ALLIES NOW FORCING BACK GERMANS EAST OF PARIS

BIG GERMAN ARMY IS IN CRITICAL SITUATION RUSSIANS AND AUSTRIANS IN DESPERATE BATTLE

Flanked And Fronted Fresh English And French Troops It Is Being Pushed Back

GERMANS AT DISADVANTAGE

Invaders Losing Ground And Being Repulsed While Allies Have Fallen Back Nowhere

By Associated Press.

Paris, 3:19 p. m., Sept. 8.—An official communication issued here this afternoon says the left wing of the allies comprising French and English troops continues to make progress. The advance reaches from the banks of the river Ourck into the region of Mont Mirail.

The Germans are retiring in the direction of the Marne river between Meaux and Sezanne.

French and English troops engaged in the battle now in progress east of Paris have taken numerous prisoners including a detachment of infantry and a company operating rapid fire guns. They captured many gun carriages.

Near Vitry the movement of retirement is confined on the German side.

On the French right a German division attacked on the axis of Chateau-Salina and Nancy but was repulsed to the northward. Violent encounters have occurred on the French center between Fere Champenoise and Vitry le Francois at the southern point of the forest of Argenne.

The French have fallen back nowhere. The Germans have lost ground.

Paris is optimistic and even the long German march through the entire Cartigny country does not shake confidence in the outcome. The German's famous turning movement has finally resulted in a battle formation that puts their own rights into jeopardy as yesterday's advance on the allies proves.

Meager information obtainable indicates that the army of Paris must now be acting as an independent force and that it is free to menace the communication of the enemy.

Brief news from wounded indicates the allies gained a distinct success on their left, the Germans suffering greatly while trying to cross river Marne. As fast as pontoons were thrown across the French three-inch guns demolished them before they could be utilized. The wounded are coming here by tramway.

General opinion this morning was that the allies may lose the battle and still make the siege of Paris difficult, while if the Germans lose, the situation of their entire army in France will be perilous.

Paris, 2:15 p. m., Sept. 8.—According to reliable advices here Russian cavalrymen are now upon the crest of the Carpathian mountains.

INVADERS MEET FIRST DECISIVE CHECK-- ALLIES GAIN DECISIVE VICTORY AGAINST GERMANS--LETTERS MOVE PUZZLING

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 8.—One of the most important battles of the war continues today east of Paris along the allies' line from Nanteuil to Verdun.

The Germans in their turning movement have swept through the entire Compeigne country and five German columns are now hurling their strength against the allies' front, which extends 150 miles.

Meager news indicated the allies gained a decided success against the German right wing which suffered heavily attempting to cross the River Marne.

A report passed by French and British censors says 250,000 Russian troops have landed in France presumably to flank the Germans in Belgium.

In the eastern war theatre the army which for three days has been desperately trying to break through the Russian line between Lublin and Kohim, Petrograd reports continued Russian successes. On the other hand Berlin advices says the Austrian eastern army repulsed a violent Russian attack on Russian territory in Russian Poland.

Balkan reports say Turkey is concentrating 80,000 men along Tchatalja lines about 25 miles outside the capital to oppose a possible Russian landing on the Black Sea.

The cautious tone of official communications from France indicate the allies forward movement may be only a feeler to ascertain the reason for the strange eastern swing of the German right. This unexpected swing caused a readjustment of the allies' line. The German movement was discovered so promptly by allies' aeroplanes that abundant time was given for the readjustment.

It is evident the Germans have now before their wedge like advance the veterans of the allies' wing which went through a terrible battering in northern France. The ranks of the veterans have been reinforced by British troops who recently passed through Paris. Another advantage of the allies is the fact that their flanks are protected by the great fortresses of Paris and Verdun while in the German rear Maubeuge is still held by the French, notwithstanding the fall of three of its fortresses.

The Chronicle's Paris correspondent and military expert says:

"The world's great puzzle today is the disappearance southward of the German host which swept down upon Paris from northern France."

"The German aim may be to reach the southern and less strongly fortified side of Paris, but I think it is a larger and bolder movement."

"The Chronicle's Paris correspondent and military expert says:

"First—To get out of reach of the Belgians."

"Second—To keep as far as possible from the increasing British forces."

"Third—To immobilize the army of Paris."

"Fourth—To reduce the length of the line of communication and recover direct touch."

"Fifth—To smash the other French armies."

"Sixth—When the German armies are united, to be able to march directly on either Berlin or Paris as circumstances direct."

"The present eastward movement apparently is to unite the three German armies. It probably means the German abandonment of Belgium but it immediately threatens the French army before the Vosges with a rear attack."

"In the east the Russian General Ruzsky's tactics have been checked by the strong fortress of Przemysl but this delay will not prevent the general forward movement of Russian forces along the border from Tiltit to Lemberg. The Russian's consider it necessary, however, to capture it so the Austrians will have no stronghold left in Galicia."

"Remarkable reports continue to arrive on the speed of General Ruzsky's campaign. His soldiers slept an average of only three hours nightly and marched 35 miles each. It is evident from Petrograd reports that the Austrians expected to make a long resistance at Lemberg, having accumulated there stores enough for a year. These stores enable them to quicken their campaign without waiting for their own transport trains."

Berlin Reports a Russian Repulse On Russian Territory By Austro-Germans

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 8.—The Russia's embassy here today issued the following official bulletin from Petrograd:

"On Sept. 5 our troops took the strong fortress Mikolavi on the Dnieper river. The moats of the works were covered by a flanking fire, the artillery fire was from steel cupolas and the entire works were surrounded by a triple line of wire entanglement. We took forty guns and a large store of supplies."

"In northern Galicia serious fighting is going on at Rawa, Russia. The first Austrian army which has been advancing toward Lublin and Holm is retreating before our troops. We are taking prisoners, guns and ammunition. In one field hospital we captured 5,000 Austrian soldiers ill of dysentery which is sweeping through the Austrian troops."

"In East Prussia only skirmishing is taking place."

STRONG AUSTRIAN FORCE SOUTH OF LEMBERG CAPTURED

By Associated Press. Paris, 1:10 p. m., Sept. 8.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Petrograd says that the strong Austrian force at Nicolaies and Mikolajow in Galicia, about twenty-five miles southwest of Lemberg, were captured by Russians Sept. 5.

Russians Everwhere Victorious Are Attempting To Annihilate Big Austrian Army

By Associated Press.

Paris, Sept. 8, 3:25 p. m.—The Austrian fortifications at Micoalieso have been captured by Russians. These fortifications have enormous strategic importance.

The city is at the intersection of the railroad lines leading into the Carpathian country. This city is about twenty-five miles southwest of Lemberg and was protected by armored gun turrets and three lines of fortifications.

The Austrians retreating from the town abandon their guns and military stores. The Russians took many prisoners and more than fifty guns. They are pursuing the Austrians southward.

GENERAL RUZSKY ATTEMPTING TO ANNIHILATE AUSTRIANS

By Associated Press.

London, Sept. 8.—A dispatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Co. says:

"A telegram from Vienna says that General Ruzsky who after the capture of Lemberg made a flank attack northward against the Austrian General Auffenberg is today engaged in a desperate attempt to annihilate Auffenberg's army. The battle already has continued three days and is likely to continue several days longer."

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 8.—Rheims was occupied September 5 by a small German patrol of six officers and seven privates, according to a wireless message today from Berlin to the German embassy.

The message declared that when doubtful whether the forts were occupied or not the German captain left a patrol between the forts, rode into the town hall, took formal possession, made the mayor a hostage and awaited the arrival of the German brigade.

MOVEMENT TO RELIEVE COTTON DISTRESS LAUNCHED

BUY A BALE MOVEMENT AND COTTON WAREHOUSE WELL UNDER WAY

CONCERTED ACTION

Meetings Are To Be Held Over County and Wind Up With Mass Meeting Here

With the calling of a mass meeting to start the "buy a bale" movement and the preliminary organization of a company to build a cotton warehouse, steps to relieve the cotton situation in this section are well under way. With these two principal relief measures, and several lesser ones, it is believed that Wichita county's bumper cotton crop can be profitably marketed this fall. The Chamber of Commerce endorsed the plan to reopen the cotton exchanges at New York and New Orleans.

The "buy a bale" mass meeting will be held Saturday afternoon, following a meeting of farmers. It is hoped to have farmers from all over Wichita county and parts of Clay and Archer counties, in attendance, as well as a big representation of business men.

A total of $1900 was subscribed this morning at a meeting of Chamber of Commerce directors toward the organization of a $5000 company to erect a warehouse here, in accordance with the plan outlined at Saturday's meeting. A corporation will be formed and charter secured. Plans for the warehouse building are being viewed by a committee this afternoon.

Private Moves For Relief. Among the private moves being made to relieve the situation are the reported determination of a local cotton man to erect a warehouse here with room for 10,000 bales, the plan of August Bevering of Charlie to erect a warehouse in which to store cotton of his tenants, advancing them $30 a bale on it, and the decision of a bank at Byers to advance $30 per bale to Clay county farmers.

Farmers' meetings are to be held at Countyline, near Electra, Wednesday at 4 o'clock; at Burkburnett, Thursday at 3 o'clock and at Charlie Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A similar meeting will be held here Saturday afternoon and it will be followed by a general mass meeting at which it is expected to organize a "buy a bale" club. The farmers' meetings will be held to discuss the situation and see what steps can be taken for relief of existing conditions.

Buy a Bale Move. The "buy a bale" idea will be developed along the lines set forth in The Times Monday afternoon and judging from the expressions heard at the Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting, it will receive hearty support. Practically all of those present announced their intention to buy one or more bales and Wiley Blair said that he expected a large number of the employees of his firm who were able to do so, to buy bales. Mr. Kemp pointed out that there was more than mere sentiment back of the idea and that there were good reasons for believing that those who held the cotton until next year would profit by it. It was the consensus of opinion that everything possible should be done to induce the farmers to curtail their cotton acreage next year.

P. H. Pennington suggested that members write to northern wholesalers and jobbers with whom they did business, asking them to buy as much cotton as possible, and this idea met with favor. It was pointed out that there were a number of big firms in St. Louis and Chicago to whose interest it would be to see the crop profitably sold and who should be willing to help in the movement.

Warehouse Committee Report. When the directors convened Howard Hines of the warehouse committee reported that plans were being considered for the warehouse building and that a decision would be reached on this point shortly. Mr. Kell outlined the plans for the organization of the warehouse company, saying it was proposed to incorporate for $5000 with half of this paid in. He believed that the matter could be handled very largely on credit, and while he could not say so definitely, he believed that the receipts for storage would recompense the subscribers in a short time.

A total of $1900 was quickly raised among the directors and a committee consisting of J. C. Ward, J. B. Marlow, Howard Hines and J. L. McConkey was appointed to raise the remainder.

Ask Exchanges To Reopen.

Mr. Kell then moved that the directors send telegrams to the presidents of the cotton exchanges at New York and New Orleans, urging them to re-arrange for reopening at the earliest possible moment. He said that while many people believed that the effect of speculation on cotton and other commodities was bad, he had become convinced that it was for the best. Without the speculative interest, he declared, wheat would be thirty cents below its present market price. His motion prevailed.

Directors present were: C. W. Bean, who presided; Frank Kell, J. A. Kemp, Wiley Blair, P. H. Pennington, J. C. Ward, T. B. Nobe and A. J. Huey.

HAVE AIRCRAFT FAILED? WHERE IS THEIR ALARMING POWER

(By J. H. Phillips in Dallas Dispatch.) Paris, France, Sept. 7.—Where is the "terrible destructive power" of aeroplanes that the whole world feared? Aeroplanes and Zeppelins have proved useful to a certain extent in the present conflict, but the horrible death-dealing predictions made for them in the "next great war" have so far proved absurd.

The "next great war" has come and aircraft just don't seem able to keep from being destroyed. They haven't blown up any cities; they haven't killed people by the thousands; they really haven't done any serious damage.

Their pilots are shot by ordinary rifles up to the height of 1500 feet; the whole craft has been sent crashing to earth by the larger guns; and even when some intrepid aviator does succeed in dropping a bomb into a town it usually kills only a few and does comparatively slight damage.

Further, the operations of the aerial wing of the armies have never been secret from the foe and, on secrecy depends their greatest efficiency.

They have proved practical to at least this revolutionary extent, that neither side any longer has it in its power to keep its movements covered from the enemy.

On the other hand, not all the secrets of each side are revealed to the enemy by means of this aerial reconnaissance. On the contrary, it is plain that in this campaign, though airships as well as aeroplanes have frequently been used at much lower altitudes than was believed in peace time to be the minimum necessary—3,000 feet, 5,000 to 6,000 for aeroplanes—even so those on board such craft have been unable to make out the exact details of what they saw below.

Of course, the rush of wind and the noise of the engine make the aerial scout utterly oblivious to any sounds on the earth below. His rate of travel is such that none save the speedily trained eye is able to appreciate the details of human movements below, far less to detect their significance, or which is friend and which is foe.

It is one thing to travel midair over the enemy's country and quite another to gain by that means any information of a reliable character for the assistance of the army behind one.

Several correspondents express the opinion that aircraft in the present war are at such a vast height that the observers aboard them can not carry away any information worth having.

Neither do the bombs—and not a great many can be carried—always alight on the buildings or regiments at whom they are projected. Flying thousands of feet above the earth the aviator may launch his bomb at an aimed spot because of wind currents the missile will not drop within a quarter of a mile of the place. Even rifleshots aim would be erratic from that great height—and when the aviator does not remain at a safe height it usually means he will come down to earth a corpse, buried under the wreckage of his machine.

However, regardless of the apparent failure of the machines so far, aviation experts still hold to the belief that great work will yet be accomplished in the present war. Anyway, the war will greatly develop aerial navigation—much quicker than peace.

England remains supreme on the high seas. The English cotton mills are still running. The world needs cotton clothing as much as ever. Texas is picking a record breaking crop. Why should there be pessimism?

Some millions of European working-men were engaged yesterday in an attempt to take the lives of each other, while in American many millions of laboring men celebrated the achievements of organized labor. On one side of the ocean the laborers are organized for slaughter and destruction; on the other side for production. Is it any wonder that so many are anxious to get to this side?

Mr. Ferguson learned, possibly to his disappointment if not chagrin, that he did not wield the same influence over the senate as he did over the El Paso convention. He strenuously opposed the confirmation of Governor Colquitt's appointment as penitentiary commissioner, but the senators could not see this way clear to follow his advice. The governor to be is yet to learn that the executive office is not a bed of roses by any means. Denison Herald. It would seem to The Times that if a new governor is to be held responsible for his administration, he should not be embarrassed to start off with appointees holding such important commissions or positions who were placed there by the outgoing governor. But it's none of our affair. Governor Colquitt, no doubt, is of the opinion that Mr. Ferguson owes his election to him, and therefore takes upon himself the right to make appointments that will not expire for two years at least.

Ex-Senator Joseph W. Bailey addressed the Legislature of Texas by invitation Wednesday night. Joseph W. Bailey is quite a different man from the Senator Joseph W. Bailey who addressed the Legislature six years ago, and he made a very different speech. Six years ago he poured out his wrath upon his enemies and regretted that he could not find more epithets to heap upon them. Wednesday night he was calm, logical and tolerant. Time has mellowed Joe Bailey and he is no longer a fire-eater. He discussed the fundamentals of Democracy Wednesday night and made an able defense of Democratic principles. He made the announcement that he does not want to run for the senate, but that he will do so if no other candidate makes the race upon a real Democratic platform.

From the above we judge that Ex-Senator Bailey is only holding off long enough to find out whether Senator Culberson will offer for re-election. If Mr. Culberson runs, then he will not. But if Culberson decides that he has had enough of public life and wants to retire, then we may reasonably expect Mr. Bailey to be a candidate, and he will prove a strong one.

The Houston Post has started a "Buy a Bale of Cotton Now" scheme, that, if it works, will go a long way towards relieving the present low price of cotton. The plan of the Post is that every citizen of Texas who is able, invest in a bale of cotton now and hold it off the market for one year. Of course, it can hardly be expected that each of the nearly four million people of Texas will take its advice, but even if only about 100,000 bales are held off the market for one year by that plan, it will help a whole lot. There are at least 500 people in Wichita Falls and Wichita county who can well afford to make an investment of that kind. There is not much chance, if any at all, of losing anything. The chances are that the bales of cotton that are bought now will sell next year at a nice profit.

A good many have asked how it is that The Times is able to print the same war news that appears in the next morning's Fort Worth and Dallas papers. Of course, it has been observed that the afternoon papers always have much of the news that is carried in the morning papers the following day, but in war news especially, the afternoon papers have been covering the operation in advance of the morning papers. It isn't legerdemain or even superior news-reporting that enables the afternoon papers to do this. Battles, like most other work, are fought in the daytime. The European day is ended by noon here. When it is press time in The Times building it is ten o'clock at night in Berlin and Paris. An efficient news service such as The Times has in the great Associated Press can report practically all the developments of the day before The Times goes to press. That's the reason The Times has the news ahead of the Fort Worth and Dallas morning papers.

THOSE ALLEGED GERMAN ATROCITIES

Five American newspaper men of the highest repute have made investigations with the German army to learn whether they are practicing the atrocities of which they have been charged in Belgium and France. These five men are: Roger Lewis, of the Associated Press; I. S. Cobb, of the Saturday Evening Post; Harry Hansen, Chicago Daily News; and James O'Donnell, Bennett and John T. McCutcheon of the Chicago Tribune. These men have sent from Berlin a report to the Associated Press which follows in part: In spirit we unite in rendering German atrocities groundless as far as we are able to. After spending two weeks with and accompanying the troops upward of 100 miles we are unable to report a single instance unprovoked. We also are unable to confirm rumors of mistreatment of prisoners or of non-combatants with the German columns. This is true of Louvain, Brussels, Luneville and Nantois, while in Prussian hands. In addition, they say they visited Chateau Seldre, Sambre and Beaumont "without substantiating a single war-torn brutality. Everywhere we have seen Germans paying for purchases and respecting property rights, as well as according civilians every consideration."

These men are trained investigators, and would likely have discovered atrocities in there had been such. Their names are guarantees that they would not misrepresent conditions. All should be glad to learn that the Germans have not been guilty of the horrible deeds attributed to them.

LABOR DAY

There never was a time when it was more propitious to pay homage to Labor and its mighty achievements. We behold by far the great majority of the Caucasian race at war—utilizing the energy and intelligence of more than 200,000,000 people in the work of destruction, the result of which will not contribute one atom of good to the human race or the cause of Christian civilization. Labor's victories are real. They constitute a benediction. They are a revelation for the moral and spiritual happiness of mankind. War's victories make for woe, for poverty, for oppression, for homelessness, for the destruction of the innocent, for the revel of brutish passions.

Labor makes for love, it marks the progress of man's journey to the higher things of life. Labor is a builder of homes; war reduces them to ashes. Labor plants the vine that clambers over the cottage door, in which the waiting wife and children stand to greet the toiler's return from the tasks of the day; war kills the toiler, burdens the wife with grief and starves the children.

Labor is honesty and fidelity; war is pillage and treachery. Labor is virtue; war is a ravasher of the defenses. Labor is truth; war is deceit. Labor is life and faith and hope; war is murder, frenzy and despair. Labor makes the fields glad with golden grain, and the birds to sing in the joy that animates all nature; war leaves the earth desolate while vultures sit in solemn silence contemplating the scarred and broken landscape. Labor is altogether good and it blazes man's pathway to heaven; war is evil and marks the road to ruin and death. We see all these things today. We look about us in our own country, and behold the fruitful harvests. It is a land of plenty. On every side we behold the wonderful results of labor. Our harvest fields, our great shops, our wonderful cities, our churches and schools, our cattle on a thousand hills —all these testify to labor's worth, they constitute labor's benediction. One hundred millions of people at peace with the world and striving to build better and better every day and every year.

And across the water in the land of our ancestors see what war is doing. Think of those tens of thousands of gallant men who have fallen in France, Belgium, Germany, Austria and Russia. Think of the hundreds of thousands of humble homes waiting anxiously for footsteps that will never, never return; think of the thousands of blackened spots from which ascend the smoke of ruined habitations. Think of the danger of women and children, think of the cities destroyed, and of the rivers sending a crimson tide to the sea! Surely the comparison will give to each of us a keener appreciation of the great boon human labor is. Surely, we must have a truer realization of its dignity. Let those frivolous ones who are prone to look upon honest labor as uncouth and beneath one's respect give a thought to labor today and contemplate what a truly great blessing it is, and how much nobler it is than the emptiness and worthlessness of indolence. Labor is a king at whose shrine all men may pay tribute—all other kings, kaisers, czars and emperors are as nothing compared with the true monarch of Christian civilization whose throne has been sanctified and blessed by the great God Himself.—Houston Post.

HIGHER LEAGUE TRYOUTS FOR FORMER WICHITANS

Several former Wichita Falls players, who were on last year's team in the Texas-Oklahoma League, are to have trials with higher leagues next year. Scroggins, the left handed pitcher who was drafted by Chicago last year and farmed to Lincoln, Neb., this season, has been recalled by the White Sox after a very successful season in Nebraska. As this is only Scroggins' second season as a league player, his career will be watched with interest.

Leo Nevett, third baseman of the old Drillers, goes to the Bloomington, Ill., team in the Illinois-Indiana League. Nicholson who played first base for the Drillers and who has been used in the outfield by Hugo, goes to the St. Louis Americans as an outfielder. He has been hitting the ball hard this season and this, coupled with his exceptional speed, makes him look good.

Bobby Myers has been paying in New England this season, he is still the property of the Cleveland Americans who are expected to give him another try out. Walter Brown, center fielder, played with Fort Worth in the Texas League after the Texas-Oklahoma season ended and may land a permanent Panther berth.

SEYMOUR MEMORIAL BEFORE THE HOUSE

BAYLOR COUNTY CITIZENS WANT LAW AMENDED AND ADJOURNMENT

IS GIVEN SCANT COURTESY

By Vote of 44 to 38 House Refused To Have Memorial Printed in Journal

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 8.—The House emergency bonded warehouse bill as amended and passed in the Senate was returned to the House today but that body will not vote today on the question of concurrence. The question went over until tomorrow. Meanwhile the House ordered the Senate's amendments printed in the Journal. Representative Dove who favors the bill said he considered the Senate's amendments weakened the bill. Representative Humphrey sent up a memorial from Seymour citizens protesting against the passage of the emergency warehouse bill and urging the legislature to amend the present warehouse law and adjourn. By a vote of 38 to 44 the House refused to have this memorial printed in the Journal.

The House adopted the Senate concurrent resolution to buy a bale of cotton. Another resolution was adopted requesting Emmett Finnegan, president of the State Equal Franchise Association to address the House. The House federal relations committee favorably reported the Dove resolution memorializing Congress for its law depositing government funds in Texas banks to be loaned on cotton certificates. It also endorses the Henry bill now pending in Congress. The Dove resolution was under discussion when the House recessed until 3 o'clock.

The Senate today passed finally the Wiley warehouse bill by a vote of 29 to 4 and it was sent to the House. This is the bill for individual ownership of warehouses. The Darwin warehouse bill which amends the warehouse law also was passed finally. The Lattimore bill was killed by Senator Lattimore himself who moved to defer its consideration until September 23. There is a strong disposition by the Senate to adjourn sine die on that day. The Senate adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow without acting on the Astin bill.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—September wheat sold down four cents shortly after the opening today on reports that the allies at last were meeting some success in opposing the German advance. Other options also declined. September wheat which closed Saturday at $1.19 1/2 opened at $1.16 1/2 and sold off to $1.15 3/8. The volume of trade was not large.

BERLIN REPORTS REPULSE OF RUSSIAN ATTACK

Washington, Sept. 8.—The German embassy today received the following message: "A column under command of the Austrian General Kestranek advancing with the eastern German force under General Dankl on Russian territory repulsed a violent attack of Russians and captured 600 Russian prisoners. In the south the Servians tried near Nitrovieks to break into Croatian territory. About 5000 Servians were taken prisoners and much war material has been captured."

WORKMAN AT NEW ELEVATOR IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Fred Guisser, an employe at the Wichita Mill & Elevator Company's new elevator, was seriously injured this morning at 4 o'clock when the elevator on which he was descending got out of control and made a sheer drop of about fifteen feet with him in it. He was descending from the top and had gotten within about fifteen feet of the ground when something broke. Immediately he applied the brake to avert the accident but the brake, too, refused to respond and the "cage" hit the ground with a crash. Guisser's jaw was painfully fractured, his right shoulder was dislocated and it is thought that he is internally injured. His ankle was dislocated and his injuries rendered him unconscious. He was taken to the Wichita Sanitarium, where he has been all day. The injured man has a wife and one or two children living in the city.

Fire destroyed a part of the roof of the house at the corner of Fifth and Seymour streets at about 10:30 o'clock this morning. It caught from the flue, but it had not gotten much headway when the fire department arrived upon the scene. The hose was not required to extinguish the fire, thirty-five gallons of chemical extinguisher being used instead. The damage to the roof will amount to about $10.

A special term of the district court will be held here, lasting one week, beginning September 21. THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

Tee Up! Smoke Up!

As satisfying as the sounding smack of the perfect drive, is the open-air relish of the perfect smoke—Tuxedo. Both go together, too. When you grab your bag and start for the links, grab up your tin of Tuxedo and take it along.

"Follow through" the snappy afternoon with Tuxedo. Put Tuxedo in your pipe and you will "put" the best. And at "the nineteenth hole" rest up and relax with a good, solid smoke of Tuxedo. That's the advice of good golfers everywhere.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

It's worth your while to try Tuxedo. Especially if a sensitive tongue prevents pipe smoking.

Tuxedo positively cannot bite—not even if you smoke pipeful after pipeful, as many as you can crowd into a day or a week.

Tuxedo is made of only the finest, choicest, selected leaves of perfectly aged Burley tobacco. It is made by the original "Tuxedo Process" which removes every trace of bite and sting and develops all the wonderful mildness, fragrance and flavor of the Burley Leaf in a way that no other brand of tobacco has ever successfully imitated.

Ignorance of the law is no excuse to the lawbreaker in court. Ignorance is no excuse for neglect of your children. Fifty per cent of the blindness caused by the separation of the retina (the sight-seeing membrane within the eye) occurs in people who are near-sighted. Many of the headaches of children and others are the result of eye-strain, caused by the attempt of the delicate eye muscles to overcome the defect. This overtaxing of them strains the eye muscles, then the letters blur and run together, the child feels tired and the eyes pain or headache follows.

Do not neglect your children's eyes.

Ladies First

You have heard this expression many, many times. Not alone since the Titanic's fatal accident, but ever since you can remember. It is the ladies that start the largest per cent of the Civic improvements. Ladies for the parks, for the children's playgrounds, for our churches and schools and for our own cemeteries. The last named would be sadly neglected indeed if it were not for the good women of this country. About one man in twenty cares anything about their beauty or upkeep. On the other hand a very small per cent of the plots are neglected if left to our good women.

We are anxious to help you continue this good work.
