other routine matters occupied the remainder of the time of the council last evening.

May Change Hours. A good suggestion has been made in regard to changing morning services during the summer, and one which we would do well to consider and perhaps adopt after we have given it due consideration. The suggestion is that we begin our teaching service at nine o'clock promptly on Sunday morning and begin the preaching service at 10 o'clock promptly, closing both services at 11 o'clock, before the time of the intense heat of the day.

The idea would be to merge the teaching service into the preaching service, only giving an opportunity for the smallest children to leave if it is necessary for them to do so. In this way we should have a better attendance and we should be able to make those who attend more comfortable. Let us all think about the change and we will discuss it at both the teaching and preaching service next Sunday. If all are in favor of the change we will change the hour of service on Sunday, June 16th, Wichita Baptist. Drs. Kearby and Kearby, dentists, office over Morris' drug store. 7 1/2 and not price should rule in drug buying or rather quality regardless of price. You would not buy any more compound cathartic pills at fifteen cents the bushel than you would at ten cents the dozen. If your child was sick you would not endanger its life and health to save a dollar. Cheap drugs are dangerous and to sell them is crime.

 We buy the best because we had rather satisfy our conscience than our cash register. We know there is a standard of excellence and a degree of success the magnitude of which can not be measured by dollars and cents. Let us help your faithful physician pull the patient through.

When the Gibson House Burned swept through the fire-proof skyscraper of the Union Trust Company devouring nearly every thing within its reach that was not fire-proof. The office on the eleventh floor, indicated by the arrow, was almost completely gutted and which stood next the window received the brunt of the fire. This cabinet preserved its contents unharmed as shown by the oval illustration.

This is only one of the long list of conclusive demonstrations of the supremacy of THE SAFE-CABINET among modern fire-resisting devices. We should be pleased to give you the record of some interesting fire tests to which THE SAFE-CABINET has recently been subjected.

DIVINE ATTRIBUTES
 Love and respect for those who have departed this life are two of the higher attributes that distinguish us from the lower animals. We erect beautiful and lasting MEMORIALS to commemorate the life and death of those we hold dear, because of this DIVINE emotion we are pleased to call LOVE, yet no words in any of the love or dead languages can encompass or express the things of the heart, or the thoughts and emotions that make of us more than beings of less intelligence. There is a distinction between frailty and robust health, between wisdom and ignorance, between morality and immorality, but there is no distinction between LOVE and MEMORY. That which clothes in a mantle of charity and wreathes in forget-me-nots. We express these divine emotions as nearly as the human hand and loving hearts can, with our LASTING MEMORIALS.

BURNS LIGHT FIFTY YEARS FOR DEAD SWEETHEART.
 Amsterdam, N. Y., June 6.—Miss Julia Frank, 73, better known as "Mother Frank" is dead at her home in West Stony Creek. She adopted and reared ten children and for forty years had attended Memorial day services in this village when she decorated the graves of every soldier buried here.
 Miss Frank's sweetheart, a soldier in the Union army, was killed in the battle of Bull Run and for more than fifty years she has kept a light burning in her window in anticipation of his return. She never accepted as authentic the report of his death. The farm where she has spent her life is bequeathed to an unmarried sister, on condition that the light be kept burning for the soldier.
 Fowlerton — Active construction work on Fowlerton's water works system has started and the contract has been let for the erection of a $12,500 public school building. Local citizens have subscribed for a $2,500 natatorium.
