WOODS ELECTED SPEAKER ON FIRST BALLOT TODAY

Resolution Introduced For Open In- stead Of The Usual Secret Ballot In Voting

HOBBY MAY LOSE HIS APPOINTIVE POWER

Effort To Have Senate Committees Elected Is Made—Quorum Present In Each House

Austin, Texas, January 12.—Woods was elected speaker. The vote stood; Woods 72; Williams 57; Savage 10; on the first ballot.

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 12.—Promptly at noon today the 34th Legislature convened for the regular session with a quorum present in both branches; the house was called to order by Secretary of State Gregg and the Senate by Lieutenant Governor Watson.

Representative Rowell of Hunt county created a sensation by offering a resolution providing for an open ballot for election of speaker.

"I am fully aware that the adoption of such a resolution," said Mr. Rowell, "will put in vogue a practice which is entirely new in Texas." He also declared that he had not conferred with any candidates on this proposition and was acting on his own initiative.

Senator Nugent was elected president pro tem of the Senate over Senator Wiley by a vote of 15 to 14.

Immediately upon the reorganization of the Senate, Senator Ed Westbrook of Collin county announced he will introduce a resolution providing for an amendment to the Senate rules for the election of all committees by the Senate. He proposes to change the word "appointed" to "elected" so that all committees, including a committee on congressional and one on senatorial districts shall be elected. Should this resolution prevail it will take away from Lieutenant Governor Hobby the appointing of committees.

The Senate elected W. V. Howerton, secretary, John D. McCall assistant secretary, R. M. Gilmore journal clerk. Senator Hudspeth moved to adopt the rules of the last legislature as the temporary rules of the 34th; this caused a lively fight over an amendment offered by Senator Lattimore which provided that a majority may change the rules at will, instead of two-thirds vote. While this was under consideration, Senator Westbrook offered as a substitute his committees resolution which makes all committees elective.

Senator Brelsford will introduce a bill and try to have it passed at once with the emergency clause suspending the penalty for non-payment of taxes this year which will accrue after the 31st of January. Mr. Brelsford's plan is to suspend the penalty but permit interest to accrue for a period of six months.

The Legislative Program.
Many important changes in Texas laws were on the written program of the 34th biennial session of the legislature which convened here today. Many legislators believed the session would last not less than 120 days or approximately four months. This period would mean an extra session. Seldom has a large number of laws with which the people of the entire State are familiar been in prospect. The legislators who forecast a four-month session based on these laws do not allow time in this period for completing legislative probes such as have been characteristic of all recent sessions.

It now appears certain there will be a strong effort to amend the Robertson insurance law, under which most of the old lines companies left the State. Although Governor-elect James E. Ferguson has announced against any liquor agitation, the prohibitionists expect to make at least some advance in their cause. It is

PRESIDENT SAYS HE WAS MISUNDERSTOOD

DID NOT INTEND INDIANAPOLIS WORDS AS INTIMATION OF CANDIDACY

WILL NOT DISCUSS QUESTION

Refuses to Give his Views on One-Term Plan of Platform of Baltimore

By Associated Press.
Washington, Jan. 12.—President Wilson declared today that he was not thinking of announcing his candidacy for 1916 when he made the statement in his Indianapolis speech recently that the people of the United States might have a chance to judge of his acts.

His utterance was interpreted by the audience and by others at the time as a hint that he might be a candidate for renomination.

The president explained to callers today that what he had in mind was that future generations might pass upon his acts as president. The president refused absolutely to discuss the question of being a candidate. Efforts to get an expression of opinion from him on the one-term plank of the Baltimore platform were made but Mr. Wilson shook his head and refused to answer questions; he said he could not talk about himself.

ESCAPING CONVICTS BIDS GUARD LOVING FAREWELL

Four Men in Virginia Penitentiary
Overpower Guards and Make Getaway

By Associated Press.
Richmond, Va., Jan. 12.—Virginia police today were watching for four convicts who escaped from the state penitentiary last night after overpowering and binding a prison guard, an armed watchman and a shop foreman. The escaped men are Al Burton and three others, serving long sentences for murder and other crimes. Burton, Hamilton, and E. B. Hanley, serving five and eight years respectively for forgery and robbery. Before sliding down the rope they had improvised from overalls one of the four, Hamilton, known as the "boy forger" stopped and kissed the guard.

POLL TAX PAYMENTS ARE BEHIND FIGURES OF 1914

Absence of Any General Election
Causes Falling Off—No City
Tax Now Due

Poll tax payments at the county tax collector's office are falling behind last year's figures but the loss is not as great and it is believed that with a campaign similar to that waged last year would bring the total up close to last year's figures. The absence of any general elections is expected to be responsible for any decrease in the total.

While no local option election is in sight liquor dealers are losing no opportunity of calling the attention of their patrons to the fact that they must have a poll tax receipt if they expect to vote. Placards have been put up in all the saloons urging that poll tax be paid.

There is no city poll tax this year, thanks to a provision in the new city charter. The poll tax must be paid on or before January 30.

HEART FAILURE ATTACK CAUSE OF SUDDEN DEATH

Ed Osteen Succumbs This Morning
While at Work at Planters'
Gin

Ed Osteen, aged 30, an employe at the Planters' Gin, in the old planing mill on the east side of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad tracks, was seized with an attack of heart failure this morning and died within a few minutes. Osteen seemed in his usual good health this morning up until the moment he was stricken. He had been working at the gin stands and had left these and had gone out into the gin yard in the discharge of his duties where he fell over. Others at the gin ran to him and a physician was summoned. Osteen lived only a few minutes.

He had been a resident of Wichita Falls about two months. His home was formerly at Coleman City, Texas, where his father lives. He leaves a wife and two children, living at 1315 Fifteenth street.

HOUSE WILL VOTE ON SUFFRAGE TODAY

SIX HOUR DEBATE ON RESOLU-TION IS NOW IN PROG-RESS

WOMEN FILL THE GALLERIES

Both Friends and Opponents of Votes
For Women Are Much In Evidence

By Associated Press.
Washington, Jan. 12.—After an hour's debate the House this morning adopted, by a vote of 309 to 31, a special rule for considering the proposed constitutional amendment for woman's suffrage.

The members then settled down to six hours actual debate before voting on whether to submit the resolution to the states for ratification. A driving rain storm failed to discourage a record-breaking crowd. At 8 a. m., the first arrivals went into the House galleries to await the beginning of the debate. When the women doffed their waterproof coats, the purple and yellow banners and sashes of suffragettes filled the galleries with a wave of color. Many brought their knitting and needlework and passed the time by working on garments for the war sufferers in Europe.

The gallery to the left of Speaker Clark's desk was occupied by suffragettes. On the right, the anti-suffragettes, each wearing a red rose, knitted and sewed as they waited. Between the hostile camps was the men's gallery. The galleries applauded generally when Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and several other prominent suffragettes were invited by the speaker to leave the public gallery and take places in his private box.

Carranza Troops Also Reported To Have Taken Town of Valles
Near Tampico

By Associated Press.
Laredo, Texas, Jan. 12.—Latest reports indicate that Victoria, capital of Tamaulipas has not been captured by Villa troops. This report of capture was issued semi-officially yesterday in Nuevo Laredo. Today's advices say, however, that after three days of fighting the Villa troops retired.

Heavy constitutionalist artillery fire is said to have destroyed Villa's fortifications about Victoria. After bombarding these works the constitutionalists completed their victory with an infantry charge, capturing horses, arms and much ammunition.

Unofficial reports say that General Pablo Gonzalez, Carranza's supporter, yesterday captured the town of Valles, on the railway between Tampico and San Luis Potosi. Gonzalez is in charge of the defense of Tampico.

"INTENTION TO CREATE HATRED"

Report Is Called "Unbroken Series of Slanders"—Declares Discipline
Has Been Maintained

By Associated Press.
Amsterdam, Jan. 12.—There has been received here from Berlin an officially inspired telegram which repudiates all the accusations against the troops of Germany made in the report of a French committee, given out January 7 by the French cabinet, charging the Germans with many outrages. The dispatch reads:

"This French statement is an unbroken series of slanders with no other intention than to create hatred against the German people." Continuing it complains that the French report is lacking in detail and it maintains that German military commanders always have maintained discipline among their troops and observed all the rules of war. In conclusion this dispatch promises that specific charges will be investigated and the results made public.

FOUR DISTINCT BATTLES BEING FOUGHT IN FRANCE

Conflicting Claims Are Made, But Neither Side Appears To Have Marked Advantage

By Associated Press.

London, Jan. 12.—Four distinct battles which have developed in France and Alsace are being carried on vigorously but without marked advantage for either side.

Of greater immediate consequence is the fighting near Perthes which involves possession of important railroads and probably a considerable section of the fortified battle line. In this district the French attempted further attacks, but were beaten back with heavy losses, the German official statement asserts.

Near Soissons which is in the Aisne country the French statement says German attempts to capture those positions were repulsed and more trenches were seized by the allies.

In the Argonne, where fighting has been more continuous and stubborn since the early weeks of the war, more than anywhere else the Germans are on the offensive and claim to have captured a French vantage point.

The fourth battle, in Alsace, is less active than was the case before the reinforced Germans checked the French advances. The Berlin war offices asserts a French attack south of Sennheim was defeated and the attackers suffered severe losses.

MANY FRENCH WOMEN DO NOT KNOW HUSBAND'S FATE

Friends and Relatives Who Have Heard News Hesitate To Make It Known

By Associated Press.
Paris, Jan. 12.—Instances of French women who have been widows since early in the war and are still ignorant of their husband's fate are often coming to light.

It is not only that the authorities have been slow in communicating notice of casualties, but that friends and relatives who have heard of deaths at the front have evaded the responsibility of breaking the news, hoping that identifications of the dead have been mistaken and that the missing ones may turn up eventually.

A case which came to the writer's notice is probably typical of many. A young woman who was accustomed to dine with her brother, a newspaper man, at a restaurant largely patronized by men of that profession, has appeared nightly at the restaurant alone ever since her brother was called to join his regiment, and inquired if his co-workers had heard anything of him. From a wounded comrade who returned to Paris they learned that the girl's brother was killed more than two months ago, but none of the men has had the heart to break the news to the sister.

Has Anybody Here Seen Rover? Perhaps His Days are Over

The dog catcher is abroad in the town and the howling of the canine with the pleas of their owners resound. The dog catcher had not been out long yesterday before the fact was known at the city hall where the telephone was kept hot all day long by the owners of dogs taken up by the catcher. Telephones continued to pour in after supper and Chief Nail was called up several times after he got home.

The chief didn't give the dog catcher any instructions about where to work when he started out yesterday but judging from the origin of the numerous telephone calls that he must have spent most of the day in Floral Heights. Many dog tags have been issued by City Tax Collector H. F. Robertson within the past few days.

RED TAPE IS ABOLISHED BY OFFICIALS AT PANAMA

Very Few Formalities are Required of Ships in Passing Through Canal

By Associated Press.
Panama, Jan. 12.—So much red tape has been eliminated by the canal officials that a ship's captain may now take his vessel through without having to sign a single paper, and without any waste of time. Heretofore the formalities were so numerous that it sometimes required 24 hours for a ship to complete her passage.

Shipping companies have been notified that hereafter will not be necessary for them to appoint a shipping agent on the Isthmus, for the reason that the Panama Canal is prepared to undertake all work in connection with the payment of tolls, purchase of coal, water and other supplies. They have been informed that all that is needed is to cable to Panama the probable arrival of a ship, the deposit at the office of the account assistant treasurer of the United States of the estimated amount of tolls, the probable supplies the vessel will need and other data and the officials of the canal will see that the ship safely passes through with the least possible delay and without the payment of agent's fees by the owner.

A few days ago a ship arrived at Cristobal, her owners having apprised the canal officials of her coming. The deposit had been made and she was ready to pass through the canal when the master appeared at the port captain's office for his papers. He was given his clearance papers, receipt for tolls, permit to pass through all the locks, health certificates, and other necessary papers and was told to proceed into the canal. He was astonished at not having to obtain from various officials all these documents and further to the fact that not a single signature was required of him. His stay in the port of Cristobal was exactly one hour while at Balboa there was no stop required beyond slowing up to drop the pilot in the outer harbor.

It is pointed out by the canal officials that many papers at first in use proved to complicate matters and occasion delay. The bulky copies of the ship's manifest have been abolished, and the boarding officer of the terminal port now obtains only a short abstract.

COMMISSION HEARING ON UNLOADING CHARGES

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Jan. 12.—The railroad commission was to hear today petitions of railroads for permission to charge one and three-fourths cents per hundred pounds as an unloading fee for livestock when consignees fail to unload cars within six working hours after due notice of arrival and railroad agents perform the task. Livestock interests are expected to oppose the charge. Among other matters scheduled to be heard by the commission today was the application of the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico Railroad to add certain arbiters in making class and commodity rates from Edinburg to other Texas points.

NO MORE RED PANTALOONS FOR SOLDIERS OF FRANCE

New Blue Gray Uniforms Replace Pictureque Suits So Long in Service

By Associated Press. Paris, Jan. 12.—The success of the new bluish gray infantry uniform, supplied to men who become eligible to service this year, sounds the death knell of the red pantalon.

The red pantalon was long in passing. The heroic associations of their 35 years reign made a change seem a sort of sacrilege and in spite of the lessons of the Transvaal, the army clung fondly to the old red, immortalized on so many fields of battle and familiarized to the world by Detaille and other military painters.

Napoleon the First was opposed to red for the infantry. The adoption of this color must be credited to Yicomis de Vaux, minister of war in 1839 and it was his sole contribution to military history. During the second empire a proposed change to blue was defeated by the minister of agriculture, who objected that the change would ruin a thriving industry in the department of Yveline which furnished the "medal" with which the cloth was dyed. After the Transvaal campaign the question came up again and the minister of war appointed a commission to examine it. Nothing developed and the Japanese-Russian war broke out and the question being agitated again, the minister of war appointed another commission.

After the Balkan war, during which the Bulgarian officers found it expedient to tear off the red trimming of their cloaks, a third commission was appointed.

In 1903 the Boer colors were most favored. In 1905 a sort of violet blue had more partisans. In 1911 grayish green was preferred, and specimens of this color, designed by Detaille, were worn by selected companies at the maneuvers.

In the meantime commercial war had bested the industry of the department of Vaucuss and the coloring matter for the French infantry pantaloons was made in Germany. No commercial obstacle remained, but official routine had tangled the question in so much red tape that the outbreak of the war found the army still in the conspicuous red trousers. Millerand abolished all commissions and dressed the class of 1914 in the shade he preferred.

FINDS STATE BANKS IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Jan. 12.—Commissioner of Insurance and Banking Collier says the condition of the 800 state bank and trust companies operating in Texas at the beginning of the new year show that they have been disturbed in no manner by the European war. The reports of these institutions, he Collier says, are pleasing, showing that bills payable are decreasing and individual deposits increasing. The total capital of the banks and trust companies is $23,491,500 according to the last official statement. Total surplus and undivided profits $14,553,766; individual deposits $65,001,895. While individual deposits show a decrease of approximately $20,000,000 from one year ago, the falling off is considered small when present financial conditions are taken into consideration.

GERMANY COMPLAINS OF LACK OF COMMUNICATION

By Associated Press. Bern, Jan. 11.—German papers are complaining bitterly of the isolation of the country from neutral countries as the result of the war.

At The Theaters

The Empress. The second installment of "Zudora" is showing here today, the story of which appeared in the Sunday Times. This serial is generally conceded to be one of the most interesting that has ever been filmed and the second episode, "The Mystery of the Sleeping House" is one of the most interesting cases that "the girl of mystery" has to solve. The usual program is shown in connection with this feature.

The Lydia Margaret. An excellent three quarters of an hour of amusement is provided by the new vaudeville bill at the Lydia Margaret, opening yesterday. Sanders and Von Kuntz in their comedy sketch, "Travesty in Blues", certainly got the laughs and Burton and Kerr, Italian street musicians have a pretty act as well as one deserving of the most favorable comment. Pauline Bush is featured in a two part drama, "The Lion, the Lamb and the Man." This picture is far from being ordinary and pictures a struggle, asks questions and then answers it.

"Can the love of a woman be won through physical supremacy? It seems futile to an extreme to ever venture out into the endless avenues of so doubtful a subject, nevertheless, it is one which has been taken up ever and again. For the high spirited woman a woman who has good red blood in her veins and avidity for outdoor sports and frolics, the carcases of a physically strong man, a giant, mean the awakening of some strange fire. To the woman of books and studies the simple speeches of the learned professor, who works by side her, are pleasing to her intelligence. In the one case the love is purely physical, having had its first motive purely in the physical appeal; one which requires that the two minds be harmonious in thought and understanding. In the former instance mentality is subordinated; in the latter, the physical holds second place. But which kind of love is the most to be trusted?"

The Majestic. The Majestic management has secured an unusually strong program for today and one that contains many favorites. Margaret—Gibson and Myrtle Gonzales are featured in a Vitagraph, "Sliders." Ruth Stonehouse is seen in an Essanay comedy, "The Servant Question" and Arthur Johnson is featured in the ninth of the "Beloved Adventurer" series which has been very popular. The program is completed by a two part Lubin, "The Marriage Vaguer" which is probably the best picture John Lubin has started in for some little time. The picture has fantastic note throughout and is pleasing by reason of its unusualness.

The Gem. Gertrude McCoy is featured in an Edison three part drama, "What Could She Do." The production has been very favorably commented upon by the Motion Picture World.

16-YEAR OLD BOY TRIES TO BE REAL BAD FELLOW

Answering a hurry up call from a restaurant in the flats last night, the police found a sixteen year old boy busily engaged in trying to clean out the joint, and meeting with indifferent success. He had just been knocked down for about the tenth time by a waiter when the police came in. It appears that the youth had gotten some whiskey somewhere and this seemed to be his main trouble. This morning he was fined ten dollars in the city court. The officers are endeavoring to ascertain where he got the whiskey.

ATHLETIC PLANS OUTLINED AT HIGH SCHOOL MEETING

Captain of Track Team is Chosen—Baseball Schedule is Now Being Prepared

Plans for the baseball and track teams were outlined Monday afternoon at a meeting of the High School Athletic Association and steps were taken which it is hoped will lead to a good representation in both these branches of athletics. About thirty were present at the track team meeting and Victor Jungk was elected captain. It is planned to meet other teams in this section in the hope of representing this interscholastic district at the state track meet.

Baseball plans were discussed and a schedule will be completed shortly, including games with several teams in this section of the State. It is hoped to be able to provide the players with uniforms. H. D. Woods, a member of the faculty presided at the meeting.

On next Friday a benefit will be given at the Majestic for the high school athletic association. The program will be a good one and a large attendance is desired.

COULD NOT SLEEP OR DO HOUSEWORK

The Grippe Left Mrs Findley in Such a Weak, Nervous Condition That Her Case Was Serious. Severy, Kan.—The grippe left me in a weak, nervous, run down condition. I was too weak to do my housework and could not sleep. I tried different medicines without benefit and finally one day read about Vinol, and decided to try it. In a very short time I could see an improvement and after taking two bottles I have a good appetite and my health and strength was restored. "I think Vinol is a grand medicine and every weak, nervous, run down woman should take it."—Mrs. Geo. Findley, Severy, Kan.

Vinol creates strength because it contains all the medicinal tissue building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh, healthy cods' livers. To this is added peptonate of iron, a most essential element for the blood, all dissolved in a delicious tonic native wine. Vinol creates an appetite, aids digestion makes pure healthy blood, in this natural manner it builds up the run down weak and nervous system, replaces weakness with strength. If Vinol fails to create strength after sickness we will return your money. Miller Drug Store, Wichita Falls and druggists everywhere. (Advt)

DINNER ON FIRING LINE NOT BAD, OFFICER SAYS

Heats His Beef With Candles—Tells of Breaking up German Camp Kitchen

By Associated Press. Havre, Jan. 11.—A French officer writes his family in Normandy of the way he and his comrades fare in the trenches.

"We lack nothing," he says. "For three days I have eaten delicious beef in a mode, which they brought me cold in a little pot. This I heated up in the trenches under a couple of candles, hanging the pot on a bayonet. Yesterday, a brother officer, who was examining the German trenches with my field glasses, told me he could see the smoke of a German bivouac in a little neck of woods behind their trenches. The inference was they were cooking dinner. Five minutes later, a shell from our 75 fell on the spot where we sighted the smoke, and the German pots, pans and food went scattering in the air, while two German cooks were chased into the canal, where we followed them with our rifle fire."

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

Little Brother,
Playing in the city streets,
Little Brother!
Running errands with swift feet;
Passing me with footsteps fleet;
Ought we not to know each other—
Little Brother!

Care comes early at our call—
Little Brother!
Far too heavy burdens fall
On your shoulders, slight and small,
Would that I could lift them all,
Little Brother!

In the world, relentless mart,
Little Brother!
Each must bear his manly part,
Earn his bread with toil and smart—
But your courage breaks my heart,
Little Brother!

Surely there are uncontent
Little Brother!
Longings in your boyish breast?
Teach me how to help you best—
How we may each help the other—
Little Brother!

Slice and garnish with parsley and a few slices of lemon.

At the close of the division meeting the ladies assembled in the main auditorium and heard two short talks, Mrs. R. C. Smith talking on "The Weak Points in the Alliance" and "Need of a Reinforcement" and Mrs. A. A. Harris made an appeal in behalf of various benevolent causes.

HOW TRENCHES ARE DUG IN FACE OF ENEMY'S FIRE

Men Crawl Out With Rifle and Spade and Dig Among Whistling Bullets

By Associated Press. Paris, Jan. 12.—How trenches are dug and advanced made in face of the enemy's fire are described by a French soldier in a letter to his parents. "We have had plenty of work for the past week," he said, "to gain a mere 200 yards on the enemy. We made three successive advances in rain, wind and hail. We are now only 50 yards from the German line with its pits and networks of barbed wire. Our advance has cost us dearly; many poor comrades fell, dead or wounded, on the way.

"This is how we go to work, preferably when the night promises to be dark and rainy. Artillery prepares the way in the afternoon, by a fierce bombardment. As soon as night falls we move to the front line, and when the enemy's rifle and machine gun fire quiets, we take rifle in one hand, a shovel or pick in the other, and march the flat ground, crawling along on our stomachs. At the command of 'halt!' without rising and with our knapsacks as a protection against the whistling bullets, we dig desperately. It is remarkable how quickly a hole may be dug when the bullets are kicking up the loose earth above your heads; many a poor chap drops before this is done. One comrade fell over me with a bullet through the eye. Next day, the body, rolled in a muddy tent-cloth and strapped to a pole, was borne by two friends into the neighboring village.

"Once the soldiers have dug their individual trenches, they must be connected, but this work may be done more leisurely. Next, the entire trench is deepened, so that morning we can stand up straight and aim comfortably over the crest of the line opposite. We must also burrow little eyes to sleep in and tunnels communicating with the rear, and build gun posts to the front of the trench; then there is the work of putting out barbed wire entanglements, setting up timbers and covering them as a roof against artillery fire. It is hard work, hitting and placing these timbers, especially dragging them through our muddy little tunnels.

"In spite of rain and hail and wading around in the mud, I don't get cold. When I curl up in my hole in the ground and sleep, I forget all the discomforts of my home."

UTAH LEGISLATURE CONVENES IN ITS BIENNIAL SESSION

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 12.—The Utah Legislature convened Monday and proceeded to organize for the biennial session. The present indications are that the legislators will "buff the thesaurus" largely to business of a routine nature. So far no mention has been made of any contemplated measures of a radical character. The legislature will meet in temporary quarters until the completion of the new State Capitol.

What Cures Eczema?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make an answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. Prescription, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. Foreign Navies Use Large Quantities of Texas Products

Oil burning for naval purposes has developed very remarkably in the last ten years, many countries have used it to some extent and some countries to an enormous extent. Millions of barrels are used annually by various countries for war vessels, even in times of peace, and the supply of oil for this purpose is an important matter.

Texas was pioneer in this important field, for manufactured products and The Texas Company was originally started for the purpose of marketing oil as fuel.

It is natural, therefore, that Texas should stand today as a most important factor in the supply of oil fuel for the navies of the world, and The Texas Company has a large share of this business.

Texaco fuel oil is used by the United States Navy in large quantities for its oil burning war vessels; the navy of Great Britain, by far the largest consumer of fuel oil in this regard, uses Texaco for the greater part of its requirements; the Italian Navy takes practically its entire requirements of oil fuel from The Texas Company, and a large part of the amount consumed by the French Navy comes from the same source.

As a port for the distribution of oil fuel the equipment and handling arrangements have placed Port Arthur, Texas, on a par with any other oil port in this country, or elsewhere.

All Texaco products can be secured in your town; world known for their quality they are of unusual value for all purposes. Our Agent knows how to serve you. Order from him.

MISERIES OF LIFE IN TRENCHES TOLD

ENGLISH SOLDIERS SAY COLD IS PRINCIPAL CAUSE OF SUFFERING

WASHING AND SHAVING BARRED

Trenches Extend in Practically Unbroken Line from Sea to East Frontier

By Associated Press. London, Jan. 12.—Miseries of life in the trenches are vividly pictured in a story written by an English soldier who is on the Belgian frontier. He enlisted as a private but later was raised to an officer. Thus he has had an opportunity to see the war from different angles. His story follows:

It isn't the danger that affects one in the trenches, but the hardships of cold and damp. Bullets from snipers—the Germans have lots of these out night and day—whizz about your ears continually, and occasionally shrapnel makes one tuck one's head down, but one gets so used to the firing that although it may sound incredible—it soon becomes far less noticeable than city traffic, for instance.

At night sometimes an outburst of artillery or a wild rattle of the musketry at an imaginary night attack wakens one stiff, sore, frozen and full of strong language from fitful dreams, which mainly concern themselves with steak puddings and huge fires at home.

Never Stop Shivering. One never ceases shivering. At night the soles of one's boots freeze, and one is awakened by icy feet and forced to get up and stamp till the blood comes to circulate once more. Daylight brings some respite but the whole time one is forced to muffle the eyes and such things as Balacava helmets, thick gloves, comforters, cardigans and woolly waistcoats cannot be too numerous. I can scarcely button my coat over my numerous regiment and still I perish.

Washing and shaving are practically impossible. Officers and men leave the trenches like mizars coming up from a pit, but somehow that does not worry us. The idea of washing in such cold is too awful, for it is impossible to restore the circulation by exercise in a narrow crowded trench and in the dug outs there is just room to lie down. They are now beginning to serve out coal and coke just in time. There would have been wholesale frostitbes otherwise.

The water in the machine guns freezes and they have to be nursed back to action in front of fires. Rifles get frost bitten and sometimes are ruptured by the sudden shock consequent on being fired. This is rather welcome, however, for the wood from a derelict rifle burns beautifully.

The water bottles freeze, too and have to be thawed out. Water is a nuisance. It has to be fetched by night by fatigue parties from farms and villages in the rear, a process which takes sometimes two or three hours.

Some Ingenious Devices. It is extraordinary how ingenious the men are in contriving things for their comfort. They cut little fire-places in the side of the trench, line them with tin from ammunition boxes and top them neatly with chimneys made of billy beef tins. They build elaborate rifle racks and make themselves snug cubbyholes to sleep in, roofing them with material from nearby ruined farmhouses, piled-over with earth.

The food is plentiful and good: the crying need is for milk and fruit. Plenty of tobacco and cigarettes are to be had. There is a dearth of things to read and it is considered rank treason to light a fire with a piece of newspaper.

The trenches stretch in a practically unbroken line from the sea to the east frontier, not in groups of isolated rifle pits, but in what are really series of small towns linked together by narrow communicating trenches, each battalion occupying its own little town, which may be anything from half a mile to two miles long and a hundred yards or so deep.

From behind the firing trenches there is a wild labyrinth of interesting communicating trenches, support trenches, dug outs for staff and officers, kitchens and so forth, though of course some are more elaborate than others.

It takes about an hour and a half to go from one end of our present battalion position to the other. Last week the trouble was mud, wet, wind, mud, four or five inches deep, that squeaked round one's boot tops and got plastered over everything up to one's hat. My boots weighed tons. This week the frost had laid the mud and the cold is our enemy.

Bagged His First German. We spend a few days in the trenches and then a few days in reserve in the villages in the rear. The relieving, of course, has to be done at night. It is an eerie job. You march along as noiselessly as possible to within half a mile of the rear, where you are met by a guide and taken in single file through an interminable winding communication trench, full of roots and mud, never more than three feet wide at the top and about eighteen inches at the bottom. Then at a sort of Piccadilly Circus in the rear of the fighting line, the companies branch to their various posts and are shepherded in until each man of the relieving force stands behind another of that to be relieved. The waiting is a dreadful business. It seldom takes less than three to five hours to effect the complete change. Everything is dead still except for an occasional banging to show you the snipers are awake. No one pays the slightest attention to them.

The men exchange pleasantries in hoarse whispers and the officers exchange news and explain the special points of the position. Finally, when the last man has been placed, the order to change places is passed down. The new men step up onto the little platforms and the relieved men step down into the trench and file out silently into the night. Then all through the night half the men and officers are on guard, while half rest.

ty day there are only sentries here and there along the line.

A pathetic sight in the rear of all the trenches is the occasional plain wooden crosses marking the grave of some victim of sniper or shrapnel bullet. Many are ornamented with a regimental badge and a simple inscription laboriously printed in pencil; others are quite plain.

I bagged my first German yesterday and a curiously primitive feeling of elation it is to shoot one. He had the hardihood to stand up working in a trench only 250 yards away, so that I could see him from the waist up.

EVIDENCE BEING TAKEN IN NEGRO MURDER TRIAL

J. J. Dickson is on Trial for Killing of John Foreman, Another Negro, Last April

Testimony was heard this morning in the trial of J. J. Dickson, negro, charged with murder for the killing of John Foreman, negro last April. The jury was completed before court recessed last night and is made up as follows: J. F. Love, W. B. Reeves, Lee Prescott, J. W. Lovell, E. L. Noey, George Keith, S. A. Keller, C. E. McCarty, G. M. Small, I. W. Newton, John Lindsay and J. V. Tidwell. The entire venire of 90 talemans was exhausted before the jury was secured, many of the talemans declaring they could not give a negro a fair and impartial trial.

Annie Foreman, mother of the deceased, was the first witness. She testified concerning a quarrel between J. J. and Clarence Dickson, the defendants and her son in the Last Chance restaurant before the killing and later of hearing a shot and running out of the restaurant and finding her son dying and J. J. Dickson firing at him. J. J. Dickson, Henderson Bates and Clarence Dickson were together, she said.

SHOES BADLY NEEDED BY REFUGEES FROM BELGIUM

Special Appeal is Made to America for Footwear for Women and Children

By Associated Press. Havre, Jan. 12.—Lack of shoes is causing so much suffering among Belgian refugees, particularly among the women and children, that M. Schoellart, president of the Chamber of representatives of Belgium and head of the Belgian relief society of Havre, has issued an appeal on their behalf. This appeal is addressed especially to Americans, since many letters of inquiry have been received from them at the Belgian government building in Havre, asking what supplies are most needed.

Women and children, whose clothing was left behind in the rush to escape, have been the first care of M. Schoellart. The able bodied men, especially laborers and mechanics, have no trouble in getting work.

The refugees have been spread pretty well over France in order to prevent congestion in the cities and to provide more opportunities for self support. Edmond Vidal, who is in charge of the distribution of supplies, says that the discarded clothing he received is the shoe question. Most of the refu-

There Is A Divinity That Shapes Our Ends

Rough hew them as we may, the truth of this saying is exemplified in the unfolding of the thrilling story of "LOLA," one of the most remarkable ever put on the screen, written by the world famous Owen Davis, picturized by the skilled James Young, leading part handled to perfection by

Clara Kimball Young

The world's greatest emotional screen actress, makes this one of the most interesting pictures that has ever been produced, by far above the ordinary, or average picture, yet we feel that we should offer our patrons something occasionally that is second to none, to show our appreciation of their liberal patronage, and will not advance the price for this treat.

New Year's Resolutions

We make them and we break them but there is one resolution that we should make and keep and that is to trade at home. Every merchant and business man living in the city of Wichita Falls is dependent upon you for patronage. Without them you could not exist. Without them you could not have the fine city that you do. In trading at home, however, you must demand equal value, dollar for dollar, that you would get in Dallas or St. Louis. With a fair comparison I will guarantee you are getting that or should for the business men of your city can buy just as cheap in Eastern markets as Dallas men can and the business man here can operate with much less expense than the big city house does. Now the holiday season is over. Many of you received photographs from friends at a distance. It is up to you to reciprocate in kind. We can assure you just as fine work in our studio as you can get in Dallas or Fort Worth and we do not have the heavy operating expense the city studios have, consequently we divide the profits with you. Give us a trial. We will convince you and when we succeed we will all be happy. Call and see us. It costs you nothing. The photos of your friends are special to themselves. Remember the piece.

BERLIN IS PREPARED FOR 20,000 WOUNDED

By Associated Press. London, Jan. 12.—A correspondent of the British Medical Journal states that twenty-five emergency military hospitals have been established in Berlin, with accommodations for 20,000 troops. One of the larger hospitals is housed in the new buildings erected for use in connection with the Olympic Games. Others have been placed in factories, museums and art galleries. The wounded are conveyed singly from the railway station to the hospitals in motor ambulances. A shortage of gauze and absorbent cotton is already making itself felt. Mrs. H. A. Allen is visiting in Fort Worth and Dallas.

Refinery Enters Market

The Wichita Valley Refining Co. of Iowa Park is today entering the local market with their products, having established a local station for the distribution of automobile gasoline, as well as having placed with local dealers their gasoline and kerosene. This institution, recently established at Iowa Park, begins business under favorable auspices and promises to merit the patronage that county pride should guarantee a home product. It is claimed for their automobile gasoline that it is the best on the market west of the Mississippi, tests having proven its superior quality.

DEADLOCK IS INDICATED IN SPEAKER CONTEST

Placing them under provisions of the Blue Sky law. Revising state election laws. Compulsory school attendance. Against defrauding hotel keepers. Divorcement of department of insurance and of banking. Divorcement of cotton gins and oil

More stringent child labor laws. Full crew law. Creating new courts of civil appeals. Court reform and judicial relief. Legalizing Sunday motion pictures. Constitutional amendment prohibiting the fee system. Prohibiting Sunday baseball. Pure paint law. Regulation of pipe lines, presumably by placing them under jurisdiction of the railroad commission. Amending general reversion law. More liberal stock and bond law. Congressional and senatorial re-districting. Divorcement of A. & M. College and Texas University. Public cotton classes in public warehouses and forbidding classing of such cotton by men connected with buying firms. Amending employers liability act. The measures over which two extra sessions struggled last summer, namely cotton acreage reduction and the bank of Texas bill, are said to be dead. It is possible they may be introduced again in some form. Another possibility is a state tax commission bill and an act for special taxes to support educational institutions.

THERE IS JUST A STEP

Between yesterday and today! Yesterday it was Nineteen Fourteen, today it is Nineteen Fifteen. Just one little figure changed the whole calendar, and yet that one figure is another step forward. The wheels of time, like the mill of God's, move slowly but ever onward. Each succeeding year has found us improving our facilities, profiting by a continual study of our business, until Nineteen Fifteen found us with more orders on our books than we have ever had, and under these depressed conditions we are just a little egotistical, and feel like we deserve it, as our equipment is the very best. Those who profess to care nothing for the dead, and that it makes no difference about our cemeteries we have nothing to say, and don't care to meet with you in any relation whatever, but those who love, honor and remember, and who take pride in our silent city, we solicit your co-operation and patronage.
