GRAND JURORS ARE EXONERATED

special attorneys for the state in the Norris trial," Miller answered, "told me that it was a frame up and that Norris was guilty." He said the bunch that was with Norris had about a thimble full of brains and did not know he was guilty.

G. W. Birchfield asked Doyle: "Did you ever hear a respectable, decent citizen say the grand jury was framed up?"

"Yes, sir, Mr. Clendennin for one," Doyle answered.

"He and I have always been good friends and I believe him to be a good man," answered Doyle.

A. W. Peninger testified.

A. W. Peninger, deputy fire marshal of Texas and formerly city fire marshal at the time the First Baptist Church was burned, testified Friday relative to a conversation had on the train with Clarence Miller, formerly one of Dr. Norris' closest friends and supporters while Peninger and Miller were traveling toward Austin. The date was either June 15 or 29, 1913, before the grand jury was drawn. He said he met Miller at the depot here and as Miller had no Pullman berth the two occupied the drawing room together.

The witness declared Miller said it was understood Axtell would be foreman, that Mr. Bransford would be a member and that the county attorney's office would be excluded from the grand jury room. Witness had remarked to Miller that he didn't believe the county attorney could be excluded but Miller said that was the plan.

Questioned By Dr. Norris.

Dr. Norris asked the witness a question, as follows:

"Mr. Peninger, last summer do you remember when the Miller over-all factory burned on Desale street and that you tried to connect me with it?"

To this Mr. Peninger replied:

"Yes, I remember and I still think you had something to do with it."

"I am much obliged to you," replied Dr. Norris. Continuing, he said:

"Do you remember that at Franklin's bookstore, in the presence of A. F. Plunket and J. H. Franklin, I talked to you about it and denounced you as a liar if you said so?"

Mr. Peninger replied: "No, I do not remember that. I remember that you said something as I went out the door, I thought you made some derogatory remark and I went back and asked you about it, but you wouldn't repeat it."

"I'll ask the court to summon Plunket and Franklin," said Dr. Norris. "They will corroborate what I have said."

Judge Brown said the matter had nothing to do with the issue at the bar and declined to order the men called.

"I wanted them here to prove that I have told the truth," said Dr. Norris.

"I don't want you to insinuate that I am not telling the truth," retorted Mr. Peninger hotly, as he left the stand. "What I have said is the truth."

Mr. McLean interfered by saying: "Oh, well, it's no use for you two to fight. You have nothing to gain by it."

"Whenever any of you fellows lie on me I'm going to tell you about it," replied Dr. Norris and the incident closed.

LABOR DAY PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Practically Every Union Organization in the City Will Be Represented in Parade

Practically every labor union in the city will be represented in the Labor Day parade Monday morning, several organizations having come in since the list published last week.

The parade is scheduled to start from the court house at 10 o'clock and after the march an address will be delivered at the court house. After the address many are planning to take the cars and go out to the lake, where dinners will be spread in the pavilion and along the banks by family groups. A dance will continue throughout the afternoon and it is probable a game of ball will be matched.

In the evening the Moose will give a parade of the downtown streets which will be followed by a dance at their hall on Ohio avenue. The banks will be closed and the postoffice will observe holiday hours, the delivery window being opened only between 9 and 10 a. m. There will be one delivery and one collection of mail in the city and no deliveries will be made on rural routes.

GALVESTON PORT BREAKS ALL RECORDS

By Associated Press.

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 30.—With the ending of the 1912-13 cotton season today Galveston established what is said to be a world's record in cotton receipts. The receipts for the year were 4,350,114 bales. This is 214,418 bales more than the previous record which had stood unbroken since 1906-7.

Exports for season total 4,010,691 which is said to be the highest figure ever obtained by any cotton port in the world.

Wheat receipts total 17,219,000 against practically nothing for the previous season.

WICHITA FALLS TEAM WON FRIDAY'S GAME

Before a big crowd at the Burk Burnett carnival Friday afternoon the Wichita Falls Clerks won from the Burk Burnett team by a score of 5 to 4. Lin Smith was the twirler for the Wichita Falls team and let the Red River sluggers down with four hits and struck out 14 men. Vogler, a big left hander, was on the mound for Burk Burnett but was not as effective as Smith. Smith, Trotter and Courtney got two baggers. The same teams were scheduled to play Saturday and today.

Philadelphia 8, New York 6
By Associated Press.
Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—Umpire Brennan forfeited today's game with Philadelphia to New York in the ninth inning, nine to nothing, when Philadel-phia was leading, eight to six. Man-ager McGraw complained that specta-tors waving their straw hats in con-ter field bleachers reflected the sun's rays into the eyes of the batsmen. Al-though the police were called, the spec-tators would not stir, and the game was forfeited. The New York players made a rush to the club house, where fans showered them with all kinds of ob-jects. The umpires were pelted with seat cushions. A large detail of police protected the umpires. Several New York men were struck with missiles on their way to the railroad station. Score: New York..... 6 6 3 Philadelphia..... 8 12 2 Batteries: Mathewson and Meyers; Alexander, Chalmers and E. Byrne.

BURKBURNETT'S BIG CARNIVAL

CELEBRATION THAT CAME TO CLOSE LAST NIGHT WAS A BIG SUCCESS

EXHIBITS WERE EXCELLENT

Crowds Come From North Texas and Many There From Across Red River

(Staff Special)
Burkburnett, Texas, Aug. 30.—Drought and dry weather have held sway in these parts, but there is no evidence of them in the exhibits which have been brought here for Burk Burnett's second annual carnival which began Friday morning and closed tonight. If the farm products on exhibition are possible in a drought year, it is difficult to say what the Burk Burnett country would do with the right kind of season. Big firm ears of corn, well filled wheat and oats, kafir corn and milo maize, vegetables and fruit are on exhibition and they give no hint of drought. Nor was there any evidence of anything save prosperity, in the crowds which thronged Burk Burnett's streets for two days, taking in the carnival attractions, the races, the ball games and the varied other fea-tures that Burk Burnett provided for the enjoyment of her visitors.

Big Crowds Attend.
The size of the crowd has been something to wonder at, running well into the thousands on both days. Visitors from not only many parts of Wichita and Clay counties, but from across Red River, have been here in droves, Oklahoma contributing a large number to the throng. The carnival attractions were set up in the main street, which was roped off so as to prevent wagons and automobiles from entering, the thoroughfare being turned completely over to the pedestrians. All around the business section were banked buggies and wagons and dozens and dozens of automobiles. This was Burk Burnett's second af-fair of this kind. About a year ago, when the first few lonely derricks were being reared in the oil field west of the city, the citizens felt called upon to celebrate, and they did. This year, with derricks making a pin cushion out of the landscape, they felt called upon to celebrate on a larger scale and they did. Mayor Ben Schwieger was chairman of the carnival committee, with Har-vey Harris as secretary. These two, assisted by practically the entire citizenship, made the affair a com-plete success.

Burkburnett Prosperous.
Burkburnett shows ample evidence of the new prosperity that is here. Downtown, one brick building com-pleted and occupied, another nearly finished and a third in process of construction, represent the activities, while in the residence section, new homes are to be seen on every side. There appears to be plenty for Burk Burnett to celebrate, and celebrate she has Friday and today. A street carnival company furnish-ing the principal amusement features. There was also the "Fris" jenny, and the African dip and the cane rack and the dozen or more other things. On Friday there was a balloon ascen-sion and the Wichita Falls and Burk Burnett teams played both Friday and today, Wichita Falls winning Friday and Burk Burnett today. A wild west show added its noise and action to the excitement.

Potato races, sack races, fat men's races and a few horse races furnish-ed entertainment and amusement for the crowd downtown, while three brave men in a tent were attempting to act as judges in the baby show. There were about a score of infants offered for their inspection and while they regretted that their patriotism had so far run away with their judg-ment, they did their best and only nineteen of the mothers kicked on the decision. Music was furnished by the army band from Fort Sill, one of the best musical organizations available.

Awards of Prizes.
The agricultural and other exhibits were looked over by the three judges, Agricultural Agent Campbell, County Judge Felder of Wichita County and County Judge Austin Alken of Cotton county, Oklahoma. The follow-ing awards were made:
Farm Products.
Best dozen ears of corn—first prize, N. H. Skaggs; second, J. L. Great-house.
First honor prize on corn—V. V. Musick; second, also to Mr. Musick.

Wichita Falls, Texas, August 31, 1913

Thaw seems to have the advantage of the New York authorities just now, and it begins to look as if Canada was going to give him the same chance to gain his liberty and go on his way rejoicing as she gave to Jack Johnson.

W. J. Bryan of Abilene is spoken of favorably as a candidate for governor. The name sounds familiar and all right. Perhaps the next thing to determine is his qualifications as gubernatorial material: is he an anti or pro? That's just about as far as most people thing necessary to go in selecting their favorites for governor.

On September 8 a congressman is to be elected from the third district in Maine, to fill a vacancy. At the last election the Republican candidate won by a very small majority. At this election there will be three candidates—a Democrat, a Progressive and a Republican. The vote as polled on that day will give some idea as to the standing of the three National parties in Maine. All parties are making an active campaign in behalf of their respective nominees.

Convicts in the state penitentiary will cease to draw pay for overtime work. This was stopped by Acting Governor Mayes in the absence of Gov. Colquitt, and it is not believed the governor will raise any row with the lieutenant governor for taking that view of the matter when he gets back to the state. In fact, it looks just a little like the lieutenant governor, who is very friendly to the governor, has come to his rescue and relieved him of the embarrassment of correcting one of his own mistakes.

With a new charter and with a tax rate not more than $1.00 on $100.00 of taxable or assessed values, it is believed that bonds to the amount of $150,000 can easily be voted. If the new charter is voted and the bonds issued, at least $100,000 of the amount ought to be appropriated for street paving. If this is done, it will enable the city government to keep up with the procession. At the present time and under our present charter, but few more bonds can be issued.

Cogitation between ascension and landing while passing over the holes in the streets left where the water or gas companies have failed to flush and tamp down the dirt after digging to lay connections is likely to be condemnatory to such negligence. For sensibilities that have been injured the suggestion is, of course, too late, but to save feeling in the future these companies ought to properly repair the streets after digging them up. It's a long time between rains here sometimes and nature can't be safely depended upon to furnish the moisture necessary to settle the dirt. There is likely to be a whole lot of digging in the streets this fall and winter and the public service corporations ought to set a good example in repairing the streets after tearing them up. Any way they can be made to do it!

The Reporter is greatly pleased that we have a man at the head of this government like President Wilson, a man who knows right and stands for it with unflinching determination. We must not have war with Mexico and Wilson is the man to hold things down. Hot headed men would long ago have plunged us in, had not Taft and Wilson exercised good judgment. We can hardly believe that any of our American people are in Mexico because they simply want to live there in preference to America. They are there because they can make money easily, or did make money easily. Since that is true, and while we regret to see any person lose their property we do not see the reason for rour spending billions and losing many lives simply in an effort to help somebody.—Abilene Reporter.

L. E. Piper, Owen Brunson, Henry Kennedy and the News man visited Vernon Friday, going down in Mr. Piper's car. The town seems to be getting along as well as before the prohibition election. It was stated, but has been denied, that several Germans drew out something like $40,000 of the Vernon banks and carried same to Wichita Falls, but upon investigation, it was stated that all the Germans combined in the county didn't have that much cash on hand. It was also stated that 12 wagons went to Wichita Falls and were loaded with groceries. It seems that some of the Germans did not approve of the result of the election. We do not know how only one avenue left open and that is by the wheat-sowing route. We believe it decidedly to the interest of the people at large for every farmer in this county to sow wheat in liberal quantities. This, under ordinary conditions would afford abundant winter pasture for all livestock, and should the season prove favorable for small grain, a good crop could be harvested next spring. The high feed bills that had to be paid here last year have certainly not been forgotten by our people, and now is the time to commence preparing to ward off just such a condition next spring and summer. With adequate winter pasture, Wilbarger county will furnish enough grain and forage to go through till another crop can be harvested. The opportunity is ours. Shall we embrace it?

Two Notable Additions to the Faculty of the College of Music and Art: Miss Lillie Willemssen of St. Louis has been engaged to teach art. Miss Willemssen is a graduate of the St. Louis School of Fine Arts and also of Pratt Institute, New York. In a letter to Mrs. McKee, Mr. Walter Perry, director of school of Fine Arts, Pratt Institute says, "Miss Willemssen has had best advantages, her work gives evidence of much thought and is carefully rendered. She is a very capable woman and we recommend her most heartily." Another important addition to the faculty is Miss Lella McKee who will teach piano. Miss McKee stands high among the musicians of Chicago where she has been for several years. She has a wide reputation as a concert artist. Her wonderful talent has been developed under the best teachers—among others the celebrated Mrs. Stillman Kelly. Miss McKee is a splendid violinist as well as pianist and will be a great addition to Wichita Falls. 94 tlc

PIPE THE COP-ESS CHICAGO'S MASHERS RATHER LIKE HER

CHICAGO COP-ESS

Chicago, Aug. 31.—This is one of Chicago's new women cops. She posed for the picture to show the rest of the country just what kind of uniform the policewomen wear. Rather sensible and businesslike, was the verdict of Chicagoans when the ten copesses appeared on the street to arrest masher and protect young women. The women wear a modified helmet hat, with the insignia of the department on the front, a long coat and waistcoat like a man's and a skirt with just the hint of a slit at the hem to be in the prevailing style. A big shining badge worn on the waistcoat finishes the police touch.

Good Intentions!

Do you remember what you told yourself, your wife, loved ones and friends about beautifying and marking the lonely mound out on the hill? Good men and true all over this part of the country, have said time and time again, they were going to mark the sacred spots in the cemetery "tomorrow, next month, next year. But visit those graves, and you will find them unremembered, unmarked. In many instances, there is a rotten board, which the dust of time has all but destroyed. Every cemetery has its unmarked, unremembered dead, thus hindering those who have the work at heart and desire to make the place beautiful and attractive. Why pave your way with good intentions as the shadows of night gather round you forget them? Count your marked graves, and you KNOW your best citizens in any community. Come to our plant and do your part in this great work.

Dr. J. W. Hill Talks About His Stay At Epworth By The Sea

Dr. J. W. Hill who has just returned from Epworth by the Sea talked interestingly of his trip to a Times reporter. He said:

"We—wife and I—had a great trip. We left here on August 4 and reached Corpus Christi August 6 at 4:30 in the afternoon. The State Epworth League Assembly opened that evening at 8:30. So we were there at the opening and stayed until the close of the following Sunday night week. We took in everything—the lectures, song services, sermons, baths, meals and all the social functions. The whole thing was great. The attendance was large and the company select. It was not such a mob as we had at our first state meeting at San Antonio when Morris Shepard and I pulled off each a response to the addresses of welcome from the mayor and other city dignitaries; there were over ten thousand leaguers in line at that meeting. But the state meeting now is a picked and chosen crowd of regular delegates, and for culture and refinement it can not be surpassed by any gathering of young people in all our Southland.

"The program was elaborate; and most of the people who took part were Texans. Aside from Dr. Parker, editor of the Epworth News, Dr. Pison, our senior missionary secretary, and Dr. Chappell, editor of our Sunday school publications—all the speakers, preachers and singers were our own people. And leaving out my own part—eight lectures—they all made good. Dr. Boesch, choir leader of the First church, Fort Worth, conducted the music. He is a master in any country. The Southwestern University quartette gave us selections frequently, and one evening was turned over to them entirely. Most of our Wichita people heard them at our assembly here and know what they can do. Then we had preaching every day by some one—most frequently by Rev. R. B. Schuler of the University church at Austin. That German is as they say—over in Georgia, a plumb right. The readers of the Texas Christian Advocate know about him. But the climax was reached on the last day—Sunday—when our own Texas Bishop Munson preached at 11 a. m. His was one of the eight great record breaking sermons it has been my privilege to hear in a lifetime.

"At the close of the assembly wife and I came to Dallas to visit my brothers and our son, J. W. Jr. Then we went to Farmersville and spent the Sunday with our eldest son who is in the mercantile business there. Then on Monday I ran over to Greenville where I was a pastor for eight years. There was a protracted meeting in progress and of course I preached to my old friends in the evening. Then on my return to Farmersville I preached again—on Wednesday evening, and pulled out for home by the way of Fort Worth, reaching here on the DeWitt Friday afternoon.

"I never felt the heat until I left Corpus Christi. The breeze off that bay is delightful day and night. But Dallas, Farmersville, Greenville and all the way along the road was some-

SUPERINTENDENT CARPENTER ANNOUNCES ASSIGNMENTS FOR CITY SCHOOLS

OTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS

Teachers' Meeting September 13th—Examinations for Pupils September 11 and 12

Superintendent George H. Carpenter of the Wichita Falls public schools has issued the following announcement concerning the opening of the schools, the assignment of teachers, dates for examinations and other information. A catalog setting forth the course of study, rules and much other information is now in the hands of the printers and will be ready for distribution at the opening of the term.

Superintendent Carpenter's announcement follows: "The schools will open Monday, September 15th. The first grade teachers' meeting will be held in the High School building Saturday morning, September 13th at 10 a. m. At this meeting matters of general importance affecting the year's work will be discussed and explained. All teachers are requested to be present at this meeting.

"On Thursday and Friday, September 11th and 12th examinations will be given to pupils who are now in the city or to those who failed at the close of the spring term or for any cause was absent from the examination. Pupils who are new in the city and have proper credentials from reputable schools will report on these days for classification, their certificates being accepted in lieu of an examination.

"These examinations will be conducted at the High School for all pupils wishing to enter below the seventh grade. The principals will have charge of these examinations assisted by the teachers. All teachers are requested to be there in time to assist the principals with the classification and examination of pupils.

"The schedule of examinations for the High School subjects will be announced later.

Dallas Railroad Man Dies From Bullet Which Slayer Says Was Fired Accidentally

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Aug. 30.—A J. Coley, a railroad employe, died at a local sanitarium from a bullet wound in his stomach inflicted yesterday by Mrs. Tina McDaniels. According to her the shooting was accidental. She said she pointed the pistol at Coley and claimed she did not know it was loaded. "Let me show you what a good marksman I am," she said she told Coley, and then the weapon was discharged.

Three Unusual Bargains From the Early Arrivals in Fall Goods

Our Ready-to-Wear Department is offering for Monday and next week's selling three special values:

Special Value No. 1

Ladies' Tailor Made Suits. These excellent garments are made in wool diagonal in navy blue, black, new tan, leather brown and chestnut brown. Also grey mixtures and plain blue serges, the newest long coats with button trimmings. The skirts are the new draped effects. The coats are satin lined throughout. Sold for double our price by many $9.98 stores; our price, per suit . . . . .

Special Value No. 2

About 15 dresses of different styles and trimmings in silk messalines and serges in all the new colors, such as new blue, mustard; western shades, navy brown and tans, new draped effects. These garments are extraordinary style and $9.98 quality. Priced at, per garment

We invite your inspection of these three bargains

Special Value No. 3

While in the market we picked up about 10 dandy coats made of serge in tan leather, blue and brown with changeable messaline linings. These are right up to the minute styles, medium weight and just the thing for early fall wear. As is our custom, we always give you the benefit of any special prices we get. These coats are fine. They are priced $9.98 at only . . . . .

We are trying to be prepared to serve you better this fall than ever. We are building new shelving, adding new fixtures and in every way trying to arrange our store for the handling of your business with comfort, speed and economy, for the economical handling of business, eliminating all the unnecessary expense, buying goods close and selling them on the smallest margin of profit.

EMIGRATION DEPLETES ARMY

SO MANY HAVE LEFT AUSTRIA FOR AMERICA THAT ARMY IS SHORT 100,000

NEW EMIGRATION LAWS

Ministers of War Supervising New Law to Prevent Young Men Leaving Country

By Associated Press. Vienna, Aug. 30.—So many of the young men of Austria and Hungary have emigrated to America that the armies of the Dual Monarchy lack from eighty to one hundred thousand soldiers this year to bear arms. These men should be in the ranks instead, they are earning their livelihood in the United States and Canada. The difficulty in getting recruits is increasing instead of diminishing and the military authorities of both Austria and Hungary are beginning to show their consternation and even their wrath at this very serious state of affairs.

The emigration from Austria and Hungary for the first half of 1913 to the United States and Canada has been unprecedented. The situation is such that the ministers of war of the two states are today jealously supervising the introduction of new emigration laws in the Parliaments of Vienna and Budapest. When the Austrian Council of Ministers recently presented the draft of a new bill to the minister of war, this official expressed himself as greatly displeased at the mildness of the restrictions devised for preventing Austrian youths from going abroad.

Farmers in many parts of Austria and Hungary have long complained that no labor was procurable, all the able bodied young men having emigrated. The authorities remained comparatively indifferent, until today they find that emigration is seriously affecting recruiting. Now they are deeply concerned.

At the last enrollment of recruits on June 30th the Cracow army corps reported that 20,527 young men failed to answer the military summons having left the country. The Przemysl corps was 26,112 short, the Lemberg corps 33,860. In all the crown lands large numbers of men liable to military service had disappeared. It was estimated that 81,900 had gone from Galicia and Bukowina alone.

Such a condition of affairs is especially serious at the present time, when, owing to changes in the strategic conditions of the Balkan countries, the recruiting levy of Austria-Hungary is about to be increased by 40,000 men. The emigration to Canada is particularly displeasing to the war ministry, as few of these emigrants ever return. Over 90,000 men liable for army service are now in Canada and not one responded to the summons recently sent out to join the army.

A CELLAR-LESS GAS FURNACE

The world has had the orange without seeds, the carriage without horses, telegraphy without wires, and a house heating furnace that needs no cellar, no furnace pipes, no registers, no stacks. Operated without climbing of stairs. All heat generated delivered to rooms. No heat wasted passing through pipes. Fire regulated in a moment without any trouble.

Consider for a moment. When a furnace is placed in cellar or basement it is an apparatus which is to be heated with fuel, after which a stream of air passes over the outer heated surface and on up through pipes into the rooms. Much heat is lost in passing up. If you will study the working of the Economy-Bestmaid Fireplace Furnace you will find that it also presents a large amount of heated surface over which a stream of air passes and is heated, so that the heating principle is the same but the results are much better and the expense is much less.

Observe the Principle

The gas flame first heats the fuel bed till it is incandescent. It glows like a hard coal fire and of itself is a powerful heating element. This fuel chamber is fully enclosed with mica doors like a hard coal base burner. The hot products and poisonous fumes from gas burning cannot come into the room. They pass up to the top, then into the loop, down to bottom and up again and out, as shown in the picture.

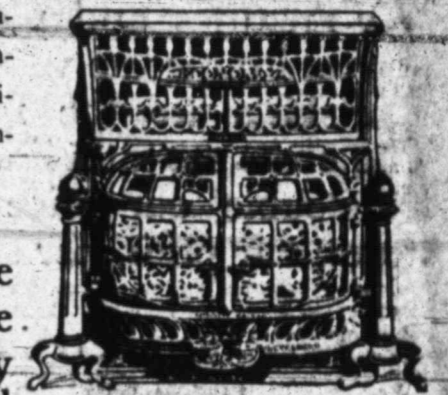

This not only heats a lot of surface very hot, but it retains the heat till the best part is radiated.

This circulating feature is what makes this Fireplace Furnace a sufficient heater for several rooms. The cold air in distant rooms will fall to the floor, move along toward the Heater, pass through it and come out hot. Meantime the Heater has sent out other heated air to take the place of the cold air it has drawn away, establishing a complete circulation of warm air to all corners of the apartment. It is guaranteed to heat three to five rooms when reasonably located.

We furnish this front either in Black Porcelain Enamel or Oxidized Copper. The enamel is a mineral coating fused onto the iron at red heat and will not burn off. It looks like polished ebony. We recommend it as the best finish and will always send it unless the Oxidized Copper is specified. The door section is enamelled in every case.

SOCIETY.

SYRACUSE PROFESSOR CLAIMS BRIDE IN WICHITA FALLS

Professor Homer A. Harvey of Syracuse, New York and Miss Stella Shaw of this city were united in marriage Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shaw, 1519 Tenth street. The ceremony was a simple and quiet one, only the family being in attendance. Rev. J. W. Coe officiated. A four course wedding luncheon followed the ceremony, and at 1:50 Prof. and Mrs. Harvey left for Galveston, where they will take boat for New York. The bride has been in Wichita Falls but little since her parents made this city their home, but has won many friends here. She was formerly a student at Syracuse, graduating in 1912, since which time she has been engaged in Y. W. C. A. work at Batavia, New York. The groom is also an ex-student of Syracuse, being a member of the faculty of that institution.

DINNER PARTY IN HONOR OF VISITOR FROM DENVER

Complimenting her sister, Miss Virginia Watt of Denver and her brother, Phil Bulloch, Mrs. W. W. Little entertained at dinner Monday evening. Covers were laid for ten. Banquet was the diversion after the repast, and punch was served during the evening, making the occasion a very pleasant one. Those present were Misses Lillian Fain, Margaret Burnside, Elizabeth Patterson, Lucile Fox, Virginia Watt, Messrs. Phil Bulloch, Eugene Mathis, John Mackechny, Charles Nolen and Robert Nolen.

B. C. O. W.'S CHANGE NAME TO O. S. C.

Thursday night the B. C. O. W.'s held a business meeting at the home of Robert Nolen. It was decided to change the name of the organization to O. S. C., by which name it will henceforth be known. After the business session was adjourned, cream and cake was served. The following members were present: Robert Nolen, Eugene Mathis, Charles Reed, Will Christensen, Admiral Skinner and Mac McGlinchey.

BARACA CLASS ENTERTAINED LAST FRIDAY NIGHT.

The Baraca Class of the First Methodist Episcopal Church gave one of their famous parties in the basement of the church last Friday night. The guests of honor were a number of the young ladies of the Sunday school and some of their friends. The young men furnished the program of the evening which consisted of music, essays and games. The singing of the newly organized Glee Club seemed to have been especially enjoyed by the way in which the numbers were encored. The cracker contest between some of the ladies and the shoe contest participated in by the men, caused much merriment. Refreshments consisting of punch, ice cream and cake were served in the most approved style by some of the men. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

TWO LADIES BIRTHDAY PICNIC AT LAKE WICHITA.

Mesdames S. A. Bass and J. A. Deaton entertained a number of their friends with a birthday dinner Friday at Lake Wichita, the occasion being the birthday of both hostesses. The guests took the 10 o'clock lake car. Having arrived at the lake in a short time a sumptuous basket dinner was spread. Every thing good to eat was there in abundance, and the sumptuous repast and enjoyable afternoon spent in conversation made the affair one long to be remembered by all present. The hostesses, also were the recipients of so many handsome gifts that they too, felt that birthdays were pleasant affairs. Those who enjoyed the dinner and afternoon were Mesdames Harisook, Joe Stipes, Jones, Crowell, Brown, Deaton, O. S. Deaton, J. R. Bachman, Misses May Friebe, Josephine Bachman, Lona Brown, Reia and Louise Deaton, Zona Mable and Juanita Bachman, Little Ruth Stipes and J. W. Deaton.

NEW ERA CLUB TO MEET NEXT SATURDAY

The New Era will hold its first meeting next Saturday with Mrs. W. F. Bolding 2410 Eighth street. Mrs. J. V. C. T. Christensen will be the leader of the meeting.

Mrs. F. C. Keichner and sister, Miss Mae Menish, of Parsons, Kansas, are the guests of their mother and brother, Mrs. Lou Menish and E. F. Brooks at 1008 Burnett street.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Cottrell and Miss Cora Phillips returned last week from a two months stay in Colorado.

Mrs. J. C. Strauss, 1708 Eleventh street has her mother, Mrs. George Mason, and sister, Mrs. H. C. Steger of Houston, as visitors.

Mrs. W. C. Lowery leaves Monday for her home in Dallas. She will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. T. Webb.

Germany's Sugar Beet Acreage.

From information obtained from the various German beet sugar factories, the Imperial Bureau of Statistics has published a tabular statement showing the sugar beet acreage in Germany for the coming campaign year and the number of factories which will be in operation. According to the official figures the number of factories preparing for operation in 1913-14 is 342, as compared with 344 reported in 1912 and 1913. The number of factories in actual operation in 1912 and 1913 was, however, but 342 due to the fact that two factories which had intended to operate in that year instead turned their beets over to other establishments.

There have been 1,213,265 acres planted in beets this year, as compared with the record figures of 1,350,977 acres in 1912 and 1913; 96,769 acres are either owned or leased by the factories, as compared with 67,422 in 1912 and 1913; 513,762 acres are planted by stockholders or others who are under contract to furnish the factories with sugar beets.

The Kind of a Room a Man Likes.

In New York there is one man who has a room that exactly suits him. His wife wanted a house and got it upon condition that he could do exactly as he pleased with his room. He did as he pleased. The walls are in two toned bright red stripes. A thick rug of solid red covers the entire floor. A big couch is covered with pattern. The furniture he selected from the family discard. It consists of a big oak table, a commodious black walnut bureau, a chiffonier that does not match the bureau, but has unusually large drawers, a white iron bed, a white iron washstand, an assortment of chairs, shabby, unbeautiful, but without exception comfortable—tabourets, ash trays and matches galore, so that one can drop down almost anywhere and have the making of a smoke handy, a bookcase full of detective stories, sea yarns and history, pictures of girls and horses and boats and dogs and his wife and Daniel Webster. No curtains—Home Journal.

My motto: Mitter sells it for less.

Support.

"This friend of mine who now asks for an appointment—didn't he support you in your campaign?"

"No," replied Senator Sorghum, "he hustled to get on the winning side in hope that I would support him."

An Oil Engine Towboat.
The new Diesel oil engine towboat of the Italian navy has a displacement of only 170 tons, but is equipped with a four cylinder two cycle engine of 50 horsepower, running at 250 revolutions per minute. Compressed air at low pressure compared with that required for normal running is used for both starting and reversing. Only a few seconds are necessary for these operations, and a tank on board carries sufficient compressed air for starting or reversing sixty times.—Newark News.

Earthquake Sounds and Shocks.
An investigation of the sounds of earthquakes from British records has been published in Germany by Chas Davidson. The rumblings are sometimes felt rather than heard, and resemble the passing of wagons, thunder and wind. Curious relations are traced between the areas of shock and those of sound. Strong earthquakes are heard only over a central area, about two-thirds as large as the region of disturbance; moderate earthquakes are audible about as far as they are felt, and many slight earthquakes are heard beyond the disturbed area.—Newark News.

The next morning Johnny Jones came to school with a very black eye. "Why, Johnny, what's the matter?" "Aw," replied Johnny, "I've been forgiven." "Scrappy Green, an' makin' him forgive me"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Ex-King Manuel Of Portugal Weds His Fair Princess In Germany On September 4th

Berlin, Aug. 30.—European royalty was mightily interested in the wedding of ex-King Manuel of Portugal and the Princess Augustina Victoria which was set for Sept. 4. The young ousted king has had the sympathy of those who move in the ranks of the nobility and they still hope that he may again be placed in power in his native country. Every precaution was taken to guard Manuel from possible attack on the part of fanatic republicans, who, it was feared, might make his wedding day the occasion of a tragedy. In the accompanying picture the ex-king is shown with his bride and his mother, Queen Amelia. Manuel is twenty-three years-old and the princess one year his junior.

CONSERVATION EXPOSITION

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL SEND WIRELESS MESSAGE OPENING EXPOSITION AT KNOXVILLE

STATES ARE REPRESENTED

Many of the Larger Southern Cities Also Have Special Exhibits—Opening Monday

By Associated Press. Knoxville, Aug. 30.—A wireless message from President Wilson will be the signal for the opening in this city on Monday next of the National Conservation Exposition, the first in the history of the country devoted to the cause of conservation. The message is expected at 10 a. m., at the wireless station on the exposition grounds.

Governor Hooper of Tennessee, Mayor Heiskell of Knoxville and T. A. Wright, president of the exposition, will participate in the opening ceremonies. The exposition will continue through September and October and while designed primarily to "teach the lesson of conservation" is intended also to demonstrate the commercial and industrial advance of the South.

The exposition grounds with lakes and drives embrace more than 100 acres on which have been erected eleven large buildings with a total of 100,000 feet of floor space. The buildings are the Liberal Arts, the Land, with an auditorium annex seating 3,000 persons, the Woman's, the Child Welfare, the East Tennessee, the All-South, the Mines and Minerals, the Art, the Live Stock, the Poetry and the Negro. Special Exhibits By Southern Cities. Exhibits have been furnished by the federal government as well as by all of the southern states and will display many kinds of natural resources. The larger southern cities will be represented by individual exhibits. Conservation of human life, health and energy, as well as of the land, water and forests will be emphasized.

"In its conception, in its aims and purposes," reads the official description, "the National Conservation Exposition is unique; it is unique in other respects. Expositions of the past have always been held to commemorate and to celebrate something that has been accomplished; the National Conservation Exposition, on the other hand, looks toward the future. It will stand out as the sign of something that is to be done.

The exhibits of the United States will be most complete and all will be designed to teach these conservation lessons. In the good roads exhibit, the forestry, the mines, the land, and in other exhibits the federal displays will be devoted entirely to the subject of conservation in its different branches. So, too, the different state exhibits are designed not only to show the progress made in material ways by these states, but also to bring out the conservation ideas.

There is installed a most complete health exhibit designed to show to exposition visitors the necessity of conserving health and to show them how this best can be done. This exhibit was arranged by experts.

It treats the subject of health in many different ways.

Child Conservation Exhibits. "The child welfare exhibit, the first ever made in the South, is under the direction of Miss Julia C. Lathrop, head of the children's bureau of the United States department of labor. The Russell Sage Foundation of New York and other philanthropic institutions are deeply interested in this department. It will be devoted to an exposition of the best and the most advanced methods of conserving the health and the strength of the growing child.

"The woman's department has a large number of exhibits that will show women in both city and country how they may conserve their energy and their health in the performance of their daily household duties."

A number of special days devoted to particular features of the exposition have been arranged. A congress of farmers and livestock breeders will be held from September 12 to September 16, at which Gifford Pinchot will preside. There will be discussions by experts on methods of crop and live stock improvement. One day will be set aside in honor of the grand army of the Republic which will go into encampment during the exposition near Lookout Mountain.

A miners field day is scheduled for September 20, when the federal bureau of mines will give a unique demonstration of the causes of mine explosions and methods of rescuing lives. The bureau will cause an explosion of coal dust in a big steel tube constructed expressly for that purpose. Then will follow a series of first aid and rescue contests by picked teams of miners from five states.

Cabinet Members To Attend. Vice President Marshall and several members of President Wilson's cabinet including Secretary Bryan, Secretary Daniels and Secretary McAdoo are expected to visit Knoxville while the exposition is on. Cardinal Gibbons will be an exposition guest on October 12 and 13.

CONTRACT LET FOR RED RIVER BRIDGE AT BYERS.

Byers, Texas, Aug. 30.—The Ninety-Eight Bridge company has closed a contract with the West Texas Bridge and Construction Company for a bridge 1,700 feet long across Red River four miles north of Byers. Work will be commenced at once and the bridge completed by January 1.

This is to be a three span suspension bridge and will be one of the finest and most substantial structures spanning Red River, and the only wagon bridge crossing this stream between here and Deason. It will serve as a connecting link between this part of the State and Southwest Oklahoma.

NO HIGH SOCIETY FOR PRESIDENT

WILSON ASSOCIATES HIS BETTER WITH WASHINGTON'S ALLEGED BLUE BLOODS

OTHER WASHINGTON NEWS

Suffragettes are Getting Active in Some Quarters—Delegates to Alcoholic Congress

(By Burton K. Standish written for the United Press)

Washington, Aug. 27.—President Wilson, during the monotonous, stuffy summer of no vacations, is again showing that while he doesn't exactly disapprove of those who are unfortunate enough to have been born into exclusive society circles, still he prefers the much discussed Jeffersonian simplicity he finds in the commonplace surroundings that is to be found in these places where even the whaling of a golf ball is hedged in flub dub formality. How President Wilson refused to become an honorary member of the ultra exclusive Chevy Chase Club—thereby causing much sniffing and raising of eyebrows among the highbrows—and later paid for a membership and was "let in" is now a matter of history. But the chroniclers stopped there.

The president has played one and one game of golf on the Chevy Chase Links. Having thereby done his duty to the socially elite, he immediately joined the Washington Country Club where the average man can become a member and enjoy golf, tennis and other out door sports without the necessity of having an ancestor who came over on the Mayflower or one who hoarded up enough money to keep his progeny from working. The Washington Country Club is not a society organization, although it was organized a good many years ago and has a membership which includes many prominent persons. Its initiation fee and dues are low enough to make it attractive to a good many government employees and people who actually work for a living. True, the members don't smoke pipes in the dining rooms or wear overalls at the dances, but there isn't a trace of snobbery to be found there.

Until President Wilson joined there wasn't a discouragingly long waiting list, but now it's different—the waiting list is as long as your arm. It is astonishing how many golfers have come to realize the beauty and advantages of the Washington Country Club since President Wilson joined.

Every Saturday morning the White House automobile is seen to stop at the Club house and President Wilson with Dr. Grayson, his physician, unload their sticks and tops and start out. Sometimes during the week, the president forgets tariff, Mexico and currency and closes shop early to ride over to the club for a tramp over the golf course.

PETER RADFORD DISCUSSES STEP BY FEDERALS AND STATE GOVERNMENTS

TEXAS IS TAKING LEAD

Former Farmers' Union President, However, Deprecates Multiplicity of Organization

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 30.—Never in modern history has there been so many movements organized in the United States to help the farmer as at present and there are many "chance" men with free samples for every ill that besets agriculture. No farmer should put out a "No Help Wanted" sign, but it is important that he employ only the kind of help he needs.

A great many people appear to believe that because a farmer pulls off his coat when he thinks, that he is not capable of understanding his problems. Men can sit in libraries entirely surrounded by books and papers and concoct schemes to cover the valley with grain fields and the hills with flocks and herds, and honestly believe they can make the farmer enough wealth to ransom a king, but the farmer knows better than to exchange magic for common sense. Men skilled in trading may not be able to understand the farmer in the art of cheating nature, but the farmer knows that Mother Earth will not be deceived. The problems of agriculture are as serious as the problems of industry and they cannot be solved by agricultural magicians. The farmer must order or by seeking assistance through faith, hope and charity. It is a cold business.

Only a man can only be helped by common sense and co-operation. The farmer is able to get about as much as he loses his way in the maze of organizations.

Too many agricultural organizations are causing confusion of energy. The farmer is wasting energy. Evaluation of the government, including the government, and the farmer, and

If the farmer joined all the associations, read their literature and attended their ordinances, he would have no time to plow. It is past time that our state legislatures will appropriate thousands of dollars, much of it to be used in organizing agricultural associations in localities where the farmers are already sufficiently organized and attempt business men's associations send out emissaries to organize the farmer and at best they can only hope to duplicate existing organizations. The farmer does not need organization as much as co-operation and plans should be formulated by which the government can effectively co-operate with associations which the farmers have organized, and business men should cooperate in their efforts with regular farmers' organizations.

The recent appropriation of $50,000 by the federal government for marketing, followed by an appropriation of $15,000 by the Texas Legislature and with other states giving consideration to marketing problems, renders an imperative necessity for organization among the farmers. The farmer can produce without organization, but to successfully market, he must unite with his neighbor. Our governments, both state and national, are now brought face to face with the problems of agricultural organization in order to deal successfully with the marketing problem.

The National Farmers' Union is the most powerful organization on the western hemisphere, and it has taken half a century of effort and hundreds of thousands of dollars to build up the farmers to their present degree of organized efficiency. This powerful machinery already in operation should be utilized by the government in their marketing plans and all local unions should be willing to co-operate with governmental agencies in solving the marketing problem.

The farmer is always inclined to look a gift horse in the mouth, but the government is his, and in accepting the good offices of government he is taking his own money and utilizing his own agencies. Every voter who gets garden seed from his congressman knows there is power in government and can realize how important it is to find a market for the products.

In taking hold of marketing, the government is tackling the biggest business proposition of any age or nation and one that will require the combined efforts of all the powerful agencies of civilization. The producer must thoroughly organize the railroads, express agencies, parcel post and all gigantic forces in commerce must be swung around the proposition in an orderly and harmonious manner and governmental assistance is necessary in order to develop working plans.

The Texas Way. The nation can learn many lessons of importance in co-operation from the people of Texas. We are the first state in the Union to appropriate money exclusively for the study of marketing plans. We are the only state where the bankers are financing the distress cotton at a low rate of interest; our legislature has passed a warehouse bill making cotton certificates negotiable and as good as government bonds, the first of its kind to be placed on any statute book. We are the first to arrange to use the express companies as a medium of distribution between the producer and consumer.

We have organized co-operative gin companies, owned exclusively by farmers and operated in their interests; we have established a central selling agency for cotton with facilities for handling the 1913 crop and otherwise afforded assistance to the producer in the sale of his products.

These results have been brought about, in the main, by the business interests co-operating with the Farmers' Union in their work. The farmer cannot be helped until he organizes and the government cannot help the farmer except through organization.

HYGIENE CONGRESS COMES TO CLOSE

Many Important Discussions of Meeting Reserved for the Last Session.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 30.—What is expected to prove the most far-reaching meeting ever held for the purpose of spreading the propaganda and teaching the science of school hygiene, came to a close this afternoon after sessions lasting since Monday. Many of the most important discussions scheduled for the Fourth International Congress on School Hygiene had been reserved for this final session.

Sir James Kerr of London county council, England, was one of the notable speakers today. Taking for his topic, "The Proper Illumination of the School Room," titled Englishman denounced school systems which do not include the most up to date methods of illuminating school rooms. He declared that the fact that one-third of all public school children have defective vision is due almost solely to improper illumination of school rooms.

"Medical Inspection in the Schools as a Community Investment" was the subject discussed by Dr. Ira S. Wile, member of the New York City board of education. "It has been said that there are now in the public schools of the United States 100,000 children who will die of tuberculosis before they are eighteen years old," said Dr. Wile. "If each child has had six years of education the aggregate in wasted education would be $1,000,000. If this sum of money were expended for medical inspection, the tuberculosis death rate alone would be greatly decreased, and it would create large economic saving through the lowered mortality and through decreased impairment of the educational investment by other diseases and death."

Money estimates of the value of medical inspection are sometimes misleading therefore it is needless to discuss its statistical ramifications. The relief of human misery; the prevention of contagious diseases; the correction and prevention of physical defects; the lessening of absences and retardation; the decrease in truancy; the lessening of criminality; the increase of industrial efficiency; the general education as to the value of health; the heightening of parental responsibility and the improvement of the system of home hygiene all represent more forcibly than statistics in money, the value of medical inspection as a community investment.

Mrs. S. S. Crockett of the General Federation of Women's Clubs discussed "Women's Clubs in Relation to School Hygiene." Appeal was made to all women's organizations to join in the fight for advancement of school hygiene.

CLEVER STORIES ON THE STAGE

"POTASH AND PERLMUTTER" INSTANTANEOUS AND PHENOMENAL SUCCESS

NEW BROADWAY PLAYS

Almost Every Night Sees the Premier of Some New Play—Other Play Gossip

(By Beau Rialto, written for the United Press)
 New York, Aug. 29.—That clever stories, even if they are devoid of thrills and plots to grip the attention of readers, may be made into clever plays has been demonstrated by the instantaneous and phenomenal success of "Potash & Perlmutter," now running at the Colton Theatre. The play is taken from the short stories by Montague Glass, built around the trials and tribulations of Abe Potash and Mawruss Perlmutter, manufacturers of cloaks and suits by wholesale which for several years have been running in various magazines of America. Abe and Mawruss have become familiar characters to readers all over the United States, which may account for the fact that the play opened a week earlier than Broadway usually begins the season and the night was one of the highest on record, the theatre was jammed to capacity at the premier. Seats were quickly sold for as far in advance as ten weeks and the play promises to be the season's biggest success.

Plays like "Potash & Perlmutter" are popular not because of the dramatic they contain, not especially because of the ability of the men and women in the cast, but because the public knows Abe and Mawruss and recognizes them as old friends when they see the advertisement of the play. Few people there are who can read who have not at some time or other laughed at the antics of the two Hebrew partners and their cronies and they want to see them in real life. Also there is another human quality that perhaps the managers take into consideration, and that is the curiosity of the reader to know how a story can be made over into a play.

These things which characterize

HARRY THAW'S JAILER, FEARING PLOT, KEEPS CLOSE TAB ON SLAYER

Sherbrooke, Canada, Aug. 30.—Bolavet, Harry K. Thaw's jailer, refuses to be quoted as to his opinion of his noble prisoner's sanity, but he admits by what he says well rid of the man. Bolavet says Thaw is one of the most difficult individuals he has been called upon to suit. Thaw has given the jailer plenty of trouble over his meals, being erratic, to say the least, in that regard. Bolavet realized the importance of keeping Thaw under strict surveillance for there were many stories of a planned plot to deliver the prisoner from jail before the courts had a chance to decide what should be done with him.

Building Permits Issued Saturday

Building permits were issued yesterday to Louis Campbell for a one story frame residence on lot 5, block 196, to cost $1600, and to G. H. Fisher for a one story frame residence on Denver street to cost $2000.

New Fall Styles Promise Much That Is Individual

New York, Aug. 30.—Individual a woman may be, but out of date—never. Therefore, the wise one who comes the main points of a prevailing style and suits them to her individual taste. The conclusions reached by the American Fall and Winter Fashion Show, recently held at the Grand Central Palace in New York, may be somewhat modified by the later Paris exhibition; but as Paris couturiers cater only to the exclusive elect, their influence on general styles will not have so great a local effect. Many important considerations are established beyond question. The kind of materials that will be popular in one of these. In wool, and silk and wool mixtures, velour, de laine, plush and imitation-fur effects, boucle, faille de laine and duvetyne will be much in demand. These materials will be used both for general service and for dress occasions. Black velvet for smart functions will be vastly popular in both suits and gowns, and for afternoon and evening wear. It will be effectively trimmed with tulle and lace fashioned into lovely panniers and cuffs, or either ermine, white fox, or skunk. The coats of the new coat suits will show marked variation in length. Those for practical wear will be much shorter than the more elaborate models. The latter will extend to the knees behind, the line being broken at the back waist and sharply cut-away in front. Vests will be a feature of both smart coats and frocks. Simulated vests of lace will be stylishly introduced even in afternoon and evening gowns.

Sherbrooke, Canada, Aug. 30.—William Travers Jerome, the New York lawyer and former district attorney, who has been Harry K. Thaw's Nemesis, is here on Thaw's trial again. Jerome has been the one man whom Thaw most has feared in his many attempts to gain his freedom. Jerome came here after Thaw's capture, following his escape from the Matteawan (N. Y.) asylum, to aid the Dutchess county (N. Y.) authorities in taking Thaw back.

The frock of the first illustration was developed in printed silk of tan grounds and tan and brown rose motifs. Collar, cuffs and applied panel are of tan silk. The chemise is of dotted cream colored net, and the girde of brown velvet. The waist has a back yoke which extends well over the shoulders in front, considerable blouse over the girde both back and front and attractive short sleeves and round neck. The drapery of the skirt falls gracefully over the hips and the more delicate shades, blue, pink, cerise and yellow, are preferred. These shades are also made of bright tulle and maline, and are tied in any pleasing fashion, at side or back, the ends hanging to the hem of the skirt.

The frock of the second illustration has the wired frill cleverly introduced. The neck is low, the frill terminating at the base of the V opening. The frock was developed in gray marquisette. The front inserts are of lace and the girde of red and white polka dotted silk. Drapery in both waist and skirt, is a smart detail. A feature which has grown much in favor of late, supplanting the close fitting neck bands, is the long chain. However, romatic fashionable, but the strings are long and extend well over the bust or to the waist. The possibilities of felling the frock will be at once appreciated by the capable woman. She will realize that a charming new frock may readily be evolved from an old one by denuding the gown of all trimmings and furbelows, removing the sleeves and inserting sheer sleeves of lace. A front surplice, rather than back closing, should be used and the back cut in V fashion. The entire garment is

KATY HEARING IS AGAIN POSTPONED

For Third Time Hearing Scheduled Here Has Been Continued—Date Now Not Known
Witnesses here have received notice that the hearing in the State's suit against the M. K. and T. scheduled to have been held here Monday has been postponed again. The witnesses received here did not state to what date the hearing had been continued.
This is the third time the hearing has been continued. The first time was on account of the illness of C. C. Huff, general attorney for the Wichita Falls & Northwestern. The second continuance was because of inability to secure service on President Schaaf of the Katy. No cause has been assigned for the last continuance but it is unofficially reported to have been on account of some of the state's attorneys being engaged for Labor Day addresses. It is also believed that negotiations for the withdrawal of the suit may be in progress although Katy officials and representatives of the attorney general's departments have denied this.
W. H. BUSH IS CHIEF CLERK TO SUPERINTENDENT.
W. H. Bush is now chief clerk to Superintendent Sullivan of the Wichita Falls Route lines and of the Henrietta division of the Katy. Mr. Bush succeeds H. E. Bragg who has resigned to take a position with a Helena, Arkansas, wholesale grocery as office manager. The new chief clerk has been with the Northwestern for some time. He came here from Springfield, Mo., where he was with the Frisco, and first worked as clerk for Master Mechanic Booth in the shops here. For several months he has been in Mr. Sullivan's office.

How To Get The Best Tea And Coffee For Your Money.

I am satisfied that a great many people in Wichita Falls are not getting what they might get in the way of value and satisfaction from their tea and coffee purchases, not that the brands they are using are not good but the fact that those particular brands may not be the best suited to their tastes. What one person thinks is a splendid tea and a perfect coffee another person dislikes very much. The problem is to get the tea and coffee flavor best suited to your taste.
I have helped a number of families to do this and know I can help you too. In my coffee and tea department I have several of the best brands in both coffee and tea that are produced including price. They are always fresh and selected for cup quality. If you will come in and talk with me about the coffee and tea question I know I can help you find the best for your money. The best in strength, flavor and the kind best suited to your family.

A LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

A CITY WITH A GREAT FUTURE

Wichita Falls invites you to come and locate in a live, wide awake, up-to-date city where you will find something doing all the time. No where else will you find such a delightful combination of occupations to engage in

If you're a farmer we need you in the rich valley of the Wichita and Red River. If you are a truck grower you can purchase good land adjoining the city with plenty of water to irrigate same and a home market with big prices for everything you raise.

If you are speculative inclined you will find the largest oil and gas field in the State right at our door, where farmers, business men, oil men and speculators grow rich in a fortnight.

If you are a manufacturer you can secure a free site and the cheapest natural gas in the State of Texas, with plenty of water, seven railroad outlets, cheap freight rates and a large distributing territory for your manufactured product. Over forty manufacturing industries in operation now, and Ball Bros.' large fruit jar factory will start up about September first with 250 employees.

If you are a merchant, lawyer, doctor, contractor, real estate agent, clerk, laborer or what not, we welcome you just so you are a desirable citizen.

WE WANT YOU. We have plenty of room to grow and if you think we are not growing just compare our per centage growth in post office receipts and population with any city in the United States for the past ten years, and if you use slang you will exclaim "we are going some."

We have everything necessary to build a great city with the exception of people and money and we are scouring the country for both. Won't you join us? We have a healthy climate, water, gas, oil, coal, railroads, a fine farming country with a large trade territory and no competitive city. In fact, we have every natural advantage we could wish for with 15,000 live boosters. What more do we need? Just people and money.

Visitors to Wichita Falls are invited to come directly to the office of the FLORAL HEIGHTS REALTY COMPANY in the Kemp & Kell building, Suite 311, for information about everything in the city. All information is given free of charge. No fees are asked or accepted.

Take a bird's eye view of our city, and Lake Wichita. Isn't it beautiful on paper? Well, it is more beautiful in reality. Should you think of locating or investing in Wichita Falls we will take great pleasure in showing you around either by auto or trolley car. You can make no mistake by investing or locating here.

FORTUNES ARE BEING MADE IN WICHITA FALLS REAL ESTATE. 7 years ago a lot sold for $1000.00. It recently sold for $20,000.00. 2000 per cent in seven years. Where can you go to beat it? The opportunity is here for you. Will you grasp it?

Safeguard Your Health By Using Pure Ice—We have already called the attention of the public to the importance of Pure Ice. It is a subject worth mentioning again. We want to emphasize it by repetition. At this season of the year when the intelligent housewife is particularly careful to safeguard the health of her family. Pure Ice is the one matter she should not and does not overlook. We're carefully treating our water before we start it into the freezing process. If there happened to be a germ in the water freezing would do him no harm. Merely to incase him in ice would be a joke on us, not on him, because as demonstrated, soon after the discovery of germs, they don't ever stop wiggling in a block of ice much less die; so first we put the water through a special chemical process to make assurance doubly sure then we boil the water and condense the steam. A famous chemist and bacteriologist has said that ordinary water is liable to be anaquairum, (meaning germs, not fish) that if boiled it becomes a graveyard, but that condensation makes it absolutely pure. Not only is our ice made from absolutely pure water. It's kept pure in the making process—Phone us your orders

OPERATIONS AT FRUIT JAR PLANT

150 RECRUITS ADDED TO WICHITA FALLS TIN BUCKET BRIGADE LAST WEEK

JAR MAKING DESCRIBED

Hand Work in Big Plant is Reduced to Minimum—100,000 Jars Made Weekly

Wichita Falls' "tin bucket brigade" gained 150 more recruits during the week just closed, when Ball Brothers jar factory, the new addition to local industries, began operations. This plant distributes in excess of $3000 worth in its payroll, represents an investment of approximately $250,000 and will be one of this city's most important factors in the publicity line when the distribution of its product begins.

The factory employs about 150 men, women and girls, at present. When the cap plant and the zinc rolling mill are completed, which will be sometime this winter, the number of employees will be still larger. The erection of these parts of the plant was delayed so as to get the jar plant under operation as soon as possible.

The capacity of the factory, when it is running full time, will be from 75,000 to 100,000 jars of various sizes per week, the number of course depending upon the size of the jars. Three sizes are manufactured, pint quart and half-gallon jars.

The raw material for the jars is unloaded from the cars into a large store house, the northernmost building at the plant. Here the sand, broken glass and other ingredients are placed in large bins, from which the supplies are taken as needed to a large mixer at the south end of the building. Here a machine on the same principle as a concrete mixer, mixes the different elements and the mixture is then conveyed on a belt up an incline to the top of the furnace in the next building.

This furnace will hold from forty to fifty tons of the mixture, which is stored in a large bin and emptied into the furnace tank as needed. There are two parts of the furnace; in the first, or furnace proper, the mixture is melted; the second, into which the molten mass passes through a small opening, is provided for the purpose of drawing off foreign matter, scum etc., before the melted matter is used for jars.

From the neck the melted material is drawn out through a dozen spouts into the jar making machines. These work automatically; one movement puts the small iron cup directly under the spout to receive the melted glass. This then turns on a wheel so as to pass under a plunger; another turn brings it underneath a contrivance which shapes the neck of the jar; and so on, until the red hot finished jar is taken out by the attendant. It is placed upon a long belt which carries it to another furnace.

The jar then spends six hours in a furnace where the temperature is about a thousand degrees, mostly slowly down toward the packing room all the time. This treatment tempers the glass. At the packing room of the furnace the jars are removed and sorted, then loaded on trucks.

Next comes the packing, which is quite an interesting process in itself. Two girls remove the jars from the trucks and place them on a long belt, the jars being held in place by long spikes. The belt carries them down the line to where an inspector stands; the inspector's mission in life seems to be to pick out perfectly good jars and throw them in a big barrel. It is his business to see that no bad ones get by.

The jars that get by the inspector go on down the belt to a register where they are automatically counted. Then they come to a row of women and girls, ranging in age from sixteen to sixty and the packing begins. A girl grabs a jar off the conveying belt, fits a cap on it and stows it away in a large pasteboard box. By the time the belt passes the entire row of girls it is empty. When a girl gets her box filled with jars she places it on another belt and it goes on its way, to be sealed and stored away until some house-keeper in Kalamazoo or Tallahassee or Seattle sends for it.

Of the 150 employees of the plant, some receive as little as $1.75 and $2 for an eight hour day. The wage ranges from that minimum which is paid for what is known as common labor to $4.50 and $5 per day for the skilled labor. Some employes work eight hours, some ten, some twelve and to strike an average wage would be difficult.

The plant here gives Ball Brothers factories in three cities, Muncie and Greenville, Indiana and Wichita Falls. T. B. Smock is in charge of the local industries for Ball Brothers. His title is superintendent or manager or something like that, he doesn't know what. Technically, he is on the job here for four different corporations. F. E. Jewett of Muncie has been here for the past two weeks, helping get things started. Mr. Smock has been with Ball Brothers in varying capacities for the past eight years and if the glass factory superintendents ever form a union, they will have to get about three men for Mr. Smock's job. He starts to work at 6:30 a. m. and works until the shades of night are falling—regular newspaper man's hours.

It is not likely that there will be much shipping from the plant, until next summer as the plant was gotten under way too late for the 1913 fruit crop. The jars will be stored in the mammoth warehouses until next year, when shipments will be made as needed.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR REV AND MRS. J. P. BOONE

The home of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Smith was the site Tuesday evening of the farewell reception tendered by the Women's Alliance of the First church to the retiring pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Boone. Mrs. Boone was to leave Thursday and Mr. Boone next Monday, for New York. The lawn was prettily illuminated for the occasion and the visitors were greeted by the officers and leaders of the Alliance and by Dr. and Mrs. Smith and Rev. and Mrs. Boone. Mrs. McConnell and Miss Luella Morgan presided at the punch bowl. A large number of guests, including not only many members of the church but dozens of friends of Rev. and Mrs. Boone from other congregations, came to take part in this farewell compliment.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR MONTH $53,245

Records Show August to Have Been a Comparatively Dull Month in Building

Although a great amount of construction was in progress August was a comparatively light month in the matter of new building permits, the records showing the issuance of only $53,245 in permits during the month. This was one of the smallest totals for any month since the building permits ordinance was enacted last October. In July the permits totalled $97,170. Comparatively few new residences were started during the month and there is now a great demand for houses which is expected to grow heavier as the glass factories open, school starts and winter comes on.

UNDER-WORLD IS THEME OF PLAYS

RECENT INVESTIGATIONS HAVE INSPIRED PLAYWRIGHTS FOR COMING SEASON

RECENT CRUSADES CAUSE

This Time Last Year Productions Based On Becker Affair Were Equally in Limelight

New York, Aug. 30.—New York theatrical producers are nothing if not timely and all signs along Broadway now point to a veritable deluge of "half world" plays when the 1913-14 season gets fairly under way in September.

Following the white slave traffic exposés, investigations, probes, trials and what not, that have swept the country in the last few months, beginning with John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s crusade in New York and leading up to the Dixie-Cammett trials in California, are coming a host of lurid plays built about the disorderly resorts and the women of them. Just about this time last year there were heads of crooks and gunmen plays growing out of the Rosenthal murder and its attendant investigations, so now the lightning playwrights are grinding out countless white slave manuscripts. They will range all the way from four act melodramas to 20 minute vaudeville sketches. Of the crook plays only a few lasted. That epidemic produced "Within the Law," "Fine Feathers" and a few like that, but most of the output died with the craze that brought them forth.

A well known Broadway actress fresh from her summer vacation, arrived in town the other day and the first agent she saw told her of a manager in the next block, who was looking for a woman for a part she would just fit. She is a high grade player and for several seasons has commanded good salaries. Without asking questions, she went to the manager named, and asked for the part telling the name of the agent who had sent her. The producer thought she would do and asked what salary she would consider. She told him and he said it was too much.

"By the way," he said, "do you know what kind of a part this is?" The actress said she had no idea. "It's the part of the keeper of a red light resort," he said bluntly, only he put it in much plainer words. There were several men and women in the office at the time, and they seemed not to notice the man's plain speech. The actress was a bit shocked and managed to say she would not consider the part.

"That same afternoon," she said, relating her experience, "I encountered three more managers who wanted me for such a part, and altogether I have seen more than half a dozen who are putting on those plays. Broadway is destined to be flooded with these underworld things this season. There will be more of them than there were of those gangster and stool pigeon productions last season."

The first of this kind of spasmodic drama was put on the other day in San Francisco. It is called "The Traffic" and does not mince words nor scenery either for that matter. It was written by Rachael Marshall, a 25 year old girl, in two weeks. She said she got her material while doing settlement work in Chicago with Miss Jane Adams.

How can a girl live on $6 a week and send her tubercular sister to the country? is the question asked by Miss Marshall's play, and she proceeds to answer her own query, in four acts of the most blood and thunder melodrama. The heroine grapples with the $6 a week problem for about thirty minutes and then gives in to the tempter. The first scene shows her struggle against the man, who finally conquers her by threatening to bring the sick sister from the country. The girl surrenders and the man unknown to the girl brings the sick sister also to his place. The elder sister finds this out and kills the man. That's all there is to it.

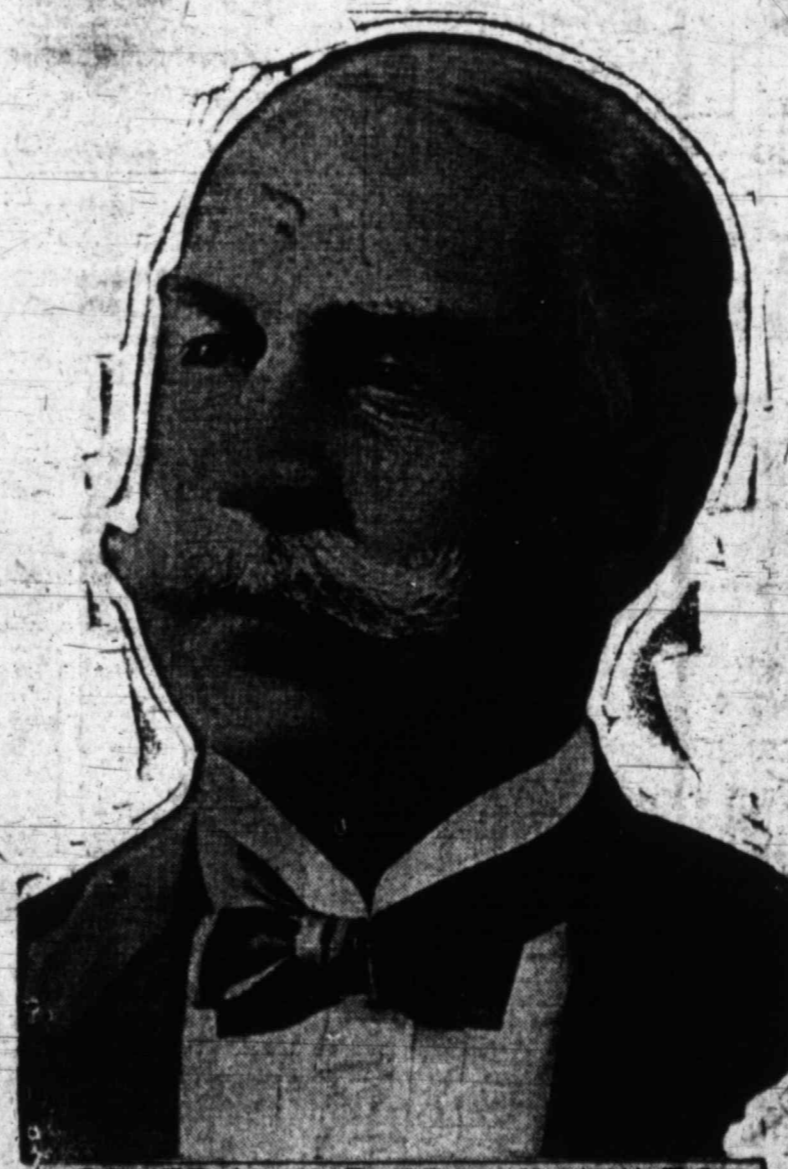

The latest census of real estate in Greater New York shows 180 theatres in the five boroughs. There are more than 300,000 buildings in the metropolis and something over half a million separate parcels of realty.

General Miles, Who Was Bottled Up In Sofia, Returns To America

GENERAL NELSON A. MILES.

New York, Aug. 30.—The return of General Nelson A. Miles, retired, from his European trip was made interesting by the fact that he was bottled up at Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria, during the war of the Balkan allies among themselves. General Miles was quoted when he left London for America as saying that he believed that Bulgarians were not guilty of atrocities, as alleged in war dispatches. It was because of these reports that a committee representing the peace movement, was recently appointed in Paris at the instigation of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia college, to investigate the conduct of the combatants.

from a circular frame 12 feet in diameter. This is made so that it can be folded into two halves for convenience in carriage. The net is made of extra heavy canvas and is covered with a pad. It is suspended from the frame on springs.

The ladder is fifty feet in length and can be raised up the side of a building by ropes from the ground.

It can be raised its full length in a few seconds, and will enable firemen to reach the fifth floors of a building which is as high as any of the buildings now constructed in the city stand.
