Washington, Sept. 2.—An announcement by the department of agriculture that the condition of the cotton crop was 68.2 per cent of normal on August 25, disclosed the fact that the plant had deteriorated 11.4 per cent since the July report. The condition at this period has been lower only three times during the past twenty-two years, in 1896 it was 64.2 and in 1902 it was 64 per cent and in 1909, 63.7. The greatest deterioration was in Oklahoma, where the loss was thirty-six per cent. In Texas it was seventeen per cent.

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 2.—The condition of the growing cotton crop of the United States on Monday, August 25 was 68.2 per cent of a normal, compared with 79.6 per cent on July 25 this year, 74.8 per cent on August 25, last year, 72.2 per cent in 1911 and 74.7 per cent the average condition on August 25 of the past ten years. This announcement was made today at noon by the crop reporting board of the United States Department of Agriculture, the condition being estimated from reports of its correspondents and agents throughout the cotton belt.
Since the July report growing conditions had been generally favorable throughout the eastern section of the cotton belt and the condition of the plant in the states east of the Mississippi was expected to show up well. In the states west of the Mississippi conditions were not so favorable, drought in Texas and Oklahoma, parts of Arkansas, Missouri and Louisiana marking the early part of the period which today's report covers. High temperatures prevailed throughout the second section dashed into the east, and another disaster occurred near the same place December 26, 1910, when eight passengers were killed and twenty-five injured.

NEW YORK BANK PRESIDENT ANSWERS SENATOR OWEN

New York, Sept. 2.—Answering the charge made by United States Senator Owen that a propaganda against the currency bill was being led by the National City Bank of New York, Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the bank, said tonight:
"We are not leading in any movement to kill the currency bill, but I consider any movement for the purpose of bettering legislation a wise and patriotic thing. It is all moonshine about a propaganda to defeat the bill. I want to see financial legislation effectuated. This bill has some correct principles, but it must be changed according to lines suggested at Chicago."

ENGLISH RAILROAD IS SCENE OF FATAL WRECK

London-Dublin Express Trains Collide and Death List is Believed to be Large

By Associated Press. Kirby, Stethen, Eng., Sept. 2.—Fifteen persons are believed to have been killed and thirty injured in a collision of two sections of the famous London-Dublin Express, southbound, early today. Official reports accounted for nine dead, while correspondents on the spot reported the fatalities numbered fifteen.
The second section dashed into the rear of the first telescoping several coaches, which burned. Many persons were trapped, and if not killed outright, they were burned to death. Ten of the thirty passengers taken from the wreckage suffering injuries or burned, may die.
The first section had stopped to get up steam for a sharp up grade when the second section dashed into it.
Another disaster occurred near the same place December 26, 1910, when eight passengers were killed and twenty-five injured.

AVIATOR REPEATS FEAT OF AERIAL SOMERSAULT

Again "Loops the Loop" in Aeroplanes, Sailing With Machine Turned Upside Down

By Associated Press. Versailles, France, Sept. 2.—The thrilling maneuver of turning a somersault in the air with an aeroplane was successfully repeated today by the French Aviator Pejoud over the aerodrome at Buc. Pejoud had promised that his performance yesterday was not the result of an accident, but was a proof of proper control and of the aviator's stability. He rose to a height of three thousand feet, turned his aeroplane into a vertical position, with its tail upward and drove toward the earth like an arrow. When he had descended to an altitude of fifteen hundred feet, he began to describe a vast letter S.
The wheels of the aeroplane were clearly visible sticking upward while Pejoud could be seen hanging with his head down. He sailed in this position for fifty seconds. Then with a great sweeping curve his machine again righted with the aviator head upward.
The greatest lesson learned from these startling feats according to experts, is that no matter in what position an aeroplane is placed by an accident, an aviator if he keeps his presence of mind, should be able to come down safely.

DELAY DECISION IN THAW'S CASE

QUEBEC'S ATTORNEY GENERAL AND PREMIER TAKES HAND IN THE PROCEEDINGS

ARGUMENTS ARE HEARD

Judge May Announce Verdict Tomorrow—Sarcastic Utterances Feature Discussion

By Associated Press. Sherbrooke, Sept. 2.—Harry K. Thaw faced a new force of the province of Quebec today but decision was withheld. Sir Lomer Gouin, attorney general and premier, intervened in the case through Amie Geoffroy and demanded that steps be taken at once to bring about Thaw's release from the Sherbrooke jail, where for two weeks the American has defied deportation.
Premier Gouin, through his representative, branded Thaw's detention as a scandal to the dominion, urged sarcastically that the Sherbrooke jail was "no public boarding house" and described Thaw as one who had boasted that he laughed at out-witting the authorities. He and counsel Jacobs, representing New York State, both appeared before Superior Judge Hutchinson and pressed for an immediate hearing on the habeas corpus writ obtained last week.
The court conceded their point and arguments were in progress at noon. If the writ is sustained, Thaw probably will be in the hands of immigration authorities by tomorrow night, possibly on his way to the border.
Arguments were concluded at one o'clock and to the great disappointment of those representing New York, the court reserved decision.
"It is a matter of such grave import," he said, "that I would not care to decide this matter until I have given it careful consideration. Possibly tomorrow I shall announce my decision. I shall notify all counsel."

Viscount Haldane, Lord High Chancellor Of England, Spends Five Days In U. S. And Canada

People of the United States and of Canada and the United Kingdom have for each other.

Viscount HALDANE

New York, Sept. 2.—Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor of England, who arrived here for a stay of five days, was whisked about the city and then up to West Point, after which he left for Montreal to speak before the American Bar association, which planned to return here and sail on Sept. 3 for England on the same liner that brought him here. Lord Haldane is a member of the British cabinet and rated as the ablest statesman in the empire today. His conferences with Kaiser Wilhelm during 1912 are thought to have actually averted war between England and Germany because of the ill feeling over war armaments. Questioned about the Mexican situation, he said he admired the woman suffrage, but is against the English militants. He had nothing to say on the Thaw case. He thought home rule for Ireland was never nearer.

Message From King

The Rt. Hon. Richard Burdon Haldane, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, delivered the address at the meeting in this city last night of the American Bar Association. His subject was "Higher Nationality, a Study in Law and Ethics," and he held the attention of his hearers until the end of his speech, which was only a little under ten thousand words long.

The Lord Chancellor began by emphasizing the fact that the United States, Canada and Great Britain together form a unique group because of the common inheritance of traditions, surroundings and ideals and particularly in the region of jurisprudence. He declared that lawyers are called on in days that lie in front to mould opinion and encourage the nations of this group to develop and recognize a reliable character in the obligations they assume toward each other. He said that there are relations possible within such a group that are not possible for nations more isolated and lacking identity of history and spirit. Canada, Great Britain and the United States, with common language, common interests, common ends, resemble a single society, which might develop a foundation for international faith of a kind new in the history of the world. The English visitor urged lawyers to assist in the freshening of the conventional atmosphere which surrounds men in public life by offering no opportunity to think rightly and to contribute to the fabricating of a more hopeful and resolute kind of public opinion. It was the chance of laying before the audience at the American Bar Association at Montreal this thought that induced him to obtain permission from King George V to visit this meeting.

Power of Lawyers

Continuing, Lord Haldane presented the following message from King George V:
"I have given my Lord Chancellor permission to cross the seas, so that he may address the meeting at Montreal. I have asked him to convey from me to that great meeting of the lawyers of the United States and of Canada my best wishes for its success. I entertain the hope that the deliberations of the distinguished men of both countries who are to assemble at Montreal may add yet further to the esteem and good will which the"

FATAL WRECK ON NEW HAVEN ROAD

SUMMER RESORT TRAIN IS TELESCOPED IN CONNECTICUT. MANY DEAD

IN REAR END COLLISION

Another Train Crashes into Bar Harbor Limited from Behind While Standing on Block

By Associated Press. New Haven, Conn., Sept. 2.—The second section of the Bar Harbor Limited, the New Haven railroad's finest train out of the Maine summer resort district, was telescoped by the first section of the White Mountain Express while the latter was standing in a block just outside New Haven this morning.
The number of dead, according to first reports to railroad officials was thirteen—and the injured—numbered fifty. All the dead and injured were in the three rear sleeping cars of the Bar Harbor train.
The Bar Harbor Limited had stopped in the block, but the last car was just on the edge of the block limits. The signal was cleared and the express had gotten under light way, when the White Mountain Express of seven cars came along. The engineer was unable to stop.
The shock of the collision was so terrific that bed clothing from the broken windows was carried to the telegraph wires where it hung when the wrecking train arrived. All the passengers were in their berths and in their night clothes, making identification of the dead difficult.
The two sleepers crushed by the impact of the engine were a mass of splinters. The locomotive ran on top of the wreckage and remained almost upright for a considerable time.
Three died later in hospitals. Engineer A. B. Miller of the White Mountain Express said as soon as he realized the danger, he did all he could to stop his train. The brakes would not hold on the wet track, and the train, running down grade, plowed its way into the Bar Harbor Limited.

"TEXAS GIANT" IS VISITOR IN CITY

G. O. KRAUS, SEVEN FEET, TWO INCHES TALL, HERE ON LONG HIKE

GOING TO SAN FRANCISCO

Is on Train for New York World and Has to Travel on Foot all the Way

G. O. Kraus, known from ocean to ocean as the Texas Giant is a visitor in Wichita Falls. Kraus is traveling for the New York World and is on his way to the San Francisco exposition and is to walk every foot of the way. He says he knows of forty-two persons who are walking to San Francisco. He met three of them recently in Wichita, Kansas. When they started out two years ago there were only two of this party, the third having arrived a few weeks ago. The man, he said, has made a wagon and has fitted harness about his own shoulders with which he draws the wagon in which his wife and baby ride.

Kraus is seven feet two inches in height and attracts curious crowds everywhere he goes. This enables him to pick up good money doing advertising for various lines of business. He has tramped thousands of miles working his way toward San Francisco. He carries a tent seven by seven feet with him and has not slept under any other roof since he left New York. In sleeping he has to double up in order to get his whole length under the tent. Kraus is as good natured as he is tall and isn't any braggadocio by any means. He says there are lots of people taller than himself, but admits that he is tall enough to make the ordinary person feel dwarfish. He says that he has a brother now traveling with Ringling's circus who is seven foot seven and speaking of his brother, he says all his family were tall. His father was seven foot two and he has a sister who is six foot eight. This sister he says married a man who was five foot four and he says no one who has never seen them can imagine what an odd looking pair they make. Kraus was born near Dallas and says that he gets lots of pleasure traveling around over the country. "I advertise my state, my paper and myself, and have a good time doing it," he said.

While Kraus says he gets along beautifully going it alone he admits that if he found the right kind of a Texas girl he would like to travel in double harness.

"MUNICIPAL SPOONERY" NOW OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Denver, Sept. 2.—The first "municipal spoonery" in the country is open for business today.

That is the name the youth of the city have already given to the Neighborhood House established by the city park board in connection with the municipal playgrounds at Elyria, a Denver suburb. Hereafter, under municipal regulations, young lovers may bill and woo to their hearts content.

The official "spoonstress" will be Mrs. J. M. Riskey, matron of the Neighborhood House. She will act as official chaperone, official advisor and first aid to cupid for the young women who frequent the house. There are men who have yet been selected will be on hand later to advise the youthful swains.

Each week during the winter thlyria taxpayers improvement association will give a dance for the benefit of the young men of the neighborhood and to further the root cause. Each week the Neighborhood Mothers Club will transform the neighborhood house into a cupid's bow for the edification of the young folk.

This is the principal business of the new neighborhood—to provide a respectable place where the young folk may gather in the evenings and be under proper chaperonage. But it is not the only business. During the winter, night classes in sewing, domestic science and manual training will be established.

The work being done here is more or less of an experiment and as such is being closely watched. If the plan succeeds it is expected that a similar Neighborhood House will be established by the park board in other sections of the city.

CITY HALL PARK PEOPLE'S FORUM

SUFFRAGETTES, SOCIALISTS AND OTHERS HOLD FORTH IN NEW YORK CITY

WOMEN USE MOTOR BUS

Speakers for Various Municipal Candidates Also Use Open Air Theater for Speeches

New York, Sept. 1.—City hall park at noon time these days is one of the busiest spots in Greater New York. It is in reality "the people's forum." During the luncheon hour no less than a dozen groups may be seen in the place, listening to the harangues of politicians, reformers of all kinds, socialists, industrial workers of the world, suffragists and religious workers.

With old Benjamin Franklin, Horace Greeley and Nathan Hale looking down from their pedestals clearly jostled to know what it is all about, the street orators expound their sure cures for all the industrial and political ills of the times and luncheon time in the park is filled to overflowing. A few minutes before noon the other day, a motor bus, like the ones that ply up and down Fifth avenue and Broadway from Washington Square to Grant's Tomb dashed into Park Row, alongside the Franklin monument, covered with yellow and white banners. From the roof a bugle sounded, and quickly the vehicle was surrounded by a crowd, for it is the easiest thing in the world to get a crowd in City Hall Park at noon. The motor bus is a new wrinkle and they do not know what to make of it. A woman, standing up on top of the bus, began to demand votes for women. Then the vehicle was quickly deserted by about half of the crowd. It is the latest scheme adopted by the New York suffragists to spread their propaganda and every noon and sometimes in the late evening, when the weather is favorable, the suffragists mount a motor bus and go down to join the other orators in City Hall Park.

About the same time a hand organ can be heard at the curb near Brook Bridge, and a glance there shows several women with brilliant red badges across their waists. They are striking knitters, who want more pay and shorter hours and they are appealing to the public to contribute to their support while they are idle in their fight against the employers. While the hand organ plays, the tricklers go about among the crowds collecting nickles, dimes and pennies.

But the women are not the only people taking advantage of the huge noon day crowds that pour into the park from the Woolworth building and other skyscrapers in the downtown district. With the municipal campaign well under way, the advocates of the various majority candidates are making hay while the sun shines. In one spot a be-whiskered man with eye glasses on the end of his bulbous nose pleads in strident tones for the reelection of Mayor Ayer, while some of his hearers such audibly and ask what about the id on the Great White Way. A few yards away, trying to out about the wisdom of his rival, another man scolds the virtues of John Purroy Mitchell, the Fusion candidate and still another self constituted campaigner brags about the prowess of District Attorney Whitman, even though the prosecutor has turned down the Republican nomination.

With all these orators going at once, we can hardly make his way through the crowded plaza at luncheon times at the craters are not all. The awkers crowd the sidewalks at every step. Two or three men want to sell books "that will make you an American citizen for ten cents" and a dozen or more will sell you a red guide of New York and Brooklyn for a nickle. Others are selling shoes, pocket knives, suspenders, collar buttons, etc.

At the Brooklyn Bridge exit of the subway may be found a new kind of news boys. There are always from half a dozen to a score of the little fellows, all boys under ten years of age, who cry "morning paper" at every man and woman who comes from the subway, but the boys have nothing to sell. Instead of offering newspapers for sale, they are buying them.

The various newspapers of New York pay for "tokens." That is, they will redeem for half a cent all newspapers unsold. The boys who beg the newspapers from subway passengers take them to an agency who buys them, irons them out smooth and collects the half cent of toll for each one.

Many of the downtown offices have rules that employes must bring newspapers into them. Employes in such places always discard their newspapers when leaving the subway and the little beggars reap a rich harvest.

Old Ways and New.
The fault of the age is a mad endeavor to leap to heights that were made to climb. By a burst of strength of a thought most clever, we plant to forestall and outwit Time. We scorn to wait for the thing worth having; We wait nigh noon at the day's dim dawn; We find no pleasure in toiling and saving. As our forefathers did in the old times gone. We force our roses before their season. To bloom and blossom for us to wear; And then we wonder and ask the reason. Why perfect buds are so few and rare. We crave the gain, but despise the getting; We want wealth—not as reward, but dower; And the strength that is wasted in useless fretting. Would fell a forest or build a tower. To cover the prize, yet to shrink from the winning; To thirst for glory, yet fear to fight; Why, what can it lead to, at last, but sinning; To mental languor and moral blight! Better the old, slow way of striving, And counting small gains when the year is done, Than to use our force and our strength And to grasp for pleasure we have not won.

HUMAN SYMPATHIES

Peculiar How They Are Sometimes Influenced by Mere Money.

BY GRACE EVANSON.
"Yes, Mrs. Tompkins, Uncle John's dead and gone at last, and it was about time, too, seeing that he was eighty-nine last June—and when a man gets to be that old and has a temper like Uncle John's he isn't good for much more. And deceitful! Well, I don't want to speak ill of the dead, but if his whole life was like the last year of it, when we knew him, I'm not over sanguine about his future."
"This is how it all happened. Of course Silas and I had heard of Uncle John all our lives, for we were cousins before we were married, and having no children we naturally kept a warm spot in our hearts for the old man. We knew he was good for nothing and never put by a penny, all the years of his life, but still, we're not uncharitable."
"Yes, we'd heard all about that ton-time years ago and put it out of our minds. We thought it was just a story. So when Uncle John turns up at the farm on his eighty-eighth birthday, all ragged like a tramp, and hungry as though he didn't know what food meant, we were naturally annoyed. We've always held up our heads among our neighbors, and we didn't want it said we couldn't do right by our uncle."
"Maria," he said—those were his very words as he sat in the parlor in his dirty, shabby clothes, and we mortally afraid some of the neighbors would come in and see him—"Maria, I've come to lay my bones among you. Will you give me a home now that I'm good for nothing any longer?"
"I looked at Silas and he looked at me. Then he took me aside. 'I guess we'll have to, Maria,' he said softly. 'We can't put him in the poorhouse—us being so respectable. Besides, maybe he can earn his keep doing chores about the farm.'"
"So we took him in and let him sleep in the attic. There's an old straw mattress there, and we gave him

PHONES 432 AND 232 AUTO DELIVERY

Now I know that that sounds like pretty strong talk but I've got a reason for saying it and you will agree with me if you will investigate the question carefully. There can be but one best brand, others may come pretty close to it but there is bound to be one high grade point that is only reached by one brand and in my estimation Seal Brand is that coffee. I have known it for some time and would have been glad to offer it to my customers had I been able to buy it, but it is such a good coffee that the Chase & Sanborn Company limit it to one dealer in a town. Seal Brand sells for 45c per one pound tin, 80c for 2 pound tins and $1.20 for 3 pound tins. You can get it for a little less if you buy it in two or three pound lots. Here's what I will guarantee to do: If you want the very best coffee in America, and will try one pound of Seal Brand and after using it you don't like it I will refund your money. That is my faith in the quality of Seal Brand.

Automobile Also Taken, But Is Later Found—McGrattan-Millsaps Is Burglarized

Burglars were abroad in Wichita Falls Monday night. McGrattan and Millsaps dry goods store was entered, as was Isler's grocery store on the north side of the river and Sam Spores automobile was appropriated. The automobile was found this morning on Scott avenue but the switch coil had been removed. At McGrattan and Millsaps entrance was gained through a window in closet at the rear of the store. The window was pried open and the door on the closet was taken from its hinges allowing entrance into the store. The visitor took a silver dollar from the open cash register and appropriated two thirty dollar suits of clothes. One was size 38 and the other size 40. Nothing else was missing.

At Isler's grocery one of the front windows was pried open and a quantity of ham and other meats taken.

"Will You Give Me a Home?" an old crazy quilt and let him eat his meals with us, just like one of the family, and what little work he did hardly left a penny of profit after his expenses were considered. Ate like a hog, he did. I say it's indecent for a man of eighty-eight to eat like that.

"O, that wench Mary Callaghan? I was just coming to her, Mrs. Tompkins. Well, she was a poor girl Silas and me had taken pity on out of the goodness of our hearts. Daughter of an old friend of my husband's, Mrs. Tompkins, and Silas owed him a thousand dollars, and he asked him on his death-bed if he wouldn't take care of his girl and tear up the note. Of course Silas consented, seeing he was an old friend. Besides, we wanted a maid, for I'm not so strong as I used to be. And she was that lazy! Often I'd come down at eight o'clock and find the rooms wasn't swept and the pigs not fed and the chickens hungry for food, and Mary'd just stare at me in her stupid way and say nothing. I couldn't train her at all. We'd have packed her off, but for our charitable natures—besides a maid would have cost fifteen dollars a month.

"Well, wench! you believe it, Mary and the old man struck up the queerest kind of friendship. She used to steal pies and things for him out of the kitchen when I was away. Fancy an old man of eighty-eight eating pie! And she'd give him blankets for his bed when it was cold—my blankets, that I keep for company, all wool, and costing five dollars a pair!"

"Well, Maria," said Silas, when I told him I couldn't do anything with her, "I guess them paupers just naturally takes to one another." And that was the way it seemed to me. If I had known! But I'm a simple woman, Mrs. Tompkins, and it never entered my head what a designing hussy she was."

"Well, it was on the old man's eighty-ninth birthday, and he hadn't done a chore for two days, and Silas spoke up to him.

"Uncle John," he said, "I guess we can't keep you for nothing. You never was worth anything to me and now you'd best get up to the poorhouse."

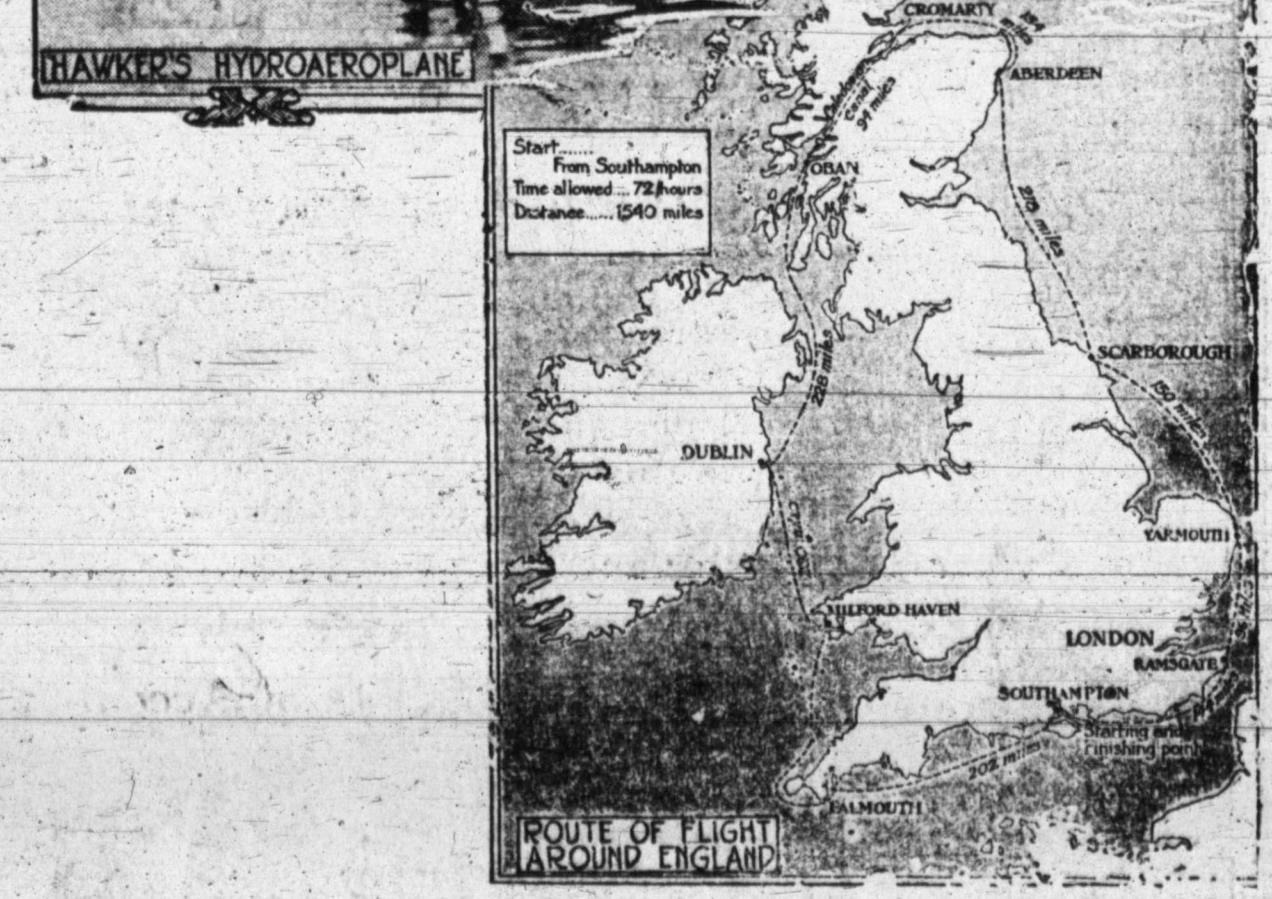

"Poorhouse?" says Uncle John.

First Attempt To Fly Around England For $25,000 Prize Aroused The Aviation World

London, Sept. 2.—Aviation enthusiasts watched with keen interest the steps in Harry G. Hawker's flight to capture the $25,000 prize for being the first air man to fly around England. The task was not at all easy one—in fact, it was one of the most ambitious flights ever mapped out for an aviator. Hawker used a big hydro-aeroplane, and when he left Southampton on August 25 for the 1,600 mile air journey around the island he felt that he would accomplish the feat in the allotted time of four days. He was the only one entered in the prize fight. On the first day he covered 495 miles and on the second day 341 miles, so that he was a little over half way round England in two days. This led him to feel confident that he would reach Southampton on time.

Whether suffrage is to be extended to women or not, it is hardly likely they can possibly exercise poorer judgment in the selection of men and women to fill political offices than most of them do in the selection of their husbands.

For the month of July the export business for the United States shows a net increase of $11,000,000 over that of July, 1912. This was not accomplished in the face of the fact that nearly all Republicans and a few weak-kneed Democrats predicted that if Wilson was elected and "he tinkered with the tariff" business of every kind would suffer.

Frank Robb of Brownsville, and Zach L. Cobb of El Paso, have landed the collectorships of their respective districts. Although the terms of the present Republican incumbents do not expire until 1914, and so far as known they were conducting the affairs of their offices in a satisfactory manner, their resignations were asked for. That begins to look more like business. The Democrats are entitled to fill the offices under a Democratic administration regardless as to expiration dates of the commissions of the present incumbents, provided Democrats who are competent and worthy can be found who are willing to take the offices.

According to statistics compiled by B. Hill of the U. S. Geological survey the production of natural gas from wells in Texas for the year 1912 was 7470,373,000 cubic feet with a money value of $1,406,977, which is an increase in volume over 1911 of 1,969,980 cubic feet, and in money value an increase of $390,132. The greater portion of this gas was supplied for domestic use, but much of it is being used in generating power for brick and glass factories, mills, elevators, gins, ice plants, electric plants, etc. By far the greater portion of this gas comes from wells in the Petrolia gas field.

The union labor organizations, the Times thinks, owe it to themselves to make a most thorough investigation into the disgraceful affair that took place on one of our streets last night when it is alleged that a band which had been invited by one of our fraternal organizations was interfered with and molested while parading on one of the streets. As the Times understands the matter, the members of this visiting band of musicians were also members of the same fraternal organization that had invited them to the city, and as they were conducting themselves as gentlemen should, the mere excuse that they were not union musicians was not sufficient provocation to deny them courteous treatment that should be extended to all visitors, without regard as to who they are, where they come from, or whether they happen to be union or non-union.

After the income tax becomes a law there will be a lot of new jobs open to those who are anxious to get their feet under the pie counter. Also, it appears that these jobs will not be given under civil service reform rules, which means that, in most cases, the party in power parcel them out to the true and faithful, which arrangement is all right. Civil service is the rank-and-file kind of fraud. There are thousands of school boys who can stand a much better civil service examination than men who are by far and in every way better qualified to conduct business in a business-like way for the government, but under the civil service examination law these competent business men will be forced out of the service by the young fellows just out of school and who will have to learn after years of actual experience the correct methods of conducting business. The present administration, judging from the action of congress in this income tax business, has to use a rather slangy expression, about "caught up" on this civil service reform business, and is going to have just as little to do with it as possible.

ARE WE PLAYING INTO HUERTA'S HAND?

When John Lind went to Mexico as President Wilson's special representative our attitude toward the Huerta government was vague and ill-defined. We were in a position to adopt almost any policy with reference to the alleged Mexican authorities, and for this reason it is quite likely that they were very anxious to discover what policy we proposed to adopt, since from the very nature of the cast definite action on our part could not help affecting their status before the world.

The failure of our state department to recognize the Huerta government was equivalent to a declaration that the United States did not consider it either a government de facto or a government de jure; and, since certain other great powers of the world did not concur in this opinion, it was manifestly incumbent upon the United States to explain its own opinion in the matter and suggest such remedial measures as seemed best suited to the occasion.

For this reason John Lind was dispatched to Mexico City as the special representative of the president for the purpose of laying certain suggestions before the Huerta government. It was quite definitely understood that should Mr. Lind's mission prove unsuccessful and these suggestions be rejected, the United States would be obligated to adopt and declare a fixed policy to Mexico.

In such an event four courses were open to this government:

First—We could recede from our demands, recognize the Huerta government and treat the constitutionalists as rebels. Such a policy would have been exceedingly advantageous to the Huerta government in one respect, but exceedingly disadvantageous in another, for, while Huerta would then have been vested with legal authority, at the same time he would have been compelled to assume the responsibility of protecting American lives and American property, and could have been made answerable for such responsibility.

Second—We could either intervene on the ground that no legitimate government exists in Mexico, or at least could declare our intention to do so if conditions are not immediately altered for the better. Such a policy would have been in effect very inimical to the Huerta government, and it is more than probable that he would either have abdicated or fallen in a short time. Of course it might have been necessary to make a pretense of intervention, but it is quite doubtful, considering the weakness of the Huerta government, if the Mexican people would have tolerated it up in the face of certain discomfiture.

Third—We could recognize the belligerency of both Huerta and the constitutionalists and allow both parties the free exportation of arms and munitions of war from this country. Such a policy would have left us in an impartial position toward both factions, but would have possessed this advantage, that we could have held either faction responsible for the protection of Americans, since we had recognized either faction as a fighting force.

Fourth—We could deny any government to exist, place an embargo on all arms, assume an attitude of indifference and let the strife take its course. Such a policy would have relieved Huerta from responsibility—legal responsibility—to protect Americans, and also would have placed him in a most advantageous position with respect to the constitutionalists, since it would have precluded them from importing arms and munitions, for the very good reason and they are in possession of no ports, while it would leave him free to buy and import them from the open markets of the world.

Furthermore, we have placed ourselves in a position to hold no one legally responsible for the protection of Americans, and the only way in which we can hold any one so responsible is by resorting to force. If no government exists in Mexico, what government are we going to look to for indemnity and redemption? If we are to hold those who are in authority responsible for American losses and suffering, how are we going to hold them responsible except by force?

Had we recognized Huerta we would have made him responsible; had we threatened intervention we would have crushed him; had we recognized the belligerency of both factions we would have been really impartial—and at the same time made them both responsible. As it is, we have freed everybody from responsibility; have become actually partial, though professing impartiality, and have placed ourselves in a position where we can not enforce protection for Americans without receding from our declared intention not to resort to force.

Is it possible that after all we have played into Huerta's hands? That he knows it and will possess the nerve and perspicacity to take advantage of it? He says he is perfectly willing for the present arrangement to continue between the two countries until after the elections. Why not? Has he anything to lose by it?—Houston Chronicle.

NEW FACTORIES ARE CONSIDERED

GLOVE AND OVERALL PLANTS DISCUSSED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

SESSION OF DIRECTORS

Delegation is Sent to National Good Roads Convention—Discuss Damming of Wichita River

The head of a canvas glove concern having factories at several cities in this state and who has been negotiating with the Chamber of Commerce relative to establishing a factory here, was invited by the directors of that organization Tuesday morning to visit the city again with a view of entering into a contract.

He asks that Wichita Falls citizens subscribe one-third of a capital stock of $25,000 for the plant here. Mr. Kemp and other directors reported the results of investigating his standing and reliability and the reports were favorable. If a contract is entered into he will be asked to put up a certified check for $1,000 as a guaranty of his good faith.

Overall Factory May Come. Secretary Thomas at Tuesday morning's meeting reported that a letter had been received from the owner of an overall factory in another city asking if a site would be donated if he removed his plant to Wichita Falls. Mr. Thomas reported that he had answered the letter stating that a site would be donated and the directors approved his action.

The directors voted an appropriation to pay the expenses of D. P. Talley to the National Good Roads Convention at Detroit and adopted a resolution asking the county commissioners court to send one or more of its members to the same convention.

Eighty-nine dollars was appropriated to be paid to Secretary Jeffrey of the recent race meet to liquidate a bill of incurred expenses.

Damming Up River. J. D. Marlow asked if now would not be a good time to take up the matter of damming the Big Wichita River. Mr. Kemp told of steps that had already been taken to interest outside capital in the project, and told of visits to other irrigation projects. He said that the damming of the Big Wichita had been one of the dreams of his life and that if he could bring this about and the irrigation of between 100,000 and 200,000 acres of land in the Big Wichita valley he would be ready to quit active work.

INSANE DETECTIVE SHOOTS TWO RAILROAD EMPLOYEES. Hartford, Conn., Sept. 2.—Plenty of excitement was had with a fringe of wild west spirit started in the railroad yards here when Isador Broder, railroad detective, suddenly stricken insane, held up railroad men in a switchman's shanty. When all had their hands uplifted, Broder began firing. Two bullets found their marks. Broder backed out and officers later arrested him. Two railroad employes were wounded.

TROUBLE MARKS LODGE'S PARADE

OBJECTION TO NON-UNION BAND FROM BOWIE CAUSES TROUBLE ON STREET

SOME BLOWS ARE STRUCK

Visiting Musicians Heading Parade of Moose Lodge Become Mixed in General Encounter

Torches were knocked from the hands of marchers in the Moose lodge parade, several marchers were struck with band instruments and were roughly handled last night in a display of feeling against the Moose band of Bowie which was playing for the marchers. The Bowie band is not a union organization and was here to play for the Moose dance last night. Its members are all said to be members of the Moose lodge and they came here to play for the dance coming without pay.

The trouble was precipitated when the Moose parade marched north on Ohio avenue from the Moose hall. At the corner of Ohio avenue and Eighth street the Wichita band was playing and the Moose parade was led through or past the parade claims just it) and the Wichita band claims through it). Then the trouble started. Torches were grabbed from the hands of the leaders of the parade and several were struck. Secretary Stillwell of the Moose lodge was one of those struck. He was hit on the lower jaw with a drum beater or other instrument and his lower lip was badly cut. Several members of the Bowie band were also roughly handled and for a time serious trouble was threatened.

A large crowd was gathered on the corner and some union labor partisans who were inspired by liquor rather than sober judgment seemed determined to have trouble. Finally sober counsel and the efforts of the police prevailed and the parade was continued without molestation.

SUICIDES WHEN BROTHER THREATENS TO KILL SELF. Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—Mystery surrounding the death of Miss Jane Jamison who, with her brother, George Jamison, was found inconspicuous at Radnor, near here, was cleared up today, when the police got possession of a letter written by Miss Jamison to a woman relative in Philadelphia, informing her that her brother had declared his intention of committing suicide, that she had not the courage to live alone and would therefore join him in death. Miss Jamison was 60 and her brother 82. The woman died soon after removal to a hospital, but the man is recovering. The Jamisons had been well and do but recently had lost some money and fear of poverty was said to have caused the man to decide upon suicide.

MRS. ELSIE FRENCH VANDERBILT MRS. HOLLINS MCKIM VANDERBILT PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Newport, R. I., Sept. 2.—Society had something to talk about when Alfred G. Vanderbilt and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Emerson Smith Hollins McKim Vanderbilt, who recently returned from abroad, came here for the tennis matches. It had to decide whether to receive the A. G. Vanderbilt with open arms or give them the cold shoulder in favor of the former Mrs. A. G. Vanderbilt—who was Elsie French. They say that the society patrons whose nod is law beamed upon Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt, while they gave the present Mrs. Vanderbilt the glassy stare. Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt is attractive and popular with the women as well as with the men. They say she won so easily in the social war which was declared between the past and present Mrs. Vanderbilt. The society gossip says Mr. Vanderbilt and his present wife were not invited to the Fish ball or to Mrs. Oelrich's preceding affair.

partment will be shown to the visitors. Keep Your Eyes on Southland Addition Contract for 200,000 square feet of cement sidewalks was let last week. Work is progressing rapidly on sewerage system and new street car line. Water mains to guarantee a plentiful water supply for the addition will be laid shortly. SOUTHLAND ADDITION will be the most complete residence addition ever placed on the market in West Texas. Buyers will be protected by restrictions preventing the building of unsightly shacks through the placing of a minimum building restriction on the property when needed. These restrictions will not, however, retard the building of modest homes. Lot owners will be protected against the building of outhouses alongside front of lots by preventing lots being cut cross-wise and backing up against other lots. Lots will be sold for residence purposes only.

SOUTHLAND ADDITION WILL not be placed on the market until all improvements are completed. It will be a full grown addition that will sell rapidly and build rapidly. It's location is far enough away from the noise and dirt of the business district to be very desirable for homes and close enough in to give quick direct car service down town to enable the busy man to lose but little time. WAIT FOR SOUTHLAND ADDITION. OPENING SALE WILL TAKE PLACE IN ABOUT 30 DAYS.

GEN. JESUS CARRANZA ASKS WILSON TO LET REBELS FIGHT IT OUT

Mexico City, Sept. 1.—Given unrestricted opportunities to buy munitions of war in the United States, the constitutionalists will sweep Provisional President Huerta from power, assume responsibility for injury done foreigners, hold a free and fair election and re-establish Mexico firm in cordial relations with the United States, according to a statement from General Jesus Carranza, which Dr. Henry Allen Tupper and Captain J. T. Armstrong of the International Peace Forum are carrying to President Wilson. Dr. Tupper and Captain Armstrong were commissioned by the Peace Forum to confer with constitutionalist leaders in an effort to devise possible peace measures. General Carranza is a brother of Governor Venustiano Carranza of Coahuila, leader of the constitutionalists.

COURT FOR SETTLEMENT OF DOMESTIC RELATIONS

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 2.—A domestic relations court, with absolute jurisdiction in all local divorce cases and with the full powers of a circuit court, today came into existence in Detroit. It is said to be the only court of its kind in the world. Judge Arthur J. Lacy, who will preside, said today that the creation of the new court places Detroit and Wayne county far in advance of any other city or county in the union in the matter of solving vital social problems.

"The new court will handle 2,000 pro confesso divorce cases each year," said Judge Lacy today, "who explained that he based his estimate upon the work of similar nature done in other courts of the city and which in the future will be handled by the domestic relations tribunal exclusively. The work in connection with the new court will probably be divided under the following sub-headings: divorce suits, abandonment, desertion and other felony cases; cases of cruelty to wives; applications for warrants for non-support; miscellaneous complaints for contributing to child delinquency, cruelty to children; violations of compulsory education law and other minor complaints."

Judge Lacy's court was created by special enactment of the last Michigan legislature and Lacy is an appointee of Gov. Ferris. The court is empowered to appoint its own salaried special investigators, who will conduct independent inquiries into the merits of each case before the court.

"Jay Walkers" Are Doomed.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 2.—A campaign of ridicule directed toward the extermination of the "Jay Walker Family" was inaugurated here today by the local automobile club. The "Jay Walker Family" according to explanations made today is numerous. It is composed of those motorists who cross congested streets without first looking to see if it is safe to do so. The local automobile club today adopted resolutions suggesting propaganda to be distributed all over the country to tell of the Jay Walker family. Automobile clubs over the country, it was decided today, will be asked to aid in exterminating Mr. and Mrs. Jay Walker and all the little Walkers.

Good Intentions! Do you remember what you told yourself, the wife, loved ones and friends about beautifying and marking the lonely mound out on the hill? Good men and true all over this part of the country, have said time and time again, they were going to mark the sacred plots in the cemetery tomorrow, next month, next year. But visit those graves, and you will find them unremembered, unmarked. In many instances, there is a rotten board, which the dust of time has all but destroyed. Every cemetery has its unmarked, unremembered dead, thus hindering those who have the work at heart and desire to make the place beautiful and attractive. Why pave your way with good intentions and as the shadows of night gather round you forget them? Count your marked graves, and you KNOW your best citizens in any community. Come to our plant and do your part in this great work.

RAINS AT MANY POINTS: THREE INCHES AT SPUR

Showers Reported From Parts of West Texas and Oklahoma Monday Today The Wichita Valley agent at Spur reported a three inch rain at that place between three and four o'clock this morning. A half inch rain is reported from Peacock about twenty miles east of Spur but this is as far east as the rain extended. Good rains over Dickens county on the south plains were reported yesterday. Showers fell over the country around Altus, Oklahoma this morning. Hobart and Weatherford and Elk City, reported about half an inch of rain last night. A heavy rain is reported at Foss, Okla., and showers are reported from Mangum, Chickasha, and Anadarko, Okla., and it was believed this morning that showers would be general over Western Oklahoma. A good rain is reported from Big Springs, Texas, yesterday evening. A light rain also fell at Navasota, according to reports received by the Western Union Telegraph Company this morning. HIGH COST OF LIVING HITS OLD GEORGETOWN CONVENT Washington, Sept. 2.—The high cost of living has struck Georgetown convent, one of the oldest in the country and next year, when the girls come to be educated in this old gray, ivy clad building, they will have to pay a higher tuition. In all the hundred and fifty years of its existence, the convent has never changed its tuition fees, a ridiculous low one, but recently the State Superior, with a furrowed brow, decided that the deficits were becoming so large that even the voluntary contributions from the alumnae could not make it up. Georgetown convent is a landmark of old colonial and ante bellum days. In this old school, sitting well back in an English garden in the old aristocratic section of Georgetown, the daughters of the aristocracy went to be "finished" in needlework, house-keeping, spinning and manners. Virginia, Washington, Maryland and the Carolinas for over one hundred years have been sending their daughters to Georgetown Convent. Now economics have entered into the scheme of things and the old families whose fortunes have retrograded as time has advanced, face a new phase of the higher cost of living in the high cost of education.
