COMMITTEE WORK HOLDS BOTH HOUSES

LARGE NUMBER OF BILLS RE- PORTED IN BOTH BRANCHES TODAY

APPROPRIATION DELAY CERTAIN

Senate Committee Follows Lead of House—54-Hour Law Agree- ment is Likely

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Feb. 3.—The Senate finance committee today considered a measure introduced by Bailey of Harris carrying an emergency appropriation of $29,000 for the Prairie View Normal school. The committee took no final action. The committee decided that no general appropriation bill would be taken up until the expiration of 60 days from the opening of the legislature. This committee has practically reached the conclusion that no effort will be made to pass the general appropriation during the regular session.

Senate Judiciary committee No. 2 reported favorably Harvie's bill limiting the defense in homicide cases and changing the defense from apparent danger to actual danger. The West-brook bill which provides for a penalty for disposing of farm rents by a renter was redrafted. There was no opposition to this measure but a new bill making the renter a bailee of rents will be brought out.

Mr. Terrell while he was in the senate. Later in the afternoon a resolution was adopted assigning the new senator to the same committee held by Senator Terrell. These are: Chairman of state affairs and enrolled bills; member of mining and irrigation, insurance, treasurer's and controller's departments, roads, bridges and ferries, penitentiaries, towns and city corporations.

Senator Clark introduced a bill encouraging the breeding of high grade horses in Texas, the holding of county fairs and permitting horse races at county fairs. He will likely hear from the anti-racing element when that bill comes up.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Feb. 3.—A dispatch from Lisbon says: "Reinforcements have been sent to Angola as the Germans now occupy a greater part of that colony." Announcement was made early in January that German forces had invaded Portuguese Angola on the western coast of Africa, although there had been no declaration of war between the countries. The Portuguese casualties in Angola were estimated at about 500 killed, wounded and prisoners. The Germans were said to have lost about 200. It was said about 4000 new Portuguese troops were ready to embark for Africa.

DEMOCRATS SEEK PROGRESSIVES' AID

WILL TRY TO AMEND SHIP PURCHASE BILL SO AS TO SUIT THEM

WILL DISREGARD DESERTERS

Effort Will Be Made To Secure Enough Republican Votes To Overcome Defection

By Associated Press. Washington, Feb. 3.—Closely guarded plans of the senate administration democrats for saving the ship bill developed today as leaving the bolting democrats out of the reckoning entirely and making the bill agreeable to enough republicans to overcome the defections.

The plan, as finally agreed upon, was to instruct, as an amendment to the motion to commit, the commerce committee to return with amendments providing that the government should not lease ships to private corporations for a period longer than twelve months and that no ships of belligerent nations be bought which would disturb the neutrality of the United States.

swearing in of Senator A. R. McCollum of Waco as senator from the Eleventh district, to succeed H. B. Terrell, resigned. The new senator was escorted to the stage by a committee composed of Johnson, McNealus and Darwin, named by the lieutenant governor, who introduced him in graceful and feeling words.

Mr. Terrell said it was a pleasure to introduce to the senate one so ripe in experience, in information as to the needs and possibilities of Texas, who had so long and unselfishly labored for the interests of the state. He felt proud of this pleasure because ever since he (Terrell) had taken a pencil and pad and started out to make his living in newspaper work, Mr. McCollum had been his friend, his counselor and his helper.

The senate would not let Mr. McCollum retire from the stand until he had in responses to call for a speech returned his thanks to his fellow senators with emotion. He was given an ovation as he was escorted to his seat, which is the same seat occupied by Mr. Terrell while he was in the senate.

After hearing from T. R. Woods of Rockport and Arthur Mathis of the district against the bill of Bailey of Harris for leaving a tax to build a causeway across Arkansas Bay from Lake Oak to Lamar peninsula, the senate committee on judiciary No. 1 made a favorable report on the bill limiting the cost of the work not to exceed $20,000.

Washington filed with the secretary of the senate thirty-one telegrams had received urging his support of the proposed divorce of the university and Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Senator Clark introduced a bill encouraging the breeding of high grade horses in Texas, the holding of county fairs and permitting horse races at county fairs. He will likely hear from the anti-racing element when that bill comes up.

GERMANS POSSESSIONS CUT OFF FROM MOTHER COUNTRY

Wireless System, Only Means of Com- munication, Has Been Destroyed By England

By Associated Press. London, Feb. 3.—The Wireless World has received from Berlin a copy of a communique recently published by the German Colonial Office, describing the serious loss suffered by Germany through the destruction of her chain of wireless stations. The communique says:

"Soon after the outbreak of the war all communication with their colonies by sea was broken, and all German transatlantic cables were cut by the English, so that even telegraphic communication with the whole of our colonies was rendered impossible. The only remaining means of communication was wireless telegraphy, but the first warlike measures of the English were directed to depriving us of this means also. On August 12 fell the wireless station Yap, and soon afterwards the station Nara, Tasigata (Samoa) fell on August 29, and Bitapaka, in New Fommernia, on September 12. During the night of August 24-25, the great station of Kamina, in Togo, had to be destroyed by us in order to prevent its capture."

"So vanished all possibility of further direct communication with the African Protectorates, which hitherto had been able to communicate via Kamina. As a matter of fact, there had been from the very beginning a disturbance of the system which prevented us from receiving any reports from the Governor of East Africa after the outbreak of war. And so the material which we had been obliged, and which, in the main, reached Berlin by circuitous routes and very late and is mostly derived from private letters or from enemy newspapers, must necessarily remain fragmentary, and some of it must also be regarded as untrustworthy."

Market Reports

Kansas City Grain. Kansas City, Feb. 3.—Cash wheat No. 2 hard 1.57 to 1.58; No. 2 red 1.58. Corn No. 2 mixed 67 and 67 1/2. Oats—No. 2 white 56 to 56 1/2.

Foot Worth Livestock. Fort Worth, Texas, Feb. 3.—Cattle receipts 4200, slow. Beeves 66.25 to 67. Hogs receipts 2200, fifteen to twenty-five cents higher. Heavies 67.50 to 67.25. Sheep receipts 500, steady; lambs, 58 to 68.35.

New Orleans Cotton. New Orleans, Feb. 3.—Spot cotton steady. Sales an spot, 1100. To arrive 2750. Middling 8 1/2.

Chicago Futures. Chicago, Feb. 3.—Wheat prices plunged widely downward at the start today as a result of peace rumors and because of apparent chances that the Dardanelles might be unexpectedly thrown open for Russian shipments to western Europe. The ensuing upturn carried off to about last night's closing. Reports that Germany and Russian buyers were withdrawing from the spot market after the active buying recently reported probably encouraged some of the afternoon selling under which prices broke twelve to thirteen cents to five points lower. Bolls of four to five points followed. Cotton closed barely steady. March 8.58; May 8.82; July 9.01; Oct. 9.35; Dec. 9.38.

German and Portuguese Colonial Troops Clash. Territory of Angola in Africa is Bone of Contentions—Serious Losses Are Reported.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Feb. 3.—A dispatch from Lisbon says: "Reinforcements have been sent to Angola as the Germans now occupy a greater part of that colony." RUSSIANS CLAIM GENERAL SUCCESS

VICTORIES WEST OF WARSAW AND IN CARPATHIANS ARE ASSERTED

FRESH GERMAN FORCES SENT

Reinforce Austrians Trying To Hold Carpathian Passes Against Invading Russians

By Associated Press. Petrograd, Feb. 3.—Successes for the Russian arms in the region of Warsaw and in the Carpathians are recounted in an official Russian statement issued here today. Confirmation is given also to the report that German troops have been sent to the Carpathians to assist their Austrian allies. The text of the communication follows:

"The engagements in the region of Miava have continued favorable to our troops. On the left bank of the Vistula the battle on the road from Borsilow proceeded on February 1 with considerable intensity. A large number of heavy arm light batteries participated energetically in the engagement. The German attack on the morning of February 2 north of Borsilow was repulsed with great losses for the enemy. A violent combat was begun south of the village of Goutnik where we recaptured advanced trenches which we lost on January 31. The possession of a small farm still is undecided.

In Carpathian Passes. "South of Polica near Doualets the enemy increased the intensity of his bombardment continuing day and night, but attempts at the enemy's troops are without success. In the Carpathians the conflict continued January 31 and February 1. Our forces advanced fighting along the broad front at Ducia Pass as far as the lower sea, having crossed the principal crest of the mountain range in the region of Jasica and Masz-Labores where we took a battery of six cannons, two mortars, a number of quick firers and numerous prisoners. An offensive movement undertaken by the enemy south of Ustok pass was repulsed with enormous losses.

The managers have closed a contract with the trustees of the hall and from now on members will come to the new hall for committee meetings.

ENGLISH AND TURKS ARE NOW FIGHTING IN PERSIA
Town of Kurna Said To Have Been Taken By British After Recent Battle.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Feb. 3.—Fighting between the English and Turks continues at Kurna according to a dispatch from Baghdad which describes a night attack made by 300 Turks. Two English battalions posted on opposite sides of the town became confused and fired on each other for several hours. The Turks were driven back at daybreak by fire from the English gunboats. An expeditionary force is operating at the head of the Persian Gulf. It was announced early in December that the Turkish forces in Kurna had surrendered and that the town was occupied by the British who thus gained control of the country from the junction of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers near which Kurna is situated, to the Persian Gulf.

AGED MEXICAN FOUND DEAD IN SHANTY TODAY
An aged Mexican known as Santos was found dead in a shanty where he slept in the alley near the Hunt Grain company's plant. His body was discovered by Miguel Ordonez and Guadalupe Bedoya, who had been at the elevator for grain and had stopped at the shanty to learn why they had not seen him since last Monday. They found his body lying on the floor with scanty covering over it. It is believed he died Monday night. He had been a sufferer from tuberculosis for some time.

MORPHINE TRACES IN RIGGS' STOMACH

RESULT OF ANALYSIS BY STATE CHEMIST IS MADE KNOWN

WILL CONTINUE INVESTIGATION

Grand Jury Expected To Resume Its Inquiry Into Case When Re- port Comes

Just as the grand jury was getting about ready to drop its investigation of the death of H. E. Riggs, the VERBON CONSTABLE, a telegram came at noon from the state chemist which will result in a continuance of the investigation with more hope, it is believed, of an ultimate solution.

The telegram which was addressed to J. D. Ketz, sheriff of Wilbar county, here was as follows: "Austin, Texas, Feb. 3.—Stomach contains morphine in large quantity. Full report will follow in a few days. E. H. Golos, State chemist."

This analysis bears out the diagnosis made of Riggs' condition by Dr. Burnside a few minutes before he died. Dr. Burnside when he first was called to examine Riggs when he was discovered ill at the Marton Hotel gave it as his opinion that Riggs was sick from morphine or some similar drug. Just a few seconds before he died, however, Dr. Burnside thought he detected some indications of strychnine poisoning.

Officers Have Theory. The analysis also fits in with the theory on which Sheriff Keys of Wilbar county and Sheriff George Hawkins have been working even better than strychnine poisoning. Whether the latest development in the case will result in an order to again put Mrs. Branch in jail is a matter that is entirely up to the grand jury. Mrs. Branch was released from custody a few days ago to return to Vernon with a promise that she would appear before the grand jury whenever summoned. Floyd Ashire and J. A. Joiner, the two men who were arrested in connection with the investigation are still held in the county jail.

ENGLAND'S PROBLEM MAY BE SOLVED BY SHIP BILL

London, Feb. 3.—Wilson's Plan Might Prove of Great Benefit To That Country.

By Associated Press. London, Feb. 3.—Raids by German submarines on British commerce might make United States merchant marine valuable to Great Britain as a means of supplying food in the opinion of the Daily News which prints an editorial justifying President Wilson's attitude on the ship purchase bill now before Congress. The paper says that this "unprecedented development of state socialism" is the only means by which the United States can recover its place in the world of shipping. The editorial sets forth that in the present war the submarine has become a serious menace to England's food supply and that in any future war will dominate her position unless in the meantime science should discover some effective means of defense.

GERMANY BEING THROTTLED, SAYS WINSTON CHURCHILL

Believes Blockade is Slowly Having Its Effect—"Heart is Wearing Out."

Paris, Feb. 3.—"For the first time in history England can say 'The Sea is free,'" declared Winston Spencer Churchill, Great Britain's first lord of the Admiralty, in an interview with Hughes Leroux, editor of the Matin. "In the days when you said we fought each other," he continued, "our most important victories were brought us security comparable with that which we enjoy today. Even after Trafalgar we knew nothing like it. Our adversary perhaps can obtain a few supplies from Turkey and Asia Minor; I cherish no illusions for as long as there are neutrals a complete blockade must be a chimera, but while you and we breathe freely, thanks to the sea, we have kept and can keep open, Germany is like a man throttled with a heavy gas. You know the effect of such a gas when action is necessary. The effect wears out the heart and Germany knows it. This pressure shall not be relaxed until she gives in unconditionally for even if you of France and your ally Russia should decide to withdraw from the struggle, which is impossible, we English would carry on the war to the bitter end."

GERMANS ON OFFENSIVE IN EAST AND AT LABASSE

Believed Object Is To Prevent Send- ing Of New Troops To Carpathian Passes

NO DECIDED ADVANTAGE YET IN WARSAW FIGHT

Russians Claim Gains At Several Points, However—Said To Hold Important Pass

By Associated Press. London, Feb. 3.—Field Marshal Von Hindenberg's new drive at Warsaw apparently has accomplished little more thus far than the weakening of comparatively few Russian advanced positions. Neither the Berlin nor the Petrograd official reports indicate that marked changes have resulted from the fighting which daily becomes more serious. The German commander has chosen to make his first assault along the front between Sochaczew 50 miles due west of Warsaw and Skierniewice a few miles to the south which is in the same section in which the Germans vainly attempted to break through on their previous attempt to reach Warsaw. Both sides occupy strongly entrenched positions in this region where the warfare closely resembles that in France. An official Russian report today stated that German attacks on this locality were repulsed in the course of a violent battle during which the Russians recaptured trenches previously taken by the Germans.

Russian successes are claimed also in the fighting in the Carpathians which has developed into one of the most important phases of the campaign in the east. Russian troops are said to have made progress in Ducia Pass advancing over the crest of the mountain and to have repulsed an Austrian attack south of Uszok Pass.

British military experts are unable to explain the sudden and violent offensive movement begun by the Germans west of Warsaw in Poland and near Labassee on the northwestern end of the battle line in France. In both these regions there had been a return to the old style of German battering, the men being hurried forward in close formation at a great sacrifice of lives which British reports say gave little permanent gain. It is suggested that Von Hindenburg again is hammering toward the Polish capital with the idea of holding there Emperor Nicholas' crack troops which otherwise might be transferred to the Carpathians.

ILLINOIS RAILROADS ARE TRYING TO ADVANCE RATES

Hearing Begins Today Before Governor and Utilities Commission of State.

By Associated Press. Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—Fourteen railroad presidents today presented to Governor Dunne and members of the utilities commission arguments why the passenger rates in Illinois should be raised from two and two and a half cents to two and three cents. The hearing was the opening of the campaign of the transportation companies to obtain legislation permitting the increase of passenger rates in middle western states.

GENERAL VON KLUCK'S SON REPORTED TO HAVE FALLEN

By Associated Press. Berlin, Feb. 3.—The oldest son of General Von Kluck, who was a naval lieutenant, is reported to have fallen in an artillery battle near Lake Mid-delkerke on January 28. All former non-commissioned officers who are under 50 years of age have been called to drill new recruits.

WHEAT PRICES SAG TODAY THEN GO HIGHER THAN EVER

Reports of Peace Cause Decided Drop, But Reaction Restores Tuesday's High Figures.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Feb. 3.—Peace rumors today dealt a sudden blow to the high price of wheat. At the outset as much as a cent a bushel was knocked off the value of the May delivery in which, however, transactions were relatively small. The July option in which business centered was given a setback of two cents at the opening. May sold as low as $1.37 whereas the close yesterday was $1.65. The break in prices, however, was only temporary and soon May wheat touched a new high record of $1.65. Fear of the opening of the Dardanelles had considerable to do with the wildness of the fluctuations in wheat. Reports that several of the chief forces defending the straits had been demoralized were not fully credited and did not have a lasting effect. During the break May reached for a moment as low as $1.56 3/4 a fall of 8 1/4 cents.

FULTON MARKET, ONCE AMERICA'S GREATEST FISH EXCHANGE, TO CLOSE

New York Board of Aldermen Adopts Resolution to Abandon Famous Place—Diverted Traffic Does Great Injury to Business—Brooklyn Bridge Has Death Blow to Trading Center in Existence for More Than Ninety Years.

New York.—The doom of Fulton market has been sounded, declares the New York Times. The board of aldermen recently adopted a resolution to abandon the famous place which, in its prime days, was the largest fish market, not only on Manhattan island but in the United States. As early as 1837 the possibilities of Fulton market as a great fish headquarters were well recognized and the wholesale fish market, now in existence, was established in the slip opposite the present market building. In late years most of the market has been confined to the large wholesale fish dealers, and there is no intention of doing away with this supplementary, but very important fish market.

Over two years ago the city officials discovered that Fulton market was costing the city more than it brought in. The health department condemned it as insanitary, and in January, 1913, Borough President McAnany and Controller Pranger recommended that the building be abandoned and the property turned over to the sinking fund commission. Considerable opposition was aroused from some of the old stall keepers, and no definite action was taken.

Meanwhile the old building has been getting worse. It was never properly repaired after the fire which destroyed most of the roof about three years ago, and in wet weather many of the stallkeepers found it necessary to use umbrellas to keep the rain from them and their meats, vegetables and cheeses. It would have been necessary to rebuild the market to put it in proper condition, and the city did not feel that the business warranted the expense.

Building Almost in Ruins.

The Fulton street side of the market today looks like a venerable ruin. Sections of the roof are entirely gone, the windows in the upper story are broken, the brick walls are crumbling and the sidewalk is a mass of mud. The big doors are nailed up, and as one views the red brick pile from the opposite side of the street, the appearance is dreary and miserable in the extreme. In its present condition the market is a real detriment to the business activity of the neighborhood.

The northerly, or Beekman street, side is the only portion of the market that still remains in use, with the exception of a few small fish stalls on South street, near the Beekman street section. Most of the occupants are wholesale fish dealers, and they will probably move out in a short time.

No action as to the disposition of the property has yet been made, but the suggestion of Controller Pranger two years ago is adopted. It will be sold, under a good opportunity offers to one or more buyers for commercial improvement. Although exempt from taxation, the market figures at a valuation of $450,000 for the land, on the assessment books. It covers a whole block, fronting over 100 feet on Front and South streets and about one hundred and seventy on both Fulton and Beekman streets.

Hurt by Shifting of Travel.

The opening of the Brooklyn bridge was one of the contributory causes of the decline of Fulton market. Its proximity to Fulton ferry made it for years one of the greatest retail markets in the city, but when the residents of Brooklyn used the bridge to the exclusion of the ferry, trade fell off rapidly. Then, a little later, the ferry itself was abandoned, and that practically cut away the last hope for retail business, and were it not for a few large wholesale fish and meat dealers who supplied the uptown hotels, the market would have been nearly empty years ago.

Fulton market is one of the oldest in New York city. It was the logical outgrowth of the ancient fly market, which stood from early Dutch times above Pearl street at the intersection of Maiden Lane and Liberty street. As early as 1815 the city corporation decided to move the fly market northward to the Fulton ferry, and in 1817 an act of the legislature authorized the city to buy the block now occupied by the market. Nothing was done until 1821 when a fire destroyed the collection of three wooden shanties on the spot, and steps were then taken to erect the market. A frame building but partly covered was erected, and it was formally opened on January 22, over ninety-two years ago.

The opening was not entirely successful, as it resulted in what amounted to a strike of the butchers against the city officials. The market committee advertised the stalls for sale by auction, but stipulated that none could be bought for less than one hundred dollars. The butchers of the old fly market had a strong organization in those days, and they presented a petition to the common council, stating that they were more than ready to buy, could pay, and that "the method adopted by the corporation of selling a nearly rent on the stands and at the same time in selling them by auction is novel, without precedent and altogether unjust."

Riot Caused by Butchers.

No attention was paid to this representation, and on December 18, 1821, the sale of the stalls at auction was held by James Bledgar, the most eminent auctioneer of his day. The butchers boycotted the sale. A cigar dealer, it is said, who did not know of the plan, bid for and bought the first stall offered. He was dragged by an angry crowd to the river and thrown in. The bids for the other stalls did not come up to the stipulated price, and the sale was abandoned, thus scoring the first victory for the butchers over the city.

The members of the common council then met the butchers to discuss the matter, and, although all of the restrictions were not removed, easier terms were made for the butchers, and at the next sale in the city hall, on January 3, 1822, all of the stalls were sold for a total of $18,585. George Manoll paid the highest price, $465, for the stall at the Fulton and South street corner. Later a number of small fruit and vegetable stalls were sold for thirty to sixty dollars apiece. In describing the opening day, January 28, one of the daily newspapers said:

"The Fulton market is the most spacious and costly one in the country. On the opening day it was ornamented with the handsomest exhibition of beef, mutton, pork, etc., ever presented to the public."

A few months later a premium exhibit for the best butter brought to the market was held there by the agricultural society. Mrs. Commodore Morris of the celebrated Morris family of Morrisania won the first prize, a silver pitcher, valued at $15. Mrs. Edward Leveridge of Newton, L. I., got the second prize, a silver milk pitcher, valued at ten dollars, and Mrs. Ray of Westchester won the third prize, a silver cup, valued at five dollars.

In 1823 the common council received one of the most singular petitions ever presented at that body. John Ezra Frost, the deputy clerk in charge of the market, Mr. Frost received $300 a year and his living rooms on the upper floor. His duties consisted in watching the market until ten o'clock at night, and a few months later he was required to watch the market all day Sunday until the same hour. He was a strict churchman, and in his petition he told the city fathers that he would have to resign, if not relieved from the duty of watching the market on Sundays. The council, in reply, with the words: "How can I do such work on the first day of the week and see against God?"

The members of the common council solved the problem by accepting John Frost's resignation.

Man Who Introduced White But.

About forty years ago the old structure was replaced by the present building, costing over $200,000. In 1871 it was damaged by a serious fire. Repairs were made, but a year later a more disastrous fire broke out in the tower at Fulton and South street and damaged the entire Fulton street side. The aged watchman, Charles Fulton, was burned to death. His name suggested descent from Robert Fulton and his friends had succeeded in making the old man believe it. From the effects of this last fire the market never recovered, and lack of attention has brought the old building to its present ruinous condition.

One of the best known of the many men who contributed to the fame and popularity of Fulton market was the late Eugene J. Blackford. Every one who knew anything about fish knew Blackford. The business he built up is still going on at the same stand and under the same name, although a member of the Blackford family is connected with it. Mr. Blackford was for years one of the fish commission men of the state and before he died, in 1904, it was said that he had supplied more hotels and clubs with fine fish than any other dealer in the country. He was chiefly instrumental in introducing into the New York market the white-hait, sea snappers and pompano. He assisted in establishing the batching station at Cold Spring Harbor, L. I., for fresh and sea water fish.

FEAR INDUSTRIAL BREAKDOWN

Socialist Organ Says Army of Starving is Greater Danger Than Army of Soldiers to Germany.

Copenhagen.—The Berlin Vorwarts, the Socialist organ, takes a pessimistic view of the German situation, as far as the economic position is concerned.

"The greatest danger," it says, "is not that Germany may be defeated, but that the war will take a long time. Germany's economic danger is that the English fleet will prevent the importation of cotton, silk, copper, oil, lead, rubber and other raw materials which are necessary to the continuance of Germany's industrial life and that therefore she will be compelled to close her factories."

"Already the number of unemployed is immense. If it is not possible to help this army of starving people it will become a greater danger than the danger of the military army's defeat."

OWING TO THE HIGH COST OF FLOUR

We are compelled to make a change in the style and size of our loaf bread and beginning Tuesday, February 2, will sell but one size.

20 Ounce Loaves For 10c

We believe this will be better than making 10 oz. loaves at 5c, a greater portion of which would be crust and would dry out much quicker. The 20 oz. loaves will easily keep two days and will go further than two of the smaller size. Tickets will be sold as heretofore, 20 for $1.00, and two tickets will be accepted for one of new size loaf. The public understands the great advance in flour, and we trust that all will appreciate the necessity for this slight change.

The former practice of greasing the tops of the loaf will be discontinued, being more sanitary.

GOOD SHOWING IS MADE IN CITY TAX PAYMENTS

Less Than $5,000 Remains on Books Out of Total of Over $70,000 For Year

Only $4,784.15 of 1914 city taxes of a total of $70,114.35 on the tax collector's books remains unpaid. This is considered an exceptionally good record.

City Tax Collector Harry F. Robertson reports $65,330.23 of 1914 taxes paid. Of this amount $59,987.53 was collected in January.

Dog tax to the amount of $269 was collected in January. Collections of pound fees amounted to $13, sewer rents $3928 and occupation taxes $158. Delinquent taxes to the amount of $84.25 were collected.

WICHITA FALLS LOBBY IS NOW ON GUARD AT AUSTIN

City Attorney Nutt and Alderman Young There to Work For Exemption For Law Special to The Times.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 3.—Horace Nutt, city attorney and Alderman J. Young of Wichita Falls are here today. These officials are here on the proposition to exempt Wichita Falls from the operation of the McNease anti-stream pollution bill, which is pending in the House.

The question as to whether or not Wichita Falls is under the provisions of this law, is not yet determined. Mr. Young and Mr. Nutt did not care to discuss their plans at present until they have had time to confer with Representative Haney and Senator Johnson on this proposition.

They will, however, insist that Wichita Falls be exempted from the operation of this act.

FEDERAL LICENSES FOUND IN RESORTS IN RESERVATION

Eleven Have Been Issued and Grand Jury is Making Investigation of Matter

Eleven internal revenue licenses for the sale of intoxicants have been issued to parties in the flat district, according to information obtained by local authorities from the internal revenue collector's office. The names of these persons are also in the hands of the authorities and it is understood that the matter is being investigated by the grand jury.

No county, state or city licenses have been issued to any one in this district and the new city charter ex-

NO LIQUOR LEGISLATION LIKELY AT THIS SESSION

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 3.—Present indications are there will be little if any liquor legislation enacted at this session of the legislature. Half a dozen bills have been introduced so far, but not one of them have been given consideration. There seems to be a general understanding in both branches not to agitate the liquor issue. The result is, according to many members, that business is being dispatched rapidly and there is a better spirit of harmony in evidence.

"THIRD HOUSE" IS LARGE AT AUSTIN THIS SESSION

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Feb. 3.—Never before in the history of the State has there been so many lobbyists as they are generally termed, members of the "Third House" in Austin during a legislative session, according to many legislators. There are over 200 already registered under a joint resolution requiring them to give their names, addresses and the character of legislation for which they are working. Those who fail or refuse to register are subject to expulsion from committees. There have been charges that many such lobbyists are in the capital and efforts are being made to "dislodge" them.

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

If I could,
If the world were mine I would give to you
One-half of the green and one-half of the blue;
You should have of ocean and land and sky
Exactly as much, my good friend, as I.

If only the gold of the world were mine
I would lump it all in its sheen and shine,
And cutting the smallest coin in two
Divide to a penny, my wealth with you.

If all life's good fortune were in my hold,
On your path, my friend, it would soon unfold,
You should share with me in the things that bless,
'Till naught could add to your happiness.

As I own no fraction of sea or land,
And gold is never within my hand,
I can only share, my friend, with you
The cheer of knowing what I would do.

Recipe For Mayonnaise of Elah in Ramekin.
This forms a delicious supper or luncheon dish. Either salmon, crab or lobster may be used and both the fresh cooked and canned varieties are equally good. Flake the fish in to small particles and to each cupful add one chopped dill pickle, one slice of minced green pepper, two tablespoonfuls of chopped watercress and the grated yolk of one hard boiled egg. Blend the ingredients thoroughly with a plain mayonnaise dressing that has been colored with a little spinach juice and fill into individual ramekins. Place a teaspoonful of the dressing on top of each and insert small stuffed olives in the tops.

NEW BRIDGE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. PINER AVIS

Mrs. Piner Avis was hostess to the regular session of the New Bridge Club Tuesday afternoon. The usual social game was enjoyed, the conclusion being Mrs. Leon Loeb winner of high score, the hostess favor being crepe de chine handkerchiefs. The Valentine motif was featured in the dainty score cards and in the luncheon service the refreshment feature consisting of a salad plate. Mrs. Avis' guests especially invited were Mrs. Bert Lintman, Miss Avis and Miss Hindman.

The club members present were: Miss Dent, Mesdames Cullinan, Fen-ton, Dent, Cravens, Moore, Harry Weeks, Inge, Larkin, Abe Marcus, Morris Marcus, E. L. Smith, T. J. Smith, Ed Poindor, Whitney, Loeb, Griffin, John O'Donahue.

POWELL VICTROLA CONCERT BY HARRISON-EVERTON CO.

An interesting prelude to the Maud Powell recital to be held here Feb. 15 under the auspices of the College of Music and the Musicians Club the Maud Powell Victrola concert held last night by the Harrison-Everton Music Company was highly enjoyable. The cream of Madame Powell's selections made for the Victor company was given and several of the leading musicians of the town were also on the program. A large number responded to the invitations sent out by the hosts and showed their appreciation of the excellent program which was prepared with hearty applause after each number. The program was as follows:
New Era March—Crown-Combinola.
(a) At the Brook; (b) Cavating (Victrola).
Rhapsodie Hongroise No. 11—Miss Kathleen Stonecipher.
(a) Le Cygne (The Swan); (b) Will o' the Wisp—Maud Powell (Victrola).
Violin solo, Ava Maria—Mrs. T. B. Greenwood.
(a) Salut d'Amour (Love's Greeting); (b) Polka Dance-Kujawiak—Maud Powell (Victrola).
Soprano solo, "Fly With Me"—Mrs. Walter Robertson.
(a) Spanish Dance (Op. 26 No. 8); (b) Dixie, Unaccompanied—Maud Powell (Victrola).

MISS HINCKLEY ENTERTAINS B. O. P.'S TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The B. O. P.'s were very delightfully entertained Tuesday afternoon at the suburban home of Miss Vera Hinckley. The usual diversions furnished amusement for sometime and music was also an enjoyable feature of the meeting. The hostess was assisted by her sister, Miss Della and her mother in entertaining and in the refreshment service. Delicious nut bread sandwiches, olives, pickles and hot chocolate were served, accompanied by a dessert course. Miss Stone was a guest of the club, also the hostess' mother and sister and the club members present were: Misses Annette Coffield, Hazel Pribe, Cora Belle Miller, Marion Crabtree, Mabel Williams, Tula Stokes, Virginia Andrews, Pauline Harris, Dorothy Yeager, Isola Marshall, Jewell Delaney, Mrs. Jim Elliott, Mrs. Kelley and the hostess, Rhoad Gardner.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN LADIES MEET AT CHURCH MONDAY

The Ladies Aid of the First Presbyterian church held a business meeting Monday afternoon at the church. A Bible study course to be taken up by the society was decided upon, the members being much interested in this phase of the work. Mrs. O. E. Maer gave a talk on the music of the Bible, taking illustrations from the Psalms and the Songs of Solomon. The attendance was unusually good.

WESTMINSTER GUILD MEETS MONDAY AFTERNOON

The Westminster Guild met in combined business and study session Monday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church. Ways and means of raising their amount of the organ fund were discussed and various plans suggested. Miss Jenks will present a juvenile "Mother Goose" play Feb. 19 in the church basement and other affairs being planned will be announced later. On the conclusion of the business session the program was carried out with Mrs. Montgomery as leader. "The Missionary Monks" was the subject, Mrs. Pechell led the topic for discussion in a very able manner, bringing out numerous excellent points. Mrs. Malone gave an interesting paper on "Boniface."

SOCIAL MEETING OF WESLEY GIRLS WITH MRS. HARTSOOK

Mrs. C. R. Hartsook was hostess to the Wesley Girls Tuesday afternoon in regular session. A meeting with this pleasant hostess always proves an unusually enjoyable and the meeting Tuesday proved no exception to the rule. Music and conversation was in order, also some little fancy work was engaged in. An appetizing cafeteria luncheon was served late in the afternoon. Guests present were: Mrs. J. M. Gillek, Fern Collins, Cole, Mrs. A. M. Hartsook and Mrs. Jeff Waggoner. Members were: Mesdames Rhoad Gardner, Lester Jones, John Chambers, Misses Alta Ruffner, Hazel Robison, the Cook, Zola Robertson, Gladys

Burgert, Alice Frazier, Myrtle Humphries and the hostess.

MRS. LEICHAUM HOSTESS TO ART LITERATURE CLUB

For the regular session of the Art Literature Club Mrs. T. J. Leicham was hostess Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. M. Blanchenship. Twelve members answered roll call with facts about Southern heroes and a discussion of the study course for the next year occupied the business session. The lesson was very ably led by Mrs. Delaney, the subject being "Honolulu." Mrs. G. W. Elgo read an interesting paper on "Southern Literary Life and Writers" and Mrs. Seruggs gave another paper telling "What Uncle Sam is doing in Road Building." The hostess served a salad course following adjournment of the club and Miss Louise Leicham rendered several highly appreciated instrumental selections. The members present were: Mesdames Bonn, Vilco, Burgess, Gebhardt, Harris, Kerr, Pressley, Blankenship, Rountree, Delaney, Leicham, Pridden and Seruggs.

MRS. T. W. SCOTT HOSTESS TO MODERN CROCHET CLUB

The members of the Modern Crochet Club were very pleasantly entertained Wednesday of last week by Mrs. T. W. Scott, 1402 Scott. The usual crocheting and conversation furnished the occupation for the afternoon and the hostess served a refreshment course of fruit jello with cake and coffee. Guests present were Miss Strigund of Gainsville, Mesdames Snoot, Hunter, Stengle, Misses Gene and Echo Stengle. Members present were: Mesdames Hammond, Colboth, West, Brooks, McCortney, Allen, Boone, Scott, Misses Daisy Brooks, Kate Bartle and Elizabeth Forsch.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework."

"The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pain any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the womanly system. If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

HAVE YOU EVER STUDIED PRUNES?

A very common article of food, but a very unusual one, too.

There are so many different ways in which prunes can be served—delightful dishes, too—that it will pay you well to sit down and study your cook book to see how many ways you can use them.

Remember, too, that prunes in themselves are a very unusual food—very hearty and wholesome, and being a laxative, they make a valuable addition to your weekly menu.

I have them in extra large size—30, 40—per pound 15c

War Brought Prosperity to Cuba.
"The European war," says a traveler recently arrived from that island, "has put money in the pockets of the Cubans, and they are good spenders." North American goods, liked by the Cubans, will find a better market there today than at any time since the founding of the Republic.

The sugar crop is better this year than it has been for many years. Not only is it larger than usual, but they are getting better prices for it than ever before. This is due to the European war, which has cut down the beet sugar crop of the continental countries. Beet sugar will go much higher than they are now in the estimation of many down there.
"In the ten years I have been working in Cuba I have never known the people so happy and prosperous. Certainly they have the money to spend, and it is waiting for the manufacturer who is willing to go into the trade."

Sales, Mentality Question.
One hundred years ago the famous American privateer General Armstrong met her doom in a heroic battle with three British warships. The engagement took place in neutral waters, in the harbor of Lissabon, belonging to Portugal, which fact resulted in a history, diplomatic controversy. President Madison took steps to compel Portugal to insist upon the inviolability and obtained the promise of an award, but later Louis Napoleon, to whom the matter was referred as arbitrator, reversed the award. Great Britain apologized to Portugal for the act of the British commander in attacking an enemy in a neutral port.

HOW TO AVOID MATRIMONY

Kind-Hearted Soul Offers Some Valuable Advice on the Matter, Without Charge.

To avoid getting married is a very easy matter, either for a man or a woman. If you are a man, frequent the dance, especially the coming-out dance. Stick to the debutante as men of liberal views stick to their opinions. Hang around conservatories when the music is playing soft and low, and where there are intoxicating odors. Hang around summer resorts and attend musical recitals. There are other things to do, but this should be enough.

For a woman to avoid matrimony is quite as easy. She should live in a college town, or Washington, D. C. She should cultivate those young men who wear yachting suits all summer and who know what to do with their hats on a piazza; who are good at buckling on skates, who ask if you have heard this and that, who would just as soon act as ushers at a wedding as not, who are perfectly willing to explain the game of baseball, who are willing to introduce other fellows.

That's all you have to do to avoid matrimony. But, in order to clinch the matter it may be well to add a few more words of advice.

Ladies! If a man comes along who will not talk baseball with you; who does not know anybody and does not want to; who does not even play bridge; who cannot even tell you who are the richest girls at the summer resort and just how rich they are; who never wears an usher at a wedding and never will be—pass him the ice pitcher! And do it quick! Then go and hide!

Men! When you see a girl who hasn't got a crowd around her; who wears no scalps upon her belt; who subscribes to the F-me Lady; who knows how to set a table for five in a cottage that cost $1,200; who can give an appropriate Halloween party. Beat it, my son! Beat it!—Puck.

Physical and Psychological.

Dr. Farill, lecturing before a social-service class in Chicago, said "the character of the man as a citizen often was dependent on the physical training he received." Yes, but his character was more dependent upon the moral training he had received. His environment; his studies, his associations, his methods of thought; the books he reads, the things he likes to talk about have more effect on his character than all the physical exercises he can pursue. Because sound muscles, nerves and organs are to be desired, they should not monopolize one's interest entirely. The vanity of the flesh very often leads to the undermining of one's life.

Building up the physical at the expense of the psychological is a disturbance of that equilibrium which means health. The tendency of the age is to disturb that equilibrium—to make the legs of a man the test of his mightiness, which was not the Lord's way, as the Psalmist remark. The right way, in the determination of those important relations, is to keep the soul just a little ahead of the body on its upward march.

Not Hard Cider.
Bacon—I see a man in the apple country has a lake of apple cider on his place.
Ezber—And do they skate on it?
"No; the cider's not hard enough for that."—Yonkers Statesman.

Not wishing to be misunderstood in the least, Mr. Stampff of the Cream Bakery requests the explanation that in referring to the twenty-ounce loaf it should be understood that this is using the baker's expression for classing the weight of bread. The loaf in reality weighs twenty-ounces when prepared for the oven, but sustains a slight loss in baking.

Ivan Murchison who has been confined to his home for several days with an attack of the grip, is considerably improved today.

There is going to be a change in Wichita Falls. Watch for announcement. 28 1/2 c

PEOPLES ICE COMPANY

At The Theaters

The Empress.
Sid Chaplin and Chester Conklin are featured in a two part Keystone. "Fishing the Scandal." Sid will in time be perhaps the superior of his famous brother, Charles and in this two part picture he is simply a scream. Irene Hunt and Wallace Reed are featured in "On the Ledge" a two part Romance drama.

The Majestic.
Master Key No. 4 is today's offering of interest. Increased action and a new setting makes this installment of the serial a masterful one. A George Ade comedy, "The Fable," of the Bush League Lover Who Failed to Qualify" and a Selig drama, "The Fates of Ryan" are also on the program.

The Lydia Margaret.
Kipp and Kippoy with their funny juggling act and Lavey and Gonne, both "big time acts" and the best of their kind will close a successful engagement at this theatre tonight. The picture program is about the average. Harry Millarde and Alice Hollister are seen in a two part Kalem. "The Mystery of the Yellow Sunbonnet." Mary Fuller plays in a Victor drama, "Vittorio" taking the part of a talented violinist.

Hilga Moran. A young violinist, desiring to play before a great manager, sends her card, only to be rebuffed by the office brat. She returns to the studio of her friends, and plays for them; they are fascinated, so much so that they forget the supper cooking on the stove. After the supper returns to the office.

The manager is looking for a man to play the lead in one of his productions. He is pestered by all sorts of types; song and dance men, an old opera singer, an old tragedian, who still think he can play the juvenile; the manager is almost mad with the pests. There comes into his office a beautiful girl with her violin; he would drive her out as he has the others, but she will not go. Instead she plays to him.

He is enchanted by the music; they fade from the office into a wonderful glade; he is sleeping at the base of a great oak tree. Suddenly the tree opens and out dances a Nymph; she inhales the fresh air, dusts off the flowers, plays with the rabbits, awakens the sleeping knight, then runs away. With Sir Knight in pursuit across fields and dale, up deep slopes, she romps with him in hot chase. Then back to the office. She finishes her recital; he falls to his knees enchanted. He offers her his all. She leaves him stunned, but she is engaged to think her music could affect a man so. She breaks her violin over his head and leaves.

The Gem.
A two part Lubin drama is the feature picture here today "Was His Decision Right," a compelling drama, the conclusion of which leaves the question, "was his decision right?" A synopsis follows:
Nance Alcott, driven by poverty, has become a "scarlet woman." A wealthy relative, dying, leaves a will stipulating that if Nance will remain unmarried any will come for a helplessly paralyzed girl a large fortune will be hers. Nance grasps the chance to lead an honest life and finds peace and happiness tending to the wants of the gentle cripple, Lily.

An elderly clergyman, who works to better the social evil, is the father of his sister's boy, who is rather incorrigible. The clergyman is downcast when he falls at reforming the young man. Jason, the nephew, motors to a country inn with some party companions and after leaving them saves the cripple girl from a pending death at the risk of his own life. He receives the gratitude of Nance and their friendship develops into love. The clergyman notices the change in the boy's life and character and learns that it is a woman who has caused the reformation. The older man goes with Jason to meet the woman, but by wishes to marry and is horrified to recognize Nance as a once "scarlet woman." She pleads with him not to tell the boy, as she realizes that it is the belief in her, purely that is keeping him straight, but the minister believes it is his duty to warn Jason. Nance begs for three days in which to prepare.

A Fine Remedy For Biliousness and Constipation

People all through this section are buying LIVER-LAX because it is a preparation of real herbs. It is a vegetable remedy that acts naturally and effectively, thoroughly cleansing the liver and bowels. It is easy to take and has none of the dangers and bad after effects of calomel. LIVER-LAX will get you right, keep you right and save you doubt. Sold in 50c and $1 bottles under an absolute guarantee. Every bottle bears the likeness of L. K. Grigsby. For sale by S. G. Morris & Co.

pare to take Lily and go away so that she need never come across Jason, and the minister agrees to keep silent until she has gone. Before the three days are up, however, Jason proposes and Nance, struggling against love, has to refuse. Lily hears the refusal and believes that Nance denies love because of the stipulation of the will. The clergyman is amused to receive a note, recently requesting him to come to Nance. He goes and learns that Lily, worshipping her caretaker, has killed herself that love may have full sway. The old man's heart is touched and his struggle with conscience begins. Can he do less for love than that poor child has done? Can he make her death or no—avail by tearing the lovers apart? He decides that he cannot and, though doubts assail him, he keeps silent and gives his consent to the marriage of Nance and Jason.

GOOD MUSICAL TALENT SECURED FOR "MODERN EVE"

Mort H. Singer, the Chicago theatrical producer, has secured the best musical talent in the world. The two foremost composers of Berlin, where the art of light opera has reached its highest development, are contributing to entertainments which bear the Singer name this season. They are Victor Hollaender and Jean Gilbert, whose names are linked together on the program of "A Modern Eve." The Chicago run of this attraction established it as the greatest musical comedy success of the decade.

Victor Hollaender was brought from Berlin by Mr Singer last spring under a special contract which guaranteed him weekly royalties far in excess of those he had been receiving in Germany. This was no trifling feat, it may be added, as for fifteen years Hollaender has been the most active and successful composer of light music in the German capital. He has retained supreme at the Metropol Theatre, where the best musical comedies of Berlin are staged, and has written so many scores that he finds it hard to remember all their titles at one sitting. The incidental music to "Sumurun" and "San-Lin" the latter a grand opera recently produced in London, are also among his works.

In "A Modern Eve" Hollaender received his first commission from Mr. Singer and it has proved so successful that he has taken up permanent residence in this country. Of the many melodious numbers which he has contributed to this musical comedy, "Is the Girl You Married Still the Girl You Love" stands out as the best "hit" in the country in years.

"BELIEVE ME" COMEDY IS TONIGHT'S ATTRACTION

The following was clipped from an Atlanta, Georgia, paper where the Billy Clifford company has just played:
"Billy" Single, Clifford and his minstrels dropped into town yesterday in a private car and committed a rather friendly assault on the art of acting at the Atlanta, while two crowded houses watched them do the trick. It was Billy's first appearance here in several years, but he appeared to his friends as being the same old jolly old fellow who made good with the Al-Fields minstrel aggregation twenty years ago and later drifted into vaudeville and musical comedy.

There wasn't much if any plot to "Believe Me," the non-sensical vehicle that he is using this year, but Billy is a "regular" fellow and he gets on good terms with his audiences and furnishes them with considerable amusement. "Believe Me" proved to be sort of a mélange of action and specialties with nothing in the way of a plot to bother one's brain or strain the imagination. The various vocal, instrumental and dance numbers were made to hang together by means of a light story centering about a crowd of young people at a seminary who were giving an entertainment. Billy does some blackface comedy, the first that he has pulled in a decade and was assisted in getting it over by "Musical" Walker, who also featured.

"That tells the story of the show. It was just a collection of refined vaudeville acts—most of them very good—with nothing to bother about. It was all fluffy and light with several girls properly gowned, frolicking about and clever little Mae Collins (red headed) but possessing a sweet disposition) leading the bunch. Her Scotch songs and stories, the girls' quartette, the violin and concert numbers and the dainty tango dance of Miss Collins and Clifford; the musical specialties of "Musical" Walker and the three Weston Sisters, all figured in the entertainment, while the lady orchestra, got across with some catchy, up-to-date music."

Clifford's lady band will parade and play a free concert in front of the Rexall Drug store at 12:30 noon.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Wichita Falls Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence
This grateful citizen testifies long ago.

Told of quick relief of undoubted benefit. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive. It forms convincing proof of merit. J. C. Dyer, shoemaker, Henrietta, Texas, says: "For several years I suffered a great deal from kidney complaint. Irregular action of my kidneys annoyed me and this constant drain caused weakness and lameness in my back. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a supply. After using them, I felt better in every way. My back stopped troubling me and my kidneys became normal. I still use Doan's Kidney Pills when I need a kidney remedy and they always benefit me. You may continue to use my former endorsement." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dyer had. TIN CANS

The ordinary one pound tin coffee can costs the Roaster five and one-half cents, and when empty is of no value except as an ornament (?) for the back yard. But the roaster who ships any considerable distance must use it in order that his products reach the consumer in even tolerable condition. As we roast every day it is not necessary for us to go to this expense.

It costs the roaster an average of seven cents per pound for advertising, traveling expenses, credit and book-keeping department, etc., to sell the products to the retailer who also must have a profit. WE PAY NO PROFIT—Between the Planter and Consumer—Does it not stand to reason that we can give you better value for your money, to say nothing of the superior drink quality of FRESH ROASTED COFFEE.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Feb. 3.—Among the more important matters to be acted upon at the present session of the legislature is the question of divorce. The Agricultural & Mechanical College at Bryan. In both branches of the legislature joint resolutions providing for constitutional amendments to this end have been introduced. The divorce resolution would provide in case the proposed amendment was adopted by the people, that the legislature at its first session thereafter shall make an equitable division of the state permanent endowment fund of the University between that institution and the college. Friends of the college at Bryan are in favor of the divorce, a cordial report here.
