EXPENSE MONEY FOR CANDIDATES

GOVERNOR BALDWIN OF CONNECTICUT WOULD HAVE STATE PAY IT

SAYS ONLY RICH CAN RUN

Believes Legitimate Expenses of Candidates Should be Borne by Commonwealth

By Associated Press.
Colorado Springs, Aug. 28.—Just as the State bears the expense of conducting elections, it should bear the expense of most of the candidates for party nominations at the primaries, in the opinion of S. E. Baldwin, governor of Connecticut, who addressed the Governors' Conference on this subject. Here is the list of candidates' expenses which Governor Baldwin would have the State shoulder:

Printing and distribution of ballots and other papers required by law.

Traveling expenses of the candidates to and from appointments for meetings incident to the campaign, whether public or private.

Traveling expenses of speakers in their behalf to and from public meetings.

Copying poll or registry lists.

Providing challengers.

The burden of these legitimate expenses, in most states, Governor Baldwin said, falls on the candidate for nomination and deters the poor man from entering the political lists, unless he puts himself under what he would be apt to deem an obligation to those who supply him with the necessary funds.

"The government must have a right," Governor Baldwin said, "in self-defense so to regulate the making of nominations, whether by party conventions or primaries or by direct primaries of the whole people, as not to dictate the choice, but to assure that it fairly represents the choice of those who make it. The State must have a right, if the people are satisfied, that such nominations by a party convention or primary can be replaced by another mode of proceeding which gives them a better opportunity to make their wishes prevail, to institute this other mode. And what the State can institute it can protect."

There are certain items of candidates' expenses which, in Governor Baldwin's opinion, it would be unwise to have the State pay. Among these are mentioned the cost of circulating nominating petitions and of hiring transportation for voters to polling places. The one, Governor Baldwin asserts, has shown that many persons sign such petitions without intending to vote for the candidate; they thus help to place in nomination; the other could be made unnecessary by establishing more polling places.

Hall rent and a candidate's personal travel, postage and telegraph bills, might properly be borne by the State as well as other items, Governor Baldwin asserts.

SAYS PUBLICITY CAUSED HIM TO END HIS LIFE

Father-in-Law of Gateville Merchant Recently Killed Leaves Note to District Attorney

Mr. Hammack was the father-in-law of Frank Battle, who was shot and killed here a week ago today. Hammack left a note to District Attorney McCallan at Gateville the substance of which was:

"I am a persecuted man. I cannot stand the publicity. My brain is on fire."

PRE-CANCELLED STAMPS ARE VALID FOR POSTAGE

May be Sold After This Month for Second, Third and Fourth Class Mail Matter

By Associated Press.
Washington, Aug. 28.—Postmaster General Burleson today signed an order providing that pre-cancelled postage stamps may be sold on and after Sept. 1. Pre-cancelled stamps have printed on them the name of the post office before they are sold. Such stamps will be valid for postage on second, third and fourth class mail, newspapers and magazines mailed by the public, books and other printed matter and merchandise or parcel post matter.

The stamps will be recognized only at the office named on them. By use of this system, the government will save in expense of labor in cancellation $250,000 a year.

WILSON'S MESSAGE AS VIEWED BY GOVERNORS

Chief Executives at Denver Mostly Take Hopeful Views of President's Utterances

Denver, Colo., Aug. 28.—The Denver Post prints statements of a number of governors attending the conference of governors at Colorado Springs on President Wilson's Mexican message. Most of the statements are favorable.

Gov. McDonald of New Mexico declared that the president was right in his views as to the hopefulness of Huerta's attempt to restore order. "As to armed intervention," he added, "I can not say that I am in favor of it."

Gov. Colquitt of Texas remarked: "Wilson seems to have come around to the opinion of the Texas governor when he says peace and Huerta are at opposite poles."

Gov. Eberhart of Minnesota approves the policy of the government and is opposed to intervention. Gov. Spry of Utah said: "It is in favor of doing the job right and talking over the entire country for ourselves."

Ultimate war with Mexico is forecast by Gov. Byrne of South Dakota, who says the Wilson plan "looks to me to be rather a weak policy."

Gov. Hunt of Arizona: "Things are in a terrible condition in Mexico and it grieves me to think of our people down there. Does President Wilson say for them to get out of the country? A great many of them have already done so and others would like to, but can't. Some have been killed while trying to get away."

Gov. Lister, Washington: "It seems to me that the president's position is logical."

Gov. O'Neal of Alabama: "Huerta can never pacify the country and it would be disgraceful for this country to recognize a man like him. I see no occasion for intervention by this country."

ENGLISH PRESS THINKS INTERVENTION IN SIGHT

Take Varied Views of President's Message, but are Not Sanguine of Success

London, Aug. 28.—The London morning papers, commenting on President Wilson's message, are not altogether sanguine of the wisdom or success of President Wilson's policy, but are agreed that it is almost certain to lead to American intervention, therefore indicating that a grave crisis has been reached. The Morning Post says:

"President Wilson will have his hands full if he sets himself up as the censor of morals for the presidents of Latin America and if the United States accepts the duty of supporting the duly elected president, Mexico would become in fact, if not in name, an American protectorate."

The Express says: "President Wilson is not the man to bluff on such a question. From his stern and explicit message it is clear that Mexico must either climb down or fight. If the former, she admits American suzerainty; if the latter, she must lose her independence altogether. Great Britain has large interests and much to lose by war, but it is difficult to understand how British sympathy could be otherwise bestowed than on the United States."

The Daily Chronicle considers that President Wilson displays an excessive belief in the virtues of the ballot box, and that if the United States like other powers, recognized Provisional President Huerta, he would have established an orderly government throughout Mexico. The Chronicle thinks it possible President Wilson still has reason to anticipate concessions on Huerta's part which will make a revised program possible.

The Daily News says that if only the European powers do not stiffen Huerta's back, President Wilson's policy will prove as judicious as it is prudent.

The Daily Mail, in an ironical vein, declares that what the Washington government most needs is a policy, and asks whether President Wilson supposes that the American citizens in Mexico, managing public utilities representing $50,000,000 capital, can put the railways and tramways in their pockets when they leave, or whether they are to leave them behind. It says that the message should be quite popular in Mexico.

"It is only possible claim to reason," adds the paper, "is that it is the precursor of a ultimatum and of this we have no hint. Is not Mr. Wilson an apostle of peace?"

IMPERATOR IS SWEEPED BY FIRE

BIG STEAMSHIP BADLY DAMAGED BY FLAMES EARLY TODAY

PANIC IN THE STEERAGE

Second Officer and One Seaman are Killed While Trying to Subdue Blaze

By Associated Press.
New York, Aug. 28.—Flames swept the steamship Imperator early today as it lay at its Hoboken dock with its crew and 1200 steerage passengers aboard. Before the fire was subdued tons of water poured into the vessel's hold had caused it to list fifteen degrees. Second Officer Gobrecht and one seaman perished when he led volunteers into the hold to fight the flames.

Smoke suffocated both of them. When the army in the steerage heard the crackling of the fire, they rushed to the peer where they were surrounded by armed guards because they had not been inspected by immigration officers.

The extent of damage is not yet known.

PEACE IS POSSIBLE BY SOLVING LAND PROBLEM

Governor of Durango Believed Situation Will be Worked Out in That Way

Eagle Pass, Texas, Aug. 28.—An attempt to solve the land problem, the great underlying cause of the present and of past revolutions in Mexico, has been undertaken by the governor of Durango, Pastor Rouaix, as his first official act. This is an adaptation of the plan of San Luis Potosi adopted as the "platform" of the late President Madero.

Durango, the capital city of the state of the same name, owns considerable land and it is the plan to divide this land into small plots from 200 to 300 meters square, the latter comprising about two acres and a half. The plots are to be sold to Mexicans who desire to build homes and cultivate the land. The price of the small parcels is to be from $60 to $250, gold, and the purchaser is given 100 months in which to pay for it, the payments running about 60c per month.

Rigid rules are provided to prevent the small farmer from getting into the hands of speculators or those who do not need them, the authorities reserving the right to revoke contracts.

Gov. Rouaix also promises that all municipal land in the State shall be divided and sold on the same plan. It is probable the prices in other places will be much less than in the capital and the land will be divided into larger tracts.

This plan, he believes, if carried out throughout the Republic, will go a long way toward bringing permanent peace to the country.

NEW SCHOOL METHODS DISCUSSED AT BUFFALO

Outdoor Classrooms, Summer Instruction and Other Features are Talked Of

By Associated Press.
Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The spirituous source of health was the text chosen by Dr. Joseph Lee, of Boston, for his address today to the delegates to the Fourth International Congress on School Hygiene, now in session in this city. Dr. Lee is president of the Playground and Recreation Association of America. He said in part:

"To the growing child a vigorous mental life is the greatest source of health, and a good teacher is the best hygienic prescription. It is true that the mental life of a child is largely a motor life; he lives and thinks largely in terms of muscular action. But the use of his muscles is important, not chiefly because it serves certain physiological ends, but because it is an expression of the soul. We make too much a fetish of air and exercise. We must have these, but they are not even the only things. The mind life is even more important. Better a stuffy school room with zealous work than fresh air and mental flabbiness."

"Smaller classes are essential to the preservation of the teacher and to her really reading the child. When we learn to take our children's health and education seriously we shall halve the size of classes in our elementary schools. It will increase the cost 80 per cent, but the children's lives and health are worth it."

To further free the teacher's time for the normal pupil, we must have special schools or classes not only for the blind, the deaf, the tuberculous, but for all requiring peculiar treatment, including the bright pupils 40 to whom the regular grades are an intellectual hobble, regular, spoiling their natural gait.

If believe that pupils in the lowest grades, probably in the last three grades, should have the afternoon outdoors or in the kindergarten room, not wholly because of the benefits of the play and fresh air, but chiefly to avoid the demoralization of half-hearted work. Half-heartedness is a serious disease, worse than most than half-longness.

All schools of all places in the world, should not promote it. And a chief benefit of the afternoon out is that a few pupils may each afternoon be kept in and their real problems and difficulties discovered.

"We must have summer schools, because children grow all the year round and because some could save repeating a grade by this means."

"The home must be conserved as a spiritual means of health, not as a mere boarding house. School feeding should be confined to sick children; and these should pay or their payment be supplied by outside expert agencies."

"In speaking this at length of the predominant importance of the spiritual and intellectual forces in the promotion and conservation of the child's health, I do not wish to be understood as placing a low estimate on school hygiene in the narrower and more customary sense. School hygiene is the effective form of race hygiene. To improve the race by other means than selection—which, indeed, is the most important—you must draw a line across somewhere and allow no curable defect to pass. Obviously the school is the only place where such a line can be drawn. It is the only place where everyone must pass. And it comes at an age when the maximum in the way of remedy can be accomplished. We must not be contented in this matter until no child gets by without the best physical outfit that we know how to give."

"What are we waiting for that we do not do this now? People say 'go slow' about such things; but why should we go slower than we have to? Disease and disability do not in itself while we are waiting. Inaction on our part is in effect a decision against thousands of children, against their chance of health and usefulness."

School Room Disinfection.
Dr. Charles V. Chapin, commissioner of schools for the State of Rhode Island, was among those who today addressed the congress. Dr. Chapin's subject was the disinfection of school rooms, and he spoke in part as follows:

"It is first necessary to inquire how much contagious disease is really contracted in school and what is the mode of infection. It is a common belief that the schools are the principal factor in the spread of many contagious diseases. Because scarlet fever and diphtheria are much less prevalent during the summer and increase during autumn it is argued that the increase must be due to school attendance. It is, however, clearly shown by figures, derived from various cities, that there is no real correlation between these diseases and school attendance, but rather between them and the seasonal temperature."

"Detailed study of cases also shows that very few cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria are contracted in school. It is otherwise with measles and whooping cough, the spread of which seems to be greatly facilitated by school attendance. That other contagious diseases of importance are spread in school we have no evidence."

HEAVY TAX ON LARGER INCOMES

INSURGENT DEMOCRATS INSIST ON CHANGES WHICH ARE AGREED TO

PARTY CAUCUS PLANNED

Incomes of From $100,000 to $500,000 May be Taxed at From Five to Ten Per Cent

By Associated Press.
Washington, Aug. 28.—An insurgent movement among democratic senators that threatened to break party lines on the income tax was headed off by the leaders today by an agreement to revise the tariff bill, so as to levy a heavier tax on the incomes from large fortunes.

The leaders of the democratic insurgents began with a demand for a party conference and claimed the support of twenty-seven democratic senators out of the fifty in the Senate in support of an increase in the tax. They finally agreed to withdraw their demand for a special caucus, but the question will be taken up in a party conference tomorrow of Saturday.

It is understood that democratic leaders have agreed to a revision of the income tax section so that the extra tax on incomes of more than $100,000 will be five per cent with an increase reaching ten per cent on incomes of a half-million dollars.

The bill as it now stands provides only three per cent above $100,000. The present rates on incomes between $20,000 and $100,000 also will be increased. The agreement to draft the bill came after Senator Vardaman left the party ranks and voted for Senator La Follette's amendment to increase the rates and Senators Reed, Thompson and Ashhurst had threatened to take similar action.

Senator McCumber's amendment to start the tax at incomes of $1000 and to increase to seven and one-half per cent on $100,000 and over, was defeated without a roll call.

LIND MAY GO BACK TO RESUME NEGOTIATIONS

Some Evidence of Desire For Further Parley On Huerta's Part—Americans Warned To Leave Mexico At Once

By Associated Press.
Washington, Aug. 28.—John Lind was early today instructed to return from Vera Cruz to Mexico City, if in his discretion it seemed advisable, after President Wilson had received a message from him described as "very optimistic." While administration officials were silent as to the next move, the general understanding was that a way appeared to be open for further discussion of disputed points such as Huerta's elimination.

After an early conference with Secretary Bryan and Chairman Bacon of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, President Wilson let it be known he believes the situation in Mexico was encouraging. The president thinks things are changing in Mexico City and that something tangible soon will be known.

There was no evidence here early today that the Huerta government had agreed to the American plan, but the disposition of the Mexican administration to withdraw some of its propositions encouraged the belief in official circles that the president's message is having a good effect in Mexico.

Gamboa's latest note, received today, withdrew Huerta's original request for immediate exchange of ambassadors and agreed that the embassies at Washington and Mexico City should remain unchanged.

If Mr. Lind should consider it advisable to return to Mexico City to continue in person the negotiations he is conducting now by telegraph from Vera Cruz, he has authority to do so. It is considered quite probable that he will go.

This was the Mexican situation, in brief, today. Huerta has withdrawn his request for an exchange of ambassadors and asked that the present diplomatic status continue until after the Mexican election in October. By some this is interpreted as a concession.

A request for recognition as the constitutional government ad interim, which was coupled with the proposal for an exchange of ambassadors was interpreted by many officials as a practical reiteration of the original stand of the Huerta government.

Senor Gamboa pointed out that the American demand for the elimination of Huerta would be met by the provision of the constitution, making a provisional president ineligible to re-election. The Washington government, however, desires a more definite understanding on this point.

American consular officers in Mexico are today rounding up American citizens and advising them to leave Mexico. Major General Wood was to take personal charge of any military measures to execute strict neutrality.

Huerta Not Likely Candidate For President, Says Gamboa

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, Aug. 28.—The full text of the answer of Saderico Gamboa, Mexican Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, to the second note sent him by John Lind on August 25, was made public here today. The Mexican diplomat quotes Mr. Lind's statement that President Wilson "if Mexico acts immediately and favorably upon the foregoing suggestions would express to American bankers assurances that the government of the United States would look with favor upon an immediate loan to Mexico."

Answering this Mr. Gamboa begs to be excused from a direct reply for the present except to say that this suggestion appears to be an unattractive proposal to the end that Mexico should renounce a right which incontrovertibly upholds the country at a time when the dignity of the nation is at stake.

"I believe," Gamboa adds, "that there are no loans enough to induce those charged by the law to maintain that dignity to permit it to be lessened."

In another part of his 4000-word note, referring to the insistence of President Wilson that Huerta bind himself not to be a candidate for election to the presidency at the October election, Senor Gamboa quotes from the Constitution to prove that under constitutional regulations, "the secretary of state in charge of the executive powers shall not be eligible to the office of either president or vice president when the elections shall take place."

This provision, Gamboa intimates, prevents Huerta from being a candidate.

Other excerpts from Gamboa's report follow:

"My government fails to understand what the United States means by saying that it does not find itself in the same case with reference to the other Nations of the earth concerning what is happening and is likely to happen in Mexico. Conditions of Mexico at the present time are unfortunately neither doubtful nor secret; it is afflicted with internal strife which has been raging almost three years and which I can only classify in these lines as a fundamental mistake. With reference to what might happen in Mexico, neither you, Mr. Confidential Agent, nor I, nor any one else can prophesize, because no assertion is possible on incidents which have not occurred."

Senor Gamboa says his government appreciates the good offices tendered by the United States, "but if such good offices are to be of the character of those now tendered to us we should have to decline them in the most categorical and definite manner."

Now United States May Aid.
"Inasmuch as the United States is willing to act in the most disinterested friendship, it will be difficult for

Story Of E. L. Drake, Oil Pioneer One Of Triumph Over Hardships

By W. G. Long—
Edwin L. Drake was born March 29th, 1813, at Greenville, Great Britain, New York. His early life was spent on a farm, surrounded by the picturesque Catskill mountains. Farmer boy, night clerk on a steamship, or plying between Buffalo and Detroit, and express agent for the Boston and Albany railroad, filled the space intervening from youth to his entrance into the oil business. It was after the death of his first wife that he moved to a hotel in New Haven, Conn. Here is where he took his first interest in the oil business. He met while a guest of this hotel one James M. Townsend, a banker of New Haven who induced him to invest his entire savings of $200 in the Pennsylvania Rock Oil Company. The simplest things some times turn out to be the best. This was the turning point in Col. Drake's career. He married again in 1837. His wife was Miss Laura Dow of New Haven, Conn., a woman of fine character and in after years showed her sterling worth in the sickness and poverty that were to come and suffering that were to come.

In December, 1837 owing to poor health, he resigned his position as agent for the express company and his oil interest in the Pennsylvania mountains naturally drew him to that point. On his arrival at Oil Creek his intuitive mind quickly enabled him to determine the best way to do and imbued with strong convictions he returned to his partners enthusiastic over the prospect. Here is where he received the sobriquet of Colonel, as there were letters addressed to him, which gave him the military title.

There was a revival of interest in the oil country and a new and larger organization was formed. This new move was consummated the 30th day of December, 1837, but it was March 21, 1838 when it assumed legal form. It seemed that the early pioneers were just about as good as forgotten their workmen as the men of today and his friends did not keep their promise nor their agreement and Drake was left entirely on his own resources to work out the drill and complete the first oil well. This was the first well that has been drilled for oil although earlier than this there had been some drilling done for salt wells on the Allegheny River.

It is necessary here to digress from the drilling of the first oil well, and relate some of the early history connected with crude petroleum. The descendants of the once powerful Iroquois Indians, known in later history as the Senecas were the original discoverers of petroleum. Their progress was crude and to be an oil producer all the equipment needed was a blanket and shovel, to make a dam drained slightly from the bottom so that the lighter material would remain on top, then to drag the blanket across the rainbowed surface and wring it out and bottle it. The marketing facilities were to carry the oil to house and expound to the rheumatic suffers its medicinal qualities for those so afflicted. But Samuel M. Kier of Pittsburg, Pa., in 1850, put out the following advertisement:

"Kiers Petroleum, or Rock Oil (Then followed a picture of a four pole derrick, a tank and a steamboat). Celebrated for its wonderful curative powers. A natural remedy! Procured from a well in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, four hundred feet below the earth's surface. Put up and sold by Samuel M. Kier, No. 369 Liberty Street, Pittsburg, Pa."

(Note this)
"The healthful balm, from Nature's secret spring.
The bloom of health, and life, to man will bring;
As from her depths the magic liquid flows,
To calm our sufferings, and assuage our woes."
The above is a circular issued by Kier in 1850. In 1847 Mr. Kier drilled by spring pole process two salt wells to a depth of 500 feet. One of these wells produced oil in considerable quantities and efforts were made to refine it but without practical results. These came the idea of putting it on the market as a cure all for man and beast. Some of the wonderful (?) cures set forth in some of the circulars of this time would make Lydia E. Pinkham's torn green with envy.

So at the time when Drake started his work at Oil Creek there were as now men somewhat skilled in the practical workings of drilling into the earth. The nation which deserves the credit for the first drilling with a cable, is China. The Chinese were the originators and discoverers of drilling by the cable method as used, but improved on today. When Drake started to drill this well he encountered what is termed as quick sand at that period and for some time afterward the first hole was dug by hand and a conductor placed on top of what was then called the bed rock. This sometimes required to dig by hand anywhere from three to twenty feet. (This leads to the thought that John McKeown made his first start digging conductor holes and tank grades, when he died he left to his heirs the huge fortune of ten million dollars, more than any other oil man ever left as the direct results of their own effort in the oil country, and more in proportion to his investment than the Standard Oil Company made in the same length of time. He started the oil country at Petroleum Center in 1845 a raw Irishman. In 1875 he started to do his initial drilling at Parker Landing. He died in 1891 and his estate has been in the courts of Pennsylvania ever since until about three months ago.)

Drake had to pioneer all the work that afterward became a part of the game of drilling wells. He had to drive pipe to a depth of thirty-six feet, the drive pipe used was cast iron and was made, if my memory serves me right, at Erie, Pa. His course was not so smooth as he had all the winds, typhoons and high seas to contend with his drillers disappointed him, one after the other. Then he found William Smith, known as Uncle Billy, who finally came and brought his tools with him, after he had made them himself in his own blacksmith shop. The dates here become confused; some say it was the 13th of August that the well was struck, others the 15th of the 30th; Uncle Billy Smith says he struck the well on the 13th; this was wrong for he shut down on Saturday to observe the Sabbath and this date falls on Friday.

The well reached a depth of 69 1-2 feet and was shut down for Sunday. That they had struck oil never entered the minds of the driller, but Sunday Uncle Billy visited the well, he was curious and looked down the well and thought he saw some dark fluid floating on the surface. To ascertain the character of the substance he plugged the end of a piece of spouting, and tying a string to it lowered it to the fluid. When he drew it to the surface it contained the pure crude petroleum. Colonel Drake's dream was a reality, and his loss the money the reward from his persevering exertions. The well started to produce about twenty barrels per day; at that time a commercial barrel was 32 1-2 gallons. It was later that year Uncle John raised it from the quantity to 200 barrels per day, and during the working days it produced 2100 barrels. (Figures used here are from the Edwin L. Drake written by Edwin C. Bell.)
Col. Drake gets all his world's good together and leaves the oil country. He had in the neighborhood of $15,000, his loss the money the reward from his persevering exertions. He was an object of both pity and charity. The oil men came to his relief, as has been their wont to do ever since and the great State of Pennsylvania in 1873 passed a law awarding law and approved by Gov. J. F. Hartranft, April 5, 1873:
"Whereas, E. L. Drake, a citizen of this commonwealth did, in the years 1838 and 1839 search for and discover large quantities of petroleum in this commonwealth, the discovery has greatly stimulated various industries, and has also added directly to the resources of the commonwealth more than one billion dollars since its discovery which also continues to yield directly to the said revenues a large sum annually."
Then followed one whereas, and two sections resulting in an annuity of $1500 to be paid to the said E. L. Drake as long as he lived, and in case of his wife surviving him to go to her as long as she remains his widow. Good old Pennsylvania!

The story is too long to go into the details of the after life of that patient old man. His letters were pathetic when the grim reaper was torturing his body. It is too long a story to tell how that wife stood the loss of her husband, and how she left with scarcely any fuel. In 1830 still that was mortal of Edwin L. Drake passed from the scenes of the turbulent battles of this earth to his long rest in a grave at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. He left a wife, two boys and one girl. One of the boys died about a year ago. He had been an employe of the Standard Oil Co. The widow lives at Philadelphia with her daughter. The other boys whereabouts is not known to the writer or to Edwin C. Bell.

In 1855 there was approximately 2500 barrels of oil produced in the world. In 1910 there was produced 209,556,084 barrels of crude oil in the United States, according to David T. Day now the U. S. geological survey. According to the same author since 1859 there has been 2,000,000,000 barrels of oil produced. The United States yields 60 per cent of the entire output of the world's oil. There are excitement and romance in the oil business today but the days of the Crick will never return. The credit of this industry was an ideal spot, surrounded by the Pennsylvania mountains, where you could hear the cooing of the doves to its mate. Or you could be lulled to sleep by the rippling song of the Oil Creek as it wended its way to the river. Its primitive residents will never be rivaled again. When the wheel of fortune turns now, the production of petroleum is passed under the yoke of monopoly, so it becomes more of a conflict against greed, than one of equal chance to gain wealth one man with another. To write the oil country history, one must have passed through the scenes that have stirred the best in man to win fortune in harmony with his neighbor, where fate has reserved her treasure in the great reservoir of Nature, in the great reservoir of Nature, in the great reservoir of Nature.

A word hereafter should never be forgotten. His name should be linked with immortals and in the hall of fame. What does it mean to us that this was discovered? We have grabbed the eagle's highway and made it subservient to the will of man. The poor student and the famous scientist work by the poor man's light. It saved the credit of this beautiful country of ours, for when it lay bleeding and dying from the thousand wounds of the fratricidal strife, cotton fields barren, wheat lands smoldering, no one would sell, it dawned on us that we had oil, and the nation's credit was saved. We are erecting you a monument, you have erected your own monument eternal and imperishable in the hearts of your countrymen.

HABIT FORMING DRUG TRAFFIC ALARMS PARIS POLICE

Paris, Aug. 28.—The ordinances directed against the sale of opium, cocaine and other habit forming drugs sent into effect today. They were the result of exposures following an investigation by the police department into charges that students of the Latin Quarter and residents of the Montmartre district have been running private drug dens. Wholesale arrests were made but the authorities failed to obtain convictions because the statutes were not comprehensive enough. The investigation disclosed that the drug habit has grown alarmingly in the two sections mentioned.

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

The Weather My conscience never lets me enjoy a pleasant day. No matter what the month is—December, August, May. A mild day comes in winter—perhaps. "Tray, 'tis a nice day," they say. "Poor ice men—they don't get any ice!" And when the time is summer, and days are fair and bright, If I say, "How delightful!" they tell me, "It's not right." For you to like dry weather when the farmers all complain, That crops are being ruined—we need a good, hard rain! And if the spring comes early, and blossoms deck the trees, I dare not say "How lovely!" when all predict a freeze; "We'll get our pay!" they tell me; "This out of season heat Brings out too soon the fruit buds; we'll get no fruit to eat!" So, if all spring I'm chilly, all summer I'm soaked, I try not to be selfish—I never get provoked; I'm frozen stiff all winter, but yet I make no fuss. Because the forecast book weathers is really good for us. —Grace McKinstry in Truth.

LOLA NORRIS READY TO REVEAL ALL AT CAMINETTI TRIAL

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—Lola Norris was prepared to go on the stand in the white slave case against Drew Caminetti, son of United States Commissioner of Immigration Andrew Caminetti. Young Caminetti's trial was scheduled to start August 26 and it was thought likely that it would not last as long as that of his companion, Maury I. Diggs, who was recently found guilty of violating the Mann white slave act in taking Marsha Warrington to Reno, Nev., from Sacramento at the same time that Caminetti accompanied the Norris girl. The Diggs case attracted national attention, and it was thought the Caminetti trial would be of equal interest.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carnegie, Who Aid Thaw With Funds And His Alienist Staff

Mr. and Mrs. George Carnegie are shown here as they appeared at Sherbrooke, Canada, where they went to aid Harry K. Thaw, Stanford White's slayer, who escaped from the Matteawan (N. Y.) asylum. Mrs. Carnegie is Thaw's sister. Mr. Carnegie is a nephew of Andrew Carnegie. They went to Thaw's financial assistance as soon as they heard he had been caught. George Carnegie was optimistic over the chances of getting his brother-in-law free and said he was prepared to spend plenty of money to defend Thaw. As an indication that Thaw's relatives intend to fight hard for him, in addition to a big array of lawyers they secured the services of several alienists, including Dr. Britton D. Evans of "brain storm" fame, head of the state insane asylum at Morris Plains, N. J. These sanity experts were prepared to testify that Thaw was sane so as to prevent his being deported to the United States.

GUTHRIE CHURCH WILL NOT PROFIT BY NATION WILL. Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 28.—The Free Methodist Church of West Guthrie is not to benefit, after all, from the will of Mrs. Carrie A. Nation, who died in 1911. Mrs. Nation was a resident of Guthrie and owned some property on West Warner avenue, valued at about $3,000. When Mrs. Nation's will was being probated in Washington, D. C. in 1911 it developed that the West Guthrie property was given to the Free Methodist Church of which Rev. Mr. Dugg was then pastor.

HAY FEVER ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL CONVENTION Bethlehem, N. H., Aug. 28.—The United States Hay Fever Association began its annual convention here today with delegates from many eastern cities present to exchange reports of their sneezing affliction. The oldest sneezer present is Major Richard Muckle of Philadelphia, whose 33rd birthday yesterday was celebrated by a dinner given in his honor by twenty-five officers of the hay fever association. Major Muckle has been a sufferer from hay fever for seventy-five years and was for seven years president of the association, the fortieth anniversary of which is marked by the present convention.

A TRUTHFUL NEWSPAPER We hear people make this complaint frequently, and saying longly, if only the newspapers would tell the truth! A newspaper necessarily must be charitable before anything else. You ask why? Here is an example of a truthful obituary, purporting to have been printed in the Marquette Tribune: "Frank Walter was a unique character. An honest comment is difficult to make in a newspaper. We do not wish to be unkind to those about

"While admitting that some cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria and more or less and whooping cough are spread in school we have to inquire how they are spread. Every thing points to their spread by contact with fresh secretions. Time and quantity are important factors in infection. The danger of drinking from a glass a few minutes after its use by a child infected with diphtheria is very considerable. The danger of one child picking up virulent diphtheria germs on its fingers from a nail-rail or door knob where they have been deposited the day before, is very much less. If the interval is a week the danger is probably nil. The danger of infection by breathing in floating diphtheria germs derived from saliva deposited on floors and woodwork is certainly nil.

"Careful observation shows that persistent fomites infection is of little moment in diphtheria after its removal by that terminal disinfection after scarlet fever and diphtheria may be safely omitted. Fomites infection is of little importance in measles. There is no massive infection in measles. When harm comes it is through fresh secretions and slight sneezers of saliva on doors, stair rails, toilets, and especially on drinking vessels. This material speedily dries and disappears, or the germs die before the authorities are ready to disinfect. The harm is then done. When disease is rightly attributed to schools it is usually because of the attendance of unrecog-nized cases. When these are discovered and removed danger ceases.

"The way to prevent infection in school is to teach personal cleanliness. Abolish the drinking glass and the towel used in common. Keep careful watch of contagious diseases and exclude them. Then, if desired, though it is of little importance, the desk of the patient and other things touched by him may be thoroughly cleaned with a disinfectant if you will. The fumigation of school rooms is a concession to the prejudice of the neutrality laws. I assure you, Mr. Confidential Agent, that the complete pacification of the Republic would be accomplished within a relatively short time.

"His Excellency, Mr. Wilson, is laboring under a serious delusion when he declares that the present situation of Mexico is incompatible with the compliance of her international obligations, with the development of its own civilization and with the required maintenance of certain political and economical conditions tolerable in Central America. Strongly indicating that there is a mistake, because to this date no charge has been made by any foreign government accusing us in a treaty of compliance, we are punctually meeting all of our credits; we are still maintaining diplomatic missions.

"The Confidential Agent may believe that solely because of the sincere esteem in which the people and the government of the United States are held by the people and government of Mexico and because of the consideration which it has for all friendly Nations (and especially in this case for those which have offered their good offices), my government consented to take into consideration and to answer as briefly as the matter permits the representations of which you are the bearer. Otherwise, it would have rejected them immediately because of their humiliating and unusual character, hardly admissible even in a treaty of peace after a victory, inasmuch as in a like case any Nation which in the least respects itself would do likewise.

"It is because my government has confidence in that when the justice of its cause is reconsidered with serenity and from a lofty point of view by its prouder statesmen of the United States, whose sense of morality and uprightiness are beyond question, that he will withdraw from his attitude and will contribute to the renewal of still firmer bases for the relations of sincere friendship and good understanding forcibly imposed upon us throughout the centuries by the geographical nearness, something which neither of us can change even though we would so desire, by our mutual interests and by our sense of duty and honor, and a sense of prosperity, welfare and culture, in regard to which we are pleased to acknowledge that you are invariably ahead of us."

In conclusion, Senor Gamboa says: "With reference to the final part of the instructions of President Wilson, which I beg to include herewith and which say, 'If Mexico does not better way in which to show our friendship, serve the people of Mexico and meet our international obligations, we are more than willing to consider the suggestion, that final part causes me to propose the following equally decorous arrangement: Alternative Conditions. 1. That our ambassador be received in Washington. 2. That the United States of America send as a new ambassador without previous conditions. 'And all this threatening and distressing situation will have reached a happy conclusion; mention will not be made of the causes which might carry us, if the tension persists, to no one knows what incalculable extremities for two peoples who have the unavoidable obligation to continue being friends, provided, of course that this friendship is based upon mutual respect which is indispensable between two sovereign entities wholly equal before law and justice.'

NEW FORM OF EXECUTIVE KILLS INNOCENT BYSTANDER Shanghai, Aug. 28.—Two bystanders were killed and several more injured at Chechow province of Honan, as a result of the introductions of a new way of executing criminals. Shooting has been substituted for beheading and a few days ago when the first to be executed under the new law were being led to the execution ground, followed by officials, he turned about and began ridiculing the officers. Enraged by the man's insolence and abuse, the officials ordered him shot on the spot and the volley claimed two innocent bystanders. My motto: Miller sells it for less.

A deer being shipped by express from H. Grerron of Haskell to John W. Hunt of Comanche, Oklahoma, was transferred here from the Wichita Valley to the Fort Worth and Denyer train. The animal was apparently a tame one as it did not appear to mind those who approached its crate more than a calf or other domestic animal would have done.

Mrs. C. W. Gaulkney, who was taken from a Fort Worth and Denver train a few nights ago very ill, resumed her journey today accompanied by her little daughter. She has been cared for by Deputy Sheriff Carnes and wife and a local physician who gave his services without pay. Though still weak the woman insisted so urgently that she be allowed to proceed on her journey and not remain upon the charity of people here that she was permitted to go on. Mrs. Gaulkney's husband was killed a short time ago in an accident at Tulsa, Okla.

FINANCES OF FARM WILL BE DISCUSSED. Washington, Aug. 28.—Finances of the farm as embodied in the broad subject of farm loans will be one of the principal subjects taken up by the National Conservation Congress at its fifth annual convention to be held here in November. Members who are preparing for the meeting announced today that this question would figure as a chief topic in the meeting for they declare they are agreed that rural credits offers one of the greatest questions of the immediate future.

Conservation of the national forests and the control and development of water power also will furnish subjects for extended discussion. The question of grazing privileges on public lands likewise will be threshed out.

TERRILL SAYS COLQUITT WAS PLAYING POLITICS. San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 28.—A statement assailing Governor Colquitt for his veto of appropriations for state institutions was issued today by Chester Terrill, speaker of the house. Terrill says that Colquitt aimed solely to reduce the tax rate at the expense of the institutions, despite his own recommendations. The legislature, on the other hand, appropriated the funds needed by these institutions. Speaker Terrill accuses the governor of playing politics in trying to keep down the totals of the appropriation bill, to keep the rate down.

SHIP CATTLE TO AVOID DROUGHT

CONDITIONS ON RANGE WEST AND SOUTHWEST OF HERE SERIOUS

BETTER IN THIS VICINITY

In Many Parts of Northwest Texas Water Holes are Completely Dry and Grass Gone

Cattle and mules lean and hungry are being loaded onto trains from the big ranches for hundreds of miles west and southwest of Wichita Falls and rushed into the markets on account of the drought which has now become one of the worst in the history of this section of the country. The country right around Wichita Falls, while hard hit is reported to be suffering much less than the country further west and in parts of Western Oklahoma.

Bob Marlow, a Wichita Falls livestock dealer, returned yesterday from a trip to one of the Waggoner ranches in the northern part of Picher county where he bought some mules. He says the ranchmen there are getting their stock out of the country as fast as it can be shipped. Some is being kept on the ranches but hay is being shipped in to feed it. To add to the other troubles the water holes and tanks are going dry. Already the grass is eaten off the ground for a distance of seven or eight miles from the holes where there is still water left and the cattle are made still poorer in going to and from the places where there is still some grass left and the water holes.

Cotton Yield Small. Stockmen there say the situation is much worse than it was two years ago and compare the drought with that of 1886. In many places in that section and in localities in Western Oklahoma the tenant farmers are leaving their homes. Much of their seed never came up and cotton in many fields will not make a bale from twenty acres. Sorghum which will withstand an ordinary drouth has dried up after growing six or eight inches and the blades are dry as powder. In some localities not a drop of rain has fallen within the last sixty days.

Around Wichita Falls the farmers harvested one of the best wheat crops grown in the last fifteen years and considerable feed stuff has also been raised. The cotton crop in Wichita county will probably average a bale to every five acres. While stock water is getting low in many tanks the stockraisers and farmers generally have supplies that will last several weeks or a month yet.

The Wichita Motor Transit is the name of the motor truck line operating between San Angelo and Sonora, Texas, a distance of 75 miles. This name has been given the line because Wichita trucks are used exclusively in the service and are giving such good satisfaction that the people of Sonora now feel that more than three-fourths of the distance that separated them from San Angelo and the railroad has been cut off. Formerly mules and hacks were used in the service and it was a long tiresome trip that required the better part of two days. Now it can be made in a few hours time.

One of the Wichita trucks has been in use about a month. Yesterday employees of Burt T. Jarvis, the owner of the line started from here for San Angelo with three more ton trucks. The drive overland is 1290 miles. The trucks will be used in hauling both freight and passengers between San Angelo and Sonora and Mr. Jarvis is so well pleased with the motor service that he is considering the purchase of several more trucks.

OIL LANDS IN OKLAHOMA TO BE OFFERED FOR LEASE. Washington, Aug. 28.—The interior department, through the commissioner of Indian affairs, Cato Sells, has just authorized the superintendent of the Osage reservation at Pawhuska, Okla., to offer for lease about 12,000 acres of valuable oil lands, situated about three miles northwest of the town of Cleveland, all lying within a radius of approximately four miles of the large wells recently drilled there, some of which now have a natural flow of from 500 to 1,000 barrels.

On account of the very favorable prospect and location of these lands, it is confidently expected that large bonuses will be received. It has been decided that these lands shall be leased in small tracts of from 40 to 160 acres each. Some of the lands lie very close to the recent development, and will be offered in tracts smaller than forty acres. This determination to lease the lands in small tracts will permit the independent producer of small means to enter the bidding and to compete with the wealthy corporations, which they could not do if the land was to be leased in large areas.

The bids will be opened in the agency office at Pawhuska Sept. 9, at 2 o'clock.

LENNOX MUCH IMPROVED: CAN SAY "BEER" AND "ICE." Leonard Lennox, who underwent a trephining operation at the Wichita Sanitarium last Saturday in the hope of relieving his partial paralysis, is recovering at a fairly rapid rate. His power of speech has been restored to the extent that he can now say such familiar words as "beer" and "ice," but he cannot yet be considered an accomplished conversationalist.

Lennox can now use his right leg and is able to hobble around the sanitarium and scare some of the other patients into fits by his efforts to talk. His right arm and hand are still helpless and he will use them again very gradually, if at all. Lennox was injured over a year ago while working on a pipe line.

Marshall—Plans are on foot in this city for the erection of a sanitarium, to cost approximately $350,000. A corporation is being organized for that purpose.

Safeguard Your Health By Using Pure Ice—We have already called the attention of the public to the importance of Pure Ice. It is a subject worth mentioning again. We want to emphasize it by repetition. At this season of the year when the intelligent housewife is particularly careful to safeguard the health of her family. Pure Ice is the one matter she should not and does not overlook. We're carefully treating our water before we start it into the freezing process. If there happened to be a germ in the water freezing would do him no harm. Merely to incase him in ice would be a joke on us, not on him, because as demonstrated, soon after the discovery of germs, they don't ever stop wiggling in a block of ice much less die; so first we put the water through a special chemical process to make assurance doubly sure then we boil the water and condense the steam. A famous chemist and bacteriologist has said that ordinary water is liable to be anaquairum, (meaning germs, not fish) that if boiled it becomes a graveyard, but that condensation makes it absolutely pure. Not only is our ice made from absolutely pure water. It's kept pure in the making process—Phone us your orders

GOCYCLE HAS APPEARED PEDESTRIANS DODGING

New Instrument of Torture is Constructed of Two Roller Skates and a Plank

Get out of the way. The gocycle is coming. In fact it is already here. The first ones were seen downtown yesterday—and they were just noisy enough to the pedestrians who got in their path to become mighty popular with the young Wichitans. The gocycle is a very simple and inexpensive affair. It is made by fastening two roller skates one to each end of a board about two and a half feet long on top of which is nailed or bolted an upright piece fitted with handles. The youthful operators can rest one foot on the bottom board and with the other shove the gocycle along on the sidewalk or the paved street at rapid speed. The gocycle is a comparatively harmless affair but pedestrians will feel safer when they step off the sidewalk when one of them comes rolling by.

CHICAGO IS REFORMING; UPLIFTERS ARE ACTIVE

New Ordinances Have Been Passed Regulating Everything the Last Bit Improper

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Chicago a wicked town?—Oh mercy no. Chicago like the Bowery, Barbary Coast, and Butte, Mont., is reforming—or at least pointed that way, and is thinking quite seriously of taking to herself the musical comedy refrain: "I'm trying so hard to be good." And in evidence that she is at least making the effort, Chicago would have you take a look at the voluminous reports and recommendations of her investigators, at her recently enacted ordinances, regulating art, questionable dances and clothes and at her newly adopted policy of "pinching" hat a hundred suspected "jackrollers" in the West Madison and Desplaines street districts every day. It may be mentioned too, with just a suggestion of a wink that Chicago has in "red light" district, that disorderly houses have all been closed and that the former habitation have vanished as if in thin air. The police department will tell you that without even the wink. The closing of the old district, however, a real closing that sent hundreds of inmates scurrying out of town or scattered there to more quiet portions of the city, was the first move in the campaign to make Chicago good. Former State's Attorney Wayman superintended that job, and for a time the red lights were really dimmed. Then came the Chicago vice commission, reaching for more information concerning the social evil. The O'Hara white slave commission delved some more and overhauled the red light district probe, peddled the white light district inside the loop to find out what part played in making Chicago an unwholesome and wicked municipality.

Close upon the heels of these investigators came Sergeant Jeremiah O'Connor, the Cook county Anthony Comstock, with a sharp eye to nude ladies who parade in art store windows. Innocently enough, the sergeant started something when he took "September Morn" into custody and presently council ordained: "That any person who causes to be exhibited in a public place any picture of a nude female, shall be held guilty of a misdemeanor." Or words to that effect.

Major Pinkhouse, second assistant deputy superintendent of police charged with responsibility for seeing those things that Sergeant O'Connor's trained eyes didn't see, spotted the animal dances and a show girl singing "In My Harem." He came to bat with the next pronouncement.

"The suggestive dance," said the major, "must go. Likewise, the suggestive song. Bring in the next dancer that doesn't behave—and see that they're all dressed."

Mayor Harrison had some thoughts, too, on the dress question. He thought that if Chicago was going to be good, she ought to be made to put on her clothes. So the mayor had drafted an ordinance hitting at tights, décolleté effects and the habit that some cabaret performers had of wandering around amid restaurant tables where the sheerness of their sheer silk duds and the low-cut gowns were all the more evident at close range.

The collective wisdom of the board of alderman approved the mayor's views about dancers getting too friendly with the diners and they passed the ordinance—but in some manner the anti-tights clause was lost in the shuffle—and the city council boasts few bald heads.

Your cryptic will tell you that the old levee district can hardly be called a spot for a meeting of ministers' sons—not yet; that worse things than

"September Morn" can be seen on parade down State street, that a week after it was suppressed "In My Harem" was being sung as gaily as ever across the footlights, that several cheap show houses on South street every day draw their crowds because of the freedom from clothes of female dancers, and that the cabaret ordinance is being observed—now and then.

Thaw Snapped After Arrest. His Lawyers, Other Principals, Sherbrook Courthouse

Harry K. Thaw is shown with the scene of his fight for freedom at Sherbrooke, Canada, and the principals in the action that takes place there. At the county courthouse at Sherbrooke he was arraigned on the return of a writ of habeas corpus granted by Supreme Court Judge Globensky, and he was defended by his Canadian counsel, Col. H. R. Fraser, K. C.; Dr. W. L. Shurtleff, K. C.; and C. D. White. Sheriff B. H. Kelsea of Colebrook, New Hampshire, who recognized Thaw on the train and trailed him, bringing about his capture, is also shown. He claimed the $500 reward offered by Superintendent Kieh of Mattawan. The picture of Thaw standing in front of the registry office at Coaticook was snapped shortly after his arrest. He is in charge of Chief of Police Bourdieu of Coaticook; the man in uniform at the left of Thaw.

Keep Your Eyes on Southland Addition
Contract for 200,000 square feet of cement sidewalks was let last week. Work is progressing rapidly on sewerage system and new street car line. Water mains to guarantee a plentiful water supply for the addition will be laid shortly. SOUTHLAND ADDITION will be the most complete residence addition ever placed on the market in West Texas. Buyers will be protected by restrictions preventing the building of unsightly shacks through the placing of a minimum building restriction on the property when deeded. These restrictions will not, however, retard the building of modest homes. Lot owners will be protected against the building of outhouses alongside front of lots by preventing lots being cut cross-wise and backing up against other lots. Lots will be sold for residence purposes only.

SOUTHLAND ADDITION WILL not be placed on the market until all improvements are completed. It will be a full grown addition that will sell rapidly and build rapidly. Its location is far enough away from the noise and dirt of the business district to be very desirable for homes and close enough in to give quick direct car service down town to enable the busy man to lose but little time.

WAIT FOR SOUTHLAND ADDITION. OPENING SALE WILL TAKE PLACE IN ABOUT 30 days.

King Emanuel Practices Conservation Plans, Italy, Aug. 28.—King Victor Emanuel who is spending the hot weather on his farm at San Rossore near here, today for the first time visited his new forest of 10,000 Canadian poplars which recently were planted. His majesty has taken up the reforestation and conservation idea in earnest and will make an effort to interest all the larger landholders of Italy in reforesting their property with Canadian and American trees.

THE GREATEST BARGAIN CENTER FOR REAL ESTATE

If you desire to buy, sell or exchange property, it is certainly to your interest to get in touch with a specialist along that line

If you were sick you would call in a physician. If you were in trouble you would secure counsel.

It requires years of study to be proficient in any line of business, and in order to protect yourself in buying or selling real estate, you should secure the services of an agent who knows values and where to find buyers, and who is honest enough to see that you don't get skinned. That's me! At least lots of my friends have told me so, in this and other cities where I have operated, and I am conceited enough to believe it.

COL. THOS. H. BIRCH

Washington, Aug. 25.—Colonel Thos. H. Birch of Burlington, N. J., was selected by President Wilson as minister to Portugal. Colonel Birch was Woodrow Wilson's personal aid when he was governor of New Jersey, and the appointment is a reward for the services which Col. Birch rendered President Wilson from his entry into politics.

Turkey Buys Italian Warships.
Rome, Aug. 28.—Relations between Italy and its former enemy, Turkey, reached an interesting phase today when Turkey made a first payment for the purchase of three discarded Italian battleships which were used against the Ottoman in the recent Turkish Italian war. They are the "Umberto," the "Stellia" and the "Sardagna." The irony of the purchase lies in the fact that the war vessels reached the work out stage and became useless to Italy while sinking Turkish vessels or bombardment Turkish forts. Turkey, in a frantic endeavor to rehabilitate its "navy" bought the old warships rather than wait to have new ones built.

Our glasses are not "cure-alls." They simply relieve eyestrain, and if the troubles mentioned are due to eyestrain they cease. STATE RESTS ITS CASE IN LAWTON MURDER TRIAL

Lawton, Okla., Aug. 28.—The state practically rested its case in the Fremont murder trial this evening, there being but one or two unimportant witnesses remaining to testify.

Mrs. Ada Woodward, who confessed her complicity in the murder of her husband, Sherman Woodward and was given a life sentence by Judge Bailey, occupied the stand for five hours.

Her two little sons, aged 7 and 5 years, also testified on securing the sardines and poison which were afterwards administered to Woodward.

The court room was packed with spectators who heard the woman's story. The defense has a large array of witnesses here from Chickasha and it is not expected the case will reach the jury before Saturday.

Make the Clerk Give You the Cash Discount

We have inaugurated a plan whereby the cash buyer gets an even break with the credit man. Hereafter we shall give a coupon with every cash sale, and for every dollars worth of coupons a refund of five per cent will be made. You can take the refund in either cash or merchandise making it just the same as a five per cent discount for cash. This discount applies to every thing we sell—drugs, toilet articles, sundries, books, magazines, stationery, fountain drinks, cigars, etc. All you have to do is to get your coupon when you buy the goods, and turn them in when you get ready. Five per cent means one-twentieth part of every dollar saved—a big discount when you stop to figure it.

Good Intentions!

Do you remember what you told yourself, your wife, loved ones and friends about beautifying and marking the lonely mound out on the hill?

Good men and true all over this part of the country, have said time and time again, they were going to mark the sacred plots in the cemetery "tomorrow, next month, next year." But visit those graves, and you will find them unremembered, unmarked. In many instances, there is a rotten board, which the dust of time has all but destroyed.

Every cemetery has its unmarked, unremembered dead, it is hindering those who have the work at heart and desire to make the place beautiful and attractive. Why pave your way with good intentions and as the shadows of night gather round you forget them?

Count your marked graves, and you KNOW your best citizens in any community. Come to our plant and do your part in this great work.
