FIVE BILLS ON TRUST QUESTION

MEASURES ARE BEING COMPLETED TO CARRY OUT PRESIDENT'S SUGGESTIONS

COMMITTEE IS TO MEET

Will Hold Session Tomorrow to Review Bills Relating to Anti-Trust Legislation

By Associated Press.
Washington, Jan. 21.—Five bills to carry out President Wilson's trust message suggestions were being completed in Congress today. The bills embraced the following:
An interstate trade commission authority to aid the courts and keep big business within the law.
Prohibition of interlocking directorates.
Empowering the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate issuance of railroad securities.
A Sherman law definition bill, outlining what constitutes restraint of trade.
A general trades relations measure which would provide punishment for individuals instead of business.
Members of the House, Judiciary and Senate interstate commerce committees went to the capitol today with the program, as outlined in mind and revision of tentative drafts of measures already prepared was undertaken.
A meeting of the entire membership of the judiciary committee has been called for tomorrow when bills relating to trust subjects will be reviewed and probably will be introduced the following day.

The court held that the eugenics law was of unreasonable statutory limitations so far as physicians' fees were concerned and that it was an unreasonable and material impairment of the right of persons to enter into matrimony.

REBELS GATHER FOR MARCH SOUTH

ARE CONCENTRATING ALONG R. NORTH OF TORREON READY TO ADVANCE

IS WAR'S CRUCIAL POINT

Federals Must Stop Constitutionals at Torreon or Not at All, It is Believed

By Associated Press.
Chihuahua, Jan. 21.—Orders were issued today by General Villa for a concentration of rebel forces along the railroad north of Torreon, with a view of preparing for the projected rebel advance southward. Evidence has multiplied that the federals at Torreon are determined if possible to check the rebellion at that point, believing that if the revolutionary movement from the north is to be stopped at all, it must be there.
The loss of Torreon to the rebels would leave two routes open to Mexico City. Consequently the federals are drawing all their available soldiers to Torreon in the hope of dealing a decisive blow to the rebels.
Within ten days, Villa said, his available army for the southern campaign will number 15,000 well equipped soldiers and he expects to lead the army himself.

JAPAN LAND CASE MAY BE RENEWED

REPLIES OF UNITED STATES TO FORMER PROTESTS CONSIDERED UNSATISFACTORY

ATTACK ON GOVERNMENT

Opposition to Administration in Japan Says Too Much Reliance Placed on U. S. Good Will

By Associated Press.
Tokyo, Jan. 21.—Japan regards as unsatisfactory the replies made by the United States to her protest in connection with the California alien land ownership legislation, according to a statement made today by Baron Makino, the Japanese foreign minister in the course of a summary of the Japanese-American negotiations given in his annual address to Parliament. He said:
"Japan recognizes the necessity of elaborating other plans for the solution of the question."
The baron's declaration, that "no answer whatever" had been made by the United States to Japan's third protest, presented in August, was the signal for an attack on the government by several members of the opposition party who alleged that too much reliance had been placed on the good will of America.

GERMANY HAD DULL CHRISTMAS DUE TO MILITARY TAX

Berlin, Jan. 21.—The German people had to hold out $83,000,000 from their Christmas stockings to put into the government's special "military sock" today when one of the third of the extraordinary military tax of $250,000,000 voted, fell due. To this fact is attributed the business reports showing that Germany had the dullest Christmas in many years.

FEDERAL LEAGUE SAYS WILL FIGHT IN COURTS

Sends Ultimatum to President of Philadelphia Nationals Declaring Its Intentions

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Jan. 21.—The Federal League today notified organized baseball that the signing of players at ready under contract with the Federals would be fought in the courts. ## VILLA PLANNING TO PUSH SOUTH TO CAPITAL AFTER HIS ROUT OF FEDERALS AT OJINAGA

Mexico City, Jan. 21.—Huerta is reported to have been dazed by the blow to his army at Ojinaga. It is believed that the end of his dictatorship is nearer than ever. He had been advised that his troops would be able to hold out at Ojinaga and he never looked for the terrible rout and the arrest of over 2,000 of his men on United States soil. It is now thought that Villa will push his way rapidly southward to this city. He is considered the biggest man in the country today as a fighter. It is very probable that he will eventually clash with Zapata for the control of the republic, for it is thought Carranza, after the usual Mexican fashion, will be eliminated by the man who fought for him.

STATE RESTS IN TRIAL OF NORRIS

THREE WITNESSES ARE HEARD IN ARSON CASE AT MORNING SESSION

ADJOURN TO TOMORROW

Attorneys and Court Officers Attend Funeral of Major J. J. Jarvis This Afternoon

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 21.—The State rested at noon today in the trial of Rev. J. Frank Norris, charged with burning the First Baptist Church. Adjournment was taken until Thursday morning so that attorneys and court officers may attend the funeral of the late Major J. J. Jarvis.

There were but three witnesses this morning. Tommy Whalen corroborated the testimony of E. C. Reese, that on the night of the fire a short time before it broke out, Reese pointed out a man at the church corner in a long dark overcoat and said: "The preacher is out late."
Mrs. H. S. Ratliff, prominent worker in the church, identified a letter which she said she wrote after Dr. Norris asked her to get the names of the deacons of the church at Cleburne. In that letter, written to her nephew at Cleburne, she referred to "a good man" of the church "who much resembles your father" and said:
"On Alley Albright's testimony, that man stands branded as a perjurer." Rev. Albright of Cleburne also identified the letter.

Beardsley's arrest came after eight days of open defiance of the law and his effective defense of "Fort Beardsley" as his farmhouse stronghold was known, after shooting Putnam.

HOLDS GOVERNOR CANNOT APPOINT

SENATE COMMITTEE REPORTS ON CASE OF FRANK P. GLASS OF ALABAMA

ITS FINDING IS ADVERSE

Says Governor's Stand is Erroneous and That Vacancy Should Be Filled at Election

By Associated Press.
Washington, Jan. 21.—The adverse report of the committee on privileges and elections on the credentials of Frank P. Glass of Birmingham, Ala., appointed by Governor Neal to succeed the late Senator Johnson was reported to the Senate today by Senator Walsh of Montana on behalf of the committee.

The report maintained that the contention of Governor O'Neal that it was unnecessary to call a special election under terms of the seveneenth amendment providing for direct election of senators, was erroneous and held further that the State's machinery was adequate for such election without further legislation which would have necessitated a special session of the legislature.

Senator Bradley of Kentucky will file a minority report in the case, which will come before the Senate probably next week.

FRIDAY'S MAT CONTEST AWAITED WITH INTEREST

Svoboda Will Make Effort To Redeem Himself For Last Week's Defeat By Rentrop

The wrestling match next Friday night between Charles Rentrop and Alois Svoboda, light heavyweights, is being awaited with considerable interest. Rentrop's victory of last Friday night, when he won two out of three falls, makes him the favorite and yet Svoboda says that he is a better man than Rentrop and that he will prove it Friday. He says that the third fall, which he surrendered when Rentrop secured a toe-hold, was necessary because of an injury to his leg which prevented him from resisting as he otherwise would.

Both men demonstrated last Friday night that they are accomplished wrestlers and the match then was sufficiently interesting to make it certain that a return engagement will be worth seeing. On that occasion they wrestled on a sixty and forty per cent basis. Next Friday night it will be a case of winner take all. The match will be held at 9:30 at the Moose hall.

Rentrop this morning accepted a challenge from Carl Anderson for a handicap match at Del Rio on January 29. By the terms of the challenge he agrees to throw Anderson twice in an hour.

TO THROW ASHES INTO THE GULF

JUDGE G. B. GERALD'S REQUEST TO BE OBSERVED—DIED AT WACO HOME

EVENTFUL CAREER ENDS

Resident of Waco For Forty-Five Years—Figured Prominently in Politics of Community

By Associated Press.
Waco, Texas, Jan. 21.—The body of Judge G. B. Gerald, who died here early this morning, will be taken to St. Louis tomorrow afternoon and there cremated. At a later date his grandson, W. G. Weaver at the request of Judge Gerald, will take the urn containing the ashes aboard a boat at some point on the Texas coast and scatter them on the Gulf of Mexico.

Judge Gerald was a resident of this city for forty-five years. He was a member of the Twenty-second Legislature, postmaster during Cleveland's first administration and for twenty years county judge of McLennan county. He served in the Confederate army throughout the Civil War.

In 1872, in a pistol duel here Judge Gerald shot and killed J. W. Harris, then managing editor of the Waco Times and his brother, W. A. Harris. In 1898, following the killing of W. C. Brann, Judge Gerald edited Brann's "Leoclast."

He was one of the best known figures in McLennan county for many years played a prominent part in the politics of Waco and McLennan county. While county judge of McLennan county he waged unceasing war on the gamblers and eventually closed up the gambling resorts which at one time flourished in Waco. Judge Gerald's fight with the Harris brothers was one of the most dramatic incidents of his remarkable career. The fight occurred on one of the principal streets here, the two brothers approaching the judge from opposite directions. It was in this encounter that he lost his arm.

STANDARD RECEPTACLES FOR POISONS IS PLANNED

New York, Jan. 21.—Resolutions seeking from the legislatures of all state laws requiring drug manufacturers and wholesale and retail druggists to adopt a special form of receptacle for bi-chloride of mercury, today were presented at the session of the New York State Pharmaceutical Association, which is holding its annual convention in Madison Square Garden. In connection with the resolutions, the attention of delegates and visitors was called to the exhibit of patent bottles, boxes and capsules designed to hold bi-chloride of mercury and other poisonous drugs and medicines. Standard shapes of receptacles, boxes and capsules for poisons and drugs, it was argued would do away almost entirely with accidental deaths by these poisons. There was every indication today that the resolutions would be adopted and the officials of the Association ordered to send them to the legislatures of all states in the union.

FIRST PATENT IS ISSUED UNDER NEW MINERAL LAW

Austin, Texas, Jan. 21.—Land Commissioner Robison has just issued his first license under the new mineral law of the last legislature, which permits the prospecting for minerals for a period of 90 days without having to buy the land. The license was issued to persons in the Caddo Lake oil field, an oil well having been brought in by the prospectors. Under this license a lease is granted on the land at $2 an acre for a period of ten years and the state is to receive a one-eighth royalty on all oil or other minerals produced.

Commissioner Robison says that since this law became effective the land office has issued a number of permits to prospect and indications are that the state will derive considerable revenue from this source. He says nothing of the development of the mineral resources of the state.

MORE THAN TEN MILLION HAVE WITNESSED "BEN HUR"

Wichita Falls playgoers will see on Monday evening the most wonderful production of the age. Klav & Erlanger's international production of "Ben Hur" the dramatization of General Lew Wallace's great story of the life and times of the Christ. It was for the writing of this wonderful romance that General Wallace was made Minister by President Garfield. "Ben Hur" has been seen by more than ten million people during the past fourteen years and it is still the most potent attraction offered to the American public. It is as fresh and new today as on its first production. Dealing with the period of the world's most marvelous military grandeur—the time when Rome with her superb system was supreme in the known countries of the globe—the play presents much of history, much more of the romance of the time and yet is so reverent and respectful in its allusions to the central theme of its story it is acclaimed by all who are fortunate enough to see it.

The story of the Prince of the House of Hur, his sufferings, his temptations, his firm reliance on his ultimate success and the culmination of his hopes in the recovery of his mother and sister, even at the eleventh hour when all hope was lost apparently, give abundant scope for the art of the dramatist. The tale carries Hur far from his birthplace and into untold dangers and adventures and even into the seduction of the Egyptian enchantress Iras.

The chariot race—the most superb spectacle ever seen on any stage—is the pinnacle of twentieth century stagecraft. Nothing more exciting to the blood, more entrancing to the eye, more powerful in its dramatic significance, has ever been evolved by author or creator of theatrical spectacles. It is the epitome of effort in the range of dramatic dynamics.

"Ben Hur" will be the offering at the Wichita Theatre Monday and Tuesday evenings and Tuesday matinee, Jan. 26 and 27. Seats are now on sale.

POLL TAX GAIN IS NOT ENOUGH

IS AHEAD OF LAST YEAR BUT SHORT OF WHAT IT OUGHT TO BE

EXPECT 2,000 IN CITY

Present Indications Are This Figure Will Not Be Reached Unless Payments Pick Up Briskly

Two hundred more poll tax receipts had been issued from the city tax collector's office at the close of business Tuesday night than on the same date a year ago. The total number of receipts issued up to Tuesday night was 600. While this is ahead of last year's showing it is far short of what it ought to be when the increase in population and the approaching municipal, state, county, district and congressional elections are taken into consideration.

Wichita Falls ought to show not less than 2,000 polls this year according to estimates, but at the present rate of paying the total on January 31st will be 500 short of this number.

Poll tax payments at the court house while ahead of last year do not indicate the gain that had been expected. At the close of business Tuesday 1290 receipts had been issued. Electra is still leading the other precincts in the county with 276 receipts issued. The number of polls paid for each box in the county follows:

Box 1, City Hall	126
Box 2, Court House	126
Box 3, Alhambra	19

THAT TIRED FEELING

Suggests Grandmother's Remedy. It's true the season is here with its sudden changes and the old idea that we need a blood medicine is no without reason. Too much heavy food has caused a torpid liver, sluggish blood, and a weak tired out feeling.

Sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses was grandmother's remedy but that has long ago been displaced by Vinol, a combination of the two most world famous tonics, namely the medicinal curative elements of the cod's liver, without oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol builds you up, makes you eat more and digest better, makes your blood rich and pure—puts healthy color in your cheeks.

N. G. Cliff of Opelika, Ala., says: "Last spring I was all run down, no strength, no appetite. I took Vinol and was greatly benefited by its use. As I soon felt strong and well as ever."

We guarantee Vinol to satisfy you and refund your money if it does not. Miller Drug Store.

P. S. For children's Eczena, Saxe Salve is guaranteed truly wonderful. (Adv.)

ANOTHER WICHITA CASE

It Proves That There's a Way Out For Many Suffering Wichitans

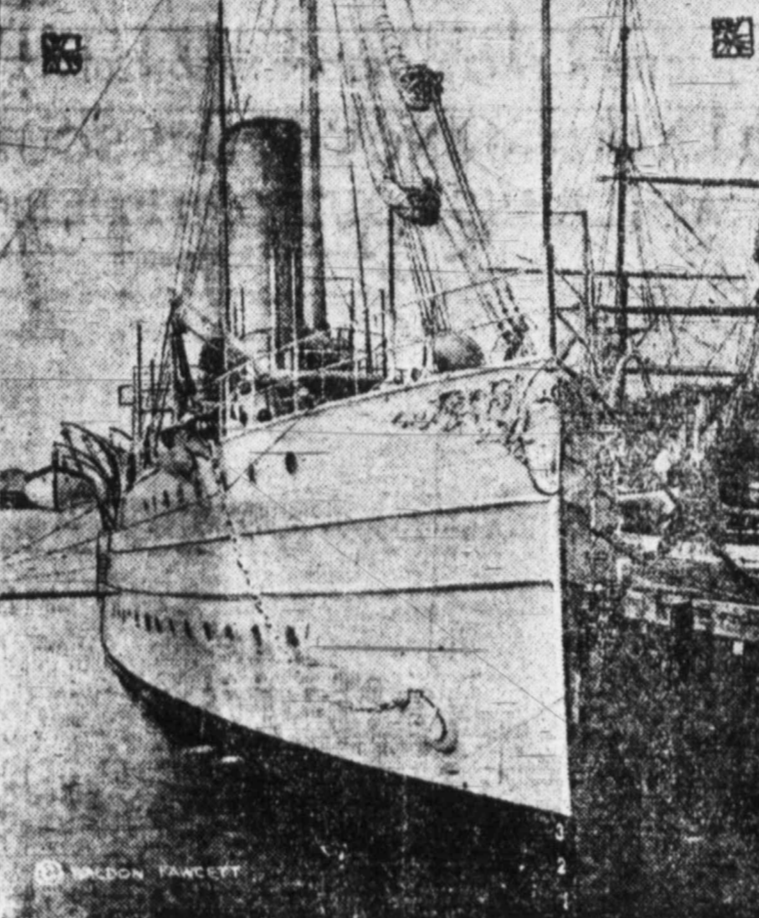

Just another report of a case in Wichita Falls. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Wichita Falls with Doan's Kidney Pills. C. C. Willard, 1922, Eighth street, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "I suffered constantly from my back and kidneys. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from Harrington's Drug Store and although other remedies had failed Doan's Kidney Pills made a cure. Although I was never told up, every move I made sent sharp twinges through my back. We still use Doan's Kidney Pills when we need them and are always greatly benefited. You are at liberty to continue using my testimonial as heretofore."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. (Adv.)

ASK LEGISLATIVE ACTION TO FIGHT BI-CHLORIDE DEATHS

New York, Jan. 20.—Legislative action to aid in the prevention of accidental and intentional self-administration of bi-chloride of mercury, and more rigid laws and their actual enforcement, governing the traffic in cocaine, morphine, heroin and other habit forming drugs, was strongly urged today by speakers at the Chemical and Drug Exposition, which opened today in Madison Square Garden. The exposition will continue through next Sunday.

REVENUE CUTTERS CHART ICEBERGS

ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S CUTTERS

THREE months' game of "tag" between vessels of the United States revenue cutter service and the icebergs of the North Atlantic steamship lanes which has just been brought to an end, has resulted in contributions of great value to the mariner's store of knowledge about ice movements and their dangers to the great fleet constantly passing between Europe and America. The ice patrol itself was a direct result of the tremendous shock suffered by both Europe and America in the loss of the giant liner Titanic a year ago last April, when more than 1,500 persons were drowned when that vessel collided with an iceberg in the same waters searched this year by the revenue cutters.

The vessels engaged in the ice patrol were the Seneca and Miami, commanded by Capt. C. B. Johnston and A. S. Gamble respectively. Captain Johnston was the senior officer in command of the ice patrol, and in his final report are conclusions which ought to form the basis of study by all commanders and navigators of steam vessels in the North Atlantic steamship lanes. The Titanic disaster brought to every ocean traveler, with shocking vividness, the reality of the danger to the transatlantic fast liners from the presence of ice in their tracks during the spring months. To all passengers on such steamers Captain Johnston's report may serve well as an index to the measure of care and precaution necessary for any ship in the vicinity of the annual path of icebergs, and it has therefore a definite value for the traveling public as well as to mariners.

McKe Daily Reports.

The mode of procedure in the ice patrol maintained by the Seneca and Miami was for the two vessels to take turns in securing the ocean for ice in the waters bounded by the fiftieth and forty-fourth parallels north latitude, and the fortieth and forty-ninth meridians of west longitude. All passing vessels reported by wireless to the patrol vessels any ice they had encountered in those waters, while the vessels in turn transmitted to the naval-hydrographic office at New York daily reports of all ice either seen by them or reported to them by other vessels. In a short time practically every berg in those waters had been located, identified and its general movements ascertained. Thereafter the task of the patrol vessels was to check up on the known bergs at frequent intervals, and by observation of their positions at each sighting, to learn the rate and direction of their movements. It is this secondary phase of the patrol that yielded the general observations of greatest permanent value to maritime interests.

It was found that the icebergs were brought south along the coast of Newfoundland and the Grand Banks by what is known as the Labrador current. The southerly drift was found to vary from practically nothing to as high as 32 miles a day, depending upon wind and tide in its fluctuations. At the injection of the Labrador current, accelerated by the flow from the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and the northward moving Gulf stream from the Gulf of Mexico the direction of the drift of icebergs is changed from southerly to north and east. The Gulf stream is more powerful than the Labrador current and dominates it, taking along in its course whatever ice may be brought into it. This change usually occurs in April and May, and those months become then the period of greatest danger to transatlantic liners from ice.

The tracks of the liners hardly touch the Labrador current, but do follow the path of the Gulf stream. The area of the ice danger is at the same time restricted, because bergs coming into the Gulf stream do not last long in the warm water of that current.

Captain Johnston is of the opinion that the quantity of ice brought down in the spring is in direct proportion to the severity of the winter preceding. The severity of the winters in the north Atlantic states, he says, depends upon the prevalence of strong north winds having their origin on the Labrador coast. Similarly it is these same winds which start southward the great masses of ice broken off from glaciers which appear in the steamship tracks as icebergs. Therefore the ice danger in the steamship lanes is always greatest after the most severe winters and less as the preceding winter has been mild.

Ground on Banks.

Many of the icebergs in the southward drift become grounded on the Grand Banks and do not constitute any serious menace to the transatlantic liners. It is those which continue south parallel to and beyond the banks which threaten the safety of the ocean steamers; and it was to these that the revenue cutter patrols paid the most attention. Captain Johnston said that the largest berg that was encountered was about 400 feet long, 300 feet wide, 70 feet high out of water. The smallest ice which properly could be called a berg was 225 feet long, 100 feet wide and 35 feet out of water.

Captain Johnston estimated the rate of deterioration of icebergs floating in the Gulf stream as about 5 per cent a day. He saw many melting so rapidly that waterfalls were pouring down from their sides while others in the advanced stages of dissolution turned over daily as rapid melting shifted the center of gravity. Sometimes icebergs were found literally covered with sea birds. Of the score of varieties of sea birds found on or near icebergs Captain Johnston concludes that the presence of none but the murre, a bird common in northern latitudes, can be safely regarded as an indication of ice in the vicinity.

Perhaps Captain Johnston's most valuable contribution is that referring to the visibility and means of detecting the presence of ice and icebergs. After three months of repeated observations and experiments, together with the results of his experience in other arctic regions, Captain Johnston concludes that there is no certain method of detecting the presence of ice other than that of a sharp lookout; that in fog, or especially dark nights, it is absolutely incumbent upon the commander of any fast liner to run very slowly and keep an extra vigilant watch.

For the "Bloss Wedding"

That wholly modern institution, the brass wedding, is popular because the bride and bridegroom thus celebrating feel that they are not hunting for costly gifts when they send invitations to their friends to rejoice with them. If the "bride" is literary, she will like to have something for her desk—a stationery rack, a memorandum pad with a pencil attached to a spiral spring, a desk blotter, a string box, a book rack or book ends. Don't forget that the "bridegroom," if he is a smoker, will like a brass lamp of antique appearance, or a cigar pedestal with a dish for the ashes flaring into grooves for the stubs of his weeds.

Both "bride" and "bridegroom" will appreciate a brass serving tray, a chafing dish with a match box holder attached, a tea caddy, candle shades, bridge score pads or an egg-dish holder.

The Paradox.

There is one thing decidedly queer about the German health baths. "What is that?" "They all have a 'bad' ending, yet people go to them to get good results."

The Master Hand.
The world is but a lottery
Of blanks and prizes, large or small;
A queer promissory note,
Where finished products stand or fall;
Where cracks are common, breakage great.
With seconds found in every crate,
So much of good, so much of bad,
So much of praise, so much of blame,
So much of joy, so much of that sad,
So much of grief, so much of shame—
The wonder is that clay can be
Made strong to harbor you—or more.
But here a jar—no mere a vase,
Of workmanship so exquisite,
We marvel that the human race
Can be of kith or kin to it.
Were it not that a master hand
Does at the wheel forever stand,

HOW TO SAVE YOUR EYES

Try This Free Prescription.
Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of these, and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes? Do you rest them? You know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy; you work your eyes until you go to bed. That is why you wear eyeglasses and later you find that the eyes are so tired that you can't see. Try this prescription: Go to the nearest wide-awake drug store and get a bottle of Optona tablets; fill a two ounce bottle with water; drop in one tablet and allow to thoroughly dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or three times daily. Just note how quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is a simple treatment but marvellously effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes and you are likely to thank us as long as you live for publishing this prescription. (Adv.)

TULSA OIL MILLIONAIRE TO ADOPT 1000 CHILDREN

Will Redeem Promise Made To Himself When a Small Boy. Has Already Started

(Kansas City Star)
Charles Page, multimillionaire oil man of Tulsa, Okla., has 70 adopted children and wants to adopt 1,000. In addition to 1,000 poor boys and girls, he has already adopted 190 poor widows.

For the care of the 70 children he has built a large home on a wood hill. It is crowded to its capacity with boys and girls. He is getting ready to build this winter another home that will house 20 children, and when that is finished he will begin building more homes until he has accommodations for 1,000.

He has already built eight homes for poor widows, has four more under construction and will have 1000 built this winter.

The 70 boys and girls have an 80-acre park for a playground, a lake of 14 acres for swimming and boating, a hospital, a zoological garden, a kindergarten and a grade school and a $40,000 high school.

Mr. Page will build this winter a hospital that will be in charge of great surgeons and specialists. He plans this hospital to be as good in every way and as famous as that of the Mayo brothers in Rochester, Minn.

And who is this man Page who has more adopted children than any other man in the world?

Forty-five years ago, when Charles Page was a boy of five, his father died, leaving a widow and seven children. His father had been in the teaming business in Stevens Point, Wis. The widow, with the house full of small children, had a hard time of it.

One day while she was doing the washing for a neighboring family, and had stopped a minute to rest, the boy who is now a millionaire stood before her and watched the tears running down her cheeks.

"You just wait, mamma, till I get to be a big man, and rich, and you won't have to wash any more, nor any other woman won't either. I'll take care of all the poor widows and orphans," the little fellow said.

Edward Page, brother of Charles, says he remembers well that incident, and how his mother grabbed Charles in her arms and hugged him to her and wept the more.

When he had grown big enough Charles became a messenger boy for the Wisconsin Central railway, and then he became a brakeman, and later on a railroad fireman. Every dollar he earned above living expenses, in those days went to his widowed mother and her fatherless children.

Charles drifted west to the Pacific coast, worked in the gold mines in Idaho, was hungry many a time, and penniless for weeks. He drifted eastward to the oil fields of Colorado, and, seven years ago, came to Chandler, Okla., with $5,000 in cash, which he soon lost in the oil fields near Chandler.

The oil was discovered in the famous Glenn Pool field, south of Tulsa, and Page went to spot near there with $3,000 he raised by mortgaging a piece of property in Colorado. He got an oil lease on a small tract of Indian land in what is known now as the Tameha field, and put down a well. When he struck oil he spent the next few weeks in getting oil leases on the land surrounding his well in all directions. That first was a wonderful well. It flowed 2,000 barrels of oil a day and ever barrel of it worth 35 cents in cash at the well, an income of 700 a day for Page, minus one-eighth of the product which went to the owner of the land as his share.

He drilled other wells on the land he had leased and they were good producers, too, and one day a syndicate of financiers of New York, led by Commodore Benedict, James King Duffy and Clifford B. Hanson, offered him $1,000,000 more for his leases. Page asked $500,000 more and the sale was finally made for $1,250,000 cash, which was paid to Page.

Wichita Falls, Texas, Jan. 21, 1914

If Wichita County poll tax payments are to show a gain over last year, more than an average of about 150 per cent in payments will have to be made between this and the last day of this month.

Editor Howard of the Wichita Times says that, so far, the race for governor is not exciting much interest in this part of the state.

What the Times meant to say was that, in its humble judgment, it could not figure out where any one of the candidates had a great advantage over the others; that they were all about on an equal footing as to ability, and that therefore the chances for the people of Texas to make a greater blunder in the selection of their next governor than has heretofore been made are no greater now than in other campaign years.

The voters are not shouting and tearing their shirts off in this campaign in favor of this or that candidate. Perhaps all their names will appear on the ballot on election day, and as the people are interested in the local contests and will go to the polls and cast their ballots, they will then take time enough to pick one out of the fifteen and vote for him.

THE NEW CHARTER

The city of Waco is wondering how whether it really has a new city charter or not, and, inasmuch as Wichita Falls is in identically the same attitude as Waco regarding her new charter, in that the new charter was not adopted.

"Citizens having more than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants may, by a majority of the qualified voters of said city, at an election, held for that purpose, adopt or amend their Charter.

"True, the law says a majority of the qualified voters voting at said election," but Senator McNealus holds that there is no constitutional warrant for this provision of the law.

Wichitan's Uncle First to Die in Log Cabin Built Over 100 Years

A long house built more than a century ago was for the first time the scene of death recently when James Orr, grandson of the builder, died there.

"A singular as well as a very unusual fact in connection with the recent death of James H. Orr, a well known Bear Creek citizen, was that his death was the first that has ever occurred in the house—where he lived, which was built by his grandfather, James Orr. During that time only three members of the Orr family have owned and lived in the house, the grandfather, father, Robin Orr and son, J. H. Orr, the grandfather built the house, which is still in a splendid state of preservation.

Every Orr grandchild has received fruit from the historic peach tree mentioned in this clipping and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orr in Wichita Falls, recently received a pear from it.

EX-WICHITAN IS SKETCH SUBJECT

UNIVERSITY PUBLICATION GIVES BIOGRAPHY OF R. A. THOMPSON, FORMER WICHITAN

NOW GOVERNMENT EXPERT

Had Less Easy Time During His University Days and Early Career in Engineering

An entertaining sketch of R. A. Thompson, formerly chief engineer of the Wichita Falls route, one time engineer for the State railroad commission and well known to most Wichitans, is contained in the current number of the "Alkalde" the monthly journal published by the students and alumni of the State University.

"Away over in East Texas where, as Fritz Lambam would say, the fertile soil and pluvius climate cause edible currants and watery currents to enjoy great currency, was born, a few short decades ago, a worthy subject for a facile pen. New Waverly, the famous, the new indicative of the fact that a greater than Walter Scott was to originate there!—New Waverly, the happy, situate north of Yucatan and south of Saskatchewan!—New Waverly, the blessed, bounded by the I. & G. N. by moisturous woodlands and by extensive gossypial areas!—New Waverly, the meloobious birthplace of Robert Andrew Thompson, expert."

"Observe, on inexpert peruser of the solemn lines, observe more closely the last word of the last sentence and observe while his mystic confuses not only the reason for time's obscurity, but also the cause of R. A. T.'s carbidigenous refugelessness. Ex-pertness is his specialty, railroading his delight. He will expertly value your railroad for you in the morning, play billiards with you in the afternoon and auction you off at bridge during the night never disconnecting himself from his expertise. According to Tedy Reese, who's all the while is the most pertinent characteristic of numerous Texas Exes, but expertness all the while has carried R. A. from Waverly to Washington by way of Austin and Frisco. Steadily absorbing a larger and larger part of the payroll, as an expert in an untrained word he has advanced himself, astonished his friends, discomfited the envious, glorified Texas and petrified T. U. Concerning his future we sit upon the carpet of hope awaiting the pipe of expectation.

"By assailing East Texas wood-piles with frightful vigor and by plucking with detersive fingers—the heavy staple from half a dozen bolts at the age of nineteen our hero had accumulated enough financial backing to venture to come to the University for one year. Avoiding the bunco men of Houston, he arrived unharmed in Austin and immediately distinguished himself by becoming one of T. U.'s first class of thirteen freshmen engineers. In imitation of the lawyers of that time, he at once purchased a white tie and a Prince Albert coat of such length that the trousers belonging thereto became entirely unnecessary. This coat, however, so impressed him that he shortly coated to wear it, and it will now come in handy at well-soiled in Washington, especially when his trousers need patching.

"Some money remaining at the end of his freshman year, R. A. ventured to return as a sophomore, but his stay would have been short had he not gotten odd jobs at map drawing for the geological survey, which was then in the height of its glory but which was later destroyed by an unbecoming legislature because it purchased some fish hooks at Llano.

"Proving his efficiency as a geologist, R. A. was permanently employed until the survey got the hooks. He resided in the mornings, geologist in the afternoons and occasionally studied at nights. Four years passed in this laborious fashion, during which time he took a B. S. in 1892 and was given an M. A. in 1893. He learned to dance, bought a flat-tom-tom, lost his eyebrows, fell in love, lived at B. Hall, joined the Rusk but made no speeches, joined the German Club and danced all the dances, made Phi Beta Kappa, served as toastmaster at the first engineering banquet, a drammed his head, with dire results, into a hanging lamp suspended over a well heated table. If you ask him, he will tell you about all of these things and then some. LIFE many before and after him he was a rubacious rube in process of rapid evolution.

"In 1893-94, T. U. T. took a leave of absence and left his studies in charge of T. U.'s return forced our hero to migrate to East Texas and West Louisiana to aid in protecting the railroads from alligators. Vexed at the way in which the sarians destroyed embankments by sticking their snouts through them, he returned to the University in 1897 as an instructor and as a result of a previous love affair got married to a sister of that notable algebraic shark, Len Dickson.

"Hopeless of getting anything into the heads of his engineers, in 1899 he became an expert engineer of the Texas Railroad Commission. During the ten years that he occupied this position, he got as much salary as he now gets in two, but he acquired expertness and served the State of Texas well and faithfully. He mastered thoroughly his job of railroad valuation and his reward has now arrived. Unable to support his growing family on his salary, he resigned to become head engineer of the Wichita Falls lines. Having previously fallen under the sapient eye of Franklin Lane, he was called to Washington as an expert assistant to the Interstate Commerce Commission, but soon resigned to return to Wichita Falls where they were glad to have him back. Again the optic of Lane pierced him and he was made chief engineer of the California Railroad Commission at three times the salary he had gotten in the same position in Texas. Progressive California, happy boyhood habitat of Damon Lane and Pythias Mezes, had determined to value her railroads and she got the best man she could find to tackle the job. Arriving in the golden West, he did the perigrinus act from Tia Juana to Checto and from Yubadam to Goose Lake by way of Tahoe, diligently valuing the railroads, including their good will and adjacent scenery, and incidentally watching the Californians value the tourists. He accepted oranges, but was handed no lemons and he waxed great, girthfully and mirthfully. In Texas, however, all that we got from him were sundry colored post cards bearing bitter complaints concerning the non-appearance of the Alcalde.

"The Sage of Princeton landing in the White House by way of London and Oyster Bay, the distance from Texas to Washington was decreased by a thousand miles and sundry Texas Exes won out in the great pie-eating contest that followed. What juncosus pies there were and what a fine one was put down before R. A. who has an appetite like a young mocking bird, capable of eating twice his weight in one day. Planning to do for the nation what he has already done for Texas and California, we find him now on the valuation board of the Interstate Commerce Commission, eating his pie and earning it too. Troubles are before him, troubles are behind him, but his future is secure. He will make good wherever placed, either in cotton patch or on geological survey, in long tailed coat or in pajamas, in building railroads or in valuing them, in Texas or in California, in Washington or in Dorrilooligah.

"So ere's to you, R. A. Thompson, An' the Missis and the Kids, You've beaten us to glory. An' you've rolled us on the skids, Your friends are mighty tickled, You ain't got no eyebrows 'is own, E' asnt got no pesky Ph. D. So we must certify the skill 'e's shown In usin' wit he got from T. U. T. 'E's learned a lot about the R. R. biz With tum round an' yellow, fuzzy hair An' doin' well 'is job's a trick of 'is, 'E doesn't loaf 'e's ways there.

"So ere's to you, R. A. Thompson, At your home in Washington; You've skinned poor Morris Sheppard An' you've done up Burleson. The one makes flowery speeches, While the other runs the mail, But you, you bloom'n sucker, You boss the iron rail."

"So ere's to you, R. A. Thompson, At your home in Washington; You've skinned poor Morris Sheppard An' you've done up Burleson. The one makes flowery speeches, While the other runs the mail, But you, you bloom'n sucker, You boss the iron rail."

KRUGER BROTHERS SOON WILL ENTER NEW STORE.

Kruger Brothers, the Jewelers, are preparing to move into their new store at 725 Ohio avenue, where they will put in one of the finest establishments of the kind in this part of the State. Preparatory to moving they will hold an auction sale which will be in charge of the well known auctioneer, Col. R. P. Hill. They will close out all of the present stock and go into the new store with a complete restock. The new store will be finished in mahogany and green with plate glass show cases. In the center will be a large circular case with wall cases for silverware and cut glass. The firm has been in business here less than a year, but in that time has won an enviable place in the business life of the city and is enjoying even a better trade than their larger store in Fort Worth.

MOTHER'S COFFEE You remember the cup of coffee your mother made way back yonder at the Homestead. In memory you still smell its delightful aroma, taste its rich mellow flavor and feel its exhilarating influence—a morning benediction. Mother didn't have as good coffee as you get now, as coffee at that time was in the hands of semi savage tribes and was poorly cultivated and handled. Mother made it in an old tin coffee pot. BUT MOTHER DID HAVE FRESH ROASTED COFFEE. She roasted it herself in the oven—a day's supply at a time. It wasn't roasted in Boston, New York or Chicago. It didn't lay in dirty box cars and depots nor linger on the grocers' shelves for weeks and perhaps months before it reached your kitchen, so in spite of inferior coffee and inadequate apparatus mother made a dandy cup of coffee. You can make a better one if you buy your coffee of us for you will get the very best of fine old mild growths of coffee-intelligently blended to get the best results in the cup and fresh roasted—in up to date roasting machinery.
