PROPOSAL FROM GERMANY NOT TO BLOCKADE ENGLAND

Wants Letter To Stop Efforts To Prevent Foodstuffs Going To German Civilians

By Associated Press.
Washington, Feb. 15.—Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador today presented to the state department a note from his government announcing that Germany stands ready to consider receding from its announced intention of attacking British merchantmen if Great Britain will withdraw its efforts to prevent foodstuffs from going to Germany for the civilian population.

The note declares Germany's plan to attack British merchantmen was a retaliatory measure adopted because of the alleged violation of international law by Great Britain in trying to starve the non-combatant population and that the latter government is ready to withdraw from its purpose as expressed in the naval war zone decree as far as it applies to merchant vessels as soon as Great Britain, either of its own volition or as a result of representation from neutrals, expresses her willingness to return to the usual practices of international law in the question of foodstuffs.

The German note adds that the Berlin government has information that English merchant vessels are being armed and have orders to sail in groups for protection and further that they would try to sink submarines. It is declared there was now no question of searching them but the result would be that German ships would fight them because they are now held to be warships.

The note declares further that Great Britain, according to the information of Germany, intended to use neutral flags and that therefore neutral shipping would be in danger in the war zone. It was urged, however, that meanwhile neutral shipping observe the request of Germany and go around in the north of Scotland in the course which had been declared outside the war zone.

It was stated that the note received by the ambassador today from his foreign office and carried by him personally to the state department was not a reply to the recent American note to Germany in regard to the war zone decree. A more comprehensive and detailed reply to that communication is expected soon although it was not known officially here when it might be looked for.

Today's note from Germany, it was pointed out, constitutes a sort of intermediary reply, possibly presented to this government because of the fact that the date when the war zone decree goes into effect, is so close at hand.

DECISIVE BATTLE IN NORTH POLAND IS EXPECTED IN NEAR FUTURE

By Associated Press.
London, Feb. 15.—The threatened submarine blockade of the ports of the British Isle is still an absorbing topic for English newspapers and the English people and judging from dispatches reaching here from Berlin, Germany is equally interested. The report that James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, has been requested to meet Emperor William at once on the eastern battle front, is taken in London to mean that Berlin probably will make a prompt reply to the American note to Germany.

Of the great struggle in Poland, Galicia and Bukovina there is little new information. A decisive battle in northern Poland is looked for when the retreating Russians reach positions on which they decide to make their stand. In Bukovina another important contest is in progress. The long drawn out struggle in the Carpathians shows no signs of approaching an end. Both the Austrian and Russian war offices claim victories along this front.

ARTILLERY DUELS ALONG FRENCH LINE

LITTLE INFANTRY FIGHTING IS MENTIONED IN OFFICIAL PARIS STATEMENT

FIGHTING IN ARGONNE FOREST

Lorraine Is Also Scene of Encounter in Which Frenchmen on Skis Take Part

By Associated Press.
Paris, Feb. 15.—The French official statement this afternoon reads: "In Belgium yesterday the German bombardment of our trenches was uninterrupted. From the Great Dune our heavy artillery inflicted damage on the mortars of the enemy. We occupied for a distance of about 250 yards a German trench along the roadway from Bethune to Labasse. Yesterday saw very spirited artillery exchanges in the vicinity of Lens around Albert, between the Avre and the Oise, in the suburbs of Soissons and at Verneuil, to the northeast of Vailly.

"In the Argonne in the direction of Baginval and Marie Theresa the fighting still continues with energy from trench to trench, but there have been no movements of infantry. Between the Argonne and the Meuse an attempt at attack by the German forces at a point between the village of Milancourt and the forest of the same name was promptly repulsed. In Lorraine the enemy after being driven back by our advance guards succeeded in occupying Signal Hill and the village of Norrey. A counter attack on our part drove the Germans back as far as the northern declivity of Signal Hill where they still are holding their positions in some trenches.

"In the Vosges the German offensive movement which began along the two banks of the River Lanch was not pursued yesterday on the south bank. The enemy also bombarded our positions on the north bank of this stream. The Germans are being held in check by us in front of our advance line at Langenfeld-kouf in the forest of Rempach. French troops on skis have executed a very brilliant counter attack against the German position on the sides of the mountain at this point. Yesterday afternoon a very heavy snowstorm blew over this locality."

FLOODS CAUSING DAMAGE IN ITALY

MANY STREAMS ARE OUT OF BANKS AND HEAVY RAINS CONTINUE

DAMAGE IN VATICAN QUARTER

Historic Bridges Are Under Water. Tiber More Than Fifty Feet Out of Its Banks

By Associated Press.
Rome, Feb. 15.—Italy having just passed through a period of grave anxiety as a result of destruction by earthquakes now is facing a new peril in the form of floods. Everywhere streams are out of their banks due to heavy rainstorms which have continued for several days. In Rome the River Tiber is more than fifty feet out of the normal banks and is rising at the rate of two inches an hour. The weather early today showed no signs of clearing.

The Vatican quarter is generally flooded. Milo's bridge, built over 100 years before Christ and water also surrounds the imposing Basilica of St. Paul's.

The Sublicus bridge, the structure supposed to have been defended by Horatius and two companions is also under water.

The flood waters in the streets around St. Peter's have risen to a height of four feet and eleven inches. Several walls have collapsed but without serious consequences.

WAR TO COST ALLIES $10,000,000,000; ENGLAND IS FINANCED FOR FIVE YEARS

By Associated Press.
London, Feb. 15.—In a statement explanatory of the arrangement made at the recent conference between finance ministers of France and Russia and himself in Paris, David Lloyd-George told the House of Commons this afternoon that the expenditures of the allies on the war would be 2,000,000,000 pounds sterling ($10,000,000,000) of which Great Britain was spending more money than were her two allies. Great Britain, he said, could finance the war for five years out of the proceeds of her investments. France was able to do so for about two or three years with something to spare. Russia, he said, although prodigiously rich in natural resources, was in a different position. He said that it was decided at the conference of the finance ministers in Paris to issue a joint loan.

OVERTURES TO ITALY TO JOIN IN WAR REPORTED PLANNED BY GERMANY

By Associated Press.
Rome, Feb. 15.—The Idea Nazionale today published a forecast of German proposals to Italy which reads as follows: "Before the end of February Prince Von Beulow will present to the Italian government a concrete proposal for Italian participation in the war on the side of the Germans. "This consists of the cession by Austria of the province of Trente and the rectification of the eastern Italian frontier. In exchange Italy is to take part at once in the war. She will occupy Tunis and help Turkey drive the English from Egypt which will return under the dominion of the Sultan of Turkey. In addition the Italian fleet will attack the Anglo-French naval forces in the Mediterranean."

At the conclusion of one of his conversations with an Italian statesman, Prince Von Beulow made use of this phrase: "Either Italy will be friendly toward us or we will treat her worse than we are treating England."

HOUSE ENGROSSES DISTRICTING BILL

MEASURE PASSES WITH ONLY TEN VOTES IN OPPOSITION TO IT

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

Texas Cities Organize To Fight Bill Creating It—Several Bills Reported

By Associated Press.
Austin, Feb. 15.—When the House engrossed the Highway-Griggs Bill today providing for the redistricting of the State for eighteen congressmen, the action was considered miraculous because of the almost unanimous favor which the bill met. An effort has been made every session of the legislature for several years to get congressional redistricting but the proposition always met defeat.

The bill came out of the committee with the unanimous support of the committee and went through the House with only one amendment being made to it and with only ten votes opposing its passage.

The measure provides for two additional districts, each being without any of the present congressmen. The eighteenth is the Panhandle district in which resides Speaker Woods who is slated for Congress from that district. In the seventeenth reside Judge Wagstaff, Senator Breisford and Arch Grinnan who are in a receptive mood for a ticket to the national capital.

The only amendment adopted to the original bill was one changing Grimes and Montgomery counties from the eighth district to the seventh district. The bill will give West Texas two additional members in Congress and promises to add that many to the prohibitionists in that body.

Austin Man Almost Gets Personal With Wichita Falls Folks

While in Austin last week City Attorney Horace Nutt and Councilman T. Young saw a popcorn wagon resplendently painted. Walking up to it Councilman Young asked the man in charge: "How much license do you have to pay?" "Three dollars and seventy-five cents a year," the man in the wagon answered. "It costs $1.50 a year up in Wichita Falls," Mr. Young volunteered. "Yes, I've been told about those grafting councilmen up there," replied the popcorn vendor. The two Wichitans walked on.

BERLIN COMMENT ON AMERICAN NOTE

THINK THAT TO LONDON MUCH Milder Than One To Germany

SOME SUGGESTIONS OFFERED

Two Ways Are Mentioned For This Country—Neutrals Urged To Defend Their Rights

By Associated Press.
Berlin, Feb. 15.—Berlin newspapers continue commenting today on the recent diplomatic exchanges by the United States and Great Britain and Germany concerning the protection of American shipping on the coast of the British Isles. Generally, they characterize the American note to Great Britain as mild compared with the note to Germany, but they make use of this note to support their contention that Great Britain is to blame for the situation. Kreuz Zeitung says:

"The American note properly takes the British government to task for the contemptuous misuse of the American flag, a course which menaces the safety of neutral shipping. Therefore, it is more difficult to understand what the American government wants of us. The German people will not be able to forget either the questions addressed to us, or the form of their asking. Our position has not changed in the slightest degree since Feb. 4."

Two Ways Suggested.
"The United States has two ways to protect herself from harm. The first is to stop Great Britain's misuse of the American flag and the second is to keep her ships and people and contraband out of war out of the zone. If she adopts this method she will not only avoid harm but bring quick end to the war." The Lokal Anzeiger says:

"It is evident the United States is pressing the matter with the same firmness in London as in Berlin. The British have now been told fairly and squarely that the entire responsibility is on them; if American lives or property are sacrificed through misuse of the flag, there is no difference in the tone of the two notes."

"The Kreuzzeitung has a different opinion and calls the American note to Great Britain notably different from the German. 'It is soft and flimsy like tone.'"

London Declaration Cited.
The Tages Zeitung says the United States in its note to Great Britain "with helpful hands" has opened a "convenient door of escape." This paper says it does not understand why neutral powers will not see they are saving off the ranch on which they sit when they do not protest with all the means at their disposal at this juncture of a war which has such forebodings their destruction.

"Why do not the neutrals, with the United States at their head, demand of all the warring parties that they follow the London declaration in all its particulars?" In that event the British North Sea blockade would become inoperative. The contraband question would be controlled internationally and the course of action Germany intends to pursue after February 18 would no longer be necessary. "The United States should take this step," says the Tages Zeitung in expression of the reason that the express purpose of the declaration of London is the protection of rights of neutrals."

Full Long Tunic Still Holds Place In Fashion Demands For Spring

New York, Feb. 15.—Full skirts have undoubtedly come to stay for a while at least. For all that, there is no reason why the woman with several long tunic skirts in her wardrobe should be discouraged, for they have not been discarded by any manner of means. A number of the large French dressmakers are using them this year with great success and in such a way that the ingenious woman may follow their examples with her old skirts.

For instance, the new tunic skirts are very long, much longer than those of last year, showing scarcely more than one or two inches of the lower skirt beneath; but to offset this, which looks rather difficult when your last season's long tunic showed at least six inches of a lower skirt, yokes are very much the rage and by attaching a tunic to a yoke it will be long enough to suit this season's requirements.

If the dress you wish to remodel is of silk, or a summer fabric, a very simple way of modernizing it is to add a lower section of two or moreuffles, according to the width of the ruffles and the depth of the lower skirt which shows. I saw a very pretty taffeta dress the other day which had been made with a flaring tunic, and a very tight lower skirt. The owner of the dress made the lower skirt wide by inserting a triangular piece of the material into the back seam. Two ruffles she made of the same taffeta, with narrow hems machine hemstitched. These were placed on the foundation skirt, and of course, the pleating was broken and joined below the long tunic. The dress was very smart and looked as though it might have been designed this season instead of last.

With a little forethought and a careful studying of new designs to be seen in the fashion magazines or fashion sections of the newspapers many an old dress whose style is hopeless can be made into an up-to-date garment which will give a great deal of pleasure.

In my first illustration I have shown a dress whose lines are simple enough to suit the most conservative tastes and yet are so smart that wherever the town is seen the wags or would pass as a well dressed member of society. The model is developed in Belgian blue ribbed material, light of weight and suited to the skirt whose wide tucks give an effect of deep hems in a flounced skirt.

News from Paris says that sabots are continuing to be very smart. It has the qualities which should endow it to the American mind, for it is serviceable and practical and comes in all the known shades, from navy blue, black, white, to all the shades of tan and gray.

Yokes, large and checks small are being shown for the spring suits. In my illustration I have shown a trim little suit with a diagonal black and white check. The coat is made somewhat on Norfolk lines, with a six gored skirt cut the short ankle length, to which length all skirts should be cut to have the proper style this year. Instead of shoes, to be distinctly up to Paris styles, boots should be worn with a walking dress of this character. Russian boots they are called, they button or lace up the sides and wrinkle in a mousquetaire fashion.

Empire lines are shown in everything. Suits are made short waisted, with full peplums hanging from the belt. Tailored frocks are made short waisted, with a wide or narrow belt, which is attached on its upper-line only and hangs from its lower edge, giving a boxed effect. The evening dresses are made distinctly after the gowns of the Empress Josephine's period, the waists just coming below the bust and the skirts longer and fuller than those of her time, but clinging gracefully to the figure.

Striped taffeta skirts have jackets of satin matching some color in the stripe. Voiles is used extensively and usually trimmed with bands of taffeta. Sand-colored voile skirts have brown taffeta jackets.

Lunette is an American made fabric which takes the place of the Georgette crepe, which is made abroad and has become very scarce since the war. Whole dresses are made of it, especially for evening wear, and it is most attractive and more durable than chiffon. There is an indestructible voile which is very much like chiffon that is also used a great deal. It comes in all the beautiful old fashioned designs, in Dolly Varden and Dresden designs, as well as in the large figured effects.

Plaid fabrics are having a renewed vogue in Paris, although they are considered a novelty rather than a staple fabric. Black is naturally very stylish as would be expected, when one thinks that all France is in mourning. After black comes white. White evening coats are considered very fashionable, also coats of white crepe and tulle for the separate coat. Black and white combined is also very good and largely featured, and in its train purple and gray—in fact, all the mourning and semi-mourning colors—are having a vogue which they will probably not have until another war.

New uniforms have been made for the French soldiers of a new shade of blue; naturally that means it is immediately copied for costumes for women. This color, together with the khaki colored field cloth, are used extensively for tailored costumes, especially if they follow ever so slightly the tendency toward the military.

Red, also a military color, but in a new brick shade, is being used a great deal, while the national colors of Belgium—red, yellow and black—are being combined again and again into frocks and suits.

Small hats are the vogue in Paris. They are loved too well by the Parisians to be quickly discarded. Trim little hats of oil cloth to match cuffs and belt are worn extensively with tailored suits. The small hats are directly covered with flowers are used far more elaborate occasions. Tailored hats are being trimmed with ribbons, and give them a distinctly new look.

Large hats are slowly creeping into view, and will no doubt hold the people for summer, especially the old time shape trimmed with flowers and velvet ribbon streamers.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT WASHINGTON

COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

January 28th, 1915.

To the Board of Directors.

Gentlemen:

The granting by some banks of accommodations in the form of OVERDRAFTS is objectionable and cannot be countenanced by this office.

This practice should cease entirely. To facilitate the accomplishment of this result, the subject has been taken up by this office with the banking departments of various states, and these authorities have generally agreed to take the necessary action to secure the effective cooperation of State banks in attaining the end desired.

You are requested to adopt a resolution directing that no officer or employee of your bank shall pay or charge to the account of any depositor any check of such depositor when there are not sufficient funds on deposit to the credit of the drawer of the check.

Please forward a certified copy of the resolution to this office as soon as it has been adopted. Let the resolution show the names of the directors present at the meeting.

Please acknowledge receipt without delay.

Respectfully,

JNO, SKELTON WILLIAMS,

Comptroller.

The above is an exact copy of letter received from the Comptroller of the Currency. We are going to be required by our respective Banking Departments to live up to this policy and we are going to ask our customers to help us fulfill the above requirements by keeping track of their Bank account, and not issuing checks until they have the funds on deposit to pay same, as we will be compelled to refuse to pay overdrafts.

It is embarrassing to your Banker to have to return checks. However, we feel that we cannot do otherwise unless you have funds on deposit with which to pay your checks. This will be effective March 1st, 1915.

At The Theaters

The Wichita Theatre

Maud Powell, violinist, gives a concert tonight at this theatre, her appearance being under the auspices of the College of Music and Art and the Musicians Club.

The Lydia Margaret Grace and Ernie Forrest open with a dancing and musical act tonight at the Lydia Margaret for the first part of this week. The other act on the new bill is "The Fashion Plate Girls" Pearl and Irene Sans, in a charming act. They sing a number of songs, both modern and old fashioned. Paul and Bush is featured in "Star of the Sea," and a comedy completes the program.

The Empress

Fay Tincher, noted as the comic "steno" of Mutual fame, wears the most striking costumes of any actress. Her funny clothes and her ludicrous makeup have made her one of the funniest of the screen comedienne. She and Eddie Dillon are seen in "The Record Breaker" at the Empress today. Also on the program is "The Sage Brush Country" with William Hart and Rhea Mitchell.

The Majestic

Kathleen Willis and Wheeler Oakman are featured in a Selig drama "Until Death Do Us Part." Miss Williams is exceedingly lovable in this picture. Elms Milford and Bigelow Cooper are featured in a pretty Edison Christmas drama, "On Christmas Eve." Santa Claus' identity is never more gratefully revealed than in the Morris home, when the old grandfather who had been cast adrift from the home stood as a "Street Corner Santa Claus," returned and is welcomed home. A lesson is taught in this film, that of economy and kindness to the aged parents to be practiced by young people.

The Gem

Alice Joyce and Guy Coombs are featured in a two-part drama, "The Price of Silence." Robert Connors is featured also in an Edison drama, "The Man Who Vanished," by Felix Boyd.

The vault of the Trinity Trust Company was to be blown that night by the Wykoff gang. Boyd has the tip and instructs Jimmie Coleman, a central office man, what to do. Boyd's tailor shop, fronting on an alley, is the point of attack, and Boyd, in disguise, Coleman and detectives steal up to the place after dark with Boyd gaining admission along with Coleman by saying he had a message from the boss, Wykoff. Broger is tied and gagged, and the two sleuths find and open a trap door behind the counter, and descend to the basement. They feel their way along a tunnel. Just as they come to a lead-off, there is a terrific explosion, and when the upheaval settles, they discover that the bottom of the Trinity Trust building's vault is blown out. Along the main tunnel come Wykoff and two of his gang. Boyd and Coleman dash from the lead-off, but the master criminal makes good his escape.

The next day, Coleman asks Boyd how he had gotten a line on this attempt to rob the vault.

It seems that Boyd, knowing he was being watched by some gang, resorted to disguise. Noting a spy enter Broger's shop, Boyd, feigning a business errand, learns of the trap behind the counter.

On meeting a friend, Sanderson, he is told a strange story. An acquaintance, Kramer, had asked Sanderson to put in his box, containing negotiable bonds, in the vault over Sunday. In the box was a costly clock from Kramer's fiancée, and this decided Sanderson to put the box in the vault. Boyd went to Kramer's office in the Trinity building, and entered with a skeleton key. The office had been left for good and in the rubbish, Boyd came upon an old clock case from which the works had been taken. His guess about an infernal machine was correct.

Coleman now understood how Boyd got his line on the plot to rob the vault.

THE GERMAN WOUNDED.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—(By wireless to Sayville, L. I.)

The Germans are terrifically systematic about their care of the wounded. All their men found on the battlefield receive a "first aid dressing." Each is tagged with a card, which indicates whether he is badly hurt or not. From the battlefield the wounded men are gotten back to the field hospitals or to headquarters. A man may be badly wounded and yet be back on his feet in three months. Good pure blood is what helps the soldier through—his wounds heal easily after antiseptic dressings. It is well for everybody to put the blood in good order. Don't trifle with health. It's too precious a possession.

It is trifling to neglect the little every day kind of ailments. It is trifling, too, to take medicines of unknown or doubtful ingredients. If your stomach gets out of order, your food is not digested and, of course, your blood gets thin and you become weak, ready to be a prey to the disease germs always ready to attack the run-down and the anemic. If your liver can't do its work, your blood becomes impure and many troubles follow. If your bowels are irregular, poisons accumulate in your body.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (in tablet form) helps the stomach to digest food properly, strengthens the liver, regulates the bowels. As a consequence you are vigorous, full of snap and life. Fifty years ago Dr. Pierce discovered that a glyceric extract of Golden Seal and Oregon grape root, of queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark would aid all the digestive organs to work as Nature intended they should. Thousands have found that the Golden Medical Discovery he introduced to the world has restored them to health when suffering from stomach and liver troubles. Now is the time to try this famous remedy.—Adv.

MAN'S CERTAINTY OF REAPING HARVEST

WILL BE SURE TO GATHER WHAT HE SOWS PASTOR DE CLARES

SUNDAY NIGHT SERMON TOPIC

Says Certainty That Harvest Will Follow Planting is Universal Law

The familiar text from Galatians 6:7—"Whatever a man sows that shall he also reap"—was the basis for a sermon on "Sowing and Reaping" by Rev. C. C. Smith at the First M. E. Church, Sunday evening. He said that this sentence was a universal law from which there is no escape, and pointed out what sort of harvest people may expect to reap from some of the things that are being sown today. He said in part:

"This is a very familiar text and is often used as a basis for sermonizing and yet because of its peculiar forcefulness and its immediate truthfulness it can never be exhausted or cease to be of interest to the thoughtful. Manifestly this principle is true, has always been true and will always be true. It is a universal law from which there is no escape. The apostle does not say just when the reaping shall take place. Some of it may be very soon, the rest some day. Some times the harvest may be delayed but the sower shall reap in kind for his sowing. It is true not because it has found expression in the Holy Word but the reverse—it has found a place in the Bible because it is true. Truth springs from the seed of nature and being of God and therefore we can expect no change unless God cancel his nature. Two times two equals four. This is true for all thought in any realm and in any age and it was true before finite thought formulated it into mathematical formulae. It is a mathematical truth to its appearance in history but we can not give a date to its birth.

"We say that on the thirty-first day of October 1517 Martin Luther nailed his famous theses to the door of the church declaring among other things that the pope shall live by faith. But this truth is older than Luther. It is older than Paul; it is older than man; it is as old as the infinite. We may mark epochs in man's dealing with truth but we can not fix the age of a truth. So this law expressed in the form of a spiritual principle is a certain condition but rather it is a law, written in the very nature of things by the hand of God. It is not a law of a special case, it is a fixed principle from which we can not escape in all the universe.

"The teacher of the present day as the seedling for the eternal harvest. This life is but the dawning hours of a harvest. On the lawn of a beautiful day there are a few moments of golden glow before the full sun of the day is set. But in the bursting of the eternal day which all glory we can not see. Our harvest has not developed here. This life is far too short for the maturing of the best there is in us. For example, a mother's love so great a blessing to arrive at maturity in the ten years allotted to this life. All that is best within us demands a better and a longer day in which it may come to full fruition. This is just a short day for sowing seed for the harvest which we shall reap.

Depends Upon Seed.

"The quality of our harvest depends upon what we sow. We can not reap wheat from rye. Suppose I should approach a farmer out in the field busy with sowing and ask him, what are you sowing? He answers, I am sowing oats. Again I ask, what do you expect to reap? What would he think of such a question? Unless he knew I was joking he would think I was insane or a fool. But this is declared to be a universal law. If I approach a man who is swearing, drinking, gambling, sinning in any way and ask him, what do you expect to reap from your sowing what must he answer? The common thought is not that the law is false but that we can dodge the law. But it is God's law administered with infinite wisdom, and it will be hard to dodge. The farmer sows in hopeful anticipation. He is looking to a harvest. From how much of our daily moral life can we joyously anticipate a harvest? If the farmer could not sow in hope he would not sow at all. Better

Smith, Misses Young, Ball and Hickman, Mesdames Kay, Bell and Guthrie or Lampasas were the guests.

A number of young people enjoyed an informal dance at the home of Mrs. M. M. Adickes Saturday evening, and the guest list included the friends of Miss Adele Adickes and Clyde Smith.

For several reasons the meeting of the Civic League with the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning has been postponed; members please take notice.

Mrs. S. H. Burnside left last night for Austin where she will attend the meeting of the executive board of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Burnside will be the guest of Mrs. E. E. Bramlette for this week.

Mrs. Frank Montgomery of Holiday is the guest of her aunt Mrs. T. E. Dobson.

Mrs. Bertha Wright of Knoxville, Tenn. is expected to arrive the latter part of the week for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. T. E. Dobson, 900 Austin.

The Wesley Girls will meet Tuesday afternoon with Miss Gladys Burgett.

that we should do our moral sowing with restraint than that we should sow to the wind. Sowing always looks to a harvest.

"The modern scientific farmer is very careful as to his seed, both as to quality and condition. The selection and care of seed is made a matter of careful scientific study today. Before the farmer sows his oats he carefully fans and screens them so as to rid them of weed seed and defective and undersized kernels. He sows only good grain and looks to a good harvest for his sowing. How quickly would this world be changed into a veritable garden of Eden if all humanity should recognize the validity and universality of this law, and be as careful with moral sowings as is the farmer with his seed.

The Law in Various Realms.

"This law operates in every realm of life. It is the foundation of the law of heredity. How many parents there are who must look upon defective children and know that had they lived right their child would have been physically sound. It is this same law that makes possible the selection of superior specimens until a superior grade is developed. The law holds equally in the realm of physiology. In no simple matter as diet it plays an important part. For example a child in the school order that he may do normal work must be well nurtured in our city schools over the land it has been proven that much backwardness and incorrigibility are related to diet. A certain group of pupils that could not make normal advancement many of whom were hard to control were separated from the others and nourished on properly cooked foods for a time. In a short while they showed marked improvement both in grades and discipline and came to do normal work as well as others in the school. If we sow malnutrition in childhood we must reap low mentality and dispositions to incorrigibility. Here is a true work of philanthropy to solve this problem of insufficient feeding on the part of many children in our land. It would be a work of true philanthropy for mothers clubs to give attention to cooking with this matter in view and organize themselves together for the abolition of the soda biscuit as a steady diet. Most children can stand an occasional dose of soda biscuit and bacon grease but to be shut up to it three times a day for 365 days each year means low mentality and well as poor bodies. The law asserts itself in this realm very emphatically.

The Mental and Moral Field.

"The law is very especially manifested in the mental and moral world. The thoughts that we entertain are like seeds sown in the ground soon to spring up and bear a harvest. Our conversation reveals our thoughts. Chattering mere nothings shows that we think nothing. We sow a thought and reap conversation like. The thought. Feed the brain nothing and we must look to barren fields of nothing for a harvest. Cram the brain with trash and we look in vain for wheat. Read vicious novels and associate with low characters in literature and we reap a harvest of that sort of character. Live with the artifacts of the movies and you become in character like them. Why will we revel in association in books and in the shows with characters whom we would not think of inviting in our home and mingling with in actual social life? Many young people are getting their character ideals from the picture shows and it is telling on society. If the body fall because of malnutrition how shall the brain thrive on such stuff? What sort of soul growth can we hope for with such food? The body may stand an occasional dose of soda biscuit and bacon grease and survive. According to the mind and soul may stand a little of this sort of character stuff and survive but it is a weed spot sown in the otherwise clean field and must be harvested. It is impossible that we should think on such stuff and not reap a harvest. We find ourselves brought gradually to a disregard of moral principles and find ourselves falling in the finer choices of life that tend to real happiness here and to a harvest of joy in the hereafter. We must always remember that we are responsible for what we might be. God gives us good seed to sow and demands that we use it. God's Irrevocable Law.

"This then is God's Irrevocable law. Sow a thought and reap an act. Sow an act and reap a habit. Sow a habit and reap character. Our thought crystallizes into realities and we are morally about what our thoughts have made us. Sow kindness and reap friendship. Be a neighbor and have many neighbors in turn. Sow hatred and reap enemies. Sow lust and reap corruption. There is no end to the list. It is God's law and it is a good law because we are privileged to sow the beautiful and the good and reap accordingly."

ATTEMPT MADE TO BURN LUMBER SHEDS AT ESTELINE

(Memphis Herald)
Last Friday night at Esteline an attempt was made to burn the old sheds and offices of the Cameron Lumber Company, now the property of the Cicero-Smith Lumber Company, and only the prompt discovery of the fire averted a disastrous conflagration. A hole had been chipped through the wall of the office, the incendiary being unable to force open a door, had a quantity of gasoline or other inflammable substance poured in and set on fire. The attempt was made early in the night when the stores were still open and a great many people on the square, otherwise the fire might have gained more headway and destroyed several buildings. While no arrests have as yet been made, the local officers have some strong clues and an arrest may be made any moment. If the guilty party or parties are apprehended they should be given a free trip over the road and a vacation at the state boarding house at Huntsville.

States, but to the fact that she can't get supplies. Does Mr. Flusche believe for a minute that were Germany, instead of England in control of the seas, the American manufacturers and exporters would at once shut up shop and refuse to sell to her? But Mr. Flusche prefers to blame the United States because England's fleet is more powerful than that of Germany.

The Associated Press is publishing just what news the warring countries give it. Germany can send her own war news, uncensored and unaltered, to the United States by wireless, and she is doing so. The Associated Press made frantic, but unsuccessful efforts, in the first days of the war, to get the news out of Germany, until that country woke up to the fact that it might be to her advantage to tell her side of the affair.

Editors aren't lynched and newspaper plants are not wrecked, for failing to tell the truth. Whenever you hear of an editor being lynched or attacked or his plant wrecked, Mr. Flusche, put it down that he has been telling some mighty unpleasant truths about some folks.

The Independence League to which Mr. Flusche refers is an organization of German-Americans who feel pretty much like Mr. Flusche does about the shipping of arms. They don't want America to ship supplies because she can't ship them to Germany. The protest from Germany which Mr. Flusche mentions, did not reach The Times. Americans in Germany no doubt have to depend for their information upon the same sources that Mr. Flusche secures his from, and in all fairness, it's just about as hard for a German editor to be nice to the English as it is for an English editor to be nice to the Germans.

DENIES HERSELF TO VISITORS

Requires Absolute Rest in Preparation for Appearance—Accompanist is Texan

Everything looks so new and wonderful out here, like you had just grown up by electricity. It all seems so busy and up to date.

This was the estimate of Wichita Falls by Madame Maude Powell, the violinist whose appearance at the Wichita Theatre tonight has been so eagerly awaited by the music lovers of Wichita Falls and vicinity.

Madame Powell, who came in from her home in New York, took a walk over the city. This afternoon she is remaining close in her room, denying herself to all callers, so as to get the absolute rest which she requires.

As she talked, Madame Powell constantly gesticulated with her hands. Small, thin hands, with fingers long and slender, they were. Next to her hands one is apt to notice her eyes; great big brown eyes that look right through a person.

Madame Powell waits on herself for the most part; unless most artists she carries no maid although she said she would like to have a complete room attendant to look after her.

She has found audiences in the Southwest very appreciative and sympathetic, she says, and evidence of admiration of her playing.

Madame Powell is a most pleasant, entertaining person to talk to and judging from the interview accorded a Times representative this morning, she is considerably less temperamental than most artists of her standing.

With Madame Powell are her husband and manager, H. Godfrey Turner, a pleasant spoken Englishman who Everyone in Wichita Falls should see this great photo revelation. Is the greatest moral lesson ever screened. Absolutely nothing in the picture that could cause the slightest offense to anyone. We guarantee that. No children under fourteen years of age admitted.

Facsimile of Letter received from the censors in Fort Worth, Texas

To Whom It Concerns:

We wish to advise that we have witnessed the production of the film entitled "Damaged Goods" and that same has been passed with our approval. The only requirements we make are that it will not be shown to mixed audiences and that children under fourteen years of age will not be admitted. This picture deals very largely with the problems of the social evil and in our opinion teaches a great moral lesson.

Yours Very Truly,

(Signed)

MRS. J. MORGAN WELLS,
MRS. W. F. STEWART,
W. M. MASSIE,
Board of Censors.

GLOBE TROTTER TO SPEAK AT LYDIA MARGARET TONIGHT

A special attraction at the Lydia Margaret tonight will be a lecture from Andrew G. Haight, globe trotter from New York, now touring the world on a wager. He arrived in the city Saturday night and Manager Wren of the Lydia Margaret Theatre contracted with him to deliver a series of lectures at this place, beginning tonight. Mr. Haight left New York August 5, 1912 and is now in his 27th State, having traveled 29,000 miles already, 5000 miles of this being covered on foot.

SALOON IS BURGLARIZED; BOTTLES OF WHISKEY TAKEN

WHISKEY AND LEAD CAUSE DEATH OF OLD PAINTER
(Quannah Tribune Chief)
An old painter named Brownell died of lead poisoning at the Frizzell sanitarium Wednesday. It seems that he had a gollon jug of whiskey and finding it too unhandy, he poured part of it into a small paint can, in the bottom of which was a small amount of paint. After emptying the jug he proceeded to drink the whiskey out of the can and developed lead poisoning with above results. He came here from Colorado Springs several weeks ago and had been engaged in painting the Quannah hotel. A telegram was sent to the painters union of that city, of which he claimed to be a member, and they wired that he was a member there but was not affiliated with that union. Having no relatives he was buried in the local cemetery at the expense of the county. He was about 70 years of age.

After all, it's the old, old songs of childhood that bear the test of time as to charm and sweetness. This is the opinion of Miss Irene Sans. "It is based on the fact that the most popular numbers of her song repertoire at the Lydia Margaret this week is a little lullaby, "Put Me in My Little Bed." "Mother used to sing it to me and Sister Pearl when we were tots," said Miss Sans. "We never knew what power it would have with an audience until on one occasion we tried it as an encore." New Year's Resolutions

We make them and we break them but there is one resolution that we should make and keep and that is to trade at home. Every merchant and business man living in the city of Wichita Falls is dependent upon you for patronage. Without you they could not exist. Without them you could not have the fine city that you do—In trading at home, however, you must demand equal values, dollar for dollar, that you would get in Dallas or St. Louis. With a fair comparison I will guarantee you are getting that. Should for the business men of your city can buy just as cheap in Eastern markets as Dallas men can and the business man here can operate with much less expense than the big city house does. Now the holiday season is over. Many of you received photographs from friends at a distance. It is up to you to reciprocate in kind. We can assure you just as fine work in our studio as you can get in Dallas or Fort Worth and we do not have the heavy operating expense the city studios have, consequently we divide the profit a distance. Give us a trial. We will convince you and when we succeed we will all be happy. Call and see us. It costs you nothing. The photos of your friends speak for themselves. Remember the place. J. M. THERE WAS A JAY VILLAGE on the kerosene circuit whose municipal holdings consisted of a water tank, a ladies aid society and a make-believe Chamber of Commerce with seven members including the section hands. The purpose of the latter organization was to put Chicago on the eternal blink and slide Kansas City into second place as a market for "Haws." One day there showed up in city limits a wise-looking gizzard with a face full of kindness, wearing two hundred dollars worth of tailoring and a blue steel shiner about the size of a walnut who represented large lumber interests. He interested the citizens in a saw mill right in town. He sold them beautiful stock with gold seals and got away with thirteen thousand dollars in real money. The yokels got a shock of twenty-three hundred volts when they happened to remember that it was over five hundred miles from their prairie village to where there was a tree. Moral—be careful who you give your money to lest you get the sand bag square on the bean. Phone us your orders.

GET THE HABIT

A long time ago when Wichita Falls was just a wide dusty place in the road we had to get our bread from Ft. Worth and Dallas. It was inconvenient and the bread was stale, but it was the best we could do. When we got a little larger we got a Baker and now have fresh bread and no one thinks about sending out of town—it's the same with coffee—it's no longer necessary to use coffee roasted in far away cities, for we roast it fresh every day. When you think of coffee think of
