ADMINISTERS DEFEAT TO FORCE OF 4,500 FEDERALS RETREATING FROM MONCLOVA

CUTS OFF REINFORCEMENTS

He also captured supplies which would have been of value to the Saltillo garrison.

Casualties Are Light

$2,700,000 PROFIT ON NEW HAVEN DEAL

MELLEN CONTINUES HIS TESTIMONY AT INTERSTATE COMMISSION HEARING

MORGAN'S HAND AGAIN SEEN

Loan To Boston Newspaper Is Also Discussed In Evidence—Influencing New England Legislation

Washington, May 20.—Details concerning relations of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and the Dillard Company through which the latter, or John L. Dillard, made a profit of $2,700,000 were given to the Interstate Commerce Commission today by Charles S. Mellen. Today's proceedings were interesting, were lacking in the spectacular features of yesterday. Stress was laid upon the relations of the New Haven and the Dillard Company.

Mr. Mellen maintained that all the records of these transactions were in the hands of the commission, and spoke for themselves. He declared that Dillard was "a strong and honorable man, as honorable a man as I ever knew," but he related incidents of Dillard's transactions with the New Haven with evident gusto.

Near the close of the morning session, the purchase of the Worcester, Nashua and Rochester railway by the Boston and Maine was discussed. It developed this was brought about by J. Pierpont Morgan. Mr. Mellen testified that Morgan handled the details of that purchase. The road cost the Boston and Maine nearly $2,000,000. Mr. Mellen, while he considered the property valuable, frankly said he had not approved of its purchase.

$300,000 Newspaper Loan No. 1

Mellen showed no signs of fatigue from his prolonged effort yesterday when he reappeared on the witness stand in the New Haven inquiry before the Interstate Commerce Commission today. How long he may continue on the stand it was impossible to forecast. Mr. Folk opened the hearing by asking:

"When was a loan of $300,000 made to Haskell of the Boston Herald?"

"Two years or more before notes of Haskell were sold to Mr. Villard," replied Mr. Mellen.

Asked to explain this transaction, Mellen said:

"I had known Mr. Haskell some years and I laid the case before the finance committee and they agreed to the loan."

"Was the fact that he was owner of the Boston Herald an inducement to make the loan?" asked Mr. Folk.

"It was certainly not a bad inducement."

Pending Legislation

"What was pending in the Massachusetts Legislature at the time of the Haskell loan?"

"There was always something pending in the Massachusetts legislature," Mr. Folk turned to the Boston railroad holding company bill which Gov. Draper advocated to bring the stock of the Boston and Maine under a common control by the State of Massachusetts. Mr. Mellen testified copies of the bill had been sent him by Mr. Choate or Mr. Byrnes. The Byrnes was Timothy E. Byrnes, vice president of the New Haven.

"Did you retain Mr. Choate to draft the bill?"

"Mr. Choate was our registered legislative agent. Everybody in New England seemed opposed to railroad ownership of trolleys. I felt an enlightened public opinion would favor railroad ownership of trolleys."

To "enlighten" public opinion, Mellen said he knew little of the details of the work of Vice President Byrnes.

"Did he spend money to influence legislation?"

"I am sure not."

"Do you recall the prayer from the bill?"

"Yes, in general, but I know little about it."

"Did you pay for it?"

"I fancy I have to pay for all the prayers in my behalf."

"Were a large number of newspapers carried on the payroll of the New Haven?"

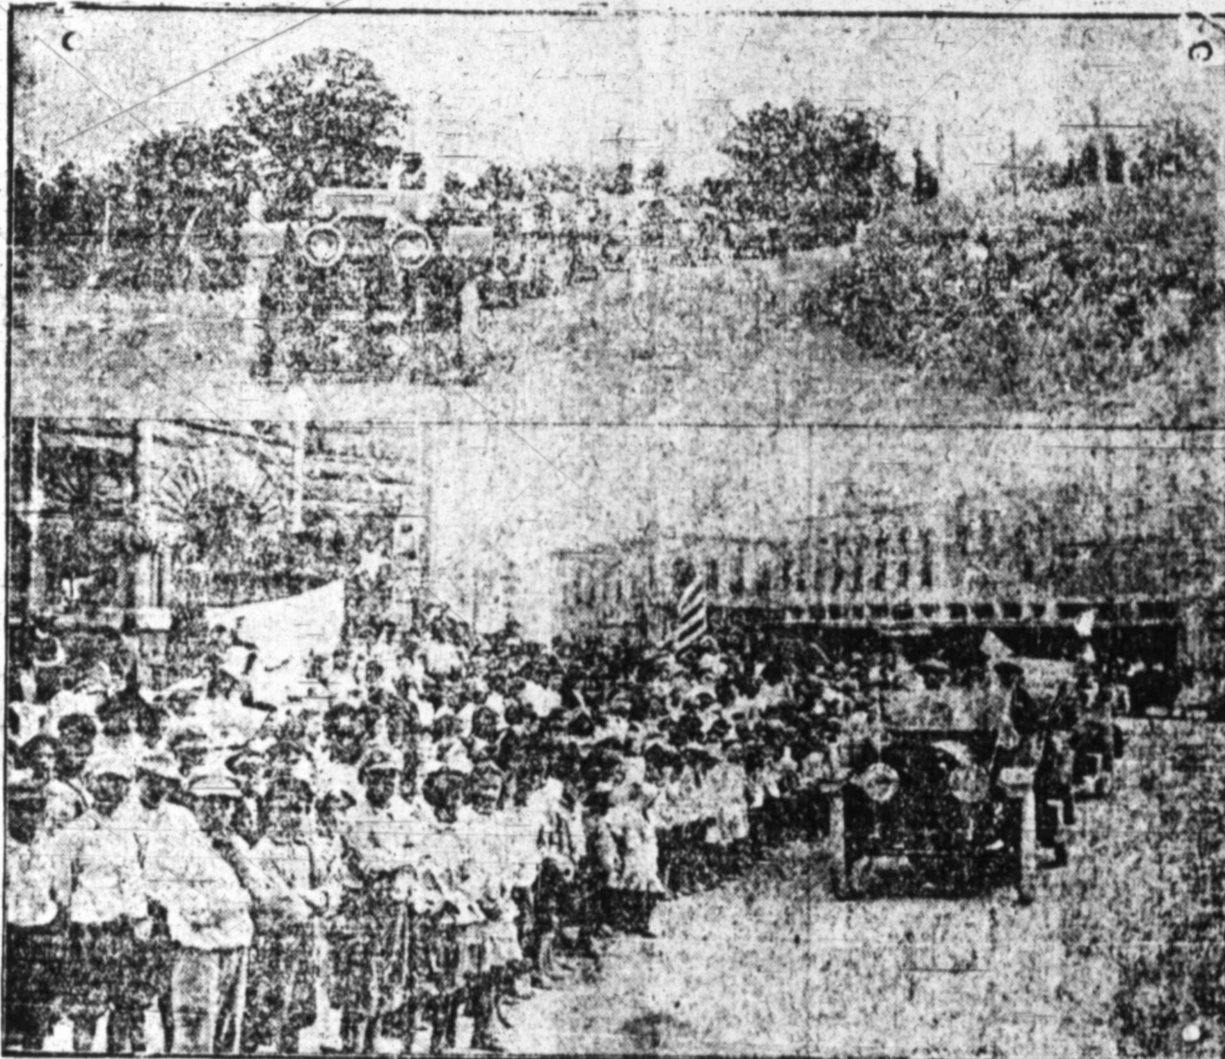

"I never heard of a large number being on our payroll."

Mr. Folk read the minutes of a director's meeting in October, 1909, at which a report of the contract with John L. Dillard, regarding the transaction in 109,948 shares of Boston and Maine was ordered approved. Mr. Dillard in previous testimony was said to have $2,750,000 out of the transaction. Mellen said that a part of the minutes, which made it appear the New Haven made a profit of $1,649,220 was incorrect.

FRIENDLY SPIRIT PREVAILS

American and Mexican Representatives Hold Informal Meeting Before Sessions Start

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 20.—The mediators and the representatives of the United States and the Huerta government began at 3 o'clock today the first formal conference looking to a settlement of the Mexican problem. Rules of procedure and preliminary organization were discussed.

Before the formal meeting the South American diplomats, the American and the Mexican representatives met in a sitting room where they talked for nearly an hour. This conference served to bring all parties into more intimate contact.

From the nature of the unofficial instructions to the American delegates, it is likely there will be more personal contact between the American and Mexican than might otherwise be the case in international tribunals.

The opinion is freely expressed that, even if efforts at mediation do nothing more than make clear to the world-at-large and particularly to the Republic of Central and South America, the spirit in which the American government has entered upon the settlement of the Mexican problem, the conference here will prove of great and lasting value.

TO ATTEND SON'S WEDDING

Will Sail Shortly For Spain—Many Conferences With Progressive Leaders Planned

By Associated Press. Oyster Bay, May 20.—Twelve hours after Theodore Roosevelt returned from South Africa he was in the saddle in the thick of politics. Col. Roosevelt, it was learned today, looks forward to one of the hardest political campaigns of his career. He is for the time occupied by his trip to Spain for the wedding of his son, Kermit, he expects to devote politics most of his time until November.

Already a tentative plan of action has been mapped out. Col. Roosevelt has in mind one of the longest campaign trips he ever has made taking him from the Atlantic to the Pacific and several shorter trips in nearby States.

For the three days before he sails for Europe, Col. Roosevelt has planned a program that will keep him busy. His present desire is to get back in touch as soon as possible with the affairs of the Progressive party in all parts of the country and help to start the machinery for the coming campaign.

Before he left South America, he planned his work, arranging by cable for conferences with members of the Progressive party. The first of these was set for today. George W. Perkins of New York, chairman of the National executive committee and O. K. Davis of Washington, secretary of the committee, were expected at Sagamore Hill to give Col. DEPUTY STATE DICTIONARY OF MOOSE LODGE SPEAKS

From Monday's Daily.

A number of members of the Loyal Order of Moose were present at Moose hall yesterday afternoon to listen to an address by Dr. T. W. Dea, State Deputy at Wichita Falls...

"The lodge is building at Batavia, Ill. Dr. Dea's primary object in coming to Wichita Falls at this time was to investigate the books and financial affairs of the local lodge, which have been in somewhat bad shape for some time. Dr. Dea audited the books for the time the lodge was instituted up to the present, and while it was found the lodge owes a considerable sum of money, it is still solvent, and with good management, will be able to pay all of its debts in a short time.

"The lodge now has more than 600 members in good standing. It has the best equipped lodge hall in the city as well as a fine club room for the use of members and has spent more than five thousand dollars in furnishings. J. A. Miller has recently been elected dictator, John Christensen, secretary, and C. E. Beesey, treasurer, and these with a board of trustees and an enthusiastic membership are taking hold of the organization to make it one of the strongest lodges in the state.

"In Dr. Dea's address Sunday he put much stress on the features of Moose-ism, as one of the strongest arguments why the lodge appeals to men who have investigated its merits. Moose-ism is located thirty-five miles west of Chicago, on the Fox River. It consists of five thousand acres of land, on which are being constructed schools and homes for orphan children of Moose, and cottages for members of the order who shall become unable to work. This is being built at a cost of five million dollars, and is one of the five similar institutions which the order will build in the next few years.

Mr. Kell told the directors Tuesday morning that he himself would not and did not wish his friends to enter into any scramble to land the place for him; that he could accept it only if it was the genuine desire of the district to have him in the position. In deference to Mr. Kell's wishes no organized campaign for his election will be carried on although his friends, of course, will feel themselves free to urge his great worth and fitness for the position.

WICHITA FALLS YOUTH IN FIGHTING AT VERA CRUZ

From Sunday's Daily. E. L. McDonald, a Wichita Falls youth, was one of the crew of the battleship Montana, which brought to New York the bodies of the American marines killed at Vera Cruz. Young McDonald went to Vera Cruz on the Louisiana but was transferred to the Montana when that vessel was made the funeral ship, to carry home the bodies of the dead marines.

"Young McDonald writes his father, William McDonald here that he believes there will be more fighting in Mexico between the Americans and the Mexicans before peace and order is restored. He will return to Vera Cruz on the Montana and expects to be reassigned to the Louisiana.

GALVESTON VISITOR FINDS MARKED IMPROVEMENT HERE

M. S. Uffly, a prominent business man of Galveston who has interests in this city, was here Friday on business, it being his first visit to Wichita Falls in eight years. He was astounded at the changes that had taken place and said he would never have known it for the same place that he visited in 1906, except that he recognized the St. James Hotel, as of old. Mr. Uffly was glad, he said, to see Frank Kell of this city in line for the regional bank directorate and considered the choice a wise one.

KELL FOR DIRECTOR OF REGIONAL BANK

MOVEMENT TO PLACE WICHITAN IN PROMINENT POSITION MEETS WITH SUPPORT

GETS MANY ENDORSEMENTS

Not Actively a Candidate For Place, But Has Been Nominated By Banks In District

From Sunday's Daily. The nomination of Frank Kell of this city for a directorship of the regional reserve bank at Dallas, announcement of which was made yesterday has been followed by many voluntary pledges of support from member banks scattered throughout Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. Mr. Kell's nomination was endorsed by the First National Bank of Galveston and from all parts of the Seventh regional reserve bank district come reports of support.

"The directorship for which Mr. Kell's friends are giving their endorsement and support is known as a class B directorship, representing the commercial interests. There are three of these directorships to be named. Three directors to represent the banking interests are to be named and three more directors are to be appointed by the government.

"Each bank member of the regional reserve bank at Dallas, will have one vote in the selection of the directors representing the banking and commercial interests of the district.

"At first unwilling. When first urged to accept nomination Mr. Kell refused but when an insistent demand came from many parts of the three states of the district and it was pointed out that his acceptance would not unduly tax his time and energy he consented to allow the use of his name and it was placed in nomination by the Galveston bank.

"The first announcement that Mr. Kell would allow the use of his name was made at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday but in deference to Mr. Kell's wishes no public announcement was made through the Times until the news came from outside sources. Mr. Kell told the directors Tuesday morning that he himself would not and did not wish his friends to enter into any scramble to land the place for him; that he could accept it only if it was the genuine desire of the district to have him in the position. In deference to Mr. Kell's wishes no organized campaign for his election will be carried on although his friends, of course, will feel themselves free to urge his great worth and fitness for the position.

"It is felt here and by those who know Mr. Kell everywhere throughout the reserve district that no man better fitted to represent the commercial interests could be named. No man in the Southwest understands from a more intimate contact the conditions and needs of the farmer and ranchman. Himself an extensive owner of land he understands the needs of the cattle and ranch industry no less than of the farmer and grain dealer. As a grain dealer and miller he has made the fame of the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company reach around the world and today he is one of the commanding figures in the grain and flour business of the Southwest. His success in the building and operation of railroads has not been less marked than his success as a miller and grain dealer. His work in the development of Wichita Falls and the surrounding country has given him wide and successful experience in a banker and manufacturer and in multiplied industries and commercial enterprises his wonderful energies and his wise counsel have contributed to success. Mr. Kell's interests extend from Galveston to the Oklahoma and Kansas border and stretch out in the import and export trade to many foreign countries. A man so intimately in touch with conditions in the district and whose interests are so varied and whose counsel is so eagerly sought, it is urged, would be invaluable as a director in the regional bank.

"A partial list of Mr. Kell's official connections with various enterprises follows: President, Wichita Falls Electric Co., Oklahoma City Mill and Elevator Co., and Wichita Mill and Elevator Co.; vice president, Glady Milling Co., Sherman; Orient Milling Co., Chillicothe; Kell-Mill and Elevator Co., Vernon; Ayles, Nell; Tomlin Grain Co., Kansas City; Wichita Falls Window Glass Co., Blair and Hugbee Co., Belknap Coal Co., Wichita Cotton Oil Co., Wichita Falls Investment Co., Wichita Falls Motor Co., Highland Irrigation Co., Lake Tractor Co., and Wichita Falls & Northwestern and Wichita Falls & Southern Railway Companies.

HUERTA IS WILLING TO RESIGN IF NECESSARY FOR SETTLEMENT

Reported To Have Authorized Mediators To Agree To This—Question of Ad Interim Government Now Arises

MEXICAN DELEGATES FAVOR AMERICAN STAND

Are Said To Be Not Particularly Friendly To Dictator, Whose Regime They Realize Is Crumbling

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 18.—General Huerta has authorized the Mexican mediation delegates to submit his resignation in case such a course is found necessary to a settlement in the peace negotiations. This was stated positively in dispatches today from a thoroughly competent diplomatic source in Mexico City, to one of the foreign representatives here, and confirms intimations given by friends of the delegates yesterday.

According to this information from Mexico City, General Huerta at first authorized the delegates to discuss only the question of the Tampico conflict leading to the American occupation of Vera Cruz. Later, it is said the Mexican dictator came to recognize the necessity of a broader settlement and then conveyed to the delegates assurance that he was prepared to step down should they find that course necessary.

The matter causing chief concern to diplomats in Mexico City is now what form of administration can be established during the period before a constitutionally elected president can assume office. No intimation concerning the name of a successor to Huerta was contained in the dispatch, this subject being one in which it will be necessary to consult opinions of constitutionalists and other leaders in Mexico.

Supreme Court Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehman, who represent the United States, today arranged to leave Washington tomorrow for Niagara Falls. The information of Huerta's attitude says that the delegates realized that the present administration in Mexico City was fast going to pieces and that it was inevitable that Huerta should give place to some other authority.

The Mexican delegates are not Huertistas but represent broadly the best elements in the federal district desirous of bringing about an orderly government in that section throughout Mexico. In this respect, their wishes are believed to correspond with the wish-

Who will come after Huerta, whether an individual or a provisional commission, still is an open question, but it is gathered that the succession will not be likely to fall on military leaders who have come to prominence through arbitrary power.

DETAILS OF EXECUTION OF PRIVATE PARKS OBTAINED

Shot as Spy Without Drumhead Court Martial, According to Mexican Deserter's Story

Vera Cruz, May 18.—Confirmation of the execution as a spy of Private Samuel Parks of the Twenty-eighth United States Infantry, was brought into Vera Cruz by a Mexican deserter. The details bear out all the stories which have filtered through the American lines regarding the execution of the soldier.

The deserter, a conscript from Huerta's army, was willing to tell all he knew about the death of the soldier. He said Parks, apparently mentally unbalanced, wandered into the Mexican federal lines while exercising two horses, belonging to Lieut. Col. Agostini of the Twenty-eighth Infantry. Parks was orderly for the officer.

Parks was arrested by a Mexican squad immediately after he passed the lines. He was not even given a drumhead court martial, but adjudged a spy and shot by a firing squad. The bodies were confiscated by the Mexicans.

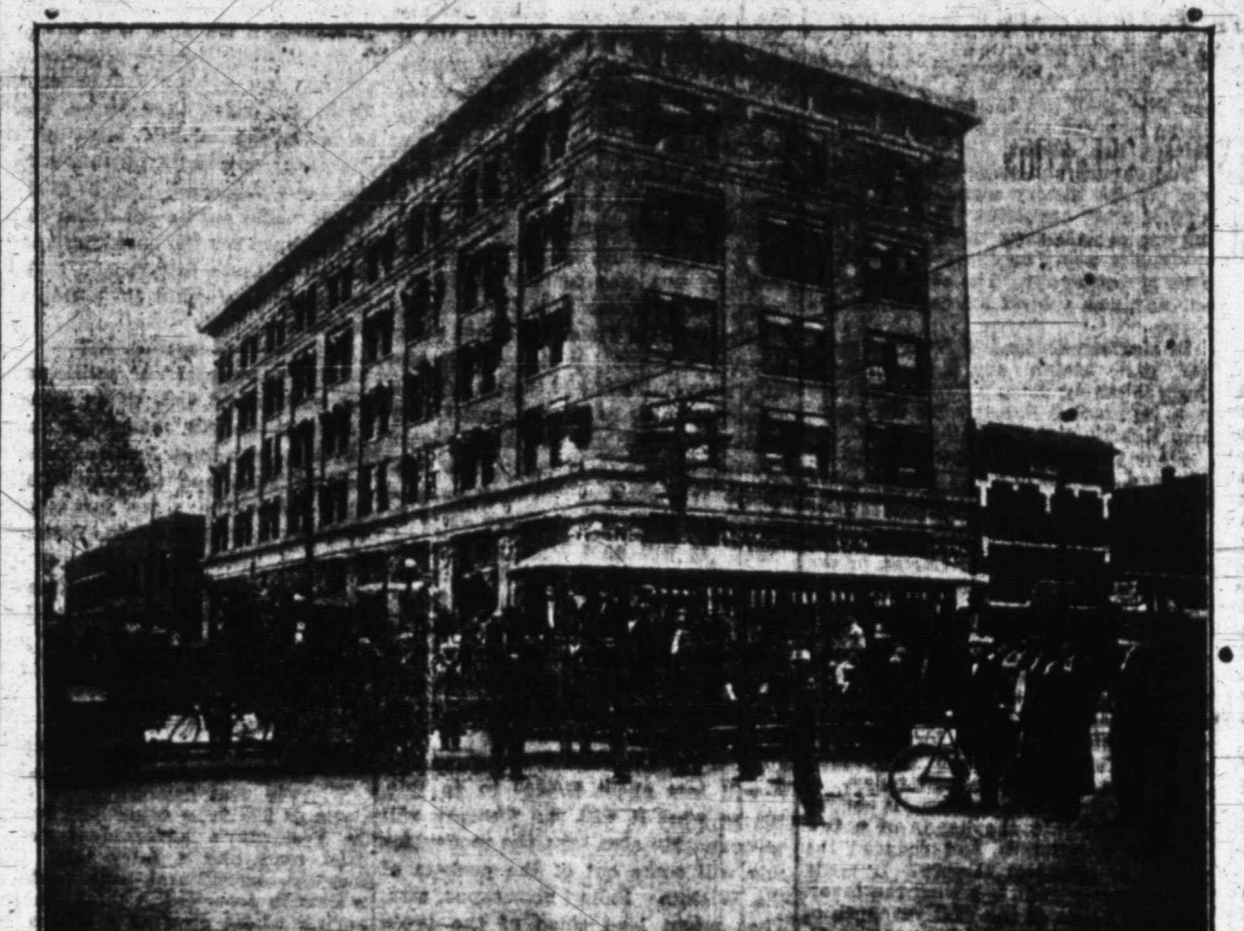

STANDARD OIL'S GAMBLE IN CHINA BEING WATCHED

Will Spend Many Millions There With No Certainty of Finding Anything

(Wall Street Journal) China's mineral resources are absolutely undeveloped. Geologists who have examined the Chinese fields are enthusiastic over the probabilities of a great oil production in that country. Oil experts in the United States believe that the Chinese undertaking will prove to be one of the greatest business strokes ever consummated.

Officials of the New York company have announced that the company is ready to spend millions of dollars in an effort to develop the Chinese fields. This would seem to indicate that the company had more assurance of their probable wealth than has been made public. An oil authority who has been in a position to follow the operation of the Standard Oil companies very closely over a period of years makes the statement, however, that a decision on the part of the company to spend several millions of dollars in China is not sufficient ground for such a conclusion.

COST OF DRILLING IN ELECTRA FIELD

ESTIMATED TOTAL OF $5,700,000 HAS BEEN SPENT IN WORK TO DATE

1763 HOLES ARE DRILLED

Individual Wells Cost From $20,000 In Some Cases, Down To Very Reasonable Sums

That nearly $6,000,000 has been spent to date in drilling oil wells in Northwest Texas, is the estimate of H. W. Whitney, writing in the Oil City Derrick, for which he is correspondent here. Mr. Whitney's article follows:

Although the Texas Panhandle field is but four years old from a production point of view, it is not so far behind the Gulf Coast in the number of wells completed. To date there is a total of 1,715 producing wells, with a daily production close to 30,000 bbls. The number of non-producing wells in the field number 48, which are shut down for various reasons, but all are in such condition that they can be gone back into at any time, with a string and drilled deeper. The total number of wells drilled in all districts amount to 1,763. The cost of drilling and completing a well, which includes all necessary equipment, in the Texas Panhandle field is estimated on shallow wells at $15,000, while on the deep holes it is estimated at $6,000 per well. A total expenditure of 5,700,000 is charged to the drilling end of the industry of the Texas Panhandle. It will be understood that there are two methods of drilling in use in the Panhandle, the cable and the rotary. The cable is considered the most costly method, as often the cost of drilling a well will exceed $10,000, which is principally due to the expensive fishing jobs. The rotary, the most economical method of well drilling is fast gaining ground, in many sections of the Panhandle. The cable is used exclusively in wildcat work, as it is easier to detect and test the formation by its use.

The following table shows the number of wells of the various producing sections, embraced in the Texas Panhandle field:

District	Prod' wells	Non-prod' wells	Prod'n bbls.
Electra	644	10	23,555
Perola	402	5	2,765
Burkburnett	128	5	2,183
Coricanna	463	27	894
Iowa Park	75	4	610
Moran	3	2	114
Total	1,715	48	30,631

Material required—The amount of material used in completing a well in the Texas Panhandle field is as follows: On the wells of a depth of 1,750 to 2,000 feet the hole is usually started with 14-inch casing which is carried from 500 to 700 feet; then 10-inch casing to 1100 feet; then 8-inch casing to 1500 feet or more. Six and five-eighths-inch casing is very exceptional. The cost of drilling a well from 1,700 to 2,000 feet, under ordinary conditions runs from $6,000 to $9,000, but the various troubles encountered varies the cost from this amount to as high as $30,000. Iron sucker rods are used exclusively and range from 5-8 to 3-4 inch in diameter. There are no wells on air in the Texas Panhandle field. Owing to the spotted nature of the pools, the producing wells are, in some cases, so far apart that it would be inadvisable to install air. In these fields, as in all others of any consequence, the surface shackle lines are used by which from one to six wells, or more,

BLUE MONDAY IN CORPORATION COURT

JUST TWENTY-FIVE CASES ON DOCKET TODAY, SOMETHING LIKE OLD TIMES

HEAVY FINES ARE ASSESSED

Woman Whose House Was Scene of Revolver Melees Fined $200—Many Pleas of Guilty

The city police court presented its old time busy appearance this morning when Judge Rye opened court with twenty-four cases on the docket embracing charges of vagrancy, disturbing the peace, drunkenness, fighting and riding trains.

Contract Conditions.—The figures and conditions in the contracting end differ somewhat from other fields. The price is from $3.00 to $3.50 per foot in the proven pools. The company, or individual derrick, supply fuel and water, dig all slush pits and setting ditches and furnish all necessary pipe, contractor furnishes rig, tools and labor and guarantee to turn over a finished hole. If he should lose a hole he must immediately commence a new one at his own expense. The salaries paid through the field are as follows: Cable driller gets from $7 to $7.50 a day, while the toolie commands $5 to $6 a day. Rotary drillers receive in most cases $200 a month for day run $160 per month, or $5 per day for a night driller, or night run. The rotary helpers are paid: Derrick man, $3.50; floorman, $3.00; rotary tools dresser, $4; roustabouts, $30 per month; pumpers $9 to $12.50 per month, which depends upon the number of wells he averages to pump. The field foreman averages $300 per month and the teamsters $4 to $5 a day.

$1500 FINE IS ASSESSED AGAINST OIL COMPANIES

Mexia and Hubbard Concerns Enjoined From Fixing Price Paid For Cotton Seed

Austin, Texas, May 18.—The State of Texas today through the attorney general's department, filed and quickly disposed of an anti-trust suit in the Twenty-sixth district court against the Mungler Oil and Cotton Company of Mexia and the Hubbard Oil Company of Hubbard City. Soon after the suit was filed, an agreed judgment was entered in favor of the State for $1500 penalties against the two defendants. They were charged with fixing the price to be paid for cotton seed. Under the judgment, the two companies are perpetually enjoined from entering any combination to fix cottonseed prices at Colledge or anywhere else in the State.

FORTY-TWO ARE CONVERTED AT SCOVILLE MEETING SUNDAY

PREACHES TO THREE BIG CONGREGATIONS

HUNDREDS ARE TURNED AWAY AT NIGHT SERVICE, UNABLE TO GET IN

PARTY IS IN SEYMOUR TODAY

Previous conversions	165
Converted Sunday	42
Total	207

Sunday was another great day in the Scoville meetings at the First Christian Church, the three services of the day resulting in forty-two conversions, bringing the total for the eight days of invitation up to 207. Today Dr. Scoville and the evangelistic party are at Seymour where they will hold a union meeting in the high school auditorium tonight returning here on the noon train tomorrow.

On Tuesday night Dr. Scoville will preach on the theme "You Must Be Born Again." Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Scoville will speak to the girls and women of the city. Thursday night Dr. Scoville will preach what he calls a "railroad" sermon, speaking especially to railroad men of whom he has probably converted more than any other living evangelist.

Church Filled At Night.—At the eight o'clock service a vast congregation assembled. Every seat in the auditorium and balconies was filled. Many were seated on the outside aisles and hundreds stood and still others filled the windows while hundreds made to gain admittance or to find room at the windows returned to their homes.

Before the sermon Mrs. Scoville sang, "Did You Think to Pray?" Under the leadership of Mr. Marty the great audience sang a number of revival songs with great fervor.

"This must be the head of John the Baptist," was the text of Dr. Scoville's sermon, his theme being "Your Conscience."

The speaker said that thirst and hunger and pain and lust were the voice of the body; conscience was the voice of the soul. Herod, he said, did not need any one to tell him whose head was borne in upon the platter. John the Baptist had rebuked him for his relation with the woman whose strategy sought after him for the beheading of John. His conscience told him whose head it was and he exclaimed "This must be the head of John the Baptist."

Dr. Scoville made the Scripture lesson an occasion for an indictment of the attitude and practices of some modern women and flayed the saloon.

The Story of Salome.—"Language," he said, "is not big enough to paint the man or woman who would break up the sanctity of another's home."

The moment John the Baptist censured her, Salome's mother determined to bring about the death of John the Baptist, Dr. Scoville said, adding "When a bad woman gets after a man he'd better make for the tall timber. John the Baptist took to the jumper when Herod's mother sought after him but she got his head and not his life."

He painted the picture of Herod's planning the party in honor of Herod's birthday and of her cunning scheme to get the head of John the Baptist. He pictured the feast, the wicked woman, the dancing, the banquet and the drunken king taking occasion to point some morals connected with woman's dress and liquor.

Whiskey and the Boy.—He called a twelve year old boy from the audience to the stand and told his audience some of the terrible things whiskey would do for a young man.

"If I could do in twelve minutes to this boy what whiskey will do to him in twelve years, the men that run the saloons and who support the liquor traffic would jerk my arms out and put my eyes out and could do nothing terrible enough to punish me," he said. Applause greeted his statement. "Some of you fellows can't cheer, you've been drinking yourself," Dr. Scoville shouted.

"The Lord is my Shepherd" was taken by Dr. Scoville as the subject for the afternoon. He said that some one had written of the probable history of the psalm, dating at the time when Hashem had forced by Abraham to abdicate the throne; he showed how the "still waters" might refer to the Dead Sea, and the "green pastures" to the fields in the neighborhood of that body of water. Also, he mentioned six features of it, all beginning with the same initial—possession, position, promise, progress, provision and prospect, showing wherein each lay. The term "the Lord" was used, he said in place of the Jewish appellation "Jehovah," because the Jews held the latter name in such reverence that they mentioned it only once each year. The speaker digressed here to comment upon the present day tendency to use the word "God" in a flippant and irreverent sense; there were too many Christians, he declared, who would say "God knows" and like things in anything but a reverent spirit. He dismissed the subject of profanity by saying that when a man swore and cursed habitually "there was something wrong with his upper story." It is an almost unailing characteristic of weak minded persons, lunatics and imbeciles, he pointed out, that they are very profane.

Not History of Past.—The Bible continued Dr. Scoville, "is not the story of a religion that was; it's not a mere history of a faith that formerly existed. It's the story of a religion and a faith that is today. David said, 'The Lord is my shepherd.' O, I thank God his afternoon that has not a poor lost sinner anywhere in this world that cannot, if he will, lift up his hand and say, 'The Lord is my shepherd.'"

He told of five funerals in Chicago in the same week, at each of which he officiated and at each, in each, the sorrowing survivors could truly say that the Lord was their shepherd.

At his request, a flaxen haired little girl sitting near the front arose and recited the Psalm in her childish, unflattering treble.

"Isn't that fine," he asked, "I don't know who that little girl's parents are, but I'll tell them that they couldn't put $5000 in her hands, nor $50,000, nor $500,000 to repay her if they took away from her the privilege of attending Sunday school and learning what the Lord has to say. The parent who keeps his child out of the Sunday school is robbing it of something worth more than all the riches of this world. God is going to hold you to account for the lives that are placed in your charge."

Story of John Wamaker.—Dr. Scoville told a pretty story of how John Wamaker, visiting in Switzerland, taught a little Swiss shepherd boy the first sentence of the psalm, "The Lord is my shepherd." He taught him just one word for each finger of his hand. Three years later the great merchant returned to that same neighborhood and went to the boy's home to ask for him. Unable to make himself understood to the Swiss cottagers, he repeated the first sentence of the psalm, illustrating it with the five fingers of his hand. Then the mother understood and broken heartedly told how the child had died, holding fast to the finger which denoted the word "you" in the sentence.

"I'll tell you," said Dr. Scoville in conclusion, "the privilege of being able to say 'The Lord is my shepherd' is worth all the happiness in this world."

The invitation song "Jesus is Calling" was then sung and when at its conclusion, Dr. Scoville responded to the evangelist's invitation, the congregation sang "I Can Hear My Savior Calling." Before the first verse was over, two men and a woman had come forward amid applause.

REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATION IS TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

From Monday's Daily.

A number of local real estate men are planning the organization of a Real Estate Association in this city and it is expected that definite steps will be taken within the next few days. The proposed organization is the interlocking of interests and methods and mutual protection.

Similar organizations exist in all the large cities of the State, usually being substantial factors in the up-building of their respective communities. It is believed that such an association would prove of lasting benefit to Wichita Falls.

BAKING POWDER CASE IS SETTLED AND DISMISSED

Austin, Texas, May 18.—The injunction suit of the Calumet Baking Powder Company against J. S. Abbott, former pure food commissioner, to restrain him from enforcing an order prohibiting the use of alumina in baking powder was today settled and dismissed when an agreed judgment was filed in the federal court. This settles the litigation and leaves the situation practically the same as it not suit had been instituted.

There are always a lot of fellows preaching good roads when it rains.

You said last August that you'd never again complain of too much rain. This is a good time to remind you.

Another thing—if Wichita Falls had a baseball team, wouldn't it be tough for them to get rained out every day?

In one of the great sermons which he has preached since his meetings in this city began, Dr. Scoville took occasion to say that Texas newspapers were more liberal in allowing space to churches than those of any other state. We hope that this is true and the Times has certainly tried to make it apply to this paper and the churches of this city.

Congressman Slayden recommended W. C. Robards to be postmaster at San Antonio, but George Armistead, an original Wilson man, was appointed. This reminds us that had Mr. Wilson when he was an aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, depended or relied on the congressmen from Texas to carry the State for him, instead of sending a solid Wilson delegation to Baltimore, it would have been sold for one of his chief opponents—either Clark, Harmon or Underwood.

A few days ago Governor Colquitt predicted that Ferguson would be the next governor of Texas. He even went further by saying that his majority over Ball would be more than 50,000. Just how he figures it that way is a little difficult to understand.

It seems that Col. Ball has considerably having as his backers practically all the Democrats who vote for prohibition when an opportunity presents itself.

THEIR ETERNAL YOUTH

"They gave not only all they were but all they hoped to be," said Secretary Daniels, in his tribute to the nineteen young Americans who entered the ranks of the immortals at Vera Cruz.

of the President's words when he marched to death with youthful enthusiasm at Vera Cruz. "I feel a profound pride and envy that they should have been permitted to do their duty so nobly."

BIG BUSINESS

Big business as represented by the chief industrial and railroad corporations of this country is not the undertaking of a few multimillionaires, but of a multitude of small investors who represent the bone and sinew of the country.

In England and on the Continent the minority shareholders are usually well represented at such meetings, and they insist on receiving explanations of everything that has been done by the officials or directors.

George F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia & Reading railway, who has just died, was an example of the American business man of the highest type in absolute control of a great corporation which required reorganization in a radical way.

Great successes like the reestablishment of the Reading system are complicated by factors like the wreck of the Gould system, the Rock Island system, the Frisco system and the New Haven railroad.

In its write-up of the visit made to this city on May 2nd, of the National Editors, the Georgetown Commercial, Lee J. Rountree's splendid paper, after saying many nice things of Wichita Falls, Electra and Burk Burnett, and of the splendid entertainment accorded the editors at each city, has this to say of Wichita county:

WHAT IS IT ALL ABOUT?

(Dr. Frank Crane in Houston Chronicle.) What is the trouble in Mexico about? Is it a struggle between ambitious rivals? It is a general mix-up of Zapata, Huerta, Villa and Carranza, to see who shall get the loot?

What is going on there is the birth pang of democracy. The people wronged, outraged, robbed for centuries, arising. In Mexican terms and Mexican manner, part Indian and part Spanish, there is taking place a French Revolution.

The result of it is uniform. It cornered the land into the hands of a few wealthy proprietors, and reduced the people to practical slavery. It made use of government to enrich the favored ones.

The Mexicans you will find when you brush aside all deceptive appearances and go to the root of the matter, are fighting for the same thing for which the people everywhere are fighting.

"Government buys two more transports." "Consignment of arms and ammunition sent to Galveston."

The Electro precinct has the right idea in asking for bonds for good roads and has thrown a hint that Precinct No. 1 might do well to notice.

In today's issue of the Times appear announcements of two big improvements for Wichita Falls, representing a total expenditure of about $300,000.

The Times notes from the Vernon Record that Ike M. Smith of Oklahoma is considering the matter of making the race for representative in this the 101st district, composed of Willbarger and Wichita counties.

"Mr. Smith stated that he had been importuned by a number of his friends to make the race, but as yet has not determined whether he will do so."

Hon. Clarence Gilmore of Willis Point, who will be remembered by many of the citizens as a citizen of this city, during which time he was editor of the Times, has written Mr. R. H. Miller, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, that he expects to attend the State Press Association to be held in this city June 18th, 19th and 20th.

All the professional politicians are not supporting Col. Ball. Candidate Ferguson should remember that he has left with him Brother Jonathan, Colonel Jake and Governor Colquitt.

A BILLION BUSHELS OF WHEAT. (From the New York Sun) Figures that can be made on the basis of the farm conditions exhibited in yesterday's government crop report read like a fairy tale.

Should Culberson decline to again offer for the Senate, the chances are there will be at least a half dozen candidates, including Dr. S. P. Brooks, Congressman Henry, Gov. Colquitt, ex-Gov. T. M. Campbell and Postmaster General Burleson.

"ALL ABOARD FOR PANAMA!"

(From the Louisville Courier-Journal) The "All Aboard for Panama" rally says, and the New York Evening Post approvingly quotes, the following:

Why, bless us, this is 1914, not 1868! Reconstruction has done its worst and its best. There is no longer any "Solid South."

Has the Texas farmer had a square deal in Texas legislation? All men of intelligence know that he has not had such a deal.

If the Times remembers correctly the new city charter adopted by the city last fall provides for the election or appointment of an inspector of food that is offered for sale in this city.

If owners of automobiles are to be protected against thieves, and joyriders it looks as if they are going to be forced to subscribe to a fund to be paid as a reward for the detection and conviction of those who steal out their machines at night.

Extra session will be called. The regular session of the legislature meets in January of next year, just about the time Gov. Colquitt's term expires and let us hope that the man who is to be the next governor of Texas will be different from the present governor.

TEXAS POLITICS

Austin people know how to give people a royal reception. Ask Tom Ball.—Austin Statesman.

For the sake of harmony in the Ball wagon, we suggest that Colonel Johnston be seated on the back seat. It would hardly do to place him in juxtaposition with Governor Campbell.

Who would have believed six years ago that Cone Johnson, Clarence Ousley, Cullen F. Thomas, M. M. Brooks, Sterling P. Strong, William Fox-Dexter, John M. Duncan and R. M. Johnston would ever line up together in politics?

We believe the prohibition question will work itself out in Texas, and we are really glad that it is not to be the dominant issue in the pending campaign.

How would it do to organize a regiment of eliminated candidates for service in Mexico.—Waco Morning News.

It seems like all who were eliminated at Fort Worth and by Jim Ferguson later would make a fair-sized platoon, but, judging by attacking qualities, it would take some regulars to hold them on the firing line.—Huntington Herald.

Sam Sparks comes out unreservedly for Tom Ball for governor. This adds another to the long list of prominent anti-Ferguson men who will support the Houston Democrat.

Reports from the country are to the effect that the recent rains have not yet damaged the wheat crop, although enough and more than enough has fallen to make the crop. Farmers are now wishing for a few days of sunshine.

A Dallas paper is authority for the statement that ex-Senator Bailey is to come to Texas and make a few speeches in behalf of Col. Ball.

James E. Ferguson seems to be getting into hot water. The statement he made relative to a $2000 contribution to Colonel Ball's campaign fund has been proved untrue, and Hon. Clarence Ousley flatly denies having urged Mr. Ferguson to withdraw from the race for governor and become a candidate for lieutenant governor.

No greater tribute could be paid to Tom Ball in his candidacy for governor than the fact that, notwithstanding he is a prohibitionist, he is now being supported by the most prominent candidates who have withdrawn from the contest, to-wit: Clarence Ousley, of the Fort Worth Record; Sam Sparks, ex-state treasurer; General Felix Robertson of Waco, and ex-Senator Horace Chilton of Dallas with Chester Terrell and Senator Willacy yet to hear from.—Redland Herald.

An editor who started about twenty years ago with only $50 is now worth $100,000. His accumulation of wealth is owing to his frugality, good habits, strict attention to business, and the fact that an uncle died and left him $99,999.50.—Editor and Publisher.

The nerve of that man, Huerta is something awful. He has agreed to resign his office, but demands that he be given some right to name his successor. In addition to this he wants the United States to loan Mexico $400,000,000, and to lease Magdalena Bay at $90,000,000 for ninety-nine years.

ARE CHAIN STORES TOWN BUILDERS?

Inasmuch as Wichita Falls is soon to have one of the Kress stores, which are conducted on plans very similar to the Woolworth stores, the following from the Merchants' Trade Journal, a reputable paper, might be of some interest to the people of this city:

"It seems that F. W. Woolworth, head of the great 10-cent store syndicate, doesn't live in Oklahoma, and it seems also that his personal interests are not in Oklahoma though he has some stores in that state.

"Sometime ago it occurred to the people of Muskogee, Okla., that a new Y. M. C. A. building would be a valuable addition to their city, so a campaign was started for an $80,000 building. Now an $80,000 Y. M. C. A. building in a city the size of Muskogee would be a valuable addition, and especially when such building is used in a right cause, and the people of Muskogee felt that they were planning a building to be used by the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of bettering their young men, that they were indeed working in a noble cause.

"As it always has been, the business men of the city were the first called upon by the committee and asked for their support in the movement and as might be expected these business men responded generously. But there was one man in town that did not respond because the manager felt that he had no authority to subscribe to this fund and to lend his support to the movement. That was the Woolworth store. But it occurred to the committee that Mr. Woolworth should be interested in this movement because it was for the betterment of this city in which he had a store, so telegrams were sent to Mr. Woolworth in New York city, but no response came, and finally a friend of the 10-cent store manager and also a friend of Muskogee called upon Mr. Woolworth, but did not succeed in enlisting his support. It seems that Mr. Woolworth does not feel that his interests in Oklahoma are sufficient to warrant his helping the people of Muskogee develop their community by building for the use of the Young Men's Christian association, but he has a wonderful building of his own, and here is certainly a lesson in this incident that should be worth something not only to Muskogee, Oklahoma, but to the people of every town and community throughout the country. Here is the genius of a great business that is reaching out in Muskogee and in other cities and developing business, but as shown in this instance, the profits of that business are not to be invested in the city and community where the business is developed, but is being planted in New York.

"While so much thought is being given to the small order business of this country, the chain store proposition should not be lost sight of. In some respects the chain store is a greater menace to the small community than the small order business. A chain store company such as Mr. Woolworth's, goes to a town to open a branch and everybody is pleased. Business men say there is another great store coming to our city, and it is considered as a part of the town's growth in reality. The manager of a chain store is apt to be an imported man who has absolutely no interest there except to draw his salary, and the money that is taken from the people of that city in place of being invested there in homes and in churches and schools and Y. M. C. A. buildings, and other improvements of benefit to the city, is taken to the home of the great buildings, all of which tend toward the betterment of the city where the genius, the head of the business lives, but does not benefit the community, the town, the city where the business was really developed, and this is the phase of the chain store proposition that should be considered by the people of any town or city before boosting too much a proposition of this kind. Without a doubt the people of Muskogee, Okla., think of some of these things before they extend an invitation to another proposition of this kind to come into their city.

"As for the Times, it does not care how many stores Mr. Woolworth or Mr. Kress establishes. If it is their policy not to help the communities in which they are located, it is plain to see where they can undersell others who are selling the same lines of goods handed by them. In order to meet such competition, the merchant who has been in the habit of rendering financial aid to nearly every proposition presented to him, will be forced to adopt the plan of the Woolworths and Kresses. And when all our merchants become of that class town and city building organizations will receive but meager support.

"The Texas farmer is rather a queer sort of fellow, after all. From every part of the State he is complaining of the kinds and quality of laws that are enacted by our legislators. There is no complaint as to quantity. Yet, if the laws enacted are not just and equitable, and do not suit the farmers, they themselves are to blame. They are in the majority and have it in their power to elect a large majority of the law-makers. When they don't take advantage of this fact, and as a consequence do not get the kind of legislation they want, who is to blame? The whole trouble is that the farmers follow the law-making bodies of Texas to be filled by professional politicians, and so long as they allow this to be done they can't expect much relief.

"The price of cotton is getting stronger nearly every day. This is encouraging to the cotton farmers. There is ample time yet in which to plant cotton. The reason for cotton raising seems favorable. And corn, it is going up also, based principally upon the discovery that Argentine has overhauled her supply. Wheat is standing around 90 cents. Oats hang around the 40 cent mark, with but little prospect that the price will go down. This makes things look good to Wichita county farmers. This is their year to be prosperous, and when the farmer prospers everybody shares in his prosperity. There are good times ahead. Don't doubt that.

Candidate Ferguson visited Houston recently. Houston is the home of Col. Ball. While there Mr. Ferguson took occasion to visit the Houston Club, which is located on the tenth floor of the splendid building owned by the Chronicle, and spent an hour there, and in a speech delivered at Fort Worth on Friday night, May 15th, gave a short description of what he saw and observed, which is about as follows:

"Leaving the elevator and going into this big club room, I will tell you what I found. The first thing that greeted my eyes was about the billiard tables and two pool tables. A little further along I found eight or ten drinking tables. A little further along I found about six or seven card tables and at these tables I saw men playing cards and drinking liquor and paying the regular saloon price of fifteen cents per drink. I saw this taking place before and after the hours when saloons were closed, and on Sundays when you fellows can't get a smell. In the middle of this big club room was a big fine finished saloon bar, presided over by two big yellow negroes-as bar tenders. That, my friends is the institution to which your prohibition candidate for governor belongs."

Col. Ball is receiving the support of at least 90 per cent of those pro Democrats who are against the open saloon. In addition to that more than half the leading anti-pro Democrats are giving him hearty and loyal support. If what Mr. Ferguson charges is true, then it is up to Col. Ball to tell us what advantage, (from a moral standpoint) has the club that dispenses liquor at all hours and at any old time of the day or night, including Sunday, over the open saloon that is forced by law to close at certain hours?

MEXICAN WAR PENSIONS

If the longevity record of the survivors of the last war with Mexico should be equalled by the soldiers now at Vera Cruz and those who may later be ordered across the Rio Grande, the twentieth century will have passed into history before the United States government will have ceased making appropriations to pay pensions on account of what will be known as the second war with Mexico.

Although the last war with Mexico ended officially on July 4, 1848, there are about 1500 veterans of that war upon the pension roll. Statistics from the pension bureau recently mailed out show that each of these veterans is drawing $30 a month from Uncle Sam. There are also 5,123 widows of soldiers in that war getting pensions from the government.

There were 30,554 regulars and 73,776 volunteers, a total of 112,230 American soldiers engaged in the struggle, which officially began 68 years ago. The soldiers of that period must have been a hardy lot, for a boy at 15 at that time would have passed the scriptural allotment, of three score years and ten, and would have weel on towards four score of years.

The large number of widows is accounted for by the fact that most of the soldiers married after the war and many married a second and some a third time. Soldiers who were married and their dependants received no pension for their service until nearly 31 years after the close of the war. Since that time the cost of their pensions to the government up to the close of the last fiscal year was $47,632,572.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Wichita Falls. Do the right thing at the right time. Do it quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Plenty of evidence of their worth. J. W. Jacobs, retired carpenter, Henrietta, Texas, says: "My back was so bad that I couldn't stand straight and the least exertion would backache. The kidney secretions were very irregular in passage. At times they were frequent and then again scanty. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and I had only taken half a box when I felt relieved. I continued taking them and when I had finished three boxes, I was in good shape. You may continue to publish what I said about Doan's Kidney Pills, when I recommended them before."

MISTOOK ITALIAN FLAG FOR MEXICAN FLAG.

By Associated Press. At a dinner given May 16—Mr. Connel O'Leary, the Italian ambassador, called on Secretary of State Bryan today in regard to a reported insult to the Italian flag by two American seamen at Philadelphia on May 14. The flag was displayed in front of a barber shop at the time of the memorial exercises over American Vera Cruz victims and it is believed that the seamen mistook it for a Mexican flag. The flag was pulled to the ground and trampled upon. Mr. Bryan assured the ambassador that the seamen were found guilty, would be punished. The answer was accepted.

PIPE LINE HEARING WANTED IN THIS CITY

COMMISSIONER SELLS AND LIUET. RICHARDSON MAY VISIT NORTHWEST TEXAS

LOCAL OIL MEN INTERESTED

Believe This District Could Easily Be Connected With Proposed Line To The Gulf. It was learned today that efforts are being made by independent oil producers in this section to have a hearing held in this city on the question of a government pipe line from the Mid-Continent field to the Gulf of Mexico. Some of the producers have taken the matter up with the Washington officials who will hold the hearings in an effort to have them meet in this city. They will conduct hearings at a number of points in the Southwest, including independent ones, Kansas and Tulsa and Bartlesville, Okla. Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs and Lieut. Richardson of the navy, who are to hold the hearings, left Washington Monday and the hearings will probably begin this week. Before the recent general decline in oil prices the question of a government pipe line had been broached and since the bottom fell out of Oklahoma and Texas prices, the matter has been revived with new interest.

NEW HAVEN'S DOMINATION BY MORGAN IS TOLD BY MELLEN

REMARKABLE STORY IS RESUMED TODAY. FORMER PRESIDENT NOT ASHAMED TO BE KNOWN AS FINANCIER'S OFFICE BOY.

CONNECTION WITH TAMMANY. Late Police Inspector's Name Mentioned. Mellen Gives Testimony Composedly and Smilingly.

By Associated Press. Washington, May 19.—Charles S. Mellen today resumed the remarkable story he is unfolding before the Interstate Commerce Commission concerning the vast and complicated financial operations of the New Haven railroad and its various subsidiaries. Chief Counsel Folk of the Commission developed the dominant part taken in the transaction by prominent men on the New Haven board of directors and more particularly by the late J. Pierpont Morgan and William Rockefeller.

Mr. Mellen told his detail of his relations and differences with Mr. Morgan. He went fully into the acquisition of the New York, Westchester and Boston roads by the New Haven. This brought out further references to the part taken by the late police inspector, Thomas F. Byrnes of New York, who, Mr. Mellen testified, operated "through the people of Fourteenth street where you know Tammany Hall is located."

Cabinet Action Rumored. While the hearing was in progress President Wilson and the cabinet were in conference and it was reported from several sources that Attorney General McKeen had brought up before the cabinet the subject of the New Haven inquiry. Neither the attorney general or other members of the cabinet would discuss the subject when they left the meeting.

Mr. Mellen when questioned about differences with Mr. Morgan over the Westchester deal told a conversation with Mr. Morgan which he said greatly humiliated him. At first he hesitated to relate the conversation because Mr. Morgan was dead. When pressed for an answer he said Morgan had asked him if he thought he knew more about how a report on the Westchester deal that was not drawn up by Morgan did, Mr. Folk asked:

"Were you afraid of Mr. Morgan?" "You might call it cowardice. I held Mr. Morgan in more awe than any other man I ever knew." Mr. Mellen answered the rapid fire of questions with seeming composure and frequent evoked laughter by some sally.

Mellen carried a large box of private papers and memoranda. He smiled at the greetings of friends and seemed composed for the examination about to begin. Beginning with his testimony Mr. Mellen told how he had become president of the Northern Pacific, a position he held for six years. J. Pierpont Morgan, he said, was responsible for naming him president of the Northern Pacific.

Mr. Mellen testified Mr. Morgan called him on the telephone and the conversation was about as follows: "Conversation With Morgan. 'That you, Mr. Mellen?' 'Yes.' 'Can anybody hear?' 'Will you take the Northern Pacific presidency?' 'Yes.' 'Leave all the details to me?'"

About two or three weeks later, Mr. Mellen testified he became president. He did not know, he said, when he took the office, what the salary would be. He added that he knew it would be "all right." Mr. Folk asked:

"While you were president of the Northern Pacific was the matter of the New Haven presidency taken up?" "Yes, Mr. Morgan told me he would make me president of the New Haven."

Morgan's "Office Boy." "As president of the New Haven, what was your relation with Mr. Morgan?" "That is difficult to answer." "Were you Morgan's man?" "I have been called his office boy." Mr. Mellen laughingly replied:

"What would you say as to the relations?" "I was proud of his confidence and proud to be called his man. I thought a great deal of Mr. Morgan." "I do not know that he had any politics."

"What was the relative importance of the directors as related to Morgan?" "That is giving an opinion. We regarded Morgan as a man of ability, experience and capacity. I recall no case in which he did not have his way."

Road's Financial Policy. "How many directors shaped the road's financial policy?" "There was a committee of three or four—Morgan, Rockefeller, Brock and I think, at one time, Ladyard. Morgan and Rockefeller were the only ones who remained on the committee all the time I was president." "Did you give Mr. Schiff opportunity to bid on those bonds?" "I think not."

"Why not?" "I think it was considered that bonds were satisfactorily placed when I had no authority to place the bonds; that was within the power of the finance committee."

"What would have happened had you turned over those bonds to Kuhn, Loeb & Company?" "Might Have Lost Job. 'I should have felt I properly might have been dismissed,' was Mellen's emphatic reply. Mr. Folk then asked:

"How did you happen to get the 1,000 shares of New Haven stock which were to have been exchanged for Westchester stock?" "Mr. Byrnes, former police inspector of New York, asked that the shares be placed in my hands so that he might not have to deal with a corporation. That was natural. As to the exchange of this stock, an impression is abroad concerning the new due bills that I gave; that is erroneous—I think I gave due bills aggregating about 200,000 totaling about two dozen due bills. I don't think any cash was paid in the Westchester transaction, except for such due bills as I gave. In such circumstances I paid my own cash and took the stock. Thus I became a stockholder; I frequently paid dividends as a holder of the stock. These persons were sent to me by Inspector Byrnes."

Opposed to Westchester. Mr. Mellen testified that the question of the New Haven acquiring the Westchester was first brought to his attention in about 1905. Mellen's attitude then was that he did not think much of it. Among things he then said:

"It looked to me as if the company was organized as a strike, to sell out to use at the proper time."

Continuing the story, Mellen said: "Feelings came to me at various times to ascertain if I would be interested in acquiring Westchester. I refused to lay the matter before the New Haven directors until Oakleigh Thorne came along. He wanted me to take it up with the directors and I said I had no objection."

Mellen had no idea the board would consider the matter favorably but said Mr. Morgan moved that a committee look into the matter. Mellen named Morgan, Rockefeller and Miller as the committee, with himself as a member ex-officio. He said when the committee reported a year later that the sum of $11,155,000 had been expended for the Westchester, "to find fault with" the report as "not being sufficiently detailed. He said:

Humiliated by Morgan. "I saw Mr. Morgan and told him that the report should have shown how each separate sum had been expended. Mr. Morgan was very abrupt in his answer to me. He was disturbed at that time as it was during the panic and I left his office feeling very much humiliated. Mr. Morgan asked: 'Do you think you know more about how it ought to be drawn than I do?' I allowed I didn't and dropped it. I thought I was entitled to know more about it than I did. I thought I was entitled to know why we were paying $11,000,000 for a great big basketful of stuff that was not worth the value of it. I never did know what the real motive for the deal was. I tried to find out and failed. I do not mean to convey the idea that anybody got away with money he was not entitled to."

Mellen explained that at the board meeting when this report was adopted, Hemingway, a director, entered the office and said:

"We are flying here, spending $11,000,000. I'd like to know something about it."

Others Get Cold Feet. Mellen said he replied, "Suppose that you go an ddn odut; I barked my shin trying."

"I offered to appoint any director on a committee to get the information, but they all ducked. After the meeting of the board there was quite a Sanhedrin in my office. Several directors were disgusted. One of them, Mr. Skinner exclaimed, 'Steady Caesarina Philip! What have you been doing here with $11,000,000 of New Haven money? I suggested 'I will appoint you a committee of one to find out'—Skinner said, 'Not on your life.' Mellen added grimly:

"There was enough said by Skinner and Hemingway to satisfy the other directors."

Mellen said that the original idea was that the Westchester would cost the New Haven about $5,000,000. Mellen said he also had expected that he would be made the head of the entire business. He said Mr. Rockefeller favored buying the Westchester but was staggered at the amount it cost.

SOCIABILITY AUTO TOUR TO COLORADO IS PLANNED

From Tuesday's Daily. A Wichita Falls sociability tour to Colorado points is being talked of among motor enthusiasts here. On the tour it is proposed to visit some of the points represented by the party of Colorado motorists who were through here last week.

The plan is for twenty-five or thirty automobiles to make the trip. It is pointed out that more than that number will make the trip the Colorado way during the summer months and that by going together they could have a more enjoyable trip and at the same time advertise Wichita Falls. It is expected the tour ought to be held in the near future. The plan is to have a picnic at the Elk's club on the trip.

VIEWS PRESENTED BY JUDGE PRESCOTT

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS ADDRESS ALL AUDIENCE HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

FAVORS SEVERAL REFORMS

Advocate Limitation of Tenure of Office by Individuals—Discusses Present Incumbent

From Wednesday's Daily. Before a small but attentive crowd Tuesday night at the court house Judge W. A. Prescott of Paducah, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress set forth his views on some of the questions before the nation today.

Judge Prescott makes no pretense of being an orator. He is a plain man of rather short stature and gives the impression of being a man of deep earnestness and after he had spoken last night more than one of his audience was heard to remark as they left the room "he's no fool."

The speaker was introduced by E. P. Hanes who spoke of Judge Prescott as a farmer, lawyer and county judge of Cottle county. He said that it was important that this district have a live and progressive representative in Congress, one who was in harmony with the administration and who was in truth and in deed a representative of the people of his district.

Promising to return later in the campaign to explain his position in detail on the issues before the people Judge Prescott briefly and informally outlined his position in a few of these questions, including the tariff, trusts, prohibition, tenure of office, rural credits, agricultural legislation and other matters.

He endorsed the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill but declared that he did not favor the revision of it until every particle of protection was removed from the tariff laws.

Anti-Trust Legislation. He declared in favor of amendment of the anti-trust law saying, "We must say in plain words what can and what cannot be done." Guilt and its punishment, he said, must be made permanent. The very force of the government, he said, should be used to protect clean honest investments, anything else would be cowardly.

He endorsed the initiative, referendum and recall declaring it a correct principle of representative government and that it would "vitalize the forces of free government." The prohibition question he said would go down and "there will be no peace as long as this government protects a traffic that makes beasts of men and victims of women and children."

He advocated a limitation of tenure of office to an individual and a restriction of office-holders and to regulate private life those who make politics a trade and office holding a means of livelihood. In this connection he called attention to the fact that John John Stephens whom he aspires to succeed in now serving for breakfast as a congressman having been in Congress eighteen years.

"If he owns a home or rents one in this district we would like to know it," the speaker said, adding, "during the last six years he has not lived in the district long enough for his neighbors to borrow coffee for breakfast." Bryan and Wilson.

He gave high praise to the diplomacy of Bryan and Wilson and his reference to them brought forth the only cheer of the meeting.

He declared in favor of the extension of the farmers co-operative and demonstration work of the department of agriculture and said that the time had come when the farmers must follow their products to the consumer. Produce, he said, often rotted in the fields while the consumers in the city went hungry or were borne down by the high cost of living. Not overproduction, but under-consumption was the problem that must be met, he said.

Judge Prescott declared in favor of the widest opportunity for trade on exchanges but would limit the deals to bona fide transactions where delivery was contemplated. He favored a system of rural credits. He said that he did not get his views on this subject from theory but that he had "elbowed with the situation at first hand." He said that he had worked as a farm hand at $13 per month, had rented on the halves, a third and fourth and had battled to pay out on a farm he had bought on credit.

OIL MAN KILLED IN FIGHT AT ELECTRA

NIGHT WATCHMAN'S ATTEMPT TO ARREST DRILLER RESULTS IN FATAL SHOOTING

OFFICER IS UNDER ARREST

Considerable Feeling is Aroused Following Shooting and Accused Man is Brought Here

From Wednesday's Daily. Night Watchman V. L. Case at Electra Tuesday night shot and killed Hugh Erby, a driller. The shooting took place in front of the Cooper pool hall on Cleveland avenue at about 8:30 o'clock. Two shots were fired. One inflicted a flesh wound on the knee and the other took effect in the left thigh ranging upward severing several arteries. Erby died half an hour after the shooting. Physicians say that he bled to death.

Case after the shooting gave himself into the custody of Deputy Sheriff Harper and was brought to Wichita Falls last night and lodged in jail. The trip here was made in an automobile. The shooting followed an attempt of Case to arrest Erby. A scuffle resulted in which Erby shot Case. During this scuffle the shots were fired. The scuffle lasted for some time after the shots. Erby finally sank to the pavement and was later carried to Dr. Patton's office where he died just as he was being placed on the operating table.

Tried To Arrest Him. At the jail here this morning Case talked of the shooting freely. He said he had heard a man cursing a little further down the street and had warned him to stop. The man stopped and walked into the pool hall. When he, Case, reached the front of the pool hall Erby was standing in front. A lady passed and Erby began cursing. He walked up to Erby and took hold of his arm and told him that he was under arrest. Erby said he hadn't done anything and that he wasn't going to be arrested at the pool hall. Erby continued to scuffle with Case, Case's neck and reaching for the gun that Case wore. Two others also grabbed him, Case. One of the men had hold of Case's arm, the officer said and both had hold of the revolver, a .45, when the scuffle broke up. Erby continued to scuffle for some time after the firing of the shots.

The shooting was witnessed by a number of persons, it is said, but it has been difficult to get a definite statement from Erby. One report says that Case laid his hand on Erby's shoulder and told him to consider himself under arrest; that Erby said he had done nothing to be arrested for and that Case had no warrant and he wouldn't go with him, but if he had done anything he would give himself up to the city marshal. Case took hold of his arm and the fighting started.

A companion of Erby's named Hines is said to have asked Case not to shoot when he drew his revolver and to have seized the weapon to prevent Case from shooting and was struggling with Case over the possession of the weapon when the shots were fired.

Much Feeling Aroused. Reports from Electra say that there was considerable feeling there against Case following the shooting and that had he remained there last night a riot might have been attempted. Erby was a powerful man and had given the officers trouble on more than one occasion. Last summer he is said to have whipped the town marshal at Electra and on another occasion to have defied arrest. Case, however, said this morning that he did not know of these incidents until after the shooting. Case bore a bad scar on his left temple almost at the corner of his eye. He said that this was inflicted by Erby with a knife but that he did not know whether the knife was open at the time or not.

A formal charge of murder was filed in Justice Howard's court against Case this morning by County Attorney T. R. Boone. Case made arrangements with counsel at Electra to represent him and it is understood that he will be held in jail until telephone inquiries were received this morning from Electra citizens asking about bail for Case and offering to go on his bond.

Dead Man Unmarried. Funeral arrangements for Erby had not been completed this morning. He was about thirty years old and was unmarried. He leaves two brothers and a sister who live at Electra where his brothers are oil field workers.

Case is about thirty-five years old and has a family, who are not with him at Electra, however. He has been night watchman at Electra since last October.

A bond made up at Electra in the sum of $5,000 was brought down this afternoon and was accepted by County Attorney Boone and Case allowed his liberty pending a hearing. The bond was signed by the following: Elias Gissner, A. A. Honaker, A. N. Treese, Sam E. Honaker, J. H. Marriott, Ed Schaffke, J. L. Parker, W. B. Austin, Sid W. Smith, L. J. Bullitt, S. B. Marchant, E. R. Slater, C. E. McDonald, F. O. Crockett and J. R. Brewer.

SOUTH TEXAS CATTLEMEN ARE GETTING TOP PRICES

St. Louis, May 20.—If South Texas cattlemen do not revel in prosperity this year they will have no one to blame but themselves. Never before in the history of the modern packing industry have South Texas grassers brought so much money on the market as they are commanding this spring.

A top of $7.90 has been paid this month for several trains of South Texas grassers at St. Louis. Average range of Texas steer sales at that market during the past week was $7.15 to $7.65 per 100.

Four or five years ago the Texas ranch owners considered themselves lucky if they could get $5.50 for the best of their grassers. Now even the commonest of Mexican steers sells above $6.

WOMAN SUBDUES PRISONER BY USING HER REVOLVER

Wife of Jailer Ed Carnes Proves Herself Equal to Emergency When Trusty is Unruly

From Wednesday's Daily. A shot fired from a 45-caliber revolver in the hands of Mrs. Ed Carnes, wife of Deputy Sheriff and Jailer Carnes, caused a trusty who had defied her and who was leaving the jail yard to change his mind about the matter. However he would not obey her orders to enter the jail and be locked up.

The shot brought Justice W. J. Howard, a Confederate veteran and ex-sheriff to the scene. Judge Howard tied the trusty who resisted. Judge Howard called for help, a young man in the crowd that had gathered responding and together they forced the resisting prisoner into a cell where he was locked up.

The prisoner was a trusty who had been allowed the freedom of the jail yard. Yesterday during the absence of Jailer Carnes who was out of town he went up town and became intoxicated. He returned to the jail and when Mrs. Carnes ordered him into a cell he defied her authority and started to walk away. She ran into the house and returned with a revolver which she fired in the ground at the feet of the prisoner. This apparently chilled his desire to leave the yard.

FIRST REFUSED AN INTERVIEW

Admitted Later to Present Suggestions From Rome That Dictator Quit His Seat

By Associated Press. Vera Cruz, May 19.—Archbishop Mora Y. Del Rio was driven out of Mexico City by Provisional President Huerta, according to information reaching here today.

The archbishop, this story says, sought an interview with Huerta which at first was refused, but was later accorded him upon the representation that the churchman had a communication from the Pope. The communication, it is stated, proved to be a suggestion that Gen. Huerta resign.

The president appeared to take this advice dispassionately, making no reply. On the following day, however, a messenger came to the archbishop with a warning from Huerta that he would do well to leave the country.

EXPECT TO FINISH BECKER TRIAL EARLY THIS WEEK

By Associated Press. New York, May 16.—A recess today in the trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant and head of the strong arm squad in charge of the suppressing of gambling, accused as the instigator of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, whose revelations it is alleged, he feared might stamp him as the recipient of graft in return for police protection, halted Monday the famous tragedy of the underworld. District Attorney Whitman expects to finish the presentation of the state's case Monday and the defense probably will complete its rebuttal by the middle of the week. From this, it is expected to get a verdict one week from today.

"CLUTTER" WOULD BE MISSED

After All, This Must Remain Always a Matter of Individual Opinion.

Men are just as much disposed toward the cluttering habit as women, but not one in 10,000 will admit it. The average man is forever bringing things home. By this we mean things that nobody else in the house has the slightest interest in. They may take the form of books, of pamphlets, of pictures, of bric-a-brac of various kinds, of fishing apparatus, of golf sticks, of group photographs or of friendly souvenirs from business associates, and he insists that they shall all be kept in view. Usually they crowd other clutter which the average woman has spent a great part of her life in collecting, and which is found on all the mantel pieces, on all the stands, on all the tables and on all the walls of all the rooms of the house. Then as the children grow up they bring things home that are dear to each one of them respectively, and these, too, must be kept in view.

But when all this is said, an important point has still been omitted. Clutter may, often does, cease to be clutter in the eyes and thoughts of the family. There are instances in which it has come to be regarded as family treasure. With all the complaints that is raised against it, it is often grievously missed when parted with. So, truly is this the case, so closely interwoven does family life become with all of its surroundings and associations, that it is difficult to conclude here without asking a question that will doubtless arise in the minds of thousands of readers, namely, What, after all, would home be without its clutter?—Christian Science Monitor.

MAY BE RALEIGH'S SETTLERS

Group of People in North Carolina Hard to Account for in Any Other Way.

There lives in the woods and swamps of Robeson county, North Carolina, a strange group of people in appearance somewhat resembling Portuguese or mulattoes. Their manners, customs, and personal appearances are unlike those of any other race on the American continent, says the Southern Workman, and intercourse with their neighbors is limited to the extent which necessity demands. Harking back to 1687, it will be recalled that one of the expeditions of colonists sent out from England by Sir Walter Raleigh arrived on Roanoke Island, North Carolina, under the command of Capt. John White. Capt. John White never saw his people after he left them on Roanoke Island and returned to England for supplies. When he returned the little band, it is supposed, had gone to the mainland and been absorbed in an Indian tribe. It is now believed that the descendants of this tribe of Indians are at this time living in Robeson county, where more than thirty families have names similar to those of White's colonists.

TRAVEL ALL THE WAY HERE FROM WICHITA, KANSAS, UNATTENDED

Police and Others Take Little Ones in Hand While Effort is Made to Locate "Grandma"

From Tuesday's Daily. Travelling all the way from Wichita, Kansas, unattended a little girl apparently about seven years old and a baby boy, aged about two, arrived at the Union Station this afternoon but no one was there to meet them. The children were without a written message of any kind or any other means of identification except that the little girl said her name was "F. C." and that they were going to Grandma Carter's as a laundry man had brought them without money but kind hearted travelers say that they got something to eat and the colored matron took care of them while an effort was being made to find out their destination or something about them.

The little girl carried a hard satchel and in this was found a trunk check. The trunk was located in the baggage room and opened and was found well filled with children's clothing. Some of the garments bore the name "Hallie Grider" as a laundry mark but the little girl said her name was not Hallie and that she did not know Hallie.

Chief of Police Hall returned of the plight of the children and began an investigation. The baby boy, a chubby, pretty and vivacious youngster took an immediate liking to the Chief and had lots of fun pulling at the official's moustache. Finally someone was found who said they knew a Mrs. Carter who lived in the vicinity of the Farmers' Union gin and who said he remembered having seen the same children there last year. An automobile was sent after her.

LATER—The police department located "Grandma," who is Mrs. Carter living near the brick and tile plant. The children were turned over to her. She said she had resided in the country that they were coming.

CASTLE FOR SHOP GIRL

For many years the Count Greban de Pontourny, owner of a stately castle and large grounds in beautiful Touraine, has been orphaned each day in Paris by the sight of thousands of pretty little maidens, dressmakers' assistants and shopgirls whom the hour of noon liberates for their daily walk along the boulevards. Noticing how some of them, rosy and fresh at first, grew pale from their work in the crowded sewing-rooms, he left when he died recently the castle and its park to the maidens of Paris. He also provided sufficient money to maintain the castle with a perpetual house party of young girls resting and re-creating there. In future any mid-sets needing a holiday has only to apply and to show that she is free from infectious complaint to be received there as a guest free of cost.

HORSES ARRIVING FOR JUNE'S RACING

TWENTY-THREE ARE NOW IN TRAINING ON COURSE AT LAKE WICHITA

MANY OTHERS DUE SHORTLY

Expected Fully 100 Will Be Here For Opening of Race Meet On June 23

From Monday's Daily. Moore & Company of Waco, well known horsemen, came in today with a string of five running horses including George Washington, Colonel Austin, Young Pansy, Our Leader and Jellico. The arrival of these horses swells the string in training at the lake grounds to twenty-three and inquiries received by Secretary T. J. Jeffries indicate that the next twenty days will see over a hundred head of race horses at work on the track here.

Another recent arrival for training here was George Ham of Taneks, Kansas, with his famous pacer, General Bellepierre with a mark of 2:10 3/4. Charley Harold is here with his noted stake horse Pedro.

Mary Malone, 2:14 1/4, Baroness May, a green pacer, Alice C, a three year old pacer and Horace Gans, a trotting colt, comprise the string which T. J. Jeffries of Childress is training. Al Diffeback of Paris, is here with his pacer, Counterpart. Jim Gardner of Fort Worth, has arrived with Patrick E, his well known pacer with Joe Radford of Florence, is here with his running mare, Flying Pearl. J. W. Williams of San Antonio, has five head of jumpers here.

The wet weather of course has prevented much training work but a day or two of sunshine will bring busy scenes at the track. The meet here opens June 23.

Secretary Jeffries has received an announcement from Clarendon that the merchants there have increased the free for all pace stake to $1000 and that the stockmen of Donley county have raised a purse of $500 for a one and one-eighth mile derby. Childress also has raised a $1,000 purse for the free for all pace.

THEN

The first woman to become a regularly ordained minister was born 89 years ago today. She was Antoinette Louise Brown, later Mrs. Samuel C. Blackwell, the daughter of a farmer of Dorchester, N. Y. When she came to consider a college education in 1843 the Collegiate Institute, now Oberlin College, was the only institution of its kind in America where women could pursue a collegiate education. She graduated in the literary course and in the theological school, but although she established later a reputation as a brilliant speaker, she was refused a license as a preacher. She turned to lecturing upon women's rights and was a leading member of the first Woman's Rights Convention that met in Worcester, Mass., in 1850. Three years later the bar against her entry to the ministry was lowered and she was ordained in the literary course of the National Church at South Butler, N. Y. Later she joined the Unitarian ministry, always continuing her agitation for woman suffrage.

NOW

Today more than 3,500 women are preaching as regularly ordained ministers in the United States. More than 7,000 others are regularly certified physicians and surgeons. Probably 3,000 more are registered as members of the legal profession, and thousands are scattered among various professions and industries which half a century ago were considered solely fields of masculine endeavor. Many cities today have women as mayors and heads of city departments. State and city school boards are headed by women. There are a score of women who have the right to practice law before the United States supreme court. Many colleges have adopted co-education, while there are more than thirty colleges devoted exclusively to the feminine sex. In the universities, colleges and technical schools in the United States during the last year there were over 5,000 women professors and instructors and more than 100,000 women students.

KING IS FORCED TO LISTEN TO SPEAKERS

WOMAN CHAINS HERSELF TO SEAT AT MATINEE WHEN ROYALTY ATTENDS

POLICE COURT IN TURMOIL

Male Suff Plays Marcellaise While Women Fight—Valuable Pictures are Badly Damaged

London, May 22.—King George and Queen Mary were compelled to listen to the harangue of a militant suffragette this afternoon while they were attending a matinee at his majesty's theatre. A woman rose in the stalls and began to address the king. "You Russian, Carl!" she shrieked, and they tried to get her out but found that she had been chained to the seat. They had to file through a link before she could be removed. While this was in progress, half a dozen women in different parts of the theatre shouted at his majesty. One of them jumped on the stage and began a speech. When she had been thrown out, others began. Eventually all the disturbers were ejected. The police on duty outside had a hard struggle to save them from rough handling by the hostile crowd.

Art Treasures Ruined
The "wild women" of the Women's Social and Political Union continued their terrorizing tactics today by making two separate attacks on the national art treasurer. The turmoil of the battle in the vicinity of Buckingham Palace yesterday barely had subsided when early today a woman armed with a loaded cane ruined five masterpieces in the National gallery. Almost simultaneously, another woman wrecked a picture hanging in the Royal Academy of Art. Both women were arrested. A little later the magistrate before whom were brought the fifty seven women arrested in connection with yesterday's disturbance was compelled to adjourn the proceedings because the accused created such a din that nothing could be heard.

Valuable Pictures Damaged
The pictures damaged at the National Gallery were a Madonna and Child, Landscape with the Death of St. Peter, Christ's Agony in the Garden and two others. The Royal Academy was filled with a fashionable throng when a woman drew a butcher's cleaver which she had concealed in her clothing and dashed at the picture Primavera by George Clausen. Attendants at once seized her and only the presence of police saved her from rough handling by spectators. Both women refused to give their names.

The National Gallery vandal left a trail of blood behind her from cuts from broken glass. The National Gallery was immediately closed and all the students turned out.

The scenes at Bow Street court when the women arrested yesterday witness all previous efforts of the militant party. A male suffragist who some how had found a perch among the rafters blew ear piercing variations of the Marcellaise on a cornet and then sounded the charge. This was the signal for volleys of bricks of flour and other missiles to be thrown at the magistrate, Sir John Dickinson.

Police Court Scenes
Three policemen were required to prevent one of the prisoners from throwing herself over the rails of the enclosure. Another woman removed her shoe and hurled it at the head of the magistrate, who caught it deftly in his extended hand. When he suspended the hearing, he ordered the court cleared and there was a free-for-all fight. Subsequently the women were again brought in. Most of them were bound over to keep the peace for six months, but they unanimously refused to find sureties.

T. O. Grandpre of Chicago, who was knocked unconscious by a mounted policeman during the raid yesterday at Buckingham Palace, told the police today he was robbed of $250 by two men who came to his assistance.

BECKER'S FATE NOW IN HANDS OF JURY

CASE OF POLICE LIEUTENANT IS CLOSED SHORTLY AFTER NOON TODAY.

JUSTICE SEABURY'S CHARGE

Says If Guilt Has Been Proven, Death Penalty Should Then Be Administered

New York, May 22.—Police Lieutenant Charles Becker appeared in court a few minutes after the jurors were seated and listened to Justice Seabury's charge to the jury. His wife sat at the side of the room. The justice said:

"This defendant is charged with murder in the first degree. The people do not claim he fired the shot that killed Rosenthal, but they charge him with procuring the commission of the crime. If this defendant as a lieutenant of police, had a murder done, justice demands that he be punished by being sentenced to death, but he must be proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

"If this defendant either directly or indirectly procured the murder of Herman Rosenthal, he is guilty as charged."

The case was given into the jury's hands at 12:52 this afternoon. Justice Seabury had been nearly three hours delivering his charge.

Dr. Edward W. Ryan, Released By Huerta, Back In America

DR. EDWARD W. RYAN

Washington, May 22.—Secretary of State Bryan put the seal of secrecy on Dr. Edward W. Ryan of Scranton, Pa., who was imprisoned and threatened with death as an American spy by the federal authorities at Fresnillo, Mexico, soon after the seizure of Vera Cruz and who is now here. Dr. Ryan's release was secured from Huerta upon the strongest kind of representations from the United States, but only on the condition that he pledge himself not to disclose any of the circumstances which surrounded his imprisonment or the information affecting the plans of the Huerta forces which had come into his possession. Dr. Ryan went to Mexico nearly two years ago to study typhoid fever. He was at Mexico City in the employ of the neutral White Cross association at the time of the bombardment of the city which resulted in the overthrow of Madero.

Pittsburg Manufacturers Alleged To Have Been In Plot—No Danger To Canal Possible

Washington, May 22.—The great steel locks in the Panama canal are as strong and safe as engineering skill can make them, and there is not the slightest danger to life or property in their use, notwithstanding the disclosure of attempted fraud in the supply of proper metal for their construction. This statement was made at the annual meeting of the Associated Western Yale Clubs. The local committee made trips to many nearby towns in order to create interest in the gathering and swell the attendance. A program of sports, golf, tennis and the like is the chief feature of the program.

Former President William H. Taft, now a member of the Yale faculty, will be toastmaster at a banquet to be held tomorrow night. Other speakers will be Prof. Phelps of New Haven; Judge Penka of Brooklyn.

WILL RENEW INVITATION TO CARRANZA TO JOIN MEDIATORS

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 22.—In circles close to Mexican constitutionalists here, it was definitely expected that within twenty-four hours, a renewed invitation would be extended to the constitutionalists to be represented at the Niagara Falls mediation conference.

Whether General Carranza would accept the invitation was not known, but it was positively asserted that should he do so, it would be without declaring an armistice, or agreeing in any way to check his campaign against Huerta's forces.

Thousands of pounds of binder twine are also being hauled out by the farmers. Sales of twine in thousand pound lots have not been unusual by local dealers and several sales of 2,000 pounds to a single purchaser have been reported.

Farmers of some communities are pooling their wants and are making their twine purchases together so as to get reduced quotations on quantity lots.

Wheat is now beginning to turn and the latter part of next week will bear the brunt of binders in many parts of the county.

A number of new threshing outfits are also being unloaded. One company is reported to have sold fifty outfits for delivery to Wichita Falls and other points in Wichita county.

MELLEN CONCLUDES TESTIMONY TODAY

TELLS HOW PUBLIC SENTIMENT FOR NEW HAVEN WAS AROUSED BY "PRAYERS"

UNDERWRITING BY DIRECTORS

Mellen Declares Such Action Could Not Have Influenced Their Relations With New Haven

Washington, May 22.—Charles S. Mellen, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, concluded his testimony before the Interstate Commerce Commission at 12:40 o'clock today after four and a half days of grueling interrogation on the New Haven's financial affairs. In efforts to get control of the Worcester street railway, it was necessary for the New Haven to have a bill passed by the Massachusetts legislature, Mr. Mellen explained. He said that Sherman Whipple, a strong, resourceful and notable antagonist was opposed to the New Haven in this matter. Mr. Mellen said:

"Finally we got our bill passed through the legislature by the uprising of the body politic in our favor."

Prayers From the Hills
"Did the prayers from the hills of the Hilltown association have anything to do with the enactment of that legislation?"

"Yes, I think so. All prayers of that kind towards the right are efficacious."

"It made no difference what party was in power?"

"Well, we always tried to get under the best umbrella. The fact is a germ was working in the public mind in our favor and we obtained thereby the legislation we needed."

Reading the prayers from the hills, Mr. Folk asked Mr. Mellen if he knew what was paid for it.

"I do not know but it was worth what we paid for it," Mr. Mellen replied.

Mr. Folk then asked Mr. Mellen if he had taken up the purchase by the New Haven of the Tarrytown, White Plains and Mamaroneck railroad, Mr. Mellen said:

Experience With Bosses
"That was an electric line running through White Plains; it was sold through public auction and brought between $350,000 and $1,000,000."

"Who bid against you?"

"The Third Avenue reorganization committee of New York."

Mr. Mellen intimated that the people who objected to the New Haven's purchase were the political bosses. He said:

"They usually are on hand. I haven't had much experience with them—I had my experience with them in the Westchester transaction, that was enough."

Enters Lighting Business
Mr. Mellen testified that the New Haven's entry into the lighting business was due to its leasing the Connecticut Railroad and Lighting Company. He said the par value of the Waterbury Gas Company's stock was twenty-five dollars; the New Haven bought control of this company. Mr. Folk read a letter to Mr. Mellen from a director of the Waterbury concern saying he was willing to sell 1250 shares at such prices as the New Haven could afford to pay. "Not less than fifty."

Mr. Folk thought this was an offer to sell at fifty, but Mr. Mellen did not think so. He said the Waterbury director was paid sixty dollars a share for his stock. Mr. Folk asked about the purchase of the Worcester Railway and Investment Company and asked why William A. Read and Company of New York got ten dollars more a share than was paid to others.

Mr. Mellen said:

After He Went To Bed
"That was a hold-up. An intimation came to me that if we wanted legislation it would be a good idea to trade for stock."

"Was this in writing?"

"These things never come in writing but they reach the spot nevertheless."

Mr. Mellen repeated previous testimony about $140,000 in commission paid to H. F. Kelly and Folk asked:

"Have you told us everything about this transaction?"

"Well, after I go to bed at night"

PROSPEROUS ERA COMING, SAYS GARY

HEAD OF STEEL CORPORATION TAKES OPTIMISTIC VIEW OF OUTLOOK AT PRESENT

"LOOK AT THE BIG CROPS"

Not Even the Politicians Can Take That Away," He Declares in an Address Today

New York, May 22.—The country is entering into a new era of big business, according to the address of Judge H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation at the annual meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute today. He said:

"As I read the signs of the times, there is a well developed sentiment throughout this country, in favor of giving big business a fair chance. I said six months ago that in my opinion we were approaching the door of prosperity. Do not forget that we are six months nearer that door."

"There are some favorable things to be considered. In the first place, we turn to the years' crops; that is something that cannot be taken away even by politicians."

If You Have or Know of a Delicate Child Read This Letter

"My little daughter Louise, age 9 years, has always been delicate, anemic, had no appetite and seemed listless and we could not seem to find anything that would help her, until we were advised to give her Vinol. She started taking it six weeks ago and inside of two weeks she showed a marked improvement both in appetite, vim and looks. Being so well pleased with the results, I continued giving it to her, and words fail to express my gratitude and faith in Vinol both as a blood maker and body builder. As my child was anemic for so long makes the reason all the stronger for me to recommend it to others in similar condition." George E. Munro, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Vinol restores health and strength in conditions like this because in a natural manner it increases the appetite, tones up the digestive organs, enriches the blood and strengthens every organ of the body.

Every bottle of Vinol is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. Miller Drug Store, P. S. For any skin trouble try our Sazo Salve. We guarantee it. (Adv.)

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work. I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16. Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too. Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

The score cards were very unique, being post card views of Wichita Falls, cleverly fashioned into suit cases by the hostess and the guests were invited to accompany the honoree on her trip. The tables were named for stations en route to Fort Worth and after each game the successful player's baggage was checked to the next station. At the conclusion of the series the prize, a pair of silk hose, went to Mrs. Sammons who had completed her journey first, as indicated by the tags on her suit case. The honoree was presented with a Wichita Falls souvenir spoon. Although Mrs. McCullough has resided here only a comparatively short time she has won many friends who much regret her departure. A dainty refreshment course was served and in this a pink and white color motif was observed. The guest list on this occasion included: Mesdames Sherrod, Toney, Fontaine, Cravens, Sammons, Bibb, Wade, Walker, Larkin, Huff, Roberts, Pounds, Cullinan, of Petrolia; Thorborg, Frather, Peyton, Gwynn, Datson, Misses Chamberlain, Dent and Sherrod and the honoree.

CONSTIPATION OVERTHROWN

Dethroned by Dodson's Liver Tone. Thousands Who Feared Constipation Now Laugh at It

It's little wonder that constipation has been called the "King of Human Ills." Not that constipation in itself is so dangerous or so alarming, but that constipation so surely leads to many and dangerous complications. At least 80 people out of every 100 are shocked at some time or other by constipation's reign of terror.

But thank goodness thousands have found a safe and pleasant way to stop constipation. And it's not by calomel dosing either, because calomel is anything but safe. It's by taking Dodson's Liver Tone, the harmless vegetable-fruit which is recommended and guaranteed by your druggist, who will refund purchase price if you're not satisfied.

Dodson's Liver Tone is fast displacing the use of dangerous calomel. This is because Dodson's Liver Tone accomplishes exactly the same results as does calomel but without the dreaded and insupportable after effects which often follow the use of calomel. Dodson's Liver Tone should be in every home in the land. Get a bottle, 50c today. It means good-bye to dulled brains, bilious headaches, "furred" tongues and a score or more of complaints which arise from constipation and a sluggish liver. (Adv't)

AT THE MOVIES

The Majestic. "Brewster's Millions" may be seen today in moving pictures at the Majestic. In this Jesse M. Lasky production Edward Ayles plays the role that he played in the original production. The attempts of the young millionaire to spend a million in order that he may win a much larger fortune form the basis of this clever play that made such a hit on the legitimate.

The Empress. Florence Turner is showing here today in "The Lucky Stone" also a two part military drama, "Crossed Swords." The program is completed by a Pathé comedy, "The Patched Adonis."

There's a certain charm to colonial pumps that appeals to women of refinement. This new Cleopatra is all the rage in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and elsewhere. They are really just coming in and are frequently asked for in this city by best dressers.

We have them, and other varieties that are now the rage. If we did not have the buying connection Selz Royal Blue stores enjoy, we would probably be obliged to ask six or seven dollars as asked elsewhere for these pumps.

You can buy the latest styles here for $3.50 and $4.00. The values you get in Selz Footwear is creating wide-spread comment everywhere.

Major Robert Cobb's Birthday Occasion For Interesting Reminiscence By His Nephew, Irvin S. Cobb, The Noted Writer

Yesterday was the seventy-eighth birthday of Major Robert Cobb of Wichita Falls, ranking artillery officer of the Confederate army, and one of the most distinguished survivors of the conflict between the States. The anniversary was appropriately observed by the members of the family in this city, who rejoice in the major's continued good health and vigor. Irvin S. Cobb, the noted writer and humorist, whose articles in the Saturday Evening Post have been such a delight to those who have read them, is a nephew of Major Cobb, and at the request of the Times he has contributed some of his early recollections of Major Cobb. If Major Cobb and his battery won undying fame on the battlefield, the fame of his nephew as a writer is scarcely less enduring. Irvin S. Cobb's literary career began at Paducah, Kentucky. Later he worked on New York papers, becoming staff humorist for the New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch. More recently he has become a magazine writer. But this is about Mr. Cobb and here is what his nephew has to say of him:

Major Robert Cobb, ranking artillery officer of the Confederate Army, whose seventy-eighth birthday was celebrated Thursday.

To the Editor of the Times:
I am in receipt of your letter, telling me that the birthday of my beloved uncle, Major Robert Cobb, comes late during the present month, and asking me for a few lines, giving my early remembrances of him.

My uncle left Kentucky a great many years ago, when I was probably not over five, or possibly six years old; but there lingers in my mind the memory of a certain Sunday afternoon in summer. At least I am sure that it was summer, and I think that it must have been a Sunday afternoon. My father took me to a house, still standing in the town of Paducah—a house which was then at the far end of the main street, an old fashioned red brick house, with a pillared portico running across the front, and many maple trees in the yard. That must have been considerably more than thirty years ago; but the picture today is fresh in my mind and to me, my uncle is still a small, straight, alert little man with a head of bright red hair and, I think, a red beard. Some of his children were there, too; but I remember only that there were children, and not how they looked. I am ashamed to say that I do not recall my dear Aunt Jennie as having been present at all.

It seems to me that it was late in the afternoon when Uncle Bob brought out from the house a tattered battle flag, barred with red and white, and full of tears and rips and shot-holes. It must surely have been the battle flag of Cobb's Battery; there my recollection of the incident ends—and the rest is blank. I have not seen him since.

The people of Wichita Falls know him as a citizen of many years' residence and as the ranking artillery officer of the Confederacy yet surviving. I have no doubt his hair is silvered now, and perhaps with the years his step has lost some of its sprightliness. So you know him; but to me he is still a little red-headed man in the very prime of his life, holding up a battered banner on the lawn of an old-time Kentucky house with the sunlight sifting through the leaves of the maples and dappling him and his flag with patches of light and shade.

Once in a while, when I return home to Kentucky, I will always be home to me—I go to the little county of Lyon where he was born, and his father before him. Always when this happens, a few bent, grizzled old men come to see me and clasp my hand, not because I am a writer whose name occasionally appears in magazines and newspapers, but because I am the nephew of Bob Cobb, their late commander.

There are only a handful of these old men left. But in their dimmed eyes, still burns the unquenchable fire of the courage and the fortitude that made the name of Cobb's Battery a name to conjure with fifty-odd years ago.

The fact that my people helped to make history in '61-'65 is to me the dearest heritage I can ever know or transmit to my descendants; and always my uncle and his honored record will be worth more to me than I can tell in a letter which is intended for publication.

I remain, Sir, yours very truly,
IRVIN S. COBB.

TRUCK GROWERS PROPOSE MARKETING ORGANIZATION

Plans For Association To Sell Products Through Co-operative Effort Being Formulated

Organization of a truck growers association here for the co-operative marketing of fruit, vegetables and other products and the development of a local and a shipping market is being agitated here following the publication of a letter in The Times several weeks ago written by a farmer setting forth some of the tribulations of the farmers and truck growers in marketing their produce.

R. H. Miller, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and J. W. Campbell, agricultural demonstration agent are taking a lead in the movement and will probably call a meeting of the farmers and truck growers for some day next week.

Local commission men have given assurance that they will be willing and anxious to buy produce from local growers if they can be assured of a reasonably steady and adequate supply up to a requisite standard.

LIEPOLDERS WINS PLAY OFF IN GOOD GAME THURSDAY

Defeat Irish Lads By Decisive Score—Lads and Black Cats To Play Today

Twilight League Standing.

Club	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Liepolders	3	3	0	1.000
Irish Lads	2	1	1	.500
P. O. Stammers	3	1	2	.333
Black Cats	2	0	2	.000

The Liepolders settled down into first place by themselves, when they administered defeat to the Irish Lads Thursday afternoon by a score of six to two. A former game between the two resulted in a tie but the Liepolders grabbed the big end in the play-off yesterday.

The Lads started briskly, shutting out their opponents in one-two-three style in the first inning and putting one run across in their half of the frame, but in the second the Liepolders came back strong and counted five tallies. That seemed to settle things, although the Lads made a stubborn effort to retrieve the lost lead. Hard hitting prevailed on both sides, but a sign seemed in better form than Smith and his support was superior.

This afternoon the Irish Lads and Black Cats will meet on the Twilight lot, completing the first round of the schedule.

1/3 Less Cottolene is required than butter or lard.

Prove this claim for yourself. Take any favorite recipe that calls for shortening. Use Cottolene instead of butter or lard, only take one-third less Cottolene. Just try it and see if you do not have equally as good if not better results, when using Cottolene.

Do this every time you cook and you will notice a difference in your grocery bills.

Foods made with Cottolene are more wholesome and digest more easily than those made with ordinary shortenings.

Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill's Opinion:
"For several years I have used Cottolene in my own kitchen and find it very satisfactory. I am glad to commend it."
Why not begin today the use of Cottolene? Every housewife will be interested in our valuable FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS, compiled by Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln and four other cookery experts.

Wichitan Is Arrested In Houston On Charge Of "Jay-Walking" There
Wichitans who have been the victims of practical jokes (and their name is legion) played by W. H. Cousins of the Palace Drug Store can now point to him as a shining example of the bitter getting bit, hoist by his own petard, and other things. Witness this from the Houston Post: "That 'jay-walking' ordinance has proved a most successful fumakker, and during every convention the practical jokers get busy and the unwisdom are made victims. W. H. Cousins of Wichita Falls is the latest victim and now the members of the State board of pharmacy were strolling along Main street, Tuesday evening, and his bright idea struck one of the local members have a good laugh on Cousins, a need for playing practical jokes. The officer on the beat was put wise and Cousins, unsuspecting, was steered across the street in the middle of the block. "The officer was on the job and Mr. Cousins was 'pinched.' Mr. Cousins demanded to know the reason for being arrested and when told that he was jay-walking he pleaded with the officer to be reasonable. The officer was hard hearted and led his prisoner into a cigar store. He was about to telephone for the wagon when one of the jokers yanked Mr. Cousins as a visitor and the officer turned him loose with a warning. "It did not take Mr. Cousins many minutes to realize that his friends had played a joke on him and he declared that he would buy them anything they wanted if they would promise to keep mum. They promised, ate a good dinner at the Rice hotel at Mr. Cousins' expense, and then headed straight for The Post to tell the story."

16 "COME OUT ON THE MAIN LINE"

DR. SCOVILLE'S SERMON FOR RAILROAD MEN BRINGS EXCELLENT RESULTS

IMMENSE CROWD HEARS HIM

Draws Comparison Between Railroad Journey and Journey of Life in His Address

A compelling appeal to railroad men to "come out on the main line" was answered by sixteen persons, mostly railroad men and their wives, at the Scoville meeting at the First Christian Church. Dr. Scoville had arranged a service especially for railroad men and his sermon was one of particular interest to them. A large number were present and the results were more than pleasing.

The church was filled almost to its capacity, the crowd overflowing to the galleries. Dr. Scoville's address was largely a comparison of the railroad man's "run" to the "run" of life and he drew the analogy forcibly and aptly. When he made his invitation, the responses came slowly but surely until sixteen had come forward.

Dr. Scoville endeavored last night to bring his audience more fully into the spirit of the meetings. He likes to hear "Amen" ring out when he makes a telling shot and to see his hearers applaud with vigor when someone is saved. Frequently in making a Bible quotation he pauses to let the congregation finish the verse and he wants his hearers to take an active part in the service more than they have been doing. Always an earnest speaker, he was more so than usual it seemed last night, striding up and down the platform, mounting a chair or stepping out into the aisle to make his appeal strike home.

More than usual friendship for railroad men is felt by Dr. Scoville because of the fact that he had a brother who was a fireman and who was scalded to death in the railroad service. In his address Thursday night, he dwelt upon the uncertainty of railroad service and how often a railroad man leaves his home for work in all his strength and health, to be brought home later battered and helpless, through some accident.

His appeal was also to the wives and families of railroad men and his talk along that line was of peculiar force last night. His text was "Strait is the gate and narrow is the way that leadeth unto life and few there be that find it." Of those who came forward last night, practically all were adult members of railroad families.

This morning the first of the downtown store meetings was held at the P. H. Pennington store on Ohio avenue.

A feature of the song service that opened the meeting was the appropriate solo by Mrs. Scoville, "Life Is Like a Railway," in which the figures of speech were those of the railroad men. Song Leader Marty called upon those under thirty, then those over forty, then those over fifty, to sing alone "When We All Get To Heaven."

Dr. Scoville asked all those present who worked on railroads or who were in railroad families to raise their hands and more than a hundred thus indicated themselves.

Tells Story of Girl. "Strait is the gate and narrow is the way that leadeth unto life and few there be that find it," was the announced text of Dr. Scoville's sermon. He opened by showing how this applied to every calling and every profession, how many were called but few chosen in each of them. He recited a poem telling of a young girl who prevented a wreck by flagging an engine when a bridge was out.

"One girl in Wichita Falls can get out and save a trainload of people from worse than death," was the illustration he drew. He said he was preaching especially to railroad men because first of the irregularity of their hours and second of the ever-present danger in their work.

"My brother was a railroad man and he was scalded to death; he died praying for railroad men and I'm doing my best to answer that prayer." He said more men were killed in railroad work than in war, that every three minutes someone met in jury.

Men Who Are Sidetracked. "O, you men who are sidetracked," he shouted, "what good are you doing, like a bunch of old box cars? I want to get you back on the main line tonight."

He made an appeal to the church members who were not lined up locally to come out and be active factors; if they would he would save a thousand souls in Wichita Falls, he said.

"God Almighty has got your coat and water and oil lined up along your route; men, get out on the main line where He wants you to go," said the speaker. He told of an incident in McKinley's life when he remembered the engineer who had brought him safely to his journey's end.

"I'd like to take the fairest flower that earth can produce and give it to the railroad man who thinks the church has forgotten him," said Dr. Scoville.

He compared railroad ties to the ties of life, such as mother, Sunday school training and the love of God, and said that when these ties were lacking there was disaster just as a missing wooden tie on a track spell disaster.

"To the man without Christ, the grave is the end; to the man who dies in Christ the tunnel leads out to the other side," he said.

Railroad Men's Opportunities. He spoke of the unusual opportunities that railroad men had to speak to their brother workmen about Christ.

YOUNG AVIATOR'S FATHER IS KILLED IN MEXICAN BATTLE

Francisco Alvarez, Who Flew in Meet Here, is Bereaved in Revolutionary Fight

Wichitans who remember the handsome, fearless young aviator, Francisco Alvarez, who appeared here with the Mosant aviators at Lake Wichita two years ago, will learn with regret that his father, General Alvarez of the Mexican federal army was killed in the recent fighting near Saltillo, Mexico, where the rebel leader, Villa is now waging one of the most important campaigns of the revolution.

Young Alvarez is also fighting with the federal troops or was when last heard of. He is an ex-student of Michigan University, returning to Mexico to bear arms when trouble broke out anew in that strife-torn republic.
