CARRANZA DENIES REPORT OF MEXICO CITY CONDITIONS

Preliminary Reply To American Note Of Monday Is Made To Consul Silliman

TWO MORE WARSHIPS GO TO MEXICAN WATERS

Evacuation Of Capital By Forces Of General Obregon Is Reported In Progress

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 9.—General Carranza has made a preliminary reply to the American representations denying generally the existence of conditions in Mexico City which the United States has called upon him to improve.

American Consul Silliman telegraphed from Vera Cruz that he had been reliably informed that the evacuation of Mexico City by the forces of General Obregon began at nine o'clock last night.

Admiral Fletcher today selected the armored cruiser Washington, now in Haitian waters with Rear Admiral Caperton, and the battleship Georgia, now at Guantanamo, to proceed to Vera Cruz.

In a statement made orally to American Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz which was laid before President Wilson and the cabinet today, the Mexican chief denied that General Obregon, his commander in Mexico City, had prevented food from reaching the Mexican capital or that he had sent supplies away.

Carranza's oral statement was regarded in administration quarters as favorable and as an indication that Carranza no longer would approve any inconveniences to foreigners.

CABINET IN SESSION.

Consul Silliman's dispatches from Vera Cruz saying the American note was formally presented to General Carranza in person yesterday afternoon, arrived just before the cabinet meeting today and was laid before President Wilson and the cabinet officers assembled. No further word has been received showing when Mexico City would be evacuated or whether Obregon would leave a small garrison there.

While awaiting a reply to the representations to General Carranza to take steps to improve conditions in Mexico City the administration today began taking steps to carry out what most of the foreign diplomatic corps here interpret as an entire change of attitude toward the whole Mexican situation.

ADDITION TO FLEET.

Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo, was ordered to send two battleships to Vera Cruz to strengthen the fleet of small craft already there or gathering from nearby ports. The admiral himself, who commanded the force which took the town from Huerta last April, will not go, but he was instructed to send a flag officer to take command. Admiral Fletcher was to select ship he will send and report later to the navy department.

President Wilson, describing the latest American representations today Carranza had been called upon by the United States to take the necessary steps to protect foreigners in Mexico City and had been informed of what the Washington government had heard of conditions there and how serious they seemed to be. When asked whether the United States had any new intentions in Mexico, the president reiterated that the government had represented its views on what appeared to be the situation in Mexico City.

WOULD DISCOUNT REPORTS.

He added that in all such situations it was necessary to discount reports a great deal, because, he said, certain persons would like to have the United States intervene in Mexico even if they had to manufacture grounds for intervention. When the president was asked if the latest note to Carranza was an ultimatum, he replied that the administration did not issue ultimatums, but expressed its view and acted accordingly.

Speaking of conditions in the Mexican capital, President Wilson referred to the fear of outrage there as being more pressing at present as any thing that had already occurred. The fear, he said, that the city would be evacuated and left without protection. No request had come from any foreign government, the president said for action by the United States in Mexico, although diplomatic representatives of two foreign countries had expressed their anxiety over affairs in the southern republic.

PROBABLE NAVAL MOVEMENT.

The president referred only briefly to the new naval movement, saying two battleships had been sent from Guantanamo preparatory to sending others home for repairs. At the navy department it had been said earlier that none of the ships at Vera Cruz would be relieved until conditions in Mexico had improved.

No complaint has come as to conditions in the territory under control of Villa, the president said, although he had been informed that for 75 miles south of the American border there was some distress and fear of famine.

BURKBURNETT FIRE MAY END FATALLY

MAN SEVERELY BURNED AND LIGHT PLANT TOTALLY DESTROYED

FOLLOWS GASOLINE EXPLOSION

Employee's Clothing Ignited Causing Probably Fatal Burns Before Help Comes

Special to The Times.
Burkburnett, Texas, March 9.—As the result of a gasoline explosion the Burkburnett light plant was destroyed by fire at 4:30 this morning and John Grimsley, engineer in charge of the plant, received burns from which it is feared he cannot recover. The light plant is a total loss estimated at about $5,000. There was no insurance. The plant was owned by Burkburnett citizens, Ben Swegler and George Wigham being among the owners.

The plant was run by a large gasoline engine. It was the custom to shut down at about 11 o'clock at night and start the current again at about 4:30 in the morning. Grimsley had gone to the plant to start up for the morning. It is believed his lantern exploded, igniting a tank of gasoline. In the explosion that followed the burning fluid was thrown over Grimsley's clothing. He ran from the building with his clothing "afire" and screaming.

His cries were heard by E. M. Blue who lives near the plant. Blue ran out in his night clothes and caught Grimsley and threw him down and tore the burning clothing from his body. Grimsley, it appears, attempted to take off his clothing for his trousers and underclothing were found around his feet.

He was carried to the city hotel. He is burned most severely about his legs and on the lower part of the body and there is little hope that he will live. Grimsley is about 35 years old and is married but has no children.

Mrs. Grimsley was awakened by the clamor resulting from the fire and her husband had gotten out and it was with great difficulty that she was kept from going into the burning building. Her condition is reported as serious, although she has not been told that her husband has only a slight chance to live.

The cases are set for trial at Graham Friday morning. It is expected that the defense will ask for a continuance, although this is not known definitely. The civil suits by Young county against Judge Fry and others had been set for Saturday, but if the criminal charges are taken up Friday it will necessitate a continuance of the civil suits.

Jordan V. Cummings of Fort Worth, who is the attorney for John Lischke, joined with the attorneys for the other defendants in the motion for a change of venue.

Ten senators and about sixteen members of the House remained here today, not going to Dallas. The Senate, having adjourned had no quorum today, but the House worked the entire morning.

TRIAL OF TERRE HAUTE OFFICIALS BEGINS TODAY

Hundreds of False Voting Registrations Made, Declares District Attorney Bailey

By Associated Press.
Indianapolis, March 9.—United States District Attorney Frank C. Bailey in his opening statement today at the trial of Mayor Don M. Roberts of Terre Haute and the 27 others charged with conspiracy to corrupt the Terre Haute election of November 3, 1914 outlined the facts the government expects to prove.

About 2000 false registrations were prepared at Terre Haute police headquarters by Chief of Police Edward Heller, who pleaded guilty at the direction of Roberts, Mr. Bailey told the jury. In all about 3000 false registrations were made in Terre Haute.

Mr. Bailey said. As an example of the methods used by repeaters Mr. Bailey gave the following:
"A one legged negro voted eight times in one precinct. One time he came with a peg leg, another he wore a cork leg, the third time without anything strapped to his leg, the fourth time an iron extension, another time with a crutch, one time for deception he wore glasses."

GERMANS RETIRE SLOWLY WITH OBSTINATE FIGHTING

No Decisive Engagement Yet In East And Little Change In West Arena

BERLIN HOPEFUL OF DARDANELLES OUTCOME

Also Believes Greece And Bulgaria Will Keep Out Though Latter Country Is Seething

By Associated Press.

London, March 9.—Obstinate fighting marks the battles along the entire eastern front of the continent with the Germans slowly withdrawing from the River Niemen in the direction of their own east Prussian frontier. At the same time, the new offensive movement against Warsaw and on the Piliica evidently has not as yet developed into the great engagement which has been expected in this locality.

In the western arena of hostilities the only new feature lately has been the allied air attacks on Ostend. In the Champagne region where the French have been assuming the offensive lately, a snow storm has given a forced rest to the troops. It is not unwelcome for they have been almost constantly engaged for the past fortnight.

Judging from the statement made yesterday by the British admiralty, it is apparent that the only one merchantman, the collier Bengrove, has fallen a victim to the submarine blockade of the Germans since February 25. The first hint of British retaliation against the personnel of German raiders has been conveyed in an official statement that the officers and crew of the German undersea boat U-8 which fell a prey to a flotilla of the torpedo boat destroyers will be denied the usual privilege of prisoners of war.

Press comments appearing in Berlin indicate a feeling of optimism over the near eastern situation. The Turkish opinion that the Dardanelles are impregnable is being indorsed and papers expressed the belief that King Constantine will hold Greece to a course of neutrality.

Bulgaria, considered the least likely of any of the Balkan nations now at peace, to join the allies, is confronting an internal question over the question of peace. Reports reaching Paris state that Premier Radisloff also has been overthrown by the influence of King Ferdinand because he desired immediate action against Turkey. The plan of the premier and his followers, as thus outlined, was to occupy Adrianople, provided Greece throw in her lot with the triple entente. The course to be followed by Greece still is to be determined, although King Constantine in his opposition to war is said to have the support of the general staff.

The main argument advanced against joining the allies is that an attack on Constantinople would weaken the military strength of Greece along the border of Bulgaria which would be regarded as dangerous in view of the relations of the two countries. M. Zamias, requested by King Constantine to form a cabinet, has declined and a member of the chamber of deputies, M. Gaumaris, has undertaken the task.

Paris dispatches mention several warships not named before as members of the allied fleet, which is attacking the Dardanelles. As the strength of the British North Sea fleet apparently has not been lessened the inference is drawn that Great Britain and France are bringing in for this service vessels from the far corners of the world, the tying up of German shipping and the destruction of German warships on the high seas having made this possible.

THREE CANDIDATES NAMED BY UNIONS

A. C. WILSON, E. KILANDER AND W. S. CRAWFORD FOR ALDERMANIC PLACES

PLATFORM DEMANDS CHANGES

Calls For Ownership of Public Utilities and For Division of City Into Wards

Union labor of Wichita Falls, acting through 90 accredited representatives, donned its war paint and feathers at a meeting Monday night, nominating three candidates for the aldermanic places soon to be vacated and promulgating a platform that calls for several changes in municipal policy.

The candidates are A. C. Wilson of the railway telegraphers union, E. Kilander of the locomotive engineers and W. Stanley Crawford of the barbers' union.

The platform, which was prepared by a committee of which J. J. Manley is chairman, pledges the candidates to promote the welfare of the working people, to secure a three dollar wage for laborers on public work and a two dollar wage with board for prisoners, a minimum wage scale for skilled labor on public work, to oppose the further issuance of bonds except for acquiring, or revenue producing utilities to establish business maintenance for the city, and to amend the charter so as to divide the city into wards with an alderman from each.

Only Union Men Considered.

There were 90 present at the meeting, over which F. H. Harris, president of the Trades and Labor Council presided. Entire harmony prevailed at the meeting and considerable enthusiasm was noted; all present pledged themselves to support the nominees. There were only four voted upon, S. T. Taylor of the Carpenters' Union being the fourth. Many others were nominated but declined to serve.

There was some sentiment at the meeting in favor of nominating someone besides union men and the name of Judge Felder was put forward, but when several spoke against nominating any but union men, the nomination was withdrawn.

The meeting was called to order by President Harris and Messrs. Johnson and Denison of the committee appointed to visit the locals reported on their work. Mr. Denison said he found many professional men who said they would support the meeting's nominees. President Harris spoke saying that all union men recognized that they were entitled to a change and it had been deemed wise to give all organized labor a voice in the nomination, it not being the committee's plan to make any nominations itself. Union labor had gone through some strenuous times in this city in the past few months, Mr. Harris continued, with many members out of work. It was realized that the city could not be swayed by everything that came up, he declared, but he believed special discretion ought to be used in such times. No reply had been received from the council to a communication which had been sent it, the letter being treated with "silent contempt." There were men in the ranks of organized labor, he believed, competent to fill the positions not merely because they held union cards, because no narrow men were wanted, but because they could give the union men and all citizens a square deal.

Several Are Suggested.

J. W. Dowis, a fireman was nominated by J. Mallett, a railroad man, who told the delegates that if they stood together, and put their individual prejudices and selfishness aside, they could elect their nominees. Mr. Dowis promptly asked to be withdrawn and nominated E. Kilander, a railroad engineer.

W. Stanley Crawford, president of the barbers' union, was nominated by Will Malone, a member of that union. W. F. Wilson of the stage employes union nominated Mike Benson who declined to serve.

E. B. Cronley of the bartenders' union nominated Judge C. B. Felder. Mr. H. Benson spoke in opposition to this nomination, saying that the "progressive" and "non-progressive" lineup of last year and the position which Judge Felder took then, would be a drawback, although he professed strong friendship for the former county judge, personally.

T. W. Scott, a carpenter, nominated S. T. Taylor, a candidate for alderman last year. J. A. Burton spoke, asking the delegates to be careful in their selection, saying their candidates must have good records as their past lives would be thoroughly investigated. He was sure, he said, that Judge Felder had the good will of all union men and he himself had worked for him, but he was not sure if it would be best to nominate him. The broom makers, he declared, would not support the nominee whether he were Democrat, Republican, socialist, prohibitionist or something else. President Harris said all union men felt kindly toward Judge Felder, but he was not sure the judge would accept.

C. C. Shelton of the conductors' union nominated A. C. Wilson of the telegraphers as "a man who stood four square and who had fought the battles of union labor always." A motion to close the nominations prevailed.

Platform Committee Reports.

F. H. Denison of the bartenders' union asked about the platform which also consisted of Messrs. Manley, Cronley and Benson, and been appointed to draw up. Mr. Manley then read the platform, explaining that it was submitted by himself and Mr. Cronley, Mr. Benson not being a member. Mr. Manley explained that he had prepared the platform himself. It follows:

"Platform of the associated labor unions of Wichita Falls, Texas, required of their candidates for city officers to be voted for at the next city election, April 6, 1915.

"Whereas, observation has forcibly convinced us that interests and property of private corporations and the financially strong have been specially assisted and guarded by our legislative and executive officers—the same being quick to respond to their requests, and whereas the interests and welfare of the weak and dependent, the ordinary and small business, as also the labor elements, are conspicuously ignored and largely neglected.

"Therefore, the associated labor unions of this city, assembled in convention, have determined to elect officers of our class whom they regard as men of broader minds than to confine their services to one class alone to the neglect of all others, and who must consider the best interests of the whole of our divided society in the city.

"The following pledges, therefore, are taken by our candidates upon the promise of the uniting co-operation of every member of the associated unions:

"First—we pledge ourselves to unflinchingly strive to promote the welfare of the working people of the city, especially the resident and organized element, to the end that all the public work, building, street paving, etc., of the city shall be done by 'home labor' as far as possible.

"Second—to secure for laborers on public work the minimum wage of three dollars per day of eight hours and two dollars per day with board or eight hours work for prisoners convicted by the city, one dollar of which shall be retained by the city and the balance paid to the prisoner, to the end that all dependents shall be left to the mercies of the public.

"Third—to establish a minimum wage equal to the prevailing scale of the union crafts for all organized and laboring on all public work, municipal and controlled by the municipal authorities.

"Attitude On Bond Issues.

"Fourth—to oppose the further issuance of bonds for any purpose except to procure funds wherewith to acquire or construct revenue producing utilities, such as water and light, gas and ice plants, public markets, rent buildings, street railways, etc.

"Fifth—to labor to establish modern business management for the city equal to that of private corporations, to the end that the income of the city government may be eventually sufficient to liquidate all its indebtedness, pave every street, beautify its parks and pay all its running expenses without taxing the citizenship thereof for these purposes.

"Argument—If the immense revenue now paid to private corporations in the city by the citizenship thereof were dedicated to the city government, the citizens would enjoy an equal and perhaps better service as now without being taxed to pay both the expenses of the city and those, with added profits, of the private corporations, because the service tax under municipal ownership would be applied to the payment of the city tax.

"Sixth—to amend the city charter providing for wards in the city, to the end that each ward thereof may be represented on the council.

T. W. Scott asked that all candidates who objected to "sticking their John Henry to that platform" be heard from.

A. C. Wilson, one of the nominees, in a ringing speech which elicited much applause, said he had never heard a better platform and he promptly climbed upon it. He was especially in favor of the ward proposition, he said, saying that folks in Flory and Flory on the hill who paid taxes never knew what they were getting for their money. If he were nominated and elected, he declared, the man with 50 cents in his pocket would be given as much consideration as the man with $50,000. There had been too many special favors granted, said Mr. Wilson, and the time had come for the people to rule. Among other things, he advocated a system of fire alarms whereby it could be ascertained from the whistle the neighborhood of the fire.

"The trouble with our 'men,'" he said, "is that we don't get well enough acquainted and we're too selfish; the result is, we beat ourselves. If we stand together, we'd rule."

Mr. Wilson said he had carried his union card 25 years and had sacrificed much to keep it. He wanted his record investigated, he declared. He closed by telling his hearers that much of the future of this city depended upon their action.

A motion to reopen the nominations here prevailed, but without any new candidates being added. D. E. Fitzgerald nominated J. B. Pitts, who declined and nominated J. J. Manley, who in turn declined, saying other interests would prevent his serving. J. A. Burton nominated F. H. Denison of the bartenders' union, but Mr. Denison withdrew. H. C. Fitzgerald nominated J. B. Pitts, formerly president of a branch of the United Mine Workers. Mr. Pitts withdrew, seconding the earlier nomination of Mr. Kilander; he urged nominations from the ranks of organized labor, saying the candidates should be able to get the votes of those not in the unions.

"We don't need 'em," said someone else.

"Yes we do, too," someone else replied.

The nominations were again closed and the vote was taken. Each union represented was allowed to cast three votes for each place to be filled and 21 unions participated in the balloting; machinists, boiler makers and glass workers were said to be the only crafts not participating. The vote resulted:

A. C. Wilson, 58; E. Kilander, 55; W. S. Crawford, 52; S. T. Taylor, 24.

Vote of Indorsement.

A delegate called for a standing vote of indorsement and the response was practically unanimous. President Harris expressed his gratification, asking every member to consider himself a campaign manager.

C. C. Shelton, representing the legislative committee of the railway unions told of the petition against the full crew and railway hospital bills which had been sent from this city, with numerous signatures, but said it had been decided not to publish the names of the signers.

E. L. Gregory, formerly of Lawton, new editor of the Tribune, addressed those present briefly and J. A. Burton also spoke urging those present to support union groceries. Adjournment followed.

WANTS THIS KNOWN AS "EDUCATION LEGISLATURE"

Austin, Texas, March 8.—The 34th legislature according to Prof. Dougity, State superintendent of public instruction, will go down in history as the "education legislature of Texas." In this connection he points to several educational measures, all in advanced stages of legislation, which will improve school conditions in the State. Among these he mentions the pending rural school law, compulsory school attendance law, placing the office of county superintendent on a professional basis, the submission of a constitutional amendment for the removal of fifty cent limit on local taxation for school purposes only and the proposed submission of a constitutional amendment permitting the people of a county to levy upon themselves a county school tax for the support of rural schools. Governor Ferguson is said to be in thorough accord with these measures.

Eight Thousand Miles Without Trouble

Here is some real evidence from a man who knows. Having tried all kinds of products, he chooses the "Made in Texas" products, distinguished by the Red-Star-Green-T emblem.

Stamford Motor Company

Stamford, Texas, 3/25/14.

Gentlemen:

The more I have to do with Texaco Motor Oil the more I become convinced of its superiority over other oils.

Last year we sold about one hundred cars and tried all the leading brands of Lubricating oils and Gasoline but finally centered on TEXACO. It's good enough for us.

I have in mind one car in particular which has used Texaco Motor Oil and Texaco Auto Gasoline exclusively. This car has been in use seventeen months and has traveled 8000 miles. Yesterday we took the spark plugs out for the first time just to see what condition they were in; finding them remarkably clean, they were replaced without any cleaning. The condition of this motor more than anything else prompts me to write this letter. Most of this car's service has been slow running, which all Automobile people know to be harder on a motor than the country roads.

If all the TEXACO products come up to the high standard set by MOTOR OIL and AUTO GASOLINE you should have no trouble in winning the trade.

Yours truly,
J. M. H. [Signature]

All Texaco products are manufactured at the same high standard. They are available for you in your own town. Order from our agent.

What to do for a Bad Headache

People often ask what to do for a bad headache. Sleep in any drug store and ask the man at the fountain to give you a little of HOLLIDAY'S Ice Cream. This is to prevent a headache. Whether from heat, cold, or any other cause, you get a little of it in the Ice Cream and the bottles are all home.

It is rapid and very pleasant to use. There's no more in your room with a terrible headache unless it can be removed so easily.

The Gifts. A kindly Fate came strolling by While man was in the making. And looked upon his tale of gifts. Compassion on him taking. She saw how he would fill his days With blunder and with sorrow. And so to compensate for that, She gave to him Tomorrow.

But those who had his life in charge Would not be circumvented. They would not have him meet each sun With armor all updated. They shook their disapproving heads. For fear the gift should save him. To keep his heart from being light. Then Memory they gave him. —McLanburg Wilson.

PROGRESSIVE MISSION LECTURE AT SNIDER HOME An altogether clever and unique arrangement of a missionary program was the progressive missionary lecture-tea given Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Snider, with Mrs. Snider and Mrs. M. H. Moore hostesses. The ladies of the mission society of the M. E. Church, South, were the guests on this occasion and each of the seventy-five ladies present declared that never had she spent so profitable and delightful time at a missionary meeting. The mission home is apt to prove fortunate and the majority of the members as a rule find little interest in the study. For these the hostesses had provided a program somewhat out of the ordinary, there being five tables with a lecture on some phase of the subject of missions going on at each one.

The girls carried to the city in a clean and sanitary condition and all showed their earnestness and desire to help, making systematic plans toward this end. The ladies of the League were assured of the heartiest cooperation of Prof. Trimble and his pupils and teachers in their clean up effort and all were much pleased with their reception. A tour of the school was made and the work in the special departments of domestic science and manual training, supervised by Prof. Trimble and his wife, was demonstrated. These departments and the entire work of the school and the excellent results of the efforts of the principal and his wife received many compliments from the committee of ladies, who were highly pleased with the results of their visit.

The Texas legislature has set March 20 as the day to adjourn, and Gov. Ferguson has given it out that a special session will be called in April, probably the 19th or 20th. This is to give time for the law-makers as well as the governor to study the appropriation bill.

Anything that can be done to cause the people to turn out and vote and take an interest in municipal affairs helps matters along just that much. Therefore the ticket named at last night's meeting of the different labor organizations will most likely be followed by another meeting to name another ticket. No party or faction has any monopoly on this business of nominating candidates for office.

Wichita Falls is growing and is now in the glass with cities. Heretofore it has not been the custom to inject politics into municipal affairs, nor has it been the policy of candidates for office to announce in advance of their election, the platform they were running on, or what municipal reforms they stood for. But things are different now, and in that respect, at least, this newspaper can find room to complain. Such a plan gives the voter a better opportunity of casting an intelligent ballot.

The Dallas Typographical Union at a meeting held last Sunday adopted the following resolution unanimously and without debate:

Resolved, by the Dallas Typographical Union No. 178, in regular session, that we deeply regret the fact that the Central Labor Council undertook to put the labor union men of Dallas on record as favoring the Pari-Mutuel Bill now before the legislature, and we take this occasion to reiterate to the entire world that this union does not and never has taken part as a union in any religious or political movement; and any effort by any one to vote or use its membership for political or other purposes does not receive the sanction of this union.

Anti-American sentiment is growing both in England and Germany. Perhaps the cause of this is explained by the fact that citizens who come to the United States from foreign countries have been given a hint from Washington that it is expected of them to be loyal to the American government, regardless of what or who they were before they became American citizens. In Germany there is no such thing as an American-German citizen. It is either a German or nothing. Neither are there any American-English citizens in England. England nor Germany will stand for that, and there is no reason why America should. America is good enough for anybody and those who think it is necessary to hyphenate their nationality should be given to understand they have made a mistake in taking out their naturalization papers.

The president of the Texas Bankers' Association, after a tour of the entire state, says that he finds the business people are very cheerful of the outlook. That being true, then there is no reason why 1915 should not turn out to be a more prosperous year than 1914. Conditions in the country in this part of Texas were never better. Crops are looking fine; already there is a good season in the ground, sufficient to last for a month or longer even if no more rain falls during that time, and with a few rains in April, May and June there is hardly anything that can occur to prevent the harvesting of the greatest wheat and corn crop in the history of the country. There is really nothing to be discouraged at. In fact, the only thing that is making times hard is that those who have money to loan prefer that it shall lie idle rather than earn a reasonable rate of interest. Money does no one good when not in circulation. After awhile, perhaps, the banks will not be quite so exacting and begin to loosen up a bit, and when they do, business will begin to pick up. Generally speaking, the banks are the first ones to become panicky, and the people—the balance of the business world can do nothing but hold their hands until the "bankers scare" wears off.

THE AMERICAN LEGION AND ITS PURPOSE.

(Can Francisco Bulletin.) They threaten now to get up an "American Legion" of 500,000 men to protect the country, whether or not it wants to be protected by them. The spirit behind this and kindred activities is unmistakable. It is no peace movement; it is warlike, in word, purpose and organization; it does not aim to keep the United States out of the European war; it intends to prepare us to mix into that war whenever any belligerent is so unfortunate as to knock the chip from our shoulder; and, if it has its way, we shall have war over an issue which does not demand war. We shall have war for "honor," war for foreign trade, war for the mere excitement of it. We shall have a war that will set back the clock, blow out the lights, and stop humanitarian progress until babies born today have died of old age. Let us sit down and count noses. How many of these people are there? If there are 51,000,000 or more, who desire war, then let us have a good, bloody one, one that will besprinkle our land with tears from Maine to California. If there are 51,000,000 or more who want a huge army, public or private, let us get one at once. But if those who are spoiling for a fight are a mere minority, why can't they buy powder, shot, dynamite, hardware, gasoline, copper, cotton and other contraband of war, hunt out some spare-powdered portion of Alaska, choose sides, and then fight to their hearts' content? Why bother the rest of us who don't feel bloodthirsty?

THE RETURN FROM ELBA.

(From the Indianapolis News.) Napoleon as the event proved to be in the history of the world, not many perhaps, will note that one hundred years ago today Napoleon set sail from Elba to return to France. The brig that bore him to shores from which he had been exiled was carrying him to the final success of his career. Ahead of him lay a few of the sublimest moments of his life, but over them fell the shadow of impending Waterloo and St. Helena. It was on March 1 that he landed with his little army of 1,100 men on the strand of the Gulf of Jona. A week later, wearing the old, familiar gray uniform, the well-known cocked hat and other tricolor accoutrements, he stood before the soldiers who barred his way and uttered his famous challenge, "If there be one soldier among you who wishes to kill his emperor, he say I come to offer myself to your assaults." The next day, Grenoble surrendered and, years later, at St. Helena, reflecting upon this event, Napoleon remarked: "As far as Grenoble I was an adventurer; at Grenoble I was a prince."

If the days that followed were the most pathetic, the most tragic in Napoleon's life they were also the most spectacular, the most picturesque. Events crowded on the heel of events in bewildering rapid succession. With the advent of March 12, the "Hundred Days" began when the congress of Vienna publicly denounced him as "the enemy and disturber of the peace, not a prince, nor yet even an adventurer," but an outlaw. "The beginning of the end was at hand," Waterloo brought the final crashing climax and the last scene of all was enacted on the bleak gray rock of St. Helena. Today, a hundred years later, all Europe is torn and rent with strife as it never was in all the campaigns of the Napoleonic wars. The nations that marched against him at Waterloo are now in different alignment; allies then are enemies today. Little change though, is there in the field of battle. War carries its ruin and desolation to the same far scenes that war despoiled a century ago. But the fighting today is fiercer, the engines of destruction deadlier, the armies larger, the losses heavier. And who can say that the motive back of all the carnage and waste and wreck is worthier than that which drenched Europe in blood a hundred years ago? What all this means each of us must determine for himself. But all of us, no doubt, will wonder whether civilization in the cycle of a century has advanced as much or as far or as rapidly as we have so proudly fancied.

BOSPHORUS' PART IN WORLD'S HISTORY

STRAIT BONE OF CONTENTION BETWEEN MANY KINGDOMS IN PAST

TRADITION AS TO ITS ORIGIN

All Nations, Faiths and Heresies Have Felt Its Influence on History in Some Way. Washington, March 9.—The Bosphorus and the part it has played in human history is the subject of a statement just prepared by the National Geographic Society, which is of peculiar interest at this particular juncture when another chapter in its wonderful story is being written. The statement is as follows: "One writer states that there is perhaps no other locality in the world surrounded by so many historical souvenirs and adorned with so many varied gifts of nature; another that God, man, nature and art have together created and placed there the most marvelous point of view which the human eye can contemplate upon earth; still another remarks that upon this planet there is no other stream so wonderful, that its equal can be found, if at all, only upon some other star. "Dr. Edwin A. Grosvenor remarks that there is hardly a nation in the civilized world whose blood has not mingled with its waters; hardly a faith, hardly a heresy, which, by the devotion of its adherents and martyrs, has not followed its banks. Associations the most dissimilar, the most incongruous, the most distant, clings to another in every hamlet and village. The German emperor, William I, in 1883, floundered at the same spot which tradition makes the landing place of that other youthful leader, Jason, with his Argonauts in that shifting figure of the fourteenth century, before Christ. "The physical features of the Bosphorus are described by the same author in striking terms. He says that in its swift flow it is a river, and in its depth a sea, yet many a sea is less profound and many a river spreads wider and has less rapid current. Its average depth is about 30 feet. At no point in the channel is the depth less than 40 feet. "So sharply do its submarine banks descend that large vessels, hugging the land too closely, though in deep water, often run their bowsprits and struts into houses on shore. The Straits of Gibraltar which wrests Africa from Europe, is sixteen miles wide; even the Dardanelles expand from one mile to four. But at its widest the Bosphorus is only one and four-fifths miles. "The length of the Bosphorus is less than seventeen miles. Each Asiatic side indents into a convex bend on the European side; each European bay is met by an Asiatic promontory. "A hundred years ago Constantinople and the Bosphorus hung in the balance just as it does today. The Government of Russia, under the leadership of Prince Alexander of Russia, had insisted to Napoleon upon the absolute necessity to his country of the possession of Constantinople. He declared that there was no price so great, no condition so hard, that it would not be gratefully accorded by him for the city's acquisition. Napoleon gazed in silence earnestly and long at the map of Europe, of which he was, at that moment the autocratic arbiter and then exclaimed: "Constantinople, Constantinople; never, it is the empire of the world."

Market Reports

FOREST OIL DIRECTORS ARE SUED BY RECEIVER

Recovery of Stock and Money Paid For Commissions Is Sought in Suit Here. Judge Akin in the 78th district court has named R. E. Huff as receiver for the Forest Oil Company upon the application of Owen and Wilson, D. T. Cross, T. M. Hoyte and T. O. Quigley, stockholders in the company. Mr. Huff as receiver has filed suit against J. L. Breathwith, G. W. Lazelwood and Mrs. Anna Johnson for the recovery of money paid as commissions and for stock issued. Mrs. Johnson is the widow of Col. Johnson of Mineral Wells who with the other defendants promoted the company which has a capital of $300,000. It is alleged that the commissions were paid and stock issued to the defendants who are directors in the company without authority. The Forest Oil Company has considerable production at Electra and holds valuable acreage in the oil field in that district. The company, recently paid a 10 per cent dividend.

At The Theaters

The Lydia Margaret. A corking good show is billed for today at this theatre; the vaudeville which opened yesterday being composed of two top notch acts. Fagg and White got much applause for their act, "A Bit of Africanology." They do some quick change work from white to black and in every motion of Fagg the audience found something funny. Miss White has a wholly original way of singing coon songs that gets over and there is something humorous about their very appearance. The Tossing Austins are the other act on the bill and a very good one also. Their comedy juggling and dancing was much enjoyed. Today's picture program contains Victoria Forde and Eddie Lyons in a comedy, "All Over the Biscuits" and a two part drama, "Cards Never Lie." The Majestic. Among today's feature is another installment of "The Fate and Flora Fourflush" entitled "The Treasure Temple of Bhoosh, or the Ten Billion Dollar Mystery." A previous installment revealed Flora—the beautiful heroine and Frank, the true hearted young stevedore's hunt toward the earth with 1000 feet still to go. They survive their tumble sufficiently well to go through some amazing adventures in which Frank has to walk a while on the bottom of the sea, break through a solid stone wall and then some, making a travesty of young stevedore's hunt toward "When Honor Wakes" and an Esnary "By a Strange Road" complete the program. BRITISH-TURK FIGHTING IN PERSIAN GULF COUNTRY

Battle in Arabia Results in Heavy Losses—Native Tribesmen Take Part

London, March 9.—British troops occupying the head of the Persian gulf located two Turkish forces, accompanied by hostile tribesmen during the past week and in the fighting which followed heavy casualties were inflicted on the Turks and their allies, while the British also suffered considerably, according to a report on the fighting issued by the marquis of Crewe, secretary of state for India. The statement says:

"For some time it has been known that about two or three regiments of Turkish troops, together with Turkish contingents of Persian, Beni Laun, Turcof and other disaffected tribesmen hostile to the shah of Mohammadal had been collecting west of Ahwaz.

"The Ahwaz garrison was dispatched on a reconnaissance in force to ascertain their numbers and disposition.

"On March 2, the enemy, who had been located at Ghadr and who apparently had been further reinforced the previous day, turned out in great strength. Their number was estimated at about 12,000. In the course of our withdrawal the enemy made repeated and determined efforts to cut off the reconnoitering party.

"Several hand to hand encounters took place in which the attackers were held successfully at bay while our party made good its retirement. From reports received and supported by the absence of all further activity it appears that the enemy lost no less than from 200 to 300 killed, including brothers of the sheik of the Beni Turcof, besides from 500 to 600 wounded.

"On the same date a cavalry reconnaissance was made in the direction of Nakala and twenty-five miles northwest of Basra (on the Persian gulf). The reconnoiterers on returning to camp were followed by a body of some 1,500 hostile horsemen. This enemy force was skillfully drawn on to a concealed position occupied by infantry with machine guns and field artillery. The enemy fled back to Nakala after having suffered heavily. Our losses in this reconnaissance were: British officers killed, four; wounded, two; Indian officers killed, two; rank and file killed, four."

PICKS BOSTON RED SOX TO LAND AMERICAN PENNANT

The Boston Red Sox will win the 1915 pennant in the American League, according to Cherry Campbell, a young fan here who has been watching major league movements closely. He has learned that "Lefty" Scroggins, who was with Wichita Falls in 1913, will be with the Chicago White Sox this year. His dope follows:

The Boston Red Sox team will be the league's pennant winner on account of having the best pitching staff in the league with last season's lead pitcher, "Dutch" Leonard. Bill Sweeney will fill the place left by Yerkes who jumped to the Federal. Manager Carrigan is expecting a lot from Hobbis who holds down first base. Gardner will be at third and Scott at short rounds out the infield. The outer garden will be composed of Lewis, Hooper and Speaker.

The Chicago White Sox will be running a close second being strongly headed by the world's greatest player, Eddie Collins who will play at the keystone sack. Manager Rowland, the new manager is going to depend a lot on his pitching staff composed of Berz, Faber, Wolfgang, Cloutte, Jasper and Lefty Scroggins, formerly on the Wichita Falls Drillers.

The Athletics will most probably be third in the race if Home Run Baker decides to return to the National pastime. If he returns he will be traded to the Yankees for Frits Maisel and cash. A big shift will be made in the infield says Connie Mack.

The star catcher, Schang will be at first, Lajoie at second, Barry at short and Maisel or Baker at third. Strunk, Murphy and Walsh will be in the outfield.

The New York Yankees will be fourth under the new leader "Wild Bill" Donovan and the new owners, Colonel Ruppel and Captain Haunton. Hipp who was purchased from Detroit will be at first; Boone will play around the keystone sack. Captain Richmond will cover short and Maisel or Baker on third. In the outfield there will be Case, Rege, High or Cook.

It is very hard to name the team that will come in fifth, this being a close race between Detroit, Washington and St. Louis. My opinion is that Washington will win out; however, it will be a hard fight. In Clark Griffith's lineup, Cannon will be at first, Morgan at second, McBride at short and Foster on third. The team has the best catching staff in the league in Henry Williams and Al Smith.

The Detroit Tigers will be the team to finish seventh in the leadership of H. Jennings. Ty Cobb is expected as usual to lead the league in batting. With him Veach and Crawford compose the outer garden. Burns, Moriarty and Bush are the only players sure of their infield positions. The pitchers are Cavers, Reynolds, Danks, Hall and Convalskis.

The dear old Cleveland Indians will be in last place with Joe Birmingham piloting the team. The backstops are Blasser and O'Neil. The infield is made up of the following players: Wood or Shields at first, Rodgers at second, Chapman at short and Turner covering third. In the outfield is Joe Jackson, Liebold, Graney or Smith.

COUNTY REPLIES TO LABOR COUNCIL

SAYS LAW DOES NOT WARRANT GRANTING OF RECENT REQUEST

COMPETITIVE BIDS REQUIRED

Commissioners Diss Their Preference for Union Labor Without Authority

The county commissioners court has forwarded a reply to the communication of the Trades and Labor Council in which the court was asked to adopt a resolution declaring a policy to employ only home laborers and for the employment of union labor only, where labor in the line employed is organized here. The answer to the commissioners cites the statute governing such matters says that the policy outlined in the resolution is unwarranted by law.

The reply of the commissioners follows: "Wichita Falls Trades and Labor Council. Gentlemen: In reply to your communication of February 22, we wish to say that in our opinion it is not within the scope of our authority to pass officially and spread upon the minutes of the commissioners court the resolution or one similar thereto, submitted by your organization for the reason that Article 1180 R. S. provides how materials for use of counties shall be purchased, and while the statutes as to how buildings are to be erected are not specific, it has been customary to let all contracts for public buildings on competitive bids and while we prefer that such work be given home laborers, yet we believe contracts on competitive bids are fair for all concerned, and that home contractors would have an equal chance with outside concerns under such a system. This, you understand, would eliminate the question of laborers to be employed on such buildings as may be let by contract, as such authority would be delegated to the successful bidder.

Were it optional with us we would prefer and would be willing to limit ourselves to employ home contractors and home laborers, but believed the policy as outlined in your communication is unwarranted by law, we deem it advisable to decline to commit ourselves to such a policy."
