BURNETT TRIAL TESTIMONY IN

BOTH STATE AND DEFENSE CLOS-ED EVIDENCE THIS AFTER-NOON

BURNETT ON THE STAND

Defendant Tells Story of the Killing—
Arguments Start Tomorrow

Special to the Times.
Seymour, Texas, July 24.—Captain
S. B. Burnett took the witness stand this morning in his own behalf to tell the story of the killing of Farley Sayers for whose killing he is being tried on a charge of murder. He was on the stand nearly two hours and told his story without hesitation.

It was time for the noon recess
when his direct examination was finished and the defense then announced that it rested.

Captain Burnett recited how words had been brought to him, of many threats made against his life by Sayers
and that he had carried a revolver
since the Fort Worth Cattleman's convention in 1912 when Sayers
had threatened his life there.

He testified that he did not know Sayers was in Paducah on the day of the killing until he went into the wash room and found Sayers there. He testified that Sayers made a motion
for his hip pocket and that he shot him.

Other witnesses testified at the morning session that a 25-calibre
automatic was found in Sayers' pocket
after he was killed.

At the opening of the afternoon session the State placed Mrs. Sayers, the widow of the man Burnett killed on the stand. She testified to having been in Fort Worth except two hours on the morning they arrived. Several other witnesses and depositions were offered in rebuttal and both the State and the defense announced closed.

Court adjourned until 8:30 in the morning when the arguments will start.

Mr. Richards, banker of Paducah, was the first witness this morning
and testified that he heard the shot
that killed Sayers while in the bank, and went to the hotel across the street immediately and met Burnett
in the lobby of the hotel, who told him that he had to kill Sayers; that Sayers made a play for his gun and he shot him. Burnett told Richards to get the gun of Sayers. He was present when Ed Russell took the 25
automatic revolver from Sayers' pocket.

Dr. C. F. Johnson, physician of Seymour, was used as an expert witness in regard to firearms. He testified that black powder used in a 45-Caliber pistol would powder burn
a distance of five or six feet and burn
clothing not exceeding four feet.

E. T. Parrish of Haskell, traveling salesman, was in the Goodland Hotel at the time of the shooting. His testimony was about the same as Mr.
Allen who testified yesterday.

Jim Barkley of Guthrie, testified as follows: "I was a brother-in-law of the defendant; was with Burnett on the day of the killing. He did not see Sayers and party enter the hotel; that a few minutes before the killing Pickett came across the lobby from the fire place and said to Burnett, 'Old man, let's wash up and get ready to dinner.' He did not go to the wash room with him but went immediately after the shot was fired. Burnett was not in very good health at the time and had been complaining that morning. Sayers' name had not been mentioned in his presence; that he was not sitting with him and Burnett immediately
prior to shooting.

Bud Barron, ex-sheriff of Cottle county, testified that he was in the hotel talking with Burnett about five minutes before the shooting and told Burnett of threats made by Sayers about the defendant the day before in Matador. That Burnett told him that John George had ridden 25 miles that day before to tell of threats made by Sayers and Sayers seemed determined to kill him. Sayers' general reputation was bad and he considered him
a very dangerous man.

Pictures of the wash room were introduced as evidence, showing the general location and the abrasion
made by the bullet.

A thirty minutes recess was ordered.

GERMANS RAID BRITISH COAST AND LAND TROOPS

Cherished Belief of British Admiralty Upset Driving Maneuvers of British Fleet

By Associated Press.
London, July 24.—Germans represented by the "Red" fleet in the annual maneuvers of the British navy
in British waters raided the east coast of Great Britain this morning and landed troops. After the German warships had defeated the defending fleet four transports ran the blockade and upset the cherished belief of the British admiralty that the British Isles were invulnerable from attack.

Carranza claims to have the federal check-mate or their troops bottled
up. The constitutionalists are reported to have had a force of 8,000 men and the federal 3,000 at Torreón.

COPPER MINERS STRIKE TIE-UP IS COMPLETE

Stamp Mills and Mines in Lake Superior Copper District Are Forced to Shut Down

By Associated Press.
Calumet, Mich., July 24.—Stamp
mills and mines are shut down in the Lake Superior copper district today because of the miner's strike. The tie up is complete with the exception of the smelters, some of which can operate for a week longer.

A large body of strikers went from one shaft to another last night and several employees were attacked with stones and painfully injured. A large number of deputies have been sworn in and it is believed they can control
the situation.

Strike violence occasioned by the walkout of the copper miners got beyond the control of Sheriff Crume and his force of deputies today and he wired Governor Ferris asking that state troops be dispatched here.

The local military company has been ordered out.

Three hundred miners divested of their shirts all the deputies placed at the shafts and at the Calumet-Helm mine several men were badly hurt in an attack by the strikers.

Two Train Service at 3-Cent Fare or
One Train Service at Two Cents

C. L. Fontaine, general passenger agent and Nat. L. Inge, assistant passenger agent of the Wichita Falls Route are in Oklahoma today circulating petitions along the line in an effort to find out whether the patrons of the road prefer a two train service at the old passenger rate of three cents a mile, or a one train service at the two cent rate. The petitions will be presented to the railroad commission at Oklahoma City next Monday.
A phone message from Mr. Fontaine said that people in the towns were signing the petitions to continue the two train service as fast as they could be seen.

CORRESPONDENCE BY PHONOGRAPH LATEST

Paris, July 24.—Correspondence by phonograph today is the very latest improvement in business circles here.
The record is made on a square of prepared cloth, which can be mailed in an ordinary envelop, and is said to reproduce the voice of the sender with great accuracy. The cost of the complete outfit, including the machine for transmitting and receiving and a supply of the cloth squares, is from fifty to sixty dollars. Many big business houses have adopted the plan, as well as have scores of legal offices. It is argued that it saves the expense of a stenographer and the time it would take for transcribing the stenographic notes on a typewriter.

This Picture Shows What Sort Of Trouble Mexican Government Has

RAILROAD DESTROYED
By MEXICAN GUERRILLAS

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, July 23.—News
from the northern section of the country where the guerrillas are most numerous show why foreign governments are protesting against conditions. The bands of guerrillas have destroyed so much railroad track that transportation is demoralized. Passenger traffic to the north is practically suspended. Whenever the guerrillas commit depredations they burn
and tear up track to prevent pursuit, and as a result trains are run at rare intervals and many branch lines have been abandoned. Workmen can repair the tracks only when guarded by troops, and the troops are busy trying to find the marauders.

cated in Clay county, 13 miles northeast of this city, for a total consideration of $20,000 or $50 per acre.

This 400-acre tract adjoins 1187 acres owned by Mr. Shumake, which makes in all 1587 and 610 acres of land that he owns in one body, and is considered as fine farming land as is in Texas.

A few months ago Mr. Roof sold this farm to Mr. Kell and his associates for about $35 per acre.

SHIPMENTS FROM OTHER STATES

SENATOR WESTBROOK WOULD ASK GOVERNOR TO SUBMIT
AMENDMENT TO ALLISON
BILL

AN EFFECTIVE DROUTH

Senator Would Have Allison Bill Apply
to Interstate Shipments as Well
as Intrastate

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, July 24.—The disposition of the Standard Oil fine is still causing debate in the House. The question was opened on the introduction of Willacy's Senate bill providing for the refunding of the A. & M.
bonds to the amount of $205,000 and the use of the balance of the money
to purchase school district bonds.
The bill was finally ordered printed.

A resolution introduced by Twelvetyn censuring the governor for his reference in his general message to the congressional tariff bill as it related to the sugar schedule was debated at the opening of the session.

Darwin introduced a blue sky bill
as submitted by the governor in a special message yesterday.

A majority of the commission on federal relations favorably reported the Hudspeth resolution with reference to the Mexican situation.

Senator Westbrook introduced a resolution asking the governor to submit the Allison liquor bill in order that it might be amended to apply to interstate as well as intrastate shipments of liquor.

The Westbrook resolution on the Allison bill was passed by a vote of 16 to 11. It asked that the governor submit the Allison bill to the legislature for amendment in such a way that under the Webb law the shipment of liquor into dry territory might be prohibited.

The Hudspeth resolution was adopted. The resolution calls on the democrats of Congress to make good their platform pledges for the protection of Americans in Mexico.

WILSON'S PART IS ATTACKED

SEN. WORKS SAYS PRESIDENT'S INFLUENCE IN TARIFF LEGIS-LATION MAY DISRUPT
REPUBLIC

HE VIEWS WITH ALARM

Encroachment of Executive Upon Congress and Criticizes Binding
Action of Caucus

By Associated Press.
Washington, July 24.—Senator Works attacking the tariff bill today
charged that President Wilson exceeded his authority by aiding in the framing of the bill "and using his powerful influence to have it passed in the form approved by him and known to have his approval."

The senator also assailed the Democratic caucus which he declared forced a senator to forgo his conscientious convictions and vote with his party or come into disfavor and be branded as a betrayer of his party.

Senator Works said he did not doubt but that the president acted from the purest motives but feared that the great power would legislation might fall into unworthy hands and that revolution may follow and this beneficent government of ours
be disrupted.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE PRACTITIONER ACQUIRED

Canon City, Texas, July 24.—The Jury Tuesday afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Mrs. Edna Henson, the Christiana Science practitioner, charged with unlawfully practicing medicine in Randall county without first complying with the laws regulating the practice of medicine. The case was hotly contested. The state had completed its case last night, using only three witnesses. The principal prosecution witness, W. H. Lehman, testified that Mrs. Henson treated his brother, Dan Lehman, for paralysis; that he paid $5 per week for this treatment, but that the defendant had not fixed any charge, merely saying she would accept this amount.

Witness said his brother recovered
the use of both body and mind and that no drugs were used. Mrs. Henson testified that she used only prayers in Lehman's treatment and that her readings to him were no part of the treatment, but intended to aid him to know the truth. She said she received money, but that she had never asked for it, never presented a bill and said it was not customary to charge for treatment in Texas. She declared she would have treated Lehman had she not received any money.

MAURY NOT SATISFIED OIL SUIT SETTLEMENT

Houston, Texas, July 24.—Richard G.
Maury, Criminal District Attorney of Harris County, and who assisted in the prosecution of the recently settled oil suits, and immediately issued a statement for the newspapers in which he says that he is dissatisfied with the compromise made by the Attorney General.

His brief statement in connection with the case is as follows:
"I think the settlement of the Magnolia Petroleum Company suit was ill advised. The State had made a good case against all of the defendants, and the settlement was in the face of evidence. By what I am saying, I do not mean to reflect on Mr. Looney, because he, in my opinion, is a good man
but I think the criticisms of the settlement from certain sources influenced him
to make the settlement."

"I do not believe in compromising suits. If they are guilty they ought anti-trust suits. If they are guilty they ought to be punished; if they are not guilty they should not be mulcted
in penalties."

Oil Lamps Typify Simplicity of President Wilson's Summer Home

By Burton K. Standish.
(Written for the United Press)
Windsor, Vt., July 23.—President Lincoln studied by candle light and wrote some of his messages to congress by the light of a smoking oil lamp. If, after President Wilson comes here for his vacation, he decides to spend some of his evenings writing his next message to congress, he will have to do it either by oil lamp or candle light.

White is a simple, dignified man who appears to know his business, and his wife is a mighty fine woman. His daughters appear to be first rate girls and Miss Jessie's beau, who was up here visiting when the president was, looks to be considerable of a man. That's the way the natives up here look at it. Down in their hearts they are mighty proud of the president's selection of their town as a summer "capital," and there is every evidence that, although some of them voted the republican or progressive tickets, they all have been very favorably impressed with President Wilson. But, it would be foreign to their nature to let any one think for a minute that they are "all set up" about having President Wilson for a neighbor.

Everybody who lives here has a list of dead and gone ancestors who used to live here themselves. About the newest resident is the soda clerk in the corner drug store—there are two of them here who are college men. He blew in about three years ago, got the staying fever and stuck.

Windsor is three miles by New England roads from Cornish, Vt. The natives are not at all frustrated over having a president and his family for neighbors. There were quite a few at the station when the president recently visited Mrs. Wilson and his daughters, but they always go to the station to meet the two daily trains. They gave President Wilson a hearty and cordial welcome to their village, but that was all. As soon as the train pulled out they went back to their work. When the president recently visited his family to church one Sunday while he was here the staid old Vermonters weren't a whit "fusscd."

They took it as a matter of course that the president of the United States was a church-goer, and let it go at that. Many of them casually hung around after church to shake his hand, but it was all done in the same way they would greet any other resident who wasn't a president.

As one native put it, "Mister Wilson is a nice, simple looking man who appears to know his business, and his wife is a mighty fine woman. His daughters appear to be first rate girls and Miss Jessie's beau, who was up here visiting when the president was, looks to be considerable of a man. That's the way the natives up here look at it. Down in their hearts they are mighty proud of the president's selection of their town as a summer "capital," and there is every evidence that, although some of them voted the republican or progressive tickets, they all have been very favorably impressed with President Wilson. But, it would be foreign to their nature to let any one think for a minute that they are "all set up" about having President Wilson for a neighbor.

Everybody who lives here has a list of dead and gone ancestors who used to live here themselves. About the newest resident is the soda clerk in the corner drug store—there are two of them here who are college men. He blew in about three years ago, got the staying fever and stuck.

Windsor is in a valley between the foothills of the White Mountains. It is noted for its climate, a great deal of which has been apparent since the president's family got here. The temperature for this period in climbing around the ninety during the day and eighty at night, while the enthusiastic postmaster and the town tailor swore that it was the hottest year in their history.

The roads leading from Windsor, up through the hills and down into the valley, are old, winding roads that creep through bluffs and hollows and swing across the Connecticut river and the ponds that dot the neighborhood. All the bridges were built by another generation with covered roofs, also nearly all of them have toll gates, well guarded by toll keepers. In Windsor there are houses built during the revolution and before. Lafayette stopped overnight once at the only hotel in the town—the rooms, the famous Frenchman used hasn't been made a sacred place by any means. It's a front room and brings fifty cents more than the back room. The "Constitution House," where Vermont set up its own capital in 1827, when it decided that it would secede from the United States, following the famous "railroad riots," still stands. This isn't any mecca, either. It's used as a store room.

No efforts have been made to keep the roads hereabouts in very good condition. The president's few motor trips while he was here were taken over roads which are either ankle deep in dust or a morass of mud, according to the weather. There isn't anything within a radius of 100 miles except the mountains and woods. Harlakenden house sets back a mile from the road, behind a thick grove of birches that shed a soft perfume over the whole place. Behind it, looking down from the broad veranda at nightfall, the Connecticut river can be seen flowing through the valley below, at the foot of great tree covered hills which rises ruggedly to a height of five to six hundred feet. The Connecticut river itself is not much to look upon. It can be viewed at most any point in this section, and it is filled with green weeds and refuse bits of drift wood.

Postmaster General Burleson's Plan For Extending Parcels Post

Postmaster General Burleson has been summoned before the Senate postoffice committee to tell by what authority he proposes to extend the parcels post service into the domain of the express companies.

Mr. Burleson had announced a reduction in parcels post rates to become effective August 15. It is believed that the summoning of Burleson is the first step in an attack upon the parcels post. The changes proposed by Mr. Burleson include an increase from eleven to twenty pounds in the maximum weight of parcels and a material reduction in the postage rates in the first and second zones. The parcel post map is to be abandoned as a means of computing rates and a rate chart individualized to every postoffice in the United States, substituted.

The plans also contemplate the purchase of a large number of automobiles to be used exclusively for the delivery of parcel post matter.

While, for the present, the maximum weight limit of twenty pounds will be applied to the first and second zones, from any given postoffice—a distance of about one hundred and fifty miles—the changes directed toward a complete first long step towards a universal extension of the system and a general reduction in the rates of postage on parcel matter.

"It is my expectation and belief," said Postmaster General Burleson, "that eventually the postal service will handle practically all of the small package transportation business in the United States. The maximum weight limit, extended now from eleven to twenty pounds, I expect to see increased to one hundred pounds. In the making of extensions and reductions of rates, it is necessary for us to proceed with caution so as to afford ample opportunity to prepare for the increased business. For that reason we have made the changes proposed apply only to the first and second zones. I appreciate fully the sentiment for an increase in the weight limit and a reduction in rates to all zones, but it is necessary for us, in a sense, to feel our way."

Mr. Burleson announced the changes as follows: "The first zone will include the territory within the local delivery or office and the first zone rate of postage will apply to all parcel post mail deposited at any office for local delivery or for delivery by city carrier or on rural routes emanating from that postoffice. "The second zone will include the remainder of what is now the first zone, with the present second zone, and will include all the units of area located in whole or in part within a radius of approximately 150 miles from any given postoffice.

The rate of postage on parcels weighing in excess of four ounces in the first zone will be reduced from five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound or fraction to five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional two pounds or fraction thereof. The rate for the second zone will be reduced to five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional two pounds or fraction thereof up to twenty pounds."

Statistics collected by the department show that one-third of the total number of parcels mailed are handled within the proposed first and second zones, and the postmaster general believes the increase in the weight limit and the reduction of the rates of postage in the first and second zones, as proposed will benefit greatly more than one-third of the public.

Hawthorne is serving a term of a year and a day for fraudulent stock operations.

BARGEMEN SIGN ANTI-SWEARING PLEDGE

They Will "Endeavor" to Use No Stronger Expletive Than "Tut! Tut!"

London, July 24.—Pledging themselves to "endeavor not to use any stronger expletives than the Wilsonian 'tut! tut!'" the bargemen of the River Swale met here today to organize a brotherhood for the purpose of putting an end to the slur cast upon their characters by the oft-repeated phrase, "he swore like a bargeman."

Sixty-seven of these inveterate users of curse words have already signed the constitution, which also prescribes that every member shall say his prayers at least once a day and shall attend church on Sundays whenever ashore. "We employed the word 'endeavor' advisedly in framing the pledge," said the Rev. A. B. Perry-Evans, vicar of Sittingsbourne, who started the organization, and who is known as the "Bargemen's Bishop," "as swearing has always hitherto been considered an indispensable feature of the bargemen's picturesque vocabulary. The terms he has been in the habit of using to relieve his feelings have meant no more to him than the mild expressions President Wilson is credited with when he makes a bad stroke at golf, but the practice will doubtless be just as hard to break off. So far no serious violations of the pledge have been reported to me, and members are constantly joining the brotherhood."

"It's no easy job," remarked one of the charter members, "to change your language all of a sudden. Some of the boys don't dare open their mouths."

If Ambassador Wilson is to be freed when he reaches Washington, he had better make his trip as long as possible. Toque Herald.

That is what he is doing. Instead of taking the short cut from Havana across to Florida, he is coming by way of New York. It is also rumored that the ambassador received a gentle tip before leaving Mexico City that it would be unnecessary for him to purchase a round trip ticket.

If your wife is away on a visit and you are lonesome and think it is about time she should return, one good way to get her back is to clip an article from the local paper—it matters not what, throw the clipping away, and send her the paper from which the article is clipped. The following day repeat it, only select for your article to be clipped one about twice the size of the first. Those who have tried this trick say it works like a charm. Wichita Times.

A fellow that would put up a job like that to let his wife back home is mean enough to take a bottle of milk from a widow's doorstep before she awakes. In other words, he is next to the meanest man in the world.—Bonham Favorite.

The Times is glad to make note that a few of the progressive farmers of this section are taking to the silo method of saving corn and other feed crops. M. J. Gardner and Sons, whose fine farm of several hundred acres is located just five miles northeast of the city, have just completed two one-hundred-ton silos on their farm at a cost of $350 each. These silos are constructed of creosoted lumber, and the owners figure the silos will more than pay for their cost the first year. Mr. M. J. Gardner visited The Times office this morning, and says they finished filling one of their silos with green corn on Tuesday, and will finish filling the other with the same kind of feed today. He wants all those interested to visit their farm and inspect these silos. Two weeks ago the corn crop of this section of country was very promising, but the hot winds came and many crops that were late were destroyed. If every farmer had provided a silo for his farm the corn could have been cut green, chopped into small pieces and put into the silos, and there would have been little or practically no loss at all. The Times sincerely hopes that all interested in silo building will visit the Gardner farm and inspect the two silos that have been constructed on that splendid farm. Either Mr. Gardner or his sons will take pleasure in giving all information at their disposal.

MATTERS POLITICAL

The Hon. Thomas H. Ball has expressed his intention not to be a candidate for governor, and the Hon. W. A. Hanger of Fort Worth has announced that he will make the race. The decision reached by Mr. Ball is for the sake of the state, to be regretted. He would make an admirable governor. He would combine with rare political skill and astuteness, always honorably employed, a high order of business and legal ability and unquestioned integrity. His sense of duty to his professional associates has compelled him to forego a long cherished and commendable ambition, but, as the record of his life proves, he has obeyed the call of duty.

Mr. Hanger is not only wholly undesirable, but absolutely impossible. He has no claims to the great office to which he aspires. He has no record behind him that marks him for such a trust.

No man has yet formally announced who commends himself to the Chronicle as gubernatorial timber, but it is certain that Mr. Hanger falls far short of fitness for the place.

Texas wants a man for governor whose intellectual qualifications are proportionate to the greatness of the state. She wants a man with a vision, the sweep of which can take in all the multitudinous needs of a great state.—Houston Chronicle.

The main trouble with the Texas legislature is that too many members are indolent and incompetent. The big majority of the members do not work or think, but allow a few men to control the body. Many counties send men to the legislature simply because they have done nothing and never will. Such men have no enemies and nobody is afraid of them doing anything. They are worthless.—Georgetown Commercial.

THE DEADLY "PUBLIC" HAIR BRUSH

Beware of the barber's hair brush as you would shun the plague. It is pest-ridden lurking with microbes contaminated, dangerous—a common carrier of vile disease.

The scalp is still a realm of mystery to the average physician. Few doctors understand the hair and the diseases which destroy it. Baldness is a long-cherished delusion, is not an hereditary weakness. Weak scalps are often transmitted from generation to generation; but the prime cause of a "re-creating forehead" is a most insidious and infinitesimal microbe which heins to make its appearance around the age of puberty. At least every fourth man is infected with this germ, and the barber's shop is its clearing house.

But the microbe of baldness is only one of the dangers transmitted by the "community hair brush." Eczema, yphitis, even skin cancer affect the scalp as well as the body. The tonorial parlor is constantly ringing with the cry of "next!" Besides signifying an empty chair it may mean that you are about to succumb to one of a score of scalp troubles, ranging from seborrhea to blood-poisoning.

The so-called "antiseptic sticks" with which the barber checks the flow of blood from a cut, pile or a scratch is likely to be impregnated with devastating organisms from the veins of a deathly sick man.

If you must be shaved in a shop, refuse the service of the styptic stick and wait until you get home to brush your hair. Individual combs and brushes are as logical and imperative as private tooth brushes. Every member of the family should have his own brush and comb; children, especially, should not use any article which has touched the head of another.

We will gladly supply further details on this subject to any reader desiring information. We suggest a crusade in every town against "community" brushes and combs in offices, lavatories and public schools.

Ask your local newspaper to reprint this article. Editors are always glad to encourage sanitary measures.—Hubert Kaufman in Woman's World for July.

The case of E. H. Andrews vs. the Wichita Falls Route and the M. K. & T. Railway Co. is on trial in the district court this afternoon. The case is one of personal injury, and the plaintiff seeks damages in the sum of $25,000. PATHE'S WEEKLY LYDIA MARGARET—TONIGHT—

ed consultation with them during the examination of witnesses.

Most of the testimony introduced by the defense has been in regard to alleged threats made by Sayers, and the reputation of the deceased.

Arnett West, a stockman of Brownwood, was the first witness examined. He testified that he was in Fort Worth during the Cattlemen's convention in March, 1911, and heard Sayers say, "Damn old man Burnett, I'm going to kill him." Sayers made this statement in front of the Metropolitan Hotel, and witness told Burnett about this in his office that day.

J. E. Woods of Benjamin, a cattleman, testified: That he had known Sayers since boyhood and saw him in Guthrie in May, 1911, and in conversation with him there, Sayers told him he was going to kill Burnett the first time he saw him. That Burk Burnett was afraid of him and the old — tried to have him arrested in Fort Worth during the convention. He further testified that Sayers' reputation was bad and he was likely to carry out his threat. He did not tell Burnett about this.

R. A. Farmer of Paducah, a farmer, testified that he had a conversation with Sayers in April, 1912, in which Sayers said that Burnett had been from making bond at Guthrie, and that he was going to kill that old lantern-jawed — of a — the first opportunity; that the deceased bore a bad reputation and would likely carry out his threat.

Miles Frasier, a farmer, who lives near Rule, testified: That he knew both Sayers and the defendant. That in 1909 he was building a tank for Geo. Martin on his place adjoining the 6666 ranch and that a prairie fire broke out in Martin's pasture and the 6666 pasture that he and his men went out the fire; that the next morning Farley Sayers came to his camp and asked him who put the fire out, and witness told him that he did. Sayers told him not to be going over in Burnett's pasture any more putting out fires that he didn't like the old man and intended on killing him the first opportunity. He had heard Sayers make like threats several times. He considered Sayers a dangerous man. He did not tell Burnett about these threats.

Ed Herndon of King county, testified that Sayers had him $500 in 1909 to kill the defendant. He considered Sayers a very dangerous man, and one that would likely execute his threat. He did not tell Burnett about these threats. Mr. Herndon was the first sheriff of King county.

W. A. Bobbett, constable of Paducah, testified that he had known Sayers 10 or 15 years and heard him make threats against the defendant. Sayers' general reputation was bad. He had never told the defendant about these threats.

Ed Green, Harrison of Jayton, a lawyer and a son of the late Gen. Harrison, had heard him make a threat in his office at Jayton, in which Sayers made the statement "that he had one chance to kill Burnett, the damned old — of a — but would never let another opportunity slip. I ought to go over to the 6666 and kill the whole Burnett outfit." He never told Mr. Burnett of this, but sent him word Sayers' general reputation was bad and he thought that he would likely carry out his threat.

J. M. Patterson, mail contractor and deputy sheriff of King county, and John W. Nosenly, traveling salesman for Blair-Hughes Co. of Quanah, both testified that they had heard Sayers make threatening statements in regard to the defendant.

Ed Sturdivant, a cowman of King county, testified that he knew and had worked for both Burnett and Sayers. When he was working for Burnett in 1911, Sayers told him if he would tell him when old man Burnett was over there sometime that he would "waylay" Burnett as he went back to town. Sayers told him that he went over to the 6666 ranch one night with another party to kill Burnett, but Burnett never came out of the house, and they never had an opportunity to get him; that Sayers had to his knowledge two guns, a 25 and 38 automatic revolver. He told Mr. Burnett a day or two later of this conversation.

Henry Chalk of Quanah, auto driver for Blair-Hughes, testified that he was in Guthrie in October, 1907; that on the night of the 19th of October he found defendant standing near the Lancaster store with a hot gun and asked Sayers what he was going to do. Sayers told him that he was waiting for Burk Burnett to pass, that he was going to kill him. Witness stated that he was very friendly to Sayers and remonstrated with him and persuaded him to give him the gun and go home. Witness never told Burnett of this.

John Tullus, a real estate man of Quanah, testified that Sayers was in his office in Quanah in the spring of 1911 and Sayers told him that Burk Burnett had been working for him. Sayers told him that he would get old man Burnett and that chairman of his some day when they were going to the ranch.

R. L. Winters, a farmer of Stone-wall county, testified that he knew Sayers and had worked for him in 1908-09. In conversation several times he had made threats that he intended to kill Burk Burnett, and tried one time to get witness to help waylay defendant. Sayers telling him that he would be well paid. Sayers said that he had attempted to waylay him at the 6666 store and came very near getting the wrong man. He mistook Bud Arnett for Burnett and started to shoot him. Witness was a good

SAYS HE WAS CUT AND ROBBED

T. E. MEADORS ALLEGES NEGROES CUT HIS THROAT AND ROBBED HIM OF $300 AND OTHER VALUABLES

Incident Occurred About One Week Ago, and No One Seems to Have Known Anything About It

POLICE FAIL TO FIND CLUE

T. E. Meadors, a blacksmith of Jolly, was in the city today, having just recovered from cuts and bruises which he alleges were sustained by him in this city one night about one week ago.

According to the story Meadors tells he was held up and robbed of $3.00 in money and other articles of less value by two negroes near the Holiday week railroad bridge, and that the two negroes, one a mulatto and other a black, cut his throat and struck him over the head, leaving him unconscious. The alleged holdup, he says took place about dusk, and that about three o'clock in the morning a switchman found him lying on the ground and brought him to the city hall where his wounds were dressed by a physician. He says his condition at the time was such that he could not give any information to the officers as to how he came by his wounds, and that after having his wounds dressed he went to his home at Jolly and had been confined to his bed up to today when he concluded to come back to the city and report the occurrence to the officers, and if possible, have his assailants placed under arrest.

Meadors was positive that he would be able to identify the two negroes if confronted by them, and in company with Deputy Sheriff Carnes he was taken for a trip through that section of the city where most negroes live, and many of the negroes were brought before him, but he failed to connect any of them as the parties who assaulted and robbed him.

Meadors appearance bore out his statement as having had his throat cut almost from ear to ear, and the bandages were still covering the wounds.

Falling to find any clue whatever as to who his assailants were, Meadors left on the noon train for Jolly.

HAYES' PLURALITY IS ESTIMATED AT 25,000

By Associated Press. Little Rock, Ark. July 24.—With scattering returns from all sections of the state the indications are that George W. Hayes, the democratic nominee will have a plurality of 25,000 votes. Myers, republican, Murphy, progressive, and Webber, socialist, ran in the order named.

friend of Sayers and they had always been friendly. Willis Britain, sheriff of Knox county, and J. H. (Tobe) Lynn, county judge of King county, testified that Sayers' general reputation was bad, and that they considered him a dangerous man and would likely carry out his threat.

Ed Russell, sheriff of Motley county, testified that he was in Paducah the day of the killing. Was not in the Goodland Hotel at the time, but was in the hotel immediately after and went to the wash room and searched Sayers' person for a weapon and found a 25-Cal. automatic in his right hand pants pocket; that the gun was loaded. He identified a gun while on the stand as that taken from Sayers' pocket. He knew Sayers and considered him a dangerous character.

Garrison Moore, sheriff of King county, testified that he came to Paducah the morning of the killing with Burnett, Pickett and Barkley in an automobile from Guthrie. He did not hear Sayers mentioned by any of the party that morning. He was not in the Goodland Hotel at the time of the killing. He considered the deceased a dangerous character; had known him 10 or 12 years.

S. B. Allen of the Murray Company in Dallas, testified that he was in the hotel lobby of the time of the killing. He did not see Sayers' body after the shooting. The balance of his testimony corroborated that of J. P. Watkins.

The last witness placed on the stand in the afternoon was A. L. Bacon, sheriff of Cottle county. He testified that he knew Sayers and that his general reputation was bad. The gun taken from Sayers was presented to the witness and upon questioning, stated that he considered the gun as deadly as an old fashioned 45-Cal. Court then adjourned until 8:30 this morning. It is thought that all the testimony will be in today and the argument begin early Friday morning.

Oil Interests Behind Move For Huerta's Recognition

(By William Shepherd in the Austin Tribune).
London, July 24.—It's coal oil again! The attempt of England to make President Wilson recognize the scandalous Huerta government in Mexico means that coal oil has a grip on the Asquith-Lloyd George government.
You don't see it put that way in Washington dispatches, but here in London I find Mexican petroleum oozing out of every pore of parliament and seeping out of the veins of the liberal party in control.
The Asquith-Lloyd George rulers, who are seeking to better the lot of the common man in England, are at this moment trying to make President Wilson recognize the Huerta government and thereby clamp down for a few more years the peonage and serfdom of the common man in Mexico.

Cordray Chief Exponent.
Lord Cordray of England, is one of the chief exploiters of peonage in Mexico. He is a liberal, a chief in Asquith and George's party. Before Asquith made him a lord he was Sir Westman Pearson, head of the great Pearson Oil Company, limited, of Mexico. Cordray's right hand man is Lord Murray, until six months ago liberal "whip" in parliament. Cordray took him into the oil company at that time and now the two—by their great influence in the liberal party, have compelled Asquith's foreign minister to try to force President Wilson's hand in Mexico.

Have Cordray and Murray secured a Wall Street kind of control over both the liberal party and the English government? Exactly that. The government has just announced that it will award a gigantic contract to Cordray-Pearson Company for Mexican coal oil.
And how is Cordray to make good on delivery of shiploads of petroleum from Mexico to England?
By putting the screws to President Wilson, of course!
Wust Commercial Scheme.
As long as the United States refuses recognition of Huerta, the traitor, the rebels will have a pretty free hand in Mexico and there won't be much doing around oil wells and mines and on European owned railroads.
But if President Wilson recognizes Huerta, the latter can borrow $100,000,000 or so here in Europe, equip an army, chase the rebels into the brush and make it possible for Lord Cordray's peons to pump oil and ship it to England.

M'GRAW CAN SAY "I TOLD YOU SO"

HIS PREDICTION ABOUT PIRATES BEING TEAM HE WOULD HAVE TO BEAT-FULFILLED.
OH! JUST FANCY THAT
English Paper Defines "Fan" as "Fancier"—How They Play Across the Big Pond.
(By Hal Sheridan written for the United Press).
New York, July 24.—The Honorable J. McGraw, known as the "Little Napoleon" but whose real title is manager of the New York Giants is about in a position to murmur an "I told you so." While the Pittsburgh Pirates were fluctuating in the second division and sending men to the hospital just as fast as they climbed into uniform, McGraw insisted that it would be the Pirates he would have to beat in the final dash for the pennant.
From April on through June the Pirates refused to respond to the call. The machine simply wouldn't open up and show speed. It was bumped by everyone, including humble Boston and lowly Cincinnati, but early July saw the worm begin to turn. There wasn't any change in the material. The same parts were in use, but as the team began to patch itself together it began to kick up smoke. It jumped from the second to the first division in a little more than a week and it now has the stuff to whip up even faster through the dog days.
In the meantime, Brooklyn was dropping ten straight, which helped considerably, and the Pirates passed the stumbling Dodgers, who had apparently shot their bolts and were ready to give up the ghost.
The Giants had snatched off the lead from the Phillies before the Pirates got under way in their sprint toward daylight, and had an imposing lead established. The Cubs and Phillies will have to keep full steam ahead if they maintain a position over Clark's crew.
Although McGraw believes—at least he says he believes it—that it is the Pirates he will have to beat out for the old flag, he doesn't admit having lost any sleep over it.
Perhaps it isn't clubby to be perpetually harping on and spoofing on and spoofing about English methods in sports in this weekly effusion, but J. Bull's son have been so prominent this season for what they have or have not done, that there is an excuse. Here's the excuse. The English have found out what a baseball fan is. It took them a long time to do it, but they'll have to be forgiven for this. Those English cousins of ours are usually in the mental outfield when a joke is cracked out and they have to wait until the second bounce to get it.
Take it from an English paper, published weekly, that has arrived in this port, a "fan" is a "fancier" of baseball. To the ordinary run of Americans fan is distinctive. It means a baseball bug, but the English will not have it that way. We, over here speak of a chicken fancier—no, we don't mean what you think; we mean a real one with feathers that looks well in a skillet—also horse fanciers. Perhaps the English would have us trip up and dub 'em chicken fans or horse fans! An explanatory note under the picture of two notables at a baseball game, says they are fans and adds, "Fan, it may be noted, is short for fanciers of baseball." Just fancy that, old top.
We are given another chance to spoof the boys across the pond, not to mention some of the boys on our own shores in the account of a recent cricket game. As a run getter and batter the wonderful Ty Cobb is a piker compared to a phenom developed in England. Braund of Somerset, in a recent game, battled for three hours and 45 minutes before he was put out. He scored 257 runs in that time. He's a cricket plover. This may explain why they have militant suffragettes in England.
Baseball acts like a tonic in this little old realm of ours. Who—as our famous old crab friend, Benj. Hialto might ask—who could imagine anything more dreary and uninspiring than a game in which a batter could stand at the plate for three hours and three quarters, laming the hide off a pitcher before being put out?
If one man was permitted to bat that length of time without being put out, we shudder to think what might happen to the manager who left in a pitcher to be slaughtered in such a blood curdling manner. The fans—excuse us—we meant to say, the fanciers, probably would adopt the militant suffragette course and burn up the grand stand or dig up the diamond. And who could blame them?

DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING

RALLY HERE IN SEPTEMBER UNDER AUSPICES OF STATE ASSOCIATION IS PLANNED.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED

Sessions Will Be Held in First M. E. Church South—Cost Pro Rated Among Schools.

Pursuant to a call by J. C. Hunt, a number of Sunday school workers met last Sunday afternoon at five o'clock at the M. E. Church, South, for the purpose of considering the advisability of holding a district Sunday school rally under the auspices of the State Sunday School Association in this city sometime during the latter part of September of the present year.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Hunt who, on motion of Dr. Hill, was elected chairman, and T. A. Baggett was chosen as secretary.

It was decided to have the meeting, provided it could be arranged for the latter part of a week including Sunday. It was resolved to have three standing committees looking to the preparation for the meeting and the care for it during the session. J. M. Bland was elected chairman of arrangement committee; W. W. Brown, chairman of committee on finance. On motion of Dr. Hill, Dr. J. L. McKee was elected chairman of publicity committee. It was resolved to hold the convention in the M. E. Church, South.

W. W. Brown, who was selected as chairman of the finance committee, was authorized to employ such assistance as he deemed necessary to the success of his department, and the responsibility of seeing that all of the committees did their work as outlined in the meeting was placed upon J. M. Bland, chairman of the arrangement committee. It is devoutly hoped that all these brethren in charge of these several committees will have the co-operation of the entire people.

For the benefit of all our church people and of the citizens generally who will be called upon to entertain delegates to this convention, it was agreed that the entertainment should be upon the Harvard plan—that is, the delegates should be given bed and breakfast only. The expert Sunday school workers, including the state president, Mr. Wiggin, and numbering five or more, will be entertained at one of the hotels. The entire cost, as it was figured out, will not be more than $100 or $150—this to be raised by public collection sometime during the convention, and any deficit accruing to be prorated among the several Sunday schools of the city.

The meeting was enthusiastic and all believed that the convention could be made a great success and that it would mightily assist in strengthening the Sunday school forces of the community and of the district. The publicity committee was instructed to keep the matter before the people and urge the co-operation of every man, woman and child who desired a better as well as a bigger city.

The meeting was adjourned with prayer by Dr. Hill.

THE BIXBY TRIAL AT LOS ANGELES

CALIFORNIA MULTI-MILLIONAIRE CHARGED WITH CONTRIBUTING TO GIRL'S DELINQUENCY.

BLACKMAIL CHARGED

Defendant Expected to Allege That He is Victim of Gang of Women Blackmailers.

Los Angeles, July 24.—George H. Bixby, multi-millionaire, owner of the famous Hotel Virginia at Long Beach, heavy stockholder in half a dozen banks and trust companies, trustee of a prominent college and member of exclusive California society, circles, went to trial today on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of Irene Marie Brown-Levy, 18 and Cleo Helen Barker, 19, who are minors under the California juvenile law until they are 21 years of age.

The case against Bixby grew out of the white slave investigations, started some months ago by the Los Angeles county grand jury when Kitty Phillips, a moving picture actress, was accused of blackmailing a man whose name was withheld by the authorities. She charges that this mysterious character, who went under the name of 'Black Pearl' was Bixby.

The blackmail charges were never pressed. Instead, Kitty Phillips was charged with vagrancy before Police Judge Rose, now mayor of Los Angeles, and 'run out of town' on a suspended sentence of six months. She took with her to San Francisco, Marie Forrester, another young girl. Subsequent charges by Miss Phillips started the grand jury probe, and the two girls were brought back to Los Angeles by detectives. Both testified before the grand jury, and the indictment of Bixby, Mrs. Josie Rosenberg and Mrs. Elizabeth Espey followed.

The millionaire claims that the charges against him are the result of his refusal to pay blackmail. He has employed Oscar Lawler, noted as special prosecutor in the McNamara dynamite investigation, to defend him.

Mrs. Rosenberg and Elizabeth Espey, rooming house keepers, are charged with having enticed young girls into dives and there engineered meetings between them and rich men for profit. Irene Brown-Levy told the grand jury that she was given $800 by one man in one of Mrs. Rosenberg's resorts. The money, she says, was divided into three portions, one to

STRICT NEUTRALITY TO BE ENFORCED

President Determines That No Mexican Faction Shall Receive Arms From United States.

Washington, July 24.—President Wilson has determined that no faction in the present Mexican revolution shall receive arms or ammunition from the United States and that neutrality must be observed in its strictest sense. This was the interpretation of the neutrality laws decided upon by the president after conferences with Senator Bacon and Representative Bixby, chairmen of the two congressional committees on foreign relations.

While the Mexican rebels have been getting no arms heretofore, today's developments mean that the Huerta administration will be deprived of the privilege of openly making of the Madero government and that the United States will treat all sides alike in the present dispute. The situation was precipitated by the repeated complaints of constitutionalists and their sympathizers in this country. Bixby's House committee did not virtually assist the Huerta government by selling it munitions of war, a termination of hostilities will be possible.

Finds Much Favor. Sentiment in favor of a new policy now being suggested is such as to give that today's canvass is a measure of the committees in both Houses dealing with foreign relations. It was found there would be little objection to repealing the joint resolution of March 14, 1912, which gives the president discretionary power to prohibit exportations of arms and munitions of war to countries where domestic violence existed, but permits him to allow the legally constituted government of any country to buy war supplies as usual.

Senator Bacon, however, reiterated as he left the White House today, that the Huerta administration could not be considered a legitimate successor of the Madero regime or a legally constituted government.

Complaint by Diplomat. The constitutionalist representative here had protested to the state department that inasmuch as the Huerta government had not been recognized, it ought not to obtain arms. This construction of the case found favor in official circles, and while the repeal of the resolution of March 14, 1912, considered by administration officials as one way of equalizing conditions, it was decided that the same purpose could be observed by denying ammunition to all factions.

There nevertheless is a firm feeling in Congress in favor of lifting the embargo on arms and giving both sides an equal opportunity to equip themselves. This sentiment finds favor especially among those who believe the Carranza rebels have public opinion behind them in Mexico, and if given the arms with which to supply their large unequipped forces, the revolution would end speedily in their favor.

For the present, however, the administration will issue orders to its agents everywhere to 'keep' arms from entering the rebellion-torn country. This will interfere materially with the plans of the Huerta forces, since orders for large supplies of arms and ammunition are said to have been placed recently with firms in the United States.

herself, one to Mrs. Rosenberg and one to Mrs. Espey. If a conviction is secured against Bixby, the grand jury will renew its inquiry into white slavery conditions here. Bixby's defense is expected to be that the girls involved are all members of a gigantic blackmailing ring who have successfully imposed on the public. Bixby has been at liberty on $10,000 bail.

Tulsa Man Tells Story of Well That Flows Chilled Air and Ice Water.

Special to The Times. Tulsa, Okla., July 24.—A well that furnishes ice water in the summer time, as well as chilled air for a six room residence, is the unique spectacle offered at Tahlequah, Okla., according to William Lynch, chairman of the Tulsa park board, who recently returned from a visit to Tahlequah, where he witnessed the usual sight. The well, said Mr. Lynch yesterday, in talking about the phenomenon, "is owned by a man named McSpadden. It is forty-five feet from the surface to the top of the water. It seems that the well was drilled into a small cave deep under the earth, and the pure, cold water, mingled with a wintry air comes through the underground cavity and into the well, which affords it an outlet."

"I was told that last winter there was at one time, five inches of ice in the well. The bucket froze up and had to be broken loose with weights. When it was pulled out and examined it was found that the water, at a depth of 45 feet, had been frozen five inches deep. I saw shown a picture of the ice-covered bucket, taken at the time this incident occurred. "Persons standing directly over the well would be almost knocked down by the strong pressure of ice cold air that came from the depths below. Mr. McSpadden has recently capped the well and he now has pipes running from it to every room in the house. Air, much cooler than that produced by an electric fan, is thus being blown constantly into the room, which sometimes becomes so chilly that it is necessary to use blankets on the beds."

RAILROADS JOIN FIGHT AGAINST PARCELS POST

Washington, July 24.—Railway representatives today joined in a fight to prevent Postmaster General Burleson from increasing the size of the parcels post, packages transmissible through the mails and reducing the rates, to become effective Aug. 15. A delegation representing the railroads generally throughout the country laid the complaint before Senator and Representatives and prepared to protest formally against the changes to the Interstate Commerce Commission. The movement in the Senate itself to forestall the department changes by repealing the section of the parcel post law under which the Postmaster General claims the right to regulate the rates and sizes further crystallized when Senator Bryan of Florida introduced a joint resolution to repeal the legislation in question. Another development of the day was the postponement from tomorrow until Friday of the explanation demanded by the Senate Postoffice Committee of Postmaster General Burleson of his authority to inaugurate the changes. Would Lose $20,000,000

In protesting against the changes the railway representatives said that at least 5 per cent of the express companies and claimed they would lose from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year on business the Government would take from the express companies through the reduced rates and increased maximum limit on the size of packages.

It also was pointed out that the roads would receive no compensation from the Government for carrying the very business for which the express companies had paid them millions. It was urged that in the event any of the parcel post law Congress allowed the railroads 5 per cent additional pay for the increased business placed upon them, and if the proposed changes were to be made the roads would be entitled to a further increase in compensation. The delegation suggested that the matter would be carried to the courts if necessary.

The joint resolution introduced by Senator Bryan was in the exact words of the bill introduced by him April 15, the object being to facilitate the passage of the repealing enactment through the House, where a resolution is under lighter parliamentary handicaps than a bill.

Several inquiries were made during the day of the Interstate Commerce Commission, as to its part in the proposed changes. The law requires the commission to give its consent after investigation to proposed changes by the Postmaster General. Officials gave out the information that an investigation of rates and sizes had not been held in the sense that public hearings had been granted, but that the Commission's consent had been given to the Postmaster General.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLAR LOAN
MAY COST LENDER $180.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 24.—Justice of the Peace Peden late Tuesday awarded George L. Dockstader, 1063 Evans avenue, a Texas & Pacific telegraph operator, a judgment for $180, twice the amount of interest he had paid the Dixie Loan Company, 106 East Tenth street, on a $10 loan increased in three years to $25. Dockstader's testimony regarding

Marlow & Stone

The loans and the interest he paid was not contradicted by the loan company.

Dockstader borrowed $10 just before Christmas, 1910 and paid $3 a month interest. In May, 1911, he borrowed $5 more and began paying $4 a month interest on the $15. In May, 1912, he borrowed $5 more and began paying $4 a month interest. In April, 1913, he borrowed $5 more, but before he paid interest he talked with friends, who advised him against paying more interest.

On May 27, he sued the company for the interest he had paid. The company had in its possession an assignment of his wages.

Dockstader testified to $90 he had paid and said that his wife had made other payments that brought the total to $104, but she was not in court to testify and Judge Peden fixed the amount at $90. The statute allowed him twice the amount he has paid, if it is proved that the interest is usurious. The case was appealed.

He said: "I am convinced the postoffice department can, ought to and will tend the parcels post until it will carry all packages up to 100 pounds weight."

ALL COMPANIES MICHIGAN MILITIA ORDERED OUT

By Associated Press. Lansing, Mich., July 25.—Practically every company of the Michigan militia is on its way to the copper mine strike district today. It is expected that more than 2,000 militia men will be in the strike zone tonight.

35,000 MINERS HAVE JOINED IN THE STRIKE

By Associated Press. Calumet, Mich., July 25.—A large number of copper mine strikers threatened today to go to the Superior boiler house of the Calumet Copper company and draw the fire, but so far have made no attempt to do so. A move in that direction would promptly bring out the militia. In the strike district of 75 square miles more than 35,000 men are out.

HOW ST. LOUIS SALOONISTS GET AROUND FREE LUNCH LAW.

St. Louis, Mo., July 24.—It has been just one month today since the anti-free lunch law went into effect here and every one is agreed that there might as well not be any such law. Practically every saloon in the city sells a pretty fair lunch for one cent. Others have placed slot machines near the cats with placards calling attention to the law and asking buyers to drop pennies in the slot if they get away with any of the food. In one downtown saloon, one of the biggest in town, an inquisitive patron counted four cents in one of the pay-as-you-go money boxes just after several hundred hungry and thirsty baseball fans, returning from a ball game, had eaten everything on the lunch counter. During the time the crowd was in the saloon the attendant behind the lunch counter was busy elsewhere. In some of the saloons the proprietors insist on the payment of the penny, but the customer gets a ticket which he doesn't have to turn in at the lunch counter and which can be carried about and used as a sort of "rain check" ticket. Nobody has been arrested yet for swiping a few hot dogs and cheese.
