LIND AT VERA CRUZ HEARS REPORT BY O'SHAUGHNESSY FROM THE CAPITOL

AN OVERNIGHT CONFERENCE

Assurances Brought From National Palaces of Fair Election—Crucialities Reported

By Associated Press. Vera Cruz, Oct. 7.—A report on affairs in the Mexican capital brought American embassies here before John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico, in an overnight conference here. It was said that Mr. O'Shaughnessy brought no roseate picture of conditions at the capital, but reported assurances from the National Palace that fair elections would take place and the early pacification of the country accomplished.

A number of mining men who arrived last night from interior points assert that Federal troops there have been acting with more inhumanity than the rebels. It is declared that the persistence of their instructions, the federal soldiers killed all wounded rebels and say that one man was dragged from the hospital after his leg had been amputated and shot.

SOCIETY OF AMERICAN INDIANS MEETS AT DENVER.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 7.—To advance the interests of the American Indians and to make good citizens of the thousands of the government reservations is the purpose of the convention of the Society of American Indians which opened here today and will continue through Saturday. Persons who expected to see blanketed, feathered Red men among the delegates were disappointed. The attending Indians were really better dressed as a whole than were the governors who recently attended the National Governors' Conference here. Men prominent in the professions and all walks of life were among the visitors. The delegates include Rev. Sherman Coeledge, B. D., an Apache of Fairbault, Minn., president of the society; Arthur C. Parker, Prof. J. N. D. Hewitt, a Tuscarora Indian of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington; Laura C. Kellou, an Oneida Indian; Henry R. Cloude, B. A. Stou; Carlos Montezuma, M. A., M. D., an Apache; John Oakison, M. D. Cherokee, and a score of others. One of the chief topics to be discussed will be that of the proposed Grand Council and President of the American Indian to be held in Denver in 1915 to discuss better education for the Indian and the gathering of data for a detailed history of the American Indian.

REBELS CLAIM VILLA WAS NOT DEFEATED

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 7.—Even though admitting that they lost the battle of Santa Rosalia, constitutionalist advisers in this city gave out a statement in which they said that General Villa was not in the city during the battle, but on the contrary was en route to Torreon, where he later assisted General Chao and Urbina in attacking that city. Details of the Torreon battle are lacking, but persistent messages received here today indicate that the city has fallen into the hands of the rebels. Juarez officials disclaim any knowledge of the fall of Torreon.

Rebels here tonight said that Santa Rosalia was defended by the columns of Rosalio Hernandez, Monclova and Herrera only. They were greatly outnumbered, according to local junta members, and were without any artillery. All this was taken on to Torreon by Villa. A late message from Santa Rosalia states that Hernandez captured six cannon from Federal General Castro, while he (Hernandez) was retreating from the city.

FOOTBALL IN FULL SWING THIS WEEK

New York, Oct. 7.—By the end of this week the intercollegiate football season will be in full swing. The preliminary contests thus far have not given the experts a sufficient basis for very definite assumption as to which of the teams will loom as the strongest. Saturday's games produced a jumble of results from which critics judge that the big eleven are backward in development and that many of the so-called minor teams may become surprisingly conspicuous before the season closes on November 29, with the army-navy game in New York. The accelerated struggle which the Yale eleven had with Maine last Saturday, after Harvard had beaten Maine the week before by 34-0 score, may have been disappointing to Yale followers. A game with Lafayette next Saturday will provide a probably stronger crucial one for this early in the season. Critics of Yale's play assert that the main trouble appears in the back field.

HARVARD HAS DEVELOPED A SUPERB SET OF BACKS AND HER FOLLOWERS MAINTAIN THAT SHE IS ESSENTIALLY IN THE VAN OF EASTERN ELEVEN THIS YEAR.

Bates, with its eleven composed mainly of young freshmen, however, proved all but a match for the Harvard tackles last Saturday. The Williams eleven is next on Harvard's schedule for Saturday at Cambridge.

40,000 PERSONS SEE FIRST GAME

GRAY SKIES AND MIST FAIL TO DAMPEN ARDOR OF BASEBALL FANS

IN WAITING AT 1 A. M.

Turnstiles Continued to Click After Umpire Had Called "Play Ball"

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 7.—Gray skies and mist shrouded the scene at the opening day of the world's series baseball contest. The temperature was mild and the air calm.

Early today the crowds numbered thousands at the stands where tickets were on sale. More than a thousand fans had posted themselves at the entrances before 1 o'clock this morning.

It seemed that Mack would adhere to the plan to have Bender start and Schang to catch. It was regarded almost as certain that McGraw would start Marquard and Meyers.

Forty thousand persons filled the grandstand of Brush stadium when the two teams met. A record breaking attendance was indicated for the turnstiles still clicked up to the time of the game.

CLOUDY AND COOL.

Up to the hour of the game the weather continued cloudy and cool, but it was not believed that rain was likely to interrupt the contest. The diamond was in good condition for the fray, having been covered with the canvas protector up to the time the players began to appear at 1:50 o'clock.

Photographers and moving picture operators were thick as the players began the warming-up process. The Giants appeared first, followed almost immediately by the Athletics and as both lines marched across the field the crowd, excited them with a tremendous applause that told of the eagerness and nervousness of the waiting throng. The annual presentation by the Chalmers automobile people was made in the presence of the crowd.

At 11:30 this morning all the two dollar seats were occupied and the dollar bleacher seats were filling up rapidly, showing only a few bare spots at noon; by 12:45 the bleachers were filled to their capacity. Baker, the speculation as to who would pitch continued until the very last, as McGraw had both Mathewson and Marquard warming up and Connie Mack had Bender and Plank both pitching out. The assignment of umpires was as follows: Klem behind the bat, Egan on the bases, Rigler in left field, Connelly in right field.

Marquard and Bender were finally announced as the opposing pitchers. Bender was the first man in uniform, the Indian's delight in a big crowd. Bender was cheered as he took his head through the window of the players dressing room.

Shortly afterward the contending clubs trotted onto the field for practice.

As long hit after long hit was driven by the Giants to the far corner of the field, there was tremendous cheering. While the flies were made off straight balls it seemed to indicate heavy batting. Field practice was brisk and brilliant by the Giants.

WHITE SOX AND CUBS MEET IN CITY SERIES.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The fact that the White Sox finished in fifth place in the American League and the Cubs third in the National, made not the slightest difference to supporters of the former today when the Cubs and the White Sox clashed in the first of a series of encounters to decide the city championship. As is always the case when Cub and White Sox meet, there was more betting over the outcome of the Chicago city championship fight than over the result of the Great Athletic clash for the world's title which was pried loose today at the Polo Grounds in New York.

STORM AT NOME HAS SUBSIDED

Gold Mining Town Almost Destroyed But Steamers Are Reported Safe

By Associated Press. Nome, Alaska, Oct. 7.—The storm which almost destroyed this city last night has subsided. Three unidentified bodies were found on the beach today, never seen before. Help from the outside will be necessary. The steamships Victoria, Nevada and Corwin are safely at anchor seven miles out at sea.

CALHOUN COUNTY PRECINCT VOTES SMALL BOND ISSUE

Port Lavaca, Texas, Oct. 7.—There are no mosabacks in road district No. 2 of Calhoun county, according to the final returns of the $5,000 road bond issue. Not a single voter was opposed to the issue and consequently not a single dissenting vote was cast.

ATHLETICS DEFEAT GIANTS IN OPENING GAME SIX TO FOUR

Mackmen Sluggers Live Up To Reputations And Find Marquard At Critical Moments. Great Crowd Sees Game

SCORE BY INNINGS

PHILADELPHIA—0 0 0 3 2 0 0 1 0—6
NEW YORK—0 0 1 0 3 0 0 0—4

Special to the Times.

New York, Oct. 7.—History repeated itself today. Philadelphia won the opening game of the world's series and "Home Run" Baker lived up to his title. It was Rube Marquard and not Mathewson, who faced the Athletics, and the Mackmen drove the doughy left-hander from the mound with a fusillade of hits in the fifth inning. Crandall met a like fate and Tesreau finished the game. Bender went the full route for Philadelphia.

In a word, fielding won. The superiority of Mack's infield was demonstrated, particularly in the seventh, when a hope-lit rally was cut short by a brilliant double. New York got one more hit than did Philadelphia, but the Athletics delivered in the pinches.

A crowd estimated at 40,000 saw the game, every available inch of space being taken and many were turned away. The game was played under cloudy skies that grew darker as the game progressed, the finish being in a misty drizzle.

Baker of Philadelphia hit for four bases in the fifth, after Collins had walked, thereby repeating the performance which made him famous in 1911.

FIRST INNING. Philadelphia—Murphy flied out to right field. Oldring singled to right field and a moment later was caught napping with a quick throw to first base. Collins singled to center field. Baker flied out to left field, retiring the side. No runs, two hits, no errors.

NEW YORK—Shaffer was first up and flied to right after two strikes and three balls were called. Doyle flied out to center. Fletcher singled to left and a minute later was caught trying to steal. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING. Philadelphia—McInnis out, third to first. Strunk fanned. Barry out, short to first. No runs, no hits no errors.

NEW YORK—Burns, with three balls and two strikes called, struck out.

Herzog went out on a grounder to first. Murray, with two-down, singled to left field, and Oldring-Meyers came to bat full of hope, but flied out to left. No runs, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNING. Philadelphia—Schang flied out to left field. Bender went out short to first. E. Murphy delivered a single to right field and was thrown out on Collins' grounder. No runs, one hit, no errors.

NEW YORK—Merkel beat out a grounder to first and was sacrificed to second by Marquard. Shaffer flied out to center field. Doyle singled to right and Merkel scored amid a pandemonium of joy in the New York stands. Fletcher went out on a line drive to right. One run, two hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING. Philadelphia—Collins hit for three bases to center field, landing on the first base pitcher. Baker hit a liner to second, and Collins scored when Markley fumbled the ball at first. McInnis sacrificed Baker to second. Strunk was safe at first and Baker was forced at third for the second out. Barry hit for two bases, sending Strunk to third. Sohaag delivered a three-bagger, scoring Strunk and Barry. Bender went out, pitcher to first. Three runs, three hits, one error.

NEW YORK—Burns landed on No. 1 for two sacks, renewing hope in the hearts of the Giant fans. Herzog rolled one to Bender and was safe at first when Burns was thrown out at third. Murray struck out. Meyers fouled out to left field. No runs, one hit, no errors.

FIFTH INNING. Philadelphia—E. Murphy went out, pitcher to first, and Oldring met the same fate. Collins drew the game's first home run, sending Collins around ahead of him. The Philadelphia contingent went wild at this repetition of the 1911 stunt and gave Baker a tremendous ovation as he crossed the pan. McInnis out, fly ball to short. Two runs, one hit, no errors.

NEW YORK—Merkel singled to center field, landing on the first ball pitched. McCormick was sent in to bat for Mar-quard and singled to center, sending Merkel to second. Shaffer went out, second to first, advancing both runners. Doyle hit a grounder to short and Merkel scored, Doyle being safe at first on a bad throw. Fletcher singled to right field and McCormick scored, Doyle going to third. Burns forced Fletcher at second, Doyle scoring for the last out. Three runs, three hits, one error.

SIXTH INNING. Philadelphia—Crandall in the box for New York. Strunk out on a fly to right. Barry out on a fly to center, and Schang out on a fly to left. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NEW YORK—Clondiness increasing and darkness gathering. Murray out, second to first. Meyers out, pitcher to first. Merkel walked, Philadelphia attacking on the decision, and a moment later the ball was declared a strike. Egan reversing Klem's decision. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING. Philadelphia—Bender fanned. Murphy out, second to first. Oldring flied out to center. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NEW YORK—Crandall was thrown out, short to first. Shaffer singled and went to third on Doyle's single. Fletcher hit to short and a double play, short to second to first, retired the side and cut short a hopeful rally.

EIGHTH INNING. Philadelphia—Collins beat out a short hit. Baker singled to center, sending Collins to third. Collins scored when McInnis hit for two bases, sending Baker to third. Tesreau replaced Crandall in the box for New York. Strunk fanned. Baker was thrown out trying to steal home. Barry flied to second. One run, three hits, no errors.

NEW YORK—Burns out, third to first and Herzog out, second to first. Murray bounced a single over third. Meyers flied to left. No runs, one hit, no errors.

By Associated Press. Troy, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Frank Stump, postmaster at Stillwater, in Saratoga county, was accused this morning by the sound of an explosion in the post office 100 feet east of his residence. He took his rifle and fired at random through a window, instantly killing an unidentified man, who was attempting to rob the safe. One of the burglars outside the post office fired three times at Stump. Two men ran from the building and made their escape. The third was dead, the bullet having entered just behind his ear.

SPEEDY TRIAL FOR REXTHROAT MURDER

Authorities Convinced That Other Twenty Murders Confessed by Spencer Are Delusions

By Associated Press. Chicago, Oct. 7.—A speedy trial for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexthroat was today promised Henry Spencer whose confession of 20 murders woven by an opium clouded brain, shocked the authorities Sunday. The authorities will continue to investigate his fantastic stories in the meanwhile.

Spencer's admission of the Rexthroat murder is corroborated by other evidence. He is known to have committed many of the burglaries he confessed to, and there is a possibility he may have slain Mrs. Allison Bell Wright. The remainder of Spencer's twenty murders are believed to be the dreams of a man obsessed by the form of insanity known as "strabismic," a delusion regarded as penitentiary insanity.

Crowl was tried two or three times on the charge of killing his wife, but succeeded once in getting a new trial, and at another trial the jury did not agree. Finally the case was moved from Clay to Archer county, and when tried, the jury agreed to give him a sentence of five years in the penitentiary. He appealed from this verdict, but the higher court affirmed the verdict of the lower court in June, 1912, and Crowl has been serving his sentence since that time.

GIRL SWALLOWS CARBOLIC ACID

Pearl Carter Alive Eighteen Hours After Swallowing Acid—Small Hope For Recovery

Miss Pearl Carter, aged about 14 years, is in a very serious condition today as the result of swallowing a large quantity of carbolic acid late yesterday afternoon. Although still alive eighteen hours after taking the poisonous dose, her chances for recovery are said to be very slim and attending physicians do not believe that she can survive. A stomach pump was used soon after the poison was taken, but the girl had swallowed such a large quantity of the acid that there appeared to be small chance for her recovery.

No reason for her act is known. Late last night she regained consciousness, but was unable to talk.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEW BOOKLET OUT

10,000 Copies of Lithographed Booklet in Colors Will Be Distributed

One of the most attractive pieces of literature ever gotten out by the Chamber of Commerce is a lithographed booklet, the first 10,000 copies of which have just been received for distribution at the Dallas fair. As soon as another shipment is received, the booklets will be distributed here for Wichitaans to mail to friends and relatives in other places, who are interested in this city. The first batch will be given away at Dallas. The booklet is entirely in color, with practically no reading matter. There are pictures of the principal buildings, factories, street scenes, oil fields and the like. The booklet is too small for all social institutions and buildings to be depicted, but as many as possible were given space. When the second shipment arrives, those who wish to send them to friends will be supplied with all they want, merely upon notifying Secretary Thomas.

GREAT CULEBRA CUT, DEEPER THAN THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT, CHIEF CANAL LINK

CULEBRA CUT JUST BEFORE WATER WAS LET IN Deeper than Height of WASHINGTON MONUMENT

Interest in the Panama Canal now centers in the mammoth Culebra cut, which is deeper than the Washington monument. The cut will be fully flooded by the water of Gatun lake when the dike that holds it back is blown up on Oct. 10. Dredges will then get to work and clear out the rocks and debris from the slits. The channel of the cut is now clogged with this matter. It will likely be a few months before the old battle-ship Oregon can make the first formation trip through the big ditch from ocean to ocean.

LADIES GUILD EPISCOPAL CHURCH MEETS.

The Ladies Guild of the Episcopal Church met with Mrs. H. A. Allen on Burnett street Monday. Reports from various committees were heard. Mesdames Sammons and Fontaine on the sick and visiting committee, reported visits to the sick and Mesdames McEvoy and Hahn on the hospital and jail committee had taken literature and flowers to the jails and the sanitariums of the city. The ladies of the Guild decided, as they have no rector, to turn their attention to charity work and help the sick and needy of the city. The members present were Mesdames Beyer, Gates, Fontaine, Sammons, Milburn, Shaw, McElroy, Bibba, Guinn and daughter. The Guild will meet next Monday afternoon with Mrs. T. R. Boger at 2:30.

Colored Lace Waists.

The Dry Goods Economist says that for the last few seasons colored nets and laces have been in disfavor, as neither buyers nor manufacturers have ever had much success with them. But this year considerable confidence is expressed as the style situation is different. The vogue for transparent effects has brought into fashion all materials which come under this classification. Manufacturers have developed new styles that are displacing white lace in the blouse of colored net and allover shallow or Val lace. In novelty merchandise these blouses are in high tints of yellow, pink, blue, lavender, green and ecru. The big makers over fresh colored net. Manufacturers say that the net is much easier to work on than chiffon, so it is substituted for the chiffon whenever possible. The dressy light colored styles are made over matching chiffon or net, while the models in dark tones are, in most cases, either over fresh colored net. Manufacturers say that the net is much easier to work on than chiffon, so it is substituted for the chiffon whenever possible. Black Chantilly waists are also coming into strong favor, especially garments made of white chiffon and showing a soft vest and yoke effect in white.

PROCLAMATION FOR HOSPITAL SUNDAY

Austin, Texas, Oct. 7.—Last year, by proclamation, Sunday, Oct. 27, was set aside as "Hospital Sunday," and the people of Texas were urged to give consideration on that day to the need of hospital provision for the sick and suffering, "both as a matter of common humanity and for the prevention of disease." The observance of "Hospital Sunday" and the resulting agitation of the subject doubtless led to the enactment of the law by the Thirty-third legislature authorizing any county to erect and operate a general hospital and dispensaries for the care of the sick.

Some of the counties of the state have already taken advantage of the provisions of this law, and an effort is being made to secure consideration of the matter in many other counties. When we consider the great and ghastly mortality in this country from preventable disease, we should not hesitate, at any expenditure of money, labor and time, to place every county and city in a position to care adequately for all of its sick and injured people. The civilized world was shocked by the Titanic disaster, but the people of this country pay little heed to the daily loss of 1,700 lives from preventable disease. Two hundred thousand American citizens die of tuberculosis each year. In our own state statistics show a loss of thousands of lives that could be saved by proper prevention and care. It is impossible to compute the loss to the state in human life, in time and in money, due to diseases that could, with the right care be prevented.

The hospital is the most essential factor in the work of preventing disease. For the proper care and treatment of disease and injury, it is indispensable. In those communities of the state where the need is greatest it is hoped that action will be taken at once by officials and progressive citizens,

Chief Childrens Labor Bureau Who May Visit Wichita Falls

Wichita Falls club women may make an effort to bring Miss Julia C. Lathrop, chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor here when she comes to Texas next month at the invitation of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Miss Lathrop will spend about a week in the State and will deliver addresses at several of the larger cities.

Miss Lathrop is one of the most noted women of the country and has made her bureau one of the most effective of the government. Her department has just issued a handbook of federal statistics of children with their sex, age, race, nativity, parentage and geographic distribution. The figures have been compiled from the reports of the 1910 census and present in a small pamphlet, containing statistics of children which, in the census reports, are to be found only by searching through many long tables where the data for children are given in combination with those for adults. The figures are of course necessary as a basis in planning large scale work for child welfare and it is the hope of the bureau that the handbook will be a convenient book of reference for the growing number of persons actively engaged in such work. The future sections of the handbook will deal with the specific questions affecting children: the birth rate and infant mortality, literacy and school attendance, child labor and the defective, dependent and delinquent children. It is being compiled by Lewis Meriam, the assistant chief of the bureau who was for several years connected with the United States census bureau.

According to the figures in part I on April 15, 1910, Uncle Sam had 29,499,136 children under 15 years of age and they made up almost one-third of his entire family. Almost all these children were born on his own soil. The foreign born white children numbered only 759,346 and formed only 2.6 per cent of the total number of children. Child welfare work is thus done in the main for children born in the United States. Many of the native children are, of course, the children of immigrants. The figures show that in 1910 there were 7,225,569 native white children with one or both parents foreign born. The native white with both parents native numbered 17,731,580 and formed 60.1 per cent of the children in the country. There were 3,665,107 negro children, forming 12.4 per cent of the total number. The negro children are found mainly in the southern and southwestern states whereas the foreign born whites are located principally in New England and in the Middle Atlantic and North Central States. The native whites of native parentage are, of course, more evenly distributed and the figures show that less than one child in five is living in a city of 100,000 inhabitants or over and that three children in five are living in villages of less than 2,500 inhabitants or in distinctly rural communities. In New England and in the Middle Atlantic, North Central and Pacific States the percentage of children living in cities of 100,000 inhabitants or over is far greater, reaching as high as 43.4 in the Middle Atlantic group. In the South Atlantic group, the percentage living in cities of 100,000 or over is small, the highest being 6.6 in the South Atlantic States, but the percentage in rural districts is high being above 80 in all the southern divisions. The question of child welfare in the South is thus distinctly a rural question and even in the North and West a very considerable part of it is rural.

PARLIAMENT OF WOMEN MEETS AT HULL ENGLAND.

Hull, Eng., Oct. 7.—The care and training of children was the principal subject before the "parliament of women"—The National Union of Women Workers—when the second day's sessions convened today. Mrs. Allan H. Bright, president of the union presided again today over the 630 delegates, the largest number ever to attend an annual convention of the union. The suffragette element was represented by Mrs. Henry Pawcett and other peaceful leaders in the fight for votes for women, and among the presidents of the various sections are the Countess of Aberdeen, Viceroy of Ireland; the Marchioness of Normandy; Lady Laura Ridding, Mrs. Alfred Booth and Mrs. Ward, the famous authoress. The papers to be read cover home life and workers' clubs, girls' share in social service, the moral education of the young, the emigration of state children and organized playgrounds.

tion, intimidation and corruption, that safeguards labor on the one hand and does not rob it on the other. While the economic question involved has hardly been touched, the moral triumph that has been won is complete. The thanks of the country are due to every member of congress, Republican and Democrat, who has contributed to this result, but especially to be honored are Representative Underwood, Senator Simmons and President Wilson, without whose untiring labors, wisdom and moderation the happy issue now at hand might have been impossible.

FARMER BOYS AND COUNTRY LIFE.

["San Antonio Express"]
"If the agricultural millennium does not arrive in the near future it will not be for lack of agitation in behalf of plans to bring it about. Scarcely a day elapses but some new scheme is proposed, having for its object greater yields, higher prices for products of the soil, lower prices for what the farmer buys, cheaper money or some other things calculated to ameliorate unsatisfactory conditions. This makes for progress, whether it brings progress through these agencies or not, for the farmer is thereby stimulated to think for himself and to work out his own salvation," says President Sanford of the Farmers' National Congress.
It is true that many plans are being suggested for the betterment of the condition of the farming class, and it seems quite as true that thus far but little progress has been made in that direction, except, as Mr. Sanford said, it "stimulates the farmers to work for his own salvation."

Notwithstanding all the thought that is being given the subject by the best students in the country, it is a fact that the farmer must, to a great extent, solve the problem for himself. Others can make suggestions and give the farmer moral and substantial support in his effort to help himself, but neither the enactment of laws nor the passing of resolutions will accomplish what the man of the farm is capable of doing for himself; and what he must do to better his condition.

Among the many suggestions which have been made for the amelioration of the condition of the farmer, that of Governor Cox of Ohio, that the farmer should be encouraged to remain on the farm instead of flocking to towns and cities, though by no means original, is worthy of serious consideration. It is not to be questioned that the migration of country boys to the city has had a deleterious effect on farm life, inasmuch as it has produced a spirit of restlessness and dissatisfaction among many of those boys who have not left the farm, and a lack of interest in farm work. A listless spirit among many farm boys has prevented that progress in farming which is necessary to make the vocation as profitable as it should be.

How to make farm life more attractive, so that it will hold the boys who are born to it, is a problem that has enlisted the efforts of thinking men and women of all classes, and in this endeavor the farmer may be helped incidentally by his fellows. The social center movement begun a few years ago seemed calculated to accomplish to a great extent the purposes of its advocates, and, indeed, considerable progress has been made in this way, but of late it seems to have been neglected, particularly in Texas, where its advancement has been slower than formerly. To keep boys on the farm, farm life must be made more pleasant as well as more profitable. It can be made more pleasant by such methods as are employed in the social center movement, and if this be accomplished, at least a long step in the betterment of the farmers' life will have been taken. Better schools in every community, with good high schools in each county, will serve to keep at home many young men who now go to the city to attend school and, becoming infatuated with city life, are unwilling to return to the farm. A feature of entertainment in rural communities similar to entertainments found in town will help make farmers more content to remain on the farm. Besides lecture courses, libraries and social functions at the social center, moving pictures will serve to entertain young and old. With more attention given to the social center feature, and with conveniences such as rural mail deliveries daily, by which not only letters, but daily newspapers, are taken to the country home every morning, with telephones in their houses, with interurban cars passing, if not their doors, within a convenient distance so they may go to town and return in a short time without being troubled with vehicles, with the use of automobiles constantly extended among farmers, and with good highways such as are now being constructed in all parts of the country, there is going to be less temptation to the farmer boy to go to the city to live, and thus migration from the country to the city can be materially checked.

In encouraging this condition, the farmer can be greatly assisted by his city friends, and this work presents an opportunity which should call for the best efforts of all who are sincere friends to the farmers and to the country.

JACK MARSHALL AMONG ESCAPED CONVICTS

Among the twenty convicts who escaped from the Imperial farm early Sunday morning was Ed ("Jack") Marshall of this city, who was sentenced from Dallas county not long ago for horse theft. Not long prior to his being sentenced, Marshall was finally acquitted in district court here on the charge of stealing an automobile belonging to Pipet Ayle. On his first trial he was convicted, but secured a second trial, in which the jury disagreed. The third trial resulted in a not guilty verdict.

Circulars from the penitentiary system headquarters, offering $25 reward for the capture of any of the escaped men, were received by local officers this morning. The fugitive's mother resides in this city.

— in fact all the style centers are raving over the men's new fall and why not? It's undoubtedly going to be the most popular shoe this fall. It's really a common sense shoe and seems strange its manufacture has not been thought of by other makers.

Feels just like a glove. Ought to sell for twice the amount asked for them.

We have them for women and children, too. Just as aristocratic.

COUNTRESS TO BE SET FREE SOON

RUSSIAN PEERESS SERVING SENTENCE FOR INCITING MAN TO MURDER.

NOW DIFFERENT WOMAN

Has Become Deeply Religious Since She Has Been in Prison—Two Years in Solitary Confinement.

Yenike, Italy, Oct. 7.—Legal formalities were begun for securing the conditional release from the prison at Trani of Countess Maria Tarnowska. In all probability she will be released on parole the latter part of the month.

The beautiful Russian countess was sentenced in 1910 to eight years imprisonment for having incited a youthful lover, Nickolas Namoff, to murder another of her sweethearts, Count Kamarowsky, that she might collect the $100,000 life insurance which he had taken out in her name. Of those eight years the countess has already served the two required in solitary confinement and an additional year in the prisons at Trani. Her government in that time has not only been so exemplary, but her conduct is so extraordinary, that little doubt is felt she will be given the conditional liberty which the Italian law now makes possible.

When the United Press correspondent called at the prisons at Trani with a special permit to see the countess, the prison authorities were deeply laudatory of their prisoner. "She will leave us an entirely different woman," they said, "she will leave us a woman of God." In the three years which the countess has now been in prison she is declared to have given herself entirely over to religion with a fervor only equalled by that which she is declared to have formerly manifested in making men fall madly in love with her and then pitting them against each other.

When she was first sentenced to the prison she is declared to have embraced repeatedly in his presence Count Kamarowsky until her promptings and his own jealous fury led him to come from Vienna to this city and kill the countess.

Confinement Usually Fatal. So fervidly, however, has the countess since given herself to religion that the prison officials today declared it was this alone that enabled her to survive the two terrible years of solitary confinement, which so often proves fatal to victims of the prison.

Almost every waking moment of those two years, the officials stated today, spent in a cell barely large enough for her to lie down in and under conditions which exist perhaps in no other prison in the world today, was spent in prayer, religious chants and religious contemplation. When at last the two years were passed and the countess was placed in contact with her fellow prisoners there was no relaxing from her religious practices. Her room at Trani, which is large and sunny, is shared with three other prisoners. They are not religious but the countess prays and reads the Bible in their presence just the same. She attends all the religious services in the chapel, repeating all of the prayers and singing all the chants. When from time to time she is allowed to play on the chapel organ, it is only sacred music which she plays, instead of the intoxicating Russian ballet airs that were formerly her passion.

When in February of last year she began her new period of imprisonment in contact with her fellow prisoners she was also placed at work with them. For the first few months the countess was put in the knitting and weaving room where she worked on the manufacture of the coarsest knit underwear. Uncomplaining, hard-working and ever religious, she won the favor of the prison chaplain. He interested in her behalf and had her transferred to outside work—that of gardening. It necessitated one more hard gardener's uniform, a costume of the coarsest, meanest, ugliest description. She did so, however, took her hoe in hand and began her outdoor work.

Seems Changed Woman. It was while doing this that she was seen by the United Press correspondent. There was no mistake in the evident change that has come into her life. The few months that she the countess has now been doing garden work have evidently served to restore her fully to her former health and there was still evident in her hands and face and carriage all of the old remnants of care and bewitchery which had led so many men to their ruin. There was evident, also, something even more striking and deep simplicity as evident in the picture of Tolstoy taken in the last years of his life when he sought to solve the problem of modern social living by outdoor manual labor.

The United Press correspondent was allowed to talk to the countess for a moment only, and to convey to her but a single bit of information. The countess speaks all of the modern languages, having mastered Italian perfectly in the year before her trial, and having in the year she has been in contact with her fellow prisoners at Trani, learned the local Pugliese dialect, one of the most difficult in the world. She spoke English to the United Press correspondent.

She told of her cousin, also a countess, who a few weeks ago committed suicide by hanging herself in a compartment of the Salsburg-Basel-Burg-Kiel express train. The countess' head remained bowed and after a moment she said slowly and sadly:

"If I could only have died in her place in order that she might have had the opportunity I have had to learn of the life I now know, I would have died very happy indeed."

LOOKING INTO MYSTERY OF GIRL'S DISAPPEARANCE. Newcastle, Ind., Oct. 7.—Determined to solve the mystery of the disappearance of little Catherine Winters last March, the grand jury today began a searching inquiry into the case, under special instructions from Judge Jackson. The mystery has been as baffling as the famous Charley Ross and Dorothy Arnold disappearances.

Catherine Winters, on her way home from school, disappeared on the afternoon of March 20, as if the earth had suddenly opened and swallowed her. A nation-wide search by county, state and federal detectives and sleuths from the best private agencies of the country, failed absolutely to unearth the slightest clue to the child's whereabouts or the manner of her death—if that were her fate. However, County Prosecutor Evans recently unearthed what he believes are important clues which make him believe the child is still living. The child's pictures have been almost as widely printed as those of Dorothy Arnold.

Why Some Cocoanuts Cost More

The food value and flavor of cocoanuts is dependent upon the amount of natural oil and sugar which they contain. There are many varieties growing in almost every tropical country in the world and it requires a knowledge of cocoanuts to select the best. The cocoanuts which are richest in oil are in greatest demand and bring the highest price.

The very best cocoanuts from the world's markets—those richest in oil and sugar are used for White Swan Cocoanut. The shedding and packing are done so carefully that practically all of this oil and sugar, all the delicious cocoanut flavor is preserved. It arrives in your kitchen as fresh as if you had graded it yourself, and it is better because it is made of finer cocoanuts than you could possibly buy.

Better than the Law requires. Your Grocer will be glad to recommend it because he knows that you'll come back for more.

CLOWNS BIG FEATURE WITH RINGLING'S SHOW

Fifty of the World's Best and Merriest Keep Spectators Constantly Laughing.

Fifty of the world's best and merriest clowns are largely responsible for the attractiveness of the program which Ringling Bros. world's greatest shows are offering this year.

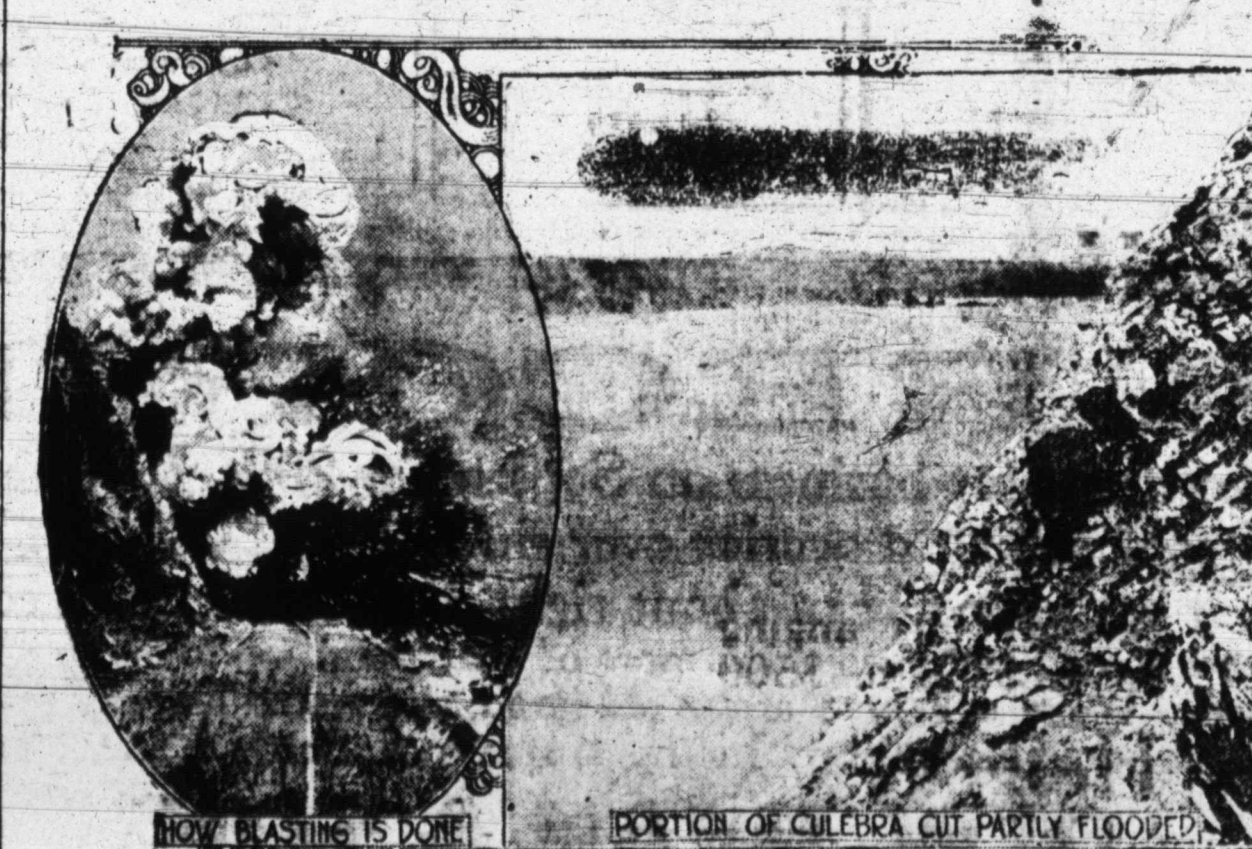

Most of these gay sky larkers are from Europe. They are from the comic opera companies of Paris and Berlin, the Pantomimes of London, Jerry Lane, from the courts of elegant entertainers, and from our own vaudeville and musical comedy stages.

This is the circus that for a quarter of a century has originated the best there is in clowning. It is funnier than ever this year. The man who attends one of its performances and does not come away with a more hopeful focus on life had better see an undertaker.

At all times the arena is the scene of merry action. There are satires on public and political happenings, farces, the richest of vaudeville sketches, dialect acts and clever tomfoolery. The coarseness that characterizes the clowns of other shows is missing. The compound essence of wholesome and innocent fun is ever on tap. The audience drinks large draughts of it with beneficial results to health and mind.

Foremost among the comedians is Al Miac. He was the original Humpty-Dumpty. Though nearly sixty years old he is still the leader of all the world's pantomimists and harlequins. His name is that of an illustrious family of comedians. There is also Jules Turnour, the best of all French mimics. Jules is the subject of an intensely interesting biographical story written by Isaac F. Marcossou, the magazine editor and author. He has clowning in every civilized country on earth. Kings and queens, diplomats and professors have laughed at him. He is the delight of the children. George Hartzell is an

PANAMA CANAL TO BE COMPLETED BY BLAST CONNECTING ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC

When the Gamboa dike is blown up on Oct. 10 the Panama Canal will actually connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans for the first time. This dike holds back the waters of Gatun lake from rushing into Culebra cut. Already the cut has been flooded with about ten feet of water by pipes under the dike to act as a cushion when the dam is dynamited and the lake rushes into the cut. A portion of the cut is shown with the "cushion" water in it. The other picture shows how the great cut was dug by explosions.

other of the clowns. The magazines all over the country have devoted pages to his clever work. Still another is James Spriggs, the clown policeman. He is what is known as a "free lance," working independently of the others. Laughter follows in his train wherever he goes.

Among the trained animal features will be found many acts that entertain and amuse, particularly Capt. Huling's two troupes of trained seals and three new herds of elephants. A company of performing horses from the Schuman-German circus do many astonishing things. The acrobats, gymnasts, aerialists and riders are the picked talent of the world. The morning parade is completely new throughout and the menagerie has had many wonderful additions.

The show will be seen in Wichita Falls on Wednesday, October 15 and the downtown ticket sale will be conducted in the Rexall Drug Store. Reserved seats and admissions may be had there at the regular price. The regular performance opens with a gorgeous wordless spectacle—"Joan of Arc"—produced at a cost of $500,000 and employing 1,200 persons, 600 horses, a ballet of 300 dancing girls and a trainload of special scenery and stage properties.

MATERIAL ARRIVING FOR NEW BRIDGE AT BYERS.

(Byers Herald)

Some of the material for the 98th Meridian bridge to be constructed across Red River by citizens of this place and others is already on the track here and will be conveyed to its destination overland. We understand that actual construction will commence very soon and will be pushed to a rapid completion. The West Texas Bridge and Construction Company of Fort Worth and Weatherford, which has the contract for building this bridge, is one of the best companies engaged in this kind of work and are noted for the promptness with which they do their work. This bridge will prove of great value to Byers and community as it opens up a highway to our town for a great scope of country which has hitherto been forced to market its products at a great disadvantage.

Something You Can't Buy

There is one thing in our stock which you can't buy no matter how much you will offer for it, and yet we gladly give one with each purchase made at our store.

This is a jewelry box bearing the Art Loan and Jewelry Co. imprint.

The name Art Loan and Jewelry Co. on a jewelry box indicates that the contents are of a high quality.

It has taken years of consistent fair dealing to build up this enviable reputation and it is therefore necessary to protect it.

Otherwise many persons would buy jewelry at some irresponsible place and then put the Art Loan and Jewelry Co. guaranty upon it by placing it in an Art Loan and Jewelry Co. box. And so our stock of boxes is as zealously guarded as our diamonds and jewels.

Therefore, when some one gives you an Art Loan and Jewelry Co. box you may be sure that you are getting a gift that bears the acknowledged distinction found always in anything that comes from this store.
