HUERTA AT MEXICO CITY WHILE HIS FAMILY FLEE

FAMILY IN FLIGHT ON A SPECIAL TRAIN

Dutch Cruiser Is Believed Waiting At Puerto To Take Fugitives On Board

By Associated Press.

Vera Cruz, July 15.—The two special trains carrying the families of General Huerta, General Blanquet and others from the capital city to the coast are reported to have reached Orizaba at nine o'clock this morning. From that point it is believed they will go to Puerto Mexico where they will arrive tomorrow.

The specials left Mexico City last night at ten o'clock. The train carrying members of Huerta's family and others was preceded by a military train carrying 800 soldiers. The party boarded the train at Villa de Guadalupe, a small station five miles from Mexico City. Only a few persons were aware of their departure.

The Dutch cruiser which has been at the pier here for several days left this morning for Puerto. The belief that it is to receive members of the Huerta family is strengthened by the fact that its captain left several days ago for Mexico City and had not returned when the cruiser left this morning.

The passengers who reached here today from Mexico City said that the capital was full of rumors about Huerta's resignation but that no official announcement had been made up to the time they left.

The lieutenant general in command of the forces at the gap in the railroad between Vera Cruz and Mexico City said today that he was using 400 workmen to get the roadbed into condition but that his orders were positive not to lay any rails.

NO WORD AT WASHINGTON

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 15.—No word of the movements of General Huerta was contained in any of the official dispatches from Mexico City today. These communications were from the Brazilian legation and nothing more than the formal routine announcements were made.

HUERTA AT CAPITOL AS USUAL

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, July 15.—General Huerta was at the capitol early today and at eleven o'clock went as usual to a barber shop across from the presidential offices to be shaved.

REBEL TROOPS READY FOR EVENTUALITIES

El Paso, July 15.—In case of a sudden fall of the Huerta government, constitutional troops can enter Mexico City within a few hours, according to revolutionary agents here. This would prevent, they said, the much feared reign of disorder at the National capital before the Carranza government could be established. It already has been arranged it was said, that troops under Gen. Candido Aguilar would reach the city first. Aguila's 4,000 troops are deployed between Tuxpan and Orizaba, and it was asserted would be in a position to reach Mexico City within twelve hours.

Probably the second group of troops to reach the National capital would be the army under Gen. Obregon, which recently took Guadalajara. Obregon's division of cavalry could get to the capital within a few hours. The division under Gen. Villa which has moved north into Chihuahua, could not reach Mexico City for several weeks. The Villa troops, however, probably would be one of the strongest forces employed in case of a final federal stand at Queretaro or some other central point north of the capital.

FIRST ACTUAL PICTURES FROM ZACATECAS SHOWING CARNAGE OF THE AWFUL FIGHT

RUINS OF FEDERAL BUILDING, ZACATECAS, BLOWN UP BY REBELS—2 DEAD SOLDIERS LIE IN STREET OF ZACATECAS. PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

These pictures are the first authentic ones to pass the Mexican censors and reach the United States from Zacatecas, where the rebels recently won a telling and decisive victory over the federals. They were taken by a war photographer while stray bullets still whizzed in the air, but after the rebels had won. One of them shows dead soldiers and horses in one of the streets. Most of the city was thus strewn with dead and the gutters ran red with gore. The other shows rebels carting away some of the dead on a small dray drawn by horses. These bodies were carted to big pits on the outskirts and dumped in. Later they were burned.

Hobo Appeals to J. A. Kemp for $2 Tobacco Money

A good many "begging letters" in the course of a year reach the desk of J. A. Kemp but one received today is considered somewhat out of the ordinary. It is from an inmate of the county jail who wants two dollars with which to purchase himself some chewing tobacco and other trifles.
"I am a hobo" frankly states the letter. The writer says that Mr. Kemp has never seen him, though he has seen Mr. Kemp hundreds of times. He confesses himself down and out and asks Mr. Kemp's aid because he knows no one else to whom to write.
The letter concludes with a quotation from Dr. Spurgeon "a man in rags is still a man."

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, July 15.—George Sweeney, one of the best known men in South Texas, was shot and killed in a pistol duel here. W. A. Bridges, who killed him was arrested and charged with murder. The duel was fought at the corner of Fletcher avenue and Milam street. Beyond the fact that the trouble started in a card game nothing has been given out as to the cause of the duel.

Sweeney Fired First. Eye witnesses say Sweeney fired the first shot. Bridges then ran to cover in the entrance of a drug store at the corner. They fired at each other four times. Finally Bridges shot Sweeney in the left side and he dropped full length on the pavement. Both men are well known. Sweeney has been notable in sporting and turf circles.
Sweeney's Romantic Marriage. Sweeney leaves a widow and one child. His marriage was a romantic one. He eloped with Merle Perry. Mrs. Mary Perry, her mother and member of a wealthy family tried to get her daughter away from him through a writ of habeas corpus. While the hearing was in progress Sweeney regained his wife and placing her in an automobile sped with her to safety. Afterward he became reconciled with his wife's family.

The reduction is on a basis of comparison with the same period in 1913. This has been realized by Gov. Colquitt.

Figures submitted by the comptroller indicated that it would require $5,670,000 to run the state government during the next fiscal year. Of this amount $3,089,000 must be raised in ad valorem taxes.
The property valuations for the entire state is estimated at $2,716,000,000.

Gov. Colquitt says he hopes to reduce the present state tax rate from 22 cents to 19 or 20 cents and that the school tax may be increased from 17 to 20 cents. The board is composed of the governor, the secretary of state and the comptroller.

TWO WOMEN DIE IN DALLAS FIRE

BOARDING HOUSE BURNS AND BOARDERS CAUGHT ON SECOND FLOOR

BELIEVE FIRE INCENDIARY

Soon Afterward And Nearby Negrass Is Shot to Death by Negro Man.

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, July 15.—Two women were burned to death in a boarding house fire here early today and three others were seriously injured. The house was located at 500 South Akard street and caught fire about 2 o'clock this morning. The entire lower floor was in flames when the fire was discovered.

Nearly all the boarders were caught on the second floor. Some of them were compelled to jump through the flames that were running up the sides of the two story frame house.

Proprietress Lost Life. Mrs. Mary E. McCauley, proprietress of the boarding house, lost her life in an effort to save others in the house. Her body, badly charred and burned, was found by firemen lying on the roof of a back porch. Her daughter said her mother ran outside the house and then went up the back stairs to arouse one of her boarders. This was the last seen of her alive. Mrs. McCauley was 45.

Died Praying. Dora Roberts, aged 21, was burned to death in her room. She was found with her head resting on the bed on one arm and the other outstretched on the bed. It was evident that when she realized escape had been shut off she dropped to her knees in prayer. Several others were injured as they jumped from the second floor. Miss Betty Thurmond jumped from the second floor and received a sprained back and probably internal injuries. She was burned about the hands and face.

Cecilia Branham jumped from the second floor breaking a thigh. Her face, arms and neck were burned. Miss Ethel McCauley, the 16 year old daughter of Mrs. McCauley, was burned about the face, neck, arms and hands.

Believe Fire Incendiary. The fire was of such a suspicious nature that Assistant Fire Chief Myers declared he believed it of incendiary origin. A year ago Mrs. McCauley shot her husband in a quarrel. She claimed self-defense. The couple had lived apart for some time. A few months ago McCauley crawled through a window and stabbed his wife as she lay in bed. The wounds did not prove serious.
Another Tragedy Nearly. Within a block of the scene of the fire and soon thereafter a pistol duel was fought between two negroes, Emma Hawkins and Chilton Walker. Walker killed the woman and was arrested. The duel had no apparent connection with the fire.

Wierd And Uncanny Snake Dance Of Hopis Described

Washington, July 15.—The wierd and uncanny snake dance of the Hopis is described in a communication to the National Geographic Society at Washington, D. C., by Miss Marion L. Oliver, daughter of the Assistant Secretary of War Robert New Oliver.

"The chief of the harvest priests first appeared, carrying in his hand a wierd wind instrument, which as he swung sounded like the angry scolding wind of a storm," she writes. "Others followed, carrying rattles which made the sound of falling rain; others had ears of corn, or other harvest emblems. Suddenly I saw a priest ascending the ladder leading from the Snake kiva. He was covered with a long coat and carried a great bag, the contents of which writhed and wriggled. He deposited his bag of snakes under the tepee like altar. Just as the rays of the setting sun struck the top rank of the ladder, several wild figures emerged. Now the ceremony began. Crossing hands, they swayed from east to west with eyes half closed. After about 20 motions they burst into deep, voiced chant. Soon some of the priests began to look half hypnotized and sang with their eyes fixed and heads bent.

"Suddenly the singing stopped and the Snake priests stood in line, single file, only every other priest had his hand on the shoulder of the one in front of him and in the other hand carried a wand of eagle feathers. Around they went, around the plaza, with a funny high stepping motion. As they passed the altar they paused and stamped twice on a board that was over a hole to awaken the spirits to hear their prayers. The second time the priests passed the altar I saw them pause, but only when they had turned facing me, did I realize the horror. Every other man had a squirming live rattlesnake in his mouth. The snakes were curling themselves into all kinds of horrible shapes and their evil heads went darting this way and that. I saw one rattle strike a man just under the ear. He had to pull it loose, but took a fresh hold of the snake nearer for it.

"Now I saw the reason for the second priests with feather wands. Their duty was to soothe the snake by stroking it with the feathers and to guide the snake carrying priest, who often looked as if he were in a trance. The snakes would hiss and try to coil and strike, but the flicking of the feathers would make them uncoil and the priests would pick them up with about as much concern as most people would pick up a rope. Two of the Snake priests were little boys who could not have been more than five years old. One of those danced with a bull snake bigger than himself, which he had to hold with both hands as well as his teeth to prevent it from getting away.

"A group of Hopi maidens now entered. The priests drew all the snakes on the ground in a great squirming mass at their feet and the maidens sprinkled the hideous reptiles with sacred meal. Then the priests bent down and each set two handfuls of snakes and turning ran with incredible swiftness out of the plaza down to the desert, where with a parting message to their spirit brothers they left them.

"I rode back to camp very silent, the whole thing leaving me rather dazed, it seemed so wierd, so unreal, and yet the knowledge that the dance was the culmination of sixteen days of fasting and prayer and the intense religious attitude of both priests and people, impressed me more than I was willing to admit. How was it that the poison of the snakes had no effect on the dancers? I asked many the solution of this problem and their answers were always the same. 'We don't know, all we know is, if any trader or sheep herder is bitten by a rattler, if we can get him to the Snake priests he is always saved. The cure, whether drug, herb or incantation, is kept secret and the Snake clan guard it as a sacred trust never to be divulged under any conditions.'

WICHITA FALLS MUST GET BUSY

DANGER THAT OPTIONAL ROUTE MAY DIVERT PART MERIDIAN ROAD TRAVEL

OFFICIAL LOGGERS HERE TODAY

Col. Westgard, D. E. Colp and Others of Logging Party Spend Night Here

It's up to Wichita Falls to get busy and keep moving, especially along the lines of publicity, if she doesn't want an optional route to divert the Meridian traffic from this city, said D. E. Colp of San Antonio, president of the Texas Meridian Road Association. Mr. Colp, Col. A. L. Westgard of New York and about a dozen others reached this city from Fort Worth last night at 10:30 about five hours behind their schedule. They left at 10 o'clock this morning for Oklahoma, expecting to make Anadarko by tonight.

The party travels in five cars. They were delayed yesterday by blowouts and other things and were over two hours late in getting out of Fort Worth. Sandy roads in Witt county also delayed them. A number of Wicheitons who journeyed to Henrietta to meet the tourists returned last evening without waiting for them. Secretary R. H. Miller of the Chamber of Commerce, however, remained and served as escort to this city. This morning several Wicheitons accompanied the tourists north, including M. A. Marcus, T. B. Noble, R. F. Miller, Linn Boyd, J. B. Marlow, C. B. Felder and others.

Gulf to Winnipeg.

This trip over the Meridian highway which began at the Gulf and which will continue until the party reaches Winnipeg, Canada, is part of Col. Westgard's work as vice president and transcontinental highway director of the National Highways Association. This year he will travel over thousands of miles of automobile routes that are part of the national highway system and his present journey is but a small part of his work. He did not comment upon the roads he found in Texas, saying there were all sorts. Everybody in the party, however, said they could tell the difference when they crossed the Wichita county line last night.

Col. Westgard said that the elaborate highway system mapped out by the national highways association included fifty thousand miles of public road—slightly over one-fifth of the total mileage of public roads in this country, yet reaching and directly serving a large part of the entire population. He said:

"Count the people who live in the counties adjoining those through which the proposed national highways pass and you have a grand total of ninety-two per cent of the entire population of the United States that will be served by such a system. This is what the National Highways Association proposes:—First, that the nation, under the direction of a national highways commission shall build and afterwards maintain, the most important interstate highways. Second, that each state, under the direction of a state highway commission, shall build a state system comprising the most important continuous routes in the State. Third, that each county shall take care of a tertiary system of county roads supplementing the national and state systems. Fourth, that the towns shall look after the roads that are purely local, the feeders and dead ends. We shall then have a system of road management like that which made France pre-eminent among the nations for the excellence of her roads."

Wichita Doubly Favored.

You note by these maps that Wichita Falls is on two national highways, something your citizens should be proud of and something they should guard jealously. The Colorado to Gulf highway is a major link in a highway that stretches from the far northwestern states to the Gulf; the Meridian highway is to be a central route for north-to-south travel.

There are five cars in the party. One of them is an Austin car occupied by two twelve year old boys, Clarence Meyer and J. B. Stroberg who expect to make the long trip with the others. Their machine is painted over with signs advertising the Texas capital city. The personnel of the party includes:

Members of Party.

Col. A. L. Westgard, wife and son of New York City; D. E. Colp and wife of San Antonio; W. H. Beck and wife of Fort Worth; E. R. Gafford wife of San Antonio; Clarence Meyer, and J. B. Stroberg of Austin; George Gardner of Marlin; George Mastin, Tom Mastin and William Hamilton of Fort Worth.

There was no attempt at entertainment when the tired tourists reached here last night. Most of them

Better Tie Up Fido and Go Pay Dog License

The dog catcher is going to start on his rounds pretty soon and all untaxed dogs will be caught and executed. At the meeting of the city council last night City Marshal Hall was instructed to give notice that dog tax was past due and that within a short time the execution of dogs found without tags would start.

There are probably 1,500 or 2,000 dogs in the city. Dog tax was due January 1, but up to date City Tax Collector Robertson has not collected a dollar's tax on the canines.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Misty's time," says Miss Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework."

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardal, the woman's tonic, and am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardal goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired nervous, irritable woman, who feels as if everything were wrong, and needs something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardal. It will help you. At all drug stores.

Sold by Chalmers Medicine Co., Lister's Delivery Dept., Chalmers, Tenn. For Special Information, call 2555, and ask for Cardal, "The Tonic for Women," in plain wrapper. B.G. 188

PLAYGROUND ASSOCIATION FORMED AT FREDERICK

(Frederick Leader)

As one of the results of the chatauque, the Frederick Playground Association was formed Saturday afternoon, at a meeting held under the direction of Miss Brugger, the superintendent of the children's chatauque. The association will ask for the use of the city park on North Fourteenth street, to transform it into a playground for the children of the city. The park is now in cotton, but it is understood that its use will be granted by the council after this crop has been picked. Miss Brugger recommended that one play day in the week be fixed, and that during the summer months the playing be done at the sunset hour. The members of the association will meet with the children and help them in their plays.

The Best Food Service

A picnic lunch is nothing if it isn't unusual. The average family doesn't indulge in picnics often enough to make the lunch problem a very heavy burden even though the unusual is selected.

Yet the picnic lunch proposition is large enough to demand pretty careful attention at the food store and I have made a department of these goods second to none in the state. I invite you to come and get acquainted with it. I will list here just a few items I would consider as unusual and which I think you would appreciate. I have perhaps 50 or 60 different items for you to select from, of which the following half dozen are items selected at random.

A BIG MUSICAL NOTE

Twenty-six Catholic Schools adopt the Art Progressive Series of Piano Studies in one day. The Progressive American Music Schools now number nearly three hundred, and the Progressive Music Teachers now number two thousand, and the Art Progressive Series was copyrighted in August, 1913. YES, A WONDERFUL PROGRESS, but it represents years of study and research by the world's best musical masters, and an expenditure of more than $250,000.

WHAT IS IT YOU SAY?

Just simply a course of music text lessons, studies, exercises and historically and analytically illustrated pieces of sheet music, arranged in consecutive order, covering thoroughly all fourteen subjects necessary to a musical education. The Friend of My Heart. Commend me to the friend that comes When I am sad and lone. And makes the anguish of my heart The suffering of his own; Who coldly shuts the glittering throat At pleasure's gay levee, And comes when the number hour And give his heart to me.

He hears me count my sorrows o'er, And when the task is done He freely gives me all I ask— A sigh for every one. He can not wear a smiling face When mine is touched with gloom, But, like the violet, seeks to cheer The midnight with perfume.

Commend me to that generous heart Which like the pine on high, Uplifts the same unwavering brow To every change of sky; Whose friendship does not fade away When wintry tempests blow, But, like the winter's joy crown, Looks green through the snow.

He flies not with the flitting stork That seeks a southern sky, Nor lingers where the wounded bird Hath laid him down to die; O, such a friend! He is in truth Whatever his lot may be; A rainbow on the storm of life, An anchor on its sea.

MISS BACHMAN HONORS CHARMING TENNESSEE VISITORS

Thursday evening Miss Lillian Bachman entertained for her house guests, Misses Mary Carter of Nashville, Tenn., and Alice White of Memphis, choosing a lawn party as the expression of her hospitality. The night colored, lamp-lit scene favorite the sun-flower furnished the idea for the decorations in the house and the spacious lawn. Above the grassy expanse of myriads of electric lights were hung and low tables and tables dotted the but under reception room, bearing large vases and bowls of ran flowers. To one side the punch bowls were placed, the table being half hidden in a huge cluster of the radiant blossoms. Here food might be passed for "progressive conversation." They Dutch figures ornamented these parties, and each program contained a number of interesting engagements for a tete-a-tete. After several hours of enjoyment delicious cherry sherbet and white cake was served by the younger sisters of the hostess, Misses Stella and Ruby. These enjoying this most delightful event to meet the two charming visitors were: Misses Hazel and Frances Hunter, Laura Bell, Grace Morse, Agnes Andree, Cora Scott, May Belle Coggins, Stella Bachman, Ruby Bachman, Messrs. Allen of Temple, Kaufhold, Clifford, Marquande, Pond, Kaulborn, Miller, Cessert, Frank, Floyd Fritch, Sabatnick, Brown and Harrison Bachman.

To Have Pretty Hair

If your hair is not as soft and pretty as fresh and full as that of some friend, do as she does—give it daily attention, just the same care, you would give a plant to make it healthy and beautiful. Luxuriant hair—soft, fluffy, thick and lustrous—is really a matter of care. If it is too thin, make it grow. If it is too dry and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off.

Parlsian Sage, an inexpensive tonic which you can get from any druggist or from Posthous & Lynch is just what you need—it softens the scalp, nourishes the hair roots, immediately removes dandruff, and makes the hair fluffy, lustrous and abundant. Parlsian Sage takes away the dryness, stops itching head, makes the hair twice as abundant and beautifies it until it is soft and lustrous.

By the use of this helpful tonic any woman can easily make her hair fluffy, soft and pretty. (Advt) left supporter to vice grand; Nell Carter; chaplain, Mae Tator; warden, Kate Hicks; conductor, Oni Stead; inside guardian, Daisy Brooks; outside guardian, Mattie Newman. Retiring officers, Noble Grand, Mrs. Colboth and Vice Grand, Mrs. Hammond, were both presented with a set of handsome silver teaspoons. Following the installation the social feature of the evening was enjoyed, refreshments of ice cream and cake being served.

THURSDAY SEWING CIRCLE WITH MRS. C. R. HARTSOOK

Mrs. C. R. Hartsook entertained the Thursday Sewing Circle in a most delightful manner. Refreshing mint punch was served throughout the afternoon, the cooling beverage being very acceptable to those engaged in their fancy work. Late in the afternoon, just prior to adjournment delicious ice cream and cake was served. Mrs. Silk was the guest of the afternoon. The members present were Messrs. Bowler, Murph, Gardner, Bell, McKellar, Misses, Berni, Marob and Rhea Gardner, and the hostess, Mrs. C. R. Hartsook.

PLEASANT-WAY TO STOP CONSTIPATION

Dodson's Liver Tonic Takes the Place of Disagreeable Calomel and Its Dangerous Effects

You probably know that calomel is a poison, a form of mercury, very dangerous to a great many people and sometimes causing disagreeable after effects for nearly everyone who tries it.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is recommended as a perfectly safe and reliable remedy to take the place of calomel. This is exactly what it is made for and has been made for ever since the first bottle was put up and sold.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is pretty widely imitated. But be careful to judge between the loud boasts of the imitators and the plain truth of the original.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is sold and guaranteed by your druggist who will refund purchase price, 50c instantly with a smile if you are in any way dissatisfied.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a palatable vegetable liquid. Its action is easy and natural, with no gripes, no pain and the after effects are pleasant instead of disagreeable. Dodson's Liver Tonic does not interfere with your regular duties, habits and diet, but builds and strengthens instead of weakening you or "knocking you all out" for days. Try Dodson's and feel better and brighter—as thousands have. (Advt)

VERY ESSENTIAL TO KNOW HOW TO HANDLE RIBBON

New York, July 17.—It is as essential for the follower of fashions to know how to handle the ribbons as it is for a follower of the ponies. Quite fancy ones can be accomplished by either expert. Nowadays when an entire costume is evolved out of just a bit of ribbon and just a bit of lace it is not surprising that the modern maid seems all wrapped up in daily lengths of satin and velvet. She finds there is not a loop hole of escape from the silken ties that bind her from the top of her glossy head to the tip of her glossy shoe.

Beginning at the very pinnacle of fashion the up top height of ribbon style is on the hat. The uses of ribbon on the summer hats breaks even with the penchant for wings and flowers and indeed is almost always used in combination with either. Ties of ribbon on many garden hats or handkerchiefs, bonnets are very plentiful.

The newest use of ribbon for the hair is a wide length of gauze ribbon crushed low around the head and caught at the nape of the neck with a single flower, either a rose or a sardonia preferred.

INSANITY MENACE TO HUNGARY STATISTICS SHOW Budapest, July 17.—That no less than 12,000 insane persons are at large in Hungary and are a danger to society and public safety because the insane asylums are overflowing, was the startling statement made today by the minister of the interior in the Hungarian parliament in pleading for greater appropriations. He declared there are 11,000 inmates in the state institutions for insane and 12,000 at liberty. One institution arranged and equipped for 3,200 has double that number of inmates, scores of them paying to sleep in the corridors and on the floors.

WIMBIS PUBLISHING CO. ED HOWARD, Mgr.

Former Senator Bailey has declared that he favors a general endorsement of the Wilson administration by Texas Democrats at the El Paso convention, but that he will make an effort to have the Texas Democrats endorse tariff on raw materials. This will be a repudiation of the administration's tariff bill, one of the most important acts of the administration and one upon which it must stand in its fight in the coming congressional elections and the presidential election in 1916.

PRESIDENT DEFENDED FOR INDORSING BALL

The Times has been asked to publish the following letter from General M. M. Crane who was a delegate to the Baltimore convention from Texas: Dallas, Texas, July 13.—Mr. Ferguson and his friends are severely criticizing the President and Mr. Bryan for their endorsement of Col. Ball. They insist that this announcement on their part is an unwarranted interference and intrusion by two great National characters into a State campaign.

BATTERY AND WEATHER

Leaving out of consideration what may have been said in addition, most of us will agree that the man who remarked "It's awfully hot" got no more than he deserved when he was beaten over the head with a parasol and lined up. The fellow who remarks "It's awfully hot" or "who asks 'Is it hot enough for you?' invites assault and battery and whatever punishment can be inflicted.—Wichita Falls Times.

CULBERSON AND THE JUDGE

Following closely upon the death of Associate Justice Lurton of the Supreme Court of the United States, comes the news that certain of the alleged friends of Senator Culberson are urging his appointment by President Wilson to fill the vacancy. It is to be hoped that some of the persons who are active in this movement to let the people know what he thought of Col. Ball. He further emphasized the fact that the liquor interests, now behind the campaign of Ferguson and Colquitt, ought to be given a much needed rest, so that the people themselves might resume control of their own government. As to the President, his conduct needs no defense. He was elected to the great office which he now holds on a platform opposed to the domination of the Government by any special interest. He knows now all men in Texas must know, that until the Baltimore convention, and indeed until after his nomination, Ferguson was opposed to him. He also knows that since his inauguration Governor Colquitt has been his most unscrupulous and dangerous critic.

Dr. E. M. Hughes

Physician and Surgeon Rooms 7-9 Moore-Bateman Building Phone, office 29; res. 1709

He also knows that these two names last named, the one a candidate for Governor and the other for United States Senator, were both being supported by the liquor interests, and presumably were making common cause against his administration. He had a right to believe that as Gov. Colquitt was on the stump for Ferguson that Ferguson would necessarily support Colquitt for United States Senator.

ISSUES AT EL PASO

The letter of President Wilson and the statements of Messrs. Bryan and Bailey give zest to the campaign. There will be differences of opinion as to all of these, but all doubt as to the attitude of these gentlemen is removed by his old endorsement upon the tariff. This he has a right to do. But if he succeeds in it, it will be to repudiate one of the cardinal planks of the Baltimore platform and the foremost act of the Wilson administration. Then the general endorsement of the Wilson administration would be in the nature of mockery. Nor would this effect be softened by the adoption of the two other planks proposed by Mr. Bailey.

This was plainly stated in yesterday's article but it appears that some have misconstrued it. Mr. Gant, manager of the Farmers' Supply Company is especially opposed to mixing politics with business. Some Facts About Charbon

Deadly Livestock Disease

E. W. Fry, county judge of Young county and J. E. Williamson, county health officer there, have prepared a synopsis of information on charbon which is prevalent in that county. Late reports say the disease has spread to Jack, Palo Pinto and Stephens counties. As there is much interest here in preventing the disease from getting a foothold here The Times publishes the following from the West Texas Reporter at Graham:

Charbon is a very serious disease to animals especially, when occurring in a dairy herd, at which time it is probably communicable to man, who may become infected by using the milk. It has not been definitely proven that the charbon germs are given off in the milk from infected cows; however, stable flies do carry the germs on their feet and mouth parts and it is a very common occurrence around dairies for flies to fall bodily into milk buckets and cans. Hence, because of this possibility of infection in man, though a latent one and especially on account of the virulence of this disease and the suddenness of the attack, measures should be adopted to prohibit the use for any purpose of milk from any cows in a dairy where charbon exists. Such milk should be ordered destroyed immediately after milking and until such time as the disease has abated.

The disease may appear in one of three forms: (1) apoplectic; (2) acute; (3) subacute.

(1) The apoplectic form is most frequently seen attacking cattle or sheep at the beginning of an outbreak before the animals in the vicinity have developed any degree of natural immunity to the infection. In this form the animal presents symptoms of cerebral apoplexy. They reel and fall, bloody liquid flows from the body openings, and death soon follows. If the body is opened and search is made for evidence of the disease, it may be impossible to detect any definite signs or any change in the tissues or organs.

(2) The acute form of the disease develops more slowly, but becomes well established in twelve to twenty-four hours after the first symptoms are noticed. In these cases fever is usually intense (104 to 107). The animal is greatly prostrated. The cerebral congestion causes the excitement which is followed by drowsiness and staggering gait. There is frequent passage of bloody urine, followed usually by convulsions and death. In this type of the disease, as well as in the apoplectic form, postmortem examination of the carcass may fail to reveal any definite signs.

(3) The subacute form of charbon is the most common. The symptoms are like those of the acute form except that they are of slower development. Instead of becoming established in twelve to twenty-four hours, one to seven days may be required. The fever is very high. Serious colics are often present, and each expiration may be accompanied by a grunt. Local anthrax tumors (charbon pones) appear externally, first near the shoulders and neck and head and are usually due to local injury or bruising which gives rise to a collection of germs within the blood vessels of the part. The resulting inflammation causes the swellings or carbuncles. These tumors are at first hard and definitely outlined, but later become cold, insensate, spreading and fluctuating. Death usually occurs from the fifth to the tenth day. An examination of the carcass of an animal dead of the subacute form of charbon will probably show signs of the disease and many changes in tissues and organs. Hemorrhages may be found in almost all parts of the body. Bloody fluid may be present beneath the mucous membranes an the skin. There will be swelling of the spleen, liver and kidneys and the blood will be fluid (not clotted) and of a muddy or tarry appearance. The cavities of the body contain more or less of a bloody fluid. The lymphatic glands are swollen and contain small hemorrhages. Many of the red blood cells are broken up and this gives the blood serum a reddish tint. The walls of the intestines may appear perfectly normal, but hemorrhages are frequently seen, especially in the walls of the small bowel just below the stomach.

The subacute form is the most commonly seen and is the only form of charbon which is cured by treatment. Death occurs so quickly in the other forms that attempts at treatment are of but little use.

Isolated cases are usually of the subacute form and are frequently limited to the formation of a tumor or carbuncle or pone at the point of the body at which the infective germs first gained entrance through an opening in the skin or the mucous membranes.

Treatment.
After the symptoms of charbon disease have been fully established and the animal is very sick, no known method of treatment will effect a uniform and unfailing cure in every case. It is to be regretted that science has not given us a remedy that will cure a large percentage of the cases of charbon but since we have no reliable curative agent, we must depend upon preventive measures.

Prevention.
The best and most effective means of preventing charbon disease are as follows:

(1) The complete burning of all carcasses of animals dead of this disease and as soon after death as possible. It is highly desirable to burn the carcass where the animal died. If it is necessary to move the carcass, the skin should not be cut, torn or broken, as each drop of the animal's blood contains many charbon germs. Prevent the blood and other discharges from the "natural" body openings, as the nostrils, mouth, rectum, etc., from spilling on the ground.

(2) Manure, litter, hay and everything else that has been in contact with the diseased or dead animal should be completely destroyed, by burning. The inside of barns, stalls, stables or milk sheds should be whitewashed after the animal dies or recovers.

(3) Prevent the overflow of lands used for pasture or for growing hay or other feedstuffs. All surface pools of stagnant water should be either drained off or fenced up so that animals will not have access to these.

(4) Reduce the number of various kinds of horses by applying kerosene or crude oil to the surface pools of water, and to the humid spots in the woods, which these insects frequent.

(5) Complete isolation of the sick animals from the healthy ones and at such distance that the flies will not travel from the sick animals to the healthy.

(6) Preventive vaccination. In sections where charbon has been prevalent in previous years and especially the year before, the owners should vaccinate their animals in the spring (March or April) and not wait until early summer, when the epidemic appears. Just as soon as a case of charbon appears in a herd or in a pasture, no matter what month of the year, the owner should vaccinate all the animals in this herd or pasture, and especially those that have been in contact with the sick. When vaccinating large bunches of animals, it is wise to separate the sick and the apparently sick from the healthy ones and vaccinate the sick and healthy with separate materials and separate instruments; for by so doing, the danger of transmitting the disease from the sick to the healthy by the vaccinating needle will be lessened. Vaccination should be practiced by only reliable and trustworthy persons, preferably by qualified veterinarians as careless handling of the vaccine material might result in serious consequences. Vaccine material for this work should be fresh and obtained from reliable manufacturers as the use of weakened, old or diluted vaccine can only lead to disappointing results. While preventive vaccination, with good fresh material, in careful hands, has not entirely prevented the disease in all instances, it has lessened the number of cases of the disease and reduced the number of deaths. Therefore, it is always wise to take precaution.

sounds complex and is, but they made real music. Their pianist was very good also, and if music is what is desired this act is sure to please. Their rendition of the "Mocking Bird" was especially pleasing, and the special costumes and stage setting and effects lent much charm to the act.

Alvarez and Martell presented an interesting spetch of talking, singing and dancing. They are of the new and superior type of vaudeville artists, the full dress type, and their fancy ball room dancing, introduced at the conclusion of the act was excellent. These two acts will be repeated to night, and two pictures will be shown. Ford Sterling in "Smiz joins the Forces" and Florence Lawrence in a in a two-reeler, "The Doctor's Testimony."

The Gem
A charming little Vitagraph "kid" comedy is showing here today. "Buddy's First Call" shows the vicissitudes of a boy at the awkward age who has just put on his first long pants. He meets Elsie Forester at a church social and is promptly smitten with her charms. He calls and the young lady has a sister, who wishes to gain his attention to herself. She succeeds and the following mishaps will remind the older boys somewhat of their own mishaps, when first playing the gallant. Buddy gets run out by "Father" and his first call ends rather disastrously, the sister of the girl on whom he calls, trims his hat up in fantastic style. This is a clean little comedy that will cause much laughter.

The Majestic
Four single reels make up the program for today. "Life's Lottery," Lubin, "The Vengeance of the Vaquero" Kalem, "A Hasty Judgment" Melle's comedy and "Bunny's Swell Affair." John Bunny and William Shea, the village druggist and undertaker, respectively are rivals for the hand of the fair Widow Finch. The undertaker sends Flora a hat trimmed elaborately with pompons; Bunny happens to intercept it on the way puts sponges in the place of the pompons. Flora wears the hat and gets rained on, the sponges immediately swelling. The undertaker loses out and Bunny wins, making lots of fun for everybody.

The Victoria
"The Alarm" a two-reel Keystone, two thousand feet of fun and figure is showing here today, also "Stolen Radium," a one-reel Majestic.

DOES NOT APPLY TO WATER FOR DOMESTIC USE
By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, July 17.—The State board of water engineers has announced that the general irrigation law does not apply to individuals using water from public streams exclusively for domestic purposes. During the past week the board received many inquiries from such consumers wanting to know if they had to protect their rights by making certified filings with the board. The law applies only to individuals and corporations using water for power or irrigation.

TEXAN IS RESTORED BY MAYR'S WONDERFUL STOMACH REMEDY

Alvarado Man Gets Appetite and Comfort Back After Taking First Dose

T. A. Hensley of Alvarado, Texas, suffered for a long time from derangements of the digestive tract. He had colic attacks and indigestion. His liver was inactive and he was in pain after eating.

He took Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. From the very first dose it brought swift results. He writes:

"I have taken your treatment for stomach trouble and consider it a Godsend to suffering humanity. I have been suffering from stomach troubles for a long time, such as colic attacks, bloating after eating, sick spells, indigestion, constipation and inactive liver and gall stones. Now I do not feel like the same man. I can cheerfully recommend this remedy to all stomach sufferers."

Mr. Hensley's experience is typical of those of the thousands who have taken Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy with such success. The first dose proves.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy cleans the digestive tract of mucoid secretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings quick relief to sufferers from stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure that it has saved their lives.

The remarkable success of this remedy has caused many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's Mayr's. Probably it is known among your own neighbors. Ask them. Go to Foshier & Lynch and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing in cases they knew—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Co., 114-116 W. Third St., Chicago, Ill., for free booklet on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist will tell you it is wonderful. (Adv't)

Two new bills opened last night at the Airplane. Too much praise can not be given to the Cow Boy Duo in their excellent violin act. All of the old favorites were given in a rousing manner, and those two cow boys can certainly handle the fiddle. They played from every conceivable angle and the grand climax came when they locked arms and violins, each playing on the other's instrument. That Nothing is more common than the functional headache of eye-strain. The pain may occur in any degree of severity, but it is usually described as a dull aching, with periodical attacks of more acute suffering.

The location of the pain is not characteristic, yet it occurs more often over the brow or in the temple.

The pain may also be felt at the back of the eyes, and the eyes themselves are tender to the touch.

Both eyes may suffer equally, but usually the pain in one eye is worse than the other as there is usually a difference in the refractive error of the two eyes.

It is a curious fact that sometimes the discomfort is greater on the side of the more ametropic eye, presumably because there must be a great effort of accommodation to overcome the defect; while in other cases the discomfort is greater on the side of the better eye, presumably because this eye bears the greater part of the burden of vision.
