Friona People Do Not Intend to Stare

As one drives through the Friona territory these days, from almost every house he passes he is greeted by the odor of cooking fruits or vegetables. It appears that the good housewives are busy storing away vitamins, minerals, calories and flavors for the winter days. Even with the reassurance they may have from the political parties that times will be better after election, they will not trust them very far and will run no risk of allowing their families to suffer from lack of food if they can help it.

There are many good gardens this season, and in these gardens may be found green string beans, health giving spinach and chard, calcium-rich carrots, young tender beets, well liked peas and ears of green corn, and perhaps some gardeners have even been more ambitious, but whatever it is, it can be kept safe for food in jars. Since there is more than enough food right now, the wish instinctively comes not to let any of it waste but to save it for the cold winter days.

Home canned jars of food are not only a sure source of good food, but are a great convenience, since it is all ready to serve. What if unexpected guests arrive, or the good wife has been delayed or has been extra busy? There are jars of food for every need and ready for any emergency.

It appears that more than ever this year the art of canning has been revived. Science has been at work, too, in home economic laboratories all over the country and has discovered a newer and surer method of canning vegetables, meats and fruits, if you wish to do so. This is called the hot pack method and is quite simple. By this method the food is heated in a small quantity of water until it boils. This shrinks the food, makes packing easier and drives out any air that might be enclosed.

T. J. Crawford May Attend W. T. C. C.

T. J. Crawford, local director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has been invited by District Director W. J. Casey, to attend a meeting of the directors, chamber of commerce secretaries and members of the local public expenditures committees of District One in Amarillo Thursday, August 25.

The visitors will be guests of Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, at the Amarillo Rotary Club luncheon at noon, when General Manager D. A. Bandoen, of the regional organization, will be speaker.

Following the luncheon, the district meeting will be held in the Red Room of the Amarillo Hotel, with W. J. Casey, Dalhart, and District One director, presiding. The program will be informal, and for the purpose of discussing organizational affairs and the program of the regional chamber as affecting cities in the Panhandle district.

Members of the local public expenditures committee who has been invited to the meeting is Ford N. Welch.

Vote for Judge William Pierson, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. On a splendid record he WON FIRST PRIMARY by about $2,000. He is able, conscientious and worthy. RE-ELECT HIM. 1p

More Rain This Week.

Another good rain fell Tuesday evening in and near Friona, but which seems not to have extended far to the west. The fall was estimated at from one-half to three-fourths of an inch.

J. W. Ford, living seven miles west, says only a good shower fell there, which, however, did some good. A heavy rain is also reported to have fallen at Parmer-ton, six miles west of town, and a still heavier rain visited the Lazbuddy community, both Monday and Tuesday afternoons.

Not much rain is reported this week in the Homeland or Hub community, and the rains evidently did not extend more than a mile or two north of town, but in some of the fields near town the soil was too wet for plowing Wednesday and Thursday.

Home Demonstration Club Organized Here

A special meeting was called Wednesday, August 17, of the women of Friona and vicinity for the purpose of organizing a home demonstration club under the supervision of Miss Rosella McKinney, county demonstration agent.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. R. H. Gischler, county federation president, and the following officers were elected: Mrs. R. H. Gischler, president; Mrs. E. B. Wills, secretary; Miss Alice Guyer, council representative.

Miss McKinney gave a very interesting talk, outlining her work for the next six months.

Twenty-nine members were enrolled and more new members are expected at the next meeting, which will be held on August 31, the place of meeting to be announced later.

Returned to Homes.

Mmes. Moore Thurmond of Dallas, and O. B. Robison of Rock-wah county, who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jones the past two weeks, returned to their homes last week.

When about 20 miles out of Friona on the Dimmitt road, their car turned over, which caused them several hours delay. As soon as they could, they telephoned their brother, O. C. Jones, here and informed him of their mishap.

Mr. Jones at once set out in his car to give them whatever aid he could in their disaster. He found that neither of the occupants of the car was injured and the car was only slightly damaged and he soon had it righted and the ladies speeding on their way again.

Layman's Meeting.

The regular monthly Laymen's meeting will be held Sunday night at the Methodist church building.

Rev. Annis has prepared an unusually good program for this meeting, which will be of interest to all who may attend and this program should be greeted by a full house.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Stuck Knife In Arm.

While L. F. Beckner was doing some veterinary work on one of his horses the horse kicked and struck his hand and drove the point of the knife into his left arm near the wrist.

He was brought to a physician who dressed the wound. The wound was painful and bled profusely but was not considered dangerous.

Who Is Blocking Way of Highway Building?

It is reported from reliable sources that Parmer county now has the opportunity of securing a hard surfaced road across its entire length, to be built entirely at state expense, yet we do not seem to be getting it.

Evidently someone has thrown a monkey wrench into the wheels of our highway machinery and thus blocked progress. Who is blocking the way?

Parmer county farmers and laborers should get awake to conditions and see that these obstacles, whatever they may be, are removed before it is too late to take advantage of this opportunity, since it will bring a vast amount of money into our county at a time when it is sorely needed by our farmers and laborers.

This money value to the county is not the only reason why this opportunity for a paved road should be taken advantage of. Here is something that has not occurred to most of us: low cost bituminous road surfacing is one of the best incentives to stimulate employment.

Good, weather-proof secondary roads with bituminous surfaces can be built for from three to five thousand dollars a mile, depending on the locality. Many states and hundreds of counties are availing themselves of these bargain roads at this time in order to bring quick, economical transportation to farming areas. Eighty per cent or more of the road dollars go directly into the pockets of labor. A higher percentage customarily reaches the workmen in building low-cost roads of this type than in the construction of expensive main highways.

Had it not been for enlarged road construction programs, hundreds of families would have been in dire want the past two years. The drop in construction costs has made it possible to build a greater mileage of roads without padding the tax bill. Road work is one of the main keys to unemployment relief—and it is a type of relief that is as distant from a dole as honest work is from begging.

Niece of J. A. Guyer Killed In Holdup

J. A. Guyer received word this week that a niece living in Indiana had been shot and killed in a holdup on the highway.

It appears that the young lady and a friend were riding along the highway when they were accosted by two stick-up men and ordered to get out of the car, but before they could comply other parties began firing on the group and the young lady was killed instantly and her companion so badly wounded that he died soon after.

According to information the two men had held up another man shortly before and had robbed him of what he had. He had then gone into a filling station and borrowed a gun and gave chase to the robbers and came upon them while they were in the act of robbing the town young people and opened fire at once, but instead of hitting either of the robbers he killed both their victims. So far as Mr. Guyer could learn both the robbers escaped.

Success is getting what you want. Happiness is wanting what you get.

J. M. Osborn of Muleshoe was a business visitor here Wednesday afternoon.

Hail Reported South of Black.

Finis McMurry, whose home is a few miles south of Black, was in the Star office Wednesday and stated that he had been informed that the hail which fell there Tuesday night had entirely destroyed his cotton and feed crops.

It appears that the part of the farm where this destruction was reported to have been wrought was some distance from his house and being busy in the other part of his field he had not had occasion to visit his row crops since the storm and the report was carried to him by a neighbor.

Such a loss at this season of the year will be a severe blow to Mr. McMurry, but he was hoping that conditions might not be as bad as reported.

Produce Prices Show Advance Past Week

Those of our readers who have been watching the Friona produce market prices, will have noticed the steady climb of prices on some of the produce quoted during the past few weeks.

For instance, butterfat two weeks ago was quoted at 13 cents. Last week it was 14 cents, and this week is 17 cents. Eggs during the past three weeks have climbed from 7 to 9 cents.

Although these slight gains in prices do not mean much in the way of additional finances for the producer, the very fact that they are gradually climbing bears evidence that a change for the better is eminent and may end in permanent improvement in prices generally. At least it is a hopeful sign.

Friona Hotel Changes Hands.

With the beginning of this week the management of the Friona Hotel changed from the hands of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Donaldson to Miss Nellie Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson have had charge of the hotel for the past few years and have given universal satisfaction to the traveling public by their courtesy and well regulated and efficient service and it is with no little regret on the part of the public that they have chosen to change their location. They will now have charge of the hotel rooms in the upper story of Mrs. Maure's building at the corner of Fifth and Main Streets.

Miss Cross, who now takes charge of the Friona Hotel, has many acquaintances and friends in Friona, she having at one time been head operator of the local telephone exchange office, where her services were most highly appreciated by her patrons.

She will be assisted in her work of managing the hotel by H. E. Wilson, and the Star bespeaks for her success in her new enterprise.

Friona Gin to Be Ready.

C. S. Waddell, manager of the Friona Gin, is rushing work to the utmost to have everything in readiness for the opening of the ginning season.

He has had a force of mechanics and helpers busily engaged every day, both early and late and sometimes far into the night putting things to right and in running order.

Mr. Waddell says he will have everything ready when the first bale comes into town, which he expects to be some time in September, as he says some of the crops are getting ready to begin opening at this time.

Fire Department Will Soon Be Model Unit

"Large oaks from little acorns grow" is a saying that is not only true, but one that may be aptly applied to many beginnings in the business world, and may prove true with the nucleus of a fire department that has been organized in our little city.

The Star takes pride in the fact that it has always championed the organization of a fire department here, and has so often mentioned it that it has been by some dubbed as its "hobby".

Whether or not the Star has been in any way instrumental in bringing about this organization, it rejoices in the fact that it has been done and will at all times be found backing this organization with what influence it may have.

It is true that this organization and its equipment can not be classed with the most up to date and efficient fire fighting apparatus that can now be secured, but it is a beginning in the right direction, and will be found equal to the emergency in an ordinary blaze, and can be made the means of saving much property from the ravages of fire.

The equipment consists of a good dependable truck capable of carrying 1000 feet of standard fire hose, which the city owns and can be, within a few minutes, located at any particular spot in the city limits. The city's finances will not permit of the purchase of a regular fire engine and pump, so for the present at least we will have to depend on gravity pressure for the force of the water, but this will throw two good streams over the top of any building in the city, with perhaps the possible exceptions of the grain elevators. This equipment will be stored in a shed on the Blackwell hardware store block, which is easily accessible at any time.

The present organization consists of eight of Friona's most capable and dependable young men who have volunteered their service for the protection of the city in case of fire. They are Ray Smith, fire chief; S. Mitchell, fire squad captain; Sam Taylor, Fred White, Joe Dale, Earl Watkins, Reeve Guyer, Ralph Roden and Mulkey Ezell.

The boys had their first attempt at a fire drill Wednesday evening, which was put on more to ascertain the location of the city fire plugs than the method of attaching the hose and letting on the water, and assigning men for the various tasks of getting the water flowing.

Other drills will be held at stated intervals until they have reached a degree of efficiency that will bid fair for good fire protection for the city and various items of equipment will be added from time to time as funds can be secured with which to pay for same.

Captain Mitchell has had considerable experience along the line of fire fighting, having at one time been connected with various other fire companies, and this experience will be valuable for the other members of the company. The Star hopes to give a more detailed description of Captain Mitchell's experience in its next issue.

The new egg-powdering plant at Fort Worth will create a market for 400 carloads of eggs annually. Fifty employes are regularly employed in the plant at present.

There is no better ballast for keeping the mind steady on its keel and saving it from all risks of crankiness than business.

Had Pleasant Trip.

A group of eight Friona people returned Monday evening from a week of pleasant vacationing in the mountains of Colorado.

The group consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Roden and three children, Miss Imogene Short, Dr. R. R. Willis and Chick Schlenker.

The week was spent in traveling, viewing the wonderful and beautiful mountain scenery and some fishing. On one occasion they caught all the fish they could eat consisting of speckled and rainbow trout. Mr. Roden had the pleasure of drawing in two of the rainbow beauties about 14 inches long, and other members of the party hooked only the speckled variety. All express themselves as greatly refreshed and rested by their outing and highly pleased with the scenery and recreation.

Crops Good In Oklahoma.

W. M. White, living west of town returned from Oklahoma on Wednesday, where he and his family have been visiting during the past week.

Mr. White says conditions are looking quite good in the part of the state where he was and that all kinds of crops are unusually good there.

As to his own crops here, says he will have an abundance of feed, both grain and roughage, but his early planted corn will not make any grain, owing to the fact that moisture was withheld at the time it was needed for forming the ears.

T. F. Lawrence Improving.

About the usual attendance at Sunday school last Sunday, with the usual good interest in the lesson discussions.

Following the lesson hour, Mr. Milford favored the primary department members with a Bible story. Another highly appreciated special feature of the school was a piano solo by little Miss Threese Anderson.

Following Sunday school, the usual morning worship, including the pastor's sermon, which was well received by the entire congregation.

Owing to the fact that Sunday evening is the time for the regular monthly Layman's meeting, the date of the program to be given by Mr. Milford's daily vacation Bible school was changed from the evening hour to the morning hour and will be given between the Sunday school session and the preaching service. Everyone is cordially invited to this program.

THE TENT OF MEETING THE TABERNACLE

Exodus: 7-16

7. Now Moses used to take the tent and to pitch it without the camp, afar off from the camp; and he called it The Tent of Meeting. And it came to pass, that every one that sought Jehovah went out unto the tent of meeting, which was without the camp.

8. And it came to pass, when Moses went out unto the Tent, that all the people rose up, and stood, every man in his tent door, and looked after Moses, until he was gone into the Tent.

9. And it came to pass, when Moses entered into the Tent, the pillar of cloud descended, and stood at the door of the Tent: and Jehovah spake with Moses.

10. And all the people saw the pillar of cloud stand at the door of the Tent: and all the people rose up and worshipped, every man standing at his tent door.

11. And Jehovah spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friends. And he turned again into the camp: but his minister Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not out of the Tent.

12. And Moses said unto Jehovah, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found favor in my sight.

13. Now, therefore, I pray thee, if I have found favor in thy sight, show me now thy ways, that I may know thee, to the end that I may find favor in thy sight; and consider that this nation is thy people.

14. And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest.

15. And he said unto him, If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence.

16. For wherein now shall it be known that I have found favor in thy sight, I and thy people? is it not in that thou goest with us, so that we are separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth?

Golden Text: Jehovah spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend.—Exodus 33:11.

Time: B. C. 1498.
Place: At Mt. Sinai.

Introduction.

"The tent of meeting brought the people to a place that symbolized the presence of Jehovah and made it more vivid and vital. The church is our tent of meeting with God and with one another in religious worship and fellowship; and we need it still. Though our worship is more spiritual than that of the Israelites, yet if we do not have a home and a school for it, it is likely to grow dim and thin, and may fade into a reminiscence."—Snowden.

"The great saints of history have all been praying men and women. They did not cultivate God in order to become hermits and recluses, but rather to take their places as doers of their Master's work."—Round Table.

After the Lord had given the Ten Commandments to Israel, Moses again ascended the mount, where he remained for forty days and nights communing with Jehovah, who spoke to him many more of his laws for his people, a record of which we have in Exodus 21:31.

The Golden Calf.

While Moses tarried in the mount, the people became restless and perplexed. They went to Aaron and said, "Up, make us gods, which shall go before us; for as for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we wot (know) not what is become of him." The request was in direct violation of the Commandments. What did Aaron do? He weakly yielded, and commanding them to bring their golden ornaments, he made from them a golden calf such as they had seen in Egypt. To the people he said: "These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt;" he built an altar before it, proclaimed a feast for the following day, and thus led the people to sacrifice and play before the image.

Moses, the Intercessor.

So it was that Moses, at the command of God, returned from the mount to see his people worshipping the molten image. In his anger he cast down the tables of the law which he had in his hand and destroyed the golden calf. By the next day, however, the anger of Moses had cooled, his love for his people shone through, and we hear him praying that wonderful prayer of intercession, "Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold. Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written." For answer, the Lord did not destroy them, but withheld his Presence and visited them with his displeasure.

Face to Face.

"The Lord spake unto Moses, face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend." The whole world's chief thoughts about God was of power—dread power, protective or vengeful. There was much of awe and fear. But here in Israel, in the infancy of the nation, God reveals himself as One who is ready to come into human life as a Friend. No less power, no less majesty, but those bathed in the tenderness of love. Abraham was the friend of God. God spoke to Moses as one friend speaks to another—freely, intimately, giving and inviting utmost confidence.

Moses' Prayer.

First is Moses' prayer for himself, "Show me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight." It is for himself, but is far from selfish. It looks in two directions—toward the command of God that he should lead the people out of Egypt and the assurance of his grace that God had given him—and toward the people and the task to which he was committed. The favor that Moses sought was reassurance and re-enforcement for his task. Closely connected, therefore, with the prayer for himself is one for his people: "Consider that this nation is thy people," and (in verses 15, 16) a plea for the Presence of the Lord with them: "If thy presence go not, carry us not up hence." "Can we look at this scene without seeing in it the operation on a lower field of the same great principles of intercession, which reaches its unique example in Jesus Christ? We need in it a foreshadowing of our great High-priest."—Maclaren.

The Answer of God.

"There are some kinds of prayer that God does not answer. Recall from the psalmist the futility of the prayer in which one regards iniquity in the heart; and from James, 'Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.'"

"What then is the kind of prayer that obtains a blessing? In his recent book on The Faith of Prayer, Samuel Chadwick speaks of the law of faith in prayer under several heads: (1) Ask. (2) Ask in faith. (3) Ask aright or with the right motive. (4) Ask righteously. The rightness of the asking goes to the rightness of the asked. (5) Ask earnestly. (6) Ask in the Spirit. Its source is divine, harmonizing with the revealed purpose of God."

The "Presence" of God.

This the all-sufficient answer to all our needs. "My presence shall go with thee." "The promise of the presence sent Jacob on his way with confidence. It is the same promise that sent Moses from Midian to Egypt to combat all the powers of that great empire, and gave him the courage to face the wilderness with the hosts of Israel. And when at Sinai the people sinned and God withdrew the promise, Moses' heart failed. "If thy presence go not, carry us not up hence." The sense of the Presence is the sine qua non; it is also the one comprehensive grace. "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

Intercession.

"Prayer cannot stop at personal need. Even in the inner chamber there is no escape from the impact of those who impinge upon us in the home, the church, and the world. The law of prayer is that each stands alone in the Presence of God, just as surely as each one of us shall give account of himself to God," each bearing his own burden, and yet every man bearing the burden of others. There is always a burden. Intercession is vicarious. The Saviour made intercession because he bore the sin of the transgressors. So it is in all prayer that entreats for others. Moses made the cause of Israel his own."

HUB NEWS.

While away Mrs. Bell underwent a severe surgical operation from which she is so far recovered as to permit her to return home, but she is still far from being well and strong.

Mr. Bell stated that his early planting of row crops are not good, owing to the lack of moisture at the time they most needed it, but his later crops are looking very good.

It Might Work Here.

Old-fashioned swapping has come into vogue at Wortham. Under the direction of L. J. Young, vocational agriculture teacher, and sponsored by the Lion's club, a farmers' exchange has been established. More than 90 farmers have already listed trades. Here are two of the trades: "Good 250 pond Poland China brood sow to swap for cow," and "Will trade permanent wave for 75 to 100 pound pig."

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fleet of Tecumseh, Oklahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark of Clinton, Oklahoma, arrived here this week for a few days visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fleet are Mr. Fleet's parents, and Mrs. Clark is his sister.

The younger members of the group departed Wednesday afternoon for a fishing trip over in New Mexico.

Son: Say, pop, the girl I've got my mind set on doesn't seem to be much of a talker.

Old Henpeck: Don't let her fool you, my boy; your mother played that very same trick on me.

Census Taker: Your husband's name, please.

Mrs. Grogan: Pat.

C. T.: I want his full name.

Mrs. G.: Well, sor, when he's full he thinks he's Gene Tunney, but when of lay me hands on 'im he's just plain Pat again.

Boy, believe it or not, I have a six-inch chest expansion.

That's nothing. See that rowboat tattooed on my chest? Well, when I take a breath that's a four-masted schooner.

Your Electric Power Supply Must Be Flexible

Electric Power, to serve any community adequately, must be flexible. It must meet all requirements, large of small—from a huge factory to a small household—at any time and at any place.

Small plants serving single communities lack this flexibility . . . they lack the variety of volume and demand which enables a larger system, serving a wide area by transmission lines, to operate efficiently.

The transmission line delivers larger amounts of power AT ONCE without the delay of installing additional equipment. Thus it clears the way for a rapid and permanently expanding industrial growth.

The present day industrial progress of small communities is based in a large measure on the ample and economical power supply which resulted when transmission systems replaced small plants throughout the Nation.

The Texas Utilities Company, through its widespread 1000-mile transmission line connecting network, makes available about 60,000 horsepower of electric energy—ready at the turn of a switch.

GOP May Receive Bids for Sale of Property

Following is a copy of a sale bill handed the Star by W. W. White, who secured the copy while on a recent visit in Oklahoma:

As our lease with Uncle Sam expires March 4, 1933, we are compelled to vacate in favor of the sons of the Wild Jackasses. We will sell, on above date, at the Capitol building, Washington, D. C., to the highest bidder, the following property, to-wit:

Livestock.

One mammoth white elephant; gentle; has stupendous appetite, consumes large quantities of federal securities, reserve notes, stock gamblers, grain pit trusts, government bonds, mergers, gold reserve, reconstruction finance corporations and oil scandals.

One ex-president, middle age, full mouth, in good flesh and health, would make a good porter or bell hop.

One vice-president, broken mouth, shies at common people, but not vicious.

Thirty head ex-congressmen, all ages and varieties; some reds, roans, and a few with long horns.

Sixteen ex-senators, mostly of the moss-back variety, all smooth mouthed and useless.

One Federal Farm Board consisting of 12 members, costing $600,000,000 four years ago. No offer refused.

Ten million idle men on short rations and thin in flesh.

Three million democrats who voted GOP will be sold for their ignorance.

One treasury department complete, connected by private wire to all international banks in Wall Street. Government being broke, has no further need for same, since losing its Mellon crop.

One postal service complete, with a rising market on postage stamps, should prove a good investment.

Five thousand closed banks, should be purchased by counter-felatters and opened, as counterfeit money would be none at all.

One tax franchise, conveying the right to tax the American people any time you need money. No danger of people kicking, as they have been fed GOP sleeping powders for 12 years and are in a dormant condition and perfectly helpless.

One ever-bearing Mellon vine with enormous multitude of long branches reaching into the pockets of every individual in the U. S.

One government pay roll for mothers-in-law of congressmen and senators.

One 18th Amendment, leaking badly; brewers and distillers take notice.

One billion dollar crime wave, sired by Volstead and damned by everybody.

Fifteen railway systems, badly crippled, operating on three legs but still able to limp.

Five thousand miles of soup lines without a vacant space.

Five million dinner pails, all empty.

Five hundred rum runners, all good swimmers; know all about the dives.

One GOP platform with every plank broken.

Doxology.

The politician is my shepherd; I will want no good thing during the campaign. He filleth my pocket with good cigars; my beer glass runneth over. He inquireth about my family, down to the third and fourth generation. After he is elected he knoweth me not. If I go to his office, he doth not recognize me. Lo, the wool has been pulled over mine eyes all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the land of depression for many more days.

Lunch served at noon by the prohibition ladies and the farm board auxiliary, consisting of fresh doughnut holes, prosperity soup, Potomac water and Blue Moon ale.

Terms of sale: American citizens, cash in hand; Europeans, long term credit extended.

Sales manager, GOP; Clerk, J. P. Morgan; Auctioneer, Senor Borree.

Attend Father's Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lange and children, Mrs. Mary Mistel, Bobbie and Carolyn and Dorcas Ann returned last week from a week's visit at Llano and other places in that part of Texas.

This trip was made at this particular time in order that they might be present at the celebration of the seventy-second birthday celebration of Mr. Lange's father, B. Lange, at Llano. The elder Mr. Lange has been in Friena at various times and has quite a number of warm friends here who are pleased to learn of his good health and wish him many happy returns of his birthday.

Among the most noted places of interest visited by Mr. Lange and family while away was the Cascade Caverns at Borne, not many miles from Llano.

Mr. Lange says this is one of the most interesting sights he has ever seen, and that the cavern excels in beauty and grandeur the famous Carlsbad Caverns of New Mexico. Its exploration was begun only six months ago, when Captain Nicholson, a famous cave explorer, conceived the idea of diving into a stream that then flowed near the mouth of the cavern and coming to the surface on the opposite side of a rock wall or partition, and thus discovering the unknown extent of the cavern. According to Mr. Lange, this stream of water near the entrance has been drained and visitors can now enter dry shod into the mysterious depths of the cavern, only a comparatively small portion of which has thus far been explored.

Mr. Lange informed the writer that this is the only cavern in the world where the staccate and stalagmite formations have taken on a color effect and these formations here are of varied colors and tints, all the tints of the rainbow being present in the huge and numerous formations. The color effect makes this cavern the most beautiful in appearance of any that has yet been discovered. In addition to this beautiful color effect, Mr. Lange says there are a number of mysterious conditions found there, which are peculiar to this cavern only.

The Lange family also visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barney and children at their home in Evant. Mrs. Burney was formerly Miss Catheryn Coneway. Mrs. Lange reports that her daughter has already this season canned over 400 quarts of vegetables and fruits, and is still canning for the family pantry.

Others visited were two of Mr. Lange's sisters, Mmes. C. S. Gray and K. A. Wolfe of San Antonio, and while there visited the historic Alamo. They also visited another sister, Mrs. Percy Hagemer of Llano.

He reports that crops are all good in that section of the state and that there is much more business activity than there was a year ago when he visited there, which he takes as a good indication of the return of normal business conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dixon honored their daughter, Rosella, with a lawn party on her sixteenth birthday Thursday night, August 11, at their ranch home in the Rhea community.

Lawn games were played until a late hour, when refreshments of fruit, ice cream and angel food cake were served to the guests and hostess.

Those present were Janet Hanson, Virginia Short, Ray Landrum, Helen Schlenker, Irene Sachs, Elmore Dean, Amelia Schlenker, Melvin Sachs, Sarah Schlenker, Dayton Hanson, Juanita Crow, Nelson Welch, Ruth Brown, Carl Schlenker, Mrs. Whitesides and daughters, Billy Fern and Lonell, Eugene, Rosella and Mr. and Mrs. Dixon.

Do YOU "PLAY OSTRICH" WITH THE WELFARE OF YOUR COMMUNITY?

So why go farther than your home town and do worse when looking for bargains in any line of merchandise?

Farms by Horse Power.

H. H. Weis, living five miles south of town, is one of the few wholly horse power farmers in this locality. Mr. Weis stated to a representative of the Star that he has tilled over 300 acres of row crop this season with his seven good horses, and combined 550 acres of wheat and oats, drawing his combine by horse power and averaging 35 acres a day. He buys no gasoline and feeds his teams on 8 cent oats and keeps them fat.

Receives Insurance Settlement.

M. H. Sylvester received Tuesday, just one month after the fire which destroyed his garage and machine shop, drafts to the amount of $1968.22 on the three insurance policies which he had covering his property. This amount only lacked $31.78 of being the full face value of the three policies, the difference being the estimated depreciation in the value of the property. Mr. Sylvester seemed well satisfied with the settlement.
