The question of reducing the cotton acreage will be voted on in seventy-eight counties in this State today. It's a question that should not require any such action on the part of the intelligent people. If the present low price, caused by over-production, is not sufficient to convince cotton farmers that they should reduce their cotton acreage next year, a vote on the question, it matters not how unanimous it might be, will fail to convince them.

Just a few years ago the people of Texas, apparently, were in favor of the initiative and referendum. In today's election they will have the opportunity they have long wished for of registering their vote in favor of it by voting for the proposed constitutional amendment amending section 1, article 10 of the constitution. The Times, however, is inclined to believe that the proposed amendment will be lost, that by a good sized majority of those voting at today's election, which would indicate that the people, when it comes to their heads, are in favor of the business, have changed their minds as regards this matter.

Already the newspapers of this, the thirteenth congressional district, are having something to say as to who will be the man to succeed Congressman John W. Stephens, speaking as though they thought or had information that Mr. Stephens would not be a candidate for reelection. The Times is not in a position to say whether he will or will not be a candidate to succeed himself, but in the event he should decide that he has served his term and retire, it is safe to assert that there will be at least a dozen aspirants for the job, and Wichita county is likely to furnish one of them.

JUDGE SWAYNE DELIVERS TRIAL.

A few days ago a man charged with murder was acquitted in Judge Swayne's court at Fort Worth. He had been tried on the charge once before, convicted and appealed his case. The evidence against him was strong—his victim had discharged him from a position, and the man discharged armed himself with a deadly weapon and went to the office of his former employer and shot him to death without warning. His defense was the unwritten law: that the man killed had insulted his little daughter. Judge Swayne evidently did not believe the defendant's story and when the jury rendered the verdict of acquittal, read them a lecture, telling them in plain language that if it were in his power he would send the entire twelve men to the penitentiary for violating their oaths—or, for perjury themselves as jurors, and in charging a new grand jury empaneled on yesterday, had the following to say in which he criticizes severely the manner of selecting trial juries and stressed the cheapness of human life in Tarrant county.

"These things ought to be investigated, to see if men are gotten on the jury wrongfully," he continued. "We should pay more attention to jury service in this county and to getting men on the jury for a purpose. It is not going to be popular to turn criminals loose some of these days. It may be popular now. I have heard it said here that for turning criminals loose in Tarrant county, good men walk up to jurors and slap them on the back and say, 'You did right in perjuring your soul.' I want to see the time, and I hope it will not be long, when the legislature will pass a law saying that a lawyer who stands before a jury of the county and asks that jury to violate its oath will be disbanded in the courts of the country. "Let it be understood that life in Tarrant county is very cheap. If I incur the displeasure and censure of some man against whom I have decided a case or some case in which he is interested, he walks into my office and shoots me down like a dog. If he

DISCIPLINE OF ENGLISH IS THREATENED BY GIRLS

Fair Ones Cause Soldiers To Violate Rules and Special Patrol Is Planned

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 2.—In order to help soldiers observe Lord Kitchener's injunction to be no more than cordially courteous to women, the National Union of Women Workers has undertaken the duty of patrolling the territory outside the gentry lines. The services of the women police is gladly accepted, since the army authorities complain that the soldiers are being lured from Lord Kitchener's chilly ideal by women camp followers.

Meantime, an effort is made to increase camp attractions; such as concerts and to provide other means of diverting the men. The first police woman in London took her station the past week in the Old Bailey. Her special duty is to look after the cases of women and children. She is one of a corps being trained by Nina Boyle of the Women's Freedom League.

AN ARROW NECKCOLLAR. Lack of Cooperation With Civil Authorities Is Noted. Soldiers Are Absolute.

MILITARY GOVERNMENT IS SUPREME IN GERMANY

By Associated Press. Berlin, Nov. 2.—To say that civil authority in Germany has everywhere given way to military government would be to overstate the case, and yet it is true that within its own field of affairs the military is not only absolute but also at times inclined utterly to disregard even the highest state officials. This prevails to such an extent that passes, for instance, the Minister of Foreign Affairs are only valid when some army officer is disposed to recognize them.

The foreign correspondents left in Berlin have recently had occasion to witness the working of military government. The Foreign Office sent to them, uninvited, an invitation to visit the prisoners' detention barracks at Dohrzeit, some fifteen miles outside the capital. The newspaper men assembled at the time and place directed. With them were Captain Lochlein of the Imperial Admiralty and several high officials of the Foreign Office. The commandant of the military camp, an elderly general, approached the group and addressed them brusquely.

One of several Belgian villages in West Flanders whose inhabitants suddenly dropped the Flemish language at the beginning of the 18th century and began speaking French is estimated that at this time 12,000 people changed their language, among them being the residents of the neighboring towns of Ploeghetriet, Comines and Houtem. MUCH DEPENDS ON TODAY'S ELECTIONS

CONGRESSMEN BEING ELECTED IN EVERY STATE IN THE UNION

IS TESTING WILSON'S STRENGTH

Constitutional Amendments Carrying Important Changes Voted Upon In Many States

Elections of congressmen and other public officials are being held today in every State in the Union, and upon the outcome depends the complexion of Congress for the ensuing two years. Political prophets generally agree that the Democrats will remain in control of both houses of Congress, although there may be a substantial reduction in strength to be considered a rebuke to the administration.

In addition to the officers to be chosen, amendments to the constitutions of the various states will be voted upon. Women's suffrage is an issue in several states and prohibition, submitted either as a state-wide issue or on the county option plan, will be voted upon in a number of States.

Today's is the first election in which United States senators are chosen by direct vote of the people and elections of senators are being held in a number of states, thirty-two in all.

In Texas and in Wichita county, the result is a foregone conclusion. In this county the Democrats are without any opposition whatsoever, although the Democratic state ticket has the usual opposition.

Proposed Texas Amendments.

The three constitutional amendments which will be submitted to Texas voters tomorrow have evoked little interest and it is impossible to hazard any sort of prediction as to their adoption or rejection. One amendment would put legislators on a straight salary of $1200 for the first year and pay them five dollars per day if they are in session during the second year of their term. Friends of this amendment point out that it would put all legislators on an equal basis, cause shorter and more expeditious sessions and bring out better men as candidates. Opponents argue that the present rate of pay is high enough for those who have been serving the state in that capacity. Other amendments provide for the granting of permission to coal companies to issue bonds for seawall construction. Despite the interest which has been manifested in recent years in this country, there is little apparent concern over the amendment and most of the public expressions on the subject have been in opposition, it being claimed that the amendment, in the form submitted, would prove unsatisfactory. Those who favor the amendment, however, submit that it is a step in the right direction.

Outside of Texas, interest centers chiefly in the senatorial and congressional races and upon the results there may it be determined whether or not the Democratic administration has, in the eyes of the nation, made good during the past two years. In doubtful states the record of the administration on the tariff, anti-trust legislation and economy has been vigorously assailed by the Progressive and Republican candidates and there is every reason to expect that some inroads will be made upon the Democratic ranks, particularly in the House of Representatives. In such states as New York, Pennsylvania and the middle west, congressional results will be awaited with particular interest.

Togas at Stake Today.

The races for the Senate are also watched carefully and the seats of some prominent members of the upper house are being contested. Among the races of more than passing interest are those in California where Senator Knowland is opposed by J. D. Phelan, Democrat and Francis J. Heney, Progressive or graft prosecution fame. In Connecticut Senator Brandegee the incumbent is said to be in danger of defeat by Samuel Baldwin, ex-governor who was prominently mentioned for president at the Baltimore convention. The race in Illinois has been of nationwide interest. The Republican incumbent, Lawrence Sherman, is opposed by Roger Sullivan, Democrat and Raymond Rolfe, Progressive. In Indiana, Shively's seat is contested by former Senator Beveridge, running on the Progressive ticket; Hugh Miller is the Republican contestant. The senatorial contest in New York State, where the seat now held by Philo Root is to be filled, James W. Wadsworth, Republican, James W. Spear, Democrat and Dalbridge Colby, Progressive are candidates. Of surpassing interest is the race in Pennsylvania where Boies Penrose, Republican wheelhorse for many years, is opposed by A. Mitchell Palmer, now Democratic congressman and Clifford Pinchot, the Progressive of conservation fame.

Changes in Constitution.

Constitutional amendments covering a variety of subjects will be submitted to voters of various states today and while most of the amendments are local in nature, some apply to such matters as nationwide internet, anti-prohibition, women's suffrage and initiative and referendum. In Oklahoma an amendment of considerable interest is one providing for a gross tax on oil and gas production and fixing the maximum state tax on oil and gas at two and a half cents; other Oklahoma amendments would reduce membership in the legislature to eighty representatives and sixteen senators and abolish the criminal appeals court, establishing one final appellate court. Prohibition is a direct issue today in Arizona, California, Colorado, Ohio, Oregon and Washington. In Nevada, Nebraska, Montana, Iowa, South Dakota, North Dakota, Ohio and Missouri the question of equal suffrage for women is submitted.

In Indiana, California and New York, the matter of a constitutional convention to frame new organic law for each of these states is an issue. Arizona is voting on a $5,000,000 bond issue for state construction of highways.

Anti Prize-Fight Law.

California is voting on a universal eight hour law, an anti-prize fight law and a red light abatement law, submitted under the initiative and referendum.

Colorado is voting upon sixteen propositions, constitutional amendments and initiative and referendum measures, of which several are quite radical. They include a three-fourths jury verdict in civil cases, permitting women to serve as jurors, making newspapers public utilities, relieving workmen of the doctrine of assumed risk and others.

Iowa is voting the initiative and referendum and some tax measures. Kansas is voting on the adoption of the recall, with certain limitations today.

Massachusetts is voting on three propositions, one of which would abolish party enrollments at primary elections; another would give laborers employed by cities and towns an annual vacation and a bill would make Saturday a half holiday for state workmen and mechanics.

Michigan is voting on four constitutional amendments; one of these would authorize the state to issue bonds for highway improvements and another would give students, members of the legislature and commercial travelers the right to vote away from home.

In Minnesota and Missouri, Minnesota is voting on the initiative and referendum and ten other amendments; one of these would increase the number of associate justices of the supreme court from four to six and provide that no statute can be held constitutional by less than five justices. Another Minnesota amendment provides the recall of elective and appointive officers.

Missouri is voting upon a bunch of important amendments, as follows:

Detailing use method of filing initiative petitions and prohibiting the use of the initiative and referendum as a means of securing the adoption of the single tax.

This amendment prohibits the use of the initiative or referendum to submit to the people a measure having the same purpose as a measure rejected at a referendum within five years.

Authorizing Kansas City to acquire street railways, gas works, and other public utilities.

Levying a state tax of ten cents on the hundred dollars for a road fund.

Fixing the salary of members of the legislature at one thousand dollars a year.

Increasing the debt limit for cities of more than 100,000 population by five per cent for the purpose of acquiring a subway.

Authorizing voters of any road district by a majority vote to levy a special tax of 65 cents a hundred dollars for good roads.

Authorizing the state to pension the blind.

Authorizing the amendment of charters of cities of more than 100,000 inhabitants by providing that proposed amendments shall be ratified by three-fifths of the voters voting, instead of by three-fifths of the qualified voters as at present.

Full crew law.

County unit local option law.

Granting the right of franchise to women.

Empowering legislature to issue $50,000,000 in bonds for road building.

Nebraska's Amendments.

In Nebraska the following amendments are being voted upon:

First—Providing for uniform taxation of property and taxing incomes, privileges and occupations.

Second—Providing that in all civil cases and in criminal cases less than felony five-sixths of the jury may render a verdict and providing that the legislature may authorize trial by a jury of a less number than twelve men in courts inferior to the district court.

Third—Fixing the term of governor at two years and his salary at $5,000 a year and fixing the salaries of other state officers.

Fourth—(Submitted by petition under initiative and referendum.) Providing for full suffrage for women.

Fifth—Providing for removal of State University from the city site in Lincoln to a site on the state farm just outside Lincoln.

Sixth—Providing for a workmen's compensation.

New Mexico is voting on amendments that will reduce the terms of state officers from four to two years and increase their ineligible after two terms consecutively.

The initiative and referendum amendment is an issue in North Dakota.

Propositions in Oregon.

Ohio, in addition to voting on prohibition and suffrage amendments, is considering an amendment fixing ten mills as a maximum tax.

The abolition of the state senate, making a one house legislature, is proposed in an amendment being voted on today in Oregon, which is also considering an amendment for the election of representatives at large instead of by districts. Another amendment in Oregon would authorize a primary election nominating elections. Several measures are submitted in Oregon under the initiative amendments, including a general eight hour law, prohibition of party contributions for judicial office, abolishing the death penalty and placing an extra tax on property owners worth over $25,000.

South Dakota voters are passing upon the initiative and referendum, a proposition to hold a constitutional convention, a primary election law and several other measures in addition to the initiative and referendum.

Circumstances may indicate that possibly you need glasses in order to give you better and more comfortable vision, and to relieve a strain which you notice in reading or doing close work of any kind. The approach of eye-strain is hardly noticed, however, in its earlier stages. Some persons frown, wrinkle the eyebrows, squint or have other nervous habits, which are among the first indications of eye-strain. In such instances the person's eyes are likely to tire easily.

This is the best time to call for an examination in order to ascertain whether or not glasses should be worn.

AMERICAN EMBASSY
WINDING UP ITS AFFAIRS

Has Been Ticket Agency, Bank and Some Other Things To Americans Abroad

By Associated Press.
Paris, Nov. 3.—The American Embassy is winding up its affairs as a bank, ticket agency, charitable society and consoler of Americans caught in Europe by the war. Ambassador Herrick has had the services of a dozen young American army officers who were taking courses in French military tactics at the outbreak of the war. The war and state departments in Washington attached the officers temporarily to the embassy. The Ambassador has also had the voluntary help from Americans who happened to be in Paris, and at one time the Embassy staff numbered forty-two.

Colonel Spencer Casby, the military attaché, is charged with relief work. They have paid out about $120,000 deposited at the State Department for Americans in France. They have also arranged for $40,000 worth of steamship transportation. They have cashed checks, letters of credit or promise to pay to the extent of $18,000. The relief of destitute Americans has been managed through the charity organization of the American Protestant Episcopal Church and none of the state department money has been used for this purpose.

When You Have Forgotten:

The virtues of your deceased friends or loved one, go out to the cemetery and read thereon, engraved with skilled hands, the name and dates of the one you knew so well.

You forget their failures and their human frailties, while you remember their good deeds, their kindly acts of love and tender sympathy. Their virtues stand out before you in visions of gold to remind you of higher and better things.

Should there be no such SACRED TABLET to bring you these tender memories, let us place one for you. You will be better and happier for duty well done.

COFFEE TO BE GOOD

Must be well aged—FRESH Roasted, FRESH ground, FRESH made in FRESH water, FRESH boiled, and served FRESH. Quite a little FRESHNESS, but indispensable for GOOD COFFEE. WE ROAST COFFEE EVERY DAY.

Phone your orders. We'll be right up. We grind our pepper. It's different. Got the real pepper flavor. If Meadow Gold Butter wasn't better than other butter we wouldn't handle it.
