Ready

We're ready to play the good clothes game with you for fall and winter, nineteen thirteen-fourteen, and because the live store believes in doing everything a little better each succeeding season, you will find even a bigger, better, brighter variety of good things for men and young men in our new stock than we have ever offered before. A careful, conscientious study of the prevailing styles, has convinced us that we make no mistake in pinning our faith to clothes. Likewise a careful inspection on your part will convince you that here, and here alone, are garments which are both pleasing to the eye and critic-proof from a standpoint of quality and worthy workmanship. Right now we wish to extend to every man an invitation to make this store his clothing home. We want to meet you and know you personally. We want you to feel free to come here at any time.

Our main idea, as good business men, is to sell clothing. We are for friendship and acquaintances too. An ideal combination of both is just exactly what we are looking for, and because such an announcement as this would be incomplete without telling you what these good things will cost you. Here's our complete price range, and from the lowest to the highest, every dollar spent with us represents just so many dollars worth of that before mentioned quality.

SWISS GUARDS' COLONEL IS EXPECTED TO RESIGN

Recent Friction In Pope's Soldiers Causes Retirement of Commandant—Too Ambitious

Rome, Sept. 15.—With the return today from his honeymoon in Switzerland of Colonel Repond, commandant of the Vatican Swiss Guards, it was given to understand in Vatican circles that he would very soon be allowed to present his resignation.

In the mutiny last month of the Swiss Guards Merry Del Val and the Pope apparently sustained Colonel Repond, although dismissing his nephew who had been engaged as military instructor of the corps. It is now understood that he was sustained for the time being only and merely for the sake of maintaining discipline in the corps.

In addition it is asserted that the presence of Colonel Repond has aroused among hostility in all four of the military corps at the Vatican. The colonel it is asserted, shortly after being called by Cardinal Merry Del Val, to command the Swiss Guards, conceived the idea of creating a new military force in Europe by combining all four of the armed corps at the Vatican and making himself commander-in-chief.

It was this idea alone, it is asserted, that was responsible for his making over the decorative corps of the Swiss Guards into a real military body by admitting them to such rigid daily military training that they mutinied.

The colonel is said to have hoped with the showing thus made of the Swiss Guards to convince the Pope and Merry Del Val of the desirability of making over other corps into real military bodies with himself as supreme commander.

As all three of the other corps—the Noble Guards, the Palatine Guards of Honor, and the Gendarmes—have for their respective commanders an officer with a title of nobility, it would hardly have been possible for the Pope to make Colonel Repond their commander-in-chief without conferring on him a title of nobility higher than those of his subordinate officers. The colonel it is said, would not have refused such a title.

The belief that such was Colonel Repond's ambition now aroused such a degree of hostility amongst the four corps that it is generally believed in Vatican circles peace can only come with his retirement. In this event, the Swiss Guards, have announced they will demand their own future commander come from their own ranks as a reward of merit instead of being appointed from without.

DRY FARMING CONGRESS TO MEET SOON AT TULSA

Other Notes of Hursuteness and Loss of Hursuteness Among Chief Executives

Tulsa, Oklahoma, Sept. 15.—On Oct. 22, when the eighth International Dry Farming Congress and Exposition opens to run until November 1, Tulsa will be lighted at night as no other city in the world has been lighted before. Fifteen million cubic feet of natural gas will be burned nightly to light the city.

The light for Tulsa during the Exposition will be a veritable pillar of flame which will be fed from a huge natural gas well. The gas is now being pumped into the center of the exposition grounds. For a distance of 200 yards or more about the well the place will be roped off to prevent crowds from getting too near the flame. The gas will be "turned loose" and lighted by electricity on the opening night. It is estimated that the flame will shoot six hundred feet into the air. Because of the force of the flow there will be no flame 160 feet from the ground. Above that height the flame will rise five hundred feet and 100 feet thick. Shadows will be cast off objects five miles away and the flame will be visible for a distance of 100 miles.

Natural gas is very cheap in Oklahoma. Some estimate of the amount of gas that will be burned nightly can be had when it is realized that the average home in Oklahoma uses but a few cubic feet an hour to light all rooms. The great "pillar of flame" light will consume 15,000,000 cubic feet each night.

Romance On the Farm. The harvest moon swings low in the sky.

And, over the meadows stealing, The scented wind comes wandering—

—by, Bearing sounds of pigs a-squealin'!

We'll wander down by the garden gate,

Aye, hand in hand, and adoring;

Now all is still—it is half past eight—

Hark! Is that your father snoring?

From the shadows deep of the cloistered grove

The whippoorwill is calling—

But I've got to fetch in wood for the stove

And comfort the calf that's bawling!

In the peaceful sky gleams the evening star,

Inviting our "starbright" wishes;

But you'd better beat it and help your ma,

For she's tackled the supper dishes.

One kiss and a fond embrace, sweet heart;

In rural love no remorse is.

Alas, it is needful that we should part—

I forgot to beat down the horses!

Good night! Good night! May dreams be sweet!

Of the morrow's work take warning!

You must get up, if we are to meet,

At half-past three in the morning!

MRS. ROBERTSON'S RECITAL PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE.

The following program was most admirably rendered to a large and appreciative audience Monday night at the Majestic Theatre by Mrs. Walter Robertson, assisted by Miss Ona Bell and Mesdames Bruce Greenwood and Yonder Lippe.

The Lass with the Delicate Air, T. A. Arne. Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal, Quilter, Polly Willis, T. A. Arne. Laet Signor (from Huguenots) —Meyerbeer. Scènes de Ballet, Mrs. Bruce Greenwood, Mrs. Yonder Lippe, accompanist. Sonnet de l'Armour, Thoiné, Elégie, Massenet. Ociel Azurrri (from Aida), Verdi. From the Land of the Sky (Blue Water), Gaudman. Mrs. Robertson's rendition of the various numbers was very pleasing and the audience manifested its satisfaction in profuse applause. Several difficult selections in French and Italian were given and greatly enjoyed. "Laet Signor," by Meyerbeer being especially excellent. The Boat Song and Hindu Slumber song, by Harriet Ware, also were deserving of special mention. Miss Ona Bell proved an admirable accompanist, thoroughly in touch with the singer. Mrs. Bruce Greenwood's violin selection was rendered in her usual excellent manner and proved very pleasing, the audience receiving it with great applause. Mrs. Yonder Lippe was her accompanist.

Chapter W. R. Scurry of the U. D. C. will meet with Mrs. G. D. Anderson Wednesday at 3:30. The program will be on the life of Gen. J. B. Hood.

AEROPLANE WIRELESS TESTS MADE AT PARIS.

Paris, Sept. 15.—Wireless tests from an aeroplane were resumed here today by the military commission headed by General Delarue, between Blois and Villacoublay aerodromes. Airman over Orleans, more than 100 kilometres away were easily communicated with, while another airman over Blois, 130 kilometres from Blois repeated his former success of receiving and acknowledging instructions by wireless. General Delarue said today's exhibition does not represent the limit of communication.

GETS PATENT ON LAND NEAR OIL PRODUCTION

J. S. Bridwell Files On Small Tract West of Viles Tract—Appraised at $100 Per Acre.

J. S. Bridwell has been granted a patent by the State land office on twenty-three and a half acres out of A. B. and M. survey No. 8 west of the Viles tract and northwest of the Hugh Reilly. Mr. Bridwell filed a claim on this land about a year ago and recently was granted a patent. State Land Commissioner Roberson assessed the tract at $100 per acre. It lies between the Horton and Walker and the Hugh Reilly tracts on which there are producing oil wells and is considered well worth the appraisal.

Mrs. Fiske Triumphs As Tess The famous players five part production is a charming picture, strong in all departments, will be presented at the Lydia Margaret tonight. The great actress repeats before the camera the success she achieved on the stage. The unfolding of the absorbing story of Thomas Hardy was followed by a silence that in itself was the best indication of the spell thrown over the entire house by this film drama. The New York critics say there was never a moment when the interest was slackened. These were a steady pull at the heart-strings, lightened on rare occasions by flashes of humor. The interest in this picture will of course center on Mrs. Fiske and her admirers will not be disappointed. True, it is her appealing voice will not be heard but there will remain the art of revealing through expression the tumult that surges in the bosom. The face of Tess may be as a price of stone, but the eyes tell the whole story.

The critic from the Moving Picture World has the following to say taken altogether considering the story, acting, direction, etc. "Tess of the D'Urbervilles is a great picture. The love makes it stronger by saying he believes it one of the greatest ever made." The Dallas News says it was a "great picture played at the Queen Theatre last week and was pronounced a wonderful success."

Senator Culberson is recovering his health rapidly, and will resume his duties. This news is bound to prove somewhat disconcerting to some of our would-be and aspiring statesmen who are waiting for Culberson to die so that they may have an opportunity to wear his shoes.

There is at least one law passed by the recent legislature that seems to be meeting with favor, and that is the local option pool hall law. In every county and precinct where elections have been held to determine whether pool halls should be permitted or not, the result has been against the pool halls. Even Fort Worth, of its own motion, has decided that pool halls in that city shall open and close at the same hours as the saloons.

At last night's meeting of the friends of commission form of government it was decided to have printed and placed in the hands of every voter copies of both the proposed forms of government—the commission and aldermanic form. The Chamber of Commerce has been asked to stand the expense of this work. If that is done, there will be little excuse for any one to refrain from participating in the election on the 27th to decide which form to adopt, and as for the Times, it trusts that every citizen who is interested in the welfare of Wichita Falls will take advantage of the opportunity offered to vote his sentiments.

It is unfortunate for Wichita Falls that there seems no way, legally, to prevent public service corporations from erecting their poles on sidewalks and attaching to the poles guy-wires that are also fastened to the sidewalk a few feet from where the poles stand. There is considerable complaint on the part of the those who build and maintain the sidewalks, and it strikes the Times that their complaints are just. There is a way in which public service corporations can avoid putting in so many of these guy-wires, though it might prove a little more expensive and to be perfectly candid about it the Times believes it is the duty of our city officials to see that this nuisance is stopped.

THE GOVERNOR'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Few people dared to believe their own eyes when they saw that Governor Colquitt's comment on the Harlem horror was an insinuation that the eight negroes who died in the black cell had been artificially poisoned, with the implication that this was deliberately done (by the governor's own political appointees) to bring about restoration of the hat in the prison system. The suggestion shows the unbelievable lengths to which the governor has gone in an effort to evade responsibility for the kind of laxity that has marked his entire administration of the penitentiary system. That any man would dare to throw out a suggestion that some artificial poisoning has caused the death of the eight negroes would be unthinkable, if the governor had not done exactly this thing. No artificial poison was necessary. The human lungs need a certain number of cubic feet of fresh air every hour and if they are deprived of this death will come. If, in addition to being deprived of the living oxygen, they are forced to breathe the exhalations from their own lungs and their foul, reeking, sweating bodies in an airless chamber at a temperature higher than would be permitted in a Turkish bath, they will not only die, like a gasping fish on land, for lack of usable oxygen, but they will die like rats in a trap plunged into a river, only both the fish and rats die a merciful and a recent death as compared with the death that the negro convicts died.

Not even Edgar Allan Poe's imagination, which conceived the horrors of the Pit and the Pendulum, ever sketched in lurid words a more ghastly death than these men died, wallowing in blood and filth, with the terrible knowledge that every rattle of their rattling lungs was heard by scores of men of their own race just outside the door, but powerless to open it, and so by the armed guard twenty feet away, who answered their dying with aunts and threats.

Over the graves of these men the governor finds occasion to suggest that they were purposely left to die to bring about the restoration of the hat. In saying this the governor added an unjust weight to the already heavy burden of shame carried by the state of Texas.

Only a few days ago, when Mr. Colquitt was in Colorado, The Chronicle called on Lieutenant Governor Mayes, or a few days in power as governor, to pardon the 400 men whom a committee of the legislature, after months of investigation, had selected as deserving of pardon, but who have been left to eat out their hearts in prison cells and on prison farms because the governor can not find time to consider their case.

This humane governor, who thinks that his own employes are poisoning men just to spite him, could restore happiness to 400 homes and restore to society 400 men of white, negro and Mexican blood who have been deemed worthy of a free and unconditional parole, but who, those who have investigated declare, ought not to be behind prison bars.

If the governor will pardon these men and will let a little of the free and gracious air of heaven into the black pits of punishment where the wretched convicts are sent to languish, he will free himself of a part of the responsibility whose burden of shame make Torquemada's lash.—Houston Chronicle.

CLAIMS SOME CREDIT FOR ADVANCE IN COTTON

W. B. Yeary, vice president of the Southern States Cotton Corporation, writes the Times from Dallas under date of September 10th, in which he seems to criticize this paper because it failed to give that concern some credit for the advance in the price of cotton. The Times was rather inclined to attribute the advance in price to the short crop, or supply and demand, but Mr. Yeary is rather inclined to believe otherwise, claiming that the advance in price started before it was known the crop would be short. The Times had no intention of denying credit to his concern. There is no doubt that the Southern States Cotton Corporation is doing a good work for the cotton producer, and the Times hopes it will continue in business, and that those who are at the back of it will prosper. Here is Mr. Yeary's letter:

"I notice in your issue of August 27th an editorial, stating that the cotton crop of Texas would be very much reduced and that the crop might bring more than the 1912 crop. I would like to call your attention to the fact that cotton began advancing the forepart of the season and that cotton speculators began to cry 'short crop' in August. We do not remember them saying that the crop was short at the beginning of the year before, although we have had many short crops in the past. Wonder what can be the trouble?"

"Had you stopped to think that there is a cotton growers association, which is now spread all over the South, and is known as the Southern States Cotton Corporation? That it is receiving cotton in nearly every cotton state and in nearly every county and precinct in the four main states? This cotton is being held off the market and stored in bonded warehouses and financed in Europe. There is a considerable quantity going this route and enough to make the speculators want to get on the bull side and buy their cotton at six figure less than 15c. It appears to me that it is about time for new buyers to begin to see what we are doing and at least give the corporation some credit for this valuable work.

HIVICK GARAGE DESTROYED

The garage at the residence of L.
P. HIVICK, the oil man, at 1010 Brook-known origin at about 3 o'clock last night. A Rambler machine used in hauling supplies in the oil field was also destroyed. Mr. HIVICK's touring car was not in the garage at the time.

A quantity of supplies was also burned. The fire department was called but the garage was quickly consumed and most of it had burned before the arrival of the department.

COMMISSION ADVOCATES PLAN THEIR CAMPAIGN

Will Publish Both.
N. Henderson then moved that the meeting request the Chamber of Commerce to publish both charters, for the information of the public. C. R. Long called attention to the fact that in drafting the charter some concessions had been made to friends of the alternative form, which it might be well to change, but it was explained that this would be inexpedient. Mr. Henderson's motion then prevailed.

Mr. Henderson then moved that was the sense of the meeting that it favored the commission form of government. This was put without discussion and carried. Twenty-seven stood up for the affirmative and about a dozen remained seated. There were no negative votes. After some discussion as to personnel, a committee of three, consisting of C. W. Bean, J. T. Montgomery and R. E. Huff was elected to nominate a commission campaign committee. While this committee was out, F. W. Householder and A. H. Britain of the original charter committee explained, by request, why it had been necessary to ask for two elections.

Why Two Elections.
Mr. Britain reminded those present of the fact that it was at a mass meeting that the charter movement was started and that the charter committee named at that time was instructed to report back to another mass meeting; this was done, he said, because it was believed at that time that the legislature would have to pass on the charter. In the meantime, he continued, the "home rule" legislation had been passed, permitting cities to make their own charters, and the committee, merely as a matter of good faith, had decided to submit both forms of charter back, since the people, when the question of adoption or rejection came up, could not vote on more than one, under the law.

"No one who wants the people to rule can advise you to stay away from the polls in this election," he said, "the committee is not wedded to the commission form of government, and if the alternative form is chosen, we must submit that to you for adoption."

A. L. Huey inquired about the present charter agitation at Dallas and it was explained that it originated with socialists. W. G. Long spoke briefly, telling what commissions had accomplished in Houston, Des Moines, Bartlesville and other cities; he predicted that the time would come when the "city manager" plan, now gaining a foothold in this country, would become general.

Campaign Committee Named.

The nominating committee then came in with its report, nominating ten members for the campaign committee; these were given power to increase their number to fifteen or twenty-one as they saw fit. Those nominated were F. W. Householder, T. W. Scott, C. W. Bean, W. G. Long, T. B. Noble, L. Mackechny, A. L. Huey, Myles O'Reilly, W. P. Weeks and R. E. Huff. The nominations were approved and adjournment was then taken.

Those present included R. E. Huff, C. W. Bean, Bert Bean, C. B. Woods, W. G. Long, C. R. Long, B. Crawford, J. C. A. Guest, V. G. Skoen, T. J. Taylor, N. Henderson, L. Mackechny, J. W. Culbertson, A. TENDENCY OF GOVERNORS TO BALDNESS IS NOTED

Fifteen Million Feet of Cubic Gas To Be Burned, Nightly For Illuminations

Denver, Colo., Sept. 16.—Some vital statistics regarding the governors attended the recent Conference of Governors at Colorado Springs were published here today. A local wag, whose waggishness runs to "small data" regarding "big people" has classified some of the chief executives and former chief executives as follows:

Governors Dunne, Ammons, Oddie, Hughes, Miller, Carey and McDonald are bald.

Governors Slaton, Baldwin and McGovern are getting bald.

Governors Baldwin, Mann, Carey and Byrne ornament their features with hirsute adornment.

Governors McGovern, O'Neal, Miller, McDonald, Stewart and Dunne and former Governor Adams and Gilchrist wear ferocious mustaches.

Governors Trammell, Colquitt, Oddie, Ammons, Slaton and Hodges and former Governor Dix are smoothly shorn and elegant.

Your Child's Eye Sight.

You are responsible for the eyes of your child. Watch out for frowns and squints. When he reads or looks at a picture book does he hold it too near or too far? These little things grow fast, but in many cases can be overcome if discovered in time. We insist on your bringing the children in. You may save them a lifetime of strain and weak sight. Defects of vision never disappear of their own accord, and in most cases grow worse. It's a duty you owe your child. No "drops." We know how. Dr. J. W. DuVal Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat Specialists
