HUERTA IS WILLING TO RESIGN IF NECESSARY FOR SETTLEMENT

Reported To Have Authorized Mediators To Agree To This—Question of Ad Interim Government Now Arises

MEXICAN DELEGATES FAVOR AMERICAN STAND

Are Said To Be Not Particularly Friendly To Dictator, Whose Regime They Realize Is Crumbling

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 18.—General Huerta has authorized the Mexican mediation delegates to submit his resignation in case such a course is found necessary to a settlement in the peace negotiations. This was stated positively in dispatches today from a thoroughly competent diplomatic source in Mexico City, to one of the foreign representatives here, and confirms intimations given by friends of the delegates yesterday.

According to this information from Mexico City, General Huerta at first authorized the delegates to discuss only the question of the Tampico conflict leading to the American occupation of Vera Cruz. Later, it is said the Mexican dictator came to recognize the necessity of a broader settlement and then conveyed to the delegates assurance that he was prepared to step down should they find that course necessary.

The matter causing chief concern to diplomats in Mexico City is now what form of administration can be established during the period before a constitutionally elected president can assume office. No intimation concerning the name of a successor to Huerta was contained in the dispatch, this subject being one in which it will be necessary to consult opinions of constitutionalists and other leaders in Mexico.

Supreme Court Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehman, who represent the United States, today arranged to leave Washington tomorrow for Niagara Falls. The information of Huerta's attitude says that the delegates realized that the present administration in Mexico City was fast going to pieces and that it was inevitable that Huerta should give place to some other authority.

The Mexican delegates are not Huertistas but represent broadly the best elements in the federal district desirous of bringing about an orderly government in that section throughout Mexico. In this respect, their wishes are believed to correspond with the wish.

Who will come after Huerta, whether an individual or a provisional commission, still is an open question, but it is gathered that the succession will not be likely to fall on military leaders who have come to prominence through arbitrary power.

The robbers were in the theatre three hours and compelled the watchman to wind the watchman's clock at various points in the theatre on schedule time so that no suspicion of their presence would be noted on the outside. ## MEXICAN OFFICERS BELIEVE PARKS DEAD

GUERRILLA WARFARE IS URGED

Constitutionalists Institute Vigorous Campaign Against Depredations Along the Border

METHODISTS RECONSIDER VANDERBILT CONTROVERSY

Question Is Sent Back To Committee—Believed Church Has Some Substantial Rights

By Associated Press.

Oklahoma City, May 18.—Just before adjournment for the day of the Methodist Synodical Church, South conference in session here today, it was voted to reconsider the entire Vanderbilt University question. The vote upon the motion to recommend the report to the committee of fifteen was almost unanimous. It instructed the committee to follow the spirit of the majority report and a supplementary outline of legislation submitted today by Judge E. N. Harris of Georgia.

The conference held a service of prayer for the success of the mediators in their work of pacification in Mexico.

It developed today that the majority Vanderbilt report which was adopted by the conference late Saturday night held that the church had substantial, instead of "negligible" rights in Vanderbilt, despite the ruling of the Tennessee supreme court. Judge Harris' suggestion was for supplementary legislation to provide for continuance of relations of the conference and the University between the conference adjournment and the reconvening of Vanderbilt to the patronizing conference. The general conference held that the several conferences making up the general conference would have to consider the Vanderbilt matter individually.

The night passed without any incident at the American outpost and no indication was given that General Navarrete contemplated any violation of the armistice.

The American army headquarters staff was disinclined to take the rumor seriously, but precautions were taken to guard against any night surprise. Care was taken not to alarm the inhabitants of the city.

Says Becker Complained of Manner in Which Gunmen Put Rosenthal To Death

By Associated Press.

New York, May 18.—Charles B. Platt, one time press agent and adviser of Charles Becker, on trial for murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, took the witness stand for the state today and corroborated many details of the story of Jack Rose and others that Becker instigated the murder plot. As he testified he avoided looking at Becker. After Rosenthal had been murdered, the witness said, he met Becker who was indignant at the way the killing had been accomplished. He quoted Becker as having said:

"What is the matter with Jack Rose and the bunch? To pull the stunt the way they did was very bad. You would suppose it was being done for the moving pictures."

On July 15, the day before the murder, Platt said he saw Becker at police headquarters. He said:

"Becker told me that he and I had to have an alibi for that night. He told me to keep away from the Times Square tonight. I asked him what was coming off. 'Never mind,' he said, 'do as you are told; we have got to have an alibi; tomorrow you will know why.'"

And then chirks me up until I feel glad?
What is it that makes me kind of choke

What is it that makes my heart beat pitter-pat

Can it be that I am sick?

Doughnuts

That will remain moist!

Every housewife who bakes her own bread knows that if a little potato is added to the sponge, the bread will not dry out so quickly. In this recipe potato is utilized to make doughnuts that will remain moist and fresh for several days.

K.C. will be found to have distinct advantages over any other Baking Powder for doughnuts. K.C. is a double acting baking powder with which a few set doughnuts may be mixed and fried a few at a time. The last will be as light and nice as the first.

K.C. Potato Doughnuts

By Mrs. Nevada Briggs, of Baking School fame.

2 cups flour; 2 eggs; 1 cup sugar; 1 level teaspoonful K.C. Baking Powder; 1/2 teaspoonful salt; 1/2 cup milk; 1 cup milk; 1 cup milk, or more if needed.

Sift three times, the flour, salt, and baking powder. Beat eggs with rotary beater, then add sugar, beat gradually, add milk and sugar, then work in the mashed potato with a spoon and alternately add milk and flour mixture. Make a soft dough, roll into a sheet, cut into rounds, pinch a hole in the center with the finger and try in deep fat.

Fat for frying should not be hot enough to brown the doughnut until it has risen. When the doughnut is dropped into the fat it sinks to the bottom. As soon as it comes up it should be turned and fried a number of times while cooking. This recipe is excellent as they do not take the fat in frying and will stay moist for days.

Returning Refugees Tell of Bravery of Constitutionals in Fighting Near Tampico

(Oil City Derrick)

Lon T. Grant, one of the driller refugees from Oil City or immediate vicinity driven out of Mexico, following the fight at Vera Cruz, April 21, is expected to arrive here today to spend sometime with his father, L. D. Grant of Charlton street. The son arrived in Pittsburg Friday, where he was interviewed by the Dispatch, part of which follows:

"Four days before news of the American occupation of Tampico had come and no American was safe. Two days later they reached the city. They put up at the Southern Hotel, the American hostelry. There they found the greater part of the remaining American colony. The afternoon of the 27th was one of terror. Mexican mobs surged through the streets, howling for gringo blood. The American battalions had left the harbor some time before. The mobs destroyed all American stores and then gathered at the Southern demanding that the American flag flying over it be taken down. It was refused.

"When the mob was about to attack the German marines came. The commander told the leaders of the Mexicans that in 15 minutes he would order his men to kill everything Mexican if any further demonstration was made. Then the removal of the women began. I saw men and women part with kisses, but never a tear. I saw some women refuse to leave their husbands, calmly announcing that they, too, could use a rifle. But at last all were gone.

"Once the marines were gone the mob gathered anew. All night long they howled and shot and hurled stones at the hotel. Federal soldiers, policemen, women, children, all were there. Back of the front door of the hotel 11 men lay, with guns pointed at the doors. All night long a squad of men, with a battering ram battered at the doors. They would give a couple of inches and rebound—you have seen heavy Spanish doors. I was on the top floor waiting for Mexicans to show themselves on the roofs nearby to pick them off. None came. The door downstairs held. The next morning the frantic efforts of Consul Miller succeeded in having the mob dispersed. Miller then came to the hotel and told us all to get aboard ship. We boarded a passenger steamer and three miles out our company was transferred to naval vessels. I came in one the Cyclops of the auxiliary service. The destination was pitiful. Thousands were landed at Galveston penniless. I don't know what they will do—thousands all lies back there in Mexico and they are too old to start over."

The Oil City man was an eyewitness of the following incidents connected with the engagement between federal forces and rebels at Tampico, which is 11 miles from where he was employed and to which town he had gone for rations for the camp three days before the capture of the country was made. The Oil City workers by American Consul Miller from Tampico.

As he reached the city he was thrust into the bag end of a repulse of the rebels by the federals.

Dead bodies dotted the streets, horribly mutilated. He saw one rebel soldier wounded, calmly tie up his leg and continue fighting. Shot in the other leg he still fired. Then a bullet in the groin weakened him and the tide of battle passed over him.

While returning from a sick call about 11 o'clock Wednesday night Father Weber, Catholic priest, had the misfortune to get his arm broken between the shoulder and wrist and was otherwise bruised up. It is not definitely known yet whether he received internal injury or not, but it is hoped that he escaped with only a broken arm and slight injuries. The horse became frightened, and rearing up fell dead in the road, throwing Father Weber from the buggy.

Total of 207 Conversions During Eight Days of Services—Schedule of Meetings For Week

Converted Sunday 42
Total 207

Sunday was another great day in the Scoville meetings at the First Christian Church, the three services of the day resulting in forty-two conversions, bringing the total for the eight days of invitation up to 207. Today Dr. Scoville and the evangelistic party are at Seymour, where they will hold a union meeting in the high school auditorium tonight, returning here on the noon train tomorrow.

On Tuesday night Dr. Scoville will preach on the theme "You Must Be Born Again." Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Scoville will speak to the girls and women of the city. Thursday night Dr. Scoville will preach what he calls a "railroad" sermon, speaking especially to railroad men of whom he has probably converted more than any other living evangelist.

Despite the rain Sunday morning there were 430 pupils in the Sunday school. This was 170 short of the 600 mark that had been set, but was very gratifying when the inclement weather was taken into consideration. The rain also cut short the attendance at the morning and afternoon meetings.

Church Filled At Night. At the night service a vast congregation assembled. Every seat in the auditorium and balconies was filled. Many were seated along the outside aisles and hundreds stood and still others filled the windows while hundreds unable to gain admittance or find room at the windows returned to their homes.

Before the sermon Mrs. Scoville sang, "Did You Think to Pray?" Under the leadership of Mr. Marty the great audience sang a number of revival songs with great zest.

"This must be the head of John the Baptist," was the text of Dr. Scoville's sermon, his theme being, "Your Conscience."

The speaker said that thirst and hunger and passions and lusts were the voices of the body; conscience was the voice of the soul. Herod, he said, did not need any one to tell him whose head was borne in upon the platter. John the Baptist had rebuked him for his relation with the woman whose stratagem brought about the beheading of John. His conscience told him whose head he had exclaimed, "This must be the head of John the Baptist."

Dr. Scoville made the Scripture lesson an occasion for an indictment of the attire and practices of some modern women and flayed the sin.

The Story of Salome. "Language," he said, "is not black enough to paint the man or woman who would break up the sanctity of another's home."

The moment John the Baptist censured her, Salome's mother consented to bring about the death of John the Baptist. Dr. Scoville said, adding "When a bad woman gets after a man he'd better make for the tall timber. John the Baptist took to the jumper when Herodias got after him but she got his head anyhow."

He painted the picture of Herodias planning the party in honor of Herod's birthday and of her cunning scheme to get the head of John the Baptist. He pictured the feast, the wicked woman, the dancing damsel and the drunken king taking occasion to point some morsel connected with woman's dress and liquor.

Whiskey and the Boy. He called a twelve year old boy from the audience to the stand and told his audience some of the terrible things whiskey would do for a young man.

"If I could do in twelve minutes to this boy what whiskey will do for him in twelve years, the men that run the saloons and who support the liquor traffic would jerk my arms out and put my eyes out and could do nothing terrible enough to punish me," he said. Applause greeted his statement.

"Some of you fellows can't cheer, you've been drinking yourself," Dr. Scoville shouted.

He said that the man who rented a building for a saloon or a house for immoral purposes wasn't any better than the dog that bays or the hen that sits the house. This might sound harsh to some, he said, "But I tell you you've got to clean up or clean out."

He closed with an appeal to men and women to listen to the bells of their conscience and heed their promptings.

Sunday Afternoon's Service. A song and praise service lasting more than an hour preceded Dr. Scoville's sermon at the afternoon meeting. Mr. Marty led the congregation through several rousing songs and Dr. Scoville called upon his hearers for brief expressions of what they were grateful for. A large number responded, more than a score rising and telling of their gratitude for blessings.

The twenty-third Psalm, beginning

"The Lord is my Shepherd" was taken on by Dr. Scoville as his subject for the afternoon. He said that some one had written of the probable history of this psalm, dating it at the time when David had been rescued by Absalom to address the throne; he showed how the "shepherd" might refer to the Dead Sea and the "green pastures" to the fields in the neighborhood of that body of water. Also, he continued, the Psalmist might easily have composed the verses to comfort himself, reminding himself that he was anointed of God, though not of men. Dr. Scoville said he did not know that the Psalm was written under these circumstances, but that it seemed probable.

Tells of the Psalm. Many terms had been applied to the Psalm, he said, it being variously called the "shepherd's Psalm," the "valley Psalm" and by other names. He mentioned six features of it, all beginning with the same initial—possession, position, promise, progress, provision and prospect, showing wherein each lay. The term "the Lord" was used, he said in place of the Jewish appellation Jehovah, because the Jews held the latter name in such reverence that they mentioned it only once each year. The speaker digressed here to comment upon the present day tendency to use the word "God" in a flippancy and irreverent sense; there were too many Christians, he declared, who would say "God knows" and like things in anything but a reverent spirit. He dismissed the subject of profanity by saying that when a man swore and cursed habitually "there was something wrong with his upper story." It is an almost universal characteristic of weak minded persons, lunatics and imbeciles, he pointed out, that they are very profane.

Not History of Past. "The Bible," continued Dr. Scoville, "is not the story of a religion that was; it's not a mere history of a faith that formerly existed; it's the story of a religion and a faith that is today. David said, 'The Lord is my shepherd.' O, I thank God this afternoon that there's not a poor, lost sinner anywhere in this world that cannot, if he will, lift up his head and say, 'The Lord is my shepherd.'"

He told of five funerals in Chicago in the same week, at each of which he officiated and who, in each, the sorrowing survivors could truly say that the Lord was their shepherd.

At his request, a flaxen haired little girl sitting near the front arose and recited the Psalm in her childish, unflattering tones.

"Isn't that fine?" he asked, "I don't know who that little girl's parents are, but I'll tell them that they couldn't put $100 in her hands, nor $1,000, nor $5,000,000 to repay her if they took away from her the privilege of attending Sunday school and learning what she has learned. The parent who keeps his child out of the Sunday school is robbing it of something worth more than all the riches of this world. God is going to hold you to account for the lives that are placed in your charge."

Story of John Wanamaker. Dr. Scoville told a pretty story of how John Wanamaker, visiting in Switzerland, taught a little Swiss shepherd boy the first sentence of the psalm. "The Lord is my shepherd," teaching him just one word for each finger of his hand. Three years later the great merchant returned to that same neighborhood and went to the boy's home to ask for him. Unable to make himself understood to the Swiss cottagers, he repeated the first sentence of the psalm, illustrating it with the five fingers of his hand. Then the mother understood and broken heartedly told how the child had died, holding fast to the finger which denoted the word "my" in the sentence.

"I tell you," said Dr. Scoville in conclusion, "the privilege of being able to say 'The Lord is my shepherd' is worth all the happiness in this world."

The invitation song "Jesus is Calling" was then sung and when at its conclusion, none had responded to the evangelist's invitation, the congregation sang "I Can Hear My Savior Calling." Before the first verse was over, two men and a woman had come forward amid applause.

THAT TIRED FEELING Suggests Grandmother's Remedy. It's true, the season is here with its sudden changes, and the old idea that we need a blood medicine is not without reason. Too much, heavy food has caused a torpid liver, sluggish blood and a weak, tired out feeling.

Sulphur, cream of tartar, and laxatives was grandmother's remedy but that has long ago been displaced by Vinol, a combination of the two most world famed tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of the cod liver, without oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol builds you up, makes you eat more and digest better, makes your blood rich and pure—puts healthy color in your cheeks.

TIMES PUBLISHING CO., ED HOWARD, Mgr.

There are always a lot of fellows breaching good roads when it rains.

You said last August that you'd never again complain of too much rain. This is a good time to remind you.

Another thing—if Wichita Falls had a baseball team, wouldn't it be tough for them to get rained out every day?

In one of the great sermons which he has preached since his meetings in this city began, Dr. Scoville took occasion to say that Texas newspapers were more liberal in allowing space to churches than those of any other state. We hope that this is true and the Times has certainly tried to make it apply to this paper and the churches of this city. Now, if Dr. Scoville will just call the attention of the pastors and church workers generally to the fact that newspaper publicity helps the newspaper and the church alike and that it ought to be made as easy as possible for the reporters to get church news, he will have said something that will perhaps bear good fruit.

Congressman Hayden recommended W. C. Roberts to be postmaster at San Antonio, but George Armitage, an original Wilson man, was appointed. This reminds us that had Mr. Wilson when he was an aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, depended or relied on the congressmen from Texas to carry the State for him, instead of sending a solid Wilson delegation to Baltimore, it would have been sold for one of his chief opponents—either Clark, Harmon or Underwood. As we recollect the lineup of the Texas delegation in Congress, there were but four of the sixteen who were Wilson men. The President seems to bear this in mind when making appointments. The Democrats of Texas, by an overwhelming majority, preferred Wilson to either of his distinguished opponents, but a majority of Texas Democratic congressmen were against making Wilson the Democratic presidential nominee.

A few days ago Governor Colquitt predicted that Ferguson would be the next governor of Texas. He even went further by saying that his majority over Ball would be more than 50,000. Just how he figures it that way is a little difficult to understand. To the ordinary observer of things politically it seems that Col. Ball has considerably the best of it. In addition to having as his backers practically all the Democrats who vote for prohibition when an opportunity presents itself, he has as his supporters most of the leading anti-prohibition Democrats and if they have not lost but political, it is but natural to suppose they will carry with them into the Ball bandwagon the greater portion of the Democrats who vote the anti-prohibition ticket. That would leave Mr. Ferguson with but a comparative small following, or about one-fourth of the Democratic vote. But elections are uncertain affairs. In the gubernatorial campaign of two years ago Gov. Colquitt, who is a strong anti-prohibitionist Democrat, carried over Judge Ramsey some of the strongest pro-counties in the state. What Gov. Colquitt did in 1912, Mr. Ferguson may succeed in doing in 1914. He, Mr. Ferguson, as an anti, could not be more objectionable to the pros than was Gov. Colquitt. In fact, a pro that could swallow Colquitt need not hesitate to take on Ferguson. Gov. Colquitt may be in a better position to size up the situation than most of us, but we are inclined to doubt his judgment in this instance. It looks like Ball to us.

THEIR ETERNAL YOUTH

"They gave not only all they were but all they hoped to be," said Secretary Daniels, in his tribute to the nineteen young Americans who entered the ranks of the immortals at Vera Cruz. On which the Baltimore Evening Sun is moved to say: Life is at its sweetest at 20 and 22 and often at its noblest and purest. We have not yet learned to doubt of us to despair, to hate more deeply than we love. The gospel of faith in the world's future is still unmentioned in our hearts, and what we "hope to be" is brilliant with the inspiration of a beautiful idealism. As we look back thirty years after at what we were, we realize the force of Secretary Daniels' words and understand the spiritual nobility of the patriotic sacrifice that is being made. In lives that are still in all the freshness and glory of youthful fervor and faith. But we realize too the significance of the President's words when he says of the "immortal company" that marched to death with youthful enthusiasm at Vera Cruz: "Lafayette a profound pride and envy that they should have been permitted to do their duty so nobly." Envy, indeed, rather than regret is the feeling with which we should regard them. Destiny picked them out as the honor men at Vera Cruz. They are predestined to all eternity from the "sings and arrows of outrageous fortune." Life is a success for them without its protracted battles. They keep forever not only all they have, but all they hoped to be.

BIG BUSINESS

(New York Commercial) Big business as represented by the chief industrial and railroad corporations of this country is not the undertaking of a few multimillionaires, but of a multitude of small investors who represent the bone and sinew of the country. The constant tendency as shown by the annual statements of most of the railroad and industrial corporations, is to increase the number of individual shareholders by the distribution of the holdings of the original promoters and larger shareholders, which is accelerated from time to time by the death of some wealthy man and the division of his estate among his heirs and legatees.

Greater unrest and opposition to big business exists in this country than in England, and many close observers attribute this to the lack of interest which small shareholders in the United States take in the enterprises in which they have invested their savings. They send their proxies to the directors who happen to be in control, and seldom if ever attend annual meetings themselves or give proxies to persons who will represent their interests and express their wishes. This makes an American board of directors a self-perpetuating body, and it is only when some serious difficulty interrupts the smooth course of business that the small shareholders take an interest in it beyond the size of the dividends which they receive.

In England and on the Continent the minority shareholders are usually well represented at such meetings, and they insist on receiving explanations of everything that has been done by the officials or directors. This does no harm and often puts a salutary curb on recklessness, though experience has proved that it tends to cause the payment of larger dividends than are warranted in many cases. English railroads are now heavily capitalized and this is due to the payment when a surplus for replacements and extensions should have been built up. In fact, the American system of close control has produced better results than the English system, but it is also open to greater abuses when the right men are put in office.

George F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia & Reading railway, who has just died, was an example of the American business man of the highest type in absolute control of a great corporation which required reorganization in a radical way. Mr. Baer took absolute control of the Reading system and built it up from a state of bankruptcy into a commanding position as one of the strongest railroads on the continent. He refused to be influenced by newspaper comment or even the pressure brought to bear on him by a former president of the United States. Only in this way could he have done this work, and while he did not gain popularity, he proved himself one of the ablest trustees of those who had put money into the enterprise that this country has ever known. At the same time the autocratic control of a great railroad and coal mining system created so much popular prejudice that the railroads of this country as a whole have been injured by it, and it is hard to say whether in its final results the American system of railroad management has proved to be as much superior to the foreign system as capitalists in this country claim. Great successes like the reestablishing of the Reading System are counterbalanced by fiascos like the wreck of the Gould system, the Rock Island system, the Frisco system and the New Haven railroad. In all of these cases the masses of the shareholders took too little interest in the conduct of the business until something happened. Had they been more watchful the losses that they have sustained would in most cases have been limited instead of being swelled by inefficient management and the payment of unearned dividends which weakened the financial position of the companies so much that they could not stand up against the first little ill wind that blew.

LINEMAN'S INJURY RESULTS FATALLY

R. A. MOORE WHO FELL FROM TELEPHONE POLE DIES AT HOSPITAL TODAY

OPERATION PROVES FUTILE

Regained Consciousness Only Once Since Accident—Funeral Is To Be Held Tomorrow

R. A. Moore, the telephone lineman who fell from a pole at Iowa Park last Wednesday afternoon, died from his injuries at about 11 o'clock this morning. He had only once partially regained consciousness since the accident. Sunday it became apparent that he could not live but Monday morning it was resolved to operate as a last expedient.

When his skull was opened a large blood clot was found and a quantity of shattered brain tissue. The crack in his skull extended more than three inches and his recovery, it is believed, would have been impossible even had an operation been performed immediately following the accident.

Mr. Moore was twenty-five years of age and is survived by a widow and a boy aged four years. His father and mother who live at 804 Scott avenue and two sisters, Mrs. A. W. Phillips and Miss Carrie Moore both of whom live here and a brother, Paul, who lives at New Boston, Texas, are left to mourn his death.

Mr. Moore came here about a year ago from Memphis, Texas, where he had worked as a telephone lineman. He had been employed here ever since by the telephone company and was well liked.

The funeral will take place from the Christian Church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment in Riverside Cemetery.

You Smoke a "Better" Tobacco —Why Not Smoke The Best?

THE tobacco you now smoke you consider "better tobacco than you ever smoked before." Naturally, you kept trying until you found a "better" one. But it stands to reason that since there is a difference in tobaccos, you may be missing still greater pleasure in a still better smoke—in the BEST smoke, in fact.

Tuxedo is the best smoke because no better tobacco leaf grows, and no process of treating tobacco leaf equals the original "Tuxedo Process."

Tuxedo The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

We know that Tuxedo is made of the BEST tobacco—rich, mellow, perfectly aged Kentucky Burley. None better can be bought, because none better is grown.

It is treated by the famous original "Tuxedo Process" for removing the sting and bite of the natural vegetable oils.

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have sprung up.

No other tobacco can give the unique pleasure of Tuxedo because no other maker has yet been able to equal the Tuxedo quality.

DEPUTY STATE DICTATOR OF MOOSE LODGE SPEAKS

A number of members of the Loyal Order of Moose were present at Moose hall yesterday afternoon to listen to an address by Dr. T. W. Dee, State Deputy Dictator, who spoke on the work of the Moose lodge throughout the United States, and especially with regard to the establishment of Mooseheart, the home for aged members and for orphan children of members, which the lodge is building at Batavia, Ill.

Dr. Dee's primary object in coming to Wichita Falls at this time was to investigate the books and financial affairs of the local lodge, which have been in somewhat bad shape for some time. Dr. Dee audited the books from the time the lodge was instituted until the present, and while it was found the lodge owes a considerable sum of money, it is still solvent, and with good management, will be able to pay all of its debts in a short time. The lodge now has more than 600 members in good standing. It has the best equipped lodge hall in the city as well as a fine club room for the use of members and has spent more than five thousand dollars in furnishings.

J. A. Miller has recently been elected dictator, John Christensen, secretary, and C. E. Hesse, treasurer, and these with a board of trustees and an enthusiastic membership are taking hold of the organization to make it one of the strongest lodges in the state.

In Dr. Dee's address Sunday he put much stress on the features of Mooseheart, as one of the strongest arguments why the lodge appeals to men who have investigated its merits. Mooseheart is located thirty-five miles west of Chicago, on the Fox river. It consists of five thousand acres of land, on which are being constructed schools and homes for orphan children of Moose, and cottages for members of the order who shall become unable to work. This is being built at a cost of five million dollars, and is one of the five similar institutions which the order will build in the next few years.

Dr. Dee left Sunday night for his home in Houston.

Doctors Hartsook and Guest returned Saturday from Houston where they attended the convention of the State Medical Association. Dr. Everett Jones who was a Wichita Falls physician at the convention went to Galveston to attend a reunion of the Texas Medical College alumni and did not return until Sunday.

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI BUYS WILBARGER HORSES.

(Verizon Record)
Messrs. P. E. Matthews of Oxford Miss., and J. F. Thomas of Minnekaw, Minn., trustees of the Mississippi Medical Association, were here this week for the purpose of buying mares or penitentiary work. Twenty-four head were bought from farmers of Wilbarger county through Rev. L. A. Foster, one of our local mule and horse dealers, for the sum of $4,000, representing an average price of about $175 per head. This is the largest single deal in Wilbarger horseflesh reported in some time. In speaking of the deal yesterday Mr. Matthews said they had found from experience that Texas workstock was much better, cleaner, and freer from disease than any in the country. The reason he prefers to buy direct from farm owners is that he can secure better stock.

A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess," says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good."

"Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling in the time, and was irritable, would hardly get around, and would have severe headaches continuously."

"Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to go right down, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

"If you are a victim of any of the numerous ailments so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer."

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year. Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.

THE EXPRESS IS IN THIS TOWN AND IN TO STAY

For seventy-five years—three-quarters of a century—the express has been the right-hand of the shippers of commercial America. The Express came to Wichita Falls in 1881 and it came to stay. For thirty-three years it has been the right-hand of commercial Wichita Falls.

It is here to stay. The other day when reports went out that the express companies might retire from business, a protest went up. From whom this protest—the express companies? No! The merchants of the country—shippers everywhere—petitioned Congress that no action be taken that might have the effect of forcing the express companies to retire. Commercial organizations all over the land have joined in this appeal to Washington.

For seventy-five years in the past and for a good many more years in the future Express Service will mean

BLUE MONDAY IN CORPORATION COURT

JUST TWENTY-FIVE CASES ON DOCKET TODAY, SOMETHING LIKE OLD TIMES

HEAVY FINES ARE ASSESSED

Woman Whose House Was Scene of Revolver Melee Fined $200—Many Pleas of Guilty

The city police court presented its old time busy appearance this morning when Judge Rye opened court with twenty-four cases on the docket embracing charges of vagrancy, disturbing the peace, drunkenness, fighting and riding trains.

In all the cases that had been heard this morning pleas of guilty had been entered. Several heavy fines were assessed. Pat Keyes was fined $50 for fighting and disturbing the peace. The officers arrested Pat Saturday night for an assault upon his wife who is a woman of the flats. Ollie Kidd proprietress of the "Indiana Club" a resort in the flats was fined $200 for vagrancy and four inmates of her house were fined $25 each on the same charge. The fine on each of the same was assessed shortly after midnight after a fight had been pulled off in the vicinity and shots had been fired. The quarrel it appeared started in the "Indiana Club" and the shots were fired in the street in front of the house. Four or five shots were fired by the participants in the fight and more shots were fired by the officers in attempting to halt the belligerents one of whom was chased into the lake east of the "flat" district by Policeman Allen, making his escape in the undergrowth on the opposite side.

At this place a young man was arrested. He had been asleep when the shots were fired and got up in time to get arrested. His testimony doubtless weighed with Judge Rye in assessing the penalty of $200 against the Kidd woman. He testified with evident reluctance that he had spent about twelve or fourteen dollars in the "Indiana Club" Sunday night for beer.

"They asked me to set 'em up and I gave them the money and somebody brought the beer," was the way the young man explained the transaction. He said he didn't know where the beer came from. The Kidd woman paid the fines of the four others arrested with her. They were fined $25 each. She employed an attorney and gave notice of an appeal in her own case.

DETAILS OF EXECUTION OF PRIVATE PARKS OBTAINED

Shot as Spy Without Drumhead Court Martial, According to Mexican Deserter's Story

Vera Cruz, May 18.—Confirmation of the execution of a spy of Private Samuel Parks of the Twenty-eighth United States Infantry, was brought into Vera Cruz by a Mexican deserter. The details bear out all the stories which have filtered through the American lines regarding the execution of the soldier.

The deserter, a conscript from Huerta's army, was willing to tell all he knew about the death of the soldier. He said Parks, apparently mentally unbalanced, wandered into the Mexican federal lines while exercising two horses belonging to Lieut. Col. Taggart of the Twenty-eighth Infantry. Parks was orderly for the officer.

Parks was arrested by a Mexican squad immediately after he passed the lines. He was not even given a drumhead court martial, but adjudged a spy and shot by a firing squad. The horses were confiscated by the Mexicans.

Shot During Armistice. The soldier was executed during the armistice declared between the Federal and the American troops at the instance of the A B C peace mediators. The deserter told General Funston that he was an eyewitness to the execution and described Parks perfectly, even to the smallest details of the uniform known to have been worn by the soldier.

After Parks had been shot, the Mexicans, apparently realizing the enormity of their offense, stripped the remains of the United States uniform and burned the body, thus destroying every possible chance that Funston's investigators might have made of exhuming the body and identifying it as that of Parks.

The execution, the deserter declared, was known to General Maas, then in command of the Mexican troops. Maas, however, did not know of the execution until after it occurred, but he took no steps to punish the guilty officers and men, and did not return the horses stolen from the orderly.

STANDARD OIL'S GAMBLE IN CHINA BEING WATCHED

Will Spend Many Millions There With No Certainty of Finding Anything

(Wall Street Journal) China's mineral resources are absolutely undeveloped. Geologists who have examined the Chinese fields are enthusiastic over the probability of a great oil production in that country. Oil experts in the United States believe that the Chinese undertaking will prove to be one of the greatest business strokes ever consummated. One of the most encouraging features is that what little oil has been produced in China has more assurance, similar to that of the Pennsylvania fields in this country, from which a large percentage of kerosene and gasoline can be extracted. The discovery of a light grade oil in China in commercial quantities would prove a great boon to the Standard Oil Company.

Officials of the New York company have announced that the company is ready to spend millions of dollars in an effort to develop the Chinese fields. This would seem to indicate that the company has more assurance of their probable wealth than has been made public. An oil authority who has been in a position to follow the operation of the Standard Oil companies very closely over a period of years makes the statement, however, that a decision on the part

CHILDREN ARE BARRED BY VIENNESE LANDLORDS

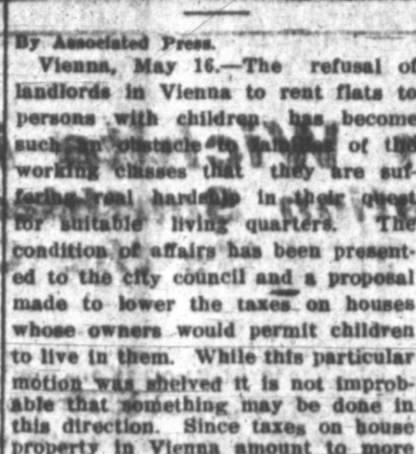

Working Classes Have Difficulty On Account of Their Little Ones Being Barred

By Associated Press. Vienna, May 16.—The refusal of landlords in Vienna to rent flats to persons with children has become such a serious obstacle to the working classes that they are suffering real hardship in their quest for suitable living quarters. The condition of affairs has been presented to the city council and a proposal made to lower the taxes on houses whose owners would permit children to live in them. While this particular motion was shelved it is not improbable that something may be done in this direction. Since taxes on houses property in Vienna amount to more than 42 per cent of the gross rentals any reduction would be extremely welcome.

Workers living in suburbs are found to be badly crowded, as many six-eight persons sometimes occupying a flat that consists of one small room and a kitchen. Suits cleaned and pressed, $1.00 Jewel Tailoring Co., J. W. Cathey, Prop. We call for and deliver. Phone 519.

FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL PROFIT IN SASKATCHEWAN

Washington, May 18.—American wheat growers and farmers will be interested in a report of a commission appointed by the government of Saskatchewan "to examine into the ways and means for bettering the position of Saskatchewan grain in the European markets."

This investigation the commission looked into the cost of producing wheat under present conditions in that province of Canada. The wheat producers of various sections of the United States will be interested to know that under present conditions the cost of producing wheat as determined by the commission is reported to be 55 cents per bushel on the farm and 63 cents per bushel at o. b. cars at country points. According to the report, the cost of production has increased 12.11 per cent since 1909, while, on the other hand, the price of wheat to the Saskatchewan farmer has decreased from 81.15 cents per bushel in 1909 to 66.15 cents per bushel in 1913, leaving a net return on this basis of 4.14 cents per bushel to the farmer.

Henry, the Eighth of England was probably the crookiest character in historic narrative and the meanest man of his regime. Notwithstanding the fact that RENO was not working at that time his weddings were frequent and full of trouble. It seems that on numerous bridal tours he left his bride and stepped out to buy a package of corn plasters and did not get back for three weeks. He was what you would call a ripe, well developed BONE HEAD. A BONE HEAD is usually conceded to be a chap who has been where he should have BRAIN. What we want to say is you need a BONE HEAD as much as you need a BONE PALACE DRUG STORE. The wooden Indians and straw men do not appeal to us as help. "TIS SAD BUT TRUE"

Seventy-five per cent of the graves in our cemeteries are never marked. Forgotten by friends and loved ones. Only a few days ago a stranger came to me and said find the grave of a friend and I will mark it as a last tribute of love, all that a friend could be, but we searched in vain.

Why is it so many graves are unmarked? They can be marked substantially for a nominal sum, and when you consider this mark will last for over a century, you have not been out anything.

You say you are going to, when? You are just like the rest of the human family, going to but you never do. Should you decide for sure don't forget the leaders in memorial art.
