TERRELL SPEAKS AGAINST BANK BILL

HOLDS FLOOR ALL MORNING IN OPPOSITION TO MEAS-URE

CALLS IT POPULISTIC IDEA

Says Plan to Keep Half of Bank Reserves Would Destroy Their Credit

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 5.—At today's session of the House meeting at 9:30
Speaker Terrell occupied the floor all morning in a speech opposing the bank of Texas bill. He said the governor "borrowed the idea from the People's Party." He also declared that the assistant attorney general who wrote the bill was chairman of the People's Party in 1892. Mr. Terrell said:

"The only demand, so far as I am advised, for the passage of this bill is that the executive demands that the legislature pass it at this session." Terrell said that the purpose clause is large enough not only for one bill but for a new revision of the statutes.

Mr. Terrell said that at the last election one candidate for governor advocated a state bank, but that the governor's own friends and supporters did not favor it. Mr. Terrell also pointed out that no Democratic platform has ever incorporated a plan which would authorize the loaning of the school fund not otherwise invested upon lands at a low rate of interest. Mr. Terrell said the effect of one of the provisions in the proposed bill would require state banks to keep one-half of their reserve in the bank of Texas and that this would destroy the credit of the state banks.
He was still speaking when the House adjourned for lunch at 12.

The Senate after a brief session joined the House to hear the speaker's speech.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION INDORSES LAUNDRY STRIKE

Wichita Falls Local No. 505 of the International Typographical Union at its meeting yesterday adopted resolutions of sympathy with the striking laundry workers and elected a delegate to the State Printers Council which meets in Fort Worth next Tuesday and Wednesday. W. C. Russell was delegate and C. D. Willard as

In the resolution of sympathy with the laundry workers it was resolved:
That Wichita Falls Typographical Union No. 505 individually and collectively pledge the support of the membership to the laundry workers in their fight to sustain the principles of that organization, and of unionism,
and that this support shall in all respects embody all that the word implies, both of a moral and financial nature, if the latter be required, and shall include a refusal to patronize
any and all laundries refusing to sign a union contract and the patronage of those who are out so long as they may solicit business for themselves.

the northern portion of Texas are menaced by the prevalence of stable flies, according to reports received by the attack animals in such numbers that plowing is seriously interfered with.

Agriculture Kone to investigate. It was

SEVERE FIGHTING IN ANTWERP SIEGE

GERMANS APPARENTLY TRYING TO BREAK THROUGH WITH-OUT DELAY

OUTER FORTS LITTLE DAMAGED

Belgians Apparently Withstanding Assault Successfully—Clever Ruse
Is Adopted

By Associated Press.
London, Oct. 5.—The Antwerp Daily Telegraph correspondent under date
of Saturday says:
"The Germans continue their desperate efforts to capture Antwerp.
They are in a hurry to accomplish it, pounding away unceasingly with their artillery and flinging their infantry
forward in a frantic effort to break through. Their losses have been enormous. Their killed are estimated as high as 8000.

"The Belgians adopted a clever ruse at Waelhem; after bombardment had lasted several hours the forts ceased to reply, whereupon the German officers, thinking it out of action, ordered the infantry to advance in close formation. The Belgian gunners waited until they could see the shingles of the Germans' eyes and then opened a murderous fire. Thus far the forts in the outer ring of Antwerp's defense have suffered little harm from the bombardment.

"The German's big guns are not being worked by regular soldiers but by men in citizens' clothing who wear
only an armband to indicate their military occupation. Undoubtedly these men are employees of the Krupp factory hastily summoned to replace losses among the regular gun layers.
For the heaviest German guns, foundations of reinforced concrete have been prepared."

FRENCH WORKING HARD TO GAIN REAR OF GERMANS

Letter Unable To Cross River Meuse
—French Confidently Await Decision of Battle

By Associated Press.
London, Oct. 5.—A Bordeaux dispatch to the Times says:
"The Germans soon may have cause to regret the success of the movement which carried them to St.
Mihiel and to the banks of the Meuse.
While their engineers are making unavailing efforts to bridge the river again, the French are working step by step toward their rear. The balance of the days and nights of exhaustion in dripping trenches, and of dashing bayonet charges, gallant cavalry actions and obstinate bombardments is about to be struck.
France awaits the end of the three weeks struggle with confidence."

WILLIAM BROWN, COTTON SPECULATOR, DEAD TODAY

Spectacular Figure in Bull Movement of 1910 Succumbs at New Orleans

By Associated Press.
New Orleans, La., Oct. 5.—William
P. Brown, a widely known cotton man, died today. He had been ill for some time. Mr. Brown had been connected with some of the most spectacular operations in the history of the New York and New Orleans
cotton exchanges. He usually operated with Eugene Scates, James Patten and Frank H. Haynes. Activities of this group in the 1910 cotton crop were taken up by the government with the result that the four bull operators were indicted. Patten pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiring to monopolize the commodity that year and paid a fine of $4000. The pleas of the others of nolle contendere
were accepted sometime later. Mr.
Brown was fifty-three years old. Although he had been ill some time he took to his bed only two weeks ago
with congestion of the lungs.

COTTON INSTEAD OF JUTE PLANNED FOR POSTAL USE

Bureau Is Investigating With View
To Changing Variety of Twine
Now In Use

By Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 5.—Whether the postoffice department shall change its long established custom of using jute twine for cotton cord is to be decided by a committee of postal experts as a result of investigation. In announcing this today Postmaster General Burleson said that he believed that owing to the high price of jute
and the demand for this year's cotton crop being curtailed because of the war the government should make every effort to use cotton products wherever possible. Enormous quantities of cotton twine are used annually by the postoffice department.

GERMANY CLAIMS BREACH IN ANTWERP'S OUTER LINE

To Begin Attack On Inner Forts
And City—Successes Claimed
In Russian Campaign

By Associated Press.
Berlin, via wireless to Sayville, Oct. 5.—An official report from German army headquarters says that in the siege of Antwerp the forts of Lierre, Weillhem and Koningshoyckt and the intermediate redoubts with thirty guns have been taken. The reports says:
"Thus a breach has been made in the outer circle of forts rendering an attack on the inner circle of forts and the town itself possible.

"Near Augustowa the Third Siberian and parts of the Twenty-second Russian army corps comprising the east wing of the Russian army, on crossing the Nieman river, were defeated after a furious battle lasting two days. More than 2000 unwounded Russians were made prisoners and a large quantity of guns and machine guns was captured."

Other official reports follow:
"Native troops from British India which recently landed at Marsailles have left that port for the northward.

"British ships have arrived at Lisbon and are probably destined to transport Portuguese troops.
Portugal's cooperation in the war is imminent, the mobilization of the Portuguese forces, it is believed, having been ordered on the demand of the British government.

"The Roumanian crown prince has been strongly rebuked for his russophile agitation. The leaders of the Roumanian party have declared in favor of continuing the neutrality policy of the Roumanian government. A manifesto by the Roumanian socialist party assumes that the neutrality of the country will be preserved.

"The government of the Netherlands has strengthened the Dutch force along the frontier districts to disarm Belgian troops when the latter cross the frontier from Antwerp.

"The leader of the American government commission sent to Germany on the cruiser Tennessee to prepare the return of American tourists
sent a letter highly praising the German nation and thanking them for innumerable proofs of kindness.

"Russia is issuing $375,000,000 in unsecured
notes."

This wireless statement, direct from Berlin, indicates the activity of the London censorship as it is the first message with the official claim that three of the forts at Antwerp have been reduced. The fact that such a claim had been made was betrayed by a reference made to it in a general summary of the war situation from London last night, showing that the German official announcement had been received in London although it was not permitted to reach the United States textually.

CONGRESS' ADJOURNMENT ON OCTOBER 15 PROBABLE

No Extra Session in November Is Now Contemplated, Says President Wilson

By Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 5.—Outlining the legislative program for the remainder of the session, President Wilson today told callers that no extra session in November is contemplated.
He said the war tax bill, Clayton antitrust bill and Alaska coal leasing bill will complete important work for the present session. October 15 is the date tentatively agreed upon for adjournment.

Asked about threats by Representative Henry of Texas to fight against adjournment until cotton relief measures are passed the president said that the membership of the House will decide when to adjourn. The Rayburn issue bill probably will go over until the next session.

McADOO SAYS GOVERNMENT CAN'T HELP STATE BANKS

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 5.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo today telegraphed Banking Commissioner Collier that the federal government has no authority to deposit funds in state banks. This answered a wire by Collier to McAdoo on September 28. Mc-Adoo also asked for a summary of the reserves held by state banks in Texas. Mr. Collier had hoped that some means could be found for state banks to obtain federal aid in this emergency.

ALLIES' LEFT IS FORCED TO GIVE GROUND TODAY

Conditions Unchanged Along Rest
Of Line—Effort To Envelop
Von Kluck Continues

By Associated Press.
London, Oct. 5.—The allies have been obliged to give ground at certain points on the western side of the battle line. This was announced in a statement from the French war office at three o'clock this afternoon. The announcement is brief containing only the additional information that the battle continues with violence to the north of the Oise without decisive result and that there is no change on the remainder of the front.

The fact that fighting is in progress about the town of Douai midway between Arras and Valenciennes on the railroad to Mons, was taken in London to show how surely the allies in the northern France have pushed forward the movement
they hope will envelop Von Kluck in a net of steel.
For the past week the Germans, so far as can be ascertained from the facts known here, have been hurling themselves against different points in the allies' line in an effort to discover a weak mesh in the net. At the present, in the opinion of the French commander, General Joffre, the process has gone far enough to justify resumption of offensive movements by the allies.

Apparently the intention now is to attempt something decisive against the German right wing and if possible to end the battle. The series of high lands stretching north and south along the allies' left are the most keys of the battle and a considerable force of allies from the overseas
and elsewhere has been pushed up to secure control of them.

At Soissons the German trenches already the allies' left are master keys of the battle and fight fiercely and are still attacking at this point as elsewhere along the entire line of battle which their latest official report asserts is going in their favor just as confidently as General Joffre maintains the contrary.

In the eastern war theatre, the Germans, according to English observers, are preparing for a period of defense before undertaking the offensive. They are busily engaged between Thorn in East Prussia and Galicia, in entrenching themselves against the Russian hosts gathering on the other side of the frontier. It is calculated there are no fewer than 4,000,000 in this eastern arena
and a repetition of the long and arduous siege battles which have been such a feature of the struggle in France, seems a certainty. Russians continue to push toward Cracow, evidently hoping to get from there to Breslau and then go on stretching their tentacles out southward toward Budapest.

Cossacks are well advanced on the plains of Hungary. Even Budapest admits that they have crossed the River Theiss, which is regarded as one of the main obstacles to their progress. By getting captured, but the Germans continue to the second line leading to the Hungarian capital.
They had already secured the Limberg-Budapest line. The Austrians, however, claim further victory against their smaller enemy invading Bosnia, but are silent about Sarajevo, which Servians and Montenegrins claim to have surrounded.

FINANCIAL RESULT OF WORLD'S SERIES

RECENT YEARS HAVE SEEN BIG SUMS DIVIDED BY THE CLUBS

SPECULATORS REAP HARVEST

General Public Has To Pay Fancy Prices For Seats If It Sees Games at All

New York, Oct. 5.—No clearer or more positive illustration of the extraordinary interest taken by the public in the annual World's Championship Series of baseball games can be desired than that furnished by a glance at the financial results, at statement of which is officially announced at the end of each post-season competition for the coveted title and flag. Through the box office its popularity can easily be measured. Compared with the meagre returns at the initial series in 1884, the enormous crowds registered by the clamoring thousands show that by leaps and bounds the attendance in recent years has assumed such gigantic proportions that there is no telling what it may amount to in years to come.

The first championship games between the Providence Grays and the Metropolitans may have been only lightly attended and there is nothing on record to show what the receipts amounted to for the three games then played, as Providence won three straight. The following year, however, when seven games were played in four different cities, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburg and Cincinnati, the financial result was about $2,000. That year the fight was a hot one between the Chicago Nationals and the American Association Club of St. Louis, and one can hardly imagine what would be the yield just now if such a series were possible over a similar circuit.

Two bits in bleachers. Of course, in those days seats in the bleachers could be had for "two bits," and the best seats in the grand stand brought the top price of half a dollar. Even at those rates there could not have been much enthusiasm, judging from the results. Today, however, prices have soared to such a single admission costs a dollar. Or rather, that is the face value of the little card board and the holder of one of these is considered lucky if it has not cost him more than twice that amount.

In the early days of the World's Series tickets were usually obtained at the regular prices and no one had to worry as to whether he would get his favorite seat for one or all of the games. This easy method of satisfying one's baseball appetite disappeared years ago and fabulous prices are offered for ordinary seats in the stands, not to speak of the immense prices demanded for the exclusive coupes which entitle the possessor to view the games from a comfortable upholstered chair in one of the boxes, of which there are several rows in the newly built stands.

From the moment that the pennant is being fought for a certain club or city the would-be spectator begins to worry as to how he is going to secure a vantage point to see one or more of the contests and the fight for tickets begins. For weeks before the end of the regular season requests are sent for reservations, but it is safe to say that fifty per cent of these result in disappointments. Long lines form in the vicinity of the playing grounds the night before each battle and fancy prices are given to the persons who await their turn in these files for the result of their long vigil. The big prices that are paid for tickets in this way do not increase the receipts so far as the players or clubs are concerned, as the box office returns are not influenced by the exorbitant amount asked, in fact demanded, by the holder of the choice coupon.

Receipts in Early Games. In 1887 when Detroit and St. Louis played fourteen games in nearly a dozen cities the receipts amounted to $42,000, about $3,000 a game, which was then considered a large amount. The following year $24,362 was taken in for the ten games played by New York and St. Louis. The first of the Temple Cup Series, 1894, four games were played and average per game was $4,500 at Baltimore and New York. There was a falling off a year later when the Cleveland-Baltimore series of five games realized only $14,750.

In 1902, when the first series was played between the pennant-winning teams of the National and American leagues, eight games brought a little over $50,000. There was no contest in 1904, but a year later there was an advance in prices of admission, and $68,405 was taken in for five games at Philadelphia and New York, but the attendance fell to 91,722 as compared with over 100,000 two years previously. The attendance dropped to 63,000 in 1908 for the Chicago-Detroit series, but the receipts jumped to nearly $95,000.

A marked increase in attendance and receipts was registered in 1909 when 145,295 persons paid $188,302 to see the seven-game series between Pittsburg and Detroit. Philadelphia and Chicago played five games in 1910 before 122,222 persons with gate receipts of $173,980 and this amount was almost doubled the following year when 173,833 persons contributed $216,164 to see the Philadelphia and New York series of six games. This was a mighty big jump, but it was eclipsed in 1912, the banner year for attendance and financial results. The Boston Americans and New York Yankees played eight games, one of them resulting in a tie, that year, and it was estimated that a quarter of a million spectators saw the protracted series, which drew $490,449. This enormous increase was, of course, due to the extra games that were required, but last year when only five games were needed to settle the questioning supremacy between the Giants and Athletics, $325,980 was paid in with an attendance of 161,000. The average receipts per game in 1912 was $61,306, while the average last year was increased to $51,196.

Each of the winning players on the winning side in 1903, the first year that the series was played under the conditions which now prevail, received $1,316.25, and each of the losing players got $1,182. In 1912 the Boston winners received $4,022 each, and the New York losers were handed $2,566 each. Last year each player of the Athletics got a winning portion of $3,246.36, and the losing share for each New York player was $2,164.22.

The basis upon which the World's Series receipts are divided is as follows: The National Commission receives 10 per cent of the receipts of each and every game. The players of the two competing clubs receive 60 per cent of the remaining 90 per cent of the first four games played. The sum is divided, 60 per cent to the winners and 40 per cent to the losers. The remaining 40 per cent of the 90 per cent of the first four games goes to the club owners. 90 per cent of the receipts of every game after the first four becomes the property of the stockholders of the two contesting clubs.

Year	Attendance	Receipts
1904	100,429	$ 50,000
1905	91,723	68,405
1906	59,845	106,550

PEACE SUNDAY OBSERVED IN WICHITA FALLS PULPITS

Prayers Are Offered For Speedy Termination of Present Strife in Europe

"Peace Sunday" was observed in practically all Wichita Falls churches yesterday, pastors heeding President Wilson's proclamation asking that prayers be offered for peace in Europe. fervent petitions were sent up from the local pulpits, that strife between the nations be ended speedily. At the First Presbyterian Church the occasion was observed more elaborately, Dr. McKee having "War" as the subject of his sermon. In the course of his remarks he took occasion to pay President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan a tribute, saying this country owed them that it is not now engaged in the war too. The pastor recounted briefly the causes that led up to the strife, making the point that the war, as a struggle between Anglo-Saxon and Slav on one side and Teutons on the other, was an unnatural one. The time would come, he predicted, when the Moslem religion, as represented by the Slav, must clash with Christianity as represented by the Anglo-Saxon and the Teuton. The congregation sang "America" at the conclusion of the sermon.

PEACEMAKER IS STABBED TRYING TO STOP QUARREL

Twenty-two stitches were required to close the knife wound sustained by Jack McGrath, a pipe line worker, Saturday night when he acted as peacemaker in a quarrel between two of his fellow workers. The cutting took place at the camp near the Fort Worth & Denver tank east of the city. McGrath was cut from his left breast around under his left arm to his back. The young man whom he believes did the cutting left the camp and could not be found when the officers reached the scene. McGrath is a giant of a man. According to his story two of his fellow workers were outside the tent fighting and were causing such a disturbance that nobody could sleep. McGrath went out to separate them but to do so he found it necessary to whip both of them. According to his statement he had run one of them off and was turning his attention to the other when someone attacked him with a knife. He was brought to town where his injury was given attention. He is getting along nicely and will be able to be out soon.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE CAUSE OF SHOOTING

L. RAMSBURGER, SALESMAN, IS SHOT IN ARM SUNDAY MORNING

COUPLE TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Notes Are Found in Room—Near Tragedy Follows Supposed Search For Husband

L. Ramsburger, a traveling shoe salesman who was making his headquarters in Wichita Falls temporarily, was shot in the left arm early Sunday morning and severely but not fatally wounded. His wife was taken into custody following the shooting, which took place between six and seven o'clock Sunday morning at a private residence on Bluff street, where the couple had taken rooms about ten days ago.

A letter found in the room addressed to the people of Wichita Falls and written in a feminine hand, asking that their bodies be shipped to Topeka, Kansas, leads to the belief that the woman probably intended to kill the man and then herself.

The man was shot, it appears, while lying in bed. Saturday night before the shooting the woman had called at the St. James Hotel looking for her husband, whom she said had come downtown to get his salary check cashed and had not returned. She inquired at numerous places downtown for the man, and is said to have spent the entire night hunting for him. She said he had come downtown, telling her that he would return by ten o'clock. The woman apparently was greatly overwrought.

The next development in the case was when the family at whose home the couple had rooms heard a commotion and screams in their room and went in to find the man holding the woman and bleeding profusely from the wound in his arm.

The police were notified and a physician summoned. The man told the officers that he had come to their room Saturday night after being downtown and had found his wife out. He had gone to bed expecting her back any moment and had dozed off to sleep. It was nearly daylight when he awoke and in the half light of the room he saw his wife approaching the bed, pointing a revolver which she held in both hands toward the bed. He started to raise up and when he did so she fired. Before she could fire again, he said, he scrambled with her. The walls of the room were smeared with blood where it had been rubbed in the struggle for the possession of the revolver.

Woman Denies Shooting.
The woman was hysterical following the shooting, and at the jail where she was taken she denied she had shot the man. The man was removed to the jail after his wound was given attention. Both were held at the jail this morning, no complaint having been filed against either up to noon.

The man represents a well known shoe house in this territory. The couple came here about three weeks ago to make this city headquarters, while the man traveled out of this territory. They decided to take rooms in a private residence and the woman called at the home of a local minister and asked to be directed to a nice quiet place. They took the rooms to which they were directed and had lived quietly there. Friday the woman left town, saying she was going to meet her husband at Seymour. Saturday they came up on the afternoon train from that place. The first hint of trouble was when the woman got out Saturday night to search for her husband after he had gone downtown early in the evening.

The bullet entered the man's arm about midway between the elbow and the shoulder, ranging upward. It was found in the muscle at the back of the shoulder.

City officers were first to reach the scene. When the revolver, a 32 Ivers Johnson, was examined it was found that the trigger had hung and it was with difficulty that the revolver was unlocked. The note addressed to the people of Wichita Falls was found in the man's shoe.

More Than 600 Attend BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL
New Record For This City Is Believed To Have Been Established Sunday

What is believed to be a new record for Sunday school attendance in this city was established Sunday when 650 were present at the First Baptist Church. It was rally day at this church and a special effort had been made to secure a record attendance, the results being highly satisfactory. This church is making an effort to establish 500 as the average attendance each Sunday. On Sunday of last week the attendance exceeded the 500 mark and the church hopes to keep the attendance above this figure regularly.

The rally day program included recitations, songs and exercises by the young people; the promotions of pupils were also announced and the work for the fall and winter organized.

The School Savings Department Will be Opened the First Monday in October

There was so much interest manifested the short time it run last year, by the children, that the teachers and the bank feel amply repaid for their extra trouble and expense, in trying to teach the children, as we think one of the most important lessons to be learned—THAT OF SAVING—AND WHAT SYSTEMATIC SAVING WILL DO.

This department was introduced and run less than three months last year and at the close of school there were 388 children depositing with their teachers and had a total deposit of $1092.42. This we consider a very fine showing.

For further information as to prizes, etc., call the bank or your teacher.

The Two Mysteries.
We know not what it is, dear, this sleep so deep and still;
The folded hands, the awful calm, the cheek so pale and chill;
The lids that will not lift again, though we may call and call;
The strange white solitude of peace that settles over all.

We know not what it means, dear, this desolate heart pain;
This dread to take our daily way and walk in it again.
We know not to what other sphere the loved who leave us go,
Nor why we're left so wonder-still, nor why we do not know.

But this we know: Our loved and dead, if they should come this day—
Should come and ask us, "What is life?" not one of us could say.
Life is a mystery as deep as ever death can be;
Yet, oh, how dear it is to us, this life we live and see!

Then might they say—these vanished ones— and blessed is the thought,
"So death is sweet to us, beloved, though we may show you naught
We may not to the quick reveal the mystery of death
Ye can not tell us, if ye would, the mystery of breath."

Majestic Theatre.
"One Wonderful Night," featuring Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Payne, shows here today.

"One Wonderful Night" in four parts will commend itself as an exemplar, both for condensation of story and for continuous rapid action. Indeed, so true is this the spectator will find added pleasure in viewing the films a second, a third and even a fourth time.

When one remembers the many incidents, the plotting and counter-plotting; the changes wrought in the lives of the principals, and the triumph of good over evil in the face of almost insuperable difficulties, all take place within the eight short hours of a single night, condensation and rapid action must of necessity govern the production, in order that the spectator may intently join in the winged rush of the sword and the dagger as used advisedly; for, at the close, one unconsciously inhales a deep breath, just as it the pace had been a telling one physically. Director E. H. Calvert has put forth his finest efforts in the production. He has succeeded in visualizing the story so that it will make a strong appeal to those who have already read it in serial or book form, as well as to those who have not. The former will have their interest heightened, because they are furnished the actual scenes amid which the incidents of the story took place and the living action of the characters in person; the latter will be enabled to follow the story at first hand—by visualization, connectedly, dramatically.

All the stirring scenes of the photoplay have been brought out spiritedly and realistically. The wild chase of Lamette, one of the three bad men of the story, through the crowded streets of New York, out to Riverside Drive at a point on which he drives his auto over a frowning embankment, barely escaping death by jumping from the machine before it crosses the edge; the attack on Hunter, the newspaper man, by the ruffians, Martini and Ross, and the gallant attempt of Cutler to seize them; the knockdown of the Hungarian Count Vassilari by a sledge hammer left by Curtis, who has just married the heroine of the story in the Little Church Around the Corner; the "roughhouse" in the restaurant, in the Hungarian quarter, and the capture of Martini and Ross are as real as the actual could make them.

No better choice could have been made by the readers of the Ladies' World for the hero of "One Wonderful Night" than Francis X. Bushman. In the role of John D. Curtis, Mr. Bushman is exceedingly happy. In his impersonation of Martini and Ross are two real gentlemen, fearless of consequences when the right is at stake, and gentle as a woman in affairs of the heart.

PLANS BENEFIT DANCE FOR BUY-A-BALE MOVEMENT

The latest plan to help the farmers in the buy-a-bale movement is a dance to be given by Professor Sierks at the Moose hall next Saturday night, the proceeds of which will go to the purchasing of a bale of cotton. The buy-a-bale ball is being advertised throughout the city this week, and solicitors are canvassing for the sale of the tickets. The professor, in discussing the present market conditions, stated that it was his intention to do everything he possibly could, and that he was going to write to other dancing teachers over the state and try and influence them to secure a bale.

There are between two and three hundred of them in the State, and the professor's move is almost as expensive as any that has yet been inaugurated. This means that between two and three hundred bales of cotton will be marketed by this method, and it is probable that other amusement enterprises will take up a similar movement. The professor intends to continue giving such benefit from balls from time to time, as by this method he will be doing a business man's part toward the relief of the depressed conditions.

ED HOWARD, Manager.

Why don't some fool printer get off something about the war being over in Europe?

The warring Nations—Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Hungary and Russia—are using 25,000,000 head of horses, or about as many as there are soldiers, and the horses are being killed and wounded about as fast as the men, and the supply is drawing from will not last long. It means, well for the American American stock-breeder, and will serve to create a steady and growing demand at good prices for all the first-class horses he now has on hand.

About twenty years ago cotton was selling for about five cents per pound. That was the top of the market. There was no European war then, and the people got by in good shape. This year Wichita county will produce about three times the amount of cotton on about the same number of acres as was produced last year, and while last year's crop was sold for 12 cents per pound or better, if the 1914 crop sells for an average of eight cents per pound it will bring to the cotton farmers of Wichita county considerable more money than they received for the total cotton crop of 1913. Besides this, a more abundant feed crop has been produced and under such conditions it really seems that there is little cause for excuse for worrying.

Gov. Colquitt, like some other men, seems to have changed his way of thinking about the referendum idea of government. Not more than two years ago he was of the opinion that the referendum idea smelled strongly of populism and socialism. Confronted now with what looks like defeat of his pet measure, the Bank of Texas, he proposes to refer it direct to the people. That is all right. The people are fully competent to pass on the matter, as to what their verdict will be is a different matter. In our own opinion, the people of Texas have used wretchedly poor judgment in the selection of their State officers—that of governor, for instance, and it is possible they might do so again. However, it is properly a matter for them to settle. Let the majority rule, it matters not what the verdict will be. If they make a mistake, and if by such mistake they wreck the public school fund, they will have no one to blame but themselves.

THE SILENT PARTNER.

"You see them fat cattle down on that valley forty?" said Zeke Jones, who was standing with a visitor on the veranda. "They're all mine; raised 'em myself and nobody else has a nickel's interest in 'em. Over on 'tother side the creek is 200 fattenin' hogs of mine, that'll soon be ready to sell. This ranch contains 100 acres, all bought and paid for! I don't owe any man a cent, sir. When I come here in '86 I only had a skinny hoss, a covered wagon and the clothes on my back. Now you see what I got"—with a side sweep of his arm—"everything you see from this porch is mine—all bought and paid for, and I ain't under no obligations to anybody but myself for 'em."

The proud rancher hunched up the spring wagon and drove his admiring friend over the place. They got back shortly before noon, and Zeke told his guest to sit in the parlor while he put the team away. While sitting in the big room, the door was timidly opened and a little, worn-faced woman, dressed in faded clothes, came in. She was followed by several rosy-cheeked, tow-headed youngsters, who gabbled about the caller in a friendly way.

"What nice little chaps," said the visitor, as he laid his hand on the head of one of them. "All yours, I presume, Mrs. Jones."

"No, not mine," said the tired little woman hastily; "they're Zeke's. I'm just their mother."

Our views toward Philippine independence do not all "libe" with those of Minority Leader Mann. Mr. Mann in a vigorous attack on the administration Philippine bill in the House the other day declared that Philippine independence is the "bill points, means a surrender of American strategic command of the Pacific, "the fighting ground of the future," and that a conflict between the United States, "commercial or otherwise," was inevitable. Mr. Mann evidently looks upon the Philippines, in case of conflict, "commercial or otherwise," as an asset to the United States. We believe, to the contrary, that they are a liability, whose possession has always been and will always be a source of danger to the United States. We are not particularly apprehensive about the United States in such hands as it now is becoming involved in war. But were we involved in the first step of the enemy would be, as ours was in 198, to seize the unprotected Philippines and tell us to come take 'em. With our National pride involved we should most certainly make the attempt, and we'd likely find ourselves, in the end, just where Russia found itself in 1914, as a result of trying to wage a war 8,000 miles from its base. The democrats were defeated in 1900 on its anti-imperialism plank. But we believe if that plank were submitted again now it would have a widely different result, to which result the present European war would be at least a contributing factor. The Philippines want independence and don't want us; and we have no particular need for the Philippines except as a good place to sink more millions of money and as a possible source of serious trouble in the future. We'd like to "wish them on somebody else."—Denton Record and Chronicle.

THE LEGISLATURE VIEWED BY EXCHANGES.

There seem to be those who are disposed to kick Colquitt's bank proposition around.—Cleburne Review.

Governor Colquitt is confident that his bank plan will carry. If we only had the governor's sense of humor, we'd give Mark Twain a close run for his laurels.—Corpus Christi Caller.

Well, the governor submitted it. Now it's up to the thinking members of the Texas Legislature to put the bank bill where it properly should be—in the junk heap.—Greenville Herald.

Proposed bank legislation has resulted in the disclosure that there are banker members of the legislature. Wonder if they were bankers before they were legislators, or legislators before they got to be bankers.—Orange Leader.

The third called session of the Texas Legislature is now striving to relieve the distress caused in the state by the European war. Not as much good has resulted from the continued efforts of these would-be saviours of the country as from the simple plan of a private citizen.—Luling Signal.

Candidate Ferguson, so far as we can recall, has broken a sphinxlike silence only twice since his triumph at the primary. He first advised the farmers to sell a portion of their cotton at eight cents or better, and publicly disapproved of the proposed central bank. For a gubernatorial nominee, Mr. Ferguson is a wonder at saying nothing. Here's hoping he can say word equally as well.—Cugo Star.

It now seems that Colquitt's Bank of Texas is doomed to defeat. It is not only meeting opposition in the legislature, but the people over the State are holding mass meetings and instructing their representatives to oppose the measure. Probably had the bill been taken up immediately, when it was first brought up, it might have been squeezed through, but now we can see no hope for it. There is one thing, however, that the establishment of this bank would mean—it would afford more political jobs for the friends of the administration. And if the selections should be made in this matter as they have been made in others we are afraid it would be a failure from the beginning.—Yokum Herald.

Yes, take the permanent school fund of Texas—the only legacy vouchsafed to future generations of children yet to be born—divide it up and hand it out to state, county and municipal corporations to do business on, under the guise of a state emergency. If the vote could be submitted to the people of Texas, they would bury the bill and hang in effigy the man who instigated it. This is our opinion.—Oakwood Oracle.

Texas on an expense of $250. It took $31,000 to nominate Jim Ferguson. Bailey may have been wrong on some things, but he is right in believing that we need reforms along this line, and that the illiterate, purchasable vote should be cut out. Women can not vote, but the illiterate Mexican, negro and sorry white men can say who shall rule over her and make the laws.—Devine News.

President Wilson and Colonel Harvey, editor of the North American Review, are on friendly terms once more as indicated by a Washington dispatch which states that, at the invitation of the President, Colonel Harvey called at the White House and was closeted with the President for an hour, during which time the war in Europe was discussed, and incidentally, political conditions in the United States. It was their first meeting since 1911, when the breach between President Wilson, then a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, and Colonel Harvey and Colonel Watterston occurred. Both were boosting Wilson for the presidency, but at the suggestion of Mr. Wilson, Colonel Harvey, then editor of Harper's Weekly, withdrew his support. Colonel Watterston did likewise.

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 5.—H. F. FUMES FROM FRENCH SHELLS PETRIFY GERMAN SOLDIERS

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 5.—5:10 a. m. Telegraphing from Paris, the correspondent of Reuters Telegram Co. says: "That the fumes of the famous French three inch shells have a most deadly effect in an enclosed space is shown by a scene that met the eyes of the French penetrating a chateau occupied by the Germans and which they had just bombarded. Entering the drawing room, they found a company of Witenburgians petrified in action. "Some were at the window taking aim with their fingers still pressing the triggers, while others were at the tables where they had been playing games with cards in their hands. Still others had cigarettes in their lips. An officer stood with his mouth open as if in the act of dictating an order and all the corpses looked absolutely like life."

TEXAS HAS LOST MUCH ON SWINDLING CONTRACTS

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Oct. 5.—Through the sale of worthless stocks and bond contracts people of Texas have been swindled out of approximately $20,000,000 in the past five years, in the opinion of B. L. Gill, former commissioner of insurance and banking of this state. B. P. Looney, attorney general, now is engaged in making investigations of individuals and corporations alleged to have been connected with some of those swindles. It was learned here today.

A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess," says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good.

Before I commenced using Cardui I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year. Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.

WILSON AND WATTERSON MAY "MAKE UP" SHORTLY

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 5.—President Wilson is about to make peace with Henry Watterston, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, as well as with George Harvey, editor of the North American Review whom he saw at the White House yesterday. Mr. Wilson today told callers that he hoped to see Mr. Watterston at the White House, although no arrangements for such a meeting had been made.

ENGAGE IN POT SHOOTING IN BATTLE AROUND NACO

By Associated Press. Naco, Sonora, Oct. 5.—Pot shooting by both sides opened the third day of the battle of Naco. Governor Maytorena's forces so far have made no progress. General Hill, commanding the Carranza garrison, reported his losses up to daylight as six killed and eight wounded. Hill's scouts reported Maytorena is apparently preparing to attack the town in front. This would greatly increase danger to life on the American side.

MCCOMBS DECLINES TO BE NEW YORK CHAIRMAN

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 5.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National committee, today declined the offer of the chairmanship of the New York State Democratic committee. A telegram was received afterwards from President Wilson approving Mr. McComb's action.

"She always had the indefinite feeling that tomorrow was going to be splendid. Some people keep it until they die. And to lose it—that is age."—Because of Jane, by J. E. Buck-rose.

DECISIVE DEVELOPMENTS NEAR LONG BATTLE IN FRANCE

By Associated Press. Paris, Oct. 5.—When the long drawn battle in the north was resumed today there was a feeling in many quarters that decisive developments were imminent. While the French realize that the battle has not yet been won, it does not seem to many of them that it can now be lost. If the allies win no doubt is felt that they will pay for it, the sacrifice on both sides already being great. The tone of the official communication has furnished the best reason for hope by the French, although the announcement of President Poincare's visit to the front caused additional confidence. His action is generally taken as indicating that success is at hand.

Tommy goes to school, but can't keep up with Jimmie. Tommy's father and mother don't like this idea, so they keep prodding him until he gets used to prodding—and still Jimmie keeps ahead. Somebody suggested that Tommy's eyes are weak and need glasses; perhaps the teacher makes this suggestion. Anyway, it is received with indignation. Tommy is in excellent health; his eyes are blue and clear and to suggest that he has bad eyes is ridiculous. So father and mother keep on prodding Tommy, with interpersions of complaints as to school and teacher. They are not what they were in the "good old days." Meantime Tommy keeps on dropping behind until he is old enough to rebel, when at last he quits the hated schoolhouse and goes to work.

The Family Medicine Chest

In every home there should be a supply of simple remedies for emergencies. This is a time of the year when these remedies are most likely to be needed. A changing of the seasons and the coming of winter with its colds, coughs and la grippe make it advisable that you look into your medicine chest; and see that it is well supplied. The proverbial "Stitch in Time" was never more aptly illustrated than in sickness. A little care and a few doses of medicine at the proper time may save you serious sickness. Phone us your wants and let us replenish your supply of household remedies. We are open eighteen hours a day and ready to serve you every minute of the time.

WHY WE ROAST COFFEE

We have been engaged in the Grocery Business under one roof, in Wichita Falls just a QUARTER OF A CENTURY. During all that time have made a special study of the coffee end of the business, believing it to be the most important article handled by the Grocery Trade.

We have handled at different times practically every brand of National reputation, and tested them all and were never entirely satisfied with any of them.

Several years ago we rigged up a small roaster and unknown to the public commenced to blend and roast our own coffees. Inside of sixty days our coffee trade had quadrupled and we had outgrown our little plant.

We immediately went East and after investigating all the makes of coffee roasting machinery, purchased the very best plant obtainable, and commenced to advertise the fact that we roasted our own coffees, and our business has increased to such an extent that we decided to dispose of our Grocery business and specialize in FRESH ROASTED COFFEES, Teas, Spices, Extracts and kindred lines including Sugar, Butter and Yard Eggs. Also retaining the Mineral Water Agencies.

Will continue at the old stand (608-10 Ohio Avenue) the balance of the year and on January first, 1915, will open at 824 Indiana Avenue (in the Joline Building) an up-to-date Coffee, Tea and Spice House along the lines indicated. We roast the very best grades of coffee and truly believe our blends to be superior to others and best of all ROASTED FRESH EVERY DAY.

Let us send you a trial pound that you may know the difference.

We handle CRAZY, GIBSON, TIAGA and MANITOU WATERS.

O. W. BEAN & SON, Phone 35

ONE CAN NEVER TELL

What may happen! Better let us beautify that NEGLECTED Cemetery Plot before you do like many others seem to have done—FORGOT, become careless, or just plain don't care.

One of our customers said the other day, "I don't see why we haven't attended to this work long ago; we should have, but—well, any way we didn't intend to neglect it." How is the public, or those who have the best interests of the cemetery at heart, or even your friends and loved ones to know but that you didn't care? Deeds are more convincing than excuses. Anyone can make excuses, but it takes courage and character to do things!

We will do anything you want done—soil, water, beautify and erect the Memorial best suited to your particular needs. Why not shake off that indifference?
