PAUL M. WARBURG HAS RECONSIDERED

NEW YORK BANKER WILL PERMIT NOMINATION FOR FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

CONFIRMATION IS EXPECTED

Acceptance Conditional That He Will Not Be Cross Examined By Committee

By Associated Press. Washington, July 9.—Paul M. Warburg, the New York banker, has reconsidered his recent decision to withdraw his nomination as a member of the federal reserve board on the condition that he will not consent to appear before the Senate banking committee to be cross examined.

After receipt of a telegram from Mr. Warburg today it was said by officials close to the president that an active fight would be made for the confirmation. It was declared if the banking committee failed to report the nomination favorably the president expects the Senate as a whole to act.

Few Democrats Will Oppose Mr. Warburg's telegram to the president was not given out but after its receipt officials at the White House said the name would not be withdrawn. The announcement followed a visit by Senators Thomas and Shadforth to the White House. They are understood to have told Mr. Wilson that very few democrats would oppose Mr. Warburg's confirmation.

The situation as to the nomination of Thomas B. Jones of Chicago, remained unchanged and it was said at the White House the president would continue to press for his confirmation.

2 RAILROADS GAVE 34,000 PASSES

L. & N. AND N. C. & ST. L. GAVE AWAY 11,000,000 MILES OF TRAVEL

34,000 WERE PASS TOTERS

I. C. C. Makes Report Declaring Passes Giving Menace To Free Institutions

By Associated Press. Washington, July 9.—Characterizing the giving of free passes by railroads as a "menace to the institutions of a free people," the Interstate Commerce Commission today reported to the Senate the results of its investigations directed against the L. & N. and Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroads. The report says that during 1913 these roads distributed free passes amounting to more than 11,000,000 miles of travel valued at $240,000 to 34,000 individuals in every walk of life. The L. & N. the report says, issued passes as follows:

U. S. senator, 1; representatives, 2; other U. S. officials, 129; state senators, 1,556; state representatives, 2,153; other state officials, 1,739.

The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis gave passes to U. S. officials other than members of Congress, 151; state senators, 5,614; state representatives, 1,086; judges, 170.

The commission informed the Senate that while it could issue no orders it was making a general investigation in which it intended to issue an order dealing with the practice. Discussing its findings the commission said in part:

"There is scarcely a walk of life which is not represented from the federal bank to the local politician and the sheriff who summons the jury. The threat represented by these passes lies thousands of citizens to the carrier through improper relations. The lack of morality reflected by the facts here compiled is a menace to the institutions of a free people. Such lists have revealed the manner in which these carriers have dipped into practically every domain of public and private life through the instrumentality of the free pass."

"These citizens who sell their influence quite as much as though they accepted money bribes seem to be as willing to be tied to the carriers as the carriers are to tie to them. They pledge their influence, quiet, in the home, the club, in the bank, in business, in courts of justice, in executive halls and at the polls."

MRS. KLEBER WHITE DIES IN DALLAS

Word was received here yesterday afternoon of the death of Mrs. Kleber White in Dallas. After an illness of more than two months with typhoid fever, she finally succumbed Wednesday afternoon at 2:40. Her body will be taken today to Muskogee where her parents reside, for burial. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. E. Strange of this city had been at her bedside the past week and will accompany her brother and the remains to Muskogee. Mr. White was formerly a resident of this city, removing to Dallas some time ago. On a number of occasions the deceased had visited with her husband his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. White of this city, who are now in California, and has a number of friends here who will sympathize most deeply with Mr. White in his bereavement.

By Associated Press. Washington, July 9.—Optimistic views of business conditions were presented to President Wilson by Henry Ford, the Detroit automobile manufacturer during an hour's conference at the White House. Mr. Ford told the president he saw no evidence of any sort of business depression, psychological or otherwise. He said that in his position he received reports from every section of the country.

"The only trouble is," said Mr. Ford, "that some people seem pessimistic. If every one would only cheer up this calamity talk would vanish."

The president and Mr. Ford discussed the trust bills in a general way as well as the general situation. Officials close to the president said he was greatly encouraged by his conference with Mr. Ford.

NO EFFORT NOW TO FLOAT BONDS

IT WILL FIRST BE SEEN WHAT COMMUNITIES ALONG ROUTE WILL DO

MUST RAISE $1,000,000

Surveys Will Be Completed Before Effort Is Made To Secure Pledges

The schedule of activities in connection with the Wichita Falls-Dallas interurban has been tentatively mapped out by those in charge and it has been decided that no organized effort will be made to float the bonds until it is seen what the communities affected will do. The committees will first have the several surveys made and will then consider each from the standpoint of topography and prospective traffic, laying out a tentative route on that basis.

The financial question will then receive attention and it is probable that the tentative route will be changed if it is found that the communities forward with their share of stock subscriptions and a rival town shows a willingness to do its part. It is believed, however, that to leave the routing entirely to the financial end would result in a zigzag and perhaps unprofitable route and if the towns on the road would not do their part the road would be a failure.

Necessary To Raise $1,000,000

If the road costs five million dollars to construct, it is believed that it will be necessary to raise at least a million dollars in stock subscriptions along the line. Of this amount, Dallas and Wichita Falls combined would doubtless be expected to subscribe more than half, prorating the remainder among the other communities. The committee then expects to proceed with the fiscal arrangements.

The prospective traffic along the line is less, it is estimated, than on any other interurban in Texas, as much of the country is sparsely settled and this will make the financing more difficult than it would otherwise be. The Dallas-Fort Worth, the Dallas-Denton, Fort Worth-Cleburne and other electric lines in this state all traverse territory considerably more thickly settled than that between this city and Dallas.

Developments must necessarily proceed slowly and it will be some time before the surveys are completed. Even with all possible haste in the subsequent activities, it will probably be a year before work can be started, this depending of course upon the ease with which the bonds are floated.

Farmers Urged To Plant Beans Or Peas On Stubble

The following advice from Col. Exall's farm book is particularly interesting in this season just following the harvest of the wheat and oat crops:

The small grain crops of the state is now harvested. If the land is allowed to lie idle it will very soon be covered with weeds that will go to seed, and greatly increase this nuisance next year. If it had no crop on it with roads to protect and hold the soil together, and the season is excessively wet, it will waste from washing and thus lose a large amount of its soluble plant food. If the ground is dry and hard, the rain that should sink in would run off and leave the ground in bad condition for fall plowing.

Practically all of these troubles can be avoided and the fertility of the land greatly increased by sowing it thoroughly, if it is sown enough to properly seed the soil. It should be sown and if not, by plowing and harrowing it just as quickly as possible after the crop is removed, and drilling from a peck to a half bushel of peas or soy beans to the acre.

The peas will grow if the soil is properly prepared, and their seedling practice for cattle or hogs in the early fall, and hay if you care to cut it, and a very profitable crop to turn under as green manure to add to the humus, pliability and fertility of the soil.

Peas and beans being leguminous plants, vegetables bacteria form their nodules, or tiny homes, upon the roots and increase and multiply under favorable conditions, at a fabulous rate. It has been estimated that these vegetable animals, as it were, double themselves every twenty minutes, that is they mature in that time and separate into two individuals, each of which ripens, as it were, in the next twenty minutes and divides again into two, both going to homekeeping for themselves, and so on, in geometrical ratio; where there was one a week ago there are a billion now. If the soil is sweet, that is, does not lack lime, there seems to be no end to the increasing powers of these little entities. Their special value is in the fact that they bring nitrogen from the air into the soil and rapidly transform it into nitrates suitable for plant food.

It has been estimated that where conditions are favorable and the soil has been thoroughly inoculated with bacteria from growing beans, peas, alfalfa or some other leguminous crop, that the nitrogen brought into the land annually from this source could be purchased for less than $20 or $30 per acre. As nitrogen is absolutely essential to plant growth and is one of the most expensive of the mineral plant foods, it should be clear to every one that it is infinitely more profitable to grow leguminous cover crops than other crops of the same weight that return just as much humus to the soil but do not draw nitrogen from the atmosphere.

Plant peas and beans on your stubble land and plant them now.—Texas Industrial Congress.

Elephants' First Aid Brigade Work Described

Special to The Times.
Washington, July 9.—Carl E. Akley, African explorer, in a communication to the National Geographic Society at Washington, tells of an elephant "first aid brigade," made up of the female elephants of a herd, which not only attempted to give succor to their wounded "sultan" but went on "patrol duty" in an effort to punish his assailant.

While hunting elephants in Uganda, Mr. Akley came upon a herd in a clearing, rounded up in close formation, conscious of the presence of an unseen enemy. There were about 25 elephants mostly cows and just as I was on the point of backing off to a safer distance, thinking there were no big bulls in the lot, a fine pair of tusks appeared on the near side," he says. "A clump of bushes offered cover for a near approach and I went in quickly to within 20 yards of him and as his front leg was thrust forward offering a good opportunity for a heart shot, I fired both barrels of the double rifle in quick succession.

Cows Do Patrol Duty.
"All was commotion as I seized my second rifle and, seeing there was no direct charge, retreated some 50 yards to the top of an ant hill, from which I could see what was going on. I then witnessed a scene such as I had heard described and which I had been keen to verify. A number of cows were clustered about the bull, for he had fallen 30 yards from where he was shot and with their tusks and trunks were doing their best to get him up on his feet; the remainder of cows were doing patrol duty, rushing about in an increasing circle, searching for the source of the trouble. That meant me, so I retired to a safe distance and waited for the atmosphere to clear. This bull stood 11 feet and 4 inches high at the shoulders and the tusks weighed 95 and 116 pounds respectively, while the circumference of the front stood at the sole was 57 1/2 inches, the largest recorded, I believe.

"It is generally understood that large bull elephants are more frequently to be found apart from the herds, but our experience does not bear this out. Three bulls that we have shot, having tusks each weighing over 100 pounds have been herd bulls. We have found the large old bulls enjoying the society and protection of large herds of cows and young animals. One splendid old bull well known in Uganda, who has been seen by many hunters, is so well protected by a large herd of most aggressive cows, who charge at the slightest intimation of danger, that he still survives. These old bulls are very rare, for when one has developed tusks of 50 pounds he becomes the target for every hunter, native or white, who sets eyes upon him; thus it is only the more crafty or timid individuals that, seeking the protection of large herds or clinging to the more inaccessible regions, such as dense forests, manage to survive to a ripe old age and develop a full growth of ivory.

Discomfiting Situation.
"At another time, I was watching a herd from an ant hill, when from the cows there was a low, ominous rumble like distant thunder, which was plain talk and meant trouble. A hasty glance around convinced us that there was but one thing to do, to stand and meet the charge from the elevation where we were and from which we could see. If we tried to escape to one side or the other, we could not see them over the high grass before they were upon us. They charged toward us, came half way and stopped. They had lost the wind, but immediately caught it again, and roaring and screaming with redoubled energy came into view over a slight rise. It was a discomfiting spectacle. Their great ears as they spread, bristling threateningly, a roaring, screaming mass, 40 tons of frantic female elephant vengeance. I remember that I felt homesick. A rifle shot stopped the leader, but encouraged by the others, she came on, only to be knocked down by the second shot. The others crowded about her, sniffed and bolted. The old cow slowly regained her feet and staggered away, while we in deep gratitude returned to camp."

Robert Dyson, son of J. W. Dyson the well known drilling contractor and operator, died at Fort Worth yesterday afternoon as the result of injuries sustained when he was injured in an automobile accident. The Fort Worth Record Thursday morning contained the following account of his death:

It requires considerable "know-how" as well as the real desire to give good meat service, to handle successfully the meat business during hot weather.

It's so easy for meat to spoil unless it is given extremely good care that it is not at all uncommon for a perfectly honest butcher to send you a piece of meat that may not be just exactly what you want it to be or what it ought to be.

I take unusual care, not only in buying my meats in the summer time, but in properly handling and caring of them so as to keep them in perfect condition when delivered to you. I want you to report personally immediately after receiving any piece of meat that you get from my shop, that isn't exactly what it ought to be and I'll make it good very gladly.

Let me have your next meat order.

A BIG MUSICAL NOTE

Twenty-six Catholic Schools adopt the Art Progressive Series of Piano Studies in one day. The Progressive American Music Schools now number nearly three hundred, and the Progressive Music Teachers now number two thousand, and the Art Progressive Series was copyrighted in August, 1913. YES, A WONDERFUL PROGRESS, but it represents years of study and research by the world's best musical masters, and an expenditure of more than $250,000.

WHAT IS IT YOU SAY?

Just simply a course of music text lessons, studies, exercises and historically and analytically illustrated pieces of sheet music, arranged in consecutive order, covering thoroughly all fourteen subjects necessary to a musical education. SPLENDID PROGRAM AT OPENING OF CHAUTAUQUA

CROWD WAS SMALL ATTRACTIONS GOOD

FINAL CAMPAIGN FOR SALE OF SEASON TICKETS IS ON TODAY

MEXICO LECTURE SUBJECT

Mahany's Address Features This Afternoon's Program—Novelty Entertainment Tonight

The opening of the chautauqua Wednesday, while it might have been attended by a larger crowd, made up in interest and enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. There was a fair crowd in the afternoon and a larger one at night, and every number was thoroughly enjoyed. If the succeeding days are as pleasing as the opening, the chautauqua will have established itself thoroughly here.

The management has granted additional time, until tonight for the sale of season tickets and the guarantors of the fund are bestirring themselves today in an effort to dispose of these tickets at two dollars each. Those who attend individual performances of the chautauqua will not help the guarantors to any extent, as their remuneration comes from the sale of the season tickets only. It is felt that the very low price of these tickets, especially in view of the excellence of the entertainment, calls for support of all who expect to attend. At two dollars for a season ticket, the average price per performance is about sixteen cents and Wichitaans have frequently paid a dollar or more for entertainments not so good.

Opening Program Good. The Frontenac male quartette, four good looking and tuneful young men, opened Wednesday afternoon's program. They sang comic, sentimental and other songs, interspersed with solo numbers and character songs. One of the quartette drew a series of crayon sketches for the crowd, proving himself quite an adept with the chalk.

Last night this same quartette performed being followed by the lecture, "Feeding on Husks" by Granville Jones. Though now a South Dakotan, Mr. Jones is a native of Texas, being reared in Red River county and serving the First Christian Church at Austin as pastor for some time. His lecture carries a forceful lesson, was entertaining from start to finish and was delivered with an oratorical style that was a treat in itself. It found through favor with the audience.

This morning there was a "Children's Hour" free in the basement of the M. E. Church, South. This will be a regular feature of the chautauqua. The manager, in making the opening announcement yesterday, said that comparatively few people understood the nature of a chautauqua. Many thought it was a camp meeting and others thought it was a circus; in reality, he said, it was a mixture of the best features of both.

Today's Program. This afternoon's program includes a concert entertainment by the White Star Concert Company, this to be followed by a lecture on "Mexico" by Max M. Mahany. This lecture would be interesting at any time, it is declared, but especially at present with the situation as it is in the southern Republic. This evening the same concert company will render several selections, after which there will be a "novelty evening" by Willard Gordon. Just what a "novelty evening" consists of is not stated, beyond that it is an entertainment worth while and up to the chautauqua standard.

Tomorrow's features include in the afternoon, selections by Tyrolean singers and a lecture by Dr. James Hedley on "What is Man Worth?" The evening will be given over to the performance of the Tyrolean singers who are said to be yodlers par excellence.

A change has been made from the announced program, in that the afternoon's entertainment will start at 3:30 instead of three and the evening performance at 8:30 instead of eight.

COUNTY'S TAXABLE VALUES PASS $21,000,000 MARK

TOTAL ESTIMATED AT $21,049,680

GAIN OF $2,512,485 OVER LAST YEAR INDICATED ACCORDING TO ASSESSOR

REVENUE NEARLY $84,000

Estimate May Be Changed Slightly By Railroad Intangibles Not Yet Available

Wichita county's taxable values stepped past the twenty-one million mark this year, according to the completed estimate by Tax Assessor John Robertson. This estimate while not final, will probably be only slightly changed by the railroad intangible figures which are not yet available. The 1914 valuations total $21,049,680 according to this estimate. Last year the total was $18,537,195. This year shows a gain of $2,512,485 or about thirteen per cent, a more than creditable showing in the face of the fact that many North Texas counties, larger and richer are showing much smaller gains and many of them are showing decreases.

Of the totals for both years, the oil lease valuations represent about three quarters of a million. These valuations are in litigation and are not final. If the present tax rate for the county, forty cents, is maintained this year, as now seems probable, the revenue should be about $84,000 based on the estimated valuations.

DENNY VOTERS HEAR COUNTY CANDIDATES

Twenty Candidates Address About Equal Number of Voters There

About twenty candidates and almost that many voters gathered at Denny school house Wednesday night to talk and be talked about and a very pleasant session was held. The Denny voters listened with interest, but neither their numbers nor their enthusiasm indicated that they felt the country was in any danger from the outcome on July 25.

There are enough candidates to make quite a gang in themselves and they are quite a happy family. Everybody talks nice about everybody else, except the candidates for county attorney, who, being lawyers say some downright mean things about each other, as lawyers will, and then on the way home they ride in the same back and swap chewing tobacco and yarns just like human beings.

LACK OF INTEREST HERE INTERNATIONAL HIGHWAYS

Other Cities Appreciate Distinction and Advantages and Act Accordingly

D. P. Talley, who is now at Rochester, Minn. where he recently under an operation, writes The Times enclosing a clipping telling of the action of the commissioners' court of Potter county in awarding the contract for a temporary bridge over the Canadian River twenty miles north of Amarillo pending the completion of a permanent bridge. The clipping continued: "This will allow tourist travel over the Colorado to the Gulf Highway to continue without interruption."

Mr. Talley comments as follows: "It seems too bad to me that Wichita Falls people do not attach the importance to these highways that nearly all other cities do. Only a few of us seem willing to do anything and we certainly can't accomplish much the way things have been going. The whole business population of Amarillo, Memphis, Quasah, Lawton, Bowie, Decatur, Fort Worth, Cleburne, Denton, Sherman, Stamford, Corsicana, Waxahatchee, San Antonio and a score of others think the obtaining and retaining of all such trunk line highways of such great importance that they have made such one of the important, acting departments of their chambers of commerce, handled by the secretary and his clerical staff with a majority of the directors feeling an interest. Wichita Falls has lost ground in a publicity way in this highway work during the past six months. I would like to see our people come alive to the subject and lead again."

COTTON CONDITION HERE BETTER THAN ELSEWHERE

Acres Not Large But Indications Point To One of Best Crops in Years

Cotton in Wichita county and Northwest Texas is in much better condition than in Texas as a whole, according to local cotton men and farmers. The plant in this vicinity is in no present need of rain, it is said, and is well advanced for this season of the year. With anything like favorable weather, Wichita county will make the best crop in years. The outlook for corn is less favorable, some of it being knocked out by the dry weather just preceding the last rain and the remaining crop is beginning to need moisture again. The feed crops are doing well and with the increased acreage will give Wichita county a much larger production than heretofore.

Another Lost Chord. "Seated one day at the organ, I was awfully ill at ease, I was hard at work inventing unheard of harmonies.

"I was heavily perspiring, and in desperation, when I struck a chord of music such as ne'er was heard by men.

"It shivered the golden twilight, such a crash was never heard, Not a chord of the ninth or thirteenth, But a chord of the twenty-third!

"It raised a tumultuous sorrow, like many cats in strife, I can truly say that I never heard such a sound in my life.

"It was full of discordant meanings, As it came at the end of the piece, And I held it for thirty measures, And then I was loth to cease.

"The others will seek it vainly, That dissonant chord of mine It will stump both Strauss and Schoenberg, And in envy they will pine.

"I may never hope to hear it in the symphonies of men, For it may be that only in hades I shall hear that chord again."

WIMES PUBLISHING CO. ED HOWARD, Mgr.

Tom Ball, a gambler; Jim Ferguson, a swindler—these are the latest changes in the remarkable mud-slinging campaign now in progress in Texas. So far none of the opposing speakers or writers have accused either of the candidates of murder or arson, but there still remains sixteen days until the primary.

Congressman John H. Stephens writes to the call from Washington that he has noticed an article in the Dalhart Texasian to the effect that he was not a resident of the district nor owned a home in Vernon. He still owns a home here that he bought 22 years ago and pays taxes here and votes in Vernon. He resides in Vernon when his official duties does not require him to be elsewhere. Stephens has been in constant session most of the time the past several years enacting important legislation in which the people of this district are interested, which demands his stay at Washington.—Vernon Call.

Referring to an unsigned article that appeared in yesterday's Times, Chairman A. W. Walker, of the Ball campaign, writes The Times as follows: "This will be your authority for signing my name to the article sent you yesterday for publication, which, through oversight, was sent out unsigned." The article was that appearing on page four, column two, of yesterday's Times, under the caption of "Say 'Liquor Interests Will Spend One Million Dollars.'"

J. H. Lowry, the editor of the Honey Grove Signal and candidate for congress from the state-at-large, made a brief stop in Van Alstyne Thursday afternoon. Jim Lowry deserves any success that he may achieve. He is just plain, honest Jim Lowry with a head full of good, hard sense, any time you meet him. He is a well-poised man and true to the right as the needle to the pole. You can find out where he stands on any question any time; you can hold convictions not in accord with his without incurring his ill will. He feels that he is a brother to every man and delights in rendering a valuable service to all men. His election to congress will broaden the field for his work. The newspaper men know and love Jim Lowry—most of them would fight for him—and of course it would be a real delight to them and to many others to have him part in making that devoted dome of his a familiar object in the lower house.—Van Alstyne Leader.

The suit of Attorney General Looney to dissolve the operation of the Texas Business Men's Association will test the legality of railroads and other corporations' right to publish advertisements in newspapers informing the public of public matters affecting their rights while doing business with the public. If they can not legally pay out money to advertise their business in the newspapers for fear it will affect future legislation or be classed as political interference and against public policy then what shall be the means of getting them before the public.—Vernon Call.

As The Times views the matter, the railroads have a right to spend money for newspaper advertising, and when such advertising appears with the proper mark indicating that it is advertising, no intelligent reader can be misled. A law that would restrain them from giving their side, or their views of a question, would be an unfair and unjust law. There are always two sides to all questions.

TWO IRISH ARMIES READY FOR BLOOD (By Herbert Corey in the Houston Chronicle). London, July 9.—Two hostile armies are confronting each other in Ireland. In Ulster and the north counties 100,000 men will resist, any attempt by the government to enforce any provision of the home rule bill which is not acceptable to them. In the southern counties of Ireland 140,000 men have been enrolled to resist any attempt by the government to take from them any item of the victory they have won by the passage through the commonsense of the home rule bill. One must admit that a situation of that sort is filled with gunpowder and loose sparks. I have just returned from a visit to Ireland where I made an effort to find out just what the talk of armed resistance really amounts to. Ulster means business. Ulster's 100,000 have been drilling for two years—some of them for four years—all are armed with Mausers and they have a plan of organization which would do credit to a war office. South of Ireland means business, too. The nationalist volunteers are poverty stricken, as compared with the men of Ulster. They have almost no rifles and no uniforms and hardly any bandoliers. But the ranks of the volunteers are being augmented at the rate of 8000 a week. There is plenty of time to get in guns enough to arm them all long before there is need for any rifleman to crack a cap. Ulster Better Organized. Put the two forces in the field today and Ulster's men would present the semblance of an army. Not many of them would be uniformed, but they can all march well, shoot fairly well, and they have been trained in their war-making business by men who know how. By comparison the south of Ireland forces—today—would look like a disorganized mob. They are still in the halftrot-stagfoot stage of drill. They have no central organization worthy of name, and hardly any regimental organization. On the other hand,

About one hundred members were present and the evening's entertainment was very much enjoyed. An interesting program was carried out and dancing was instituted following the program. This was the first of the social meetings of this order was quite a success.

THE TIMES PUBLISHING CO. ED HOWARD, Mgr.

Tom Ball, a gambler; Jim Ferguson, a swindler—these are the latest charges in the remarkable mud-slinging campaign now in progress in Texas. So far none of the opposing speakers or writers have accused either of the candidates of murder or arson, but there still remains sixteen days until the primary.

Congressman John H. Stephens writes to the call from Washington that he has noticed an article in the Dalhart Texan to the effect that he was not a resident of the district nor owned a home in Vernon. He still owns a home here that he bought 22 years ago and pays taxes here and votes in Vernon. He resides in Vernon when his official duties does not require him to be elsewhere. Congress has been in constant session most of the time the past several years enacting important legislation in which the people of this district are interested, which demands his stay at Washington.—Vernon Call.

Referring to an unsigned article that appeared in yesterday's Times, Chairman A. W. Walker, of the Ball campaign, writes The Times as follows: "This will be your authority for signing my name to the article sent you yesterday for publication, which, through oversight, was sent out, unsigned." The article was that appearing on page four, column two, of yesterday's Times, under the caption of "Say 'Liquor Interests Will Spend One Million Dollars.'"

J. H. Lowry, the editor of the Honey Grove Signal and candidate for congress from the state-at-large, made a brief stop in Van Alstyne Thursday afternoon. Jim Lowry deserves any success that he may achieve. He is just plain, honest Jim Lowry with a head full of good, hard sense any time you meet him. He is a well poised man and true to the right as the needle to the pole. You can find out where he stands on any question any time; you can hold convictions not in accord with his self but incurring his ill will. He feels that he is a brother to every man and delights in rendering a valuable service to all men. His decision to congress will broaden the field for his work. The newspaper men know and love Jim Lowry—most of them would fight for him—and of course it would be a real delight to them and to many others to have a part in picking that denuded dome of its familiar object in the lower house.—Van Alstyne Leader.

The suit of Attorney General Looney to dissolve the operation of the Texas Business Men's Association will test the legality of railroads and other corporations in placing advertisements in newspapers, informing the public of public matters affecting their rights while doing business with the public. If they can not legally pay out money to advertise their business in the newspapers for fear it will affect future legislation or be classed as political interference and against public policy then what shall be the means of getting them before the public.—Vernon Call.

As The Times views the matter, the railroads have a right to spend money for newspaper advertising, and when such advertising appears with the proper mark indicating that it is advertising, no intelligent reader can be misled. A law that would restrain them from giving their side, or their views of a question, would be an unfair and unjust law. There are always two sides to all questions.

TRAFFIC RULES SUGGESTED. Traffic conditions have improved greatly on the streets of Wichita Falls since the employment of a motorcycle officer. There is still room for improvement, however, and the following rules in force at Los Angeles, California, are suggested for consideration:

Keep to the right when meeting other vehicles. Travel as near the right-hand curb as possible. When overtaking vehicles, pass to the left. Keep slow moving vehicles near the curb on the right. See that you have room to make a turn in safety before attempting it; then give a signal to other drivers of your intention to turn. Such signal may be given by hand, whip or signal device attached to the vehicle. In turning a corner to the right, keep near the curb. In turning a corner to the left, go beyond the intersection before turning. Stop with right wheels to curb and not over two feet from same. If standing at the curb, give way to any vehicle desiring to pick up or put down passengers or freight. Enter alleys in business districts from the north end and leave via south end. Give warning before backing. Stop ten feet in rear of street cars loading or unloading passengers and remain standing until all passengers are safely in or have all alighted. Place danger sign on all loads or parts of loads, such as pipe, lumber, etc., which project more than four feet over the vehicle at the rear. Turn animals at right angles to vehicles backed up to curb. Do not drive unbroken or dangerous animals in the streets. Give police vehicles, fire apparatus and ambulance the right of way; pull into the curb and stop when they approach and remain standing until they have passed. Do not unnecessarily delay any street car. Do not cut through any funeral procession. Do not leave a vehicle unattended within 20 feet of a fire hydrant. Do not leave animals unhitched on the street. Do not leave vehicles within twenty feet of the entrance to theatres during performance. This does not include picture shows. At crossings where no traffic officer is stationed when two vehicles arrive simultaneously, the one traveling in a northerly or southerly direction has the right of way and the one going easterly or westerly shall give way to the vehicle first named. Don't cut corners. Don't carry more than one person upon bicycles and motorcycles built for only one.

TWO IRISH ARMIES READY FOR BLOOD

(By Herbert Corey in the Houston Chronicle). London, July 9.—Two hostile armies are confronting each other in Ireland. In Ulster and the north counties 100,000 men will resist any attempt by the government to enforce any provision of the home rule bill which is not acceptable to them. In the southern counties of Ireland 140,000 men have been enrolled to resist any attempt by the government to take from them any item of the victory they have won by the passage through the commons of the home rule bill. One must admit that a situation of that sort is filled with gunpowder and loose sparks. I have just returned from a visit to Ireland where I made an effort to find out just what the talk of armed resistance really amounts to. Ulster means business. Ulster's 100,000 have been drilling for two years—some of them for four years—all are armed with Mausers and they have a plan of organization which would do credit to a war office. South of Ireland means business, too. The nationalist volunteers are poverty stricken, as compared with the men of Ulster. They have almost no rifles and no uniforms and hardly any bandoliers. But the ranks of the volunteers are being augmented at the rate of $500 a week. There is plenty of time to get in guns enough to arm them all long before there is need for any riflemen to crack a cap. Ulster Better Organized. Put the two forces in the field today and Ulster's men would present the semblance of an army. Not many of them would be unformed, but they can all march well, shoot fairly well, and they have been trained in their war-making business by men who know how. By comparison the south of Ireland forces—today—would look like a disorganized mob. They are still in the hayfoot-strawfoot stage of drill. They have no central organization worthy of name, and hardly any regimental organization. On the other hand, they are natural fighting men. It is from these south of Ireland counties that the Irish army has been recruited for generations. Dr. Dillon, member of parliament from East Mayo, declares that no less than 1000 former non-commissioned officers of the British army are today whipping the nationalist volunteers into form. Both sides are open as a bayonet in their operations. Under the law as applied to Ireland permission may be granted by two magistrates, acting in concert, for any body of men to drill. The very easiest thing in Ireland has been to get two magistrates to give that permission. For two years the Ulster men have been drilling twice a week in half the town commons and noblemen's parks in the nine counties. In the three months which have elapsed since the nationalist volunteer movement was started these men have drilled at least twice a week. Many companies drill every other night. Both forces have a certain backbone of drilled men, partly because there are hundreds of veterans of the British army scattered through Ireland, and also because many sons of small farmers belong to the British volunteers and the territorial forces, each of which have a three weeks' camp each year. These bodies correspond somewhat to our National Guard organizations. Government Awakening. The government of Great Britain has taken no effective steps to pre-

RUCKER CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY BILL PASSES HOUSE

By Associated Press. Washington, July 9.—The Rucker bill to amend and codify campaign publicity laws today passed the House. It would extend existing requirements to senators who were not elected by popular vote when the original law was passed and it limits the amount of money which national committees may spend in each state. every sea captain is an enthusiast on one side or the other—and that jagged coast line is spangled with coves into which an apparently innocent shunting vessel may scoot out of sight for an hour or two and discharge a lethal cargo. The broad statement may be made that either side can at any time get all the arms it can pay for. The Ulster men are importing rifles in lots of ten to fifteen now, as a reserve supply. Every man now enrolled in the U. V. F.—Ulster Volunteer Forces—has his rifle securely hidden away somewhere in the house. But more rifles will be needed if war ever breaks out, and the forehanded and well financed leaders are importing them without rapidly, but with a certain businesslike regularity. Each rifle is thoroughly greased, and is

SOCIAL MEETING ORDER OF AZTECS LAST NIGHT.

The social meeting of the Order of Aztecs which was postponed from last Wednesday night, was held last night in the new Old Fellows hall. About one hundred members were present and the evening's entertainment was very much enjoyed. An interesting program was carried out and dancing was instituted following the program. A very pretty feature of the dancing program was a "moonlight" dance, the radiance for which was provided by an electrically lighted star and crescent, the emblem of the order, effectively placed high in one corner. This the first of the social meetings of this order was quite a success.

SEVERAL BAD CHECK CASES RECEIVE ATTENTION.

Several bad check cases are receiving the attention of the county authorities at present, and some arrests may be made as a result. Three or four local merchants have had bad checks, given them by strangers, returned recently. Yesterday two local stores accepted checks from a man who represented himself to be from Clay county and who gave the name of several well-known local citizens with whom he said he was well acquainted. It was found out later that the citizens in question had never heard of him.

OUR REPUTATION

Is not based upon the sale we make today, but the way our work shows up throughout the years withstanding that greatest of all tests, "The ravages of time."

We have erected a good many MEMORIALS throughout Texas and Oklahoma, and can always point with pride to each and everyone, they representing full value for the money expended. We never sacrifice QUALITY in order to make a sale knowing as we do that quantity without quality is always a source of such dissatisfaction, not only to our customers, but to ourselves.

Your dollars will bring greater satisfaction used in the erection of a memorial to your departed loved ones than they will expended in any other way. Why not follow that best of all impulses, and beautify your cemetery plot today?

Remember the house of QUALITY.

The Empress.
Sidney Olcott presents Miss Valentine Grant, one of Broadway's most popular and beautiful stars in a three reel drama, "The Idle Rich." The program is completed with a real good comedy.

The Victoria.
The Mutual Weekly No. 72 is shown in which we see mourners for Colorado strikers gather in Mulberry Park, King and Queen of England guests of president of France, grain elevator topples over in Canada, General Sickness dies in New York and other scenes of interest.

"The Social Ghost" is also showing here today. Tom Banner's mother is an invalid. Their money is gone and Tom, who is about fourteen years of age, starts out to find work. He is rather small for his age and no one will have him. In despair he sinks down on a park bench and his faithful dog, Mike, sets watch over him. Suddenly he is conscious of a beautiful little girl standing before him, holding out a bag of candy. He helps himself shyly. She looks at Mike admiringly and Tom thinks she is the prettiest little girl that he has ever seen in his life, but just at that moment up rushes an irate person in white cap and apron and drags the pretty little girl away. Tom is again in despair and wanders around and finally finds himself by the duck pond. There he spies the same little girl throwing bread crumbs to the ducks. At the next moment her arms fly up and her feet from under her—and splash—Mike pricks up his ears and dashes in after her. That same evening when Ethel's father goes to find the dog and the boy to reward them having saved his daughter's life, he meets face to face the wife who deserted him twelve years ago. Husband and wife, brother and sister are reunited and the father wins his little son's heart completely when next day he rescues Mike from the city dog pound.

The Majestic.
"Her Mother's Weakness" featuring Clara McDowell is a Biograph drama, "her mother" is a kleptomaniac who battles against self. How she wins out forms a most interesting photo play. A Snakeville Comedy, featuring "Slippery Slim," also "His Sob Story" a two reel Edison. Ben Wilson has the part of John Williams, a newspaper man down on his luck and Charles Ogle is the editor. The story is as follows:
Dead broke, John Williams is tramping the city in search of a newspaper job. A shabbily clad woman faints near him and he goes to her assistance, unconsciously putting her hand bag in his pocket. After she has been removed in an ambulance he finds the bag opens it in the hope of learning some clue to the woman's identity and finds in it nothing but a child's photograph and a nickel. John has felt the pinch of poverty very keenly and the incident gives him an idea for a powerful "sob" story. He rushes into a newspaper office, sweeping opposition before him with a new strength born of a high purpose and pounds out his story on the typewriter. As he proceeds, the creature of his imagination—for he knows nothing of the actual circumstances of the woman he saw—wins his sympathy and he puts his whole heart into the tale of this woman who is forced to battle for mere existence because of the selfish cruelty of her husband.
The story finished, it is submitted to the editor who begins reading it in an off hand manner and gradually becomes absorbed in it. His interest turns to feverish excitement and he rushes out to question John about the details of the story. Then, with drawn and haggard face he says simply, "that was my wife." The editor and John begin a systematic search of the hospital and succeed in finding the woman. The humbled editor, suffering the deepest remorse, begs his wife for forgiveness and she gently acquiesces. Of course, John does not have to wander very far afield in search of a job.
