HUERTA BACKS DOWN AND RESCINDS BLOCKADE ORDER

Clears Up What Threatened To Be New And Serious Crisis With This Country

HE DID NOT WANT TO BLOCK PEACE PARLEY

Desire To See Negotiations Proceed Without New Trouble Prompts Him To Revoke Decision

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 8.—Huerta has decided, after all, not to blockade Tampico and force the hand of the United States, with the possibility of disrupting the mediation proceedings at Niagara Falls. Mr. Riano, the Spanish ambassador, notified Secretary Bryan officially to that effect today.

Thus the latest crisis in the Mexican situation, fraught with peril to the United States, has passed over. What actuated Huerta in backing down does not appear in the brief advices which reached Washington. Unofficial reports that the dictator had decided at the last moment to rescind the order of his blockade reached unofficial sources which have been in very close touch with the situation about the same time that Mr. Riano had notified Mr. Bryan.

There was prompt evidence of relief, in the relaxation of the tension of the past three days in official circles. There were broad intimations that the influence which had caused Huerta to rescind his order had gone to Mexico City all the way from Niagara Falls where it was said the mediators and the Mexican delegates have been urging him in the strongest possible terms to withdraw his position and let the mediation proceed.

It does not appear here that Huerta's change of position had been contingent upon any change of any plan of the cargo of the Antilla steaming for Tampico with arms for the constitutionalists. It had been suggested that possible pressure upon the owners of the ship might cause them to divert her.

One thing, however, was plain. President Wilson determined that Tampico should be kept open to the commerce of the world and the American ships under Rear Admiral Mayo were in evident readiness to enforce it. Whether the Antilla's war cargo would have been considered as commerce had the situation come to the point of break, all officials here declined today. The gunboats Saragoza and Bravo should have arrived at Tampico about five o'clock this morning, followed by the U. S. S. Sacramento and Tacoma; they passed Vera Cruz yesterday.

In the absence of any new reports today Secretary Daniels sent a wireless message to Rear Admiral Badger asking for a report of their position, the possibility that Huerta's decision not to blockade the port may have diverted them was taken into the reckoning here.

General Huerta's dispatch requested the Spanish ambassador to inform the American government that the suspension of the blockade had been decreed by General Huerta, that official notification would be published in the official paper tomorrow and that orders had been given to the Mexican gunboats to return to Puerto, Mexico.

General Huerta's action in calling off the blockade was inspired, it is stated, by a sincere desire not to jeopardize the success of mediation. In diplomatic circles Huerta's action was regarded as conclusive evidence of sincerity that he has placed the fate of his government and the settlement of the Mexican problem fully in the hands of the South American mediators and his representatives at Niagara Falls.

Mexican Government Puts Faith In Mediators At Niagara Falls

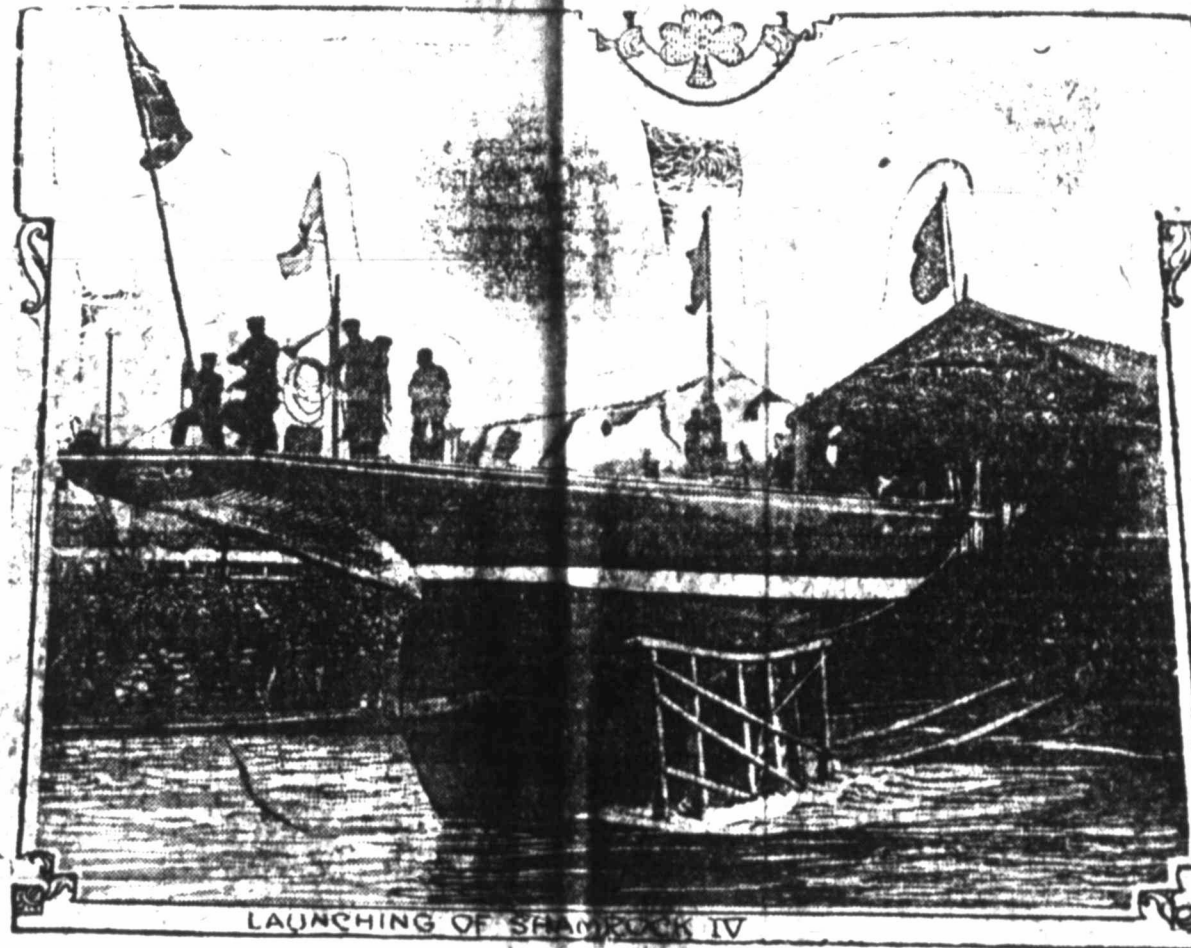

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, June 8.—The Mexican government today decided to suspend the effects of the blockade of Tampico, which had been ordered.

This step was taken upon the government learning that the mediators at Niagara Falls were taking some action with regard to the movement of the steamer Antilla reported to have sailed from an American port with arms for the constitutionalists and also to prevent a setback in the peace negotiations.

It was officially stated that the Mexican government in ordering the blockade of Tampico had no intention of interfering with commercial traffic. Its intention was only to prevent the constitutionalists from receiving arms and ammunition.

SHAMROCK IV., CUP CHALLENGER, SEEMS TO MAKE GOOD AT EARLY TRIALS AFTER HER LAUNCHING

LAUNCHING OF SHAMROCK IV.

Portsmouth, England, June 8.—Shamrock IV., Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, recently launched, has made her first sail trial; she spins accompanied by Shamrock III, and apparently is going to make good. The towering mast of the new yacht quite dwarfs that of the older Shamrock. The tremendous size of the challenger's foresail astonished the spectators at first. The boat stands up well in the gusts and makes progress in the light air, which encourages those who have contended the challenger would prove especially fast in the light to moderate winds. The mainsail of the challenger is enormous, with a tremendous hoist. The boom projects some fifteen feet over the taffrail. The jack yard is correspondingly big, with the yard projecting about eighteen feet above the truck.

IMPASSIONED LOVE LETTERS ARE READ

MRS. SCHUMANN-HEINK'S FIDELITY MAY BE QUESTIONED IN DIVORCE CASE.

"WITHOUT YOU IT IS AWFUL"

Young Woman Detective Tells of Intercepting Letters Written to Mrs. Dean.

Chicago, June 8.—More impassioned letters addressed to Mrs. Catherine Dean and alleged to have been written by William Rapp, who is being sued for divorce by Madame Schumann-Heink, the famous contralto, were introduced in Judge Sullivan's court. Miss Francis J. Ashton, a nurse employed as a detective by counsel for Madame Schumann-Heink, testified she roomed with Mrs. Dean from time to time during 1913 and intercepted a considerable number of Rapp's letters. It was said that ten more letters would be identified by Miss Ashton and that this probably would conclude the presentation of testimony for the complainant.

Ben M. Smith, chief counsel for the defendant, declared he would center his defense on the allegation that the singer was not a resident of Illinois and therefore not entitled to sue for divorce in the Illinois court. He added that he would prove Rapp's charge of infidelity against the songstress. If successful in this, there would be no necessity for controverting the letters placed in evidence in behalf of the prima donna.

"Darling! Wonderful Girl." In a letter of August 1, 1913, Mrs. Dean is addressed as "My darling, wonderful girl." It continued: "Without you it is awful. Just now, when I require that quick wit of yours the most, I must forego it. That is honest, girly, and you know that my unbounded admiration for your ability is true. You are the one and only little woman for me who can keep me true and straight and bring out the best in me."

The epistle mentions a Mrs. DeShoth, who the writer says gave him the idea of "coming to Chicago direct and confronting the madame direct." She says she considerable information about her. The letter was signed "Your Billie," and concludes with the statement that what money the writer has, "is yours."

Madame Schumann-Heink listened intently to the reading of the letters.

LOS ANGELES RATE RULING UPHOLD BY SUPREME COURT.

Washington, June 8.—The Interstate Commerce Commission's order forbidding railroads to discriminate against Los Angeles by charging for delivery of cars on industrial tracks there was upheld today by the Supreme Court. Several hundred other cities have similar free service.

Wash! Scrub! Why Not? Schumann-Heink Also Cooks, She Testifies

Mrs. SCHUMANN-HEINK

Chicago, June 8.—"Of course I clean house and wash and cook. And I scrub too. Why shouldn't I?" This in surprise from Mme. Schumann-Heink, the great opera and concert singer who is suing her husband, William Rapp, Jr., for divorce on statutory grounds and in turn is being sued for the same alleged cause by Mr. Rapp. Everybody who has ever heard about madame knows she is first, last and all the time a home loving mother, who thinks more of her eight children than she does of anything else. While on the stand in her divorce case she freely told about her home life, and the crowded court smiled as the diva told how she scrubbed and washed and cooked because she liked to.

STATE COMMITTEE IN SESSION AT WACO

GOVERNOR COLQUITT IN CITY, BUT WILL ATTEND MEETING OF MEMBERS

EL PASO IS CONVENTION CITY

Waco, Dallas, Austin and El Paso Are Contestants—Ball Forces Expected to Control

Waco, Texas, June 8.—While Governor Colquitt has been here since yesterday afternoon, he does not, according to his own statement, expect to appear before the state democratic executive committee while in session here today. It has been made plain by the governor that he favors having the question of submission presented straight to the voters of Texas and will discuss the matter with those members of the committee who are his personal and political friends. It is generally conceded that submission will be placed on the ticket for the July primary.

Committees Are Named. Members of the committee who reported for the first session were: Walter Collins of Hillsboro, chairman; C. J. Kirk of Houston, secretary; Lloyd Lockridge of Austin, assistant secretary; William Bacon of Greenville, J. R. Warren of Gilmer, J. G. Simmons of Dallas, D. E. Decker of Quanah, J. K. Wells of Brownsville, R. P. Coon of San Antonio, O. A. McCracken of Floresville, E. J. Weaver of La Grange, H. H. Burke of Comanche, and J. L. Brunner of Taylor. Others were represented by proxy. The following committees were named by Chairman Walter Collins:

On submission—J. S. Williams of Paris, chairman; William Bacon of Greenville, B. V. Cummings of Hillsboro, E. J. Weber of La Grange, T. N. Hill of Beaumont. On convention—H. Burks of Comanche, chairman. Resolutions and candidates—W. E. Speel of Waco, chairman. Assessments of candidates—J. L. Brunner of Taylor.

Submission Petition. The convention committee will recommend to the executive committee that El Paso be selected as the place for holding the state convention in August. At the conclusion of the convention committee's sessions it was announced the western city would be urged. The full committee will take final action, but it is generally conceded the recommendation will be sustained.

Senator O. S. Lattimore of Fort Worth presented petitions said to have been signed by 43,000 qualified voters of the state, which he said was the required ten per cent as shown by the vote for governor, requesting to have placed on the official ballot the question of submitting a constitutional amendment to prohibit the sale of in-

3 DROWN IN LAKE WICHITA

SWIMMERS MEET DEATH LATE SATURDAY NIGHT AND SUNDAY AFTERNOON

RECOVER TWO BODIES

Two Oil Field Workers Meet Fate at Bugg Point—Carpenter Drowns in Spillway Pool

JUNE FOREMAN, carpenter at Ball Brothers, drowned while swimming in spillway.

FRED SCOTT, driller, drowned while swimming off Bugg Point.

D. J. MINNICK, tool-dresser, drowned while swimming off Bugg Point.

Three lives were added to Lake Wichita's toll Saturday night and Sunday when the three men above named went to their deaths while in swimming.

Foreman was drowned about midnight Saturday night while in swimming in a small pool below the spillway. A dozen or more men, engaged in seining, were nearby but did not realize that their companion was in danger until he suddenly disappeared and did not come up again. He was seized with cramps.

Scott met his death about 1:30 Sunday afternoon when he jumped from a rowboat, apparently excited because one of his companions seemed to be drowning. He went down about 200 feet from the point and never came up.

Minnick died at the same time as Scott, both men jumping from the boat when it was being rocked by the waves. Minnick called for help before he sank but could not be reached.

Foreman's body was recovered within 35 minutes after he went down. Scott's body was found about four hours after he sank. Minnick's has not yet been recovered.

Didn't Realize Danger. In Foreman's case, lack of realization of his danger led to his death. With a party of other glass factory employees he was spending the night at the spillway and all were waiting to raise seine which one of the party had gone for. Foreman was swimming around in a small deep pool, probably not over ten yards wide, and the others who were making merry on the bank were not paying much attention to him.

"Aren't you getting tired?" someone asked him. "Yes, I'm getting pretty weak," Foreman answered. A short time later the others missed him. It was thought at first that he had come out, but the party soon realized that he had gone down and a search was at once instituted. Within thirty-five minutes the body was found, in a attitude indicating that the swimmer had cramped. First aid measures were resorted to, but life was already extinct.

Foreman is survived by his widow, a bride of five months. They reside in the factory district. They resided at Ball Brothers, being a carpenter by trade. He was twenty-five years of age. Scott and Minnick were of a party of six which had gone to the point to spend the afternoon. All six had stripped and were in swimming. Minnick and Scott being in one of the rowboats without their clothes.

Frightened By Another. Newt Roberts, one of the party, decided to swim out to the boat, which was probably 150 feet from the shore. He had almost reached it when Scott and Minnick, in fun, rowed the craft further away to keep him from getting in. He tried to catch it, but the others playfully eluded him and presently Roberts was exhausted. He turned and started to swim to the shore but realized that his strength was failing.

J. H. McAndrews of Dallas, another of the party, saw that Roberts was in danger and swam out to him, bringing him safely to the point. When Scott and Minnick saw Roberts' danger it seemed to nerve them and they made an excited effort to row the boat in. There was considerable wind and the boat was being rocked by the waves. Minnick jumped out and started to swim to shore, proceeding a few strokes, then sank, calling for help. Scott tried to reach him with the boat, almost rowing over him twice in his panic. Minnick sank out of sight and then Scott jumped from the other side of the boat. He sank silently and was seen no more.

Search Begins at Once. The others at once rowed to the pavilion and told of the tragedy. Grappling hooks were obtained and a large party went over to assist in the search. The grappling hooks were used as a forlorn hope, as the men had no clothes on for the hooks to catch and a seine was also used. Several good swimmers dived in repeatedly, the water being from ten to fifteen feet deep there, but without result.

Late in the evening one of the dragging parties felt something on the drag and pulled Scott's body to

SHREVEPORT CASE DECIDED

TEXAS RAILROAD COMMISSION'S POWER IS CUT BY SUPREME COURT FINDING.

SITUATION IS NOVEL

East Texas Roads Between Two Fires. Court Holds That Interstate Body Must Govern.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 8.—The supreme court today upheld the Interstate Commerce Commission's orders in the Shreveport rate case, thus placing interstate railroads more under the interstate commission and less under the authority of the state commissions.

Justice Hughes announced the court's decision. He spoke of the unrestricted power of the Interstate Commerce Commission over interstate commerce saying the commission was expressly created to prevent conflicting state legislation. The justice pointed out that Congress, and not the state, had the power to prevent the instruments of interstate commerce from being used so as to injure interstate commerce. He quoted the cases under the safety appliance law and liability law supporting the power of Congress to keep the channels of interstate commerce clear.

Referring to the Minnesota case Justice Hughes said that decision was expressly reserved in those cases as to what the outcome would have been had the interstate commission found that the Minnesota rates discriminated against interstate commerce.

The far-reaching effect of the decision lies, in the fact that rates which the interstate commission ordered increased to remove discrimination were prescribed by the Texas state commission. Under the interstate commission's order the only way the railroads may escape conflict with the Texas commission is to reduce the interstate rate so as to put Louisiana city on a competitive points with Texas jobbing centers.

Should the railroad elect to increase the Texas rate as the commerce court has declared they must, a new chapter in the novel situation would develop; the laws of Texas would make the railroads liable to a penalty of $10,000 to the state and $500 to each shipper on each shipment on which the low rate was disregarded.

Justice Hughes recognized the importance of the case, so stating as he concluded his opinion.

"But it is essential," he added, "that interstate commerce have one master, and not many."

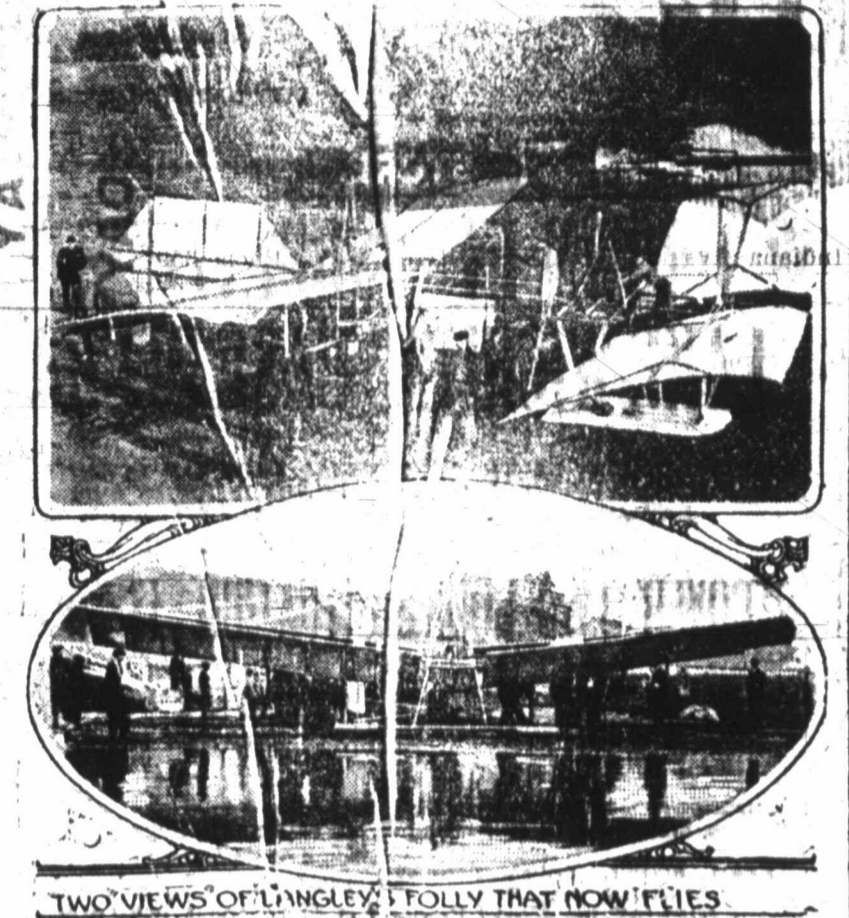

The fight for better rates for Shreveport jobbers into Texas promised from the start to establish a precedent governing the future trade of cities along state boundaries. So important was the matter deemed to be that the Louisiana Railroad Commission itself initiated the contest before the Interstate Commerce Commission in behalf of the jobbers along the Louisiana-Texas border.

"Trade Wall" Is Alleged. The Louisiana commission complained to the Interstate Commerce Commission in March, 1911, that the class rates charged by the railroads for transportation in a westerly direction from Shreveport to points in Texas were unjustly discriminatory in that they were much greater than the rates contemporaneously charged for the transportation of like traffic from Dallas and Houston, in Texas, to the same points. They complained, in substance, that a trade wall had been erected around Texas and that outside jobbers were not permitted to enter into the enclosed field.

The Houston, East and West Texas Railway Company and the Texas and Pacific Railway Company did not deny the discrimination, but answered that the Shreveport rates were reasonable in themselves, and that the Texas rates were not voluntary, but were prescribed by the Texas Railroad Commission. The Interstate Commerce Commission issued an order, holding that an unjust discrimination existed and directed the railways either to lower the interstate rate from Shreveport to Texas points or to increase the Texas rates from Dallas and Houston to other Texas points, so as to remove the surface. One of the hooks had caught in a corner of the man's left eye giving sufficient purchase to hold it, although not disfiguring the face. The search for Minnick's body continued all night and this morning.

Minnick's brother came in from Burk Burnett last night, having been notified of the incident. He was unable at first to get a boat and wanted to make the long trip around to the point in an auto, but was dissuaded. Later he was able to join the searching party and assist in the grim task.

Fate intervened in behalf of Jack Elliott, another tool dresser in the party. While walking around in his bare feet he sustained a cut on one of his toes, which prevented his joining the two who went out in the boat.

Newt Roberts who was rescued by McAndrews, is employed at a local bar. Roberts was heart-broken over the affair and felt that it was largely his fault, as if he had not tried to swim to the boat, the others might not have gotten excited as they did. The others, however, felt that no blame whatever attached to him.

Had No Families. Roberts probably owes his life to J. H. McAndrews, the Dallas man who pulled him in after he started to swim back to the boat, as he was completely exhausted when McAndrews reached him and would probably have been unable to reach the shore.

So far as known, Scott has no family or relatives in this section, and the body is being held pending a view from Starrville, West Virginia where he formerly resided. Scott has worked in practically all the fields in the United States, having been in the Electric field for two years past. His uncle came from Pennsylvania. He has a brother at Burk Burnett, but another relative in this section. Mr. Scott, he has worked in a number of oil fields throughout the United States. Just what disposition will be made of his body when it is found has not been determined.

Foreman's body was sent today to his former home in Coffeyville, Kansas, where it will be buried. Mr. Foreman, the young widow, accompanied it.

Fourteen to Date. This makes a total of fourteen deaths in Lake Wichita since the dam was completed, according to local records.

The boat, occupied by Scott and Minnick, drifted across the lake and lodged on the north side where it was found some hours later. Minnick and Scott did not join the others until the pier was reached; there McAndrews and Roberts and their party seeing that Scott and Minnick were also going over to the point, asked them to join and the invitation was accepted.

A larger crowd than usual was at the lake yesterday afternoon and the news of the tragedy quickly spread. Several hundred stood on the land pier until late in the evening, waiting for news from the searchers.

The bodies of Foreman and Scott were both taken in charge by E. G. Hill and prepared for shipment.

NOLEN AGAIN WINS MOTORCYCLE RACE

SATURDAY'S VICTOR EASILY CAPTURES FIRST PLACE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

RIDER MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

Burk Burnett Man Thrown and Bruised and His Machine Wrecked—Good Time is Made

Results of the motorcycle races Sunday afternoon were to a large extent identical with those of Saturday. Clow Nolen finished first, Jim Totten second and Gravett third, as on the previous day. Bill Toney was fourth and Quist fifth. The first three rode Excelsior machines, Toney rode a Pope and Quist a Harley-Davidson.

One accident occurred during the afternoon; E. V. Hobbs, a motorcycle rider from Burk Burnett, was thrown while making a turn. He was considerably bruised and his machine was wrecked. He was able to walk off the field, however.

Nolen rode in the same excellent style that characterized his victory of Saturday, completing the twelve and a half mile journey in about eighteen minutes. His best lap was thirty-eight seconds and he made an average of forty-one seconds for the race. Totten and Gravett were not serious contenders after the first lap or two. Nolen again making a walkaway at far rout of the contest.

GOVERNOR COLQUHITT MIXES POLITICS AND PATRIOTISM

By Associated Press. Waco, Texas, June 8.—Governor O. B. Colquhitt mixed politics and patriotism in his trip to Waco today. The politics was his visit to the leaders gathered here in connection with the state central committee meeting, and patriotism was his work toward securing the silver service for the battleship Texas. Only $2750 is needed to complete the purchase price of $3,500 for this service. The Young Men's Business League of Waco which has been the governor's chief assistant throughout the campaign for silver service funds has a report ready today and hopes to lay the matter before the governor in such a way that he can soon advertise for bids for the service.

PREACHES SERMON ON 'CHRISTIAN REST'

TEN ADDITIONS TO FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH AT SERVICES SUNDAY

REPOSE TO FOLLOW SERVICE

Rev. R. C. Miller Tells of Necessity For Taking Christ Into Partnership in Work

Sunday was another great day with the First Baptist Church. Sunday School was large and enthusiastic. A large congregation greeted Rev. R. C. Miller, the pastor, in the morning and listened attentively to him while he preached from the subject, "The Christian's Rest." He took for his text, Matt. 11: 28 to 30.

There were ten additions during the day. In his morning sermon, the pastor said in part:

"Jesus spoke these verses all at one time and they should never be divorced or separated. Too many of us want to take part of them, and leave the other part out. We have heard it quoted so many times 'Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest, for I am meek and lowly in heart and ye shall find rest unto your souls.' But Jesus put them all in and said you must bear the yoke, and He did not say here would be rest without it. The yoke unites in service and purpose. It is said of old, 'the student bore his master's yoke,' meaning by that, the student learned from his Master.

No Single Harness Workers. The Christian's rest is always a double yoke. There are no single harness workers in God's kingdom. All must be yoked with Christ if they are to succeed. The preacher, the deacon, the Sunday school superintendent and officers, the evangelist, the missionary, and all must be yoked with Christ or inevitably fail. This is a partnership affair, a co-work.

To bear the cross is necessary. We are commanded of Christ to bear our cross. It is to the Christian what the yoke is to the ox; the harness is to the horse. We cannot be useful in the church or in the Kingdom without it. The church is very much weakened today because there are so many who are not bearing their yoke and doing their part of the work. In most churches the work yoke is comparatively few. The bearing of the Christian's yoke is the spirit and proof of his submission to God's will and plan in his life. It is the only way to earn many things. Jesus said 'Bearing yoke and learn of Me,' and the church member who will not do that is not as valuable in the Kingdom of God as he could be. The horse that will not work on the farm is worth nothing to the farmer, but the horse that will work any place and for any body is exceedingly valuable. I thank God there are many in the Kingdom of God today who have the mark of the yoke upon them. They will work any place at any time. These are the salt of the earth and the light of the world. Mr. Talmage once in passing a little barn in Brooklyn saw a little jack mule with these words over his stall. 'Jack is a good mule, and will go to his dead level best every time.' The great preacher walked in and put his arms around the little mule's neck and said, 'God bless you Jack, I wish you belonged to my church.' A mule that will go to his dead level best every time is worth more to the Kingdom of God than a man who will not work.

Bearing the Yoke. The Bible teaches that Jesus was a carpenter. An old legend is that Jesus made yokes for oxen and that men came from far and near to buy them because they fit. Jesus knows our strength and size and how to fit a yoke for us. He knows every condition and makes the yoke to suit. He bears one end of our yoke, and He will bear the heavy end if the load is too much for us. The burden of a load depends on the strength you have to draw it with. What would be too much of a burden for man alone becomes a light load when we are yoked with Christ. The weakness of many Christians and churches is that they are yoked up too much with the world and not enough with Christ. That is true, not only with the spiritual part of our life, but also with the business part of the church. The work of the Christian comes easy when yoked with Christ. Burdens then become light, difficulties disappear. Some way the obstacles are removed and the work goes on.

"Jesus has promised rest to the one who bears his yoke. We like to think of the word rest. There is something refreshing in it, yet we know the sweetest rest comes after toil and labor. It is impossible for a man to rest unless he is tired, but many of us want to rest first, before we work. Eli Perkins said, when a boy, that he liked to wait when they had company, provided they would let him eat first and then wait, and so it is with many of us today, we want to rest first and then work. This is a busy old world and God intended that men should work, yet there are some who apparently have to do more than their part. There are tired and weary bodies that are driven by circumstances, to toil from early morning till late at night, year in and year out, with little cessation from their labors. These many times long for rest. A widowed mother with several children around her, lay dying. She had supported these children by hard toil. When asked what her conception of Heaven was she said 'Oh I don't know, but I hope it is a place of rest.' She had

I have put in most of my time getting ready to serve and now I must die.' Let us improve our opportunities as the days come and go, for we know not how long we shall be permitted to tarry here; Jesus has promised rest not only to the one who toils but to the one who is laden with grief and sorrow. There is a great comfort in submitting our lives to Christ and His Will. Proof of Submission. The hearing of His yoke is the proof of our submission to His will. Mary Willard, Frances Willard's sister, died when she was a young woman. She lingered through months of sickness and suffering. One bright morning in the early spring the family physician came and told the family that he had done all he could, it was only a matter of a few hours until her suffering would be over. The father took the daughter's thin, wasted hand in his and asked her if she knew she was going to die. She said, 'No, I didn't think I was going to die. I have been thinking I would get well. I have not been willing to die. I'm not afraid, but I have constantly prayed that I might get well. I have not been able to say 'Thy will be done.' Then she folded her hands on her breast and lay perfectly peaceful for some time. Then the mother asked her if there was not something she could do for her, but she said 'No mother, I am perfectly happy now and there is not a pain, and I am not suffering. Thus we learn what Jesus meant when he said take my yoke upon you and learn of me, and ye shall find rest unto your souls. If there are those who today desire that rest, I invite you to come to Christ, today and take Him as your Savior. Take His yoke and learn of Him and you shall find rest that shall never end. If you are burdened with sin, unsaved friend, you may find rest by coming with a repenting heart to Christ. You will find permanent rest and peace in no other way.'

DRINK "RED WING" this Summer
Begin Now

NOTHING

The problem of a satisfactory table drink is fully settled in Red Wing grape juice.

When you stop to consider the great variety of ways in which this delicious drink can be served, it isn't a luxury, particularly as the quality of Red Wing grape juice is such that it can be diluted with half as much water and still make a very delicious and satisfactory drink.

No one doubts the value of grape juice as a health drink and the fact that it used to be considered as a novelty and luxury and now a growing necessity makes it highly desirable that you get fully acquainted with it this summer.

I am going to have a good stock of it constantly, fresh from the bottling works and will have the following sizes of bottles. I have my first shipment now, get acquainted with it right away.

Opportunity.
 This I beheld, or dreamed it in a dream,
 I saw a cloud of dust along a plain,
 And underneath the cloud, or in it argued
 A furious battle and men yelled, and swords
 Shooked upon swords and shields. A prince's banner
 Wavered, they staggered backward hemmed by foes.
 A craven hung along the battle's edge,
 And thought "Had I a Sword of keener steel—
 That blue blade that the King's son bears—but this
 Blunt thing! he snapt, and flung it from his hand,
 Then came the King's son, wounded, score beated,
 And weaponless. And saw the broken sword,
 Hilt buried in the dry and trodden sand,
 And he, and snatched it; and with battle shout
 Lifted aloft, he hewed his enemy down
 And won a great cause that heroic day."

MISS ELEANOR ALLEN ENTER-TAINS S. S. CLASS SATURDAY
 Saturday afternoon Miss Eleanor Allen entertained the members of her Sunday school class in the teacher's room. The party was very delightful. The early part of the afternoon was spent in playing various outdoor games with the usual amusement and jolly time resulting. Mrs. Allen then gave them the treat of the afternoon. Each one was given a plate of molasses candy to pull and the source of much merriment also the candy, when pulled proved to be most delicious. Those enjoying this truly delightful hospitality of Mrs. Allen and Miss Eleanor were: Misses Tula Stokes the teacher and Mary Koonce, Bernice Galin, Gerene Craig, Ida Baggett, Louise Smith, Jessie Pearce, Fay Thompson, Edna Kay, Edna Mae Cook, Jewel Smith.

BOYS ENJOY TRIP TO OIL FIELDS SATURDAY
 Saturday Mrs. J. W. Culbertson and Mrs. Forsyth entertained the boys in their Sunday school class in a rather unique and very enjoyable manner. The party met at the Kemp and Kell building in the morning and the boys, accompanied by Dr. J. L. McKee all piled into a capacitor truck, the bottom of which was filled with hay and the ladies of the party followed in an automobile. Arriving at Petrolia dinner was served at Mrs. Culbertson's home, the meal being a delicious one and substantial as well appealing to the boys very much. After dinner a trip through the oil fields followed and all the sights of that section were shown. One of the largest gas wells in the field was opened by Mr. Culbertson to show the visitors how a large gas well looks when turned loose. Also a large pool of waste oil was burned for their education and amusement. After the oil field had been completely viewed the boys went to the swimming tank and remained there until time to start back home. Coming back the boys gave vent to their feelings with a noisy but heartfelt three cheers for Mrs. Culbertson and Mrs. Forsyth and the others who had showed them such a royal good time. Those in the party were: Messdames Culbertson, Forsyth, Coyne, Davidson of Pittsburg, McKee, Messrs. Culbertson, Haigler, Dr. McKee and Alex. McKee, Andrew Urban, Joe Mears, George Ulrich, Ed McCallough, Earl Shapell, Charlie Toney, Wesley Waller, Dillard Anderson, Leslie Howard, Lynn Campbell, Frank Nicholson, Howard Rogers and John McKee.

Previous to the departure of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Huff for Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Bacon entertained them and the members of the Scoville party at dinner at the St. James. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Scoville, Rev. and Mrs. Walter Sano, Mr. and Mrs. Marty, Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Huff, Bentley, Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Bacon.

PARIS SCENE OF UNIQUE CONVENTION

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATIONS IS IN SESSION THERE

FACING UNUSUAL PROBLEMS

Plan to Have Easter Come On Same Sunday Each Year Is Among Matters Considered

By Associated Press.

Paris, June 8.—Many thousands of millions of dollars engaged in industry and commerce in the leading nations of the world are represented at the Sixth International Congress of Chambers of Commerce and Commercial and Industrial Associations, which was called together here today. Its business sessions are to last from June 8 to June 19, and the period are down for discussion many questions of prime interest and paramount importance to the trade and commercial relations of the entire globe.

The widespread range of the activities of the congress is shown in the fact that delegates from no fewer than thirty-seven nations answered the roll-call, while 369 associations, including 91 in the United States, representing nearly every state and territory in the Union, are affiliated to the congress.

The countries from which delegates were announced are Argentina, Australia, Austria, the Bahamas, Belgium, Bermuda, Brazil, British India, the British Isles, Bulgaria, Canada, Chile, China, Cuba, Denmark, Ecuador, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, Mexico, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Peru, Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, the United States and Uruguay.

Among American members of the permanent committee are Edward A. Filene, Boston; Mansel Bernard, J. J. Scholinger, president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Paris; Harry A. Wheeler, of Chicago, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; John H. Fahey, of Brookline, Mass.; and George S. Atwood, secretary of the American Association of Commerce and Trade, Berlin.

Consider Many Subjects.

Canada is also strongly represented with delegates from Montreal, Moncton, Ottawa, Belleville, St. Catherine's, St. John, Sherbrooke and Toronto.

The subjects on the agenda and on which reports are to be made and resolutions to be presented to the Congress include:

Fixed Easter: Calendar reform; Unfair Competition—proposed international action; Customs statistics; Penny postage; Unification of laws concerning checks; Postal transfers and clearing; Unification of laws concerning arbitration procedure for regulating litigation between citizens of different nations; Unification of laws relating to warehouse certificates with the view of facilitating, extending and better guaranteeing credit on archandises; gold reserves to prevent financial panics; Advancement of time in summer; 24 hour-day; Customs stamp for mailing postal consignments; Projected uniform type of bill of lading, as far as regards general conditions, for subsidized or regular steamship lines, in order to avoid contradictions, surprises or uncertainties, and a study of assurance policies in international trade in order to improve their drafting.

Charles J. Bernheimer, chairman of the committee on Arbitration of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, submitted a plan for international commercial arbitration and Dr. Roberto Pozzi, of Milan, Italy, moved a resolution approving of the reference to arbitrators of controversies between citizens of different countries, an action which the various legislatures should clothe foreign arbitrators with powers to fulfill their functions and should provide for them the protection of the law and give executive force to the judgments pronounced by them.

Unfair competition was a subject to which the attention of the Congress was called in a report by Max Leclerc, of the Chamber of Commerce of Paris. He laid on the table an exhaustive report on legislation on the subject in various countries.

Needed Legislation

Mr. Leclerc was followed by Eugene Lendvai, of Temevar, Hungary, who moved the following resolutions:

"The Congress calls on the various legislatures to deal with the publication of fraudulent advertisements, the wrongful use of exhibition awards, false statements of origin, and misleading names, quantities and prices of goods. They are also called on to stamp out illicit selling-off sales and the system of giving premiums to customers, the publication of trade secrets and the bribing of employees."

Another subject that created great interest was a proposal for the unification of laws relating to customs warehouse certificates—with the view of facilitating, extending and better guaranteeing credit on merchandise. This was laid before the Congress by Henry A. Rau, of the Belgian Chamber of Commerce, Paris.

Raymond Poincare, President of the French Republic, is to preside over a banquet in honor of the delegates on June 13 at the Bourse de Commerce of Paris.

A lengthy program has been drawn for the entertainment of the foreign visitors.

Change Time Calculation

"The Day of 24 Hours" was the subject of a report by Dr. Alfred George, (correct) president of the Geneva Chamber of Commerce.

Switzerland, he said, was ready to adopt the twenty-four hour day, and the Swiss government would authorize it if it did not fear complications from the fact that two of the four neighboring countries—Germany and Austria-Hungary—still kept to the old system of dividing the day into 12-hour

BIG WOOL SALE TODAY IN PROGRESS AT SAN ANGELO

By Associated Press.

San Angelo, Texas, June 8.—One million pounds of 12 month wool to be offered today at auction by the Wool Growers' Central Storage Company brought together one of the largest gatherings of buyers for eastern commission houses and woolen mills ever seen in West Texas. Bidding was spirited and the clip brought good prices.

The offering today was not the entire accumulation of members of the company. Three hundred thousand pounds of eight month clip has already been sold this spring and about the same amount is yet to be brought in by ranchers. The entire clip to be handled for members of this company this year is expected to aggregate 2,600,000 pounds. Much of this has been delayed by bad roads and scarcity of sheep shearers.

 Total to date 508

Dr. C. R. Scoville will speak on Sunday desecration tonight at the tent theatre at the corner of Travis and Thirteenth streets. In announcing his subject Dr. Scoville indicated that he was going to do some plain talking.

"I'm going to give some of the things that have been going on here a black eye," he said, speaking emphatically, "my talk tonight is going to be dead square."

This will be the first and only Monday night meeting of the series. Dr. Scoville announced definitely Sunday that the meetings would be closed next Sunday. The meeting at the tent will begin at 8 o'clock. At 7:30 Rev. Walters will conduct a baptismal service at the church.

Twenty-eight converts resulted from yesterday's meetings bringing the total for the series to 508 to date.

Services in Tent.

The services yesterday were held in the tent. At the close of the Sunday school which more than 500 attended the congregation led by Murphy's band marched from the church to the tent. The band was followed by the Sunday School children and then came the older folks. The band was entering the tent over three blocks away before all the congregation had left the church.

The joint memorial service of the W. O. W. and the M. W. A. was held in the tent in the afternoon and the tent was again the scene of the meeting at night. A crowd that almost filled the tent attended the night service, many being present who had not been in attendance before. The song service was an inspiring feature of the night meeting. It was led by Murphy's band and orchestra and choir of about sixty voices under the leadership of Mr. Marty. Accompanied by the band and orchestra, Mrs. Scoville sang "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" The band accompaniment enabled Mrs. Scoville to sing with an effect which otherwise could not have been attained.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Carter wish to announce that they have leased the Wichita Rooming House at 504 Scott avenue. They have renovated the house which has every convenience. They invite the patronage of their former roomers and the public generally and can assure all of nice clean rooms and respectable surroundings.

Yes, A Man's Past Is Almost Always Certain To Meet Him Again

A dark and dreadful secret in the past life of Mayor Britain has come to light; he has a blot on his 'scutcheon' and a skeleton in his closet. He used to live in Fort Worth.

Although he reformed, and came to Wichita Falls many years ago, the dreadful secret, like Mr. Banguo's, will not stay down. Friday afternoon the Fort Worth Star-Telegram printed the fact, even going so far as to accompany it with a picture of the Mayor.

"Wichita Falls' new mayor, A. H. Britain, formerly of Fort Worth, is an amateur candidate so far as real politics goes, but he is making a jim dandy executive."

"When he ran for mayor to succeed Dr. J. M. Bell, who died in January, it was under the pressure of Wichita Falls' most progressive citizens and it was his second campaign for office altogether, although it was the first campaign he ever stuck out to election day."

"Britain was 22 and a fledgling lawyer at Seymour in 1900 when he opened his campaign for district attorney. The district has thirteen counties, three of them unorganized, but young Britain started out on horseback to canvass his district, in much the same way as a Tarrant county candidate for commissioners goes through his precinct with fine-tooth comb."

"For three days Britain rode and rode in King county and in all that time he saw but ten men with whom he could electioneer. At the end of the three days, he figured how long it would take him to canvass his district thoroughly and he decided the next election was entirely too near. So he quit."

"That experience made Britain rather 'teary' of campaigns and he never would have entered the race for mayor of Wichita Falls had not he been urged into it."

"Mayor Britain was born in Dallas county, March 10, 1878. His father moved to Seymour in 1886. He attended the public schools at Seymour and graduated from the high school. He then taught two years in the public schools and studied law in vacation time and in his spare time during the winter months."

"He was admitted to the bar at Seymour in December, 1898, having his disabilities removed at the age of 20. He practiced at Seymour and in surrounding counties until December, 1904."

"He moved to Fort Worth in January, 1905, and practiced a few months as partner to Judge Jo A. P. Dickson, now district judge of the Fifteenth judicial district, who returned to Seymour. Britain remained in Fort Worth and later was associated with Charles K. Lee with offices in the West building."

"In 1906 he went with the claim departments of the Santa Fe, with headquarters at Cleburne and at Temple, and resigned in September, 1908, to form a partnership with J. T. Montgomery at Wichita Falls. Judge A. H. Carrigan joined the firm in November, 1912, and the firm name now is Carrigan, Montgomery & Britain."

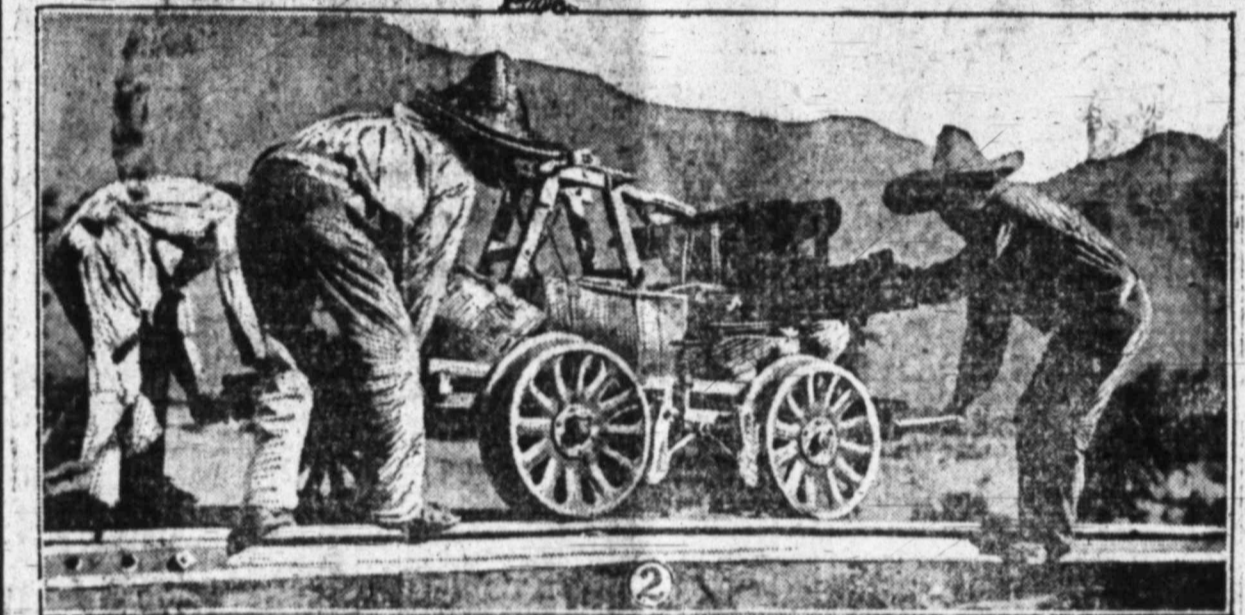

"He was chairman of the Woodrow Wilson campaign committee in Wichita county and Wilson carried the county against the three other candidates combined. Britain was a delegate to the Houston convention and managed the campaign of HARRIS, Wichita Falls banker, as a delegate to the Democratic convention at St. Louis."

"I expect to make out the most progressive administration in the history of the city. Mayor Britain writes to a Fort Worth friend at some rate to try my best. I never miss an opportunity to boost Wichita Falls and never expect to miss one, and I never miss an opportunity to boost Fort Worth, either."

however, was regarded of supreme importance as indicating that during the progress of the mediation, General Huerta was not disposed to raise any question likely to jeopardize a settlement of the Mexican problem through diplomacy.

There was considerable talk, however, that a tacit understanding may have been reached by which the constitutionalists would not receive further shipments of arms at Tampico and that this had influenced General Huerta immediately to suspend the blockade. The American delegates this morning presented the peace plan which they have drafted, to the mediators. In many respects it is same as was suggested by the American delegates and the mediators. The points of difference in detail.

O. B. Cecil was called to Houston Saturday night by a telegram announcing the critical illness of Mrs. Cecil's sister. Mrs. Cecil left for Houston several days ago.

London, June 8.—Harry Pike, who yesterday started the authorities and the public by invading Buckingham palace, is not a suffragette agent, according to the attorney for the prosecution who appeared against him at Bow Street Court today.

The Tampico blockade incident has been satisfactorily adjusted, was the announcement of Justice Lamar, as the American delegates entered their conference with the mediators. "We have received word from Secretary Bryan, that the Spanish ambassador has been advised by Gen. Huerta of the raising of the blockade."

Justice Lamar said he was uninformed as to the reason which actuated Huerta. The mediators said they had taken no action with reference to the movement of the Cuban ship Antilla. The Mexican delegates, however, announced they would issue a statement of explanation.

Might Mean Recognition. The position of the American government was said to be that it would be tantamount to partial recognition of the Huerta government to permit the latter to engage in the act of blockade, which is provided for by international law, and sanctioned by the comity of nations.

It was rumored that the Spanish ambassador in Washington who is caring for Mexico's interests in the United States, had been able to make some arrangements whereby the Antilla would withhold her cargo of arms from the constitutionalists. This could not be confirmed here. The incident,

BUCKINGHAM PALACE IS BOLDLY INVADED

DRUNKEN MAN ELUDES GUARDS AND MAKES HIMSELF QUITE AT HOME

NOT AGENT OF SUFFRAGETTES

Helps Himself to Servant's Clothes After Climbing Wall and Slipping Past Sentinels

London, June 8.—Harry Pike, who yesterday started the authorities and the public by invading Buckingham palace, is not a suffragette agent, according to the attorney for the prosecution who appeared against him at Bow Street Court today.

The man, who clambered over the ten-foot spiked wall around the palace grounds and eluded sentinels, police guards, and servants, did so while under the influence of drink and without any ulterior object, said the lawyer.

After overcoming all the obstacles and evading the watchers, Pike stroiled about the palace from the basement to the sixth floor; it was only when he entered an occupied room that he was discovered and arrested. He changed his clothing in one of the chambers for a servant's suit, as he had soiled his own in climbing the wall and crawling on the ground. The magistrate remanded him for a week for further inquiry.

SHREVEPORT CASE IS DECIDED TODAY

This discrimination. The railways vainly endeavored to induce the Commerce Court to enjoin the enforcement of this order.

Question of Jurisdiction. One of the principal points of contention in the case was whether this was a voluntary or an involuntary discrimination by the railways against Shreveport. The railways contended that it was involuntary because they were directed by the Texas Railroad Commission to put into force the low Texas rates. For each higher rate charged, the railroads contended they would be liable under Texas law for a $5,000 penalty to the state, and from $125 to $150 to the shipped. In addition a fine of $5,000 might be forthcoming for failing to obey an order of the state railroad commission.

Another contention was whether the Interstate Commerce Commission laws so drafted as to confer upon the commission jurisdiction over interstate rates that might affect interstate rates.

AT THE MOVIES

The Gem. A Lubin two-part special, "The Mansion of Soba," heads today's program at the Gem. The other pictures are "Clarence and Percy's Sailing Party," Edison comedy, featuring Elsie McLeod, and the Biograph farce comedy, "Ambitious Pa's" and "Mixed Males."

The Empress. A great five-part picture, "The Money God," is showing here today. This picture is answering the question "does money bring happiness?"

The Victoria. Courtney Fote and Arthur Macklin are featured in "The Return of Cal Clayton," a Romance Western drama, and the Keystone fat boy will be seen in "Bowery Boys."

The Majestic. Julia Swayne Gordon and Earl Williams are featured in "The Battle of the Weak," a Vitagraph, "A Lubin two-part special, "A Father's Heart," and an Essanay, "Pierre of the North Woods," complete the program.

The Lydia Margaret. Two new vaudeville acts open here today. Patrick Miles and Company in an Irish comedy and "Gibberley" the girl with the eyes. Both of the acts have played in Dallas and other large Texas cities recently, making quite a hit. Today's pictures are "Old California," in two parts, and "Their Honeymoon," a Nestor comedy.

ed wall around the palace grounds and eluded sentinels, police guards, and servants, did so while under the influence of drink and without any ulterior object, said the lawyer. After overcoming all the obstacles and evading the watchers, Pike stroiled about the palace from the basement to the sixth floor; it was only when he entered an occupied room that he was discovered and arrested. He changed his clothing in one of the chambers for a servant's suit, as he had soiled his own in climbing the wall and crawling on the ground. The magistrate remanded him for a week for further inquiry.

BURKBURNETT GETS MAIL BY AUTOMOBILE

POSTMASTER DRIVES HERE DAILY AND TAKES POUCHES BACK WITH HIM

RESULT OF TAKING GRAND JURORS

Believe Regular Service Will Soon Be Resumed and Mail Delivered by Trains Again.

Although the north bound Wichita Falls and Northwestern's afternoon train which carries the mail has been discontinued temporarily, the people of Burk Burnett continue to receive their mail at the usual hour. This is because the postmaster there drives in an automobile each day and gets the mail and carries it out to Burk Burnett, getting there ahead of the time scheduled for the arrival of the train under the old conditions.

When he learned that the train was to be discontinued, Postmaster Purcell got authority to come in and get the Burk Burnett mail himself. The government permitted this to be done on condition that no extra expense was entailed upon the government. It is believed the train will be put back into service soon. The government is still holding the mail checks on that run here.

Barn-Stormers, Tank Towns, Revivals And Other Things In Actors Scrap Book

"Miles! Miles is the next stop!" The brakeman bawled it through the broken pane of the car door and fourteen hopeful passengers reached to their luggage. "Hop-along" is the word for the Boston local Dramatic Company, playing two night stands under canvas, looked toward the sure turning of the lane at Miles in point of restored good fortune. We had just finished an overland tour of several weeks, making many inland towns by stage coach and barnstorming processes and had raked in barely enough money to pay for our hauling from one place to another. At San Angelo we had looked upon a locomotive engine for the first time in a bunch of months, and it was good to be again in Texas country, as the blond soprano put it as she choked Fido with a chocolate to keep him from barking at the iron horse at the depot. We had not played San Angelo, for the reason that our manager had backed at the previous season, had touched up an old college chum for a hundred or so and feared the said chum might attach the box office should we attempt to pitch the place again. In passing I will say that the manager's whims shot us into that city late in the afternoon, and we serenely grabbed "his" leaving the company all but stranded with the beautiful snow gently oozing down our necks. Good business at Miles would surely pull us out and set us again upon the road, but we were not to be so easily won, for we were nearly breathless. We resumed our seats and the minister nodded his thanks to us. Before commencing his sermon, he said: "My friends, a show has come to town for two nights and from what I hear it is a very good one. However, I am not advertising such a thing in the face of this meeting and I shall leave it to your own personal judgment as to whether you should patronize it or not. My text for this evening—" engaged to attend service and often our best voices assisted in the choir and heartily enjoying the meeting. I recall a little incident which occurred at Brownwood one night. Our band had assembled in front of the opera house to play the usual customary concert prior to opening the doors. Directly across the street a Salvation Army corps was holding a meeting, the big drum and the tambourines doing lusty work. Our leader tooted his signal to begin playing. One of the bandmen called the leader's attention to the meeting over the way. He immediately crossed over to the captain and asked if he would grant us five minutes to play our opening, explaining that it was not our desire to disturb his meeting. The captain very graciously acquiesced, sat on his drum and applauded our music when we were finished. Countless stories have been written and read of life "on the seamy side of the curtain"; and were the truth known, more real pathos, comedy and grim tragedy have been unfolded beyond that painted screen than all the world's greatest actors have ever been able to simulate upon the glaring stage. And somewhere in the depths of the actor's heart is an indecipherable photograph of a pious mother and an inherent love for the church, the home and all that is beautiful and good. The present arrangement between the famous revivalist and the manager of a text show in this city recalled to the writer many memories of the long ago hence this story. AN OLDTIMER.

ASKS WHAT SHOULD BE SAID ON EPITAPH

REV. CLARK SMITH BASES SUNDAY EVENING SERMON ON QUESTION HUMAN AND DIVINE ESTIMATE. Asking the question what the Almighty would write on one's grave-stone, Rev. C. Clark Smith delivered an interesting sermon on "Epitaphs" Sunday night at the First M. E. Church. His text was from Luke 12:20. "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee." The sermon illustrated the importance of making God a factor in one's life. The pastor stressed the point that while an epitaph composed by one's earthly friends might be complimentary, God's estimate of a life based on His insight into the heart might be far less flattering. The sermon in part was as follows: "An epitaph is a writing or short inscription carved usually upon the stone marking a tomb. It is usually intended to be a very brief summarization of one's life. A few decades ago it was the common fashion to make these inscriptions a very marked feature of the tomb decoration, but fashion changes and this is not so common today. It is very interesting to visit an old cemetery and read these inscriptions. We are far enough away from the tragedy of death to be able to see the humor in some of them and to note the literary merit of others. In later generations there is a marked disposition to write and speak only in eulogy of the departed and to do so well. There is no good to be accomplished in speaking otherwise. It is Christ-like to be charitable with human follies. It becomes us as we become more Christian and more cultured to be considerate of men's weaknesses and when they have passed beyond the possibility of help, to be kind to the earth is kindly to deal gently with their memory. "But we must still reckon with the fact of divine insight into character. As in the case in the text so with every man's life, there is a divine pronouncement which is absolute, accurate and based solely on facts. Truth About Mankind. "The divine hand, in inscribing our epitaph, writes only our actual character. We must have no quarrel with divine penetration into the secrets of our heart life. The divine knowledge of the fact does not make the fact untrue. A thing is not true because God says it, but he speaks because the thing is true. Springing from his nature are certain principles of truth and a thing is true or false accordingly as it harmonizes or fails to harmonize with these principles. The fact that he knows what is, in our hearts, does not cause those things to be there. Neither does human ignorance of a fact change the fact. There are still some people who believe that the world is flat, but their ignorance does not change the roundness of the earth. That one has not sufficient moral discrimination to properly weigh character does not change the fact of the inevitable divine weighing. I may see myself to be somewhat; my friends may see me as I am; but God sees the man as I am. Our friends may be disposed to write beautiful epitaphs over our graves, but the all important thing is, what would God write if he should inscribe his divine mind? We can change this necessary summary of life only by changing the life itself. It is folly to quarrel with God and folly to deceive ourselves into thinking that we deserve some fine epitaph when God must of necessity speak of us as he spoke of the man in the text, "Thou fool." Leaving God Out. "Why was this man pronounced a fool by divine wisdom? A careless and narrow study of the story might lead us to say hastily, because he was rich. Because he was desirous of tearing down and building greater. Christ did not so teach. It was not because he was rich that God condemned him; but because he did not know how to use his wealth that God pronounced him a fool. There is no necessary conflict between living the Christ life and wealth getting. Commerce invariably follows in the wake of Christianizing influences. It is legitimate but that with the coming in of Christianizing ideas there should come also prosperity and opportunity to greater wealth. It is the venture of Christianity to stimulate energy and intelligent activity and therefore the legitimate products of these inspirations are not wrong. It is the abuse of these powers that is condemnable. Notice the personal pronoun in the story, "what shall I do?" I will tear down, I will build greater, I will get on, my soul, I will take the stage, etc. This man left God out of the equation of his life. It is the self-centered and selfish life that God condemns. Man can force God out of the equation of his life but if he does not, God will force man out of the equation of his life. He will put the stamp of truth upon him and it will doubtless be like the characterization of the text. "What is my most characteristic spirit?" If some good friend who knows my life were to write my epitaph what would it look like? If God were to carve on my tombstone what he knows to be true of me, how would I like to have all posterity read his summary of my life? This is not an idle question but we face it in our daily lives. Do I seek to serve self only? This was the attitude of the man of the text and God pronounced him a fool.

HELPLESS AS BABY. Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her. SUMMIT POINT, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emery, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work. I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16. Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them. If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too. Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it. Write to Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on your case and 64¢ Cardui, 20¢ Sample Treatment for Women, in plain wrapper, N. E. 181.

MEMORIAL SERVICE BY WOODMEN LODGES

ORGANIZATIONS HOLD JOINT EXERCISES AT REVIVAL TENT SUNDAY AFTERNOON

DR. CHARLES SCOVILLE SPEAKS

Man's Duty To Others is Theme of Address By Evangelist—Much Religion in Lodges

"If the church had done its full duty there never would have been any lodges," declared Dr. Scoville in his memorial address to the Woodmen's organizations at the Tent theatre Sunday afternoon.

"Others" as Watchword He said that when General Booth, the founder of the Salvation Army, searched the Bible for a text to send a message to all the corps throughout the world he picked the text "He saved others; himself he could not save."

"Sweet Now and Now" "It's all right," he said "to sing 'In the sweet bye an' dbye' but we ought to try to make a little 'sweet now and now.' I like to sing about the 'heaven over there,' but I want a little of heaven over here."

People in the churches he said often sing "Rescue the Perishing, Care for the Dying," "Weep for the erring one," "Lift up the fallen," but that singing about it was often as far as they got.

He especially commended the insurance feature of the Woodmen lodges declaring that when a man dies and goes through the pearly gates and leaves his wife and children to go through the gates to the poor house, he did not believe that man had done a good thing.

He reports a very interesting and successful meeting.

DADDY'S FORTUNE

"Daddy was a good man." I happened to hear a well-to-do young man say, so I went out to the cemetery and looked for his record on the family MEMORIAL. There wasn't one. The plot was neglected, grown up in weeds and the like. The young man and his associates were riding around in a big six, leading a gay life, spending the neat little fortune daddy left them. Looks to me like they were very ungrateful. Did not think enough of him to buy a simple little headstone, but what's the use. Such is life.

Anyway the above class is in the minority and there are many that don't forget. To those who believe in remembering the departed I invite you to come and see me. I will be glad to do your work and do it right.
