SENATE TAKES UP THE HOUSE BILL

MEASURE FROM LOWER HOUSE SUBSTITUTED IN SENATE FOR THE DARWIN BILL

SENATE HAD REACHED SECTION 4 WHEN ADJOURNMENT TAKEN UNTIL MONDAY MORNING

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES. Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—The Senate consumed the entire afternoon session considering the House emergency warehouse bill which is being passed upon section by section.

The Senate had only reached section four when adjournment was taken until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Senator Wiley obtained the adoption of an amendment to the bill taking away the power of the commissioner of insurance and banking to appoint local managers for warehouses.

He also had adopted an amendment striking out the section requiring the assistance of state bank examiners to inaugurate the warehouse.

Morning Session. Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—By a vote of 12 to 8 with three present and not voting the Senate today on the motion of Senator Watson adopted an amendment to the Darwin warehouse bill which completely substituted the House bill for the Darwin measure.

The House emergency bill is now up for consideration in the Senate, and from present indications it will be engrossed and passed to third reading. Lattimore objected to the consideration of the bill on the ground that there were several senators absent and that other senators have not received a printed copy of the bill. His objection was overruled.

When the Senate met at 10 o'clock Senator Wiley tried to have pending business suspended to take up and finally pass his bonded warehouse bill. The Senate, however, refused to suspend the business before it.

It is becoming apparent that this bill will not pass with the emergency clause which would give it immediate effect.

Consideration of the Darwin warehouse bill which was the pending business was taken up soon after the opening of the session.

Senator Bailey offered an amendment that all liens must show on the face of the cotton receipt and that all liens shall hold over for thirty days after the cotton leaves the warehouse. This amendment was adopted.

Senator Westbrook circulated an endorsement of his resolution calling on Governor Colquitt to submit a moratorium law. The Senate, however, had defeated this resolution a few days ago.

Senator Westbrook had adopted by a vote of 12 to 10 an amendment to the emergency warehouse bill limiting the interest on money loaned on warehouse cotton to 10 per cent. The amendment also increases the punishment for usury in charging more than the legal rate. The question of passing the bill to engrossment was up when the Senate recessed until 3 this afternoon.

35,000 WOUNDED ABANDONED ON BATTLEFIELDS

By Associated Press. Rome, via Paris, Sept. 5.—More than 35,000 Russian and Austrian wounded were abandoned on the battlefields at Tarnow, Lemberg and Tarnopol owing to the lack of transportation, according to reports which have reached Rome. Both armies declined to ask for an armistice for the burial of dead and the collection of wounded each fearing to give an advantage to the other.

PERMANENT BILL BEFORE COMMITTEE

SERIES OF AMENDMENTS RELATING TO WAREHOUSE CONTROL ARE ADOPTED

SECRETARY OF WAREHOUSE COMMISSION WILL GET $3,000—BILL STILL WITH COMMITTEE

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES. Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—The House transacted practically no business this afternoon. The session lasting only a few minutes. Representative Morris withdrew his resolution offered yesterday declaring against the enactment of a moratorium law. Morris explained that after giving the question considerable study he had reached the conclusion that he legislature had no authority under the constitution to enact such a law.

The House adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday morning. On next Wednesday the Governor expects to submit to the legislature his proposed amendments to the state banking law which seeks to reduce the legal reserve of State banks to that required of National banks.

The warehouse committee was to have met this afternoon, but in the absence of a quorum, the committee adjourned until Monday morning with the permanent warehouse bill still under consideration.

Morning Session. Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—The House warehouse committee today resumed consideration of the permanent warehouse bill. A series of amendments were submitted for incorporation in the bill. The amendments provide for only one warehouse commissioner, and that he shall hold office by appointment by the governor until the next general election. The commissioner of insurance and banking, and the chairman of the extension department of the A. & M. College and the commissioner of agriculture are made ex-officio members but without a vote.

The amendment also provides for semi-annual meetings with the warehouse commissioners. The committee adopted an amendment to the bill fixing the salary of the warehouse commissioner at $4000 after an amendment to make it $5000 had been defeated. The salary of the chief clerk was fixed at $3000.

The committee then adopted all of the amendments which had been prepared and submitted by the subcommittee.

It was next decided to consider the bill section by section. The committee recessed at noon until late this afternoon when it will resume consideration of the permanent warehouse bill.

CONSTITUTIONALIST GENERAL TOOK AWAY MUCH LOOT

Laredo, Texas, Sept. 5.—Considerable satisfaction is expressed in border papers over the transfer of Major Jesus Soto, former Constitutionalist commander of Nuevo Laredo, to some other post of duty in the interior. Complaints lodged against Soto during his administration charged him with forced contributions from Mexicans and Americans alike, and railroad men in Nuevo Laredo said when Soto left, his train carried several freight cars filled with loot. Claude Davis, an American, protested to the United States Vice Consul, Shelby, that Soto took eleven hacks, two wagons, a cart and a number of horses from his ranch.

Washington, Sept. 5.—President Wilson today issued an executive order directing the navy department to take over the Tuckertown, New Jersey wireless station, and operate it upon equal terms for the embassies and legations of all the belligerent and neutral nations, whose messages will be handled under strict censorship. The text of the president's order in part follows:

"It is ordered by virtue of authority vested in me by the radio act of August 13, 1912, that one or more of the high powered radio stations within the jurisdiction of the United States and capable of transatlantic communication shall be taken over by the government of the United States and used or controlled by it to the exclusion of any other control or use, for the purpose of carrying on communication with land stations in Europe, including code and cipher messages.

"The enforcement of this order and preparations for regulation thereof is hereby delegated to secretary of the navy, who is authorized and directed to take such action in the premises as may appear necessary. This order shall take effect after this date, Sept. 5, 1914."

The Tuckertown station will be manned by naval operators so that the protest of Great Britain that the belligerents shall not be permitted to handle messages is complied with.

The Tuckertown station will be open to commercial business but code messages will be accepted only from foreign embassies.

GERMAN'S HAVN'T TIME TO COLLECT THEIR BOOTY

Movement Via Canada To Europe Is Being Considered, According To Report

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 5.—An official statement issued in Berlin and received here by Marconi wireless says in part: "As an example of the brilliant work of the armies in the field the correspondent relates the Russian infantry who tried to beat a hasty retreat under cover were stopped by the renewed fire the moment they attempted to make any movement."

"Later the bodies of large numbers of soldiers who had been killed by sharpnel were discovered near this place."

"Rheims has been taken without fighting. Owing to the rapid advance of our army little attention can be paid to booty and guns and wagons have been left standing in the open field quite abandoned. These will be collected by troops in dual course."

"It is reported that France through the intermediary of a group of banks has offered the Italian government the loan of $200,000,000 on favorable terms but that the Italian prime minister refused the offer."

"Greece has called up ten classes of naval reserves for maneuvers in order to give the national defense an impetus."

8,560 SILOS NOW ON FARMS IN TEXAS

TEXAS BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION HAS JUST COMPLETED SILO CENSUS

FIRST COST WAS $4,520,000

Now One Silo to Every Fifty Farms in Texas According to Figures

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 5.—The silo in Texas promises to be an important factor in agriculture as the plow and the present rapid construction of the silos indicate that it will soon be as common on the farm. On September 1, 1914, there were 8,560 silos on the farms of Texas, and their original cost was $4,520,000, according to data just compiled by the Texas Business Men's Association. Nearly two-thirds of the silos in Texas have been built during the past year and their construction is one of the most important events ever recorded in the history of Texas agriculture. The movement seems to be just well under way. 4,800 more have been ordered from manufacturers and will be put up in Texas before the close of the present year. Fifteen silos have been built on Texas farms every day during the past twelve months, and present indications are that this record will be greatly exceeded during the remainder of 1914.

Never before has a complete census of the number of silos in Texas been made, and no absolutely accurate data of number are available, as the United States Census Bureau has never enumerated silos in making its decennial estimates of farms and farm conditions in this State. The absence of reliable information and the paucity of the economic changes which are to follow the general use of silage in meat production and livestock raising prompted the statistical bureau of the Texas Business Men's Association to make an exhaustive investigation and its conclusions are presented with full confidence in these reports. In compiling the data detailed reports were received from ten Texas silo companies, 84 United States demonstration agents, 187 commercial organizations in Texas, and the investigation included practically every county in the State. From these reports a conservative estimate of 8,560 was made for the entire State, and this figure has been verified by many persons connected with the industry and familiar with the use of the silo in this State.

Every kind of pit or underground silo predominates in the Panhandle and those of cement and wood construction are popular in all other parts of the State. There are ten factories in Texas that manufacture silos, and an equal number of foreign companies have agencies here. From the reports furnished it is apparent that the size of the silos now being constructed are much larger than those previously built. The average capacity of the Texas silo at the present time is 120 tons; a year ago it was 100 tons, and the capacity of those to be built during the present year will average around 140 tons. Brown county has the largest silo in the State; its capacity is 800 tons. The 20-ton silo is the smallest in commercial use in Texas, and there are a number of this size in the State.

When and where the first silo was built in the world is not a matter of record; however, its use is as old as agriculture itself and frequent mention is made of the silo in the Bible. It is claimed that the first silo ever built in the United States was in Michigan in 1875; the first one to be constructed in Texas is said to be in 1895. It was built by a German farmer in San Saba county.

There are more silos in South Texas than any other section of the State, the total number being around 3,300. In the Panhandle there are 1,500. The stock raising sections of West Texas are well supplied with these structures and the number in North and East Texas is rapidly increasing. Brazoria has more silos than any other Texas county, the total number being 292. Of this number 242 are within a radius of seven miles of Alvin, one of the leading dairy centers of the State.

If all the silos in Texas could be stacked on top of each other they would extend into the air for a distance of 64 miles and would be 440 times as high as the tallest skyscraper in the United States.

A Proved Success in Texas. Although the silo is one of the oldest agencies of agriculture, it was only during the past few years that its practical and economic advantages have been demonstrated in Tex-

COTTON WAREHOUSE CO. TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

The silo has been in use in this State for fifteen years, but only became prominent in Texas agriculture about four years ago. For many years the farmers of Texas thought the silo was only useful in the northern climate and doubted the wisdom of installing them in the South. These conclusions have been dispelled from the minds of those who have had experience with the silo in Texas, as it has been proved that it is more adapted to Texas than it is to the northern States.

In recent years numerous tests of silage as a feed for beef animals, dairy cows and other livestock have been made in Texas, and these experiments have invariably demonstrated the value of the silo to Texas agriculture. The constant advance in the price of farm land and the growing difficulty of profitably producing upon it has centered general attention upon these silage feeding experiments. Knowledge of the favorable results has quickly reached the Texas farmers and a rapid wave of silo building has followed.

The silo was first introduced in the arid sections of Texas for the purpose of preserving moisture in feed crops. In Brazoria and adjoining counties it performs an entirely different function. It protects the crops from excessive moisture. Some parts of this section of the State are subject to overflow and rainfall is more frequent here than in any other part of the State. The heavy dew formation in this section, too, has a tendency to render haying impossible on account of the moulding and deterioration of the grass before curing can be effected. Since the introduction of the silo in Brazoria county, dairy cows are being fed at an average cost of $3.50 per head per month. Before ensilage came into use the average monthly cost was around $10. Half Million Silos Needed.

There is one silo to every fifty farms in Texas, but to properly feed the livestock of this State there should be at least one silo on every Texas farm. There are 418,000 farms in Texas, and to equip them with silos will require an investment of $209,000,000. This is an enormous outlay, but by proper management they would pay for themselves the first year and the saving each year afterwards would be clear profit, as there is no overhead expense in maintaining a silo.

Texas never has had a surplus of feed for any length of time and more often there is a shortage. Texas farmers buy $20,000,000 worth of corn each year in other States and none of the feed crops of this State are produced in surplus quantities at present. During the past decade there has been a decrease of three and one-half million head in the number of meat producing animals in Texas and our shortage of beef has materially affected the nation's meat supply. This decrease has been brought about principally by the changing of Texas from a grazing to an agricultural State and this condition will continue until a more scientific plan of producing and caring for cattle is instituted on the farm.

This Is Made Necessary By Extra Work On European Embassies On Account of War

DETAILS OF RESCUE OF GERMAN AVIATORS

By Associated Press. London, 3:20 p. m. Sept. 5.—The correspondent of the Telegraph at Harwich gives a statement of details of the rescue of German aviators by a British submarine. The submarine was out about thirty miles off the German island of Borkum when it detected an aeroplane afloat. It drew alongside and took off two men who were hanging to its side. The bombs they carried were thrown overboard. After rescuing the men the submarine rammed the aircraft, sinking it. The aviators were being rescued by British warships when their engine got out of order. The machine descended smoothly and the officers on board dived into the sea. The pilot was strapped in and had to remain. The officer climbed back on the machine and he and the pilot tried unsuccessfully to repair the engine. They drifted about 24 hours in the water and were almost exhausted. When they sighted the submarine they welcomed it with shouts of joy.

FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN GET TOGETHER ON PROPOSITION

$30 PER BALE ADVANCE MONEY

Local Bankers Say They Will Loan Money on Cotton Warehouse Certificates

At a joint meeting of farmers and business men held at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters Saturday afternoon the proposition of financing the cotton crop of Wichita county was thoroughly discussed and the net result of the meeting was the organization of a company with a capital of $5,000 to be incorporated and known as "The Wichita Falls Cotton Warehouse Company" for the purpose of warehousing cotton until such time as the owners shall see proper to sell same.

Frank Kell called the meeting to order and on motion, R. E. Huff was elected chairman. Perry Rooth, a cotton farmer of Thornberry, was the first speaker. He read a paper in which he urged the farmers to organize and keep their cotton off the market, but offered no plan by which this could be done. Mr. Kell thought Mr. Rooth was under the impression that the government was going to furnish the money to finance the cotton crop, and said that was not the case. The government had rendered great assistance by making it possible for banks to advance at least 75 per cent of the value of cotton when properly warehoused. In short, he said the government proposes to place a cotton warehouse receipt in the same class as government bonds. He thought the best thing to do was to organize a company to erect a warehouse or warehouses to take care of as much as 7,500 bales of cotton, and thought that the local banks and business men of Wichita Falls would guarantee that at least $30 per bale would be advanced on cotton.

H. C. Meyers of Burkhardt thought that at least 3,500 bales of cotton would be ginned this year at his town.

Jas. Gant of the Farmers Supply Company, estimated that 4,000 bales would be ginned at the Wichita Falls gins.

Henry Ford said that while the acreage to cotton was not as large this year as last, the yield would be much larger. He is not a cotton farmer himself, but rents some of his land that is planted to cotton. To better substantiate his statement that the yield would be much larger this year than last, he said the lands that were planted to cotton on his farm last year only produced 12 bales of cotton. This year the same number of acres, he estimated, would yield at least 120 bales. And that was the general condition of cotton crops over this entire county as compared to last year.

J. B. Marlow, P. H. Pennington, H. B. Hines, W. W. Linnville, W. S. Curlee and J. W. Stringer were other speakers, and all spoke favorably of the warehouse plan. Mr. Curlee thought that at least 15,000 bales of cotton would be produced in Wichita county this year. This is 5,000 more than the government estimate.

Mr. Hines thought that the warehouse should be made self-sustaining. Mr. Kell proposed that after the warehouse had been constructed, and had paid for itself, the warehouse should revert back to the farmers, and this was the general opinion of all present. He suggested that a committee of farmers be named to go into the county and secure pledges from cotton farmers to pledge themselves to place their cotton in warehouses.

Dave Thomas, Henry Ford and others did not think that necessary or a good plan. In their opinion, the cotton farmers would be glad of the opportunity to place their cotton in the warehouse, draw 75 per cent of its value on the warehouse certificates and hold for a better market.

After much discussion a committee consisting of J. W. Bradley, T. B. Noble, H. B. Hines, Frank Kell, J. L. McConkey, W. C. Meyers, Henry Ford and J. T. S. Gant were appointed a committee to organize a warehouse company, and with this accomplished the meeting adjourned and the committee appointed with all present except Mr. McConkey, went into session and decided upon a plan to organize the company, appointing H. B. Hines and J. L. McConkey to select grounds and authorizing them to construct a warehouse to take care of at least 2,500 bales of cotton to start with and add to as necessary might demand. T. B. Noble was authorized to have drawn up the necessary papers of incorporation of the company. With this accomplished the committee adjourned to come together again to elect the directors of the warehouse company at a date yet to be designated.

PRIZE MONEY WILL NOT BRING SUDDEN WEALTH

Greatest Portion of Proceeds From Sale of English Prize Ships Will Go to State

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 5.—Although the value of prize ships captured in the present war will probably be greater than in any war in history, naval officers will not suddenly become millionaires, as was the case in war time one hundred years ago.

In the beginning of the nineteenth century, the capture of a rich haul by a warship meant an independent fortune for the chief officers of the lucky warship. But the admiralty has changed the system of payment, upon the advice of a select committee named to investigate plans for rewarding the captors of merchantmen. A general bounty will be paid to the fleet, but by far the greatest portion of the proceeds of the sale of prize ships will go to the state.

In all, more than ten million dollars worth of prizes have been reported to the Naval Prize Court in London at this writing. These captured ships vary in size from small sailing vessels to mighty ocean liners. The money realized from their sale will probably be used for the maintenance of the navy and the extension of its activities.

Theoretically, prize money has always been the property of the Crown. Its gift to the crews has been a matter of courtesy or generosity. In the days when the whole of the English navy consisted of boats which would be described today as "converted merchantmen," both ships and men were pressed into service. In these circumstances prize money was to some extent regarded as a compensation to the owners of the seized ships, and the Crown waived its claim in a more generous and also more equitable manner than in some later times. Of the value of a capture a fourth went to the king, a fourth to the owners of the hired ships and the rest among all those who were present at the time of capture.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY WILL OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 8TH

On Account of Influx of Pupils, Trustees Are Contemplating Erection of New Building

The following has been contributed to The Times: "The register of classes will take place Tuesday, Sept. 8 at the Academy of Mary Immaculate, and as an education is the only heritage that cannot be taken from your child, it behooves parents to send them where both heart and mind are trained. "For several years past, the accommodations have been restricted to a limited number, on account of the great influx of pupils, so that the Academy trustees at present are contemplating the erection of a new spacious building to meet the demands of this growing school. "Equipped as it is, with a splendid faculty, some of whom have spent the past four years in the East, and inculcated as they are with the pedagogical methods of our great modern universities, the results must be as excellent as they have hitherto been since its foundation here in the 'Best Built City of Texas.'"

HUNTERS MAY NOW LEGALLY SHOOT PLOVER AND SNIPES

Hunters may now shoot plover, jacksnipe, rails, coots and gallinules without fear of being arrested and jailed for an infraction of the State or federal game laws. The Week McLean law provides for the lawful shooting of plover and jacksnipes from Sept. 1 to Dec. 15, inclusive, and for the shooting of other birds from Sept. 1 to Nov. 30, inclusive. Beware of how you shoot ducks, however. Of course, there are some sportsmen who do not appreciate the benefit to be derived later from the law prohibiting the shooting of ducks, brant and geese except from Oct. 1 to Jan. 15, and rest with easy conscience unless they are caught in the act, but Uncle Sam has decreed a protection for the wild fliers, which were formerly in danger twelve months of every year and has declared it unlawful to shoot them except within the time allowed. It is unlawful for anyone to kill more than twenty-five birds in a single day, and hunting with fire at night is strictly prohibited. Parties killing game may transport same only after making affidavit that it is for their own personal use and not for sale and it is unlawful for any common carrier to carry it under any other conditions. Possession of game out of season will be taken as prima facie evidence of the guilt of the party, and in every instance of violation every bird or animal shall constitute a separate offense. A fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment for not more than ninety days or both, shall be the penalty for violation.

WE WANT COTTON All You Will Bring Us At 12c A Pound

The sale of cotton is just now interesting many of our people. We want to co-operate in this matter, and at the same time dispose of some of the overstock of Diamonds that we have accumulated. This stock is in excess of our requirements at this season, due to heavy purchases and an accumulation in our loan department. We will exchange these gems for cotton at the price quoted above, and you cannot do better than invest in diamonds at the price we are making. Diamonds are always a safe investment, they will be the more so now as the price is sure to advance as a result of European difficulties. Come in and let's talk it over.

Our politicians are still chewing the rag in Austin and wasting valuable time instead of doing something for the farmer. But then that was to be expected. Our business men are willing to do something, and have about agreed to advance money on cotton on a basis of eight cents per pound, which would enable the owner of a bale to borrow something like thirty dollars on it—Quinnah Tribune-Chief.

The condition of the cotton crop in Wichita and surrounding counties is just about as near perfect as it is possible to grow. There are a few fields that are not looking good, but their condition is due almost entirely to the fact that those who planted them have not given the cotton the attention it should have had. At the meeting of the farmers and business men yesterday afternoon in this city, it was the opinion of all farmers present that while the acreage to cotton this year was much less than last year, the condition of the crop was much better and the yield would be much greater. One farmer made the statement that the same amount of acreage was planted to cotton on his farm this year as was planted last year, and that while the yield last year was only about twelve bales, it would be at least one hundred and twenty bales this year.

New Pope Anxious to Restore European Peace. The Pope himself amidst combatants. Rome, Sept. 5.—It was related here yesterday that in conversation before his election, Pope Benedict XV. repeatedly expressed his belief that the Pope should intervene for peace, not in a purely but in precise, diplomatic action. He is quoted as having said: "The Pope must actually place himself amid the combatants instead of keeping away and preaching peace and concord from a distance."

the declaration of a moratorium and the suspension of the enforced collection of debts for one year. This suggestion, the dispatch goes on to say, did not make a favorable impression on many of the members, and the hope which that statement inspires is somewhat fortified by the report of the proceedings of the Senate. There, too, this nostrum was offered as a panacea peculiarly fit to the malady of the moment, but there, too, there seem to have been few to regard the prescription as a sovereign remedy. For we are informed that Senators Willacy, Breckinridge, McNealus and Watson spoke in opposition, Senator Willacy going so far as to say that the mere suggestion of it was mischievous. From this show of opposition to this prescription of folly we gather the hope that this suggestion will not be seriously entertained by any congressional member of the members of the legislature.

If anything could assure our complete discomfiture it would be the acceptance of this counsel of folly. If anything could absolutely assure the defeat of all the efforts that are being made to mitigate the stress of present conditions, it would be the adoption of this fatuous idea. Just now everything humanly possible is being done to enlarge credit facilities for the benefit of those who are momentarily embarrassed, and yet, in the midst of that effort, there are men to propose a measure which, instead of tending to enlarge credit facilities, would have the inexorable consequence of contracting to the utmost credit facilities. That are, if anything, inadequate. Does any man of common sense imagine that money will be lent to men who are legally absolved for a year from having to pay their debts? Would not the fact—assuming that such an enactment as is proposed would be sustained by the courts—that the means of enforcing the collection of debts were credit in existence in so far as Texas is concerned? Would the merchant give credit to the farmer in the face of a law which forbade him to collect under a year? Or if now and then one could be induced to do so, would it not be at a price which would be ruinous to those who accept the accommodation? Would the banks credit the merchant who was not only himself estopped from collecting what was due him, but who was also relieved of legal obligation to pay what he borrowed? Would the banks lend anything to anybody on any security less supreme than the gold dollar? Not a moment's reflection should be enough to convince any national mind that this "remedy" would be a fatal dose. It would not cure our maladies, but make them incurable. We should first have to pass through the throes of disaster and pain before we could hope to come back even to our present condition. The only serious consideration which this suggestion deserves is some action which will make it plain and unmistakable that the legislature will not entertain the proposal.

Same Battlefields. In this war much of the fighting that has occurred has been on the same soil that was drenched in French and Prussian blood forty-four years ago and it is not improbable that the decisive struggle will take place not many miles from Sedan. The Waterloo of the Second Empire, where the fate of France was practically settled in September, 1870.

The Franco-Prussian War began July 17, 1870, and ended officially with the signing of a treaty of peace May 10, 1871, though fighting ceased several months before that date. Germany was victorious and France lost a big cash indemnity and the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, where much of the preliminary fighting of the present war has taken place.

Perhaps the greatest result of the brief war was the soliciting of the various kingdoms and states of Germany into the present German Empire, with the King of Prussia as the Emperor, brought about by Count Bismarck, afterward Prince, the "Iron Chancellor." Though the former was originated in the jealousy of the French Emperor, Napoleon III of the growing import-

Franco-Prussian War of 1870-71

BY HERBERT TEMPLE (European Manager of the International News Service.)

In the appalling international war now rending all Europe, in which half the earth and its people is involved, the mind of the world inevitably goes back to the sanguinary Franco-Prussian War of 1870-1871. A great many people now alive remember vividly that short but momentous struggle that changed the map of Europe, but younger generations are not so well acquainted with the history of the conflict.

The war now being fought across the Atlantic contains many "deadly parallels" of the war of 1870 and affords ample proof that "history repeats itself."

In both instances apprehension of the growing power of Germany was the real cause of the conflagration, though in each case a remote occasion was seized upon as the ostensible reason for fighting. In 1870 France declared war on Germany directly because of Prussia's attempt to place Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern on the throne of Spain; in 1914 the powers of the triple entente declared war on Germany because the Kaiser joined issues with Austria-Hungary when that power declared war on Serbia; but in both instances fear of Germany's ascendancy and apprehension for the "balance of power" of Europe was the real cause of conflict.

Like in the case of the Franco-Prussian War, the real cause of the conflict was the growing power of Germany, which in each case a remote occasion was seized upon as the ostensible reason for fighting.

When Queen Isabella, deposed in 1808, formally abdicated in 1870, the foreign governments were officially notified July 4, and on the same day it was announced in Berlin that Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern Sigmaringen, a connection of King Wilhelm I of Prussia had consented to become a candidate for the Spanish throne. His consent was said to have the approval of the King in Paris it was asserted that the Prussian monarch urged his relative to take the throne as a direct slap at France.

The news caused intense excitement in the French capital and immediately war talk filled the air, for even then the hot heads of France were always seeking excuses for attacking their ancient enemy, Prussia.

It was a momentous day in Paris. Threatening speeches against Prussia were made in the Chamber of Deputies and immediately the French foreign minister, the Duc de Gramont, caused strong representations to be made at Berlin of the displeasure with which France viewed the aspirations of Prince Leopold to the throne of Spain. Finally on July 12, after much negotiation and the intervention of Great Britain, Prince Leopold with the consent of his sovereign, withdrew his candidature.

But this did not deter the ambitious but misguided Third Napoleon. On the following day, acting under instructions from the Emperor, M. Benedetti, French ambassador to Prussia, unceremoniously demanded that King Wilhelm at Ems, insolently demanded that Prussia guarantee no further attempt ever would be made to place a Prussian on the throne in Madrid. The King refused to listen to Benedetti and curiously terminated the interview. He also sent a copy of the French demand to Count Bismarck with orders that he make use of it.

News of this occurrence further inflamed Paris and on July 15 Napoleon III decided on war. His decision was ratified by the Chamber and France's formal declaration of war against Prussia reached Berlin July 19, 1870.

President Lewis Addresses Cotton Growers Of Texas

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 5.—President W. D. Lewis today gave out the following statement: To the membership of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of Texas: The European war, resulting as it has in the demoralization of the market value of cotton, and thereby affecting the best interest not only of the farmers of this great State and nation, but that of every other business interest, will, if left unchecked, result as disastrously affecting our financial interests as though this war were being waged on our own soil. Therefore, the question should resolve itself in an effort to determine whether one nation engaged in war with some other nation is justly entitled to the privilege of buying her supplies of us at less than one-half of their normal value, which, if true, is equivalent to vesting such warring nations with the power to confiscate fifty per cent of the values of our farm products with which to pay the expense of their war.

Cotton Will Be Needed. This conclusion cannot be averted on the contention that the present depressed value of cotton and other farm products is only attributable to the lack of the normal demand, resulting from the European war. For the reason that the longer the war continues the greater the supply of manufactured fabrics become depleted, which in the end, will inevitably make the demand equal to and no less than the supply; hence, the argument of those engaged in an effort to justify some means by which the farmer can become dispossessed of his cotton, is in harmony with the usual methods resorted to by the enemies of progress, whose residence and field of operations is not confined to Europe. The question, and the only question with which the farmer is confronted is the pressing necessity of meeting his debts. It is true the legislature is making an effort to pass a bill looking to the relief of the situation, yet until the farmer is relieved from the necessity of selling his cotton at less than one-half of its value, those in whose hands this cotton may fall are reaping a harvest and the situation has not been met. It is equivalent to having been vested, with the legal authority from the State and national government, vesting them with the power to collect for their own benefit a tax on each bale of cotton bought, equal to at least six cents per pound.

Its value, those in whose hands this cotton may fall are reaping a harvest and the situation has not been met. It is equivalent to having been vested, with the legal authority from the State and national government, vesting them with the power to collect for their own benefit a tax on each bale of cotton bought, equal to at least six cents per pound. Therefore, if the farmer is not to be considered in the matter of protection, then all that is left for him to do is to go to his creditors and assure them that what cotton we possess is subject to our debts, but in justice to ourselves and the business interest of the country, before we will voluntarily sell it under such unjust conditions, they will have to consider. It is the time to determine who are the sincere friends of the farmer. If we are to be made the burden bearer necessary to saving this State from all the financial losses incidental to the war conditions, then the only remedy left for the farmer is to adapt himself in a business way to a war condition as though it was raging here in our own territory, by refusing as far as possible, to buy or sell anything. Keep Cotton Off Market. The present prices now offered for cotton is made with the assurance of its selling for more money than is being paid the farmer. There can be no law, either moral, state or national, that could justly contend that the farmer, under the present conditions, is not entitled to that advance. Therefore, self preservation being the first law of nature, the farmer will co-operate with patriotic creditors and business interests of this State to the extent of placing his cotton subject to his debts only, to be sold at the time at which the present purchasers would have sold it. Farmers keep your cotton off the market as much as is possible. It is manifestly unfair to ask you to sacrifice your products that others may reap where they have not sown. The efforts are being made by the legislature to pass the emergency bill recommended by the governor, the purposes of which is to provide

FORCE OF 5000 GERMANS DESTROYED BY THE FRENCH. Only 300 of Number Left Alive and These Surrendered to Escape Destruction.

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 5.—How a German force of 5,000 men, massed in front of the French fort at Luneville was surprised by French artillery has been related to a correspondent at Cete by the German commander, who is now a prisoner at Cete. This correspondent says the Germans were surprised by the French artillery which bombarded them for two hours with such deadly effect that only 300 were left. The remaining men and officers surrendered.

warehouse facilities in which the cotton may be stored and upon which a warehouse receipt will be issued, the value of which will depend the amount of money the banking institutions will loan on that character of collateral, with which the farmer can relieve the necessity of having to sell his cotton. An obstructionist in the State Senate or out of it is as much the enemy to the best interest of the farmers as is the manipulator and juggler of the cotton market. W. D. LEWIS, President.

RUSSIANS STILL ROUTING AUSTRIANS. ATTACK TWO CORPS BEFORE THEY HAVE TIME TO CONCENTRATE. THEIR DEFEAT WAS COMPLETE. Austrians Right Flank in Poland Claimed to Have Been Utterly Crushed.

By Associated Press. London, 4 a. m., Sept. 5.—The Post Petrograd correspondent describing the Russian advance on Lemberg says: "The Austrians are concentrating two more army corps toward the east of their positions to face the Russian Kiev district army but the Russians have attacked before this concentration was completed. It would seem that the Austrians rout at Lemberg and also the rout of the right Austrian flank in Poland was so absolute that the Russians must have entered Lemberg on the very heels of the runaways. The Russians had been fighting continuously for eight days after a previous week or ten days of marching. The fighting and marching troops of the Russian left wing covering nearly 150 miles in fifteen days captured Haliv after two days hard-fighting."

Another Petrograd dispatch says that a considerable sensation was caused by the discovery aboard the Madobury which recently was blown up in the Baltic of several cat-o-nine-tails which were found in every officer's cabin, all bearing signs of long, hard usage.

NEW ORLEANS WANTS TO LIQUIDATE AGREEMENTS. Will Not Put Up Margins With Liverpool Under New York's Agreement.

By Associated Press. New Orleans, Sept. 5.—The New Orleans Cotton Exchange today decided it would not put up margins with the Liverpool cotton trade unless its members were allowed to liquidate contracts when it is desirable to close out. This, in effect, repudiated the agreement made by the New York exchange, the purpose being the eventual reduction of the straddle interest.

The patrons of the railroad while coming from Electric the other day were treated to something absolutely new in the way of thrills. No sooner had the train gotten under way fast enough that no one could jump off than a minister of the gospel drew his Bible, as a highwayman would have drawn his revolver and began preaching. The speaker had a powerful voice and he walked up and down the aisle in the car and used it every mile of the way.

A man whose name was not learned stopped a runaway team on Ohio avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets at noon Saturday, probably saving a boy who was in the wagon from serious injury. The team was running north on Ohio avenue and with the boy, apparently about eleven years old, tugging helplessly at the lines. About the middle of the block the team ran into another wagon at the side of the curb temporarily checking them. At this moment the man dashed to their heads and catching the horses by the bridle bits hung to their heads until he brought them to a stop. He was dragged several yards before the frightened horses finally gave up. The feat is described by eyewitnesses as one of great bravery. The boy remained in the wagon throughout the entire incident.
An education obtained at the expense of the eyesight is of slight value. It is better to obtain both by seeing that the children's eyes are right. If not right, let us make them right. St. Quentin—A city of northern France, 120 miles from Liege, and 80 miles from Paris. It has a population of about 55,000, and stands on the right bank of the Somme river, at its junction with the canal which connects that river with the Scheldt and the Oise. The city is built on a slope with a southern exposure, and is the center of an industrial district which manufactures cotton and woolen fabrics, principally plaids and window curtains. It also carries on spinning and preliminary processes, tanning and tinsmithing. Machine and hand-made embroidery is produced in large quantities and there are extensive establishments producing iron goods and machinery. St. Quentin dates back to ancient times, and in the early history of Europe, was the center of the crossroads of five military roads. It has had a long war history. During the Franco-Prussian war it repulsed the German attack at one time, and at another was the center of the great battle between the German forces under Gen. von Goeben and the French under Gen. Faubert, the French being defeated.
Boulogne—A fortified seaport of northern France, 25 miles from Folkestone, England. It is situated on the shore of the English channel and has a population of about 55,000. The harbor of Boulogne is formed by the mouth of the Liane river. It has extensive docks and large inner port. The annual value of exports from Boulogne approximates $50,000,000, and of the imports $40,000,000. Its fisheries annually produce $5,000,000 worth of fish. Boulogne has had a long military history. It is believed to have been the place where Julius Caesar assembled his fleet. Henry VIII took the town by siege in 1544, but it was restored to France in 1550.
Calais—An important port on the north coast of France, and only 22 miles across the Strait from Dover, England. Dover, in turn, is only 85 miles from London. Calais is 55 miles northwest of Lille. The population of the city is about 65,000. Formerly Calais was a celebrated fortress. It is now defended by four forts, none of which is of modern construction. It also has a citadel, built 350 years ago, and a few modern batteries. The old town stands on an island, hemmed in by the canal and the harbor basin, which divide it from the extensive manufacturing quarter of St. Pierre. The city is the principal port for the trans-continental passenger traffic with England, carried on by the Southern and the North Atlantic and the Northern French railways. The average number of passengers carried annually was upwards of 300,000 before the present war.
Vistula—One of the chief rivers of Europe, rising in Austria, flowing through Russian Poland, way of Warsaw, and crossing West Prussia from south to north, and having its mouth in the Gulf of Danzig. At Thorn, where it crosses the Russian-German frontier, there are heavy fortifications, as there are at many other points from there to the gulf.
Bromberg—A city in northeastern Germany, in the province of Posen, seven miles west of the Vistula river and the west Prussian boundary. It is located on the Bromberg Canal, which connects the Brabe and the Netze rivers and thus establishes communication between the Vistula, the Oder and the Elbe. The population of Bromberg is about 60,000. Its industries are principally iron-works, machine shops, paper factories and flour mills.
Bromberg holds an important strategic position, being one of its defenses along the Vistula river from the frontier town of Thorn to the Gulf of Danzig. It was Polish prior to 1327, when it was taken by the Germans. It was retaken by the Poles in 1342, and during the centuries that followed it suffered so much from war and pestilence that in 1772, when the Germans again took possession of it, its population had fallen to less than 600 inhabitants. Later it was transferred to the duchy of Warsaw, where it remained until occupied by the Russians in 1813. Two years later it was restored to Prussia.
Oder River—One of the most important rivers of Germany, rising in Austria-Hungary and flowing northwest through Breslau, Frankfurt and Stettin to the Baltic Sea. At its nearest with outlying fortifications and 12 detached forts. The protected position of the harbor makes Konigsberg one of the important commercial cities of Germany. The industries consist of large printing-works, locomotive works, machine shops, toy, sugar, cellulose, tobacco and cigar factories and chemical works. Konigsberg was occupied by the French in 1807. In 1813 the plan for resisting Napoleon's advance in Prussia was laid out there. During recent years, it has been connected with the Russian railway system through East Prussia.

BRITISH CONFIDENCE INDICATED BY ORDER
English Ships Flying Between U. S. and England Will Not Longer Carry Guns
By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 5.—Britain's confidence that the main trade routes of the North Atlantic have been swept clear of war craft was demonstrated clearly today when the state department was formally notified by the British ambassador that his government had decided to disarm British merchant craft plying between England and the United States.
The arrival of the British steamer, Adriatic, in New York with four guns led the German ambassador to question the United States as to the status of the British ships. If the ship had been considered an armed ship the rules of international law would have required its speedy departure not to return for three months. The British government took the position that the guns were carried only for the protection of passengers.
Without yielding its position as to the right of its ships to carry arms the British government notified the secretary of state today that it would remove all guns from the commercial ships in order to relieve the United States of the problems presented.

GERMANS ABANDON GUNS WHEN MOLINES FLOODED

By Associated Press.
Amsterdam, London, 8:52 p. m., Sept. 5.—The Antwerp correspondent of the Telegraph sends the following:

"Friday morning a strong German force left Brussels in an easterly direction having probably been ordered to cut off communication between Antwerp and the coast. They marched by way of Merchem, Buggenhout and Dendermonde. They set fire to several houses and the railway station at Buggenhout, and cut telegraph wires. A German patrol cut communication between Ghent and Antwerp by way of Dendermonde. The country surrounding Antwerp now has a remarkable appearance as the banks to the southwest of Malines were opened by the Belgians and the country flooded. The German artillerymen were taken by surprise and worked valiantly in water waist deep in an attempt to save their guns. Many of these were abandoned."

BUTTE'S FOURTH DAY OF MARTIAL LAW PASSES QUIETLY

The mines will be closed tomorrow and Monday, because of the Labor Day celebration. There will be no parade of the union.

TRAIN ROBBERS SHOOT PASSENGERS AT DETROIT

Rob-Grand Trunk Train in City Limits—Those Shot May Not Survive

By Associated Press.
Detroit, Mich., Sept. 5.—Two passengers on a Grand Trunk passenger train inbound from Toronto tonight were shot and perhaps fatally wounded by two masked robbers who boarded the train soon after it entered the city. After obtaining money from the other passengers in the coach—the bandits disappeared.

One of the men wounded was shot through the stomach and physicians said his recovery was doubtful. After the other bandit had been taken to the hospital it was found that his condition was not so serious as at first indicated and he is expected to recover.

The robbers entered the parlor car at Milwaukee Junction within the city limits. Both immediately began firing revolvers and passengers had been ordered to hold up their hands. After the first man had been shot the other attempted to get into an adjoining coach to notify the crew. He was not quick enough, however, and fell with a bullet in his hip. At this juncture the bandits ran to the door and leaped off the train carrying their plunder with them.

The whole affair occupied only two or three minutes.

FRENCH PEOPLE GIVING SUPPORT TO GOVERNMENT

Bordeaux, France, via London, Sept. 5.—At a cabinet council over which President Poincare presided, Minister of the Interior Maizre read reports from the prefects from the different departments stating that the morale of the population everywhere is excellent. Calm and confidence prevails everywhere, the reports showed, and public feeling is in close agreement with the policy of the government. The council also discussed various measures for insuring the proper food supply for civilians.

SCRATCH FROM CHICKEN CAUSES DEATH OF BOY

By Associated Press.
Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 5.—A scratch by a chicken bone on the sole of his foot, so slight at first that it scarcely made a mark, caused the death of Franklin Gibbons, seven years old, in a local hospital today with lockjaw. The boy was playing in the yard when he scratched his foot.

FALL FASHION REFLECT THE MILITARY SPIRIT

New York, Sept. 6.—The popularity of crinoline hangs in the balance. The war is stifling Parisian news and it will probably be up to American dress-makers whether they follow the lines set by Pogeret, Doucet and many other French houses before the war depleted their ranks, or whether it will be a period of American creations designed for American women. It is an ill wind truly that blows no one some good, and this terrible conflict abroad may mean the uprising of dominating American styles!

The arrival of wider and fuller skirts cannot be denied, and many of them are held out by a heavy cord in the hem. Then there is the long, full tunic, often made of lace with a tighter underskirt below. Around the edge of the tunic are swaths of artificial roses. The waist is of lace or tulle and the line of the low neck is outlined by these same roses.

The 1870 style of bodice which is so stylish now is almost always seen sleeveless. It has a long waistline and a strap over the shoulder. This waist conforms more to the figure than the waists of a few months ago and has a lining of chiffon or very light weight silk. A striking gown of this type, cuffs of linen are charmingly embroidered at the corners with a floral design, adding a feminine touch of delicacy. A large flat sailor shape, called by the Parisians "canotier," is worn with this costume. The wide flat trimmed sailor is the hat of the moment. It is flat with a large, round low crown. It is made of straw, taffeta or velvet, and trimmed simply with a rose, a quill or a snappy bow. The shape itself is suitable for as many diverse occasions as its trimming or the material used in its making. The next illustration is of a model in brown grosgrain taffeta, which is both new and smart. The waist is made with an overwaist which has a ruffling cape in the back. This is worn over a plain waist which buttons down the front. A tunic, tucked in groups of three around the waist, is worn over a tighter underskirt of striped taffeta, while a large bow striped taffeta ties with a large bow just below the cape in the back. For winter suits and separate coats the pile fabrics such as velvet, plush and the many imitation fur cloths are most fashionable. For the very dressy afternoon costume a delicate pile material, combined with velvet or with a chemise striped fabric is stunning. The basic material for these stripes is usually chiffon or soft satin. Lace will be used this fall on afternoon as well as evening gowns. White or cream lace or tunics over black are very good and often worn with the fashionable basque waist of satin, or velvet. Net with satin or velvet bands are also smart and used in the same way whether in black or white. The style of wearing the hair is decidedly changed from last season, when the ears and line of the hair on the neck and brow was invisible, but now the hair is combed straight from the back of the ears, leaving the ears exposed. To be absolutely correct in Paris the hair should be drawn away from the forehead, leaving it perfectly bare. Another way becoming to the woman with a high forehead is to have the hair parted on one side, not waved at all, but drawn back from the face with a light, straight, fringed bang falling over the forehead. The hair must show a high sheen in these new modes of wearing the hair, which only comes from con-which I have just seen, was made of very dark blue soft silk. The straps which went over the shoulders were not applied but in one with the dress and so wide that they drooped well over the shoulder. About the round cut decollete neck was an inch wide beaded band of jet. The sleeveless armholes had a band of beaded insertion, composed of a series of long beules placed crosswise, with a small bead on either end at the edge. A six-inch beaded girdle encircled the waist drooping well over the hips. The skirt had a long and plain tunic, slightly full at the waist. Just below this was noticeable a tight fitting underskirt.

The modern crinoline dress is indeed paradoxical when one thinks that although skirts seem fuller there is always a tight skirt underneath. In fact, in one of the late French magazines was shown a wonderful gown of sheerest pale pink organza, and showing through was the figure swathed from waist to ankle.

The materials for fall suits include broadcloth, gabardine, serge, prunella cloth and a new heavy cashmere. These materials are also used for dresses, as shown in my first illustration, which is made of plain dark blue serge and novelty blue serge with a fine stripe of white upon it. The two materials are combined charmingly. Sleeves and double circular bands are of the plain serge while the lower part of the waist and skirt is of the stripes. Dainty collar and loop up

FAMINE FEARED AT VIENNA 250,000 RAE OUT OF EMPLOYMENT

By Associated Press.
Paris, Sept. 5.—According to a Copenhagen dispatch the Temps, a famine is feared in Vienna within a fortnight. Dispatches from the Austrian capital say 250,000 persons are without work and the number is increasing rapidly. All stores are closed and the people are despondent.

By Associated Press.
London, Sept. 5.—A dispatch from Petrograd quotes an official statement as declaring that the Russians have defeated the Austrians between Lublin and Khom. Five thousand Austrians were taken prisoners, the report says.

sleeves, and hang in streamers from the girdles. A single rose of golden yellow, pink or red, is the only bit of color upon a gown of sombre black or black and white. In fact, a rose is not only permissible but quite an ultra touch to many of the simple gowns. The smartest spot to place it is against the neck on the left shoulder, and it is quite stunning when placed at the end of a fluffy ruche or in the middle back of the fashionable Bernhardt ruche.

Anson, Texas, Sept. 5.—Three cases of meningitis have been reported from Leuders in the eastern portion of Jones county. Dr. Hudson, county health officer, administered the Flexner serum on Wednesday.

JUST GATHERED UP AIGRETTE

Servant Girl's Explanation Probably Did Not Aid Her in Securing Desired Situation.

It was a wonderful servant girl that the employment agency had sent to Mrs. Bagon and the decoration on her hat was more wonderful still. It wasn't merely an aigrette, it was a regular museum of aigrettes. Every color of the rainbow glowed in its separate item collected into a grove, a botanical garden, a whole forest primeral of aigrettes. "You have excellent references," said Mrs. Bagon to the young woman, "but I'm afraid you'll not suit me. You seem to be accustomed to a lavish scale of living. I couldn't afford such trimming for my hat as you have on yours. It must have cost you a lot of money."

"Oh, if that's your reason," replied the girl, "the trimming on my hat never cost me a red cent. I just gathered it!"

"Just gathered it!" exclaimed Mrs. Bagon. "And what do you mean by that, pray?"

"Well," said the girl, "at the place I've just left they had a lot of people to dinner on Sundays—especially women—and when the dinner was served I used to go to the hall closet where the hats and wraps were. Every lady, of course, had aigrettes on her hat, and so I just used to take one single tiny little feather from each of them. They never knew the difference."

ALL CREATED WITH PURPOSE

Wonderful Possibilities of Minute Seeds That Seem to Be of Such Insignificance.

Seeds at best are little things, easily passed by; yet in the whole scheme of the universe there is hardly a created thing of more mighty importance, says a writer in the Craftsman. Primarily they are responsible for the continuance of vegetable species; within them lies the seat of life. And the seeds of the earth are multitudinous, each one having a peculiarity of form and color especially its own. One may hold in the palm of the hand seeds similar in appearance and yet so different in purpose that only the imagination can form any conception of the offspring which it is their destiny to bring forth.

The most delicate and fairest flowers, perhaps baby's breath and love-in-a-mist, may cover a section of the garden as a result of seeds sown; and at the same time great oaks, maples, willow, pines, beeches, ash and every other form of tree that grows, stand in the forest because of the seeds sown by the wind or dropped, like acorns, into their places. The grass forming the greensward about the home; the grain of the field giving food to the multitude, waving corn and climbing bean, are all the outcome of myriads of seeds possible to hold in the hollow of the hand.

Where Class Didn't Count.

A young woman from abroad was starting her conquest of the country by entering domestic service with a haughty East-end family. She had an afternoon off and put on her finest finery and paraded down the street with another domestic. As they were walking along, talking of this and that, comparing experiences and notes and other such things, the companion said:

"Look, Norah! There's the woman you work for on the other side of the street!"

"Heavens, Maggie! I hope she don't see me!"

"Why? Are you afraid of your boss?"

"No, ye fool. But it would be just like her to see this hat an' go an' get me just like li!"

1000 WILL MARCH LABOR DAY PARADE

CELEBRATION HERE WILL SURPASS ANY YET ATTEMPTED IN THIS SECTION

SOMETHING DOING ALL DAY

Program of Speeches and Varied Amusements at Lake Wichita Afternoon and Night

Union men and citizens generally are looking forward tomorrow to the biggest Labor Day Celebration ever held in Wichita Falls or indeed in Northwest Texas. The Unions of Wichita Falls were never so united and harmonious as they are now and they are planning a demonstration in keeping with the importance and the dignity of the day.

The parade, of course, will be the big spectacular feature of the day's celebration. Leaders among the Union men are expecting fully 1,000 union members to march in the parade. This will be the first celebration in which ladies will take part in any considerable number. Two of the unions that will participate are made up in large part of female members, these are the Laundry Workers and the Glove Makers. Both Unions will be out in full strength.

The parade will take place at 10:30 o'clock. The line will form on Scott Avenue but those who are expected to take part are expected to meet at the court house at nine o'clock. The line of march will be through the business section of the city.

Frank H. Harris of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, will be the grand marshal. He will be assisted by marshals for each of the Unions participating.

There will be two divisions in the parade. The first will comprise the unions and the second will be made up of fraternal organizations and business houses.

A band of about forty Comanche Indians who arrived last night from Walters and Cache, Oklahoma, will also be in the line of march in full feather and paint and war regalia.

The first division will be made up in the following order:

Mounted Policemen, Brass Band, Laundry Workers, Retail Clerks, Boiler-makers, Tailors, Machinists, Railway Carmen, Barbers, Bartenders' Union, Printers, Painters, Shoemakers, Tanners, Carpenters, Plumbers, Electricians, Retail Grocery Clerks, Glass Workers.

The second division will march in the following order:

Wichita Falls Fire Department, Brass Band, Fraternal organization of Yoemen, W. O. W., business floats, etc.

The line of march will disperse at the street car line and the marchers will take cars for Lake Wichita where the program of entertainment for the day is to be carried out. Many will take out basket dinners and will enjoy lunch in the pavilion.

Early in the afternoon there will be speeches by Mayor Britain and other local speakers and representatives of the Union, after which a varied entertainment program will be taken up.

On this program are: a balloon ascension, broncho busting and wild west exhibitions by Frank Still and his band of cowboys, Indian war dances, motorcycle races, boating, dancing, bathing, fishing, merry go round riding, a double header ball game and other feasts.

The ball games will be between the Black Cats and the Rams and the Irish Lads and the Leopolds in the Twilight League. Five inning games will be played. These games will close the Twilight League season.

The motorcycle races are being promoted by J. E. Craddock and J. B. Totten. There are six entries as follows: J. E. Craddock, Indian; L. E. Gravett, Indian; E. B. Stonecipher, Indian; Harrison Haley, Harley-Davidson; G. Hammond, Harley-Davidson; and J. B. Totten, Excelsior.

The big Labor Day ball will start at 8:20 in the evening. Katz orchestra will furnish the music.

The committee in charge of the entertainment has worked hard and believe they have arranged a program that will please every one.

Practically all the stores and shops will be closed throughout the day. The banks and the postoffice will be closed and the day will be observed as a general holiday.

CLAY COUNTY TEACHERS ENDORSE NORMAL HERE

Movement For Opening of Summer Normal in Wichita Falls Gains Support

Clay county teachers in their institute at Henrietta last week gave hearty endorsement to the movement inaugurated by Superintendent G. H. Carpenter of the Wichita Falls schools for the establishment of a summer normal here next summer for a number of Northwest Texas counties.

The matter will be taken up by county or county institute as they convene. Already the movement has received enough support to practically assure its success. It is expected that Wiltberger, Hardeman and other counties will join in the movement.

NEGRO SERIOUSLY STABBED BY ANOTHER LAST NIGHT

A negro man was seriously stabbed in a cutting affray in the flats last night about 10 o'clock by another negro, who had not been apprehended at midnight. The knife made a deep wound just below the heart, penetrating the lung and the man was reported to be in a precarious condition.

Soon after the trouble the wounded man was taken in charge by officers, who secured medical aid and he was later removed to the jail by Deputy Sheriff Russell.

The name of the victim was not known to the officers who reported the trouble.

Union Printers Home Colorado Springs, Colorado

A feature to which we particularly desire to direct attention as indicating the beneficent character of the International Typographical Union is the Home for Union Printers. This institution is situated at Colorado Springs, Colo., contiguous to Pike's Peak, and in a country enjoying a reputation that is world-wide for the salubrity and curative quality of its climate.

The building was erected and furnished in 1892 at a cost of $70,000, every cent being paid on completion—an almost unprecedented occurrence in the history of benevolent institutions. Not only was it free from debt, but a surplus of over $13,000 was in bank to the credit of the fund. With the exception of the unsolicited and unconditional gift of $10,900 to the union from the multi-millionaire, the late

George W. Childs of the Philadelphia Ledger, and Anthony J. Drexel, of the international banking firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co., as an appreciation of the worth of our organization, this building was erected by the efforts of the union printers of America. A hospital annex was erected at a cost of $40,000 at a later date; then a library addition, laundry and boiler plant, superintendent's cottage, greenhouses, barns, lawns, etc., were added. In 1912 a tuberculosis pavilion, accommodating twenty patients, and costing with furnishings $10,000, was added to the sanatorium. The Home is situated on eighty acres of land donated by the citizens of Colorado Springs, and this land is rapidly increasing in value. The property is now set down by conservative real estate men as being worth $1,000,000, an evidence that the

Indianapolis Journal was entirely within the truth when it said "the Typographical Union had proven itself equal to every emergency that confronted it during a long and useful career."

The International Typographical Union has expended in nineteen years in building and maintaining the Union Printers Home more than $1,250,000. Slides showing different views of this institution will be run at the picture show at the Lake Monday night and at the Majestic Tuesday night. The Typographical Union of Wichita Falls urges all of its friends to go out and see these pictures and see what they are doing for members of their union who are unable, on account of old age or illness, to obtain employment which is self-sustaining.

ROBBER CHIEF SAYS HE WILL HOLD OUT UNLESS MADE PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT

CONVENTION OCTOBER 1ST

Governors Military Chiefs and Army Delegates Will Meet to Formulate Program

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 5.—Administration officials expressed satisfaction today over reports from Mexico City that a general convention of governors, military chiefs and army delegates would be called for October 1 to arrange a program for a constitutional election.

The only dark spot on the Mexican horizon is the attitude of General Zapata. Official reports say he refuses to meet Carranza unless the latter goes south to Zapata territory. Zapata also said he would insist on the plan of Yutala to the effect that he should become provisional president, but was willing to share executive power equally with Carranza.

The latter has declined the proposal abruptly. "Efforts of the American government to bring Zapata and Carranza into harmony continue."

Officials here are confident, however, that if the Carranza and Villa factions agree and maintain a strong central government the Zapata problem will be disposed of without difficulty, as there would be thousands of constitutionalist troops available for an expedition to the south.

HOUSE PASSES ALASKAN COAL LEASE MEASURE

Bill Provides For Leasing of Coal Lands For Royalty Two Cents a Ton

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 5.—The Alaskan coal lands leasing bill which is to work with the Alaskan railway law for the development of the coal resources of Alaska was passed by the house today. It now goes to the Senate.

The bill provides for a leasing system for Alaskan coal beds under a royalty of two cents a ton. Royalties are to go into special funds for developing Alaska, particularly its railway. Monopoly is guarded against by reservation of 12,500 acres in two mine on its own account. Leases are to be for intermediate periods provided they are kept in constant operation and provided that at the end of 20 years municipalities may take over leases and operate them if found desirable to do so.

Visit our show windows tonight, Monday and Monday night. A veritable style show of ladies' suits can be seen there.

The truth of this ad is guaranteed to the Daily Times who in turn guarantees it to its readers.

When contemplating the purchase of a coat suit the average buyer keeps four things in mind: the styles, the materials, the colors and the price. Our line for this season seems to us more correct and complete as to these four points that it has ever been before.

The Styles
The styles in this season's suits are many and varied as to the small details but the long coats and shorter skirts gain in popularity as the season advances. The cape suits although not as popular as the longer models are very often called for and are thought very pretty.

The Materials
With broadcloth leading, the range of materials used in coat suits this season and to be seen at this store include Gaberdines, Ripple Cloth, silk and wool poplins, Bedford cloths and serge, any of these are very serviceable and very popular.

The Colors
Black seems to have first call in the higher priced garments but in medium priced and cheaper suits Wisteria and plum come first, closely followed by Russian green, negro brown and several shades of blue. The selection of any of these shades inspires the wearer of being stylishly dressed inasmuch as the shades of materials is concerned.

The Prices
Last but by no means least comes the price. Buyers of long experience searched the eastern markets for coat suits that would fill every requirement of style, material and shade and still enable us to sell them under competitors prices. We know they have been very successful in their efforts and a showing will convince you of the same thing. Our coat suit price range is $12.50 and up to as high as $65.00.

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 5.—The steamer, Philadelphia, arrived today from Liverpool with officers and passengers telling of the movement of Russian troops through England to aid the allies in continental Europe. Persons on train for Liverpool found the schedule abandoned for three hours. "This we were told," said a passenger, "was to allow Russian troops to pass and we were informed that there were 50,000 of them which was the vanguard of a big Russian army to be landed on the shores of France or Belgium to strengthen the lines of the allies."

Ladies First

You have heard this expression many, many times. Not alone since the Titanic's fatal accident, but ever since you can remember. It is the ladies that start the largest per cent of the Civic improvements. Ladies for the parks, for the children's playgrounds, for our churches and schools and for our cemeteries. The last named would be sadly neglected indeed if it were not for the good women of this country. About one man in twenty cares anything about their beauty or upkeep. On the other hand a very small per cent of the plots are neglected if left to our good women. We are anxious to help you continue this good work.

Games on the lawn were of course in order for the earlier part of the afternoon, the children entering into the spirit of the play with much enjoyment. For the pretty ceremony of the cutting of the birthday cake the guests were invited into the dining room which was decorated in a very charming, dainty manner. A color motif of pink and white was featured in the airy streams which, hanging pendant from the chandelier, were caught at the corners of the table. In the center of the table a silver mirror reflector held the pink and white birthday cake with its eight glowing candles in the same delicate tints. The cake was cut and the children hunted for the souvenirs, Mary Blair cutting the ring and Eleanor Allen the nickel. Ice cream and cake was served on the lawn, the color note being repeated in the cream and cake and the dainty napkins. A picture was taken of the happy group to serve as a pleasant reminder in days to come, and just before leaving each guest was given a fishing pole and tackle and invited to try his or her luck at fishing. LOSERS IN YOEMEN CONTEST ENTERTAIN WINNERS

Thursday after the business session of the Yoeman Lodge, Mrs. Richardson, captain of the greens together with the team, entertained Mrs. South, captain of the Reds, and her team with a delicious lunch served in the Yoeman's Lodge rooms and to say that Mrs. Richardson with her team know how to be good losers would be saying something which every one realizes who was present and enjoyed the lunch last night. About sixty days ago a contest was instituted in the Yoeman Lodge between teams chosen by Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. South, the one securing the largest number of members in the sixty days to be entertained by the other team. The teams took different colors, Mrs. Richardson taking the green and Mrs. South the red. The red's secured twenty-five members and the greens seventeen, and the greens showed themselves to be good losers and on last night they also showed they were good entertainers. We certainly appreciate Mrs. Richardson's efforts to win but feel in a measure glad she lost after enjoying the lunch.

HUNDREDS RESERVISTS MAROONED AT PANAMA

Panama, Sept. 5.—War in Europe has brought to the Isthmus hundreds of reservists of practically all the nations involved, called to the colors from South and Central America, but since the first movement, when a few French and Germans obtained passage home, there has been no chance for them to get across the Atlantic. Germans, Americans, Hungarians, Frenchmen, and Russians are all making themselves at home in Panama City and Colon.

In one hotel in Panama there are nearly 100 Frenchmen waiting for a ship that will take them home to fight. Close to the table they sit for meals, is a table surrounded by 25 Germans, equally anxious to get home, but locally there is no trouble. No one knows when ship will be available. The French line will have no vessel in port for a long time. German ships are no longer sailing out of Colon, and the British ships have refused to transport the men, even for double money.

DUTCH SOLDIERS WELL SUPPLIED WITH SMOKE'S

Amsterdam, Sept. 5.—The Dutch army believes it may rightfully boast of being the best equipped army in Europe, so far as smoking comforts go. The Boy Scouts, during the first days of mobilization, went all over the city of Amsterdam with barrows, gathering cigars for the soldiers. The total was too big to count, but within two hours one day more than 20,000 cigars were gathered. Passers-by emptied their cigar cases, dealers presented full boxes, and non-smokers contributed money for the purchase of cigars. All along the frontier the sentinels may now be seen comfortably puffing away at these gift cigars.

Holland has been so much in ignorance of what is happening that one of the Amsterdam papers expressed the situation by heading its pages of war news with the negative in half a dozen foreign languages.

The Finest Silks and Velvets That Has Been Woven

We were indeed fortunate in securing such a bewildering array of these beautiful fabrics. Our buyer being in the market early, took advantage of the situation before stocks were depleted, purchasing before the prices were advanced. We are offering these fine fabrics AT PRICES POSITIVELY NORMAL. Because of the improbability of further importations, the season is unique in its advantages to early purchasers. We are prepared today, as well prepared in fact, as we would be a month hence under normal conditions, to show choice selections of exclusive fabrics in new tones and designs. We invite your early inspection of the following:

Silver and Gold Broche Satin, Crepe, Chiffon, Damask, Voile, Embossed Broche de Crepe, Chiffon with metal flowers. Gold Pekin Striped Satin and Velvets, Printed Chiffon with hand-painted metal motifs. Double Faced Satin and Cloth of Gold. Black Taffeta with double-faced stripes in bright colors. Double-faced plaid and plain Serge de Soie. Carmen Striped Crepes, Double-faced Crystal Cord Crepe in antique Chinese designs. Plain and Two-tone Faille and Bengalines. Black Silks with Directoire Stripes, Two-tone Pin Stripe Velvets, Velvet Striped Georgette Crepes. Velvets in Plain Pompadour, Roman Bandit Stripe and Plain designs. Besides the weaves mentioned above there are other Novelty Silks, as well as a complete collection of the plain weaves which the Paris dressmakers selected for autumn.

BLACK SILKS—Black Silks and Velvets dwarfs any previous season's showing. Ask to see them, one of the season's most desirable materials for dresses and two-piece suits. New fall shades of russian green, navy, midnight blue, military gray, ethiopian brown, malchite green and black. Mohair Dress Plush—This fabric is in high favor this season for coats suits or for capes. New designs and all good colors.

BROADCLOTH—Broadcloth will undoubtedly be the leading fabric in dress goods owing to the present styles of basque dresses, polonaise and coat dresses with Russian tunics. The long, close lines of basque and Russian tunic, succeeding the frills and frivolous puffs of summer, will therefore call for just such a fabric as broadcloth. Our color line for both street and evening wear is now complete, including all the new shades.

THE SCARCITY OF SERGE—And demand for staple shades, especially navy and black, coupled with the many beautiful styles for Serge dresses and suits, will make Serge one of the leading woolen fabrics. Our selections for this fall include a wonderful variety of new shades and an unlimited quantity of all good blues and blacks. All qualities suitable for dresses, coats, skirts, capes and tailored suits. We invite you to see at once these beautiful woolen fabrics.

Elaborate Showing Of Fall Styles at Jones-Kennedy's

One of the most elaborate showings of fall styles in a number of seasons is now being made by Jones-Kennedy, a complete line of fall goods being on display in every department. A particular pride is taken in the ladies ready to wear department and the line of suits, coats, frocks, for street, afternoon and evening wear is unusually beautiful. In these garments a reflection of every notable mode of the moment is to be noticed, the fabrics are those most favored by Dame Fashion and in the latest approved shades.

A variety of styles, some of them widely different are noticed in the coat suits, both the long close fitting redingotes and the looser cape effects on the coats being ultra stylish. Prune, Russian and bottle green, "midge" brown, deep wine and the ever favored black are the leading colors for the tailored models this winter. The somber colors are brightened by a touch of Roman stripes here and there, some novelty buttons or metal trimmings. The dark colors in favor only serve to accentuate the richness of the trimmings and to enhance the effect of the whole.

In the question of separate coats Milady can give free rein to her fancy. If she perhaps prefers a coat more on the fitted lines, they are shown in a variety of colors and in a length to reach almost to the bottom of the skirt. And while the bottom of the skirt is in the limelight it might be mentioned that the bottom of the skirt is coming up or rather off, several inches of it, and this will necessitate more time and care given to the footwear. But to return to the subject of coats. A long coat is good for this season now on us, and on the other hand a dolman is simply de rigueur. Some of the coats are very short with the loosest, baggiest sleeves imaginable and some are capes in reality. They come in an endless variety of colors and weaves, the novelty plaid worsted being in high favor for general wear.

The frocks for afternoon and reception wear have never been prettier and quite a charming line of street dresses are shown. The rich dark materials in satin, charmeuse and crepe de chine are favored, satin being especially so. Every gown of any pretensions whatever is either of satin entirely or has a touch of heavy Duchess satin in the trimmings. Basque effects are more than good and tiny pleated ruffles, puffings, buttons and wide girdles are among the most prominent of the trimmings. One of the very prettiest of the Jones-Kennedy gowns is a reception frock in a rich dark green. The popular basque effect is simulated by a wide girde, which is edged on either side with tiny accordion pleated ruffles. A semi-bouffant drape is noticed over the hips, the fullness being caught up with a cleverly contrived sash of lustrous black Duchess satin. The waist has a garniture of rich lace in cream tones and touches of the satin give distinction.

Wonderful Line Of Gowns Now On Display At Kahn's

Beautiful enough for a queen and quite elaborate to satisfy the most exacting of womankind are the fall fashions as presented to the women of Wichita Falls by Kahn's. This new showing is a wonderful line of gowns, tailored street frocks, and the millinery department presents a most gorgeous riot of magnificence, of military splendor and bravery of color.

"It's an evil wind that blows nobody good," and this war has been the prime factor in the revival and introduction of the very prettiest and most elaborate fashions which have been seen in many a day.

There are several different and distinct influences that predominate the fall suits. The military is perhaps chief among these fur trimmed fitted jackets, buttoning close about the neck with the Russian tunic skirts, or pleated skirts, which will allow of a military stride, which is predicted will take the place of the slink and debilitate slouch with which the ultra fashionable has writhed through the past two seasons. Black is a predominant color, with navy, green and tete de negre almost in equal favor. Cape effects are noticed, the long flowing lines showing the military influence. A number of the coats now being shown are on the order of the old-fashioned erdingote and the polonaise is again experiencing a return to favor. Favored fabrics are chiffon broadcloth, gabardine and various novelty cloths. Some of the most striking models in suits are of black or navy blue with the flowing shoulder cape attached, lined with bright silk in Roman stripes. Dresses in serge and satin combinations are especially good for street and tailored wear, made with a simulated basque and a long pleated skirt. White collars and cuffs give a distinction to these frocks and relieve the monotony of the sober fabrics.

One of the departments at Kahn's deserving of special mention is the juniors and misses' clothes designed especially to fit girls at the "difficult" age. The tendency in former times has been to ignore juniors or to dress them in the styles of their mothers. Now in cut down and made over replicas this is changed and some very pretty little frocks are shown in velvet, satin, and taffeta, especially designed for the girls just entering their teens and with all the style of a Paris model. Coat suits with the features of the fall models altered and modified to suit the intended wearers and Peter Thompson suits for school year are included in the charming array of misses' styles.

The separate coats are shown in great number, with the three quarter length as a prime favorite. The materials are imported Scotch worsted, broadcloths and novelty cloth and balmaccans and cape coats lead the style.

The line of reception and afternoon frocks in satin, charmeuse, crepe meteor and crepe de chine were never handsomer. Striking combinations are noticed in chiffon, printed nets, lace and satin. The bodice being of the airy materials with the skirt of satin, charmeuse or other fabrics. Long waisted effects are very good and the basque is noticed on many of the best gowns. The colors for these models are dark but the trimmings serve to brighten the effect on the whole.

As usual a very pleasing variety of evening gowns and dancing frocks are shown. The dancing craze has resulted in a perceptible widening of skirts of evening dresses and has also resulted in shortening them. Accord-

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After A Few Doses Are Taken

Backache, urinary disorders, and rheumatism, are caused from weak, inactive kidneys, which fail to filter out the impurities and keep the blood pure, and the only way on earth to permanently and positively cure such troubles, is to remove the cause.

The new discovery, Croxone, cures such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; it neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, helpless kidneys so they filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to cure the worst case of backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.

It is the most wonderful preparation ever made for the purpose. It is entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth to compare with it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed to cure you.

MOTOR CARS

The Car of Power, Speed, Dependability and Durability

THE PROMISE

"When Better Cars are Built, Buick Will Build Them."

THE FULFILLMENT

IS FOUND IN

the Buick Line of Fours and Sixes for nineteen fifteen—the greatest line of Buick cars organization has ever built. Nineteen fourteen Buick success has been the talk of the motor world—a reputation merited by an abundance of power—faultless design—perfect performance and efficient Buick service. The five splendid models comprising the Buick line for nineteen fifteen is up to our promise to all buyers of Buick cars—and make certain a continued satisfaction and uninterrupted use.

The vital factor that built up the enormous demand for Buick cars is the Valve-in-Head motor together with the dependability and durability of construction, fuel economy and comfort.

Last season the output of 33,200 cars was completely sold out early in March. This endorsement of the Buick by the buying public has justified us this season in increasing our output and made possible the lowering of our prices.

The 1915 Buick models actually offer greatly increased value. This reduction of price is possible because of the volume of business, the improved factory methods, specialized labor and one more year's knowledge of experts in this great factory in new economies of construction.

The 1915 Buick has all the fundamental Buick principles with the addition of every improvement that has stood the Buick tests of worth. In fact, the three-chassis, while the same in all essentials as last year, have been improved where improvement was possible.

These are but a few of the Buick improvements, regardless of price, we are giving more value than ever before. We always have and still guarantee the Buick Valve-in-Head motor to develop more power than any other type of automobile motor of equal size, American or foreign make.

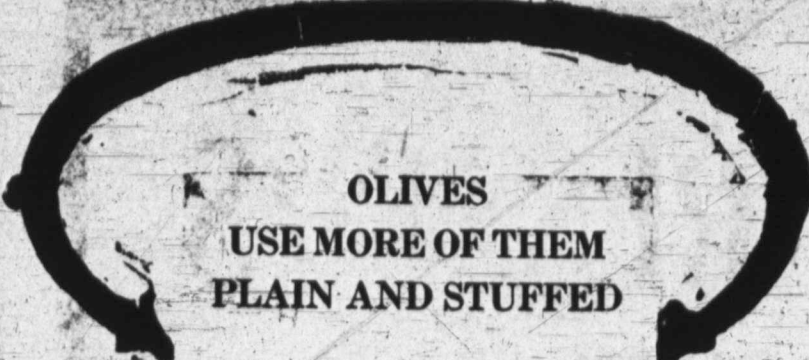

The new Delco system of starting, Controls conveniently located on lighting and ignition, with an increased generating capacity of 35 percent and automatic spark advance. Non-skid tires on rear wheels. Improved quality of leather for the upholstery and finer finish. High grade stream line bodies, supplied by Stewart-Warner gravity feed vacuum system. Hood and oval radiators.

These are but a few of the Buick improvements, regardless of price, we are giving more value than ever before. We always have and still guarantee the Buick Valve in Head motor to develop more power than any other type of automobile motor of equal size, American or foreign make.

We have 15 models now on the floor. Call and we will give demonstration.

 "When Romance Came to Anne," a story with an "ugly duckling" as the heroine, presents a very pleasing entertainment. Anne, when the story opens, is a poor little forlorn sort of a girl, who elicits her hair back so tight that she can scarcely close her eyes and doesn't have any clothes to speak of. She is the wall flower of the village and is the only girl who has no beau. Of course she feels bad. A bachelor, Mark Lane, comes along. He thinks he needs a wife to take care of him, cook for him and such like. He stops at the home of Anne's father. He is impressed with her housekeeping and asks her to be his wife. She is more than joyous as she regards him as the ideal man. It is not long, however, until she realizes that he holds no affection for her. She believes it is her clothes and tries to remedy that. Her attempt at dressmaking is a miserable failure, however, and her little heart is nearly broken. It takes a painter chaps from a nearby city to wake her husband up, and at the close Anne is happy in the fact that Mark loves her.

A new vaudeville act opens tomorrow night also, Schutzel and Smith, ballroom and tango dancers.

"MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY" AT THE VICTORIA MONDAY

Tenth episode. At the end of the ninth episode Florence, whose father in the beginning of the story drew $1,000,000 from the bank, went up in a balloon and disappeared after leaping from an Atlantic liner to escape from Braine and the countess, had been picked up by fishermen and taken to their humble home where it was found that her mind was a blank.
 Weeks passed and though she regained her strength, she can remember nothing of the past. Jackson, one of Braine's confederates, goes to the fishing village, sees Florence and telegraphs Braine, who goes to the village in disguise and tries to make Florence believe he is her father, but although she remembers nothing of him, she distrusts him.

Meanwhile, Norton, the newspaper reporter, and Jones, the helper who has been doing such faithful work in protecting Florence, the daughter of Hargreaves, his master, and turning the crooks aside in their search for the million—had not been idle. Jones had gone away on a false scent and the crooks caused Norton to follow what he thought was a clew but which in reality was a trap which resulted in his being shanghaied on a ship bound for a three year cruise into the north. On returning to consciousness many hours later he was put to doing the rough work of a seaman.

Now Braine, determined not to be balked, returns to the fishing village in a fast motor yacht and while Florence strolls alone on the beach, he abducts her and puts to sea. Soon a new danger presents itself, for the boat catches fire and they only are saved by the opportune arrival of a sailing vessel which picks them up. Owing to her pitiful condition, Florence is given free run of the deck and a bearded sailor follows her to a secluded part of the deck and whispers into her ear. It is only a whispered word, but it brings a light of understanding to her eyes, and the next moment she is in the arms of Jimmy Norton.

Norton hears Braine offer to pay the captain a goodly sum to put him and the girl ashore, and next morning when the girl and her pseudo father are put ashore the reporter is nowhere to be seen. His absence is explained, however, when the sailors are out of sight of them and after putting them ashore, for with a dexterous twist of his hand, her escort removes the wig and beard that he wore, discloses not the face of Braine, but of Jimmy Norton, and Braine, bound and gagged, stripped of clothing and money, is on the sailing vessel headed toward the far north.

The Gem.

"The Law in the Alibi," a two part special is showing Monday. Following is a synopsis:
 Blair, bank cashier, conceives an er, he discovers that Walter and Ruth, his employer's daughter, are in love. Blair, who also loves Ruth, plans to get his rival out of the way. Knowing there will be a large sum of money in Mr. Fielding's private safe the next night, Blair decides to burglarize it and throw suspicion upon Walter. He writes an anonymous letter to the boy, requesting him to be at a certain spot at ten o'clock the following night.
 Walter gets the letter the next day and carelessly places it in his desk. Blair abstracts it. That night his victim leaves Ruth shortly before ten o'clock, pleading an important engagement. Blair meanwhile, burglarizes the safe. After setting the hands of a large clock in the room at 10, he throws it to the floor. The man makes his escape and arrives at the home of a friend as ten o'clock strikes, thus establishing an alibi. Walter waits at the spot designated in the letter and finally goes home believing himself the victim of a joke.

Because they are the only men who know the combination of the safe, suspicion is directed toward the cashier and his assistant when the burglar is discovered the following morning. The clock indicates the hour of the robbery to Pierce, a detective. Blair readily establishes his whereabouts at ten o'clock, while Walter, unable to prove an alibi is arrested. Later, Pierce discovers the clock had been tampered with and his suspicion falls upon Blair. The cashier becomes intoxicated and loses the decoy letter. Pierce finds it and becomes convinced of Blair's guilt. Confronting the man in the office, the detective places before him the evidence he has discovered. Terror stricken, Blair breaks down and confesses.

"CODE OF HONOR" SHOW AT MAJESTIC MONDAY

Ormi Hawley is featured in this two-part special, the story of which is as follows:
 Marie Bowditch, criminal and pick-pocket, is arrested in a raid and her husband killed. Her little boy is sent to a foundling home and Marie sentenced to five years. When released she finds that she has inherited $5,000 and that her child has been adopted by a worthy couple. Captain Allway of the prison has Blair reform the woman and by his influence succeeds in inducing the Mortons to give up the boy. Robert, Marie goes west and marries Banker Harrison, who also has a son, James, the same age as Robert. Fifteen years pass and Robert is cashier in the bank, while James has been selected district attorney. Both of the boys fall in love with Mildred, daughter of Judge Early, but the girl favors Robert. Kidd Hogg, a pal of Marie's criminal days, turns up. He demands $2,000 as the price of his silence. Just at this time Judge Early has requested Harrison to keep $2,000 for him until the following morning. Hogg enters the house and secures the money. Marie, thinking she hears a noise, goes down stairs, but finds nothing suspicious. She, however, drops a jewel in the room. Robert, returning late, finds the jewel and goes to his mother's room to restore it. He is seen by James and when the Judge and Mildred call for the money and find it has been taken, James accuses Robert of the theft. Robert, to protect his mother, does not make a denial. Kidd Hogg goes on a spree and in a quarrel is shot. Before dying he sends for the district attorney and makes a confession. James now has it in his power to convict his rival and win the Judge's daughter, but honor comes to his aid. He places the confession in Mildred's hands and thus gains a mighty victory.

Obituary.
 In memory of our darling son, husband and father, Willie T. Carroll, who departed this life August 10th, age 43 years.
 Mr. Carroll had been a resident of Wichita Falls for several years. He leaves a wife, six children, two brothers, one sister, father and mother, besides other relatives and friends to mourn his death. His oldest daughter, Mrs. C. E. STUBBS of this city. Brothers, E. L. and L. N. Carroll, both of this city, his sister, Mrs. E. C. Brown of Kernes, Texas. He came with his parents to Independence, Washington county in 1879 at which place he was mostly reared; went to school at Baylor University, while Dr. William Carey Crane was president of that institution. He was always present in his class at Sunday school and at the age of seventeen he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, by immersion. Though a mere youth, he lived a consecrated Christian life. He prayed in public, was always a good, obedient boy. His many friends and associates deeply regret to learn of his sad demise.
 Oh, it was so hard to give him up. We miss him so much. May God in his goodness and mercy bless and protect his little children all through life is our prayer.
 A precious one from us is gone,
 A voice we loved is stilled;
 A place is vacant in our home
 Which never can be filled.

TEXAS NATIONAL GUARD HAS FIRST MACHINE GUN PLATOON
By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 5.—The first machine gun platoon to be formed outside the regular army in the United States will be organized by Company A, Texas National Guard of San Antonio. Authorization has been given by the war department, which will furnish modern equipment and it is expected the company will be completed before long. It is said four of the rapid fire will be allotted to the company. Each of the guns weighs about 400 pounds, is easily transported in any kind of country, and fires 400 to 600 shots per minute. It is considered one of the most effective of modern weapons and the company would be especially valuable along the rough Mexican border if trouble should arise.

GERMAN CRUISER SINKS TWO BRITISH STEAMERS
The Karlsruhe Reported Creating Havoc With British Shipping in Caribbean Sea
By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 5.—The German cruiser, Karlsruhe, has engaged and badly disabled the British cruiser, Bristol, off the coast of Haiti, according to H. H. Weissen, a lieutenant of the German army, who arrived here today from Puerto, Colombia, on his way to Germany. He said a Dutch vessel had brought word to Puerto that the Karlsruhe also sank the British cruiser, Glasgow, off the Colombian coast. This, however, was denied by a British official.

The lieutenant also said the Karlsruhe had captured two British steamers, transferred their passengers, crews and stores to the cruiser and then sent the ship to the bottom. After sinking the ship the cruiser sailed to a small island in the Caribbean sea and there landed the people taken from the British ship, leaving them a month's supply of food. The lieutenant said these people may still be on the island.

A cablegram from Liverpool today reported the Karlsruhe had sunk the British freight steamer, Bows Caste, off St. Lucia's island. The passengers and crew of this steamer were saved by the cruiser and landed at Marano.

OPENING RECITAL AT COLLEGE OF MUSIC AND ART
The first recital of the season, and one of the most interesting ever held in the College of Music and Art, was given last night by the younger pupils of Miss Decherd and Miss Slaten. The first part of the program was a demonstration of the method for teaching beginners used in the college. It consisted of technical, tone work, rhythm, sight reading and theory and showed a wonderful system by which an all-round musician can be made in the shortest possible time. At the close of this several pupils, most of whom had studied only two months, played beautifully. It was a surprise to the audience to see how much had been accomplished in such a short time.

Miss Decherd is a teacher of wide reputation who was added to the college faculty last spring. She has already proved her worth and has a large and enthusiastic class of all grades. Miss Slaten demonstrated her ability to teach last year when the splendid progress of her pupils was much commented upon.

Those taking part in this unusual program were: Willie May Tullis, Floriense Horton, Ida Baggett, Payne Fisher, Blanche Berry, Katherine Kilsander, Marvin Bond, Sarah Gardner, Katherine Watts and Lillian Cloislet.

Largest Stock of Millinery Ever Brought to Wichita

Undoubtedly places us in position to ask you to visit the Big Store and inspect this wonderful assortment of high grade merchandise before you make your decision on your new fall outfit

Our stock of ladies' suits, coats and dresses are too varied to attempt a description here, but suffice it to say that no matter what you have decided on, if it's new we have it.

Our Misses' and Children's Ready to Wear Department has that "Get Ready for School look" with the new serge, gingham, madras and Galitea dresses. The new cape coats, rain coats, rain capes, middi and Balkin blouses, Minneapolis "M" and the celebrated Munsing underwear, and those new velvet school hats.

Our Millinery Dept. It has been many seasons since there was such a variance in style in millinery. Formerly it was usually the case that you were compelled to wear either all large hats or on the other hand all small hats, regardless of your choice. This season it is different. You can have one of each either the real small or very large, and our showing of these gives you ample selection. In fact our milliner, Mrs. Ayers, who has spent several seasons in the European markets as buyer for one of the big Eastern millinery houses, is by far one of the best authorities on millinery in the entire Southwest, which fact together with her mammoth stock places us in position to fill your every millinery need, and we very cordially invite you to visit this department this week.

Our Dress Goods Dept. Here we are showing the largest and best assorted stock of all the season's newest weaves in silks, woollens and novelty cottons, ever shown in the city.

New Ribbons This is surely the Ribbon store of Wichita. We have just this past week placed in stock, in addition to our already mammoth ribbon stock over twenty thousand yards of silk and velvet ribbons, thus assuring you of our ability to please you in ribbons.

Send 200 Germans or Two Irishmen, Reads Telegram
"Perhaps the European war is not a subject that should be joked about, but yesterday half dozen Germans and several Irishmen played a joke on one of Dallas' best-known German citizens which will be remembered for some time," says the Dallas Dispatch.

"The jokers sent a fake telegram supposed to be signed by the German consular agent at Galveston."

"Every city of over 100,000 population is expected to raise 200 German volunteers for the German army," the first message read.

"The prominent German looked worried. Thirty minutes later another telegram arrived, saying: 'Why don't you answer telegram of this date?'"

"The prominent German looked very worried. He consulted his friends (the very ones who had sent the message). 'What must I do?' he asked.

"The friends replied: 'Why, sign up yourself and then get busy and let the agent know at once. Surely he is in a hurry.'"

"So the prominent German got busy. He signed as the first volunteer and started out after more names. He returned in a short time and a third telegram was waiting for him. It read: 'Why no answer from telegram of this date? If you can't get 200 Germans, send two Irishmen.'"

"But the Irish jokers are keeping out of the German's way now."

GERMAN AVIATORS HELP ARTILLERY DEPARTMENT
Let Fall Rockets at Night Enabling Artillery to Locate Spots To Be Shelled
By Associated Press.
Paris, Sept. 5.—A wounded infantryman told the Matin correspondent that the German aviators fly over camps at night, and when they can locate a bivouac they let fall a rocket that leaves a long trail of sparks, thus enabling their artillerymen to get the range. Ten minutes after this rocket falls shells begin bursting at the spot.

WOUNDED RUSSIAN TELLS OF FIGHTING IN GALICIA
Russian Infantry Put Austrian Officers Out of Fighting and a Panic Ensued
By Associated Press.
London, Sept. 5.—The Daily Telegraph's Moscow correspondent, describing the fighting in Galicia as given him by a wounded Russian officer, says: "The battle lasted three days. The Austrian left wing with rapid fire guns took the offensive on our right, but our infantry put all of the Austrian officers out of the fighting, thus causing a panic. We then began a general attack and the Austrians hoisted a white flag and surrendered. This happened several times."

"The Austrian machine guns worked well, but the men were unable to endure our bayonet attack. Near Masosce and Lubliu we approached the Austrian position by crawling to within 100 paces of the Austrian line, where we cheered loudly and threw ourselves upon them. The Austrians in the front positions hoisted a white flag, while the others behind them fled, leaving the guns and money chests."

Invigorating to the Pale and Sallow. The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, RICHIE'S KIDNEY PILLS, drives out catarrhs, enriches the blood, and builds up the system.

SOME LEGISLATION
 YES, SURE ENOUGH

EMERGENCY BILL PASSED IN HOUSE UNLIKELY TO BE OF BENEFIT TO FARMER

FARMERS NOT CONSULTED

Everybody Else Heard By Committee Expect Man Bill Ought To Benefit

(By John Gould, Staff Correspondent of The Times).
 Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—The legislature is now fairly on the way towards some emergency legislation, and it bids fair to be some legislation sure enough. The House has passed what is known as the administration bill, after cutting out several of its features. The measure now goes to the Senate where its passage, after some further amendments, seems probable. This prediction is made in line with instructions received by this correspondent some years ago by one of the old time legislative reporters.

"Sit down and figure out just what they ought to do," he said, "and then predict that they'll do just the opposite."

The bill that passed was the least remedial of all the comprehensive measures that were introduced. As set forth in these dispatches last week, it will benefit the bankers, but can hardly be of any real value to the cotton farmers or to the merchants with whom those farmers deal.

Bailey's Address a Feature.

Aside from the cotton legislation, the week's most interesting feature was the speech of Ex-Senator Joe Bailey. He spoke Wednesday night, confining his remarks largely to a discussion of the cotton situation without ever committing himself to any definite, feasible plan.

In Bailey's mind as well as in the minds of many of those who heard him, there was the memory of another occasion over seven years ago, when flushed with victory, he called down the wrath from on high upon those who had opposed him. So different it was Wednesday night. On that memorable night in 1907 Bailey was supreme in the glory of his Austertilt; last Wednesday the stinging memory of his Waterloo defeat at El Paso was all too fresh. Instead of abuse and threats there was mildness and conciliation; the fierce philippic of his 1907 address, when he promised to drive his enemies into the Gulf and wanted to bury them face downward so that the harder they scratched the deeper they would descend—these and similar choice utterances were lacking. When he sought to criticize his enemies, he did so behind the mask of innuendo and insinuation, never in direct terms.

A Pathetic Effort.

There must have been something pathetic about it for his friends, even to the faithful Old Guard on the platform. Bailey spoke with fervor, with energy, even with fire; he brought into play all the forensic finesse of which he is capable; and yet through it all, there sounded a note of pleading, a note of conciliation. One needed but to hear him to be convinced of the complete deadness of Joseph Weldon Bailey so far as Texas politics is concerned. At times he roused his hearers to vociferous applause, occasionally to cheers; but the demonstration was a weak one considering the size of the crowd and very, very different from the frenzied scenes of that night in 1907, celebrated with an oray that is still in a class by itself. Some folks have learned something in seven years.

At one point in his speech, Bailey spoke of what he called his fight with Aldrich. Such a fight he declared was a natural one, because "Aldrich is a Republican of the Republicans while I have been a Democrat without varjableness or shadow of turning, all my life."

Ferguson's Diplomacy.

The ex-senator took one little rap at Ferguson when he uttered a veiled criticism of that nominee's declination of the legislature's invitation to address it. As a matter of fact that act of Ferguson's, so far from lowering him in the esteem of the legislators, rather added to his popularity. Ferguson is growing in favor among the legislative clans to a perceptible degree. His announced reason for declining was that the legislature was too busy, or ought to be too busy to listen to outside oratory. His real purpose probably was that he realized that the invitation was more in the nature of a courtesy than anything else, and that nobody really cared a darn what his views were. Also, Ferguson expects to take a whack at the matter in January when he will cut more ice. At present if he makes any mistakes, they will be on the side of silence, which is an unusual game for a political heopbyte to play. But for that matter there are men who have been in Texas politics for twenty years who could take pointers right now from Sir Jim of Temple. He made friends by his refusal to address the legislature and played the right kind of politics by so doing.

To get back to the warehouse proposition, it may be set down that political considerations will cut more ice in the debate than any such trivial matter as the needs of the cotton farmers. If the senators believe that the passage of the governor's bill would hurt Ferguson any, they will pass it, regardless of its merits which are few or its demerits which are several. The one ray of hope lies in the fact that the interested parties who presented their views so assiduously to the House committee

STAR SPANGLED BANNER CENTENNIAL

BALTIMORE WILL TODAY BEGIN CELEBRATION OF BIRTH OF NATIONAL ANTHEM

WILL SPEND MILLION DOLLARS

Celebration Will Continue Throughout Week and Notables Will Take Part in Program

(By Associated Press).
 Baltimore, Sept. 5.—The festival arranged for the celebration here of the centennial of the birth of the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," and the successful defense of Baltimore at North Point and Fort McHenry, which were the final battles which preceded the treaty of Ghent, will begin tomorrow. The celebration will continue a full week, during which, in addition to the two historical events commemorated, a century of progress will be reviewed. The celebration will represent an outlay of $1,000,000.

Historic Fort McHenry, abandoned as an army post by the Federal Government, has been through the activities of the Centennial Commission, turned over to the city to be used as a public park. Congress recently appropriated $75,000 for the erection on the reservation of a monument to Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The opening of the festival tomorrow will be marked by a sacred concert and special commemorative services in all the churches.

During the week there will be a naval show which will include almost every type of vessel from the frigate Constitution, launched at Baltimore in 1797, to the super-dreadnaught Florida.

Two of the athletic events of the year, the track and field championships of the Amateur Athletic Union, and the Middle States Regatta will be held during the week. Land and water carnivals, military and industrial parades, historical and fraternal society pageants, municipal floral automobile displays, Colonial lawn parties, tournaments, a reproduction of fireworks of the bombardment of Fort McHenry, patriotic meetings, dedications of monuments and tablets and other events will be part of the program.

Through the State Department at Washington foreign nations were invited to participate in the ceremonies. While the war in Europe will prevent many countries from taking part, practically all of the neutral powers have signified their intention of being represented.

The governors of thirty states and the mayors of fifty cities have named delegates to attend the celebration. Among the governors who expect to come to Baltimore are David I. Walsh of Massachusetts; Simeon E. Baldwin of Connecticut; John K. Tener of Pennsylvania; Henry S. Stuart of Virginia; Charles R. Miller of Delaware; Cole L. Blease of South Carolina; Elbert W. Major of Missouri; Edward F. Dunne of Illinois and Joseph M. Carey of Wyoming. Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York will be represented by Adjutant General Henry D. Hamilton and six members of the governor's staff.

The social function of the week will be the military ball at the Fifth regiment armory on First evening when, visiting governors, members of the cabinet, members of the diplomatic corps, and visiting army and naval officers will be the guests of honor.

may not be so active in the upper branch. The House committee heard at length from the farmers or merchants so the latter will have no one to blame but themselves when it is all over. The senators, judging from their discussion of the matter, really know less about the warehouse bill than the representatives if possible. What additional knowledge has been gained by any member of the legislature has been from others than those the bill really ought to benefit.

Another Cheerful Fact.

Another cheerful fact is that whatever this legislature does can be superceded next year, and it is a very safe bet that it will be.

The question of the constitutionality of the administration bill has been raised and some authorities declare the measure in direct conflict with the State's organic law. The House apparently couldn't be bothered about that and went ahead on the "what's the constitution between friends?" basis.

The submission by the governor of additional legislation supposed to be aimed at cotton seed oil companies is classed with other recent political acts of his as designed to bolster up a waning and worthless administration to an extent where the head of that administration may lift his prophesying eyes to Washington, with somewhat better grace. Whatever the need for such legislation may have been it could have waited until January.

Senators Play Politics.

The Senate this week has continued to play politics, with confirmation of the prison commissioners as the excuse. Times have changed, Lucullus, times have changed. The same prohibition senators who fought Colquitt four ways from the jack in the regular session are now lined up almost solidly trying to confirm Colquitt's nominations while the anti-senators are opposing them on Ferguson's account. Persons far less astute and far-seeing than the anti-senators know that Ferguson's star is in the ascendant and that Colquitt's is about to set. There are some things simple enough for even a state senator to understand.
