W. CADLE IS STILL ON STAND IN HEARING AT CHICA-

CROSS EXAMINED BY COUNSEL

Testimony Ranges From Rates of Pay on Special Freights To Wrenches and Grease

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Dec. 2.—Subjects varying from the pay of engineers on silk trains to grease cups and monkey wranches were discussed at today's session of the mediation committet which is adjusting the differences betwest the engineers, firemen and enen of ninety western railroads and the general managers committee of the roads. M. W. Cadle, who was on the stand today was cross examined at length today on various matters relative to engineer's pay by counsel for the railroads.

The requests of firemen and hostlers an western railroads for increased wages and better hours occupied the time of the railroad arbitration board

"The requests," as they are officially beled, number sixteen, as do those and working conditions are virtually identical for engine crews and ad vances are asked proportionate to the quality of service rendered.

M. W. Cadle completed an analysis of es of the requests of the engineers sterday, but illness prevented his tuming today, and Walter Moore, piler of statistics for the firemen and other enginemen occupied the stand. He was questioned by A. Phil-lips, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and cross-examined by James M. Sheehan, representing the railroads.

Moore's figures showed that the principles involved in the more es ntial requests of the men are recog nized in one way or another on ce tain selected railroads, although h was unable to state that any road had a specific rule or rate exactly agree ing with any of the present demands.

The requests for two firemen on certain heavy engines doing arduous duty, the elimination of the surprise test and the provision for making

Fracks Submerged

By Amodated Press. Houston, Texas, Dec. 2.—One dead, half a dozen shocked many driven from homes, street car service badly demoralized, all streams out of banks and rapidly rising and other damage all over the city is the net re-sult of a terrific wind, rain and elec-trical storm which swept the city through the night.

The dead man is H. A. Nesbit, an employe of a Houston fuel company, who was killed almost instantly while en route home from a street car accompanied by Miss Annie Swanson who was badly stunned and burned ANGELO PAINTER by the lightning. During the night the rainfell was approximately six inches making a total during the last week of about twelve inches.

Information reaching here norning is that the rain was general over the coast section. Railroad tracks are reported under water at many points.

RUSSIAN CAMPAIGN IN POLAND HAS APPARENTLY MET WITH FAILURE

By Associated Press.

London, Dec. 2.—Russian Poland is still the center of interest in the war situation so far as military operations are concerned. Reports from rival headquarters indicate no decisive result on either side, although on the face of known facts the conviction is growing that the German General Mackensen has done to Lodz what Bazzine in the Franco-Prussian war failed to do at Metz: he has saved his army after it was encircled by the eenmy.

It equally is clear that the Russian tactical plan for the taking of Warsaw again has failed according to the prevailing opinion in England. Whether a counter invasion of Silesia has been rendered impossible remains to be seen. Little activity is reported along the Austrian front. An exception is the report from Vienna of an Austrian victory along the southern line, but there is nothing to indicate the Russian army has given away in the evident intention of invading the rich German provinces by way of Cracow.

Later official reports from Vienna declare that calm prevailed on the Cracow front but that fighting continues in the Carpathians. Servian eyes are turned hopefully in the direction of these mountains in the expectation soon of seeing a

Heavy fighting has been resumed near the Argonne forest near the eastern end of the battle line in France. Although today's official communications disagree as to the outcome it is apparent the conflict is marked with violence. The German emperor's own regiment was selected to make an assault on a strong French position which the Berlin statement says was won. The French statement in reference to apparently the same engagement says the German attack failed and that progress was made by the allied troops.

In Belgium infantry fighting has been resumed although it is not clear whether the Germans have begun another general movement. The French war office reports that German attacks on entrenchments were beaten back and that the Germans suffered heavily in the artillery duel. At other points on the line fighting has become more spirited. According to French statements ground has been won by the allies in certain sections, including occupation of German trenches.

"In the western theatre of war the enemy made insignificant advances which were checked. In the forest of Argonne, a strong point of support of the eenmy was taken by the Wurtemburg infantry regiment No. 120, His Majesty the Kaiser's own regiment. On this occasion two officers and about 300 of the enemy's troops were made prisoners. "There is no news from eastern Prussia. In northern Poland battles are taking their normal coast. In southern Poland the enemy's attacks were repulsed. In the reports circulated in the foreign press that the 23,000 prisoners taken by us at Kutno are included in the 40,000 Russian prisoners reported by us previously is untrue. "In the battle of Wlokek, Kutno, Lodz and Lowicz, the eastern army has taken between November 11 and the first of December over

Recipe For Mexican Macaroni. One-half pound of macaroni, one ablespoon of lard, a small piece of pork or two pork chops, one pint of tomatoes, one large onion, one green pepper chopped fine and salt. Place the pork in the frying pan with the lard and turn meat frequently until seared, then cook very brown, add vegetables and salt. Cover and cook slowly until the meat is in pieces then put through a coarse sieve. This forms the sauce to be poured over the macaroni after it has been cook ed thoroughly in water.

Something good yet may come of this European war, the greatest of with other nations. This has been the prospects of a realization of those hopes are growing brighter day by

Booker T. Washington, negro educator, is alarmed for his race. The cause of his alarm this time is his fear that after this European war is at end and peace declared there will be a flood of immigration to the United States—particularly to the Southern States, and that the negro will be crowded out. Doubtless there will be millions of people coming to the United States from Europe after this war is ended, but there is plenty of room for them here without crowding anybody out. The State of Texas alone is larger than Germany, and only has a population of about 5,000,000. Germany, said to be the most progreson on earth, has a population of more than 60,000,000, or twleve times that of Texas, and her soil is no more productive. There is plenty of room yet in America for people who being reputable and worthy of patronare willing to work for a living. There should be no room for the idle and

It pays no man to advertise unless tising, and generally an advertiser receives no benefit from his advertising unless he gives it his attention, or has some one employed who can and will attend to it for him. That has always been this newspaper's observation of advertising, and it would much rather not have a contract for advertising un less the advertiser feels like he can handle his advertising matter in such a way as to get value received for the money that it costs him. This, however, is not written to discourage any of the advertising patrons of The Times. So far as it knows, all of them are satisfied and are getting their money's worth. The Times has men in its employ who know and can write advertising, and their services are free to those advertisers who have not the time to write their own ads. Just phone 167, and he will call at your place of business.

SUPPRESSING THE SCHEMER.

For several years business men in Texas were shamefully defrauded and exploited by a tribe of peripatetic advertising schemers who made it a rule to systematically work every city for all it would yield in payment for adverfising which was entirely devoid of value or merit. The business has now struck a snag which makes navigation upprofitable to fly-by-night advertising

Is a system applicable to every trou-ble to which flesh is heir. A number of people here have told me osteopathy saved their lives and named the disease of which they were cured. Then If you like plane and steps go to the later some members of their family would be sick and they would have a think it impossible to call a physician who can serve you as well as an osteopath. If these people would stan in a row in this city, whom osteopath; has cured, you would see every disease almost represented. Dr. Scoville was cured of a carbuncle by an osteopath, that he thought would have been fatal but for his treatment. While here I relieved him of a very severe attack of plurisy. A number of people have been cured of pneoumonia and would not risk any other physician than an osteopath.

I have been able to abort most cases of pneumonia, as well as all forms of head, throat and lung trouble, which included diptheria, scarlet fever and tonsolitis. If you will call the osteopath in your acute troubles at first, rarely will you have a spell of sickness, no suffering and no drug habits formed, no drunkards, no insanity, no hysteria. As I pray God to give us wisdom, so for these reasons.

Osteopathy defeats itself. A lady recently came to me having a tumor on her left ovary, so diagnosed by her physician, who wanted to operate on her. I found an anatomical cause for her trouble, agreed with the M. D. as to diagnosis. I corrected the abnormali ties and she was well in less time than she would have stayed in the hospital. What did it cost? My bill was six dollars. This is why I have no autmobile.

ARTILLERY IN USE IN WAR IS STUDIED MUCH MORE HUMAN

AMERICAN ARMY OFFICERS KEEP CLOSE WATCH ON THIS

VALUE OF LARGE SIEGE GUNS MANY INSTANCES OF HEROISM

ermany's Big Howitzers Will Probably Not Be Adopted In Unit-

Washington, Dec. 2.—In common with the military observers of every other nation, United States army of ficers are watching with keenest interest the artillery development of the warring nations of Europe as disclosed upon the battlefields of Belgium and France. Every news dispatch that mentions the great German guns is read closely and photographs are studied with greatest care; but so far nothing conclusive has been found to confirm the report that the Germans are placing their main reliance upon forty-two centimeter mobile howitzers.

American officers believe that the Germans have accomplished the destruction of opposing forts with standard eleven inch howitzers and modern high explosives which are virtually the same for all nations. The key to German successes of this character, they say, lies in the thoroughness with which the work is done and the accuracy of their shooting with eleven inch weapons.

Shells Destructive Force. Photographs of the forts before Liege, Namur, Antwerp and elsewhere in the war zone show turret forts completely wrecked by German fire. There is nothing to indicate however, that the damage was in-flicted by eleven inch or even smaller shells, ordanance experts believe The enormous destructive force of these shells has been well known ever since the fall of Port Arthur in he Japanese-Russian war.

The city was taken by the Japan ese notwithstanding modern fortifi-cations of the highest type; naturally stronger than any that have been assailed during the present war since the forts were located on high hills rendering turret protection against fire unnecessary. They were reduced by eleven inch coast defense howitzers brought from the Japanese coast with great labor and mounted after the exercise of engineering skill of the highest order to get them over the rough ground and into place where they commanded the Russian fortresses. Once established behind nearby hills, absolutely safe from the fire of the Russian guns, the howitsers disposed of the enemy's boasted defenses with the same case that the German guns have battered to pieces the Belgian forts. American officers have studied with accompanied these pictures but comthey stand, indicates the guns to be not greater than the eleven inch and in many instances even smaller.

Ingenious Transportation. The most novel feature about these weapons to military eyes is the system of transportation employed which the gun and its carriage are divided on two trucks equipped with rimmed wheels and special devices to distribute the enormous weight over as much road service as possible. The whole train is hauled by traction engine propelled by steam or gasoline. Undoubtedly this has served to increase the mobility of the giant weapons; but officers are not satisfied that the necessity of carefully preparing the ground upon which the guns stand when discharged has been done away with. It is still a job for engineers to place these weapons and the long delay necessary to permit the emplacement of siege weapons, while a little reduced is still a factor in military op-

The United States is not contem plating the construction of very large siege guns because the roads of the country are not suited to carry such normous weights. The radius of action of the weapons would be limited to the immediate vicinity of a few of the larger cities or to a highway here or there that has been improve ed for a long distance. In the event of invasion it would be impossible to confine operations to territories best suited for defense and the guns would be virtually useless.

"I gave my captain five boiled potatoes and the half of a salt herring the other day and he told me he appreciated it," said a private when asked to explain to what extent life in the barracks resembled life in the firing

Officers Friendly With Men.

There is no doubt that the German army in the field is a more liberal institution than the German army in the barracks. One reads almost daily of men carrying their officers to the dressing station behind the trench or firing line, and of officers who, after the fighting is over, make frantic ef fort to succor their wounded men. Letters which speak of officers dividing their pacels from home with their men have ceased to be a novelty.

On the whole, it is a rare thing for German private to get the iron cross of the second and first classes together. So far there are three cases: Infantrist Maurer of Querfurth, Corpora Carl Frank of Sinshein and Infantrist Henry Mueller of Geestemuende, th latter also earning promotion to sergeant

Mueller serves, with a machine gun section. In a recent engagement the crew of the section was shot down, Mueler alone escaping. Instead of regulations adopted to improve pubwounded corporal into a safe place behind the firing line, and then returned to the machine gun, which he began to work with such efficiency that within a few moments he had killed and wounded nearly all the men in two of

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draight, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black Draught on hand all the ime now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine
they ever tried.

We never have

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely regetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, rejeve indigestion, colic, wind, nauses, headache, sick stomach, and similar typotoms.

SPITE OF PROCLAMATION

aw is at: First Evaded But is Made More Stringent and Strictly

London, Nov. 28.—How the Russian peasants sought to evade the Russian government's stringent regulations forbidding the sale of vodks and other strong alcoholic drinkslic morality during war time—is told in a dispatch to the London Standard from its Petrograd correspondent. Until recently he says, vodka might be obtained in restaurants and cafes of the first class, this being permit-ted on the theory that the lower classes would not enter such establishments. But the authorities did not count on the determination and ingenuity of the habitual vodka Topers of the peasant class array ed themselves in finery to which they had never been accustomed and thus sartorially fortified went to the best restaurants where their thirst was allayed. There remained no course open to the proprietors but to serve them, and to meet the situa-tion the sale of vodka and drinks of kindred strength has been prohibited absolutely throughout all Petrograd though nearly fifty restaurants may still dispense some light wines, champagne and beer. Besides vodka, sherry, port and madeira are banned. The peasantry, it is related, often gained entrance to restaurants of the first class by the simple expedient of acquiring genteel head geak. A derby on a man, and a hat on a woman, instead of the customary peasant shawl, was sufficient, so the story goes, to attest to his or her right to demand service. The immense unconsumed supply of vodka and liquors which the res-taurants now find on their hands is a problem soon to be referred to the government for solution.

ance At Night In Spite of Best Efforts

London, Nov. 28.—After three months of war London, as a neutral sees it, seems a conflict between the two commonest sentiments of the period-"Business as Usual" and "Your King and Country Need You." These signs confront you everywhere. In August they were on the houses and motor cars; now on the bill parted but many of the best known nasal or other catarrh, unsteady boards, empty walls, hotels, theatres, everywhere that paste will hold them. Contrary to the expectations of are closed, but even at the height of the evening crowd, there is slim attendance, nearly half the men being officers in uniform. Americans are

There has been a revolutionary change in staff at all these hotelries, manager, clerks, doormen, waiters of German or Austrian, blood having been sent to the detention camps. No restaurant or hotel can remain open with any chance of making money unless it can announce that 'no alien enemies are hired here.' One of the largest hotels on the Strand was recently the target for much newspaper criticism because its orchestra never played "God Save the King." That orchestra now plays the national air every evening with

INSURANCE AND BANKING DEPARTMENTS SEPARATE

Austin, Texas, Dec. 2-W. W. Col fer, commissioner of insurance and banking of Texas, is actively at work in his attempt to separate the banking and insurance departments. He says experience has demonstrated that the affairs of these two branches, of the government could be better handled if they were segregated. The departments, according to Mr. Collier, have grown to such magnitude and the duties are so intricate and voluminous that it is impossible for one executive to give his personal attention to the end that best results be obtained.

The Rohatch Mineral Water. Acts directly on the digestive orthe kidneys and keeps the blood in fine condition. Good circulation is the only cure for constipation, rheumatism and the only way the system has to throw off germs that cause typhoid, smallpox and other loathsome diseases. Four years in the water business in Wichita Falls has taught us precaution during epidemics of loath-some diseases. We are not strangers in Wichita Falls. We have been here fifteen years and are bere to stay. We have always met our obligations.

ROCK OF GIBRALTAR

UTURE events may test the claim which many military authorities make that the British fortress of Gibraltar holds the key to the Mediterranean, W. D. Hornaday writes in the Pittsburgh Gasette-Times. When viewed from the sea this famous rock that rises out of the sandy plains in the extreme southwestern corner of continental Europe is not as imposing as one who has read of its history might be led to ex-pect, but when closely approached and there comes into sight some of the evidence of what the hand of man has wrought in making it an impregnable fortress, it presents an awe-inspiring

Guards Mediterranean Entrance. The height of the tallest point of be giant rock is 1,439 feet above sea level. It is three miles long and about three-fourths of a mile wide. Natural and artificial caverns and tunnels run brough it in every direction. While little is known to the outside world cerning these underground gallerthey are said to be many miles extent and to be placed tier upon fier. In the interior of the mountain are many chambers filled with ammunition and war supplies and bristling on all sides, extending from almost the bottom level to the top, are hid batteries of artillery, each

The rock of Gibraltar was famous far back in the world's history. It and the point on the other side of the strait, in Africa, known as Ceutla, formed the Pillars of Hercules, Gibraltar was first fortified in 711 A. D. by the Saracen leader, Tarik. It was later held by the Moors and Spaniards. In 1714 it was captured and occupied by a combined force of the British and Dutch. The French and Spanlards made efforts to capture the fortress, but without success, and it has remained for more than two centuries as a British possession.

Occupying a strip of lowland bordering the Bay of Gibraltar and lying at the feet of the great rock is the city of Gibraltar, which has a popula-

ing the town from the main fortification is a high stone wall and in the city itself are parade grounds and various buildings that are occupied by the military garrison. At this time there are about seven thousand British troops in Gibraltar, made up of about fifteen hundred artillerymen an the remainder infantrymen. It is said that there are enough grain and other food supplies stored in the protected warehouses of the place to withstand a siege of seven years. The fresh water supply for the fortress and the people of the town is obtained from the rainfall. There are also maintained at Gibraltar enormous tanks of resh water for supplying vessels of the British navy. The town itself is a place of rare nterest in addition to the picturesque setting that it occupies. It is a free port and this enables smugglers to carry on a nefarious trade between near-by countries and Spain through the place. Mixed with the English population are many Moors, Spanlards, Portuguese and, in fact, a scattering element of almost all the countries of Europe and Africa. There are also a few Asiatics.

Visitors are free to roam about the streets at will, but are forbidden to enter the precincts of the grim natural

Many Wichita Falls People Have Done

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be sav-
