POSTPONEMENT OF RURAL CREDIT LAW

President Wilson Believes It Inadvisable to Attempt Such Legislation Now

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 13.—President Wilson issued a statement before the democratic house caucus resumed consideration today of the administration currency bill, announcing that he believed it is not advisable to amend the measure at present with provisions for rural credit, but to postpone that phase of banking reform until the December session, when the government commission now studying the subject in Europe will have reported.

Through this statement it was hoped to persuade the so-called insurgent democrats to abandon their fight for agricultural currency.

MANY ASK ADVICE ON MARKETING PROBLEMS.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Co-operation in marketing, with a view to lessening the high cost of living, seems to have taken such a hold upon the people of the United States that the department of agriculture is being inundated with requests from such co-operative organizations for an investigation of their individual merits. So great has the pressure become that the department announced today it was not contemplating recommending any special system and would not proceed now with its work on that line.

The department, it was disclosed, has not yet fully organized its new bureau of markets, which is designed to organize and systematize the economical distribution of food between the producer and the consumer. It is set forth that no less than sixty-four applicants for the position of specialists in co-operative organization disclosed their qualifications and that the civil service commission would require some time to make a recommendation.

"After the specialist in co-operative organization has been selected," says the department statement, "it is possible that this officer, as opportunity arises, may make personal observation as to the conduct and methods of some of the numerous organizations in the United States to assist the department in giving the most valuable information and advice to groups of persons desiring to effect organization."

Until that time, however, the department will decline to tackle the question of co-operative buying and selling.

FURTHER CHANGES IN PARCELS POST EXPECTED

Washington, Aug. 13.—The time appears to be close at hand when a remarkable defect in the parcel post system is about to be remedied. For reasons best known to the farmers of the parcel post bill, books and other printed matter were barred from the low parcel post. This proves one of the most remunerative kinds of business in which the express companies are engaged and Postmaster General Burleson has for some time been figuring on a way to annex this character of business.

Aside from the profit it would afford to the postoffice department, there is a wide field for usefulness in extending the parcel post rates to books, as it would enable libraries to reach out over a great territory for the purpose of serving readers.

"Today the subject of bringing books under the parcel post system was taken up by Representative Lewis of Maryland, who introduced a resolution in the House requesting the postmaster general to investigate the subject and extend the parcel post rates to books in case he finds that the plan will prove financially satisfactory to the department. The Lewis resolution can not pass at this session of Congress, but its passage is not necessary to spur the postoffice department to action in this matter, as Postmaster General Burleson is planning to extend the parcel post service over the entire field of the express business up to the limit of weight that it will be practical for the department to handle.

WOMAN WITH SMALL POX AT STATION

Passenger From Electra Sent to Hospital With Well Developed Case

A woman with a well developed case of smallpox came down from Electra on the noon train today and sat around the Union Station for several hours, apparently waiting for another train. Her actions and the fact that she wore a heavy veil attracted the attention of Chief of Police Gwinn, who called Drs. Coons and Moore, who made an examination and pronounced the case smallpox. The woman was sent to the county detention hospital.

PRISON BILL TO CONFERENCE

AMENDMENTS WAIVED IN SENATE AND BILL SENT TO FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

SPEAKER TERRELL THANKED

House Thanks Speaker for Fearless Manner in Which he Refuted Governor

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Aug. 13.—The Senate this morning adopted a resolution by Senator Clark asking Governor Colquitt to submit the names of prison Commissioners Brahan and Tittle for confirmation along with that of Ben Cabell. Before the resolution was adopted it was amended by Lattimore to read that it is the sense of the Senate that Commissioners Brahan and Tittle were confirmed for the statutory and not the constitutional terms, and that the Senate agrees with the governor and not the attorney general in this matter. This means that all prison commissioners must go before the Senate.

All further amendments for the penitentiary bill were waived and it was finally passed in order that it may go into the free conference committee.

The state eleemosynary bill finally passed and the bill regulating the state institution for the training of juveniles was made special order for tomorrow. Senate will consider the Wheeler-Oliver contest this afternoon.

Proceedings in the House. In the House today a large number of bills of all sorts were introduced although the governor has not yet transmitted to the legislature the message authorizing the introduction of many of the measures.

A resolution was adopted instructing the House conferees on the appropriations committee that an additional appropriation of $2500 be made for the attorney general to prepare to the case of the State against the Houston Oil Company for the recovery of 30,000 acres of school land.

A further resolution to thank Speaker Terrell for the fearless manner in which he refuted the governor's charges against the legislature was adopted by a viva voce vote.

SMALL BANKS PROTEST MANNER OF DISTRIBUTION

Says Big Banks Will Send Money Intended for Farmers to Wall Street

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 13.—A flood of protests from small banks throughout the country protesting against the action of the secretary of treasury in the distribution of the government funds to assist in the marketing of the crops is being received. These protests declare that unless the government distributes the $50,000,000 or more for crop moving to the small banks directly, the big banks will send the money to Wall Street for speculation or force them to pay high interest rates for the money intended for the farmers.

Treasury officials declared they will do all in their power to send the deposits into the small banks, but make it plain that the machinery of the department is not sufficient to make direct deposits to all the small banks that are asking for a share.

JOHN LIND VISITS MEXICAN MINISTER

In Dispatch to State Department Special Envoy Describes His Reception

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 13.—Dispatches today to the state department from John Lind describe his visit to Fredman, Gamboa, Mexican minister of foreign relations. It was understood here on good authority that the conversation extended beyond the mere formality of a social call. While Mr. Lind did not reveal entirely the purpose of his errand, he was declared to have set at rest rumors that he went to interfere directly in Mexican politics.

WICHITA COUNTY GRAND JURY TO CONVENE FRIDAY

Judge Martin has issued an order to reconvene the Wichita county grand jury in special session Friday morning to investigate the killing of Policeman Sterling B. Morris by Policeman Cox Monday night. As the grand jury will begin its investigation so soon no preliminary will be held and no effort will be made to secure Cox's statement on Friday. It developed today that others who witnessed the shooting give accounts that differ in some details from that told by Policeman Arthur Graves. All of these witnesses will be summoned before the grand jury.

Governor Sulzer Who Must Now Stand An Impeachment Trial

STEP IN RIGHT DIRECTION

R. E. HUFF, DISAPPROVES OF SOME DETAILS OF CURRENCY BILL, HOWEVER HIS LETTER TO FLACK

Says Bankers Were Not Opposed to Governmental Control Idea in the Bill

but as bankers none of us feel that the banks are given a square deal in the matter. We are not so opposed to the governmental control feature, if properly safe guarded, as we are to the idea of running through the bill that the banks shall not be benefited at all by it, except in company with the rest of the community. We think that if the banks furnish the money, there should be some incentive to good management and efforts on our part in the shape of extra profits, if we help make the thing a success.

We know of no reason why the government should take our money, tell us how to use it and say that we shall only have five per cent interest from it, and that it will take the rest. While that is not exactly as bad as dividing up with the other fellow, it is a step in that direction, a little further than we think the government ought to go.

Personally I am a strong Wilson man, and have a great deal of confidence in him and believe that he can be made to see some of the defects of the bill, but at present I think it is objectionable in several respects. Yours respectfully, R. E. HUFF, President.

While he is opposed to the so-called administration currency bill in some of its details, R. E. Huff of this city, president of the First National Bank and of the Chamber of Commerce, believes the bill is a step in the right direction.

In a statement issued by T. W. Slack, vice president of the North Texas Trust Company of Fort Worth, Mr. Huff with a number of other bankers is named as opposing the bill. In order that Mr. Huff's attitude may be made clear we here reproduce his letter to Mr. Slack:

Dear Sir: I have your letter of the 8th inquiring what is the sentiment of the banks of this city on the Owen-Glass currency bill.

In its present shape I do not consider the bill as what the country needs, but as an individual citizen, I think that it is a step in the right direction, and would have a great tendency to render the country to a considerable extent independent of New York. I think, however, that there are a good many things objectionable in it as yet. In the first place, I do not think that it is attractive enough to the national banks. A proposition which forces them to furnish all of the money and gives them no share in the management, should at least, if it proves a success, give them a reasonable share of the profits. I do not like the principle of any law, which makes the fellows who put up the money and take all of the risk, depend on someone else to run it, and tell him that he cannot make but five per cent, no matter how successful his operation. I believe, however, that if the administration will consult with the leading bankers of the country, as it seems now disposed to do, that the bill might be modified so as to become desirable.

I have talked with the other banks of this city and Mr. Snyder of the City National Bank looks upon the matter a good deal with the same view that I do. That is, he does not think the bill satisfactory in its present shape. Mr. Taylor of the First State Bank states that the bill is not attractive to them in its present shape and that they would not feel inclined to take advantage of it. Mr. Ferguson of the Wichita State Bank says the same for his.

The sentiment of the individual officers of the banks, as far as I can see is friendly to the idea of having a currency law passed, and a good many of the features of the present bill commend themselves to them,

CAPTAIN M'DONALD WORKING ON CLEW

Ex-Ranger Chief and Uncle of Murdered Girl Have Theory About Murder

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Aug. 13.—Jeff D. Robinson, uncle of Miss Florence Brown, admitted this morning that he is working on a clew with United States Marshal Bill McDonald. Neither Robinson nor McDonald would go into details. Robinson was closest with Chief Ryan Wednesday morning for an hour, but following the conference neither had any announcement to make.

SUFFRAGETTES HOLD CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON TODAY

Washington, Aug. 13.—Plans for the campaign for women's votes in 1914 were laid at a conference of leaders of the National Council of Women voters here today. The meeting will continue in session for three days. It is being attended only by women from states where equal suffrage is now on the statute books. Mrs. Emma Smith DeVoe of Tacoma, Wash., presided today.

Although the conference is primarily to decide on plans for 1914, a public meeting and banquet to advertise the fight for the cause will be held tomorrow. A number of states will vote on the suffrage question next year and members of the Women Voters League will confer tomorrow with Representative Henry, chairman of the House rules committee before which body the woman suffrage amendment to the federal constitution has been presented.

SULZER IMPEACHMENT VOTED BY LEGISLATURE

ROLL CALLED ON QUESTION AT 5:15 A. M. AFTER ALL NIGHT SESSION. VOTE WAS 79 TO 45

SACRIFICES HER REPUTATION

Mrs. Sulzer Made Eleventh Hour Confession That She Appropriated Funds In Vain Effort To Defeat The Governor's Enemies

By Associated Press. Albany, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Governor William Sulzer was impeached at 5:16 o'clock this morning by the democratic majority of the New York Legislature.

The vote, seventy-nine to forty-five, came after an all night session and after the governor's wife had made an eleventh hour effort to save him at the risk of sacrificing her own reputation.

Organization leaders who had sparred for time all night in the fear that their program of impeachment would be wrecked by lack of votes, welcomed new comers to the Assembly chamber, summoned from New York during the early hours, and assured of victory by their presence, started a rapid fire legislation with the adoption of the impeachment resolution.

When Does Impeachment Become Effective

It was explained to the assembly by the majority leaders that with the presentation to the senate of articles of impeachment, Governor Sulzer automatically would cease to be governor and M. H. Glynn, lieutenant governor, would assume his office. Mr. Sulzer's lawyers, however, entertain a different view. After the adoption of the articles of impeachment, the Assembly quickly passed a resolution appointing nine managers to conduct the impeachment proceeding on behalf of the lower house. The managers are under the chairmanship of Assemblyman Levy, and include five other New York City democrats.

Other Legislation Taken Up

Thereafter, under the head of unfinished business, the assembly began consideration of several bills passed at the present session and vetoed by the governor. With a roll call that moved swiftly and without a hitch, two of these bills were repassed over the governor's veto. The assembly adjourned at 7:30 a. m.

Governor Asleep When Roll Was Called

In the executive mansion where Mrs. Sulzer made what her friends call her confession to save her husband, and where Governor Sulzer remained until almost dawn awaiting the decision from the assembly, there was no sign of life when the legislature adjourned. Worn by weary waiting, the governor was sleeping. He went to bed before the roll call and was not awakened to be told the news.

The only statement from the executive mansion was: "The governor knows pretty well what would be the result."

Impeachment Shorn Of Its Terrors

Governor Sulzer's friends are inclined today to view the ordeal which confronts him with less apprehension than before his impeachment. By her assertion that she diverted part of the campaign contributions sent to her husband, to private purposes, without his knowledge and used them to purchase stocks in Wall Street, Mrs. Sulzer has shorn the impeachment of many of its terrors, the governor's friends declare. Gov. Sulzer consented to permit Mrs. Sulzer's declaration to become public late last night, only when he found that he could not prevent it.

It lived as a rumor on the lips of every member of the assembly in the city that Mrs. Sulzer must take the witness stand in her husband's behalf before the court of impeachment to tell her story in detail and submit to examination by hostile lawyers, or take the chance that the impeachers will prove their case. This is what the governor's friends fear and they fear also that either her reputation or her husband's must suffer. They say she will take the stand if it is necessary.

Mrs. Sulzer's Confession. Albany, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Overshadowing in interest even the impeachment proceedings tonight was a story on the lips of many legislators that Mrs. Sulzer, who is said to have handled her husband's checks for years, had made to Senator Palmer an explanation of the alleged irregularities in Gov. Sulzer's campaign receipts brought out by the Frawley committee.

Assumes All Blame? On the eve of the Governor's probable impeachment, the story was spread broadcast throughout the capital that Mrs. Sulzer had assumed all the blame for the revelations brought out by the Frawley investigating committee concerning the Governor's transactions in Wall Street.

Mrs. Sulzer's statement was made according to this story, to Senator Palmer. She is quoted as having told him this afternoon "I am wholly to blame for this whole affair."

Although the story was the property of the city tonight, apparently no one could be found who would be quoted as confirming it. Gov. Sulzer referred all inquiries to Senator Palmer, who declined either to confirm or deny it. It is reported as having told to a select coterie of the Governor's supporters.

PROPER TREATMENT FOR ENVOY JOHN LIND ASSURED BY MEXICO

CONFERENCE ON MEXICAN AFFAIRS

PRESIDENT MET LAST NIGHT WITH BRYAN AND FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE.

HAS UNITED SUPPORT

Republican and Democratic Members Alike Standing Behind Wilson on Mexican Action

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 9.—Two hours of conference between President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and the foreign relations committee of the Senate developed no opposition from Republicans or Democrats to the president's attitude in the Mexican situation. It became known last night that the special envoy now waiting at Vera Cruz, present nothing to the Huerta government until he is fully acquainted with the situation. The president in this discussion with the Senate committee for the first time during his administration took up a matter of foreign policy with this committee. Although the president has been constantly in touch with Chairman Bacon, he has not been able to meet the entire committee regardless of party tonight to canvass the situation, admittedly the gravest of his administration. From those who know the proposal, Lind will communicate to the Huerta government through Nelson O'Shaughnessy, in charge of the American embassy, it was learned tonight that the American government would only call on Provisional President Huerta to carry out the promise he was officially reported to have made when he took possession of the government after Madero's death. The American government then was informed that Huerta intended to call an election not later than July and did not intend to be a candidate. The proposal, it is understood, points out that the only interest the United States has in Latin America is that constitutional governments may be maintained and that it must be of a necessity in favor of those set up by orderly processes rather than arbitrary force and in effect says to President Huerta that his duty is to obtain a suspension of hostilities while a free and constitutional election is held.

MONCLOVA REPORTED IN DESPERATE STRAITS

Lack of Provisions Reported There—Constitutionalists Blow up Federal Troop Train

By Associated Press. Constitutional Headquarters, Hermosillo, Aug. 8, Via Eagle Pass, Tex., Aug. 9.—A courier arrived here early today from Lieutenant Elizalde who is operating southeast of Monclova bringing an official report that on August 4 a constitutionalist detachment blew up several cars of a federal troop train near Lampazos. Many federal horses were reported killed and injured. It was said that 60 were taken to Lampazos for treatment.

Late last night a large force of federal cavalry attempted to escape from Monclova to the south. They were driven back with considerable loss by the constitutionalists. The federal horses were in poor condition and unable to make headway. Several prisoners were captured and they said lack of provisions in Monclova was the reason for their attempted escape.

ARREST ORGANIZER OF CANADIAN ELKS

By Associated Press. Winnipeg, Canada, Aug. 9.—Eighteen charges were filed today against Harry Kelly, of Denver, supreme organizer of Canadian Elks in Winnipeg, charging him with receiving thousands of dollars by misrepresentation from Western Canadians. Kelley was arrested and is out on bail. Many complaints have been made by members of the Canadian Elks who say they believed they were joining the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, an organization founded in the United States.

Although the president disclosed no definite plan for the pacification of Mexico the opposition remained that upon Lind's reports would depend, to a large extent, the future policy of this country.

There was practically no talk of lifting the embargo on the importation of arms into Mexico, which some members of the committee believed would speedily end the difficulties. The meeting tonight was entirely friendly. Of the twelve men present only two, Senators Smith of Arizona and Stone, are out-and-out believers in a policy of ultimate intervention.

President Wilson was firm of the belief that intervention will not be necessary and some members of the committee who went to the White House disturbed in mind came away with the belief that perhaps much of the recent talk in the Senate had been unwarranted.

The president did not ask that senators refrain from discussing Mexican affairs, but pointed out that congressional discussion and newspaper comments reported from the United States caused embarrassment for the administration in attempting to carry out its difficult policy of peaceful settlement.

Senators who expected to be informed of a definite plan or formal message Mr. Lind might be carrying to the Mexican government were disappointed.

LONGWORTH'S TOUR WORLD ON HOWARD GOULD'S YACHT

New York, Aug. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Letier will make a year's tour of the world in Howard Gould's yacht Niagara. The start will be made from New York in September. After spending some time in British waters the Niagara will cruise in the Mediterranean until about the first of the year. Then she will start eastward through the Suez Canal, and will visit India, Ceylon, China, Japan, the Philippines and Honolulu. The return home will be by way of San Francisco and the Panama Canal. They have arranged to meet former Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and have them as guests part of the cruise.

MEXICO WILL RECEIVE LIND

UNITED STATES ASSURED ENVOY WILL BE GIVEN PROPER TREATMENT BY MEXICO.

WILL BE SAFEGUARDED

Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs Sends Message to U. S. State Department

By Associated Press. Mexico City, Aug. 9.—Correct treatment of Ex-Governor John Lind is assured by the Mexican foreign office in a message forwarded to Washington today and speculation in the Mexican capital tonight has turned to the nature of Mr. Lind's mysterious mission, which apparently, in the belief of the United States government, can solve the difficulties now besetting the Mexican nation. Although the assuring and safety and freedom from annoyance of President Wilson's representative, the Mexican government stands firm on non-acceptance of mediation. It is regarded as a foregone conclusion in the political circles, therefore, that the mission he is bound to fail unless the suggestions to be made by Mr. Lind take some other form. Preparations for tomorrow's Huerta demonstration are being continued but there is little fear that it will take on an anti-American complexion.

CONFIDENCE RETURNS DESPITE CROP DAMAGE

Advance of Prices in Stock Market Continues in Face of Unfavorable Factors

By Associated Press. New York, Aug. 9.—The two hour session of the stock market today was devoid of developments. Unfavorable tonnage figures for July as submitted by the United States Steel corporation after the close of the market showed a decrease of practically 408,000 tons and marked the seventh successive monthly reduction this year. Bonds were irregular. Government issues advanced from one quarter to one per cent on call on the week. Total sales par value were $532,000.

The feature of the week's stock market has been the manner in which the advance of prices persisted in the face of the unfavorable factors. The serious matter the market had to contend with was the damage to the corn crop, but the indifference shown to this was due partly to knowledge of the large reserve of corn from last year's crop.

Enormous marketing of grain bore further testimony of confidence in the supply. This was a potent factor also in building up railroad traffic which made July gross earnings a record on western railroads.

Industrial news was interpreted in the same optimistic spirit. The higher prices of copper caused added confidence. Money conditions became easier everywhere. The Balkan peace treaty was taken as the main incentive for this. Although a great task of financial reconstruction is to be faced the return of confidence is expected to release hoarded funds. The determination of the secretary of treasury to deposit surplus funds in southern and western banks brings increased offers to lend in the money market.

CALIFORNIA WINE GROWERS GIVE UP THEIR FIGHT

Washington, Aug. 11.—California wine growers have practically given up their fight in the senate against increasing the tax on fortifying brandy. This was admitted tonight by California congressmen. To oppose the tax after the tariff bill is returned to the house for conference is planned by the Californians. Senator Simmons told the Californians their opposition to the brandy tax was futile. He said the extra assessment was needed for revenue purposes.

SPECIAL ENVOY AT VERA CRUZ

FORMER GOVERNOR LIND ON MEXICAN SOIL TONIGHT—RESTS THERE A SHORT TIME

A MESSAGE FROM BRYAN

Lind Also Meets John Bayard Hale There—No Anti American Demonstration

By Associated Press. Vera Cruz, Mexico, Aug. 9.—Ex-Governor John Lind of Minnesota, the personal representative of the president of the United States and counselor of the American embassy at Mexico City, landed on Mexican soil this afternoon. He went at once to a hotel. When he will leave for the capital has not yet been determined, but it will not be tonight. Both the ex-governor and Mrs. Lind were tired this evening and in no haste to rush into the stronghold of Provisional President Huerta although the delay in doing so will be only for a day or two at the most. The people of Vera Cruz gave an intimation of any desire to engage in a demonstration of disapproval of Mr. Lind coming. His landing was witnessed by only a small group of persons. Some slight apprehension was felt by foreigners here that a popular manifestation might be held tonight, it being feared that the thousands of laborers in their pockets filled with shreds of paper might prove good material for agitators, but local authorities assured the American consul that any attempt at disorder would be promptly suppressed.

A message from the state department at Washington was handed to Mr. Lind as soon as the battleship arrived and with Dr. Bayard Hale who is also in Mexico as a personal representative of President Wilson, he went over it carefully. Both appeared to be impressed with its contents but they were non-committal as to its character. A local newspaper urged all citizens to abstain from disorder and not to listen to agitators, declaring that those taking part in manifestations were not patriots because such action might easily compromise the Mexican government.

The paper suggested that everyone should wait until they might be called upon by the government or by the Provisional President Huerta to participate in a foreign war in which case all should be disposed to shed their last drop of blood in defense of their country.

28 SALOONS ARE PERMITTED HERE

NEW SCHOOL CENSUS INCREASES NUMBER THIRST PARLORS ALLOWED

City's Population, Based on School Figures, is 14,154—One Drink Shop Allowed 500 People

Licenses for seven more saloons may be issued in Wichita Falls according to the certified statement of scholastic population in the city that will be filed with the county clerk today by County Superintendent of Schools R. M. Johnston. Mr. Johnston's statement shows a scholastic population in Wichita Falls of 2359. This multiplied by six, the state law permits one saloon to each 500 inhabitants so that on this showing twenty-eight saloons can be licensed here. There are now 21 licensed saloons in Wichita Falls. Local saloon men say that the licensing of seven more saloons would be a serious blow to their prosperity as their business has already been cut into deeply by the 9:30 closing law and the Allison intrastate anti-shiping bill and the Webb interstate act. It is claimed that a number of the saloons in Wichita Falls now are not making any money and that to divide their receipts with seven more would take away the slight profits they now have.

Some of the larger places up town, however, view the possibility of more competition with equanimity.

Sarecky has told his friends he will go to jail rather than divulge information concerning the governor.

The governor's secretary said the governor would have nothing to say until the committee had completed its work. L. A. Sarecky, former confidential secretary to the governor who refused to testify concerning campaign contributions of the executive, may not be summoned before the bar of the house to explain his position. Sarecky has told his friends he will go to jail rather than divulge information concerning the governor.

GLASS BLOWERS WANT NEW SCALE

NEGOTIATIONS NOW UNDER WAY FOR IMPROVED WORKING CONDITIONS

As Soon as Question is Settled, Fires Will Be Started in Bottle and Window Plants

Fires will be started in the Wichita Falls Window Glass plant and in the Texas Bottle Manufacturing Plant as soon as wage scales with the glass workers are negotiated. Negotiations for a new wage agreement were opened at Marion, Indiana, last week for the bottle workers and at Cleveland, Ohio, for the window glass workers. The bottle workers have adjourned to Atlantic City this week and the window glass men are still in session. While no trouble is expected in reaching wage scale agreements the fires will not be started until such agreements are signed.

A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess," says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good. Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously. Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer. For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year. Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.

MATERIAL GAIN IN POPULATION

WICHITA COUNTY BELIEVED TO HAVE TOTAL OF OVER 26,000 INHABITANTS

Gain of Over 9000 in Three Years Since Federal Census of County Was Taken

A big increase in the scholastic population of Wichita county is shown in the report of County Superintendent R. M. Johnston filed with the county commissioners today. This report shows a total of 4724 scholars in the county which based on the legal ratio of six inhabitants to each scholastic indicates a total population of 26,404. The census of 1910 gave the county a total population of 16,994 which would show an increase in the three years of 9,310. Electra, Burk Burnett and Wichita Falls give a large part of this increase.

The scholastics in each justly precinct and in each incorporated town in the county follow: Iowa Park, 153; Burk Burnett, 223; Electra, 415; Wichita Falls, 2359; J. P. Precinct No. 1, 2882; J. P. Precinct No. 2, 518; J. P. Precinct No. 3, 53; J. P. Precinct No. 4, 795; J. P. Precinct No. 5, 486.

The total shows a gain of 898 over last year, when the scholastic population was 3826. This would indicate a gain in general population of 5388 since last year which is not thought from actual increase.

THRESHING STOPPED IN KANSAS BY DROUGHT

Intense Heat and Extreme Dry Weather Over Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma

By Associated Press. Kansas City, Aug. 9.—Reports of suffering from heat and drought in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma reached here in greater numbers today than at any time since the intense heat set in a week ago. Cities and towns over the three States are suffering from lack of water.

Relief was promised by the local weather forecaster tonight. Three deaths from heat were reported in Kansas today.

At Leavenworth the temperature was 108. Practically all rivers and creeks in Leavenworth county are dry and threshing operations have been abandoned on account of water shortage.

San Saba—It has been announced that Lieutenant Governor Will H. Mayes will open the San Saba county fair to be held here August 12. It is expected that over 10,000 people will be present.

MERIDIAN ROUTE BY DENVER ROAD

HENRIETTA - BOWIE - DECATUR LINE IS CHOSEN AT RECENT MEETING

Route Enters Texas at Burk Burnett—Misses Weatherford and Mineral Wells

The Texas Meridian Road Association has selected the "Denver" route from Wichita Falls to Fort Worth in the place of the Jacksonville-Weatherford route that has heretofore been the official route. The change was made at a meeting held in Fort Worth last week. The official route is now via Burk Burnett, Wichita Falls, Henrietta, Bellevue, Bowie, Decatur, Sunset, Alford and Rhome into Fort Worth.

From Fort Worth the road will go south to Waco and thence to Galveston via Houston. Another branch of the road will go to Laredo via San Antonio from Waco and still another branch will go to Galveston from San Antonio via Victoria, Freeport and the coast.

At the Fort Worth meeting D. F. Kolp of San Antonio, was chosen president and W. H. Beck of Fort Worth, secretary and treasurer. The change in the route between Wichita Falls and Fort Worth has been under consideration for some time and was made because the "Denver" route had been greatly improved while the Jacksonville route had been permitted to fall into poor repair. The "Denver" route is also a part of the Colorado-to-the-Gulf system.

YEARY'S SLAYER ADMITTED TO BAIL

A. L. Jackson's Bond Placed at $5,000 Following a Habeas Corpus Hearing

A. L. (not J. V. as erroneously reported) Jackson, slayer of Charles Yearly, was admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000 after a habeas corpus hearing before Judge Martin Saturday morning. The testimony of several witnesses was taken. In placing the bond of $5,000 Judge Martin said he took into account the probability of the defendant being able to give bond in that sum. An attempt is being made to find bondsmen for Jackson. He has never recovered fully from the effects of the axe wound inflicted by a third man who witnessed the tragedy.

FIRE DESTROYED FIVE DWELLINGS

FLAMES ORIGINATING FROM GAS-OLINE SMOOTHING IRON CAUSED LOSS OF $10,000.00

FLAMES FANNED BY WIND

For a Time Whole Section of City Threatened by Fire on Thirteenth Street

Fire starting from the explosion of a gasoline smoothing iron at the home of J. R. Hook at 1413 Thirteenth street at about 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon destroyed five residences in that block and for a time threatened a general conflagration.

The loss is estimated at between $7,500 and $10,000 partially covered by insurance, but to what extent could not be learned last night.

Mrs. Hook was using a self heating iron when the gasoline began to flame up. She first threw a blanket over the iron and when this failed to hold down the flames she first threw a mattress over them, but this was only fresh fuel, and with the flames bursting through the house, Mrs. Hook was compelled to beat a retreat.

There was considerable delay in getting the fire hose connected and streams of water playing on the flames, and by the time the department had gotten down to their best efforts, the flames were being fanned furiously in three houses.

A stiff breeze was blowing at the time and two more residences on the east and soon thereafter spread to the residence of J. R. Huddleston on the west at 1415 Thirteenth street.

The wind carried sparks and burning shingles a block away and but for the wide street intervening on the windward side from the burning houses, it is almost certain a more disastrous conflagration must have resulted.

Most of the furniture was saved from the homes of Mr. Leacham and Mr. Mooney and Mr. Dillon but practically all of the furnishings of the Hook home and that of the Huddleston's who are out of town on vacation was destroyed. The house occupied by the Hook family was also owned by Mr. Mooney whose loss will reach $5,000 or more.

When it was seen that the five houses on the south side of the street were doomed the fire department centered its efforts in saving the row of houses on north side of the street. Some of these houses caught after a number of times but the flames were prevented from getting a headway.

Household goods were quickly moved from the houses in the danger zone and piled on a vacant block just west of the scene of the fire where a great crowd of spectators had gathered.

The wind blew hot flames and carried whirling clouds of smoke from the burning buildings and anxious house-holders on the windward side watched anxiously until it was certain that the spread of the fire was checked. It looked decidedly bad for a time and all felt relieved when the flames died down.

FORMER WICHITA FALLS GIRL DIES IN DALLAS

Body of Miss Ruth Walkup Brought Here Last Night—Funeral at 2 p. m. Today

The body of Miss Ruth Walkup who died in a Dallas physician's office Friday afternoon while an anesthetic was being administered preparatory to an operation for appendicitis, was brought here last night over the Katy and is now at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ethel Allen, 709 Lamar street where the funeral will take place at two o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Walkup was 24 years old and besides two sisters lying here, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. W. L. Pannell has a father and mother living at Burk Burnett. She was formerly stenographer at the St. James Hotel here leaving in February to take a position with Butler Brothers in Dallas.

She had suffered from enlarged tonsils and was about to undergo an operation for their removal when the anesthetic fright and a rheumatic affection of the heart caused her death.

Miss Walkup was very popular here and her relatives have much sympathy in her untimely death.

TEXAS BANKERS DON'T LIKE BILL

INFORMAL CANVASS SHOWS GLASS MEASURE IS NOT VERY POPULAR

WANT SYSTEM REFORMED

Do Not Favor Means Proposed in Measure Now Pending in Congress at Washington

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 12.—Hearing his statement on letters received from 100 Texas country bankers, Tom Slack, Fort Worth banker, declared Monday that Texas bankers are opposed to the Glass-Owens currency bill, which he characterizes as the "administration currency bill."

"To controvert the statement" issued last week from a New York banking firm, asserting that a majority of Southern people were in favor of the plan, Mr. Slack sent out the letters. The hundred replies had been received Monday night. Only one banker was in favor of the bill.

"Although I am not conversant with the bill," he declared, "I sympathize with President Wilson's attempt to reform the present banking system." "That all bankers, the country and the city bankers alike, want currency reform, Mr. Slack declared was his opinion. "But we do not want a radical change," he said, "for the American banking system city has its own faults—and if the administration bill were passed it would cut the head off the banks. What physician is there who would sever the head to relieve the toothache?"

"Laying aside the complicated terms of high finance and stripped of unnecessary verbiage, the effect of the proposed measure now before congress would be that an amount equal to 20 per cent of the capital of each national bank would have to be subscribed to provide capital for the district federal bank. Also your legal reserve to 5 per cent of your deposits would have to be placed in federal banks, bearing no interest and not subject to check or use. According to the act one-half of the capital you subscribe may be retained by you to their credit charged to you by them and subject to call."

Many of the bankers denounce the bill. Others are sarcastic, declaring it is "useless for the banker to get his due, for they will oppose anything the banker wants, and if we oppose it, we'll vote for it." One banker who requested his name be withheld from publication attacked President Wilson's judgment regarding financial matters.

"Of course," he said, "our President Wilson, who has been president of one of our leading colleges, certainly knows everything about finance." Mr. Slack's statement was made at a meeting of the Texas Bankers' Association, which is one of the most influential of the country bankers and properly analyzes the bill. An excerpt of the letter follows: "From the viewpoint of a country banker I can find nothing that looks attractive or even fair to that class of banks in the measure. They are asked to surrender substance for a mess of pottage. Stripped of legislative phraseology the provisions of the bill require them: "First, to surrender all control over 20 per cent of their capital. To deprive them of a fair and reasonable profit on same and assume all the hazard of an untried venture conducted by those who have no property at stake.

"Second, to surrender practically all profits derived from exchange transactions, the very bread and butter of the small interior banks. To recompensate for this and other substantial sacrifices they are offered, subject to the pleasure or whim of the seven presidential appointees, that certain of them do not need or require, certain restricted facilities for rediscounting certain classes of paper not ordinarily owned or dealt in by country banks in Texas."

Operate Under State Charter Numbers of the bankers declare if the bill is passed they will surrender their national charter and operate under a state charter. "Although I believe President Wilson is honest and sincere, he is mistaken," Mr. Slack said, "for he is undertaking to make a system which will supply temporary relief, causing the bankers to surrender what is permanent."

Among the bankers who wrote Mr. Slack asserting their opposition to the bill are: Judge R. E. Huff, Wichita Falls; George L. Blackford; Denison; A. J. Pondrom, Texarkana; S. S. Montgomery, Memphis; Louis Callan, Menard; G. L. Reeves, El Campo; Joe Hirsch, Corpus Christi; D. J. Young, Canadian; L. D. Amster, Hempstead; F. M. Law, Beaumont; Will P. Jones, Childress; N. L. Bartholomew, Albany; R. H. Alexander, Coleman; O. G. Bowman, Hillsboro; D. W. Sweeney, Bonham.

CLARKSVILLE EXPLOSION DEATH LIST INCREASED

Another Succumbs to Injuries Received Saturday Morning When Boiler Blew Up

By Associated Press. Clarksville, Texas, Aug. 11.—George Peacock, the only survivor of Saturday's saw mill boiler explosion, 18 miles south of Clarksville, died at 8 o'clock this morning without recovering consciousness. Parties who claim to have visited the mill early Saturday morning, say that the men were having trouble with the boiler and that cold water was pumped into the tank.

Present Styles "Evolutionary And Not Revolutionary"

New York, Aug. 9.—This is the un-dress era and man, indirectly, and militant woman directly, are to blame. So women who have been wearing "knickers" as their sole under garment may cheer up. They are exempt from all responsibility. This is the last word from a noted London medical authority, and his reasoning is not so far-fetched as at first diagnosis might appear. Since one body of women was driven to both the extreme of militancy and that of aping man's clothes in order to attract his attention, the remainder of the sex were obliged to rely more than ever on their personal attractions, and consequently have come to the other extreme in suggesting by clinging garments, rather than the sales and front, rather than an even depth, as formerly. The continued vogue of silks during the summer, and the constant try of cotton fabrics being worn far into the fall and even throughout the winter. This will assuredly be the case with materials of rough weave, as these are almost indistinguishable from their woolen prototypes. Espouse, agaric and ratine are some of those which are certain to prove quite as attractive throughout the cool, bracing days of autumn as during the languorous days of spring of the humid ones of summer. These may eventually come to realize an all the year round vogue.

The attractive gown of the second illustration is well suited to August days. It will be equally desirable for afternoon and evening indoor wear during the winter. It was developed in soft surah silk, with collar, lapels and chemise of shadow lace. A wash of cobalt blue, tan and white tartan ribbon is wound loosely twice about the waist and tied low on the left side. The waist-drops considerably over the grille; the skirt has extra fulness laid in soft pleats. Tucks over the shoulders and long sleeves finished by deep frills are pleasing details of the model. For the lovely frocks of summer pearl trimmings are much worn. Especially in the diaphanous white materials do they lend a softening beauty and grace both to frock and wearer. The stings of brilliants as an edging for sleeves and collars is also much in favor, and presages a revival of the gay effects seen last winter. But the smartest creations of this season will undoubtedly place their dependence more on the magnificence of the fabric than on any accompanying trimming. Particularly will this be true where silk, brocades, satin and velvet are employed, as these seem sufficient unto themselves without extra ornamentation. For this reason it is just possible that the days of the beaded and beaded necks are numbered. The woven over dress from which at an hour's notice mildy by the use of an old foundation, could have a smart costume, will be relegated to a place in the past. In its stead will appear frocks of light weight material, crepe de Chine, Canton crepe, and velvet, silk and satin brocade, the materials rivaling one another in the beauty of their sheen and texture.

CLOTHING DEALERS PLAN QUITE UNIQUE BANQUET

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Two thousand wholesale and retail dealers in women's and children's clothing today announced the program for their banquet tomorrow night. From soup to nuts during the banquet, there will be "something doing" on the stage at the end of the big hall at the La Salle Hotel. The prettiest models in New York and Chicago will parade and do a little dancing on the stage in the very newest creations while the clothing are dining. There will be filmy, translucent skirts; opaque, slashed skirts; enticingly abbreviated short skirts; alluringly sheer waists; daring ball room costumes, and several semi-classic Greek costume effects that the clothing are anxious to try out. After the "grown up" show, a score or more of children wearing all the latest in infant tummy, will parade before the dining manufacturers. Many of the new creations were shown today at the annual fashion show conducted by the Chicago Garment Makers' Association at Orchestra Hall.

Newest Picture Of Czar Of Russia And His Family, Including Little Heir To The Throne

This is the latest picture of the czar of Russia and his family. It is made doubly interesting by the new report of the engagement of the czar's eldest daughter, the Grand Duchess Olga, and by the many conflicting reports of the health of the little czarvitch. Those in the group are, left to right: Grand Duchess Olga, Grand Duchess Marie, the czar, Czarina Alexandra, Grand Duchess Anastasia, the czarvitch, heir to the throne and the Grand Duchess Tatiana. The picture was taken at a recent celebration.

COLQUITT TALKS TO BOTH HOUSES

DENIES THAT HE INTENDED TO REFLECT ON LEGISLATURE IN SPEECHES

TERRELL STANDS ALOOF

Speaker Does Not Join in Hand Shaking—Practically Same Address in Both Houses

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11.—In the Senate this afternoon the House bill providing for direct election of senators was called up and the Senate bill substituted for it, after which it was passed. The Senate also passed the educational appropriation bill.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11.—Governor Colquitt addressed both Houses of the Texas legislature today. His speech to the two branches was practically the same.

It embodied principally the reported erroneous idea that had become prevalent of the larger heads existing between the governor and the Legislature and of the subsequent detriment to the State in the matter of legislation.

"It has never been my idea to reflect in any manner on either branch of the Legislature, I have said that I could accomplish it, if I had cooperation of the State's Legislature. If I had made any mistakes, I am ready and willing to correct them," he said in speaking of his address at Fort Worth over which the strained relations had reached a culmination.

For Platform Demands. "The best way to cooperate, so far as I know, is to work to carry out the flat demands of the platform. I am willing to meet any and all members of the Senate and House half way."

In speaking of legislative matters, he stated he had nothing to care for or error was greeted with applause in both Houses. It was a notable fact that after his speech in the House, he was surrounded by many who crowded the platform to shake his hand, but that Speaker Terrell alone stood aloof and with an expression that plainly demonstrated the gulf between the governor and himself.

In the House the penitentiary bill came on for final passage, but had not been passed at the noon recess. In the Senate, preceding the governor's address, J. H. Bailey of the Twenty-second district, succeeding W. O. Murray, was sworn in. The first district election contest was postponed until Tuesday.

HOUSE CURRENCY CAUCUS STARTS

DEMOCRATS BEGIN DISCUSSION OVER ADMINISTRATION'S MONEY BILL

GLASS EXPECTS HARMONY

Securing of Notes by Farm Warehouse Receipts is Principal Bone of Contention

Washington, Aug. 11.—Democrats of the House faced a long struggle over the administration currency bill when they caucused today to consider that measure. Chairman Glass with ten democrats of the banking committee behind him and with Representative Underwood and other administration leaders, went into the caucus hopeful of securing harmonious support of the currency bill as it had been approved by President Wilson.

Opposition to the bill was led by democrats who favored broadening the system of issuing circulating notes so that they could be secured upon warehouse receipts for corn, wheat and cotton, as well as upon commercial paper, as provided in the Glass bill.

Representatives Henry of Texas, Newley of Kansas and others led that feature of the fight.

JACK JOHNSON FIGHTS PALZAR AT MARSEILLES

Paris, Aug. 12.—Because Jack Johnson has been making himself objectionable in the Paris cafes, revolution of feeling has caused the managers of the Palzar-Johnson fight to stage it at Marseilles instead of here as was formerly planned. Fight promoters fear Johnson's reputation would seriously hurt the game here since several Paris newspapers have taken up the ougead against Paris opening its arms to the big black who had to flee the United States on a white slavery charge.

Odious, Ain't It? Ring—The ring the colleges scatter around their degress, is absolutely nauseating. Every Tom, Dick and Harry with a little cheap notoriety can figure on getting one. The whole system is absolutely indefensible. Don't you think so? Hang—Yes, I didn't get one either. Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Good roads shorten the haul to market and bring the neighbors closer.

While only a few taxpayers have publicly expressed themselves on the matter the Times believes the great majority of them favor the proposed special tax for a system of road improvements over the entire county and that the county commissioners may levy such a tax certain that it meets with public favor.

Bitter Governor Sulzer of New York is a man of colossal impudence or else he is a victim of a despicable frame up. The Frawley committee, which by the way is in the control of Tammany, has heard the testimony of Wall street clerks who told of stock speculations during and after the governor's campaign, and the testimony leaves room a plenty for the inference that Governor Sulzer appropriated campaign funds for that purpose. On the other hand the governor has issued a statement emphatically denying that he used campaign funds for that purpose, or that he appropriated campaign contributions for his own use.

The installation of women on the police force of Chicago has brought out many pertinent suggestions from the paragraphs over the country relative to popular titles to be given the female officers. Some have suggested the name "copsess," others "pollicess." Since the new peace officers seriously object to any titles so far mentioned, and whereas the scrupulous of town roundabouts insist on referring the "male policemen" as "bills," why not dub the skirted contingent as "bulletts" and let it go at that?

We may be mistaken, but it is our belief that the movement now on foot to force the sporting page reporters to cut out slang phrases, with particular reference to baseball games, is sensible, and most assuredly timely. The national games are all right and every wide-awake patriot loves them; but it seems to be the popular idea among baseball reporters that they must sling slang in describing critical plays. In these writings, the public squints through its spectacles and tries to make out the features of the contests. It is just as simple to report that a batsman was good enough to make a home run, as to remark that "the hair-eyed son of a saw-buck from Smedank county, Skiridge prect, tricked the warty pitcher and sent the spheroid into the grim light of the stand-fans into the world land far away, making a soonly-seen inn get-by round the 1-2-3 course and beating the prodigal ball into the home nest in time to put his tongue inside his head, be snatched by flunnet in borers, pipe the howls of town skir-wit with flags and puff a turkish during the space allotted before hitting to the field for the next inning." Slang as used among busy, everyday Americans, is mighty convenient oftentimes but too much is plenty and an over product is awfully simple. Back to the good-old United States talk; that perhaps we shall all understand when we are spoken to.

If the editors couldn't tell the farmers how to farm, what would they do?—we mean the editors. It's all right to talk about Texas sunshine, sometime, but now is no one of those times. It isn't time yet for the republican and bull moosers to blame the drought on the Wilson administration. Now if Texas just had a lieutenant governor like the one in Oklahoma the cast for the biggest governmental fairs in the union would be complete. The Wichita Falls and Northwest ern's night passenger train now reaches Wichita Falls before 9:30. Wet goods emperiums are the beneficiaries.

Between the Plow-Handies Radford has a mighty sensible view of most things, perhaps that's why his voice hasn't been raised to any clamor on pitch of defense of free passes for farmers. Sorghum, amber, kafir corn and fetterite will get by most the drought that near India corn. They make mighty good livestock that is a mighty fine feed for livestock which brings mighty profitable prices.

A Georgia gentleman who shot himself in the head with a revolver but failed to kill himself was arrested for carrying concealed weapons. The Dallas-Times-Herald recommends this procedure for some of the Dallas murderers when they are turned loose by juries on charges of murder.

Lake Wichita will never attain the popularity it ought to have until quicker street car service is provided. There are too many long waits on switches for the average person. Of course all of us appreciate the enterprise that built a car line to the Lake. It now remains for the traction company to perfect a service that will be as prompt as possible for the Lake to become a most popular resort.

Wichita Falls is like the boy that has outgrown his pants. Our needs have grown faster than we have been able to provide means to meet them. One of the evident and pressing needs is more fire fighting equipment and the addition of three or four more salaried firemen. Our volunteer firemen are all right and deserve praise and gratitude but it is certain that the addition of several salaried men would greatly increase the efficiency of the force. They would always be on hand at the start and could get quicker and with better knowledge than volunteers, who arrive breathless, if they reach the scene at all, and are handi-capped in other ways. Our proposed special charter ought to make adequate provision for fire protection.

"Hiding behind your wife's skirts is merely a figure of speech these days," says the Bartlettville Examiner. Over 12,000 soldiers, the pick of the U. S. regular army, are still stationed in Texas close to the border and it isn't at all probable they will be taken away until the Mexican trouble is cleared up.

When I was a young man I was impatient. I thought because a thing was right I ought to be secured at once. But I have learned to be patient. I have found that only those who are an error need to win at once. Those who are right can wait.—William Jennings Bryan. Who knew that Dr. Edward Bayard Jale was in Mexico as a special representative of the American government until the news dispatches told of his meeting Envoy Lind at Vera Cruz. The answer will show that your Uncle Woodrow isn't so slow as some profess to believe.

There can be no question about it but that the continued dry hot weather is provocative of the sterner passions. A good shower and cooler temperature would cheer everybody up and while it might add to the mouth of the list of "dunks" on the police court docket it would certainly lessen the number of tragedies which have broken forth in the last few weeks.

Governor Colquitt is getting ready to show up the legislature, for according to Austin dispatches, he is preparing to submit congressional and senatorial redistricting in this session. There are about as many distinct and separate ideas as to how the state ought to be redistricted as there are state senators plus all those who have congressional aspirations and when these divergent views come into juxtaposition the confusion that results will give the governor a good opportunity to point to them and say "Just look at the bunch which I have to deal with."

NO NAMES WERE MENTIONED. From the esteemed Congressional record we learn that the Chaplain, Rev. Henry N. Conden, D. D. offered the following prayer on the opening of Congress, Friday, August 5: "Father in heaven, let Thy blessing descend copiously upon us, that our minds may be clarified and our hearts strengthened for whatever tasks may be laid upon us. Loving mercy, doing us, walking humbly with Thee, for we are with Thee who can be against us? Reputation may suffer by the traducer, but if the character of the police, in spite of wind and tide reputation will right itself and we shall all on and in due season reach that fair heaven for which we all long under the guiding hand of the Great Captain of our salvation. Amen." And not a word had been said about the lobby investigation either.

PRESIDENT WILSON BREAKS ANOTHER PRECEDENT. "It is the established policy of the United States to recognize all Governments, without question of their source or organization or of the means by which the governing persons attain their power, provided there be a Government de facto accepted by the people of the country."—President Franklin Pierce. Opponents of President's Wilson's policy in dealing with the Mexican situation are quoting this declaration of President Pierce's as a precedent which ought now to govern. President Wilson has shown a disregard for some other precedents that have not had their foundation on any sound principle, and this it seems to us is a similar case. To recognize any de facto government in Mexico or Central or South America would be an open invitation to assassins and revolutionists. President Wilson's declaration that the United States will recognize only those governments constitutionally set up ought to act as a deterrent to revolts instigated to satisfy personal ambitions and the seizure of the reins of government through assassination.

POLICE IN FATAL QUARREL; STERL MORRIS IS KILLED

E. B. COX, ALSO A POLICEMAN, IS JAILED CHARGED WITH THE KILLING

TWO BULLETS HIT

Shooting Takes Place on Ohio Avenue Monday Night—Started Over Trivial Incident

As the result of a quarrel arising from the arrest of some prisoners, Policeman Sterling Morris was shot and instantly killed Monday night by E. B. Cox, a brother policeman. The killing took place at about ten o'clock on the sidewalk in front of the Wichita Hardware-Company's store on Ohio avenue within half a block of the city hall.

The shooting followed the exchange of blows between the two officers. Cox fired three shots, using a .38 caliber Police Special revolver; two shots entered Morris' head, the third went wild but Morris sank at the second. The third is believed to have been fired as he was sinking to the pavement.

Policeman Arthur Graves and Night Watchman Andy Humphries and Policeman Charles Summerville were immediate witnesses to the killing although a number of others were within half a block of the scene. Trivial Cause of Quarrel. From information gathered from a number of sources it appears that the incident that caused the quarrel was a trivial one. Earlier in the evening Morris and other officers had brought a party of white men down to the hall for alleged fighting and drunkenness. The immediate cause of their arrest was for an assault upon a negro. Their names had been entered on the police docket and they had asked for bail.

Cox was at the table at the police station filling out a bond when Morris told him that if a "nigger" was the complainant a bond wouldn't be necessary. Cox said "that's all right with me" and got up and walked out. The men were allowed to leave but were requested while causing a disturbance on the street uptown. Cox was one of the officers making the arrest. Meet Later on Street. Fifteen or twenty minutes later Cox and Policeman Arthur Graves held a meeting in front of the hardware company's store when Morris came along. Graves says that Morris asked Cox saying "Cox, you don't seem to like what I did down at the hall awhile ago," to which Graves says that Cox replied that it made no difference to him; that it wasn't his affair anyhow. Morris then said something about "butting in," according to Graves, and Cox and himself urged Morris not to "get sore about it" and that Cox said he didn't want to have any trouble.

At one time," said Graves, "both men appeared ready to let the matter drop when Morris said, 'Cox, I want you to understand one thing. I want you to keep your bill out of my business. At that the quarrel broke out afresh and thinking that I might distract their attention and get one of them to follow me away I turned around and started to walk off saying 'come on.' I had gone only a few steps when I heard the impact of blows and turned around to see both men striking at each other. Other Officers Near. "I didn't know who struck the first blow. I ran in to try to separate them. I saw Morris reach into his pocket and thought he was reaching for an automatic. Cox said he didn't do that. I cried, and grabbed his wrist. I was still between them and felt Morris reach for my revolver which I had in a holster in my right hip pocket. I turned around and back out of his reach but he got my 'billy' which I had in my left hip pocket. I caught his wrist again. He said, 'You're a good friend of mine but I am going to hurt you and hurt you bad if you don't let loose.' He kept trying to strike Cox with the billy and seeing that he was going to get away from me I cried for help. About this time Mr. Humphries came up. Sterl kept on trying to hit Cox. The latter stepped back and I saw him draw his gun. At the second shot Sterl sank down and Cox fired another shot as he was getting up.

A. J. Humphries' Story. Night Watchman A. J. Humphries who was on the other side of the street from the scene of the quarrel says he saw men scuffling. At first he thought it was a friendly scuffle and then when he saw that it was serious, he thought that the police were having trouble taking some obstreperous prisoner to jail. He ran across the street to help and when he got closer saw that it was Morris, Cox and Graves. "Graves and Cox seemed to be holding Morris and he had hold of them and all had hold of each other," said Mr. Humphries. "I said, 'what's the matter?' what's the matter?' and first grabbed hold of Cox and Morris. Then I got at Morris' back and tried to pull him back. I was still holding him when Cox fired the first shot. At that it seemed that Graves stepped back and I stepped to one side and toward Cox. He fired two more shots. At the second Morris sank. Cox fired another shot after he was nearly down. Seeing that Morris had been killed I stepped up to Cox and said 'Give me your gun, I'll have to take you to jail.' He handed over the gun and walked with me to jail. No revolver or weapon of any other description was found on Morris' body. Graves' billy with the strap pulled loose was picked up from the sidewalk after the killing. Morris was in his shirt sleeves and was just on his way back to the city hall after having eaten a lunch and had left his revolver, stick and coat there. Two Wounds in Body. There were a few convulsive movements of Morris' body after he fell but he never spoke a word. His body was taken to HUT's undertaking establishment. An examination showed that one of the bullets had entered the body at the pit of the stomach and had apparently gone directly in. The other entered three and a half inches below this one and two inches to the right of the meridian line and came out three and a half inches outside and one inch below the left nipple. It then struck his right arm and penetrated that member, the bullet being found just underneath the skin on the outside. Other members of the police force and Mayor Bell and Chief of Police Flynn who were summoned by telephone were present at the scene of the tragedy. An informal examination of witnesses was conducted by the mayor and chief last night, and this morning Justice Brothers examined several witnesses at a formal inquest. This inquest was postponed until the purpose only of establishing the death of Morris by sworn testimony together with the fact that Cox had killed him. A complaint charging Cox with murder would be filed today, being sworn to by Policeman Arthur Graves. Acting upon the advice of his attorney, W. F. Weeks, Cox declined to make a statement this morning. Bruised places upon his forehead were plainly visible. Mr. Weeks said it would probably be several days before any steps were taken to secure bail for Cox. Probably Reconvence Grand Jury. Judge Martin has indicated that he will call another special session of the grand jury to investigate the killing. The time when the grand jury will be called together will not be determined until after the murder case set for tomorrow is disposed of. If this case goes to trial the grand jury will not be called together until next week. Both men ranked high on the police force. Morris is a native of this section and has lived in Wichita Falls a number of years. He was about 36 years of age and has an estimable character. He was a well-known stockman and was liked by everybody. About five months ago he left the police force voluntarily and came back at the solicitation of the city the first of the present month. He not only stood high as a policeman but as a citizen as well. Cox has been a member of the force about four months, coming to the police force from the traction company. He came to Wichita Falls from Texasiana where he had lived thirteen years. He came highly recommended. Mayor Praises Officers. Mayor Bell speaking of the two men said they were among the best on the force. The affair has almost stunned all the police force. Both of the men had high standing and were men with clean records. An examination of the records shows that Cox stood second on the force in the number of arrests credited to him. Morris had been back on the force only since the first of the month. Both men were well known in the city. Morris' service are not available but he was not less vigilant than Cox. Both were nifty, clean men and neither ever stooped to a dirty thing. Cox lives at the corner of Fifth and Lamar streets and has a wife and two children. His brother, who is an attorney at Mt. Pleasant, Texas, will be associated with Mr. Weeks in his defense. Morris was 26 years of age and leaves a widow and seven children and two brothers and a sister. His body was removed to his home just west of the city limits today and the funeral will be held there at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. It will be conducted by Rev. J. L. McKee. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

REPRESENTATIVE OF MANUFACTURERS DENIES MANY THINGS IN TESTIMONY

Money Paid to Employees at Capitol in Return for "Courtiness" Witnesses Tells Committee

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 12.—James A. Emory, chief representative of the National Association of Manufacturers, described today to the Senate lobby committee the duties of Martin W. Mulhall. He said: "Mulhall kept me supplied with copies of bills and public documents in relation to the work here and got information of the status of legislation in which we were interested. In this work, he gathered information and learned the views of members of Congress. Emory flatly denied that two negro employees at the capitol were paid by the manufacturers. Mulhall swore that for almost a year Emory gave him each month a $100 check of which $50 was to go to F. H. McMichael, former chief page of the House, and the balance to the two negroes. Emory denied he ever drew such a check. He declared Mulhall told him he had a friend at the capitol who could get the public documents and bills. After Emory learned this friend was McMichael, Emory testified, however, that he did draw a check for $50 which he told Mulhall to divide between the two negroes 'merely to pay for the many courtesies they performed for our members.' "Did you ever make any payments for Mulhall to McMichael?" "Yes, it never exceeded $20 a month, and it terminated in 1910. Emory added that these payments were made for services in getting bills and documents and for courtesies.

JUMPS HEADFIRST INTO TRINITY AND IS KILLED. Dallas Postal Clerk Meets Death in Mud—No Cause For His Action Known. By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Aug. 12.—Jumping headfirst from a bridge into the shallow water near the edge of the Trinity river, Mr. E. Zapp, aged thirty-five, a postal clerk, stuck head downward in the mud with his feet warping in the air this morning, until he suffocated a few minutes later. The cause of his act is not known. Zapp was one of the highest rated clerks at the Dallas office and apparently had been in good health. His wife said he left home about 5.30 this morning in good spirits. He left his hat with his card in it, at the place where he jumped from the bridge. He was a Shriner and that organization took charge of his body.

ARABS AMBUSH BRITISH TROOPS. FOLLOWERS OF "MAD MULLAH" AGAIN ON WAPATH IN ARABIA. Most of Soldiers Were Natives—Many Dervishers Take Part in Attack. By Associated Press. Aden, Arabia, Aug. 12.—Official dispatches announce today that a company of British native troops has been ambushed by 2000 dervishes near Burao. The British lost about sixty killed and wounded. Many thousand followers of Mad Mullah are on the march. A remnant of the ambushers' camel corps was found late yesterday by a flying squadron of three hundred picked men sent from here to the scene of trouble. All that was left of the little band of British soldiers were entrenched in rough country, twenty-eight miles southeast of Burao in the center of the British somaliland protectorate. The English losses included one British officer killed and one wounded. The other killed and wounded were Indian natives. Heavy losses were inflicted on the dervishes.

CHINESE UPRIISING SO FAR A FAILURE. Washington, Aug. 11.—General improvement in conditions in the rebellious districts of China was reported to the navy department in a cablegram from Rear Admiral Nicholson, commanding the Pacific fleet at Nan King. "The present uprising," reported Admiral Nicholson, "has met with failure at every point up to the present and the northern troops have been uniformly successful. The country, however, is far from pacified. Ku Ling is now within the northern lines and the conditions are satisfactory there. Nan King has renounced allegiance to the South, but disorders are threatened here owing to large numbers of troops formerly with the southern armies, but now attached to either side. An American steamer was fired on by the southerners at Cheng Lin. Ample reparations have been made."

CONTINUANCE AND CHANGE OF VENUE LEPROSY NOW CURABLE SAYS MEDICAL OFFICER A continuance of trial and change of venue to Archer county was obtained in the case of A. L. Jackson under indictment and charged with murder in connection with the killing of Charles Yearly here July 15th. The case will be taken up on the second Monday in October in the Archer county district court. The continuance was granted upon the application of Jackson whose attorneys presented a petition alleging that the defendant's physical condition was such that he could not stand trial and that to do so would endanger his life. The petition also alleged that Judge A. H. Carrigan, leading counsel for the defendant had not been able to participate in the preparation of the defense on account of having been bitten by a poisonous insect which had kept him at his home and further that material witnesses for the defendants had not been located after diligent search. The special venire summoned for the jury in the case this afternoon was dismissed. Jackson was carried into the court room on a mattress this morning and laid on a cot from where he heard his arraignment to which he entered a plea of not guilty. He is being represented by Carrigan, Montgomery and Britton. Walter Nelson and Attorney Murchison of Haskell. KATY HEARING HERE MAY BE POSTPONED Austin, Tex., Aug. 13.—Failure to secure service on witnesses will call a temporary halt in the taking of testimony in the State's suit against the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, according to Assistant Attorney General Luther Nickols, who is prosecuting the litigation. A number of witnesses, including President Schaff of the Katy, are wanted by the State to testify at Wichita Falls Aug. 18. It appears it will be necessary to postpone the testimony at least a week perhaps.

MAN SWALLOWS POISON TABLETS

RUSHES INTO RESIDENCE OF DR. HARTSOOK AFTER TAKING BICHLORIDE OF MERCURY

HAS CHANGE TO RECOVER

Ill Health and a Woman are Considered Responsible for Act—Recently Came From Kansas

Dependent because of ill health and his rejection as a suitor, L. E. Chandler of Richmond, Kansas, swallowed tablets of bichloride of mercury this morning and is now in the Wichita Falls Sanitarium where doctors are battling to save his life.

Chandler staggered into the home of Dr. C. R. Hartsook, 1416 Eleventh street at about 9 o'clock this morning and threw himself across a bed foaming at the mouth and vomiting. He was unable to talk and his demeanor badly frightened Mrs. Hartsook, the mother of Dr. Hartsook who was the only person in the house.

At first he would not tell his name but a union mechanic's traveling card issued to Lewis Chandler from Independence, Kansas, was found in his clothing. Later he said his name was L. E. Chandler and that his home was at Richmond, Kansas. He said he reached here last night.

Mentions a Woman.

When the physicians were working with him he exclaimed that a man was a fool to allow a woman to get the best of him so that he would take poison. He is also in poor health. Nothing further was learned concerning his identity. It is believed he swallowed the poison while on the street and when it began to burn his stomach and rack his body with the fearful pain which accompany this poison he inquired for a physician's office but by the time he reached Dr. Hartsook's home he was in such agony that he entered the house without knocking and threw himself upon the bed and was unable to tell Mrs. Hartsook what he wanted.

Bichloride of mercury is a most deadly poison and if much of it has remained in Chandler's system he may linger a week or more and then die. As soon as the tablets are dissolved they burn the lining of the stomach and this often in itself causes death. Death from this poison is a very painful one.

Recalls Recent Case. The case of an Atlanta, Georgia, banker who had swallowed some of this poison attracted nationwide attention several months ago. The banker lingered for days perfectly conscious and with the knowledge that death was only a matter of a few days arranged all his business affairs so that they might be carried on by others without interruption. The country's best physicians did what they could to save his life but their efforts were in vain.

More recently St. Louis physicians have successfully treated a number of cases of such poisoning by the use of electric sweet baths and injections of sodium carbonate into the veins. Out of fourteen cases so treated in St. Louis hospitals, it is reported, only three have resulted fatally. Other remedies and antidotes, such as used by the local physicians in the treatment of the case this morning were used. It is probable that the new treatment may be used here if it is seen that the treatment already used does not prove effective.

MANUFACTURER'S HELP PROMISED

BARTHOLDT ASSURED OF MORAL SUPPORT FOR HIS VOTE ON HUGHES' BILL

HOUSE COMMITTEE MEETS

Questions Mulhall as to His Charge That Some Congressmen Could be Quite Easily Influenced

Washington, Aug. 11.—The House today held a session on the charges of influence with various congressmen and corruption of various employees of the House. A letter from Representative Bartholdt now in Europe, was first produced by Mulhall as a list of those susceptible to influence.

His letter declared no representative of the Manufacturers ever influenced him, but it added that because of his vote against the Hughes amendment exempting labor unions from anti-trust proceedings under the sundry civil bill, the executive committee of the manufacturers voluntarily promised him moral support.

PRODUCTION IN TEXAS IN JULY

OVER FORTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS ADDED TO WEALTH IN A MONTH

TRUCK HAS BIG SHOWING

Data Compiled by the Texas Commercial Secretaries Interesting—Output of all Kinds Considered

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 11.—The production of the farms, mines and factories, together with the influx of foreign capital added $45,120,000 to the wealth of Texas during July, according to data compiled by the Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association. The figures for the same month a year ago are $47,015,500 and the decrease is caused by a falling off in mine output, a curtailment of the factory production and the lightness of the Eastern money markets, said to be caused by pending currency legislation. The different sources of increased wealth in July, 1913 and 1912 are shown below:

Farms and forests, $23,500,000; 1913, $20,905,500. Mines, wells and quarries $1,400,000; 1912, $5,510,000. Factories, $11,160,000; 1913, $12,500,000. Foreign capital, $9,000,000; 1913, $13,000,000. Total, 1912, $45,120,000; 1913, $47,015,500.

Agricultural production shows a two and one-half million dollar increase, while a small decrease in the mine and factory output is noted. The harvest area, during July, was not confined to any one section of Texas, but on the contrary was scattered in all portions of the State. Watermelons and peaches constituted the principal harvests during the month. Truck harvest over in Gulf Coast. The harvest season of fruit and truck in the Gulf Coast country closed about the middle of July and the gathering of cotton and corn was begun. The truck shipments for the season—this section—totalled $5,300,000 compared with $2,448 carloads last year. San Benito, Bishop, Mercedes, Hartington, Brownsville and other Gulf Coast points report corn and cotton harvest in full swing. The Southern Truck Growers Association which controls the bulk of the Texas Bermuda onion, cabbage and cucumber crops, report that their shipping season closed the latter part of June and very few shipments were made in July.

Data gathered by the secretary of the Tyler Commercial Club especially for this report shows that 265 cars of Florida peaches were shipped from Smith county during the month. Tomatoes, water-melons and canteloupes also moved in large quantities in that section. The Early Wheeler peach crop, which is raised principally in Montague county, is estimated at 50 carloads this season, compared with 300 cars for an average year. The late frost and cold weather in spring are responsible for the shortage. Palestine reports 25 cars of peaches shipped in July, compared with 200 cars a year ago. Corn, sorghum, alfalfa, milo maize, kafir corn, grapes, figs and canteloupes were harvested during the month in large quantities in the vicinity of Laredo. Twenty thousand dollars worth of dairy products, eggs and vegetables were produced in the Alvin district during July and approximately $20,000 worth of cucumbers were harvested near League City. Watermelon Crop Not As Heavy As Usual. The watermelon crop is said to be less than an average yield, although the quality is up to the standard. The season has closed in the Brownsville country and a total of 177 cars were shipped this year compared with 541 a 1912. Eighty-one carloads of the crop of Waller county, estimated to be 1,000 cars, have been moved and other sections of South, North and Central Texas report fair yields.

In the Panhandle, northern and central sections of the State were the grain crops of the State were the grain crops were harvested in May and June, the threshers made their rounds during July and by the close of the month the task was practically completed. The Texas Grain Dealers' Association estimates the total production of wheat in Texas at 12 million bushels and the oat production at 25 million. The 1913 oat production is approximately 10 million bushels more than the requirement, while we will have a deficiency of about 25 million bushels of wheat.

Growing crops are said to be in good condition and sufficient rainfall reported from nearly every section of the State. The federal department of agriculture, on the 26th of the month, reported the condition of Texas cotton at 81 per cent of normal, compared with 78 per cent for other cotton growing States. The acreage devoted to this product is said to be slightly reduced compared with 1912. Some of the last part of the 1912 crop which has been stored in warehouses was marketed during July and brought good prices.

The first wool clip of the season was reported from Marble Falls early in the month and some large shipments were made during July. The principal wool growing section is within a radius of 100 miles of San Angelo. This seasons clip will not compare in quality with that of last season, but the quantity is about the same. Reports from five of the principal wool markets of Texas show that fleeces are averaging about 11 pounds. The lumber business for the summer, so far, has been a quiet one, especially so, from a wholesale standpoint. There has been some accumulation of stock at Texas mills during July on account of slowness in the export, coastwise and domestic lumber situation. On account of this the mills have been running less time of the average in July than they did in June. The cut shortage and the scarcity of labor is affecting the majority of the mills and is causing considerable trouble, but indications point to a good lumber business from

RECOGNITION OF REBELS BY U. S. CONSIDERED POSSIBLE

DEMONSTRATION PRECEDES LIND

ARRIVAL OF PRESIDENT'S REPRESENTATIVE, HOWEVER, IS QUIET AND UNEVENTFUL

IS MAINTAINING SILENCE

Declines to be Interviewed by Mexican Reporters—Is Prepared Only For Short Stay

Mexico City, Aug. 11.—The arrival of John Lind, the man whose mysterious mission to Mexico was the direct cause of a public demonstration yesterday in favor of General Huerta's attitude toward American mediation has of itself been devoid of any thrills. Mr. Lind persistently maintained the tactfulness which he has observed since he was summoned from his home in Minnesota by President Wilson to undertake his mission to Mexico.

Just what he is to do here and when he will begin the negotiations for which he has come are as great a mystery as before his arrival. Reporters for several Mexican papers tried to interview Mr. Lind at his hotel but they met with little success.

For Brief Visit Only.

Mr. Lind and his wife came to Mexico prepared only for a brief visit, traveling with little baggage and without the cold weather clothing they need.

The Lind party boarded the train at Vera Cruz Sunday morning at 6 o'clock and came up to the Mexican capital on an uneventful journey. Elaborate preparations had been made here by the police of the city against any public demonstration of disapproval on the arrival of the prominent American.

Fifty police lined up alongside of the train when it pulled into the station and formed a double line, through which the party passed to automobiles which were waiting to take the visitors to a hotel. In the station yards there were about twenty-five mounted police to keep the way open and in the freight yards there were about seventy mounted police. These latter were held as reserves and away from the view of the public, but in readiness for an emergency.

A crowd of perhaps 250 curious people had gathered at the railway station and formed a double line, through which the Lind party and who Charge Nelson O'Shaughnessy, who first entered the car, returned with Gov. and Mrs. Lind the onlookers were silent. The Americans posed for a flash-light photo and then moved to the hotel. Lascruan, where apartments had been reserved.

Meets Bayard Hale.

Mr. Lind installed himself today in temporary offices at the embassy as official adviser to the American chargé d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy. He passed several hours in conference with the chargé, discussing the difficulties for which he, it is alleged, brings a panacea. He had a long conference with Dr. William Bayard Hale who no longer hides his identity as the constitutional enemy of President Wilson, but nothing was given out as to the results.

Texas through the fall and winter, unless the crops get an unexpected setback.

Livestock Market.

Livestock receipts in Texas markets during July, were at a low ebb compared with June and May, but compared with July last year, they show a big increase. The receipts of the Fort Worth market for July 1913 and July 1912 by classes are as follows: Cattle 72,327 head; 1912, 46,452. Calves, 20,940 head; 1912, 23,648. Hogs 21,819 head; 1912, 21,286. Sheep 13,289 head; 1912, 11,442. Horses and mules 2,237 head; 1912, 1,395. Total, 1913, $31,212; 1912, 104,223.

Every class of livestock, with the exception of calves, show an increase in receipts during July this year compared with the same month last year.

Mines, Wells and Quarries Active.

The output of the mines, wells and quarries of Texas during July was valued at $1,460,000, compared with $1,510,000 for the same month last year and $1,890,000 in June, 1913. According to the Oil and Gas Journal, the official organ of the Texas crude petroleum industry, the total oil production of Texas during July was 57,000 barrels. The July run was considerably below the average months output for Texas.

The coal mines of Texas also show a decreased output in July compared with the same month last year and previous months this year. The Bridgeport Coal Company, only operated two-thirds of the month, owing to the light traffic over the steam lines that consume its output. The summer months are, as a rule, an off season in the natural gas industry and July was no exception. The four producing companies operating in the Lone Star gas company is the consumption of their product both by industrial and domestic users. Renewed activities are looked for in this business in the fall and two companies are increasing their pipe line facilities at the present time. The Pioneer Gas Company, whose wells are in Shackelford county, has secured the right of way and will soon begin the construction of a line connecting the Moran fields with Abilene; Cisco, Baird and intermediate points and the Lone Star Gas Company is now double lining their mains a part of the way between Dallas and Fort Worth and the Petrofts fields. Thirty miles of 16 inch pipe is being laid.

ORGANIZED MOVE FOR WAR CHARGED

WILSON SAYS INTERESTS ARE AT WORK TO BRING ABOUT TROUBLE

CONSIDER'S REBELS SIDE

Recognition of Constitutionallists is Possibility—Lind to Furnish Him With all Information

Washington, Aug. 11.—President Wilson let it be known today that he was inclined to believe there is an organized desire, proceeding from sources unknown to him, to bring on a war between the United States and Mexico. The president does not regard the movement as extensive but as very troublesome and he referred to misrepresentation in certain newspapers.

The president indicated that he shared somewhat the views of Senator Williams who declared in a speech last Saturday that an organized lobby existed to involve the United States in war. In the president's opinion, there is no occasion for alarm, and he told callers today that within the last forty-eight hours the Mexican situation has improved greatly.

Lind To Get Information.

The president made it clear to those with whom he discussed the situation that the instructions to John Lind, his personal representative, were chiefly to inform the American government how things stand generally in Mexico and just what are the opportunities for the good offices of the United States in the interests of peace. Sooner or later Mr. Lind will make certain suggestions to the Huerta government through the American embassy, but just what circumstances has not yet been fully determined.

Action on the suggestions that may properly be made public, according to officials here; foreign governments will be constantly kept in touch with various steps taken by the United States. Nothing may be announced, however, for several days. President Wilson has no direct communication, either with the Huerta government or the constitutionalist authorities, and he indicated to his callers today, that he would welcome more information about the constitutionalist purposes.

Question of Territory. It was learned also that the president has not yet formally considered recognition of the constitutionalist belligerency, but that insofar as territory alone is concerned, he regards the position held by the constitutionalists as strong enough compared with that controlled by the Huerta government, to make recognition of the constitutionalists not entirely unjustifiable from a diplomatic standpoint.

There were evidences in the Senate today of a determination by the leaders to keep Mexican affairs out of the debate. Members of the foreign relations committee said President Wilson had exacted a promise from the senators that they would not agree the administration should be permitted to carry out its work for the next few days with as little embarrassment as possible.

NEW HAMPSHIRE SENATOR DENIES NEW ENGLAND IS HIT BY TARIFF

MENTIONS PAUPER WAGES

Tells of Many Ways in Which Textile Mills Seek to Derive Government's Protection

Washington, Aug. 11.—Senator Hollis of New Hampshire, democrat, flayed the congressional members from New England in a speech today in which he declared that New England had not been discriminated against and characterized as false the charge that tariff reduction would ruin the textile industry there. He said: "The cotton manufacturers have taken the highest production and paid pauper wages. They seek to control the government to prevent labor legislation, to escape just taxes, to control the police and inferior courts and secure military aid for the suppression of strikes."

Brilliant Army Officer Retired. Washington, Aug. 11.—Brigadier General William H. Bixby terminated a brilliant army career today. He was voluntarily retired as a major general after an army record dating back to 1872. And he retired earlier than the required age limit in order that a brother officer, Col. William T. Russell, might have the honor for a time of serving as chief of engineers. Col. Russell was near the age limit and had Gen. Bixby remained in the service until retired involuntarily. Col. Russell would have been retired in the meantime as a colonel. With Gen. Bixby's voluntary retirement Col. Russell today becomes a brigadier general and will be retired at the next highest grade. Bixby made a remarkable record for efficiency as chief of the engineer corps of the army. He has been connected with numerous big river improvements all over the country.

FIVE SHERIFFS AT WORK IN ONE OKLAHOMA COUNTY

Osage County Well Supplied With Peace Officers While Controversy is Pending

Pawhuska, Aug. 11.—The citizens of Osage county realize that they have quite large sheriff's force is necessary to look after the entire county, but not one could be found who would consent that the county needs as many as five sheriffs, yet Osage county has five sheriffs or rather five men who claim the job. They are H. M. Freas, E. A. Williamson, E. E. Sams, E. R. Clewien and L. B. Morledge.

Before the last November election the position was held by H. M. Freas and E. A. Williamson was a candidate against him. The election resulted in a contest from which Williamson got possession of the office, but the case is still pending in the Supreme court of Oklahoma. Sheriff Williamson held the office for only a short time until charges were preferred against him and he was temporarily suspended by a quo warranto proceeding, and the county commissioners appointed E. R. Clewien to fill the vacancy. Sheriff Williamson's trial resulted in his being ousted, mainly by evidence taken over a dictagraph, and then E. E. Sams, who served as undersheriff under Williamson claimed the office on the ground that Clewien had been elected only temporarily until the trial of Williamson and as that trial resulted in an ouster Mr. Sams contends that he inherits the office as Mr. Clewien's term has ended. Williamson has appealed his case and expects a final victory. The county commissioners were apparently not satisfied with the transaction and late yesterday evening they elected another sheriff, L. B. Morledge of Fairfax. Sams, Clewien and Morledge are contending for possession of the office; but it is expected that Sams will throw his strength to Morledge and leave the present contest between Clewien and Morledge. Osage county should be well governed, or else she must pay her sheriff a very good salary.

SULZER IMPEACHMENT VOTED BY LEGISLATURE

Senator Palmer, a Grand Army veteran called at the Executive Mansion this afternoon to consult Gov. Sulzer concerning the dedication of a monument at Andersonville, Ga. Mrs. Sulzer is said to have confided her story to the Senator during his call.

According to other friends, in whom Mrs. Sulzer has confided, she has declared she used some of the Governor's campaign contributions because she felt that the household "was in need of money."

It is reported that Mrs. Sulzer is preparing a detailed statement for publication tomorrow. In this statement she is said to have itemized all her transactions in Wall street in which any of the Governor's campaign funds were involved.

The Governor, it is said, knew nothing of his wife's dealings in whom Mrs. Sulzer has confided, she has declared she used some of the Governor's campaign contributions because she felt that the household "was in need of money."

Later, when it was seen that the Frawley committee was in earnest in its investigation, Mrs. Sulzer, it is declared, told the Governor of her actions and volunteered to make a public statement detailing them. This, it is said, Gov. Sulzer refused to permit. When the testimony concerning the Wall street transactions was brought out, Mrs. Sulzer again insisted, according to the story, that she tell all and save her husband.

On the advice of Judge James Gay Gordon of Philadelphia, who was Gov. Sulzer's attorney in the Mignon Hopkins breach of promise case, and Attorney Louis Marshall, Mrs. Sulzer, it is said, was persuaded to remain silent. Judge Gordon, it was learned today, has been a guest at the Executive Mansion several days, advising both the Governor and Mrs. Sulzer.

Stock Market Deal
It also was said by the friends of both the Governor and his wife that during the campaign Mr. Sulzer gave Mrs. Sulzer $900 for personal expenses. She is said to have told her confidantes that this sum was invested with others in the stock market. The Governor's friends thought tonight that this would account for the $990 payment to Boyer, Griswold & Co., who was mentioned in testimony before the Frawley committee.

Since his occupancy of the Executive office, Gov. Sulzer has declared he has been subjected to continual espionage. Spies invaded his household in New York before his inauguration, friends declared, and followed him to Albany.

Many private documents belonging to both the Governor and to Mrs. Sulzer have disappeared, among them, according to Mrs. Sulzer's friends, many papers which could be used in substantiation of her story concerning her alleged use of the Governor's campaign funds.

Love letters written to her by the Governor during their courtship also have disappeared recently, friends assert.

Resolutions Adopted At Farmers Union Convention Last Week

Resolutions were read and adopted at the eleventh annual convention of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of Texas, at San Antonio, August 5th in which the farmers pledged themselves to work for the upbuilding of Texas, upheld the policies pursued during President Radford's administration, and sounded a keynote of greater co-operation among the farmers in working out the marketing plans formulated by the Farmers' Union.

The report of the committee on resolutions follows:
"Resolved that there are many forces working for the advancement of rural interests, among which forces the Farmers' Union of Texas commends the work being done by the extension department of the State University and endorses its teachings by asking that they be extended in every way possible. We especially commend the work of the federal department of agriculture, and congratulate the people upon having at its head one who recognized the marketing problem as the greatest that confronts the American public today—Hon. David F. Houston."

"We also especially commend the work of Dr. Bradford Knapp and his agents, and request our state president to send Dr. Knapp a copy of this resolution and write him a personal letter requesting a more active co-operation of his local demonstration agents in Texas with the Farmers' Union, by permitting them to act as official organizers of, and lecturers in local unions in their respective counties (when they can do so without interfering with their regular work)—to the end that the farmers in general may become more thoroughly educated and organized along agricultural and co-operative lines."

"We reaffirm the position of our constitution on scientific farming and urge the co-operation of members of the Union with every practical movement looking towards the betterment of agriculture."
"We commend a series of articles which our able president, Mr. Peter Radford, has given the press and give them our unqualified endorsement. We consider the problems of the farmer to be production, marketing, rural credits, transportation and co-operation, and we deem it advisable to authoritatively define the position of our organization in these matters."

Production.
"The Farmers' Union has always taken the lead in scientific methods of production and has urged the most rigid economy in the production and marketing of crops. We have stood practically alone in advising the farmers to co-ordinate production with consumption and profitable diversification is one of the early contentions of the Union."
"We believe there is much to be accomplished by scientific study and experiment in every phase of agriculture from seed breeding to marketing. In a large area of our State, the problem of production is a most serious one and demands experimental and demonstration work in order to make the crop safe and profitable, and in the proved belt of production, many improvements are easily possible."

"We stand for more liberal appropriations for the support of the state and federal agricultural departments, the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and we invite the co-operation of all organizations seeking to promote agriculture."
"We approve the arrangements made by our president with the Texas State Fair Association, designating Wednesday, October 22nd, 1913, as Farmers' Day and we urge all farmers to attend and receive the educational benefits of the fair."

Marketing.
"We declare that marketing is of paramount importance in farming and the keynote to agricultural prosperity. We are opposed to any relaxation of effort on the part of government in promoting practical science in production, and on the other hand, favor more vigorous action on the part of all agencies to improve cultural methods, and we pledge the co-operation of the Union to that end. But if the government is now assisting agriculture to the extent of its financial ability, we favor a transfer of a portion of the appropriation from production to marketing. It is our belief that out of every dollar appropriated by federal and State governments, donated by individuals, corporations or organizations, at least fifty per cent should be spent in improving marketing conditions, and we recommend that all agricultural appropriations be made upon this basis."

"We have established a central selling agency at Houston, which will keep all local unions advised of marketing conditions, and we have arranged to secure funds at six per cent per annum for lending on discount cotton. No other plans or methods have received the official endorsement of the Union."

Rural Credits.
"We direct attention to the imperative necessity for a better system of rural credits. The farmers pay an average of ten per cent interest on money borrowed on good security and they frequently pay as high as thirty per cent on their crop mortgages. No productive industry can survive such a tremendous strain. Reliable statistics prove that the farmers of Texas earn four per cent on their investment, but must pay ten per cent for money they borrow."
"We need a co-operative system of financing adjusted to our conditions that will give the tenant-farmer an opportunity to become a home owner, and all legitimate business enterprises should be able to secure money at a living rate of interest."

"We are not, at this time, able to suggest a remedy, but every farmer who has ridden a sale of cotton to market knows that volume is a ruling factor in the price of an article, and we favor encouraging every individual, corporation, institution and agency, both domestic and foreign, that has money to loan, to do business in Texas, to the end that free and unlimited competition may prevail in financial agriculture."

MORE TALK ON MARKETING PLAN

RADFORD BELIEVES ARRANGEMENT WITH EXPRESS COMPANY BIG STEP CARRIERS ARE INTERESTED

Union Official Believes all Common Carriers Will Eventually Join Movement

The recent action of the Wells Fargo & Company Express in tendering the good offices of that powerful organization to the producer in the distribution and sale of farm products, is in my estimation the most important single event of its class in the industrial life of the country during the last quarter of a century. At least it will reach that dignified zone when their precedent is followed by other common carriers, which I have reason to believe will be done at a very early date.

When the marketing plans, as formulated by the Farmers' Union, are adopted by the transportation companies, it should move at least two billion dollars worth of perishable farm products that now annually rot on the ground, or is dumped at destination, and it will increase the efficiency in distribution of non-perishable products at least thirty per cent. It is the most weighty economic project now before the American people and the most gigantic co-operative plan that has ever been submitted in which the producer, the consumer and all the people are mutually and equitably involved.

First Aid To the Producer.
While the detailed plans announced by the Wells Fargo people are considered only first aid to the producer and are subject to such modification as experience may dictate, they contain two cardinal principles of co-operative marketing which should be carefully studied by carrier, shipper, and buyer, to-wit: Information and assistance. To express the plans in the language of the farmer, they will first establish a market bureau which will estimate production and consumption and keep a check on market conditions for the information of their patrons; second, they will assist in securing the best market for farm products.

To handle this new feature of their business, the Wells Fargo people have established an order, commission and food products department, and in a circular issued from their New York headquarters August 1st, signed by F. S. Holbrook, general traffic manager and approved by B. D. Caldwell, president, they announced that they "will make a specialty of the distribution of food products through assistance to growers and producers in finding suitable location, soil and market; and by aiding them in securing to best advantage, sanitary packages or containers in which to ship their products, particularly perishables. Corresponding efforts will be made to serve the dealers and consumers in placing them in direct touch with the source of supply," and the president of the company has instructed all employees to co-operate with the new department.

The Wells Fargo will make itself a factor in distribution by lending assistance without charge, and where it is possible to do so, will send cash buyers to the producer. They will instruct the shipper in the kind of packages desired by the markets, how to pack and crate their products and the size packages to use in order to secure lowest rates.

The common carrier has, in many instances, been satisfied to look upon the distress of the farmer with indifference and has given small concern to a glutted market. He usually settles before the stuff is dumped and sends a glib talking agent to express sorrow to the producer and collect any balance due on the freight and then sets about to encourage an increase in farm tonnage next year but now these mighty agencies of commerce are looking toward the marketing side of the farmer's problems and the common carrier never faced more golden opportunities for usefulness than now confront him.

A Good Servant.
The common carriers are public servants and like all faithful laborers, should endeavor to render more than a mechanical service. The servant who does only what he is compelled to do will never gain favor with his employer. To be worthy of esteem and merit promotion, our public servants must do something more than work out court sentences. Ability, efficiency and vision on a basis of seeking only co-operation on a basis receive a prompt reward.

The common carrier can make no better financial investment than to establish a market bureau for the information of the producer and he could not do more to popularize his services than by bringing the buyer and the seller closer together. He possesses the machinery the facilities and the ability for rendering a most useful service to associate industries. The farmer asks no favors, but is seeking only co-operation on a basis profitable to all parties engaged in the transaction. On no other foundation can business be permanently built.

The nation's business is suffering from industrial selfishness. We need to study each others problems and understand our relationship and recognize community responsibilities. We should get closer together. The Plover Handling Man Use of Kin.
"The condition now confronting our transportation systems is one that justifies the deep concern of every producer and makes the highest call upon the intelligence of our citizenship. Our common carriers have made mistakes. They have endeavored to become masters and sit in the councils of the great and they have paid the penalty for getting out of their place. They are the teamsters of civilization and belong in the servant's quarters. The politician has been making a saddle horse out of the common carrier and riding into office; the courts have, in some instances, whipped him repeatedly, and the commissions have cut down his ratings, but he will never have peace of mind or ease of body until he returns to the barnyard and eats out of the hand of his master—the producer. He will then be properly protected, sheltered, clothed and fed and given such privileges and favors as belong to faithful and efficient servants."

The heads of these great institutions, whose giant intellects illuminate the pathways of commerce, should cast back the veil and renew their acquaintance with Mother Earth. They should occasionally swing a scythe, wield an axe and plow a round or two so as not to forget their raising. A touch of the plow handles makes us all kin. The heads of great business cannot look out of a private car window and comprehend our problems; neither can they acquire understanding by sending a messenger with a standing collar and a long title to make typewritten reports. The heads of these institutions should get back to the soil and re-learn the heart throb of agriculture.

Governmental Aid in Marketing.
The federal agricultural department has received its initial appropriation for a study of distribution and with the common carrier now going to market, we have at work on the selling side of agriculture, the most powerful agencies in the land. These gigantic forces, with their keen vision and clear understanding, can work magic in the solution of our difficulties, but the problem is not going to be solved today or tomorrow. Many seeming impossibilities will appear and disappear and there will be failures and disappointments. First of all the farmer must co-operate. He can only help himself or be helped by others through organization and co-operation. He must be in a position to co-operate and receive co-operation of other agencies. Let all the farmers join the union and get together in an organized effort to uplift agriculture.

POPE CELEBRATES HIS CORONATION
Rome, Aug. 9.—Pope Pius was in receipt today of telegrams of congratulation from practically every king, queen and president in the world on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of his coronation as supreme pontiff of the Catholic church. All of the military corps at the Vatican were in full dress uniforms for the day. The band of the Pontifical Guards serenaded the pope from the courtyard of San Damaso and all the leading prelates of Rome, as well as the ambassadors accredited to the Holy See, called personally during the day on Cardinal Merry del Val, secretary of state to leave their congratulations in person.

The greatest interest attached to the report that the pope would take today to issue his plan for international peace, the most important official of his reign. The pope has been working on the encical for many weeks. It contains an urgent plea to the Catholic church everywhere to work for world wide peace and permanent good will among nations. It was expected to urge the archbishops and bishops to begin propaganda immediately to spread the gospel of permanent international peace and to instruct legates to those governments diplomatically related to the Vatican to make formal representations to the sovereigns of these nations urging their participation in the movement for universal peace.

In connection with the anniversary celebration, it was pointed out today by high Vatican officials that Pope Leo XIII was elected to the Holy See at the same age as Pope Pius and that after celebrating his tenth anniversary he reigned for fifteen years and died at the age of 93. Intimates who saw the pope today declare he has entirely recovered from his illness.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR IN DENVER, COLO.

MEMBERS FROM ALL OVER COUNTRY GATHER FOR 32ND TRIENNIAL CONCLAVE

Expected That Fully 30,000 Templars in Full Uniform Will be in Line

By Associated Press.
Denver, Colo., Aug. 9.—Knights Templar from over the United States are in Denver tonight for the thirty-second triennial convolve of the grand encampment which will open its sessions in El Jebel Temple Tuesday afternoon. It is the expectation of the convolve committee that in the grand parade on Tuesday fully 30,000 Templars, in full uniform will be in line.

The preliminary ceremonies will begin tomorrow afternoon, when five service will be held in the city auditorium, conducted by Bishop J. M. Walden of Cincinnati, grand prolate of the grand encampment. Preceding the opening of the first business session there will be a public gathering in El Jebel Temple, at which Governor E. M. Ammons, of Colorado; Mayor J. M. Perkins of Denver; and other officials will welcome the visitors to the city. Response will be made by Most Eminent Sir William B. Molish of Cincinnati, grand master of the grand encampment.

Tonight the scheme of illumination, upon which electricians have been working for weeks, was given its first public test. Four blocks of one of the principal business streets of the city have been set aside as a court of honor. At one end of this court is an heroic statue of a mounted knight, while at the other is a huge illumination representing a Colorado sunset. Elaborate and brilliantly illuminated columns, one for each of the forty-eight grand commanderies in the United States, are erected in the court of honor. It is estimated that $50,000 has been spent in decorating and illuminating the business portion of the city.

To seat the throngs that will view the drills and parades, a temporary grandstand holding 30,000 people has been erected on the site of the projected civic center. The grandstand is built around a large open space, and is 710 feet long and 401 feet wide. The sessions of the grand encampment will be held behind closed doors and only about 400 of the Knights Templar, comprising past and present grand encampment officers, are permitted to participate.

Throughout the week of the convolve there will be a series of social and social events. On Wednesday will begin the competitive drills, which are expected to last two days. The following are the drill teams entered: Chicago Commandery No. 19, Chicago; St. Bernard Commandery No. 35, Chicago; Englewood Commandery No. 59, Chicago; Columbia Commandery No. 63, Chicago; Woodlawn Commandery No. 76, Chicago; Joliet Commandery No. 4, Joliet, Ill.; Ivanhoe Commandery No. 24, Milwaukee; Raper Commandery No. 1, Indianapolis; Columbia Commandery No. 2, Washington, D. C.; Gettsmans Commandery No. 35, Newton, Mass.; Ascalon Commandery No. 16, St. Louis; St. Aldemar Commandery No. 18, St. Louis; Mount Olivet Commandery No. 12, Wichita, Kansas; California Commandery No. 1, San Francisco.

The battalion corps of 130 members each from Detroit Commandery No. 42 and Damascus Commandery No. 43, of Detroit, will give exhibition drills, although they are barred from competing for prizes because of a State law of Michigan.

PARENTS IN FLORIDA TRYING TO LOCATE THEIR SON HERE.
Anxious parents in Key West, Florida, are trying to locate a son who is believed to be somewhere in North Texas. A telegram signed by a church pastor of the Florida city and addressed to a minister of this city was received this morning, the purport of which was that the subject of inquiry is thought to have been in Wichita Falls for about four weeks, working at the plumber trade. That the boy should be located at once if possible and communication between himself and his uneasy father and mother established is most imperative, since the message contained the words, "this is most important; wire night message quick at my expense."

The message was referred to a Times reporter and a round of the various plumbing establishments of this city has thus far failed to locate the party wanted. However, the plumbers are busy trying to find the boy and if he is found in this city two anxious hearts in far-away Florida will be eased perhaps when the wires convey to them the intelligence that all is well with him.

REPUBLICAN OPPOSITION TO MEXICAN PROGRAM RESUMED

ASK PRESIDENT FOR INFORMATION

AUTHORITY FOR EMPLOYMENT OF WILLIAM BAYARD HALE
IS QUESTIONED

PENROSE MAKES THREATS

Will Lay Information About Hale and Mexico Before Senators Next Week, He Says

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 15.—Senator Penrose forced another debate on the Mexican situation today by introducing a resolution calling on President Wilson to inform the Senate whether William Bayard Hale is in Mexico City as the agent of any executive department of the government; if so, by what authority he was appointed and what compensation he has been given.

Senator Penrose referred to dispatches from Mexico, telling of the serious plight of F. C. Hulse, son-in-law of the lieutenant-governor of Pennsylvania, who with his wife and small daughter, are believed to be in danger from revolutionists near the city of Chihuahua. Penrose declared that unless the mission of John Lind developed marked change in Mexican conditions, he would address the Senate next week, laying before it certain information he had not disclosed today.

Bacon Refuses Information. He asked Chairman Bacon of the foreign relations committee if he would reveal the status of Hale. Bacon replied:

"I decline to answer. Senator Penrose said he had known Hale several years and that Hale left Ardmore, Pennsylvania about thirteen years ago under circumstances which he need not more than mention. The sooner Dr. Hale's connections are severed, the better for the unfortunate Americans now in Mexico." The Penrose resolution went over until tomorrow.

Senator Lodge charged that the democrats were trying to treat the Mexican question as a party affair. His statement, made in bitter terms, followed a declaration by Senator Bacon that "force meant war." Another resolution by Penrose for consular reports about happenings at Durango since January 1, one by Senator Poindexter for information about measures to protect Americans in Mexico, and one by Senator Baughman for a joint investigation by the House and navy committee to determine what naval program was under consideration, were introduced.

Urges Support For President. Senator Bacon, in a demand that the Senate should not pass or consider resolutions until the foreign relations committee had an opportunity to take them up, urged that all possible support be given the president. Senator Penrose said:

"While the senator is deliberating in his committee, Americans are daily being murdered in Mexico. I have information that more than one hundred Americans have been killed and that their names are on file in the department of state." Objections carried all the resolutions over for another day without reference to committee.

As indicated yesterday, Henry Lane Wilson was publicly reprimanded for his recent utterance when Ambassador Page was instructed to report to Sir Edward Grey the regret of the American government that a diplomatic official of the United States should have been guilty of such an impropriety.

The action of the Administration followed receipt of a cablegram from Ambassador Page in London officially confirming the Associated Press dispatch which had quoted a statement from the British government that it had recognized the Huerta regime in Mexico along with France and Germany, with a "congratulatory speech" to President Huerta by Ambassador Wilson on behalf of the diplomatic corps in the City of Mexico.

The official interpretation of the statement here was that Great Britain at the time thought from Ambassador Wilson's act that the United States intended to recognize the Huerta Government. Ambassador Wilson in an authorized interview declared that if the statement really emanated from the British Foreign Office it was "a pure subterfuge, unworthy of the British Foreign Office," and "at variance with its traditions and with the character it has maintained before the world for two centuries."

Cablegram to England. Secretary Bryan, after a conference with the president last night sent the following cablegram to Ambassador Page:

"The interview given to the press yesterday by Henry Lane Wilson, whose resignation as ambassador to Mexico has been accepted, is a stark affront at the end of his vacation, Oct. 14, having been brought to the president's attention, he directs me to ask you to call at the British Foreign Of-

Dr. W. B. Hale
Supposed to be President Wilson's personal agent in Mexico and subject of debate in Senate today. Remarks by Senator Penrose concerning him indicate that some of the past chapters in his career make him not altogether desirable as a representative of the United States.

He said Sir Edward Grey that he disclaims all responsibility for Mr. Wilson's action in the matter and for the language employed by him in his interview, and that he regrets exceedingly that a diplomatic official in the employ of this government should have been guilty of such an impropriety.

Further Statement By Bryan. Secretary Bryan not only gave the above to the press, but issued the following statement:

"A copy of the cablegram to the American Embassy was sent to Ambassador Wilson. Mr. Bryan added that the president does not go further at this time because he takes it for granted that the action which he is obliged to take in the matter will be his (Ambassador Wilson's) a sufficient reminder of his official duties."

In this connection it was admitted that the Administration seriously had considered a summary acceptance of Ambassador Wilson's resignation to take effect immediately, but it was said by officials who characterized the night the action as a sufficient reminder that only in the event of another utterance or action distasteful to the Administration by the Ambassador would such a course be followed.

STANDARD ASKS STATE'S OPINION BEFORE BUYING.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 15.—Attorneys for the Standard Oil Company today asked Attorney General Barker if the company had a right under the order of the supreme court, suspending the decree of ouster if the company complied with the state anti-trust law, to buy the plants of independent dealers in the various cities in which the Standard is placing distributing stations.

The Standard, so the attorney general says, does not desire to buy independent refineries, but merely some selling plants.

The attorney general was not ready to give a definite answer to the question, but was inclined to the opinion that such purchases would be permissible.

RAIN NEEDED IN MANY SECTIONS

DRY WEATHER LIGHT SO FAR,
BUT MOISTURE NECESSARY
SOON

CONDITIONS ARE SPOTTED

Twenty Per Cent Loss Predicted in Many Parts of State Unless it
Rains Soon

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Aug. 15.—Texas crops have not been seriously injured by dry weather, but rain within the next week is necessary in most sections of the State to prevent crop losses, according to reports today from every section of the State. The weather has played a trick this year by an unusual amount of local rains, which have given one farmer an abundance of rain and his neighbor a few miles away scarcely a drop.

In a few counties, this "spotting" has been so intense that the very rains which one farmer's cotton needs would cause deterioration in the crop of his neighbor. However, by far the great majority of cotton farmers want rain very soon.

Many localities, particularly in North and Northeast Texas predict twenty per cent deterioration in cotton unless these rains come quickly. Conditions are reported most acute along the Oklahoma border, particularly in that portion near the Panhandle. Nevertheless, reports from portions of Pecos county on this border, say that the one thing cotton farmers fear now is rain.

West Texas reports generally fine crops with here and there a glaring failure. The Texas corn crop seems to have been largely made before the present dry weather.

SOUTHAMPTON SEES PILGRIM FATHERS UNVEIL MONUMENT

Southampton, Aug. 15.—Commemorating the departure of the Mayflower 293 years ago today, a monument to the Pilgrim Fathers was unveiled here this afternoon by American Ambassador Page. The monument, a plain shaft of grey stone, with panels on the sides bearing historical inscriptions, and surmounted by a cupola of marble, stands on the western esplanade overlooking the sea and adjacent to the spot where the Mayflower was anchored. Funds for its erection were subscribed by members of the Society of Mayflower descendants in the United States, many of whom attended today's ceremonies. The mayor and other municipal officials received Ambassador Page here and the party was escorted to a luncheon at the Royal Pier Pavilion by the Southampton Boy Scouts. As the entwined American and English colors fell away from the shaft, bands played American and English national anthems.

GOVERNMENT CONCLUDES IN WHITE SLAVERY CASE

Nellie Barton, Friend of Martha Warrington, is Last Witness for Prosecution

By Associated Press. San Francisco, Aug. 15.—The government closed its case today against Maury I. Diggs, with the testimony of Nellie Barton, a friend of Martha Warrington, whom the government charges that Diggs transported from Sacramento to Reno in violation of the Mann act.

Lola Norris finished her testimony late yesterday. She was never at a loss for an answer; her replies were distinct, specific and full, given with her eyes on the interrogator.

All of the essentials of her narrative were the same as of Martha Warrington. She reaffirmed that the elopement to Reno was brought to pass only by threats of exposure if they remained in Sacramento; that marriage had been promised before and after their flight and that Diggs bought the tickets.

"My mother could not stand the shock," she testified, and had objected to the arguments of Diggs.

"It always takes bullets to kill," Diggs had replied. "I guess she'll get over it all right."

"He said we would all be absolutely ruined if we stayed in Sacramento," she continued. "Finally, we agreed to go."

Mining Man Tells of American and German Who Was Put to Death
—Other Outrages

By Associated Press. Galveston, Texas, Aug. 15.—Nearly 150 American refugees from Tampico were released from quarantine today and told their stories. According to them there is considerable looting in the States of Veracruz and Durango by both Federal and Rebel forces.

O. V. Seifert, a mining man from Durango said Federal soldiers are shooting all prisoners taken regardless of whether they are Americans or not. He said his cousin, Roger Palmer, cashier of the railway at Durango was ordered by rebels to open the safe in the office.

Palmer knew the combination of only one of the two safes and when he failed to open the second one, he was shot and killed. Seifert said about two weeks ago a German merchant at Llabasco was killed and his daughters, eight and sixteen years old, were outraged by bandits.

BURLESON'S PARCEL POST CHANGES EFFECTIVE TODAY.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Postmaster General Burleson's much discussed changes in the parcel post regulations became effective today. Hereafter the limit of weight of parcels for delivery in the first and second postal zones will be 20 pounds, instead of 11, as has been the case since the inauguration of the system. Moreover, from now on, the postage rate on parcels exceeding four ounces is to be five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof. One other change which cannot be made use of until cooler weather is that fresh meats and other perishable articles, when inclosed and wrapped as prescribed, may be mailed to offices in both first and second zones. Heretofore they were mailable only in one zone. If the changes result in the profits expected, Postmaster Burleson intends to reduce rates and increase the weight limit next year.

ICE FAMINE THREATENS NOW TWO KANSAS CITIES

Protracted Drouth and Hot Weather is Seriously Taking Capacity of Pumping Machinery

Kansas City, Aug. 15.—The protracted drouth has caused such a strain on the pumping capacity of the waterworks stations in this city that S. Y. High, superintendent of the city water department, today recommended that the city install a dual water system to increase the water supply. Officials of the local packing houses which manufacture much of the ice used here, announced that the demand for ice had been so great recently that they were forced to reduce the amount supplied to each dealer. Because of this, some of the dealers have been unable to supply all their customers.

Be Paid at Rate of $12,000 a
Year While at Work

By Associated Press. Albany, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Sulzer still lies ill today, with specialists in constant attendance.

She was slightly improved by a refreshing sleep. Aaron J. Levy, majority leader, who led the fight on the Assembly floor for impeachment, is also suffering from a nervous breakdown.

The impeachment of Governor Sulzer will not affect his salary of $833 a month before or during the impeachment trial. Members of the Senate whose regular salary is $1500 will for a short time receive at the rate of $12,000 a year each. This will be while they are sitting as a court of impeachment.

Formal demand for the surrender of the executive chamber and offices, of the privy seal and all books, records and documents was made on Governor Sulzer this afternoon by Lieutenant-Governor Glynn. Governor Sulzer refused to comply. He suggested that the Senate should agree to a method of submitting the dispute to the courts and that extraordinary sessions of the courts be called immediately to decide the question.

WOMAN IS BAKERY INSPECTOR FOR STATE OF WASHINGTON.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 15.—After gaining for Tacoma the soubriquet of "Spotless Town," through her activities as food and market inspector, Miss Arizona B. Wimple, a graduate of the University of Michigan today assumed the office of state bakery and sanitary inspector to which she was appointed by Governor Lister in the hope that she would attain the same degree of success in the state as she did in Tacoma. Publicity was given to her appointment by the Tacoma newspapers which published details of her reports. Stores and establishments which were not up to the mark in these reports found their business dwindling and were forced to meet every requirement. Within six months after taking the position in Tacoma the food purveyors vied with each other in maintaining clean, sanitary establishments and "pure" stocks.

SHOWER IN BIG PASTURE LAST TUESDAY

There was rain in Tillman county Tuesday afternoon, but not enough to go around. Rain clouds which approached from the southeast let loose a downpour on the Grandfield country, and in other portions of the Big Pasture. Frederick got a slight sprinkle, while to the west and north the skies were an azure blue. Clouds banked in the north and west Wednesday, but the "Nothing Doing" sign was soon hung out. However, there are still hopes cherished for a rain in a few days, as it takes several days of priming to overcome such a long dry spell as is now being undergone.—Frederick Leader.

MOVE FOR CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION IS MADE TODAY

Would Put Question Up To The Voters Next Year; Resolution Comes As Surprise

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Aug. 15.—Like a bolt from a clear sky came the proposition for a constitutional convention this morning in the House of representatives. The resolution took the entire membership unawake and seemed in no manner to be connected with the insurgent forces. It was signed by Humphries, Fuller, McDaniel and others. The reading of the resolution raised the question by the speaker whether this act of the Legislature would be legal, because it was not submitted by the governor.

This, however, raised the counter question whether any action by resolution could be construed as legislation. By general consent the matter was carried over until Saturday morning. The measure would provide that this special session call an election for the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1914, which election shall determine whether the Thirty-fourth Legislature shall call a constitutional convention in 1914.

The authors of the resolution deny any idea of making prohibition a constitutional issue. Final passage was given Morrow's immediate sentence and suspended sentence bill and also Wortham's flag bill.

ITALIAN POLICE TAKE CHARGE OF CHARLTON

American Charged With Wife Murder
Loses Last Step in Extradition
Fight

New York, Aug. 15.—The case of Porter Charlton, self-confessed slayer of his wife, was removed from American jurisdiction when Charlton was given over by the warden of the jail at Jersey City to two Italian policemen in accordance with extradition papers. He was reported to be in high spirits in prospect of a sea voyage, after nearly three years confinement, and confident that at the hands of the Italian authorities he would receive an acquittal.

Before going to the steamship, which sails for Italy he shook hands with all the jail officials and his fellow prisoners and he was also visited by his father, Judge Paul Charlton, who will go to Italy for the trial.

Charlton was a young clerk and was on his honeymoon with Mrs. Nellie H. Casale, daughter of Henry H. Scott, a San Francisco coal merchant, when the tragedy occurred at Lake Como, Italy, near which the couple had been living in a villa. Mrs. Charlton's body was found June 10, 1910 in a trunk in the bottom of the lake. Charlton was traced to America, where he confessed to killing his wife. He has bitterly fought extradition for the past year, but on July 8 last he lost his last appeal, when the United States supreme court held he must be given to the Italian authorities.

LORD KITCHENER BECOMES SNAKE HUNTER AS DIVERSION

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 15.—As a relaxation from the cares of his duties as British agent general for Egypt, Lord Kitchener has taken up snake hunting. A few days ago when it was reported that a twelve foot cobra had been seen near the Gezira Sporting Club's grandstand the native police and keepers were ordered to kill it. They made an attempt with the net before his snakeship. Lord Kitchener heard of it and sent for a snake charmer. On the promise that the famous soldier would personally attend to the snake when it should appear, the native began his whistling. Soon to the horror of the bystanders, not one reptile, but six crawled from under the stand. The native promptly bolted, but Lord Kitchener, with four of his aides, waded in with stout cudgels and after an exciting fight despatched the snakes. Kitchener was so pleased with the afternoon's sport that he has permanently retained the snake charmer on his staff, and has spent many pleasant afternoons hunting cobras.

SCOTT AVENUE PAVING PETITION

COUNCIL REFERS IT BACK TO SIGNERS AT THURSDAY'S SESSION

RECENT ACTION IS CITED

Property Owners Want to Pay Only One-third—Lack of Funds at Present

Because it did not conform to the resolution adopted by the council several weeks ago, that body referred back to the petitioners Thursday night a petition from property owners for the paving of Scott avenue from Seventh to Tenth streets and the paving of the unfinished block to Scott avenue of Seventh, Eighth and Ninth streets.

The petition was in the form of an agreement by the property owners in the district affected to pay one-third of the cost of the paving on each side of the street with the understanding that the city was to bring the street to grade and pave the street and alley intersections and one-third the cost of the paving on each side of the properties which the petitioners represented. The petition left the selection of the paving material up to the council.

No Funds at Present

After some discussion the council disposed of the petition by referring it back to the petitioners by the adoption of a motion stating that it did not conform to the recent resolution of the council requiring that the property owners pay all of the cost of paving in front of their properties leaving the city to bring the street to grade and pay for the paving of the street and alley intersections. The motion also stated that the city did not have the money for this work now but that if the petitioners would bring in a new petition conforming to the resolution by the council that it would be filed and taken up in the order of filing whenever the city had the funds for the work.

A contract was signed last night with Moxey and O'Donnell for the part of the paving of Tenth street which includes the portion between Lamar and Brook streets. The contract provides that work shall start September 15 and shall be completed within 100 working days or by January 15, 1914.

Signing the contract with the Greenwood Wood Block Paving Company was deferred until the property owners between Ohio avenue and Lamar street shall have signed the contract to pave.

POLYGAMY NOT SO EVIL

AVERS ENGLISH WOMAN

Points Out Some Ways in Which Ideals Might be Profitably Adopted in England

London, Aug. 15.—That polygamy is really a commendable institution for Turkey, and that it might even be adopted with profit in England, was the rather startling declaration today of Miss Grace Ellison, well known English writer, who has just returned from a protracted visit in and about Constantinople.

"It is far better," she said today, "to have four women supported and protected than to have one well cared for and three sent out to struggle and starve under present conditions. I believe in one of two courses. Either put us in harems or give us freedom and equality with men. England condemns polygamy without stopping to consider its advantages to womanhood, while on the other hand she turns women adrift in the world and closes to them all the professional and trades she can. In other words the Englishman won't support more than one female, and he won't help others to support themselves. Oh, today I met a woman of 55, the old maid daughter of a country parson, a semi-invalid, unfitted for work. She hadn't a single soul in the world who was disposed to support or even materially aid her. Such a thing could not happen in Turkey which we think so benighted. A man supports all female relatives. If necessary, as well as his wives.

"I visited a number of harems in Turkey and I see no reason to pity the women there. They are intelligent and well educated and very fond of each other. The women in Turkey are driven to the streets for lack of food and shelter. If she leads an irregular life she does it of her own free will. Society does not have her on its conscience. The Turk is kind and chivalrous to women. Moreover, he is consistent. He looks upon them as the weaker sex and he makes himself responsible for their welfare. He treats them as children, but he takes all responsibility from them and cares for them to the best of his ability. The Englishman also regards that woman as inferior but he does not offer general protection to her weakness."

DOESN'T WANT CITYHOOD

SALOON TAX TOO HIGH

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 15.—Because the light city tax threatens to put saloon out of business, Spoorco, Texas, wants to be a plain country town again and forty-seven of the sixty-five voters of the town have joined in a petition to the county commissioners, asking that an election be called to dissolve the corporation. It is doubtful whether the dissolution can be effected, it is said, owing to the fact that the corporation owned certain lands, the deeds for which it was responsible, and it would no longer be responsible if the corporation is dissolved.

PRESENT POLICE FORCE REMAINS

COUNCIL CONFIRMS NOMINATIONS—NAME OF E. H. COX NOT SUBMITTED

DECIDING VOTE BY MAYOR

Confirmation of all present members of the city police force not including E. H. Cox who is in jail for the killing of Policeman Sterling B. Morris was made by the city council Thursday night. The name of Cox was not submitted to the council by the chief of police. The confirmation was not secured without opposition and came with the vote of Mayor Bell who decided a tie.

As in the decision of council in the case of the names of the members of the police force, the chief of police came up on the application of Will Allen for a place on the police force. The application of Allen was made directly to the council and in the case of the chief of police, Councilman Young said his motion requiring the chief of police to submit the names of appointees to council did not contemplate that the applications should be made to that body but that they should properly come through the chief of police upon the latter's recommendation.

Present Officers Nominated.

Mayor Bell then brought up the confirmation of the appointments of the present members of the police force. Councilman Gardner moved to confirm the whole list. His motion was seconded by Councilman Richolt. When the motion was put Councilman Richolt and Gardner voted "aye"; Councilmen Young and Bradley voted "nay." Councilman Reed is out of the city and the vote being a tie Mayor Bell voted for the confirmation.

The vote was taken without discussion and after the vote Councilman Young said he was sorry that the vote had been taken so quickly before he matter was discussed. Mayor Bell said that he, too, was sorry that there had been no discussion as he had wanted to say something and that he would say this now.

Mentions One Member.

He said he believed that a good deal of criticism of the police force had come through the appointment of Arthur Graves. He said he knew and that everybody knew that Arthur had been a rouser and that Arthur himself admitted this, but he had reformed and that his record as a member of the police force was above suspicion and that an investigation of police dockets showed that Graves had been the most active man on the police force.

Graves is trying to do right and is doing right," said Mayor Bell. "Because we have watched him closely, he doesn't drink, he pays his debts and is entirely worthy of the confidence of the council and the entire citizenship."

Question of Drinking.—The mayor declared that all the members of the police force were good men and that he had mentioned Graves in particular because he had been the object of criticism.

Councilman Bradley said he believed that members of the police force ought to be representatives of the law and that the force wasn't the place to reform a man. He emphasized the importance of having the members of the force men of good character and reputation. He said the police force of the city had been ensuring the council on account of the police force and asked the mayor "What are we going to tell them?"

"You can tell them that I am responsible for my vote places the responsibility on me," replied the mayor. Continuing Mr. Bradley said that no man who drinks whiskey ought to have a place on the police force and declared that a man who drinks was not to be relied upon. He said that any policeman found taking a drink should have his badge taken from him and be summarily dismissed.

Monday's Tragedy.—Chief of Police Quinn at this point said that members of the force had instructions not to drink while on duty and that any member of the force found drinking should come to the city hall and surrender his badge and resign at that time.

Mayor Bell, incidentally mentioned the tragedy Monday night saying that it was a matter for which he did not believe the council should be censured, as both were men of high standing on the police force and up to within an hour before the killing were known to have been on the best of terms.

The list of police as confirmed by the council follows: H. M. Allen, Charles Summerville, A. H. Davies, T. B. Nail, B. S. Story and A. J. Humphries. Councilman Bradley declared that the salaries paid some of the officers would hardly enable them to live decently. He favored increasing the salaries of the men to a figure that would enable them to live decently.

WILBARGER COUNTY TO HOLD ELECTION TUESDAY

Both Sides Express Confidence—Pro and Anti Have Been Waging Active Campaigns

(Vernon Record)

With the date of election on the prohibition issue in Wilbarger county but four days off the leaders of the pro and anti organizations are hopeful and predict success for their side of the question at the polls next Tuesday, Aug. 19th. The chairman of the two committees express the belief that the voters will record a safe majority for their respective side.

Statements from R. S. Kelly, chairman of the prohibition committee, and J. E. Lutz, chairman of the anti prohibition committee, are given here with:

will be from 300 to 500. The majority for state-wide prohibition in 1911 was 239 and we expect a larger majority for local option. We expect to carry practically every box in the county, two being doubtful. We ask every prohibitionist to go to the polls and vote.

We have conducted a campaign free of personalities and upon a high plane, as we regard this as a great moral issue which should appeal to every good citizen.

Lutz's Statement.

"I have gone over the situation very thoroughly, taking every box in the county and believe the sentiment of the voters to be largely in favor of anti prohibition. There will not be more than three boxes in the county to vote dry. We have tried to conduct the campaign upon an educational and industrial plane and feel confident that the people will respond on the 19th by giving a good safe majority for anti-prohibition."

Close to Be Strenuous.

The last days of the campaign give every promise of being warm. Both sides will have speakers of state-wide reputation here on Saturday and Monday and it is probable that joint debates will be held in Vernon. The pro forces have continued their campaign by sending local speakers to various points in the county, and these meetings will be continued right up to the close of the campaign. Elder W. H. Kittrell of Cisco, has been stumping the county for the anti and he will probably remain here until the close, speaking at the various school houses.

Rev. Albert Maples of Mineola will be one of the leading pro speakers to be here in the last days of the campaign and others of statewide reputation will be secured.

NEW MEXICO IS STILL AFTER THAT TEXAS LAND.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 15.—Charles C. Hickey, recently appointed special commissioner to act in the suit proceedings brought by the State of New Mexico against the State of Texas, for the recovery of several thousand acres of land in the valley of the Rio Grande, is in the city again reviewing the papers furnished by the attorney general's department.

The Mexican border line also will play some part in the suit, according to Mr. Hickey, and it will be necessary, so he believes at this time, to take testimony in the City of Mexico and dig into some of the records in the archives at the capital city. The case is the thirteenth case that has been filed in the United States supreme court of land disputes between states.

Special Officer Maxwell At Station Has No Cinch

"Will you tell me what time of the day I can get a train from Ringgold to this place on the first day of the week?"

This is a sample of the crazy questions without number asked daily of J. F. Maxwell, the special police officer on duty at the Union Station. The above query put forth in all earnestness was answered thusly:

"My friend, I can put you next to all the train schedules, but your style of questioning makes me dizzy; I would advise you to get back to Ringgold and figure out the best way yourself."

Any person who is the least doubtful of his sanity and who would like to make a convincing test of the same, is admonished to stand under the official cap of Officer Maxwell for 24 hours and undergo the ordeal of answering ten thousand queries, more or less, daily propounded by wide-eyed, anxious travelers, but his duties also call for the keenest watchfulness over women and children who, either ignorant of the movements of the various trains or excited over the idea of "going away," find themselves standing between the rails with their lives endangered by moving trains. Many close shaves have been experienced by persons at the station and the careful watching done by Mr. Maxwell alone has in a number of cases prevented accidents.

Meets Many Rebuffs.

Officer Maxwell meets with many unappreciated rebuffs, too, in the discharge of his duties. For instance, he recalls that a stylishly appareled female was about to cross the tracks to board a train when the depot cop anxiously that she should be sure of her train, asked her destination. With a scissor-eyed look over the officer's frame from cap to shoe, she knocked him over with this:

"Hub! 'Snone of your business where I'm going; I've traveled some myself!" And with that she approached a Wichita Valley train. At that time the conductor was standing near the engine and the porter was inside the cars. She got on, but when the conductor discovered that her ticket read for Frederick, the passenger was requested to disembark near the glass factory, where she took a street car and returned to town, missing the Northwestern train and having to wait over until the next day; all of which serves to show that a depot policeman has some job on his hands.

Not long ago, says Mr. Maxwell, a lady stood on the track when an incoming train was rushing upon her. She seemed petrified in the midst of her peril and the officer yelled to her to stand back. A news-butch who happened to be near shoved the imperiled woman off the track almost in front of the engine. The "butch's" idea of heroic deed to such dimensions when he realized what he had done, that he snuffed some to himself and asked the policeman if he would write a long letter to the railroad heads and tell them all about his saving the woman, his idea probably being that his heroic action would thrust him into a fat job like a conductor's or something else. Mr. Maxwell didn't write the requested document, explaining that such acts were common around the depot about train time and suggesting that Carnegie and his commission had run out of medals for the time being. The dutiful dried his eyes and crawled aboard to suck a cigarette and ponder over the cruelties of fate while fastening a dreamy look on his basket containing glass pistols full of candied pellets.

SUCCESSOR TO PRESENT POPE MUST BE ITALIAN

Plans Already Being Made, It Is Said, With That Particular End in View

Rome, Aug. 15.—The possibility of the election of a foreign pontiff to succeed Pope Pius, in the event of his death, is to be eliminated as far as possible at the coming consistory for the elevation of new cardinals. Although the date set for this calling together of the members of the Sacred College has not yet been announced, preparations are steadily under way. Should the pope feel at any time that his health might suddenly grow worse, the consistory will be summoned immediately. Otherwise, it may not be held until October in order to spare the aged pontiff the fatiguing labor it would involve during the hot season.

From high Vatican dignitaries it was learned today that Pope Pius has consented to take the advice of a majority of his counselors and remove the possibility of the election by the Sacred College of a successor other than an Italian. His Holiness, it was declared today, has been convinced that such a contingency would be most unfortunate at the present time. Pope Pius has dedicated his entire pontificate to the establishment of great religious reforms inside the church. Were he to be followed in his policy, it is said, he would have been convinced that the ritual entanglements that would probably result in his religious reforms being forgotten before they would have been established. It is better, he is said to believe, that the church postpone the solving of its political questions until it has strongly entrenched the recent religious reforms.

At the present time the Sacred College consists of 57 cardinals—23 Italians and 34 foreigners. While this gives the latter a little majority, the margin is regarded generally as being too narrow to insure against the election of a foreign pope. For this reason the coming consistory, it was learned today, will result in a substantial increase in this majority. In addition to announcing the creation of Mendis Bello, patriarch at Lisbon, whose name has been held in reserve since November 1911, the pope will include in the list of new Italian cardinals, as well as Monsignor Della Chiesa, archbishop of Bologna; Monsignor Tonti, recalled some two years ago as papal nuncio to Portugal; Monsignor Cappelletti, former vice regent of the vicar general of Rome; and two of the personal chamberlains of the pope.

WEEKS BUDGET OF NEWS IN IOWA PARK COMMUNITY

Iowa Park, Texas, Aug. 15.—The meeting at the Baptist Church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. H. McKenzie, has been in progress since Sunday. The congregation was large and the services were being held in a large tent near the church.

Clark Jones and Miss Nellie Warren were united in marriage by Rev. W. H. McKenzie last Sunday.

Miss Gera and Ruth Dillards are visiting friends in Wichita Falls this week. Miss Helene Hines of Wichita Falls, after spending a week with Ruth Dillards, returned home early in the week.

Prof. Nickell, the new superintendent of our school, moved in one day this week.

J. D. Slack and family are away on a visit to Fort Worth and Burleson. They left one day last week in their new automobile and will stay about two weeks.

John Watkins and family moved into the Jno. T. Overby house in the eastern part of town last Sunday. There are a great many inquiries for rent houses but the present demand exceeds the supply. Now is the time for some one with money to invest to build rent houses and thereby build up the town, the school and, incidentally, himself.

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 15.—Dr. Louis Beltran, connected with the Cuban army and who has been in this city for the last ten days with the purpose of buying several hundred head of "Texas horses" to be used in the Cuban Army, has closed a deal with a North Fort Worth horse dealer for five hundred Texas steeds. Arrangements are being made to ship the Texas ponies to Cuba.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them.

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

RADFORD PROMISES TO CEASE HIS CRITICISM

Will Not Comment on Prize Farming Contests Hereafter, He Tells Commercial Secretaries

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 15.—Peter Radford's opposition as manager of the Texas Farm Life Commission to prize farming and the attorney's legal suit against the Katy were the two chief topics before the executive committee of the Texas Commercial Secretaries in session at the Westbrook Thursday.

Radford's criticism of prize farming in articles published over the state had been construed as an attack on the Texas Industrial Congress. The farm life commission is a bureau of the secretaries. The committee requested Mr. Radford that he cease his attacks. He at first declined, saying that no organization could control his criticism, but after some discussion the committee agreed to leave the matter to his good judgment, and Mr. Radford announced he would eliminate such references in future articles.

The executive committee also discussed a proposition to take action regarding the anti-trust suits now in progress and recently decided in the state, and the laws under which they are conducted.

In stating the objects of the meeting, Chairman Cain of Dallas named only the two subjects that came up at the morning session.

"It has been suggested by many," said Mr. Cain, "that this organization ought to go on record as being opposed to the action of the attorney general in starting the recent action against the Katy."

"For one, seriously question whether we should take such action, and doubt the wisdom of it. The power of our organization has come from the fact that we have not meddled with matters of that kind. Our program has been rather to educate public sentiment."

In outlining the situation with regard to the farm life commission, Mr. Cain explained that it was in reality practically a bureau of the Commercial Secretaries' Association, of which Mr. Radford was manager, and pursuing the policy of the Farmers' Union. Mr. Radford had seen fit to criticize what was known as prize farming, and had brought about the charge that he was attacking the Texas Industrial Congress work.

JOHN YOUNG FORGETFUL; GOES HOME WITHOUT HIS WIFE, THEN REMEMBERS

John Young told a good one on himself today. Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Young, accompanied by Mrs. Williams went out to the Confederate reunion in Mr. Young's automobile. They came in late and as Mr. Young was late at the meeting of the city council the ladies rode down town with him and went with Mrs. Dillard to the picture show. The understanding was that Mr. Young was to come to Mrs. Dillard's house for Mrs. Young after the council meeting.

Matters came up in the meeting that recalled Mr. Young's concentration. At the close of the meeting he went out and cranked up his machine and went out to his home on Tenth street. He had put up his machine and had gone into the house and turned on the light when the telephone bell rang. At that moment it flashed into Mr. Young's mind that he had left Mrs. Young down town. However, before he had time to get out the automobile Mrs. Young came home on the car.

CLEVER MONOLOGUIST AT LAMAR AIRDOME THIS WEEK.
Just about the cleverest female monologist and comedienne that has ever appeared in vaudeville—here is Miss Mack with Stewart and Mack, at the Lamar Airdome this week. Stewart is good, too, and the team make a decided hit in their characterization of a comedy pair from Hickville. Miss Mack opens with a monologue, mostly impromptu and exceedingly funny and the team closes with a song and dance that is very much out of the ordinary.

The Christy Baggerworth trio is also a good vaudeville number introducing good dancing and several very clever song hits.

"OLIVER TWIST" IN MOVING PICTURES HERE TODAY
Nat Goodwin, as Fagin in Dicken's delightful old comedy "Oliver Twist," is the feature of a five-reel film at the Lydia Margaret today. The part is one well suited to Mr. Goodwin, and one in which he made a considerable hit in his younger days. The picture is produced with even more attention to detail than the original theatrical production, and tells the quaint old story of Fagin in a way that all can understand and appreciate.

Wichita Falls, Texas, August 15, 1913

Next Tuesday the voters of Wilbarger county will determine whether that county will remain dry or whether saloons will be licensed. A vigorous campaign is being conducted by the partisans of both the "dry" and the "wet" and the vote next Tuesday ought to furnish a pretty accurate barometer of sentiment in this section since the Allison anti-shipping act became effective.

The public generally doesn't know much about the new currency bill, but the idea of government control of the reserve board is a mighty popular one. To allow the banks to control this board would be like allowing the railroads to control the Interstate Commerce Commission. The railroads at first argued that the railroads themselves ought to be allowed to name the members of the commission; that to allow the government to appoint the members of the commission would be placing their business at the mercy of politicians. Their fears have been unfounded and few railroads men today have objection to "political" control of their business. Most broad-brimmed bankers are not opposing administration control of the appointment of the members of the reserve board.

The decision of Hon. Peter Radford of the Farmers Union and the Texas Farm Life Commission to eliminate criticism of what he has been pleased to call "prize farming" in future articles given to the press and in future addresses seems to us a very sensible one. While everybody agrees with Mr. Radford that the marketing problem is one of great importance to the farmers, many see much room for improvement in rotation, diversification and in better methods of cultivation, seed selection and all other things that go to make bigger crop yields of better quality. While Mr. Radford has declared that he and his organization believe in scientific farming a reading of his articles shows that he considers the matters mentioned of comparatively little importance. Without naming any man or any organization Mr. Radford has attempted to heap ridicule on "prize farming" and while he has mentioned no names it has been clear that he has had in mind Col. Henry Exall and the Texas Industrial Congress. Most of us have believed that Col. Exall was doing a good and entirely unselfish work and the criticisms of Mr. Radford have seemed untimely and have detracted somewhat from the efforts of Mr. Radford which we believe to be just as good and unselfish as those of Col. Exall. There is plenty of work in Texas for both Col. Exall and Mr. Radford and all of us ought to be willing to join with them in their good efforts.

Taking the longer view of affairs, the most important aspect of Washington politics is the ascendancy of President Wilson over Congress. The public has grown so accustomed to it that they do not get any sensation from it, nor do they realize how important it is. Anyone who can remember or will read the familiar story of the

A Word to the Wives is Sufficient

After everything has been said that can be said on the subject of women's rights, all true women feel, no matter what their political ideas may be, that their first and most important duty is the thrifty and business-like management of their household.

The question of pure foods is very much before the public at the present time, and every housekeeper is desirous of having on her table food stuffs that are as nutritious and as little adulterated as it is possible to procure.

There has been a campaign of public education on this subject, and the woman who has kept up with the times knows what to avoid in buying her provisions.

A good housekeeper can not spend her time more wisely than by informing herself on these points by reading the advertisements in THE wreck of the Democratic party for twenty years just because President Cleveland did not have the ascendancy over the Senate when he was making a tariff bill which was important in the whip hand which Wilson has. It was not easy to get, and there were many weeks during the beginning of Wilson's administration when it seemed questionable whether he would have it. The issue was exactly the same as in Cleveland's Administration—whether the party should pass an honest tariff bill, inspired by the President and based on party platform, or whether the Senate should enunciate it into a thing of—quote Cleveland's phrase—perfidy and dishonor. It is all safe now, in spite of the two Senators from Louisiana, who will vote against the bill. Wilson has a safe majority. Probably Wilson would have acquired the ascendancy anyhow, but he was greatly helped by the lobby episode. Just about the time the tariff bill had passed the House and gone to the Senate President Wilson issued his public declaration expressing the wish that the lobby, which was misleading the people and harassing public men, would go home. The utterance created a sensation, and the Senate, with the rather joyful intention of "putting the President in a hole," began a lobby investigation. It is no secret to say that the hope and intention of this investigation were to prove there was no lobby, and thereby humiliate the President and weaken his hand. As events have turned out, however, the President's prestige has been very greatly increased, and the Senate, to use a familiar phrase, is now eating out of his hand. It doesn't do it willingly. The other day Senator Cummins made a speech about executive usurpation and interference. It was a strong speech, and at any other time during the past twenty years it would have made a public sensation. Now nobody pays any attention to it. Congress submits to Wilson's ascendancy much more tamely than it did when Roosevelt created and swung the Big Stock. Indeed, Roosevelt's hard-won triumph over Congress in 1909 has made Wilson's present ascendancy easier. President Wilson is not likely to lose his whip hand through any event now foreseeable. He will put through his tariff bill, and that will strengthen him. In all probability he will put through his currency bill as well. With respect to Mexico, the public has perfect confidence in him. The only events which threatened his prestige were the case of the Japanese in California, which was bogged slightly, and the Diggs-Caminetti case. If Wilson ends the present special session with his ascendancy maintained, he can begin the regular session in December with an impressive program of new legislation and a serene probability of putting it through—Collier's Weekly.

NOW, WILL YOU BE GOOD?

A great many men are having a great deal to say about the thinness and scantiness of women's apparel, but if these critics are attending to business and not devoting their time to skirt-gazing, it is hard to understand how they know so much about what the women are wearing, or not wearing.—Frederick Leader.

JAPAN AND MEXICO

Dallas Times-Herald. As unexpected as the discovery of a pearl in an oyster on the half shell, comes the news that Japan will not recognize Diaz as the official representative of Huerta's government. Our first shock of surprise over, we cast about for the motive in the Eastern Nation's refusal. It is found in the California question. Japan is vitally interested in getting her surplus population cared for and is proceeding on the quid pro quo theory. Nor is it strange that the Nipponese nation should believe the United States can temper the cold wind of California legislation to the Japanese lamb on the coast. The Japanese policy does not embody the American idea of sovereign states within a sovereign state. In Japan the mikado, descendant of gods, and himself a god, rules supreme. Every true Japanese would gladly die for his emperor, and none except Camp Perry, Aug. 15.—The most cosmopolitan shooting tournament ever held on either hemisphere opened here today on the greatest range in America. Sharp shooters from all parts of the world are here to battle for the world's championship with rifle and revolver. The matches will continue until September 9. The tournament is being held under the auspices of five organizations—the National Rifle Association of America, the Ohio State Rifle Association, the Pan-American Shooting Union, the National Board for the Practice of Rifle Shooting and the International Union of Rifle Associations, the latter composed of members of eighteen countries. The United States has appropriated $25,000 for the shoot and will have control over the meet. President Wilson, members of the cabinet and army, navy and diplomatic officials are on the committee in charge. Forty-four of the states have entered teams. The prizes are unprecedented in value. The National Rifle Association's twenty-four matches opened the tournament today. The national matches and the six Pan-American Shooting Union contests follow. Then come the big events—the international matches, the most important of which is the Palma for the long range team championship of the world. Prizes amounting in value to $50,000 will be awarded. Of these $33,000 is in cash prizes.

Major League Gossip

This year has been chuck full of surprises in the baseball world, and all have not been sprung yet. Last season, had anybody gone on record to the effect that Clark Griffith would have been able to take the Washington team and land it in second place at the close of the American League season, making a fight for the pennant right up to the finish, they sure would have looked to be fit subjects for the padded castle. Yet Griff did this very thing and had the entire baseball armament sitting up and taking notice.

This year practically the same (thing is happening in Ban Johnson's organization, but instead of it being Washington, Cleveland is the club that is making the fight. Manager Joe Birmingham took charge of the Naps during the middle of last season and immediately placed the club in the running for a first division berth. It was not until the second division at that time. This year he looked for Birny to make any kind of a showing, for, as was pointed out, outside of Joe Jackson, there was no star on the roster, unless one wanted to still count Larry Fedor. Larry may be passed over, but the great veteran isn't the player of several seasons back.

Every now and then some managers have occasion to regret their failure to give a ball player a trial. Little Maranville, the sensational shortstop of the Boston Nationals, could have been had for a song last spring. Every one of the other managers turned him down, and now Maranville is the year's sensation in the old league.

In the American League there was a similar instance. Shang, the young catcher now doing such brilliant work for Connie Mack's team, was offered to various clubs. Frank Chance could have had him in exchange for a pitcher named Patrick Green, but turned it down because he was led to believe that Green was a wonder. When, in fact, he never made good in last company. Shang is a star and would have been just the man to help the Yankees out this year.

ball if some other teams should finish ahead, and while the chances are very remote, such a thing is not by any means impossible. Some fans are even predicting that the big show will be staged by the surprises of the two leagues, the Phillies and the Naps.

Little Maranville, the sensational shortstop of the Boston Nationals, could have been had for a song last spring. ### U. S. IDAHO IS NOT EFFICIENT BATTLESHIP.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The pennant winner among the battleships of the United States navy for efficiency in gunnery and engineering during the past year is the Idaho, whose figure of merit with 100 per cent was 94.5. Its commanding officer is Captain W. L. Howard, the next highest vessels in order being the Utah, Michigan, New Hampshire, Florida, Maryland, Delaware, Wyoming and Virginia.

YES, IT'S TRUE! CHICAGO'S NEW WOMEN COPS NAB A WOMAN IN FIRST ARREST. MOVE ON!

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Now what do you know about this? Yes! It's true. The first arrest made by the new women cops of this city was that of a woman. Naturally this shocks you. It was a 100 to 1 shot that the lady policeman—or should we be absolutely correct and say policewomen—would nab a mere man the first rattle out of the box. Not so. 'Twas ever thus with Eekle women. This is what happened, and it's rather pro-saie at that, as even any cub reporter could tell you: "Madam, you are under arrest; we are officers of the law," announced Policewoman Margaret Wilson, who, accompanied by Policewomen Margaret Butler, took Mrs. Nellie Cameron into custody at North Clark and West Erie streets on a charge of disorderly conduct. That's all. The policewomen will visit the public dance halls, excursion boats, beaches and railroad stations and will try to keep young folks off the streets late at night. They will obtain information rather than make arrests, although on occasions they may be called upon to arrest some one. Whether the policewomen shall wear brass buttons and carry revolvers and clubs will be decided after the civil service examinations for the positions. They are here shown as they looked when they were sworn in.

The Mission of William

By Eliot Balestier

Copyright, The Frank A. Munsey Co.

"MR. LESLIE, sir," the old butler stood in the doorway looking, with eyes in which affection and respect vied, at the prematurely grizzled head of his young master bent over the great square table-desk in the middle of the library.

"Mr. Leslie, sir," he repeated deprecatingly, with a suggestive cough.

Leslie Conoughton looked up with a slight frown, but his expression changed to a peculiarly attractive smile as he saw who the interrupter was.

"Well, Collins?" he asked gently.

The old man coughed again, shifting uneasily from one foot to the other. "I beg pardon for interrupting you, sir," he said, "but—there was a quality of loving pride in his voice—"William is here, sir."

Conoughton nodded encouragingly. "Oh, yes! To be sure! Your grandson, Collins."

"Yes, sir," the butler's severely correct old face lighted with a smile of pleasure. "Etta's boy, sir. Maybe you don't remember Etta, sir; she was lady's-maid to your mother, when you were a little chap. She married Lord Fairhaven's valet, when my lord was visiting here, and went back to the old country."

Conoughton nodded gravely. "I remember," he replied. "And what do you wish me to do, Collins? Or, rather, I'll leave it to you. Place him wherever you think he is best fitted to go; either in the house, or at the stables."

Collins hesitated, his brows clouding. "Thank you kindly, sir; but that's just it, sir. William's got notions, sir. He don't want to take service at all; leastwise, not real service, sir. He—well, we thought, perhaps, there would be a place for him in the garage. He has a fancy for mechanics, sir."

Conoughton laughed. "All right," he agreed, "send William to Norton, and tell him from me to make a first-class chauffeur and mechanic of the boy."

When Collins had retired, Conoughton moved the papers on his desk and resumed the "work" the butler had interrupted; that is, he resumed his contemplation of a photograph.

It was a beautiful photograph of a very lovely woman; even in the picture the ornate black gown displayed to advantage the perfection of the wonderfully rounded arms, the graceful throat, and exquisite shoulders.

The features, too, were almost faultless in their delicate proportions. There was, perhaps, a suggestion of coldness in the eyes and a hint of petulant discontent in the curve of the lips, yet they were distinctly patrician; it was the face of a remarkably beautiful, highly bred, and gently reared aristocrat.

All of this Conoughton saw—even the defects, though the latter he thought the fault of the photographer. "I wonder," he said frowning, "why Denise doesn't take a better picture. And," he added thoughtfully, addressing the photograph, "I wonder if I could make you happy? You wonderful—wonderful creature!"

At thirty-eight a man does not rush headlong into matrimony—though he may into love—certainly not a man of Leslie Conoughton's temperament. Since his salad days no woman had attracted him particularly until he met Denise Maxwell.

Indeed, he had found little time for the lighter side of life. His father's death, shortly after he left college, had placed on the boy's shoulders the burden of a great fortune—a burden of such enormous and varied interests that only within the last two years had affairs been in such shape that he could afford the time to think much of his own pleasure.

There was no tangible reason why he should not marry Denise. She was of excellent family, an heiress in her own right, not too young, and—and he loved her. Yet he hesitated.

In summer, though there were usually a dozen or more guests, his huge place on Long Island seemed lonely; and in winter, the great double mansion on upper Fifth avenue seemed lonelier still.

With a gesture of impatience, he slipped the photograph into a drawer, drew out a sheet of paper, and began to write; but when he had finished and read it over, he tore the letter up, scattering the fragments around him.

"No," he said uncertainly, "I think I'll wait. She will be here in three weeks. I'll ask her then."

During the next two weeks, Collins brought him from time to time glowing accounts of William's progress. "And Mr. Norton says," he would conclude proudly, "that he has never seen any one take to an automobile like William. He just seems like a born chauffeur, sir."

But though he frequently heard of the boy, he had never happened to see him until one morning, having ordered a car to take him to the station, he found a new man at the wheel.

He was a little rat-faced fellow, with shifty eyes, and a shock of carry hair showing under his motor-cap. Conoughton looked at him with disfavor. "Who are you?" he asked shortly.

"I'm William, sir," replied the youth, with a broad cockney accent. "Mr. Norton says as he's quite capable now, sir."

Conoughton lowered his raised eyebrows and smiled. "Oh!" he replied, and without further words got into the car.

After this first trip William drove him often, and Conoughton began to almost like the odd little fellow whose knowledge of the use of the word "sir" was only two weeks old, and whose freedom of conversation would have shocked his correct grandfather.

Conoughton learned several things he had not known before, and incidentally got a side-light on Collins's character, that rather surprised him. It appeared that Lord Fairhaven's valet had not turned out well, and toward the last they had been almost entirely supported by the old butler in America.

William himself was a typical product of the London streets—not of the stunts exactly, but very close to them. After his mother's death the money his grandfather sent for his edu-tion was spent by his father for drink. Finally, the boy had broken away and come to America.

But Conoughton's thoughts, just then, were more upon the coming house-party—and Denise—than upon his chauffeur; and when the day of her advent at last arrived he was in a state of nervous excitement such as he had not known for years.

He met Denise and her mother in New York and motored them down, the rest of the guests arriving in various ways, he cared very little how. Never had the girl been more lovely, never had she been more gracious to him; and he asked himself wondrously how he could have waited so long.

Yet, for some undefined reason, he still hesitated. Every morning he determined that that day should see things settled, one way or the other; and every night he retired wondering why it was that he had allowed opportunity after opportunity to pass.

But at last came a night which Fate seemed to have specially prepared. There was to be a dance at a country-house thirty miles away, and Mrs. Maxwell being ill, Denise would go with him alone.

Thirty miles by motor is a short run or a long one, as the driver chooses; and conditions warrant. Whether by accident or design, all the other cars had gone ahead when Conoughton and Denise finally came out and he assisted her into the coupe of a big Mercedes.

"What's this?" he exclaimed as William was about to follow. "Where is William?"

"Where is William tonight?"

"He's sick, sir," replied the chauffeur, "hurt his foot this afternoon, sir, and can't walk."

"Well, that's a comfort," said Denise, before Conoughton could reply. "I do not see how you can endure that horrible little cockney, Leslie. He—he's awful!"

Conoughton laughed. "Don't you like my 'Sweet William'?" he asked as he took the seat beside her. "He's really a good fellow, and—"

them all," she explained excitedly as Conoughton entered the room, and jumped out of the window. Oh, please catch him—he has all my jewels!"

Conoughton ran to the window. In the faint moonlight he could see a dark figure struggling to rise, but even as he looked it fell back with an oath and a cry of pain. Conoughton, with an exclamation in which was scarcely less pain, started back from the window and hurried toward the stairs.

In the hall he met Collins and several other servants, who had been alarmed by the screams.

"Go out the front door and around to the back of the house!" he ordered sharply. "He jumped out of the window and may have dropped the jewels!"

Then he darted into the library, which was directly beneath Denise's room, and leaning out the low window twisted his fingers in the collar of the fugitive's coat. A moment later he had lifted him bodily into the room, disclosing the curly hair and rat-like features of William.

"Shut up!" he commanded, as the boy began to whine; "I'm not going to hurt you." And, opening a closet, he threw him into it and locked the door, just as Denise herself came into the room—she guessed his action.

"What are you going to do with him?" she asked, her eyes blazing with anger. "Are you going to let him go?"

"It isn't for his sake; you can wager on that, Denise!" he answered in a low tone. "It's poor old Collins! It would break his heart!"

"What do I care?" replied the girl furiously. "The little beast tried to steal my jewels! If you don't send him to jail, I will!"

Conoughton looked at her as though she had struck him.

"Denise!" he cried, his very tone telling her the hurt she had given him. "You can't mean that! You can't! You don't understand! It's not William's fault, Collins. I'm thinking—"

AUDACITY MARKS AUGUST ATTIRE

TRANSPARENTS AND THE LIKE ARE NOTED IN MONTH'S COSTUMES

THROUGH A VEIL DARKLY

But Not Too Dark—Main Feature of Hats is Their Lack of Anything Much

By Margaret Mason, Written for the United Press.

Like a queen of the night Or Turkish delight, Clarissa is looking with all Her veils and her beads and her spangles and gauze And her tunic buffant for the fall. It sounds like a lot But it really is not For Clarissa would have a close call If a spangle were to come off Or a ribbon uncrossed, She'd be looking like Eve 'fore the fall.

New York, Aug. 15.—These are the days when a great deal is coming off in the name of fashion. Just a little and that's all that's going on, just a little less. Over in Gray Parson at the Grand Prix the mannikin parading in the latest creations were rather than the fashions. Many appeared in lace gowns draped over delicately tinted silk tights, and the downfall of petticoats was supreme.

This seems a bit extreme especially with the cool days of autumn so imminent, but after all you will still have your pride to keep you warm. There is a perfect panacea for transparent materials and some of the resulting work is so sheer that they are simply sheer audacity. Verily if Salome and her seven veils should walk up Fifth Avenue today, the 1913 beauty would gaze at her ankles, murmuring "What an overdressed frump. Why the other six?"

Even as the gowns have shed linings and petticoats, so have the hats cast off their crowns. A ruffle of pleated netting or a band of wired tulle passes muster for a hat nowadays, and the whole top of your pate is left exposed to the elements.

Oriental Things Galore

The Oriental trend is again in the fore. Much gold and silver trimmings are used on street costumes and beads and spangles galore. There is a new wired tunic that flares out prettily just below the hip line for all the world like a lampshade or a hoop skirt nipped in the bud. It is the Parisian version of a Persian fashion. Tunics less buffant, however, will be more popular for common street wear, as one can scarcely picture a wired tunic in its pristine glory emerging from a subway crush.

Along with the many other fads and fancies adapted from the Far East; the harem veil for motoring has the distinguishing mark of being really sensible. The veil is worn draped full and falling from just below your eyebrows. It protects the throat and nose admirably from the dust of motor travel and at the same time swathe you in all the mysterious glamor and charm of an odalisque or houri.

With the zest for turkey-trots and tangos still unabated, the young girl's dress of tulle or dancing frock—likewise the thousands of her veterans, her cousins and her aunts. Chiffon net is the groundwork for all the fragile confections and with sleeveless bodices, low cut, tight ankle length skirts, slit to the knee, it is plain to be seen that not much material is needed for the making of these frocks. It is to these of them in fact that there is scarcely room for trimmings. Sprays and garlands of tiny flowers or a quaintly draped sash is just about all that they will stand.

The charming model to Nile green children is trimmed with a trim silver embroidered lace. The ankle length skirt draped up on the right side, is bordered with a cascade of lace while the corsage and one sleeve is of the silvered lace entirely. The other shoulder is veiled with a drapery of the green tulle and caught at the waist with a cluster of green and silver grapes. The skirt drapery is caught near the knee with a similar cluster of grapes.

Handpainted Fabrics. A craze for handpainted fabrics is noticeable among the young collectors. A white net painted with lilacs is lovely over a pale blue satin slip. A girle of pale blue and lilac colored chiffon with long sash ends fastens on the left hip.

A frilly frock is handpainted with just tassels, fall to the slit up hem. Of course, the jet lattice of the bodice is laid over best colored chiffon, but as there is no suspicion of a sleeve and the décolleté is most décolleté, indeed this gown looks like a case of "On with the dance, and off with everything else."

SUFFS PLAN 1915 SAN FRANCISCO CONVENTION.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Plans for a national convention at San Francisco in 1915 was the chief business before the national council of women voters at its session yesterday afternoon. The invitation to hold the meeting on the Pacific coast was given by Mrs. John R. Rafter, secretary of the council. At the proposed convention all the suffrage states in the Union will be represented by accredited delegates, who will formulate policies for the organization.

Nearly Everybody Needs a Liver Stimulant at One Time or Another. Nearly everybody does and then is annoyed with a sluggish, lazy liver or by constipation or by biliousness.

It is for this reason that Dodson's Liver Tonic is such a good medicine to keep always in the house. By ROBERT MACKAY

Copyright, The Frank A. Munsey Co.

As soon as I was absolutely certain that my friend could breathe no more—that the keen blade of the bowie which I had thrust into his heart had done its work—I laid the body at full length on the table in our cabin, and, placing a chair beside it, I sat down and took the dead man's hand in mine.

He had been a good and honest partner. He and I had struggled against adverse hopes, until fortune finally condescended to smile on us with unwonted fervor. He, a man of twelve lustrems, I, a man of six—we had delved and picked, and blasted our way into the mountains for years, until we had brought forth so much gold that we were unable to estimate its value. In all the vast domain in the sierras, known as Grinnell's, no other miners could show as much good luck as Dick Moltry, the man whom I had just killed, and myself.

Dick Moltry had the courage of a lion, and the heart of a child. His virtues were honesty, intuitive perception, religious inurement, and great courage. His vices were a greed for gold and a latent feeling against mankind, the latter being the reason why he had sought the solitude of the mountains. My love for adventure had induced me to form a partnership with him, its most seductive feature in the beginning being that we were to end our days in the wilds of the mountains—that one should not leave the other until death.

This and other compacts were sealed with the immutable stamp of honor. Time finally revealed to me the inexpediency and folly of such a partnership; and often, at night, when Moltry and I sat in our cabin, I would ask him to tell me what he intended to do with the box of gold that occupied a corner of the room. He told me that when he died it would all be mine—that all the great sierra wealth, for which we had toiled so incessantly, would be mine—all mine.

When he died? Lo, how I had waited and prayed and even sung for the time to come. How I had swarmed every morning for years, knowing that if I would have seen his dead form in the blankets beside me, the sunshine would have pale before my happiness, and the glory of my life would have been supreme. Day followed day, and year followed year, and although silents which seemed of a nature to hasten his end overcame him at regular intervals, death always stood aside to let him pass. Indeed, during the past few years of his life, he had enjoyed almost perfect health, and the day before I killed him, it appeared to me that his step had never been lighter, his cheek never ruddier, his appetite never better, nor was there any diminution in his strength to swing a pick. He seemed to be the allegory of eternal life.

I had become tired of the mountains—tired of that immense, trackless domain of solitude, where the memory of time was living in the glory of nature. I had conquered the god of Mammon—his wealth was at my feet—with it I could gratify ambition, buy pleasure and all else that I might crave. But no argument, however beguiling, would lure him to break the bond of our seemingly relentless compact, and I could not leave him there alone.

RECENT WRECK VICTIM FORMERLY LIVED HERE. Mr. and Mrs. DeMar formerly resided in Wichita Falls and have many friends that will appreciate the following: The remains of Frank DeMar who was killed in a wreck near Denton were taken back to Denton for burial. The funeral services were held at the family home at 3 o'clock Sunday evening under the auspices of the B. of L. E. and the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. A beautiful and massive wreath of flowers were sent in by the B. of L. E. Two sprays by the ladies of the B. of L. E. a wreath by Mr. and Mrs. Worsham, another by the Boy Scouts of America, of which the little boys, Durward and Leslie are members. A pillow of flowers signed by ten little boy friends and most pathetic was the receiving of a very pretty spray signed by three little boys who had had the same experience. They, too, had lost their fathers in wrecks. The flowers sent by various clubs of which Mrs. DeMar is a member were numerous.

Frank DeMar was 40 years old and survived by a wife and three children, a mother, one brother and a sister. Frank DeMar was known generally as a man brave and good and one that never shirked his duty. A FRIEND.

OUR forefather did not use their eyes as we do. There is an army of people who not only use their eyes all day in their daily work; but also outside of business hours give up their time to the reading of newspapers and books, as shown by the enormous size of the newspaper and book business. This means a great deal of close work for the eyes. In the good old days there were few books to read and little time given to read them by most of the people, and the same was true in regard to the reading of newspapers, of which there were not a great many. People in those days did not put upon their eyes the work that we do. The result was that they did not need the exactly fitting glasses that are now necessary in a great many cases. Slowly there seems to have come an age of excessive use of the eyes, and it is probably here for good, so that the wearing of glasses has come to be accepted as a normal and natural advantage by most people.

THE LAST GIFT

It is the custom to give gifts unto your children. Every year you remember your loved ones and friends. Yet many a gift before the year closed, was unremembered and unappreciated.

As a last gift that dear old FATHER and MOTHER left you a legacy of truth, honesty and fidelity, along with a handsome sum of ready cash. Next day there was a protest filed in the county courts contesting the will. What is the matter? The will calls for a $30.00 memorial head-stone to be purchased and placed at their graves as a LAST GIFT. The children in protesting say, "They do not need it. A $10.00 tomb rock is good enough." Visit the spot and you will find they sleep in UNMARKED, UNREMEMBERED GRAVES. The Wichita Marble & Granite Works do not erect TOMB-ROCKS, but instead beautiful and lasting MEMORIALS, that are appreciated by friends and loved ones. Come to see us.
