ALDERMANIC GOVERNMENT WINS TWO TO ONE

$100,000 DEPARTMENT STORE CO. ORGANIZED

PROMINENT LOCAL MERCHANTS
JOIN IN ORGANIZATION OF MAMMOTH ENTERPRISE

P.B.M.CO. IS NAME

Wichita Falls is at last to have a big department store. Through a movement inaugurated some time ago and consummated yesterday a $100,000 corporation to be known as the P. B. M. Company was organized, and by January 1 will be in active operation. The company is composed of P. H. Pennington, C. J. Barnard and Dew Millsaps and the purpose is to establish a thoroughly modern and up-to-date department store wherein will be handled every article of wearing apparel for men, women and children. P. H. Pennington will be president of the new company; Mr. Millsaps will be vice president, and Mr. Barnard will be secretary and treasurer. The company will occupy a building owned by Mr. Pennington on Indiana avenue, which will be remodeled and enlarged to accommodate a two hundred thousand dollar stock. It will have a beautiful glass front and will be equipped with an electric elevator and every modern mechanical device to make it the equal of any store of the kind in the state. The company will sell goods at wholesale as well as retail and expects to do a large jobbing business in the section tributary to Wichita Falls. Every class of merchandise will be carried from the very finest to be found in the eastern and European markets to the medium priced grades, so that buyers can have their every want supplied without going to any other market. In addition to the department store the gentlemen will also act as a partnership business to be known as the P. H. Pennington Company, which will occupy the building now used by C. J. Barnard & Company on Ohio avenue. Mr. Pennington, as president of the larger company, will also act as manager of the Ohio avenue store and will divide his time between the two. Mr. Millsaps will have active management of the buying and selling forces of the P. B. M. Company and Mr. Barnard will have charge of the finance and credit departments. The organization of the P. B. M. Company means a very advanced step in the business interests of the city and speaks much for the enterprise and progressive spirit of the gentlemen who are interested in it. Each of them has already made his mark in the business life of the city and now they are combining their power and wealth. Mr. Pennington is the oldest resident of the city. He came here about seven years ago with but a small stock and comparatively little capital. In that time he has built a business and amassed a fortune on which most men would be ready to retire but now in the very prime of his life he has plans for larger and greater things and with an undiminished faith in the future of Wichita Falls he has conceived and planned the enterprise that is to be the biggest thing of its kind in this section of the state. Mr. Barnard has lived in the city about three years and has also built up a fine business. His present store is conceded to be one of the finest in the state and carries a stock equal to many of the stores in the larger cities. Mr. Millsaps has been in the city only since January first, coming here from Weatherford as head of the McGraw-Hill-Millsaps Company. He has, however, demonstrated his ability and possesses a knowledge of the city goods business that is quite exceptional. The trio will make a strong force both financially and in experience and knowledge of the trade and the local situation, and should be in a position to make the business grow and help the city grow.

MINT ROBBED AT SAN FRANCISCO

It Will Be Necessary to Count $61,000,000 in Silver Dollar by Dollar

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 27.—The United States mint at San Francisco has been robbed, although it is believed the amount is small. Treasury officials today confirmed reports of theft from the coining plant on the Pacific coast. It will require a dollar for dollar count of the $61,000,000 of silver stored there to determine the exact loss. Only seven dollars has been found missing so far, but circumstances indicate that the sum will be increased. Directly after the robbery today, said undoubtedly there had been a petty scheme of pilfering. In a few bags containing silver dollars it was found one or two dollars had been taken and iron washers substituted.

By Associated Press. Rheims, France, Sept. 27.—A new world's record for speed by aeroplane the remarkable speed of 118.5 miles an hour, beating the former official world's record of 111.5 miles an hour, was attained here today by both Emil Verdier and Morris Prevost, two French aviators. SOUTHWEST TEXAS FLOOD DAMAGE

LOWLANDS OVERFLOWED, CROPS DAMAGED AND RAILROAD TRACKS WASHED OUT

RICE GROWERS ALARMED

Continued Rains Will Mean Ruin of Their Crops—Rio Grande Threatening at Brownsville

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, Sept. 27.—Information from Southwest Texas show that little improvement in flood conditions. The Mission River continues to rise in the Refugio section and inundates lowlands, causing serious damage to cotton and other crops. Railway traffic is materially interfered with and the Brownsville road, already confronted by some serious washouts, is fearing more delay from this source. At Brownsville, the Rio Grande is bankful, still rising and the lowlands will be flooded. Corpus Christi, Kingsville and other points in that vicinity report an almost unprecedented rainfall, with more in prospect and all streams are rising rapidly. In the Bay City, Matagorda and other rice growing sections, intense alarm over the weather conditions prevails and growers are becoming convinced of their inability to prevent damage, which will mount into thousands of dollars. East of Houston, extending well into Louisiana, rice growing regions are deluged, the grain is being ruined and continued precipitation spreads the general feeling of alarm.

STATE COMPLETES CASE AGAINST WOMAN

By Associated Press. Bartlesville, Okla., Sept. 27.—The testimony of "Bud" Bellew, confessed accomplice in the killing of Charles T. Reuter, an attorney of Tulsa, was corroborated today by a number of witnesses and the state announced it has practically completed its case against Laura M. Reuter, widow of the murdered man, who is charged with abetting the crime. Bellew swore today that Mrs. Reuter knew of the death plot. Guy Mackenzie, an old man with whom Mrs. Reuter is alleged to have been intimate and Joe Baker, formerly a chauffeur for Mackenzie, are now serving life sentences for killing Reuter while he was asleep at his home in Tulsa.

FEDERAL ADVANCE BEGUN YESTERDAY MORNING

By Associated Press. Piedras Negras, Sept. 27.—The long expected federal advance into constitutional territory began at daylight this morning when the main federal army under command of Gen. Maass started north along the railroad leading toward Auroa. Active preparations to resist this advance are being made by the revolutionists and every available soldier will be gathered near here to fight the federals.

LOOK FOR WOMAN IN SULZER CASE

DETECTIVES UNABLE TO LOCATE
FEMALE BELIEVED TO BE IM-PORTANT WITNESS

KNOWS ABOUT HIS DEALS

Much Speculation as to Sulzer's Defense—Even His Attorneys Don't Know It

By Associated Press. Albany, N. Y., Sept. 27.—A mysterious woman who is believed by the board of managers of the Sulzer impeachment trial to be conversant with many of his Wall street transactions is being sought. Detectives have been searching for her in New York for weeks. It was learned today, but have been unable to locate her. The search has not been abandoned, however. Her testimony is desired along with that regarding the governor's deals in stocks. None of the transactions were made directly through her, as the governor's agents, it is said, but she is believed to know much of the manner in which the deals between him and his agent or agents were consummated. Frederick L. Caldwell, the governor's alleged "dummy" in Wall street was not produced by attorneys for the defense today and tonight it appears unlikely he will testify. The defense explains that ill health might prevent him from taking the stand, but asserts they were not attempting to conceal him. Charges that the governor loaned his political influence will be taken up next week, it developed today. Two witnesses, Chester C. Platt, the governor's secretary, and John A. Waldron, a recorder of legislative bills, have been summoned in connection with this feature. It is alleged the governor loaned his influence in certain road building projects, with two assemblymen, in exchange for their votes on the direct primary bill. What final disposition will be made of James Garrison, who is held in the Albany county penitentiary for contempt of the assembly, was the subject of much discussion today. After Supreme Court Justice Cochrane had denied Garrison's habeas corpus application Garrison was returned to the penitentiary. His friends plan to use every effort to induce the assembly to release him when the assembly reconvenes October 6.

DECISIVE BATTLE EXPECTED TODAY

Long Expected Federal Advance Into Constitutional Territory Is Begun

By Associated Press. Piedras Negras, Sept. 27.—A protracted artillery duel which began this morning at daylight between the constitutionalists and the main federal army under Gen. Maass beginning the long expected advance into constitutional territory was reported today in official advices from constitutional field headquarters at Auroa. Preparations have been made for a decisive battle tomorrow. Losses on both sides today are heavy. The federals are better equipped with artillery and the rebels relied on their cavalry which is said to have checked the federal advance. "Kid" Humphries was released from the county jail yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus pending a hearing on the writ on October 11. In the petition Judge Felder it was declared that Humphries' physical condition was such that imprisonment would endanger his health and life. He was sentenced to jail and fined for running a bawdy house. His fines amounted to more than a thousand dollars. He made a payment of $500 on his fines Saturday.

PENNANT IS CINCHED FOR NEW YORK TEAM

Giants Lose But Defeat of Philadelphia Gives Them First Place in the League

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 27.—With the defeat of Philadelphia by Boston this afternoon, New York won the National League pennant. The Philadelphia team, which had been leading the league, was defeated by Brooklyn. If Philadelphia were to win and New York were to lose, all their games yet to be played, New York would still lead by four points.

CONFESION IS RETRACTED

FRED CAVENDER—REPUDIATES
STATEMENT CHARGING TRIO WITH BURNING CHURCH

MEN OWED HIM MONEY

This Was His Motive He Said For Charges Against Eastus, Ratliff and Weatherford

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 27.—Fred Cavender, chief witness against the trio accused of burning the First Baptist Church and parsonage went before District Judge Buck late yesterday and repudiated his previous confession involving Lee Weatherford, Roy Eastus and Bill Ratliff. The three men are under indictment and will be tried in Parker county on a charge of venue. Cavender denied all his previous testimony, issuing a sworn statement. He said he had made the confession before because the three men involved owed him money.

PORFIRIO DIAZ SUMMONED HOME

GRIM OLD EX-PRESIDENT ASKED TO COME BACK TO MEXICO
FOR ARMY SERVICE

THE OLD WARRIOR DELAYS

Sends Non-Committal Answer to Summons—His Service as Advisor Needed

By Associated Press. Mexico City, Sept. 27.—Gen. Porfirio Diaz, ex-president of Mexico, has been summoned by the war department to return to Mexico for active army service. A cablegram sent to General Diaz today brought a non-committal reply from him, asking the war minister to await the arrival of a letter which he would dispatch him. General Diaz is now at Biarritz, France. It is recognized here he is too old to render service except possibly in an advisory capacity. The last words of General Diaz when he left Mexico were to the effect that he would return only if the country needed his services in the event of a foreign invasion. No intimation is given as to the reason prompting his recall.

U. S. SOLDIERS ARE FIRED UPON

DETACHMENT OF SECOND CAVALRY
ATTACKED BY MEXICAN FEDERALS

FORTY SHOTS WERE FIRED

Both United States and Mexican Authorities are Investigating the Shooting

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, Sept. 27.—A detachment of United States troops, Second Cavalry, was fired upon late this afternoon by Mexican Federal cavalrymen. The Americans were on duty patrolling the international border about fifteen miles east of El Paso. None of the Americans were injured. Two Texas rangers who were nearby, were also fired at by the Mexicans. Army officers stated tonight that their soldiers did not return the fire. There were about forty shots fired at them. H. L. Rhodes who was near the scene when the Mexicans began shooting stated that the American troops returned the fire and drove the Mexicans to cover. It is not known whether any Mexicans were injured. The American troops were at a patrol station on the border about two miles east of San Elizario when thirty Mexican cavalrymen appeared on the Mexican side. The Mexicans were about two hundred yards from the Americans when the shooting began. The United States authorities at Clint, Texas, were notified soon after the shooting and went to San Elizario to conduct an investigation. At Juarez tonight the Mexican federals are also conducting an investigation. The Mexican troops who fired at the Americans composed a scouting party that left Juarez this morning. Late tonight the troops had not returned to their barracks at Juarez. Rev. C. B. Williams of the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, will preach at the First Baptist church at the morning and night services today.

COTTON WENT TO NEW HIGH LEVEL

OPTIONS FOR SEVERAL MONTHS
CROSSED FOURTEEN CENT

Misinterpretation of Legislative News From Washington Caused Sensation Break

By Associated Press. New Orleans, Sept. 27.—The prices of cotton went to new high levels for the year this week, several options crossing the fourteen cent mark. Values were the highest in several years. The market closed for the week at a net gain of twenty-five to thirty-five points. The high prices were made Saturday and the low prices on Monday. At the highest the trading months were fifty-seven to sixty points over last week's close; at the lowest, they were twelve to fifteen points under. The close would have been higher but for a sensational break right on the week end on unfavorable rumors from Washington regarding legislation. The chief reason for the advance was the growing conviction that this crop at its best can only be of moderate size. Bulls claimed that the crop damage was heavy during the week. Reports from the western belt, particularly from Texas where damage was said to be heaviest noted rotting of bolls and sprouting of seed in the boll. Much injury to grade resulted from excessive precipitation. In the spot department, prices gained 9-16 of a cent, middling closing 13-7/8 against 13-5/16 last week and 11-7/16 this week last year. Sales on the spot amounted to 4025 bales against 4282 last week and 2715 this week last year. News that Majority Leader Underwood had introduced into the House the Smith-Lever cotton future tax measure, which traders here misinterpreted caused one of the most remarkable breaks in the New Orleans cotton market for some time. The measure was received just as new high levels for the season had been reached. Immediately there was a rush to unload and within a few minutes prices that had stood thirteen to sixteen points over yesterday's close were battered down. The final gong sounded amid pandemonium when the market was eighteen to twenty-two points under the high of the day.

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, Sept. 27.—Cotton futures closed steady. January 13.77 and 79; March 13.87 and 89; May 13.95 and 96; July 13.83 and 89; September 14.18 and 22; October 14.05 and 07; December 13.88 and 90. Spot steady twenty points up. Middling uplands 14.30; middling gulf 14.55. Sales 100 bales.

SPECIALIZATIONS OF UNITED STATES SENATORS

Nearly Every Solon Has His Specialty in Legislative Matters at Washington

Washington, Sept. 27.—Specialization is the order of the age and members of the United States Senate reflect that tendency. Most of them have their specialties in legislation. A rough compilation gives the following: Warren, Wyoming: Expert in making two appropriations from where only one grew before; specialist in army post appropriations. Norris, Nebraska: Knows everything about coffee and the coffee trust. Jones, Kentucky: Bryan and Bryanism; democratic platters. Bacon, Georgia: Foreign affairs. Stone, Missouri: Poor Law; also waiters. Vardaman, Mississippi: The negro question. Smoot, Utah: Wool and sugar. Bristow, Kansas: Sugar and the Dutch Standard in the tariff bill. Williams, Mississippi: Sarcasm, Shakespeare and fiction. Yorks, California: Peace. Pittman, Nevada: Mining and Nevada. Martine, New Jersey: The "common people". Chamberlain, Oregon: Alaska and Alaskan railroads. Ashurst and Ball, of Arizona and New Mexico: Mexico. Penrose, Pennsylvania: Objections. Nelson, Minnesota: Poor puns. La Follette, Wisconsin: Legislation; progressivism. Lea, Tennessee: Soft Southern accent. Lodge, Massachusetts: Cigarettes and literature. Sheppard, Texas: Effulgent eloquence. The list might be made complete by listing the remaining senators as experts on constitutional law.

SATURDAY'S ELECTION ALDERMANIC VICTORY

PASTOR BECOMES A SALOONKEEPER

Administration of Estate of Parishioner Puts Him in Charge of Two Saloons

By Associated Press. New Haven, Conn., Sept. 27.—In the eyes of the law a New Haven clergyman is managing two of the city's saloons. This has come about by the appointment of Rev. Parker Pollak, pastor of the Greek Catholic church as administrator of the estate of a parishioner at the request of the widow. The estate included one saloon and partnership in another. The clergyman reluctantly took the appointment. He will not tend bar but under the excise laws he will be legally responsible for the conduct of both saloons.

A SUGGESTION FROM JOHN LIND

REPORTED HE WILL RECOMMEND THAT U. S. SEND AGENT TO
MEXICAN REBELS

TO URGE AN ARMISTICE

Believed General Huerta Would Agree to Such a Step Pending Coming Election

By Associated Press. Vera Cruz, Sept. 27.—It is reported that John Lind, confidential representative of President Wilson in Mexico intends to suggest to the Washington administration the advisability of sending a confidential agent to treat with the rebels in a capacity similar with his own. It is urged in view of General Huerta's promises for a fair election that it is opportune to urge the rebels acquiescence and participation in the election. The general belief is held here that if a suggestion for an armistice were to come from the rebels it would be accepted by President Huerta.

GOV. TARRANZA WILL NOT RECOGNIZE HUERTA ELECTION

By Associated Press. Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 27.—"I declare that whoever proclaims himself as president of Mexico as the result of the Huerta election in October will be considered a traitor of his country. If he falls into our hands he will be tried under the law of January 25, 1862, and the same treatment will be accorded to all who recognize him as president."

This declaration formed a part of a long message received today from Gov. Tarranza; the constitutionalist leader at Hermosillo. It was in response to a request that he state his position regarding Gen. Huerta's promise of a fair election. The law referred to provides that all traitors may be summarily executed without trial.

LAW ENFORCEMENT BILL NOT PASSED

By Associated Press. Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 28.—The extraordinary session of the 58th general assembly of Tennessee early this morning came to a close with the so-called law enforcement bills still on the calendar of the House. The bills would prohibit the shipment of liquor into the state and within the state, and also provides for action in the civil and criminal court by ten tax payers to have saloons declared a nuisance. The bills passed the Senate more than a week ago and came up in the house last Monday. Opponents of measures instituted a successful filibuster to prevent them from coming to a vote during which time it was charged that gunmen were in the house. In a special message sent to the house today Governor Hooper stated that he was strongly inclined to call another extra session for the sole consideration of the bills.

PURITY SUNDAY IS PROCLAIMED

November 9 Designated in Proclamation Issued by Acting Governor Mayes

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 27.—Acting Governor Mayes issued a proclamation setting aside November 9 as "Purity Sunday." On that day, he recommended that whatever subjects have been taken under consideration by the National Purify Congress in session at Minneapolis, November 7-12 be considered by everyone. He believes that these should be taken up in the churches and considered by the people in their homes.

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT REJECTED BY VOTE OF 549 TO 285

LIGHT VOTE CAST

With Kind of Government Decided Upon Next Step Will be Submission of Charter

By a majority of more than two to one the voters of Wichita Falls Saturday rejected the commission form of government and voted for a continuance of the present aldermanic government. The vote was: For the aldermanic form, 549; for the commission form, 285, giving the aldermanic government a majority of 264 votes out of 834 polled, nineteen more than two to one.

While the number of votes polled lacked about five hundred of the number cast in the last municipal election it is considered a good vote when the rain and mud yesterday are taken into consideration. Soon after the voting started those who were keeping in touch with the situation saw that the aldermanic vote would lead but only the most sanguine of the aldermanic adherents expected as large a majority as the count showed. While the leaders of both factions in the contest had held the center of interest for the past ten days fought hard and earnestly for their respective sides there was no disposition last night on the part of the victors to exult over the result, and on the other hand the leaders in the fight on the commission side accepted the verdict with pledges to give their nearest support to an aldermanic government. The only question voted on in Saturday's election was whether an aldermanic or a commission form of government was preferred by the voters. Now that this point has been settled it is expected that the charter of the aldermanic form published in last Sunday's Times will be submitted to the voters within the next five or six weeks for ratification or rejection. It is not believed there will be any opposition to the adoption of the new charter. Many of the aldermanic adherents have publicly pledged themselves to vote for its adoption.

TY COBB TWELVE POINTS TO GOOD

By Associated Press. Chicago, Sept. 27.—Twelve points to the good, Ty Cobb has entered the home stretch in the race for the batting championship of the American League. His chief rival, Joe Jackson is batting .373 to Cobb's .385. Tris Speaker has dropped behind Hendrickson, batting .364 to the latter's .368. Splendid Showing Fall Styles At C. J. Barnard's Opening Barnard's fall opening last week was a most complete and splendid showing of the latest fall styles in millinery, ladies ready-to-wear and fabrics in the piece.

In the millinery department there are a number of imported hats, French models by Talbot, Roboux, Hortense, Georgette and others. In this collection is a striking hat by Talbot in Saphire velvet, rolled high at the back, trimmed in two self color, heavy head French plumes and a touch of berries in pasted tones. Another hat is of dark green silk plush with trimming of extreme coque and parrot heads with extreme side roll. Another model is a simple rose in Nile and duck green and brown on one side and a brush ostrich fancy in brown at the back. A noticeable model by Roboux is a dark prairie velvet whose only trimming is a wide ostrich band and French plume in white. One of the most stunning shapes shown is one by Georgette of black velvet, rolled radically at the side with a lone casowary feather constituting its trimming. Another model by Georgette is one of the loveliest shown, an extreme painted shape of pseudo peche with black facing and two French plumes in peach color with a single large black velvet rose placed on the side. Still another Georgette is of asher of roses with ostrich band trimming, caught underneath the brim by berries in pasted shades.

The colors are varied and many new, beautiful shades are shown. Terra Cotta mahogany, turquoise, sapphire and dark blue, pearl and taupe gray and tobacco and "alger" brown are the leading shades. Black is very good also. The shapes are made from velour, velour plush, velvet and brocade velvet and haters' plush hand blocked. The shapes are medium in size, pokes and flaps being favored for millinery. A wide latitude is offered in trimmings, ribbon feathers fur and flowers all being popular. Ribbon in moire, two faced satin and brocade velvet is used quite a little bit. Ostrich fancies, French plumes, brush ostrich effects and mounds and gourd effects are the most approved feather trimmings, also feathers arranged in Pocahontas effects. Pearl buckles autumn leaves, berries, velvet rose and fur trimmings are among the novelties shown by Barnard's millinery department.

The exhibition of top coats shows some charming models of both American and French designs. One French coat is of brown with collar of selected fur and exquisitely lined with olive green satin. Another model of black zibellu with fur collar and cuffs, a novel lining of heavy satin, of black background with conventional roses in terra cutto and blue scattered over it. For early wear the coat sare of three quarter length exclusively, so made as to leave a slight fulness at the back below the waist line. The coats are shown in a variety of materials in rich brocade effects with exquisite linings of heavy brocade, messaline, pseudo sole and brocade satin and in the rough weaves, diagonals, zibellu and Persian lamb. An attractive lot of sports coats are also shown.

The separate skirts for the coming season follow gracefully draped lines, some being draped in a variety of splendid effects, while others are very plain and simple. The skirts are made of black Rampe chudah cloth, a mixture of silk and wool which are very chic worn with modish blouses in white crepe de chine and imported net. Other skirts are made of wool crepes, sponge crepes, both in the new smooth finish, and shepherd checks.

The suits are made extreme cut-away and on very loose lines. The skirts are nearly all draped and many show the slash. The materials in favor this fall are diagonals, brocade wootens, bedford, sponges, blastic cloth, wool bengaline and the ever-popular serges. The colors are mahogany, taupe, prunelle, electric blue, Copenhagen and duck and the conservative navy blue. The coats are trimmed with brocade and cut velvet and in many instances with fur. In the suit department are also some very handsome combination suits, brocade coats with plain broadcloth skirts. The coats are cutaway and the skirts display the popular drape and side slashes.

Many good looking street dresses are shown in tulle, wool crepes, and serges. In the very latest cuts, and adorned with most modish trimmings. The more dressy gowns are made of velvets, crepe meteor, crepe de chine and brocade evelan. A handsome imported frock is of brocade crepe meteor, the skirt is of saphire blue, the skirt showing extreme front drapery, caught up with self material bow and buckle. Another charming gown suitable for receptions or calling, is of navy blue velvet combined with navy blue chiffon. It is beautifully draped, with trimmings with touches of brique, a new Terra Cotto shade, veiled by the chiffon. Other dresses are shown in the materials mentioned above and in the following shades, mahogany, cafe au lait (meaning coffee and cream, a color as rich as its name), saphire, tobacco and golden brown and other new tones.

In the same department are some lovely creations in evening dresses. One of the most noticeable models is of cream blue lustre with trimmings of hand-made roses, pearls and rhinestones. The popular vest effect is carried out in shadow lace, very wide Renaissance lace is used on the tunic and the skirt is draped and slashed. Other exquisite frocks are fashioned from printed chiffon lace and accented with pleated chiffon with gold lace trimmings. The styles are all very dainty and youthful in the delicate pasted shades with the fashionable touch of draperies.

The showing of furs is superb, the very best sets being made of pelts of the North American fox, the ever-

American mink and martin. In the cheaper furs blue bear, brown and black coney are shown in the popular styles. A full line of children's furs are carried, and some beautiful sets of white leeland fox. The furs are all exquisitely lined with matched satin, the muffs being heavily bedded. In the dress goods department, Barnard has all the latest materials in the newest colors with suitable trimmings and a full line of patterns is carried. Their fall showing is a most beautiful one, containing the latest novelties in every department and designed to charm the most critical feminine eye.

In the Bishop Carriage. It has been several months since picture lovers have seen on the screen Mary Pickford in a new film. In this refined melodrama they will see little Mary in a new light. The film version of this noted subject, presents Mary Pickford in the absorbing role of Nance, who with Fate as stage director plays many strange parts until she eventually adopts a role that leads to love and happiness.

The New York World says: "The play is a fascinating drama of the underworld that approaches tragedy and ends in romance."

"In the Bishop Carriage" is a book play, nevertheless its treatment is so artistic, so delicate, so finished that it will please every division of society. The picture is more than interesting, it is instructive.

Nance's attempt to reform, her failure and her final triumph over wrong will be followed with the closest attention.

This is the second of the famous players, backed by Wren and Berry of the Lydia Margaret.

DISTRICT MEETING KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Hon. Tom Connolly, grand chancellor of the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of Texas, will hold a district meeting for the tenth grand chancellor district at Wichita Falls, Monday night, October 27th. The following counties comprise this district: Hardeman, Wilbarger, Clay, Wichita, Jack, Palo Pinto, Eastland, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Shackelford, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Archer, Baylor, Knox, Foard, Stephens. The attention of all Knights of Pythias lodges in the above counties is called to the foregoing and it is expected that this meeting will prove helpful in its results.

The secret work will be exemplified and a special convention of the grand lodge will be held for conferring the grand lodge rank. These district meetings are designed to serve as instruments whereby the members may meet and counsel with each other as to the state of the order, become better acquainted with the secret work and devise ways and means of promoting and furthering the high hopes and exalted mission of the order and the grand chancellor earnestly expects the entire membership throughout the district to aid in making this meeting a success. Let each lodge bear in mind the date and place of meeting. This is the fiftieth anniversary of the order and the officers and members throughout Texas are making a grand effort to call this the banner year. The local lodge is looking forward to the meeting with a great deal of pleasure and is making preparations to entertain some 500 visiting Knights.

WICHITA FALLS GAS COMPANY TO MOVE OFFICE SOON.

The Wichita Falls Gas Company is preparing to move its offices from the second floor of the City National Bank building to the basement of the building, and the change will be made in time for the company's patrons to pay their bills down below on October 1.

An official of the company said that the change was made for the convenience of the public, saving them a walk upstairs. His attention was called to the fact that the consumer would have to walk back upstairs after walking down to the new office, but he explained this by showing that the company would relieve a man of so much while he was in the basement that he would not mind walking back up.

Angleton, Texas, Sept. 27.—After deliberating two hour today the jurors in the case of Jim Durfee, the negro convict charged with the murder of Mrs. J. M. TARIFF'S EFFECT ON GLASS PLANT

LEGISLATIVE AND LABOR TROUBLES DELAY REOPENING OF FACTORY

MEN SEEKING NEW SCALE

Want Twenty Per Cent Advance Over Last Year, Which Factories Say They Cannot Grant

With both labor and tariff troubles besetting the window glass industry, the time of the reopening of the plant of the Wichita Falls Window Glass Company is still uncertain. A few weeks ago it was thought that the plant would again be in operation early in October, but the wage scale question is still unsettled. The men are asking for a twenty per cent advance, which the manufacturers declare they are unable to meet on account of the sharp reduction in the tariff on window glass, which is expected to admit foreign glass on a competitive basis.

The glass blowers and allied tradesmen met at Cleveland last week and renewed their demand for a twenty per cent advance, the manufacturers answering by offering the same scale as last year. Another meeting of the workers will be held at Pittsburgh early in October and the manufacturers will meet there on September 30 to consider the situation. Practically every window glass plant in the country is facing the same problem as the local factory.

The Underwood-Simmons tariff bill, as proposed, will reduce the average ad valorem tariff from forty-six per cent to twenty-eight per cent and the manufacturers contend that the latter rate will admit European glass, particularly the products of Belgian factories, on a competitive basis. The glass tariff is still in an unsettled state, as the Senate increased the rate fixed by the house committee and the matter is being fought out in the conference committee.

W. E. Busby, manager of the local plant, stated yesterday that such conditions made it next to impossible to grant the men the wage advance they sought and while everyone is hopeful of a favorable and amicable adjustment, this is still not in sight. The bottle factory has not fixed its reopening date, either, but hopes to resume sometime in October.

New Tariff Rates. The tariff matter is being considered by the National Association of Window Glass Manufacturers and a circular letter sent out by the secretary of that organization at Pittsburgh sets forth some very interesting matters in connection with the tariff bill. The letter follows:

"To Manufacturers: Enclosed are some additional tariff figures, which are only repetitions of statements that have been sent you before. The first schedule shows the rates that will probably apply when the bill is finally passed. The only change made by the Senate finance committee was to increase the rates on the 10x15 bracket from 7-8 cents per pound to one cent per pound; the schedule otherwise remains unchanged.

"For comparison we have shown the Wilson bill, the Dingley bill and the Payne-Aldrich bill, also the Underwood bill, as it probably will appear when finally disposed of. The statement showing the total imports under these various tariff laws may be interesting to you. Under the Payne-Aldrich law in 1912 the imports amounted to 391 boxes and the duties derived from these importations were about $355,000. The estimated imports as calculated by the Underwood committee total 517,000 boxes, or an increase over the imports of 1912, under the Payne-Aldrich bill of 126,000 boxes; and while the number of boxes has increased about thirty-three per cent, the duty derived from this increase in boxes is $36,000 less than under the old bill. This decrease in duty and increase in quantity does not appeal to American manufacturers or to American business men and we cannot see the strength of the argument advanced by these tariff revisionists when they bring in a much larger quantity of glass to compete with our already over-produced home market, when the income derived in the way of duties will be almost $100,000 less than under a protective policy. The decrease in revenue will be quite an item and the harm done to those engaged in the window glass industry will be many fold greater. These free traders contend that the consumer will be benefited, but we doubt that very much and believe time will show that the consumer will not be one penny better off under this tariff bill than in the past.

"If the estimate made by the Underwood committee is at all dependable, you can readily see that there would not be a sufficient increase to do any great harm to American interests, but we think the whole schedule is largely guess work and put very little dependence into the reliability of these calculations. It remains to be seen if the readjustment will be as harmless as the administration predicts. If our views are at all correct, it will be up to us to remedy the matter by supporting protectionists at local elections."

Effect On Local Plant. An idea of how the tariff would effect the local plant may be gleaned by a comparison of the rates on the 16x24 size, which is put out in large quantities by the plant here. Under the old Wilson bill in 1896, the rate was one and a fourth cents a pound; under the Dingley bill in 1905 it was one and seven-eighths cents; under the Payne-Aldrich bill, one and three-fourths to one and seven-eighths; under the Underwood bill one and one-eighth.

This comparison shows differences still sharper when the ad valorem duties, averaged on the imports, are shown. Under the Dingley bill, the tariff amounted to 76.96 per cent of the value of the glass; under the Dingley bill, 54.78 per cent; under the Payne-Aldrich bill, 46.38 per cent and

72,000 FRUIT JARS DAILY ARE MADE HERE

Immense Output at Ball Bros. Plant Being Stored For Shipment In Spring

Five hundred gross of glass jars a day—a total of 72,000 jars—are being turned out by Ball Brothers plant in this city, which has been in operation for about a month. This immense output of glass jars is being stored in the long warehouses at the plant, ready to ship to all parts of the country next spring and summer when the fruit is ripe enough for the housewife to begin to think about the next winter's supply of preserves.

Shipments will not begin before the first of the year, possibly not until several months later. The cap factory is still under construction and will not be ready for the installation of machinery for several weeks. The jars are at present being fitted with caps from the former plant in Kansas. Work has not yet been started on the zinc rolling mill which will be a unit of the Ball Bros. investment here, but it will be completed sometime this winter.

Superintendent T. B. Smock says that everything is running as smoothly as could be expected with a new plant.

"Our main trouble," Mr. Smock said, "is when the wind blows. Up in Kansas, we had winds, but they didn't keep blowing for two or three days at a time like they do here. When there is a strong wind it creates a draft through the plant and interferes with our free and is hard to deal with. The only way to do is to close all the openings, which we could do for an hour or two in Kansas, but we can't keep them closed for two or three days, as we would have to do down here."

He explained that in that portion of the plant where the jars are "baked" the wind may blow in such a way as to get the furnace too hot and melt the jars again or it may cool the furnace until the jars break. However, he said, that is a problem that will have to be worked out.

NEW GAS LINE NEARLY READY AT HENRIETTA.

(Henrietta Review)

The new gas line is joined up to a point near the city limits, having crossed the river and the slough, and a day's work will put it to where the big regulator is to be installed. This regulator and those to be placed at the oil mill, gas, electric light plant, etc., have all arrived and the meters and all of the divers and sundry appliances and fixtures that go to complete the working system for the city, are all en route. Arthur Eaton will have charge of piping the city, and has orders to employ all the men obtainable and expedite the work. This will probably begin in good earnest the first of the coming week and will be rushed as fast as men can do the work.

under the Underwood-Simmons bill, 28.30 per cent. These figures are based upon all sizes and quantities. The rates differ with the varying sizes, which run from 10x15 inches to 40x60 inches and larger.

Wichita Falls, Texas, Sept. 28, 1913

Any newspaper published in a Texas city of less than 15,000 that carries more advertising than the Sunday is one of the Wichita Falls Times, has to get up and go some. Last Sunday's issue of the Times was 20 pages exclusive of the alleged "funnies," and something like two thirds, possibly more of that issue was banded up good paid advertising. All of which, he doubt looked plum good from the office. But then the Times is printed in a live city, prints the news, and its editorial columns are vastly better reading than the so-called editorials in many newspapers published in cities double the population of Wichita Falls. —Quah Observer.

It was twenty-six pages, exclusive of the "funnies." The mailing clerk shorted you just six pages on that issue. But thanks for the compliment anyhow.

The election of yesterday to determine whether Wichita Falls should change from an aldermanic to a commission form of government resulted in a victory for aldermanic government. The Times expected this kind of result. The victory for "the rule of the people" can be attributed to many causes, but none more potent than that Wichita Falls had prospered most wonderfully under aldermanic government, perhaps to a greater extent than any other city in the country, population considered. Whatever criticisms that might have been made to any of the various administrations there never was any charge of graft or misappropriation of funds. The people were well satisfied and they did not care to change the form of government, taking the chance of getting nothing better and perhaps a form that would not be a good, and so long as the same advantages as the Commission form guaranteed can be obtained under the Aldermanic form, at less expense, there is not much for the losers to grieve over. The next thing now to do is for the people to adopt the new Aldermanic charter, which was submitted in last Sunday's Times. Wichita Falls needs and must have this new charter. There is no fault to find with it, and while every man might want to add to or take from it something, it is about as good a charter as it stands as can be agreed upon. While the Times favored Aldermanic government and feels somewhat elated over the victory, it does not like the idea of doing too much exulting, and thinks that all should forget the little unpleasantness and come together as one body of united and satisfied citizens.

one in our efforts to make Wichita Falls grow and prosper fully as much in the future as she has in the past. Had Commission government won even by a majority of one vote, the Times would have accepted the result as cheerfully as it could and joined in with the victors to help make their form of government as great a success as possible. No people that are divided can accomplish much in the way of city building. There is no reason for a division. One of the characteristics of Wichita Falls citizenship has been their disposition to get together at once and stay together after any issue which has temporarily divided them has come to a test. This spirit will quickly unite the people of Wichita Falls for continued growth under an aldermanic government.

LOYDS "LOSS BOOK" THING OF THE PAST

Underwriters Records Now Contain Reports of Minor Casualties On the Seas

By Associated Press.
London, Sept. 27.—Another instance of old customs giving way to new is found this week in Lloyds Underwriters room, where the famous old "Loss Book," which almost since the inception of the present headquarters only contained records of losses of vessels, their capture, seizure or other forms of detention, is now to become a casualty book, which will have posted within its minor pages casualties, such as damages to ships equipment, collisions of any happening that might cause delays, for which the underwriters reimburse.

Another improvement will be the posting of home and foreign arrivals on typewritten sheets instead of the present laborious method of entering them by hand in two large volumes. Many of the older, more conservative members express regret at these changes, but the younger generation welcome as facilitating their work.

The taking over of the telephone system by the British postoffice department has not been welcomed by the other public utilities already under the control of the postmaster general, and when that official returns from his visit to Canada he will find a feud in full swing between the officials of the telegraph and telephone divisions. The officials of the two departments have been at loggerheads for some time and the lack of team work has been made painfully apparent by the adoption of separate codes for the two systems, although the same clerks in most of the offices do both the telegraph and telephone work.

Practically ever since the telegraph was invented code names have been used to designate towns with long names, and recently the telephone department decided to adopt the same system, but instead of duplicating the telegraph code it invented one of its own. Now most of the towns have

It is the Duty of School Teachers

To look to the care of their pupils' eyes. Many children seem dull, do not like to study, and are called numbskulls.

They are unfortunate. In most cases, for having some eye defect. Most of them show no sign of eye trouble, and grow to Manhood and Womanhood dull and stupid, never knowing that their eyes alone made them averse to study and activity.

FIRE AT ELECTRA DESTROYS RESIDENCE SUNDAY NIGHT.

(Monday's Electra News)

At about 9 o'clock last night the residence of E. W. Marriott was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was turned in and the fire company promptly responded, finding the fire under good headway, the walls and ceiling of two rooms and the rear of the house being in flames. Prompt action of the fire company soon had the fire under control and by hard work the flames were extinguished and the building saved. The fire is supposed to have started from an electric iron. The family went to bed Sunday morning to spend the day and after using the iron before starting, left it on the ironing board with the current turned on. Services were being held at the Baptist and Methodist churches when the alarm was given and in a very few minutes a large crowd had gathered at the scene of the fire. The fire boys made an excellent showing, and handled the fire like old experienced fire fighters and are being loudly praised by the citizens this morning. The loss sustained can only be guessed at, which is said to be something like $1000. The building was covered by insurance but the damage done to the furniture, a good part of which was new and had only been in the house a few days is a total loss. Chief McDaniel suffered a severe cut on the arm while playing the house through a broken window pane. The quick action of the chemical engine was largely due to his energy and grasp of the situation.

birthday wish for the little hostess.

The Fall Fashion Exposition At McGrattan-Millsaps Co.

McGrattan-Millsaps displayed a handsome and high grade line of goods in all departments at their fall opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

One of the store's specialties is fine dresses and evening coats, a number of beautiful garments being shown in taupe matinee, white chinchilla, moire and the broadest materials. One handsome coat is of two toned velvet bengaline in mole with matching fur trimmings. A coat for evening wear strictly is of dark ruse moire velvet with peony red facings and white satin lining. Other coats in black, blue, pink and white are shown. One of the most beautiful opera coats in stock is of gold and white matinee, white fur collar and gold lining.

Many good looking coats for street wear and short coats for misses, in belted effect are to be had in a great variety of colors, materials and styles.

The tailored suits make an unusually good display. Some very unique styles being shown. An extraordinary suit is made of new honeycomb material in black and white with touches of mulberry broadcloth and pearl buckles, the skirt shows a slight drape. A suit showing both blouse and cutaway effect is of brown wool rep in chiffon broadcloth finish. A vest of extra color broadcloth embroidered in different shades of brown adds a distinguishing touch. The skirt displays several new features.

Several combination suits are shown with plain coats and check skirts and also in broadcloth coats and plain broadcloth skirts. Suits are shown in blue, brown, taupe, peach and various other shades. A very striking model in a reception or calling suit is of duck green chiffon broadcloth showing a unique three quarter length draped sleeve and a velvet vest with pearl trimmings. The skirt is side draped and the whole suit shows touches of black satin judiciously applied.

Three piece suits are quite a la mode this season and several very pretty ones are on display. One is of taupe the coat showing a high waist cutaway effect. The skirt is draped and the canton crepe waist is elaborately embroidered. A black broadcloth is also shown, the coat trimmed with pony fur, the waist with shadow lace and black satin buttons. Black is very much shown, by the way, in woolen and silks also a very striking black canton crepe model has a decided blouse effect, and long arm hole. The blouse is trimmed with white net veiled with black. Ruffles of fluted crepe and draperies make the dress a very noticeable one.

Plaid blouses and draped sashes are shown combined with solid color skirts. A Copenhagen charmeuse, with waist of rosebud satin, shows lavish touches of black in its trimming.

A beautiful evening dress is of salmon pink charmeuse, the waist veiled with real lace, with ermine pearl and rhine stone trimmings. Another lovely creation is of white broadcloth charmeuse, the waist veiled with silk lace and the overdress of terra cotta net trimmed in deep bands of crystal and pearl beads. The corsage garniture is of vari colored metal ribbon roses and lace mesh is also added. A number of other dresses are shown in crepe meteor, crepe de chine, lace and net in the delicate evening shades. Many handsome waists in silk, net, crepe and other materials are kept in stock.

The millinery department at McGrattan-Millsaps is complete in every way, showing a full line of dress and street hats. A very pretty dress hat is a small shape of gold lace trimmed with ribbon applique and rhine stones, fur band and a large shaded green plume. McGrattan-Millsaps are showing a large number of plumes and ostrich in various other effects. The single plumes are very good also, one brown, four cornered shape, having as its sole trimming two self color single plumes. Some very extreme shapes are shown and extremely high trimmings are used. An odd black creation has a fur band around the crown and a ruffle of wired black chantilly lace standing high above the crown. Quite a few flowers are shown and these are in very bright colors. Green is a leading color and blue is also good, black, however, leads.

RAINFALL THREE AND HALF INCHES

More than three and a half inches of rain had fallen in Wichita Falls up to last night, according to the U. S. weather gauge kept by J. C. Mytinger.

Reports of rain were received from practically every station along the Fort Worth & Denver and it is believed the rains have been general during the week over all of North-west Texas and Southwest Oklahoma. Lake Wichita had risen more than three and a half feet last night and was still rising with indications that a total rise of five feet or more might be expected.

The Wichita River is rising slowly and is expected to rise further when the water from rains in the plains country gets down. Red River is also reported to be rising.

RAIN DELAYS WORK ON TENTH STREET PAVING.

Work on the Tenth street paving has been delayed by the rain the past week and some of it will have to be done over again as a result of washing. The contractors have made consistent progress so far and both sewers and curbs are being put in at a rapid rate, preparatory to the actual paving.

If the city's funds are sufficient to carry the work on beyond Brook street, it is possible that this will be done, but the council is keeping Scott avenue very much in mind in considering where to pave next. The aldermen are hopeful that there will be enough money to carry the work forward without interruption.

HORACE CHILTON FILLS THE BILL

DECLARATION OF HOUSTON LAW-YER REGARDING GUBERNA-TORIAL CAMPAIGN

VISITING BROTHER HERE

Former Member of Legislature Discusses Political Condition and Need of Lone Star State

Judge John M. Duncan of Houston, one of the best known attorneys in South Texas and formerly prominent in State politics, was a visitor in Wichita Falls yesterday, being here to see his brother, Charles Duncan, who is in the employ of the Producers' Company. Judge Duncan has been in poor health for the past two years and for that reason has not taken much of a hand in things political.

Recently, however, he was quoted at length in the Dallas News as to his political views and he suggested Horace Chilton, former United States senator, as the one man who could "fill the bill." Judge Duncan was a member of the Twenty-ninth Legislature, in which the Bailey fight was staged and he was one of those whom the erstwhile junior senator promised to "run into the Gulf." Since that time he has moved from Tyler to Houston, but has not yet reached the Gulf.

The interview in the Dallas News in which Judge Duncan's political views are set forth follows:

"Texas' great need now is a clean, broad, well balanced man for governor; a statesman and not a politician; a man who will have the courage to go to the people and tell them the truth; a man who will tell them that if they are going to have good government in this State they have got to pay for it by a compensation of public officials which will attract men of the requisite ability. In other words, he must tell them they must pursue the policy that the great corporations pursue, paying whatever salaries are necessary to secure the services of men properly equipped for the positions in which they are placed. The State is in direct competition with these great corporations for the services of such men and the latter do not hesitate to pay whatever price is necessary to secure them. Hence the great 'preponderance' of talent and ability is in the employ of corporations. Occasionally, of course, men of fitness and ability do enter the public service; but they do not stay there, which is a calamity."

Texas' Greatest Curse.

"The people are all right, and they will not fail to respond properly when they understand the situation. I actually believe that the greatest curse that rests upon Texas today is the false and foolish economy practiced by the narrow politicians who happen to get into office, but which in the long run is the grossest extravagance. I have reference to the holding back of money, the cutting down of State institutions, to the cutting down of appropriations upon the theory that the people 'indorse' that course and with the idea that the people haven't sense. Why, the greatest thing about Jim Hogg was that he had the courage to do what was right in full confidence that the people would always indorse the right thing when they understood it. He was told that it would never do for him to refuse to accept the sugar bounty, but he nevertheless refused it. The people went before him and explained why, and that settled it for all time."

"But we are getting in office the kind of politicians that we are paying for, and how we are going to get any other kind in this situation, is a problem I haven't solved. I am hopeful, however, that we may, notwithstanding the meager compensation, get a big man for governor, and then bring about the right conditions all along the line."

Says Chilton Fills the Bill.

"In my opinion Horace Chilton is the one man in Texas that fills the bill. Whether or not he would accept I do not know, but I do know that he is fit for the office and that there are many things that would make him a strong candidate."

"Of course, as long as conditions are such that it costs $25,000 or $30,000 to make a campaign for governor it is difficult to get good men to make the race. The limit ought to be $2,500, just enough to circulate the State once. A man who is not already sufficiently known in Texas to afford some hope that he might be nominated ought not to be permitted to advertise himself by the expenditure of $25,000 or $30,000 to the extent that will make him governor without regard to the reputation that he may have built up in the course of his lifetime."

LAST MEETING OF CHARTER COMMITTEE

A reply by Charles H. Ruth, the Oklahoma City attorney, to some of the statements and arguments of Mayor Whit M. Grant of that city on the previous night, was the feature of the closing meeting of the aldermanic campaign Friday night.

Ruth spoke to a sympathetic audience, the largest of the campaign. His language was chaste yet vigorous and while some of his remarks were personal they were not couched in objectionable language. He closed with a reference to the Oklahoma City mayor's account of taking back some of the striking firemen causing the tensest interest and feeling.

Judge A. A. Hughes presided and in opening the meeting appealed to the voters not to give away any of their privileges. He argued that a councilmanic government was less liable to take ill considered action than a commission. He said that in a councilmanic government every mathave been in business they have gained a reputation in Wichita Falls for selling furniture, rugs and linoleums of high-grade quality at 25 per cent less than any one. Let us explain why we can do this:

During the Short Space of Three Months Time Which Brin & Dolman

- Reason No. 1. Our Mr. Brin is recognized in the eastern furniture markets as being an exceptionally good judge of quality in home furnishings; also as a very shrewd buyer.
- Reason No. 2. We pay spot cash to the manufacturers for our purchases, and for this the manufacturers make special price concessions.
- Reason No. 3. Every purchase we make is a solid car shipment, thereby saving excessive freight charges.
- Reason No. 4. Our store operating expenses are kept exceedingly low.
- Reason No. 5. Our courteous treatment, whether you buy or not, should make you feel at home in our store. No trouble to show you our goods.

The above reasons make this article that we offer you for tomorrow a bargain not to be had elsewhere.

ter was threshed out in open council at regular meetings when representatives of the press and the people themselves were present.

Judge S. H. Hodges, the next speaker, said that the statement of the Oklahoma City mayor that the candidates for commissioners were placed in nomination by a committee of six from the Chamber of Commerce, if he had said no more, was enough to convince him that the commission government in Oklahoma City was not a representative government. He asked what say the labor unions and other organizations had in those nominations.

Referring to a communication in Friday's Times from Hon. J. T. Montgomery, he declared that while the state law had permitted the abolishment of consolidation of city offices for economy or other reasons that nowhere did the law permit the consolidation with an officer not elected by a vote of the people, and nowhere authorized the abolishment of an office and then placing the discharge of the duties of that office on any man appointed by the commission.

YOUTHFUL JOY RIDERS ARRESTED AT ELECTRA.

(Electra News)

Two Wichita Falls young men were arrested by local officers here last night at a late hour, in company with a fourteen year old girl of the same city. It is alleged that the boys enticed the girl off, and they told the officers they had started to Vernon. They drove around town until a late hour when they wended their way to the ball park to camp for the night where they were found asleep in the buggy by Officer Johnson. The probation officers arrived here this morning and took charge of the girl, while the boys were turned over to Deputy Sheriff Hawkins. Mothers cannot be too careful with their daughters, moonlight buggy riding and night joy riding by automobile, unless accompanied by responsible older heads is the ruin of many young girls and parents who permit it are indirectly responsible for downfall. The young people arrested here last night are said to be of respectable families of Wichita Falls.

FIRST OFFICIALS OF THE HENRIETTA LINE.

An Oklahoma City dispatch in Friday's paper in connection with the hearing on the two cent rate application to the Wichita Falls & Northwestern the statement was made Frank Kell and J. A. Kemp were the promoters of the line of railroad built from Henrietta to Wichita Falls, a number of years ago.

The statement has revived some interest in the matter and The Times has been asked to publish the full list of officials of that road. The list follows: A. Newby, president; M. Lanier, vice president; F. Kell, second vice president; Otis T. Bacon, secretary; Wylie Blair, treasurer; J. A. Kemp, general manager.

FRANK LOUGHNEY TO BE STAGE MANAGER.

Frank Loughney, recently of Amarillo, will be stage manager of the Wichita Theatre for the 1913-14 season and has already assumed his duties. He is an experienced theatrical man, having worked in Oklahoma City, McAlester and other cities. E. Smith will be in charge of properties and electrician. Preparations are now being made for the opening which will be with "Bought and Paid For" Oct. 8.

It is probable that a stage hands' union will be organized here this winter and plans are under way to that end. Cities with a theatre as large as that in this city usually have such a union and the theatre mechanics here hope to be organized for the coming season.

If it were possible for us to take more interest in one case as against another, we are free to admit that our greater interest would be in the case of children. Experience in so many cases has taught us just how to fit children's glasses to avoid the unsightliness and inefficiency often found where others, less careful, have done the work. Dr. DuVal. 18 tfe

Unusual Variety Shown In Autumn Fashions

New York, Sept. 27.—Autumn fashions are always of greater interest than those for spring and summer. Unless a woman belongs to the summer-resort people, who must be on dress parade all through the sweltering days of midsummer and early fall, she usually contents herself with a sufficient supply of simple tub frocks to keep her clean and comfortable in hot weather, with a plain coat suit of taffeta of light weight serge for trips to town or a little journey. But when fall comes, with its prospect of winter gales and its enforced activities for the housekeeper and the business woman, the instinct for clothes reasserts itself. Then mildy knows that suitable raiment must be provided if she would hold her own in the world that is hers.

Hence, too, the greater variety of fall and winter styles. Designer and modiste prepare for this awakening from summer lethargy by putting forth models calculated to appeal to the most divergent tastes, and shops and attelers are piled high with a gorgeous array of new fabrics and gowns. It should be remembered, however, that many of these first things are experimental. The woman who goes forth to buy too early is apt to fall in either case it is a most convenient device for making one of the new coat dresses of two different fabrics, which of late have caught popular fancy. Women like the coat dress because it is such a convenient combination of home and street dress, quite within the conventions for either kind of wear. For early fall it is a most desirable substitute for the coat suit, which becomes a necessity a little later on.

No device of the dressmaking art, coat dress, long coat or draped wrap can drive the coat suit out of the field. This year the tailored suits are fairly bewildering in their novelty and variety. The task of selection is not so difficult for the woman whose social obligations call for coat suits for varied occasions. If her purse permits she can indulge her fancy to the limit in plain cloth suits, dressy ruffled silk suits, elaborately draped and vested velvet suits, and two-fabric suits, black, brown or white, sure of finding need for all her supply. But the woman who must make one, or, at the most, two, serve all her purpose, must use the utmost discrimination. Her suit must be built in conservative lines if it is to outlast the season. It should be made of good material, too, even if the wearer has to strain a point to meet the added expense. With several pretty blouses, a handsome tailored suit is a real economy, as it reduces the number of dresses otherwise required.

Materials for such a coat suit are abundant. The new duvetyne is expensive, but wears well and is worth the price. Broadcloth is durable and handsome, and the Scotch tweeds and mixtures extremely serviceable. With a good coat suit of this sort and two or three pretty afternoon gowns, the

IN THE LARGEST STATE

(Frank Putnam in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

An erroneous impression prevails throughout the country that the principal occupation of the people of Texas is agriculture. The truth is, the chief business of the Texans is politics. Farming and manufacturing, lumbering, transportation and real estate trading are all incidentals, by-calls, or side lines, so to say.

Texas no sooner elect one set of State officials before two or three new sets begin running for election two years hence. It is in the blood, or the climate, or something. Even the Texas as Republican party, so small one needs a high-power microscope to locate its totals in the November returns, is constantly torn with internal dissension over perfectly useless nominations for office. As for the Democratic party—the white men's party really—whose majority would be more than 850,000, instead of the usual 250,000, if everybody voted than can and ought to do so, why, that party contains both the real Democratic party and the real republican or high tariff party of Texas. The Republican party which puts tickets into the field to "oppose" the nominee is not the real Republican party of the State. It is only that small fragment of the Republican party, whose members have the hardihood buoyed by hope of appointment to federal jobs, to wear the discredited Republican name openly.

When Woodrow Wilson's friends in Texas undertook to procure the election of a set of Wilson delegates to the Baltimore convention, they rallied the vote of the Democratic Democrats—that is, the low tariff Democrats—and won by a satisfactory margin over Harmon and Underwood, who were supported by the Republican Democrats. For a long time Mr. Bailey represented the Republican Democrats in the Senate, while Mr. Culbertson represented the Democratic Democrats. The latter have two senators now, Mr. Sheppard, elected as a Statewide prohibitionist, having replaced Mr. Bailey. Mr. Sheppard is the petted darling of the political parties in North and East Texas. Many of his perorations have been set to music.

Gov. Colquitt is an avowed protectionist—as good a Republican, on the main issue dividing the parties, as any northern governor. And he made no secret of the fact when he ran for the office either. In fact, Texas has had about as many Republican Democratic governors, though all, of course, since reconstruction days, were nominally Democrats.

Texas, you see, like most of the other States is really a "doubtful state" politically, and by no means so loyal sided as you may have been taught to think it. The verdict for Wilson and lower tariffs was so emphatic, however, in the campaign last year, that none of the Republican Congressmen from Texas—I mean the high tariff men—has deemed it discreet to bolt the party's caucus at Washington during the making of the new tariff bill. My friend John Garner of the Rio Grande district did, I believe, save the protective tariff on Angola goats. But when one considers that those goats are about all the property the Mexican voters down there possess, and when one further considers how extremely faithful these Mexican voters have been to the true faith all these years, it is easy to excuse this slight deviation from the rule on the grounds of a pure and lofty sentiment. (There are worse dishes, by the way, than young kid, soaked in cold water over night to mitigate its natural fragrance, and served in stew about supper time.)

Right now Texans who look a few inches ahead of their noses are discussing, under their breath, the rising probability that the big State will presently have to be split up into two, three, four or even five States, all provided for in the treaty by which the Republic of Texas was annexed to the United States as one of them.

With 265,000 square miles, Texas is something over five times as large as Iowa, and 55,000 square miles larger than the German Empire in Europe. (St. Louis people can understand how one who through long residence has imbibed the Texas habit of thought is shocked when he first sees the little, one-square, Connecticut-size street upon which this city has conferred the mighty name. Mayor Kiel, who has been there, should take steps at once to have this gross incongruity corrected.)

Few native Texans look with favor upon any plan to divide their State into several. But the number who do so increases every year, and the very large citizenship drawn in from other States is apparently less moved by this patriotic sentiment than by the growing belief that Texas is too big a region to be competently governed by a single legislature. North Texas and South Texas, East Texas and West Texas, are more unlike, in climate, soil products, temperament, and manners of the people, etc., than North Dakota and Massachusetts. The desire of representatives from several widely separated and dissimilar sections of the State to obtain thoughtful and helpful legislation for their several diverse interests, during a 60-day legislative session held once in two years with an occasional extra session thrown in, has been baffled so often that leading men of all sections begin to regard separation into several States as inevitable, in the not distant future.

This feeling grew rapidly in volume and vehemence during the Sifted prohibition campaign of 1910. The pro rule North and East Texas, the anti are strongest in South Texas and have a slight lead in West Texas. Of the 254 organized counties, 175 have county prohibition. More than three-fourths of the inhabitants dwell under this form of local dryness. The pros are preparing to submit the Statewide amendment again next year, to take the minority of wet counties in under the dry blanket willy nilly. Pros and anti alike tell me it looks very much like the pros would carry the state this time. The anti won by a trifle over 6000 votes in 1910—a Bunker Hill victory. Observing that a good many erstwhile distinguished anti prohibitionists are drifting, as quietly as possible, over to the pro side, this year, one is bound to believe they see, or think they see, a prohibition cyclone coming.

Upon one thing all agree: that if Texas does adopt a prohibitory Statewide amendment, the demand for division of Texas into two or more States will become vigorous and open all along the line. When division comes—as nearly everybody admits it will come, with the adoption of Statewide prohibition—it is safe to predict not less than four States will be made—South, East, North and West Texas, with a lively possibility that the vast western half of the state, still scantily populated as compared with the eastern half, but filling up rapidly, may be divided into two States, giving the original Texas ten instead of two United States Senators and five legislators instead of one.

BOY DROWNED NEAR MEMPHIS, WEDNESDAY.

(Hall County Herald)

One of the most deplorable accidents that has occurred in this community in a long time was the drowning of young Curtis Cudd, at about 3:30 p. m., Wednesday about two miles south of Memphis on Parker creek. From the most reliable information at our command it seems that several of the Cudd boys were out in the pasture near the creek looking at the turbulent waters. In some way he waded out in the water and seemed to step off into a hole. The rolling waves soon pulled him from view and after one or two glimpses he was seen no more. He was about thirteen years of age but heavy built and large for his age. The alarm was at once given and several gallanted in to help search. By night fall the waters had nearly run down but still up to 8 p. m., the remains were not found. All day Thursday there were hundreds of searchers but nothing was found of the boy. The remains were found south of Newlin in Red River Friday afternoon more than twenty miles from the scene of the accident. Mr. Murphy who found the body was not a member of the searching party. He phoned Sheriff King who at once notified the family and a party was sent to bring the body in.

into confusion and despair and seize upon something which for the rest of the season she must wear in repentance and discomfort. Had she only possessed her soul in patience until the first run of the season she could have gone armed with authentic information which would have prevented such mistakes. That time has now arrived. The period of uncertainty has past, for the work of the designers has been done and their carefully guarded secrets have been revealed.

Speculation concerned itself this year chiefly with the new skirts. Waists were of small moment—there isn't much to the modern waist, anyway, but a few diaphanous wisps of mulline or chiffon over lace or net, even for the coat, suit blouse—but everyone was interested in skirts, for a certain uneasiness of outline in the spring models seemed to be the shadow of coming events in the fall. Narrow they still are, especially about the feet. Even the double and triple flounces adhere closely to yard-wide foundations. The prevailing tendency is well exemplified in the two skirts illustrated.

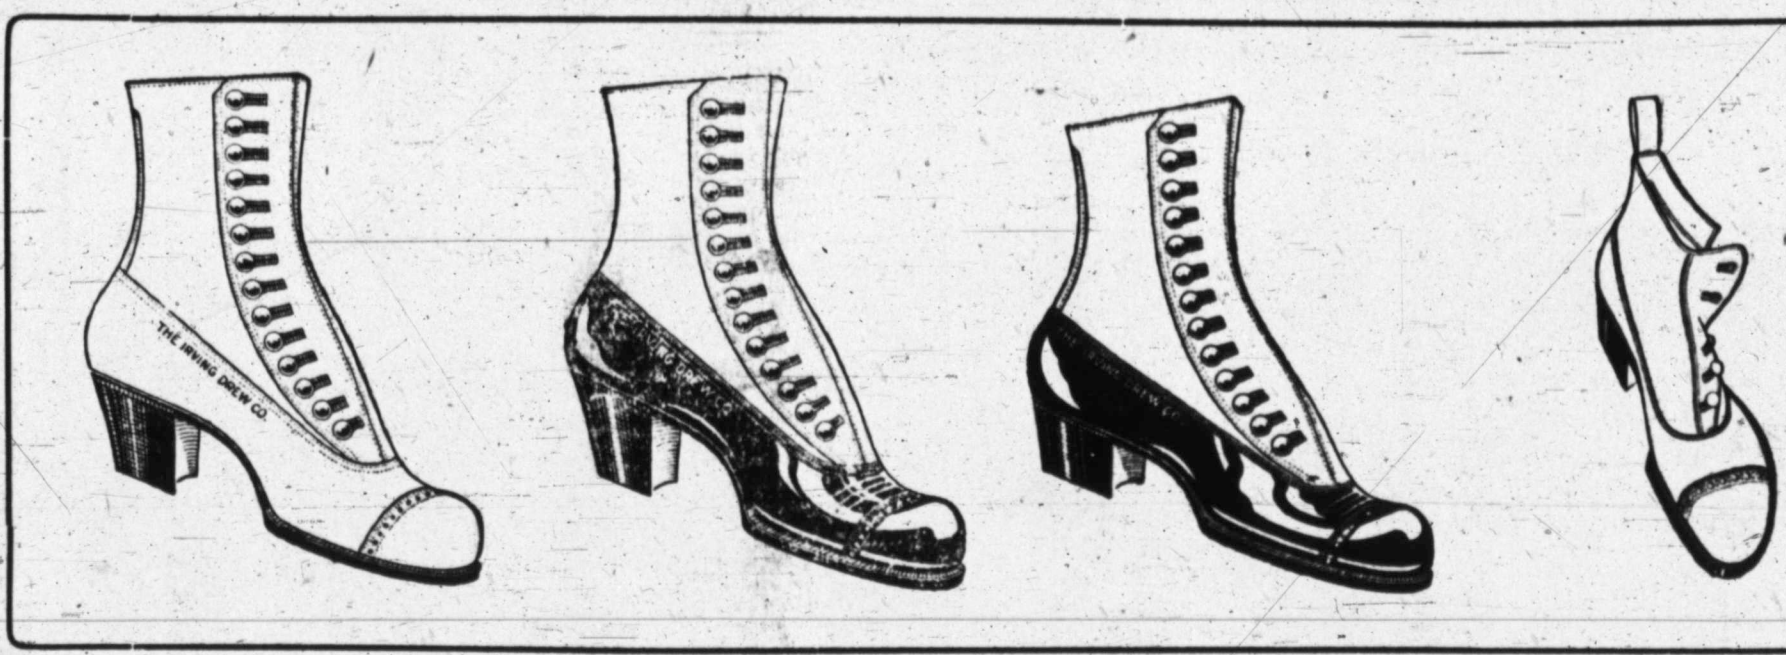

The plaid skirt is, of course, with-out drapery or flounces, as the necessity for matching plaids enforces the need of the perfectly straight skirt. But no one kind of skirt can be said to be more stylish than another in these days of variety and individuality. So it has no flare at the bottom, the skirt may be one or two piece, three or four-gored, flounced or draped or whapped about the figure, and still show its wearer to be a woman who is dowered in the lore of modern dress-making.

Another popular feature of the present styles is the tunic or peplum, as it is variously called. Sometimes this is attached to the blouse, sometimes it is an appendage of the skirt, but great majority of women are amply supplied. If one has the good taste to choose a silk dress like that shown in figure two, she will have one of the most suitable for her "at-home" days, for luncheons, or for any informal afternoon party. It is made of black-and-white striped silk, and has a Medici collar and shapely cuffs of handsome all-over Venice lace. A soft, crushed black velvet belt gives the needed note of strong contrast to the dress.

It is the little accessories which enable the woman who has few gowns to make restful changes in them, and fortunately for her, they are abundant and of reasonable price this season. Neckties and bows of bright colors, ribbon flowers, girdle and sashes, soft. Never was there so much to choose from. A dainty gown may be made of the simplest dress by turning in the neck and tying about it a shadow-lace fobu, with a red ribbon rose for a fastener. With a black velvet girdle, the transformation from grave to gay is complete.

SHOES vs. HEALTH

No matter how fine your clothes, no matter how slick the fit, or how stylish the fabric, your whole appearance will be sadly marred if you wear sloppy looking, ill fitting shoes. It is even more important than style, for unless your shoes exactly fit your feet you won't get much satisfaction from them. Our shoes cost no more than others far less desirable. Come in and let us show you why we have so much faith in the shoes we sell.

J. and T. Cousins $6.00 and $7.00 shoes for women, we sell them at $5.00
Irving Drew shoes $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00

TO MEN WITH TENDER FEET—We coach our salesmen to be particular in fitting patrons of this store, but even if they were not experts in matching shoes and feet, you could hardly go wrong here, because Stetson and Bostonian shoes for men are natural shapes—they fit because they are built like your foot—plenty of room where you need room—across the ball, snug over instep. Come in and try on a shoe that will feel old at the start and look new to the finish. Make good because you look good. Stetson shoes stamp you as particular, not "finicky" proud, but not overly so—and prosperous, quite so. It won't cost you anything to look. If you buy you have saved money. MANY AMERICAN CUP DEFENDERS

NO LESS THAN SIX SEVENTY-FIVE YACHTS HAVE ALREADY BEEN PROPOSED

SOME ORDERS ARE PLACED

Record of American Sportmen During 1913 Has Been Most Satisfactory

By Associated Press.

New York, Sept. 27.—If the present plans of American yachtsmen can be considered equivalent to yachts there will be no scarcity of cup defenders when Sir Thomas Lipton and his Shamrock IV arrive off Sandy Hook next summer. No less than seventy-five footers have already been proposed and should all be built, the trial and elimination races will be equal in interest to the cup contests proper, scheduled for next September. It appears certain at this time that at least four of the six yachts projected will eventually slide off the ways and that yacht racing with a reasonable type of ocean racer will receive a tremendous boom.

One order has already been placed with the famous designer, Nat Herreshoff, of Bristol, R. I., and two others are assured if Herreshoff will accept them. The first syndicate in the field, which is known among the amateur yachtsmen as the Big Six, consists of Cornelius Vanderbilt, F. S. Bourne, P. Morgan, George Baker, E. S. Walter and A. C. James. Plans for this yacht, which is to be sailed by Robert Emmens of Boston, are almost completed.

A second yacht will quite probably be built by the members of this syndicate, assisted by C. Oliver Iselin. Bourne is heading this movement and has been assured of the co-operation of two members of the "Big Six" syndicate. Alexander S. Cochran, owner of the racing yacht Westward, also has tentatively agreed to be a defender of which he is to be the sole owner. Still a fourth group which is discussing a seventy-five footer is projected by Commodore E. Walter Clark of Philadelphia and George M. Pynchon of New York. The co-operation of one or two other yachtsmen is desired before any definite announcement is likely from this group.

The plans for the fifth and sixth yachts are rather vague at this time but contain, nevertheless, possibilities which may develop additional barriers between the America's cup and the Shamrock IV. George Owens, a yacht designer and Corinthian sailor of note who went to Chicago two weeks ago with the yacht Stranger to sail for the Manassas cup, is a prime mover in the matter. He has sought financial support from Chicago and Great Lakes sailors for a yacht to be designed and built by himself and the Middle West appeared to like the idea of being represented in the salt water classic of yachting.

New England would also like to see a yacht sailing for the land of the Puritans. The original plan of a New England syndicate of yachtsmen backing such a venture has been abandoned. There is to take its place, however, the suggestion of a boat to be built by popular subscription. There is a possibility of such an entrant for the trial races with the San Francisco and the Far West yet to be heard from.

Football in New England. In the throes of football and the prospects for sterling teams at both Harvard and Yale, the leading universities of the section, are excellent. The Crimson clan that routed the Blue a year ago is exceedingly optimistic and nor without cause. The larger or better squad of candidates has not assembled in the Cambridge stadium in years. There is enough material for two typical Harvard eleven and the struggle for places on the Varsity team will be keener this fall than for many seasons.

A fast and powerful backfield, consisting of Brickley, Hardwick and Bradlee of the 1912 team, is available, augmented by Eddie Mahan, last year's freshman captain. Freeley, Logan and Cartmell, the latter trio all candidates for the position of quarterback, left vacant by the graduation of Harry Gardner. All told there is material for five backfield combinations and judging by the way Coach Haughton shifted the players about during the early weeks of practice he proposes to have at least three quarterbacks ready to enter the game at any time. Veteran and substitute material for the line is also abundant and when the problems of filling the positions of quarterback and center are solved Harvard is going to have a football team hard to defeat.

This is the very task that Yale football authorities have set for themselves and despite the lack of anything like the material that is at the disposal of the Crimson coaches, there are those who believe that it is not impossible. Yale graduates and classmates are united in the plan to revive the famous bull dog spirit at New Haven, and believe that they will succeed.

The early practice at the Rhode Island seashore sent the leading candidates back to New Haven in excellent condition. With Head Coach Howard Jones in charge, "Silent" Frank Hinkins and former players of his type to assist, with Walter Camp, a general advisor and strategist, Yale has a really formidable array of field generals. Although it is conceded that Harvard has a big advantage in her wealth of stars and material the belief is growing that when the Crimson clashes Blue at Cambridge on November 22, the stadium will witness a football battle royal.

Good Season For Americans. American sportmen will soon be taking stock and balancing the ledger of 1913, already noted as a year of many and remarkable international sporting competitions. When the final pages are written the record cannot fail to place the most ardent followers of amateur sport. In all eight contests for international trophies have attract-

PEOPLES' OPERA ABORN'S GOAL

GRAND OPERA IN ENGLISH DIGNI-FIED AND WITHIN REACH OF MASSES

SOME THEATRICAL GOSSIP

New York Will Have More Opera
This Season Than Ever Before

BY BEAU RIALTO.

(Written for the United Press.)
New York, Sept. 27.—Grand opera in English, dignified and within the financial reach of the masses—this is the dream of the opera enthusiasts that has been realized by the Century Opera Company at the "old" New Theatre, under the management of Milton and Sargent Aborn. "Aida" was the opening offering and the first-night audience that taxed the capacity of the big theater and the gala manner in which it expressed its approval stamped the premiere as a success. This new approach to the "people's opera" is the outgrowth of a movement started by Edward Kellogg Baird and fostered by members of the City Club. Some members of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company directors volunteered to give financial assistance and to land scenery and properties from the Metropolitan Opera House, and it is largely due to the generosity of such public spirited men as H. K. Vanderbilt, Otto H. Kahn, Clarence Mackay, Henry Rogers Minthrop and Henry Payne Whitney that the Century opera has been materialized and that "Aida" was presented in such a creditable manner.

It was not a typical grand opera audience that went to the Century on the first night. It was not a metropolitan crowd who heaved and applauded. There were present, of course, many men and women prominent in musical affairs. But mostly they flock to the Metropolitan, but there were present, too, any number of opera devotees who came to see and hear and be convinced. They did not display the conventional "grand opera togs" and this was the first sign that the opera has here in its "working clothes." They reached the masses. They were Century opera season will run for thirty-five weeks.

Indications are that New York will have more opera this season than ever before. The Metropolitan Opera House will open for a season of twenty-two weeks in November, and Oscar Hammerstein is making plans to open a new opera house with a brand new company of European opera stars early in the season. The light opera outlook also is promising. "Rob Roy," an old light opera by Reginald de Koven and Harry B. Smith, was revived a few nights ago with Bessie Abbott and Jefferson de Angella singing the leading roles. It went well, too, and most of those in the audience who had not heard it before wondered why it was not revived sooner, or had not been kept going when it was new. The old music and the old songs, it seems, are better than the new stuff being written this season, or at least more catchy. "Lieber Augustin," at the Casino, is another light opera that is going well. As Wolf Hopfer heads the company and most of the singers were in the last cast that revived the Gilbert and Sullivan operas last spring and fall. "Pierrot," in which Emma Trentini starred last season, under the management of Arthur Hammerstein, is on tour this season and will be seen again in New York during the winter.

"Romance," in which Doris Keane starred, and which had such a long and remarkably successful run on Broadway, running through parts of two seasons, has been cut down to one act for vaudeville use. It will tour the western circuits during the winter.

Blood will tell. Two of the new recruits to the stage in New York are Miss Elsie Talamonde, grand-daughter of Oscar Hammerstein, and daughter of Arthur Hammerstein, and Miss Ethel Mantell, daughter of Robert Mantell. Miss Mantell's mother was an actress and all Miss Hammerstein's relatives are in the theatrical business. Speaking of stage families, Ethel Barmore, who impersonated Mrs. Russell Griswold, Colt, has named her latest John Drew Colt, after her illustrious uncle. John Drew, the actor, there are now three little Colts, Samuel and Ethel being the others.

The miserably and tragic death of "Big Tim" Sullivan, congressman and dol of the East side, whose body lay in a New York morgue for 13 days without identification, has the vaudeville people guessing. "Big Tim" was the Sullivan of Sullivan and Considine, owners of twenty-eight of the country's vaudeville theatres, from Cincinnati west to the coast. When Sullivan's affairs, long before his death, were placed in the hands of a "commission," it was understood that John Considine offered to take over the holdings of his partner, but the commissioners refused to make the deal. Now that Sullivan has passed away, it is not known what disposition will be made of his stock, nor what effect his demise will have on the Sullivan & Considine circuit. Harry H. Tammen and Fred M. Bonfile of Denver and Vance City are other stockholders in the vaudeville houses.

More than the usual interest in the state this year. Of these six have passed into history and five returned the United States as winner. American teams won the polo cup, the Davis tennis cup, the sonder yacht racing trophies, the Palma rifle shooting trophy and international canoe racing trophy. The one defeat to date was in the race for the Harmsworth motor boat trophy. Still two others remain to be contested in the international aeroplane and balloon races. Even though the United States met defeat in these closing competitions a record of five out of eight victories in one year is sufficient honor for Uncle Sam in twelve months.

Some Strange Facts About Tea

Phones 432 and 232

In my tea department I have grades or blends varying in price from 50c to 85c per pound. Now the first strange fact about these teas is that the 85c tea, aside from being the best in flavor is the cheapest per cup. You may be able to believe that until you have tried it and proved it on your own table, but the reason it comes in the second strange fact, that in the high priced tea the leaves that are used in producing those blends are the first or virgin pickings from the plant and the first leaves always have in them a great deal more of that fine aroma and delicious flavor for which tea is so highly prized. Then the subsequent pickings you can buy for from 50c to 75c per pound.

Now if you will take my word for this to the extent of a pound for trial you will find it exactly as I have stated and you, as other women, will be glad that I have called your attention to it and persuaded you to try it.

FINE FEATHERS MAKE FINE HATS

FAIR BARBARIANS CLAMOR FOR GAY PLUMAGE DESPITE BIRD-SLAUGHTER LAWS

VELVET VERY ESSENTIAL

A Wide Latitude If not Many Wide Hats in Your Choice of Fall Chapeaux

BY MARGARET MASON.
(Written for the United-Press.)

There's quite a scandal in our set; I fear the Browns will part.

"Twice when she bought her new fall hat."

The trouble had its start.

She says she saw the hat and bill And looked a trifle queer.

Then said to her, "Your milliner Is just a little dear."

New York, Sept. 26.—Hats of feather flock to the millinery shops this season, for fine feathers certainly make fine bonnets.

Chapeaux that boast no portion of a bird's anatomy are rarer than a day in June. In spite of the laws banning albatrosses and discouraging the wholesale slaughter of songsters, fair barbarians still clamor for gay plumage, and insist on having a feather in their caps.

Another essential is that your hat must be of velvet, black preferred.

Variations of plush, velours, beavers, panne velour and broche are all much favored, but the black velvet-hat is the queen.

The little hat is still in the ring, and porky close-fitting shapes turning off the face, turbans and tams are very smart.

Almost all the hats that boast any brim at all are turned up, at some distracting angle, at the back, on one side, or even uncocked up smartly in front in a manner trying indeed to most physiognomies.

An Oriental turban of black velvet with a straight stiff ostrich feather tuft in front and a jet bridge swinging below the chin is guaranteed to make the wearer look like the pride of the harem.

Alongside of this a tam-o'-shanter of soft green sage velvet with a peacock feather jutting pertly from one side, vies with a quaint Empire poke bonnet of ivory and rose brocade, a chou of rose albatross on one side and a trailing streamer of black ribbon.

Knobbing with this dainty creation is a conventional sailor shape of taupe velvet with a trimming of tony shaded yellow wings banding the entire crown.

A little round butterboat of a hat in amethyst velvet has a single butterfly of shaded velvet perched perfectly bouffantly at the back of the brim. Indeed the butterfly, whether in feathers, lace, tulle, velvet or metallic brocade, is a fad of the moment as is chic hat trimming—quite the butterfly of fashion as it were.

You can readily see from these representative fall models that there is a wide latitude if not many wide hats in your choice of fall chapeaux. It is simply the shape and the angle at which the feather-fantasy is placed that makes or mars the autumn hat of 1913.

A new and hideous touch on many of the black velvet models is the wearing of shiny black patent leather around the brim. It is ugly and incongruous enough to be immensely popular with perverse Dame Fashion.

The only trimming tolerated in lieu of feathers seems to be a high standing halo of wired lace outlining the crown of many a black velvet shape or else the ruching of tulle so omnipresent this summer.

In the mad struggle for novelty even the heretofore extinct bandoula has been dragged forth from oblivion, and many a flat hat is set up on a band of black velvet to stimulate the passer and insatiable fashion. Gown, paradise and mumble have not put worn their popularity by being worn all summer, and together with its wings, ostrich plumes and quills feathers or many a hat.

In the most brilliant shades come these feather trimmings as if to offset the somber backgrounds of the inevitable black velvet shapes. Emerald, green, royal blue, brick red and all shades of yellow will lighten up many an already light head.

The bride on bonnet shapes and turbans seems to have a strange hold on Miss La Mode's swan-like throat, and the tan, ringing all the changes, appears with or without brim, turned up at all angles, loose and floppy like a bag or stiffened and wired into a flat peacock-shape. Before the fall is well advanced, however, it is safe to predict that the tam will be hopelessly discarded. It's early taking up has cheapened it and robbed it of its saving grace of exclusiveness and originality. Some few large hats, of course, are seen, a concession to the picture-hat type of femininity. The smartest ones have brims very short, the trims wide on the other. The wide turns up at an acute angle. Ostrich plumes en masse are their favorite trimmings. Touches of fur or the wired halos of lace. It is predicted that much ribbon trimming will soon be used, but as yet nothing but the fluff of feathers seems to have come to a head. There are just three things to insist on when you ally forth to purchase your autumnal headpiece. It must be small, of black velvet and have a feather in it.

Nattie had a little hat.

As black as any shoe;

And everywhere the Nattie went That hat is sure to go.

SETTLEMENT WORKERS STILL IN SESSION.

Valencia, Pa., Sept. 26. Ann F. Davies, of the College Settlement, #1 of Philadelphia, opened today's discussion of the National Conference of the National Federation of Settlements, which closes this afternoon.

"The Network of Neighborhood Relations," was the main topic subdivided under the following heads: "System in Visiting," "Vocational Direction," Bertha Stevens, of the Alta Settlement House of Cleveland, was scheduled to speak. Following the discussions Miss Jane Adams, of Hull House, Chicago, took charge of a memorial meeting to Samuel A. Barnett, founder of Toynbee Hall.

Subjects discussed at this afternoon session were: "Phases of Settlement Work Assumed by City, State and Nation, and the Continuous Responsibility of the Settlement to Them," "Next Steps in Settlement Pioneering." The afternoon discussions were opened by Mrs. Vladimir Shklovitch, Greenwich House, New York City; Charles C. Cooper, Kingsley House, Pittsburgh; and Julia C. Lathrop, director of the National Children's Bureau.

SWEET CLOVER AS A FORAGE PLANT

Grasshoppers destroyed the sweet clover that was planted in this section last spring as an experiment. The insects came at a time when the clover was starting to grow and destroyed most of it completely, so that the experiment was a failure.

However, there are those who have not lost faith in the plant and will give it another trial.

The following dispatch shows that it has been successfully grown in Kansas:

Topeka, Sept. 22.—While Kansas farmers are taking much interest in alfalfa as a drought resisting crop it might be well for them to take more than passing interest in what has heretofore been considered a roadside weed.

It is sweet clover, that is now assuming wonderful possibilities as a forage plant in Western Kansas. Sweet clover has always been considered a weed and strenuous efforts have been made to stamp it out along the highways because the farmers considered it worthless as a feed. In fact, it was considered a noxious weed, almost as bad as the Russian thistle. Several efforts were made to get the legislature to pass a law requiring the farmers to keep sweet clover from going to seed and compelling them to cut it along the highways.

It was not until the New England farmers found that sweet clover would grow on their abandoned farms, make fine forage crops in addition to rehabilitating the land that Kansas discovered that it had something in its worst weed that was really worth while.

The sweet clover was long regarded as worse than the Kansas sunflower.

Last week George Flinnup and C. I. Zirkle of Garden City sold a single car load of sweet clover seed for which they received $2,000 in cash. It was sold to a Boston seed firm.

Flinnup now has about 100 acres of sweet clover. The Elmhurst Investment Company has five hundred acres of sweet clover near Charleston, in Gray county, and the company has been offered $12.50 a bushel for the seed by a New England seed firm.

A Rival to Alfalfa.

J. C. Mohler, assistant secretary of the Kansas Board of Agriculture, has been making a special investigation of sweet clover and its forage possibilities on poor, worn-out and thin upland where there is sufficient rainfall.

"Sweet clover is going to be a rival of alfalfa as a forage crop," said Mr. Mohler. "It grows well, makes big yields of hay and seed on land where alfalfa will not even sprout except in the most favorable seasons. It is a soil renovator that has no equal in Kansas and is a wonder on this upland soil."

Plants die every two years and the roots, extending a foot or twenty inches deep, rot and add humus to the soil, besides opening the ground and letting in air and water. It will thrive wherever weeds will grow. Its roots penetrate the hardest ground and the plant grows luxuriously on the poorest land in Kansas and in the poorest seasons.

K. C. A. C. Indorses It.

There is no question of the feeding value of sweet clover. Prof. H. F. Roberts of the Kansas Agricultural College, in a report on the plant, said:

"You may rest confident that the two plants, sweet clover and alfalfa, are almost identical in chemical composition when taken at the same stage under the same conditions. Further, there is no doubt that if sweet clover is taken young enough so it is not too stemmy, it contains practically the same feeding value as alfalfa."

G. F. Miller, Jr., of Topeka, has been experimenting with sweet clover on an upland farm north of Topeka for several years. In a statement made to Mr. Mohler and published in the Country Gentleman, Mr. Miller tells of his experiment as follows:

"The second year of my experiment I wanted to know the value of sweet clover as a milk producer. I took ten average milk cows from good prairie and blue grass pasture about May 10 and put them into this sweet clover patch. It had attained a very rank growth and was more than two feet high."

Cows Gained in Milk.

"The cows were kept there two weeks and at the end of that time had gained an average of five gallons of milk a head. About June 1, I returned the cows to the prairie pasture and in two weeks they had lost the five gallons that had been gained."

Brought back to sweet clover, in two weeks they gained three gallons. The weather was very hot and the clover was really too rank for the best results. But these cows maintained in excellent form throughout the season on this little half-acre tract of sweet clover. For pasture, it is far better than alfalfa in at least one respect. It contains a poisonous ingredient which is wholly harmless to stock and which eliminates any possibility of heating or ruminants, which is the most serious drawback to alfalfa as a pasture plant.

Horses are especially fond of sweet clover as pasture and hay, and hogs and cattle thrive on it. Chickens, big and little, like young sweet clover better than alfalfa.

"As a soil builder sweet clover is unexcelled. It is a nitrogen gatherer and ground intended for alfalfa will be greatly benefited by growing sweet clover for a couple of years before."

Sweet clover has proved of real service on worn-out upland farms, for it is a soil renovator as well as a flesh former, a milk maker and a money maker. It will thrive where not even weeds will grow. It prospers on the best soil and will produce abundantly on barren wastes. It is the greatest drought resistor of all forage plants; its roots penetrate the hardest ground, and it takes hold in crevices of rocks."

Visitors to Bathing Resorts Complain About "Puritanical" Regulations Enforced

Paris, Sept. 26.—Visitors to the bathing resorts on the Normandy coast are complaining about the "puritanical" regulations which have been passed by several municipalities which have evidently got a bad modesty wave.

The mayor of one small town has posted the following in front of the dainty little bathing cabins which line the seashore:

"Unusual and eccentric bathing costumes are forbidden."

"Ladies who do not wish to wet their costumes are nevertheless to have them of a discreet design."

"Men who only appear on the beach in order to pose as athletes will not be tolerated."

"An inspector will visit the bathing cabins to insure that these regulations are strictly carried out."

The Village Of 1000 Souls

Threatening and horrible are the lightest words that can be used to describe the conclusions that must be drawn from Dr. Arnold L. Gessell's eugenic article, "The Village of a Thousand Souls," that appears in the American Magazine for October.

It is the absolute truth, told about a village in the Middle West, based on an investigation of the 220 families of the community for a period of 33 years, or one generation.

Most striking is the eugenic map of the village, which shows tiny models of 239 buildings, of which one is a school house, five are churches and thirteen are saloons.

Of the remaining 220 houses each represents a single family, and of the entire number less than half, or only 108 in all, are entirely free from the presence of any insane, feeble-minded, hopelessly alcoholic, eccentric, epileptic, tubercular or criminal person.

All the rest, or 111 out of a total of 220, have one or more such persons as an inmate of the house.

Only three houses are marked to show the presence of a criminal, and one of these is a house where a man had committed homicide.

Thirty-six cases show the presence of alcoholics, and the word is only used to indicate hopeless alcoholics, as people who went on sprees were not counted, although these were often repeated and long protracted.

Two houses are marked to show that suicides occurred there.

Thirty-three instances occur of eccentrics—that is to say, of people whose eccentricity is so pronounced as to make them more than mere cranks and yet less than clearly insane.

Two cases of epileptics are marked. Twenty-two cases are clearly tubercular.

There are 28 instances of lunacy. Most appalling of all there are 49 unmistakable instances of feeble-mindedness.

Appalling Table Shown. This enables us to construct a table, for out of a population of 1000 souls, including men, women, children and babies, we have the following list of striking abnormalities:

Criminals 3
Alcoholics 36
Suicides 2
Eccentrics 33
Epileptics 2
Tuberculars 22
Lunatics 28
Feeble-minded 49
Total 175

Think of it: 175 hopelessly abnormal persons in 220 families. But now we come to the striking feature of the situation. These 715 instances all occur in 111 families, for practically half of the families of the village are sound stock as far as these particular ailments are concerned.

So out of the 500 members of the families of the afflicted, half of the village we have 175 hopelessly abnormal persons whose abnormalities, or at least their predisposing tendencies, are transmissible by heredity.

In 40 instances more than one of these abnormalities are in the same house.

In 20 of the houses there are as many as three.

In 11 houses there are as many as four.

And in two instances there are five of these abnormalities in a single family. That these various forms of abnormality have a relation to each other is clear when the several instances that occur in the same family are considered.

Numbering the houses of the village from 1 to 220 and designating each house by its number, this relationship appears strongly in the following cases:

House number 93 shows five abnormalities. Two are insane, two are eccentrics and one was a suicide.

House 64 shows three tuberculars and an eccentric.

House 65 shows three eccentrics and a feeble-minded person.

House 116 shows three tuberculars, an alcoholic and a feeble-minded person.

House 103 shows one alcoholic, one feeble-minded person and two lunatics.

House 126 shows an alcoholic, an eccentric and two lunatics.

House 149 shows three eccentrics and a feeble-minded person.

House 158 shows two tuberculars, an alcoholic and a suicide.

House 167 shows two eccentrics and two lunatics.

House 169 shows two tuberculars and a feeble-minded person.

House 205 shows an alcoholic, a tubercular and a lunatic.

House 97 has two tuberculars and a feeble-minded person.

House 76 shows an alcoholic and two lunatics.

House 70 shows two alcoholics and one lunatic.

House 39 shows a criminal, an eccentric and a lunatic.

House 47 shows an eccentric and a feeble-minded person.

House 49 shows an eccentric and a lunatic.

House 128 has four inmates who are feeble-minded.

House 11 has one alcoholic and two feeble-minded.

Houses 31, 58 and 108 have two feeble-minded in each home, but no other abnormalities.

House 106 has two insane, but no other abnormalities.

House 80 has two tuberculars and no other abnormalities.

Abnormals Are Concentrated.

In 69 houses there is one abnormal each, while the other 156 cases are divided between 40 houses.

That means that in one-fifth of the houses there is concentrated over four-sevenths of the abnormalities, and that again means that the terrible factor of heredity is at work increasing the number and the percentage of abnormalities.

When it comes to increasing the number of lunatics or feeble-minded in a family nature works in a terrible ratio.

The tale of the Kafkaks family, shows that where a normal man was married to a normal woman for five generations the children appear normal. But he also cohabited with a feeble-minded girl and for five generations her descendants were feeble-minded without a break. Where only one parent is feeble-minded feeble-mindedness may skip a generation, but where both parents are feeble-minded the children are sure to be feeble-minded.

In this "Village of a Thousand Souls" there are no statistics given on delinquency, vice or immorality.

At the public school in the village two per cent of the children were marked as feeble-minded.

The tabulations used in this article are not found in Dr. Gessell's story, but are made from the picture record of the 220 houses.

The editor of the American Magazine writes that the village described is not exceptional or unusual in any way—hence, we may infer that in every community this kind of leaven of alcoholism, tuberculosis, insanity and feeble-mindedness is working at the normal clay of humanity and in time the leaven will leaven the whole lump.

Already society is staggering under the burden of its hopelessly incompetent, feeble-minded, paupers and the criminals.

Some day they will be eliminated as a factor in the heredity of the human race.—B. M. Carroll in the Houston Chronicle.

WILSON SOON TO POSE FOR MEDAL

Bronze Likeness of All Presidents are Kept in Fireproof Vault in Philadelphia

In the fireproof vaults of Uncle Sam's great mint in Philadelphia, wrapped in oil-soaked rags and guarded with vigilant care, lie the steel dies which at rare intervals are used to stamp the likeness of former presidents. These likenesses in bronze are known as the presidential medals.

Since the time of Washington it has been the custom for the secretary of the treasury to order dies bearing the likeness of the president to be engraved during the opening months of his term, says the New York Sun.

Therefore, so that Americans in the year 2000 can realize just how he appeared in office in ye ancient year of our Lord, 1913, President Wilson will soon pose for a medal. When completed, a few copies in gold, silver and bronze will be struck, and the dies will be carefully wrapped and placed beside those of twenty-six other famous Americans who have preceded Mr. Wilson as president.

Although the presidential medals are made early in an administration, some great event or catastrophe might cause the reverse side of the die to be re-engraved. Should President Wilson be elected a second term, the reverse side of the medal bearing his likeness would be re-engraved to record the fact.

The reverse side of the Lincoln medal was re-engraved three times. First, shortly after his first election, again after his election for a second term, and a third time to record his assassination, the painful period of the Civil war. One was given to Gen. Grant for "victories" and the other to Cornelius Vanderbilt in acknowledgment of his gift of a steamship to the Union.

In this country there were but eighty-six medals of any character in existence up to 1878. Since the first congress of the United States authorized Alexander Hamilton, secretary of the treasury, to arrange for the presidential medal of President Washington, it has been the duty of the treasury department to make all preparations for making the dies.

Until after the Civil war the medals were called Indian Peace Medals. Hundreds of them were struck during the first months of an administration and given to the Indian chiefs by the war department as peace offerings. In those days it was often said that the government could do more with one peace medal than it could with one whole company of soldiers. Among some of the tribes in the western reservations peace medals were given to four tribal chiefs four generations ago may still be found.

Although hardly more than 100 years have elapsed since President Washington's inauguration, there is hardly an existing record of his likeness. Besides the presidential medal in the vaults of the treasury department there are only two other likenesses made during his lifetime. A painting owned in Alexandria, Va., by the Alexandria Lodge of Masons is one of the best known portraits, but it has already begun to decay and in another 100 years it will probably have become so faded as to be scarcely recognizable. On the other hand the presidential medal of George Washington made during his lifetime by Duvalier, the most skilled engraver in France, will forever remain as evidence of how our first president looked when in office.

Washington's bust on one side of the three-inch disk of bronze shows the first president facing the right with his flowing hair gracefully caught up with a ribbon. It bears the legend "George Washington, President of the United States, 1789." On the reverse side are two clasped hands, the naked arm of an Indian and the gold buttoned sleeve of a colonial officer, a crossed tomahawk and the calumet of peace, with the inscription "Peace and Friendship."

The designs of the medals of succeeding presidents, Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Jackson, follows the same general scheme. In all of them appear the clasped hands of the Indian and the colonial officer, and the Indian war and peace emblems.

Artists agree that the medal of President Lincoln is the best of all. It was made during the first year of his administration by Morgan, an American engraver. Lincoln is shown in profile, facing the right. The shaggy beard, the slightly parted lips and the Lincoln nose are faithfully depicted. On the face of the medal appears the laconic inscription "Abraham Lincoln." On the reverse side is a simple statement of the dates of his inauguration and his assassination. The head on the presidential medal of Lincoln is the one now seen on the Lincoln penny, the dies of which were executed by Morgan and Barber, official engravers of the Philadelphia mint.

The medal of President Taft was designed by the mint engraver during the first month of his term. It shows Mr. Taft facing the right and wearing the characteristic Taft smile. On the face of the medal is simply "William H. Taft," while the reverse side shows a figure of Prudence holding a scroll of parchment in her hand and an inscription giving the date of Mr. Taft's inauguration. In the background is the capitol dome. At the bottom of the reverse side appears the phrase, "E Pluribus Unum."

Little is known by the American public at large of the presidential medal, although Uncle Sam is desirous of having his citizens familiar with the likenesses of his bygone presidents. For more than 100 years the dies of the medal of George Washington have been stored in the vaults of the mint, but any American who cares to do so can apply to the director of the mint and receive a medal by paying the value of the crude metal which goes into the making. In many museums there is a complete set of the presidential medals, but for a very small sum any man can have the entire set of twenty-six.
