CAILLAUX'S FORMER WIFE TAKES STAND

TELLS OF HIS CONFESSION TO HER THAT HE WAS UN-FAITHFUL

SAYS HE THREATENED TO KILL

Interesting Testimony Is Given Today In French Murder Trial at Paris

By Associated Press. Paris, July 23.—The court was crowded as ever today when Madame Caillaux's trial resumed. Many of the spectators came to see Caillaux confronted, according to the practice of the French court, with former Premier Louis Darthou, who had been subpoenaed as a witness.

Testimony of the first three witnesses concerned the two private letters which the defense seeks to show Gaston Calmette intended to publish. A friend of the murdered editor denied a report that he had said the paper was going to publish several private letters. He said he had referred to other letters and not these private ones.

Frances Desclaux, chief private secretary of Mr. Caillaux, when the latter was minister of finance, said that the editor of the Paris Journal, Andre Zervort had told him Madame Gueydan had proposed to him to publish two letters which she produced. He told her Caillaux said the letters were stolen from him. Zervort corroborated this testimony.

First Wife Takes Stand. Madame Gueydan then was called. Nearly everyone in court took a look at her as she was Caillaux's first wife and has been regarded as the intrigante behind Calmette and the person responsible for the misfortunes that have overcome Calmette and his second wife. She is a slender woman of medium height. She looked to be about thirty-five years old. Her face was drawn in tragic lines, her black eyes showing from hollows in her wasted cheeks. She seemed ill but walked with calm dignity past her former husband who was standing in front of the judges.

The judge refused her request that she be permitted to refer to her notes. She said: "There have been so many lies told that my notes are absolutely necessary if only to fix dates. Was not Mr. Caillaux allowed to read from papers? I am confronted with a mountain of lies."

"Mountain of Lies." "I must climb this mountain of lies and break them to pieces one by one. I am alone; I have no husband to defend me." In saying this she cast a long glance at Madame Caillaux, who however, did not look at her.

Maitre Laffont said: "You are not here to accuse your role as simply that of a witness. If you come here to accuse, then you will find me in front of you as a defender of my client."

Madame Gueydan replied: "If you have spoken of me to M. Caillaux, he will have told you that I am a woman of courage. There were bravos from the spectators. Madame Gueydan continued: "I have been pained to know that the person who drew the indictment has gathered together the filth. All the pity has gone for the intruder who defiled my home to take my place."

Caillaux's Confession. Madame Gueydan testified that there were no disagreements in her domestic life with Mr. Caillaux. Then commenting on the private letter she said: "The first letter which appeared—do you know who gave that to me? M. Caillaux; he said it was the ministry of finance in 1908. I never had suspected that my husband had a mistress. I first knew it when he threw himself at my knees and asked my pardon. I pardoned him but the day after he returned to this person. I did not cease to believe his lying talk. I believed that the evil surrounding my home had for I thought I saw the bottom of his heart in his tears. I did not know the person in question. To show you my loyalty to my husband, he confided to me a satchel, which he said was full of important papers. I never opened it; I did not know until long afterward that it contained correspondence between him and his present wife."

The witness was silent a moment and then said: "I do not know what I can say, what I ought to say. My husband became irritable and I was nervous. One day he said to me, 'Do you know I came to your bedside last night to kill you?' I felt I ought to leave. I went away and wrote to him. I thought he would follow me and bring me home but no. He went to Sarthe and I returned to Paris. When I came back I noticed his desk half opened. There were in it two letters from a woman. They had been fabricated by him and Madame Reynouard to make me believe there was no intimacy between them."

Caillaux, the witness' former husband during his testimony changed his seat four times, until finally he was within four or five feet of her.

New York Chairman Announces His Intention to Bring Suit For Last Night's Speech.

By Associated Press. New York, July 23.—Chairman William Barnes of the Republican state committee announced today that he had instructed his counsel to bring suit for libel against Theodore Roosevelt, based on Roosevelt's statement last night attacking Barnes and endorsing the candidacy of H. H. Hinman for nomination for governor at the Republican primaries.

BAN JOHNSON WANTED TO FIGHT PLAYERS FRATERNITY

Strike in Major League Would Have Materialized If He Had Had His Way.

New York, July 23.—That Ban Johnson, autocratic ruler of the American League, was "crossed" by the club owners of his circuit for the first time when the players' strike was averted, locked out today in the aftermath of the "crisis."

The action of C. H. Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn National League club, and also owner of the Newark International League franchise, in buying Player Kraft, was taken with Johnson's knowledge. It has been learned, however, that Johnson wanted to go to the mat with Ebbetts, so they could crush him. Then, he said, there would be no repetition of this trouble.

The league members couldn't see it that way. They, too, believed that the strike would fall, but they did not want to take any chances. Ebbetts was at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria. The meeting was at the Hotel Wolcott.

Johnson called Ebbetts on the phone. Just what he said is not known, but in less than thirty minutes after Johnson had called him Ebbetts walked into the lobby of the Wolcott.

"Boys, it's all settled," he said to the newspaper men. "I've bought Kraft for my Newark club and there won't be any strike."

The room where the American League meeting was being held was at once stormed. Johnson, very red of face, came to the door, and when told what Ebbetts had said, replied, "What of it? It's his affair; not ours."

Shortly afterward the American League meeting broke up. Ebbetts was the goat. He officially denied that any search warrant and that both tried to draw their guns before he shot. Davidson is said to have had his gun in his hand when he fell. Baber is former police chief here.

CREDITORS OF CLAFLIN TO HOLD MEETING TOMORROW

By Associated Press. New York, July 23.—Federal Judge Holt today appointed G. C. Holt, for president at a meeting of the creditors of the H. B. Claflin company here tomorrow.

Madame Gueydan however, did not notice him, although his hands were necessarily opening and shutting. She gave details of events preceding his divorce. She said: "I had an impression that he was afraid." While saying this she looked at Caillaux full in the face. Madame Caillaux bent over the railing with her face half concealed. Madame Gueydan then recited a succession of quarrels between Caillaux and herself. When asked whether she signed an agreement to burn all the correspondence after his divorce, she said: "I had to defend self."

"I had to defend myself against the machiavellian maneuvers of an unfaithful husband. He asked me to give my word of honor. I did not do it, nor did I ask his word of honor, because I knew he had no honor." When asked whether Caillaux had paid her regularly $3600 a year she replied: "Not regularly."

Afterwards Madame Gueydan exclaimed: "You seek extenuating circumstances; you are trying to make me responsible for the crime. All that has been said by the accused is false and all that M. Caillaux has said is false."

CIVIL SUIT FILED AGAINST NEW HAVEN

ACTION TAKEN TO SEPARATE ROAD FROM SUBSIDIARY PROPERTIES.

ANTI-TRUST LAW IS INVOLVED

Has No Connection With Contemplated Criminal Proceedings Against the Officials.

By Associated Press. New York, July 23.—Civil suit to force the separation of the New York, New Haven and Hartford from its subsidiary rail, trolley and steamship lines under the Sherman anti-trust law was filed in federal court here by Attorney General McReynolds.

The suit begun today has no actual connection with the criminal indictments which the attorney-general will ask a federal grand jury to return against New Haven officers and directors. The criminal proceedings will be conducted independently of the civil suit.

Assistant Attorney General T. W. Gregory and his assistants believe that the attorney-general should induce him to make a public speech in behalf of Ball for governor, but his friends on the Ferguson side say they do not believe he will make any speech before election.

Mayor Of Wichita Falls Becomes Bridegroom Wednesday Evening

MAYOR A. H. BRITAIN.

A wedding of unusual interest was solemnized Wednesday evening when Miss Ona Christine Bell became the bride of Mayor A. H. Britain; the ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. M. Bell in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. While no announcement had previously been made of the affair the friends of the contracting parties were aware of their intentions. Rev. F. A. Datson performed the ceremony and immediately afterwards Mayor and Mrs. Britain proceeded to the Newton Maer cottage on Ninth street which will be their home for the present.

The Bell home had been tastefully decorated for the occasion with smilax, palms and flowers making an effective setting for the evening's ceremony. Before the ceremony Miss Laura Bell, cousin of the bride sang "Because I Love You Dear," and then to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Ben M. Bell, the bride came down the stairway, accompanied by Miss Lillian Bell, her maid of honor. At the foot of the stair they were met by the groom, who proceeded with the bride into the parlor where Rev. F. A. Datson, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd performed the beautiful and impressive Episcopal wedding service.

After the ceremony there was a round of hearty congratulations and punch was served as those present pressed forward to greet the bride and groom. Shortly afterward all proceeded to the Maer cottage which is to be the present home of Judge and Mrs. Britain, and here an informal reception was held. Judge and Mrs. Britain will not take a wedding trip at present.

The bride was attired in a becoming costume of embroidered white organdie with Elizabethan collar and carried a beautiful bouquet of roses and lilies some of the latter also being worn in her hair. It was a picture of rare beauty that descended the stairway to where the groom was waiting, the simple wedding gown and the flowers setting off the bride's winsome face most becomingly. Miss Lillian Bell, maid of honor, wore a white embroidered decoration and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Laura Bell wore a simple costume of white lace.

Only the relatives and a few intimate friends had been bidden to the ceremony, those present being: Mrs. Mattie Bell, mother of the bride; Mrs. J. M. Bell, Miss Laura Bell, Miss Lillian Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bell;

MRS. A. H. BRITAIN.

I. M. Britain of Seymour, father of the groom, Miss Britain, Mr. and Mrs. A. Britain, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Montgomery, Judge and Mrs. A. H. Arrigan, Miss Anne Carrigan, Mrs. C. E. Souther, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Johnson, Mrs. C. R. Hartscock, Mrs. A. M. Hartscock, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, Miss Berniece Jackson, J. Jackson Jr.

The groom has been a resident of Wichita Falls for about seven years, being engaged in the practice of law here. Last April he was chosen by the voters to serve them as mayor for the ensuing two years. His standing in his profession, his pleasant personality and many admirable attributes have won him countless friends here and no more popular bridegroom ever faced the altar. His popularity is evidenced by that of the bride; although she has resided in Wichita Falls only a year she in that time took a prominent place in social and musical circles here, being the center of an ever widening circle of friends. She came to this city from Mississippi with her mother, Mrs. Mattie Bell; the family is one of the most prominent in Mississippi; it had already given Wichita Falls the late mayor, Dr. J. M. Bell, who was an uncle of the bride. Mrs. Britain attended school in Mississippi and later in Chicago, where she received the musical training that has won her no little renown locally. Possessed of the accomplishments and charms that have made her so popular, she in every way fitted for her position as Wichita Falls' "first lady." The best wishes of a host of friends go with Mayor and Mrs. Britain.

SOCIETY

"What's the Score?"
In hut and palace, field and mart,
From mountain top to ocean shore,
One quip flutters every heart,
One eager question—"What's the score?"

It may be tennis, golf or chess,
Or baseball, football, basketball,
Billiards or bowling, still we press
The same inquiry for them all.

Not how they played, or well or ill,
And not the spirit they displayed,
Nor how they proved their strength and skill—

But only this, the score they made
And thoughtful men and silly fool,
An undered and overfed,
And banks and courts and learned schools
Are merely asking, "Who's ahead?"

And isn't this the thing we ask
On every matter o'er and o'er,
Not how men do the varied task,
But "Who's ahead?" and "What's the score?"

UNITED STATES TENNIS PLAYERS TO DEFEND TITLE

Games Start in New York Today.
Many Minor Baseball Leagues in Distress

New York, July 23.—Canada and Australasia will start an argument in Chicago today which will not finally be settled until answer is given to the question of whether the latter charge on Uncle Sam's collection of sport trophies is to be successful.

The tennis players from the Antipodes and the Canadians will fly at each other's throats for the honor of having a chance to lift the Dwight Davis cup. It is generally conceded that the Australasians will win. The team representing Australia is one of the strongest combinations that could possibly be formed outside of the United States. Whether they will prove superior to the best Uncle Sam can muster will be better answered after August 15 when the international matches will be history.

Anthony F. Wilding has three times held the world's title. In the international matches last year Morris E. McLoughlin of California played in such form that it seemed he certainly was unbeatable. McLoughlin went to England and Wilding promptly took his measure. But worse yet, teamed with Wilding in the Australasian combination this year is Norman E. Brookes. In all the 44 England championship played recently Brookes beat Wilding. Other members of the Australasian team are Tiffed Dunlop and Stanley Donald. The latter was a member of last year's Davis cup team from Australasia. McLoughlin had little trouble defeating him.

The American defenders of the Davis cup have a much harder task cut out for them next month than McLoughlin, R. Norris Williams and Harold Hackett faced last year. It has been taken for granted that McLoughlin will head this year's team of defenders. Williams will also undoubtedly have his place on the firing line. There has been a scramble in the east, for the other positions with Robert Lindley Murray, a new Califor-

RIGHT OF SENATORS TO MEET SECRETLY

THIS SESSION WILL THRESH OUT PROBLEMS OF EXECUTIVE ACTION

SECRETS NEARLY ALWAYS LEAK

Somebody Tells Newspaper Men What Happened—Claim Public Has Right To Know

Washington, July 23.—Whether the senate itself or any committee of the senate has the right to discuss questions of public interest behind closed doors is a question that will be thoroughly threshed out before the present session of congress adjourns. If such senators as Borah of Idaho, Norris of Nebraska, Kenyon of Iowa, and La Follette of Wisconsin mean what they say.

Lively discussion on this point was brought up when the senate foreign relations committee, through Senator Stone, asked for permission to investigate itself, with a view of discovering just what senator has been telling the newspaper men what has been happening behind the closed doors of the committee during its investigation of Central American finances in connection with the proposed draft of the treaty with Nicaragua.

Secretary of State Bryan has been "sitting in" at the meetings of the committee all the way through and on one day in particular he was shocked to read in the newspapers a full and complete account of the story told the committee, in "confidence," by representatives of Nicaragua.

That Nicaraguan Story.

The particular story that caused the rub is said to have been that regarding the offer of Germany to pay more than $2,000,000 for the option on the canal route if Nicaragua would not ratify the proposed treaty with the United States.

Bryan at once was called up by the Nicaraguans, who knew him better than they knew anyone on the committee, with a protest at their testimony being given to the public, and they could not understand how the newspapers had gotten such complete accounts of their testimony without the stenographer's notes being given to the newspapers.

"We thought it was in confidence, or we would never have talked," they told Mr. Bryan.

Thereupon Mr. Bryan made a hurried trip to the committee and stated his case. Senator Stone expressed amazement that the doings of the committee should have leaked out, but not half as much amazement as was expressed in the press gallery when it was known that a majority of the committee had "stood for" the investigation resolution.

For "the boys" who had been writing the news knew, and knew that the members of the committee knew, that the man on the committee who does not talk to the newspaper man at some time following a meeting is the rare exception.

Most of the committee members have always recognized the newspaper man's argument that the committee had no right to withhold such information from the public, and this belief always has and probably always will make executive meetings largely futile.

Would Cover Up Work.

Senators Norris and Borah point out that these two treaties with Columbia and Nicaragua involve the paying out of the United States treasury of $28,000,000 in money and the granting of privileges which are worth inestimable millions more in connection with the Panama Canal. They declare, with other senators, that the people of the United States are entitled to know every fact about the entire financial history of the countries, and just what are the reasons for and against the treaties which are discussed at such length in the committee meetings.

They further point out that under the plan proposed, not only will the committee meetings be exclusive, but the treaties themselves will be considered in executive sessions of the senate, so that the treaties may actually be ratified without the American people ever knowing the truth or falsity of the sensational charges made.

Debate in the open senate on these treaties is the demand of the progressive senators of both parties, and this leads back to the fact that the progressive element desires that all executive sessions of the senate should be abolished, except in the consideration of questions of great delicacy affecting the international relations of this government.

GLOVE-MAKERS WAGE REPORT SUBMITTED

LOCAL PLANT'S SCALE SUBSTANTIALLY THE SAME AS ELSEWHERE

PAYS MORE THAN SOME OTHERS

Figures Received From Plants in Various Cities For Basis of Comparison

That wages paid glove factory employees in this city are very nearly on a par with those paid by similar plants elsewhere in this country, was the substance of the report of the special Chamber of Commerce committee, submitted to the signers of the glove factory note, at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon. The situation was gone into thoroughly. It was announced that the factory will continue for the present without increasing the number of machines in operation. The plant is now running half a dozen machines.

Reports were received by the committee from glove making concerns in all parts of the country and it was found that the local factory pays more than some other plants and not as much as some but that on the whole the comparison is very favorable to the plant here. Mr. Hillburn, manager of the local concern, points out that in his plant an attendant is furnished to carry the cut material to the operatives and to remove the finished goods, making it unnecessary for the girls to leave their seats. This he considers an additional point in his favor.

It is probable that the committee will meet with a committee from the girls in the near future and explain the situation to them. The report showed that Mr. Hillburn paid his glove makers from 9 1/2 to 10 2 1/2 cents per dozen pairs. In some plants the girls are paid as low as eight and nine cents, the prices running from those figures to as high as 12 1/2 and 16 and in one case, ten and eleven cents.

NINTH STREET RESIDENCE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Home of J. G. Kilgore is Burned Wednesday Afternoon, With Loss of About $3000

The home of J. G. Kilgore at 1107 Ninth street was destroyed by fire, with all its contents, Wednesday afternoon. The loss will total between $2,500 and $3,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire originated in the kitchen, where some water was boiling on the gas range; a noise attracted the attention of Mrs. Kilgore, who was in the front of the house, and she entered the kitchen to find it in flames.

Some difficulty was experienced in giving the alarm, as the operator declined to connect Mrs. Kilgore with the fire department until she could give its number. Two young women who were in the house at the time ran to neighboring homes and also tried to give the alarm, but they experienced the same trouble. The fire was blazing high when the department arrived.

GRAPE JUICE FOR RUSSIANS; LIQUOR BARRED IN ARMY.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—That the Czar was thoroughly in earnest in his recent announced determination to make the Russian army dry is shown by the text of the new prohibition regulations published today. Officers are forbidden to drink vodka in camp, on manoeuvres or while on duty with their men. All cases of drunkenness are to be dealt with in the severest possible manner. Commanding officers are ordered to dip-courage as much as possible the drinking of any kind of intoxicants by their subordinates and are recommended to set the example themselves. Vodka is forbidden to the enlisted men at all times and the most stringent measures will be taken to prevent them from buying it. No soldier will be allowed to receive money from home if he is known to be inclined to drink.

Watch for the campaign liar. This is his most favorable season. He is the eleventh hour man, and does not hesitate to spread his filth when he knows the time to run down is too short. As a rule, he is in that class known as "undesirable citizens."

Every voter who has paid his poll tax, and is a Democrat, should go to the polls Saturday and vote. No self-respecting man who is not a Democrat will attempt to participate in that election. This is to be strictly a Democratic affair, and if the election officers do their duty none but Democrats will be allowed to vote.

The Ball and Ferguson men of Wichita county should agree in advance of the primary conventions to be held next Saturday to send delegates to the county convention who are known to favor a resolution to be introduced favoring the endorsement of President Wilson's administration without any strings to it. There can be no doubt but that at least ninety per cent of the Democrats of Wichita county favor such an endorsement.

The campaign managers for Ball and Ferguson are now sending out their estimate of the majorities claimed for their respective candidates, and these estimates, duly signed, are being sent out by newspaper to the election boosters. One that came to this city today from Ferguson sources, gives Harris county, which is Ball's home county, to Ferguson by about 5,000 majority. Another from Ball headquarters sent to a Ball man, says it is conceded Ball county, Ferguson's home, will give Ball at least 3,000 majority. Now, don't get excited and make any bets on such flimsy claims. The chances are that Ball will carry his home county, and Ferguson will do likewise. These election estimates are sent out for effect—not to make wagers on.

It is a pity we do not have farm credits at this time. The farmers ought not to have to sell their wheat now. The price is below the cost of raising. The farmers are the goats and the chief reason is because they cannot hold their wheat. The banks should help the farmers hold their wheat.—Lawrence (Kaa.) Journal. The prices that are being paid for the products of wheat do not justify the present low price. Wheat should be bringing at least one dollar per bushel. It will not do to say that over-production is the cause of the present low price. Over-production or a big crop. All know, does at times have a tendency to lower the price, but when that is the case it is followed up by a lowering of the price in proportion of the products of the big crop. There is something wrong somewhere. Maybe by the time the wheat gets out of the hands of the producer we will find out where the trouble was.

THE PRESIDENT'S SOUND JUDGMENT.

There has been much criticism in democratic ranks of President Wilson's insistence upon congress carrying through his legislative program. It has not been open, but these congressional sessions of almost unprecedented length have greatly disturbed individuals in congress and out. Men outside have thought the president made a mistake in insisting upon his anti-trust program. They believed that it would be better for the business of the country to have a rest, and democratic congressmen have thought likewise. No doubt many of the congressmen believed in a "rest" because they desired to spend the summer at home looking after their political interests. The president, however, has carefully estimated the perils of the situation, both as regards business and politics. He arrived at the conclusion that the off-year congressional elections are always uncertain for the party in power, especially after a tariff bill has been enacted. Business depression always attends tariff legislation, and there are voters who vote against the party in power when such depression comes. The president knew, too, that if the November elections should happen to return a republican house of representatives, his anti-trust program had been delayed, would have failed entirely. He deemed it the best politics to continue his constructive program so that the people might have an opportunity to judge its value during the latter two years of his administration.

In this he was unquestionably right. The signs are ample that there are going to be great republican gains in the house, because of the shriveling of the progressive organization in so many of the states. Just how the shriveling process has worn the Bull Moose party is proved pretty well in the following comparisons, which show that where two years ago the republican factions were far apart they are now pretty well together:

These figures indicate that there may be democratic reverses in many of the districts won two years ago because of republican dissensions. It is impossible to compute the possible losses, but the president wants to make sure of his great constructive policies while his party remains in full control of congress. He could not reasonably expect his policies to be vindicated in time to affect the November elections, but they will be before the elections of 1916.

There is no reason to doubt that the president is in the broader view the best politician of his party. His judgment is more accurate and his vision far more penetrating than those who would forfeit the present opportunity to redeem the party pledges.

R. L. (PETE) RANDOLPH ASKS FOR SUPPORT

To the Voters of Wichita County: Illness has prevented my making a personal canvass in the closing days of my campaign for re-election as sheriff of Wichita county. I would have liked very much to have seen every voter in the county in person, but the duties of my office and my illness at the close of the campaign has prevented this, and on these considerations I ask the consideration of the voters. I feel that my record in office, my long residence here and my fitness for the office will commend me to all voters. I promise, if re-elected, to give the same attention to the office that I have always done in the past and will do my best to make an efficient and worthy officer.

I want my friends to remember that I have been unable to make a personal canvass at the close of the campaign, and ask them for the same loyal support they have always given me.

Yours very sincerely, R. L. (PETE) RANDOLPH, Candidate For Renomination For Sheriff.

Panama Canal To Open Many Opportunities In West Indies

Washington, July 22.—The probable beneficial effect of the Panama Canal on the countries of the Caribbean is told by Wm. J. Showalter in a communication to the National Geographic Society, at Washington. He describes the wonderful changes that have been wrought in Porto Rico and Cuba since the advent of the United States government in those islands. "It would require six Salvadors to make one Honduras, and yet Salvador has three times as much population and three times as much foreign commerce as Honduras," he says. "Costa Rica is less than half as big as Nicaragua, and yet it has three times as much foreign commerce as Nicaragua. And yet, when Salvador and Costa Rica are compared with Porto Rico it is so small that seven islands like it would be required to cover an area equal to that of Costa Rica, yet it has a foreign trade five times as great as that of the Banana Empire. Porto Rico is less than half as large as Salvador, yet it has a foreign trade seven times as great. "Little Porto Rico, is so small that it could be buried in a single Central American lake; it would take 57 islands of its size to equal Central America in area, and yet Porto Rico produces more foreign trade than all Central America together. The re-union of Porto Rico has an ideal government. The trade of the island has nearly quintupled since Uncle Sam took possession there. The number of children enrolled in the school has increased sixfold. The wages of the laboring class has multiplied threefold. Porto Rico's prosperity is seen in the sugar fields, where four tons of sugar are produced where one was a dozen years ago, and where the Porto Rican people receive $6 for exported sugar where they received $1 only a dozen years before. Coffee production has quadrupled since the beginning of the century. The production of oranges has increased sevenfold in ten years, pineapples twenty-fold in four years and grape-fruit twenty-five-fold in three years. Similar comparisons are made between Cuba and the six republics. With an area five times as great, its foreign commerce is three times that of the group. "One might go on with these comparisons indefinitely, the lesson of them all being that prosperity cannot exist where good government does not," continues the writer.

"With vast deposits of minerals, untold thousands of acres of the finest tropical fruit and vegetable lands in the world, and vast areas of magnificent grazing and coffee lands, Honduras is at our very doors. It is 700 miles nearer to Chicago than that city is from San Francisco; it is closer to Washington than Denver is; it is farther from New Orleans to Chicago than it is from Puerto Barrios to New York. A stable government for Honduras, and it must become a kingdom of plenty instead of a principality of poverty! Nicaragua is in the same condition as Honduras.

"It is not unreasonable to assume that if the people of Middle America can secure fair and proper government conditions after the completion of the Panama Canal; they can do what Cuba has done in the 13 years since the first American intervention. Since that time the number of people able to read and write has increased 140 per cent. The mortality rate has been cut down from 33.65 per thousand to 12.65. The balance of trade has risen from a deficit of $27,000,000 a year to a surplus of $30,000,000. Assuming that Central America can be brought up to Cuba's standard today, its foreign trade would amount to a full billion dollars a year instead of a beggarly $5 million today. It would have 10,000 miles of railroad where it has less than 1,000 miles today. It would have 5,000 miles of macadam roads as compared with a few hundred. It would have a population of 11,000,000 as compared with 5,000,000 today.

"This and more will certainly come to Central America if good government there comes apiece with a completed Panama Canal."

LOOK FOR THREE TOED HORSES IN PANHANDLE

Dallas, Texas, July 23.—Rock Creek, the Panhandle stream of mysteries, is to yield up its secrets. The bones of the three-toed horses and the Pleistocene nag that roamed the Texas Panhandle about 200,000 years ago, are to be hauled out and carted away to the class rooms of Yale University. Dr. Edward L. Troxwell, representing the Peabody Museum of Yale University, is at the Oriental today on his way to Tulsa and the head of Rock Creek in the Texas Panhandle, where he will conduct an expedition of the university in the hope of securing fossils of the ancient horse that became extinct in America 200,000 years ago, the Pleistocene elephant and camel and other animals are said to have settled in the Panhandle long before the present age of man.

Dr. Troxwell will be entertained by Dr. R. S. Hyer of the Southern Methodist University this afternoon and will be shown over the university buildings. He will leave for Amarillo tonight. "Two years ago," said Dr. Troxwell, "the University sent Prof. Lull and a party on an expedition to the Texas Panhandle to look for fossils. This expedition was so unsuccessful that they are sending out another.

"On our last trip we found fragments of the three-toed horse, elephants, camels, sloths and the ancient horse which became extinct in the continent 200,000 years ago. The horse did live in America from that time until the Spaniards brought him back into the country from Europe.

"This year we hope to find more specimens of the fossils of these ancient inhabitants of the country."

What's Behind the Prices?

That's an important fact for everyone who buys a Diamond to make certain about. Few persons are reliable judges of Diamond quality. One must depend largely upon the reputation of the firm from whom the gem is purchased.

This house guarantees the exact quality of every Diamond it sells, and behind that guarantee is years of square dealing right here in Wichita Falls.

We are giving the Best and Surest Values in Diamonds from $25 to $2,000 is that which weeps over the death of loved ones. Love administers with tender hands while living, remembers them when dead by making beautiful their last resting place.

Sentiment places withering flowers that soon fade. Love erects a memorial to commemorate forever. Do you love them? We are ready to serve you.

PALMOLIVE SOAP FREE!

To introduce and stimulate the trade for Palmolive Shampoo, for the next few days we shall give away absolutely free a box of three cakes of Palmolive Soap.

For two thousand years Palm and Olive Oils have been carried over land and sea, by ship and caravan, to all parts of the world—for the toilets of little children and beautiful women.

For two thousand years it has been known that Palm and Olive Oils soothe, cleanse, soften and make the skin firm, white and youthful.

Palmolive Soap is the modern scientific way of blending Palm and Olive Oils.

These two wonderful oils of the Orient never have been equaled by any toilet requisites of any age.

Palmolive Soap is perfectly pure. Contains no free alkali. No artificial color is used. The two blended oils give Palmolive its delicate green color.

Palmolive is faintly, yet delightfully fragrant—a sweet, wholesome breath from the Orient.

It lathers freely in soft or hard water, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating the skin.

It is advised by famous physicians as the best for the baths of newborn children, as well as for daily use by grown women and men.

More Palmolive is used than any other high-grade toilet soap.

Price of Palmolive Shampoo is 50c. The value of Palmolive soap is 50c. Both for the one price of 50c.

Was severely criticised as being too boastful. Undoubtedly the criticism was deserved.

At the same time we feel justified in saying that we can give you better coffee values than the out of town roaster. We also feel that our twenty-five years' experience as retailers and several years as roasters should put us in a fair position to judge. We have handled at different times nearly all of the leading brands of High Grade Coffees in America and have tested them all. However at last you must be the judge and we respectfully ask you to pass your opinion, and if you don't feel justified in purchasing a pound for trial we will cheerfully supply a free sample upon request.
