DECLARE PRIEST WAS IMPOSTOR

INVESTIGATION OF HANS SCHMIDT, CONFESSION SLAYER, SEQUON BY CHURCH

SAYS WAS "SACRIFICE"

Arrested Man Declares Saint Elizabeth His Patron, Told Him to Kill the Girl

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 15.—In the hope of branding as an impostor and pseudopriest the Rev. Hans Schmidt, the alleged confessor slayer of Alma Amuller, victim of New York's river murder mystery, church authorities today began today a sweeping investigation of Schmidt's record and his pretensions to ordination.

In his cell at the Tombs, Schmidt had little to add to his alleged confession last night, in which he told the police that he killed his victim as she lay in bed, cut up her body in the bath tub of her apartment, wrapped it in bundles and threw it in the Hudson river.

To Rev. L. J. Evers, the Tombs chaplain, Schmidt was said to have declared:

"I was directed to kill her by Saint Elizabeth who is my patron, as a sacrifice, to be consummated as was the sacrifice of Abraham in blood."

In the apartment, among other things, the police found a marriage license issued in New York last February and bearing the names of the priest and the murdered woman.

According to Schmidt's confession, he went through a marriage ceremony with the girl in this ceremony Schmidt was both priest and bridegroom; there were no witnesses.

A gaily colored pillow of unusual pattern led to Schmidt's apprehension. This pillow, stained with blood and soiled with the filth of the river, was wrapped around in a portion of the torso. The detectives traced the pillow to its manufacturer, the manufacturer traced it to the dealer and the dealer traced it to Schmidt. And the police, tracing Schmidt and the girl, knew all about both of them hours before they arrested him.

Schmidt was arrested by Inspector Faurot, in charge of the detective bureau. The priest was dressed in full clerical garb when the detective entered his rooms in the parish house of St. Boniface, West 155th street. The inspector produced a photograph of Miss Amuller and asked Schmidt if he knew the girl.

The priest, after a moment of hesitation, inquired whether his visitors were police officers. His actions indicated that he was expecting arrest. He then asked permission to change his clothes and it was when he left the room Inspector Faurot declared that he attempted to cut his throat with a safety razor blade.

Confession Reported by Police. The confession, which the police say Schmidt made, is as follows:

"I met Anna Amuller two years ago at the parish house of St. Boniface Church. She was employed as a servant there. I was attracted by her beauty. I became infatuated with her. I loved her because I loved her so much. She was so beautiful, so good, I could not let her live without me.

"I had made up my mind that she and I could not live together. I was a priest and must remain in the church. I could not let her go away from me. So I opened the door of the flat. I awakened her. I told her I had come to fulfill my threat. Then I drew the knife across her throat.

"I cut the body into six pieces. I made trips to the Port Lee ferry each time with part of her precious body in a bundle. When the ferry boat reached the middle of the stream I would throw a piece into the water and when the boat reached the other side of the river I would return and go back to the flat.

"After I had disposed of the body I wanted to destroy all evidence of the crime. I took the mattress on which I had slain her and carried it to a vacant lot and there I burned it.

"Must Pay the Penalty. "I am guilty; that is all I can say. I must pay the penalty. There is nothing else for me to do. But I loved Anna Amuller.

"She wanted me to marry her, and I procured a marriage license. She trusted me.

"I am a priest and ordained to perform marriage ceremonies, so when she insisted upon a ceremony, I married myself to her. There was no need of any other priest doing it. It was just as absolute as if I had called in another person with authority to perform a marriage ceremony. She was my wife."

TOO MUCH GOOD TIME AT GOVERNOR'S MEETING

Next Convention Will be Arranged to Devote More of Its Time to Real Work

Denver, Colo., Sept. 15.—Things will be done differently—much differently—at the next conference of governors, than they were done at the conference recently held here. The governors are unanimous in declaring that Denver officials and Denver business men were cordial and too hospitable. They couldn't get their scheduled work done without demanding almost that they be excused from some of the good times, which the good people of Denver and vicinity had planned for them. The Colorado Springs officials and business men—it was at Colorado Springs that the meetings were held—were just as cordial as the Denverites.

Although it doesn't appear in the minutes of the meetings, a committee, nevertheless, has been appointed to put the extinguisher, in advance, at the next conference, on local committees which plan to work overtime at entertaining and showing the governors "a pleasant time."

The Colorado Springs entertainment committee didn't hesitate to frame up all sorts of delightful trips and entertainments for the governors. Some of these programs seriously interfered with the actual work of the conference and the state executives several times had to flatly refuse to take part in any entertainments that they were not consulted about in advance.

One instance was cited by several governors before they left for their homes. On August 27 several governors were scheduled to read papers. Shortly before the time set for the opening of the session at which these papers were to be read, a local entertainment committee dashed into the hall and told the governors to hurry up or they'd be late. Not until then did the governors know that it had been planned to take them on a delightful trip to the Marshall Mountain where a breakfast dinner had been planned after the meeting and reading of papers was over. The governors balked at the last minute and wouldn't go.

Schmidt was arrested by Inspector Faurot, in charge of the detective bureau. The priest was dressed in full clerical garb when the detective entered his rooms in the parish house of St. Boniface, West 155th street. IS TAKEN TO CATHEDRAL

Procession is Through East Side After Body Lies in State in Political Club Rooms

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 15.—Big Tim Sullivan passed through the streets of the East Side today for the last time. His body was taken this morning to the old Cathedral of St. Patrick, a quarter of a mile from the rooms of the association bearing his name, where it lay in state since Saturday.

Tens of thousands of men and women from every section of New York had gazed on his features there. Today the body was borne from the Cathedral to its last resting place in Calvary Cemetery, Brooklyn. A delegation of Congress, headed by Representative Kinkaid of New Jersey, led the mourners. Behind this delegation marched the longest funeral train the East Side has ever seen.

In the army men with silk hats rubbed shoulders with Bowery tramps and women in silks and furs mingled with their poorly clad sisters from the tenements.

WEATHER FORECAST

Generally cloudy; showers tonight and Tuesday.

OIL FIELD NEWS

Woodruff and Nelson's Gen. Roller No. 1 was drilled into the sand at about 3 o'clock this morning and is showing for one of the best wells in the shallow field south of Iowa Park. The sand was found at a depth of about five hundred feet, twenty feet deeper than in the wells on the Lockridge tract. This well is located six hundred feet east of Allen and Ellington's No. 6 and is in the northwest corner of the Maverick survey. Woodruff and Nelson are under contract to drill not less than twenty-five wells to the shallow sand on this lease. They are planning to start three or four more wells at once.

S. C. Redd, formerly with the Eastern Oil Company now manager for C. B. Shafer and Company, left this afternoon for Oklahoma City, after being here for several days. He expects to return in about two weeks to look after the progress of drilling on a well his company is starting on the S. W. Scott ranch eleven miles east of Haskell, Texas.

Two wells are being started on W. R. Ferguson's place west of the Hugh Relfly farm. One will be drilled by the Guffey Company and the other by the Producers.

SENATE AGREES TO HOUSE RESOLUTION MAKING APPROPRIATION FOR HELP

BRISTOW MAKES COMMENT

Says President's Warning to Americans in Mexico Has Only Served to Make Matters Worse

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 15.—Without reference to a committee, the Senate today unanimously agreed to the House joint resolution appropriating immediately $100,000 for the relief and transportation of American citizens from Mexico.

Senator Bristow did not grant his consent to passage until he criticized the administration policy, declaring friends had written from Mexico since the president issued his warning for Americans to leave Mexico and he said:

CLEAN MARRIAGE LAWS ARE URGED BY BALDWIN

Believes That Church Should Take the Lead in Spreading Sex Hygiene Propaganda

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 15.—Governor Baldwin of Connecticut is a firm believer in "clean marriage laws" and suffrage for women. To the United Press he said he considers Washington's "clean marriage law" all right in its way but believes the Washingtonians started their campaign in the wrong place.

"The church ought to take up sex hygiene first," said Governor Baldwin today. "Then it should be taken up in the schools. Then the legislature ought to be heard from by passing laws to aid the fight."

"The church has neglected one of its greatest responsibilities in failing to undertake the improvement of the race through clean marriage advocacy of clean marriages. Preachers should refuse to marry couples unless both parties to the marriage are physically fit. This doesn't necessarily mean that two people should be physically perfect in order to marry. It does mean, however, that neither should be permitted to marry if certain physical defects or diseases make it a crime for them to marry."

Governor Baldwin has his own theories regarding women's suffrage. Few have expressed advocacy of the vote for woman as the Connecticut executive expressed it today.

"I think the franchise should be given to women," said Governor Baldwin, "but it should be given to them gradually. First, I would give the municipal franchise only to women tax payers. Then I would give all women tax payers state suffrage. Next the franchise should be given to all women tax payers permitting them to vote in municipal, state, county and national elections. If these experiments all proved successful the vote should be given to all women."

Mr. Mack claimed that Hennessy had published charges that Mack had unlawfully appropriated money contributed to the campaign fund of John A. Dix and also that Hennessy's statement charges that Mack backtracked individuals and corporations in connection with the collection of campaign funds.

Senator Bristow did not grant his consent to passage until he criticized the administration policy, declaring friends had written from Mexico since the president issued his warning for Americans to leave Mexico and he said:

HAND-WRITING ON SULZER'S ORDER

SIGNATURE ON NOTE TO STOCK BROKERS IS BEING EXAMINED BY EXPERTS

HOUSE MANAGERS MEET

Name Signed Was That of William Sulzer for Mrs. Sulzer—Result Not Disclosed

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 15.—What has been identified as Governor Sulzer's signature, William Sulzer, for Mrs. Sulzer was under the scrutiny today of a hand writing expert of the Assembly board of impeachment managers. The board heard his testimony at private examinations of witnesses who are expected to testify at Sulzer's impeachment trial.

COMPENSATION LAW IN EFFECT

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY LAW PASSED AT LAST SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

IS PUT INTO OPERATION

Makes Many Changes in Present Law—Resembles Statute in Effect in Massachusetts

By reason of the large number of her factories and industrial establishments, Wichita Falls is interested in the workmen's compensation law which was passed by the last legislature, and which is being slowly put into operation after going into effect September 1.

It is new in Texas, although compensation laws are the rule rather than the exception in the East. In many respects the Texas law resembles those of the Eastern States, more particularly the Massachusetts law.

The act, according to its caption, is for the purpose of "providing for the compensation of certain employes and their representatives and beneficiaries for personal injuries sustained in the course of employment and for deaths resulting from such injuries and to provide and determine in what cases compensation shall be paid, and to make the payment thereof more certain and prompt by the creation of an insurance association to insure and guarantee such payments and of an industrial board for the investigation of claims and the adjudication thereof for compensating parties."

Primarily that in the object of the law, but it further provides for the manner in which it shall be worked, by "fixing the membership and powers of the board" and "fixing also the powers, duties and liabilities of said insurance association." Provision is also made for the control that shall be exercised over the insurance association by the commissioner of banking and insurance, and for the manner in which insurance companies shall pay the compensation to employes.

The law is divided into four parts, the first abolishing certain defensive pleas that have heretofore existed, providing when, how and who employes may sue in case of injury, setting out when a workman is entitled to compensation, and what compensation he is entitled to, and fixing a schedule of payments. The second part provides for the industrial association to govern in the organization. The fourth part includes definitions and provides for the terms on which insurance companies can take the liability for the payment of the compensation prescribed under the act.

The law abolishes the plea of contributory negligence as a defense in suits by employes for personal injuries, but the negligence of an employe that contributes to his injury may be received only in diminution of damages. It is also provided that a fellow servant and assumed risk as defenses to actions brought by employes. These changes apply to all employes and all cases except for personal injuries sustained by domestic servants, farm laborers, employees of a passenger carrier, and a cotton gin. The provisions of the act do not apply to any person, firm or corporation not employing more than five people.

In its compensation provisions the law prescribes that all payments shall be made by the employer, the amount and the number of weeks during which the injured party shall receive compensation varying with the character of the injury. In case of permanent disability from an injury the employe may receive 50 per cent of his average weekly wages for a period of not more than 400 weeks. In case of partial disability he may receive 60 per cent of his average weekly wage for a period of not more than 300 weeks. But in neither of the above cases can the employe receive more than $15 nor less than $5 per week. In case of specified injuries, such as the loss of a hand, arm or of the fingers or eyesight, the same percentage prevails, but the number of weeks during which the employe receives the compensation varies with the injury, the periods ranging from twelve weeks to 100 weeks. In these cases, too, the amount that can be received is limited to a maximum of $15 per week and a minimum of $5 per week. If an employe is one of the subscribers to the insurance association, the employe can not make an agreement to waive his rights under the workman's compensation act, but such a rule does not apply to nonsubscribers.

Duties of the Board. The industrial accident board consists of three members appointed by the governor to hold office for two years. It is required that one of the board be a wage earner at the time of his appointment, one must be an employe of labor and the third must be a practicing attorney of recognized ability. The board is charged with the duty of making rules to carry out the provisions of the compensation act and shall investigate accidents, make examinations of the injured employe, effect adjustments. In the event that the parties at interest do not agree to the adjustment made by the board, the matter may be taken to court, but in such a case the greatest amount that the employe may recover is limited to the maximum amount specified in the law.

The board is required to keep certain records of accidents, and employes are required to make prompt reports and supplemental reports of every character to the board. A penalty for failing or refusing to give information to the board by any subscribing employe is provided and fixed at a sum not greater than $1,000 to be sued for by the attorney general's department. The insurance association that the law makes possible is created by the law as a body corporate and given the powers incident to such a status. The first board of directors is appointed by the governor, but thereafter it is chosen by the subscribers. With the exceptions noted in the first part of the law, any employer of labor in Texas may become a subscriber. Before any policies may be issued by the association there must be at least fifty subscribers who employ in the aggregate not less than 2,000 employes, and the list of the subscribers must be submitted to the commissioner of banking and insurance, together with an agreement by each subscriber that he will take the number of policies subscribed for by him within thirty days after the commissioner issues a license. If at any time the number of subscribers to the association falls below the number of 500, or the number of employes of whom the association may be liable to pay compensation falls below the number of 2,000, no further policies may be issued until the number has been brought up to fifty or 2,000 as the case may be.

Seven Ages of Woman
Each woman in her time plays many parts:
The infant, first, who smiles while yet in arms.
And practices all restless arts,
Subduing sages with her potent charms.
The school girl next, a roguish, wee coquette.
Each fool boy taming with a tender glance;
His hard conned lessons doth he then forget.
And he is thrashed for dabbling in romance.
Then the young miss, with skirts of ankle length,
Dreaming most foolish dreams of clothes and boys.
Dolls cast aside, all her ambition's strength
Is aimed at parties and such social joys.
Fourth, as the belle, with powder and with paint
Bedizened, in magnificent array,
Besieged by suitors, she will make complaint
Unless she breaks at least one heart a day.
At last, surrendered, she becomes a bride.
Her triumph's zenith; her decline's begun.
But most inexplicable is now her pride
This queen of many, to be queen of one.
Then comes the matron; family and home
Absorb her energies and loving care.
From her own hearthstone caring not to roam,
She still finds life replete with treasures rare.
Fins, the grandma. Shall one tell the truth?
Sane—nothing that can be praised be of men.
Now granny dear renews her frisky youth
And thinks she will get married once again!

RECEPTION TO TEACHERS GIVEN BY MOTHERS' CLUBS

The reception to the teachers given by the Mothers' Clubs of this city proved a most delightful affair to everyone present. The visitors were met at the opera house by Mrs. C. Shelton and John R. Hyatt who pinned the distinguishing badges on the teachers. Proceeding up the stairs they were met at the auditorium doors by Mesdames Kell, Hall, Lee, Thornberry and Heron. They were ushered to seats and a splendid program was rendered as follows: Talk by Treasurer Carpenter. Solos (a) Where My Caravan Has Rested, (b) Lullaby by Mrs. Fred Thompson.
The Birthday, Mrs. Walter Robertson.
Carmine Valse, Mrs. Fulton.
Several plain musical numbers were rendered by Misses Laura Martin and Gladys and Mary Herron. Two exceptionally excellent numbers being Valse in E by Maskowski and Peer Gynt Suite by Grieg. After the enjoyable program the guests were taken to the library adjoining, where most of a delicious fruit punch was served by a number of little girls dressed in white. A large number of both mothers and teachers partook of the Mothers' Club hospitality, and the informal reception served to bring them in close touch with each other. The Mothers' Club, organized to bring parent and teacher together, fills a long felt need. For many years the home and the school were widely separated, there was little or no intercourse between teacher and parent, unless in case of difficulty and then the intercourse was not always of the most pleasant variety. Now, however, things have changed and parent and teacher meet on the common ground of interest in the child. Decidedly, Mothers' Clubs should be a success, and the Wichita Falls Mothers' Club are a success, if one may judge by their work.

You Don't Save in Buying Cheap Meat

Just bear in mind the fact that when meat is cheap it is either tough and tasteless or else it is on the shady side of fresh, and in neither instance is it good economy to pay out your money for such meat, especially when for the same amount or only a little more you can get the tenderest, juiciest and freshest of meats at my meat department.
It always pays to put the best on your table.

made that the people should have their choice between charters granting the city government identical power, but differing only as to the form of government.

I have a better opinion of our people than to think any of them will attempt to vote fraudulently on the 27th and of the election officers to think they would allow fraudulent voting.

if possible I would have preferred submitting the Charters themselves for the voters to decide between, but the law requires that the form approved by the charter committee only be submitted, and our pledge to the mass meeting forbids our submitting our personal preference of charter.

Judge Felder states that he was in a minority on most questions, but I think he will admit that on some points great deference was given to the objections he urged, and material changes made at his request.

In a committee of eleven members each man necessarily had to make concessions and every member made some. Though Judge Felder may have thought the other ten very stubborn, I trust that we are all endeavoring to work for the good of Wichita Falls.

After the friends of the Commission have organized there will be no reason to doubt what we want. We realize that our people should be told plainly and full explanation will be made before the election that the commission form of government seeks only greater efficiency by concentrating responsibility, but that the people themselves will select the men charged with the responsibilities of himself and his subordinates.

I hope every voter in Wichita Falls will post himself and vote on the 27th and then cheerfully submit to what a majority says and support the form of the Charter which then carries.

ROBERT E. HUFF.

THE SHORT BALLOT, NON-PARTISANSHIP AND THE CITY MANAGER PLAN

Norman Haggood in Harpers Weekly in speaking of the modern reforms in municipal politics says: "The most important are the short ballot and the abolition of party designations at elections. Think of the necessity of a committee of citizens after working for months to focus the opinion of the city on the few essentially responsible positions, being then compelled to go ahead and choose coroners and sheriffs and other officers who ought to be either abolished or appointed. Equally ridiculous is the necessity of the voters casting ballots for these minor officers, about whom they can know nothing, instead of selecting the few men about whom they can form responsible judgments, and holding those men to the selection of their proper subordinates. The present system makes democratic government a farce. It keeps the machine alive. It makes everybody pay good hard money heedless of dishonesty and waste. It helps nobody except those who live by getting their feet in the trough and passing a share of the swill to their supporters."

In these two points, short ballot and non-partisanship lie the fundamental differences which separate the commission plan from the old aldermanic government.

In a place of this size which, under the older form does not have a great number of elective offices there is always the cry that there is no difference between the two plans. At the present time there is practically none so far as number of elective offices are concerned; but do the people who say that think this town has ceased to grow? Their attitude implies that they think so otherwise they would know that as the city grows larger the number of elective offices increase, the government becomes more complicated and less intelligible to the average citizen and the temptation to dishonesty and graft become stronger.

This city is going to grow and if the short ballot principle is not clearly laid down now at this time when a new charter is to be adopted there will come a time when the complicated election machinery will furnish an easy hold for a political boss. The short ballot commission form is a preventative measure that costs nothing and hurts no one but professional politicians.

Non-partisanship in city elections is a reform which every intelligent man understands. The absurdity of republican or democratic labels having anything to do with a man's fitness for deciding whether or not a street should be paved is its own answer, especially in these days when the two labels mean less than ever before. It is the man who counts and not the party to which he happens to belong as can be seen in the person of President Wilson. The problems of city management are far removed from the questions of national policy as recorded in party platforms. Local issues are never big enough nor continuously live enough to create a division lasting more than one election. In fact in a town of this size there is usually no difference of opinion upon the things to be done, it is the "how" that makes elections necessary and that is presently the problem of picking the right man. Which leads to the proposition for the advocacy of why this article was written.

The City Manager Plan in use in Germany and lately taken up by several American cities is based on the business axiom that if you want to know how to do a thing it is cheaper to get an expert to tell you. When the stockholders of a manufacturing establishment want to know why they are losing money they begin by hiring an expert at an enormous salary, an added expense which they know will in the long run, pay for itself. There is no incorporated business in this town, state or country that does not trust its destinies to a board of directors, usually five men, who appoint a general manager to carry out their policies. That general manager must be an expert, that is why he was hired and if he doesn't get results he is fired and a new man put in his place. Every voter in Wichita Falls is a stockholder in this city. Isn't it just as foolish for him to elect the little clerks and bookkeepers at the city hall as it would be for a railroad stockholder to elect the conductors and brakemen? Why not elect a board of directors, subject to the recall as they are in all corporations, and let them get a municipal expert to manage the city's business.—Contributed.

Mrs. H. K. Smith, 804 Indiana.

Chester H. Terrell, Speaker of the House of Representatives, has at last announced as a candidate for governor. He is one of the able young men of Texas. On the question of prohibition he is an anti and says so, but judging from the record he made as speaker he is fair and impartial; and can be depended on to carry out the wishes of a majority of the people as expressed at the ballot box on any question, it matters not whether such expressed opinions agree with his way of thinking or not, and in our judgment, that is the kind of man who should be elected governor of this state, whether he be a pro or an anti. In the judgment of this paper, Mr. Terrell is going to prove a strong candidate, and if elected will be governor of the whole people, and not merely of a faction.

Governor Colquitt has appointed Sheb Williams on the A. & M. College board, which means that Clarence Ousley will be elected president of the A. & M. College next January. If the A. & M. survives this job there not much likelihood of it ever being killed.—Blossom, Tex.

It will survive, of course, being entirely too much of an institution to be killed off by two men, but the calamities mentioned above mean a considerable setback, there can be no doubt.—Mt. Pleasant Times-Review.

Under the circumstances, it is perhaps best that our governor did cut down the appropriation for that educational institution. It might have been still better had he cut it even a little deeper than he did.

According to statistics furnished by O. P. Maricle to the Department of Commerce, Washington, 32 bales of cotton had been ginned in Wichita county up to September 1st, as against 24 bales for the same time last year. In Archer county 82 bales had been ginned prior to September 1st, as against 129 bales for the same period last year. While the report for this county shows more bales had been ginned up to September first than last year, it is no indication that the crop is greater. In drouthy, dry years cotton opens earlier than when the seasons are good, and this causes earlier ginning. The cotton crop of this county will fall far short of last year, perhaps fully 50 per cent, which means that the total number of bales produced will be between 6000 and 8000. Had there been sufficient rains during July and August the acreage planted to cotton in Wichita county fully justified our estimate made earlier in the season, which was that the total for the county would be between 15000 and 18000 bales. In the irrigated district the cotton will average a bale to the acre. Where not irrigated it will take from five to ten acres to make a bale, and some crops will not even do that well. The pity is that there is not more land under irrigation.

REPLY TO JUDGE FELDER

To the Editor of the Times. I am surprised at Judge Felder's communication in yesterday's Times, advising his friends not to vote on September 27th, as well as his comment.

The election was ordered by the City Council of its own motion, without conferring with the friends of either Commission or Aldermanic form of government, or even with the Charter Committee, as to the time or manner of voting. As the papers have already given notice of a meeting of the friends of the Commission form of government to meet tonight (September 15th) if the Judge had only waited a day longer, he would have been fully advised our position. No one knows better than Judge Felder that the Charter Committee were forced to leave out all reference to initiative, referendum and recall, because Governor Colquitt had vetoed a similar charter for Texarkana and the legislature had sustained his veto and we deemed it useless to hazard our chances by inserting clauses we knew were objectionable to him. The situation was changed by the adoption of the "Home Rule Amendment" and the law putting it in force, referring all charters to the people.

I am not authorized to speak for the friends of the Commission form of government, but personally I favor giving the people the authority to initiate legislation, veto objectionable ordinances on a referendum, and recall officials who are either inefficient, corrupt or violate campaign promises, and I feel sure that a majority of the present charter committee expect to put those clauses in the new charter, should the people approve the Commission form of Government.

At a mass meeting which selected the charter committee, the pledge was

SAYS PRIEST HAS LONG BEEN UNDER SUSPICION

By Associated Press. Mainz, Germany, Sept. 15.—The Journal today says Johannes Schmidt, belonging to the Mainz bishopric has long been under suspicion. He disappeared from this city and later arrived in Mainz, where the newspaper says, he was arrested on charge of committing several frauds. After his acquittal on the ground of weak-mindedness he went to New York.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 15.—With a week until the annual convention here of the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association, arrangements were practically complete today for handling the 2,000 delegates expected during September 22 to 28. SCHOOL RE-OPENS TODAY; ENROLLMENT IS LARGE

Work of Session is Gotten Under Way With Very Little Delay and Confusion

About two thousand little and happy children—just as blithe and happy as you, O Gentle Reader, were on September mornings a good many years ago when school reopened—wended their ways to the public schools this morning for the opening day of the session. There was comparatively little confusion and the work was gotten under way with expedition and dispatch.

A large number of the children had heeded the injunction to supply themselves with their school books and supplies beforehand, but the appearance of the book stores this afternoon indicated that a large number had not done so. However, this will occasion little, if any, delay.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework."

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

EPWORTH LEAGUE RALLY DAY SERVICE IS HELD

Large Crowd Attends Special Exercises by Young People at M. E. Church, South

A large congregation attended the "rally day" services of the Epworth League of the M. E. Church, South, last night, and the young people carried out an interesting and instructive program. With the exception of a brief talk by the pastor, Dr. Hill, the young people had the program to themselves.

Six young ladies of the League served as usherettes seating the congregation and taking the collection. They were Misses Marion Crabtree, Cora Lee Waggoner, Ruby Self, Beryl Murph, Annette Comfeld and Tula Stokes.

The program opened with a song by the congregation, following which Laverne Somerville, lead in prayer. An anthem "Jerusalem" by the choir was then rendered. After the usual announcements and the collection, there was a scripture reading by Charles H. Crowell. A solo by William McDonald was next, after which A. J. Spangrass spoke on the "History and Object of the League."

William McDonald was next, after which A. J. Spangrass spoke on the "History and Object of the League," telling of its early days and organization, the purposes for which it was formed, and the high ideals for which it labored. A duet by Misses Bonnie Hardy and Laura Bell was the next feature of the program, and Dr. Hill spoke on "Epworth by the Sea" near known as "class legislation." However, laying aside the constitutional feature of the law, there seems to be a great difference of opinion as to the manner in which the law will work.

THE COMPENSATION LAW IN EFFECT

No Limit Prescribed.

Insurance men say that the law will mean an increase in the rate that they will have to charge for liability insurance, or the rate that they will have to charge under the compensation law. In both cases, they say their liability has been increased. Under the old way, where each employer carried his own insurance with some company, the amount that the company was to pay on an accident was limited by the terms of the contract. Under the compensation law there is no limit prescribed and each policy will call for insurance up to the maximum that is recoverable under the law. Moreover, they say, every injury will receive its compensation, whether there was any negligence or other contribution on the part of the employer or not. This was not so before the law went into effect, and each case was determined by the legal liability of the employee as the law existed at that time. Inasmuch as many of the defenses that have been heretofore relied on to defeat the recovery of damages by employees in cases where they have been injured, the insurance men say that their companies will not be able to write the old liability policy at a rate any cheaper than they can write under the compensation act, because of the increased number of cases in which they will have to pay out their money.

Employees Will Profit.

It is felt by many that the employee will generally profit by the law. It is true the amount that the wage earner can recover under the compensation act is limited and when totaled the maximum does not appear very large in the light of many recoveries that are made by suits at law. However, the employee is certain of getting his money without the necessity of a lawsuit and the necessity of paying a large percentage of what he may recover to his attorneys. Insurance men say that they feel that employees as a whole will prefer to take the compensation allowed them under the law to taking the worry and the lawsuit that usually accompanies an effort to make an adjustment where the compensation act does not operate.

THIRTY FAMOUS PLAYERS COMING

World's Greatest Artists Will Be Seen in Motion Pictures in Wichita Falls

Thirty players of world wide fame have been engaged to appear at the new Majestic Theater to be opened by Messrs. Wren and Berry on Indiana avenue in the near future. The new theatre is rapidly nearing completion and will be opened within the next two weeks. It will be one of the largest, and the management expects to conduct it as one of the best motion picture and vaudeville houses in the state.

The first of the thirty players to appear here will be Mrs. Fiske in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." On account of the New Majestic not being ready by that date this will be shown at the Lydia Margaret theatre September 16th.

The Famous Players Film Company is an organization of such men, among who stands the most prominent Daniel Frohman and David Belasco. This company has originated and carried out a plan whereby the world's greatest artists will now be seen in motion pictures in their foremost successes.

Following are a few of the productions booked:
Mrs. Fiske in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles."
Mary Pickford in the "In the Bishop's Carriage."
Henry E. Dixie in "Chelsea 7750."
Mrs. Langtry in "His Neighbor's Wife."
James O'Neil in "The Count of Monte Cristo."

David Belasco's productions of "A Good Little Devil" with Mary Pickford and the all star cast as produced at the Republic Theatre, New York.

Two Women are Under Arrest on Charges of Vagrancy as Result of Incident
Louise Fiske and Estelle La... two women of the "Flats" are under bonds of $100 each on charges of vagrancy. The complaints were filed this morning. Sunday a Young county man who came up on the excursion train visited the house where these women stay and claims to have bought two bottles of beer. His part of the beer was served to him in a glass he claims, while the others drank from the bottles.
After leaving the house he walked toward town but became deathly sick before he reached the business center. Meeting two men he asked them to take him to a doctor. They took him to Dr. Bennett's office and he had no sooner gotten there than he collapsed. For a time it was feared that he would die but he was finally revived, and this morning was feeling but little the worse for his experience. Further proceedings in the case have been halted until another Young county man who was with him but who returned to his home last night can be brought back as a witness.

SMITH TRIAL OPENS; DEFENDANT CHARGED WITH MURDER.
Springfield, O., Sept. 15.—At the opening of the second trial of Dr. Arthur B. Smith, charged with the murder of his wife, Florence Caviller Smith, here today it was expected the prosecution would present an entirely new line of evidence. It is said that since Dr. Smith's first trial, when the jury failed to agree, the state has brought to light some new angles of the case. Dr. Smith is alleged to have poisoned his wife by the administration of cyanide of potassium while she was ill. It is reported the prosecution will drop the potassium theory as the second trial and try to obtain a conviction on the ground of vegetable alkaloid poisoning. Mrs. Florence Caviller Smith was a society leader here. It was not until some time after her death that suspicion was directed toward her husband. The motive as given in the first trial was that Smith wanted to be rid of his wife in order to marry a nurse. It was brought out that six months after Mrs. Smith's death he made the nurse his wife.
