SALOONS EMPTY AT NINE-THIRTY

PROPRIETOR AND BARTENDER MUST LEAVE AT THAT HOUR SAYS NEW LAW

NOT ALLOWED TO REMAIN

Opinion Declares Intent of Law Was to Close Saloon Entirely up at Closing Hour

By Associated Press.
Houston, Tex., Oct. 23.—Under the construction placed on the 9:30 closing bill by the attorney general's department today, the 9:30 law becomes more nearly a 9 o'clock law. If the bar tenders would have their establishments closed up and glasses ready for the opening on the following day, the opinion says.

The law requires that liquor dealers shall close their places of business promptly at 9:30 p. m., and shall remain open thereafter after that hour until 9 a. m. of each week day. The bartender and proprietor shall be required to leave the saloon at this hour, closing the same for every purpose, and it shall be considered unlawful for him to remain therein for any purpose whatsoever that would be considered transacting business.

The opinion further holds that it would be unlawful for a saloon to make a sale during the hours in which sales can lawfully be made and make a delivery thereafter.

INDIAN PROPERTY WORTH MORE THAN ONE BILLION

By Associated Press.
Mohawk, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Indians in the United States own property worth more than a billion dollars. There is now $48,000,000 in the United States treasury to the credit of the American Indians. Their land holdings, steadily increasing in value, "serve as baits to attract an army of grafters, shyster lawyers and schemers."

These statements introduced an address delivered before the Lake Mohawk Conference of Friends of the Indians and Other Dependent Peoples today by Warren K. Moorehead of Andover, Mass., a member of the United States Board of Indian Commissioners. Mr. Moorehead discovered the White Earth fraud of 1906 and recently investigated Indian conditions in Oklahoma. His subject was "A Historical Review of the Indian Situation."

His paper called attention to previous investigations which have been reported to the conference from time to time, to the work of the Indian Rights Association and that of the "best man in the Indian service," Inspector E. B. Linnaea; also, to the reports of missionaries, business men and scientists, the past twenty years. All this data properly assembled and digested, he said, means but one thing—that no matter how honest a man we have as commissioner of Indian affairs, or how capable and competent the heads of departments in the Indian office, we cannot save the Indian as a race under our present scheme of management. "We benefit individuals but we are producing unnumbered paupers and diseased Indians."

"Under our form of government," Mr. Moorehead continued, "we are not fit to handle a dependent people since we change our officials every few years. For instance we have had four commissioners of Indian affairs in six years. This is not conducive to efficiency. I do not criticize the personnel of the Indian service or the efforts of those thousands of hardworking men and women who are endeavoring to uplift the Indian. We have concentrated on citizenship for the Indian and have handed him a paper citizenship which in most cases is of little or no value. Roughly stated the Indian is a citizen in name only and he has neither the rights nor the protection afforded white citizens. Nowhere in the United States are communities of white citizens kept out of their property. The Indian citizenship must be made effective and real, the laws enforced. Otherwise we will have unnumbered paupers to support."

"For more than two generations we have had commissioners of Indian affairs at Washington and in spite of their best efforts the same problem confronts us today. The only salvation of the Indian lies in a total change of policy; the abolition of the commissioner's office; the appointment of a commission of nine men—the best obtainable men in the United States, and men who understand Indians and not political appointees. This commission should be appointed for at least ten years and if possible fifteen. It should publish its findings every three months and all its hearings should be public. It should have in its charge every Indian person and all cash belonging to Indians or tribes, farm lands, mines, oil wells and other properties. The realties of this commission should be absolute and final. It should eliminate all educated and competent Indians, making of them citizens."

NIGHT TURNKEY INJURED WHEN FORMER CHIEF IS PLACED UNDER ARREST

RECALLS FORMER AFFAIR

Ransom, Ex-Chief, Received Appointment After Killing of J. S. Brockman, Well Known Attorney

By Associated Press.
Houston, Tex., Oct. 23.—Mayor Campbell and Police Chief Davidson have ordered a full investigation into the shooting early this morning of Night Turnkey C. E. Horton at the police station. A warrant has been sworn out charging Jules Baker, one of the county convict superintendents with the shooting. Former Police Chief Henry L. Ransom was arrested last night, it is charged, on a charge of assaulting R. L. Higgins a newspaper reporter and Baker accompanied Ransom to the station. Ransom, it is alleged, declined to be registered and walked out. Horton went after him, he says, and covered Ransom with his gun, when he charges Baker opened fire wounding him, after which the two walked off.

Ransom is a former ranger and it will be recalled that while a special officer he was charged with killing James B. Brockman, one of the best known attorneys of the State. He was acquitted of that charge and a few days later was made chief of police.

Baker surrendered later and was released on $500 bond to answer a charge of assault to murder. Ransom pleaded guilty to assault upon Higgins and paid his fine. He was not held in connection with the shooting of Horton.

RESCUERS STILL BUSY AT DAWSON

BETWEEN 193 AND 243 MEN STILL IMPRISONED AT SCENE OF EXPLOSION

FORTY-TWO BODIES FOUND

Twenty-five Living Victims Brought Out Today—Cause of Explosion Is Not Ascertained

By Associated Press.
Dawson, N. M., Oct. 23.—The fate of approximately 200 men remaining in the workings of No. 2 Stag Canyon mine, entombed by a terrific explosion yesterday was still unknown today. Twenty-five men have been rescued alive and forty-two bodies recovered.

Hope for the entombed men that pervaded the camp immediately after the explosion and throughout the night had given way today to doubt. Shortly before noon, it was announced twenty-five more bodies had been located, but several hours must elapse before they can be brought to the surface.

By Associated Press.
Dawson, N. M., Oct. 23.—Between 193 and 243 men still were imprisoned in shaft No. 2 of the Stag Canyon mines of Phelps Dodge and Company this morning. Fourteen bodies were recovered during the night. The twenty-third living victim was brought out this morning from a mile underground and was unconscious.

Indications were that rescuers would reach the majority of the day shift sometime today. Hope was strong that the fans which driven all night would have diluted the gas so the trapped men might be found alive.

Opinions as to the cause of the explosion differ. It was at first ascribed that black damp ignited; later, it developed, coal dust is prevalent in the mines at this time and this condition may have led to the disaster.

Immediately after the explosion all shafts were called to the work of rescue, and those miners who were employed in other shafts were put to work drilling through the debris which was said to have blocked the mine below the second level.

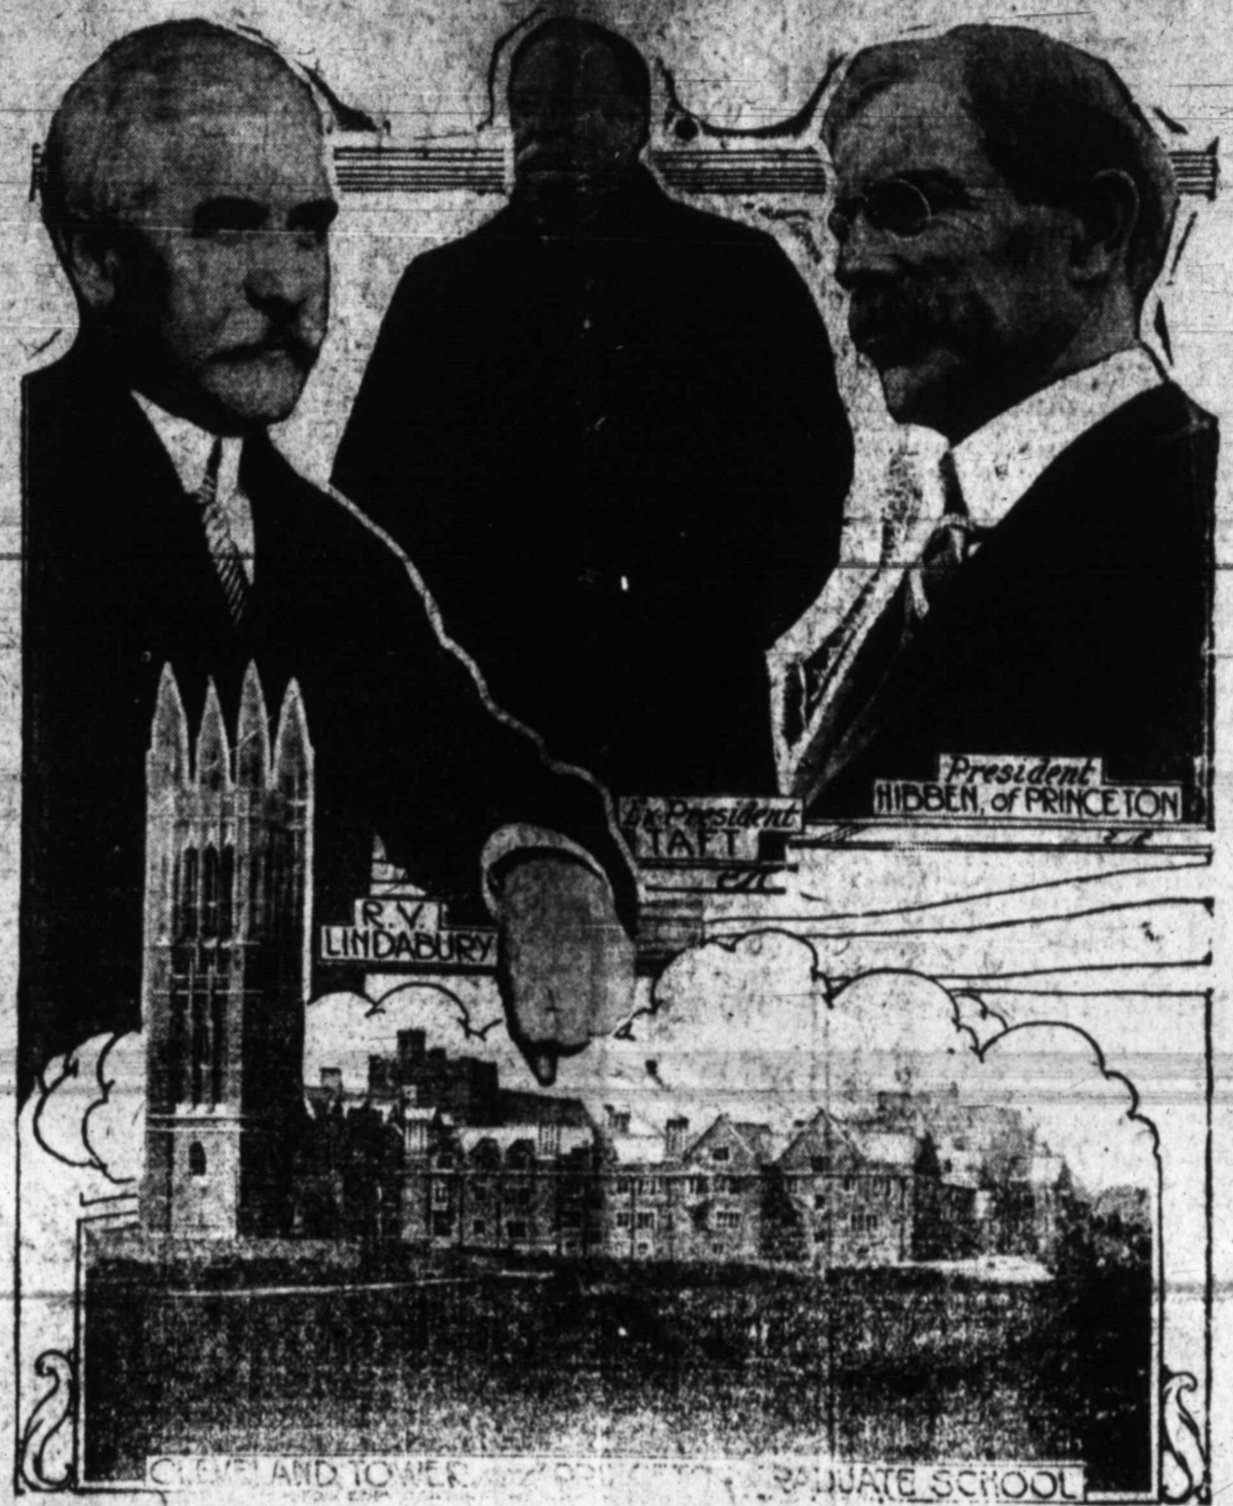

The United States rescue car stationed at Trinidad was summoned and every available man in Dawson last night was aiding in the attempt to reach the entombed miners.

Rescuers worked heroically to supply air to the men. Reports from the mine did not state at which level the explosion occurred, but simply that the mine-shaft was blocked from the second level.

The mine property is owned by the Phelps-Dodge Company of New York. Five mines are connected in the workings, and it is thought that if any of the miners escaped death in the explosion they should be able to reach safety.

F. L. Miller, superintendent of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company rescue department, with a crew of trained rescuers, left Trinidad in a special car for Dawson with oxygen helmets and other apparatus.

DEVELOPMENTS IN CONNECTION WITH HIS CAMPAIGN HOLD WASHINGTON'S INTEREST

IS SILENT ABOUT ENGLAND

Confidence That Friendly Understanding as to Attitude Will be Reached is Expressed

By Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 23.—Developments attending Gen. Felix Diaz attempts to campaign for the Mexican presidency and the latest turn in the relations between the United States and Great Britain over the English attitude toward Mexico, engaged the attention of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan today.

The disposition of all officials here to maintain absolute silence with regard to inquiries by Ambassador Page at London, indicated that the whole affair would be handled in the quiet realm of diplomacy and no expressions of policy were looked for. There was confidence that a friendly understanding would be reached.

Huerta's attitude toward the elections leads to the belief that another announcement from Washington pointing to the inability of the Mexican government to conduct a free and fair election, can be expected. Secretary Bryan today directed, Charge O'Shaughnessy at Mexico City to use his good offices with the Huerta government to effect a fair trial for Daniel and Evaristo Madero.

It was evident that in whatever is passing between Great Britain and the United States on the latest phase of the Mexican situation the utmost secrecy is to be observed. At the White House there was no information available, and Secretary Bryan who spent the entire day at home working on foreign matters, displayed

"We shall not ask the state to pay us," he said, "nor do we expect any pay from Mr. Sulzer. He has not paid us anything, and we shall not ask him for a cent. Lanier of Richmond, who served in the Philippines for several years, as assistant secretary for the bureau of justice. He already has submitted his plan to President Wilson and the department of justice.

It provides for a council composed of members elected by the United States, England, France, Germany, Russia and Japan, and possibly other nations.

This body would select a chief executive. It would be the upper legislative house of the islands, with a lower house composed entirely of natives. Any question on which the members could not agree would be submitted to The Hague tribunal.

ANTI-TRUST LAW CHANGES URGED

WISCONSIN UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR THINKS MONOPOLY ADVISABLE UNDER SOME CIRCUMSTANCES

MATTER OF COMPETITION

Says Natural Resources of Country are Being Wasted Because of Rivalry of Interests

By Associated Press.
Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—Dr. Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, arraigned the Sherman anti-trust law last night as the one agency more responsible than any other for appalling waste in mining and consequent grant of the front position to monopolies.

To propose the repeal of the Sherman law, Dr. Van Hise asserted, would be chimerical at the present time, but it should be amended so that, under its provisions, co-operation would be permitted. Unrestrained competition, he added, meant appalling waste; and waste was positively opposed to the policy of conservation. When the Sherman law was passed, he said, the wheels, so far as co-operation was concerned, were immediately turned back to the conditions of the middle ages. To remedy the evil, he continued, an Interstate Trade Commission should be fashioned with broad powers like those of the Interstate Commerce Commission, to regulate operation in industry. Monopoly should be prohibited but business men should be permitted to fix prices, divide territory and curtail output within reasonable limits. Dr. Van Hise said, in part:

"There can be no question that the competitive system, when unrestrained, is positively opposed to the policy of conservation. The wastefulness of the competitive system may be proved with regard to every product which is taken from the earth. But the most disastrous losses in mining as far as the future of the human race is concerned are in connection with coal. Director Holmes of the United States bureau of mines says that at the present time not more than fifty per cent of the anthracite reaches the surface. The situation is nearly similar for bituminous coal. Holmes estimates that since the beginning of mining in the United States two billion tons of anthracite and three billion tons of bituminous coal have been left underground in such condition as to make its future recovery doubtful or impossible."

"Under the Sherman act there is no opportunity to limit output, divide territory or regulate prices. Three thousand bituminous operators could produce two hundred million tons of coal per annum beyond present demands. If the operators could agree upon limitation on output, and division of market so as to reduce freights, and could arrange for reasonable prices, which would give them no more than their present profits, they would then be able to follow these principles in mining their coal. Under the competitive system, we are recklessly skimming the cream of the natural resources of a virgin continent, with no regard for the rights of our children or our children's children."

"My proposal to remedy these conditions is neither regulated competition, nor regulated monopoly, but regulated co-operation, to regulate co-operation, permission of monopoly, permission of co-operation, and regulation of the latter. At the present time there are state and national movements to extend still further the advantages of co-operation to the farmers. We shall, I believe, ultimately permit co-operation in all lines of business alike. If we, however, retain freedom of competition, permit concentration sufficient to give efficiency, allow reasonable co-operation, and prevent monopoly, this will require regulation just as it has been necessary to regulate the railroads."

Cities Railroad Agreements.

"This done, the Sherman law will be forgotten. Has there been any prosecution of the railroads for violations of the Sherman law because of collusion in fixing rates? And yet, everyone knows that they are just as flagrant violators of the Sherman act as any other class of corporations in the United States. Are the freight rates the same for different roads between any two points? Are the passenger rates between Philadelphia and Chicago identical on all roads? The rate is the same providing the speed is the same. How does it happen that the roads all got together? Just by Providence, I suppose."

"The railroads are just as amenable to attack under the Sherman act as any other combination in the United States, but when the railroads are giving reasonable rates, and are competing in giving service—even if the law is on the statute book and in the ballad which requires to close one's eyes whenever they pass by the men in control of one great group of industries, and

"However, it is a wrong condition that we have on the statute book a law of the state which requires the officials of justice to close one's eyes whenever they pass by the men in control of one great group of industries, and

Two Colors Combined Give Attractive Effects New in Gloves

Hitherto it has not been thought possible to contrive a combination of colors in gloves other than the slight variation attainable by means of a more or less ornamental stitching on the back. It has remained for the modern glove manufacturer to accomplish the feat and in a manner which fully meets the requirements of good taste and style. In the new, two-color gloves, known as "fourchette," the contrasting shades is applied in the between-finger sections, black or gray in white gloves, white or tan in black. The effect of this is wholly pleasing and brings this necessary accessory into harmony with the prevailing demand for color combinations in dress. Besides the "fourchette" gloves, gauntlets are a fashionable novelty for street wear this season. Two styles of these, black with white lining in the cuffs and tan lined with pale pink. Silk gloves, both long and short, with contrasting stitching, will continue in great demand.

Suede gloves are always popular because of their softness and pliability. The light weights are used for dress occasions, and now the same finish may be obtained in heavy kid that is serviceable for general wear. We have just received these new gloves by express. Come and see them. We show the newest first.

"ALFALFA BILL" ON INDIAN EVILS

REPRESENTATIVE OF OKLAHOMA DISCUSSES THOSE WHO PREY UPON REDSKINS

TO REMOVE RESTRICTIONS

Would Put Five Civilized Tribes Farther From Reach of Land Grifters and Others

By Associated Press. Mohonk Lake, N. Y., Oct. 23.—The methods of those who prey upon the land owning Indians of Oklahoma described, and means to circumvent them were recommended by William H. Murray, member of Congress from Oklahoma, in a paper which was read before the Lake Mohonk Conference of Friends of the Indians and Other Dependent Peoples. Mr. Murray was president of the Oklahoma Constitutional Convention and the first speaker of the House of Representatives of the new state.

His first suggestion was that restrictions should be removed from all adults of the Five Civilized Tribes of Oklahoma, who have less than three-quarters Indian blood. "Restricted" Indians, he explained, were those who had some restriction upon the transfer of any portion of their allotments or homesteads. Such restrictions apply only to land trust run with the title and do not affect the person or the owner, since the Oklahoma Indian enjoys the privileges of the ballot and is in every other way classed as a citizen under the state constitution. The federal laws now provide restrictions upon all Indians of more than half blood.

The full blood Indians, said Mr. Murray, are the chief objects of attack by land-grifters, who although unable to make much headway in acquiring title stock by contracts to becloud the title in such a way that in the event of the removal of restrictions they would be almost the only possible purchasers. "There is one land copartnership," he said, "which is said to control by lease at least 250,000 acres in the Chickasaw and Choctaw nations, the lands mostly of restricted Indians."

The greatest injustice, he went on, is endured by Indian minors, who are robbed of their inheritances by land-grifters, often working in collusion with probate judges. "It is enough to make of such Indian child," he declared, "an anarchist while it surely will make paupers of them all. Let the doors be closed against the sale of any minor's land unless he dies."

All honest men in Oklahoma, said Mr. Murray and the Indians themselves oppose the reopening of the tribal rolls which would admit to participation in tribal estate persons not entitled to such division. He quoted from the democratic platform of 1912 which said:

"We are opposed to the taking by the government of the Indian trust funds, amounting to millions of dollars, in paying salaries and expenses of federal office holders and departmental appointees—after agreeing by solemn treaty pledges to pay such expenses by the federal government. This is the view," he added, "of practically everybody in our state."

TRIAL TODAY RECALLS DEATH OF WOMAN DOCTOR

Killing of Dr. Helene Knabe Two Years Ago Subject of Case Now Up For Hearing

Shelbyville, Ind., Oct. 23.—Exactly two years ago from the day Dr. Helene Knabe, the state's leading woman doctor, was found almost nude in her apartments in Indianapolis with her head nearly severed at the neck, Dr. William B. Craig, her most intimate friend was today placed on trial here for her murder. The case came to this county here on a change of venue. In alleged attempts of Dr. Craig to end a relationship with Dr. Knabe that had become objectionable to him and had caused bitter quarrels between them, the state claims to have a motive for the murder. Witnesses who testified to the same effect, before the grand jury will swear they saw Dr. Craig coming from the murdered woman's apartment house on the night of the murder, October 23, 1911. Evidence will be introduced to show that Dr. Craig knew of the murder before anyone else. His housekeeper will testify that he returned home late on the night of the crime and changed clothing completely. It will be charged that the handsome veterinary surgeon broke a promise to marry Dr. Knabe in order to marry Katherine Fleming of Avon, Ind., Indiana's leading criminal attorney here in the trial. Craig's lawyers are Elliott R. Hooton and Henry Spann of Indianapolis. Assisting Prosecutor E. P. Baker of Indianapolis are Eph E. May, John Holtzman and William Reches, all of Indianapolis.

Within a short distance by railroad from Indianapolis, the court room here today was filled with friends of the murdered woman, including some of the leading clubwomen of the capital city. The funds for bringing witnesses and for private detectives who worked up the case against Dr. Craig were largely contributed by Indianapolis clubwomen. The police had given up Dr. Knabe's murder as an inexplicable mystery and the Council of Women hired a private detective. For nearly two years he worked on clues. The indictment of Dr. Craig and Alonza M. Ragdale, an undertaker of Indianapolis, on December 31, 1912, came unexpectedly and created a sensation as great as the murder of Dr. Knabe. Ragdale was executor of her estate and he is

LIGHT OPERA "ROBIN HOOD" BASED ON FAMOUS OPERA.

Some of the most popular grand operas, comic operas and even plays, have been based on fairy stories and legends, and this is almost the entire inspiration for the Christmas season in London. The Wagner operas are almost all fairy stories, and those of other composers are often legends. "Peter Pan" which dealt with fairies was the greatest play of M. Harrie ever wrote and one of the current successes of the New York season last year was "Snow White, and the Seven Dwarfs."

To come down to the light operas which have been founded on stories, the most notable is "Robin Hood" the tale of the merry outlaw of Sherwood forest, which is preserved in the traditions of England. De Koven and Smith also based "Robin Hood" on a legend and Don Quixote on another. Then in the past decade we have had "Cinderella," "Puss in Boots," and "Mother Goose," which was based on modern fairy stories and "Babes in Toyland" which dealt with many of the Mother Goose characters.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" was the story of the giant killer and from the Arabian Nights we have had "Blue Bird," "All Baba and the Forty Thieves," and so recent and popular a play as "Kismet." After de Koven and Smith had written "Don Quixote" and "The Legend" for the Bostonians, they were casting about for another opera and one day were looking over some picture story books of Robin Hood and his men. This struck them as a good theme and they immediately named their work. On the night of the first performance of Don Quixote they submitted their scenario. In Sarrahe's dressing room and com-acts were signed. De Koven began work on the score on January 9, 1899 and the music was finished in three months, Smith sending him the book set by act.

The Bostonians liked the first act very much, but thought the second act lacked local color, however, the piece was produced on June 9, 1899, that five months later, and the second act—after the interpolation of the famous ballad, "O Promise Me," proved to be the most popular of the three. It was several months before the Bostonians made any money with "Robin Hood" but after they realized what a success they had, the work was given 4256 performances by them alone.

Wichita Falls, Texas, Oct. 21, 1913

The Hereford Brand and a few other publications have been trying for some weeks to induce someone to announce against Hon. Jno. H. Stephens for congressman, but so far have not succeeded. With his splendid record in Congress, Mr. Stephens would receive twice as many votes as any man who would offer against him, and they all know it. He will not likely have an opponent.—Vernon Record.

Mr. Stephens is now in his district. He was at Amarillo a few days ago, and has written friends in this city that it was his intention to visit Wichita Falls before returning to Washington. Wichita Falls is the largest city in his district, and her people always have a hearty welcome for John H.

Much has been said and written of late concerning the probability or advisability of the United States annexing a part or the whole of Mexico. It is a rich country all right, but to annex it would also annex the inhabitants, and there's where most of us would object. Those Mexicans don't seem satisfied unless fighting somebody, and judging from the way they desert their leaders during a fight and go to the other side, they don't seem to care much what the fight is about—just so they can be on the winning side. They are not our kind of people, and Uncle Sam might just as well make up his mind to let them have all the guns and ammunition they want, and fight to a finish.—Wichita Daily Times.

Neither were the Philippines, the Sandwich Islanders or the Porto Ricans "our" sort of people, but Uncle Sam took them under his wing just the same. However, the present government has no intention of annexing Mexico or carrying in any way of conquest or reprisal. If Teddy was at the helm—well, that would be another story.—Denison Herald.

Conquering the Philippines was tame work. It will be different with the Mexicans. They prefer to fight, and had just as soon fight each other as foreigners, and does not let them have their desire gratified?

THE MATTER-OF-FAITH MAN

(The Christian Register.)
Wichita's knowing face is in part of experience—the know about the thing in hand and the knowing its place with relation to larger things. The clerk is an expert in his department of banking, and yet may know nothing of banking as such. The assistant in charge of an X-ray apparatus, though a physician, could not answer, in one instance an elementary question in regard to the known nature of the way. The skilled operative in the factory knows, in most cases, only his own part, and does not comprehend or care for any other part nor the purpose of any part on the whole. The man who combines expert knowledge with comprehension is the man who is always slated for advance. The man who is an expert only in his place will always remain there. The philosopher attempts to assemble the facts of life under some whole that will comprehend them all, and quite succeeds. But the man who claims to be more practical in thinking of nothing but what is under his hand and eye fails much more hopelessly. The matter-of-fact man is less useful in the long run than the matter-of-faith man.

WHY BANKERS DISAGREE

(Journal of Commerce, New York.)
The annual convention of the American Bankers' Association has met in Boston, and from it an expression of opinion about the pending bill is expected, and it ought to be helpful. The association is made up of delegates of both national and state banks, and presumably they are fairly representative of the banking sentiment of their several communities. There has already been a conference of those representing "country banks" and they have formulated their criticism and their suggestions for improving the pending bill. What was meant by "country banks" in that conference were those operating either under state or national charters whose capital is not less than $25,000 nor more than $250,000. The resolutions in which their desires were formulated related entirely to details of the measure affecting their own special interests and their profits, as they understood the effect of what is proposed. Those in the present national system wish to be assured of no loss from their government bonds, which is natural and right. All wish more freedom in the use of savings deposits, the privilege of continued profit from check collections and a freer use of reserves kept as credits in other banks. This is an illustration of the breadth of view of a large number of bankers in dealing with a problem affecting the permanent financial system of the country. The conflict of banking opinion displayed by those whose interests are more or less diverse is one reason why the banking influence appears to be so ineffective in shaping legislation. It is to be hoped that whatever the final expression may come from the Boston convention, it will concern the broad essentials of the problem and be of value in perfecting the pending measure.

I Had a Friend
I had a friend,
I loaned him ten,
I haven't seen
My friend since then.

Another one
Touched me for five,
I doubt if he
Is still alive.

Went on a note,
To help a third,
He may be dead,
I haven't heard.
I guess it's true,
That in the end
A feller is
His own best friend.
—Chicago Journal.

How She Helped
"While mother is busy," said dear little Nan,
"I'm going to help her all that I can."
"Huh!" laughed her brother. "What can you do?"
I can tend fires and run errands, too.
But you are a girl, and besides, so small.
You won't be able to help at all."

Nan's eyes were bright with her happy plan.
"Oh, I can help—I know that I can! If I don't tease, but keep still as a mouse."
And go on tiptoe all over the house!
That will help mother," said little Nan.
—Youth's Companion.

The word that comes from Wichita Falls that a carload of Texas yellow legs has been loaded there for shipment to California ought not to deter the Methodist clergy from starting new missions, but it should encourage the Texas farmers to raise more chickens. Just think how handy that car of yellow legs would have come in next month during the conference meeting.—Vernon Call.

If you can't take care of the conference people in the way they should be just draw on Wichita county for a car load or so of chickens. Wichita county housewives are in the chicken and egg business for the money there's in it, and they generally manage to get the top of the market for their poultry products. If their husbands would engage a little more extensively in the hog business they might be able to show bank balances equal if not greater than their wives.

With only about one-third, or one-half, at most, as much cotton as was produced in Wichita county last year, Wichita Falls merchants are doing a much better business this year than they did last, and conditions generally are better. If the cotton crop had been good as last year, of course there would have been more prosperity, but so far as the Times is able to observe, the people generally are in better shape financially right now than they have been for several years. Come to Wichita Falls, a city that is growing and prospering faster than any city in Texas, and one that will double in population and wealth during the next five years.

There is some objections being urged to the new proposed city charter, and the one most spoken of is that which provides for the appointment of a City Park Commission. Each voter in the city is to receive through the mail a copy of the new proposed charter, and if they will read it carefully it will be noticed that it is left entirely optional with the board of aldermen as to whether a City Park Commission shall be appointed. Under those circumstances, the Times does not feel that the objection is a good one. If the people of the city do not want such a board of commissioners appointed, all that is necessary for them to do is to vote for candidates for mayor and aldermen who will pledge themselves to vote against the creation of such a board. That will end the matter.

RECENT HAPPENINGS IN SPORTING WORLD

New York, Oct. 23.—Willie Ritchie, high-weight champion of the world, and Leach Cross, the New York dentist fighter, were today beginning to put the finishing touches on their training for a ten-round bout here next Tuesday. This means that the Eastern critics, as well as the fight followers are to be given a chance to see Willie in what promises to be a real fight. Ritchie has been panned more or less since his fight with Freddie Welsh was called off at Vancouver and the eastern bugs now want to be shown. It is up to Willie to show whether he is of real championship calibre or is of the "cheese" variety of which there are large banks to say nothing of gobbs, now operating about Manhattan.

Most any frosty morning during the past three weeks you might have spotted Ritchie hitting it up along the roads through Central Park, getting himself in condition for the Cross bout. He does not hold Leach lightly, considering that Cross has a knockout over Bud Anderson to his credit. But he doesn't expect to run into a great deal of trouble handling Leach.

"If he will just fight and not back away and cover up I am sure to knock him out," said Ritchie. "Leach is strong for the covering up game, but if he stands out and fights I'll get him."
If Ritchie hangs one over on Cross he may expect to have a reasonably busy winter if he cares to stay in the East. There is Jack Britton and Johnny Lore to draw on for fights. Ritchie declares he is willing to meet Freddie Welsh at any time. He may be accommodated here if the going gets good. A word from the "cheese" a half dozen fight managers would be in a scramble to sign up such a bout, providing Willie shows something more than a pair of arms, legs and title. The title sounds good, but New York fight fans are beginning to demand a little fight on the side.

One of the big disappointments of the early fight season here was the showing of Al Reich, former amateur champion, who blossomed out as a "white hope." Bad match-making was largely responsible for Reich's downfall. He is a strapping big fellow, well built and apparently has everything that a champion should have so far as physical fitness is concerned. He is mighty shy on experience however. Running him into Carl Morris in what was virtually his first professional fight spilled the beans. Reich didn't know even how to keep out of the way and went out in two rounds. A slow bringing up and Reich may yet be heard from. In passing it might be mentioned that Morris is showing a lot more fight than it was ever suspected he had lurking about his person. He is bigger than the sides of two houses and picked up a surprising amount of fight knowledge within the last year. He certainly has Gumbo Smith's number and Gumbo was strutting about New York as the real goods in the heavyweight line.

By this time the last alibi should

Small & Ponder
715 Seventh Street

By Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York. The government, according to his plan, would grant a fifty year charter to the federal reserve banks of the United States, with capital stock of $100,000,000.

This proposed bank would rediscout for all member banks commercial paper up to the amount of the member banks capital and surplus. The federal banks would issue currency, dollar for dollar, against the commercial paper rediscouted for the bank if perfected by a fifty per cent gold reserve.

BLANKET INDICTMENT RETURNED AGAINST THAW

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 23.—A blanket indictment charging Harry K. It will be used as a weapon by William Jerome in his efforts to extradite Thaw from New Hampshire.

WHEN A MAN FAILS.

When he has no confidence in himself nor his fellow men.

When he values success more than character and self respect.

When he loves his own plans and interests more than humanity.

When he does not try to make his work a little better each day.

When his friends like him for what he has more than for what he is.

When he knows that he is in the wrong, but is afraid to admit it.

When he is so busy doing that he has no time for smiles and cheering words.

When he is so burdened by his business that he finds no time for rest or recreation.

When he envies others because they have more ability, talent or wealth than he has.

When he lets a day go by without making some one happier and more comfortable.

When he values wealth above health, self respect and the good opinion of others.

When he becomes so absorbed in his work that he cannot say that life is greater than work.

When he does not care what happens to his neighbor or to his friend so long as he is prosperous.

STREETVILLE KING RETURNS FROM PEN TO DEFEND DOMAIN
Chicago, Oct. 23.—Captain George Wellington Stroeter and his wife are back again in "Streetville" ready to hold the "damp" against all comers. This fact became known today with the filing of papers in the case, which has grown in intricacy during the years in which various claimants have attempted to oust the captain.

"Streetville" was made by accretions of sand on the lake shore north of the river and by the dump of refuse. Twenty years ago the captain and his first wife, Maria, were blown ashore in a rickety old schooner in which they made their home, and laid claim to the land as squatters. Holders of lake front property claimed the land as the growth of the city made it valuable, but the captain and Marie fought them off, many times by the display of firearms. Eventually the captain established a "military government" to realize his resistance and hired watchmen.

Some years ago, in one of the numerous conflicts with deputies, William Kirk, a watchman employed by one of the rival claimants, was killed, and Stroeter and two of his aides were sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime.

Eventually he was freed by the courts, and now, on legal advice, he is back again. The land is worth millions of dollars. The captain has been aided financially by many men of wealth, who believe in the validity of the captain's squatter rights, and who have accepted his deeds to parcels of the property in return.

The legal entanglements of the case are exceedingly involved, and final adjudication apparently lies far in the future.

ANTI-TRUST LAW CHANGES URGED

At the same moment see other men not a whit more guilty. We ought to remedy this condition so that the honorable business men shall not be in a position, the unfortunate position, of being technically violators of statutes which it is not advantageous from the public point of view to enforce.

"In regard to the Sherman act, it has been assumed that its only violators are the great combinations. The steel trust, the tobacco trust, and a few other large combinations are mentioned; and it is supposed that the small business man and the small producers are not acting in violation of the law. Does it make any difference here in Philadelphia, the home of the Anthracite, whether one buys anthracite of one retail dealer or another? It doesn't make any difference in the country cross roads either. The price is just the same from all dealers in the same locality.

"The same is true of all standard articles. The principle of co-operation has extended from the great manufacturers and the great dealers of the large cities to the small manufacturers and small dealers of the small cities and even the villages. All are co-operating in the same way; the principle is the same for the large and small man; one is violating the law just as certainly as is the other."

STREETVILLE KING RETURNS FROM PEN TO DEFEND DOMAIN
Chicago, Oct. 23.—Captain George Wellington Stroeter and his wife are back again in "Streetville" ready to hold the "damp" against all comers. This fact became known today with the filing of papers in the case, which has grown in intricacy during the years in which various claimants have attempted to oust the captain.

"Streetville" was made by accretions of sand on the lake shore north of the river and by the dump of refuse. Twenty years ago the captain and his first wife, Maria, were blown ashore in a rickety old schooner in which they made their home, and laid claim to the land as squatters. Holders of lake front property claimed the land as the growth of the city made it valuable, but the captain and Marie fought them off, many times by the display of firearms. Eventually the captain established a "military government" to realize his resistance and hired watchmen.

Some years ago, in one of the numerous conflicts with deputies, William Kirk, a watchman employed by one of the rival claimants, was killed, and Stroeter and two of his aides were sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime.

Eventually he was freed by the courts, and now, on legal advice, he is back again. The land is worth millions of dollars. The captain has been aided financially by many men of wealth, who believe in the validity of the captain's squatter rights, and who have accepted his deeds to parcels of the property in return.

The legal entanglements of the case are exceedingly involved, and final adjudication apparently lies far in the future.

WOMAN IS BELIEVED TO HAVE HAD ACCOMPLICE

Infant Found Yesterday is Placed in Good Home Here—Officers are Investigating

The woman who left the baby on the doorstep at the home of Mr. Storms, 1208 Indiana avenue Tuesday night is now believed to have had a confederate. The footprints of a man were found in the soft earth at the side of the porch on which the child was found. It is the theory of the officers that a man accompanied the woman to the house on Indiana avenue and probably was the one who placed the child on the porch.

The baby has been placed in a good home on Lamar avenue where it is expected it will be adopted. The Fort Worth authorities have made no report on the request of the local authorities that they look out for the woman who left an Ohio avenue boarding house here Tuesday night with her baby and later purchased a ticket for Fort Worth.

The officers have no purpose in looking for other than to learn the identity of the father of the child and of the man who assisted her in disposing of it.

CONGRESSMAN STEPHENS VISITS HIS DISTRICT

Texas Has Been Investigating Indian Affairs—Spoke at Amarillo Tuesday Night

Amarillo, Oct. 22.—Hon. John H. Stephens, representative of the Thirtieth congressional district, arrived in Amarillo Monday and delivered an address before a mass meeting at the court house Tuesday evening. The congressman is one of a joint committee of six, three from the senate and three from the house, who have been investigating Indian affairs over the United States.

Besides Congressman Stephens, the committee consists of Senators Robinson of Arkansas, Lane of Oregon and Townsend of Michigan, and Representatives Carter of Oklahoma and Burke of South Dakota. The committee's investigations led it into the reservations of North and South Dakota, Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona and New Mexico.

Indians Robbed of Supplies

The congressman said in part: "While we found Indian conditions in general in good condition, we discovered some defects and irregularities that must be remedied. In the Indian schools of Seattle we found that gross immorality was practiced, and instructors were summarily dismissed. State authorities will in all probability begin criminal action against offenders. In cases we discovered petty grafting on the part of agents and supply men. In Washington reservations we discovered that the Yakima tribe of Indians were getting only one-fourth of the supply water in the irrigation ditches, where they were entitled to one-half. On our trip we took two large volumes of testimony, and I believe our work has been done thoroughly.

"It was one of our duties to select the location for a general Indian sanitarium. This disease is prevalent to this. This disease is prevalent to an alarming extent among the Indians of Northwest, in some cases reaching as high as 50 per cent. Among other tribes the cases are few, running as low as 1 per cent. After thorough investigation, and for reasons that I have not time to mention now our committee will report against the establishment of a general Indian sanitarium, and will advise the treatment of all cases on their respective reservations."

Congressman Stephens will not go back to Washington for some months unless the currency bill goes back to the house.

Views on Mexican Situation

"As to my views on the Mexican situation," he said, "I introduced a resolution in the house this session which would have opened every gateway into Mexico for the supplying of munitions of war to the revolutionists or federalists, and allowing the opposing forces to fight it out to the bitter end. I believe we should allow those of our people who wish to go and help the revolutionists to do so without interference. Under my resolution I could already force the organization of a new Mexican republic in the northern and eastern states and the voluntary annexation of such a republic to the United States, considering the fact that a large percentage of the population of this territory is already American, would not be considered among the things impossible, I cannot agree with the President's policy toward Mexico."

The New Mexico Boundary

He told of his work in settlement of the Texas-New Mexico boundary question. He declared that the tariff bill, recently signed, was the best device since the Walker bill. The currency bill, now pending, he asserted,

FIVE TO SIX THOUSAND BALE CROP IS EXPECTED

This Country's Figure is Estimated at That Figure—Much Boll Cotton Now Coming In

Wichita county's cotton crop is now estimated at between five and six thousand bales. It is believed nearly four thousand bales have already been ginned. Boll cotton is now being hauled in to the gins and a considerable quantity of this cotton has already been ginned.

"THE MERRY COUNTESS" NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT'S PRODUCTION

"The Merry Countess" the international musical triumph which delighted crowded audiences at the Casino, New York for six months and also has to its credit a run of one year at the Lyric, London, will be the attraction at the Wichita Theatre next Tuesday, October 28.

The score of this exquisite operetta is an unquenchable delight being the masterpiece of Johann Strauss, recognized the world over as the undisputed white king. The book is by Gladys Unger and the lyrics from the pen of Arthur Anderson. The story is brisk and delightfully progressive, dealing in a whimsical manner with pseudo royalty and ultra-modern social conditions. "The Merry Countess" is characterized as a veritable whirl of color, dance and song and tinged with melodic and tuneful music. Success is the hardest earned return in the world and particularly in the theatrical calling, but once earned it is lasting and this fact is strongly emphasized in the triumph of "The Merry Countess."

Every Day

Someone

Finds out that the drug, caffeine, in coffee is the cause of headache, nervousness, irritable heart, insomnia or some other obscure ache or pain. Steady nerves and a clear brain—the best asset any man or woman can have—are often impossible to the regular coffee drinker.

If you are ambitious enough to "get ahead," suppose you stop coffee and try hot, well-made

POSTUM

If the old aches and pains begin to leave after a few days on Postum, you'll know whether to stick to it or go back to coffee troubles.

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A spoonful dissolves in a cup of hot water, and with sugar and cream makes a delicious beverage instantly.

Drink It instead of Coffee

"There's a Reason"

EASY CHANGE
When Coffee is Doing Harm

A lady writes from the land of cotton of the results of a four years' use of the food beverage, Postum:

"Ever since I can remember we had used coffee three times a day. It had a more or less injurious effect upon us all, and I suffered almost death from indigestion and nervousness. I know it was coffee because when I would leave it off for a few days I would feel better. But it was hard to give coffee up, even though I realized how harmful it was to me. At last I found a perfectly easy way to make the change. Four years ago I abandoned the coffee habit and began to drink Postum and I also instructed the rest of the family to do the same. "Even the children are allowed to drink it as freely as they do water. And it has done us all great good. I no longer suffer from indigestion, and my nerves are in admirable tone since I began to use Postum. We never use coffee any more. "We appreciate Postum as a delightful and healthful beverage, which not only invigorates but supplies the best of nourishment as well." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

INDIVIDUALISM

Did you ever stop to think what it was that made your friend Jones or who ever it happened to be the kind of a character he was. Every time you think of him you remember some distinct characteristic.

What is it? You don't know and you never will, unless the Creator gives you a better vision in the next world, but the human brain is such a wonderful thing that it looks and at once perceives the varied characteristics that go to make up the different individual.

No other business calls for individualism like the one in which we are engaged. Our customers seek outtimes to reflect the most marked characteristics, and we thus record history for future generations to consider.

We always try to reflect the life of the individual as near as possible, using marble, granite or bronze and the English language.

A RECORD

We opened our doors for business on September 29th, 1889, have been under the same roof selling groceries ever since. It's a "CINCH" we wouldn't be here today, if we hadn't been about right. Don't you think so? We've got lots of customers we started with, and think more of that than we do of any financial success we may have made. We're still here at the old stand, and would like an opportunity to show you just why we have been able to stay. In the language of Battle Creek, "There's a Reason"

WEARING THE WRONG GLASSES
May prove more injurious to your eyes than wearing no glasses at all.

Many who come to use are wearing glasses totally unsuited to their needs. We tell such people so and show them why.

Not every one who calls himself an Oculist or Optician is competent to fit glasses, yet mistakes are liable to occur unavoidably.

If your glasses are not perfectly satisfactory you should know why, and we urgently request even those whom we have fitted to consult us freely if at any time there is intimation of discomfort.
