DRAMATIC SCENES CAILLAUX TRIAL

CROWD CHEERS ATTORNEY WHO CRITICIZES HUSBAND OF DEFENDANT

IS ACCUSED OF "SOILING GRAVE"

Colloquy in Court Room Leads To Much Disorder—Virtual Challenge Is Issued

Paris, July 22.—Soon after the Caillaux trial opened today the prosecutor general exclaimed that the healthy and patriotic Caillaux remained unshaken. While Georges Prestat, a brother-in-law of the murdered editor was emphatically denying that the Figaro had been in the pay of foreign banks, Mr. Caillaux came closer to the bar to hear better. One of the prosecution attorneys, Mr. Chauvi said:

"It does not become M. Caillaux to come here and endeavor to soil the grave which his wife made."

Thereupon many of those in court rose from their seats and shouted "bravo" and others hissed. Caillaux extremely excited, said:

"Since I must take notice of what this lawyer has said, I will ask him if he will take personal responsibility for his words?"

There were more loud bravos in the court room. The lawyer replied:

"I take the entire responsibility. You cannot menace me here. You doubtless do not know the temper of the man you address."

The disorder in court at times became so great that the presiding judge threatened to clear the room. After quiet was restored, Georges Fromentin, a clerk in the gun store where Madame Caillaux purchased the pistol that killed Calmette, showed how the pistol worked. When he was asked whether Madame Caillaux said when she loaded the pistol, Madame Caillaux herself interrupted the audience.

"As soon as I got into the motor car and before I could forget Fromentin's explanation," she said, "I never had fired a pistol but I had hunted with my husband."

Another gunsmith employed said Madame Caillaux had practiced in the range with a pistol with a pistol. He said three of her six shots struck a target the size of a human figure.

HINDUS BARRED BY CANADA AGREE TO RETURN TO INDIA

Vancouver, B. C., July 22.—Smoke today poured from the funnels of the Japanese steamer Konagata in the harbor here and it was promised the boat would sail before night to return the 82 Hindu passengers to India. The Hindus promised last night to submit to the government's demand that they return.

FARMER NEAR GRANGER IS OVERCOME BY BEAT

Taylor, Texas, July 22.—S. B. Beatty, a well-known farmer—near Granger was overcome by the beat while cutting corn last night and died a few minutes later. He left a widow and several grown sons and daughters.

PROGRESSIVES OPEN COLORADO CAMPAIGN

Colorado Springs, July 22.—The first step in the Progressive state campaign was taken here today when the progressive state assembly, for the designation for state offices was held. Under the law each party may hold an "assembly" where the platform is formed and candidates for offices designated. Persons who receive 10 per cent of the vote of the assembly are entitled to have their names put on the official ballot at the general elections primaries as candidate for the parties nomination.

Edward P. Costigan of Denver, is the only candidate of the Progressive nomination for governor. He was the United Mine Workers attorney during the investigation of the Colorado coal strike last winter.

REFUGEES AT PUERTO RICO UNABLE TO LEAVE MEXICO

Steamship Lines Afraid They Will Offend Government If They Charter Boats

Puerto Rico, July 22.—The Mexican political refugees here today appeared to have no chance of leaving the country except by one of the regular lines touching at Vera Cruz. The Mexican shipping companies seem to be unwilling to charter a boat for fear of offending the new government. Two steamships will leave here tonight or tomorrow but both will call at Vera Cruz and only a few refugees can get accommodations aboard these vessels.

NOTORIOUS CRIMINAL IS SUICIDE AT BOSTON TODAY

Accused of Several Murders and Robberies—Leaves Note Asking Wife To Forgive Him

Boston, July 22.—Lawrence Robinson, said to be one of the most dangerous criminals in the country, cut his throat and killed himself during the night. A note which he had removed from one of his shoes. He was charged with the murder here of Police Inspector T. J. Norton.

He was found dead in a room of the court house where he had been confined. Five men guarded him there. The police had feared to take him from the court house to the jail at night for fear an attempt would be made to rescue him.

He was wanted in Grand Rapids, Mich., for the alleged killing of three clerks in a jewelry store during a robbery. He killed Norton when the latter attempted to arrest him here. He was unusually well educated.

He left a farewell note to his mother and to his wife, asking them to forgive him for the shame he had caused them.

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS OF CATHOLIC CHURCH MEETS

Many Nations Are Represented At Meeting in France To Discuss Church Problems

Loures, France, July 22.—The Eucharistic congress of the Catholic church was formerly opened at 3 o'clock this morning at the famous miraculous shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes in the presence of the most representative international audience ever assembled in the history of Catholicism.

Ten cardinals in the gorgeous robes of their high office, occupied places of honor on the rostrum while scattered through the audience of 6,000 delegates were 200 archbishops and bishops officially representing every leading Catholic country in the world. The United States had for its representative Cardinal Farley and seven other archbishops. France naturally had the largest representation in the persons of 63 archbishops and bishops, while the other leading countries were represented as follows:

Germany, 1; England, 14; Bulgaria, 1; Belgium, 1; Scotland, 2; Spain, 7; Greece, 1; Ireland, 2; Italy, 16; Luxemburg, 1; Portugal, 4; Russia, 1; China, 3; East Indies, 2; India-China, 3; Africa, 3; the Antilles, 2; Brazil, 3; Canada, 7; Chili, 1; Columbia, 7; Mexico, 1; Panama, 7; Paraguay, 1; Peru, 1; Argentina, 1; Venezuela, 2; Australia, 3; while a dozen or more countries also had present either a bishop or archbishop. In addition to these estimates made early in this morning's plenary session, a number of delegates consisting of a body of priests, prelates, missionaries and Catholic seminary students at nearly 6,000, representing practically every country in the world.

The congress which opened today is a continuation of the series of Eucharistic congresses which have been held in the early years of his pontificate by Pope Pius X. Other congresses of the series have already been held during the past few years at Madrid, Montreal, Vienna and last year on the island of Malta. None of them, however, have in any way approached in magnitude or international world-wide representation to the present one.

Aside from its usual Eucharistic features added importance was given to the present congress by the fact that it is also the twenty-fifth anniversary of the shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes. It is in 1858 that the number of pilgrims who annually came to the grotto here to be cured by the miraculous waters became so great that it was necessary for the church to take official cognizance and erect buildings large enough to accommodate them. It is the anniversary of this event, which has resulted in the number of pilgrims constantly increasing until they now average 600,000 a year, that it is to be celebrated in connection with the congresses.

The principal event of the formal opening today of the congress was the reading by Cardinal Granito di Belmonte, the papal legate to the congress, of the papal brief. Cardinal Belmonte, who was chosen for this high position was formerly papal ambassador at the court of the late King Edward of England. In the brief entrusted to him to read to the congress, Pope Pius expressed his conviction that the congress would pass down as the most successful of any of those yet held, and extended also a special blessing and benediction on all of those present. Pope Pius also added that the replica of the shrine of our Lady of Lourdes, which was erected a number of years ago in the Vatican gardens at Rome, would hereafter have a new significance for him.

Following the reading of the brief and the response on behalf of the episcopacy, the Lourdes formal opening was adjourned for the day.

RAILROAD PAYROLLS ARE HEAVIER THAN IN YEARS

Wheat Shipments and Other Traffic Cause Large Business On All Lines Here

The payroll next month of the Fort Worth & Denver in the Wichita Valley, the Wichita Falls line and the Katy will be the heaviest known here in several years. Railroad traffic is said to be heavier than since 1908 and many extra men are employed.

The wheat movement which is now at its height is expected to continue heavy for the next thirty days.

VETERINARY MUST SECURE LICENSE IN EACH COUNTY

Austin, Texas, July 22.—The attorney general's department in ruling holds that a veterinary surgeon who has qualified according to law to practice in his home county, but who removes therefrom should be required to obtain a license to practice in the county to which he removes.

SUNSET CENTRAL EMPLOYEES GIVE TO BATTLESHIP FUND

Austin, Texas, July 22.—A check for $559 was received here today from W. B. Scott, president of the Sunset lines at Houston, representing contributions by Sunset central employees for assisting in the purchase of a silver service for the battleship Texas. No employee was allowed to contribute over one dollar. This contribution did not include a personal check of President Scott for $100.

PORTO RICAN REFUGEES BROUGHT FROM PUERTO PLATO

San Juan, Puerto Rico, July 22.—The United States revenue cutter Algonquin arrived here last night from Puerto Plato, Dominican republic with 166 refugees, mostly Porto Ricans. One woman died on the voyage from starvation. The condition of those remaining in Santo Domingo was reported pitiable as it was almost impossible to obtain food as prices were prohibitive.

EFFORTS UNDER WAY TO BREAK OPERATIC TRUST

Parma, Italy, July 22.—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick's first effort at breaking the Italian music trust has resulted in the composing of thirty-nine new grand operas. These have just been presented here in the first annual competition for the $4,000 prize offered by the Chicago woman.

For nearly a century past the famous music house of Ricordi of Milan has exercised a monopoly on the opera producing business in Italy. No composer who fills to line up with the Ricordi people can possibly hope to get his opera produced in Italy. Mrs. McCormick's prize which is to be repeated every year for ten years, also insures the production in this city of the prize winning operas.

WEATHER FORECAST

Tonight and Thursday partly cloudy.

MEDIATORS WANT AMNESTY GRANTED

URGE WILSON TO USE INFLUENCE WITH CARRANZA TO PREVENT VIOLENCE

GUARANTEES FOR PROTECTION

Believe Lives and Property of Huerta Supporters Should Be Safeguarded in Invasion

Washington, July 22.—Ambassador Dagama of Chile and Naon of Argentina—the three mediators, appealed to President Wilson today to have the United States use its influence with General Carranza to obtain amnesty for Huerta's supporters. It was the first formal call of the mediators on the president since the Niagara Falls conference adjourned. Bryan accompanied them. They discussed the situation for nearly an hour.

They said they believed Carrabal is ready to turn the government over to Carranza, but unless guarantees for protection of life and property of Huerta supporters is given, Carrabal will concentrate all his military forces and resist to the limit any effort to invade Mexico City.

The president and Mr. Bryan listened attentively. The diplomats pointed out the danger of an armed entry of constitutionalists into Mexico City. That the influence of the United States is being relied upon by Provisional President Carrabal to obtain satisfactory terms with the constitutionalists was explained also to the administration today by Carrabal's personal representative, Jose Castellon.

He was confident the American government never will permit an arbitrary entry into Mexico City by constitutionalists. He said the Carrabal government does not want any share in the future administration nor any validation of Huerta's acts.

SENATE DEMOCRATS TO CAUCUS TONIGHT

WILL CONSIDER CLAYTON ANTI-TRUST BILL REPORTED TODAY

ABSENTEES TO BE SUMMONED

Will Try To Break Up Republican Caucus on Rivers and Harbors Measure

Washington, July 22.—The revised Clayton anti-trust bill to supplement the Sherman act was formally reported today to the Senate. It would penalize price discrimination and selling agreements, would liberalize the injunction and contempt statutes in trade disputes, restrict interlocking directorates and holding companies, but would exempt labor, horticultural and agricultural organizations from its provisions.

Administration leaders called a caucus of Senate Democrats for tonight to plan expeditious action on the trust bill and a full democratic attendance in the Senate chamber to prevent continuation of the Republican filibuster on the river and harbor bill. The caucus tonight will consider also an approximate time for adjournment.

MEMBERS OF POLICE FORCE ARE ACCUSED OF BURGLARY

Rockville Center's Cops Under Arrest in Connection With Recent Robberies

Rockville Center, N. Y., July 22.—One half of Rockville's police force of six men is accused of burglary by warrants issued here today. Two of these three policemen were arrested while on their beats. The third is on his vacation. Three trunks containing articles of almost every description valued at about $5,000, were found early today concealed in the chicken coops at the home of two of the policemen.

There have been many unsolved robberies in the village since last fall.

PREDICT ANOTHER REVOLT IN CHINA

San Francisco, July 22.—Recent arrivals here from China declare almost without exception that a giant revolt is imminent there against President Yuan Shi Kai.

Yuan, they say, though a strong and able man, has utterly failed to comprehend the modern spirit which has awakened among his countrymen. His policy is denounced as one of oppression, which the masses of the Chinese with the memory of their last successful revolution still fresh in their minds, show no disposition to tolerate.

Much of the country, it is stated by men who have traveled through it and studied it thoroughly, is already in revolt, though the rebels are generally referred to in official colored dispatches as mere brigands. Good judges of the situation freely discuss that another vast struggle will be in progress within another year.

FIVE CENT FARE TO LAKE APPLIES ON SUNDAY EVENINGS

Five cent fares will be in effect on Sunday evenings the same as other evenings of the week. A good many had gained the impression that the regular ten cent fares would apply Sunday nights. This is a mistake, officials of the Traction Company declare.

MERCHANT SHOT TO DEATH WHILE ASLEEP IN STORE

Is Able To Telephone To Sheriff Before He Dies—No Clue To Assassin's Identity

Dallas, Texas, July 22.—A. C. Pemberton died here today from five bullet wounds inflicted at long range upon him at 1:30 this morning as he slept in his grocery store. Three miles outside the city limits on the Kaufman road. He was sleeping near a light in the store.

It is believed some persons intent on robbery stood outside and fired through the window. Pemberton, however, was not killed outright. He was conscious long enough to crawl to a telephone where he called the sheriff's office.

His son living a quarter of a mile from the store, heard the shots and went to his father's assistance; he found no one about the place. Apparently the assailant fled when he found Pemberton was not dead. Nothing was stolen.

DEFICIENCY IS ALLOWED FOR UNIVERSITY'S FINANCES

Austin, Texas, July 22.—The governor will authorize a deficiency of $340,000 for the University of Texas to tide that institution over until the beginning of the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1915. This deficiency is needed in a measure because of the vetoing by the governor of an appropriation of $750,000 for the support of the university by the last legislature for the second fiscal year. This appropriation may not be allowed, however, until the 34th legislature convenes next January as the university has sufficient funds available to carry on its work for the remainder of the present fiscal year ending August 31, 1914. Provision for this deficiency was made by the automatic tax board in computing the state tax rate.

OIL IS BEING USED FOR SPRINKLING AT BURKBURCETT

Dust Nuisance Has Been Abated Through Efforts of Business Men of Town

Main street at Burkburnett is being sprinkled with oil to keep down the dust. This street has been traveled during the past few weeks with many thousands of wagon loads of wheat and has been deep in dust. A few days ago Ben Schwieger, the wide awake and progressive mayor of that thriving town called on the property owners and store owners on that street and got them all to agree to join in having the street sprinkled with oil. This is now being done and the dust nuisance has been abated. The oil is secured from a pool accumulated from a leak in the pipe line and is costing only the hauling and sprinkling.

Mayor Schwieger believes that other thriving towns called on the property owners and store owners on that street and got them all to agree to join in having the street sprinkled with oil. This is now being done and the dust nuisance has been abated. The oil is secured from a pool accumulated from a leak in the pipe line and is costing only the hauling and sprinkling.

ROOSEVELT ASKS HEARING UPON COLOMBIAN TREATY

Requests Chairman Stone To Let Him Speak in Opposition To Proposed Amendment

Washington, July 22.—Col. Roosevelt in a letter to Chairman Stone of the Senate foreign relations committee today requested an opportunity to be heard in opposition to the pending treaty to pay Colombia $25,000,000 for the partition of Panama. The committee was unable to secure a quorum today to decide whether to hear Roosevelt. Chairman Stone said that he had written Roosevelt that he would submit the question of a hearing for Roosevelt to the committee.

NINE RESCUE TEAMS COMPETE IN CONTEST AT SEATTLE

Seattle, Washington, July 22.—A number of mine rescue teams from Washington campus, in the first contest of its kind ever held in the northwest, a tunnel and smoke house were constructed and the teams are required to rescue bodies from the smoke-filled rooms and apply first aid methods. So many teams were entered that the exhibitions will last over tomorrow.

ESTABLISH IDENTITY OF GALVESTON MURDER VICTIM

Now Believed To Be Mrs. George Hopper, Wife of Cleburne Man—Not Mrs. Johnston

Galveston, Texas, July 22.—Developments this afternoon indicated that the young woman murdered here yesterday was Mrs. George Hopper whose husband is believed to be in Cleburne, Texas. She has resided in Galveston several months; last winter she and her husband occupied rooms on Twenty-first street. Mr. and Mrs. T. Keelen, who lived at the same place with them said they are confident the dead woman is Mrs. Hopper. The investigation of the murder theory is still being vigorously pushed.

E. B. Hopper, a brother of George Hopper is said to live in Trinity, Texas. He formerly worked in a flour mill here. Efforts are being made to get from him definite information of the whereabouts of his brother.

This afternoon Mrs. Hillpost failed to identify the dead woman as Mrs. Johnston.

BAPTIST PASTOR DIES SUDDENLY AT PALACIOS

Palacios, Texas, July 22.—Rev. J. M. Joiner, pastor of the Baptist church of Holland, Texas, was found dead in the bath house at the B. Y. P. U. grounds late yesterday. He had finished his bath and seemed in the best of spirits when he entered the room to dress. He was found partly clothed. He was sixty-five years old and had been in the Baptist ministry many years.

METHODIST MINISTER AT ROSENBERG, TEXAS, DEAD

Rosenberg, Texas, July 22.—After a short illness Dr. G. B. Ridley, a prominent South Texas churchman died here last night of heart failure. He came to Rosenberg three years ago as pastor of the Methodist church here. A widow and three daughters survive him.

CHARGES AGAINST SOUTHERN RAILWAY

LARGE PROFITS ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN MADE ON BRANCH LINE DEALS

$4,000,000 IN VIRGINIA TRADE

Bristol Man Makes Charges Today at Senate Committee Hearing on Another Matter

Washington, July 22.—Charges that purchases of branch lines by the Southern Railway were comparable to the New Haven transactions were made today by B. L. Dulaney of Bristol, Tennessee-Virginia, before the Senate committee investigating charges that the Southern road discriminated against Charleston and other Southern points at the orders of a coal trust.

Dulaney said these deals show how millions are made. He said that H. K. McHarg, a director in the Virginia and Southwestern railroad made a profit of $4,000,000 on the sale of that line to the Southern.

CONFERENCE IS RESUMED TODAY

Is Discussing How Much Area To Include in Excluded Portion of Ulster

London, July 22.—Premier Asquith today in the House of Commons assumed full responsibility for the speech made by the king yesterday to the political leaders at Buckingham Palace conferring on the Irish home rule situation.

"This was the speech in which the king said the country was on the verge of civil war. Asquith said the speech had been sent to him before it was delivered and that he took the responsibility for it.

The peace-makers met with the king again today to tackle the crux of the problem, the area of Ulster to be excluded under the bill. After a short conference they adjourned until tomorrow. It is understood they will lay the plans for excluding part of Ulster before party caucuses today. Premier Asquith told the House of Commons:

"His majesty throughout this matter, has not taken any step from the beginning until now, except in consultation with and advice of his ministers."

Asquith declined to discuss why the conference was being held in Buckingham Palace instead of in the House of Commons. Asquith said the king had left it to the choice of the conferees to say whether his speech yesterday should be published and the conferees decided unanimously in favor of publishing it.

ELLECTION RULINGS ISSUED BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Passes on Several Questions Raised in Connection With Next Saturday's Primary

Austin, Texas, July 22.—The attorney general's department today issued rulings for guidance in Saturday's primaries. These held that it is necessary for a voter to reside in the county where he votes for six months before election. Men over 60 are not required to show exemption certificates unless they reside in a city of 10,000 inhabitants or more. Elections cannot be held in saloons and the mere curtaining off of the bar will not answer, the house must be closed. The executive committee of each county in Texas has authority to provide additional tests other than the one which must be printed on the ballot. A voter must not only have paid his poll tax, but also his state and county taxes and a city poll tax if one is levied. Persons who offer to vote upon the question of a mission only and are not Democrats and do not believe in principles of the democratic party should not be permitted to vote at all, the decision holds.

PRINTING PRESS ORDERED FOR SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

Austin, Texas, July 22.—An order for a cylinder press and complete job printing outfit has been placed by the school of journalism of the University of Texas in Houston. It is the plan of Former Lieutenant Governor W. H. Mayes, dean of the school to have the students issue a six page paper—probably weekly.

TRAFFIC IS RESUMED OVER PEASE RIVER BRIDGE

The Fort Worth & Denver's Pease River bridge was repaired yesterday and was ready for traffic last night. Passenger trains are running as usual today although the freight blockade which resulted from the suspension of traffic on account of the burned bridge is not yet cleared up.

WATERMELON SHIPMENTS STARTED AT BURKBURNETT

First Carload Is Being Loaded Today—Acreage Smaller, But Yield Is Large

The first carload of the 1914 melon crop is being loaded at Burkburnett today. The shipment is being made by Mr. Tollett, one of the melon raisers of that place who has in a crop of about thirty acres. C. A. Walling is also preparing to load a car today. While the acreage in melons is small at Burkburnett this year the quality is said to be exceptionally good and the yield is good. It is estimated that 100 cars will be shipped.

ASQUITH ASSUMES RESPONSIBILITY

TAKES KING'S SPEECH TO ULSTER PEACEMAKERS ENTIRELY UPON SELF

CONFERENCE IS RESUMED TODAY

Is Discussing How Much Area To Include in Excluded Portion of Ulster

London, July 22.—Premier Asquith today in the House of Commons assumed full responsibility for the speech made by the king yesterday to the political leaders at Buckingham Palace conferring on the Irish home rule situation.

CARRANZA'S STAND CAUSES PESSIMISM

SAYS WILL NOT TREAT WITH CARBAJAL EXCEPT FOR SURRENDER

CARBAJAL PLANS RESISTANCE

Will Not Submit to Invasion of Capital by Constitutionalists Without Agreement

By Associated Press. Washington, July 21.—Provisional President Carranza does not intend to surrender unconditionally to General Carranza, but will concentrate his military forces and resist an invasion rather than permit constitutionalists to enter Mexico City without previous agreements not to take vengeance on the lives and property of Huerta's supporters.

Emilio Rabasa, head of the delegation which represented Huerta at Niagara Falls arrived here today and discussed the situation with the South American mediators and then with Jose Castelli, personal representative of Carranza.

There was much comment on Carranza's information to the American consul at Monterey that he would receive a commission from Carranza only on condition of unconditional surrender by the Mexico City authorities. These uncompromising terms have puzzled diplomats who hoped for a quick solution.

There were no indications today how far the government was prepared to exert pressure on Carranza to obtain amnesty and guarantees. Diplomats also watched with keen interest the reports that Villa again was threatening to break with Carranza.

ANCIENT SEWER CAVES IN HEART OF NEW YORK CITY

Large Cavern Suddenly Appears in Financial District When Old Conduit Given Way

New York, July 21.—A large cavern suddenly appeared under Liberty street between Broadway and Nassau street in the financial district late this afternoon when the old sewer conduit gave way.

ANOTHER INFECTED RAT IS FOUND IN NEW ORLEANS

Makes Six To Date—No New Cases of Plague Reported Up To Early This Afternoon

New Orleans, July 21.—A rat captured at the Bumbale street wharf was announced today as infected with bubonic plague. This is the sixth infected rat captured. No new cases had been reported up to early this afternoon, the total standing at eight.

VILLA BEGINS HIS MARCH TOWARD MEXICAN CAPITAL

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, July 21.—The southern movement of General Villa's forces has begun, according to advice today. Villa still was in Chihuahua City but was expected to start south within forty-eight hours and his army of 15,000 was reported entering for Queretaro. There he expects to join the other constitutionalist army for a triumphal entry in Mexico City.

MONASTIC LIFE STILL POPULAR STATISTICS SHOW

Rome, July 21.—That the monastic life has lost none of its hold on present day humanity has just been demonstrated by the report made of the growth of the Capuchin order, the general chapter of which just closed here. Despite the fact that several of the leading countries of Europe no longer permit monasteries of the order, the Capuchins now have 771 convents scattered through 53 provinces, with 10,175 full members. In addition they have throughout the world 4,780 congregations of "tertiaries," or members of the order who, while not living in convents, devote their lives to the work of the order. The total membership of these congregations falls just a little below 1,000,000.

CONGRESSMAN QUITS SEAT UNDER FIRE

MCDERMOTT OF CHICAGO, ACCUSED BY MULHALL RE-SIGNS TODAY

IS CRITICISED BY COMMITTEE

Alleged To Have Received $7500 From Washington Pawnbrokers For Aiding Them

By Associated Press. Washington, July 21.—Representative James T. McDermott, Republican of Illinois from the stockyards district of Chicago today on the floor of the House of Representatives offered his resignation effective immediately. He is under charges in connection with the lobby investigation.

A majority report of the lobby investigating committee now ready to come before the House severely criticized him while the minority report recommended that he be expelled from the House.

Immediately upon assembling of the House today he rose to a question of personal privilege and offered his resignation, declaring he "would appeal my case to the people of the fourth district of Illinois."

Mulhall charged McDermott had received $7500 from Washington pawnbrokers to work against the federal loan shark law and a $3000 campaign contribution from a Chicago brewer's association.

McDermott's defense was that the money from the pawnbrokers was in the nature of personal loans and that the brewers had contributed only $500 out of personal friendship. He denied a charge by Mulhall that he had forged Harold E. McCormick's name to a check for $250.

BODY OF GIRL IS FOUND MURDERED AT GALVESTON

Mystery Surrounds Discovery This Morning—Identity Has Not Yet Been Established

Galveston, Texas, July 21.—The body of a young girl, dressed young woman was found on the beach west of the city this morning with a bullet hole through the head. There was no sign of powder burns, which led the authorities to believe she was murdered. There was no jewelry or other means of immediate identification. As the body was partly covered with sand which the tide had washed over it during the night, it was believed the girl was murdered sometime before midnight.

The girl wore a Panama hat of the texture, a handsome white dress of sheer material, tan shoes and tan silk stockings. She had long black hair, gray eyes and was about five feet five inches tall. White positive identification had not been established at two o'clock this afternoon, it seemed almost certain that she had resided in this city for some time.

LEADERS IN IRISH IMBROGLIO CONFER

ENEMIES OF LONG STANDING ATTEND MEETING AT KING'S PALACE

WILL MEET AGAIN TOMORROW

Some Newspapers Criticize King For His Action in Calling Leaders Together

By Associated Press. London, July 21.—For an hour and a half today, leaders in the Irish imbroglio conferred at a meeting called by the King in Buckingham Palace. So deep was the interest of the public that big crowds gathered outside the palace to watch the party leaders going to the conference. After the conference it was announced that the meeting will continue tomorrow.

King George received the statesmen. Probably this is the first time that John E. Redmond and John Dillon, the Irish Nationalist leaders had ever exchanged greetings with their king as it has been their practice to remain away from all functions where they were likely to meet royalty. The conservatives and the liberal leaders who attended today, Premier Asquith and Andrew Bonar Law, respectively have been barely on speaking terms.

Two others who attended are believed to be bitter personal enemies. They are the Marquis of Lansdown, leader of the Unionists in the House of Lords and David Lloyd-George. At the same time, the Irish Nationalists and the Ulster Unionist representatives probably were not pleased upon finding themselves in such close contact. It is believed the atmosphere of the meeting could not have been otherwise than extremely chilly.

After a brief conversation the king withdrew leaving the conferees to their deliberations. Some of the newspapers attacked the king bitterly for interfering, declaring that his move is revolutionary.

AUTO STARTED DOWN EMBANKMENT AT BRIDGE

Left Standing with Two Children Effort to Stop It

From Tuesday's Daily. A chauffeur from a local garage and two little sons of J. D. Ince of this city narrowly escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when an automobile ran down an embankment on the Wichita River.

A party consisting of the families of Mr. Ince and Mrs. Stande, accompanied by Charles Ince and the two boys, got out to examine the bridge to see if it was safe to cross and left the two boys on the embankment. The brakes were supposed to be set but were not and the machine started down the embankment. The chauffeur ran and jumped at the car and tried to stop it but it only went the faster. It then struck the river and plunged down the embankment. The car struck the bridge and rolled over a 25-foot scarping that was securely fastened to the bridge. The car was about two inches from the scarping when it hit and they all enjoyed a pleasant day.

LOCAL LABOR UNIONS TO PUBLISH WEEKLY PAPER

First Issue Will Make Its Appearance Tomorrow—Is to Be Permanent Publication

From Tuesday's Daily. The initial issue of the Wichita Falls Labor Union, a weekly publication devoted to the interests of organized labor in Wichita Falls and the surrounding territory will appear tomorrow. Hereafter Tuesday will be the regular day of publication. J. A. Burton, president of the Wichita Falls Labor and Trades Council and C. W. Johnson, of the Typographical Union are the publishers. At the start the paper will be four pages of five columns each. Its headquarters will be at the labor hall. The leader will have the support of the union men of the city and it is the intention to make it a permanent publication.

A TEAS WONDER

Washington, July 20.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today suspended until January 30, 1915 the cancelling allowances by railroads to several short lines serving industrial plants. After the decision of the commission several months ago in the industrial rate cases the carriers filed the tariffs but the commission suspended them until July 30 except those affecting the United States steel and other iron lines.

MURDER REENACTED AT TRIAL IN PARIS

NEWSPAPER EMPLOYEES TELL DETAILS OF SHOOTING OF THEIR EDITOR

WARNED NOT TO SEE WOMAN

"I Cannot Refuse" Was Calmette's Reply—Defendant's Husband Enters Court Under Guard

Paris, July 21.—Madame Callaux was up early today and almost her first act was to look through a mass of morning papers for her testimony yesterday. She found she had been sympathetically treated. There were many appreciations of her detestable arrangement of facts and of the feeling which she has put into her descriptions of her agony.

The most important testimony at the second day's hearing of the trial was that of President Poincare of the Republic whose deposition was read. It said that Joseph Callaux, the president of the day Calmette was killed had spoken about the probability of publication in the Figaro of letters between himself and Madame Callaux. In the course of an excited talk Callaux explained according to the deposition, publishes the letters, "I will kill him."

Callaux also took the stand. After relating incidents of his private life after his first marriage, he explained the circumstances of the writing of the two letters to Madame Raymond, who afterwards became Madame Callaux. His voice trembled but he gathered composure as he proceeded.

When her husband, Joseph Callaux entered court this morning he was accompanied by two detectives, owing to the fact that a group of spectators had booted him after he left the prison after visiting his wife. Two office boys from the Figaro were the first witnesses today. They described the arrival of Madame Callaux on the day of the shooting. They told how she waited and detailed her entrance into the room occupied by the editor and of their hearing shots.

One of the boys crouched down on the witness stand and uttered a series of cries to show how he had found Calmette when he ran to the latter's chamber on the roof of the Figaro. He said when he ran into Calmette's room another man was holding Madame Callaux by the wrist. She cried: "Let me go. I am not going to escape."

She begged her to let her go and she stood near the door, clear eyed and calm. Her face neither flushed nor pale. She seemed untroubled by the presence of fifteen editors gathered around her. She began to speak, saying: "There is no justice in France."

One of the editors interrupted her with "Shut your mouth. After what you have done keep quiet." Madame Callaux retorted: "I was not speaking to you."

Paul Herge, the editor who was with Calmette in his office when the woman's card was brought in, said he remarked to Calmette: "You will not see her." Calmette replied: "I cannot refuse to see a woman."

The scene of the shooting was reconstructed by a succession of witnesses, employees of the Figaro. Some of them denied that their advertising man, while talking with their artist in the room where Madame Callaux was waiting to see Calmette had mentioned Calmette as Mrs. Callaux's lover. At this point Madame Callaux interrupted the testimony saying: "I wish to ask M. Voisin (the advertising man mentioned) whether one of his friends did not say 'Is the sheet ready?' and whether he did not answer: 'We have a great paper on Calmette tomorrow.' Voisin replied: 'That is absolutely false.' Madame Callaux retorted: "I heard Voisin say to my friend, 'It costs dear, but we are letting loose the hunting dogs on all sides.'"

TO SCHOOL PATRONS OF WICHITA COUNTY

To the School Patrons of Wichita County:

If your children are enumerated in one district and are to attend school in another, the money should be transferred to the district in which they are to attend. High school transfers may be made any time during the year, however, I would like to have a list of them by August 1 in order that I may be able to determine better the financial condition of each school district. Please mark by the name of each transfer child the grade to which he was promoted. Transfers of primary and intermediate grades must be made before August 1. Data forms may be had from E. A. Dale, Electric, A. L. Brubaker, Iowa Park; O. L. Clark, Burkbarratt, or from me. Yours truly, E. M. JOHNSON, County Supt.

INDUSTRIAL LINE TARIFFS ARE AGAIN POSTPONED

By Associated Press. Washington, July 20.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today suspended until January 30, 1915 the cancelling allowances by railroads to several short lines serving industrial plants. FUNERAL OF MAJOR COBB IS HELD TODAY

BODY IS LAID TO REST THIS AFTERNOON IN RIVERSIDE

DRAPED IN CONFEDERATE FLAG

Services are Held at Church of Good Shepherd—Large Throng in Attendance

From Tuesday's Daily. Draped in the Stars and Bars, banner of the cause he loved so well and served so nobly, the mortal clay of Major Robert Cobb was this afternoon laid tenderly away in Riverside cemetery. A large concourse of old comrades, legal associates, Masonic brothers and neighbors followed the remains up the hill to the resting place.

The funeral was held from the Church of the Good Shepherd and the impressive Episcopal rites were observed. Music was by a special choir which sang the customary burial offices and an anthem "I Heard a Voice From Heaven." At the graveside the Masonic ritual was observed.

Many beautiful floral tributes marked the love and esteem in which Major Cobb was held. The pall-bearers were: Active—A. H. Harrison, A. H. Britton, P. B. Cox, W. E. Fitzgerald, T. R. Boone, N. Henderson. Honorary—George Simmons, W. J. Howard, H. C. Young, V. S. Kay, J. T. A. Fleming, H. J. Norwood, A. J. Schaffer, J. D. Carthers.

Confederate veterans of this city and vicinity attended the funeral in a body to pay tribute to their departed comrade.

In accordance with an oft-expressed wish of Major Cobb his coffin was draped in the Confederate flag and the emblem under which he fought and strove in early manhood was made to shroud his frame.

Major Cobb was stricken nearly two weeks ago and it was not long until it was evident that the end was near at hand. His wonderful vitality, however, kept the spark of life burning much longer than was expected. Since Thursday of last week he had been unconscious and his strength gradually waned until he died peacefully as a child going to sleep.

The home life of Major Cobb was of unusual sweetness and it was in his family that his entire interest seemed to center after he was forced to forego the active practice of his profession. His daughters from out of the city, Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Stearns, L. A. Maxwell, are now on foot to have the district unions also meet here during the state convention, Aug. 4.

There are seven district unions in Texas: Northeast Texas, Northwest Texas, Southwest Texas, Texas central, Wichita valley and Texas valley. If all these organizations agree to meet here during the state as well as the national convention, both of the gatherings of farmers will be greatly added to. Each district union will probably hold a separate executive session and then join in a general conference with the state and national delegates.

State Secretary Baker of the Farmers' union is being kept busy with an intense stream of delegate credentials from all parts of the state, as well as quarterly and financial reports from all the county unions.

Between 800 and 1,000 delegates and about 1,500 visitors are expected to attend the state convention of the Farmers' union August 4. Four delegates are allowed from each county union and one delegate from counties which have local unions but no county organizations.

Extensive preparations are also being made for the national convention. There will be in attendance about 200 delegates at large from each state of the twenty-three states having state organizations, and in addition, one delegate for every 5,000 of membership of these states or major fraction thereof.

15,000 PIECES POISON FOR RATS ARE PLACED

Excursions From New Orleans Called Off—Death Expected In One of New Cases

By Associated Press. New Orleans, July 20.—The proposed excursions from here to Poncaicola which were to begin here on August 3, have been called off because of the plague. Authorities fear the plague.

Helen Sowell, the ten year old child who developed plague Saturday was dangerously ill today. A total of 15,000 pieces of rat poison were being placed today.

The finding of the seventh case of bubonic plague was announced here Sunday by the health authorities. It was that of Ethelene Glavin, a 15 year old negroess employed by a paper company in sorting coffee paper trash. The paper company at 611-621 Front street, is within what is termed the original focus of the disease.

The negroess resided at 1531 St. Phillips street, several blocks from where she was employed. She was removed to the isolation hospital where her case was pronounced serious.

NO ATTACK YET BY FORCES OF ZAPATA

MEXICAN CAPITAL NOT BELIEVED TO BE IN DANGER AT PRESENT

REBELS ARE ADVANCING SOUTH

Puebla Governor Said To Have Offered Them Peaceful Entry. Orozco's Offer Refused

By Associated Press. Mexico City, July 21.—Early today Emilio Zapata had not attacked Chilimlico the village, twenty miles from the capital which his men threatened yesterday. This village is of great strategic value because the capital gets its water supply from the lakes there. Four thousand federal soldiers defend it. Federal officials said they consider the place perfectly safe and that there is no ground for fearing a Zapata attack on the capital itself. The federals who evacuated San Luis Potosi are concentrating at Queretaro and at Gonzalez Junction.

It is said here constitutionalists have begun their advance south from San Luis Potosi. Reports from Puebla say the governor there has sent delegates to offer the constitutionalist leaders peaceful entry into the state capital. General Orozco's troops are now about 160 miles northwest of the capital and it is reported they are preparing to advance on Mexico City.

General Orozco and other former revolutionary chiefs now serving with the government troops have offered their services to President Carranza to check the constitutionalist advance on the capital. President Carranza has declined the offer.

FARMERS UNION TO HOLD MEETINGS AT FORT WORTH

State and National Conventions Will Take Place There Within a Short Time

Fort Worth, July 21.—That the attendance and business transacted at both the state and national conventions of the Farmers' union, to be held here soon, will be greatly augmented by separate meetings here of the district unions of Texas, is the expectation of local officials of the Farmers' union.

All of the seven district unions of the state have agreed to hold meetings in Fort Worth coincident with the national convention, beginning Sunday. A separate executive session and then join in a general conference with the state and national delegates.

State Secretary Baker of the Farmers' union is being kept busy with an intense stream of delegate credentials from all parts of the state, as well as quarterly and financial reports from all the county unions.

Between 800 and 1,000 delegates and about 1,500 visitors are expected to attend the state convention of the Farmers' union August 4. Four delegates are allowed from each county union and one delegate from counties which have local unions but no county organizations.

LABOR CELEBRATION WILL BE HELD AT LAKE WICHITA

From Tuesday's Daily. Like Wichita will be the scene of the Labor Day celebration this year. The celebration will continue two days. Notable speakers in the world will be brought here for the occasion.

The Labor Day committee of the Trades Council made its first report at Monday night's meeting. It reported that it had closed arrangements for the grounds at Lake Wichita and that the Trades Council would give a five cent fare for the two days. The committee will also give the concessions for those two days. The committee is still at work and expects to have all details of the arrangements completed for the greatest Labor Day celebration ever held in Northwest Texas.

At last night's meeting word was received from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen that that organization desired to participate in the Labor Day parade and other features of the celebration.

BASEBALL STRIKE PROBABLY AVERTED

KRAFT CASE WHICH STARTED TROUBLE, AMICABLY SETTLED TODAY

NEWARK CLUB TAKES ACTION

Makes Deal Without Instructions From Either the American or National League

By Associated Press. New York, July 21.—There will be no strike of baseball players in the two major leagues. The Kraft case basis for the strike order issued yesterday by the baseball players' fraternity was settled today when the Newark International agreed to buy Nashville's interest in Kraft. This announcement was made at a meeting of the International League stockholders today.

In the settlement of all claims on Kraft the Nashville club is to receive $2500. C. H. Ebbett, a stockholder in the Newark club said this arrangement was made without instructions from either the American or National League and was made to avoid possible trouble between organized baseball and the players.

COMMITTEE IS NAMED TO SECURE MARKET EXCHANGE

Chamber of Commerce Takes Matter Up—Delegates To Highway Meeting Are Named

From Tuesday's Daily. At the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning R. O. Harvey was named chairman of a committee to call upon the grain and cotton dealers of the city to ask their support and patronage for a market exchange which it is proposed to open here.

J. A. Kemp, Wiley Blair and other Wichitans who may be in Colorado Springs at that time were named as delegates from Wichita county to the annual meeting of the Colorado to the Gulf Highway Association here on July 31.

ELECTION OF FRANK KELL AS DIRECTOR ANNOUNCED

Wichitan Nomination Confirmed By Regional Banks After Formal Ballot Is Taken

From Tuesday's Daily. A nomination received by The Times today from the treasury department has announced the election of Frank Kell of this city as a director of the Dallas regional bank group two, Class B.

Nearly all of the other directors for this bank have now been elected. Next is a meeting to be called within a short time for the organization of the bank.

Mr. Kell was nominated some time ago and his election has been practically certain for some time only awaiting the formal ratification by the member banks which balloted on each candidate.

THE MEASURE OF A MAN; HIS THEME

REV. C. C. SMITH ANSWERS QUESTION ASKED BY PSALMIST

SPIRITUAL AND MATERIAL

God Regards Man As Supreme Achievement of His Creative Power

What is man that thou art mindful of him? The question asked by the Psalmist was the text of Sunday morning's sermon by Rev. Chas. Clark Smith at the First M. E. Church.

The most commonly observed facts concerning man have to do with his struggle against physical conditions, his competition with other men and his conflict with nature for a livelihood. The most obvious things concerning him are physical.

The Psalmist with his poetic sweep gave form to a question asked many years before his generation. It is a prevalent question with men everywhere. What is man? What is man that thou art mindful of him? What is he in relation to others of his kind and to the world in which he lives? What is he in relation to a God of infinite power? There are some things even of more concern than what we shall eat and what we shall drink and what we shall put on.

We approach the naturalist with the question, what is man? He will answer by comparing man with nature round about. What is physical man as compared with the unlimited stars of the heavens? He is the "mearest speck of dust as compared with some of God's created objects which appear before his eye. What right has he to assume any importance? What is man as compared with the earth on which he creeps? The massive mountain and the giant waterfall and the storm cloud, and the desert all tower over him. What is he as compared to these? The Psalmist was something of a naturalist poet and he was impressed with the amazing grandeur and beauty of the heavens and cried out in amazement that a God who had made all these things should have regard to man as insignificant in comparison. As a matter of created bulk man is indeed insignificant. Many of the animals outdo him in this respect. They are superior in size, strength, endurance, longevity, etc. Many animals possess faculties developed to a degree never approached by man.

What is man then from the naturalist viewpoint? He is an animal of a medium order, lacking in many respects and superior only in his power of mind. He can reason and remember and the animal world generally is limited in these faculties. His physical organs are so like those of the lower orders of animals that the unskilled can not tell one from the other. They are so like in certain stages of development that many and indeed most scholarly men think that man is a development in from a lower order probably through a long number of stages. To the naturalist therefore man is animal and not in all respects the highest in animal achievement.

We approach the chemist and ask him, what is man? He takes us to his laboratory and shows us an analysis of the human body. What does it indicate? Again we find that man is animal. We find that the human body reduces to the same elements essentially as any other body. There are certain volumes of gas, small quantities of salt, charcoal and lime, etc. A human body reduced to its lowest terms in a crematory will leave on the average less than five pounds of solid materials. It is not difficult for the chemist to answer from his view point what man is. He is animal and in analysis shows little or nothing that is not common to all animals.

In turn we interrogate the biologist and what is his answer? He has studied the origins and developments of the physical man and he knows that he develops exactly like the lower order of animals. In its study of embryo he has found great similarity and perhaps will declare emphatically that man is only animal—that his microscope and scalpel fail to reveal anything in man that is not common to all animals. The biologist therefore pronounces man a bundle of derived properties very similar to all other animals and as animal only slightly if at all superior to other animals. His evidence is good and his answer complete within the compass of his observation. From his viewpoint man is only animal.

The Religionist Measure. "But what does the religionist have to say? Ask him, what is man? Man is indeed animal but he is more. Measured as to bulk he is indeed insignificant. Measured as to brute strength he is easily excelled. Searched for with scalpel and microscope he is very easily overlooked. He must be measured by other standards. When properly observed we find some qualities that do not exist in themselves a scientific analysis of the body. There is the power of thought that does not leave a residuum in the chemist's retort. There is a power of thinking a new thought which does not reveal itself to the eye of the microscope. He builds a canal across a desert, storing of it honey on the best possible plan, eth as to economy of space and power, but he builds today exactly as he did in the days of Solomon. The beaver invents nothing new in the way of dam building. He could not dam the great Mississippi or cut a canal across Panama. Man is independence of thought. Certain possibilities of love and hate characterize man. These show characteristics new and distinct in the animal order. The religionist says that the scientist has not seen all of man—that he has not seen man at all. He declares that man is soul-intellect, sensibility, will. That he is made in the image of God; that he is not only alive now but that man is indestructible and shall live forever. On this basis many things that suggest themselves to the most intrepid and valiant soldier and one of Wichita Falls' most generally beloved citizens. Entombed by years, the Major was stricken shortly over a week ago and for the past few days it had been known that he could not survive. Like the true soldier that he was, Major Cobb met the summons bravely and peacefully awaiting his well earned rest in the "white tents far away."

For thirty years Major Cobb had been a resident of Wichita Falls coming to this community when it was a little frontier village. In 1884, through all the winds of prosperity and adversity that blew, he remained loyal here. The practice of law engaged him actively until a few years ago when his age forced him to give up most of his work along this line. His high fields of citizenship and of service stood him well through the long years that he lived here and there are few that can point to a better record.

Commanded Cobb's Battery. At the time of his death, Major Cobb was ranking artillery officer of the Confederate army. He commanded the famous Cobb's battery in the war between the states, ending the war with a splendid record and bearing the title of major. In Kentucky, especially in the neighborhood of Paducah, many members of this battery survive and to them the name of Cobb still stands for all that is brave and valiant.

Born in Kentucky. Major Cobb was born in Lyon County, Kentucky on May 21, 1836,

SHIP WITH HINDUS WILL BE TOWED FROM HARBOR

By Associated Press. Vancouver, B. C., July 20.—No move will be made for a couple of days to take out of the harbor the steamer Komatah Maru, and her 300 Hindu passengers who have been refused a landing by the Canadian immigration authorities. This decision was reached today. Meanwhile a tug is circling around the vessel and relays of guards are standing guard to repel boarders. There was some fear that an attempt might be made from shore to help the Hindus make a landing.

Of the men wounded in Sunday's battle only two remained in the hospital today and it was expected they will be out in a few days.

Scores Were Hurt. Scores were hurt in the battle yesterday. Showers of coal and other missiles rained from the ship on the official force which attempted to board the steamer for capture. In the face of the fire the attacking party retreated and the attempt to board the steamer temporarily was abandoned. The Hindus braved the stream from a big hose the tug turned on them and mercilessly pelted the officers with lumps of coal.

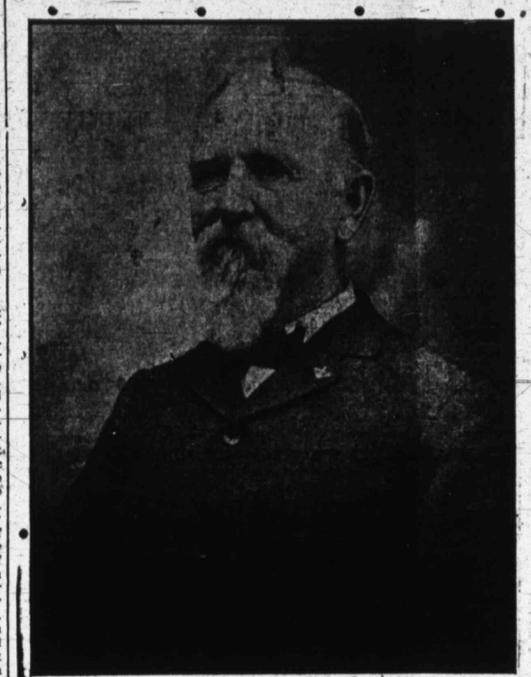

Firebricks and pieces of iron from what is believed to be from wreck of the engine room on the steamer followed. No shots were fired on either side. The Hindus had no firearms and the police refrained from using theirs.

The battle grew out of an attempt to rid the harbor of a Japanese steamer on which 350 Hindus came to this port three months ago, only to have the Canadian immigration officials refuse them admission to the country. Their claim of a right to land as British subjects was overruled by the courts and the steamer was ordered to sail with them on board.

The Hindus had been rebellious and several times attempted to land, but were prevented.

New York, July 20.—Major General Leonard Wood, former chief of staff of the United States army, is now in charge of the eastern department, with headquarters located at Governors Island, New York. Gen. Wood went through the Mexican crisis as head of the army officers and was praised generally for his judgment in military affairs.

Major Robert Cobb, Valiant Confederate Soldier Dead

Major Robert Cobb, ranking artillery officer of the Confederate army and pioneer resident of Wichita Falls died at 1:30 this afternoon at his home on Tenth street, following a brief illness due to a paralytic stroke. The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The death of Major Cobb closes the earthly career of one of the South's most intrepid and valiant soldiers and one of Wichita Falls' most generally beloved citizens. Entombed by years, the Major was stricken shortly over a week ago and for the past few days it had been known that he could not survive. Like the true soldier that he was, Major Cobb met the summons bravely and peacefully awaiting his well earned rest in the "white tents far away."

For thirty years Major Cobb had been a resident of Wichita Falls coming to this community when it was a little frontier village. In 1884, through all the winds of prosperity and adversity that blew, he remained loyal here. The practice of law engaged him actively until a few years ago when his age forced him to give up most of his work along this line. His high fields of citizenship and of service stood him well through the long years that he lived here and there are few that can point to a better record.

When the war was over, Major Cobb returned to his former home at Paducah, Ky., where he remained during reconstruction days. In 1884 he moved with his family to Texas, locating in Wichita Falls. Surviving are the widow and one son, Percy and four daughters, Mrs. H. C. Harding of Amarillo; Mrs. A. S. Stinnett of Amarillo; Mrs. Robert Thorburn of Wichita Falls and Miss Ethel Cobb of Wichita Falls.

At the funeral which will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Episcopal Church the members of the Masonic order will officiate. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

MERIDIAN ROAD PRIZED BY ALL TEXAS COUNTIES

Texas counties generally are wailing up to the importance of the Meridian road work, according to W. H. Beck of Fort Worth, secretary of the Texas branch of the association, writing to Robert Campbell of Anadarko, general secretary. In South Texas a year ago there was very little highway that was even passably good. Mr. Beck says there are now many miles of finished road.

"From Tarrant county to Burkburnett," writes Mr. Beck, "conditions now are fair and there is great promise of extensive improvement during the next few months. Next spring will find Texas with a gravel or bituminous macadam or shell road all the way from Burkburnett on the Red River to Galveston on the Gulf."

"It is very encouraging," Mr. Beck says in his letter, "to all the Meridian road enthusiasts to know that the National Highway Association thinks enough of the Meridian road to incorporate it in their bill proposing 50,000 miles of federal highways."

Real Obstreperous Militant Would Blow Up Court

By Associated Press. London, July 20.—"The next bomb I explode will be in a police court and I hope it will be this one." This was the parting shot from Annie Bell, a militant suffragette, when a magistrate committed her for trial today on the double charge of trying to destroy two churches.

She sang the Marseilles in court. She said she has been sent to prison ten times but never yet served a sentence. She also said, "blowing up a church does not count unless it is blown out of the universe."

TRIAL OF MME. CAILLAUX IS SENSATION OF PARIS

EX PREMIER'S WIFE BROUGHT TO TRIAL

ENTERS COURT ROOM THROUGH SECRET PASSAGEWAY TO BE ARRAIGNED

PRISONER APPEARS WORN

Heavy Police and Military Precautions Taken to Prevent Rioting

Personages: Mme. Joseph Caillaux, wife of ex-Premier and former minister of finance in prison charged with murder. Gaston Calmette, editor of "Le Figaro" whom Mme. Caillaux shot to death.

Time: Shooting occurred on March 16 at 6:35 p. m., Calmette dying at 12:45 a. m.

The meaning: A violent political campaign by the Figaro against Joseph Caillaux, minister of finance and leader of the government "bloc," the Radical-Socialist party; Calmette sometimes called the "Lloyd George" of France, because of his taxaton measures.

Contributory: The Figaro campaign becomes somewhat personal and on Friday, March 13, was printed an intimate note alleged to be from Caillaux to the present Mme. Caillaux and signed "Tom Joy" (The Joy) When this note was written the present Mme. Caillaux was the wife of Leo Claret, from whom she was later divorced.

Direct Cause: (As urged by the defense). The understanding that Calmette was to be pulled further and more intimate letters from Caillaux to the woman who later became his wife.

Trial: At the Palace of Justice, on the "Isle of the City." Charge: Premeditated murder.

Defense: Shot fired in a moment of passion or brain spasm. Calmette killed unintentionally.

By Associated Press. Paris, France, July 20.—Through a secret passageway Madame Caillaux was conducted to court today for trial for the murder on March 16 of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro.

There were rumors that Royalists intended to create a disturbance during the trial and extensive precautions have been taken by the police to quell it.

The crowd outside the court room made several demonstrations as well as noisy jeers or cries on either side, went to court, but they did not catch the man in the prisoner. As soon as the jurors had been chosen by the casting of lots and the four judges composing the court had taken their seats, President Albanais called in a loud voice heard throughout the court room: "Bring in the accused."

Republican guards thereupon opened a small door in the walls of the court room beneath the bust of the Goddess of Liberty and Madame Caillaux stepped out into the center of the tribunal. The strong light from the windows opposite seemed to startle her or perhaps it was the silence of the court room and the sea of upturned faces that made her hesitate on the threshold and reach out unsteadily to catch the arm of the Republican guard standing beside her. He spoke to her and she entered the prisoner's enclosure. She stood with eyes downcast, her shoulders bent, a picture of tired and broken womanhood. When asked her name her lips scarcely moved and the words could hardly be heard.

Mme. Caillaux Testifies. Madame Caillaux made a long statement referring frequently to her notes. She told about her divorce in April 1908. Her voice was steady. She spoke of her marriage with M. Caillaux and said Monsieur Caillaux was premier and in marrying him had been supremely happy, adding: "But, alas! my life began to be poisoned by calumnies. The campaign of the Figaro against my husband was unplaceable. All the people in the saloons that I frequented received me with smiles that were intended to wound me. One person said my husband had taken money from Germany in connection with concessions in the Congo. These slanderous rumors permeated every part of society. I was no longer able to go to sittings of the Chamber of Deputies because I was the object of unwelcome attention. One day there was a cry behind me, 'To Berlin, Caillaux, Congo.' I was forced to leave."

Madame Caillaux added that painful incidents were taking place all the time among her acquaintances when she was shopping at the theatres and even in her home. She continued:

"The attacks of the Figaro were implacable. They were nothing to do with politics. They were personal; suffered; I lost my head." Mrs. Caillaux voice sank and she seemed overcome. After few minutes one of the judges asked: "Why do you say the polemics of the Figaro had nothing to do with politics?" The prisoner raised her clenched hand and cried:

"I will tell you why." She then searched among her notes and began to read passages from them.

"These," she shouted, "are some of the 138 articles published against my husband. These criticisms are not attacks upon his policies; they are personal."

Several times she asked the presiding judge if she could go on. "Take as much time as you like," you have the fullest freedom to say anything that you like," he told her.

CASE RARE MORSEL FOR FRENCH GOSSIPS

Paris, July 20.—A rare morsel awaited Paris today. Mme. Joseph Caillaux, beautiful wife of the ex-Premier and former minister of finance, was placed on trial, charged with the shooting and killing of Gaston Calmette, editor of "Le Figaro." The trial of the woman whose act all but upset a cabinet, threw France into a political turmoil the like of which it has hardly seen since the Dreyfus case and resulted in her husband's retirement as a cabinet officer, attracted an enormous crowd toward the Palace of Justice. ### ULSTER CONFERENCE IS NOT SUCCESSFUL

LEADERS OF VARIOUS FACTIONS FAIL TO REACH AGREEMENT

ASQUITH MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

Says Conference Could Not Agree As To Territory In Ulster To Be Excluded

By Associated Press. London, July 24.—The fact that the conference at Buckingham Palace between the leaders of various political parties to try to settle the Ulster controversy, had failed, was announced in the House of Commons today by Premier Asquith.

He said the conference failed to agree on the area of Ulster to be excluded from control of the Irish parliament.

Today's conference was the shortest of the four sessions. It lasted only forty minutes.

THOUSANDS OF PILGRIMS SEEK CURE AT LOURDES

Lourdes, France, July 24.—The attendance at the Eucharistic Congress of the Catholic church which has been in session here since July 22, was increased today by the arrival of thousands of individual pilgrims from all parts of the world.

Their advent is therapeutical complications with the hotel keepers. When the project of a Eucharistic congress in connection with the twenty-fifth anniversary of the shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes was first broached last year, it was nearly wrecked by the refusal of the hotel keepers here to grant prices necessary for such an assemblage. They were finally brought into line however and as long as the congress was only attended by the 6,000 delegates they advised by their promises. The arrival today of so many pilgrims, however, is calling forth declarations on the part of the bonifaces that they cannot maintain the low prices, as the pilgrims coming now should have come a month later, at which time the annual pilgrimages to Lourdes always takes place. The pilgrims are being obliged today to seek lodging at Tarbes, Pau, and other nearby towns. The hotel keepers say they are losing business. The pilgrims are largely invalids from all parts of the world, here in the hope of miraculous cure.

The congress today followed the general program as established yesterday. Simultaneous meetings were held this morning in a dozen different languages, the proceedings of each being identical. In addition, sermons were delivered in the open air in a number of different languages.

DALLAS SHARE OF FUND FOR INTERURBAN IS RAISED

(Dallas Journal)

Harry L. Seay of the committee having in charge the raising of the subscription for the Dallas-Wichita Falls interurban, said this morning that the full amount was now raised, and that at a meeting of the full committee during the first part of the next week the applications of the various engineers would be considered and some selection made for an immediate survey. Mr. Seay said that in all about twenty-five or thirty engineering firms had applied for the work. The full committee consists of the following men: William Doran, Harry L. Seay and A. A. Jackson of Dallas and Frank Kell and R. E. Huff of Wichita Falls.

SHOOTS NEW SON-IN-LAW WHO ASKS FOR BLESSING

Bullets Instead of Forgiveness Come To 19 Year Old Bridegroom From Wife's Father

By Associated Press. Haverstraw, N. Y., July 24.—In his cell in the county jail where he was taken after he killed his nineteen year old son-in-law, E. B. Newman, William Cleary, a prominent politician who was town clerk for fourteen years today refused to explain the mystery of why he shot the young man. Newman, a newspaper man, secretly married Cleary's eighteen year old daughter Saturday. Yesterday the couple confided their marriage to their respective mothers. Newman then went to tell Cleary and ask his forgiveness.

When the two men entered the town clerk's office, Cleary was talking with three friends. Newman extended his hand and asked for Cleary's blessing. Before his friends could interpose, Cleary fired four bullets in to the young man's body.

RESERVE BOARD IS WORRYING WILSON

STILL HOPEFUL OF GETTING WARBURG'S NOMINATION CONFIRMED

CHOOSING JONES' SUCCESSOR

Republican May Be Named In Place of Chicagoan Whose Nomination Was Withdrawn

By Associated Press. Washington, July 24.—President Wilson has decided to make one more attempt to smooth out the differences between the Senate and Paul Warburg, his nominee for the Federal reserve board. If he finds that impossible, he will withdraw Warburg's nomination as he withdrew that of Thomas D. Jones yesterday. He had been informed that Warburg's nomination can be confirmed if Warburg will appear before the Senate banking committee.

The president will wait until he finds what Mr. Warburg will do before choosing a successor to Jones. He is worried about Mr. Warburg because if his name is withdrawn only one banker will remain on the board while the law requires two. The president is understood to be apprehensive that he may have difficulty in getting the kind of men he wants on the board to accept nominations.

It was understood today that a successor to Mr. Jones will be chosen from the Chicago district and probably will be a Republican. W. T. Fenton of Chicago and G. E. Roberts, director of the mint, are both being supported for this appointment. White House officials said today speeches in the Senate against Mr. Jones had nothing to do with the withdrawal of his nomination. They declared Wilson already had drawn up in shorthand his letter accepting Jones' withdrawal and that no chance in the draft was made after the attack on Mr. Jones began in the Senate.

PLEA FOR CAILLUX MADE BY WITNESS

DISPOSITION OF NOTORIOUS INTIMATE LETTERS ALSO FEATURES TRIAL

MADAME GUEYDAN IS RECALLED

Declines to Say What She Wants Done With Damaging Notes in Her Possession

By Associated Press. Paris, July 24.—An impassioned plea on the witness stand by M. Ceccaldi on behalf of Caillaux and the prolonged discussion over the disposition of three notorious intimate letters which have figured prominently in the case, were features of today's session of the Caillaux trial. Madame Gueydan was once called to the stand, and an attempt was made without success, to get her to indicate what she wished to be done with the letters.

Counsel for Madame Caillaux intimated that he suspected Madame Gueydan was setting a trap by offering to give him the letters to do with as he saw fit.

"Call Madame Gueydan" was the first order of the court when the trial of Madame Caillaux opened today. Madame Gueydan, however, was not present, and Caillaux's private and political friend, Paschal Ceccaldi, was called to the stand. He delivered a political speech in favor of Caillaux, notwithstanding the continual murmur of protest from the spectators in the court room.

Madame Caillaux this morning in the prisoners' enclosure presented a sorrowful figure; in her eyes was a look of bewilderment and seeming terror. The question of the letters which Madame Gueydan offered the court yesterday was discussed for a long time by court and lawyers. These two letters were supposed to be about Caillaux's private affairs. The prosecution attorney offered to take the letters and tear them up. The judge finally disposed of the question temporarily by saying the letters would be confided provisionally to Maitre Chenu, representing Mada, a Gueydan and Ladori, the attorney of Mr. and Mrs. Caillaux.

The judge announced that arguments will not be finished tomorrow and that the court will not sit on Sunday.

GOOD RAIN THURSDAY IN ELK CITY VICINITY

Conductor McDonald on the North-western who came down on the morning passenger train from Elk City says that about half an inch rain fell at that place last night. From Grandfield to Burk Burnett he reports even a heavier rainfall. He estimates the rain to have been fully an inch in that territory. Water was standing in the fields in some places, he said.

DENVER TO LET T. & B. V. WORK OUT OWN SALVATION

Vice President Parker of Colorado and Southern Says This Will Be Road's Policy

Fort Worth, Texas, July 24.—"For the time being at least, we propose to let the Trinity & Brazos Valley work out its own salvation," said A. D. Parker, vice president of the Colorado & Southern lines Thursday.

"We want to see if the Valley line cannot make as much as a local line as it lost as a through line."

Mr. Parker spent Thursday in Fort Worth going over the accounts of the Fort Worth & Denver road with Mr. Keeler and checking them up, as the fiscal year of the road ends June 30. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the showing of the Denver and said, "If we had more roads like the Fort Worth & Denver in the country there would be fewer roads in the hands of receivers."

"What do you eventually propose to do with the Valley line?" he was asked.

"That is a question I cannot answer just now," he stated. "We will first see if that road cannot work out its own salvation by being operated as a local line. After we have given it a fair chance to make at least operating expenses as a local line, then we will consider other matters connected with it. However, it will take some time before anything definite will be done with the proposition. You know the Valley line lost a pile of money as a through line. Railroads are like individuals in a certain respect, and must be given an opportunity."

RICH SOUVENIR SMATCHER IS ARRESTED IN SCOTLAND

American Tourist Said To Have Taken Relic From Cottage of Robert Burns

By Associated Press. Dumfries, Scotland, July 24.—David Graham Carmichael, a wealthy American tourist, was arrested here yesterday charged with theft. His friends say it was merely a case of souvenir hunting. It is charged he and his friends yesterday took the brass handle of an antique bureau from the Robert Burns cottage in Ayr. Police stopped Mr. Carmichael's automobile and declare that one of the automobile occupants threw the missing handle into the street.

Chicagoan's Nomination for Reserve Board Withdrawn

Secret Passages and Hiding Places Found By Police Following Recent Fight

By Associated Press. Chicago, July 24.—A mushroom bullet taken last night from the hip of J. C. Merrill, the moral squad detective who was shot during the vice district battle a week ago, police said today proved that levee men began the shooting. The police say the police pistols have no bullets of this kind.

The police have discovered a mass of tunnels, secret passages and hiding places in one of the notorious levee resorts. There were drawers with no drawers in them, the vacant space being to furnish hiding places. There was a small safe that in reality was the entrance to a tunnel under the street. Caves were found built for hiding places under closets.

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, July 24.—Fire Captain Louis Ferguson who yesterday was thrown from an automobile engine while answering an alarm, died today.

Market Reports

Chicago Futures. Chicago, July 24.—Wheat prices bulged today on buying due largely to the estimate from a leading crop expert that the unusual forwardness of the crop would prevent complete disaster from black rust. The opening was 1-4 off to 1-8 and 1-4 up and afterward there was a general rise. Showers weakened the corn market. The opening was the same as last night to 5-8 lower and was followed by further losses. Oats sagged with corn. Wheat closed unsettled, corn closed nervous. Wheat, July 32 1/2; Sept. 31 3/4; corn, July 72; September 68 3/4; oats, July 37; Sept. 25 5-8.

Kansas City Grain. Kansas City, July 24.—Cash wheat No. 2 hard 76 1/2; and No. 2 red 77 1/2 and 78. Corn No. 2 mixed 72 1/2; Oats No. 2 white 38.

Fort Worth Live Stock. Fort Worth, Texas, July 24.—Cattle receipts 3700, active. Beeves $5.50 to $6.10. Hog receipts 300, five cents lower; $8.50 to $9. Sheep receipts 600, steady. Lambs $6 to $7.50.

New York Cotton. New York, July 24.—Cotton futures closed bare steady. July 12.28; August 12.27; October 12.27; December 12.46; January 12.36; March 12.42. Spot-cotton quiet. Middling uplands 13.25; gulf 13.50. No sales.

DECLARE CLAFLIN ASSETS IN EXCESS OF LIABILITIES

Balance Is More Than Eight Million Dollars, According To Temporary Receiver's Report

By Associated Press. New York, July 24.—Temporary receivers for the H. B. Claflin Company today declared in their preliminary report that the firm has an excess of assets over liabilities of $8,034,100. They showed total assets of more than $52,000,000; this report was presented at a creditor's meeting whose purpose was to protect the creditors' interests.

GENERAL ASSIGNMENT MADE BY DRY GOODS FIRM TODAY

By Associated Press. New York, July 24.—The importing and dry goods dealing firm of Boesnick Broesel & Company made a general assignment today for the benefit of creditors. Attorneys for the firm said liabilities were about $1,250,000 and that assets exceeded that sum. Curtailment of foreign credit was given as the reason for the assignment.

AUSTRO-SERVIAN TROUBLE BREWING

NOTE TO LATTER COUNTRY YESTERDAY IS VIRTUALLY ULTIMATUM

RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE AWAITED

That Country May Take Hand In Difficulty—Germany May Also Be Involved

By Associated Press. Berlin, July 24.—Austrian reserves residing here were instructed today to hold themselves in readiness to return to Austria to join their regiment at the shortest notice. Grave possibility connected with the Austrian note to Serbia yesterday which was virtually an ultimatum demanding punishment of those concerned in assassinating the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand are recognized in official circles here.

It is believed, however, that the Servians will yield unless assured of outside support. For this reason officials are watching St. Petersburg where the council of Russian ministers is expected to settle the question of peace or war. It was said today Germany has not been consulted about the Austrian note to Serbia, but that Germany approved of the note.

It was pointed out if Russia should take part against Austria, Germany was prepared to go to war on behalf of Austria, under the triple alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy.

The stock market broke badly today under fear of general European complications.

The Austrian demands include the suppression of the Pan-Serbian movement in Serbia.

GALVESTON POLICE DO NOT ACCEPT SUICIDE THEORY

Believe Miss Elvira Davis of San Antonio, Beach Victim, Had Been Murdered

By Associated Press. Galveston, Texas, July 24.—The Galveston county grand jury today planned to continue its investigation into the case of the young woman found dead on the beach early Tuesday, notwithstanding the identification by Dr. Marie Schaeffer, that the body was that of Miss Elvira Davis, secretary to George W. Brackenridge of San Antonio, Justice of the Peace John Harris, who conducted the inquest, does not believe in the suicide theory nor does the local police department. The grand jury viewed the body today.

Two cousins of Miss Davis from Houston, D. R. and W. C. Snodgrass arrived today and further identified the body. Some of the authorities who dispute the suicide theory, have learned that Miss Davis was a member of the Baptist church and cannot reconcile this fact with the finding of a Catholic trinket. The police working on the murder theory are following a clue which points to the commission of a crime in a hotel here. Their theory is that the beach after the murder, was open in the back. One shoe, one white glove and a Panama hat were found some distance from the body and further inshore; there was a bullet hole through the brim of the hat. Upon these and other circumstances the chief bases his contention it was not a case of suicide. He said that the fact that the bullet entered the victim's head from the left side was another indication that the wound was not self-inflicted as information from San Antonio said Miss Davis was not left-handed.

The Snodgrass brothers who early today identified the body as that of their cousin this afternoon held a prolonged conference with Judge R. G. Street of the Fifty-sixth district court. On instructions of the grand jury a dressmaker carefully measured the body and was then to measure the clothing to see if it really belonged to the dead woman. The result will be communicated to the jury.

By Associated Press. New York, July 24.—As agreed upon in conference today, the bill to regulate dealings in cotton futures provides taxation on deliveries below standard grades to be established by the department of agriculture at the rate of two cents a pound or ten dollars a bale, which is regarded as prohibitive. The taxation plan proposed by the House was accepted by the Senate conferees in place of the Senate plan which would bar cotton exchanges from using the mail in transactions in cotton futures.

LOOP NOW FLOWER GARDEN: UNDERGOES TRANSFORMATION

Chicago, July 24.—The Loop district, often characterized by the jealous inmates of other cities as "dark" and "gloomy" and "smokey" has undergone a transformation which will put the quietus on any such label. The Loop is today a veritable flower garden.

On the window ledges of the busiest skyscrapers are flourishing miniature flower beds to refute the slanders against Chicago's atmosphere. More than a mile of window boxes have been set out by banks, mercantile houses and other tenants of big buildings in response to an appeal by the Association of Commerce.

ALL FACTIONS WANT PEACE

CARBALJAL, CARRANZA, VILLA AND ZAPATA TAKE MORE TEMPERATE VIEW

OUTLOOK IS HOPEFUL

Preliminary Plan Calls For Rescuing of Madero Congress, Also For Amnesty

By Associated Press. Washington, July 24.—Direct advices to the United States today from Provisional President Carbajal, General Carranza, General Villa and General Zapata renewed the hope of officials here for peace.

Carbajal officially declared he was willing to transfer the executive power to Carranza and had sent Reginaldo Cepeda to Tampico as a delegate to arrange for this transfer with Carranza. Carbajal reiterated he merely wanted amnesty for political offenders and guarantees for the safety and property of persons who supported Huerta.

Carranza, through a message to American Consul Silliman, said he is ready to be lenient and gives the desired guarantees.

Villa in a courteous message, said he desires to see peace established on a basis of justice and liberty and gave assurance he would do his utmost to restore normal conditions.

Official word from Zapata said he desired to join with Carranza in rehabilitating the government machinery throughout Mexico. Embassies from Carranza to Zapata with authority to promise program of agrarian reform, are expected to reach Zapata in a few days. According to officials here the Mexican peace program is as follows:

Declaration of complete armistice within a few days between Carranza and Carbajal.

Signing of agreement between these two forces for amnesty and protection of property.

Dissolution of the present congress and reassembling of deputies and senators elected under Madero whose terms do not expire until September.

Resignation of Carbajal to this Madero congress and designation of Carbajal as provisional president under the constitution.

Conference of chiefs in Mexico City including representatives of Zapata and Villa for formation of a reform program, the American government to exert its influence toward such a result.

PEERESS SUFFRAGETTES ARE UNDER ARREST TODAY

Members of British Nobility Tried to Give King a Letter From Mrs. Pankhurst

By Associated Press. London, July 24.—Two suffragettes belonging to the British nobility, Lady Barclay and the Honorable Miss Edith Fitzgerald were arrested today at Buckingham Palace when they tried to give King George a letter written to him by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. The letter demanded a personal interview with the king.

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT TO START FROM CAPE BROYLE

New York, July 24.—A point near Cape Broyle, thirty-three miles south of St. John's, Newfoundland, has been selected as the starting place for the Trans-Atlantic flight of the air-boat America. The starting point was selected yesterday. Advice from Hammondport, New York today indicate the America is ready.

AGREEMENT REACHED UPON COTTON FUTURES MEASURE

House Taxation Plan Adopted in Place of Senate Provision To Bar From Mails

By Associated Press. Washington, July 24.—As agreed upon in conference today, the bill to regulate dealings in cotton futures provides taxation on deliveries below standard grades to be established by the department of agriculture at the rate of two cents a pound or ten dollars a bale, which is regarded as prohibitive. The taxation plan proposed by the House was accepted by the Senate conferees in place of the Senate plan which would bar cotton exchanges from using the mail in transactions in cotton futures.

The House bill proposed a tax of only one cent a pound. The conferees agreed to double this to insure prohibition. The provisions do not apply to spot cotton sales.

VOTERS WILL MAKE CHOICE TOMORROW

STRENUOUS CAMPAIGN ENDS TODAY—HEAVY VOTE ANTICIPATED

INNEREST IN COUNTY RACES

Contests For Judge and Sheriff Attract Most Attention—Everything in Readiness

Various boxes to see which can get through first and it may not be necessary to wait as long as heretofore.

Few Without Opposition.

Little interest has been manifested here in any of the state races save that for governor. Reports have been heard of betting on this race and the money is being placed even it is said. Only two state candidates are without opposition; they are Attorney General Looney and Supreme Court Justice W. E. Hawkins. In the county and district offices there are very few whose claims for re-election are disputed. District Attorney Leslie Humphries, District Clerk A. F. Kerr, Tax Assessor John Robertson, County Treasurer Tom Melham and County Superintendent R. M. Johnson are among the fortunate ones whom nobody is opposing.

A change in the makeup of the commissioners' court is among the possibilities of the primary. Commissioners Jackson of this city and McCleskey of Iowa Park are without opposition, but County Judge Felder, Commissioner Barwise of Electra and Commissioner Smith of Burkburnett all have opponents. Wichita county is certain to have a new county tax collector and a new county attorney but in the other positions the present incumbents are seeking re-election.

To Vote On Submission.

Little interest has been aroused here in the submission amendment but the impression prevails that the proposition will carry the State, as it did four years ago, regardless of the result of the governor's race. In 1910, Governor Colquitt, an anti, was nominated for governor but submission prevailed by a decided majority.

A number of rulings have been issued by the attorney general in connection with the primary, but none of them involve any changes in present practices. The election tomorrow will be strictly a white man's affair negroes being barred from participation by the county committee. This was largely a matter of form, as there are probably no negro Democrats in the county.

Chief interest in the county primary centers in the race for county judge, with the race for sheriff probably next in public attention. Both candidates for county judge have waged vigorous campaigns and the result is admittedly close. In the sheriff's race there are six candidates making hard work for the political dopsters to pick a winner in advance.

Has State Candidate.

Wichita county this year has a candidate for state office, the first in many years. It is T. J. O'Donnell, who seeks one of the nominations for congressman at large. Mr. O'Donnell has made an active canvass as his time would permit and is expected to receive substantial support, in spite of the fact that he is comparatively little known in the state at large.

Both of the candidates for governor and most of the aspirants for the lesser state offices visited Wichita Falls during the campaign and were heard by large crowds when they spoke, so that Wichitans have had opportunity to get well informed as to the men who seek their suffrage.

Expect Over 2000 Votes.

Estimates as to the vote, which Wichita county will cast vary widely but most of them are between 2000 and 2500. This county has a total voting strength of about 2200; out of this number there are Republicans, Progressives and Socialists who will remain away from the polls as well as a good many Democrats who either from indifference or some other cause, will not participate in the primaries. It is considered a safe prediction, however, that at least 2000 Democrats will cast their ballots in this county tomorrow. No one who is unwilling to take the "I am a Democrat" pledge will be allowed to vote.

Wichita Falls voting strength has increased more rapidly than that of the out of town boxes, but any candidate who depends upon city support or his election is apt to be found among the passengers up Salt River on Monday. Wichita Falls will probably cast more votes than the remainder of the county, however.

Precinct Conventions.

One office to be awarded tomorrow carries no emoluments, yet there are two candidates for it. It is the position of chairman of the Democratic executive committee, B. D. Donnell, or a number of years managing editor of the Times and T. R. (Dan) Boone, present county attorney are the candidates for this place.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the voters of each precinct are to meet at the voting boxes to select delegates to the county convention which will be held a week from tomorrow. Each precinct will select delegates to the county convention which will be held a week from tomorrow. Each precinct will select delegates on the basis of one for each twenty-five votes or major fraction thereof, cast for governor at the general election in November, 1912. The apportionment is based upon the vote in the general election and not upon the vote in the Democratic primary.

THE BANKRUPT STORE

The McCarty Stock of Dry Goods and Groceries

All this week this store has been crowded with eager shoppers taking advantage of the Bankrupt prices that we are making to close out this stock. From every standpoint this sale has been a great success, all of which is due to the very low price at which we purchased this stock (less than 50c on the dollar) and to the liberal patronage of the people of Wichita Falls and vicinity. If you have purchased any article in this sale for which you think you paid too much or anything that does not fit right or if there was any error made in your sales tickets we will take pleasure in returning your money, making satisfactory exchanges and adjusting all errors.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

Worth of dependable dry goods, notions, men's and boys' clothing, men's and boys' hats, men's, women's and children's shoes still left in this bankrupt stock that we must move. We want to make Saturday and Saturday night record breakers in this sale and we will make the prices as low as possible in order to accomplish this.

STORE OPENS at 7 O'CLOCK SATURDAY MORNING. CLOSING AT 10 O'CLOCK SATURDAY NIGHT

Manufacturers Engage in Contest For Contract To Supply Army With Footwear

By Associated Press.
Washington, July 24.—A nationwide shoemaking contest, just brought to a close by the awarding of two army contracts to the winners, produced two hundred and forty pairs of the most perfect samples of military footwear ever manufactured, according to the board of army experts who passed upon them.

"Next to the quality of the gun he carries," said one of these army experts, "more depends upon the condition of the shoe he wears than upon any other factor that goes toward the make-up of an effective soldier."

As a result of this feeling, the United States army quartermasters have evolved a shoe which, they say, makes the American fighting man the best shod soldier in the world.

It took over a year of continual and careful experiment before satisfactory results were reached. Countless X-ray photographs were made; the position of the bones of the feet were noted and the anatomy before, during and after marches were studied and compared. All this time different models were tried and theories were worked out. Finally the type of shoe was evolved with its straight line on the big toe side, its snug instep and a chance for the toes to lie as freely and naturally as in a moccasin.

When the theory of scientifically covering the foot had been established to the satisfaction of the army experts, various manufacturers placed their plants at the army's disposal in the hope they would be rewarded with the valuable contracts to supply the six thousand pairs worn out in a year's marching for Uncle Sam.

But the quartermaster corps did not limit itself to a single firm. They worked out a system of having each firm submit a sample of what it could do. Two pairs of shoes were offered by each bidder, showing the manufacturer's ability to meet specifications.

The two hundred and forty prize pairs of shoes were the result and out of these are being selected the standard for the army's future footwear.

PORT ARTHUR MAN FINDS HEALTH IN WONDERFUL STOMACH REMEDY

markable Gain in Weight on Few Doses

J. F. Stoneburner of Port Arthur, Texas, suffered from stomach ailments for a long time. He fell off in weight and took treatment without apparent benefit. He tried physician after physician until he almost lost hope.

He took Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy, then wrote: "I have taken all of your wonderful stomach remedy and got good results from it. I have gained in weight since starting on your remedy—twenty-one pounds so far. I was under the care of five doctors for about six months before I got your medicine. I am entirely well."

Mr. Stoneburner's experience is typical of that of the thousands who have taken Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. Thousands of letters

SOCIETY

Night and Death. Mysterious night! when our first parent knew These from report divine, and heard they name Did he not tremble for this lovely frame. This glorious canopy of light and blue? Yet 'neath a curtain of translucent dew, Bathed in the rays of the great setting flame, Hesperus with the host of heaven came. And lo! Creation widened in man's view.

Who could have thought such darkness lay concealed Within thy beams, O Sun! or who could find, Whilst flow'r and leaf and insect 'round revolved, That to such countless orbs thou mad'st us blind! Why do we then shun Death with anxious strife? If light can thus deceive, wherefore not Life? —Joseph Blanco White.

MAYFLOWER 42 CLUB HOLDS MEETING WITH MRS. LANGFORD

Mrs. W. M. Langford was hostess to the regular session of the Mayflower 42 Club Thursday afternoon. Neither the extreme warm weather nor the threatening clouds could deter the ladies from the pleasures of the game. Throughout the afternoon the players were refreshed by cooling grape punch served by Mrs. Bryant and the close of the game found Mrs. Langford and Mrs. Della tying for high score. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Bryant served delicious cherry ice and fruit cake late in the afternoon before adjournment. The club has decided to meet no more until September. The guests of the afternoon were: Misses Ruth Elliott, Davis and Miller of Missouri, Hurst and Langford. The club members present were: Mesdames Bradshaw, Dellis, Hastin, Hurst, Stearns, Stewart and Walker.

MISS RUTH NOLEN HOSTESS TO SEWING CLUB THURSDAY

The Little Girls Sewing Club met Thursday afternoon with Miss Ruth Nolen. The long summer afternoon was spent in fancy work of various kinds and merry conversation was interspersed with every stitch. A most acceptable refreshment course of ice cream and cake was served. Those present were: Misses Louise Maricle, Ella Merle Mathis, Maurine Knight, Leona Maricle, Dorothy Nolen and the hostess, Ruth Nolen.

MISS STONE HONORS GUEST WITH LUNCHEON THURSDAY

Miss Della Stone entertained in a delightfully informal fashion Thursday morning, honoring her house guest, Miss Ruby Morris of Abilene. Some time was spent by the guests with fancy work and conversation, music, both vocal and instrumental by Miss Laura Bell and the honoree, Miss Morris being also enjoyed. An interesting contest was then instituted and in this Miss Anne Carrigan was found to be the most skillful, the morning's prize going to her. At the luncheon hour the guests were invited into the dining room where a delicious repast in four courses was served. A delicate shade of pink had been chosen for the color note for the lunch table decorations, masses of pink carnations formed the centerpiece and the dainty place cards which marked each plate repeated the color note which was further carried out in every available accessory of the perfectly appointed table. Those enjoying Miss Stone's delightful hospitality for her guest were: Misses Bell, Avis Carrigan, Carver, Genevieve Carver, Burnside, Hunter, Orth and Mesdames Ben Ball and William Huff.

Misses Gladys and Mary Herron have returned from an extended visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hampton in Sentinel, Oklahoma.

SPEAKING BY CANDIDATES AT COURT HOUSE TONIGHT

Final Appeals Will Be Made To Voters—Oratory To Start at 8 O'clock

Candidates for county and district offices will have their last chance at the voters tonight when they will speak from the bandstand on the court house lawn. The speaking will start at about 8 o'clock and will continue until all have been heard. This speaking will close a series of meetings that have been held, one in almost every voting precinct in the county during the progress of the campaign.

POSTPONE RATE HEARING UPON FRUIT SHIPMENTS

Washington, July 24.—Because of the summer vacation season, the Interstate Commerce Commission today planned further postponement of hearings upon railroad applications for increase in rates on fruit from California to Missouri River points. The rate is now $2 a hundredweight and the railroads want it increased 33 cents a hundred.

LIGHT SHOWER FALLS HERE LATE THURSDAY EVENING

Reported Heavier at Other Points in This Vicinity Than in Wichita Falls

A light shower fell here last night. It was sufficient to lay the dust and give hope of more rain to follow and in some parts of this section was heavy enough to be of some benefit to crops. The rain fall reported to have been heavier toward Charlie than here.

Light showers fell along the Denver from Quanah to Fort Worth and from Wichita Falls to Grandfield on the Northwestern. Showers were also reported from Supply to Elk City along the Northwestern.

Most Wichita Valley stations report showers. Byers and Petrolls reported a hard shower from 6:50 to 7:30 p. m., yesterday; Munday a hard shower from 4:15 to 4:25; Stamford a light rain; Abilene a hard rain from 4 p. m. to 6:20 p. m.; Sargent a hard shower from 4:45 to 7:35 p. m.; Peacock a light shower; Jayton and Spur good rains.

RAPID PROGRESS IS MADE AT SITE OF NEW ELEVATOR

Steel Framework is Beginning To Go Up and Concrete Work is Being Rushed

The construction work on the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company's new elevator, which is being built at Eighteenth and Bluff streets, is progressing with something like rapidity. All the foundation work is already finished and part of the structural steel frame work is up, but most of the work going on now is in the construction of forms in the basement.

The storage tank has its foundation laid and will be run up with the least amount of wasted time. It is expected to begin the operation of the concrete mixer again next week, after which the work will progress without any more troublesome delays such as there have been in the past few weeks.

About one hundred and fifty men are employed at the present time, and it is expected to take on more with the beginning of the mixer. Lumber, gravel and kindred construction materials arrive by the car; and the whole—men, mules and tools—presents an appearance of hustling activity.

ELECTRA COUPLE MARRIED HERE BY JUSTICE HOWARD

Miss Lucy Wahdrop and J. M. Honaker of Electra were married by Justice Howard at the court house last night at about 9 o'clock. The couple are prominent and popular Electra people and have many friends both at Electra and here who will join in extending congratulations.

NAVY'S ENLISTED MEN CAN ENTER THE NAVAL ACADEMY

The Times recently printed an item saying that enlisted men in the navy would be given a chance to enter the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. This was an error. The men enlisted in the navy will be given a chance to enter the Naval Academy at Annapolis instead of the Military Academy at West Point.

Appointments for the naval service will be for the naval academy and will have nothing to do with the West Point school.

GOOD SHOWER FALLS AT OLNEY THURSDAY EVENING

Olney, Texas, July 24.—A nice shower of rain fell here yesterday evening and generally over the country immediately surrounding this place, being a heavy downpour in places and only a good sprinkle in others. It was preceded by one of the worst dust storms that has visited this place in many a day. This shower will furnish temporary relief to the crops which were beginning to need rain badly and it is to be hoped that a more general rain will fall in the next few days.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not help me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

TO THE VOTERS OF WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS:

Whereas, a certain letter has been circulated, purporting to be signed by R. A. Furlow and a written statement signed by Mr. Furlow has been circulated—said statement denying the fact that Mr. Furlow signed said letter or authorized any one else to sign said letter. In justice to myself, I wish to state that I did sign his name to said letter, but he authorized me to sign the same. I signed Mr. Furlow's name to three different letters and he authorized me to do so.

Mr. Furlow had written several other letters in my behalf and on Tuesday evening, July 14, 1914, I went to his home with several letters, a list of names and some blank paper. He signed the letters and blank papers—same to be filled in with letters and he gave me the names of three other parties and told me to get them on my side if possible as they were good men. I told him I did not have enough blank paper with me and asked him when he would leave for Oklahoma. He said the next morning by daylight. I said then I would go to my office and get some paper. He said: "That's all right, go ahead, write and sign them." He was referring to the letters. R. L. Eeds was present at this time.

I was present at R. A. Furlow's home on Tuesday evening, July 14, 1914, in company with Harvey Harris and saw R. A. Furlow sign several letters and some blanks and heard Harvey Harris say to Furlow that he did not have enough blanks, and I heard R. A. Furlow say to Harvey Harris: "That's all right, go ahead, write and sign them." He was referring to the letters.

There is nothing to this talk of Canada deluging this country with wheat and ruining our market. The people are not going to be fooled in that way either. We do not have free wheat from Canada and are not likely to have. The tariff bill provides free wheat from Canada when they let the bars down to us, which they have not seen fit to do. So you see the men who have been pointing to the low price of wheat with one hand and to Canada with the other have been lying.—Lawrence (Kas.) Journal-World.

"The Union Leader" is the name of a neatly printed four-page five-column weekly paper for Wichita Falls, edited by J. A. Burton and C. W. Johnson. It is the official organ of the various union labor organizations of the city, and it properly patronized by the members of such organizations as it should and doubtless will be, there is every reason to believe it will be a success from the start, financially. Wichita Falls is probably the most solidly organized union labor city in the State, and if they do not support their official organ it will be a reflection on them. The Times wishes for the new publication all of the prosperity possible.

Today closes the worst campaign of vituperation, denunciation, calumny, abuse and mud-slinging ever conducted in Texas, the Hog-Clarke campaign not excepted. Tomorrow the voting will take place, and here's hoping and trusting that the lies that have been told will react upon those who put them into circulation with the idea of profiting by and through them. This will be the last issue of The Times until after the voting is over, and this paper has made arrangements by which it is in position to give the results of the election as soon as any paper in the State. The ballot is a long one, and therefore the count will be slow, but it is believed that the first count, which will be available from nearly every county in the State by twelve o'clock Saturday night, will give a tolerable clear indication of who is to be the next governor of Texas—Ball or Ferguson. A large screen will be erected in front of The Times office and bulletins flashed as fast as they come in. No extra will be issued, but Sunday morning's paper, which will go to press at 3 a. m., will be filled to the brim with State election news, and unless the vote in some contests are very close the result will be known.

FIGHTING. "I want to do my own fighting in this race. I have been attacked in this contest as no man was ever attacked before. For thirty years I have had the respect of all who knew me. When I entered this contest for governor I thought my long life before the people would protect me from their slanders. "But when a man realizes that he is fighting the entrenched liquor interests of Texas he can expect nothing more. From those quarters can come nothing but the poison of hate. From those quarters can come nothing but the poison of slander. They have even gone into my home and tried to cover it with slander. Home, God, women.

"And I can say I can fight myself. But in this fight I realize I do not stand for myself alone. On my side are the hopes and prayers of the mothers of Texas. On my side are all the good people who would lift our State above the curses of the bar-room. And in this fight I must lose my individuality, and forget the abuse and slander, confident that the people will understand that their sense of right will triumph over all the malice and venom engendered by the death pangs of a dying business—a business which thrives on the shattered hopes and ruined hopes of men."

The above is an excerpt from a speech delivered by Col. Tom Ball in Bell county, the home county of Mr. Ferguson, his leading opponent. As to how much the Democrats of Texas love a man who has convictions and is not afraid to express them, we will know by the 26th. He has made a good and clean fight, win or lose.

To the Voters of Wichita County: I am a candidate for re-election to the office of County Judge. I have served you faithfully and impartially to my own hurt. If you approve of my administration, then kindly cast your votes for me. This is a fight between the interests on the one hand and the people on the other. The compensation is very small, but the importance of proper administration of the court and county affairs is great. I am reliably informed that there is a frame-up by the same parties who fought me two years ago. They are seeking to bring about my defeat. I have refused to enter into any combination or make any trades or promises. As heretofore, I am ignoring political bosses and seeking election at the hands of the people. C. B. FELDER. PASSENGERS ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC TRAIN ARE ROBBED

Two Armed Men March Through Cars and Effect Holdup Near Los Angeles

By Associated Press. Los Angeles, July 24.—Deputy sheriffs today searched the hills north of this city for two or possibly three men who boarded Southern Pacific train No. 22 soon after it left here and robbed passengers in two cars of more than $350. Two men did the robbing, but a third man is said to have been an accomplice. The train was stopped about ten miles north of here. Two men, one armed with a shot gun, the other with a pistol, swung aboard the train, climbing over the rear platform, while it was in motion. They forced a brakeman to walk ahead of them as they robbed the passengers. They made the men in the car stand by their seats and drop their money into the bandits' pockets. Women passengers were allowed to remain seated but were commanded to deliver their purses promptly.

Eugene, the four-year-old son of G. W. Anderson and wife living in the south edge of the city, died at nine o'clock this morning after an illness from meningitis. The funeral will be held tomorrow but the hour has not been determined. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

PASTEUR PATIENTS ARE SUFFERING FROM WOLF BITES

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, July 24.—Two rare cases of exposure to rabies, unusual because they came from the bites of a coyote, have just been discharged as cured from the Pasteur institute here. The cases were W. H. Whitley, a farmer of Electra, Wichita County, and his son. Both were attacked by the wolf the latter part of June. The elder Whitley was attacked by the animal while asleep on a cot in his barn. While the father was fighting the coyote his son ran to the house for assistance, the wolf following him and biting him several times. The father's bites were upon the face, arms and body. Examination of the coyote's head disclosed the presence of rabies.

BAPTIST ENCAMPMENT TO BEGIN LAKE PROGRAM TODAY

Many Have Arrived to Attend and Interesting Program Will be Carried Out

Tonight will mark the opening at Lake Wichita of the annual Baptist encampment and many have arrived to attend and take part. The hotel is filled to the limits of its capacity and there will be many who will abide in tents.

The program will start with the devotional service at 7:45 this evening, in the pavilion, and the regular work will then be taken up. Tomorrow morning there will be instruction in Sunday school work and other features.

Indications point to an excellent attendance and a program of exceptional interest has been prepared.

AN APPEAL TO THE VOTERS OF WICHITA COUNTY.

Tomorrow night will terminate the long drawn out fight for the different offices from justice of the peace to governor.

Before the close of this great fight I wish to say to my friends in Wichita county that I have a personal and single interest in the success of my friend, Judge Felder. To those who have known me for the past twenty-five years I wish to state that I am pinning my faith to a man whose official acts as chairman of the board of equalization and as county judge of Wichita county, have been beyond reproach; a man whose record all may read as they run; a man upon whose escutcheon there rests no blemish; a man before whom the humblest laborer can appear and receive the same justice as the millionaire; a man about whose head has been hurled more slander and misrepresentation than any other officeholder in Wichita county.

I wish to say to my friends that Judge C. B. Felder's official acts have stood the test, he having always championed the cause of the great common people, regardless of his own personal and political fortunes. I wish to also call the attention of the thoughtful voter to the personnel of the workers for Judge Felder and those against him. Show me a man who is opposing Judge Felder and I will, nine times out of ten, tell you why "There's a reason." There are those who have asked for special favors and have been refused or they are the lieutenants of those who have asked for these favors.

In my humble opinion there is not money enough in Wichita county to buy him or bribe enough to scare him and we believe the people want a just judge, whom no man or set of men can swerve from the path of justice. We leave the result to the good people of Wichita county with every confidence of their endorsement.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF WICHITA COUNTY: It will be your duty on Saturday to meet at your voting precinct at 2 p. m. and elect delegates to the County convention. As to the offices we have no advice to offer. As to State policies they should be and undoubtedly will be shaped by the choice of the people as expressed in the primary, but we wish to ask that every Democrat insist that the Administration of President Wilson should be endorsed heartily, and without any reservation in any particular. The Democratic theory that government should be so administered as to give all men an equal chance has no better exponent than our great President, and we hope that no man will be sent to the County convention who is unwilling to endorse the greatest President we have had since the war, if not in our entire history. The future of the National Democracy depends upon our holding up the hands of Woodrow Wilson and this all Texans should be proud to do. ROBERT E. HUFF, A. H. BRITAIN, J. C. NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS HOPEFUL OF SETTLEMENT
New York, July 23.—Despite the decision of the federal government to proceed with suits against the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, the directors yet hope that a way will be found to accomplish the dissolution of the system "by agreement with the government. President James H. Hustie declared last night. Mr. Hustie asserted that the New Haven had not refused to carry out the agreement reached with the federal authorities some time ago. The demand of the government in connection with the Boston and Maine case, he declared, was a change in the original agreement which would have entailed on the company a very large pecuniary loss and at the same time increase enormously the difficulty of reorganizing the Boston and Maine railroad.

Summer Fashion Fancies Extremes In Shoes And Hats

By Margaret Mason.
(Written for the United Press.)
This little pig went to market.
This little pig stayed at home.
This little pig had a tango.
This little pig had none.
But each little pig you could see
All the way home.

New York, July 24.—It's a case of some feet and some feet the way the girls are all showing their piglets these days. Sticking to the vernacular it's not a scream, it's a squeal. Responsible for the over-exposed effect are slippers cut so low in the vamp as to be veritable sandals, except for the heels more replete with inches than the rest of the shoe in with feet. Worn over stockings so thin as to be a snare and a delusion, the result is not the least wiggle of a little toe is lost to a keen observer. With these décolleté foot coverings or more properly speaking foot uncoverings, it will be a simple matter to decide whether or not may lady is toeing the mark this season. Any way you look at them, however, they would seem to be the extremes of fashion.

Leaping lightly to another fashionable extremity, we have with us today the newest head gear for the giddy goiter, tantalizing tennis devotees, or misty motorist maid. It is an oblong of ravenly woven silk, bordered on all four edges with a brilliant hued Roman striped band, and slightly fringed on each end. It comes in all the smart hued shades of purple, emerald, corise, peacock blue, orange or black, and it is fitly dubbed La Gitana, which common or gardenly means "the Gypsy." It is deftly manipulated into a fetching cap by putting it over the head, not in the middle of the oblong, but a third of the way from one fringed end. The Roman striped band on the front side is then brought low on the forehead and the short and long ends given a slight twist, brought tightly to the left side and tied in a true Gypsy knot form into a rosy ear. With a stray curl or two escaping below the Roman band about the face, the effect is truly bewitching and La Gitana has the practical grace as well of keeping your coiffure beautifully in place, no matter how strenuous the game or how speed regulation smashing the spin. With true gypsy like witchery the La Gitana may be snatched from your head at a moment's notice and deftly twisted about your waist to become a stunning girle in best predestigite manner. No summer girl should be without one.

Another roamy like headdress for the evening gypsy queen, rather than the Gitana of daytime sports, is a band of ever twinkly and vibrating jewels suspended from tiny chains that dangle low over the forehead. Hair is still done high and the simple coiffure is the most approved, but as a sop to the usual feminine fancy for ornateness is given the concession of many quaint trimmings for the evening head. Feather particularly are much favored and an effect is sought to be had as a cher d'oeuvre of smartness is obtained by wearing a black velvet band low on the forehead over which strands of Paradise dangle down well over the eyes. Wide plain bands of hued velvets are also much affected, worn down almost over one eye in a decidedly disconcerting manner.

Among other new and amusing fad accessories of the evening toilette is a ruche of much fluted tulle flaring about the ears from a tiny black velvet neck band. These worn with the extreme décolleté corsage of the moment seem a reversion to modesty at the wrong point.

Then there is the penchant for the wearing of a single artificial blossom, high on the left shoulder to a bit of flutes or lace which poses as both shoulder strap and sleeves, and the wearing of a long, loosely wrinkling suede gloves of café au lait to the utter exclusion of the erstwhile approved white glace ones.

At The Theaters

The Lamar Aldrome.
The new vaudeville bills here are both above the average. Stewart and Mercer, comedy gymnasts, have a pleasing act with appropriate costumes. They are backed up by "The Clown and Little Girl," and are real funmakers. Lorraine and Douglas, "The Nifty Duo," combine in their act both staking and dancing. Tonight's picture is a Universal feature, "The Isle of Abandoned Hope." If there was no plot this picture would still prove interesting by reason of the superb scenery, action being staged in the South Sea Islands. Wm. Clifford and Marie Walcham are featured.

The Empress.
A three-part drama, "The Wrecker of Lives," a stirring picture full of action and interest, with a one-part comedy reel, make up the program for today here. Saturday the second adventure of "Zingo" will be shown. This fantastic extravaganza is in four parts.

The Gem.
"The Father's Scapgoat," Biograph, "The Rival Undertakers," a Vitagraph comedy, and a two-reel Pathe comedy, "The Precious Twins," are showing here today. The latter comedy is the amusing story of a rich old uncle, an impetuous young man who wishes to wed, but hasn't enough money, a fiancée masquerading as his wife and a pair of borrowed babies. John Graf-ton receives an allowance from his rich old uncle, but when he wishes to wed his sweetheart's father tells him the allowance is not his uncle's. To get more money he writes to his uncle Ebenezer, stating that he was secretly married and is now the father of a little son, whom he had named Ebenezer. This news brings a liberal check but Uncle states that he and Aunt are coming to pay him a visit. Mildred, to hold John off of dollars, offers to pose as his wife and they set out to hire a baby. No baby is available, so they hire a midget to impersonate little Ebenezer. Uncle and Aunt arrive and are delighted with the baby; in fact they decide to stay a month. Ethel, another midget, arrives on the scene to hunt for her fiancée, the midget who is impersonating Baby Ebenezer. John hastens to explain to his uncle that the baby was twins. Complications arise, the midgets refuse to continue the masquerade any longer. Uncle Ebenezer discovers the duplicity of John and he is forced to confess. All is about to end happily when the butler, whom John has sent out to get two babies if he has to steal them, enters with a pair of black twins.

The Majestic.
Bunny, the inimitable, and Flora Finch, who occupies quite as large a place in the affections of "movie" fans, can be seen here today in "Mr. Bunny Bug Buys a Hat For His Bride." Flora plays Bunny's bride. She sees a hat that she must have. It's only $85, but Bunny refuses to buy it. They quarrel and Mrs. Bunnybug slips on a banana peeling and sprains her ankle. She must stay in a wheel chair and Bunny remorsefully promises to get her the desired hat as soon as possible. He buys all kinds of millinery, but she goes into tantrums at the sight of them. He sees a woman with "the hat" and tries to grab it from her. A fight with her husband ensues. He takes his wife in the wheel chair and they start out to buy a hat that suits. None of them fit, so she goes to a shop. Then the woman with "the hat" is discovered and a happy exchange is effected. The final scene shows Mrs. Bunnybug all in a wreck, but happy in her hat. A Lubin, "The Test of Courage," and "The Coming of Lone Wolf," a Kalem Indian drama, complete the program.

The Victoria.
A Keystone, "Our Country Consul," makes a good deal of fun for audiences here today. A two-reel Majestic, in which Francis Billington is featured, is showing here today. A story of this picture, "The Intruder," is as follows:
Madge is unhappy with her husband, who is of a cold domineering type. The husband is engrossed in business affairs, has no time for his wife, who is however, very much in love with him. While wandering about the grounds of Winchester estate one morning she meets a young man. Thinking Madge is the daughter-of-the-house, he first becomes very much interested and prolongs the conversation. The husband, returning for a forgotten telegram, sees the couple, and not understanding the circumstances, becomes violently jealous. When leaving on a trip the next day, Madge puts a message in her husband's pocket—a love message. He, however, refuses to bid her goodbye, still remembering the stranger within his gates. That night the young man, still believing the girl unmarried, returns after dark to the mansion. He hears a shuffle and screams inside, and climbs into the room to find a thief attacking a girl—the thief, however, makes his escape and the intruder assists Madge, who had fainted. The

SEVEN HIGH PRICED DOCTORS O. K. IT
All Approve Dodson's Liver Tonic as the Safe Family Remedy For Constipation

There are most excellent reasons for your druggist's standing back of Dodson's Liver Tonic with an unconditional guarantee to refund purchase price, 50c to you at once without question in event of any dissatisfaction.

Seven of America's very highest priced physicians who were consulted regarding Dodson's Liver Tonic and who analyzed this vegetable liquid remedy carefully with all their skill, knowledge and experience, have all agreed on its superior merit, harmlessness and effectiveness. Dodson's takes the place of dangerous calomel in constipation, biliousness, sluggish liver, sick headache, etc. Each of these physician's fees was heavy enough to stagger most men; but their judgment is worth all if cost, particularly if it will be the means of leading more people to refuse to run dangerous risk by taking calomel and other violent remedies.

Dodson's Liver Tonic not only relieves the sufferer from constipation and kindred ills, but does it easily and naturally, without ache, pain or grip, with no bad after effects, without interfering with usual duties and habits and absolutely without danger—which is one reason it can carry an iron clad guarantee. It has proved a boon to so many that it is recommended for you to try at once.

WICHITAN SEES RETURNING PROSPERITY IN THE EAST
M. A. Brin Back From Marketing Trip, Finds Business Conditions Improving Fast

Men returning to work by the thousands, factories and mills running overtime and the prevalence of optimism and an expectancy of great prosperity is the story brought back from the East and North by M. A. Brin, the furniture dealer who returned this week from a trip to the big furniture markets.

"In South Chicago, East St. Louis, Grand Rapids and Kansas City," said Mr. Brin, "I found factories some of which had been idle for months starting up with full forces and some of them were already beginning to run overtime. One foundry that I visited which had been idle was running day and night with three shifts. I did not take anybody's word for the situation; but rode out on the street cars to the factories and mill districts and saw conditions with my own eyes."

"In South Chicago, at Calumet and Garp the steel mills and foundries are putting additional men to work every day. I found everywhere that manufacturers and business men were looking to the future with great expectations."

TEXAS RAILROADS ARE READY FOR BIG CROP MOVEMENT
(Houston Post)

Texas railroads will be better able to care for the business of handling crops this year from every standpoint than last year. Is the statement of operating officials of all roads. They say that while less repair work has been done on cars than any previous year in the past ten, and that it is going to be a hard matter to get enough cars to supply the demand in all probability that motive power, terminal and all freight facilities are better than ever before. The floods of last fall and winter and of this spring compelled a great amount of work to be done upon roadbeds that otherwise would not have been done and as a consequence, roadbeds are in better shape now to afford fast service of heavier trains than any previous year.

Traffic regulations have been revised and made uniform to an extent that will enable all roads to require of shippers a reasonable amount of co-operation in expeditious handling of business, so that it is expected that complaints arising from car shortages over which roads had no control or means of avoiding hereafter will be eliminated this year.

A saving of from twelve to twenty-four hours between principal points of origin and seaboard has been effected on all roads on cotton shipments this year through improvements made at various points this year.

The cotton traffic is giving all roads some concern. Not only has Texas and all states tributary an extraordinary crop yield, but a large amount of cotton is expected to come out of Mexico, which has not had to be considered for the past two years by the roads.

DIAMONDS!

What's Behind the Prices?

That's an important fact for everyone who buys a Diamond to make certain about. Few persons are reliable judges of Diamond quality. One must depend largely upon the reputation of the firm from whom the gem is purchased.

This house guarantees the exact quality of every Diamond it sells, and behind that guarantee is years of square dealing right here in Wichita Falls.

We are giving the Best and Surest Values in Diamonds from $25 to $2,000

We invite your inspection and patronage with the largest selections of Diamonds and other precious stones in the city.

PALMOLIVE SOAP FREE!

To introduce and stimulate the trade for Palmolive Shampoo, for the next few days we shall give away absolutely free a box of three cakes of Palmolive Soap.

For two thousands years Palm and Olive Oils have been carried over land and sea, by ship and caravan, to all parts of the world—for the toilets of little children and beautiful women.

For two thousand years it has been known that Palm and Olive Oils soothe, cleanse, soften and make the skin firm, white and youthful.

Palmolive Soap is the modern scientific way of blending Palm and Olive Oils.

These two wonderful oils of the Orient never have been equaled by any toilet requisites of any age.

Palmolive Soap is perfectly pure. Contains no free alkali. No artificial color is used. The two blended oils give Palmolive its delicate green color.

Palmolive is faintly, yet delightfully fragrant—a sweet, wholesome breath from the Orient.

It lathers freely in soft or hard water, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating the skin.

It is advised by famous physicians as the best for the baths of newborn children, as well as for daily use by grown women and men.

More Palmolive is used than any other high-grade toilet soap.

Price of Palmolive Shampoo is 50c. The value of Palmolive soap is 50c. Both for the one price of 50c.

Was severely criticised as being too boastful. Undoubtedly the criticism was deserved.

At the same time we feel justified in saying that we can give you better coffee values than the out of town roaster. We also feel that our twenty-five years' experience as retailers and several years as roasters should put us in a fair position to judge. We have handled at different times nearly all of the leading brands of High Grade Coffees in America and have tested them all. However at last you must be the judge and we respectfully ask you to pass your opinion, and if you don't feel justified in purchasing a pound for trial we will cheerfully supply a free sample upon request.
