CARRANZA READY TO QUIT CONDITIONALLY

WILL RESIGN IF VILLA AND ZAPATA RETURN TO PRIVATE LIFE.

QUESTION UP TO CONVENTION

Villa's Friends Said to Be in Control—No Intimation As to What Answer Will Be.

By Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 28.—The American government was informed officially today by the minister of foreign relations that General Carranza had submitted his resignation to the national convention at Aguas Calientes on condition that General Villa and Zapata retire to private life. Gen. Carranza's action, it was stated, was purely in the interest of domestic peace. No word was received of what action was taken by the convention and opinions varied in official circles as to whether either Villa or Zapata would give such assurances.

The northern chief repeatedly has stated to American consular agents he has no ambition to be president of Mexico or hold any of the numerous offices for which he has been mentioned. It was believed there would be less difficulty in adjusting the situation with respect to Villa than as to Zapata. The latter has insisted since Huerta's dethronement that he be permitted to show the executive power with Carranza. His representatives at the convention say they have a complete understanding with Villa.

It was clear from official reports that Villa's followers were in control of the convention and could rely on support from Zapata, that the answer of the convention will be tantamount to a reply from the Villa-Zapata coalition.

MISSING CHILD BELIEVED TO BE NOW IN KANSAS CITY

No Trace of Little Gerhart Girl or of Her Niece, However, Has Been Found.

By Associated Press.
St. Louis, Oct. 28.—Miss Julia Krasusky and her 4-year-old ward, Virginia Lee Gerhart, with whom the nurse secretly fled from the child's home in St. Louis, two days ago, is in hiding in Kansas City or one of its suburbs, according to information received late last night by Harry Gerhart, the child's father. Mrs. Virginia Curtis, grandmother of the little girl, in a long distance telephone message from Bonham, Texas, to the child's father last night, denied she had sent for the nurse or child.

The pair, however, were seen on a south-bound Rock Island train, by a friend of Mr. Gerhart's, who did not at the time know of the child's disappearance. A telegraph operator has reported seeing the couple at Pleasant Hill, near Kansas City, while the nurse and child were seen, declared they had gotten off at Kansas City. The police at Bonham have been asked to detain the nurse and child should they arrive there.

GRANDMOTHER DENIES SHE SENT FOR CHILD

By Associated Press.
Bonham, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Virginia Curtis, grandmother of Virginia Gerhart, who disappeared from her home in St. Louis, said today that she knew nothing about the actions of the nurse and baby and did not expect them to come to Bonham.

NO TRACE OF COUPLE FOUND IN KANSAS CITY

By Associated Press.
Kansas City, Oct. 28.—The police today stated they had found no trace of little Virginia Gerhart and the nurse who left St. Louis with the child two days ago and who is believed to have come to this city.

SHREVEPORT RATE CASE HEARING BEGINS TODAY

By Associated Press.
Shreveport, La., Oct. 27.—Representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission were to begin today at Shreveport a hearing on the local Chamber of Commerce application for a supplemental order in the Shreveport-Texas case. The original order was directed against the Texas & Pacific and the Houston and Shreveport railways. Since issuance of the order the Missouri, Kansas & Texas lines voluntarily have agreed to the reductions in rates between Shreveport and Texas points and the supplemental order now is asked against various other East Texas lines.

HEAVY FROST IS NOTICED IN WACO VICINITY TODAY

By Associated Press.
Waco, Texas, Oct. 28.—Heavy frost was noticed here this morning when a temperature of thirty-six was noted. Ice formed in exposed places. The frost did not cause any appreciable damage.

WILSON DESIGNATES THANKSGIVING DAY

ISSUES CUSTOMARY PROCLAMATION SETTING ASIDE THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26.

REFERS TO STRIFE IN EUROPE

Says It Has Shown American People Their Interdependence Upon One Another.

By Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 28.—President Wilson today issued a proclamation designating Thursday, November 26 as Thanksgiving day. In the proclamation, the President said:
"The hurtful effects of foreign wars in their own industrial and commercial affairs have made our people feel the more fully and see the more clearly their interdependence upon one another and has stirred them to a helpful cooperation such as they seldom have practiced before. Our crops will feed all who need food. The self-possession of our people amid the most serious anxieties and difficulties and the steadiness and resourcefulness of our business will serve other nations as well as our own."

ST. LOUIS COTTON LOAN PLAN FAVORED

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION TAKES ACTION TO THIS EFFECT AT DALLAS.

TO DEMAND ACREAGE REDUCTION

Believed Plan Will Have Immediate Effect Upon Conditions in Cotton Market.

Endorsement of the St. Louis plan for a pool of $135,000,000 to be loaned to cotton farmers at 6 per cent and plans for a campaign to secure a reduction of at least 50 per cent in the cotton acreage for next season, were unanimously agreed to by the committee from the States Bankers' Association at Dallas yesterday. R. E. Huff, who was a member of the committee, returned from Dallas this morning. A. Kemp, chairman of the committee, remained in Dallas to get out letters to members of the association over the state notifying them of the committee's action.

"The details for the collection of the money for the loans and its distribution will be determined by the Federal reserve board which will be in working order by November 16. It is expected that the board will be able to announce the details of the plan within a few days after that date.

Mr. Huff is optimistic concerning the plan and believes that it will have an immediate effect on cotton prices.

Recommendations Submitted.
The report of the committee sets forth that the prosperity of the cotton producing regions is dependent upon four fundamental principles—first, that a loan should be provided big enough to take care of the estimated surplus and long enough to permit the gradual marketing of the crop; second, that the portion of the crop marketed immediately should bring a fair price; third, that a reduction in acreage of at least fifty per cent should be made next year; fourth, that farmers be encouraged to plant feed crops in place of cotton next year.

The report unanimously recommends the plan of Festus J. Wade of St. Louis for a $135,000,000 cotton loan fund, to be loaned on a basis of $50 per bale, and also recommends that the Texas Bankers' association at once take steps to see that Texas' share is raised. The re-opening of the cotton exchanges at New York, New Orleans and Liverpool is urged in the report, and it is cited that the opening of the regional banks, the removal of the embargo by Great Britain and other conditions warrant such action. It is also urged that no more cotton be sold at the present low prices.

RATES TO ARANSAS PASS SUBJECT OF HEARING TODAY

By Associated Press.
Houston, Texas, Oct. 27.—Hearing on the plea of sixteen railroads to set aside the recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission directing the railroads to place Aransas Pass on the same basis of rates as now exists to Galveston was to begin here in United States court today. Railroads set up the claim that it requires greater service to transport cotton to Aransas Pass than to Galveston.

TUBERCULOSIS IS CHIEF CAUSE OF TEXAS DEATHS

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 28.—Tuberculosis of the lungs again leads a sad cause of death in Texas, according to the September report of vital statistics made public today by Registrar R. P. Babcock. There were 134 deaths from this disease.

HOW FRENCH TOOK GERMAN TRENCHES

DETAILS OF BATTLE NORTHWEST OF YPRES ARE RELAYED.

CLEVER RUSE IS SUCCESSFUL

Evening's Reserve Force Is Shot Down By French Artillery While Coming to Reinforce

By Associated Press.
Paris, Oct. 28.—This is how a position of the German line northwest of Ypres was taken yesterday, according to officers who have arrived in Paris from the battlefield. A series of light guns, three-inch field batteries, each invisible from the front, were disposed behind the neutral cover of the undulations of the field, bits of woods, ruined farm houses or dry ravines. The guns, working to their full capacity of four shells to the minute, sprayed bursting projectiles over the German trenches in a wide belt, before, over and just behind the carefully dug, roofed field works.

The German infantry, as long as they kept inside the covered trenches, were secure, except from the chance of shells falling directly through the narrow place left for rifle and machine gun fire. The French infantry from the rear of its own line of trenches got up as if for the usual run for the German lines. The French guns, at a moment's notice, ceased their fire and the Germans, supposing the usual charging rush was coming, ordered up their reserve infantry, who were held outside the shell zone to support the slender lines in the trenches. The French artillery changed its range and at a signal by telephone from the French trenches caught the German reserves coming on the run, 1000 yards behind their works, with a scattering shell fire which broke formations and seemed to bring down a third of the men. They simply could not get through the section of burping shells.

The German infantry then took the German trenches with the bayonet. The pushing of the Germans out of France opposite Nancy yesterday and the establishing of French positions inside the German front line, guarded by a reserve of machine guns, and the "big shells" as the Germans call the French 8-inch infantry operating in the Vosges, again justified the terror in which they are held by the enemy. They led the final rush which routed the last of the Germans out of French territory. These troops hesitate at no sacrifice to gain an end.

FORTY SEVEN BODIES ARE RECOVERED AT ROYALTON

Deaths Declared to Be Due to Reversal of Air in Shaft After the Explosion.

By Associated Press.
Royalton, Ill., Oct. 28.—Forty-seven bodies had been recovered at 8 a. m. today from the mine of the Franklin Coal and Coke company which was exploded yesterday by a gas explosion. All but two or three of the miners who entered the workings yesterday have been accounted for definitely.

It was developed today that most of the deaths were due to the reversal of the air in the shaft as the explosion occurred. On the other hand mine officials state that a much more serious loss of life in that it blew the after-damp out of the lower workings where many of the workmen had begun to scatter when the explosion occurred.

Leo Bellamy, a survivor, today told how, when he attempted to go back after the explosion to save his brother, the reversed fans drew the deadly after-damp toward the entry and forced him to climb or die. The after-damp, he said, killed the crippled men in the air course.

ECLECTIC DOCTORS MEET IN CONVENTION AT DALLAS

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Oct. 28.—The thirty-first annual convention of the Texas Eclectic Medical Association met here today for a two days' session. Dr. W. H. Walker of Killeen, Texas, was to preside. The program today consisted of reading of annual reports and election of new and reinstatement of old members.

MEETING OF ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE AT DALLAS TODAY

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 28.—The Texas Anti-Saloon League was to meet here today to discuss the liquor traffic. Many prohibitionists from over the state were expected to attend. Dr. H. A. Boaz, state president, presided.

$5,200,000 BOND ISSUE ELECTION AT HOUSTON

By Associated Press.
Houston, Texas, Oct. 28.—Houston taxpayers were voting today on proposals to issue bonds to the amount of $5,200,000 for harbor wharves, terminal facilities, bayou improvements, drainage and sanitary sewers, and for additional school buildings and exposition grounds.

BRITISH HOLD POSITION IN FACE OF FEARFUL ORDEAL

Story Of Night Attacks By Germans Near Ypres Tells Of Bloodiest Fighting Of War

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 28.—The correspondent of the Times in northern France sends the following under Tuesday's date, regarding the fighting in Belgium:

"The British at Ypres captured Langemark Friday after inflicting enormous losses on the enemy and, established entrenched positions behind the village. At night after the roar of the cannon had ceased, bushes soaked in petroleum were fired by the Germans throwing a glare over the scene. Masses of men sprang up from the German trenches within a few hundred yards of our trenches, and with bugle, yell and song came dashing forward. Though taken by surprise our men took their places in the trenches and poured a terrific fire into the advancing hosts, who fell by the hundreds.

"They got within thirty yards of the trenches when they recoiled. Then came three blasts of a whistle sounding the retreat. Our men sprang out of the trenches and charged with the bayonet. The slaughter was terrible and there were many hand-to-hand encounters. In the glare of the burning bushes some of the enemy threw down their arms and pleaded for mercy. No quarter, however, was given on either side; the work was too desperate for that. Bayonet and bullet did their work and the enemy was driven back on Roulers.

"A battery and several machine guns were captured and thousands of prisoners were taken, including a general and several officers."

FRENCH CLAIM THEIR POSITIONS ARE MAINTAINED AT ALL POINTS

By Associated Press.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The French official announcement issued today says that yesterday the German attacks between Nieuport and Arras were less violent. The French positions everywhere were maintained and the French forces continued to advance to the north and to the east of Ypres.

The text of the communication follows:
"During the day of yesterday the German attack in all the region between Nieuport and Arras was less violent. Our positions were everywhere maintained and we continued to advance to the north and to the east of Ypres. We also made some progress between Cambrin, to the southwest of Labassee, and Arras.

"Further information continues to confirm previous reports that the German losses in dead, wounded and prisoners have been considerable. In the northern region on the right bank of the Aisne the Germans attempted at night a violent offensive movement in the region of Craonne. On the heights of the highway Bes-Dames, they have been repulsed. In the Woevre district our troops have continued their advance in the forest between Aprimont and St. Mihiel as well as in the forest of Le Prete."

BUSINESS MEN'S SUIT NOT TO COME UP THIS MONTH

Will Be Reached at December Term—Lengthy Answer of Defendant's Is Filed.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 28.—The case of the State of Texas vs. the Texas Business Men's Association of Fort Worth, which is pending in the Twenty-sixth District Court, will not come up for trial until the December term of the court from what was learned today. The answer of the defendant association has been filed in the court, being quite a lengthy document, and exceptions are taken to most of the state's allegations.

"WOODROW WILSON DAY" IS OBSERVED AT DALLAS

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Oct. 28.—This was "Woodrow Wilson Day" at the Texas State fair here. A number of the forty Texas delegates to the Baltimore convention were expected to be here and it has been suggested by local Democrats that these delegates take advantage of the occasion to start a second-term movement for the president. Mr. Wilson recently refused to permit his home state—New Jersey—to start such a movement, but local leaders say, such a movement, started by the Texas delegation to Baltimore, would probably not be received with disfavor.

SUFFRAGETTE PARADE TODAY AT DALLAS FAIR

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Oct. 28.—A "Votes for Women" parade was planned here today by the Texas Equal Suffrage Association. Active members of the association from various parts of the state were expected to participate.

TIDE OF BATTLE SEEMS SWINGING IN ALLIES FAVOR

Claims Are Vague However—New South African Outbreak Causes England Much Concern

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 28.—The great battle for possession of the coast along the North Sea from Ostend to Calais is said by the French to be swinging slowly in favor of the allied forces. German assaults which apparently attained the height of human effort were met with equal courage and today the offensive efforts of the invaders were said to be relaxing. For the third successive day the French official statement asserted the advantage lay with the allies. It is noticeable, however, that the claims have been vague and bare of detail as to the capture of towns or localities, which may be sent down as marking a definite advance at any point.

"Progress" and "advances" or "gains" are reported at various sections of the line not closely indicated. From unofficial reports from the front it is inferred that in the main the conflict is raging along apparently the same line as heretofore and that the deadlock has not been broken. London reports unofficially that the fiercest German attack had diverted from the seacoast slightly to the south in the line between Dixmude and Ypres. This possibly may be explained by assertions that the British fleet, said to have been driven off by German artillery, has resumed its bombardments. Eastward along the line of battle there are indications that heavy actions have been resumed after several weeks lull. Yesterday's official French statement referred to successful allied attacks at the center and eastern end of the line. Today it is said a German offensive movement at Craonne was repulsed.

The conflict in Galicia still is undecided. Both French and Russians claim that the offensive action against the Germans is being pursued successfully near Warsaw. It is reported unofficially from Petrograd, however, that the Russians have not succeeded in pushing the advantage along their left and center as far as they had hoped.

The rebellion in South Africa led by Christian Dewet, famous opponent of Lord Kitchener in the Boer war and General Beyers, former commander of the military forces of the Union of South Africa, presents a menace to Great Britain which causes no little concern. No word has come up to late today, to indicate whether this new revolt had assumed formidable proportions. Coming so quickly after the suppression of the uprising under Col. Maritz, it was believed to indicate that England was facing a serious problem in her hard-won colonies.

The main assault of Tsing Tau again has been postponed by the Japanese, Tokio reports, because of storms.

Aside from the political outcropping of the great war, England received a shock in the news that a steamer, the Manchester Commerce, had been sunk off the coast of Ireland by a German mine. Up to the present time all such disasters have been confined to the eastern coast. The region where this vessel was sunk is on the first route of the Atlantic liners from Liverpool and of the Clyde line steamers from New York and Canadian ports. The inference is that the Germans, penetrating this area, hoped to reach the transports bearing Canadian troops, to the British Isles.

APPARATUS FOR STEERING BY WIRELESS PERFECTED

By Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 28.—It is now possible to steer a small craft far out at sea by the use of the radio system, in the opinion of Brigadier General Weaver, chief of the coast artillery. Experiments are in progress with the object of applying the system of control so that an operator can send a torpedo with surety against an enemy's battleship lying several miles out to sea.

MUCH COTTON IS NEEDED BY GERMANY AND AUSTRIA

By Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 28.—Ambassador Gerard cabled today that Germany would need at least 50,000 and Austria 25,000 bales of cotton a month. He had been advised of assurances by Great Britain that cargoes of cotton would not be molested when destined to belligerent countries in neutral bottoms, and is endeavoring to obtain details of the demand for cotton in Germany.

INDIANA MINE EXPLOSION SEALS FATE OF 100 MEN

ARE IMPRISONED IN LOWER LEVELS

RESCUERS ARE CUT OFF FROM THEM BY FLAMES UNDER GROUND

MANY DEAD BODIES ARE FOUND

One Hundred Men in Mine When Gas Ignited Are Known To Have Escaped

By Associated Press.
Royals, Illinois, Oct. 27.—Three hundred men were entombed in the Mitchell mine near here by a gas explosion soon after the day shift entered the workings. One hundred escaped.

Thirty or forty dead bodies had been found at 11 a. m. and 100 are known to be imprisoned in a lower level, which was burning.

The mine is a mile from the town and the explosion was heard here distinctly. Everyone in town except the telephone operator hurried to the mine. Aid was summoned from Burlington and elsewhere and a rescue car was sent from Benton.

No hope is held for the hundred known to have been working on the lower level, as the flames make it impossible for rescuers to reach them.

All the men taken out dead from the upper levels had been overcome by gas. None had been burned. The explosion occurred in the northwest corner of the mine where from 150 to 300 men were working. Men in the southern part of the mine heard the explosion and hurried to the cars that took them to the top. This part of the mine was separated from the section where the explosion occurred by thick walls of coal.

Up to 11 o'clock the rescue parties were unable to penetrate more than 1500 feet in the workings. At that hour the rescue came from Benton, Illinois with four hours supply of oxygen. This made possible the further penetration of the mine by rescue parties. Lines of hose were carried down two shafts of the mine but the gas made it dangerous for the fighters to approach close enough to fight the flames effectively.

Experts said the fire could be controlled only by sealing both entrances of the shaft and pumping the water into the mine until all chambers were flooded. This, however, will not be done until all hope of rescuing the imprisoned men is abandoned.

Twenty physicians accompanied the rescue car from Benton and when they arrived they were kept busy attending the wives and daughters of imprisoned miners who had become hysterical or had fainted. The mine belongs to the Franklin County Coal Company.

PANAMA CANAL EARNINGS EXCEED ALL EXPECTATIONS

Believed Tolls Will Be Sufficient In Year To Pay All of Operating Expenses

By Associated Press.
Panama, Oct. 27.—Notwithstanding that the war has largely curtailed shipping activities, the canal traffic for the first six weeks was greater than for the same period last year, and indicates that within a year the tolls may be sufficient to pay all operating expenses.

The canal has thus far earned $387,706. Between August 15 and October 1, eighty-one self-propelled vessels made use of it. Most of these were ships of American registry, some flying the British flag were second. There were no German ships or Italian, French or Japanese vessels.

EMPEROR WILLIAM HEADS GERMAN-AUSTRIAN FORCES

Military Agreement Putting Him in Command of Both is Reported Reached

By Associated Press.
London, Oct. 27.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Times learns from Berlin that under a new military agreement between Austria and Germany Emperor William has undertaken the leadership of the united armies.

VIENNA COMMUNICATION CLAIMS MINOR SUCCESSES

By Associated Press.
Vienna, Oct. 27.—An official communication given out here today says: "In the fighting before Ivanograd we have up to the present time captured 8000 Russian and nineteen machine guns. Near Jarslav a Russian colonel and 200 soldiers were forced to surrender. Near Zaluzev and in the vicinity of Pasieczna the enemy has been driven back. The situation remains unchanged. (Signed) General Von Hofer."

EXHIBIT SATURDAY BY YOUNG FARMERS

ANNUAL MEETING OF BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS WILL BE HELD

TO AWARD $250 IN PREMIUMS

Meeting Will Be Held in Morning After Which Dinner Will Be Served to Contestants

From Tuesday's Daily.
The Wichita county boys' and girls' club, corn, milo, maize, feterita, poultry, canning and baby food clubs will hold their annual exhibit here Saturday, when the $250 in prizes offered by the Chamber of Commerce will be awarded. The exhibit will be made in some vacant store room but the place had not been selected this morning.

J. W. Campbell, agricultural agent, has sent out letters to members of all the clubs asking them to be on hand with their exhibits. About 250 are expected if the weather is favorable. The club members will be provided with dinner by the Chamber of Commerce and citizens at some of the restaurants. A meeting will be held in the morning at which reports will be made and talks made by citizens. Officers also will be elected for the coming year.

Club members have beaten their heads in training crops this year and the exhibits and records of some of the members will be a surprise to many.

AMERICAN REFUGEES ARE IMPOSED ON BY GRAFTERS

Pretend To Be Hotel and Steamship Agents and Sell Worthless Tickets to London

By Associated Press.
London, Oct. 27.—Refugees have been told the American Relief Committee quest tales of pretended relief workers, operating in Holland. Most of these pretenders are steamship and hotel agents working on commission, who circulate among the incoming trains with badges on their sleeves. Some of them warned passengers that rooms were unavailable at Rotterdam and advised Amsterdam for a reason overheard by one of the refugees.

"What do you mean by telling these people they can't get rooms in Rotterdam?" asked one agent of another.

"We want some of the business," responded the Amsterdam man. An American lady, complaining of being an endorsed check for twenty pounds to an American stranger who treated her gallantly in Germany. Since he was going ahead of the party he volunteered to draw the money in London and send her the rest after paying six pounds to a friend in London. No money came and the lady proceeded to London, where she learned that the gallant stranger had not only drawn the money for himself, but instead of paying six pounds to the London friend he borrowed six pounds. His name did not appear on the relief committee's books.

Another case closer home was that of a man who sold worthless tickets to Liverpool to confiding refugees.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Maricle and daughter, Clara, and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Maricle of Grandfield are at Dallas attending the fair.

PLAYING HIDE AND SEEK OVER RELIGION

MAN'S SUBTERFUGES ARE LIKENED TO THOSE OF ADAM IN EDEN

Pastor Shows How Men Today Still Try To Conceal Selves Behind God's Institutions

IS SUBJECT OF SERMON SUNDAY

From Tuesday's Daily.

The manner in which man tries to hide from God, just as Adam and Eve tried to hide from Him in Eden, was the subject of Sunday evening's sermon at the First M. E. Church, by the pastor, Rev. C. C. Smith, took as his text Genesis 3:8. "And the man and his wife hid themselves from the presence of Jehovah God amongst the trees of the garden." He said:

"The story of Eden is told purely from the human standpoint. Some insist on the necessity of a literal interpretation while others insist that it is legend purified and elevated to convey a great moral truth. For critical purposes such divergence of opinion may be interesting and profitable but for practical purposes we may well lay them aside. Whether historical or traditional the great lesson is essentially the same and has a profound bearing on life today even as in all generations. We are not minded to consider the whole story tonight, but rather to take up what may be considered a side issue from the text, but which gives foundation to a thought which depicts a certain phase of life which we need to consider. In this whole Genesis story God is speaking of us as though he were little other than a great man. The scene is in an earthly garden, not a heavenly one, and talking as a man. He is represented as manifesting certain emotions as a man. He is angered. He is limited. The theologians have a big word for this method of expressing our ideas of God. They call this anthropomorphism. It means that man is given to thinking of God as a man or in terms of human limitations. This is natural and if we will understand it is allowable. We must know God as at all in terms of human experience. Our language is made up of words, and we can not reach beyond the words we have. The early Bible is abundant in imagery. Let us look at a certain phase of this story.

"The garden is represented as having been a very beautiful place. It was God's ideal for man and they were very good. He was to care for the garden. He was to be master of nature and of self. He was to acquire self mastery through the mastery of nature. We find that it is as true today as it has ever been that it is impossible to develop and walk in the way of God. He must meet trial in order to develop the real self within. We must not suppose that hard work and trial were brought into the world because sin entered into it, but that man lived free from sin there would have been no hard work and no trial. Responsibility and trial come with it as a part of the world. Let us look at another phase of this story.

Responsibility and trial come with it as a part of the world. Let us look at another phase of this story.

"We can not hope to use all this story in one sermon. We are seeking to cover only one incident, but may even be making an adaptation to this scripture, but it is with life. God walking in the garden found Adam and his wife hiding behind the trees of the garden. The garden was God's institution. God planted the trees but he did not plant them that they might serve as hiding places for his children. They had used and they might also be misused. This brings us to a practical proposition with which we are often confronted in actual living. Men say, God made this thing and therefore he must have intended that we use it. He made everything for the use and comfort of man and so there can be no harm in his gratifying a taste or liking for which he has made possible and for which he has provided satisfaction. The logic of our argument is good and true, but the morality is in the direction of the use of the thing. Man is called upon to discriminate between the proper use and the abuse of what God has created.

"Missing What is Given. "He may misuse a divinely ordered thing. Doubtless everything in nature has its legitimate use. Man has not the wisdom to discover the use for everything. He has found out much, but much still remains a mystery. But all that he has found out points in one direction and that indicates that God thought of man in his great creative act. Man led of God is still a veritable Eden here on earth and if he follows obediently he will unfold marvelously. If man will use and not abuse God's insti-

DIRECTORS RESCIND ACTION OF SATURDAY

WITHDRAW PROTEST AGAINST TAKING OFF OF DENVER TRAIN

Decrease of Revenue Shown

RAILROAD DECLARES MEASURE IS NECESSARY IN VIEW OF CONDITIONS AT PRESENT

From Tuesday's Daily.

On a show-up at the Fort Worth & Denver that its passenger revenues had greatly decreased within the past few months and that retrenchment was necessary, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning rescinded their action of Saturday protesting against the discontinuance of two of its passenger trains. The directors then followed the example of the railroad and reduced the salary expense of its office force $75 a month effective November 1.

The action rescinding the protest was taken after the protest from D. B. Keeler, vice president of the Fort Worth & Denver had been read, showing that the passenger revenues for the fiscal year ending June 30 had decreased $115,000 and that the revenues for the first three months of the new fiscal year had shown a decrease of approximately $40,000. Keeler's letter was addressed to R. E. Huff, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and was in answer to a protest forwarded by Mr. Huff to him. Mr. Blair moved that the protest be rescinded and that the railroad committee and the towns to which Saturday's protest had been forwarded be notified of its withdrawal. Mr. Blair said that while he did not criticize the directors for their action Saturday, fuller information showed that it had been precipitate.

Several members of the committee to the directors rescinding the action at today's meeting urging that action be delayed until more information could be obtained, declaring that rescinding the protest would be as precipitate today as its adoption Saturday was. Finally objection was withdrawn and the order rescinding Saturday's action.

The railroad commission answering the Chamber of Commerce's telegram replied that the commission had granted no permission for taking off the trains; that such permission was not necessary and that the directors believed themselves within their rights in the premises.

Mr. Keeler's letter to Mr. Huff follows: "The Chamber of Commerce of Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 26.—Mr. R. E. Huff, president Chamber of Commerce, Wichita Falls, Texas. Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your telegram of October 24th, to which you would have had an answer yesterday had I been in town.

You may know that we have been confronted with a very serious decrease in passenger earnings. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, the decrease in passenger earnings was in round numbers $115,000, as compared with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, and for the first three months of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1914—that is for July, August and September—this decrease was $40,000, or under the same months in the previous year.

In view of this condition we were necessarily obliged to figure in what way we could reduce our passenger train service with the least detriment to the patrons above our line and it was concluded that trains known as Nos. 3 and 4, heretofore running between Fort Worth and Childress, could be extended to Amarillo and perform a service almost equal to our trains Nos. 1 and 2, and that this arrangement would fairly meet all the necessities for the coming winter. In addition to this, trains Nos. 7 and 8, which are the night train out of Fort Worth and the early morning train into Fort Worth, could readily take care of the business during the day time between Amarillo on one line and Trinidad on the Colorado and Southern, and in connection with this new service that will be performed by trains Nos. 3 and 4, there will be discontinued the Fort Worth and Amarillo service heretofore furnished on trains Nos. 1 and 2.

I am particularly anxious to correct an impression which seems to be in your mind to the effect that the Colorado and Southern had asked us to discontinue trains Nos. 1 and 2, and that we had done so in order that there should be some discipline given to New Mexico. The fact is, the New Mexico people requested that night trains Nos. 7 and 8 should be continued rather than abandoning these trains and continuing Nos. 1 and 2 as through trains, which was done in order that the New Mexico people might have day service through that State, and it was shown that all of the towns north of Amarillo, including the towns in New Mexico, would be in no way incommoded by taking off the trains known as Nos. 1 and 2 between Amarillo and Trinidad.

I am sure that under the conditions herein pointed out that you, as well as the Wichita Falls people, will readily appreciate that we are justified in discontinuing trains, Nos. 1 and 2.

You may always be assured that it is our desire to protect the interests of our patrons along our line to the greatest extent possible, and in any curtailment that we may be obliged to make in order to meet decreased earnings we always have in view the least possible disadvantage, it may give to our patrons.

Trusting that you, as well as the people for whom you may be acting in this matter, will fully appreciate the reasons which influence us, I am, Very truly yours, D. B. KEELER, Vice President.

RELIEF MUST COME FROM WITHIN, SAYS J. A. KEMP IN INTERVIEW

NAMES COMMITTEE OF BANKERS

Says Wichita Falls is Willing To Put Up $100,000 As Her Share of Fund

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY

That Wichita Falls will raise $100,000 to buy cotton if other communities will do likewise was the pledge given by J. A. Kemp of this city at Dallas, following his appointment as chairman of the Texas Bankers Association. Mr. Kemp has named the other members of the committee as follows:

Royal A. Ferris, R. H. Stewart and D. E. Waggoner, Dallas; J. T. Scott, Houston; E. E. Baldrige, Fort Worth; John Sealy, Galveston; W. B. Dorchester, Sherman; T. J. Record, Paris; R. E. Huff, Wichita Falls; P. H. Welch, Taylor; W. P. Allen, Terrell; Henry James, Abilene; T. J. Yantis, Brownwood; P. L. Downs, Temple; E. Rotan, Waco; Howell R. Smith, McKinney; E. P. Wilmot, Austin; T. C. Frost, San Antonio; W. E. Norwood, Navasota; D. C. Giddings, Brenham; J. A. Underwood, Rosey Grove; S. B. Norwood, Cleburne; E. J. Fry, Marshall, and John E. Owens, Wills Point.

In connection with efforts to help relieve the cotton farmer, Mr. Kemp is quoted in Sunday's Dallas News as follows: "It is a condition, not a theory, which confronts us. There are plenty of evidences that the demand for cotton soon will increase. In fact, the demand has already increased. We are told that American and European spinners are holding off until convinced that the bottom has been reached, as each wants to be sure that he owns his cotton as cheaply as he does his competitors. Obviously this is true.

"People must furnish bottom. Such being the case, it is up to the people of the South themselves to furnish the bottom. Eventually they will do this. The only question is whether we shall put in the ground floor at the present level, or wait to put it in several feet deeper in the future."

"In this situation we are not now putting in the bottom. Instead, we are waiting and excavating, digging a hole from which it is almost daily becoming harder to dig out.

"Cotton continues to decline because the people of the South, most of them, have become bears; because they have given away to a panicky feeling that cotton may go lower, notwithstanding it is worth more money.

"Naturally the buyers of any commodity would take advantage of such a situation. It is not sufficient that we shall believe cotton to be worth one more penny; we must demonstrate our belief. And all of the demonstrating must be left to the farmers themselves.

"Farmers are bulls on an advancing market; they are bears on a declining market. They are helping to grease the track upon which cotton is sliding down. And they have plenty of company. Community sentiment is helping them in this wrong way. In my opinion there will not be a turn upward until we have first set our feet on a firm base.

"Are Helping Grease Tracks. A grip on ourselves and emphatically declare that we, the people of the South, own this cotton, and that we are not going to sell it for less than its reasonable value. If we will do this; if we will first set our feet on a firm base, then we shall be able to get money to finance the crop, plant of it, whereas under present conditions farmers are unwilling to borrow money upon the product and bankers are reluctant to loan upon it. We shall also get the more active assistance of the farmers themselves, for, as I have already said, they are always inclined to hold upon an advancing market.

"Need Help of All Citizens. "I am speaking of action of the people of the South in general, not merely of farmers. The farmers alone are not powerful enough to change the current of the market. They need the help of all classes of citizens—bankers, merchants and business men generally. They do not need, nor are they asking, help upon a sentimental basis, nor as a matter of charity. Help should be given them not merely because it is to their interest, but also because it is to our interest. The farmers of the South hold the title of the unsold cotton, but every person in the South has an indirect interest in the product. We shall gain or lose as the cotton is sold. It is up to us to say whether the South shall be many millions of dollars poorer or many millions of dollars richer.

"In this situation, let each of us do that which is best for our own individual interest, keeping in mind the interdependence of all of the people of the South. Would Stiffen Southern Backbone. "I have no arbitrary price to suggest for cotton, and no panacea to offer unless it be that a stiffening of southern backbone is a panacea. I want to repeat, in this connection, however, that I cordially believe that if we shall declare our independence and refuse to sell any more cotton at present prices the market will turn. I believe the people of the South are powerful enough to make it turn. A few weeks of steadfastness will in my judgment do the work.

WICHITA FALLS AND QUANAH TEAMS TO MEET SATURDAY

High School Football Eleven To Play Here and Good Game is Anticipated

From Tuesday's Daily.

The football teams of Wichita Falls and Quanah high schools will meet on the city park gridiron next Saturday afternoon. It had been planned to play the game at Quanah but arrangements were made to have it in this city. The Quanah eleven, while not as strong as the crack Vernon team, has been giving a good account of itself and comparative scores indicate it and the locals should be quite evenly matched. On the following Saturday a return game will be played with the Vernon team, which is now very much in the running for the state championship.

WEEKLY SESSION IS HELD BY LABOR COUNCIL MONDAY

From Tuesday's Daily.

Secretary Johnson of the Wichita Falls Trades and Labor Council last night resigned as a trustee in that organization. His resignation was accepted. There being another vacancy on the board Messrs. Russell and Willard were named to fill the positions.

The board of trustees were authorized to close a contract for a new hall for which the committee has been negotiating for some time. Delegate Lawing asked the question which was the greater sin, to purchase union made garments in a non-union store or "scab" made garments in a union store. The secretary was instructed to address a letter to the Clerks' Union asking them to cooperate with the Council in getting the stores to carry union made goods.

LEAVES MONEY TO HOUSTON FOR BIG CHARITY HOSPITAL

By Associated Press.
Houston, Texas, Oct. 27.—At the close of the public funeral exercises in honor of the late George Herman, multi-millionaire bachelor, at the auditorium this afternoon an announcement was made that he had left practically his entire estate valued at between $5,000,000 and $5,000,000 to the city of Houston for the purpose of erecting and endowing one of the greatest charity hospitals in the South.

TELEPHONE COMPANY IN NEW BUILDING

"CUT OVER" MADE EARLY THIS MORNING AND NEW SWITCHBOARD NOW IN USE

PLANT THOROUGHLY MODERN

Transfer Made Without a Hitch and New Board Working Smoothly

Shortly after midnight last night horizontal rows of metal plates were pulled by means of cotton cords in contact with other rows of plates and instantly on a long switch board in the third floor of the Southwestern Telephone Company's new building at the corner of Ninth street and Scott avenue lights began to flash and the "cutting over" from the old exchange to the new was an accomplished fact.

The "cut over" was the work of only a few minutes. The proper connections had been made in advance as far as making connections between telephone subscribers was concerned this might have been done through the new exchange hours before, but the formal transfer was delayed until an hour when a minimum of traffic could be expected.

The installation of the new equipment, which is the latest word in telephony, was under the direction of F. H. Dost, installation expert, for the Western Electric Company whose headquarters are at Dallas.

A number of district telephone officials were present when the cut over was made. Among them were Fred Livingston, division superintendent of plant from Fort Worth; J. S. Webb, division superintendent of traffic from Fort Worth; C. E. Zahn, division superintendent of service from Fort Worth; H. O. King, division traffic supervisor; C. W. Broyles, division general foreman, Fort Worth; John Triller, division wire chief, Fort Worth; L. E. Adler, equipment engineer, Dallas; C. C. Randle, construction foreman of Fort Worth. Among the local officials were: H. D. Phillips, district commercial manager; B. H. Scruggs, district traffic chief; and W. A. Farham, district plant chief.

The building which is a commodious structure of reinforced concrete was built by the F. H. Crites Construction Company under the supervision of Mr. Randle, the telephone company's construction foreman, and plants in the entire country. It is three stories and was built at a cost of $40,000. It is so built that additional stories and extensions may be added as they become necessary. The switchboard is located on the top floor. It is built to accommodate 10,000 telephones and even more, that number could be handled by the expedient of building the board lower. All the rooms are high ceilings and many wide windows provide ample light and ventilation.

On the second floor is located equipment connected with the operation of the plant and also a commodious rest room for the operators fitted with lockers and all things for their comfort and convenience.

The business office and booths for toll business is located on the first floor.

The building is steam heated throughout and in addition to the steam heating plant, in the basement is located storage batteries, dynamos and other equipment. Included in this is a gas engine and generator and dynamo to furnish the current necessary in the operation of the plant.

The building and equipment represent an outlay of nearly $100,000 in indicating that the telephone company has great faith in the future of Wichita Falls and wants to give the best service possible.

As soon as the equipment is working in good shape all the furniture is in place. Manager Phillips will open the plant to public inspection at a formal opening. The date for this opening will be announced later.

The telephone in Wichita Falls. In entering the new building and cutting over to the new exchange, the company marks the beginning of the fourth era in the history of the telephone business in this city. The first era began about twenty years ago when the first telephones were established here. There was no exchange then, connections being made by keys subscriber through a system of cables which were inserted in slots on each phone. These telephones were about five feet in height, cumbersome and awkward and the service was not of the best. There were just six of them in use at first and of these the Denver depot, John Ford's livery barn, the First National and City National had four; the names of the other two subscribers are not recalled.

About two years later the use of the telephone here had become so general that an exchange was established in the old City National building at Seventh and Ohio, where a small room was used. Central was called by turning a small crank and then removing the receiver, the phones being of a type still very extensively used in small towns and on rural lines. There were two girls in charge of the exchange for a number of years. This change was the second era and was marked by the establishment of the first long distance connections out of this city.

over an iron circuit to Fort Worth, extended here from Bowie.

Five years ago the company had outgrown its old quarters and secured rooms on the second floor of the building it is now vacating at the corner of Eighth and Indiana. The plan system was substituted for the old drop method of calling central and the service began to be more metropolitan. Many additional long distance wires had been established between this city and Dallas, Fort Worth and Oklahoma points, to keep up with the demands of the rapidly growing community.

About two years ago the company saw that Wichita Falls was rapidly outgrowing these accommodations and plans were formulated for a new building. The present handsome and commodious structure at the corner of Ninth and Scott is the result. The fifth in this city's telephonic development will begin, probably many years from now, when Wichita Falls has too many telephones for one exchange.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon L. Hamilton, Albert Wenz, Andrew Wiley, Andrew Wiley, Alf Granger, a corporation, Waters-Pierce Oil Company, a corporation, Lincoln Paint & Paper Company, a corporation, and Fred W. Householder, trustee, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the 7th day of December A. D. 1914, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 29th day of September A. D. 1914 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 5141, where A. H. Nairn is plaintiff and T. P. Hickman, L. Hamilton, Albert Wenz, Andrew Wiley, Alf Granger, a corporation, Waters-Pierce Oil Company, a corporation, Lincoln Paint & Paper Company, a corporation, and Fred W. Householder, trustee, are defendants, and the said petition alleging that on or about March 7th, 1910, defendant, T. P. Hickman, and L. Hamilton, made, executed and delivered to Mrs. M. F. Crain their certain vendor's lien promissory note in writing, for the sum of $550 due one year after date, with interest thereon from date at the rate of 8 per cent per annum until paid, and providing for the usual 10 per cent additional on principal and interest if collected by suit or if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. That said note was given in part payment of the purchase money for lot 6, block "C", Granger & Ballow Addition, Texas; that to secure the prompt payment of said vendor's lien a vendor's lien was retained on said lot 6, Granger & Ballow Addition. That about April 23, 1913, Mrs. Crain transferred by deed to Fred Householder the above described note and vendor's lien; that about October 30, 1913, said Fred Householder transferred by deed of conveyance the above described note and vendor's lien to A. H. Nairn, plaintiff herein, who is now the legal owner and holder of same. That said note became due March 1st, 1914; that said note bears the following endorsements, to-wit: Sept. 9, $15; Nov. 6, 1911, $15; Jan. 1, 1912, $37.50; June 13, 1913, $25; Jan. 14, 1913, $24, leaving a balance of $550, principal $55.04, interest and $67.50 attorney's fee, due on said note Sept. 7, 1914. That though often requested defendants have hitherto failed and refused to pay same or any part thereof. That plaintiff has placed the same in the hands of H. Nutt, an attorney at law for collection; that Albert Wenz, Andrew Wiley, Bowman Lumber Company, a corporation, Waters-Pierce Oil Company, a corporation, Lincoln Paint & Paper Company, a corporation, Alfalfa Lumber Company, a corporation, and Fred W. Householder, trustee, are claiming and asserting some right or lien against said lot 6, block "C", Granger & Ballow Addition, but that such claim or claims if any, are inferior to and subject to plaintiff's lien.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that each of the defendants be cited as the law directs to appear at the next regular term of this court, and answer this petition; for judgment against defendant, T. P. Hickman for his debt, interest and attorney fees; for foreclosure of his vendor's lien as against all the above named defendants and that they and each of them be forever barred from asserting any function or claim or lien against or title in said lot 6, block "C", Granger & Ballow Addition; that same be decreed to be sold as under execution, that the proceeds of said sale be applied to the payment of this judgment, costs, etc. That if said property shall not sell for enough to satisfy said judgment that plaintiff have judgment over and against T. P. Hickman, defendant, for the balance; should the same sell for more than sufficient to pay off said judgment and costs that the court direct its disposition, and that purchasers be placed in possession of same within 30 days from date of sale.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court at office in Wichita Falls this 29th day of September A. D. 1914.

A. F. KERR, Clerk District Court, Wichita County, Oct. 9 1914 23-30

WAR TO MAKE NEW NATION OF FRANCE

WHATEVER OUTCOME, REPUBLIC WILL UNDERGO MANY CHANGES

ENGLAND IS ALSO AWAKENING

Has Too Long Considered War in Light of Romance—Novelist Gives Impressions

New York, Oct. 23.—In an interview with Francis Grierson, whom Arnold Bennett has described as the most engaging personality of our time, he gives his impressions of the European conflict. He has had a wide knowledge of the political and social affairs of Europe. His experience began in Paris in 1869, when he met all the leading politicians, writers, artists and social leaders of the second empire, including the principal members of the court of Napoleon III.

He witnessed the outbreak of the war between France and Prussia in 1870 and in Baden he met the newly created Emperor William I, and the Empress Augusta in 1871. He was in Berlin when the emperor and the last links in the imperial chain of the German empire and he passed the year 1872 in St. Petersburg, where he was the guest of Alexander II.

Mr. Grierson was personally acquainted with King Albert of Saxony and Queen Carolina, and the prince and princess of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who were in his honor at the palace in Dresden he was presented to all the members of the Saxon court, among whom were Prince George, the future king; the minister of war, the minister of state and many other dignitaries.

At another reception given him by the Duke and Duchess of Cumberland at the Cumberland palace in Austria he met the Queen of Denmark, mother of the Duke; the reigning Duke of Saxe-Altenburg and all the members of the different courts assembled and in Berlin he entertained many members of the imperial court, including General Count von Moltke, the present chief of staff of the German army.

Three of Mr. Grierson's cousins were famous military leaders—General Lord Wolseley, the late commander in chief of the British army; General Sir James Grierson, one of the foremost leaders of the empire, who died while on the way to Belgium to fight the Germans, and General B. H. Grierson, the famous cavalry leader in the American civil war.

Francis Grierson is descended from Sir Robert Grierson, the fourteenth Laird of Lag, born in 1650, and it is from this ancestor he inherits his extraordinary power of intuition. In his latest book, "The Invincible Alliance," he has a prophetic chapter on the present dispensation, in which he depicts the fierce rush of the German army toward Paris. No one in England believed it possible.

Asked if the English realized the gravity of the situation, Mr. Grierson said to a reporter of the New York Sun:

"English is awakening from her long slumber of a hundred years. Yet even now many are rubbing their eyes, trying to realize the reality. It is hard for Americans to understand fully the position of the English people at this juncture. All their wars since the overthrow of Napoleon I, have been far removed from the shores of Britain. The Boer war in South Africa occurred 10,000 miles from London. I was living in that city at the time. England has always profited by the wars waged in Continental Europe. Now for the first time in the memory of men the scales are tipping to the other side.

"Heretofore the English people regarded war as a romance. People read about it while sitting in easy chairs, in the intervals between a game of golf and the vaudeville. The idea of great armies composed of countless foes just across the channel, armed with terrible instruments of destruction, was unthinkable to the happy go lucky people of London.

"On the other hand millions of Englishmen are brought up to regard England as sacred soil which no nation would think of attacking. 'We are no longer a nation of fighters,' said a high personage to me in London not long ago; 'we are a nation of cricketers and tea drinkers.' But in spite of the lethargy, the indifference, the luxury and the fashionable chronic idleness a few were left who could see the approaching storm. Lord Roberts has for years been like one crying in the wilderness.

"A score of times he declared, 'We are ready to fight.' Yet he was not heeded. I have it on the best authority that the death of General Sir James Grierson was brought about by anxiety and apprehension caused by the sudden turn of events in Germany. From 1890 to 1900 he was military attaché to the British embassy in Berlin and was well aware of the strength and power of the Germans. It was stated he died of heart disease, but he was comparatively a young man and the truth is he feared the worst for the British army in Belgium, but he was powerless to change anything.

"The leading characteristic of the masses is a spirit of laissez faire. 'After us the deluge,' was the remark made to me by a distinguished man holding a high position in London. 'I was much surprised, having known him as one of the most serious men of my acquaintance. 'After us the deluge' has been the motto of the typical Englishman for a long time. Typical events do not worry the masses of London. Yet they will revolt should they feel the pangs of prolonged famine. In that case London would be turned into a pandemonium of blind rage. In a time of famine London would be worse off than Paris was during the Prussian invasion of 1870.

"What is saving England from destruction in this war is the neutrality of America. There is still a possibility of getting enough grain to England to prevent famine. But no matter what happens in the near future, things in England can never again be run on the same old lines of political cant and titled buffoonery.

"What England wins will be dearly paid for; what she loses will be lost forever, and America possesses the necessary vision—they will now dominate the financial and political forces of the world. But they must remember that financial astuteness is no sign of wisdom. Some thousands of years ago a prophet named Isaiah declared, 'They will err in vision stumble in judgment.'

"What do you think America has to fear from this war?" was asked. "All in America who are not dreamers," he declared, "must expect a time when the leading European nations, tired of being hemmed in and forced to live under a military dictatorship, will band together to force a portion of that much coveted region that lies south of the Rio Grande. If England gains an overmastering victory in the present war it will not be long before she will impose conditions on a cash advance on a shipment to a foreign customer with whom the manufacturer had dealt for years. The bill of exchange, the goods and the good name of the manufacturer were all offered as security, yet the banker repudiated that his institution did not care for the sort of business.

"If British manufacturers cannot do their bills they say a curtailment rather than an expansion of foreign business will be imperative, and the London Board of Trade has been so advised by scores of manufacturers. The manufacturers have not been discouraged by the unfavorable financial conditions and are endeavoring to duplicate articles which have hitherto been supplied by the Germans and Austrians.

"Making Glass and Pottery. At present a glass and pottery exhibition is in progress under auspices of the Commercial Intelligence Branch of the Board of Trade. Samples of all sorts of pottery and glassware formerly sent to England from the two countries now at war with Great Britain are on exhibition. This exhibition is primarily for the benefit of English manufacturers who are supplied with full information as to the quantities of such ware Germany and Austria have been selling to English subjects.

A similar exhibition was held, at which toys and games formerly supplied by their enemies were shown. But the pottery and glass field is a more inviting one and the English factories are already trying to duplicate many of the wares Austria and Germany have produced in great quantities for foreign trade.

The shortage of potash is a serious handicap to the production of test tubes, flasks and other glass equipment for use in laboratories. Strange enough England has relied almost exclusively on Germany for such materials and has never tried to produce them.

English manufacturers of glassware have been slow to take advantage of the fact that Germany has allowed Germany to monopolize the production of cheaper grades. As a consequence there is a shortage of skilled labor in England for glass working.

Several English firms have already entered upon the manufacture of glass with considerable success and are said to have produced samples far superior to those manufactured in Austria. Before Christmas England will doubtless have a good supply of test tubes and other glassware from Austria, now distasteful to English children—and adults alike. Sir Richard Winfrey heads the committee which is organizing the British Toy Association for the purpose of displacing Austrian and German toys manufactured in English territory.

Lord Desborough is president of the Entente Trade League which is urging the public to deal only with friends. The Anti-German Trading League and a score of other associations designed to prevent Germany from ever regaining a commercial foothold in English territory are also at work.

don will perhaps have the hardest time of all. It is difficult to conceive the position of the professional London critic at this juncture. He has been caught in a trap of his own invention. It will now be seen how promptly has been the boasting, the bluff, the nonchalance of the past twenty years. London has wallowed in tears and temperaments until the decadence has become unbearable. The mechanical, the artistic and the mechanical could have produced any striking results.

"You ask me how things will be in England if the allies win? In that case England will have the Russian and getting ready for the near future, will keep all her material and intellectual forces in a state of perpetual ferment. In the meantime Japan is an opportunist. She will imitate Germany when the moment to strike arrives, heedless of that eventuality which may befall.

"The four desperate nations are Germany, Russia, Japan and Turkey. I regard Germany as expressing the most fury. All her men under fifty years of age have been stopped in military sentiments since they were children. So have the French, but the difference between the two peoples is one of fundamental differences. The French are fighting an invader and feel their negative attitude; the Germans fought like conquerors and feel like conquerors and realize a positive attitude. Four years ago I counted it the Teutonic.

"If the French win? I must say I can not now see signs of a crushing victory. I repeated over and over again that Germany's war would be no war of sentiment. The Prussians are not a sentimental people and all has been calculated in advance."

ENGLISHMEN PLAN CAMPAIGN

Efforts To Capture German Trade, However, Are Tamped By Financial Situation

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 24.—Commercial League and associations throughout England are making much ado about capturing German trade. Manufacturers declare that the banking situation is so unfavorable that English firms cannot be expected to attempt an aggressive export business.

At a recent meeting called to discuss extension of foreign trade one manufacturer produced letters from his banker which are said to be typical of the position of London banking houses. The manufacturer had asked for a cash advance on a shipment to a foreign customer with whom the manufacturer had dealt for years. The bill of exchange, the goods and the good name of the manufacturer were all offered as security, yet the banker repudiated that his institution did not care for the sort of business.

The French are fighting an invader and feel their negative attitude; the Germans fought like conquerors and feel like conquerors and realize a positive attitude. Four years ago I counted it the Teutonic.

"If the French win? I must say I can not now see signs of a crushing victory. I repeated over and over again that Germany's war would be no war of sentiment. The Prussians are not a sentimental people and all has been calculated in advance."

"LONG WAY TO TIPPERARY" ENGLAND'S NATIONAL SONG

Like "Hot Time" During Spanish-American War—Organist Plays It at Church as Voluntary

FOOD SHORTAGE IN GERMANY UNLIKELY

CLAIMS TO BE BETTER OFF IN THIS REGARD THAN HER ENEMIES

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 24.—"It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary" is upsetting staid old England quite as completely as "Hot Time" outraged the sensibilities of aesthetic Americans at the time of the Spanish-American War.

"Rule Britannia" and "God Save the King" do very well for non-combatants who don evening clothes and pass a patriotic evening watching Sir Beerbohm Tree's "Drake." But the hundreds of thousands of recruits and Territorials have little taste for the solemn hymns and have popularized "Tipperary" by whistling it and singing it in the city streets, along country roads and in the big concentration camps.

Recently a war service was held at Tyler's Green Church in London and many straight-laced communicants were shocked because the organists were moved to tears by the "swing" march tune which Tommy Atkins has adopted in spite of squeamish parents who would force more decorous airs upon him.

The organist at Tyler's Green established a precedent which is far-reaching and the favorite air of the national people. It would like to point out to them that a tune which is good enough on a dark, damp night to cheer our brave men on to almost certain death in their heroic endeavors to save their country and the honor of their womenfolk is surely good enough with which to end a church service. Persons who possess imaginations and hearts must be moved by such a human sort of tune, a tune which means so much to the young Englishmen who are really defending the nation's honor."

Most of the camps where recruits are in training lack organized bands. The great tax upon the resources of the War office have not admitted of band organization. However, nearly every company has a few musicians who play fife or harmonica and "Tipperary" is the one tune invariably heard as the youngsters move along on practice marches. If instruments are lacking the men whistle the rousing tune, for it has been demonstrated that it is a good "whistler." Even the least musical can sing or whistle the air.

"After asserting that the Germans are the biggest meat eaters in Europe, Dr. Ruebner gives the following table of meat consumption per capita per annum for Europe:

Table with 2 columns: Country, Kilograms. Germany 52.3, England 47.5, France 47.5, Holland and Belgium 34.3, Austria-Hungary 29.0, Russia 21.5, Italy 19.4.

Germany's demand, about 600,000 milch cows, producing about 1500 cubic centimeters of milk per capita each day, while the average consumption per person is only 341 cubic centimeters in Germany, in addition to 15 grams of cheese and 7.5 grams of butter.

"It is plain," says the writer, "that we have a superfluity in this class of food. In case the consumption of butter is reduced by one-third in Germany, the saving would amount to about 55,000 tons of butter per day, equal to about 750,000 tons of milk. In view of the fact that each milch cow produces annually about 2500 liters of milk, or about two and a half tons, about 300,000 animals could be killed for food purposes without interfering seriously with the milk supply of Germany."

WOULD HAVE COTTON EXEMPT FROM SEIZURE

State Department Negotiating With Belligerents For Agreement To That Effect

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 24.—Senator looking into the cotton export trade situation were assured today by Acting Secretary Lansing of the state department that the United States would try for an understanding with the European belligerents to permit shipments of cotton and cottonseed oil to belligerent countries. Lansing also stated negotiations would be undertaken with Germany on whether vessels owned by the British at the beginning of the war but now bearing the American flag would be admitted to German ports with cotton shipments. Great Britain also will be consulted about a clause in British marine insurance policies which exempts companies from paying losses from seizure by belligerents.

Senator White of Alabama brought today the fact that several marine insurance companies had refused to underwrite cargoes of cotton destined from the neutral countries, except with a clause exempting from liability in case of seizure by British or French cruisers. The senator asked Mr. Lansing to obtain from Great Britain and France assurances that cargoes consigned to neutral ports would not be molested.

TELEPHONE PLANT MOVES WITH LITTLE DIFFICULTY

Everything is Going Smoothly at New Exchange and Few Phones Report Trouble

From Monday's Daily. Everything is going smoothly at the Southwestern Telephone Company's new exchange in the company's new building. Less than thirty cases of trouble resulted from the cut over Sunday morning and practically all of these have been straightened out, according to Manager H. D. Phillips. The business office and other departments have been moved to the new building where the force is making itself at home in one of the most modern telephone plants in the country.

GENERAL VON FOLKENHAYN IN VON MOLTKE'S PLACE

Berlin, Oct. 26.—General Von Falkenhayn has been acting as chief of the general staff during the illness of General Von Moltke, who has been suffering from a bilious complaint. General Von Moltke's condition is said not to be serious. Lieutenant General Von Rinhardt, attached to the Wurtemberg troops, has been killed in Belgium. He was a veteran of 1870 and retired from active service in 1905.

FOOD SHORTAGE IN GERMANY UNLIKELY

PLENTY OF MILK AND BUTTER

Also Sufficient Meat Supply To Care For All Needs Until War is Over

By Associated Press. The Hague, Oct. 24.—Confidential Councilor Ruebner, founder of what is known as the physiology of nutrition and a German economist of wide reputation, publishes in the current issue of the Medicinische Wochenschrift, a survey of food conditions in Germany. The writer deals with the claim of the foreign hostilities that Germany, due to its partial isolation in the present war, would in very little time be without sufficient food. Among the items which he speaks of is milk.

Germany has at present, claims Councilor Ruebner, about 600,000 milch cows, producing about 1500 cubic centimeters of milk per capita each day, while the average consumption per person is only 341 cubic centimeters in Germany, in addition to 15 grams of cheese and 7.5 grams of butter.

JACK KELLY STRIKES OIL NEAR LAWTON, OKLAHOMA

Has Fourteen Feet of Sand at Depth of 463 Feet—Has Already Made New Location

From Monday's Daily. Jack Kelly came in Sunday from Comanche County, Oklahoma, where he brought in an oil well last week. Mr. Kelly's well is six miles east of Chickasha. The well was drilled in Saturday and up to the time Mr. Kelly left Sunday afternoon it had not stopped flowing gas and oil. The sand is fourteen feet thick and was found at a depth of 463 feet. Mr. Kelly is already building a derrick for another well on the same lease. He has two eighty acre leases, one being across a roadway from the other. Owen and Wilson who are drilling in the same vicinity are reported to have had a good showing earlier in the week but are still drilling. Mr. Kelly says there is much gas in his well and that it may develop into a gas well instead of an oil well. Bedon within six miles of Lawton, which does not have gas now, the well would probably be as valuable as a gas well as an oil well.

The Legislature has adjourned and still the farmer has not been saved

The price of cotton is now almost what it was when the Legislature met, and the daily sales are more than twice as large as in the Brownwood Bulletin.

Request has been made of the Herald by an eastern publication for information respecting the sentiment of the people in this locality with reference to which side in the great European war is favored.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S FOOLISH PLAN

It passes understanding how legislatures play the wild at times when sane counsel and caution are needed above all else.

Over in South Carolina, however, a special session is seriously threatened above all else.

There is one circumstance, however, that will save South Carolina the disaster that such a measure and such a transaction might inflict upon her and that is even if the legislature should pass the bill and the banks nobly would buy them—at least not at a price that would enable the valuation scheme to go through.

But if this bond issue were feasible in any respect, the ultimate result would be disaster. It would ruin the credit of the State of South Carolina and in all likelihood would impair the value of all the public securities of the State and its political subdivisions.

It will require a concerted movement to solve the cotton problem and no one State can possibly force the price to a 10-cent basis.

It was a sober second thought that induced the South Carolina legislature to send a committee to Washington to consult Secretary McAdoo with respect to the proposed bond issue.

Any good American citizen will tell you that this is a government of three coordinate branches, to-wit: the legislative, the executive and the judicial.

TWO HUNDRED BUSHELS OF SWEET POTATOES ON ONE ACRE OF LAND

The editor of this paper can remember the time—not more than fifteen years ago—when it was the generally accepted idea of truck farmers that sweet potatoes of the Pumpkin Yam variety could not be grown at a profit in this part of the State.

occurrence to remove all doubts from their mind by walking or driving about one-quarter of a mile east of the city to the truck farm of J. B. Marlow, where an acre of Pumpkin Yam sweet potatoes are being dug up and sacked ready to be marketed.

The whole sale price, or the price that is being paid by the retailer, ranges from eighty-five cents to ninety-five cents per bushel.

Next Tuesday, November 3rd, a new congress is to be elected. Minority Leader Mann is claiming that it will be a Republican victory in so far as the congressional election is concerned, and that the Democratic majority will be "wiped out entirely."

France has placed an order with a Pennsylvania steel firm for 600,000 machine guns to be delivered within 18 months, and the amount in dollars and cents is $25,000,000.

The surplus of wheat produced in the United States in 1914 is placed at 390,000,000 bushels, and it is being exported at the rate of 32,000,000 bushels per month.

It is officially announced from Washington that all the reserve banks will open for business November 16.

Correct as to the one-acre producing 200 bushels of potatoes, but a little off as to the price. Potatoes of that quality retail in the grocery at $1.25 to $1.40 per bushel.

A DANEROUS PRACTICE. Any American citizen will tell you that this is a government of three coordinate branches, to-wit: the legislative, the executive and the judicial.

Any good American citizen will tell you these things, no matter his party predilections.

The several departments of the government are under executive control. The head of the treasury department, for instance, is an appointee of the president and subject to removal by the president.

and the representative. As example, the recent appointment of Dr. Dixon as postmaster at Temple. That gentleman is thus quoted in the Temple Telegram:

Now, of course, Bob Henry is no whit different to any other member of the congress, each takes every piece of pie in sight and passes his plate for more.

Some newspapers, in writing about the war in Europe, seem to think they only have the right to give one side of the question—that to give both sides would be a violation of neutrality.

If Berlin would only loosen up a bit on her censorship, Germany might stand something like an even break at winning battles.

The Republicans are making a strong fight to wipe out the Democratic majority in Congress at the general election on November 3rd, and doubtless many Democratic congressmen elected two years ago from districts strongly Republican when the party is united will fall to be returned.

Denon county farmers are finding out that seventy-five bushels of sweet potatoes an acre at a dollar a bushel is better farming than a half bale of cotton an acre at $30 a bale.

That, doubtless, is true. But do the Denton county farmers sell their potatoes for $1 per bushel, and if so, who does they sell them to?

LET WACHOWD BE "BOOST, DON'T KNOCK!" (Dallas News) That the pre-eminent need of the cotton-producing States at this time is a universally bullish sentiment in favor of cotton, and that there is a potential but latent holding power in the South, is the belief of Mr. J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls.

Of course, it is not always best to "think with the constitution," but the people of Texas should realize that the Texas of today is not to be compared with the Texas of forty or fifty years ago.

There is abundant reason, too, why Southern sentiment should be fullish, not bullish. There has been too much misinterpretation of our old friend "the law of supply and demand."

After being out 13 hours, the jury in the trial of Mrs. Florence Conklin Cary, accused of slaying Mrs. Louise Bailey in the case of her former husband, Dr. Cary, on June 30 last, at Mineola, N. Y., reported its inability to agree and was discharged.

breaking the backbone of the market. There is an unconscious conspiracy among our own people against cotton, a conspiracy born of fear.

Of course it would take a lot of money to buy and impound 5,000,000 bales of cotton, as has so often been suggested. But we do believe that the South has the power to put on the brakes sufficiently to check the mad rush of cotton to market, and to turn the price upward.

Business Not So Bad. From the Topeka (Kansas) Journal we take the following, and those who are constantly talking hard times, bad business and the war in Europe should read it and then be a little more optimistic:

In Chicago the packing-houses are running at full capacity, and are employing more men than for a number of months back. The shipment of hogs has started, and these receipts, added to those derived from incoming cattle, are unusually heavy.

St. Louis, dry goods wholesalers have announced an earlier shipment, and the complete recovery of their market from the depression that immediately followed the outbreak of the war. They have reported an increase of over 15 per cent in sales during August and September over the corresponding period in 1913.

Automobile sales for the first nine months of 1914 have equalled the sales of the first ten months in 1913. The Willys-Overland company, Toledo, announces the biggest business in the history of the company.

Textile firms of Pennsylvania which, previous to the war, had been operating one half time, are now working three-quarters full time, employing 75,000 men, women and boys.

It is unofficially reported that Chas. M. Schwab of the Bethlehem Steel company is acting as the agent of the French government in placing orders for $71,000,000 worth of supplies in this country, including automobile trucks. Already 25,000 tons of barb wire have been sent to European ports.

119,380 over shipments in August, the first month of the war. Notable increases are also reported in corn, wheat, flour, fresh beef, pickled beef, bacon, lard, illuminating oil, lubricating oils, gasoline, naphtha and fuel oils.

FIRST FROST OF SEASON IS RECORDED MONDAY NIGHT Temperature of Thirty-three Degrees is Reached and Some Ice is Noticed From Tuesday's Daily. A heavy frost last night wilted vegetation and probably has stopped the growth of cotton.

WICHITANS ARE PRESENT AT COTTON MEETING TODAY Bankers' Association is Making Effort to Agree Upon Plan for Relief From Tuesday's Daily. H. E. Hull, president of the First National Bank, is in Dallas today attending a meeting of the cotton committee of the Texas Bankers' Association of which J. A. Kemp, president of the City National Bank is chairman.

BASFORD IS IMPROVING; CARSON TO HAVE HEARING From Tuesday's Daily. W. O. Basford who was shot Sunday by Charles Carson continues to improve and unless complications develop will soon be able to get out. Carson will probably be given a hearing before Justice Howard tomorrow afternoon. He has retained the law firm of Nelson & Hunter. Carson's father-in-law arrived last night.

DO IT NOW Wichita Falls People Should Not Wait Until It is Too Late The appalling death rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious.

It is unofficially reported that Chas. M. Schwab of the Bethlehem Steel company is acting as the agent of the French government in placing orders for $71,000,000 worth of supplies in this country, including automobile trucks. Already 25,000 tons of barb wire have been sent to European ports.

New England firms are sending large shipments of rubber boots abroad, due to the heavy rains in France, Belgium, Austria and Russia. Heavier orders are expected as soon as the winter sets in.

Blanket manufacturers are receiving big orders. Heavy demands are also being made on the manufacturers of hosiery, underwear, shirts and harness. Ammunition factories in Connecticut are working night and day to fill orders for revolvers, machine guns and other implements of war.

CARSON ADMITTED TO BAIL FOR $1250

EXAMINING TRIAL IS HELD FOLLOWING LAST SUNDAY'S SHOOTING.

STATEMENT MADE BY BASFORD

Tells of Events at Depot—Defense Inquires As to Events Leading Up to It.

From Wednesday's Daily. At an examination before Justice Howard this afternoon, Charles Carson of Oklahoma City was bound over to the grand jury on a complaint charging assault to murder in connection with the shooting of W. O. Basford last Sunday. His bond was placed at $1,250, which his attorneys, Nelson and Hunter, said he would be able to furnish. A statement made by Basford to Acting County Attorney Bruce Greenwood and Mr. Hunter, one of the plaintiff's attorneys, and the testimony of Deputy Sheriff Charles Russell was the only evidence submitted. The defense presented no testimony. Russell's statement was much the same as the account published in the Times Monday. In his statement to the two attorneys Mr. Basford said that he believed Carson thought he (Basford) had done him a wrong, but that he had not. Mr. Basford said Carson accented him as he was going to mail a letter on the train. Basford's statement says:

"Mr. Carson stopped and stood in front of me and said: 'Is your name Basford?' I said 'yes.' I stuck out my hand and he shook hands with me. I said 'I don't know you.' He said 'You do know me.' He had both hands in his pocket when he stopped me and look them both out when he shook hands with me, then leisurely put his hands back in his pockets. His eyes did not look right, and this was the first intimation that he was mad.

RARE WHALE SPECIMEN IS FOUND OFF IRISH COAST

Very Jeldom Found in Waters of Civilized Countries and No One Knows Its Habitat.

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 28.—A rare whale, with an unusually retiring disposition, has just been captured for the natural history section of the British Museum. It is known as Sowerby's whale and was found stranded at Rosslare, Ireland. The existence of these whales is known only from the occasional discovery of stranded specimens on civilized coasts. Not more than a dozen have been found on the British coasts since records have been taken and the specimens in the world's museums can be counted on the fingers of one hand. TOTAL OF 2,810,711 BALES UP TO OCTOBER 18, SAYS CENSUS BUREAU

TEXAS TOTAL 2,810,711 BALES

All Records For Country Are Broken Between Dates of September 25 To October 18

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 28.—The depression in the cotton trade has had no effect upon the ginning of this year's bumper crop which is indicated as the country's second in point of production. In fact ginning was more active during the period from Sept. 25 to Oct. 18 of this year than ever before: 4,531,929 bales were ginned against 4,062,027 bales ginned in that period in the record crop year of 1913. On Oct. 18 there had been ginned 7,610,655 bales the census bureau announced today.

ENGLISH PENSION SYSTEM IS SUBJECT OF ATTACKS BY PAPERS

TROOPS RECEIVE SMALL PAY

Ordinary Infantrymen in New Volunteer Army Are Receiving Only $1.55 Per Week

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 28.—Five shillings a week to the soldier's wife who has lost her husband in fighting his country's battles! With this exclamation one of the leading London papers attacks editorially the government's pension system which says due to the old tradition summed up by Wellington's assertion that his troops in the Spanish campaign were only "the scum of the earth." The war office, according to the writer, fails to realize that times are different now and the vast majority of volunteers are men who in civil life earn good wages in factory, field, office and shop.

QUIT PICKING COTTON IF THEY CAN'T SHOOT CRAPS

San Angelo, Texas, Oct. 26.—Because they are not allowed to shake dice and otherwise amuse themselves as they see fit when not at work in the cotton fields a number of East Texas negroes are threatening to go back home. Farmers who imported these pickers have asked officers to let the negroes do as they please as long as no one is bothered. The negroes say that this is the only way they can amuse themselves on rainy days.

TO MAKE GRAB FOR COLONIES

All of Nations Involved Have Eyes on Possible Additions to Territory. (By Herbert Corey) London, Oct. 4.—England will not demand that Germany be dismembered or disarmed when the allies win. Europe's interest will be best served by the retention of Germany as a sound and virile unit in the rank of nations. But she must give up her dream of world-empire. She shall no longer be a menace to peace.

BOD YOF DROWNED MAN CANNOT BE LOCATED Waco, Texas, Oct. 28.—An all-night search proved unsuccessful to locate the body of S. M. Parham, aged 21, who was drowned at the lock and dam eleven miles below here, yesterday. He and a companion in a barge became frightened when the boat began to drift and jumped out. L. R. Boatner, who was with him, reached the shore, but Parham sank. Judge Felder is in receipt of a letter from a judge in Tennessee asking for information concerning the whereabouts of Tommy Couch. Tommy was the young man's name when he left Tennessee about twenty years ago. The letter said the last heard from Mr. Couch was that he was in Wichita Falls. He is one of the beneficiaries of a small estate and it is for this reason that the Tennessee judge is trying to locate him.

SOCIETY

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY MONDAY The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church met in regular session Monday afternoon. The devotional exercise was led by Mrs. Kemp, who was also leader of the lesson. The second chapter of "The Child in the Midst" was the lesson for the afternoon, those taking part in the program, being Mesdames Hunt, Beavers, Patterson, Meara, Potter and Miss Jodie Haynes. It was the pleasure of the society to have with them Miss Pitman, a returned missionary who made an interesting and enlightening talk on the children of Mexico, their life and education. Her talk was illustrated by photographs. Mrs. Fowler made a talk on "Train up a child in the way he should go." A good number was in attendance to enjoy the unusually interesting program.

MRS. KERR HOSTESS TO CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN AID The Ladies Aid of the Central Presbyterian Church met with Mrs. A. P. Kerr Monday afternoon. LADIES OF M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, IN ALL DAY SESSION The ladies of the M. E. Church, South, held their usual monthly all day meeting Monday at the church. The meeting was marked by a splendid attendance and an unusual amount of interest. At the noon hour a tempting lunch was enjoyed. Messrs. Sailer and Montgomery and Dr. Hill being present as guests. The "week of prayer service" was observed in the program of the afternoon instead of at a later date as originally intended. After a business session and a generous free will offering which was to go to the Vashit School in Thompsons, Mo., and the Rio School in Brazil, the program was opened by the singing of a hymn by the society and a prayer by Mrs. Hutton. The devotionals were led by Mrs. Butler, reading from the fourteenth chapter of the Gospel of John. A prayer by Mrs. Hartscock followed and another hymn. The Gulf Coast work was discussed by Mrs. Jenne and queries were held on the mountain work, the Pain Annex and Bethlehem House by Mrs. Montgomery. The rescue work and the Virginia K. Johnson Home in Dallas were the topics of an interesting talk by Mrs. C. W. Snider. "Rescue the Perishing" was then sung, followed by "Wesley Houses" by Mrs. Channey. Queries on foreign work closed the program. During the business session it was decided to hold a "birth-day party" the second of November at the home of Mrs. E. P. Greenwood. The fourth Monday was set as the date for the return of the dime, which were given to each of the ladies the first of the year, to be increased in any manner possible. The meeting will take place at the church.

FIRST CHRISTIAN LADIES ENTERTAINED MONDAY The Ladies Aid Society of the First Christian Church was entertained very pleasantly Monday afternoon at the residence of Rev. F. F. Walters with Mesdames Walters, Downing and Bacon as hostesses. The decorations and souvenirs carried out the Halloween idea and were quite artistic. After the business session, a very substantial offering of a social time was in order. Delicious refreshments were served and all present declared the afternoon a most pleasant one.

GUILD OF GOOD SHEPHERD MEETING MONDAY AFTERNOON The Guild of the Good Shepherd met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Datson at the residence. MISS HICKMAN HOSTESS TO STANDARD CLUB TUESDAY The Standard club met in regular session Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. B. Patterson with Miss Hickman as hostess. A short business session was called at the beginning of the meeting and Miss Kathleen Stonecipher elected a member. The round table discussion was next taken up and interesting talks made on current events of the day. The lesson was on Scott's Talisman, viewed from a literary viewpoint. Mrs. Harrington ably discussed the origin, Mrs. Langford the setting and situation of the book and Mrs. Fitzhugh grouped the characters. Miss Hickman carried out the plot development in an interesting and highly instructive manner and Miss Rainey classified the scenes according to their dramatic effect. Miss Alder compared the characters with fiction and history, and a talk by Mrs. Patterson on the origin of the Dead Sea was heard. The meeting was much enjoyed, the program being enthusiastically carried out. The club will meet next November 10, with Miss Alder at the home of Mrs. C. J. Barnard on Broad street. ART LITERATURE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. BAKER Mrs. H. L. Baker was hostess to the Art Literature club Tuesday afternoon. Roll call was answered with notes on American scenery and the very interesting Bayliss' lesson of Indian Education was ably led by Mrs. Leichman. Mrs. Pridden read an excellent paper on the founding of Philadelphia and the club was taken through the changes of a quarter of a century by Mrs. Hountree, who had a paper on that topic. Mrs. DeBerry led the participation drill, which is a feature of the club. After listening to the report of Miss Childers on the training school for delinquent girls in Texas, the meeting was turned over to the hostess, Miss Kathleen Stonecipher, who introduced, also Master Nolen-Bullock, who entertained artistically a number of piano duets. Miss Stonecipher then favored with solo music in her usual masterly style, while the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Little and McElroy, served a delicious and artistically arranged salad plate. The party was given at the home of Mrs. C. P. Moore entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank Cullinan. The rooms were darkened and a wondrous light was furnished by candle-lit jack o'lanterns. On the hangings of the rooms and every conceivable place black cats and witches were rampant and streamers, yellow and black crepe paper hung from chandeliers and doorways. On each table salted almonds were placed in boxes, on which saucy black cats were perched. The color motif was carried out in the refreshment course of pear salad, primate sandwiches, olives and orange ice, which was the final hospitality of the afternoon. The end of the game found Mrs. H. Harry Weeks winner of the club prize, an ivory clock for the boudoir; Mrs. Claude Woods scoring high among the guests, the favor being a perfume bottle in an ivory container, while the consolation, a black cat, with skeleton face, fell to Mrs. Dent. Ever a novel hostess, Mrs. Moore's hospitality was unusually enjoyable on this occasion. The out-of-town guests present were Mesdames Rolling of Fort Worth, Clarkson of Fort Worth, Terrill of Dallas and Barry of Abilene; other guests were Mesdames Woods and Stanforta. The club members present were Mesdames Greenwood, E. L. Smith, T. B. The hostess served delicious hot biscuits with butter, coffee, salad and cake to the following members: Misses Alta Ruffner, Ha Cook, Hazel Robson, Muriel Hickman, Zola Hooverson, Myrtle Humphries, Grace Nelson, Mesdames John Chambers, Woodruff, Lester Jones and Rhea Howard. Austin, Texas, Oct. 28.—F. C. Wolner, Secretary of State, plans to recommend to the 34th legislature an amendment to the law regarding the certifying of names of district candidates to the state department. Lack of this provision, he says, has caused considerable confusion and much delay in getting candidates' names on the official ballot. Mr. Wolner's recommendation would impose upon district chairmen the duty of certifying and forwarding to the secretary of state immediately all candidates' names. This has not been compulsory and many district chairmen, it is said, have been slow and in many instances have failed entirely to submit names. Suits have been filed in the District Court as follows: Beulah Greenwood vs. Mike Greenberg, divorce; Mae Shackelford vs. Carroll-Brough-Robinson and Gates; Injunction: C. A. Rodgers vs. Mary Rodgers, divorce; Sarah Henderson vs. R. E. Henderson, divorce; Lizzie Ward vs. Dave Ward, divorce; Robert E. Lawton vs. S. F. Flannery, debt and attachment.

NOTICE! Having leased the three east front offices on the second floor of the First National Bank building, now under construction at the corner of Eighth and Indiana avenues, I desire to share said offices with some reliable, permanent located person or firm with reputable calling. These offices are decidedly the choice ones in the building, being opposite the elevators and quite prominent. Dr. J. W. Du Val

AEROPLANE BOMBS KILL FRENCHWOMEN

TOWNS OF BETHUNE AND DUNKIRK INVADDED BY GERMAN FLIERS

NINETEEN KILLED BY MISSILE

Market Women Are Victims at Bethune—Woman and Child Killed at Dunkirk

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 30.—Two German aeroplanes Wednesday dropped two bombs at Bethune, France, according to the correspondent of the Daily Mail in northern France. The first failed to explode and the second killed nineteen market women and injured forty others.

Two bombs also were dropped at Dunkirk on the same day from a Taube machine 9000 feet up in the air. A woman and child were killed and all the windows in the neighborhood were smashed. The women of the town were terrified.

GARY MAKES PREDICTION OF LOSSES IN EUROPE'S WAR

If It Lasts Eighteen Months, Says Four Million Men Will Meet Death

By Associated Press. Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 30.—If the European war is maintained with its present violence for eighteen months the loss of life will be 4,000,000 and the property loss $35,000,000,000, E. H. Gary, president of the American Steel and Iron Institute, said Thursday in addressing the annual meeting of that organization. Mr. Gary was optimistic over the future of the steel trade.

CLOTHING, SHOES AND MOTOR TRUCKS FOR WAR ORDERED

Big Demand For Tinned Meats Keeps Packers Busy—Knitting Mills Swamped

By Associated Press. Chicago, Oct. 30.—Foreign orders for clothing, trucks, harness, tinned meats and the like, in Chicago and neighboring markets, now are mounting to seven and eight million dollars. The British government has three million dollars in gold to be used against a purchase. The meat packers are said to have enough European orders on hand to keep them running full time for a year. Wisconsin's knitting mills are swamped with military orders. Coarse fur coats, harness, shoes and light tonnage automobile trucks are among other Wisconsin commodities being sold abroad.

$10,000,000 FRENCH LOAN TO BE SPENT FOR SUPPLIES

Money Borrowed From New York Banks Will Be Kept in United States

By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 30.—The loan of $10,000,000 arranged by the French government with the City National Bank and other New York banking institutions, it was learned today, is to be used in the purchase of war supplies in this country. The notes will be retained by the bankers making the loan.

FARMER PROHIBITIONISTS MEETING AT DALLAS TODAY

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Oct. 30.—Texas farmers opposed to the liquor traffic and open saloons met here today at the county court house to discuss means by which farmers may be brought together to fight what the call for the meeting terms "the natural enemy of the farmer." It was expected nearly all North Texas counties would be represented.

INVADERS FORCED BACK ACROSS YSER

BELGIANS FLOOD COUNTRY AND GERMAN WITHDRAW FORCES

FRENCH CLAIM FURTHER GAIN

News From Battlefield Continues Generally Favorable To Army of Allies

By Associated Press. Paris, Oct. 30.—The French official communication given out in Paris today says the forces of the enemy which had passed the Yser have been compelled to withdraw by reason of inundation of the low country brought about by the Belgian army. The text of the communication is as follows: "The extreme inundation brought about by the Belgian army in the lower valley of the River Yser has compelled the forces of the enemy which had passed this river to withdraw. They were subjected to a violent cannonade by the Belgian and French artillery during the retreat. The Germans endeavored yesterday to deliver violent counter attacks on the French and British army corps which were progressing to the northeast and to the east of Ypres. At the opening of yesterday our troops had, notwithstanding, continued their forward position which had been assigned them and also had taken possession of various points of support. The British troops assailed at various points north of Jabasse by superior forces, resumed the offensive with energy and conquered to a considerable extent the territory yielded to the enemy. At several points on the line of combat the British troops repulsed the attacks of the Germans inflicting on them important losses.

"On the remainder of the front there has been no general action, only local offensive movements on our side as well as on the part of the enemy. We have made progress almost everywhere, notably before certain villages between Arras and Albert, upon the heights of the right bank of the Aisne, down stream from Soissons and here and there along the Meuse to the north of Verdun."

Washington Believed This Means That Rebels Are in Command of Seaport

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 30.—President Zaveror of Haiti has been obliged to quit his capital, Port-au-Prince, and seek refuge on a Dutch vessel, according to a report to the state department today from the American legation at Haiti. Officials interpret this to mean that the rebels are in complete control of Port au Prince.

STATE SUPREME COURT FAR BEHIND WITH WORK

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Oct. 30.—The state supreme court, it is learned here, is so far behind with its work that it is not likely there will be rendered any opinions of importance by that tribunal until after the holidays. The court again this session will adopt the plan of permitting submission of cases each week after the docket has been relieved of applications or writs of error. The court now is devoting its time to clearing up these applications. The court of criminal appeals, it is said, is much nearer up with its work than the supreme court.

TURKEY BRINGS IN MANY NEW FACTORS

ATTITUDE OF MOSLEMS IN INDIA AND OF EGYPT IS PROBLEMATIC

CUTTING OFF OF FOOD SUPPLIES

Entry of Balkan States and Greece Is Expected—United States Closely Interested

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 30.—Turkey's entry into the war brings out the close conflict of the United States to the great fighting, immense food supplies will be cut off from northern Europe. The general opinion here is that at least in the beginning and for some time thereafter Turkey would be greatly circumscribed in her activities.

One of the uncertain elements in the political side of the problem is the effect on the great Moslem population of India. It is pointed out that there are probabilities that Egypt would be drawn in through her political and religious affiliation with Turkey this affecting British sovereignty over Egypt and the control of the Suez Canal, a very necessary link in the British chain of communications between England and the great Indian empire.

From a purely military view it is believed Russia would have little to fear from the Turkish empire. Several Balkan states, it is expected, would declare war on Turkey immediately and the last conflict is held to have demonstrated their ability to check a northern movement of the Turkish army. From a naval standpoint experts think Turkey cannot work much mischief. Her addition has been increased by the addition of two German cruisers, the Goeben, and Breslau, but the Russian Black Sea fleet is regarded as much more than a match for these two vessels.

U. S. Warships Handy.

Because of rumors of possible anti-Congressional American Ambassador Johnson at one time advised that American warships be present in Turkish waters. The cruisers North Carolina and Tennessee which were sent to Europe with gold for relief purposes now, and probably will be, maintained in the eastern Mediterranean. Recently these rumors subsided and for the last night the belief prevails among state department officials that the situation has passed its danger point.

The policy of Greece, as previously announced by Minister Schlemann here, would cause Greece to enter the war in case any of the peaceful Balkan states should take up arms. No official dispatches had reached the Greek legation here early today. Minister Schlemann suggested that it was possible the reported action of the Turkish warships might have been prompted by a mutiny of the crew as was the case with the Potemkin in the Russian revolution.

Great Britain, Russia and France have made it plain to Turkey, it is understood, what the consequence of her entry would be. The Anglo-French fleet which virtually has been in possession of the Black Sea can bombard the ports of Asia Minor. The full war strength of Turkey's army is 300,000 trained men, according to statistics here, but it is believed there are also 400,000 irregulars.

Turkey's navy consists of three battleships, four cruisers, three torpedo gunboats, ten destroyers, ten torpedo boats, twenty-eight small gunboats, a coast defense ship and some auxiliary craft.

HOOPES TO BE CASHIER OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANK

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Oct. 30.—Unofficially it was learned here today that the federal reserve board for the eleventh district in session here has practically agreed upon competition of its membership by selecting J. W. Hoopes as cashier of the regional reserve bank here and R. L. Van Zandt of Fort Worth, as vice-manager. Hoopes is cashier of the City National Bank of Galveston. Van Zandt is now a national bank examiner having been stationed in this district for several years. He has worked for the treasury department thirteen years, formerly being stationed in the Philippines. His father is Gen. K. M. Van Zandt of Fort Worth.

REPORTED GERMAN INVASION IN AFRICA IS CALLED LIE

By Associated Press. Berlin, Oct. 30.—The alleged raid of German troops into Angola, West Africa, is declared officially today to be a "flat lie" forged in order to justify Portugal's participation in the European war.

ODESSA IS BOMBARDED BY TURKS AND RUSSIAN GUN BOAT IS SUNK—AMERICAN PROPERTY SUFFERS

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 30.—Acting Secretary Lansing today announced receipt of a telegram from the American charge d'affaires at Petrograd saying Odessa has been bombarded and some American property destroyed. The dispatch was dated Petrograd, Oct. 29, 7:00 p. m., and spoke of the bombardment as having taken place "last night," evidently meaning Thursday.

LONDON WARNS TURKEY SHE WILL HAVE TO FIGHT ALL ENTENTE POWERS

By Associated Press. Constantinople, Oct. 30.—In anticipation of the possible invasion of Egyptian territory, Ambassador Mallett has informed the grand vizier that if the Turks cross the frontier it will mean war with the entente powers. It is understood that the embassies of the allied powers, fearing a rupture, already have made arrangements for withdrawal of the diplomatic representatives.

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BETWEEN TURKEY AND RUSSIA ARE SEVERED

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 30.—The British ambassador at Constantinople has been withdrawn according to official announcement here this morning and in consequence of Turkish attacks on Russian ports instructions have been sent Russian consuls in Turkey to leave the country.

RUSSIAN GUNBOAT IN PORT OF ODESSA IS SUNK BY TURKS' TORPEDOES

By Associated Press. Bordeaux, Oct. 30.—It was announced officially here today that two Turkish torpedo boat destroyers entered the port of Odessa on the Black Sea yesterday and sank a Russian gunboat. It also inflicted damages on the French liner Port-ugal.

ENTRANCE OF TURKEY MAY DRAW GREECE INTO FIGHT

Effect On Balkans And Also On Moslem Tribes Watched—Little News From Flanders

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 30.—Interest in the battles raging in the East and West of Europe where decisive results still are to be obtained, was momentarily overshadowed today by Turkey's entrance into the war through her inauguration of hostilities against Russia. London and Washington agree that this new development probably will have a slight effect on land operations but will manifest itself chiefly by sea and give the allied fleet in the Mediterranean and adjacent waters some busy times.

Aside from this the most interesting phase of Turkey's action is its probable effect on the delicate Balkan situation, and next, what will Greece do? Should Greece enter the arena of war two expatriated American battleships, the former Mississippi and Idaho, will be heard from. What effect Turkey's entrance into the war, now a conflict of ten nations will have on the millions of Moslems in Africa and Asia, is a matter of conjecture. It was made known today that in addition to sinking two steamers in the Black Sea and bombarding the city of Theodosia, Turkish warships had entered the port of Odessa, sunk a Russian gunboat and damaged a French liner.

Although no formal declaration of war is reported, the Russian ambassador at Constantinople has been withdrawn.

Little news filtered through today from the great battle in Flanders. Indications were that the censorship had become more rigid. The French official statement while again optimistic, was general in terms and contained nothing to indicate that decided advantage had been won by either side. It was inferred that the deadly struggle has yet to run its course.

The enormous sacrifices made by the Germans to force a passage on the Yser river are said by the French war office to have been in vain. The German forces which maintained their hard won place notwithstanding the heavy cost in life, are said to have withdrawn. What shot and shrapnel could not accomplish was gained by another device, the Belgians having flooded the lower valley of the river. The French official statement indicates that it again has fallen to the lot of their presence along the line from Ypres to Dixmude is revealed in the statement which says that the violent German attacks in that vicinity were beaten back and that the British and French were able to push forward.

Of the battle in Russian Poland and Galicia, no word has come since the indefinite official reports of yesterday. The heavy mortality among high officers is emphasized by the report from Paris that twenty-one French officers have been promoted to the rank of General. Eight of these are to fill places made by vacant by death in battle.

GERMANY SOON TO PROCLAIM HER ANNEXATION OF BELGIUM

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 30.—A dispatch to The Times from Berlin via Copenhagen asserts that preparations are being made in the German capital for the proclamation of the annexation of Belgium.

DECLARATION BY RUSSIA EXPECTED

IS PRESAGED BY WITHDRAWAL OF HER AMBASSADOR FROM TURKEY

ITALY MAY ALSO BE INVOLVED

Believed Russia Can Handle Turks Without Drawing Men From Her Force in Poland

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 30.—What amounts to a declaration of war by Emperor Nicholas was issued today in the form of instructions to his ambassador and consuls to quit Turkey forthwith. This probably will be followed promptly by similar action on the part of each of the allied governments. The appearance of the Dardanelles will be a natural sequence.

Italy, it is thought, may become involved in the war on account of Turkey's actions. Turkey's action is accepted in London as another proof of the German need to draw off the Russian force from Poland Galicia. The Muscovites however, have a large and growing reserve which they claim is quite capable of attending to the Turkish factor without depleting the armies now in the field. The latter, apparently are making steady progress toward the entrenched positions on the River Warthe in Russian Poland. Here the Germans undoubtedly will make another attempt to rend their enemy.

The Russian occupation of Czernowitz in Bukowina is considered important. The town is a railroad junction and its position frees a long railroad line to Lodz which again is in possession of Russian troops.

Rumors again are current in London today that Hungary, weary of war in which she has nothing to gain, would welcome a chance to quit. It is suggested also that Serbia soon may be compelled to retire within her own borders and assume a purely defensive role in consequence of national exhaustion.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS. Carrier boys are not authorized nor is any part of their duty to collect for subscriptions to The Times.

In another column of the Times of today will be found an article by Mr. Harry May under the caption of "Takes Issue With The Times."

The Times is guilty of trying to prejudice the country against the town.

Perhaps it is not necessary for The Times to enter a protest against such charge. For years, or to be exact, ever since the installation of our splendid irrigation plant that is capable of furnishing water in abundance for about 4,000 acres of rich land, it has been the purpose of this newspaper to encourage all it could the business of truck farming, and sufficient trials have been made to convince The Times that the land under the ditch will produce in abundance nearly all kinds of truck, such as tomatoes, cucumbers, cantaloupes, strawberries, beans, peas, cabbage, potatoes, onions, etc.

But those who have tried it have become somewhat discouraged, and many have ceased to raise truck, but instead are planting their lands to field crops.

When the Times had to say the other day regarding the price offered a producer of sweet potatoes was substantially correct.

Perhaps in order to have the matter better understood, it should have gone into details. It is not too late to do that now, and the facts are these: The producer was first offered 50 cents per bushel for his potatoes, then 55 cents, and later was offered 65 cents for one 30 bushel lot, sacked.

The sacks cost the producer about 10 cents each, and they held about 20 bushels of potatoes. Sweet potatoes at that time were retailing in Wichita Falls at 35 cents per peck, or about $1.25 to $1.40 per bushel, and the retailer was paying for them at the rate of 85 cents to 95 cents per bushel.

So it will be seen by this that where The Times made the statement that the producer was offered only 60 cents per bushel, it was staying close to facts, and facts are what The Times proposes to deal in for the most part.

So much for the sweet potato matter. But there are other products of the truck patches around Wichita Falls that have suffered. For instance, one truck farmer produced from an acre of land from 250 to 300 bushels of fine onions. He offered them to the wholesale produce man at 2 1/2 cents per pound, but three-fourths of his crop found no market in Wichita Falls and decayed on his hands, and this in the face of the fact that onions from a distance were being shipped into Wichita Falls by express and in car load lots.

In the face of facts like this, what inducement is there for the truck farmer? Perhaps Mr. May can answer. If so, this paper will be glad to furnish him all the space he desires.

TAKES ISSUE WITH THE TIMES. Editor of The Wichita Times, Dear Sir: I note you have written two editorials within the past week in reference to the prices on sweet potatoes from the farmer to the consumer, and the references to and the intimations made as to the wholesale dealer's part in the marketing of farm products require an answer in order that you may keep the record straight.

In the first place, the statements made in these editorials are incorrect and misleading; in the second place, your intimation that the local produce dealers of "middle men," as you called us, are taking an exorbitant "toll" or "profit" as our share in the transaction of distributing goods to the ultimate consumer, is likewise misleading.

You stated that produce dealers were buying sweet potatoes at from 40 to 60 cents per bushel and selling them to the retailers at from 55 to 95 cents per bushel, and that the highest offer Mr. Marlow could get from the wholesalers was 60 cents per bushel. Now, the truth of the matter was, I offered Mr. Marlow 65 cents for them and the same day I was offering them to the retailers at 85 cents per bushel in small quantities and 75 cents in five bag lots.

You stated that while the retailers were getting $1.35 to $1.40, it was worth that for their time and trouble, etc., but you also inferred that it was worth that for the jobbers to make 20 to 25 cents from the retailers, and you believed it would be a good idea for the farmers to eliminate the middle men. Why not eliminate the bankers, cotton buyers, bakers and candlestick-makers; they are middle men.

I am not going into detail to show how utopian such a scheme is, nor try to explain how necessary it is in the produce business for a company to ship in cars and re-distribute same to the home merchants and re-ship to merchants tributary to Wichita Falls; neither will I burden the readers with an array of figures showing how much money is paid out monthly to the employees of the three produce houses in Wichita Falls, not to mention the two wholesale grocery houses, who also handle potatoes, cabbage, onions, etc.

I will not bother them with the cold figures in dollars and cents of the amount these "middle men" pay out to the railroads annually for freight, but I would like to have this editorial writer's views as to the effect the elimination of these enterprises would have on the general prosperity of Wichita Falls.

We do not claim we are here as public benefactors, but that we are going serenely along attending to our business, trying to make an honest livelihood, and we are just as patriotic for and boosting for our home town (in our humble way) as any other citizen.

It strikes me the newspapers, who, as we all know, are the most important factors in moulding public opinion, would be serving their own and the community's interest if they would try to foster a feeling of good will between the farmer and townsmen, trying to make each realize that the prosperity of the one is equally dependant on the prosperity of the other, rather than creating an impression on the country man that the city men are all leagued together to grind him down and take their pound of flesh.

I merely write this, feeling that you have put the wholesale produce men in a false light, and feeling that you will correct this impression.

Yours respectfully, HARRY MAY.

MANY INDICTED, FEW CONVICTED

Dick Pinckney, 23, who was acquitted by a jury in the criminal district court Wednesday evening for the killing of R. L. Hill, was on Thursday indicted for murder, who has escaped punishment since January, 1914.

Pinckney, although a white man, had threatened to kill Hill, said that it was an accident. The case went to the jury at 10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and less than three hours later returned a verdict of not guilty. Practically the entire day had been spent in arguments.

After the verdict had been read, Pinckney held an informal reception for his many friends, who remained in the court room, expecting an early verdict. Several women, relatives of the accused youth, went for joy.

It seems impossible to convict for murder in Harris county a white man with money and influence," said Murray B. Jones, former assistant district attorney, Thursday morning. He assisted in the prosecution of Pinckney.

The court records show that no white man has been convicted for murder and sent to the penitentiary from this county since E. R. Finch, November 2, 1912, and violent deaths have been a very ordinary occurrence.

There have been at least 75 cases in that time resulting in acquittals, of which at least 15 would have resulted in convictions and probably the electric chair in New York State. It is a horrible crime to steal a cow or a hog in this county and offenders of this character are summarily dealt with, but jurors do not so regard it to murder a human being.

SPECIAL NOTICE. It again becomes necessary to warn our customers who hold contracts, good at our studio, against a cheap proposition which is being put out in our city by unscrupulous agents whom we know positively are making every effort to buy up our contracts in exchange for them. We need not tell you that you cannot get good photographs for a song. If you want a good picture of mother, father, baby or yourself you must get them made by photographers who know how to turn out first-class work. Our samples were made by ourselves, in our own studio, and we endeavor to make every photograph just as good or better than the samples.

With pardonable pride, we can refer you to satisfied patrons who are amongst the best people in the city. THE REASON FOR HARD TIMES.

(Denton Record and Chronicle.) Talking of the purposes for which money is designed, the Wichita Falls Times delivers a little homily that may be taken home to themselves by more than a few. "We've got to spend money to make business," says the Times. "This business of hoarding dollars can be made to bring on hard times any old time. The fellow who has money and doesn't pay some of his debts with it is doing the very thing that will have a tendency to handicap him in accumulating more. There is a lot of money in the country—perhaps more than ever before—but the trouble seems to be it is not being given a chance to perform its functions. Those who have it are holding it as if they never expected to see any more of it." One man gets afraid there is too much money in the country. His failure to keep it in circulation forces another man to reduce his expenses; this man's reduction forces another to cut his outgo and so it goes down the line. The Federal Comptroller of the Currency says that on September 12 last, National banks were carrying $580,000,000 more reserve than was required of them, indicating that some banks are doing what some individuals are doing—keeping the money out of circulation. Money is in use in paying existing obligations and just what one payment of an outstanding account will do is exemplified in a little squib now going the rounds of the exchanges: "Joe Smith sold his first cotton last week, realizing $50 cash for same. Meeting a friend to whom he was indebted he handed him $20, while his pickers he paid $12.50. To his grocer he paid $15, and went to the restaurant and took a 50-cent dinner. While at dinner a friend came in and paid him $20 on an old debt with the first $50 he had paid out of his cotton and walking down the street he met another man who paid him $10, while he had collected from the picker to whom the farmer had paid $12.50. Meeting another man to whom he was indebted, he paid him $20 and this man turned and handed it to another party, to whom he was indebted. This man happened to give the man who had sold the bale $20 and handed it to him with the remark that that was the first money he had collected in six months, and he was glad to be able to pay this money as he had owed it for a year. This man who sold the bale paid $5 of the $20, and offered for a coming law almost if not quite the entire course of legislative proceedings and thus special interests through the control of a few men, is enabled sometimes to share legislation in important matters. This, danger, perhaps, is not very great, but it exists and could be lessened by increasing the number in the Senate.

(The amendment to be voted upon Tuesday does not propose any change in the representation, it is true, but I am suggesting some reasons why the popular notion that the size of the legislature should be reduced, is erroneous, and that the disbanding of the legislature when we go to vote, adopt the amendment and trust to future action to properly distribute the representation in the House and Senate.

ELECTION HELD BY ROYAL NEIGHBORS

VISIT TO LAKE AND THEATRE PARTY TO END DISTRICT CONVENTION

WICHITAN AGAIN IS PRESIDENT

Mrs. Barclay Is Re-elected This Morning—Gainesville Is Chosen For Next Meeting

With an automobile ride to Lake Wichita this afternoon and a theatre party tonight as the guests of the railway trainmen the two day's convention of this district of the Royal Neighbors of America will come to a close.

The business of this morning consisted of election of officers and a selection of the next place of meeting. Mrs. Lillie Barclay of Wichita Falls was re-elected president; Mrs. Lizzie Hays of Gainesville, vice president; Mrs. Ida E. Herman of Gainesville, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Catherine Johnson of Jacksboro, chancellor; Mrs. Ella Aldridge of Bowie, inner sentinel.

Gainesville was selected as the next place of meeting, after which the convention adjourned until 1 o'clock.

Luncheon Served in Hall. Luncheon was served in the hall to the visiting Neighbors by the local lodge and was quite an enjoyable social affair.

This afternoon a short session was held and the convention then adjourned to the next district meeting to be held at Gainesville.

In the contest between the degree staff teams yesterday in which Wichita Falls and Gainesville were represented, the Gainesville team received the premium, a staff standard.

An open session was held last night to which the public was invited. A large number of Royal Neighbors and Modern Woodmen and their friends were present. The following program was carried out: Instrumental music, Mrs. Alice Cockrell; invocation, Rev. B. C. Miller; opening address, P. S. Jones; address of welcome, Mrs. Hardesty-Barclay; song of welcome, Royal Neighbors; address, C. B. McConnell; response to welcome, Mrs. Lizzie Hays of Gainesville; duet, Miss Craig and Mrs. Route; origin of the order, Mrs. Marie West; song, Althea Anderson; dialogue, Gertrude Thompson and Joyce Hardesty; song, Royal Neighbors; instrumental music, Mrs. Ida Harrison; drill team; music, Mrs. Ida Harrison; address, Rev. R. C. Miller; music, Mrs. H. H. Haggard; cane drill, Wichita drill team; address, Edgar P. Haney; music, Sibiline Smith; "Royal Naggars," colored comedians.

EMPRESS EUGENIE GIVES PART OF HOME TO SOLDIERS

By Associated Press. London, Oct. 30.—Although the Empress Eugenie is almost 89 years old, she is taking the greatest interest in the war and has set aside an entire wing of her house at Farnborough Hill for the use of wounded officers.

Several injured officers are now recuperating there and their aged hostess personally supervises their care. Her estate is near the great camp at Aldershot, which King George and Queen Mary visit frequently. Practically all of Empress Eugenie's men servants have joined the army in France. Nevertheless she entertains many of the distinguished military men who visit Aldershot, apologizing for her plain fare and explaining that her cooks have more important work now than preparing food for an aged empress and her guests.

Take it as directed and it will search out impure and poisonous matter in the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys and drive it from the system through the natural channels. It will penetrate into the joints and muscles and dissolve the poisonous accumulations. It will replace all the bad blood it drives out, with rich, pure blood full of vital force, and will furnish you with the kind of blood that increases energy and ambition, that puts the entire body in such perfect physical condition that brain or muscles know no fatigue.

It will clear the skin; eczema, pimples, rash, blotches will dry up and disappear; boils, carbuncles and other evidences of stunted blood will pass away never to appear again.

CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL IS HELD BY YEOMEN'S LODGE

Little Ones Present Program of Music, Recitations and Drills For Older Folks

One of the most novel and entertaining programs ever given by a local lodge was the children's festival held last night in the Yeomen Hall. It is one of the Yeomen customs that one night in October should be set aside for the children at which time the children alone furnish the program and entertain the elders. The wisdom of this custom was clearly demonstrated Thursday evening when the children of the local lodge gave a program that has seldom been equaled.

Mr. South, district manager, opened the meeting with a few well chosen words of explanation of the custom which was to be observed and Mrs. South, district manager, announced the most important being of the big Christmas celebration which is to be given and which promises something for Yeomen members to look forward to.

The children then took charge of the program, Catherine Jones making the welcome address. The program thereafter was as follows: Silver Waves, piano solo, Elsie Oster; Complaint of a Little Girl, Fay Dunaway; Highland Fling, Octavia Zetsche and Minnie Ebner; Flower Song, piano with violin obligato, Roy and Gerlie Oster; Little Boy's Lecture, Boy's Lecture, carrying set, $3.50 to $5; Overstreet Produce Co., cash $5; McConnell Bros. Furniture, rug $2.50; Davis & Schnell, prize $3; B. T. Burgess, stickpin, $2.50; The Globe, hat for boy, $2.50; Maxwell Hardware Co., two prizes, $2.50; Wichita Hardware Co., $2.50; W. B. Pennington & Co., hat, $3; P. H. Hardware Co., knife for boy, $2.50; shears for girl, 75c; Robertson Furniture Co., mirror, $1; Miller Drug Store, bottle of perfume, $2; Wilford & Woods, fountain pen, $1.50; L. W. Newton Grocery, cash $1; North Texas Furniture Co., rug, $2.50; Wichita Nursery, pot plant, $1; Marion Hotel, cash $1; W. B. Reeves, cash 50c; Joza Dickson, girls hat, $5; E. S. Morris Drug Co., cuff buttons, $3; High Art Millinery, hat $5; Mariele and Feet Co., stock and poultry, $2.50; Palace Drug Store, stationary, $1; Colonna Toggery Shop, silk hose, $2.50; Wichita State Bank, cash $5; City National Bank, cash $12.50; First State Bank, cash $9; First National Bank, $7.50; National Bank of Commerce, $3.50; collection by Chamber of Commerce members $13.

The children went through sixteen little girls with Edith Hutson as captain. The children went through sixteen of the Yeomen figures without assistance from any of the older people. The closing address was then made by Edith Hutson and the girls served refreshments of pumpkin, sandwiches and coffee.

The supper lodge will award four prizes, two for the girls and two for the boys judged to be best in each lodge. Messrs. Shuler, Heyser and Davenport, judges for this occasion judged between all of the children taking part, after some difficulty, as all were excellent in their part of the program, made awards to Maude Adams, Jennie McAllister, Edith Hutson and the other girls. All of the children were given a box of candy as a token of the appreciation with which their efforts were regarded. Music for the drills was furnished by Ethel Colburn and Mrs. Deatherage furnished music for the entertainment of the visitors after the program. A large number of Yeomen and their friends were present at this very enjoyable affair. The hall had been decorated in keeping with the Halloween season, the colors of the order being also tastefully displayed.

BAD BLOOD

Hatred of the Nations at War—For One Another

This European war was born of the hatred caused by earlier warfare—it will engender other wars between the same nations in the future. The sons yet unborn will carry this hatred in their blood to blast into warfare when the spark is touched by kings or statesmen who are yet in infancy.

It's bad blood that makes your liver sluggish and the same bad blood causes your stomach muscles to lose their elasticity and become flabby and weak and that means indigestion.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, purely vegetable and free from alcohol or narcotics, is not a secret remedy for all its ingredients are printed on wrapper.

Take it as directed and it will search out impure and poisonous matter in the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys and drive it from the system through the natural channels.

YOUNG FARMERS COMING TOMORROW

WILL EXHIBIT RESULTS OF THEIR WORK DURING THE PAST YEAR

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GUESTS

Prizes Are To Be Awarded For Best Showings Made By Boys and Girls

The young farmers and farmettes of Wichita county will display the result of their labors of the past year tomorrow when the annual exhibit of the boys' and girls' farming clubs will be held in this city. Exhibits of the farm products will be brought by Mr. Campbell, Treasurer, $250 in value will be given to those making the best showings.

The exhibit will be held in the new Henderson building on Seventh street and the meeting of the clubs will be held there during the morning. The boys and girls will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at dinner.

Clubs have been organized in this county by J. W. Campbell, district agricultural agent, for the growing of corn, cotton, milo maize, feterita and the raising of beef, among the boys, and for raising fruit and raising poultry among the girls. The work is carefully organized and the young people are required to keep detailed reports of their work. Each member has an acre of ground, in most cases, for his small farm and on this he practices all the ideas furnished by Mr. Campbell. The idea started with the corn clubs, but has since spread to other crops as well. Among the new clubs in this county is the "baby beef club" in which boys are entrusted with the raising of calves along the newest lines.

Mr. Campbell, incidentally predicts that in almost every instance reported tomorrow the boys and girls will be found to have done better with the material at hand than their fathers or mothers did.

The Lydia Margaret
The Montgomery, presenting a well played comedy sketch of domestic life, pleased large audiences at the Lydia Margaret yesterday. Both members of the team are clever and the pleasing little comedy, "His First and Last" shows how a comparatively trivial thing may cause a family quarrel. Another act on the bill is that of Eddie Clark, singer and comedian, looked "as the singer of some songs." This number was well received. Tonight a two-part comedy, "Elsie's Uncle" will be seen, featuring Elsie Albert. That "three of a kind could ever go to make 'a pair'" seems impossible, but you must remember we are not always playing poker. For instance, did it ever occur to you that the three, instead of being merely pastebored playing cards, might be three flesh-and-blood men, and that the pair might be happy loving couples? That is just the case in this story, in which two men disguise themselves as a third and all three look exactly alike. This, of course, causes all sorts of complications to arise, the outcome being successfully escape the traitor couple and the girl. Thus the "three of a kind" and "the pair."

And the poor uncle. The indignant gentleman who has informed the authorities that there were imposters posing as himself, receives the news of all the trouble, which arises from the imposters. The police are instructed to keep an eye out for an old gentleman with a heavy beard. The wandering police see uncle, follow their instructions to the letter, and carry that loudly protesting person to the station house. Meanwhile the other culprits are run down and hurried to the station house. Then comes the surprise. The nice old uncle, who has instigated all this trouble for the specific purpose of stealing away with the girl he loves, and who loves him; makes the police believe that he is the real uncle. In the confusion which follows, the lover, hurries the girl away and orders a swift departing train. Laughable to an extreme are the situations thus arising.

The Mutual Weekly shows today has scenes from the seat of war in Europe. The enterprising Mutual camera men go everywhere with the result that the Mutual Weekly is able to show as many pictures from the actual scenes of conflict more quickly than any other pictorial news. A two part reliance drama, with one other reel completes today's program.

The Gem
Mary Pickford is seen in two charming Biograph re-releases today and a Vitagraph comedy "Josie's Declaration of Independence" makes laughs for all. Josie gets a position as maid of all work in the Marsh family. She certainly does all the work, while the children and her overbearing mistress drive her to distraction. In the midst of her troubles she receives a letter from her sweetheart, Hank, who invites her to join him at a dinner given by the Nutwood Outing Club. She asks Mrs. Marsh for permission to go, but is refused, as the Marsh family intend going out themselves. Josie is very unhappy, but feels she must do as her mistress says.

On Independence Day, while returning from the store on an errand, she stops to listen to Hiram Hicks holding forth on the greatness of Washington and Lincoln. She does not understand much of what is said, but the words, "Declaration of Independence" set her to thinking, and she decides to have a declaration of independence all her own. She accordingly locks up the house and after leaving the following note for the Marsh family's perusal goes to meet Hank: "I agree with George Washington that all men (also women) are free and equal, and I am going to the banquet in pursuit of my own happiness. I will be back when I am here. Josie." When the Marshes return they find her "declaration" and are furious. Josie, after whooping it up, is escorted home by Hank, and she finds a note reading, "You're free and equal to anything, we admit. You're free to look for another job. Signed: Marsh Family." Josie and Hank retaliate, thrusting the hose through the dining-room window and turning on the water, while Mrs. Marsh is proposing a toast. The result may be imagined. Josie and Hank walk off, laughing boisterously.

Use "Gets-It," Corns Shrivels, Vanish!

It's the New Way, and You'll Forget the Old Way. Ever had a corn? "I drops put on in 2 seconds, corn shrivels, comes clean off!" That's the marvelous story of "GETS IT," the new plan corn cure. Nothing can be simpler for the cure of corns—and it never fails. That's why millions of people are using "GETS IT" today and throwing away their fussy plasters, sticky tape, toe-eating salves, and "wrapping outfits" that make a bundle around the toe and choke it into pain by pressing either on or around the corn. There is nothing to stick to your stocking, nothing to cause irritation or rawness, nothing to press on or around the corn. You apply it in 2 seconds. No more knives, razors, scissors or files, with their blood-poison dangers. Try "GETS IT" for corns, callus, wart or bunion.

"GETS IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, in a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. "GETS IT" is sold in Wichita Falls by Wichita Drug House and Palace Drug Store.

CAPTURES FRENCH FORT WITH FORCE OF FOUR MEN

German Lieutenant Accomplishes Remarkable Feat and Gets Decorated For It

By Associated Press.
The Hague, Oct. 30.—Not since 1866 has the decoration known as "pour le Merit" been given a lieutenant in the German army. For this reason the bestowal of this order upon Lieutenant Ott von Line, serving in the 4th guard regiment, is of interest. He was awarded this very high and coveted distinction because on August 24 with four men he took Fort Malenac at Namur before it had been subjected to artillery fire. How he did this has been described in his own letter to his parents. It said: "I was ordered to advance against the fort with 500 men, our course being across an open field without cover. I saw the faces of the officers and men when they saw my force. Then were not annihilated from them, the many mines about the fort would take care of us. Many officers had volunteered for the task of attacking the fort, but I was picked out to do it. "Arrived near the fort I took out of my men and approached in goose march, picking our way carefully through the field of mines. The drawbridge was up and the broad moat filled with water made it impossible for us to get into the fort. "We soon saw the commandant, and I shouted to him that I had a whole regiment of artillery in a nearby forest and that the bombardment would commence within a minute in case he did not surrender. After that the commandant ordered the drawbridge down and we entered. "I then ordered the garrison of the fort before me. Every man was searched and disarmed. All arms had to be left in the fort. I ordered: 'All this was done with my four men. I shot only once. We took five officers and 20 men prisoners, while another 100 had already taken to their heels, and I stayed afterward. "This time I ordered my detachment to come to the fort. You should have seen the faces of the officers and men when they saw my force. Then the Belgian flag was hauled down and one of my men made a German flag from a Belgian pair of black pants, a white shirt and a red French sash. "This we hoisted. Meanwhile we had inspected the wine cellar and so were able to celebrate our victory with a few bottles of champagne. The cork popped wonderfully. "The fort had not been bombarded and I held it until I was relieved for other work. We took four heavy 21 centimeter guns, a large number of small calibre pieces, about 100 rifles and revolvers, 500 hand grenades and several thousand rounds of rifle ammunition."

ALPINE CHASSEURS ARE OF MUCH VALUE TO FRENCH

By Associated Press. Basel, Switzerland, Oct. 30.—The mountain war going on in the Vosges has brought into action one of the most interesting bodies of French troops, the Alpine Chasseurs. They are finely built, powerful men, specially equipped for the mountains. They are dressed in hob nailed boots, woolen leggings and navy blue uniforms. They are almost invisible in the dark pine forests.
A favorite stratagem in their fighting is to occupy positions in the branches of the trees cleverly masked, and so securely arranged that even a wounded or a dead man does not fall. Another device of the French Alpine troops is for a part of them, secreted in the branches, to hold their rifle fire until German troops have passed well into a wood, and then to fire upon them from all sides. The light artillery is carried upon mules.

VALUE OF BIG GUNS IS QUESTIONED BY ENGLISH

Too Hard To Transport and Make Burden That is Too Heavy For Convenience
By Associated Press. London, Oct. 30.—Although the big guns used by the Germans have been the surprise of the war and are accredited with having caused the fall of Liege, Namur and Antwerp, some military experts in England question the wisdom of carrying such weapons into the field, regarding them as a burden which an army cannot afford to transport.
Colonel F. N. Maude, discussing the heavy guns in the Standard, "It would be interesting to obtain the exact facts and calculate what the policy of taking the 42 centimeter and 28 centimeter howitzers into the field really cost the Germans in a loss of transport power for the food of the troops. I am willing to grant that the 42 centimeter weapon was admirably adapted for its purpose of destroying steel and concrete targets presented by the forts of Liege and Namur. But seeing that the weight of one of the shells is nearly equal to the weight of a whole square meal for one of their battalions, would not the available horse power, whether mechanical or actual, have been far better employed in hauling food for men to the front in the first instance?"

RENTAL BROKER'S OFFICE

Personal Mention

Ed Orr returned today from a business trip to Fort Worth and Dallas. J. V. C. T. Christensen is in Fort Worth on business. Mr. and Mrs. John Byers of Graham are the guests of Mrs. John Praig. J. L. Jackson and wife were among the visitors at the Dallas Fair yesterday. Mrs. M. McKinley returned today from Mineral Wells, where she has been with her mother. D. P. Talley attended the meeting of the Texas Cotton Seed Crushers at Dallas yesterday. Mrs. J. P. Jackson has returned from Dallas, where she was called by the death of a nephew who was drowned while with a picnicking party at the city reservoir. The young man was walking along the dam when he slipped and fell into the water and was drowned before he could be rescued. Frank Kell is expected to return from Dallas tonight, where he has been attending a meeting of the directors of the Eleventh District Regional Reserve bank. Mr. Kell was one of a special committee appointed to select a building for the bank. The Guaranty State bank building was chosen.

BUILDING WINTER QUARTERS FOR NEW ENGLISH RECRUITS

London, Oct. 29.—Carpenters are working day and night at the arduous task of providing winter quarters for the recruits of Lord Kitchener's new force.

The new huts are not warm structures, being either of wooden or corrugated iron walls, with iron roofs. But their completion before winter is considered highly important to the health of the men, who are now sheltered in tents.

About 600,000 men are engaged on the Salisbury plains in the southern part of England. They are being housed at the rate of 6,000 a day. Portable huts are to be sent to the expeditionary force as soon as a fixed base is established.

COTTON ADVANCES TODAY,

CENT GAIN DURING WEEK

General Improvement Noted in Conditions and Still Higher Prices Are Predicted

Registering a gain of one cent per pound in four days, the cotton market was today more active than for many weeks past. Middling was quoted at 8 1/2 cents, with as high as 8 3/4 for the better grades, this being a cent higher than the prices of earlier in the week. Lifting of the embargo by England and the announcement of the early opening of the regional reserve banks are considered the chief factors in improving the market. Buyers report good inquiry from abroad, even at the advanced local cotton men report that there is a tendency among farmers here to hold their cotton and they believe that if this practice is kept up, cotton will be bringing eight cents within a short time. If there is a rush to unload cotton at the present prices, however, the advance in price will be very slow.

Erwin Feed Co. is the place to buy your cow feed—bran $1.45. Cotton seed meal $1.35. Cold pressed cake $1.25 per 100. Nothing better for milk producing. 44 ft c

THAT HOMEY FEELING—When the day's work is over and it's happenings are matters of history; when you "Come Home" with the cares of life left beyond the doors that are locked to the great outside world; when you drop into the chair that is your very own and fall into a pleasant reverie, peruse the book that appeals or just talk and get acquainted with the folks. It is then that the skillfully blended luxury of the American Indian makes your comfort and pleasure complete. The Indian's idea of peace was the smoke of good tobacco. The greatest sons of the American nation have loved a cigar. The greatest cigar that American sons have ever smoked for the price is the PAY DAY, the nickel luxury. Get a handfull today.

There is a Lot of Things

To be considered in building a suit that is to give the wearer his money's worth in style, fit and individuality. A suit to do this must be as exclusively individual as the man or woman who wears it. The suit must conform to the individual lines of the body, not only in measurement of the tape, but the figures or stripes of the fabric as well. We are suit architects; we draw the plans and make the specifications for suits every day in the year. The tailors who build suits for us follow plans and specifications to the letter. Your suit is made by master tailors and not by 30 catspaw leg and sleeve makers. And your suit is always made for YOU. It is individual. IT FITS.

When You Have Forgotten:

The virtues of your deceased friends or loved one, go out to the cemetery and read thereon, engraved with skilled hands, the name and dates of the one you knew so well. You forget their failures and their human frailties, while you remember their good deeds, their kindly acts of love and tender sympathy. Their virtues stand out before you in visions of gold to remind you of higher and better things.

Should there be no such SACRED TABLET to bring you these tender memories, let us place one for you. You will be better and happier for duty well done.
