

GREAT ENGLISH BATTLESHIP SENT TO BOTTOM; FIELD MARSHAL LORD ROBERTS DIES IN FRANCE

BRITISH LOSE BATTLESHIP CREW WAS SAVED

THE AUDACIOUS, THIRD GREATEST IN ENGLISH NAVY, SUNK OCT. 29

Battleship Sunk By Mine or Torpedoed Off North Coast of Ireland

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 14.—Rumors of disaster to the British super-dreadnought Audacious, which have persisted ever since the White Star liner Olympic, diverted from her course, arrived at Lough Swilly October 29, were confirmed in mail advices received today by the Associated Press from a point in Ireland. After a career of less than two years the Audacious, third in tonnage and armament of His Majesty's warships, lies at the bottom of the ocean off the north coast of Ireland. She was hit by a torpedo or disabled by a mine just before 9 o'clock on the morning of October 27th.

NEARLY WHOLE CREW SAVED

With the possible exception of one or two men, the whole crew of 800 officers and men were rescued by small boats from the Audacious. The rescue was made in a rough sea through brilliant and daring seamanship by the White Star crew. The battleship's cry for assistance was caught by the wireless operator of the Olympic which was only about ten miles distant. The steamer rushed forward at full speed while her crew prepared for their work. Volunteers were called for and double the number necessary to man the life boats responded. The crippled battleship was reached a few minutes after 9 o'clock and before noon all but 100 of her men had been transferred. By that time the battleship had a decided list at the stern just below the water line where she had received her wound. Two of her engines were unharmed, but the one left was put out of commission.

OTHER SHIPS STOOD BY

A cable was given her, but it snapped as it reached. Meanwhile the bulkheads began to give way. The cruiser Liverpool and several other warships which had come up, stood by. Late in the day it was decided to abandon the Audacious and officers and men who had remained aboard reluctantly left her. The flotilla of rescue ships continued to stand by until 10 o'clock that evening when a terrific explosion occurred and the Audacious plunged stern first and disappeared. The explosion is supposed to have been caused by shells which were shaken loose by the shifting of the ship. A bit of armor plate killed a gunner on the Liverpool. The Audacious was 100 miles off the Irish coast when the Olympic was searching.

Olympic Was Detained.

The liner Olympic sailed from New York for Glasgow on October 21, she had been warned that there were German mines off Tory Island and fear of these mines was the official explanation that she immediately put into Lough Swilly. From October 27 to Lough Swilly during which time no one but naval officers were allowed on board. An immediate investigation of the loss of the battleship was begun. Charles Schwab was the only passenger who left the Olympic before it docked at Belfast on November 2. Vice Admiral John G. Jellicoe, commander of the home fleet, visited the scene of the disaster November 1 and it was with him that Mr. Schwab went to London. Secrecy regarding the loss of the boat was enjoined upon the crew and passengers of the Olympic pending a complete investigation.

The crew of the Audacious was removed from the liner as soon as warships for the purpose were available. "The crew of the Olympic was magnificent," said one of the passengers. "A warship crew could not have acted with greater courage and precision. The men were not daunted by the high seas. Some of the boats were capsized but I understand that only one life was lost in the sea."

GOVERNOR MAY CALL ANOTHER SESSION

COLQUITT SOUNDING LEGISLATORS ON COTTON SITUATION

TAKES ISSUE ON OPINION

Asks Attorney General To Look Into Question Further On Validity of Law

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Nov. 14.—Governor Colquitt today announced he had placed the question of the convening of a special session of the legislature before the members of that body. Despite the recent opinion of the attorney general that a special session could not be called until January, the governor today made public a letter he is addressing to each member of the 34th legislature asking their judgment on the matter. He declares that he does not agree with the view taken on the question by the attorney general and has requested him to look further into the question. The governor says that should he call the 34th legislature it would be to enact a law for a fifty per cent cotton acreage reduction and establish a reserve fund.

PROCLAMATION FOR NEUTRALITY OF CANAL

Regulations For Belligerents in Use of Panama Passage Are Set Forth.

By Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 14.—At the direction of President Wilson a proclamation was today issued to supplement the existing regulations for preservation of neutrality in the Panama Canal and the canal zone during the European war. The proclamation extends its provisions to air craft, public or private, or belligerent powers. It also forbids any use of wireless telegraph by belligerent vessels within zone jurisdiction except on business in connection with the canal. Belligerent powers are forbidden by the proclamation to embark or disembark troops, war munitions or warlike materials in the zone, except in case of necessity, due to accident. Belligerent vessels are not to remain in the canal zone or territorial waters longer than twenty-four hours at a time, except when in distress, and the old requirement of twenty-four hours between departure of opposing belligerent ships is retained.

Only in case of actual distress and to make a vessel seaworthy may the United States' repair facilities and docks be used by belligerent vessels. Except by special arrangement there shall not be at any one time more than three war vessels of any one nation, including those of allies, in any terminal point of adjacent territorial waters or more than three such vessels in transit through the canal or more than six at one time in all the territorial waters of the zone. When opposing belligerent ships are simultaneously present the 24-hour rule of departure to be determined by order of arrival, except when circumstances make extensions or stay permissible. A belligerent vessel must not leave within twenty-four hours after an adversary's vessel. Passage through the canal is to be accorded only upon written assurance by the commanders of belligerent vessels of observance of these rules.

NEW YORK CROWDS FOLLOW PRESIDENT

WILSON AND COL. HOUSE OUT FOR STROLL FORCED TO BEAT HASTY RETREAT

"HURRAH FOR WILSON" CRY

Crowd Takes Up Shout Which Soon Grows To Alarming Proportions

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 14.—President Wilson found tonight he could not hope to escape recognition even when he appeared on the streets as an unobtrusive private citizen; he tried it and failed. After spending the day playing golf on the Piping Rock club Mr. Wilson returned to this city and announced that he intended to spend the evening quietly at the home of his friend, Col. E. M. House. He changed his mind, however, and he and Col. House started tonight for a stroll on Broadway. They were attended only by two secret service men. Soon the president and his escort halted to listen to a Salvation Army open air meeting and right there Mr. Wilson's incognito came to an end.

"It's Wilson, it's President Wilson," shouted a man in the crowd. Instantly the Salvation Army was deserted as the listeners began to follow the president and his host. The secret service men closed in quickly. Two blocks further on a volunteer street orator discussing the Mexican situation gained the chief executive as an auditor. The president smiled and started on as the speaker eulogized Villa and abused Carranza. The orator soon was deserted. The next step in the Wilson itinerary was a suffrage meeting. The feminine speaker was interrupted in her address as the hundreds who followed the president came up. The crowd shouting "hurrah for Wilson" had by this time gained a alarming proportions. Two of the New York policemen volunteered to assist the secret service operatives in forcing a path for the president and they began looking for a safe haven. The party then sought the Waldorf Astoria where the officers made a lane for Mr. Wilson. As he gained the door the president turned and waved his hand, crying "Goodbye, I'm going to get away from you now."

Mr. Wilson was spirited out on the Fifth Avenue side. Gaining the street the president caught sight of a painting of Mrs. Wilson in the window of an art store. The president stood still and silently before the window a few minutes, the crowd evidently forgotten. Then the secret service men hailed a Fifth Avenue bus and in this vehicle the president of the United States, his explorations of the city ended for the night, rode to the home of Col. House.

GERMANS ATTEMPT TO FLANK RUSSIANS

THIS IS VIEW OF STRATEGICAL MOVEMENTS OF ENEMY AT PETROGRAD

WITHDRAWING FROM POLAND

Germans Reported Moving Forward On Lower Banks of the Vistula River

By Associated Press.
Petrograd, Nov. 14.—Leaving the defenses of Cracow mainly in the hands of the Austrians and attempting to hold the Russian advance along the Polish frontier only by desultory rear guard action, the Germans, according to the view held in Petrograd, are today withdrawing their main forces into Silesia, whence many are being sent north to the region between Thorn and the River Warthe. In this territory, the Germans, taking advantage of the small number of Russian troops, are attempting an energetic advance at the same time as they move forward on both banks of the lower Vistula. This new grouping of German forces is regarded here as an attempt on the part of the Germans to threaten the Russian advance on Cracow by a side flanking movement. Military experts declare that the German cavalry operating in this district is composed mostly of troops thoroughly seasoned in the fighting in Belgium. On the other hand, an officer who has returned to Petrograd from the East Prussian frontier reiterates the report that the Germans are sending whole companies of infantry formed almost exclusively of very young men into the first line of battle.

"One of the saddest features of the fighting that I witnessed," this officer said, "was the sight of these young soldiers, some of them fifteen and sixteen years old, moving forward shoulder to shoulder like automatons and being cut down like grain by the fire from our machine guns."

This officer said it was apparent to the Russian commanders at the front that the Germans in East Prussia were putting forth all their strength in the described East Prussia, and the Russian territory adjoining it on the east as blanketed by fire. The defense of Cracow is being provided for by two Austrian armies, offered by Germans. These two armies are converging from Galicia and the Kielce region in Russia and their rear guards, according to Russian reports, are being constantly hounded by the Russian advance.

COTTON CONSUMPTION SHOWS BIG DECREASE

Exports Lighter and American Spinners Apparently Waiting For Stable Market

By Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 14.—American cotton spinners used less cotton during the first three months of the cotton year than in the same period last year. Exports during October were less than a third of what they were a year ago and almost a billion bales more were in the hands of manufacturers and in warehouses at the end of October than were at that time a year ago. This summarizes briefly the effect of the European war on American cotton consumption, as disclosed today by the October cotton consumption report of the census bureau.

Great Britain during October increased its takings, 235,065 bales being exported to it. Germany received no American cotton, while France took 23,302 bales, the first it had received since the beginning of the war.

AN ARMISTICE IN MEXICO REPORTED

HOSTILITIES MAY BE SUSPENDED AND AGUAS CALIENTES CONVENTION RESUMED

WITHDRAWAL ORDER STANDS

Villa's Agent Says Convention Will Oppose Withdrawal From Vera Cruz

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, Nov. 14.—General Lucio Blanco, one of the commissioners named by the Aguas Calientes convention to confer with General Carranza, stated last night that Carranza and Villa had agreed upon a suspension of hostilities until November 20, when the Aguas Calientes convention will be resumed and either ratify or nullify the election of General Gutierrez as provisional president.

U. S. ALLOWS WITHDRAWAL ORDERS TO STAND

By Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 14.—While awaiting official confirmation of the report from Mexico that a truce had been agreed by the Carranza and the Aguas Calientes claimants to control the central government, the Washington government allowed its orders to General Funston to stand tonight and Vera Cruz will be returned to Mexican control on November 23 unless some radical change in the situation there prevents it.

ADVANTAGE TO CARRANZA IN AMERICAN WITHDRAWAL

By Associated Press.
El Paso, Texas, Nov. 14.—Enrique C. Lorente, diplomatic agent to Washington of the Villa faction, declared today that he believed the Aguas Calientes convention would oppose the evacuation of Vera Cruz by the American forces, which has been definitely decided upon by the Washington government. Its accomplishment, he pointed out, probably would deliver the important east port to the Carranza government. He expressed the belief, however, that Gen. Aguilar, whose forces dominate the district surrounding the city, would recognize the convention.

Regarding the disposition of the $1,000,000 which has been collected as customs duties by American officials, Lorente said that the impression was gained that it would be acceptable if it was held in trust by the United States until a permanent government had been established at Mexico City, yet the convention might claim the money by virtue of the supreme power which Villa officials assert the body holds. Some weeks ago General Villa in a statement to the Associated Press, declared that he desired the evacuation of Vera Cruz by alien troops even if it benefited the Carranza faction. The position of the convention and the Villa faction at this time, however, as viewed by Mr. Lorente will be that the evacuation will be delayed until Aguilar shall recognize the sovereignty of the convention or until the Villa troops can move south from San Luis Potosi and drive the Carranza forces from the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

LORD ROBERTS DIES IN FRANCE

BRITAIN'S FIELD MARSHAL SUCCEUMBS TO PNEUMONIA AT TACK

ALL ENGLAND MOURNS DEATH

Hero of Three Wars Was Idol of Soldiers and Pride of British Empire

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 14.—Field Marshal Earl Roberts died last night in France from pneumonia. A telegram from Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary force on the continent, apprised Earl Kitchener, secretary of state for war of the death of England's great soldier. The telegram said: "I deeply regret to tell you that Lord Roberts died at 8 o'clock this (Saturday) evening."

Field Marshal Roberts, who as colonel in chief of the Indian troops, had gone to France to give them his greeting soon after his arrival became seriously ill. He suffered from a severe cold Thursday and pneumonia rapidly developed. He was 82 years, militated against his recovery. The news of the death of Lord Roberts came as an entire surprise to England. He was the most popular military figure in Great Britain and a national hero without rival. Despite his age he had never ceased hard work since his nominal retirement and as he often remarked, he lived a rigidly abstemious life that he might preserve his strength for the service of his country.

Sketch of His Career.

Roberts of Kandahar, Pretoria and Waterloo, as field marshal Lord Frederick St. John Roberts was known, sums up briefly the career of the noted soldier whose death has plunged the empire into mourning. Son of a noble Irish family, Lord Roberts was born in 1832 in Caspurne, India where his father, General Abraham Roberts, was serving. It was in the Indian service that the gallant and official Irishman achieved his first and lasting fame. It was in South Africa, in his later years that this was supplemented and magnified by his achievements in Great Britain's victorious campaign against the Boers but it was not as field marshal and earl that Lord Roberts was formally known. It was as "Bobs" that the hero of the ranks, knew him, loved him and created him. In their estimation and in that of the admiring public which appreciated and applauded his gallant service for his country, no name could fit him better than his diminutive of his family name and a word meaning "hero" in India. He showed as he was with honor and title by his own country. It was not that nation alone that his military abilities were appreciated. Emperor William paid high tribute to him.

Roberts of Kandahar, the emperor is recorded as saying, "has much of the subtlety and ability to perceive his opportunities that have distinguished the greatest military geniuses of the past. I hold him the ablest of today's soldiers."

For more than half a century England had occasion to take pride in the career of the Roberts the soldier. As his career reopened she came to hold him in the same affection as the hero of the past. In Wellington, Khyber and Kitchener in the Boer wars he was in the thick of the fighting and many times was wounded. As he fought, he rose in rank from supernumerary subaltern in the Horse Artillery, to field marshal and commander in chief of all the British armies. As further rewards he was made a peer of the realm and the recipient of distinguished orders of the Garter, the most ancient and high prize of all the British orders. This crowning honor came to him in 1901 after his notable service in leading the British cause to victory in South Africa.

On the slippery rails the interurban motorman saw the cars but too late to stop.

TWO ARMIES DEADLOCKED

AFTER FOUR WEEKS OF DESPERATE FIGHTING POSITIONS ARE THE SAME

WEATHER A FACTOR

Sanguinary Engagements Have Taken Place Further Inland But Results Indecisive

By Associated Press.
Berlin, Nov. 14.—The battle of Flanders, which was brought about by the German attempt to advance to Dunkirk and Calais on the northern coast of France, commenced just four weeks ago today and despite the sacrifices of thousands of lives, the two armies still hold virtually the same positions as when the first shot was fired. After taking Ostend and Antwerp, the German forces proceeded with little or no opposition as far as Nieuport on the Yser Canal; here they found against them the Belgian army, reformed, as well as an enflaming fire from British monitors, and they were unable to make any progress. Floods completed the discomfiture of the invaders and they commenced an effort to break through the allies' lines between Dixmude and Ypres.

The Germans had one or two minor, sometimes only temporary, successes, such as the crossing of the canal and the capture of Dixmude, but now, according to official and other reports, while they still hold part of Dixmude, they are back on the east side of the canal and again have slackened their attacks.

WEATHER HINDERS OPERATIONS.

The weather, which has been stormy with heavy rains, has, according to the statement of German general headquarters, disturbed their operations. People arriving from across the English channel during the past few days say a high wind has been driving the rain across the open spaces, filling the trenches and making it next to impossible for the men to protect themselves.

In spite of the unfavorable conditions, both sides have been making charges and both claim to have met with some successes. The Germans again report the capture of a number of prisoners and also that they have repulsed the British and French attacks. The French, who do not report the capture of prisoners nor their own losses, likewise claim to have repulsed the German attacks and to have made progress. Their advance on Dixmude, which reached the almost unprecedented distance of 3,200 feet, for in this battle advance is measured in yards and not in miles, seems to have been an important one, for if it continues, observers say it should relieve the pressure on Dixmude.

HARD FIGHTING FURTHER INLAND

From the Franco-Belgian border as far as Verdun the Germans have resumed their activity and as usual both German and French official accounts claim successes. While the eyes of the world have been on the battle on the north seas coast, there has been some fierce fighting further inland and the Aisne valley, the Argonne forest and the vicinity of Verdun have again been scenes of some of the most sanguinary affairs. Neither side, however, has been able to make any impression. The Germans, winning in their victory at Vailly, the fruits of which they since have lost, however.

Fighting continues in the Caucasus between Russians and Turks, but with what result is not known, as both governments announce victories. Turkey has given out a statement through Rome placing the blame for the war between the British and Ottoman powers on England who, she says, complains of Turkey's acquisition of the German cruisers, Goeben and Grelau, and does not mention anything of the seizure of two Turkish battleships which were building in England at the outbreak of the war. Turkey also claims England did all she could to wreck Turkey and that the British guarantees of integrity could not be regarded seriously because of her occupation of Egypt. Turkey's threat to preach a holy war is a cause of uneasiness in Germany as well as in England and France, close observers point out, because of its possible effect on Italy. So far as Egypt is concerned the danger mark seems to have passed as the chiefs of Ulema, composed of the leading Moslem religious societies, have issued a proclamation urging the Moslems to remain calm, while the sheiks in the Sudan have refrained from taking action regarding Turkey's proclamation of war on the allies.

Quarters Tiger Riddle Yale
Line In Fourth

By Associated Press.
Princeton, Nov. 14.—The Yale football team defeated Princeton's eleven here this afternoon by the score of 19 to 14 in a game which for thrilling climax rivalled modern stagecraft at its best. Beaten back and scored upon with apparent ease during the first three periods of play, the Tigers tore loose with a smashing attack in the last fifteen minutes of the game and fairly riddled the Eli's line. Twice the Orange and Black swept across the blue goal line and were fighting desperately for the third touchdown, which would have given them victory, when the timers' call ended Princeton's chances and Yale's apprehension.

Aside from their surprising flash of offensive strength in the last quarter, Princeton was completely outplayed by Yale, as by Harvard a week ago. The wide open attack in which the blue attacked the ball in round the end runs then suddenly bringing in the forward passes which seemed to bewilder the opposing line as much as the crimson's close formation, and concealed ball offensive. From a defensive standpoint the Yale first string team was never in danger from Princeton's attack and it was not until the second and third string substitutes went in that the Orange and Black football machine could make consistent progress.

Louisiana had indifferent success with the forward pass and confined its attacks largely to "strait" football.

Twice Brown got the ball on downs. Brown was dangerous only in the second period and then because of Harvard fumbles were secured by Brown men; but no Brown back could gain an inch by straight rushing and two tries at goal went wide.

MAN OF MANY ALIASES SUSPECTED AS A SPY

London, Nov. 14.—A mysterious person known under the names of Horst, Von der Goltz and Bridgeman Taylor, described as a major in the Mexican army and suspected of being a German spy, was remanded in a police court today on the charge of failing to register as an alien enemy. The prosecution said that although the prisoner was charged with these minor offenses he was under very grave suspicion. The real name of this man is not known, but he had in his possession a passport issued in Washington bearing the name of Bridgeman Taylor, and describing him as a major in the Mexican army. An endorsement of his passport showed that the bearer was in Berlin as recently as October 29. He arrived in London November 4, under an assumed name under a false passport.

GERMAN AVIATOR ESCAPED FROM TSING TAU

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 14.—A German aviator escaped from Tsing Tau, the German fortified position in Kiao Chow now in possession of the Japanese, before the Germans surrendered it. Who he is and his markings are at the present time are not known. The German legation here has received a telegram from this aviator confirming previous reports that the German losses at Tsing Tau were small.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

BAYONET FOREST CHECK GERMANS

OPPOSING FORCES EQUAL AT POINTS OF COMBAT NEAREST THE SEACOAST

MASS ATTACKS BY GERMANS

Some Villages Near Dixmude Have Been Taken and Retaken Three or Four Times

By Associated Press. Paris, Nov. 14.—All the attempts of the Germans to reach Calais have been frustrated by the forest of bayonets presented by allied French, Belgian and British troops. The opposing forces in these regions are about equal, which accounts for the fact that neither side has been able to overwhelm the other at any of the three chief points of contact, Dixmude, Ypres and Armentieres.

The French official report declares that the Germans have been repulsed elsewhere. The attacks by the Germans have been carried out at some places with heavy masses of men, in the belief that one point may yield. Some villages in the neighborhood of Dixmude which have been taken and retaken three or four times, now are in the hands of the allies who are strongly situated on the canal, the crossing of which would be of great importance to the Germans. The most intense interest is concentrated on this portion of the extended battlefield, but other points are also the scene of stiff conflicts which have resulted in nothing more important than the capture of a few trenches. It is officially announced that two German regimental flags found in the trenches formerly occupied by the Germans on the Marne have been handed to Field Marshal Sir

John French by General Joffre as they were discovered opposing the positions then held by the British.

RICE-LLEVEN TIES OKLAHOMA AGGIES

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, Nov. 14.—Outweighed twenty pounds in the line and with three regulars in the game Rice open work proved superior to that of the Oklahoma Aggies and the light local eleven succeeded in tying a 13-point lead. The visitors' line smashes had gained in the first ten minutes of play.

Akaba—A fortified village of Arabia, at the northern end of the Gulf of Akaba, 150 miles south of east of Suez. The gulf extends to the southward for 110 miles and has an average breadth of 12 miles. The town was formerly known as Aelana and as Allah. Tobacco, honey, wax and corn are exported. The place has a population of about 1,000.

CANADIANS USE COMBINED SHIELD AND DIGGING SPADE

Ingenious Tool Can Be Employed Either to Protect Body or Dig Trench.

By Associated Press. Basingsoke, England, Nov. 14.—Canadian troops arriving at Salisbury Plain carry an entrenching tool that is novel to the Englishman. It is capable of being used as a shield and is slung across their shoulder in a leather case. The tool is a spade weighing about four pounds, and consequently can be carried at all times. The spade has an oval hole in the center of it through which a gun barrel can be thrust. The tool thus serves both as a rifle rest and a shield to the soldier in the trenches.

All of the spades have been subjected to heavy fire and the metal in them is practically bullet-proof. At a distance of 200 yards heavy ammunition only cracks the shields and does not penetrate them.

Caldwell Roberts, John Tevis and Will Briggs went up to Vernon yesterday to witness the Vernon-Amarillo football game.

Chabnitz—A fortified town of Serbia, on the right bank of the River Save, 40 miles west of Belgrade, on a height overlooking the confluence of the Kamenitz and the Save. The town was founded in 1470 by the Turks, was taken over by the imperialists in 1695 and by the peace of Passarowitz in 1767 fell under the Austrian sway. After many vicissitudes it was again occupied by the Turks from 1816 to 1867. The present population is about 15,000. The place is the principal commercial center of northwest Serbia, doing a considerable export business and is famous for its white honey and the wit of its people.

Friday's dispatch from Austin, stating that Governor Colquhoun had been suggested for the presidency of the University of Texas, should have been held over until today, when most of the papers publish funny sections.

Out of 267 editors who answered the inquiry of the Literary Digest as to their sympathies in the war, 105 were for the Allies, 29 for the Germans and 242 are neutral. In other words, about two-thirds of the newspaper men are obeying President Wilson's injunction to ride the fence.

This country now sees the great need of a merchant marine. American cotton is selling for 18 cents per pound in Germany. At least, that is the price offered. Germany says her harbors are not mined. Yet those who own the boats are afraid to take the risk of loading up with cotton destined for a German port.

Republicans are howling about the special war revenue taxes and are trying to give the impression that, under Republican tariff laws, such taxes would not be necessary.

In addition to the loss from import taxes, and the special revenue taxes would have been more than those that are soon to go into effect. Remember that when your Republican friend talks about a war tax in time of peace; and also remember that a war tax is much preferred to war, which we might well be in but for the wise and courageous stand of the administration. But there are prospects that a war tax won't be necessary long. The department of commerce announces that for the week ending November 7 duties were paid on imports of the value of $26,129,895 with but five days of business. These imports were exceeded by the value of exports by $10,510,872. One reason that we can do business with all the warring nations is the firm neutrality of this country and the steps taken to create a merchant marine. They must be credited to the administration and to the Democratic party. Yes, a war tax is better than war, and a low war tax is much preferred to a high one.

It has apparently not occurred to the negro employees in the departments at Washington that if they have been segregated from the white employees, to have the white employees been segregated from them, and that the isolation of the one class is no greater than that of the other. There may be some logical flaw in this reasoning, but at least it has a philosophical flavor, and if they were more amenable to the comfortings of philosophy, it might be useful to them. The facts of this matter are quite clear, and the significance of it equally so. Negro employees have been made to work apart from white employees, but that constitutes no political or economic discrimination against them. The opportunities for obtaining government employment are not lessened, nor are the wages of such employments, as they succeed in getting reduced because of the segregation. Whether they work on the north or the south, or even on the west side of a building affects the totality of their wages not in the slightest degree. It is their social sense that is hurt, and it is, at bottom, a craving to be put, constructively, on a plane of social equality with the whites that has egged them into making this protest, and it was presented to the President in a manner both unwise and offensive.—Dallas News.

Organization of a co-operative window glass manufacturing plant for Wichita Falls is being promoted, with good chances of ultimate success. Window glass workers in other states are being invited to subscribe for stock in a company to be formed here. It is hoped to have the stock subscribed and the plant built and ready to place in operation next fall.

It is pointed out that Belgium, which produces most of the glass made abroad, is prostrated by the war and the glass workers industry cannot become normal there for several years at the best and that the future for hand made glass is very bright in this country.

BRITISH LOSE BIG BATTLESHIP (Continued from Page 1) Might Have Sunk Olympic. Many passengers believe the sinking of the Audacious probably saved the Olympic, which might otherwise have entered the mine field. Others think a submarine torpedoed the warship. They base their opinions on the fact that she was wounded astern rather than forward, which would more likely be the case if she came into contact with a mine. The destruction of the Audacious is the most serious single loss suffered by the British navy since the opening of hostilities. Only a few British warships outrank her in size and fighting equipment. The Audacious had a displacement of 24,000 tons and 596 feet in length. Her armament consisted of ten 13.5 inch guns, sixteen four inch guns, four three pounders, with three 21 inch torpedo tubes. In her trials she developed a speed of 22.4 knots per hour, being slightly faster under trial than the other vessels of her class.

MASS MEETING TO ORGANIZE STOVE CO.

PROPOSITION WILL BE SUBMITTED ON ZIEGLER STOVE WEDNESDAY

CONFERENCE HELD SATURDAY

Stove Has Already Proved Merit and Hundreds Have Been Sold Recently

At a conference in J. A. Kemp's office Saturday afternoon plans for the organization of a stock company to manufacture the "Ziegler Hot Blast Gas Heater" which has proven such a success since it was put on the market this season, were formulated, and it was decided to call a mass meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, and all others interested in the growth and prosperity of the city, for Wednesday evening when the plan of organization will be submitted to the people.

Details of the plan of organization will not be made public until this meeting. The stove already has the endorsement of the manufacturers committee of the Chamber of Commerce as being a meritorious invention. If a company is organized to manufacture the stove here it will be the only stove factory in the state. Hundreds of the stoves have been sold and all are reported giving the highest satisfaction.

ALL FORCES AT WORK ON COTTON SITUATION

Complete Harmony in Movement To Secure Fair Price To the Grower

W. E. Singleton, one of the well known agricultural lecturers of the state, came up from Dallas county yesterday to attend the farmers meeting at Electra. Not knowing of the arrangements for a reduction of the cotton acreage for 1915. "We have found the farmers ready to pledge a reduction in their acreage for next year and everywhere there is a desire to co-operate and use the advantage offered by the cotton loan fund and the help of the business men to get a fair price for the cotton. Dallas county is being thoroughly organized and the business men and bankers of Dallas and the other towns of the county are squarely behind the movement.

Local associations for each shipping station and a county organization in each county are being formed in which the members pledge themselves to join their efforts to win others to secure a fair and just price for the cotton crop of 1914 while in the hands of the grower.

R. E. Huff is chairman for the organization of Wichita County. Mr. Singleton or some other organizer will work with Mr. Huff and others in organizing the farmers and business men of Wichita county.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE CONFERENCE PLANNED

By Associated Press. Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 14.—Representatives of the business interests of fifty or more cities and manufacturing centers in the central west and south, government officials and railway executives will meet in Memphis next week to organize the International Trade Conference of the Mississippi valley and perfect plans for an extensive trade campaign in Central and South America.

The conference proposed by the chambers of commerce of Chicago and New Orleans and the Business Men's Club of Memphis will be in session two days, November 19 and 20. Discussion will center about four subjects. Transportation via the Mississippi valley route to Central and South America and development of trading companies to effect an exchange of commodities and products between the United States and Latin America; a direct method of exchange of credits and the establishment of industries in the United States to supply the demands denied by existing conditions. The conference will be devoid of formal entertainment features to permit all time possible to be devoted to the discussion of trade extension.

LITTLE EVIDENCE OF WAR IN BERLIN

ALMOST NO INDICATION THAT COUNTRY IS ENGAGED IN CONFLICT

PEOPLE SHOW LITTLE EMOTION

Watch Their Loved Ones March Away With Spartan Indifference in Their Faces

Berlin, Nov. 12.—They still eat wheat bread in Berlin. Amusements proceed with little sign of abatement. Few posters to call men to arms are in evidence and there are many able-bodied men on the streets in civilian clothes. These are in striking contrast to the situation in neutral Holland, where all people are compelled to eat bread that has a 75 per cent admixture of rye and where almost all walls are covered with official announcements relating to mobilization and the regulation of prices and were sources of wonderment to a correspondent of the Associated Press who has just arrived after.

The German is at war could not be gleaned from the impressions, though a person might speculate on the cause that has led to two conditions. Everywhere one sees large photographs of the emperor, the German crown prince and Generals Von Hindenburg, Von Bessler and other military notables exhibited as are campaign lithographs in the United States. There are other photographs of Emperor Francis Joseph and Austrian generals.

Good Horses at the Front.

Horses which do the hauling in the city are poor. All good horses have been requisitioned for military purposes with the result that every equine able to keep moving is urged to further and often painful effort. There are surprisingly few soldiers to be seen in the streets. Now and then a column puts in an appearance—cheerful, eager and usually bedecked with flowers—off to war. Beside the men, there are the women—mothers, wives, sisters, sweethearts—not so cheerful. But it seems to be contrary to some unwritten law to show emotion in this business of going to the front, perhaps never to return. So while the men hide their concern under a cheerfulness that appears to be natural enough, the women baffle their reddened eyes with a smile and swallow hard as they talk to the man whom they accompany to the train that will take him east or west—either way a road to danger.

Berlin Shows Resume. Business in Berlin is normal as far as can be ascertained. Shortly after the mobilization some of the large amusement places, concert halls and vaudeville houses closed up. Many of them have been reopened with the coming of the winter season. The cafes are crowded to capacity and many artists who are out of work represent curtailment of programs rather than actual closures.

A similar condition prevails among shop and factory employees, but in their case the percentage of unemployment is lower because of the men taken to the front. Official figures recently issued show that with the progress of redistributing labor not yet completed, there were in Berlin only from 2 to 6 per cent more unemployed than normally. In the case of certain trades which require men of exceptionally good physique there was actually a shortage of labor.

Food is Still Good. The bills of fare in the Berlin hotels and restaurants may not be read by the German whose knowledge of French is limited. The "speisekarte" is no longer a "menu." There has been little reduction in the quality of the food offered. Nor are the prices materially higher. Many of the big restaurants have made no change whatever in their prices since the war began.

"We must win." is the slogan of everybody in Berlin. To make this possible, everybody accepts resignedly whatever sacrifice has to be made. While the army has the hard work in the battle line, the women including court, knit wrists, gloves, sweaters, the empress and the ladies of her abdominal bands and even calf warmers. Innumerable packages are dispatched to the front, containing mostly cigars, small bottles of spirituous beverages and chocolates for whose nutriment value the German soldiers seem to have the highest respect.

Spartan Feeling Prevails. Comment heard in the street, public places and official quarters is not such that one could say that the war is popular in Germany. That term would hardly describe the feeling. A better definition of the sentiment prevailing in all classes of Berlin's population and, it is claimed in the empire, is that the war is a very disagreeable business which must be disposed of thoroughly and with whole heartedness. Press and public alike express this Spartan sentiment.

Berlin does not seem to fear an invasion by hostile air craft. For this reason no limitation has been put on street lighting and the many electric signs which glare and flash everywhere, and which would guide an aviator for miles. A plentiful supply of fuel has made economy unnecessary. Owing to a general commandeering of horses and wagons, the streets are not quite as clean as they were formerly. That, and the conditions already referred to are the only indications that Berlin is not in the midst of peace. There is so little excitement in the capital that even war bulletins get but half the attention they do elsewhere.

FLORIDA LAND CASES ON TRIAL THIS WEEK

Government Brings Sixty Witnesses To Kansas City On Misdemeanor of Mails Charges

By Associated Press. Kansas City, Nov. 14.—That the promoters of the Chambers Land Company sold as the "most fertile land in the world outside the valley of the Nile lands, upon parts of which the horses and cattle were obliged to wear 'muck shoes' to keep from sinking, and other parts of which were completely inundated," was the charge made by Judge S. R. Rush of Omaha, special assistant of the attorney general of the United States in outlining the government's cases in federal court today. E. C. Chambers, president, and four alleged agents of the company are charged with using the mails to defraud and promote a conspiracy in the sale of Florida land.

Francis M. Wilson, United States district attorney, announced that the government had sixty witnesses here, half of them from Florida. Attorneys for the defense asserted they had half that number and that many are leading officials of Florida. The defense, as outlined, was that every representation made as to the land was true, that it was being drained and that every claim made for the reclaimed swamp would be realized, and those who had invested their money had invested it wisely. George H. Davis, who outlined the defense, charged that Harvey W. Wiley, former chief of the bureau of agriculture in the department of agriculture, was authority for the statement that the land was the most fertile in the world outside of the valley of the Nile. He said the literature on which the prosecution is based was drawn on the very words of government documents. Judge Poollock ordered that the jury not be held together during the trial, an order almost without precedent in federal court here.

150 HENS CAN EARN MORE THAN SIX BALES OF COTTON

Value of Poultry Is Demonstrated By Extension Department at A. College Station, Texas, Nov. 13.—An instance of where one hundred and fifty hens equal six bales of cotton has been discovered in Brazos county, according to an announcement by the Extension Service of the A. & M. College. George Echols, a farmer living near the college, has a flock of 150 hens. He sold this year to date $200 worth of eggs. Reckoning sales at the same rate for the next two months, adding the sales of poultry and making due allowances for eggs and chickens eaten by the family during the year, he will have received the gross amount of at least $300 by January 1st from this flock.

One of his tenants' total money crop this year consists of six bales of cotton, now not exceeding $180, or but $40 in advance of the money rent contracted with Mr. Echols. Reckoning the bale at 10 cents per pound, the three tons of seed at $20 per ton, which is the price probably received but for the war, the tenant's total income as a tenant farmer would have been $260. The cotton required the greater part of the tenant's time from April to November, and a considerable part of the time of his wife and children. The chickens required the attention of Mr. Echols in taking the eggs to market two or three times a week. It is safe to say that the net profit on the chickens, after making due allowance for the time of Mr. and Mrs. Echols, was $150; thus equaling the profit on the six bales of cotton. Mr. Echols also sold butter and vegetables, etc., to the amount of $600. He is holding his cotton for higher prices and yet has money in the bank.

TOOK OATH OF ALLEGEANCE AND CLAIMS CITIZENSHIP

Native of Germany, Arrested in England, Claims To Be United States Subject.

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 14.—The American embassy here has examined many curious claims to American citizenship during the war but none more unusual than a moldy oath of allegiance dated 1863. It was presented by Charles Engels, now a resident of London but at the time of the taking of the oath a prisoner of war in the hands of the Federal forces in Alabama. Engels went to America from Germany as a boy of eighteen in 1856 and settled in Brooklyn, N. Y. At the outbreak of the Civil War he was in Alabama and joined the Confederate army there. One of the first Union forces penetrating that state captured Engels and promised to parole him if he would take the oath of allegiance to the United States. He did so and returned to New York, subsequently coming to London where he has been keeping a small shop in Bloomsbury. At the outbreak of the war he claimed American citizenship but the authorities compelled him to register as an alien enemy. Engels made no protest until the recent attacks on German shops caused him to fear the same fate for his establishment and he has now asked the embassy to decide whether or not he is entitled to the protection of American citizenship. The embassy has been unable to find any precedent for Engels' case and has submitted the question to the State Department at Washington for a ruling. The oath reads as follows: "United State of America, State of Alabama, County of Jackson, I, Charles Engels of the County of Kings and State of New York, do solemnly swear that I will bear allegiance to the United States, and support and sustain the constitution and laws thereof; that I will maintain the national sovereignty paramount to that of all State, county or Confederate powers; that I will discountenance, discourage and forever oppose secession, rebellion and disintegration of the Federal Union; that I disclaim and denounce all faith and fellowship with the so-called Confederate States and Confederate armies, and pledge my honor, my property and my life to the sacred performance of this, my solemn oath of allegiance to the Government of the United States of America."

(Signed) CH. ENGELS.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of August, 1863.
(Signed) Wm. JN. WILES, "Lt. Col. & P. M."

Engels is firmly convinced that such a binding oath made him a citizen of the United States and is confident that the State Department will sustain his contention.

CRITICISE CONDITIONS IN ENGLISH TRAINING CAMPS

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 14.—Charges that men and boys in England's training camps are not receiving humane treatment and that many deaths are resulting from bad feeding and poor shelter are causing great indignation. The complaints recall charges of criminal neglect that were made against military authorities responsible for conditions at mobilization centers in the United States during the Spanish-American war.
Some of the charges against the British war office have been put into specific form. A letter written by H. H. Bailey of Leamington Spa, whose son enlisted from Oxford on September 19 and died from pneumonia on the training grounds on Salisbury Plains has been made public. From it is taken the following story:
In the course of his training, the young recruit wrote to his father. On October 2 he said:
"We, of course, are stiff and suffer from bad feet but we should not mind these discomforts if they would only feed us properly. Today the food was slightly better, but it was not cooked. None of us has had a square meal since we left home, or a cup of tea. What they call tea is colored water cooled with salt. The clothes they have given us are rotten and tear at the slightest strain. All the buttons hang on by a thread or two. This afternoon about 100 of the 600 that were drilling had their trousers split from end to end.
The following day he wrote on a postcard:
"Am still living, feeling damp at night, no board floors in the tents yet."
The last letter on Oct. 5th stated:
"Regarding the food problem, the same thing has happened again. The camp grumble and so would anyone if they had five hours drill and no food. I hope to come home for Christmas, but please have plenty of food."
No further letters came, but on October 10 Mr. Bailey received word to visit his son in a military hospital at Bristol. He was fortunate enough to arrive some hours before death occurred. The boy was full of gratitude for the kindness of the hospital staff, but bitterly condemned the lack of preparation for the men, the damp tents and scanty and badly cooked food supply.
This is but one of a number of deaths in the training camps and the proper clothing and housing of the men is proceeding all too slowly, according to critics in view of the coming of winter.

CONTROL OF RAIL SERVICE PREDICTED

ECONOMIST SAYS INTERSTATE COMMISSION WILL EXTEND ITS AUTHORITY.

TOWARD FEDERAL OWNERSHIP

Says Trend is In This Direction and It May Be Reached in Near Future.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Nov. 14.—The Interstate Commerce Commission will soon assume as complete control of railway service as now has of rates, in the opinion of Prof. F. H. Dixon of Dartmouth College, who addressed the Western Economic Society here today. "The commission has established that control, he held, it would be of little or no public concern whether railways had interlocking directorates."
Prof. Dixon reached this conclusion after an academic discussion of his subject. "The economic significance of interlocking directorates in railway finance," pointing to the tendency toward government regulation he added: "That it will stop short of government ownership does not seem at all clear."

Bankers and Railways.
He spoke largely in justification of the relations between bankers and railway boards. The evils he saw in this connection loomed largest when one considered the relations between bankers themselves, tending to establish a single source of credit.
"It may be," he suggested, "that no relief can be found short of the radical step of employing government credit in aid of public service industries."

FABRICS OF THE PAST THE FABRICS OF TODAY

New York, Nov. 14.—There are far less new fabrics upon the market this season than last. The variety, however, does not seem to be lessened, for it merely means that instead of the new we have gone back to many of the fabrics which have been considered passe for many seasons.

Velour de laines and ratine are recent novelties which have held their own. This year they have become thicker and the pile of the velour de laine is heavier, making it seem almost plush like.

Broadcloth is another fabric that has a renewed vogue this year, and many suits and costumes are to be seen of it. The chiffon broadcloth, which is light weight in comparison with the other broadcloth, is used extensively for one piece dresses. Black, blue, green, beige and mauve are colors which are especially attractive in broadcloth.

Faille, once called Ottoman and bengaline, is very popular in silk or wool. It has a suppleness and a firmness which make it especially suited to the one piece frock. The clothes of the season are what determine the fabrics and this year the one-piece frocks and separate coats cause fabrics, supple and substantial to be the mode.

These is serge, the standby of decades, gabardine and fabrics which have a long haired silky finish called kitten's ear, peau de souris (mouse skin), and sibilane. Velvet, imitation mink and Persian lamb cloth complete a wide variety of the smart fabrics for the daylight hours.

The jumper effect in dresses which is so popular at the present time adds another happy way of combining fabrics and colors. In faille silk comes a long, tuniced frock with a pleated lower skirt and a jumper blouse waist. The sleeves and underarms of this waist are of soft silk with a Paisley design. A close fitting little hat with three perky feathers in the front gives extra dash to the costume.

Plaids in gray and festive colors are always a bright note in the seasons when they are popular. In greens and blues with a touch of red or yellow they may be used to advantage for the winter frock, primarily for home wear, but which may fill many wants under a stylish separate coat. The model illustrated is in dark green with a blue and black stripe checked on with a touch of red.

The bodice is in basque effect and the skirt has a long tunic which dips to the edge of the lower skirt in front and graduates higher in the back. The lower skirt and crushed girdle are of black. The flaring collar and rounding cuffs are of doubled white oratony.

Brocades which embody in themselves all the sumptuousness of a century ago are the fabrics used for evening gowns. On heavy silk, thin voile, chiffon or velvet, gold and silver threads are woven into the brocade designs. There are also velvet brocaded voiles and chiffons with a bit of gold or silver in or outlining the design. These brocades are not stiff as of old, but soft and pliable, draping most artistically.

Black satin, faille and velvet hold a strong place among evening gowns. These are lightened by the use of ribbon sashes in vivid shades, as well as by the wonderful Roman striped ribbons and silks which are very popular. Some of the newest of these show the autumn note in their combinations of russet brown, green and dull red with always a stripe of black. This new color scheme is also to be seen in the new taffetas. Taffeta, by the way, is used a great deal in combination with serge and gabardine. For the younger generation come chiffon voiles with a six or eight inch satin stripe in self color woven on the edge. Tunics and flouncers are made with this stripe on the edge and with the plain voile for the rest of the frock. These voiles come in all the light shades so popular for evening wear, soft blues, shell pinks, varying shades of green and in a yellow that so closely resembles gold that it hardly seems possible that it is not a metal cloth.

The costumes at present demand many accessories in the way of neck wear, and the present tendency in these dainty lace and ornate affairs is toward the cape effects. Fichu effects are also to be seen and are an attractive addition to a dark frock of serge, gabardine or satin. On the popular dark blue frocks are to be seen cuffs and collars in yellow crepe or ceru linen. Cap set of ceru linen had turnback cuffs and standing collar lencstitched in an inch wide hem. Another set was of white linen with yellow stripes about a quarter of an inch apart. The collar was high and did not meet in the front, while the turnback cuffs were wide and pointed. The edges of collar and cuffs were bound with yellow to match the stripe in the linen.

There has been a good deal of talk about the advent of low heeled shoes, but except for the walking shoes with rubber soles and spring, or very low heels they have not appeared. Short-vamped shoes are again in vogue, with high French or Vienna heels. The Vienna heel is quite the newest heel and is neither French, Cuban nor Mexican. It is high, narrow and straight and looks pinched.

A new shoe model which is having a vogue among the people who allow themselves the luxury of changing with every whim of the merry jestress's Dame Fashion, is square toed and with high French heels. This shoe is fashioned after French shoes.

For the indoor shoe are those with a white kid vamp and black patent leather back portions and strapings. A single black and white ornament is placed in the front. The bronze shoes made on a pointed last and with high French heels are conservative and yet when used in the right way an air of careful consideration to a costume.

Padlock on Wife Cost Kansas City Man $500 Fine

By Associated Press. Kansas City, Nov. 14.—A heavy skirt like bag gathered at his wife's waist and fastened with a heavy padlocked belt the key to which he carried today cost Roy Brown $500 in the Kansas City police court. The woman was unable to walk because of the bag when found by a policeman at her home. Judge J. J. Brady refused to heed Brown's story that his wife wore the sack as a p. nance and had given him the key of her own accord. Brown is twenty-nine and his wife thirty-five.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Nov. 13.—Dr. C. S. Potts of the University of Texas and president of the Texas Conference of Charities and Corrections, estimates that 40,000 persons, or one per cent of the total population of Texas, may be classed as defective, dependent or delinquent. This conclusion, he says, is reached on a basis that there are 10,000 insane persons in the state, 6,000 feeble-minded, 5,000 consumptives, 8,000 delinquents in the penitentiaries and reformatories, and 5,000 sick at all times and who are in need of assistance. In addition there are many homeless and dependent children and many aged and infirm who should be cared for, not to mention, he says, many others who either who are not fully equipped to fight their battles alone. How to care for this army of 40,000 will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Texas Charities and Corrections conference which opens at San Antonio next Sunday.

FIRE THIS MORNING IN MARICLE'S FEED STORE

Fire was discovered at 1:30 this morning in Maricle's Feed Store on Indiana avenue, between Eighth and Ninth streets. The flames appeared burning in a quantity of baled hay stored in the rear of the building. The fire department expected no serious difficulty in controlling the flames, but their work was much burdened by the dense smoke. Smoke filled adjacent buildings, including the Falls rooming house and the Marion hotel, both nearby, and guests of these places came down without waiting to dress completely. The damage, it was believed, would not be heavy.

THREE BRITISH MONITORS. PROVING OF MUCH VALUE

Purchased From Brazil They Are Able to Navigate Rivers and Shallow Waters.

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 14.—The three British monitors, Severn, Humber and Mersey which bombarded the Germans on the Belgian coast, were purchased by the British government on the outbreak of war. They were originally intended for Brazil and are peculiarly adapted for river work and this particular bombardment on the Belgian coast, having only 4 1/2 feet draft.

For small vessels they are heavily armed with a few but powerful guns. Two six inch guns are mounted in one armored turret on upper deck forward, throwing a 100 pound projectile with velocity at the muzzle of 3,000 feet per second, sufficient force to penetrate 2 1/2 inches of iron. These guns can discharge nine projectiles per minute each. Two 4.7 inch howitzers are also on upper deck weighing five tons and can throw a 35 pound projectile with velocity at the muzzle of 1,150 feet per second. In addition there are four 3 pound guns and six rifle calibre guns.

COUNTRYSIDE IN POLAND LAID BARE BY SOLDIERS

For Hundreds of Miles Farms and Houses Have Been Destroyed By Troops.

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 14.—A correspondent returned from the scene of the operations about the fortress of Ossowetz and the watering place of Drusienki reports that the ravages made by waves of troops both Russian and German across this region, chiefly inhabited by Jews in the villages and Poles and Lithuanians in the rural districts, have for a distance of one hundred miles swept the country bare of any sign of crops.

Trenches, pits, dugouts, embankments and mounds are everywhere. Scattered over the fields are remains of property of every description. Rarely can a sound tree be found. Practically all bearing the sign of gunshot or shrapnel shell fire. Houses and huts are in various states of ruin and the fields littered with the wreck of transport trains, wagons, harness and remnants of barricades and the country side reminds one of a Kansas district ravaged by a cyclone.

It is no uncommon sight to see a man owning a hundred acres of fertile soil begging for food. Kovno which in normal times has a population of 30,000 new shelters 60,000 seventy per cent of whom are Jews and ninety per cent of these are old people and children. The position of these Jews is all the more pitiful for under Russian law, all of the governments east and north of the governments of Vilna and Warsaw are closed to them notwithstanding the fact that 300,000 of their brethren are fighting in the Russian army, twenty-six of whom up to the present date have been decorated with the St. Georges Cross, the equivalent of the Victoria Cross in the English services.

ARCHBISHOP JAMES BENK SERIOUSLY ILL IN CHICAGO

By Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 14.—The Most Rev. James H. Benk, archbishop of New Orleans, was taken ill with diabetes while visiting Dr. F. C. Kelley, president of the Catholic Church Extension Society here today. He was taken to a hospital. Physicians say his case is serious. He was born in Bavaria in 1856.

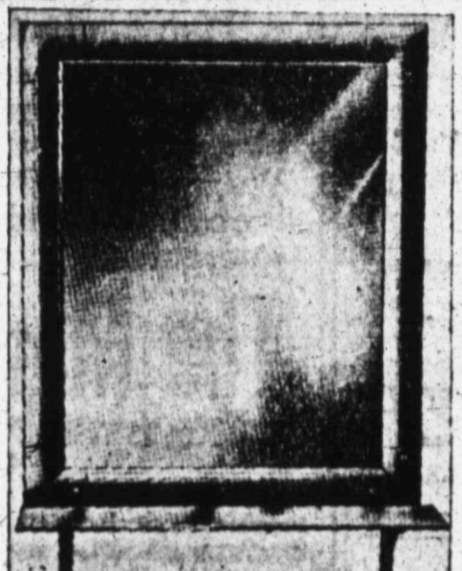

Trebizon—A city on the Black Sea, in northeastern Asiatic Turkey, which is situated on a plateau like rock rising gently from the sea. Two deep ravines filled with trees and gardens defend it on the east and west and a medieval wall surrounds it. The name of the town is said to have come from the trapezoidal form of its ancient ramparts. The small stone and lime houses are topped with red tiled roofs. A crenellated tower over the southern section. The place has an active trade, cattle, nuts, tobacco, carpets and silks being among its chief exports. More than half of the estimated population of 35,000 are Turks. The Christian section is just outside the wall. Xenophon and the Ten Thousand Greeks reached the sea here on their famous retreat. It was the capital of the Greek Empire of Trebizond from 1204 to 1461.

Jaffa—The ancient Joppa of Palestine, on a hill rising abruptly from the Mediterranean Sea, 35 miles northwest of Jerusalem. At the extreme end of the broad valley of Sharon, the houses, built on a declivity, rise like steps of an amphitheatre. Gardens surround the town. It is the favorite resort of from 15,000 to 20,000 pilgrims to the Holy Land annually. In the days of Solomon, Joppa was the port of Jerusalem and was the landing place of the cedars with which the temple was built there. The town figured prominently during the crusades and was taken by Napoleon in 1799. Lemons, oranges, melons and citron are grown there and corn, wine, soap and wool are exported. The population is about 30,000.

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 14.—Earl Roberts is raising a fund which will be devoted exclusively to the use of the Indian forces in the present war. Already he has received $250,000 and within two weeks he hopes to have enough money to equip a special hospital in the south of England for the care of the sick and wounded Indian soldiers. The fund will also be used to provide warm clothing especially suited to the Indian troops. Rations of the English army are wholly unlike the customary diet of the Indians and special dishes will be provided for them out of the fund. Indians are especially fond of sugar, spices and all sorts of sweets. Princess Mary and her advisers are making special preparations to send the Indians Christmas gifts which will especially appeal to them. Try a Times Want Ad.

GARDNER-BOLTON WEDDING IN WHITESBORO TUESDAY

The following clipping from the Whitesboro News-Record will be of much interest in local circles. Mr. and Mrs. Gardner will be at home after December the first at 2110 Ninth street: "On last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock there was solemnized at the Methodist church the marriage of Mr. W. W. Gardner of Wichita Falls and Miss Roberta Bolton of this city. The occasion was one of the most brilliant and beautiful which ever took place in Whitesboro and was witnessed by a host of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The pre-nuptial song—the beautiful song, "For You" was sung by Mrs. Nace Clifford of Wichita Falls, herself a bride of only a few weeks and a close personal friend of Miss Bolton.

"Then to the familiar strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. A. B. Martin of Tulsa, the bride's cousin, the bridal party came in. Up each center aisle in single file came the first ushers—Messrs. Gordon Hill, Thomas Omohundro and Sale Omohundro of Whitesboro, and Mr. Orloff Bowen, cousin of the bride from Norman, Okla., followed by the bridesmaids, Misses Anna Tomlinson of Tulsa; Jewel Carey and Mabel Darnell of Whitesboro and Miss Mabel Reese of Muskogee. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Mamie Davis Bolton, only sister of the bride, followed by little Miss Sadie Addicks of Wichita Falls, junior maid, who carried a single large white chrysanthemum in the heart of which nestled the wedding ring, the outward symbol of two hearts' union, and last came the bride, leaning on the arm of Hon. John Marshall of Sherman, her kinsman and guardian, while up the opposite aisle came the groom accompanied by the best man, Mr. Floyd Miller of Wichita Falls. They met at the chancel rail and faced the officiating minister, Rev. B. B. Bolton of Jacksonville, Texas, the bride's uncle, who in beautiful and fitting words pronounced them man and wife. Just at the close of the ceremony Mrs. Clifford sang "All Mine" expressing in rich melody the spirit of the hour. Then to the triumphant strains of the Meutelsch wedding march, the bridal party passed down the left aisle and were driven quickly to the home of the bride's mother, where their many friends followed to extend congratulations, view the sparkling array of presents, the richness, beauty and number of which attested the popularity of the couple. The guests were then shown into the dining room where a delicious salad and ice course was served. Both church and home were beautifully decorated with ferns and smilax and seasonal cut flowers. The table in the dining room was especially attractive in its linen drapery, exquisitely embroidered and trimmed with cluny lace in the center of which sat a snowy wedding cake, surrounded by a wreath of smilax and pure white chrysanthemums, while from the smilax festooned light above it, there extended streams of white maline caught into graceful bows at each corner of the table by bunches of chrysanthemums. The bride, who has grown from dimpled childhood into bonnie girlhood and on to winsome womanhood here in our midst, is one of the fairest buds in Whitesboro's rose bud garden of girls. And she was very beautiful in her exquisite gown of white duchess satin with long court train and trimmings of princess lace, every line expressly simple elegance. Her veil was caught in place with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white rosebuds and tube roses. Her only ornament was a lavalier of platinum, set in cynx and diamonds.

"Miss Mamie Davis Bolton, the maid of honor, was attired in white pussy willow taffeta which was trimmed with gold thread and carried a shower bouquet of pink Killarney roses. "The four bridesmaids were symp-bolous in pink and white in their modish costumes and carried arm bouquets of pink roses. Little Miss Addicks, gowned all in white was as fair as the flowers she carried. Mrs. Clifford wore a beautiful gown of pink crepe de chine and Mrs. Martin was handsomely dressed in crepe and cluny lace. The groom and his attendants wore conventional black and his remembrance to each was a gold engraved neck clasp.

"Mr. Gardner is cashier of the Wichita State Bank, a man possessed of sterling integrity of character and a young girl who has given herself to him will be faithful and tenderly guarded. Out of town visitors were: Mr. Gardner and Miss Rhea Gardner of Wichita Falls, father and sister of the groom; Mrs. Nace Clifford, Mr. Miller and little Miss Sadie Addicks, Wichita Falls; Mrs. T. W. Tomlinson, and Miss Anna Tomlinson of Tulsa, Texas; Rev. Bolton and John Bolton, Jacksonville; Miss Mabel Reese, Muskogee; Orloff Bowen, Norman, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Horace and daughter, Durant; Hon. H. P. Abney and family, Hon. John Marshall and wife and Bart Marshall, Sherman; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bennett, Gainesville; Miss Ruth Bolton, Sherman, and Mrs. E. Burlaw, Dallas.

"Mr. and Mrs. Gardner left on the 11:20 train for points north and east. They will be at home in Wichita Falls after the first of December."

The punch bowl was encased in a bower of greenery, while the alcove window in which it was placed was filled with bows of roses and centered with a was dispensed by Misses Mary Lou red cannas, the scarlet flowers lending a charming touch of brilliancy. On the buffet were placed vases and bowls of roses with ferns intermingled. The same pleasing arrangement of roses and ferns was to be noticed in the decorations of the mezzanine parlor overlooking the dining room. Here a delightful musical program was given, selections being given by the Wichita Quartette—Messrs. Hill, Murchison, Wright and VanVay; also solo numbers by Mrs. Walter Robertson and Mrs. George H. Carpenter. A Victrola orchestra furnished music for the dancing, which was a feature of the afternoon. On arriving, the guests were met by Mrs. Frank Griffin and Mrs. Strib Moore, who stood outside the entrance. The hostess with the honorees were next in line, with little Miss Elizabeth Greenwood presiding at the card tray at the entrance. Just inside of the ball room the guests were met by Mrs. Frank Cullinan, Mrs. Sam Sealing and Mrs. T. P. Adams. Refreshing punch was dispensed by Misses Mary Lou Thomas and Exa Minter from the fern and flower showered punch bowl, and after some time of conversation and dancing, a refreshment plate of chicken sandwiches, olives, tea, marguerites and a delicious sweet sandwich was served. Leicham, Louise-Fitzgerald and Ruby Greenwood assisted in the service. The toilettes of the guests were very handsome and in keeping with the bright autumn weather. Especially beautiful were the gowns worn by the hostess and her receiving party. Mrs. Greenwood was gowned in black brocaded chiffon over cloth of gold, with a hat to match, plume trimmed. Her flowers were red carnations. Mrs. Haynie wore a frock of black velvet and lace, her hat being of black velvet trimmed with coral plumes. Mrs. Lowenstein's frock was of pink accordian pleated chiffon. With it she wore a large black picture hat, trimmed with turquoise blue ostrich. Mrs. Griffin was garbed in pale blue and gold, her hat harmonizing. Mrs. Moore's costume was a combination of silver grey brocaded velvet and pink crepe de chine. A pink picture hat was worn. Mrs. Adams wore a blue lace frock, with black velvet bodice. Her hat was of black velvet with scarlet flowers. Mrs. Sealing was gowned in rose satin and wore a black hat with Paradise trimmings. Mrs. Cullinan wore a fetching green embroidered-chiffon, with hat of black, trimmed in a bird of Paradise. The young girls assisting were gowned in white, relieved by some delicate color and made winsome pictures.

One hundred and fifty ladies called during the afternoon to enjoy the unusual hospitality of Mrs. Greenwood and to honor her charming guests. CHORAL CLUB'S CONCERT GIVEN IN WORTHY CAUSE The Times has received the following: "The movement now on foot in Wichita Falls for the raising of a fund for the Girl Training School is of the very first moment. Those citizens who are looking for some field of immediate usefulness could hardly find an object more worthy of their support and service. This cause is in the broadest sense a missionary one, and should have the strongest appeal for every citizen. The Wichita Falls Choral Society hopes to take a large share in this work by giving a benefit concert for the Training School, and on December 8th they will present a program of rare excellence. It is hoped and believed that this will be one of the most successful means of raising money. The price of tickets is within the reach of all, and many who might feel unable to make a suitable donation in money to the various collectors for this cause can undoubtedly buy tickets for the concert, thereby assuring themselves of a splendid concert and at the same time materially helping the great work of the Training School. "That so young and comparatively small a society as the W. F. C. S. should undertake a task of this sort speaks well for its enterprise and ability when it is remembered that this society had its first rehearsal on October 6, last, and that much time had to be taken in forming and regulating itself, one might look at this development as a sign that it means business. It does mean business and it is here to stay. Nevertheless, a considerably larger membership is desirable. There is, however, no doubt that once the society has proved its worth, its use and object in Wichita Falls, it will meet with the support it merits. The present membership is as follows: Mrs. W. S. Robertson, Mrs. Thorburn, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Strange, Miss Agnew, Mrs. G. F. Thompson, Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. Darnell, Mrs. Beavers, Miss Moran, Miss Beavers, Miss Pitman, Messrs. J. W. Bradley, Strange, Eichenberger, Benninger, Martin, Burgess, Robertson and Rev. Dawson."

OLD FOLKS FIND NEW REMEDY RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Drives Rheumatic Pains Away, Relieves Backache and Bladder Disorders After A Few Doses Are Taken Sleep disturbing bladder weaknesses, backache, rheumatism, and the many other kindred ailments which so commonly come with declining years, need no longer be a source of dread and misery to those who are past the middle age of life. The new discovery, Croxone, overcomes all such disorders because it removes the very cause of the trouble. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands and cells, and gives the kidneys new strength to do their work properly. It neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; and makes the kidneys filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood and drive it out of the system. It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered, Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work immediately and more than a few doses are seldom required to relieve even the most chronic, obstinate cases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for restoring the lifeless organs to health and strength and ridding the system of every particle of uric acid, and you can take it with the utmost confidence that nothing on earth will so quickly cure such conditions. You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally show the purchase price if Croxone should fall in a single case.

8 CENT COTTON KEMP'S PREDICTION

CHAIRMAN OF STATE BANKERS' COMMITTEE PREDICTS RISE IN PRICE

ALL ELEMENTS CO-OPERATE

Farmers of South and Business Men of Whole Nation United in the Effort

That cotton will be selling for eight cents a pound before the end of the present week, is the prediction of J. A. Kemp, who returned last week from Dallas, where he has been in connection with his work as chairman of the committee from the Texas Bankers Association on the cotton loan fund, and from Houston where he attended the convention of the Southern Cotton Association. Mr. Kemp will go to Dallas tomorrow to attend a conference of bankers in reference to the loan fund.

Mr. Kemp bases his prediction for eight cent cotton on a number of factors, chief among which is a determination by the farmers, bankers and business men of the South that it is worth at least that much and that with confidence and co-operation among themselves and with the sympathy and co-operation of the bankers and business men of all sections of the country, that it shall bring that price.

The opening of the regional banks which will provide new financial facilities for handling the cotton crop never had before and the re-opening of the New York cotton exchange which will give spinners an opportunity to hedge and put them into the market, are other factors which, Mr. Kemp believes will put cotton prices to a higher level and keep them there.

"The bankers of practically every cotton State in the Union have endorsed the Texas plan and have organized or are organizing agencies to carry it into effect," said Mr. Kemp. "As chairman of the committee I have received a flood of letters and telegrams of endorsement and pledges of support from points not only all over the South but from the North and East as well."

"The success of the loan pool is assured, but even more important than this is the fixed determination for their crop—and it is the nation's crop as well—what it is reasonably worth. And in this determination they have the support of the business elements of the whole country."

"I now feel sure that very little of the loan fund will be used, but it is mighty comfortable to know that we have it—and the fact that we do have it is one of the most potent factors in convincing the consumers of cotton of our power to prevent cotton from selling at the depreciated prices it was bringing a few weeks ago. I know that the existence of this fund has greatly impressed representatives of English and Japanese spinners who have been sent to Texas to investigate the situation. It has convinced them that the price of cotton will be stabilized—that it will not sink to the low figure of two weeks ago, and that the spinner can go into the market now with a feeling of certainty that his competitor will not be able to buy his supply at a lower figure than himself. The spinner doesn't care so much what he has to pay for cotton himself as he does that his competitor won't be able to buy their supplies at a lower figure than himself. That's one of the reasons that the spinner, when cotton was going down, down to six cents, and was plainly headed toward five cents and lower, was afraid to buy. That explains why, notwithstanding the absurdly low price that cotton reached, the spinners bought less cotton the first three months of the cotton year than in the same period last year."

"I doubt very much whether the facilities that will be afforded by the regional banks could have been taken advantage in connection with the cotton crop except for the loan fund that has been raised. Cotton was headed for five cents when this fund was assured and cotton at five cents, I am afraid could not have been accepted for security by banks, even the reserve banks."

Mr. Kemp says the bankers of Texas as are squarely behind the Southern Cotton Association in its campaign for the reduction of the cotton acreage and that the farmers, the bankers and the business men of the State and of the South and the entire country are co-operating in a spirit of confidence that is certain to bring the result sought.

Mr. Kemp talks with such optimism and confidence that it can be seen why under his leadership the bankers of the State who were so plainly depressed at the first Dallas conference are now supporting the committee's plan so unanimously and enthusiastically.

Local buyers were paying 7 1/4 cents for cotton yesterday and report that little cotton was being offered. Loans are now being made on cotton freely.

Dr. J. W. Hill Closes Pastorate M. E. Church South Today

Today marks the close of the pastorate of Dr. J. W. Hill in the M. E. Church, South, here and he will leave early this week for San Antonio to take charge of the Laurel Heights Methodist Church in that city. Dr. Hill will preach his farewell sermon this morning and it is expected that a large congregation will be present. This evening the congregation will hold joint services with the members of the First Presbyterian Church, at the M. E. Church, South. Dr. J. L. McKee will preach at the evening service.

Wichita Team Plays Fort Sill Soldiers This Afternoon

Local football devotees are promised a good game at the city baseball park this afternoon when the local eleven will meet the team from Battery C at Fort Sill. The soldiers will arrive this morning and the game will be called at 3:30 this afternoon. The battery eleven is known to be one of the strongest in this section and has given a good account of itself in all games so far.

The Wichitans have been practicing steadily during the past week. As most of the boys are at work during the day, it has been necessary to practice at night and while this has had its drawbacks, it has resulted in getting the locals into good form, as was evidenced in their last game against Electra which Wichita Falls won by the score of three to nothing.

TWO PART VICTOR AT LYDIA MARGARET MONDAY

Warren Kerrigan is featured in a dual role drama, "His Father's Son," Vera Sisson plays opposite leads.

After young Cal Horton struck it rich in the West, he set out for the East, accompanied by his little old mother, to ruin and make a beggar of his father. Cal's father, a prosperous broker, had deserted Cal's mother years before, so it seemed. The singular, absorbing situation of a boy manipulating every possible string in the business world, throwing every ounce of youthful energy and natural cleverness into a plot to crush his own father to avenge the supposed wrong done his mother, furnishes the inspiration for the writing of "His Father's Son." But the old father was, in all, innocent of any intent of disloyalty to his wife. He was ignorant of the identity of the instigator of the plot to ruin him. When he made the discovery that his own son was his nemesis, that his wife, whose memory he had cherished through all the years of separation, had returned, one can imagine the conflict of emotions which surged through him. It is a situation, we think, which has not been duplicated in the annals of screen drama. The heart-interest, the pathetic appeal of this old man, the innocent victim of his son's wrath, now crushed and begging mercy at his own boy's door, is not to be forgotten for a long time.

This play was written and produced by Jacques Jaccard and J. Warren Kerrigan at the Universal Pacific Coast studios. Mr. Kerrigan, in the role of the son, has a part which aptly lends itself to his splendid manliness. In the role of the father he is excellent also. With a supporting cast, including George Periolat and Vera Sisson, the play will swing into instant success.

WICHITANS WILL PAY WAR TAX SOON

RAILWAY, TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE AGENTS HAVE RECEIVED INSTRUCTIONS

EFFECTIVE ON DECEMBER 1ST

Tax Imposed To Make Up Deficit On Account of Decreased Imports

Wichitans will shortly begin to pay their share of the war tax levied by the government and preparations are already being made for the collections which will be made beginning December 1. Part of the law is already effective, but on December 1 the sections applying more to the rank and file of folks will be in force.

Bills of lading, telegrams and long distance calls will each be taxed one cent under the law and in this way the burden will be shared by a number of people. The railroads have already issued instructions to their agents not to certify bills of lading on and after December 1 until the revenue stamp has been attached by the shipper. The Western Union Telegraph Company was yesterday ordered to collect one cent on each message filed. Similar procedure will be the rule on long distance messages.

These are but part of the taxes that will be collected here. When one cent is forthcoming for each telegram, long distance call and bill of lading originating in this city, it will be seen that a very tidy sum can be collected. Other taxable instruments are:

Bonds, debentures and certificates of indebtedness, five cents for each $100 of par value; sales of stock or agreements to sell two cents for each $100 of par value; agreements of sale or products or merchandise on exchange, one cent for each $100; promissory notes, two cents for each $100; certificates of profit of corporations, etc., and transfers thereof, two cents for each $100 of face value; damage certificates, 25 cents each; brokers' notes or other memoranda of sale, ten cents each; real estate deeds 50 cents each where the value is between $100 and $500 and 50 cents for each additional $500 of value; power to convey real estate, protests, etc., 25 cents; parlor sleeping car seats or berths one cent each; insurance, one-half cent for each $100; policies of insurance or bonds in the nature of an indemnity for possible loss, one cent per $100.

The tax on beer is already in force and a representative of the internal revenue department has been in Wichita Falls recently looking over the amount of beer in stock, also checking up on the liquor shipped here. The beer tax will be paid by the consumer, probably in the form of money, but the tax on the social and actual tax per glass is too small to be actually levied.

Other sections of the law provide for taxation of tobacco dealers and manufacturers. The tax upon retail tobacco dealers will be $4.80 a year. Banks must pay their share of the tax and on each $1000 of capital, surplus or undivided profits, banks are to pay one dollar. This would raise several hundred dollars in Wichita Falls alone.

Theatres will be taxed as follows: Where the seating capacity does not exceed 250, $25 a year; seating capacity not more than 500, $50; more than 500, $75; all over $50, $100. Proprietors of circuses, $100 a year; proprietors of all other public exhibitions, etc., $10.

Lecture bureaus, agricultural or industrial fairs, or exhibitions under religious or charitable auspices are exempt from the tax.

Bowling alleys and billiard rooms will pay $5 for each alley or table a year.

MAKE CIVIC LEAGUERS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

Superintendent Carpenter Tells Teachers To Inculcate Cleanliness

The third meeting of the Wichita Falls Teachers' Institute was held Saturday morning at the high school. A discussion of chapters IV, and V of Thorndike's Principles of Teaching and chapters VI and VII of McMurray's Handbook was the work of the morning. The following program was carried out:

"Superintendents, supervisors and Critics"—Miss Harding.
 "General Character and Qualifications of Teachers"—Miss Hunter.
 "Growth of Teachers"—Miss Rieb.
 "Child Study"—Miss Ridenhower.
 "Social Combinations Among Children"—Mrs. Potts.
 "Detailed Applications of Apperception"—Miss Childers.
 "Interests as Ends"—Mr. Niles.
 "Interests as Means"—Miss Stafford.

Mr. Carpenter made an announcement of the State Teachers' Association which meets at San Antonio, November 26-28. In his talk he also asked that the teachers make a civic leaguer out of each child by calling their attention to the cleaning up of all parts of the yard and alley adjacent to their homes. If each child becomes interested in this very soon we would have a cleaner and better city, he said.

Some of the interesting points brought out in the discussions were: That a teacher should plan her lessons in such a way that the child is able to go before her class each day

HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY HAS INTERESTING SESSION

Negative Wins Debate on Literacy Test—Four New Members Are Initiated

The High School Assembly met in regular session at the high school Friday evening. A large crowd was present and all enjoyed the program. There were addresses by Thaddeus Beggs, Ross Bassinger and Ivan Lawler. The feature of the program was the debate. The question was: "Resolved, That all immigrants to the United States above sixteen years of age should be able to read and write some language; declarator, Henry Akin. The debate grants, such as children and aged parents, being excepted." The affirmative was represented by Brennan Gillespie and Edgar Carney, while the negative was upheld by Charles Butts and Leo Cook. Both sides produced splendid argument, but the judges decided in favor of the negative. From these speakers were chosen the two best ones to contest with those two best speakers of the next debate, one week hence, those chosen being Gillespie and Butts.

The program for next Friday evening shall be: Quotations by all; extemporaneous by various persons present; declamation, Henry Akin. The debate will be on the same question as Friday night, the State question on the literacy test for immigrants. The affirmative will be taken by Jesse Miller and Ross Bassinger, and the negative by Bryan Hanks and Thaddeus Beggs. From these four speakers two will be chosen to debate with the two best of last meeting.

The assembly is urging a campaign for membership, and on Friday evening four new members were initiated. "The boys feel encouraged by the attendance of members of the faculty and a good number of parents. It is especially desired to have a large number of parents present at every meeting as nothing encourages the boys more than to see their parents and friends present. Members of the legal profession, and other business men are cordially invited to come and address the boys."

WOULD USE RANGERS FOR GAME LAW ENFORCEMENT

Austin, Texas, Nov. 13.—For the purpose of assisting in the enforcement of the game laws of the state, Colonel W. G. Sterrett, State Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner, is advocating the recruiting of the State Ranger force to its full strength. The present volunteer system of deputy wardens is practically worthless, Colonel Sterrett says. He says a bun license should be imposed on all hunters and the revenue derived from such a tax, say $1.50 to each gun, would bring in sufficient revenue to maintain a "paid force of wardens."

Colonel Sterrett is advocating the enactment by the Thirty-fourth legislature of an entirely new code of fish and game laws. There is already a marked increase in the game of the state since the enactment of laws limiting the number of birds and animals that may be killed and restricting the hunting season. Thousands of permits are now being issued daily to hunters.

SPUTTERING BOMB IN COURT ROOM

POLICEMAN MAKES DISCOVERY IN TOMBS COURT IN NICK O' TIME

COURT ROOM IN AN UPROAR

Similar Bomb Exploded Tuesday Night at Bronx County Court House —I. W. Suspected

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 14.—A bomb, somewhat similar in construction to the one that wrecked the entrance to the Bronx county court house last Tuesday night, was found today in the Tombs court room just under the district attorney's office, occupied by Governor-elect Whitman. George L. O'Connor, a policeman, saw the smoke from the burning fuse, picked up the missile, tore off the fuse and carried the bomb from the court room. Four men were sitting on the bench in the rear of the court room where the bomb was found. The device contained enough explosive, it is estimated, to wreck the building. As O'Connor stripped the sputtering fuse from the bomb, the court room was thrown into an uproar. Fifty persons were in the room awaiting the arrival of Magistrate Campbell to open court. It is believed that his arrival was the signal to fire the fuse.

Examination showed that the bomb was made of a five-pound oil can and that it was filled with gun cotton, slugs and bullets. It was wrapped up in a Jewish daily paper, tightly bound with wrapping cord. Magistrate Campbell said he had no idea who would seek to take his life unless it was the writer or writers of threatening letters he received during the recent trial of the Industrial Workers of the World, at which he was present and presiding. The police believe the bomb was left in the court room by the same gang of anarchists that last Wednesday exploded a bomb at the Bronx county court house and last month exploded bombs in St. Patrick's Cathedral and at the church of St. Alfonso. The police recalled that Frank Tannenbaum and his Industrial Workers of the World entered the church during the demonstration last year as a result of which Tannenbaum was sent to jail.

VERBAL TILT ENLIVEN SUFFRAGE CONVENTION

Charge of Prejudice Emphatically Denied By President of Southern Association

By Associated Press. Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 14.—A sharp verbal tilt between Mrs. L. C. French of Knoxville, Tenn., and Miss Kate M. Gordon of New Orleans, arising from the suffrage delegates' action yesterday on the contest for seats waged by rival Tennessee delegations enlivened today's session of the National American Women's Suffrage Association here. The convention had voted to sustain both Tennessee factions one headed by Mrs. French and the other by Mrs. McCormack of Memphis, giving each half a vote. Mrs. French charged that the special committee's decision on the contest had been determined by prejudice.

"The chairman of the special committee," said Mrs. French, "has done us wrong. She has discriminated against us because we are not members of the Southern Suffrage Association of which she is president. I demand a reconsideration of the convention's action."

"I am the woman who has been accused of bringing in a prejudiced report," replied Miss Gordon, "her eyes flashing, 'for I was chairman of that committee. Mrs. French has made an attack upon my integrity as a woman. Her charges are unfounded, and I leave it to other members of the committee whether I tried to influence the decision in any way."

GEORGIA COURT DENIES LEO FRANK A NEW TRIAL

U. S. Supreme Court Now Last Resort of Atlanta Man Sentenced To Die

By Associated Press. Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 14.—The state supreme court today refused a new trial to Leo M. Frank, convicted here August 25, 1913, for the murder of Mary Phagan. Frank's motion for a rehearing was based on the ground that his constitutional rights had been violated by reason of his absence from the court room when the jury returned the verdict. By sustaining the state's demurrer to the Frank motion to set aside the verdict of the lower court the supreme court's ruling meant that Frank's only appeal is to the supreme court of the United States. Frank's attorneys announced today they would immediately appeal to the United States supreme court.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 14.—American rule in Vera Cruz, established April 21 after sharp fighting and the loss of nineteen marines and blue jackets will be terminated November 23. Secretary Garrison today worked out plans for withdrawal of the troops after the president and Secretary Bryan determined on the date for the evacuation.

The seizure of Vera Cruz was ordered when it was discovered a steamer was nearing the port with a huge cargo of ammunition for Huerta who had refused to salute the American flag after American sailors had been arrested in Tampico. At 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning April 21, Secretary Bryan received word of the approach of the ammunition ship; he telegraphed Secretary Tammully who determined to awaken the president. A conference in which Secretary Daniels joined them, took place. The president was told about the war cargo and Secretary Daniels asked: "What shall we do?"

Immediately the president replied: "Tell Fletcher to seize the customs house." At 10 o'clock in the forenoon Rear Admiral Fletcher had received instructions by wireless and an hour later American marines and blue jackets were landed.

MASKED ROBBERS HOLD UP WELLS-FARGO AGENT

By Associated Press. Navasota, Texas, Nov. 14.—E. L. Garvin, night agent for the Wells-Fargo and Company at this place was overpowered by two masked robbers at 2 o'clock this morning. The robbers made off with $900. Officers are in close pursuit. Of the money taken $350 in one package arrived on the Houston & Texas Central "Owl." It was consigned to the Fostoria Lumber Company at Fostoria, Texas. As the train was leaving the station the men, masked with handkerchiefs, assaulted Garvin, who offered resistance and he was beaten into submission. After securing the money they forced Garvin to accompany them a short distance thus delaying the giving of the alarm. A posse from near Courtney sighted two men walking along the railroad. At sight of the searching party the men fled and were pursued through the Howell farm into the Brazos bottoms.

URGES SCHOOLS TO ENTER STATE DEBATING CONTEST

District Director Vance Asks Teachers To See That All Secure Representation

In connection with the coming inter-scholastic debates and declamation contests The Times has received the following:

"To the Teachers: I wish to call your attention to the work of the University Inter-scholastic League of Texas. As you no doubt know, the University of Texas has supervision of the League. Although this organization has been in existence but four years, yet it has shown remarkable growth within that short period of time. At first, the League had control only over the debating and declamation events; now it exercises supervision over all the athletic affairs of the high schools. This year it has added a new event—that of the 'spelling bee.' The first year there were but a few schools which participated in the various contests; last year the number represented in the various contests far surpassed the expectations of the officers of the organization; and this year promises to be a record breaker. It is not saying too much when we make the statement that no other movement has had such far reaching results in welding together the public schools of the State, and thus placing them on a higher plane of efficiency. No pupil may enter any of the contests of the League unless he is a bona fide pupil. Schools, not willing to comply with the requirements of the League or guilty of any infraction of such rules are debarred from all of the contests. In this way not only is the standard of the schools raised, but that of the University itself. Then finally, of course, this high standard will be reflected in the citizenship of the State. It seems unnecessary to urge schools to encourage the work of the League. I feel sure that all of those who have the interests of the schools of the State, as well as its citizenship, have a kindly feeling toward this organization.

"Schools wishing to become members of the University Inter-scholastic League, will send the initiation fee of one dollar to E. D. Shurter, Austin, Texas. They will in turn send supplies necessary to conduct the various contests. This should be done at once that plenty of time may be had for preparation in the different events.

"The county contests will be held sometime in March; the winners in the county contests of this district will meet at Wichita Falls in April. The winners in the district contests of the State meet at Austin in May to participate in the formal contests. It is so arranged that the most insignificant school will stand as fair a chance to win in these events as the city schools. The subject for debate is: Resolved, That all immigrants to the United States over the age of sixteen should be subject to a literacy test. The subjects of the senior declamations must be on some phase of peace.

"The following counties are in the Wichita Falls district: Clay, Young, Jack, Montague, Wise, Throckmorton, Baylor, Wichita, Archer, Wilbarger. Last year there were about forty schools in these counties which became members. We are anxious to double that number this year.

"It is needless to add that there are very valuable prizes offered in all the contests of the League. Of course, they are of only secondary importance to the benefits to be derived from the work in other ways. No one should enter the contests solely for the purpose of winning a prize; then defeat will have some of the sting taken away. There is a reward which comes to every contestant, although it may not be mentioned at the time of the contest. Respectfully,

"MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY" AT THE EMPRESS MONDAY

When Norton, Florence and the faithful Shep returned to the dock after their exciting battle with the conspirators in the motor boat, as set forth in Episode Nineteen, Norton phoned for a taxi and all three, wet and dripping as they were, piled into it, and set out for the Hargreave mansion. As they alighted, a mysterious man, who hid himself carefully in the shrubbery surrounding the house, watched old Jones open the door in response to their ring. While the astonished butler listened to their story the man darted along the side of the house and peering through the lattice work at the end of the porch, saw Florence hand Norton the paper which she had taken such desperate risks to obtain, and which she believed held her father from further prosecution by the Black Hundred.

Norton put the precious document in his cap and took his leave to return to his rooms and dress, while the spy made haste to report his discovery to Braine. But he did not see Norton, who hurried to change his clothes that he might the sooner be with his sweetheart, take the mysterious paper from his cap and conceal it in his necktie. Nor was he aware that Jones, suspecting his espionage, had loaded two revolvers to be prepared for any emergency that might arise.

So it happened that when Norton was returning to his fiancée he was set upon by Braine, the spy, and another of the gang. While he lay senseless they hurriedly searched his garments in the hope of finding the precious paper, but without success. Before they had finished the search, Norton recovered consciousness and made a game effort to defend himself. But in this he would probably have been speedily worsted had not old Jones, hearing the commotion in the garden, flung open a window and fired at the struggling men.

A minute later he was at Norton's side and together they gave chase to the fleeing thugs, who, however, having a good start, easily made their escape. Braine, infuriated by his defeat, upbraided his companions for their obstinacy in not making a more thorough search of Norton's clothes, and then by a roundabout way returned to the Hargreave grounds in the hope that he might yet have an opportunity to get possession of the paper.

Through the library window he saw Florence and Norton and the butler examining it.

At first its blank appearance seemed to puzzle them, but suddenly it occurred to one of the three that the writing might be in invisible ink, which the application of heat would bring out. A candle is procured and holding the paper carefully over its flame, the three are astonished to read the following message:

"Dear Mr. Hargreave: The Russian Minister of Police is stopping at the St. Roland's Hotel under the name of Henri Servan. He is investigating the workings of the Black Hundred and if you could lay before him the evidence that you have, he will be enabled to apprehend them and put an end to the persecution which you have suffered. Faithfully, A Friend."

Braine, his eye glued to the shutter, could not read the message, but he realized that it was important, by the looks of the three interested parties. He saw Florence burn the paper until it was nothing but a heap of ashes, but a quick movement toward the window by the old butler prevented him from seeing more. A short time later, however, when Jones left the house, he followed him.

The venerable butler is closeted for some time with the Russian Minister of Police, to whom he has made himself known by means of a mysterious handshake. With their heads close together, they discuss plans to round up the Black Hundred in thorough fashion, unaware that Braine, who has kept close on Jones' trail, is watching them through the keyhole. The minister decides to consult with one of his agents and when he and Jones go out, Braine lets himself into the apartment with a skeleton key. Once there he makes a quick survey of the premises and going through the papers on the Russian police head's desk, ascertains who he is. But he tarrys too long, and before he can leave, Jones and the other returns.

There is a short, sharp conflict and a moment later Jones and the police official, baffled, vainly attempt to batter down the locked door, while Braine makes good his escape.

"TREY O' HEARTS" AT MAJESTIC WEDNESDAY

When Alan Law rescues Judith Trine, believing her to be her sister, Rose, from the New York home of Seneca Trine, they proceed at once by motor car to Jersey City, where arrangements have been made for the marriage of Rose and Alan.

Marrophat, Trine's lieutenant, discovers their escape, learns that it is Judith, and not Rose, who has fled with Alan, and, wild with jealousy, pursues his car overtaking theirs in a slum on the Jersey side.

Judith, still pretending to be Rose, begs Alan to let Marrophat speak to her, and when Marrophat makes a leap from his car to Alan's, the latter throws him violently to the street.

This incident occurs directly in front of the ramshackle tenement occupied by Red November and his gang of gun men—some of which rush out, pick up Marrophat and convey him to the room where November lies dying; in consequence of his injuries sustained in attempting to assassinate Alan in a previous episode of this series.

Marrophat promises, in Trine's name to avenge the death of November, and sends several members of the gang to try for confirmation of this promise. He then renews the pursuit of Alan and Judith, again overtaking them and stopping their car by shooting a bullet through the gasoline tank, which ignites the car, but Alan and Judith continue without injury by taxicab to the house of the minister who is to perform the wedding.

Here, as Alan is about to be married to Judith, who is still impersonating Rose, Marrophat bursts into the room, exposing the impersonation. Judith turns in fury on Marrophat and runs from the house, getting away in the taxicab, Marrophat pursuing.

Alan proceeds to look for Rose. On his way back to the ferry to take him to New York, he passes the tenement of the gun men, just as they arrive in a taxicab with Rose, who has been taken prisoner by them, while attempting to escape from the house of her father in New York.

Alan sees Rose hustled into the house, jumps out of his car and goes to her rescue. The gun men, in a room at the top of the house, and after a violent fight with Alan on the staircase, throw him from the house. In the course of this fight a kerosene lamp is kicked over and explodes, setting fire to the tenement.

The fire alarm is turned in, but escape from the upper floors is cut off because of the blazing staircase. Rose appears at the topmost window and Alan, seeing all other means of rescue has failed, hauls himself up to the level of her window by means of a block and tackle in front of the warehouse across the street. He then swings himself across the window, where Rose is waiting, and contrives her rescue.

KALEM TWO PART FEATURE AT GEM THEATRE MONDAY

Alice Hollister, John Mackin, Harry Millard and Robert Walker are featured in a two part Kalem, "The Devil's Dansant." In this picture some very pretty specialty dances are introduced by Arthur Albertson and Elsie Cohen.

"The Devil's Dansant" is the nickname given to a dansant of which Dominique, a Frenchman, is the proprietor. District Attorney Farrar, while searching for evidence on which to raid the place, is astounded to find that his wife Valerie, is a frequent visitor at Dominique's. The wilful woman disobeys her husband's orders and continues to visit Dominique's. Rogers, the Frenchman's silent partner, sees Farrar enter the place several days later. To avoid a scene, he helps Valerie escape by a secret door which leads to a gambling den above the dansant.

Despite Rogers' warnings, Dominique ensnares Valerie in his net, causing the woman to lose heavily at the gambling tables. The partners quarrel, with the result that Rogers gives Farrar a tip, causing the district attorney to raid the place.

Farrar is thunderstruck to find Valerie among the prisoners bagged in the raid. By declaring she has been securing evidence for him, the husband saves Valerie from disgrace. Dominique is convicted and ruined. Realizing at last, the extent of her folly, Valerie begs her husband for forgiveness.

AMUSEMENTS IN PARIS ARE SUITED TO WAR TIME

By Associated Press.
Paris, Nov. 13.—Poor dramatic artists unqualified for roles in the theatre of war are among those who feel most the rigors of martial law. One of the baritone of the Opera Comique is driving a taxicab. Others have been driven to seek the most menial occupations. During the first days of the war many of these artists were allowed to sing in the streets, and really good national artists heard in the courts of apartment buildings, but on account of the crowds they drew this means of eking out an existence was forbidden.

One familiar with the night life of Paris would hardly seek patriotic emotions at that music-hall to which the "Caucasian" gave a certain notoriety, and yet this place until recently was nightly the scene of impressive incidents characteristic of the few distractions the city offers. All amusements, if they may be called, are censored to the feeling of the moment.

Hearing the Marsellaise at the music hall in question the orchestra struck up The Marsellaise. A tall Algerian rifleman rose from a front seat. His right hand was in a sling and it seemed to embarrass him. He hesitated an instant and then his left went up in an impressive gesture to his red fez. While he stood there "at attention" a little trooper in the blue-red trimmed Belgian cap clapped his hands, jumped to his feet and saluted. The entire audience was up then and the theatre resounded with the inspiring strains of the battle hymn.

When the last notes died away the ceiling rang with applause, but above the din cries were heard of "La Brabanconne. La Brabanconne!" A big tear rolled down the cheek of the little Belgian trooper as he listened to his national anthem, but neither he nor the Algerian rifleman moved a muscle. They stood there "at attention" until the English and Russian hymns had been played, until the lights faded and the moving pictures appeared on the screen.

Moving Pictures Censored
Moving pictures are ruthlessly cut out whenever they strike a lighter note than prescribed by the authorities, and, for the same reason, have failed the feeble attempts that have been made to bring the cafe-concert back to life.

Orchestral concerts are allowed, but they too must conform to the regulations and the programs invariably include the patriotic airs of the allied nations' military marches, marching songs and generally such familiar airs as call up sieged continents. German compositions are rigorously barred.

In spite of the small number of evening entertainments the audiences are not large and they are chiefly made up of foreigners remaining in Paris. Their attitude, for the most part, is dignified; in the rare cases where they have failed to be so the place has promptly been closed.
