SARECKY GRILLED BY IMPEACHERS

GOVERNOR'S FINANCIAL SECRETARY ON WITNESS STAND ALL MORNING.

DESTROYED MEMORANDA

Cross-Examination Rigid But Witness Gave Answers Without Hesitation.

By Associated Press. Albany, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Lewis A. Sarecky, Governor Sulzer's campaign secretary, resumed the witness stand for further cross examination today at the governor's impeachment trial. Counsel for the board of managers intimated today they might take some action against Sarecky for his technical forgery of the governor's name to certain checks and letters, but Sulzer never objected to Sarecky signing checks and Sarecky's friends view the intimation that he will be prosecuted lightly as he, if anybody was the loser.

Testifying yesterday Sarecky said he was not a naturalized citizen. Today, however, he asserted that he had been naturalized about three years ago. Sarecky under cross examination told how he had destroyed all of the check books, check stubs and memoranda in connection with contributions to Sulzer's campaign funds. He admitted he omitted from the statement contributions of prominent brewers which he said he prepared and which the governor swore to and filed with the secretary of state.

The cross examination of Sarecky constituted an inquiry in the most minute detail of the raising and distribution of Sulzer's campaign funds. "What reason will you give us now for destroying all the evidence of the campaign contributions?" asked Attorney Sanchfield of Sarecky.

"The simple reason that I had no use for them," Sarecky answered. "But I am sure that there were legal regulations safeguarding the receipts and distribution of campaign funds."

"In a general way I did."

"And yet you checked the checks and memoranda into the waste basket?"

"Yes."

"How do you account for the fact that brewery contributors are omitted?"

"I suppose they were overlooked." Sarecky, much heralded as the governor's star witness, took the stand amid a craning of necks and a buzz of interest. He spoke in a high-pitched voice and without hesitation.

"We received either from Tammany Hall or from the secretary of state," began Sarecky, "a blank form in which a statement of witnesses was made out of behalf of the committee, to file with the secretary of state a notice to the effect that such a committee, had been formed. So some one suggested that I take the matter up with Mr. Sulzer. I went into his room and told him of the query we were in and he said, 'Well, make up the statement any way; it does not matter very much who signs it as long as we comply with the spirit of the law. So I went outside and then worked on the statement for about a day and a half, brought it in to Mr. Sulzer and he signed it.'"

"Who, if any one, assisted you in preparing?" asked Attorney Hinman.

"I think Mr. Hogan was the one who helped me get it up. He brought an adding machine from his office and I worked on it and finally got it up." The witness related that at Matters Horna, who said, formerly had been employed in the governor's New York office and who later became secretary of the Frawley investigating committee, which unearthed much of the preliminary evidence on which the impeachment articles were based.

"Did William Sulzer have anything whatever to do with the work of preparing that statement?"

"No, sir," Sarecky declared emphatically.

"What was Mr. Sulzer doing when you took the completed statement to him for his signature?"

Sulzer Signed Statement. "I think he was going through some of his correspondence. I said, 'Here congressman, is the statement which I got up.' I had the first page folded over back and showed him where he was to sign. He turned it back and said, 'Well, all right.' I said, 'This is as accurate as I could get it, and he signed it.'"

"Did he read any part of the statement or examine it?"

"He could not have read it carefully because he did not hold it over a microscope or two magnifying glasses enough for him to sign his name."

"Why did you leave out any names?"

"Because I did not have any record before me at the time I made up the statement to cover the items I omitted or to take her back to Texas. When Burnett appeared at his door, it is said he was shot just above the heart. As he fell Burnett shot Stover both dying from their wounds. Stover's daughter, it is said, witnessed the shooting.

REBELS EXECUTE FEDERAL GENERAL

GENERAL ALVAREZ AND STAFF AND 125 SOLDIERS LINED UP AND SHOT.

ARTILLERY IS CAPTURED

Battle at Torreon Lasted Four Days With Heavy Loss of Life on Both Sides.

By Associated Press. Laredo, Texas, Oct. 8.—General Alvarez and his staff of the Federal army, together with 125 Federal soldiers, were executed yesterday in Torreon under orders of General Sanchez Villa of the constitutionalist forces, according to information from reliable sources brought here today.

With the city of Torreon, the rebels captured practically all of the arms and artillery of the Federals. The battle lasted four days with heavy losses to both sides.

Rebels Won By Strategy. The federals did not abandon Torreon but were tricked into a false pursuit during which constitutionalists marched into the city. Fighting then became terrific. According to the report reaching here, foreigners were imperilled but none of them were reported injured, and it was reported during the reprisals after the battle the constitutionalists protected foreigners especially Americans. Many Americans recently left Torreon in a caravan under escort of the American consul reaching the border after a journey of fifteen days full of hardships.

General Villa is the constitutionalist credited with feigning the retreat which gave his side the victory. He appeared to abandon the field with the bulk of the constitutionalists giving the impression they were falling back toward Santa Rosalia. By a rapid march Villa passed his pursuers getting into the city ahead of them.

THREATENING WEATHER FOR TODAY'S GAME

Gates Not Opened Until 10 O'clock When Umpires Announced Grounds Fit To Play

By Associated Press. Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Thousands of spectators packed Schibe Park to its capacity to see the second contest of the world's series between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics this afternoon.

The National Leaguers were not crestfallen over their defeat yesterday and there was not a Giant who was not ready to declare that Bender would be beaten the next time the Indian went to the mound.

A thick mist kept the thousands in fear that a heavy downpour might stop the game. The entire infield and far into the outer garden was completely covered with canvas to keep off the dampness. Later the covers were peeled off leaving the diamond clean and dry.

Should Merkle be kept from New York's first base by his injured ankle the Giants will be seriously handicapped.

The umpires at 11 o'clock officially reported that the grounds were in fit condition and the gates were opened.

STRIKING MINERS SHOOT OFFICER IN BACK

By Associated Press. Calumet, Mich., Oct. 8.—James Pollock, a deputy sheriff, was killed today by copper mine strikers at the Isle of Royale mine, near Houghton.

He was shot in the back and attacked no other. In the afternoon Sheriff Cruz has made one arrest and expects to capture all of the men. Pollock had incurred the wrath of the strikers by beating six of them in a hand-to-hand encounter.

Five women were arrested at the Baltic mine this morning for badly beating a working man and one man was arrested for carrying concealed weapons.

TWO MEN SHOOT EACH OTHER DEAD

Fred Stover of Bonham and W. B. Burnett of Athens, Ark., Victims in Duel.

By Associated Press. Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 8.—Fred Stover of Bonham, Texas, and W. B. Burnett, living near Athens in Howard county, shot each other to death at the latter's home yesterday according to dispatches reaching here today. It is said that Stover's wife and daughter from whom he had been separated for more than a year had been living at Burnett's home.

Stover went there to get his daughter to take her back to Texas. When Burnett appeared at his door, it is said he was shot just above the heart. As he fell Burnett shot Stover both dying from their wounds.

NEW YORK WINS IN TEN INNING BATTLE-GIANTS 3, ATHLETICS 0

Mathewson Holds Opponents Scoreless--Tenth Inning Rally Wins Game For National League Champions

SCORE BY INNINGS

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Three hits, a sacrifice and an error in the tenth gave New York the heavy end of today's game at Shibe Park after nine scoreless innings had been chalked up. It was Mathewson himself who batted in the first run and started the rally that left the Giants and Athletics tied up again for the championship.

Mathewson pitched one of the greatest games of his career; yet Plank's work was but slightly inferior. The latter yielded fewer hits and until the fateful tenth seemed to have his opponents well in hand. Many Athletics outbit the Giants, eight to seven.

The tenth inning rally came after a series of hair-raising events in the ninth when New York had to nip two runners at the plate to stop a Philadelphia score. The ninth, McLean singled, Wiltsie sacrificed him to second and Mathewson's drive to center bought the catcher across the plate.

About 22,000 people saw the game, the paid attendance being 20,589. Plank pitched a remarkable game until the tenth, when his strength seemed to fade and the Giants, kept from previous scores by nip and tuck fielding, broke the ice with a vengeance. Fletcher and McLean for New York and Lapp for Philadelphia started with the stick. McGraw used McLean behind the bat and started with Snodgrass at first, replacing him with Wiltsie later.

There were no extra base hits, each of the fifteen hits being a single. Philadelphia's infield did not perform in the stellar way that marked it Tuesday, while the Giants' infield seemed at its best, especially in the ninth.

THIRD INNING. New York—McLean out on fly to short. Snodgrass singled to left. Mathewson singled to left field, advancing Snodgrass to third. Herzog rolled one to Plank who threw wildly to first, Herzog being safe. Snodgrass out at plate. Doyle flied out to left field. No runs, two hits, one error.

FOURTH INNING. New York—Fletcher out, short to first. Burns fanned. Shafer hit to third and Baker's throw was low. Shafer being safe. Shafer out, trying to steal. No runs, no hits, one error.

FIFTH INNING. New York—Murray out on fly to left. McLean singled to left field. Wiltsie struck out. Mathewson walked. Herzog hit, second to first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING. Philadelphia—Lapp drew two strikes and three balls then went out second to first. Plank singled to right field but Murphy flied out to left. Oldring forced Plank at second for the last out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING. New York—Doyle was thrown out, pitcher to first. Fletcher fouled out to first. Burns flied to right. No runs, no hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING. New York—Wiltsie out, second to first. Mathewson fouled out to right. Philadelphia—Murphy flied out to center. Herzog flied out to center. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING. New York—Doyle flied out to center field. Fletcher singled to center. Burns drew a base on balls. Shafer out on a fly to left field. Murray out, fly to right field. No runs, one hit, no errors.

PHILADELPHIA—Strunk singled to left field. Strunk advanced to third, when Doyle handled Barry's grounder poorly. Barry was safe. Strunk being thrown out at the plate. Lapp singled to left field, advancing Barry to third, but the latter was thrown out at the plate on Plank's grounder to Shafer. Lapp advanced to third. Plank being safe at first. Murphy out, pitcher to first.

TENTH INNING. New York—McLean singled to center field, Grant running for him. Wiltsie out, pitcher to first, sacrificing Grant to second. Mathewson singled, scoring Grant, and the fans from New York went wild. Herzog rolled one to second base and a wild throw put a wild throw put Mathewson on third and Herzog on second. Doyle was struck by a pitched ball, filling the bases.

Fletcher singled, scoring Mathewson and Herzog. Burns struck out. Shafer flied out to right. Three runs, three hits, one error.

Philadelphia—Wilson replaced McLean behind the bat for New York. Oldring out, third to first. Intense gloom pervaded the Philadelphia stands when Collins struck out. Baker out, pitcher to first.

MEXICAN REBELS OUTWIT FEDERALS

LEAVE SMALL FORCE AT SANTA ROSARIO WHILE OTHERS CAPTURE TORREON.

OTHER TOWNS ARE TAKEN

While Federal Troops Are Chasing Across Desert Rebels Take Strategic Center.

By Associated Press. Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 8.—The constitutionalists captured Torreon by a clever ruse, said a message transmitted here late today. General Chon of the insurgent forces told of it in his report to General Carranza at Hermosillo. The report also put a new aspect on the capture of Santa Rosalia. While the federals were fighting what they supposed the main rebel force at Santa Rosalia, state of Chihuahua the major groups of insurgents took Torreon and Lajas. The town of Sierra Mojeta also fell into the rebel hands Thursday, the message said.

HURRICANE OFF CAROLINA COAST

WARNINGS ORDERED FROM CAPE HENRY TO SAVANAH WEDNESDAY MORNING.

MUCH ALARM IS FELT

At Savannah School Children Were Sent to Their Homes at 10 O'Clock.

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 8.—The presence of a hurricane off the Carolina coast was reported by the United States weather bureau today, which ordered hurricane warnings from Cape Henry to Savannah. The whole coast was expected to be in the grasp of a violent storm. Hurricane warnings were displayed by firing of guns and flying flags. At Savannah school children were sent to their homes at 10 o'clock. The gale is now off the coast and is moving northeastward.

BETTER PACKING OF PARCELS POST PACKAGES

Better packing for articles sent by parcel post is asked of the public in a special circular from Washington received at the local office. The circular emphasizes the post department ruling which forbids postmasters to accept for mailing "packages not properly indorsed or packed for safe shipment."

Postmasters or clerks will be held responsible for damage if they accept a package that was improperly wrapped when they accepted it. Says the circular:

"Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks and articles of like character must not be accepted for mailing unless they are strapped securely to strips of wood of the same length, and are otherwise wrapped and made sufficiently strong to withstand the impact from heavier packages coming against them in transit."

"Perishable articles, particularly berries and ripe fruits, also paints, oils and the like, contact with which would be destructive to the contents of other parcels, must be denied admission to the mails unless the regulations with reference to packing are observed strictly. Instances have come to the department's notice where there has been carelessness in regard to this, and damage to other mail has resulted therefrom."

ART COLLECTION WORTH MILLIONS

New York Merchant Who Died Tuesday, Although Worth Millions, Was Known by Few.

New York, Oct. 8.—The estate of Benjamin Altman, president of the dry goods firm of Lee Altman & Co., who died yesterday, was said to amount to probably $45,000,000. About a third of this wealth is represented by art objects of which Mr. Altman had one of the finest private collections in the country, particularly paintings and porcelain. He was a bachelor and led a secluded life.

Dr. Sachs, his physician, said that although Mr. Altman was prominent as a merchant, it was doubtful if 100 persons in New York knew him on sight. His collection included fourteen Rembrandts, believed to be the finest collection of Rembrandts in America.

TESTIMONY TO CLOSE TONIGHT

ARGUMENTS WILL BE HEARD IN TRIAL OF A. J. JACKSON THURSDAY MORNING.

SELF DEFENSE HIS PLEA

Defendant Himself May Be Placed on Witness Stand This Afternoon.

Special to the Times. Archer City, Texas, Oct. 8.—Testimony for the defense is being heard today in the trial of A. J. Jackson, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Charles Perry. The state completed its direct testimony Tuesday evening. It was expected at noon that the defense would complete its testimony late this afternoon and that the state would immediately begin its rebuttal so that the way could be cleared to take up the arguments the first thing Thursday morning.

The testimony for the state developed no more facts than were known soon after the killing. It is expected that the defendant will take the stand this afternoon and testify that he was hastening up the horses to leave the wagon yard after the first encounter with Perry when the latter re-entered the yard; that his wife called to him and that he intended to go to her when he saw Perry approaching with an iron rod in his hand; that he then turned toward Perry drawing his knife as he advanced; that Perry struck at him with the rod and in doing so fell to the ground and when he did so, he (Jackson), struck at Perry with his knife cutting his throat.

A number of witnesses have been put on the stand by the defense in an effort to show that Perry had a reputation of being a dangerous man. The trial is attracting considerable interest and the court room is well filled. Many of those in attendance are ladies.

NEW CURRENCY BILL SPRUNG BY BRISTOW

Washington, Oct. 8.—Senator Bristow, a member of the committee added another element to the situation by introducing a new currency bill in the Senate. The senator said he introduced the bill by request toward thought it contained valuable points. The measure would allow the present national banks with a capital of $100,000 and a 20 per cent surplus to take out, in addition to the present currency secured by 2 per cent government bonds, "unsecured currency" to the amount of their capital. The currency would be secured by a first lien on the bank's assets, and would be taxed 5 per cent the first six months it was out, 6 per cent the next three months, 8 per cent the following three months and at the end of the year the controller of the currency would order it retired.

The tax would be used to form a guarantee fund against failures. The banks would be required to deposit a 5 per cent redemption fund similar to the present fund against bank notes.

GERMANY PUTS IN HER OBJECTION

France Also Stands By Protest and Threatens Retaliation Is Discriminated Against

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 8.—Germany has given notice that exception will be taken to any ruling on the new tariff law which limits the application of the five per cent differential to imports from the Hanseatic state and Mecklenburg-Schwering to the exclusion of the remainder of the German empire. France has sent notification that it stands by its earlier protests and indicating that retaliation will follow discrimination. Portugal which like France has no favored nation treaty has asked whether its imports are to be penalized and Austria has asked for a ruling. It is expected that an effort to adjust the issue through diplomatic channels be made unless congress is asked to amend the law.

AN EMPHATIC DENIAL FROM THE PRESIDENT

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 8.—Reports that President Wilson was attempting to prod Democratic senators into quick action on the currency bill and a published statement that he would class as rebel any Democrat who would not support the administration bill brought out an emphatic denial today. The President made public a letter to the editor of the Washington Post, in which he requested a retraction of quotations credited to him, charging Democrats who did not support his views as rebels.

At the White House there was a disposition to look on the currency situation as on the way to a satisfactory settlement.

Two Important Witnesses In Sulzer Impeachment Trial

Albany, Oct. 5.—Louis A. Sarecky, financial secretary of Governor Sulzer, who testified yesterday and today, is considered one of the most important witnesses for Governor Sulzer.

Sarecky, who refused to testify before the Frawley committee, dropped out of sight at that time, but turned up during the second week of the trial. He handed Governor Sulzer's checks during the campaign. Another important figure in the trial is Jacob H. Schiff, the New York banker, who gave Sulzer a check for $5,000, which was not included in the sworn list of Governor Sulzer's campaign contributions.

TRESPASSERS LEAD IN RAILROAD FATALITIES

Within Twenty-three Years Cars Have Sent 192,542 to Grave Yards

The Chicago Bureau of Railway News and Statistics has compiled figures for a period of twenty-three years, from 1890 to 1912, inclusive, of the fatalities charged to railroads in the United States as follows:

Trespassers—103,566.
Employees through their own fault or mischance—46,497.
Other persons through their own fault or mischance—18,328.
Employees in accidents to trains—(a) 13,680.
Passengers through their own fault or mischance—4,519.
Passengers in accidents to trains—3,302.
Total for 23 years—192,542.

Analysis.

Through their own fault or mischance—175,510.
In accidents to trains—16,932.
(a) Of these at least 50 per cent are due to the negligence or carelessness of the victim.

The above shows that more than half the fatalities were due to trespassing, which leads the bureau to remark that "so long as legislators, commissioners and critics rivet their attention on steel cars, which may cause, but never avert a collision or derailment, the tale of the railroad fatalities will grow along the line of the greatest percentage of cases."

The Land of Content.
In the land of content there are highways of peace
That are crossed by the broad paths of love,
And harmony lingers round each cottage door,
Fairest skies from the boundaries above.

There the warm kindly handclasp of neighbor and friend
Claims you comrade with welcome so true,
There ever the greeting is speeding your way—
"All's well with the world her for you."

There is never a lack of the needs you may voice,
All the joys of the country you share,
From the break of the day till evening falls,
Here is banished all worry and care.

"But where is this magical country?" you ask.
Some answerers land far away—
Why the land of content if you just make it so
Is right where you live every day.
—Belle M. Costello.

PROMINENT OIL MAN IS MARRIED TO BUFFALO GIRL.

Sam C. Reed of Tulsa, Okla., and Miss Jane T. Gourlay of Buffalo, N. Y., were married this morning at the Church of the Sacred Hearts, Rev. Father Dolle officiating. The wedding took place in this city in fulfillment of a romance which had its inception here last year when Miss Gourlay was a visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. H. Delaney and Mr. Reed was here looking after the interests of the Eastern Oil Company, with which he at that time was connected. Consequently, it was deemed fitting that the wedding should take place here also and Miss Gourlay came from Buffalo to become a bride. The groom's brother, T. J. Reed of Tulsa, attended him at the altar, while Miss Gourlay was attended by her sister, Mrs. R. H. Delaney, as matron of honor. Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. Katherine Gourlay of Buffalo, mother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Reed left this afternoon for Galveston, San Antonio and other South Texas points, after which they will journey to Tulsa, where Mr. Reed is head of the land department of the Corsicana Petroleum Company. The groom formerly resided here and is still a notable member of the oil fraternity both here and in Oklahoma. The bride comes from a prominent eastern family; she is a sister of Mrs. Dick Delaney of Wichita Falls and has many friends here.

MANY INQUIRIES ABOUT WICHITA FALLS

From Twenty to Thirty Letters a Day Being Received by Chamber of Commerce

From twenty to thirty letters per day, asking for information and literature about Wichita Falls, are being received by the Chamber of Commerce from people in various parts of the country who are interested in this city. This is much larger than the normal number, and is thought to be the result of the magazine advertising campaign which the Chamber of Commerce has had under way for some time.

Since its inception the Chamber has been leading magazines for several months and the inquiries come as a result of this publicity. A wide scope of territory is covered by the inquiries, who write from practically every part of the United States and Canada.

NEW BAPTIST COUNTY MISSIONARY HERE

Rev. T. E. Canady Has Arrived To Take Up Work For County Association

T. E. Canady, former pastor of the Baptist church at Seymour, has arrived here to take up his work as one of the county missionaries for the Wichita County Baptist Association. He will make his headquarters in Wichita Falls and will devote most of his time to the work in this city.

V. A. Duncan, the other missionary employed by the association, will make his headquarters at Iowa Park.

For seed testing purposes a Minnesota man has invented a simple tray with a layer of some moisture retaining material on the bottom, over which is a removable cover, perforated with numbered holes.

YOM KIPPUR SERVICES BEGIN FRIDAY EVENING

Wichita Falls Jews to Hold Meetings at Moses Hall, Observing Day of Atonement.

Beginning at sundown Friday and continuing until sundown Saturday, Wichita Falls Jews will observe the feast of Yom Kippur or Day of Atonement, the most holy and solemn feast in the Jewish calendar.

Services will be held by the Jews here in the Moses Hall and they will be conducted by Rabbi Hoffman of Mineral Wells.

October is known among the Jews as Tisri, and is the most important month on their calendar because of the number of sacred days. These days make up the festival of Rosh Hashanah, which was celebrated in Wichita Falls last Thursday. This day was the Jewish New Year and was the first day of the year 5674. Yom Kippur and the Feast of Tabernacles of Succoth, which is celebrated Oct. 15, closes the celebrations of the church for the month. Yom Kippur is the most holy and solemn feast of the religious cycle. Its function is to provide a proper opportunity for the faithful to become at one with God and man. The day is passed in meditation and prayer, and the more conservative Jews fast according to biblical prescription. The feast is unique in that it is all the other days of the year, as the time when man resolves to atone in some way for his social and religious delinquencies. In the Bible it is called the Sabbath of Sabbaths, and in modern Jewish life it is the most hallowed of all festivals by far. The self-respecting Jew never fails to close his place of business, and any son of the House of Israel who feels the least bit of loyalty to his coreligionists or his faith, will not appear in his place of business or permit it to be open, unless life and health actually depend upon it.

Following the observance of the October fast and feast days it is likely that a meeting of the Jews of the city will be called to organize a congregation and make arrangements for holding regular meetings. Jews from other towns in this section are expected to join in the congregation here.

SEARCHING FOR NEGRO WHO KILLED MISS LEEGSON

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Oct. 8.—Detectives combed the "black belt" on the south side today in search of the tall, powerful, copper skinned negro, who is believed to have lured Miss Ida Leegson, art student to a lonely spot on the outskirts of the city and strangled her with a silk cord. They obtained an excellent description of the negro from a pawnbroker to whom he sold Miss Leegson's watch and purse.

"Just between us girls," we don't care a rap whether the Giants or the Athletics win the championship of the world, or how soon this Sutter matter comes to a close. What we are most interested in is calculating how much longer it will be before there will be more Democrats enjoying the great victory of 1912 than there are Republicans.

Of course, we do not expect the workings of the new tariff to reduce the cost of living all at once, but that it will, eventually, is the fact that those who contend that it will not are the ones who fought long and hard to prevent the tariff from being lowered. That is some evidence, at least, that the high tariff helped to some extent to keep prices up.

Former Speaker Joe Cannon not only wants to "come back," but believes he can, and so he has launched his campaign for re-election to the house of representatives. Uncle Joe believes that insurgency and progressivism were born in iniquity and have been exposed to the satisfaction of the people, and that, therefore, the people are yearning for him to return to the halls of congress. Sedalia Democrat.

The Christian Church congregation of this city is to be commended. It lacked about $7,000 of having enough to pay for and furnish its splendid $40,000 church, and on last Sunday a rally meeting was held. The result was that the debt was almost completely wiped out, and doubtless will be before the end of the week. That is the true Wichita way of doing things.

In announcing his candidacy for the governorship of Texas one of the candidates announces boldly that he will not receive contributions to his campaign fund. It is perhaps necessary to add that he is a newspaper man, and being such is either able to bear his own campaign expenses, and if not will be content by doing his campaigning through his own newspaper, which, no doubt, he will take the precaution to see goes to all the newspapers in the state, and they, in turn, will clip out what they want and pass it along. It is a good scheme, and a fellow with that sort of a pull has some advantage over the others, even though some of them are well supplied with money of their own.

There are several very nasty mud holes located on some of the most traveled streets in the city that should be declared a nuisance. A street scraper and a few loads of filling in material would help matters wonderfully. One of these mud holes is located on Seventh street and Scott avenue, right in front of The Times office. It is no stranger to us, as it appears regularly after every rain of any consequence.

A divorce was granted in the district court this week to a woman, and it is stated that the costs in the suit were paid by a prospective husband No. 2. On being informed that she could not enter into a new marriage contract for twelve months, the prospective groom's spirits fell with a dull thud. —Anchor, City Dispatch.

The law is good one, and will result in fewer divorce suits. If a couple realize they have made a mistake in marrying and want to be divorced, twelve months is not too long to require them to wait before marrying again and perhaps repeat the same mistake.

In response to an inquiry, "How shall we reduce our taxes?" the Wichita Beacon says: "The answer is simple. Quit spending money on government; stop building schoolhouses; cease paving streets. Stop constructing sewers. Discharge the police force and the fire department. Make the mayor and council, or commission, work for the glory."

The Beacon might also have added that the towns and cities with the lowest tax rate, generally speaking, are the ones the people are trying to get away from. Instead of moving into, as a rule, the larger a city grows, the higher the tax rate. Wichita Falls is not going to stop growing, and it necessarily follows that her tax rate is going to be raised. So those who can't see the necessity of this had just as well begin now to reason with themselves how they expect to enjoy a really good thing without having to do their part in the way of paying taxes to pay for it. When Wichita Falls ceases to grow, it will be time enough to talk about low taxes. Taxes ought to be made as low and reasonable as possible under all circumstances, but unless we want to retrograde here in Wichita Falls the city tax rate must be raised, and the only way this can be accomplished is to adopt a new charter. Its defeat would prove a great calamity to Wichita Falls just at this time.

Mr. Carnegie, in philosophizing about giving, says that it is demoralizing to give to the individual. The names of the cities whose names are given to his philosophy, that if it demoralizing to give to an individual it is demoralizing to give to a whole people. "A nation," says the Times, "that gets to depending upon its rich and powerful to do things for it is in a bad way. Perhaps if it were necessary to create great fortunes by special privilege (a tariff on steel, for example), it would be well for the tariff-beneficiaries to give back their bounties in library and school endowments. But it would be a better scheme not to permit any one to take special bounties with one hand and give largess with the other." The Times strikes the nail squarely on the head. Carnegie knows what he is about, for in his giving he has done much to stay the rising tide of opposition to the system of special privilege chiefly responsible for the concentration of the country's great wealth in the hands of a few, to the impoverishment of the many.—Houston Post.

It is just a little early to begin talking in many politics, but some of the candidates are already "throwing their hats in the ring." Charles R. Fuller has issued a circular letter to the voters, announcing his candidacy for county clerk, and now that County Attorney Dan Boone has made it known that he will not again be a candidate for that office, there are as many as a half dozen young attorneys who are "feeling" around among their friends before making up their minds fully as to whether they would like to take a chance on pulling down a job that is said to pay at least $4,000 a year. It is understood that W. H. Daugherty, now serving his second term as county tax collector, will not again offer for the office, and that B. M. Bullard, his deputy, will be a candidate to succeed him. Sheriff Randolph is also serving his second term, and it is said will offer for reelection. As to whether he will be opposed or not is not known. Judge Felder seems satisfied to preside over the county court for another term, and will offer for reelection. District Clerk A. F. Kerr and Tax Assessor John Robertson will again offer for reelection, as well as County Clerk E. P. Walsh, who is serving his first term. The primary, however, will not be held before July of next year, and the candidates are in no great hurry about getting active so soon. They realize that a thorough canvass of the county can be made in six weeks' time, and prefer to wait a few months longer. This will meet with the approval of most of the voters.

SUIT FILED AGAINST TELEGRAPH COMPANY

M. Q. Wright Asks $2,950 Damages for Delay in Delivery of Message

M. Q. Wright has filed suit against the Western Union Telegraph Company for $2,950 damages, as a result of the alleged failure of the defendant company to deliver a message to the plaintiff. Wright is a seaman in the United States navy and was home on a leave of absence during the illness of his mother about six weeks ago. When his time expired, his petition declares, he wired his captain for an extension.

SPRINGFIELD, MO., DEFEATS COMMISSION GOVERNMENT.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 8.—The commission form of government was defeated in Springfield yesterday at a special election, the opposition to the adoption of the new charter winning by 501 votes. There were 1,542 votes cast for and 2,043 against the proposition. The fight proved to be a revival of the old rivalry of the north and south sides.

Only a 50 per cent vote was polled, and the showing made by the new charter supporters in the face of a lack of organized effort, established the fact that the new charter would have carried on a normal vote. The city council will be petitioned to call a new election within thirty days.

TRAIL CONTROVERSY STILL UNSETTLED

Resort to Government Records Fail to Discover Data Concerning Chisholm Route

Oklahoma City, Oct. 8.—Not even the United States government which has been called upon for information in the matter, has been able to settle to the satisfaction of all parties concerned just where the old Chisholm trail ran. The controversy has arisen in connection with the plan to erect a north and south highway across Oklahoma along the line of the old trail.

The original plans called for a road straight north and south, striking the town along the main line of the Rock Island railroad, which it is claimed followed the old trail in a general way when it was built across the state. Later on, however, a movement was started to deflect the road to the westward toward Lawton and Fort Sill, and the claim was raised that that was the real route of the old Chisholm trail.

To this claim Chickasha, Duncan and the other towns which would be left off the route by the change are offering strenuous objections. They assert that there is no question that the old trail ran on south through Grady, Jefferson and Stephens counties, and that it is still distinguishable, while there are many pioneer citizens still living in those counties who traversed the trail in the cattle days and can give authentic testimony in regard to it.

As a result of the controversy, Congressman Scott Ferris interested himself in the matter recently and asked the department of the interior for information in regard to the location of the old trail. The department gave in that connection an excerpt from Cutler's history of the United States, giving the description of a trail then known as the Chisholm trail, "extending for a distance of 220 miles from a point near Wichita, Kan., to a site of the Wichita agency in the former Indian territory."

"Wichita, Clearwater, Canby, Ford Creek (now Jefferson), Skeleton Ranch (End), Buffalo Springs, Cheyenne Agency (Darlington), Wichita Agency (Anadarko) and Fort Sill were named as the principal points. On May 14, 1872, a government post road was established from Wichita via Sumner City, Caldwell, Cheyenne, Washita Agencies and Fort Sill, to Jacksboro, Texas." It is shown on the general land office map as "Abilene Cattle Trail and State Road," and according to the department in its letter to Mr. Ferris, "is practically the same as the Chisholm trail, as described by Cutler."

Accurate search through the statutes at large, says the department, fails to disclose any resolution or act of congress setting aside or designating the trail as a public highway. The Chickasha people do not question the establishment of the government post road, but contend that it did not follow the Chisholm trail all the way and swung off from the trail at a point near Darlington, where the old trail crossed the North Canadian river, in order to pass Fort Sill.

Prof. Joseph B. Thoburn of Oklahoma University, who is unquestionably the best authority in the state on Oklahoma history, and the most thorough and painstaking investigator into the subject, says that the real Chisholm trail was the one followed by Jesse Chisholm on his trips out of Wichita for the purpose of trading with the Wichita and affiliated tribes in the camping grounds on the Washita, and that the trail started in 1868 by the Texas cattlemen, crossing the Red River at Red River station and running almost due north a few miles west of the 98th meridian, met and merged with the original Chisholm trail just north of the Cimarron crossing, near the present village of Dover in Kingfisher county, but that the name Chisholm trail was eventually applied to the entire line of cow paths which extended to the Red River and even beyond into Texas.

And as usual, those who desire the best of everything are coming to Barnard's, where women and style get acquainted.

As you enter the store, these days the magnificent displays of fall merchandise greet you on all sides, the greatest stock that has ever been brought to Wichita. We are showing the latest in Gowns, the dip front, with the new draped back, by Premet, as well as the most recent conceptions of good-looking American Gowns, which will be exhibited this week, and none will cost more than $65. The Guffey Company has completed its No. 12 Miller in the 1150 foot sands, getting a 400 barrel well. This brings the Guffey's total production at Electra to about 2400 barrels, larger for the number of wells drilled than any other company operating in the field.

When to call an osteopath: The time to consult an osteopath is when you first notice that you are not right. No one should suffer any way through nervousness, headache or any trouble. "RITUAL MURDER" TRIAL IS OPENED

MENDEL BELIS, JEW, PLACED ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH MURDER OF YOUTH

INTENSE INTEREST SHOWN

Russian Government Displaying Extraordinary Activity in the Prosecution

Kieff, Oct. 8.—After lying in jail for two years and a half, Mendel Belis was placed on trial today in the criminal section of the Kieff district court for "ritual murder." On account of the extraordinary interest the case has attracted throughout Europe, the court room was packed by a cosmopolitan throng when Judge Boldyreff and his associates mounted the bench and began the impelling of a jury. The regular venire for the court term, from which the jury was chosen consisted of four men with a university education, fourteen with an intermediate or elementary education, fifteen who have not attended any school, and three who are quite illiterate. More than 200 newspapermen, from various countries, had previously applied for seats, but so great was the demand made by the friends of both local and St. Petersburg officials that many of the correspondents had to stand in the back of the room, and some, although holding tickets, failed altogether of admission. Conspicuous among the reporters was a personal representative of M. Stichegloff, minister of justice, who had been instructed to wire a running detail account of the proceedings to his chief in St. Petersburg. From the inspection of the case the ministry of justice had carefully directed the activities of the local prosecutors, Brandt and Chudinsky, and it was with full approval of the central government that the charge of "ritual murder" was made in the original indictment.

Ever since the morning of April 1, 1911, when the mutilated body of Alexander Muschinsky, a 12-year-old Christian boy, was found in an abandoned brick yard just outside Kieff, the prosecution has been endeavoring to establish the theory that he was slain in accordance with an alleged Jewish rite prescribed by the Talmud, so that his blood might be used in making pasover bread. For centuries the ignorant and superstitious Jew-baiters of Russia have clung to the belief that this "rite" is regularly practiced by the Jewish race, and the government has apparently done all it could to foster this idea. M. Krasovsky, chief of the Kieff detective department, was actually instructed to proceed on the theory that the crime was the work of Jews, although the only possible pretext for the "ritual" charge was that the boy's body bore 47 stab wounds. According to current superstition the "ritual murder" is accomplished by 45 wounds. He could obtain absolutely no evidence along the required lines, but on the contrary believed he had traced the murder to a gang of thieves to which neighbors of the boy's family belonged and who were known to be fearful that Yuschinsky would betray them to the authorities. He secured evidence that one of the "thieves" was seen with a child shortly before the murder, and that this same implement, covered with blood was found by two boys near the brick kiln afterwards. The boys, upon orders of the thief, threw it into a sewer.

When Krasovsky made his first report to his superiors he was sternly reprimanded. Later he was practically forced by them to arrest Mendel Belis, a Jew, 40 years of age, foreman of the brickyard, in whose room one of the "thieves" gang said he had found some of the boy's clothing. On producing further evidence indicating the guilt of the thieves, and the innocence of Belis, Krasovsky was dismissed from office. When a fresh investigation was made under the direction of his successor M. Mischonok, he and his associates quickly came to the conclusion that the ritual murder theory was fantastically untrue and so reported to the authorities. The result was not only the dismissal of Mischonok and two of his men but their arrest on charges of "fabricating documents favorable to the Jews." They were acquitted, but the Crown appealed, with the result that the verdict was reversed and they were convicted and sentenced to a year's hard labor each. In order to strengthen its case, the government caused widespread publication of a statement made to the examining magistrate by the Archimandrite Ambrosius, vicar of the Orthodox monastery at Kieff, to the effect that two monks, proselyted from the Jewish faith, had minutely described to him the practice of "ritual murder." His testimony was supported by Prof. Sikorsky, of St. Vladimir University at Kieff, who held that the nature of Yuschinsky's wounds gave every indication of "ritual murder," that the boy manifestly had been tortured before death and that several persons were probably party to the crime. As further emphasizing the attitude of the government, the chief of the Odessa school district, who openly disputed Prof. Sikorsky's contentions, was dismissed from his post. In the meantime the case had attracted world-wide attention. Many prominent men in England including the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, Lord Rosebery, Austen Chamberlain, A. J. Balfour and scores of university professors, scientists and military men, the gospel signed and sent out to Russia a strongly worded protest against the "blood accusation." In England, France, Austria and Germany, full reports of the inquest on the murdered boy were submitted to unprejudiced boards of medical legal experts who united in declaring that he was not tortured nor was the blood removed from the body, as alleged. LAWS TO PROTECT PUBLIC SAFETY

LEGISLATION FOR EXAMINATION OF CUSTODIANS OF PUBLIC TO BE ASKED

FOR PHYSICAL DEFECTS

Surgeon General U. S. Public Health Service Will Propose Laws Before Congress

Washington, Oct. 8.—Imagine yourself riding on a train. Then imagine a little more and ask if the engineer is of sound mind; affected with heart trouble; color blindness; a subject of epilepsy, paresis or some other sinister malady that may cause him wrongly to read signals or drop from his seat at the throttle. He is responsible for your safety. Imagine some more and place yourself aboard an electric car, steamboat or in a cross country automobile. Transfer your imaginations to the motorcar, pilot or chauffeur or whatever the man in charge of your safety may be. Is he mentally and physically sound. This subject is now before the U. S. Public Health Service. Surgeon General Rupert Blue has just asked Congress to frame a law placing the power to examine annually the custodians of public safety in interstate traffic in the hands of the health service. The danger of wrecks on railroads, steamships and electric cars and of automobiles is expected to be materially minimized, if the plan is carried out.

A rigid annual examination would require, it would include tests for defective eyesight, defective hearing, mental diseases and organic heart trouble. The holding of yearly physical tests of every man who runs a train or steamship or electric car and of automobile conductors, hundreds of persons each day will, it is believed, tend to eliminate one of the principal causes of wrecks. Officers of the public health service are of the conviction that physical unfitness is responsible for more wrecks than most people realize, particularly in the disasters caused by engineers running heedlessly past signals. Colorblindness is responsible for more wrecks than have ever been attributed to this defect, the surgeons believe. People suffering from this ailment and little suspect it. Reddish greens and browns look almost alike to people who are colorblind. Tests for hearing is also important. Detection of unusual sounds, the peculiar thump of a broken flank or the rattling of a defective axle, or the revolving machinery has often prevented wrecks. The test for organic heart trouble would prevent many disasters, public health surgeons declare. Cases are on record where engineers have died suddenly at the throttle while the train went crashing.

SARECKY GRILLED BY IMPEACHER

"Where was Sulzer when you did that?" "I cannot recollect just where he was." "Did you confer with him before you did that?" "I did not." Attorney Hinman questioned Sarecky closely concerning a letter signed "William Sulzer," which was sent to Webb Floyd, the president of the Mutual Alliance Trust Company, where Sarecky had his account. The letter purported to authorize Sarecky to sign Sulzer's checks and permit their deposit in Sarecky's account. The witness admitted he signed the letter while Sulzer was up state on a campaign tour. "Now, when you received word from the Mutual Alliance Trust Company that they wanted some authority from Congressman Sulzer for you to endorse his name, did you communicate with Governor Sulzer?" he was asked on cross-examination by Attorney Stanchfield. "No sir; I did not." "You put on the face of this letter 'to Route' so that if they noticed in the newspapers that he was out of the city they would see by this letter that it came from him—wherever he might be?" "Yes, sir." "And you did all this knowing from his bank that they wanted from the governor authority in you to endorse these checks?" "Yes, sir." "In other words, you presented to that bank a deliberate forgery, didn't you?" "The governor's counsel came to Sarecky's rescue with an objection, which Presiding Judge Cullen sustained. "That was my intention when I gave it to him," was Sarecky's reply to a question by Judge Cullen if his intention had not been to deceive the bank.

Representative Cullop is a budding "oil magnate." He and friends at home are owners of an oil well in Ohio which Cullop thinks is going to make all hands rich, maybe. During the hottest time in Cuddop's fight for publicity of indorsements of federal bench appointees, Cullop received a telegram that his oil well was spouting like a hose after a gusher. It was reported, Cullop made a flying trip to Ohio, a week end journey. He threw a few shirts and socks into a suit case and beat it for the first train to Ohio. Now Cullop is confiding to a few intimate friends that the gushing reports were somewhat exaggerated.

Bishop—It is understood here that a factory is to be built in this place at once for the manufacture of silos and also for making brooms.

D. 1913 in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 4576, where in Ora F. Scott is plaintiff and Sam T. Scott is defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married on November 12th, 1903, and continued to live together until the fall of 1904 at which time defendant left plaintiff with the intention of abandoning her and since said time plaintiff and defendant have not lived together as husband and wife. CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas, To the Sheriff or Constable of Wichita County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon C. C. Young by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Wichita County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in December, A. D. 1913, the same being the first day of December, A. D. 1913, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 12th day of May, A. D. 1913, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 4612, wherein John Threadgill is Plaintiff and C. C. Young is Defendant, and said petition alleging that on or about the 5th day of April, 1912, your plaintiff and those under whom he claims were the owners in fee simple and entitled to the possession of the lands hereinafter described which said lands are situated in the counties of Archer and Wichita within the State of Texas, to-wit: That on or about the 1st day of January, 1913, C. C. Young unlawfully and with force in arms entered upon the said lands and ejected plaintiff therefrom, and now unlawfully withholds from plaintiff the possession thereof, to plaintiff's great damage to-wit: That the land so unlawfully entered and withheld from plaintiff are described as follows:

1st. The North on-half of block 8, League 3, Denton County School land, being 77 acres.

2nd. 94 77-100 acres being all of block 9, League 3, Denton County School land, north of Wichita Valley railway.

3rd. All that part of Blocks 1, 11 and 2, League 3, Denton County School land, which lies north of the Wichita Valley Railway Company's tracks.

4th. All of block 24, and all that part of block 13, and 10, League 4, Denton County School land which lies south of the Wichita Falls and Seymour road.

5th. All that part of blocks 12, 3, 2, and 1, League 4, Denton County School land which lies north of the Wichita Falls and Seymour public road.

6th. Blocks 1 and 2 out of the west one-half of the Margaret Ramsey Survey.

7th. All of block 4 and all that part of block 11, League 4, Denton County school land north of the Wichita Falls and Seymour public road being the same land conveyed by C. C. Young to W. J. Price by two deeds of even date.

Wherefore plaintiff sues and prays for citation by publication for judgment for possession and title to said land for writ of restitution and for general and special relief.

And your plaintiff further complaining of C. C. Young, defendant, says, that heretofore to-wit on or about the 6th day of April, 1912, the land hereinafter described was conveyed to one J. M. Hines, and that afterward by mesne said land became the property of your plaintiff. That after making such deed by W. J. Price to J. M. Hines on or about the 12th day of April, 1912, W. J. Price unlawfully and fraudulently executed and delivered to C. C. Young a certain oil and gas lease and pretended conveyance. Your plaintiff says that such oil and gas lease and conveyance above described was void and fraud upon plaintiff's rights and is a cloud upon the title of your plaintiff.

UNITED STATES GEOLOGIC SURVEYS IN TEXAS

Studies in Geology and Underground Water Resources and Topographic Mapping

The work of the United States Geological Survey in Texas is always a matter of interest, on account of the close relation between the abundant mineral resources of the state and the development of many of its principal industries. Work in progress this year by the survey includes the geologic investigation of a number of areas, the study of underground waters, and topographic mapping.

A part of the coastal plain region, situated in the Nueces river area, will be examined during this field season by Geologist Alexander Deussen, who later will prepare reports describing the general geology and underground water supplies of the district. Similar reports covering the remainder of the coastal plain region of Texas have been completed or are in preparation by G. C. Matson and L. W. Stephenson or by T. Wayland Vaughan, under whose direction the coastal plain investigations have been carried on.

These investigations will form a most important contribution to the knowledge of the geology, water resources, and geologic history of this part of North America. The detailed survey of the geology of the area known as

UNITED STATES GEOLOGIC SURVEYS IN TEXAS

Studies in Geology and Underground Water Resources and Topographic Mapping

The Bracket quadrangle was completed last year by Mr. Vaughan and a geologic folio with maps describing this quadrangle is now nearly complete. A very small area of Eastern Texas belonging to the Caddo (Louisiana) oil and gas field, was examined by Mr. Matson, who is now preparing a report with structure maps, describing the conditions of occurrence of oil and gas in the area. This report will probably prove of great service to the drillers in discovering new areas of oil in the region.

A study of the brown iron-ores in Northeastern Texas will probably be made next spring by E. F. Burchard if sufficient time and money are available.

The geological survey is planning to make during the coming winter topographic maps of the areas known as the Hidalgo quadrangles, in Hidalgo county, each having an approximate area of 267 square miles, although but a small portion of the Hidalgo quadrangle lies in the United States. These quadrangles contain the towns of Hidalgo and Abram, respectively. This work will include the detailed surveys necessary to prepare maps which will show all rivers, towns, roads and railroads, as well as the surface relief of the country by means of 5-foot contour lines. The completed maps will be engraved on the scale of one mile to one inch and will probably be ready for distribution in about two years after the completion of the field work.

Underground Water Studies. Underground water investigations are in progress in Texas, which, when completed will include the entire coastal plain of the state. These studies include the compilation of data relating to wells, such as location, depth, name and character of water-bearing strata, depth to water-bearing strata, static head, and quantity, quality, and uses of the waters. The reports covering these investigations will be published as water supply papers of the survey. Several of these papers are at present in course of preparation. They contain maps showing the areas in which the geologic formations outcrop, the depth of the water-bearing formations, and the location of wells; sections showing the geologic structure of the region, and diagrams illustrating the principles which control the circulation of underground waters and other things of interest in connection with water supplies.

These investigations are being carried on under the direction of Mr. Vaughan, by Alexander Deussen, stationed at Austin, Texas.

Having dissolved partnership with Mr. Pruisen I am now located in room 6, Friberg Bldg., over Maxwell Hardware store, where I will be pleased to have my friends and customers call to see me.
